Pontiac's Christmas Tree Arrives

WILL BE LIT THIS WEEK — The 60-foot tall evergreen that will stand at the corner of Oakland avenue and Saginaw street throughout the Christmas season is shown as it was trucked down W. Huron street into the downtown business district yesterday. The biggest Christmas tree in Pontiac history, it will blaze with 5,000 lights later this week.

Most Due Back at Fisher Body by Same Date

Entire Auto Facilities Except Assembly to Be Operating by Thursday

Production of 1960 Pontiac automobiles — halted since Oct. 28 due to the long steel strike — will resume Dec. 9, it was announced today by Semon E. Knudsen, Pontiac Motor Division general manager and General Motors Corp. vice president.

Knudsen said full car production will start that date with the afternoon shift.

A spokesman for Fisher Body Division here said the bulk of its 2,400 production workers laid off because of the strike would return to work by the first shift Dec. 9, also.

"Others will receive special notification from the plant," the spokesman said.

No report was immediately available from GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Knudsen said all 8,000 production workers laid off because of the 116-day steel strike will be back at work with the Dec. 10 shifts.

"With the exception of the car assembly plant," Knudsen said, "all Pontiac production facilities will be in operation by this Thursday."

Workers in the chrome plating and large stamping plants resumed operations yesterday. Tomorrow those workers in the axle and small stamping sections will return to work, Knudsen said.

Three Are Identified by Paralyzed Victim; Says He Knew Them

By DICK SAUNDERS

A 19-year-old Highland Township gas station attendant, paralyzed from the waist down by a bullet, crawled to a phone last night to tell Milford Police he'd been robbed and shot.

Dale F. Newton of 2087 Lake Ct. was in poor condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with a .32 caliber bullet lodged near his spine.

In less than two hours an ex-convict and two boys suspected of robbing and shooting Newton were apprehended by Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The two youths were picked up hitchhiking in Orion Township and the third surrendered himself voluntarily to deputies at the Oakland County Jail.

Being held for investigation of armed robbery are Victor Hood, 25, of 116 Prall St., Pontiac, and Carroll L. Lay, 17, of 3100 Indianwood Rd., and Theodore A. Mendoza, 16, of 3031 Indianwood Rd., both of Orion Township.

The three were identified by Newton from his hospital bed as the men who robbed and shot him at the Bay Gas Station, 1526 M59, Highland Township.

'ACCURATE DESCRIPTIONS'

He told deputies he knew two of his attackers and gave them what they termed "accurate descriptions."

Newton told officers Hood, a paroled ex-convict, forced him into a washroom in the rear of the office and shot him in the back.

The bandits got an estimated $40 from a cash register and drove away, Newton said.

Detectives quoted Newton as saying to Hood, "Why did you do it. Why did you shoot me? You didn't have to, I told you I'd give you the money."

The attendant, paralyzed by the bullet wound, dragged himself to the telephone leaving a trail of blood marking his path.

Deputies George Lumbard and Robert Cannon arrested Lay and Mendoza when they found the two hitchhiking along Indianwood road near Baldwin road in Orion Township about two hours later.

Mendoza was turned over to juvenile authorities. Hood and Lay are being held at the Oakland County Jail.

Hood walked into the sheriff's department voluntarily late last night and said, "I hear you're looking for me," according to deputies.

He has denied any connection with the shooting and robbery. Detectives said the other two suspects made statements admitting their part in the crime.

Hood told detectives he was

25 Aboard Airliner as It Hits Mountain

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — An Allegheny Airlines plane, groping for a landing in a snowstorm, crashed into a 1,400-foot mountain today. There were 22 passengers and 3 crewmen aboard and an airport official said he understood there was at least one survivor.

The plane was en route from Philadelphia to Cleveland. It struck Eagle Mountain about midway from the top.

Tom Schadt, a salesman, said he was the twin-engine plane approach the Williamsport-Montoursville airport, turn away for a new landing try, and then head directly toward the nearby mountains in this central Pennsylvania area.

"I heard the pilot gun his motors," Schadt said. "A second or two later there was a gigantic crash."

Schadt was visiting his company's plant, which adjoins the airport.

"The aircraft came in perpendicular to the mountains," he said. "It circled around and then disappeared in the mist and snow."

An Air Force helicopter pilot searching for the plane radioed that he had sighted it. "It's a complete charred wreckage, except for the tail section, which is intact," he reported. Others said the plane did not burn.

The copter pilot, not identified, said he could see one passenger still strapped to a seat high up in a tree.

Myron McGarth, manager of the local airport, said he understood there was one survivor.

There was no immediate word on whether the pilot and McGarth were talking about the same person.

Allegheny Airlines has carried passengers since 1949, without a fatal accident. In the last two years it has won national awards for safe operations.

DETROIT (AP) — In the late spring of 1957 the car buying public suddenly discovered the compact Rambler.

It took the stock buying public almost two more years to discover Rambler's parent, American Motors.

In each instance, the discovery caused a major explosion. Rambler car sales virtually doubled in 12 months. For 1959 they will almost double again with a total of some 350,000.

American Motors stock two years ago this month was selling for $5.25 a share. It closed Mondat at $86.50, an advance of about $40 since early September.

After the market closed Monday, company directors declared two 60-cent dividends, one regular and one extra, and recommended splitting the stock three to one.

This proposal will be presented to the AMC annual meeting Feb. 3.

The proposal was made as the firm announced record earnings of $60,341,823, after taxes, for the 1959 fiscal year, equal to $10.16 a share. Last year, AMC reported earnings of $26,085,134, or $4.65 a share.

Compromise Group Sees Vote This Week

Push Payroll Levy Again

LANSING (AP)—Republicans on a House tax compromise committee said today they will ask the GOP House caucus to throw enough votes to Democrats to pass a state payroll tax.

The eight-member, bipartisan group agreed to go for a payroll levy after a lengthy study of the state's financial condition.

"We figure we will need about 100 million dollars a year in new revenue," said Rep. John T. Bowman (D-Roseville), a committee cochairman.

Bowman said he was hopeful the payroll tax could be voted on later this week.

Word of the Republican position came from Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-Pontiac), coleader with Bowman of the bipartisan group.

Earlier, Gov. Williams said that unless new revenues are found soon he will have to take a "hard look" at sharply cutting back state services and jobs.

The tax compromisers proposed the payroll tax take effect Jan. 1 and expire June 30, 1961.

If somewhat unusual parliamentary procedures were followed, it could be passed this week by both the House and Senate, the committee said in a statement.

Estimated revenues would leave enough surplus to reduce the state debt from 95 to 65 million dollars by mid-1961, the group said. Estimates were furnished by the revenue department.

4 Fined $100 Each for Stealing Buck in Alpena Area

A high price for venison has been paid by four Pontiac area deer hunters.

Dennis Carroll, 21, of 36 Foster St.; John F. Mayers, 17, of 88 Court Dr.; David R. Machin, 23, of 3180 Martell Ave., Avon Township, and William R. Williams, 26, of 3490 Floretta St., Waterford Township, each was fined $100 yesterday for taking another hunter's eight-point buck.

They pleaded guilty to the theft before Briley Township Justice of the Peace Donald Culver.

Judge Culver also placed them on two years probation and charged them $7.83 each in court costs.

Police said the four took a buck belonging to Lawrence Mainer of Alpena from a Montmorency hunting camp.

Deer Hunter Toll 37 as Season Closes

By The Associated Press

The 1959 Michigan deer season cost 37 hunters their lives.

The 15-day season opened Nov. 15 and closed at sundown Monday.

During the season, 24 hunters suffered fatal heart attacks, eight were shot to death and five were asphyxiated.

The 1958 Michigan deer season clamied 29 lives. Eleven hunters died by gunshot, 17 of heart attacks and one was stabbed.

Neighboring Wisconsin's 1959 deer season claimed a record of 28 lives. Of those, 13 were shot, 11 died of heart attacks, one perished in a trailer fire and three were asphyxiated.

12 Nations Sign Paper on Antarctic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve nations today sign a treaty to preserve the antarctic for peaceful purposes. It is considered an important milestone in atomic age diplomacy.

Delegates have approved the 14-article treaty, in which they pledge not to allow any nuclear explosions or the establishment of missile bases on the great frozen continent. A formal signing ceremony takes place today.

The treaty, subject to approval by the governments or legislatures of the 12 countries, was worked out in seven weeks of negotiations. It contains an inspection plan to implement its provisions.

The 12 countries are the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France, Japan, Chile, Argentina, New Zealand, Australia, Norway, South Africa and Belgium.

The pact will be open to membership for any of the 82 countries belonging to the United Nations.

The United States and the U.S.S.R. have been most active in exploring Antarctica. Neither country has ever claimed any of its territory, and they have refused to approve anyone else's claims.

George Taylor Takes Over Oakland Prosecutor's Post

George F. Taylor today reached the highest plateau in his relatively short legal career when he was sworn in as prosecuting attorney of Oakland County.

Taylor, who didn't enter the profession until he was 50, took his oath of office administered by Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

It was given before Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty, H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams and William J. Beer. Judge Beer presided. Judge Theodore F. Hughes was ill and could not attend the ceremony in Judge Doty's courtroom.

It was crowded with members of the fall jury panel, county officials and employes, friends and relatives of Taylor and assistant prosecutors.

Taylor's "I do" was hardly audible. After the oath, the 63-year-old Bloomfield Township resident stepped back to take a seat beside his outgoing boss, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem. Ziem was first to shake Taylor's hand.

Philip Pratt, president of the Oakland County Bar Assn., then introduced Robert D. Long, who took his oath of office as Taylor's chief assistant. Taylor was Ziem's chief trial lawyer before the five circuit judges named him to the post in October.

Ziem becomes circuit judge Jan. 1.

After Long, Murphy administered the oaths of office to Taylor's 10 assistants as a group. They are:

William E. Lang, James E. Roberts, LeRoy W. McEntee, Jerome K. Barry Jr., Donald A. Brown, G. Edson Hallock, James Nichols, Anthony Renne, Robert L. Templin and Richard Condit. Assistant Edward H. Shigley could not attend the ceremony because he was on a board hearing requests for gun permits.

Addressing Taylor, Judge Beer said, "This bench is sure you will hold the helm of the prosecuting attorney's office as firmly and as fairly as did Mr. Ziem."

"We know you and your assistants, loving justice, will see that justice is done for the individual

SCENE OF SHOOTING — This is the Bay Gas Station in Highland Township where a young attendant was shot in the back last night while bandits rifled the cash register of about $40. Dale F. Two of them were acquaintances, he told investigators.

More Information Sought for Federal Water Loans

Waterford Township Clerk James Seeterlin was authorized last night, by the Township Board to procure more information on a federal loan application to cover expenses for preliminary plans for a sewer-water bond issue.

Under study for several months, the $8,000,000 bond issue would be necessary to inter-connect the seven water systems in the township, lay new mains and dig new wells, according to township engineers Johnson & Anderson. Further information on advance funds will be necessary before action can be taken, it was pointed out.

In other business, attorneys for real estate developer Carl Bird, have contacted the Township Board protesting a $150 hike in house-to-main water connections in the Cherokee Hills subdivision. Bird owns 72 lots in the subdivision located in the Scott Lake, Elizabeth Lake roads area.

In action taken by the Township Board last March, the hookup fee was raised from $50 per lot to $200. Bird claims he had an agreement with a former Township Board that the connections would be $50. He said he now stands to lose $10,500 because of the increased fee.

Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson suggested that the Board "split the difference" and charge Bird $100 for each connection. However, other Board members objected to a change in policy, and the matter was dropped for the time being.

The Board discussed the issuance of another package liquor store license for the Robert Fuller drug store on Highland road. This is the third application for such a license within the last two weeks. The Board approved a liquor license for the Gallager Drug Store and McNamarra's Market, both within a two-mile radius on Highland road.

A wholesale automobile auction business was approved on request of R. J. Dennison, Leonard Rose and L. D. Thorten. The building and surrounding area on Dixie highway near Telegraph road is now in the process of being cleared and remodeled.

Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner presented a request to the board for the adoption of a fire prevention code for the township. The recommendations were referred to Township Attorney Paul Mandel for his recommendations.

McElroy Quits; Gates Named

Secretary of Defense to Go Back to Civilian Job at Cincinnati

WASHINGTON (AP)—Neil H. McElroy resigned today as secretary of defense and President Eisenhower chose Thomas S. Gates Jr., now deputy secretary, to succeed him.

The resignation—long expected and effective immediately—was announced by the White House while McElroy was attending a meeting of the National Security Council with Eisenhower presiding.

At that session, the President awarded the Medal of Freedom to McElroy for "outstanding service to his country and his dedication to his task."

The return of McElroy to private business by the end of the year has been expected for months.

McElroy is expected to become chairman of the board of Proctor & Gamble, Cincinnati soap manufacturing firm. R. R. Deupree, present chairman, plans to retire, and he said he will ask the board to elect McElroy as his successor.

McElroy was president of P.&G. when he was appointed secretary of defense.

Ex-Sen. Potter Rejects Canadian-U.S. Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Sen. Charles E. Potter of Michigan said today he has turned down a White House offer of an appointment to the U.S.-Canadian joint commission.

"I'm most appreciative of the offer, but I have reluctantly had to turn it down," Potter told a newsman.

The Michigan Republican said business commitments he has assumed since he was defeated last year for re-election make it impractical for him to accept the job.

Sailors in Port Woo British Gals; Local Men Fight

SOUTH SHIELDS, England (AP)—The senior commander of two Venezuelan destroyers visiting South Shields has ordered his sailors to forego the tradition of a girl in every port until they find a friendlier port to have them in.

The Latin Americans, wooing prowess has got the local youths fighting mad. Fifteen British girls have become engaged to Venezuelans since the ships came here for refitting seven months ago.

Sunday, 50 sailors tangled with 100 local youths and a number on both sides were injured. Two Britons are still hospitalized with knife wounds.

The ships are scheduled to leave today or Wednesday, and Capt. Pablo Cohen, senior commander, said it's doubtful the 15 marriages will come off before sailing. Permission has not arrived from Venezuela.

Cohen canceled all shore leaves for his enlisted men, but officers went ashore to a farewell party. Mayor Joseph Connell thanked Venezuela for the work it had sent the neighborhood.

Oldest EMU Alumna, Nearly 100, Is Dead

YPSILANTI (AP) — Mrs. Jennie Quirk Cornwell, oldest alumna of Eastern Michigan University, died today. She would have been 100 years old Thursday.

Mrs. Cornwell was an aunt of Mrs. G. Mennen Williams.

She had been bedridden for several years after fracturing a hip.

Born in Chicago, she had lived in Ypsilanti from infancy. Her father was president of the First National Bank here.

Her husband, Edward Cornwell, died in 1949. They had no children.

A new genealogical book published in Germany says that religious reformer Martin Luther, who was born 476 years ago, now has 1,834 descendants.

CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDE — George D. Mann, 22, of 3525 Joslyn Rd., Pontiac, was in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital after his car collided with a dairy truck driven by Clark Denison, 49 South Roselawn Dr., Pontiac, this morning. The accident occurred on Orchard Lake road a mile and a half south of Pontiac trail. Denison told police that Mann, driving south, started to pass another vehicle when he lost control of the car on the slippery road. Denison said he tried to pull onto the shoulder of the road "but the car just kept coming." Mann suffered a possible concussion, a fractured knee and cuts of the head.

Ziem's Office People Honor Him at Dinner

Past and present members of Prosecutor Frederick C. Zeim's staff honored their boss at a testimonial dinner last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Pontiac.

Ziem, who becomes circuit judge Jan. 1, was presented with an engraved wrist watch from the "Prosecutor's Staff 1959."

"This watch to me is going to be symbolic of all you fine people, none of whom I will ever, ever forget," Ziem said.

"I'm sincerely sorry to leave all of you," he said, "but at the the same time I am looking forward to my new work."

With today's swearing in of his former chief assistant, George F. Taylor, as new prosecutor, Ziem will not take this month off for vacation. He said he plans to study judges' charges to juries, devise a file system for his court, and visit circuit courts in neighboring counties.

Philip Pratt, president of the Oakland County Bar Assn., said last night that today is "actually an end of an era and the beginning of a new."

The former University of Michigan football tackle joined the prosecutor's staff in 1947 as an assistant. Five years later he was elected prosecutor on the Republican ticket. He was re-elected in 1954, 1956 and again last year.

Noticing the huge maize and blue (U. of M. colors) backdrop centered with a big "M," Ziem poked some fun at some Michigan State University members of his staff.

"You've got this hall done up just right," he said. "But I don't know why you put that green and white (MSU's colors) there." Some members had decorated a cabinet with green and white crepe paper.

Ziem told members of his staff, their wives and husbands, that he nearly "got into a fight" with his wife Wanda when he told her Sunday that he had to attend last night's U. of M. football bust in Detroit.

He said after her insistence that he leave the night open, he became a little suspicious that a party might be in the offing.

Ziem Bows Out as Prosecutor; Taylor Steps In

During his last day in office yesterday, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem bowed out by handling Monday's usual criminal case arraignments before presiding Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

George F. Taylor, who usually performs the weekly task as Ziem's chief assistant, sat behind Ziem. When nine arraignments were completed, Taylor entered upon the court record that it was Ziem's last official act as prosecutor.

Judge Beer, a Navy veteran, praised Ziem in a manner he said they often bestow upon heroes in the Navy. "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," the judge said of Ziem's 12 years with the prosecutor's office, seven of which he served as prosecutor.

"I'm sure all the people of Oakland County echo that feeling," Judge Beer added.

First elected prosecutor in 1952, Ziem becomes circuit judge Jan. 1. His resignation as prosecutor, and Taylor's new job as prosecutor, becomes effective today.

Waterford Twp. Policeman Out

No Explanation Given; Board Replaces Him With Ex-Keego Officer

Thomas Kretz, 2619 Williams Dr., has been replaced temporarily by Arthur Holmes, who has resigned from the Keego Harbor Police department.

Township supervisor Elmer R. Johnson said, "Kretz just did not work out." He didn't elaborate.

A month ago Kretz had submitted his resignation due to a back injury suffered in World War II, but asked that his request be rescinded. After considering doctors' affidavits which showed that Kretz was in good health, the Township Board rehired him.

Kretz was back on the township payroll three weeks before officially being relieved of his police duties last night.

Donald E. Adams, Waterford Township justice of the peace and a commissioner of the Michigan State Bar, spoke briefly. He told Taylor and his assistants of the increased efforts needed in the criminal legal field.

Taylor will hold the new job until a successor is elected next November. He said he'll seek the Republican nomination.

ent two years ago would show a paper profit of more than $8,100 by now.

If you missed the boat, you have plenty of company. Around Detroit there is an "almost society" of those who tell how they almost got rich on American Motors stock.

The most widely known big loser is Louis E. Wolfson, the Florida financier who at one time was AMC's largest single stockholder with a reported 430,000 shares.

Wolfson sold out in 1958, taking a profit of about 1½ million dollars. But the Security and Exchange Commission said Wolfson also sold 150,000 shares short.

Short selling is the practice of selling borrowed stock in the expectation the price will drop. AMC went up instead, and it was estimated the move cost Wolfson and some associates all of the profit made on the sale.

One stockholder who has not sold is President George Romney, who preaches the merits of his company with an evangelistic fervor. A proxy statement of last December showed Romney owned 22,700 shares with a value now of more than two million dollars.

GM Leads Auto Industry Aiming for Record Quarter

A General Motors Corp. "comeback" will have a heavy hand in pushing 1960 first quarter car output over the record mark, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

The automobile industry has scheduled production of 2,240,800 units for the first three months, the trade agency said, with GM's schedule accounting for 47.6 per cent (1,066,000 cars) of the total volume.

The industry's schedule, if fulfilled, will better the initial quarter record in 1955 by 111,800.

This would more than make up for the fourth quarter of 1959, hit by the stele strike, which realized a 700,000 unit loss. The "comeback" reference to GM refers to its 33.8 per cent share of the industry's volume during that period.

GMs first quarter target of a 47.6 per cent share almost matches its 1955 record of 49.1 per cent of industry.

The 1960 first quarter industry schedule represents an "exhilarating" 87 per cent increase of 1959's last quarter 1,193,900 total.

But the trade agency stressed that schedules do not mean final production. The "fantastic" first quarter program hinges on the steel supply.

The Taft-Hartley order, under which the mills are operating, expires Jan. 26. Anpther strike then would ruin chances to recoup last quarter's loss.

The Ward's Report stated that "optimism is strong and consumer confidence in the economy is high."

Present industry scheduling calls for standard size cars to take 79 per cent of the output. The remaining 21 per cent will be carried by the five U.S. compact cars.

Weber Ponders About New Job

Press Secretary for Williams to Check Into Civil Service Post

LANSING (AP)—Paul W. Weber, a vital cog in the 11-year regime of G. Mennen Williams, wondered today whether to step out as the governor's press secretary.

The 52-year-old political publicist, widely acknowledged as one of the best, confirmed yesterday he had been approached on taking a $15,000-a-year post with the state Civil Service Commission.

Weber said he did not consider a tentative tender of the position made by retiring director Arthur G. Rasch to be a firm offer.

But he said he expected to confer with commission members about it today or tomorrow. Rasch is ill and hospitalized.

Weber was disturbed by reaction of Capitol observers who took the development as evidence that the governor has decided against seeking a seventh term.

If the civil service proposition panned out, he obviously did not want to appear to be turning away from his long-time boss in a time of need.

"This has absolutely nothing to do with any decision by the governor on his political future," Weber said. "To the best of my knowledge, he has not made up his mind on what he's going to do."

The governor's press secretary, a $13,000-a-year job, is a political appointment, subject to abrupt termination when Williams leaves office.

The proposed Civil Service Commission position would be a combination public relations - administrative assistant berth offering also unlimited tenure.

Over the years, Weber has had several offers of other jobs at attractive salaries and turned them down.

Weber is credited with a major role in helping popularize the governor with voters through the green polka dot bow tie symbol and by encouraging the governor's square-dancing talents.

Free Press Editor in Better Condition

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit Free Press Managing Editor Frank Angelo was reported in "encouraging condition" yesterday after suffering a heart attack Saturday night.

Doctors said damage to Angelo's heart was "minimal."

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Hears Plans for Private Coffee House

BIRMINGHAM — Plans to open a coffee house in the basement of Leon's Building were announced to the City Commission last night.

The coffee house will be for a private group, to which the general public will not be admitted, the Commission was told.

The Commission was told it would be similar to an operation in Clawson, and include a small art gallery. Movies would be shown.

A motion picture license waiver request from H. Eugene Field was denied on a motion by Commissioner Carl F. Ingraham. Representing the owner of the coffee house, he had asked that the requirement be waived because a membership fee would be required.

Field said in a letter to the Commission that he did not believe operations of private clubs or other membership groups should be required to obtain a license before showing motion pictures.

Eighteen diesel buses of advanced design will be put into operation in the area within the next few days by the Great Lakes Transit Corp., the Commission was told.

Built by General Motors at a cost of $500,000, the vehicles are totally new in design, with many of the luxury features of cross-country coaches, according to Everett J. Farr, Great Lakes Transit superintendent.

The new buses have extensive bright-finish aluminum siding, with streamlined windows and body contours.

Passengers will be able to look out large picture windows, and standing passengers will be able to watch for their destinations more easily because transom windows are set higher.

Entrance steps have been lowered almost two inches, making it easier to board.

The buses will have fluorescent lighting.

Other design features include a new heating and ventilating system, and an improved air cushion ride.

Candidate for the Oakland County Road Commissioners Clayton G. Lilly, in a letter to the Commission, asked for its support in his drive for the $7,500 a year post.

"out with them (Mendoza and Lay) until about midnight, but didn't know anything about a robbery."

He is on parole from Jackson Prison where he was serving 3 to 15 years for armed robbery. He was sentenced in January, 1956, in Oakland County Circuit Court after being found guilty of a "toy gun robbery" in Pontiac.

Hood was paroled last March. Previous to the armed robbery conviction, he had served time for breaking and entering. He was currently employed as a foundry worker.

Newton, who is married, underwent emergency surgery early this morning. Doctors said the bullet entered the right side of his back near the spine and lodged next to a vertebra.

Doctors said they were "unable to remove the bullet due to its dangerous position."

Neither Mendoza nor Lay had police or juvenile records, according to Detective Sgt. Leo R. Hazen. Both had dropped out of Lake Orion High School earlier this year, according to juvenile authorities.

When asked what they had done with the weapon, the two said they had taken the gun apart and dropped it piece-by-piece along an area roadside.

Williams Plans Education Talks

To Meet With School Men Dec. 11 to 13 at Haven Hill Lodge

Gov. Williams will receive a briefing on national education problems at a get-together with leading figures in the field next week at Haven Hill Lodge in Oakland County's Highland Recreation Area.

Fourteen experts in various phases of education have been invited to meet Dec. 11, 12 and 13 at the secluded retreat for discussions with the governor.

The format is expected to follow that of a similar session on the inflation and economic growth problems held last summer at Mackinac Island.

Next week's affair is one of a series planned by backers of Williams for national office with a view to bringing him up to date in key areas of government.

An aide said similar huddles on peace and disarmament and health and the aged are in the discussion stage.

On the agenda next week will be such subjects as curricula, school building problems, finance and enrollment, and competition in scientific education from the Soviet Union.

In recent years, Williams has stressed the importance of liberal support for education as a means, especially through scientific research, of opening new horizons for manufacturing and industry generally.

He has urged a large role for federal financing.

Youth Arrested in Break-In Takes Own Life

David A. Prasil, 20, of 29 N. Anderson St., died at Pontiac General Hospital early this morning of a bullet wound which Pontiac Police say was self-inflicted.

Police were called to the youth's home by his father, Jack, at 2:25 this morning. They found young Prasil on his bed, a rifle at his side.

He died shortly after being rushed to the hospital by ambulance.

Prasil had been arrested by police Friday for investigation in the break-in of a home at 50 E. Longfellow St. He was released the following day when Mrs. Barbara Drake, 20, of the Longfellow street address, refused to sign a complaint.

Drop Pretense Charge on Two

Four Are Arraigned; Pair to Be Witnesses in Police Case

Four youths arrested Sunday night for playing policemen in Bloomfield Township were arraigned yesterday in Justice Court.

They were using a vehicle with a red blinking light to stop drivers on Woodward avenue, according to arresting officer Martin McLaughlin. They wrote psuedo traffic tickets and used abusive language, he said.

Following their arraignment before Justice Robert F. Scott in West Bloomfield Township, charges were dropped against two of the boys. They were released and will appear as witnesses when the case against the other two goes to circuit court.

Being held in Oakland County Jail pending examination at 2 p.m. Friday before Justice Scott are Richard B. Whitney, 17, 156 Linden St., Birmingham, and John E. Bennett, 18, 715 Square Lake Road.

Both have been charged with impersonating a police officer, a high misdemeanor.

Bennett originally was charged with using a vehicle for illegal purposes. The charge was changed to the more serious one of impersonating a police officer at yesterday's arraignment.

Bennett was sentenced in Circuit Court yesterday to 60 days in jail for the malicious destruction of a telephone booth last summer. He also was placed on two years probation by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Cub Pack 53 Shown Film on Achievement

The pack is collecting used toys and canned goods which will be turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to needy families at Christmas time.

New den mothers are Mrs. Rita De Wys, Mrs. Eleanor Cappell, Mrs. Catherine Cremer and Mrs. Frances La Barge.

Must Have C Average to Park Car at School

METHUEN, Mass. (UPI)—Students at Tenney High School will need at least a C average to park their cars in the school parking lot.

School officials said today the order, effective after the Christmas vacation, resulted from a faculty investigation which showed that students with cars had lower marks.

Ambassadors to Meet

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan's industrial ambassadors will meet Dec. 11 at Wayne State University, with Merritt Hill, general manager of Ford Tractor and Implement Division, and chairman of the ambassadors' executive committee, presiding.

Sugar contains no vitamins or minerals, but it is a good energy food.

A survey by the National Industrial Conference Board shows that about half of all manufacturing companies that employ more than 1,000 persons have some type of severance pay for those whose services are terminated by management.

Plants Shifting From Big Cities

Most Industry Still in Population Centers but Trend Away

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More and more industrial plants are being set up away from big cities. The Commerce Department believes the trend will grow.

A majority of industries still are concentrated in or near large population centers. But the department reports that a greater number of factories are being located in communities with less than 50,000 population.

A new study, based on the 1954 census of manufactures, showed that 27.1 per cent of all manufacturing employes worked outside standard metropolitan areas. In 1947 the figure was 26.7 per cent.

Officials of the department's office of area development, which prepared the report, expects results of the 1958 census of manufacturers to show further, more marked shifts of factories away from big city areas.

Salt Water to Fresh Important Problem

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) —Learning how to convert salt water into fresh water may help mankind more than conquering space, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) said here Monday night.

Kennedy told a meeting of the Jane Jefferson Democratic Women's Club that the first country to turn salt water into fresh water will provide more blessings to mankind than the first country into space.

Kennedy slapped at the Republican administration which he said has denied funds for experiments in converting salt water to fresh.

His talk before 320 concluded a three-day visit to key cities in Colorado and Wyoming.

A survey by the Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., showed that the total output of "moonshine" in 1958 came to about 55 million gallons, about one quarter of all liquor Americans drank last year.

Hal Boyle Tells Why:

Yule Tests Purse AND Body

NEW YORK (AP)— Christmas is more than a test of good will.

Every year it is getting to be more of a test of body and mind. You have to be sound in wind and limb—as well as stout of pocketbook — to survive the holiday season.

BOYLE

The guy who gets himself in good shape now is the guy most likely to still be on his feet come Jan. 1.

Here are a few home exercises guaranteed to help you through the annual ordeal of Christmas:

Indian hand wrestle—you and your wife sit down, put your elbows on the table, grip fingers, then see which can force the other's hand backward to the table. This will strengthen you both for all the backslapping, handshaking and greeting card writing you will have to do between now and New Year's Eve.

The face save—from now on you will be smiling, smiling, smiling. Since you have been doing nothing but frowning with worry for the last 11 months, a sudden smile may split your face wide open. So, several times a day, pause in front of a mirror and practice smiling. Don't overdo it. Start with a series of small weak smiles. By the end of the week you should be able safely to manage a fair-sized grin.

PRACTICE JUMPING

Leap for life—stand in the middle of the room with your arms full of bundles. Jump as high and as far as you can in all directions—at the same time. Repeat 12 times. As a pedestrian, this maneuver may save you from Christmas motorists. On the other hand, it may not.

Hit-the-line body builder—rent the nearest high school football tackle for a few afternoons. At a given signal you both crouch down, then crash into each other at full speed. After a few days of this, you should be tough enough to go into any department store and compete with the crowds of women shoppers for Christmas bargains.

Smooch conditioner—did you save your home-made Halloween pumpkin goblin? Lift it tenderly, close your eyes, and kiss its rough yellow cheek 100 times a day. Now you are in shape for perhaps the worst ordeal of the holidays—kissing your wife's girl friends. Also, be sure and kiss your own wife.

SHOUT 'NO'

Bankruptcy avoider—plant yourself in front of a mirror and shout "No!" loud and clear 250 times daily. This exercise may make your voice firm enough to keep your wife from spending you insolvent—but don't bet on it.

Arm saver—put a small lead weight in your pocket. Now reach in your pocket quickly, grip the weight, pull it out and stretch it to arm's length. At 300 times daily for a week your arm should be strong enough to tip all the people you will meet with outstretched palms between now and the end of the year.

Elbow protector—hold a bucket half-filled with sand outstretched before you. Bend elbow until bucket rim touches lip, then stretch out arm again. As this exercise is the most vital one to prepare you for the elbow-bending at seasonal cocktail parties, better do it at least 500 times daily. A lame elbow has ruined many a holiday.

Anyone who conscientiously follows these exercises should be able to reach the first of the year firm in body, if bruised of spirit. He even may be able to face the prospect of 1960 without fainting.

Downtown Parking Is Curbed in London

LONDON (UPI) — The toughest parking restrictions in London's history went into effect today.

Minister of Transport Ernest Marples declared the heart of London a "pink zone" where all parking is forbidden in an effort to avoid the usual traffic jams of the Christmas shopping season.

Extra police roamed the streets in search of parking offenders who were warned their cars would be towed away.

Cold Weather Brings Danger of Exertion

This is the time of year when a warning against strenuous exercise seems to be in order. This word comes directly from DONALD S. SMITH, M.D., Pontiac, President of the Michigan Heart Association.

According to Dr. SMITH, the three activities that need watching are hunting, shoveling snow and pushing cars. Apparently these are the temptations that more often than not will cause a person over 40 to attempt to act like a teen-ager. In other words, he does more than he is in physical condition to do.

Cold weather is potentially dangerous because it automatically signifies heavy clothing and vigorous exercise. Ten pounds of winter clothing is like carrying ten extra pounds of body weight and this weight may be especially hard on a person who is already overweight.

Why gamble on your own life? If you're healthy and over 40, plan to start taking it a little easy and stay that way. Overexercising does not prove a thing, and it may be extremely harmful to you.

Dr. SMITH made the following recommendations for protecting the heart:

Get in shape and stay fit by regular exercises, BUT build up gradually and lose weight slowly under your doctor's supervision.

Work easily and take frequent rests.

After a big meal, wait a while before exercising strenuously . . . if you're over 40, wait at least an hour.

If you have known heart disease, DON'T hunt, shovel or push until you have checked with your doctor. His advice can save pain and trouble.

If you don't have known heart disease, see your doctor regularly once a year. Heart disease which is found early can be helped better. You'll be more confident either knowing that you're in good health or, if not, knowing what efforts to avoid.

Chauncey H. Hutchins

Although he had been an invalid for many years in the immediate past, Mr. Hutchins was one of that hardy band of first manufacturers that settled in Pontiac and threw off the early vicissitudes of the era and survived. It was their joint efforts that started the City onward.

They "refused to be licked."

Mr. HUTCHINS was a shrewd manufacturer and a stickler for quality and service. His products always measured up and even ahead when tests were run. Although he had been incapacitated for many years, the community owes him a debt of gratitude for playing a part in Pontiac's formative period a half century back.

Worthy Cause Honored by Leader Dog Week

Celebrating this week 20 years of successful operation is the organization Leader Dogs for the Blind. We can't think of a more worthy cause for mention than this period (Nov. 29 through Dec. 5) which is set aside as Leader Dog Week.

Through the use of these trained dogs, many blind persons in all sections of the United States have been given new independence. It gives them the ability to continue successfully their professions and vocations.

These Leader Dogs are made available to our blind citizens through the efforts of the Leader Dogs for the Blind of Rochester. Leader Dogs minimize the handicap of blindness to the extent that a blind person may go anywhere at any time without fear.

This humanitarian, non-profit organization is supported by voluntary contributions from the Michigan United Fund, Lions Club and other organizations and individuals.

Like any charitable organization, it can use your help. Assisting to furnish Leader Dogs to help blind persons overcome their handicap and to enjoy a life of independence is an honorable cause.

Our Annual Card Shower for Our State's Oldest Resident

Middle age: What's later than you think and sooner than you expected.

This column today opens its annual drive for a combined birthday and Christmas card shower for Michigan's oldest resident. She is

Mrs. Eliza Beaumont Taylor

and she lives at Highland, in Oakland County.

This grand old lady who was in her teens when the Civil War was being fought, and was teaching school when Lincoln was assassinated, has been with us all of her life. She was born within a few miles of her present home.

Her 110th birthday is on Dec. 16, so a birthday or Christmas card, or both, now are in order. She will appreciate every one of them. Her address is Highland, Michigan. Let's make that post office work overtime.

Don't kick on the weather. The office statistician tells me that the mercury dropped to five below zero in Pontiac late in November only ten years ago.

Always in a reminiscent mood, says the lineup of cars at gas stations awaiting their antifreeze reminds him of the old days when the blacksmiths had a big run of horseshoeing when the roads got icy.

First entry in our oldest car in general use marathon comes from

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Given of 134 Osceola Drive, who are regularly using a 1930 Ford. Then along comes

Albert Schoof

Francis Brearley

of Waterford, who uses a 1931 Chevrolet every day, and

Albert Remington

of Drayton Plains, whose 1932 Oldsmobile is always ready and willing.

Word comes to me from

of Birmingham that her Christmas cactus has over 50 blossoms and buds.

This column has been given over one thousand 1958 Christmas cards, no two alike. They will be delivered to the first organization to request them.

David Lawrence Reports on Rep. Boggs:

Reds So Clever With Propaganda

WASHINGTON—It's a good thing for congressmen and senators to go abroad to get the feel of the "cold war." For it opens the eyes of the officials in our own government to the "battle for people's minds" which, in some respects, is more important than all the bombs and missiles.

LAWRENCE

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, Democrat, who is chairman of a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee studying foreign trade matters, has just come back from a lengthy tour abroad, and he is very much impressed by the strength of the Communist propaganda. He said to this correspondent:

"I went to the world-trade organization meeting at Tokyo and then to the underdeveloped countries, taking a look at what we might do to encourage private investment in these areas. But when you get into these things, you get into a lot of other matters. In India, for instance, those people are flooded with slick propaganda not only from Russia and Red China but from each one of the Communist satellite countries.

"It's very clever stuff—it's all about how these nations have made the 'great leap forward' without being exploited by the Communists, and so on.

"At the same time our people tell me that we've got $130,000,000 in counterpart funds tied up that can't be used for counter-information purposes. I am going to look into this.

"The impact in India of the Communist propaganda is so big because the Communists are doing a tremendous job there. In other countries, too, they apparently are spending as much time and effort and money.

"I went to Baghdad—I believe I was the first member of our Congress to go there since the overthrow of the previous government in Iraq. The Communists are doing a fantastic job there, but the real job is done by internal subversion rather than by propaganda from the outside. They've got almost complete control of the local press, for instance, and it's violently anti-American. The U. S. Information Agency office in Baghdad was seized by the Kassim government when they took power.

"The propaganda line in these countries is something. In every one of these slick-paper publications—whether published in Russia, China, North Viet Nam, or North Korea, or in any one of the Eastern European satellite countries—they had inserted in English a copy of Khrushchev's speech as he reached Moscow on his return from the United States and also a copy of his last speech over television before leaving the United States. The number of copies of this thing distributed must have been astronomical to go through all these countries.

"And the whole pitch of the propaganda was that Khrushchev is a great man of peace, that he's the fellow who is calming down the 'warmongers' in the capitalist countries.

"Also the readers are told not to worry about the Red Chinese—Khrushchev is supposed to be taking care of them, too. That's an interesting propaganda line in India. As for the idea that there is some grave defection between Red China and Russia—I think that's the biggest piece of deceptive propaganda of all."

The views expressed by Rep. Boggs may come as a surprise to those Americans who pooh-pooh the Communist menace and who seem to think that the Khrushchev trip to the United States has lessened the intensity of the "Cold War" tactics of the Communists. On the contrary, there is every evidence from observing the Soviet propaganda that the Communist idea of world conquest has by no means been dropped and that internal subversion is expected to attain Communist goals.

American propaganda is relatively small in amount. It is limited by congressional funds and is by no means as extensive as is generally believed in this country.

Dr. William Brady Asks:

Are Fathers Who Want in Delivery Room Nuts?

According to a report on the front page of an eastern newspaper, continued on page six, an expectant father back there has created a crisis by running this ad in his home town paper:

Wanted: Doctor who can arrange for father to be present when his child is born.

Interviewed (by telephone, I betcha), the man said he believes he has every right to be present when his child is born, and his wife wants him to share the miracle with her.

DR. BRADY

Class C expectant fathers and their present wives will agree that these Easterners are nuts. And the doctors and hospitals will treat 'em as nuts.

Here we go again. The same old hokum. Of course the doctors make the hospital rules or regulations. The one barring the husband from his proper place at his wife's side is enforced mainly for the benefit of the doctor, not the benefit of the patient. I'll spell this out in detail if any physician of standing implies it is not so.

The rule or regulation making star chamber proceedings of what goes on in the delivery room is nineteenth century hokum carried over into the twentieth century, as is the newborn nursery — the show window behind which helpless infants are kept crowded together where communicable disease has the best chance to spread among them.

FEEL FOOLISH

Mr. "Nuts" remarked that some doctors try to make him feel foolish even asking for the privilege of remaining with his wife during the birth of their baby.

In desperation at the refusal of the doctors he canvassed to let him contaminate the "sterile" atmosphere of the delivery room, Mr. "Nuts" said he and his wife may decide — believe it or not — to have their (second) child born at home — provided, of course, they can find a doctor in their town (33,000 population) willing to deliver at home.

To counter this dire threat and keep the husband and wife properly intimidated, the doctors, according to the newspaper report, concede that most home deliveries are perfectly safe, but then they point out — you didn't expect they'd let you off the hook, did you, chickens? — that there's a one-in-a-hundred chance of something going wrong.

Offhand I'd say there is a one-in-twenty chance of something going wrong in a hospital delivery, something that would be most unlikely to occur at home.

Such high-handed treatment of inmates would be bad enough if hospitals were disciplinary or penal institutions. It is a little sickening to realize that people who presumably pay for hospital and medical care meekly submit to it.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Log Cabin Should Receive Mortgage Considerations'

Most mortgage companies don't give conventional mortgages on log cabins. Is the cabin not a traditional structure in our heritage? Did not our forefathers live and die in a cabin?

Good Americans do not give enough consideration to the log cabins of today. This is as solid and firmly built as any contemporary and just as homey and comfortable as the homes they give loans on.

One of our great Presidents was raised in a cabin and our great pioneers worked, sweat, ate, slept, prayed and fought together in a cabin. This humble dwelling deserves as much, if not more consideration for a loan from mortgage companies, banks and loan companies.

'Some Want All but Give Nothing'

I was in the office of Pontiac Motor's UAW-CIO local 653 when a man asked very quietly if he could still do his part time job and draw his full employment. Mr. Bert Henson told him "no." The man said all these years he had paid dues and the union hadn't done much for him.

He kept on raving and a member told him to go where he didn't have to belong to a union. He went out very mad and said he wanted to work where he didn't have to belong. We have several members that didn't join until they had to, but they always had their hands stuck out for the vacation paychecks and always were glad to get all the raises and holiday pay, but didn't want to give anything in return.

Pontiac Motor didn't lose a man when it became a closed shop.

'Rushing Season Seems Universal'

I thought Pontiac merchants were ahead of time when they had Christmas decorations up so early, but I was on a trip last week and I saw them in every city I drove through, so the custom is everywhere. I am not bothered by my home town now as much as I was.

Change of Name Irritates Student

Waterford's getting another high school, so they're changing the name of the old high school. Thomas A. Edison will be the new name. All parents and students I know are against this and can't see why it's being done. At least I'd like to know why we can't vote on it.

Not only will our class rings be a waste, but after '61, how can we say we graduated from Waterford High when it won't even exist then? Money will be lost in changing the name on the front of the school, on stationery, scoreboard, buses, sports equipment, trophies, etc. And what will become of the harmonious Waterlog, Anchor, Skippers and our cheers and fight songs.

The other high school could have a completely different name, but leave Waterford as it is.

'City Should Take This Opportunity'

The City should grab the opportunity to pick up the $18,000 rent at the airport. We are not in business for just a few citizens, but rather to serve all the people. If those now renting care to up the ante to equal the $18,000 offered, okay. Otherwise, let's look at the hangar space with a business eye.

'Poor Recreation Is No Excuse'

My little home town didn't have any recreation facilities at all when I was growing up and we didn't use that as an excuse to be juvenile delinquents, so that Voice of the People writer, Hopeful, can't use that as a very good excuse in the Clarkston case.

You either are decent or you are not and if you are not, you have to pay. Playgrounds are fine, but most of the great men in America today grew up without them and they made their marks.

When you are looking for excuses for juvenile criminals, the excuses are very easy to find and always will be.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Here's Advice for Heart Victims

Afraid of heart attacks? Then heed Coach Mike Peppe's advice to his star athletes at Ohio State University. For athletes and heart victims both need to learn how to get most oxygen possible to their beating hearts. Scrapbook this case. It applies to both Dad and his athlete son:

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

His stars have won many first places in the Olympics. In fact, one third of our 1952 Olympic swimmers were either current or former members of his Ohio State teams.

CRANE

When asked about his coaching methods, Mike replied: "We do not permit any member of our swimming or diving teams to use alcoholic beverages or tobacco in any form or quantity.

"These products are incompatible with success in sports. They are harmful physically, as well as definitely militating against good morals."

HEALTH FACTS

Mike Peppe's veto of tobacco and alcohol is based on scientific tests.

The smoker, for example, has a much higher percentage of carbon monoxide in his blood. It may run as high as a 10 per cent saturation of the hemoglobin.

And this "fixes" the hemoglobin so it is useless for carrying oxygen!

That is one main reason why smokers are short winded. You heart patients should also take note. For your heart pain is due to lack of oxygen to the muscle cells of the heart.

During an attack, we doctors actually give you extra outside oxygen via an oxygen tank or tent to try to tide you over the crisis.

So why place a Sword of Damocles over your head by hampering your bad hearts via this carbon monoxide?

It predisposes you to more attacks and lessens your chances of recovery because of its reduction in oxygen-carrying power of the blood. Get hep. Why tempt the Almighty and then ask God to give you long life?

Athletes requiring keen vision likewise suffer from carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke, for even a 3 per cent carbon monoxide in the blood reduces your acuteness of vision and especially your depth perception, which is vital in shooting baskets in basketball.

OXYGEN HUNGER

Oxygen hunger is the first problem of athletes, and tobacco has a second serious disadvantage here.

For it thickens the layer of moisture lining your lungs. And the thicker this liquid barrier, the slower is the exchange of oxygen across those thin lung membranes.

This is also another reason why heart patients hamper their chance of recovery if they smoke. And alcohol likewise fills the blood with excess fatigue products but it does something much worse.

For it slows down your reaction time! Your muscles thus react more sluggishly. That's also why liquor contributes so terrifically to the highway death toll via automobiles.

And heart patients often kill themselves after a few drinks because of the dulling effect of liquor on the nerves.

Alcohol is about 50 per cent as effective as morphine in killing pain. So the heart patient who has been drinking, may not notice the warning pain from his heart, so he may run or race upstairs—and drop dead!

The latest data in medicine veto alcohol for heart patients on this account, so get hep. Formerly, doctors felt it dilated the coronary arteries and gave more oxygen to the defective heart.

But that is offset by deadening the pain, thus encouraging heart patients to overexert.

So send for my booklet "How to Break the Tobacco & Liquor Habits," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit).

'I Saw Budapest's Bloody 1956 Revolt'

(Editor's Note: A new inquest is under way in the United Nations into Russia's destruction of the Hungarian revolution three years ago. Among the important witnesses in the expose of Soviet tactics at the time were the free world newsmen who risked their lives to protect the story. We reprint herewith one of the most dramatic dispatches one of the first filed from battered Budapest when Hungary's freedom fighters won their brief span of glory.)

By ANTHONY J. CAVENDISH
United Press Staff Correspondent

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 29, 1956 (UPI) — Soviet tanks and troops crunched out of this war-battered capital today carrying their dead with them.

They left a wrecked city where the stench of death already rises from the smoking ruins to mingle with a chill fog from the Danube River.

I arrived here from Warsaw by plane, car and foot, walking the last five miles into the bleeding heart of this once beautiful city.

Our Polish C47 plane carrying 2,200 pounds of blood plasma from Poland for the wounded and dying of the Hungarian revolution could not land at Budapest last night.

Pilot Wiktor Pekla brought us in at Kishunlacheza, 33 miles south of the capital, and as we skimmed down the main runway we passed squadrons of silver Hungarian MIG15 jet fighters parked on the tarmac.

I managed to ride to Budapest in a Polish legation car. As we approached the center of Europe's worst upheaval since the last war I saw the full horror of devastation the revolution had brought.

RED TANKS RETREAT

No sooner were we on the road north to Budapest than we ran into a massive southbound Soviet convoy headed by two armored cars.

Ten T54 tanks, their Red stars still visible through the grime of gunpowder, oil and blood, waddled behind, leaving Budapest behind.

Then came numerous motorcycles and trucks.

On the back on one tank lay the corpse of a Soviet soldier, his eyes staring vacantly back at the Hungarian capital. Other bodies were in the trucks.

The Russian tankmen in their black crash helmets looked tired and grim.

They were retreating for the first time since they steamrolled out of Mother Russia into Central Europe during World War II. Whether they are moving on orders from Moscow is not known.

A Hungarian peasant spat on one tank as it passed him an arm's length away. The Russian crew did not notice.

Hatred literally oozed from the Hungarians who silently lined the roadsides watching the Soviets evacuate Budapest.

The Russians were nervous but alert. They manned their 100 millimeter tank cannon which were zeroed at the horizontal for firing straight ahead if necessary.

And they held tightly to the handles of machine guns mounted in the tank cockpits and on truck tops.

Soon we came across the first signs of fighting.

Huge cannon holes punctured workers' houses. Windows were shattered.

A strange music filled the air—the tinkling of broken glass being trod on, driven on, swept aside.

Telephone and high tension wires hung crazily and tangled like wet spaghetti as if a hurricane had passed through. We reached a railroad crossing. The crossing gates appeared ridiculous, they were so unneccessary. No trains would be running on that railroad for some time.

BLOOD-SPATTERED DOCTORS

Sleeping cars had been turned over as roadblocks. Their sides were stitched with machine gun bullets as if a giant sewing machine had methodically worked them up and down, zigzagged and come back for a final floral touch.

Now we ran into convoys of Hungarian trucks pressed into duty as ambulances and flying Red Cross flags. The doctors looked like butchers, so blood-spattered were their once-white aprons.

Trucks passed full of moaning wounded.

Then a truck with a large sign proclaiming "Dead Bodies." The stench now was overpowering and as we neared the city the acrid smell of cordite also assailed our nostrils.

We were now in the Budapest suburbs, and more and more Soviet troops and tanks could be counted hurrying the wrong way.

I counted at least 60 Red Army tanks in one convoy.

They looked like circus elephants lumbering one behind the other, twitching from side to side as their heavy steel trucks slipped on debris or an oil slick.

"Budapest city limits," the sign said, and with it came the distant chattering of machine guns.

An impressive-looking Soviet tankman blocked the road and waved us into a detour. "Mopping up" operations were still going on.

A tank gun coughed in the distance and a split second later came a muffled concussion that pressured the eardrums. The crack of rifles sounded from snipers who would prefer to die rather than give up.

The street now was so littered I had to abandon the car.

I began walking through the suburbs into a city of death.

There was Rokoczi street, one of the main thoroughfares, leading down the bank of the gently flowing Danube. A Soviet tank was roaring down the street and I jumped quickly into a doorway with visions of bad-tempered Russians who fired cannon at men, boys, women and children only a few blocks from here.

It passed and the tingling in my stomach subsided.

Hungarian women completely ignored the tank except for looks of such hatred that the emotion must have penetrated the steel side like X-rays.

Editors: The communications between London and Budapest failed at this point.

The window will be open during normal courthouse hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Fridays. Cashier will be Mrs. James Ockerman, of 179 Onedia Rd.

Murphy said the new system will take the responsibility away from some 25 clerks of handling some $1,500 in fees collected on an average day, and at the same time allow clerks more time for paper work while attorneys and citizens are at the window paying their fees. They will be given a receipt by the clerk which will show how much must be paid at the new window.

Expect Alabama to Accept Liberty Invitation Today

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Alabama was expected to receive, and accept, a bid today to meet Penn State in the Dec. 19 Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia.

Speculation that Alabama would play in the bowl began to ripen yesterday, immediately after Navy turned down an invitation.

But nobody could be found who would say that Alabama had been invited. Coach Paul Bryant scheduled a press conference for mid-morning. Another was scheduled by bowl officials at Philadelphia at the same time.

All signs indicate that Alabama, with its 7-1-2 record, would move into the new Liberty Bowl. There were reports last night that university trustees were being polled on the question.

A survey by Auburn University showed that women make most trips up and down the stairs while carrying laundry, cleaning equipment or young children.

The infant was born Friday and died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital. Her parents survive.

ALFRED GRANT

DAVISBURG — Alfred Grant, 37, of 6760 White Lake Rd., died yesterday in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital after an illness of 12 days.

Funeral arrangements are being made by Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home, Pontiac, where Mr. Grant will be after 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Surviving are two daughters, Renee M. and Rhonda L., two sons, Rodney A. and Russell, all at home; his father, Percy Grant of Brown City; a brother, Ernest of Pontiac; and a sister, Mrs. Albert North of Mariette.

STEPHEN J. HOLLERAN

ROSE TOWNSHIP — Service for Stephen J. Holleran, 85, of 7731 Fish Lake Rd., will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Rita's Catholic Church, Holly. Burial will follow in Rose Center Cemetery.

Mr. Holleran died Sunday after a long illness. Rosary will be recited at 7 p.m. today at Dryer Funeral Home, Holly.

Sole survivor is a brother in New York.

A.2.C. CHARLES E. MENDOZA

ORION TOWNSHIP — Service for A.2.C. Charles E. Mendoza, 21, of 3031 Indianwood Rd., will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Allen's Funeral Home, Lake Orion. Military graveside services will be conducted by Selfridge Air Force Base at Eastlawn Cemetery.

Mr. Mendoza was killed in a two-car crash Saturday in Rapid City, S.D. He was stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base in Ellsworth, S.D.

His body will lie in state at the funeral home after 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mendoza; two sisters, Mrs. Otto Gottschalk of Concord and Kathleen at home; and three brothers, Joseph C. of Pontiac, and Gilbert V. and Theodore A., both at home.

HARMON WOODLEY

METAMORA — Service for Harmon Woodley, 79, of 2234 Miller Rd., was to be held at 2 p.m. today from Lester Smith and Son Funeral Home, Imlay City, with burial in Attica Township Cemetery.

Mr. Woodley died Saturday.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Frank Stenzel, Imlay City; Mrs. John Megran, Ferndale; and two sons, Royal and Ralph, both of Imlay City.

Also, two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Bagley, Imlay City, and Mrs. Belle Sheasley, Pontiac, 14 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren survive.

Son of AP Editor Found Shot to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Gerrit Smits, 19, son of Associated Press General Sports Editor Ted Smits, was found dead of a gunshot wound today in a bedroom of his family's apartment. Police listed his death as apparent suicide.

The body was discovered by the youth's stepmother, Pamela.

Young Smits was born in Detroit.

Adenauer in Paris for De Gaulle Talk

PARIS (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer came to Paris today for another round of talks with President Charles de Gaulle. Spokesmen emphasized that they agree completely on major issues facing the Western Allies, but some lesser disagreements have cropped up.

The two-day meeting is the fourth between the two leaders since De Gaulle returned to power 18 months ago. In that period Adenauer and the French president have achieved a unity which has become one of the strongest forces in the Western Alliance.

Witty August Lundgaard Died in Cornell Monday

Born in Denmark, Lundgaard came here in 1908. He ran a general store until his retirement in 1957. He was regarded as a local wit and sought as a toastmaster for local banquets.

Lundgaard was a postmaster many years despite his disapproval of a Post Office Department requirement that his store have a street number. The store was the only business building on the only street of this tiny community of 38 persons.

Lundgaard bowed to department requirements, however, and carried on calendars advertising his general store the address "No. 1 Main Street" in letters almost as large as the store name.

The expression "O.K." stems from the reelection campaign of President Martin Van Buren in 1840, when he was supported by the "O.K. Club" of Old Kinderhook, N.Y., his birthplace.

Miscue Hurtles Car Onto Walk —2 Killed, 3 Hurt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A woman getting out of a car accidentally bumped the gas pedal, and the car shot onto a sidewalk thronged with Christmas shoppers. Two persons were killed and three injured.

Margaret Powell, 43, and a man tentatively identified as S. C. Reppe, about 65, both pedestrians, died.

Sophia Ortiagasa, 28, whose husband said she inadvertently started the automatic transmission car into motion, was among the injured. The other two were pedestrians.

David Ortigasa, 34, told police the accident occurred when he got out of the car at an intersection to let his wife out of the driver's side.

The car shot through a red light, caromed off another automobile and smashed onto the sidewalk at a department store.

Heart Attack Kills Alpena News Editor

ALPENA (AP) — Patrick C. Richards, a veteran newspaperman who began work on the Alpena News in his youth and rose to become its executive editor, suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday. He was 43.

Richards died at Brighton Hospital where he had been admitted as a patient Sunday.

A native of Alpena, Richards was a graduate of Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., and served with the Army in World War II. He spent his entire newspaper career at the Alpena News.

He is survived by his widow, Malou, and a 19-month-old daughter, Mary Louise.

Other survivors are his father, John Emmet Richards, editor and publisher of the Alpena News; his mother, Angeline Richards; a brother, Philip L. Richards, general manager of the newspaper; three sisters, Mrs. Edward Seguin of Alpena and Jane and Anne Richards, both college students, and a stepbrother, Hugh Spence of Saginaw.

Seaver Plant Burns

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Fire destroyed the Seaver Industrial Finishing Co. plant here Monday. Owner J. W. Seaver estimated damages at at least $35,000. The blaze was touched off when a can of lacquer spilled and was ignited by a floor furnace in the metal finishing firm's one story masonry and wood building.

David Powell Trial Set for Friday

Trial has been set tentatively for Friday for David Powell, a 49-year-old Pontiac man who stood mute yesterday to a charge of felonious assault in the stabbing of his estranged wife and a friend last month.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer entered a plea of innocent for Powell, of 498 Nebraska Ave., and, upon a motion of his attorney, reduced his $2,000 bond to $1,000. However, Powell remained in the county jail today unable to post the lower bond.

Cubs to Display Toys Repaired for the Needy

Tonight's meeting of Cub Scout Pack 165 in Waterford Township will climax more than eight weeks of hard work repairing toys for needy children.

At 7:30 p.m., some 64 boys from 10 Dens, and their parents, will meet at the Leggett School to compare the workmanship and variety of the projects.

Each member of the group under the directorship of cub master Gerald Scott was instructed to select a "good repairable toy" and make it as good as new. They will be on display at the meeting.

Five of the dens will present Christmas legends of other countries, and the other five will decorate the Christmas tree with hand made ornaments of other countries.

Entertainer Claud McKinnon will present several numbers on his musical saw, and Mrs. Irene Hoetger will lead the audience in singing Christmas carols. Mrs. Evelyn Wood will accompany the group singing.

Italy's "autostrada," which was opened in 1925, was the world's first expressway to separate fast, long-distance traffic from local traffic, according to the Twentieth Century Fund.

From Sophistication to Naive Simplicity

We Buy Christmas Greeting Cards

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—My husband and I have just concluded two hours of searching, through books of Christmas cards, for our 1959 jewel of joyousness—and how did we feel? So frustrated we could lick stamps.

Like everyone else shopping for family, greetings we had nothing special in mind. All we required was something unusual, beautiful, Christmasy and reverent, with a message that sounds like us, and a price that fits our budget.

Easy, no?

Definitely no.

The trouble, after some afterthought, appears to be with us rather than the assortment of cards. We have become too sophisticated about Christmas on the surface, while remaining deeply childish about it underneath.

The result is that we were searching desperately for cards with a "new look" that would make our loved ones sit up and notice our gesture among the dozens of other cards they receive; and we glazed our eyes seeking for an original message, rather than the old "Merry Christmas," that would go right to their hearts and lock in place.

This was our plan as silently (except for an occasional gasp over the new and unusual 1959 prices) we turned the pages over, and our noses up, at cards featuring Santa, candles, trees, hearths and small girls snuggling in large muffs.

Occasionally we paused, reverently, over a Madonna and child—but we passed it by in search for a fresher idea.

We came, once or twice, to an abstract painting of a church—but it was too Picasso, too little Peace on Earth.

"If you're looking for something new and original," said the salesgirl once, "this is for you." She handed us a book full of etchings by a Japanese artist. There were birds on the wing, horses on the haunch, and suggestions of churches which probably were Shinto examples. "Nix, Fufu," said my mate, who was not being coy; fufu is Japanese for wife.

Another book, as offbeat as an atheist in a cathedral, was loaded with fiendish-faced kiddies and Khrushchevian Santa Clauses muttering "Noel." And there was a complete assortment of Christmas Cards illustrated simply by horses' heads—presumably for your sentimental gambling friends who can't make it to Tropical Park for the holidays.

Maybe the most sickening of the let's-get-away-from-tradition cards are the Be-Ye-Merry, Gentlemen atrocities illustrating in lovely pink elephant colors the sophisticate's concept of celebration.

After nearly two hours of soundlessly analyzing the situation, the boss turned to me and said, "Well, see anything?" I shook my head wearily, disgustedly, sadly. "I've got something here," he said; and thrust in front of me a page with a card pasted on it.

There was a Christmas tree. Green. With colored ornaments painted around, and tinsel. "Look inside," he said. And gee, what a message—enough to warm the tootsies. "Merry," it said, "Christmas."

"I'll bet that with all the offbeat cards, I bet, this one will be pretty distinctive this year."

So we placed our order, and the salesgirl said we'd made a good choice. At least she presumed so, since this was one of their best sellers for 1959.

"Heigh ho," said my husband. "I guess even 'I love you' will come back one of these days."

Compacts Built in U.S. Move Up

Sales So Far in 1959 Exceed Imports by 860; 20 Pct. of All New Autos

DETROIT (UPI)—The U. S.-built compact cars have taken the lead over imported cars in sales for 1959, Automotive News reported.

The weekly trade paper also said it will be early January before General Motors dealers will again receive cars in satisfactory volume, due to the steel strike which had closed assembly plants for a month.

However, General Motors will resume car assembly next week at Detroit Cadillac, Willow Run Corvair and Chevrolet in Flint, Norwood, Ohio, and Janesville, Wis., and at other car and truck plants Dec. 14.

Meanwhile, Chrysler Corp. will end car production this week but expects to resume operations over the next three weeks.

Automotive News estimated 553,360 domestic cars in the "compact" class will be sold in 1959 by the end of business yesterday, compared with 552,500 imports.

The total sales in the compact-small car field already account for 20 per cent of the new car sales this year.

As the sales of the new Corvair, Falcon and Valiants, added this fall to Rambler and Lark, made their mark, both Ford Motor Co. and American Motors last week announced expansion projects for their compact models, Ford at Metuchen, N. J., and American Motors at Kenosha.

The United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization will sponsor a world census of agriculture in 1960.

Aircraft Firm Making Seven Space Capsules

ST. LOUIS (AP) — McDonnell Aircraft Corp., working around the clock to finish the first man-carrying space capsules, is making six more capsules for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The new order brings to 20 the number of capsules ordered by NASA from the McDonnell firm, said James S. McDonnell Jr., president of the company.

The first capsules delivered will be used in NASA's intensive Project Mercury testing program now under way.

Romney Plans Talks for 'Citizens' Units

ESCANABA (AP) — George W. Romney, president of American Motors Corp. and chairman of Citizens for Michigan, will carry the organizing effort of his citizens group into Northern Michigan next week with speeches at three regional meetings.

He will address Citizens for Michigan meetings at Escanaba Wednesday, at Marquette Thursday, and at Traverse City Friday.

Citizens for Michigan was organized in Lansing in September as a volunteer group to study needs of the state and recommend means of meeting them.

Sees No Chance for Any Tax Cut

Rep. Halleck Says 1960 Will Be Highlighted by Battle of the Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana discounted today the chance of tax cuts in the coming session of Congress.

While there may be some tax legislation, Halleck said in an interview, "I don't look for any tax cuts."

The House Ways and Means Committee currently is conducting hearings on general tax law revision. It is expected to recommend legislation to plug loopholes and remove inequities in the present tax structure.

Some Democrats and Republicans are clamoring for tax relief for lower-income taxpayers, either through an increase in personal exemption allowances or a cut in rates.

Halleck said he didn't see how taxes could be cut and the budget kept in balance.

"We must have a balanced budget," he said, and predicted that the 1960 election-year session of Congress would be highlighted by "another battle of the budget."

During this year's session, Democrats boasted of cuts in residential appropriation requests, and Republicans countered by accusing Democrats of "back-door spending" through programs not requiring direct appropriations but committing future federal income.

Halleck also listed civil rights legislation as a must in 1960 and noted that a civil rights bill is ready for action if the House Rules Committee will clear it.

He also challenged Democrats to "come up with legislation to deal with the farm problem," commenting that Democrats have been in control of Congress for five years and have not relieved farm ills.

He said he doubts the necessity for additional labor legislation unless the steel strike remains unsettled. If legislation is necessary, he said, "I would look with favor" on an amendment to the Taft-Hartley law to curb industry-wide collective bargaining. Such a curb was approved by the House in the original Taft-Hartley Act but was junked by the Senate.

The demand for corrective glasses in Great Britain rose from one million pairs in 1948 to more than eight million in 1950 because of the country's National Health Service. The demand is now running at about four and a half million pairs a year.

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles on different gyps and dodges that hoodwink Americans of millions of dollars each year.)

By BERNARD GAVZER

NEW YORK (AP) — Like many other Americans, you'd like to add to your income with a small business that needs little personal attention and still brings in a nice profit.

It's a good idea, but watch out. Sharp promoters lie in wait to twist your yearning to their own advantage.

In the terminology of the National Better Business Bureau, their activities are known as the vending machine schemes.

As in all activities in which opportunistic promoters fleece the public, there are a number of legitimate firms which franchise vending machines, dispensing devices and merchandise racks.

But the smooth guys invade the field and cut corners. Their stock in trade is misleading the victims.

How do the vending machine schemes work?

The NBBB cites this as a typical lure:

"$400 to $500 monthly possible—we will select a reliable man or woman from this area to refill and collect money from our New Automatic Merchandising Machines.

"No selling. To qualify applicant must have car, references and $400 to $1200 working capital which is secured by inventory.

"Devoting 8 to 10 hours per week may net from $400 to $500 monthly with an excellent opportunity for taking over full-time. We will allow the person we select liberal financial assistance for expansion."

Explains Allan Backman, NBBB vice president and expert on the subject:

"At first glance, this sounds as though there is a job being offered to service the machines but this is only bait. The applicant finds he must buy the machines and the goods that go into them.

USUALLY INFERIOR

"Usually the machines and contents are inferior. The promoter may actually place the machines in locations, but invariably these are poor. So the poor sucker who sinks his money into this scheme finds he must try to place them.

"I would say that most small investors getting hooked in this scheme end up with their machines rusting in basements or garages."

One gyp promoter, according to the NBBB, got more than $125,000 from 200 customers in 22 states. In another case, investors paid $640 for 16 machines that cost the promoters $184, or $11.50 each. Such schemes fleece victims of millions each year.

With vending machines to be seen virtually everywhere one turns, it may appear to be a good business to enter. The NBBB says it can be, providing you have the time and capital and that you're dealing with a reputable firm.

If you invest with a gyp promoter you may end up like the man with four cigarette machines in poor locations. One machine, selling about 90 packs a week, produced a weekly profit of $1.10.

What should you do if you become involved in a deal that sounds pretty good?

You can check with your local Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce, or write to Vend, the Magazine of Automatic Merchandising, 188 W. Randolph St., Chicago 1, Ill.; or the National Automatic Merchandising Assn., 7 S. Dearborn St., Chicago 3, Ill.

Much Cash Sent Home by Lebanese Emigrants

The government is happy about it.

Not that the authorities like to see the citizenry shoving off. It's just that remittances from Lebanese overseas help the country maintain its balance of foreign exchange for world commerce.

A study published by Elie Safa, counselor of the Beirut appellate court, shows that Lebanese emigres and their offspring in other countries total about 1¼ million persons.

Lebanon's population is roughly 1½ millions.

Each year the Lebanese colonies overseas send millions of dollars to relatives back home. Safa said that in 1952, for example, the overseas Lebanese sent back roughly 20 million dollars.

In every year for the past decade the remittances have totaled more than Lebanese exports.

Safa said about 400,000 persons of Lebanese nationality or Lebanese descent are living in the United States. Next come Brazil with 350,000 and Argentina with 200,000.

About 70,000 are established in Dakar, Conakry and other parts of West Africa.

The first Lebanese to settle in West Africa—merchants, traders, peddlers for the most part—actually were headed for the new world. They got as far as Marseille, then their money ran out.

French officials or businessmen persuaded them to turn south instead of going west.

The West African settlements now are among the most prosperous. With Africa's emergence onto the world stage, they could become a key factor in the continent's economic future.

About 70,000 Lebanese are living in the smaller countries of South America, including Venezuela and Uruguay with 15,000 each, and Colombia, Equador, Bolivia and Chile with 10,000 each.

Australia has about 25,000, and the number is increasing. Central America and Cuba provide homes for another 32,000.

About 40,000 Lebanese live in Mexico and about 20,000 in Canada. The rest are scattered in Asia, Europe, and even some in New Zealand.

MacDowell Chorus Sings Friday Eve

Men Give Yule Concert

A new tradition in Pontiac's growing wealth of musical events will be launched Friday evening when MacDowell Male Chorus presents its first Holiern High School's Auditorium at 8:15.

Now in its 28th year, MacDowell Male Chorus is made up of men from all walks of life who enjoy group singing. In addition to their annual spring concert, the chorus participates with other choruses in Pontiac's Civic Christmas Concert and they appear as guests at many area functions.

MELVIN LARIMER

This year as a service project, they will carol at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Under the direction of Melvin Larimer who is also vocal director at Pontiac Northern High School, the chorus will present a number of seasonal carols Friday, as well as the Handel "Hallelujah," some traditional Thanksgiving folk hymns and selections from "My Fair Lady."

An added feature of the evening will be the appearance twice on the program of the Pontiac Central High School Girls Ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Doreen Voltmann.

According to Neil R. Hunter, president, tickets may be obtained from any chorus member or at the door.

Drop Hints on Strength of Perfume

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: How can we get a woman in our office to stop using so much perfume? It is making us all seasick."

Answer: She evidently has lost her sense of smell for this particular brand—which invariably happens after it is used over a long period of time. The only advice I can think of is if a few of you in the office comment audibly about "that strong perfume", and the rest of you can say "not guilty," it may occur to the culprit that she is the one at fault.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married in three weeks and I would like to know if I should open any gifts that are brought to the reception. My mother thinks it would be very rude not to, but I do not think a wedding reception is the place to open presents. Will you please settle this for us?"

Answer: A wedding reception is most certainly not the place to open presents, which properly should be sent to the bride's house before the day of the wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We have been invited to the wedding of our future daughter-in-law's sister. As yet we have not met her family as they live out of town and we have no car. Was this invitation sent us just in courtesy and should we send a gift?"

Answer: Undoubtedly the impulse to send the invitation was one of friendliness and you will most certainly be welcomed. Although not necessary, a gift would be a pleasing evidence of your willing response to the gesture of your new "kin-folk."

"Dear Mrs. Post: A dear friend of mine, a widow, is going to be married again in a month. As she gave me a shower when I was married, I would like to do the same for her. However, I have been told that it is improper to give a shower for a bride who is marrying for the second time. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: If you can find enough of her new friends who did not give her shower presents at the time of her first marriage, it will be quite all right to ask them to a shower for her now.

Your Gesture Shameful to Mates Past, Present

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I married a widower and you can imagine my embarrassment when, on the second anniversary of his deceased wife's death, my husband placed a basket of flowers in church in her memory. And me a bride of four months!

ABBY

My first impulse was to send him to join his first wife. But I had a better idea. The following Sunday there was a much larger, more beautiful basket of flowers in church in memory of my first husband. And guess who received the bill?

GOT EVEN

DEAR GOT: It's women like you who make "basket cases" out of marriages. With your present attitude, you'll be lucky to be a bride of five months.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of four children. Our eldest is retarded. When our suspicions were confirmed, our hearts were broken. But we have accepted the fact and are learning to live with it.

My mother-in-law has never accepted the fact and is constantly trying to talk my husband and me into putting the child in an institution. I'd die first.

My mother-in-law showers our other children with gifts, but she has never given Billy anything. She says, "He can't appreciate anything." When she visits us (which is almost daily) she asks me to send Billy out of the room as she says it "makes her sick" to look at him. She treats him like an animal.

I can't tell my husband's mother she is not welcome in my home. But I can't stand it much longer. Can you advise me, please?

NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Your husband can and should tell his mother that she must treat Billy like the other children or she can stay home. What kind of father is your husband to permit his child to be treated "like an animal"? If your husband doesn't straighten out his mother—you have every right to put her out.

DEAR ABBY: There is a certain woman who plays bridge with us and she is getting on our nerves. When she is the dummy, she will run around (and while she's at it she takes a good look at everybody else's hand) to stand behind her partner. She will sigh and gasp and groan and make all sorts of telling noises. We have had this standing foursome for over 20 years and it would be very awkward to get rid of her. We all agree that bridge with her isn't fun any more. How can we tell her off without hurting her feelings, or drop her from the foursome? She reads your column.

"THE TUESDAY CLUB"

DEAR CLUB: If she reads this column, it will no longer be necessary for her to read your minds.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LONESOME: Go somewhere on your vacation. Nobody needs a "LOOKER LICENSE."

Mrs. Percival Kidd, president, will be hostess for the February meeting.

Yule Bazaar Thursday

Luncheon, dinner and all-day snacks will be served at the Congregational Church's "Prelude to Christmas" bazaar Thursday. The public is invited to both the a la carte luncheon and the swiss steak dinner.

Mrs. George Gaches is general chairman of the bazaar. Her committee chairmen include Mrs. Bert F. Griffin, tickets, and Mrs. Ian Kiltie, decorations. The kitchen committee for the luncheon is headed by Mrs. Mason W. Rich and Mrs. Donald A. McIntosh, while the dinner committee is cochaired by Mrs. Norman Cheal and Mrs. Dale Moats.

A children's bazaar, with games and refreshments, is being sponsored by the Alden group of the Women's Fellowship.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Luncheon will be from 11 to 2. Dinner hours are 5 to 7 p.m.

Citizens Group to Meet Tonight

The Oakland County Citizens Committee for Pontiac State Hospital will meet tonight at 8:15 p.m. at the hospital.

Morris Buck, chief psychologist at Pontiac State Hospital, will speak on the topic, "What Is a Psychologist — What Does He Do?"

Pair in Charge of Reservations

Mrs. J. C. Ramsey of Walma drive and Mrs. Gerald Lawson of Elmgate drive are the local residents handling reservations for the Olivet College Mother's Club Christmas card and dessert party at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 10 in the Women's City Club Auditorium, Detroit.

Proceeds of the party will benefit the college.

Soroptimists to Hold Bazaar, Kard Kapers

The Soroptimist Club of Pontiac will hold its Kard Kapers and Bazaar Thursday evening at 8 p.m. at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Auditorium. Proceeds from this, its major fund raising event of the year, will benefit the philanthropic projects of this service organization.

Working with Mrs. Oliver Lemeaux, general chairman, are Mrs. Arnold Hillerman, ticket chairman; Alice Kimball and Mrs. Kenneth Wright, bazaar chairmen; Mrs. Leon Glynn and Mrs. Roy Maxwell, prizes; Mrs. Karl Schultz, tables; and Mrs. Raymond Swackhamer, refreshments.

Twin Group to Hear Talk

The Twins' Mothers' Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Green, in Lake Orion, Thursday at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Thomas Smith, supervisor at the Oakland County Youth Home and Children's Center, will speak on her experience with the institutionalized child and delinquent tendencies sometimes found in home and community. Guests are welcome.

Intriguing Look at the Future

You May Shop From Home by Video

NEW YORK (UPI) — From now until they finish Auld Lang Syne, we can brace for postmortems on the 1950s and for previews of the 1960s.

We'll be told how frantic, fabulous and fun-filled the decade was; we'll hear forecasts of even more frantic, fabulous and fun-filled years ahead.

One man, an industrial designer, already is getting his licks in. And if life on the home front shapes up as he sees it, we're about to share in the greatest labor-saver of all. We'll be able to eliminate many of the usual shopping expeditions and just sit home and spend money by "pushbutton."

WHEE, GIRLS!

Saul Nesbitt, a designer for 15 years, said his is no pipedream; that electronics will do the work for us, especially in the food field.

Nesbitt sketched a shoppers' paradise in a talk before the Merchandising Exploration Club, a group of professional men who meet regularly to discuss packaging, advertising and selling potentials.

He enlarged on the subject in an interview. All the gadgets necessary already are developed, he said. All that is needed is for someone to "compile" them.

Here is how Nesbitt sees "operation market basket" before the next decade ends. Mrs. Housewife will sit before a videophone (which operates on her regular telephone line), dial the number of her favorite supermarket (which has developed into a vast, dispensing warehouse), and make her selections from the images of foods and other household items appearing with their prices on her videophone screen.

At the warehouse, her voice —as she spells out her shopping list—will be tape-recorded and her order will be classified according to items and designated for assembling and routing, via electronic "brains."

From the assembly area, the order will move along a conveyor belt to the truck servicing her residential area. She can use either a charge account or pay on delivery.

Electronic shopping, Nesbitt said, will eliminate "the greatest bottleneck in the supermarket — the checkout counter. No one has found a way around it yet . . . despite all the other conveniences we've developed."

Nesbitt said food suppliers, on the alert to create more sales, will also help the woman with her menus—showing on the video phone entire meals along with the food items needed to produce them.

The designer believes that store and shopping centers as as result will be able to cut operating costs and presumably pass the savings on to the consumer. Consumer parking lots no longer will be needed; a market can operate as easily in a low rent district as in a high one; the store will save on labor.

Advertising will put more stress on "selling" the package; the housewife thus taught to retain the image of how a certain product looks.

"Pushbutton shopping logically will come to food first," said Nesbitt. "I see no reason why it can't be expanded to appliances, furniture, even clothes."

But in the fashion division, he said, there always will be personal forays. A woman might see something she likes on the screen, but she still will need to go to the store to see fabric and color, and for fittings.

Yule Fair Will Help Students

The proceeds of the Sylvan Lake Farm and Garden Club's annual Christmas Fair will be used for scholarships.

Mrs. Orville Tripp and Mrs. Howard White are cochairmen for the sale which will be held at the Oakland County Boat Club Thursday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

A variety of Christmas decorations, candy, aprons, baked goods and novelties will be offered Christmas shoppers.

A hobby corner will feature hand crafted goods for display and sale. Refreshments will be offered at a Christmas Tea Table.

Pert enough for a pixie, this cozy lightweight box coat of Orlon and Dynel is available locally in a rich assortment of colors.

Luncheon for MOMS

The National Board, MOMS of America, was luncheon guest of Mrs. Malcolm Scantland at her Squirrel road home following Monday's meeting.

Mrs. Howard Estes of Birmingham conducted the business session.

Gifts will be sent to the Oakland County Children's Home and to Veterans' hospitals.

Mrs. Wilbur U. Johnstone will hostess the Feb. 4 meeting in her home at 610 Southfield road, Birmingham.

Six Couples Win at Bridge Meeting

Eleven tables were in play when the Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at the Elks Table.

Winners were Mrs. Rudolph Esch and Mrs. Robert Wisener, Allan Rososky and Donald Stephenson, Mrs. Ollie Davis and Mrs. Joseph McNerney.

Others were Mrs. W. H. Barron and Melvin Small, Frank Murphy and William Pitchford, Mrs. Howard Campbell and Mrs. Lucille Sweatt.

Have You Tried This?

Spicy Meringue Tops Lemon Filled Cake

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's recipe comes from a cook in Royal Oak, Mrs. James McMonagle. She uses it often when she is entertaining a large group. We tried it recently and found it very good.

Cinnamon Lemon Torte
By Mrs. James McMonagle

Bake 1 box yellow cake mix on a greased cookie sheet for 20-25 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool. Spread with cooled lemon filling. Spread meringue over filling so that it is completely covered. Bake at 350 degrees for 15-20 minutes, or until brown.

Filling

Juice and rind of 2 lemons
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups hot water
6 egg yolks
2 tablespoons butter

Cook together until thickened the sugar, cornstarch and water. Stir frequently or use a double boiler. Add beaten egg yolks and cook until thickened again. Add butter, stir until melted. Remove from fire and add lemon juice and rind.

Meringue

6 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Add cinnamon to sugar and gradually beat into whites.

Best Volumes Are Displayed at Book Fair

The second annual book fair is being held by the Bloomfield Hills Elementary Schools through Friday at the Vaughan School.

Theme for the reading exhibit is "Go Exploring in Books." Three dimensional exhibits of favorite book characters have been made by the children under the supervision of Mrs. Mabel Hammerbeck, art consultant, and their grade teachers.

The books on display are outstanding 1959 publications chosen by their publishers as best. One of the Traveling Elementary School Science libraries the Vaughan School has received from the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, Washington, D. C., also is on exhibit.

Each child is given a folder in which he may note books he wishes to read or own. Books in the exhibit are not for sale, however. The purpose of the fair is to inform teachers, parents and students of the best in new reading material for either school libraries or holiday giving.

16 Girl Scouts Get Pins at Candlelight Investiture

The traditional Fly-up Ceremony, which is the graduation from Brownie to the Intermediate program, was directed by Mrs. Kenton Plourde, leader, and Mrs. Ervin Barnowsky, assistant leader.

Receiving their tenderfoot pins were Diane Baril, Cathy Barnowsky, Lynn Bauer, Diane Campbell and Joanne Cook.

Mrs. Richard Robichaud was installed as troop leader by Mrs. Davis.

Refreshments and group singing concluded the evening.

Weekly Shampoo May Help Eyes

Dr. James S. Jordan, a leading Pennsylvania eye specialist, reports that one common eye trouble — characterized by sore eyelids — is often related to dandruff.

This expert adds that shampoos help correct both conditions, and advises sufferers to shampoo twice a week for at least a month. If dandruff and the eyelid condition haven't then cleared up, he suggests consulting a dermatologist.

MRS. CLARENCE E. MILEY

Barbara Alice Keller, daughter of Mrs. Everett Keller, of East Beverly avenue, became the bride of the Rev. Clarence E. Miley, son of Mrs. Floyd Miley of Flint, and the late Rev. Miley, Saturday in the First General Baptist Church.

Barbara Alice Keller Marries Rev. Miley

Barbara Alice Keller of East Beverly Avenue exchanged wedding vows and rings with the Rev. Clarence E. Miley of Decker, Ind., Saturday evening in the First General Baptist Church.

Daughter of Mrs. Everett Keller, and the late Mr. Keller, the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Cecil Keller. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Floyd Miley of Flint and the late Rev. Miley.

The bouffant wedding gown of imported rose pointe lace featured a fitted Basque bodice and a wide band of taffeta appliqued with galleon lace on the chapel-length skirt. Seed pearls etched the scalloped lace sabrina neckline. Mounted on the bridegroom's gift of a white Bible, held by the bride, was a cascade of white roses and carnations.

Delphinium blue gowns worn by attendants were of pure silk, and their flowers white carnations. Polly Jane Russell, of Columbia, Mo., was honor maid for her niece. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Weishaupt, Mrs. Jerry Dean Russell and Martha Kuppart, all of Pontiac, and the bridegroom's sister, Carolyn Ann Miley of Flint. The bridegroom's nephew Terry Welch of Flint carried the ring.

Olin R. Miley stood as best man for his brother. Guests were seated by Doyle Welch and Morris Asa of Flint; the Rev. Melvin Evans of Midland; Jerry Dean Russell, Claude McGruder and Fred Weishaupt.

Mamie May Get a Foreign Yuletide Gift

WASHINGTON (U P I) — President Eisenhower's forthcoming goodwill trip to Europe, Asia and Africa seems almost sure to mean a present with a foreign label on it in Mrs. Eisenhower's Christmas stocking.

White House aides note that, in common with most husbands, the President normally leaves most of the family Yuletime gift buying to his wife.

And, similarly, the one gift that is his responsibility — the one for her — often is an almost last-minute affair involving the dispatching of a White House aide.

TRINKET FROM TEHERAN?

This year, however, with the President returning to Washington only two days before Christmas, chances appear good that the First Lady's gift may be some Indian silk from New Delhi, a trinket from Teheran or a memento from Madrid.

The availability of daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, for consultation and shopping forays, increases the likelihood of a gift from abroad for Mrs. Eisenhower as well as the four Eisenhower grandchildren.

Young Mrs. Eisenhower already has said that if time permits she hopes to do a bit of her own Christmas shopping on the trip.

When he went to Geneva for the 1955 summit meeting the President himself did some present-buying. He picked out dolls for the three granddaughters. Where Mrs. Eisenhower's present came from that year is still a state secret.

Daughter-in-law Barbara would be most helpful if called upon to choose a bit of famed Indian sari silk for the First Lady.

Earlier this fall she accompanied Mrs. Eisenhower to a local designer's salon when the First Lady was armed with an emerald green Indian silk sheer fabric embroidered with large gold and silver medallions. It ended up as a dinner gown for White House state parties.

Nine Tables in Play at Bridge Session

The Pontiac Bonneville Duplicate Bridge Club met Saturday evening in the Hotel Waldron with nine tables in play.

Winners were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guy; Mrs. Charlotte Feldman and Terry Bladen; Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Bronson; Elaine Zeve and Fred Morganroth; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Formhals, and Jan Snader and Bruce Coryell.

Mr. and Mrs. Algie Black of West Ann Arbor avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Robert D. Bryan, son of Mrs. Watson Bryan of Palmer street and the late Mr. Bryan. A Feb. 27 wedding is planned.

Some Gals Delight in Being Miserable

By RUTH MILLETT

Have you ever thought about the one big difference between the happy women you are always glad to see and the unhappy women you'll cross a street to avoid?

The big difference, of course, is that the happy women concentrate on what gives them pleasure and the unhappy women concentrate on what makes the miserable.

Whenever you chance to meet Mrs. M (the "M" is for miserable), she has a tale of woe to tell you. If she's redoing her house or building a new one, you are sure to hear about all the things that have gone wrong, how disappointed she is about this and that, what a time she has had with the workmen on the job, and so on.

Run into Mrs. H ("H" is for happy) under the same circumstances, and you'll hear an excited, happy account of what fun she is having working out ideas and solving problems, how cooperative everyone on the job has been, how anxious she is for you to see what she has done, and so on.

Both women are going through the same kind of experience, but there is one big difference:

Mrs. M is making the most of every little thing that goes wrong, every setback, every human failing. She gets her enjoyment out of groaning and grumbling.

But Mrs. H is happily concentrating on the fun of accomplishment, the excitement of seeing a dream materialize and is getting her fun out of sharing the happy side of her experience.

It's that way with anything that happens to the Mrs. M's and the Mrs. H's among your friends and acquaintances.

BIG DIFFERENCE

The Mrs. H's concentrate on the happy side of life and the Mrs. M's concentrate on the unhappy. That is why your face lights up with pleasure when you run into a Mrs. H. It's why it begins to droop after three minutes of conversation with a Mrs. M who, if she has no personal tale of woe to tell you, is sure to regale you with all the terrible things that have been happening to everyone you both know.

Try Training Family First

Outdoor abrasives tracked into a house play havoc with bare floors.

One way to cut down on marring floors this way is to persuade members of the family to clean their shoes before coming into the house. If this doesn't work, fill in scratches with shellac and then wax.

Look Is New

The new look in men's suits stems from an Italian style concept. The jacket is more shaped and fitted at the waist and somewhat shorter. A cutaway front, two button closing and side vents are other new marks. Trousers are tapered and cuffless.

Need Not Be Long

Copy Cats and Take a Nap

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It seems unfortunate that the time when the family gathers, in the late afternoon, is the time when friction is most apt to develop. It is the end of a long, busy day for everyone, yet each individual demands immediate attention from the others.

If father were allowed to go to his room and rest and read for a half hour before hearing about the doings of the day or having to decide any questions or solve any problems, the evening meal would be much more pleasant for him and for everyone else.

If mother could organize her day so that she has a nap or rest during the day, she would meet the evening in a much more charming mood. Many women rush from the time they get up in the morning until they sit down at the dinner table at night. This is certain to place a strain on their nerves and dispositions.

If the son and daughter would wait, whenever possible, until after dinner to bring up questions, it would add to the family fun together at meal time. If some decision has to be made sooner than that it usually can wait at least a half hour after arrival at home.

People are the only animals who do not take naps during the day. No self-respecting dog or cat would rush all day long without many snoozes. I suppose that is why we call little naps "cat naps."

The rest or cat nap can be of only a few minutes duration or it can last an hour or so. Most famous folks who seem to accomplish so much have learned the art of complete relaxation during several short rest periods during the day.

The busiest housewife can take 10 or 15 minutes at lunch time for a little lie-down, and there is nothing so relaxing as a warm bath in the late afternoon before dressing for the evening. This can change one's whole outlook and bring good humor into play again as tension drops away.

Congenial families rush home with pleasant anticipation as night approaches but often the occasion turns into a jumble of desires, criticisms, tensions, disagreements and recitals of woe.

The evening meal is the only time during the day when there is leisure enough to enjoy one another. Why not take advantage of it?

Today's Story

"Give-and-Take Christmas"

For lo these many years ole Bing has been dreaming about a white Christmas. Now we'd like to add a chorus or two about something brand new: the "Give and Take" Christmas.

It breaks down neatly into two parts. One, Give Photographic gifts for a happy Christmas. Two, Take pictures that save and share the fun.

There, in a handful of words, are all the reasons I could ever drum up for giving cameras for Christmas. For after all, nothing can match the sheer bubbling job of Christmas morning. And there's no better way to say it than with pictures.

So take a quick check of your Christmas shopping list. See how many people you've got marked for something "extra special" . . . and decide now to give them a camera outfit. It's the kind of gift that makes the day. Yet, at our store you can spend as little as $5.95 to do it.

Nice Extra Touch Department: The "Open Me First" tags we supply with gifts make sure they are opened first to catch all the Christmas fun.

Snap away as the children open their presents. Then later, when you write your "thank you" notes, tuck a snapshot in the envelope. It's a thoughtful way to share the fun of the holiday with the folks who helped make it possible.

Aides Cater to Ike's Food on Trip

NEW YORK — People . . . Places . . . Things . . .

The President's travel plans differ in one major degree from those of his late and even more traveled secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Ike will take along his own drinking water.

U.S. embassies along the route have discreetly asked his many hosts to go easy on foods that are not on his rather strict diet. Dulles ate and drank his way right through the alien corn.

"Never once have been ill from the water or the food," Dulles told us briskly a few years ago. "There wasn't any way in which I could have done things differently. It might have offended if I had asked for bottled water or some special kind of food."

Dulles had an iron stomach. We're relieved that the President, whose stomach is somewhat less, will take the precautions necessary to get him through his backbreaking trip in good health.

Streamline trains running from or to New England and New York to Florida are now bucking the competition of the airlines by providing nurses for children, social get-togethers of strangers in the diners and club cars, and other long-neglected boons usually associated with leisurely cruise ships.

The shipping people have plans, too, in the hope of doing something about the fact that more people now fly the Atlantic than travel on its surface. A Dutch-American group, headed by a former prime minister of the Netherlands, proposes to build four 120,000 ton ocean liners, each 1,275 feet long, capable of making 35 knots and able to carry 8,000 passengers and a crew of 2,000.

The ships, according to embryo plans, would have eight dining rooms of varied types, snack-bars, soda fountains, cocktail lounges, four night clubs, a theater-auditorium seating 1,200 and a movie theater to fit 800, swimming pools, 50 shops, private rooms for convention groups, etc. etc. etc.

The roundtrip fare for a family of student-group of three or four persons in a private state room with bath and including meals would be $175 per head. Two people — $200 each. Hermits — $275. Ports: Plymouth, Amsterdam, Lisbon and Italian ports.

Took a small friend named Deborah to see Mary Martin's wonderful "Sound of Music" the other night.

My companion gave off clucking sounds of approval as Miss Martin, fresh from the convent, restores laughter and song (glorious song by Rodgers and Hammerstein) to the populous household of the handsome martinet widower. There were blissful sighs from my friend as the widower falls in love with Miss Martin, a combination governess — foster mother — slavey, and invites her to the Great Ball.

The delightful children in "Sound of Music" jump with joy at this happy turn of events. Miss Martin hurries upstairs in the rosiest confusion since Cinderella's Finest Hour, apparently to change into her happiest gown.

But when she reappears she is wearing the bilious violet dress she wore when she arrived at the mansion, and in her hand is the cardboard suitcase which proclaims that she is returning to the cloistered life.

My friend's reaction was swift, sure, in the finest tradition of human emotions, and was hardly audible beyond a radius of ten rows. My friend said:

"Rats!"

I wonder if others who ate cranberries on Thanksgiving had the same reaction? They were absolutely delicious. I couldn't imagine a Thanksgiving dinner without them. I feel sorry for those who backed away. And I'm not running for office. I just think they're the greatest.

Michigan Bell Pays $6,960,000 in Taxes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Monday paid the second half of its biggest state property tax in history.

A $6,960,000 check, earmarked for the state primary school fund, was turned over to the State Revenue Department.

The utility's property tax for the full year is nearly 14 million dollars—a boost of more than $1,400,000 over 1958.

The nation's first large-scale electric power station was opened in New York City by Thomas A. Edison on Nov. 18, 1882. Driven by a steam engine, the station delivered 2.4 pounds of electric energy for every 100 pounds of coal consumed.

Troy City Audit Review Will Be Open to Public

Warned to Start Plans by End of Year

Lapeer Officials Seek New Jail

LAPEER — Faced with the closing of the century-old county jail in the near future, Lapeer County officials are planning to visit newer jails Thursday and Friday to get ideas for construction of a new facility.

The State Corrections Commission has informed the county supervisors that if plans for a new jail are not under way by the end of the year, it will seek a court order to close the present jail.

State Jail Inspector William H. Nestle has termed the 100-year-old lockup "overcrowded and unsafe." He is urging construction of a 35-prisoner jail which could be enlarged to accomodate 50 at a later date.

The present jail can hold 20 prisoners.

"There are two problems facing the county officials. One is the site for the proposed facility, the other, what type structure.

Voters were asked last August for permission to use money from the building fund to buy a site for the county jail.

The exact site did not appear on the ballot, but officials agreed it would be the 13 acres on the Lapeer State Home and Training School property on M21.

The jail site proposal was defeated by an overwhelming vote of 2,944 to 932.

Rural property owners, who campaigned against acquisition of the new site, wanted a jail built on the present courthouse block.

They were, and still are, interested in preserving the century-old courthouse and the present county buildings in the heart of the city.

Nestle is against the new location of the new jail on the present site because it would be too close to the "highly inflamable" wooden courthouse.

He maintains that if the new jail is built there it will be less than 75 feet from the courthouse and a fire wall will have to be constructed between the two structures.

The state inspector also said the new jail, if located there, would have to be a two-story structure and would require more state funds to maintain.

The county officials will visit both two-story and one-story jails in Standish, Alpena, Howell and Tawas City. Also on their two-day itinerary is the courthouse at Harrisville.

Area Mayor Has World Fair Post

Swanson of Southfield Managed State Event for Five Years

Mayor Donald L. Swanson of Southfield, general manager of the Michigan State Fair for the past five years, yesterday was elected to the 10-member board of directors of the International Assn. on Fairs and Expositions. His election came at the organization's 69th annual meeting in Chicago.

Mayor Swanson became the first Michigan State Fair official ever named to the board, which represents 257 state and county fairs in the United States and Canada.

Swanson was scheduled to speak twice to fair officials on "General Attractions" and "Grandstand Shows" during the convention which continues through Wednesday night.

Another Michigan official on the program is Dick Frederick, publicity and advertising director in Detroit, who will speak on "Promotion Through Radio and Television."

Also named to the board of directors was Lloyd Roden of the Tallahassee Florida Fair. The new president of the International Assn. elected today is Willard Masterson, manager of the Wisconsin State Fair. Elected vice president was J. C. Huskisson of Tampa, Fla.

Commission Rejects Bid for Private Study Session

TROY—The meeting to review the Troy city audit for 1958-59 will be open to the public. It is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Monday.

The auditors, Touche, Niven, Bailey and Smart of Detroit, have asked city commissioners to go over the audit with them in a private study session.

The motion approving the open meeting climaxed a heated discussion in which Commissioner Louis Yanich firmly restated his position disapproving of closed sessions.

Mayor Robert J. Huber maintained that the commission was "trying to clear up the mess we inherited and put the city on a sound financial basis."

"This is the important contribution we can make if we follow the auditing firm's request for a private meeting," he added.

Commissioner Clifford Sutermeister said the public "already knows" the details concerning over-assessments, and Yanich added that contracts entered into by city officials also should be reviewed in public.

The motion to go over the budget behind closed doors was defeated by a 4 to 3 vote. After the discussion a motion to hold the public session next Monday night was approved unanimously.

Another matter which was the subject of lengthy deliberation during the three-hour session was the question of issuing SDD licenses in the City of Troy.

The commission voted 6 to 1 to get the city attorney's written opinion on whether the city can confirm or deny requests for licenses and whether a joint meeting can be held with the city's liquor committee to review the lists of all applicants for the licenses.

An additional item on the agenda which has been turned over to the attorney for an opinion is the long-established practice of charging petitioners a $10 fee for public hearings.

NO AUTHORITY

City Attorney Stanley Burke said the commission has no authorization, according to the statutes, to charge a fee. He added that the people are merely petitioning for legislation.

Huber said the $10 fee had been termed "reasonable" and had been levied for years, to partially offset the cost of the hearings.

Yanich asked how other cities could charge $150 and $200 for hearings if it is illegal. Two previous hearings had cost the city $35.35 and over $120, it was reported.

Preliminary plats for Evergreen Gardens and Carrillon Park subdivisions were approved as were sanitary sewers for Pine Hill and Meadowlane subdivisions.

Ambulance Payments Guaranteed

TROY — The Troy City Commission last night approved an ambulance service policy requested in September by the four firms who handle emergency calls for the city.

The agreement, scheduled to go into effect immediately, states that the city will assume the cost of ambulance service calls when they are requested by the Troy police or fire departments. This is providing these calls are not already covered by insurance, direct payment, compensation or county relief.

In addition, the policy provides that the city will pay for the service calls after the private ambulance firm answering the calls has used all means of collection within a six-month period.

A further stipluation is that the city pay the firms a flat rate of $12 per service call providing the calls are directed to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, or William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

An additional fee of $3 per call will be allowed when oxygen is used, the policy reads.

The four firms involved in the agreement are Suburban Ambulance Service, Royal Oak; Gramer Funeral Home, Clawson; Birmingham Ambulance Service; and Price Funeral Home.

Rochester Will Shorten Christmas Parade Route

ROCHESTER — The route of the ninth annual Christmas parade in Rochester to be held at 2 p.m. Saturday will be shortened this year.

Instead of assembling at North Hill Plaza as in previous years, participants will fall into the line of march above the intersection of Main street and Romeo road.

Trophies will be awarded for the best amateur and the best commercially-built floats and the best matching unit. In addition, a trophy will be given for the best religious entry, according to Thor Ulseth, parade chairman.

Sponsored by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce this year, the event is already shaping up to be one of the largest and most impressive in its nine-year history, Ulseth said.

More than 40 entries have been received including floats by local merchants, service clubs and one from North Central Christian College.

One of the parade highlights will be the appearance of Santa Claus, riding in a sleigh drawn by ponies from the John F. Ivory estate in White Lake Township.

Two units from nearby Nike sites, which will include at least one missile, will be featured as well as the marching bands from Avondale High School and the Rochester Junior and Senior high schools.

Other participants will be the Buick "Liberty Drum and Eagle Corps" from Flint, the "Rae-Vens," all-girl drill team from Pontiac and television star, "Sagebrush Shorty" and his horse, "Snooper."

Another popular area entertainer who will march in the parade is "Skip, the Clown" from Farmington.

The paraders will proceed down Main street to Third street, then turn up Walnut street to the American Legion Hall where they will disband.

Rock on Southfield Zoning Appeal Body

SOUTHFIELD — The City Council here last night appointed A. J. Rock to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

He will fill the post left vacant when Clarence A. Durbin resigned after being elected to the City Council.

Rock, 40, of 20778 Frazer Rd. is department head of the Engineering and Missile Division of Chrysler Corp. He is married and has three children.

The City Council took no action on a Planning Commission recommendation to approve the first portion of the proposed east-west expressway. This extends from Inkster road to 12-mile road.

The recommendation was referred back to the City Highway Committee for further study.

AFS Sets Show on Arrangement of Flowers

AVON TOWNSHIP — A flower arranging show will be staged Thursday evening at Avondale Senior High School with local florist, Miss Dorothy Brooks, as guest speaker. It starts at 8 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the Avondale branch of the American Field Service to raise funds for the student exchange program.

Miss Brooks says that the basis of any good flower arrangement is common sense and complete freedom of expression.

How the modern woman may let her imagination soar and still achieve efefctive and satisfying results will be explained by the expert.

Leader Dogs Boon to Blind

School Near Rochester in the Spotlight During 'Week' Observance

During Leader Dog Week, now being observed, attention is focused on the special school near Rochester where guide dogs are trained for the blind.

Known as Leader Dogs for the Blind, the school was established in 1939 by the Lions Club of Michigan. Since then it has graduated nearly 1,500 dogs.

These dogs enable their owners to enter fully, despite their handicap, into the life of the community—to live an active and contributive life of their own, explained Harold L. Pocklington, school director.

The Lions clubs, which help maintain the leader dog school, are interested in arranging enrollment of every eligible person.

The Lions are furnishing operating funds and looking for dogs that can be trained.

With the demand for services greater than ever in the history of the school, there is serious need for dogs to be trained, said Pocklington. New kennels will house 127 dogs in single stalls. These are warm, well drained, light and comfortable quarters, and the dogs live under constant care of qualified attendants.

Dogs needed are German shepherds: Labrador, golden and Chesapeake retrievers between one or two years of age.

All must be positively friendly, even to strangers, and they must be at least 24 inches in height at the shoulders.

Leader dogs are furnished, free of charge, to eligible blind from all over the country.

OXFORD—Children in the Oxford area are all excited at the prospect of greeting Santa Claus when he arrives by helicopter here Saturday afternoon.

His whirlybird is scheduled to land on the Daniel Axford school grounds at 1 p.m.

Arrangements for Santa's pre-Christmas Eve visit to town have been made by the Oxford Chamber of Commerce.

Jack Reid, C. of C. president, said after St. Nick says "hello" to the youngsters at the school, he will be driven to the village park in a horse-drawn sleigh.

There he will distribute gifts to the children while a group of high school carolers sing familiar Christmas songs.

Next Santa will go to the Oxford Theater where he will be guest of honor at a theater party at 3 p.m. A free movie will be shown.

75 Expert Patrolmen Walk New York Area

NEW YORK (AP)—An elite corps of 75 patrolmen — all over 6 feet, under 30 years of age, and jiu jitsu experts — will go on duty tonight, assigned to the Lower East Side, where there has been a rash of muggings and robberies recently.

The new squad was organized as an experiment to help cope with the city's crime problem.

NEW TROY POST OFFICE — This gray brick building which covers 5,800 square feet and is located at 4080 Livernois is the new home of the U. S. Post Office in Troy. Opened one year ago, it will be dedicated Saturday in a special ceremony at the building. The Troy High School band will provide the music for the occasion.

First Book Fair Set by Glengary PTA

WALLED LAKE — More than 1,000 books will be on display at the first book fair to be sponsored by the Glengary Elementary School PTA Friday and Saturday.

Any of the books may be ordered and will be delivered before Christmas.

Money raised by the book sale will go toward the school's visual aid and dental clinic programs.

On Friday the school will be opened from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

New Troy Post Office to Be Dedicated Saturday

TROY — The new U.S. Post Office in Troy will be dedicated Saturday, almost a year to the day since it opened.

The dedication was postponed until work on the interior could be completed. The building covers 5,800 square feet and serves residents living within a 28 square-mile area.

The ceremony will take place indoors at 2:30 p.m. with Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland) presenting an American flag which has flown over the Capital and U. S. Post Office in Washington D. C.

The welcoming address will be given by Mayor Robert J. Huber. Postmaster Sherwood Shaver will introduce his 22 fellow employes.

Principal speaker will be Kenneth L. Rabidoux, assistant director of real estate for the Post Office Department in the nation's capital.

Acting as master of ceremonies will be Troy's first mayor, Frank Costello. He will present other city officials, prominent guests and area dignitaries.

Among the special guests will be former Congressman George A. Dondero and his son, Circuit Judge-elect Stanton G. Dondero, both of Royal Oak.

Field service officer Elmer Wallen will introduce postmasters from neighboring towns present for the dedication.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Ralph Janka of the Troy Methodist Church and the benediction by the Rev. Harold Moran of the Troy Baptist Church.

Sponsors of the event are the Troy Rotary and Exchange clubs. The local Business and Professional Women's Club will serve refreshments.

Voters' Unit Sets 1960 Troy Drive

TROY — The Troy Independent Voters' Council will initiate its official 1960 politcial campaign, aimed at electing qualified, responsible persons to city offices by holding a "Meet the Candidates" night Thursday evening at Troy High School.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m.

The efforts of the council will be a continuation of those put forth last year which resulted in the election of a new mayor and two new commission members, a council spokesman said today.

Robert J. Huber was the successful candidate for mayor, and the two commissioners elected were Vincent McAvoy and Wallace Hudson.

At Thursday's meeting John Czarnowski and Robert Bargert will introduce themselves and present a brief discussion of their respective platforms as well as their views on vital city needs.

Czarnowski and Bargert, were the two candidates unanimously elected by the Citizens' Steering Committee last month to run for commission seats in the February primary.

Walled Lake Girl Vies

Nine Seek Apple Crown

A new Michigan Apple Queen wil be named tonight at the Michigan Horticultural Society convention in Grand Rapids.

Among the nine pretty contestants is Judith Ann Chapman of Walled Lake. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chapman of 41295 14-Mile Rd.

Other contestants are:

Bonita Jean Zech, 17, Baroda; Ann Louis Peabody, Fenton; Bonnie Button, East Lansing; Sandra Hotchkiss, Belding; Susan Jane Peapples, Kalamazoo; Betsy Mcson, Ludington; and Jean Walsworth, Hart.

Benson Doesn't See Farm Revolt in 1960

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson says he doubts there will be any marked revolt against the administration farm program in the 1960 elections.

"I haven't heard any particular grass-roots rumbling. But it is to some dissatisfaction" Benson said last night.

There are some good signs, he added, to offset farm problems. He listed: the highest net farm equity, highest net dairy earnings, improvements in the poultry and egg industries, strong per capita farm income and an improved hog price structure expected next year.

Benson, interviewed on a radio program, said he believed there was "much less likelihood of the farm vote being decisive, generally, but in some areas it will."

Star of Inge's Play Smartest; She Quit

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK—The smartest person ever connected with William Inge's, "A Loss of Roses," which opened Saturday night at the Eugene O'Neill Theater, undoubtedly was star Shirley Booth.

She quit the play before it came to Broadway.

This is the fifth play by Inge, who, until now, has had both critical and financial success each time out. My regard for his previous works has ranged from outright admiration to, at the least, respect.

But the new one is about as much a nothing as a play by an outstanding playwright—or anyone else for that matter—can be.

The dialogue often is embarrassingly juvenile, the characters are stock or worse and the over-all effect is one of abysmal dullness.

Hollywood Headlines:

Willson Would Dispatch Young Bands to Europe

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Meredith Willson has a mission.

His goal sounds a little improbable, but then Willson is an expert at the improbable. Such as creating "The Music Man" and getting it produced in the face of discouragement from nearly everyone of importance in show business.

THOMAS

"I thought I would quit after that," he said. "I believe in quitting when you're ahead. But then I got involved in two other shows that intrigued me—'The Unsinkable Mrs. Brown' and 'For 2 Cents Plain.'

"When I finish them up, I'm going to devote all my energies toward a project that I think will be of inestimable value to this country. America has been very good to me, and I want to do something in return.

TROMBONES FOR EUROPE

"I want to send 200 young marching bands to the capitals of Europe. I want to see them playing down those great streets—yes, even right into the Kremlin—in the most fantastic musical spectacle the Old World has ever seen. A three-hour parade of pure joy.

"Oh, it will be marvelous. These fresh young people—the best of America, marching in intricate patterns and playing their hearts out—will show Europeans the real face of our country. This would make us more friends than anything we could ever do."

Willson is admittedly a partisan of band music. A onetime clarinetist with John Phillip Sousa, he has led upwards of 10,000 players at Midwest festivals in his rousing "76 Trombones."

"Now I see the State Department is going to send over the Marine Corps. Well, that's all right. They play a good march. But Europeans aren't going to be too impressed by professional musicians employed by a government agency.

"They will be impressed by thousands of youngsters, all of them amateurs, who are playing for the pure joy of it."

'NOT IMPOSSIBLE'

The composer admitted that the logistics of transporting as many as 200,000 young Americans are formidable.

"But it's not impossible," he added fervently. "I don't expect the State Department to pay for all of it. I'm sure that if Mason City (his Iowa home town) had a chance to send its band to Europe, the people would raise the money somehow."

Iranian Youth, 17, Slaps His Girl; (No Immunity)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fahrad Adjoodani won't be prosecuted for slapping his girl friend, but diplomatic immunity didn't free him. He has none.

The father of the girl, the Rev. J. Glenn Bolick, a Lutheran minister, said Monday he did not intend to press charges.

Adjoodani, 17, is the son of an Iranian official here, and police first said he had diplomatic immunity. But the State Department later announced that his father's immunity did not extend to the son. The father, Mahmoud Adjoodani, is assistant director of the Iranian student exchange.

The Adjoodani youth said he was angered because his girl, Sandra Louise Bolick, 16, had been going out with other boys while he was attending Youngstown (Ohio) University. He slapped her and fired two blank cartridges from a pistol.

The Iranian Embassy said it was considering sending the boy back to Iran, but had come to no decision.

445 Motorists Die Over 'Safe' Holiday

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend claimed 445 lives — a smaller toll than could be expected in a non-holiday period of similar length, according to National Safety Council estimates.

The council made no prediction of the highway death toll for Thanksgiving weekend. It estimated that a 102-hour non-holiday period from Wednesday evening to Sunday midnight at this time of year would produce 470 traffic deaths.

Fires during the holiday weekend killed 70 persons and 135 died in miscellaneous accidents for an over-all toll of 650.

Bug Menace Grows With Own Population Boom

DETROIT (AP) — The flies may conquer the flypaper some day, a bug expert maintains.

Harrold B. Jones, of American Smelting and Refining Co., Memphis, Tenn., contends that contrary to common belief, man is barely holding his own in the battle for survival against insects. He addressed the opening session here yesterday of the meeting of the entomological societies of America, Canada and Ontario.

"There are more mosquitoes, flies and bugs today than ever before," Jones said, "and the danger to the public is hard to evaluate. If we didn't have our present insecticides and arsenicals, all of our food and fiber crops would be lost."

African Queen Salvagers Fail to Sell Vessel

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Four men who risked life, limb and financial savings to refloat a broken tanker may have to take the ship apart for scrap to realize a profit.

That was the prospect facing the four amateur salvagers after a federal court-ordered auction Monday failed to produce any bidders for the 428-foot stern section of the African Queen.

Not an offer was heard as 200 persons assembled to hear a deputy marshal call for bids. By court order and at the request of the new owners, the opening bid had been set at a minimum of $250,000.

One shipbuilder, John L. Ropeer III, said the Queen might bring as little as $100,000 if sold as scrap. The salvagers estimate they spent more than that to raise the broken ship from the ocean floor off Maryland and have it towed to a shipyard here in September.

Susan MacMurray Weds With No Fuss

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Susan MacMurray, 19, daughter of actor Fred MacMurray, wanted her marriage to Thomas Moore Poole, 31, a Los Angeles businessman, to be a quiet affair. So did Poole. It was.

MacMurray announced Monday the couple was married Sunday at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Nev. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Clark, proprietors of the hotel, stood up for them and the ceremony was performed by a justice of the peace.

Former Senator Potter to Direct Tanker Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles E. Potter, former Michigan Republican senator, has been named executive director of the committee of American Tanker Owners, Inc.

Joseph Kahn, president of the committee which is composed of 14 American tanker companies, said Potter would work with federal agencies to find employment for the tankers owned by committee members.

Chrysler Awarded 2 Missile Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The award of two contracts to the Chrysler Corp., Detroit, for work on the Redstone and Jupiter missile systems, was announced by the Army yesterday.

They call for modification and engineering services on the Redstone totaling $521,828, and engineering services on the Jupiter amounting to $1,525,000.

The work will be done at the Michigan ordnance missile plant in Sterling Township.

Aviation Cadet Screening Test Age Limit Down

The Air Force has lowered the age limit for aviation cadet screening tests from 19 to 18 years, it was announced today by T. Sgt. Charles A. Ahnen, head of the Pontiac Air Force Recruiting Station.

Because many World War II flyers will be lost through retirement in the coming year, the Air Force is seeking a bumper crop of qualified young men to fill vacancies.

"Applicants for Aviation Cadet School do not have to be college graduates," says Sgt. Ahnen. "A diploma from Pontiac Central, Northern or any other accredited high school is the minimum requirement for men 18 or older."

The cadet program, which trains men to be pilots and navigators, is being stepped up to fill the cockpits of jets throughout the world next year.

Workers Sue Chrysler Over Status of Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — A suit has been filed in U.S. District Court by 134 skilled tradesmen who contend they are permanent employes but are treated as temporary workers by Chrysler Corp.

The workers, in a suit filed yesterday, asked that Chrysler be restrained from "violating its skilled trades agreement with the United Auto Workers." They also asked the court to decide what damages they were due for layoffs they contend were illegal.

The suit contended that under terms of a supplemental contract agreement signed in 1958 the workers were permanent employes but Chrysler treated them as temporary employes and laid them off from time to time.

Wife of Melchior's Son Gets California Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Apparent absent-mindedness of screen writer Ib J. Melchior helped his wife secure a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Hathaway Kale Melchior, 45, obtained a decree Monday on a deposition that her husband associated with other women.

The court was informed that Melchior, 43, son of famed singer Lauritz Melchior, once telephoned his wife by mistake. The deposition quoted Mrs. Melchior: "He asked for a Miss Graves and seemed very confused when I answered."

The couple was married in 1942 and separated in 1953. Mrs. Melchior was identified as a New York City school teacher.

PCH Cagers Open Season Tonight

SPORTS

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

As the grid season comes to a close, the mailbag gets a little lighter. But the mails will get heavier as the basketball race gets hotter.

DEAR SIR:

On behalf of the players and coaches at Ortonville High School I would like to thank The Pontiac Press Sports Department for the coverage given us the past football season. Our record was by far the poorest in the school's history and we are not laying any excuses to comfort us during the school year ahead. Most of our boys gave their best but part time players can't win ball games.

Sincere thanks,
Ron Johnson
Football Coach

Dear Ron:

Regardless of the future, it feels good just to say "Wait till next year."

DEAR SIR:

C'mon now, you weren't cutting up Tobin Rote when he led the Lions to the title in 1957. Suddenly he's a bum, and you're giving him the bum's rush.

Jim J.
Lake Orion

Dear Jim:

Remember a guy by the name of Layne who did most of the quarterbacking in the first nine games that year? Rote did a great job as the No. 2 man. It was good to have a shoulder like Layne's to lean on.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Cagey Charlie, our old friend from Cageville, is back with his "Blue Plate Specials" for the current prep season.

Ole Charlie sees:

Pontiac Central romping Edsel Ford tonight, Avondale over Rochester, Bloomfield Hills over Oak Park and Clarkston over Ortonville.

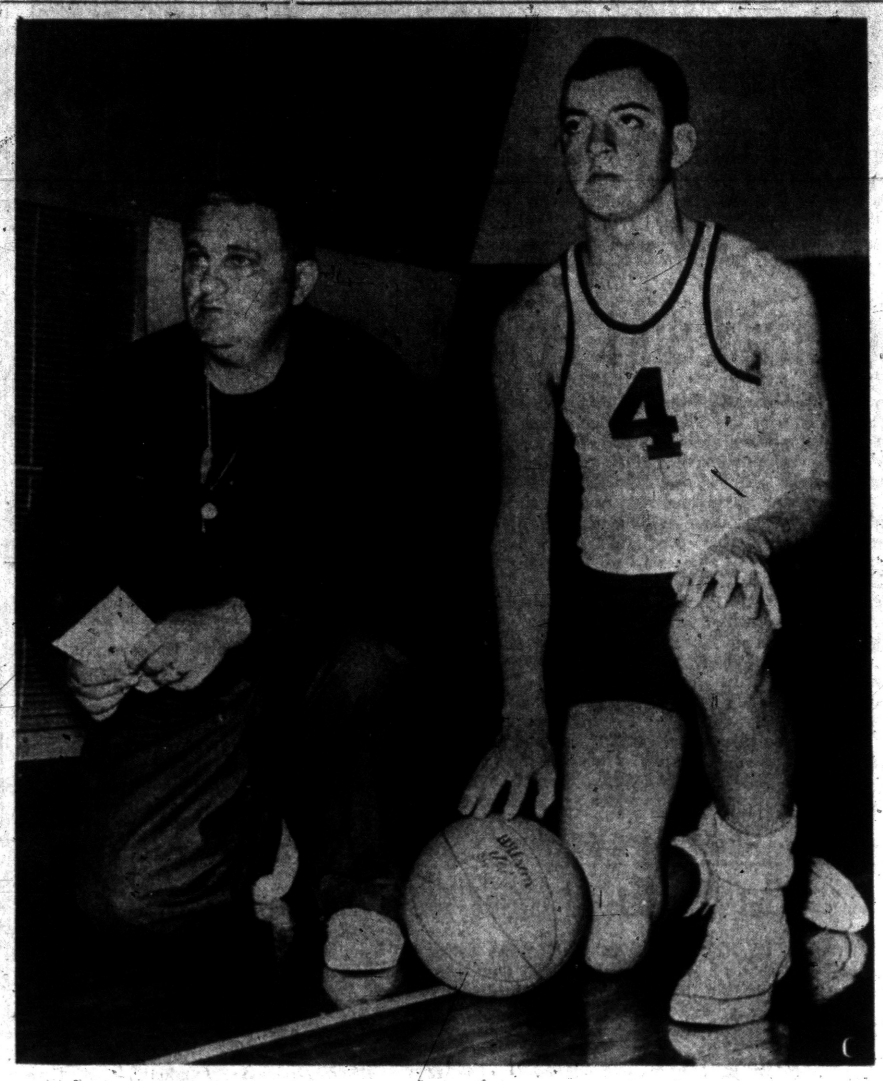

Something to wonder about: Remember when the University of Michigan gave up on Gary Ballman, one of the area's most sought after football players two years ago, because his scholastic status was doubtful? Well, Michigan State's list of fall "A" students was recently released and Ballman was among the 203 honored for recognition of the highest attainment in scholarship."

Incidentally, if the wrestling coaches of the Inter-Lakes Conference are wondering about the site of their league meet this year, they certainly have reason to be confused.

The Waterford schedule says the meet is at Farmington, the Southfield schedule has it at Pontiac Northern and the Northern schedule has it at Southfield. Walled Lake's schedule is non-committal, there's no site listed.

The date is the same, February 20th in each instance and to straighten out the confusion, it will be at Pontiac Northern.

NFL Starts Strong in Player War

Cannon and Izo Prefer Old Loop to New AFL

240 Gridders Drafted by National Teams; Big Ten Places 33

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If the reaction of Billy Cannon and George Izo is any indication of things to come, the National Football League hasn't much to worry about in any player war with the new American Football League.

Cannon, the star of Louisiana State's Sugar Bowl-bound football team, and Izo, quarterback of the fast finishing Notre Dame squad, both were drafted by the NFL and agreed to play in the 40-year-old pro league.

Cannon mouthed the war cry of the established league when he appeared at the NFL draft yesterday and said:

"I favor the NFL because it has the better players and more security."

LSU's triple threat halfback said he would sign with the Los Angeles Rams, who made him the NFL's No. 1 draft choice, immediately after LSU's Jan. 1 Sugar Bowl date with Mississippi. Izo, who has no bowl date, already has signed a contract with the Chicago Cardinals. He was the second pick in the NFL draft.

The NFL has made no bones that it plans to sell college players on its stability, security, and fringe benefits as well as with cold cash.

In all, the 12 NFL teams—selecting in order from last to first place—drafted 240 players from 124 colleges. Purdue of the Big Ten led with 10 players selected. Seven were taken from Mississippi's powerful team, six from Georgia's Orange Bowl squad and five each from LSU, Notre Dame, Cincinnati, Wisconsin, Texas Christian, Southern California and Iowa.

Among the nation's many football conferences, the Big Ten topped the NFL draft with 33, followed by the Southeastern Conference with 27, Atlantic Coast Conference 18, and the Southwest with 15. Four were selected from Syracuse, the nation's No. 1 team.

The draft took 11½ hours as coaches took their time in making selections. They went to the telephone almost every round to call players and ask them, (1) will you play pro football, and (2) will you come to the NFL rather than the AFL. If the answers were affirmative, the draft was made. If not, another player was selected.

Prior to the draft, the owners held an informal meeting to hear an expansion report by George Halas, Bears' owner and chairman of the expansion committee. Although most of the others, and acting commissioner Austin Gunsel were quiet on what was discussed, these facts were learned from reliable sources:

Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul are still interested and being considered for franchises.

The league at its annual meeting in January will try to amend its constitution to make a 10-12ths instead of unanimous vote necessary for approval of expansion. Two old pros, Halas for, and George Preston Marshall, Washington owner, against, are opponents in this fight.

Halas, for the good of the league, drafted quarterback Don Meredith, a Texas football hero, and is placing him in mothballs for a new Dallas franchise if it makes the grade.

THE BRUTE — Jim "The Brute" Bernard will meet his favorite antagonist, Louie Klein in the wrestling card at the Pontiac Armory Wednesday night.

Rival on Mats Again in Armory Rassling Card

A return bout between two long-time antagonists will highlight the next professional wrestling card at the Pontiac Armory Wednesday night. The two adversaries, Jim "Brute" Bernard and Louie Klein, have been the participants in a growing bitter feud that dates back to their first meeting here on October 7.

The feud kept very much alive by their match two weeks ago. The results of both matches have been highly inconclusive.

The bout, which Bernard won, caused so much bad feeling against Bernard on the part of the spectators and Klein, that a rematch has been scheduled for Wednesday.

In the other bouts on the card, Chief Geronimo, an Indian wrestler, will meet "Golden Boy" Billy Parks, and George MacArthur will oppose Bertrand Villard, an exciting newcomer.

NFL Prepared if Ties Occur

All Possible Playoffs Settled in Coin Tossing Session

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel announced Monday night arrangements for playoffs in both conferences of the National Football League in the event of ties at the end of the regulation season.

Gunsel said coin tosses resulted in the following:

1. A tie between the Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants would be played off in Philadelphia Dec. 20.

2. A tie between Cleveland and New York would be played off in Cleveland Dec. 20.

3. A three-way tie in the Western Conference involving the Chicago Bears, San Francisco 49ers and Baltimore Colts would result in a bye for the Bears. San Francisco would play at Baltimore Dec. 20. The winner would meet the Bears at Chicago Dec. 27.

4. If the Bears and Baltimore tie, they would meet in Baltimore Dec. 20. A tie between the Bears and 49ers would be broken in San Francisco Dec. 20, while a deadlock between San Francisco and Baltimore would be settled in Baltimore Dec. 20.

In the event of a triple tie in the West, the championship game would be played Jan. 3 in the home of the Western winner. Two-way ties would set the title game back to Dec. 27 in the home of the Western champion.

Chiefs Seek 5th Successive Win Over Edsel Ford

Rochester Plays Host to Avondale, Clarkston Entertains Ortonville

By BILL CORNWELL

Bill Kilpatrick, head basketball coach at Dearborn Edsel Ford High School, said today that he's beginning to think Pontiac Central coach Art Van Ryzin has some kind of a hex on his team.

"We haven't been able to beat Art's boys in four tries," lamented Kilpatrick, as his Thunderbirds prepare to meet the Chiefs tonight in Central's 1959-60 season opener at the PCH gymnasium.

"Van Ryzin's clubs always are well coached and I have nothing but respect for him and his players," Kilpatrick said. Then he added hopefully: "Maybe this is our night to come out on the long end of the score."

Although the Chiefs are favored to take the measure of Edsel Ford, there is every indication that they will have a fight on their hands against an experienced outfit which already has one victory to its credit.

The Central-Ford contest is one of nine scheduled in the Oakland County area this evening as the new season has its first big round of play.

Next to the Central-Dearborn game, Avondale's invasion of Rochester is the leading local attraction, followed by Clarkston's engagement with Ortonville in the Clarkston gym.

Other area games on the schedule include Oak Park at Bloomfield Hills, South Lyon at Fowlerville, Utica St. Lawrence at Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Howell at Brighton, Croswell Lexington at Brown City and Kingston at North Branch.

All are non-conference outings. League play begins in earnest Friday night when Oakland County teams stage their first full-scale invasion of the hardwoods.

Mike Halstead, a 6-foot-4 jumping jack center, is the mainspring of the Edsel Ford attack. Halstead netted 17 points last Wednesday when the Thunderbirds beat Redford Union 58-38 while barely working up a sweat.

Doug Lucas is a talented holdover at guard and Larry Burnick, another of four returning lettermen, plays the other guard spot. Doug Miller, a 6-footer, and Chris Grodzicki play the forward positions.

Central will be gunning for its 5th straight victory over Edsel Ford. The Chiefs posted a 69-60 win at Dearborn last year after trailing at halftime 33-31.

Van Ryzin plans to start Bill Hayward and George Fed at forwards, big Bill Pritchett at center and Phil Rabaja and Vern Ellis at guards with Booker Hurner ready for considerable action at either forward or guard.

The defending Saginaw Valley champs meet city rival Northern on Friday night, also at PCH, in the season opener for the Huskies. Starting time tonight is 8 o'clock.

Trotters, Net Stars at Olympia Tonight

DETROIT (UPI)—The Harlem Globetrotters and Althea Gibson, former two-time Wimbledon and Forest Hills tennis champion, share the same card tonight at Olympia.

The Globetrotters will combine their basketball skills with their well-known clowning in a game against the San Francisco All Nations team.

Miss Gibson, who turned pro this month, will play Karol Fageros, formerly ranked fifth among amateur net stars.

Lions Pull Surprises Out of Pro Football Grab Bag

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Detroit Lions dipped into the National Football League's player draft grab bag and came up with a handful of surprises.

Among the surprises pulled by Detroit during the 20 rounds yesterday at the annual NFL player draft were failure to grab sensational Southern Methodist quarterback Don Meredith and the selection of a player who already has signed a contract to play pro baseball.

Since Detroit has been talking all this losing season about the need for bolstering the quarterback slot, the Lions were expected to grab Meredith early. But the star athlete was passed steadily by Detroit and the other NFL teams before being picked by the Chicago Bears. He was the 32nd player drafted.

Meredith probably was ignored for so long because he already has been drafted by Dallas of the budding American Football League.

But the Lions drafted eight backs, including Michigan State halfback-quarterback Dean Look, and Louisiana State University quarterback Warren Rabb, reinforcing reports that a shakeup is due in the quarterback department.

It's no secret the Lions haven't been satisfied with the quarterbacking of Tobin Rote, Earl Morrall and Jerry Reichow and they might be counting on Rabb to solve their quarterback problem.

Rabb and his teammate, back John Robinson, were Detroit's first two choices. Both played with LSU's national championship team in 1958 and on LSU's high-ranked 1959 team.

Lion officials said Rabb had fine leadership qualities and was "a fine prospect." They described Robinson as a "brilliant pass receiver and a fine runner."

Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Lions, said he planned to leave here for Baton Rouge, La., today to try to sign Robinson and Rabb to contracts. Whether or not Rabb will sign depends on how his talks with Anderson go. He said he wanted to discuss things with the Lion president before deciding whether to join the club.

Fights Britisher Tomorrow

Brown Predicts Title KO

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Aging Joe Brown can't hope to turn back the clock but he's not inclined to agree with challenger Dave Charnley that now's the hour to cast an eye toward the rocking chair.

"Joe has been like a tiger for days," trainer Bill Gore says. "I'll be glad when we can let him out."

Gore's 34-year-old tiger will give away 10 years to the British Empire champion when they meet in their 15-round lightweight title fight in Sam Houston Coliseum tomorrow night.

But he claims a 4-inch reach advantage over the southpaw who seeks the title for export. He says he'll win by a knockout—and has some agreement among the wise ones—but won't name the round.

Charnley quietly contends that a cautious performance on his part can give him a victory on points if nothing else.

Word has gotten around that the Englishman can be tagged with a right. Sparmate Ernie Tubbs—who has had only two pro fights—blackened Charnley's eye with a right in training last week.

Brown, on the other hand, admits he can be had with a left and predicts that when he does lose it will be to a lefty.

One of Brown's sparmates, Frankie Davis, claims the Baton Rouge, La., Negro will win by a knockout. Davis spent 51 months in England and saw Charnley fight frequently.

Ringsiders, however, felt Davis' judgment may be prejudiced. Brown has flattened him twice in sparring sessions.

The bout will be televised nationally at 10 p.m. (EST) by ABC.

6 Michigan Boys Picked, 3 by Lions

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Six Michigan college players were selected by National Football League teams at the annual NFL draft meeting yesterday, three of them by the Detroit Lions.

The Lion choices were University of Detroit tackle Grady Alderman, University of Michigan back Darrell Harper and Michigan State back Dean Look. Alderman was picked in the 10th round, Harper in the 15th and Look in the 20th.

The drafting of Look came as a surprise since the star athlete already has signed a bonus contract to play professional baseball with the Chicago White Sox.

State players drafted by other NFL teams were back Walter Beach of Central Michigan, Detroit end Tom Chapman, and Western Michigan back Lovell Coleman. Chapman went to the Chicago Cards in the 12th round; New York's Giants got Beach in the 15th, and the Cleveland Browns picked Coleman in the 17th.

Wilt's Average Up to 36.2 Pacing NBA

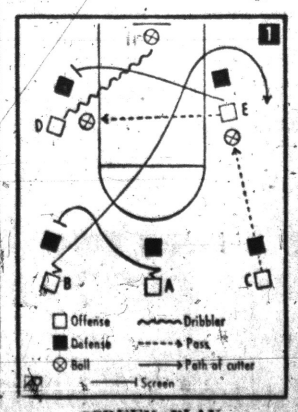

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, Philalelphia's rookie Warrior who's an old hand at scoring, has upped his leading average to 36.2 points a game in the National Basketball Assn. while closing in on the total-point lead.

Chamberlain has a five point ege over Elgin Baylor (31.2) of Minneapolis on a points-per-game basis, according to NBA statistics released today. And he's just five points behind Cincinnati's Jack Twyman in total points, although he's played three games less.

The leaders:

Properly Timed Screen Will Work Very Often

SCREEN PLAY

By JOE LAPCHICK
St. John's U. Basketball Coach
Written for AP Newsfeatures

All teams should have some bread and butter basketball plays. The screen play described today is one of a series of such plays.

It's a simple play but with proper screening and timing it works many times.

The play starts with three men out and two men inside the foul area.

As player C passes to E at the post or pivot, player A moves simultaneously to his left and screens for player B. Player B could be shaken loose for a shot but the purpose of this play is really a double screen. B really fishhooks as post E passes to post D.

As E passes he cuts behind D's defensive man to form another screen. This usually permits D to pivot and dribble toward the basket for a layup shot.

TOMORROW: Double Cut at Post.

Prep Swimmers Get Start; Maples Go Tonight

Action in the new North Suburban Swim League gets underway Wednesday with Pontiac Northern playing host to Madison Heights, and league favorite Fitzgerald traveling to Utica. Tonight, Birmingham, considered the swim power of the county this year, plays host to Mt. Clemens.

In another meet, Southfield, a NSWL member, opens against Redford Union away from home tomorrow.

Pontiac Northern has eight lettermen to start against Madison which enters its first year of swim competition. The Madison team will not get into its own pool until after the New Year.

A total of 11 boys answered the first call for swimming at Madison, including Bill Vittori, a transfer from Highland Park, who should be a strong choice in the individual medley. Another leading prospect is Jim Jobe a sprinter.

The Huskies will have Wally Johnson in the butterfly, Phil Wells in the breast stroke, and Jim Tuttle, Lee Barrie and Dick Gould in the crawl events.

The meet at Northern will start at 7:00 p.m. tomorrow.

Utica goes into its second season of swimming with 10 lettermen, but the Chieftains are not expected to handle Fitzgerald, a team which has 12 of 14 lettermen back.

Southfield has a strong nucleous to be a league contender and the Jays will get a good test from Redford. Jim McIntosh and Tom Spear head the 11 returning lettermen.

Tonight, Birmingham, with 14 lettermen and depth in each event, will meet Grosse Pointe. Bob Sintz and Jim Elliott are strong sprinters, with captain Dennis Collins handling the distance events.

Pontiac Central swimmers get into action at home Friday against Ypsilanti. Saturday, many area swim teams will take part in the Royal Oak Relays at Kimball's pool.

Horvath Boosts Lead in NHL

MONTREAL (AP)—Bronco Horvath of the Boston Bruins fired three goals and one assist last week to hold a commanding lead in the National Hockey League's individual scoring competition.

Horvath's output gave him 20 goals and 14 assists for 34 points. Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers and Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings are deadlocked for second place with 27 points each. Bathgate collected three goals and two assists while Howe bagged one goal and two assists.

The scoring leaders:

There's Plenty of Heft on 'D' All-State Squad

DETROIT (AP)—There's no room for the adjective "little" in describing The Associated Press Class D All-State football squad.

The Class D ranks are the smallest football-playing schools in the state, but the All-State team announced today boasts a line that averages nearly 200 pounds.

The AP team was selected after every coach in the state received a ballot. Votes were tabulated and research done by AP member sports editors and writers from all parts of the state.

Top vote-getter in the Class D ranks was Dick Warren, whose accomplishments as a halfback at Morrice High School border on the unbelievable.

Warren, only 5-feet-8 and 165 pounds, scored 123 of his team's 131 points this year. He gained 2,056 yards for a 12.7 average per carry. His touchdowns came on average runs of about 35 yards.

He caught more than 20 passes and made about 100 tackles on defense. No team was able to hold him under 150 yards' production.

Several Court Powers Open Tonight

By The Associated Press

The tall boys of the dribble and dunk set begin their annual quest for college basketball's major honors tonight and, as usual, a lot of them will travel to distant regions for tryouts before settling down to championship competition.

Cincinnati, Kansas State, West Virginia, St. John's (NY), St. Joseph (Pa.), Kentucky, North Carolina State and Idaho State are some of the biggies of the court game scheduled for action on the first night it's legal.

A good many games already have been played by smaller schools but NCAA regulations bind the big colleges and most of the others to a Dec. 1 start.

West Virginia and Cincinnati, second and third to champion California in the NCAA tournament last spring, again have two of the game's top individual stars. Most of the records and statistical highs that didn't go to Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson last year were gathered in by West Virginia's Jerry West. Both are All Americas.

West Virginia opens at home tonight against Tennessee, then puts its 50-game conference winning streak on the line against The Citadel and Furman. The Mountaineers are going after their sixth straight conference title this season. Idaho State, opening against Utah State, will try for its seventh straight in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Kansas State, Cincinnati and Dartmouth will try to make it three in a row in the Big Eight, Missouri Valley Conference and Ivy League respectively. California opens against its University's Santa Barbara branch Friday night.

Cincinnati's Robertson is slated to start his bid for records against Indiana State tonight and Marshall (W. Va.) on Saturday. If he can continue scoring at his two-year rate of 33.8 points a game, Oscar is likely to become the first player ever to win the major college scoring title three years in succession.

He already holds the two-year record of 1,962 points and is within range of the three-year mark of 2,538 held by Frank Selvy of Furman and the four-year mark of 2,587 by Dickie Hemric of Wake Forest.

Some of the other top games listed tonight include Iowa at Evansville (the NCAA college division champion), Wake Forest at Ohio State, Abilene Christian at St. Louis, St. John's (1959 NIT champion) at Bridgeport, Colorado State College at Kentucky, Georgia Tech at Duke, St. Joseph's at Marshall, South Dakota State at Kansas State, Penn State at North Carolina State, San Francisco at Stanford and UCLA at Southern California.

The big time doubleheader programs start slowly at Philadelphia tomorrow with LaSalle-Millersville and Penn-Washington and Jefferson. At New York Thursday it's Marquette vs. NYU and St. Louis vs. St. John's.

Kentucky, expected to resume its old habit of winning the Southeastern Conference title, gets an early test of national rating on a western tour that includes weekend games with UCLA and Southern California.

Before it even started, the basketball season has proved too nerve-racking for one coach. Phil Woolpert, who saw his San Francisco Dons drop from the heights last season, took a year's leave of absence and turned over the team to a protesting assistant, Ross Guidice.

Newman, Shaw's 'A' Victors

City Basketball Begins

Newman A.M.E. and Shaw's Jeweler's were Class A victors while Griff's Grill and a Rochester quintet were taking "B" games in city basketball openers last night.

Newman held a good edge all the way featuring a 16-point effort by Mel Taylor in blasting CIO 594, 57-35. Shaw's was down 36-33 but had a 19-9 last quarter edge to down the Lakeside Royals, 52-45. Bob McManus and Dave Diehm swished 16 apiece for the victors. Felix Brooks topped the losers with 13.

Larry's and Shep's Bar rallied with a 24-point 3rd period and held on to trip Avondale, 68-63. Larry Hummel's 17 and 16 by Carl Montross paced the triumph. Jerry Hill and Jerry Paul had 20 and 16, respectively, for Avon. Griff's started and finished strong in a 74-59 romp over Booth Homes. Four of the winners hit double numbers as eight scored. Booth's Fred Baker topped both teams with 14.

Sword Dancer Selected Horse Champ for '59

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sword Dancer is American champion and top 3-year-old of 1959 by an overwhelming vote of the Thoroughbred Racing Assns.' selection board. The balloting was announced last night by the 25-member board, made up of racing secretaries at TRA tracks.

The chestnut son of Sunglow-Highland Fling is owned by Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, and won eight of 13 starts during the season. Sword Dancer earned $537,004 more than any other horse in 1959.

The decisive race which swung the American championship to Sword Dancer, was the $100,000 Woodward Sept. 26 at Aqueduct.

Bateman New Rutgers Coach

Stiegman to Replace Sebo at Penn Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Steve Sebo will be dismissed as Penn football coach today in favor of Rutgers' John Stiegman. In turn, Rutgers will announce the signing of Dr. John Bateman, Penn's line coach, as Stiegman's successor.

The Associated Press learned last night of Dr. Bateman's appointment, after reporting exclusively on Sunday Stiegman would replace Sebo.

In the wake of reports, both schools set press conferences for today, almost certainly to announce officially the changes in command.

There was no comment from Bateman, Sebo or Stiegman.

Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, president of the University of Pennsylvania, said yesterday a final decision had been made on Sebo's status, based on a report of the faculty administrative committee.

He had met with 30 varsity football players — players who expressed shock at the report of Sebo's dismissal. They backed their coach to the hilt.

Dr. Harwell said he was an admirer of Sebo, too, "but any decision was fundamentally on a faculty level at all Ivy institutions."

Sebo, dubbed the nice guy who finishd first, came to Penn from Michigan State in 1954. That year and the next his teams were winless. In 1956 they won four games. Nevertheless, Sebo was signed to a second three-year contract.

During those years the Quakers were playing major college powers, although the Ivy League was de-emphasizing football.

His reputation suffered accordingly, until this year. Penn finished with 7-1-1 record, the best in 12 years and good for the Quakers' first Ivy League title since 1952. Sebo's over-all record is 18-35-1.

Dr. Bateman was credited with developing the powerful line that made possible Penn's winning season. He was Lou Little's No. 1 assistant at Columbia from 1946 until he came to Penn in 1937 as Sebo's top assistant.

As a tackle he was captain of Columbia's 1937 football team. He coached football and taught English at Middletown (N.Y.) High School and served in the Navy during World War II.

In four seasons at Rutgers, Stiegman had a 22-15 record, including an 8-1 record for his top-flight 1958 team. This season Rutgers was 6-3. Stiegman was assistant coach at Princeton from 1947 until he went to Rutgers. He is a graduate of Williams College.

Prep Gridder Dies Six Weeks After Fatal Tilt

Henry (Skip) Ballard, a sophomore at Essexville St. John, played the entire game Oct. 18 against Bay City St. Mary.

The day after the game he and was taken to Bay City Mercy Hospital. Doctors discovered several internal injuries.

During his stay in the hospital he was operated on five times and received 41 blood transfusions. He died Saturday. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

College Football

by "RED" BLAIK

NEW YORK (AP)—Except for the big Syracuse-UCLA battle in Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday, a few other scattered games and the attractive bowl program ahead, the 1959 season ended last weekend.

The final whistle on regular season play, however, signals the beginning of the open season on football coaches.

From now until spring practice there will be a parade of changes. It has begun already. The last time I looked at least three men had moved. Perry Moss, late of Florida State, had crossed the border to the Canadian pro league, Charles O'Rhurke had resigned from Massachusetts and Bus Mertes had departed Kansas State. These are only the early outriders. There will be many more.

Most of them will have had one or more losing seasons." Most of them will have been reminded of it, even though they didn't need to be, by a species of spartan undergraduate demonstration common to our times, known as "hanging in effigy." A rope is thrown over a limb and a likeness of the coach is hauled into the air for the multitude to jeer. These young executioners, examples of sweatless physical exertion, invariably include some of those stalwart marauders of girl dormitories known as "panty raiders."

The hanging-in-effigy is a macabre hint to the coach, probably once lauded by the college, that he is no longer welcome in their intellectual community.

Members in spirit, if not in body of the psuedo-lynchers are those self-appointed, dedicated, loudly articulate saviors of university affairs known as "old grads." Although they may never have inhaled even one whiff of the ozone of a locker room in all their mortal days, they are positive the present coach is even worse than the one they paid off.

Not all coaches are bullied by such tactics. Some courageously ride the storm to regain the respect of all. Now this is no brief for incompetent coaches who should be fired. But in justice to those losing coaches about to be fired, I believe university authorities and campus communities owe them nothing less than to separate them with dignity.

Along this line I offer in a season's farewell a quote from President Theodore Roosevelt, which was kindly sent to me by John McKenna, the fine coach of the Virginia Military Institute team:

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiams, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the best, knows the triumph of high achievement; and who, at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who knew neither victory nor defeat."

Sawchuk Back on Skates Again

DETROIT (AP)—Star goalie Terry Sawchuk, back on the ice after five days in the hospital, was scheduled to skate with his fellow Detroit Red Wings today and then practice with the team tomorrow.

Sawchuk was released from the hospital yesterday. He had been stricken by a virus-neuritis condition Thanksgiving Day.

Club officials said they would decide by the end of the week whether to use Sawchuk in Saturday afternoon's Olympia Stadium game with the visiting Boston Bruins.

They said Gilles Boisvert, Sawchuk's replacement in the last three games, would remain with the club on a standby basis.

Another Red Wing, forward Len Lunde, went into the hospital yesterday for minor surgery on a ruptured arm muscle and was to be discharged today. The club said Lunde probably would play Saturday.

Warren Godfrey also was expected to be on the ice Saturday. Godfrey suffered a pulled groin muscle in Sunday's 4-1 defeat at the hands of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Tom Ferrick Will Coach Tiger Hurlers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Detroit Tiger manager Jimmy Dykes has completed his coaching staff with the selection of Tom Ferrick as pitching coach.

Ferrick, who was picked yesterday, replaces Willis Hudlin.

The 44-year-old former American League pitcher coached under Dykes at Cincinnati for three years and was with the Philadelphia Phillies last season. During his playing career, Ferrick was with Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, Washington and New York. He finished his playing career in 1953 as a player-coach at Indianapolis.

Visiting Harmon Tells of Surprise at Crisler Move

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Harmon, one of the main reasons Michigan alumni talk about the "good old days" of football glory, said last night he was shocked when his old coach decided not to take over as commissioner of the American Football League.

Harmon came back to help honor the University of Michigan football team of 1959. It was the the first time in nearly two decades Harmon had attended the Michigan bust.

Now a sportscaster on the west coast, Harmon served as toastmaster last night as a packed throng of more than 900 turned out to heap praise on Bump Elliott's team, and to shake the hand of one of the school's all-time athletic greats.

Harmon, who was an All-America halfback under Fritz Crisler, said he expected the Michigan athletic director to accept an offer to head up the new professional football league.

Tigers Hoping Bilko Likes Briggs Stadium

DeWitt Gambles on NL Refugee First Baseman

Detroit Prexy Spends $25,000 to Purchase Big Muscleman

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—When Steve Bilko, a mighty mass of muscle, steps up to home plate at Detroit's Briggs Stadium for the first time next spring the Tigers will be pulling for him to blast one out of the park.

That's what Bill DeWitt, Tigers' president, was gambling on yesterday when he shelled out $25,000 for the National League refugee first baseman. The Tigers also bet the same amount that Em Lindbeck, better known as a former Illinois quarterback, could help in the outfield next year.

DeWitt paid the money yesterday in the major league draft here. And he's known among baseball men as a shrewd judge of players.

"We got both men we hope to get this time," DeWitt said. "We think Bilko can hit in our park. Lindbeck is only 24 and definitely a good prospect."

One thing is certain. In the 31-year-old Bilko, the Bengals now have the biggest man in baseball. He has gone as high as 270 pounds — almost big enough to tilt the infield.

However, big Steve reported he is now down to 237 pounds.

Bilko, noted for his power, has been playing organized baseball since he was 17 years old. He's had several tries with senior circuit teams, but never really caught on.

He was the property of the St. Louis Cardinals for years. His only full season in the majors was with the Cards in 1953. He hit 21 homers and had a .251 average that season.

Bilko also played briefly with the Chicago Cubs, the Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers before drifting to Spokane last season where he hit .307, including 26 homers and 93 RBI.

Lindbeck is not so muscular. He hit .284, including 17 homers and 28 doubles, for Atlanta last year. He was signed by Milwaukee in 1956 and has been in the minors since.

Tiger scouts claim Lindbeck has good legs, an excellent arm and is a strong hitter in the clutch.

Under draft rules, both players must be kept by the Tigers next season.

Get Three Giants in 1st Major Deal

Orioles Trade O'Dell, Loes

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants have acquired Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes from Baltimore in an attempt to plug an undermanned pitching staff that cost them the 1959 National League pennant.

In return for the left-handed starter O'Dell and Loes, an erratic reliever, the Giants had to give up Jackie Brandt, one of most talented young outfielders, Gordon Jones, a mediocre relief pitcher, and a third player yet to be named. The player, it was learned, is Roger McCardell, a rookie catcher who batted .260 at Phoenix last season.

It was the first major deal in the unprecedented inter-league trading period which began Nov. 21. But it may have paved the way for a major swap between Washington and the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, during the minor league convention here.

The Dogers and Giants had been competing for Pete Ramos, the Senators' star right-hander. San Francisco had offered either Brandt or Felipe Alou, another outfielder, for the 24-year-old Cuban, who had a 13-19 record with the last place Nats last season.

Los Angeles countered with an offer of four players for Ramos and Roy Sievers, Washington's all-time home run king. The Dodgers are willing to part with left-handed Danny McDevitt, shortstop Don Zimmer, outfielder Sandy Amoros and pitcher John Golden, a farm hand. Washington has agreed to the trade, provided outfielder Don Demeter is substituted for Amoros.

O'Dell, 26, gives the Giants a third starting southpaw to go with Johnny Antonelli and Mike McCormick. He was signed out of Clemson College in 1954 for a $10,000 bonus. O'Dell had his best year in 1958 when he won 14 and pitched three hitless innings in the All-Star Game.

A back injury hampered his work last season but while he finished with an ordinary 10-12 record with a sixth place club, he had a fine 2.94 earned run average.

Loes, who will be 30 Dec. 13, is a former Brooklyn Dodger. The eccentric right-hander was traded to Washington early last season, but the Senators turned him back when he told them he had a sore arm. He was able to appear in 37 games with the Orioles, however, and had a 4-7 record.

Brandt, 25, a fine defensive outfielder and right-handed batter, was regarded as one of the real comers in the National League. Last season, his first full year after military service, he batted .270 in 137 games, hit 12 home runs and drove in 57 runs. Late in the season he switched to third base when Jim Davenport suffered a knee injury.

Jones, not to be confused with the 21-game winning Sam Jones, is a 29-year-old right-hander, who posted a 3-2 record with the Giants in 31 games, all in relief.

Another deal hanging fire involved Cleveland and the Chicago White Sox. General Manager Frank Lane of the Indians has offered outfielder Minnie Minoso for third baseman Bubba Phillips and catcher John Romano. The White Sox want another player thrown in.

The Dodgers have another deal with Kansas City going involving Zimmer. The A's have offered an outfielder, either Bob Cerv or Bill Tuttle; for the scrappy little infielder plus another Dodger, possibly Amoros.

FOLLOW THROUGH IS GUIDE
By BILLY WELU

As importnat as all the other actions of the bowling motion is the follow through, the final segment of the delivery.

A good, full follow through will direct the ball to the spot you have selected and enables the ball to roll better with a better hook.

If the follow through is abrupt or short, you will pull the ball inside of your spot. It may cause you to drop the ball, thereby losing accuracy and the proper "lift" — the pin-getting qualities of a good rolling ball.

The right arm should come through after the delivery of the ball until it reaches about shoulder level and straight ahead. Never pull the arm to your left side or angle it off to the right. Always stretch it out in front of you, reaching for the target.

Brings December Selling Wave

Tax Collector Will Affect Market

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The tax collector steps into the December stock market. Among factors playing a part in the final weeks of the year in sending prices of stocks you own up or down is what you yourself may do with your federal and state income tax returns in mind.

Institutions are reported to have done much of their selling for tax purposes shortly after the stock market hit its record high Aug. 3. They dumped stocks on which they had soured and switched into others that were performing or looking better.

PRICE DROP DUE?

Now much of the selling for tax purposes is being done by individuals. If enough volume builds up, prices could be further depressed.

Today's sellers may have stocks which have fallen more than the average. They decide to take their loss now and thus cut their taxes.

Or they may have made such good gains when the bull market was still the talk of the day that they are looking for any losses they can establish to help offset these gains on which the total tax could run high.

So far, tax loss selling volume hasn't been as heavy as in 1957, but well above last year when prices were rising, prospects bright, and losses fewer to come by. Brokers say that this year most selling has been in notably weak performers. Holders of the majority of issues seem content to hang on to them.

They note that after slowing down during the steel strike, corporate profits show signs of rising again. Still better, most companies have been retaining their dividend rates, looking on the steel strike slowdown as just a bobble in the economy, and especially in their own company affairs.

INDUCEMENT OFFERED

Also many companies have been announcing yearend dividend specials. And there's a sizable number of those old stockholder favorites, stock splits.

Nor has the stock list as a whole fallen far from its record high. The Associated Press price index of 60 stocks is off 13.3 points from its Aug. 3 peak and the Dow-Jones industrial list is about 35 points below its high point—each reflecting about the same change.

Rules on selling stocks for tax purposes differ between those sold for a loss and those sold to show a gain.

Tax officials won't recognize a loss on the sale of securities if the seller buys the same or very similar securities within 30 days after the date of sale, or has made such a purchase 30 days before the sale date.

But stocks sold to establish a gain may be repurchased at once. The usual purpose of this is to set a higher cost on the stocks owned so this will cut the taxable gain if resold in the future. The reason is doubly strong if the seller also has some losses to offset the gain.

MAY BE LESS COSTLY

Sellers to establish gains sometimes do so because other forms of their income this year and next may make it less costly to pay the security capital gain tax now than later.

A loss can be set up right to the last business day of the year. But if you're setting up a gain you must allow four days — the New York Stock Exchange practice—for delivery and receipt of the money for them. Gain selling thus halts four business days before the end of the year.

Collegers to Blow Jazz

BOSTON (AP) — Jazz on the college level will hold sway at the Boston Gardens Thursday night when the first of 12 regional contests will be held to find the best collegiate jazz musicians in the country.

The jazz sessions are under the sponsorship of the nonprofit Jazz Advancement Foundation, headed by Paul Whiteman, once known as the "King of Jazz" and now in semiretirement at Daytona, Fla.

Preliminary winners will be chosen in each of 12 regions in the country to compete in the finals at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., April 19-23.

Final winners in five classifications will be given grants-in-aid to further their musical education.

Winners will be chosen from among musicians, male vocalists, female vocalists, musical arrangers and composers.

After Boston the festivals will be held in succeeding weeks in Washington, New York, Knoxville, Tenn., Jacksonville, Fla., Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Mo., Minneapolis, Dallas, Seattle and San Francisco.

New Drug Aids Staph Infections

34 Very Sick Children Cured After 10 Days of Synthetic Altafur

DALLAS, Tex., (AP) —An Oklahoma doctor told today of a new synthetic drug that helped save the lives of 34 gravely ill children.

Results of a trial of the drug at Oklahoma City's Wesley Hospital were told by Dr. J. Neil Lysaught at the 13th clinical meeting of the American Medical Assn.

The new drug is called Altafur. Dr. Lysaught used it on children suffering from pneumonia and bronchiolitis. He treated 59 children, 34 of whom were classified as either critically or severely ill.

After Altafur was given for from three to 10 days, 54 children were pronounced cured. Almost all the children had been unsuccessfully treated with antibiotics. They ranged in age from 11 days to 15 years.

The drug was considered a failure in one patient and results were inconclusive in four cases, Dr. Lysaught said.

The children all were suffering from staphylococcal infections — one of the most formidable problems facing doctors today. During the course of the study there was an epidemic of severe staphylococcal pneumonia and bronchiolitis in Oklahoma City.

Dr. Lysaught said the chief undesirable effect of the drug was nausea and vomiting. He said it was possible to overcome this effect by giving the drug with meals.

Nation's Population Passes 179 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau estimates the nation's population at 179,031,211 as of 8 a.m. today.

This was the calculation made for the bureau's "Census Clock," a counting device installed in the Commerce Department lobby. The clock's figures change minute by minute to reflect population changes due to births, deaths, immigration and emigration.

The population estimate a month ago was 178,800,000.

Pleads Guilty to Sale of Obscene Record

A Royal Oak appliance dealer yesterday pleaded guilty to selling an obscene phonograph record to several teen-agers.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer set sentencing for Dec. 14 for Russell Campey, partner in the Campey-Hopwood Co., 514 E. Fourth St. Campey remains free on a $1,000 personal bond.

Campey's attorney, H. Paul Jacobs, said the record was left in Campey's store by the salesman and that the teen-agers found it under the counter. The boys claimed Campey sold the record to them for $2.50.

Steels in Rally as Talks Start

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels forced electronics to share the trading spotlight in a higher, active stock market early this afternoon.

U.S. Steel, the industry giant, paced the rally with a gain of better than 2, while Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Lukens were ahead in the same range. Other gains were from fractions to about a point.

Advances in electronics were trimmed a bit, although the recently spectacular group showed plus signs of nearly 3 in the case of Motorola and more than 1 for Raytheon.

American Motors continued actively traded and up around 2½ in the wake of yesterday's stock split and extra dividend. Other motors were mixed.

Trading in steel shares was backgrounded by the resumption of bargaining called for this afternoon by government mediators seeking to settle the long steel dispute. Brokers also were reported impressed by the sharp step-up in volume during yesterday's good advance by the market as a whole.

IRBM Goes Into Sky to Get Color Films

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — An Air Force Thor IRBM carrying a movie camera climbed into the sky today to try for the first full-color pictures of earth from the fringes of space.

The 16-millimeter instrument was tucked away in a heat-resistant nose cone atop the sleek white missile.

Ships were stationed about 1,700 statute miles down the Atlantic missile range near Antigua Island to drag the nose cone from the ocean. The camera and film were to be rushed by air to a processing laboratory.

Grain Market Steady to Weak

CHICAGO (AP)—A few firm spots were sprinkled through the grain futures list but the market was mostly steady to weak today during early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans which have declined about 10 cents during the past two weeks or so since poking into new high levels for the season still were under light selling pressure. Some of the weakness was linked with lower prices for both soybean oil and soybean meal.

Trade was at a slow pace with commercial demand draggy. Export business was at a standstill.

After about an hour wheat was ¼ cent a bushel lower to ⅜ higher, December $1.98⅛; corn ⅛ to ¼ higher, December $1.10¾; oats ¼ to ⅞ higher, December 77¼; rye unchanged to ¾ lower, December $1.31⅞; soybeans ⅛ to ½ lower, January $2.17¾.

Grand Champion Steer Is Bought for $21 a Pound

CHICAGO (AP)—The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition was sold at auction today for $21 a pound, the third highest ever paid at the show.

Based on its weight of 1,500 when acclaimed the nation's outstanding steer on Saturday, the gleaming Aberdeen-Angus Jewel brought its young co-owner, Roy Maass of Remsen, Iowa, a total of about $22,050.

The summer yearling calf was bought by the Howard Johnson Restaurant chain. This was the third time that this company has bought the international grand champion.

The price paid for the chunky black calf, which first won the steer championship of the junior feeding contest and then went on to take the show's top award, ranks behind the record $30 a pound paid in 1957 and $25 last year.

5 Drug Firms Win Acquittal

U.S. Not Able to Prove Rigging in Salk Vaccine Price, Says Judge

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Five major drug firms have been acquitted of charges that they rigged the price of Salk antipolio vaccine.

The companies hailed the decision as "vindication" and "exoneration."

Federal Judge Phillip Forman ruled yesterday that the government had not shown a definite conspiracy through its evidence, and he saw no reason to let the case go on to add the defense testimony.

He granted defense motions for directed verdicts of acquittal after a two-hour and 45-minute summary of the evidence. The jury had been excused.

Lewis Bernstein, the government's prosecuting attorney, said the dismissal cannot be appealed since the charges were criminal in nature. The companies could have been fined $200,000 each if found guilty.

City Commission Meeting Canceled

With Pontiac's city commissioners in Denver, Colo., today, tonight's regular commission meeting will be canceled for lack of a quorum.

The commissioners are scheduled to return tomorrow night after attending the four-day annual convention of the American Municipal Assn.

The next meeting of the commission will be Tuesday, Dec. 8.

Fires caused by litter take an estimated 11,000 lives and cause 70 million dollars in damages every year in the U.S.

Some '61 Autos to Fight Smog

Crankcase Fumes Are Trouble Spot but Can Be Corrected

DETROIT (AP) — A device to help fight California smog will appear on some 1961 automobile models, the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. said yesterday.

The AMA said the "air pollution control device will perform a major job of eliminating automobile fumes by eliminating substantial portions of the hydrocarbon emissions of autos by feeding crankcase fumes back into the engine to be burned in the cylinders."

It said recent research showed "for the first time that crankcase fumes account for a substantial proportion of the total hydrocarbon emissions of an automobile.

Previously, it was believed the only important source of emissions was the vehicle's exhaust system. The crankcase device is a system of piping and valves. The device is uncomplicated and inexpensive compared with exhaust control mechanisms previously announced and still under intensive development."

The AMA said it had "informed California authorities this device will be offered on new American made cars produced for sale in California not later than the time of introduction of the 1961 models."

The device was developed, AMA said, "to help combat acute smog conditions prevalent in parts of California."

Steel Talkers Called Back

Little Optimism Seen on Either Side for Early Settlement of Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government summoned steel negotiators back into bargaining sessions today in an effort to avoid a new steel strike in late January.

There seemed little evidence of optimism, however, for an early settlement of the protracted dispute.

Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service arranged afternoon sessions with industry and union representatives.

The 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction, which stopped the strike last Nov. 7, will run out on Jan 26. The 500,000 steelworkers then will be free to strike again if there is no settlement.

President Eisenhower is expected to lend a hand to the government mediators in his talk to the nation Thursday night.

Eisenhower reportedly will appeal again to both sides to agree on a peace pact that will avoid a new strike threat. The White House said he will appeal for more labor-management understanding and cooperation generally to make sure this nation maintains economic superiority over the Soviet Union.

Canadian life insurance companies received $207,300,000 in premiums from U.S. policyholders during 1958 while U.S. companies received $200,200,000 in premiums from Canadian policyholders.

Philippine Police Watch Clark Base

MANILA (AP) — Philippine national police today went on round-the-clock patrol duty outside the U. S. Air Force's robbery-plagued Clark Air Base north of Manila.

About a hundred troopers were ordered to the base area in accordance with new security arrangements agreed on by U.S. and Philippine military commanders last week.

The new measures were ordered to prevent further cases of armed robbery and intrusion on the base. Five such cases were reported at Clark in the past two weeks.

On Saturday an American air policeman was seized and held captive briefly by three rifle-bearing Filipinos. They reportedly were out to get another air policeman who shot and killed a Filipino thief the week before.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Cuba Asks Death for Two Americans

HAVANA (AP)—A military tribunal today ended an 18-hour trial of 2 Americans and 37 Cubans accused of conspiring to overthrow Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime. The court announced it would not reach its verdict before Wednesday.

The prosecution demanded the firing squad for Frank Austin Young, 38, a commercial pilot who was born in Indianapolis, Ind., and makes his home in Miami, Fla., and for Fernando Pruno Bertot, 24, Cuban, and former student at Columbia University in New York.

Thirty-year prison sentences were sought against 12 others, including Peter John Lambton, 24, a British-born naturalized American of Nassau, Bahamas.

The government said it would accept lesser sentences or even acquittal for the other defendants. Under new legal rules recently promulgated by Castro's cabinet, the prosecution as well as the defense can appeal a verdict.

A second tribunal was scheduled to begin hearing testimony in Havana today against Rafael Del Pino, 33, of Miami, a naturalized American who once supported Castro, and five Cubans, all accused of being counter-revolutionaries. The death sentence is sought for all six.

Del Pino was captured last July when he flew a small plane in from Florida and tried to pick up Cubans seeking to leave the country.

Young, Lambton and their Cuban codefendants were captured during a clash with Cuban troops during which one soldier was killed.

Both Americans denied in pretrial statements that they came to Cuba to plot against the government. Lambton said he was on an assignment to take pictures of counter-revolutionaries for an American company he identified as the Independent Press Service.

Young said he came to Cuba to serve as Lambton's guide. Shown documents with his signature as "commander of group," he testified he had only signed the papers to show the Cubans how to draw up orders. His Cuban attorney said Young knew no Spanish and therefore could not have led the group.

The two cases are the first to be handled by military tribunals since their reinstatement. During the first six months of the Castro regime, they sent about 555 persons before firing squads.

Chants of "to the firing squad wall" rang out at Santiago Monday night after Castro asked a crowd of 500,000, "What do you want for counter-revolutionaries?"

Church Rite Marks Day of School Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — "Dies irae, dies illa."

This is a phrase intoned by Roman Catholic priests and choirs during a Mass for the dead. Literal translation of the Latin means, "Day of wrath, day of reckoning."

A Mass for the dead will be sung at 6 p.m. in the church of Our Lady of the Angels on Chicago's West Side.

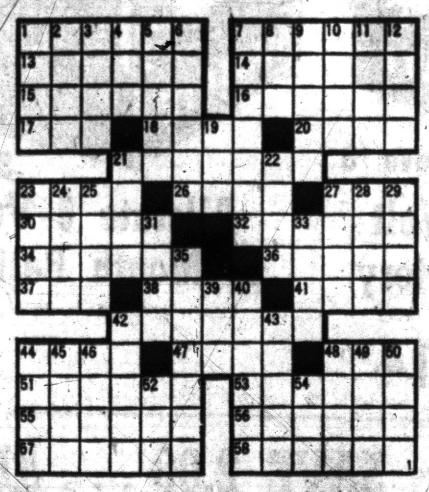

Cardinal designate Albert G. Meyer of the Chicago diocese will be celebrant. There will be many other priests at the Mass.

In the church will be some 1,000 persons, all admitted by ticket only.

The prayers of those in Our Lady's church — the parishioners shorten the name this way — will be for 92 children and 3 nuns who died after a fire swept through a stair well in the school building near the church exactly one year ago today.

There is little on the old school site to remind a visitor that a fire here took 95 lives. A modern million-dollar structure of steel and concrete is going up. The only wood in the new building will be its doors.

Says Western Hopes of Collapse Dashed

Hungary's Woes Blamed on Former Rulers by Mr. K

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today blamed "serious mistakes" of the former Stalinist rulers of Hungary for the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

But Khrushchev said in a speech to the congress of the Hungarian Communist party in Budapest that "imperialist hopes" for the collapse of communism in Hungary have failed.

The speech was broadcast by Moscow radio.

"If the counter-revolution did succeed in causing disturbances in the country," Khrushchev said, "this was to a considerable extent due to the fact that the former leadership of the Hungarian Workers' (Communist) party, and especially Rakosi, had committed serious mistakes which undermined the party's directing role and weakened the dictatorship of the proletariat."

Khrushchev's reference was to former Hungarian Communist leader Matyos Rakosi.

"The Soviet government is preproposed East-West summit conference must be approached "in a reasonable way, taking account of the wishes of the other parties."

In this connection, Khrushchev continued, French President Charles de Gaulle's desire to meet with him prior to the summit meeting was not unreasonable and "perhaps this will make for better understanding at the summit."

The Soviet leader denied "foreign press fabrications" that the Soviet Union has abandoned the idea of an early summit meeting.

"The Soviet government os prepared to attend such a meeting at a time and place that would be acceptable to all its participants," he declared.

Khrushchev's visit to De Gaulle is scheduled for the last two weeks in March, which postpones the East-West summit at least until late April.

Eight Arrested; All Plead Guilty

Judge Will Sentence Four Men Today on Gambling Charges

Four of eight men who have pleaded guilty to gambling charges in Pontiac Municipal Court will be sentenced today by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

The eight men were arrested by Pontiac police vice squad officers over the weekend. All were arrested on warrants.

Richard W. Thompson, 20, of 859 Woodlawn Ave., pleaded guilty to maintaining and operating an illegal gambling place. He will be sentenced today.

Also to be sentenced today are Howard G. Davenport, 36, of 5 Front St.; Guy H. Freer, 27, of 2315 Indianwood Rd., Lake Orion, and Alex Hazey, 42, of 650 Second St. They pleaded guilty to loitering in an illegal gambling place.

Donald R. Setter, 30, of 2356 Briggs St., Waterford Township; Jack H. Norton, 33, of 36 Moreland Ave. and Jimmy D. Rager, 19, of 52½ Wayne St. will be sentenced Friday for loitering in an illegal gambling establishment.

John C. Wallace, 26, of 106 Glenwood Ave., Pontiac Township, will be sentenced Monday on a loitering charge.

The gambling game cited in the warrant took place Oct. 30 at 859 Woodlawn Ave.

All eight are free on personal bond.

Puerto Rico's gross national product — the value of all goods and services it turns out — has risen 97 per cent in the past decade.

Cites Illegal Tax Collection

State Attorney General Says Stores Charging Too High on Sales

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams held today that merchants are taxing customers illegally when they charge two pennies sales tax on purchases in the 38 to 49 cents range.

The same applies to three cents tax on purchases in the 68 through 83 cents range, Adams said.

The attorney general replied to a State Revenue Department inquiry on legality of a new bracket system for sales tax collection recommended to its members by the Michigan Retailers Assn.

The bracket system, supplanting one in use for 20 years until last summer, was devised Oct. 22 immediately after the State Supreme Court decision on the Aug. 29 use tax increase act.

The increase was struck down.

Adams held that it is illegal and that persons using it should be stopped from doing so.

"It is beyond question that the 'old schedule' long established, generally accepted and in common use for over 20 years, reasonably passes on an average economic burden of three per cent of the price of property purchased," the attorney general said.

Laud MSU Male Chorus

TORANTO (AP)—The Michigan State University Male Chorus won top honors at the annual tri-university concert here during the weekend: The chorus was honored for its precision and stage presence.

Invite Applicants From Area

Seek Boychoir Members

Young boys living in five Oakland County communities who are interested in singing with the nationally famous Columbus Boychoir may register with Waterford Township High School Choral Director Richard Meier.

Sponsored by the Waterford Civic Music Assn., the Columbus Boychoir will open the season here at 8 p.m. Dec. 12, at John D. Pierce Junior High School. At the conclusion of the concert, 15 boys in the 8 to 15 year age bracket will be invited to apply for admission to the group.

Two boy singers will be selected from each of the following areas: Walled Lake, West Bloomfield, Pontiac and Clarkston.

Four will be chosen from Waterford Township and one each from St. Benedict's, Our Lady of the Lakes and the Emmanual Baptist Church.

The boys will tour the United States as members of the Boychoir. During their trip they will have a regular course of study in grades four to nine, in addition to musical training and concert experience.

Whether a boy is chosen or not, his application entitles him to attend the concert and bring his parents as guests of the Civic Music Assn.

Musical director of the 30-member Columbus Boychoir is Donald Bryant, who will supervise the brief auditions following the concert.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — To escape the disc jockey and payola talk for a spell, I went to see Michael Flanders and Donald Swann —who promptly began gossiping about disc jockeys in England . . . who, over there, are strangely enough called "disc jockeys."

WILSON

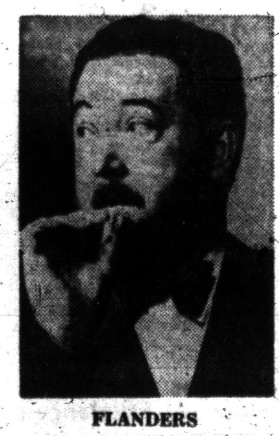

"It's just accepted that a certain amount of 'this sort of thing' does go on there, too," shrugged Flanders, the bearded wheel chair-sitter who does most of the talking in their two-man show, "At the Drop of a Hat."

"Always be sincere whether you mean it or not" is one of the pearls of advice tossed off by Flanders in the brilliantly brittle performance. It seems to match the blithe-spiritedness of Americans about payolas and quiz shows. England still has some quiz shows but then they have a strange kind of quiz shows there — they're honest.

"Flahnders," as it should be pronounced, rips away at our hallowed institutions all evening. He likes tennis, he supposes, "But I can't get over the fact they are bashing a ball with the gut of a cat."

He mentions a fictitious celebrity "who was going to be on 'This Is Your Life' until they looked into it." He and Swann, a gifted pianist, asked the customers to join in a song, and they did, gustily. Flanders had taken the precaution of saying, "Tonight, of all nights, we expect a good response, because attendants will be passing among you with rawhide whips."

FLANDERS

The next payola scandal will reach into the high brackets charging even top broadcasting brass with accepting plug money for their companies, thus defrauding the FCC's limitation on commercial time, as well as cheating paying sponsors of their sponsorship. Some Very Important People are worried—they could go to jail for this on "commercial bribery"—and, politics being what it is, they may do so! But how would it look — Vice Prez in Charge of B'dcasting at Alcatraz?

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Kim Novak's frequent N.Y. escort, Dr. Ernest Wynder, visited her in L.A.; he said she'll be here this month . . . Irony: Dick Clark's book, just out, is titled "Your Happiest Years" . . . Aly Khan's most recent gal flew to Beverly Hills while his French honey, Bettina, is in town . . .

Ramon Novarro will star in "Marriage-Go-Round" on stage in Spain, doing the Charles Boyer role . . . Actress Nina Foch is putting together a cookbook, titled "Romantic Recipes" . . . Connie Francis almost called off her Carnegie Hall show when her manager, George Scheck, collapsed backstage. (She went on after learning it was an ulcer attack.)

EARL'S PEARLS: Singer Sheila Reynolds tells of a reverse payola—she'd pay disk jockeys NOT to play some records.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: If you ask some women, their idea of a rich relative is a wealthy ex-husband.

We hear that Santa just bought a new model sled. It has the reindeer in the rear. That's earl, brother.

Airlines Move Decision Meets Further Delay

DETROIT (AP) — A decision on the long-sought relocation of seven airlines operating at Willow Run Airport to nearby Detroit Metropolitan Airport has been delayed at least another two weeks.

Robert J. Wilson, Capital Airlines vice president and spokesman for the airlines, said his group and Wayne County officials will try to meet again about the middle of this month to discuss the proposal.

"We're still interested in moving but we will first have to know what it's going to cost us," Wilson said yesterday following a meeting with county and airport officials.

Writer Brands Stooges Kiddy 'Horror Show'

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Have your children started playing that popular new game, "The Three Stooges"?

It's the game where they slap each other's skull, poke fingers at the eyes by day and, at night, sometimes wake up screaming.

The name is a memorial to a trio of so-called comedians whose filmed TV misdeeds, apparently too grotesque for adult TV, have been consigned to the "kiddy TV show" status.

I'm told by the syndicator, Screen Gems, that 135 stations now carry the show. That's success by some TV standards.

Some recent episodes have dealt with the horrors of having a tooth pulled, ghoulish preparations for a prison ganging and a series of air raids, all violent enough to unravel nearly all the good stuff that TV can and does offer the kids.

Why let the youngsters watch if it's so bad? Well, most parents I know who have seen the "Stooges" in action have declared the show off-limits.

—But this, of course, promptly makes the show an attractive nuisance. The kids sneak a peek at home or go to a sympathetic pal's house to watch, or hear about it from schoolmates. It has become a disciplinary problem, this TV show, as keeping kids away from the "Stooges" is about as important as keeping them away from matches.

DESTRUCTIVE

I'd say nothing on TV today is as destructive as "The Three Stooges" and nothing on TV today can compare with it for sheer adult irresponsibility. My complaints to the TV stations who manage to get along without the "Stooges" and those stomach-turning, psyche-searing antics.

DIALING AND FILING: The Steve Allen Show, NBC-TV's disappointing comedy hour, fell flat again last night. The big sketch, a musical version of "Dracula," of all things, never fulfilled its promise.

Some odd-ball musical fun was sandwiched between embarrassing gags, but these morsels weren't enough. Guest Jo Stafford looked fine but, unfortunately, wasn't in the best vocal condition.

Another singer, Miriam Makeba of South Africa, was, in the word of another, more famous gal with the same initials, "interesting."

Once upon a time there was a TV sponsor who didn't sell record albums, too.

Jerry Lewis was calmer, more disciplined and relaxed than he's been in a long time during his appearance last night on Jack Paar's show in Hollywood. He did well for himself. Maybe he should limit his TV work to this sort of unrehearsed, informal visit.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: A new one-hour western starring William Bendix, Overland Stage, appears to have the inside track as the replacement for the sinking Riverboat on NBC-TV early in '60 . . . The Lineup, stretched to an hour this season, snaps off the CBS-TV network on Jan. 20. A replacement not yet locked up.

Franklin Schaffner and Alvin Boretz are preparing a new series about the New York City Police Department for NBC-TV. Called Headquarters, the series is based on a book by Quentin Reynolds. Boretz helped CBS-TV launch Brenner, another police series, last summer.

Arraign Three in Holdup Case

Charged With Robbing Drive-In Restaurant in Springfield Township

Three persons charged with the armed robbery of a Springfield Township drive-in restaurant were to be arraigned today before Springfield Justice of the Peace Emmett J. Leib.

They are accused of the holdup of the Hilltop Drive-Inn, 10755 Dixie Hwy., on Nov. 19.

Mrs. Florence Carol, 30 Elizabeth St., Ortonville, a waitress told Oakland County sheriff's deputies three men wearing burlap sacks over their faces and armed with shotguns forced her into a back room.

They escaped with $35 from the cash register.

In custody at the Oakland County Jail were Lawrence J. Achten, 17, 124 Myron St., Ortonville; Lawrence P. Scott, 22, 121 Bird Rd., Ortonville; and Phillip E. Brooks, 19, 4980 Grange Hall Rd., Holly.

A juvenile held in the case has been sent to the Oakland County Children's Home.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long said his office may seek a Juvenile Court waiver on Frankie Helias, 16, of 124 Van Rd., Holly so he can be tried as an adult.

Achten was arrested by Holly Police Sunday for investigation of burglary. Under questioning, he admitted participating in the holdup and implicated the others. They were arrested yesterday.

Bank Robbers Get $2.43

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Burglars broke through a skylight at a Bank of America branch and lowered themselves 30 feet to the floor, but were unable to open the bank's vault. So they grabbed $2.43 from the employes' coffee fund, climbed back through the skylight, and escaped.

Runs Into Own Ban

Oakland Dems Plan Meetings

Precinct Delegates and Party Workers Will Map Strength Survey

Democratic precinct delegates and party workers of Oakland County will meet in their legislative districts Thursday night to plan next year's statewide survey of political strength.

The door-by-door census will be taken in Oakland County and throughout the state to determine how many potential voters are registered before next year's important national and state elections, and to solicit party participation, a party spokesman said.

Each meeting will feature a speaker. Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state, will speak at the District 1 meeting in the Independence Township Hall. All six meetings will begin at 8 p.m.

Other speakers will be:

William Hettinger of Lansing, chairman of municipal finance committee, will talk to the District 5 gathering at the YMCA Building in Royal Oak.

For the District 6 meeting at State Rep. John Hitchcock's real estate office in Hazel Park, it will be Maya Elmer, member of State Central from Wayne County's 14th district.

U.N. Takes Another Crack at Poland-Turkey Deadlock

There was a flurry of rumors and denials that some compromise was afoot. The Assembly was expected to take six more ballots and — if the deadlock still held — set another vote next week.

It appeared likely Poland would lose the vote of two Scandinavian nations, which the Poles had had throughout the balloting. Norwegian Deputy Foreign Minister Hans Engen said in Oslo his delegation would switch its vote in an effort to break the deadlock, and a press report from Copenhagen said the Danish delegation would go along.

This shift alone would not give Turkey the two-thirds majority necessary for election, but Turkey's Western backers were hopeful it would start a trend for their candidate.

Before the last round of balloting, Canada and several Latin American nations suggested to the two contestants that they split the two-year term. Turkey agreed to the proposal, but Poland turned it down.

The contest for the seat now held by Japan started Oct. 12 and has run an unprecedented 43 ballots. Shortly after the start of the race Poland came within six votes of victory. On the 43rd ballot last Tuesday the vote stood at 42 for Poland, 39 for Turkey and one abstention.

The United States, backing Turkey to the hilt, has become increasingly embarrassed by the seesaw contest.

The Soviets, trying to regain a seat once held by the Communist bloc, reportedly have stood fast against any compromise.

Should the deadlock last beyond Jan. 1, the U.N. would find itself functioning without a full Security Council, officially the key group for maintaining international peace and security.

NATO's Backbone Slumping; President Pondering Problem

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

How much longer can NATO be held together?

It's a real question, and one that President Eisenhower must ponder in the coming days as he moves along the route of his 11-nation good will tour toward a Western summit meeting in Paris on Dec. 19.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, put together in the spring of 1949 as the backbone of Western defenses against Communist expansion, is getting tattered.

Last week, a powerful newspaper voice in Britain, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, said editorially "Britain would be well advised to move out of NATO altogether."

On a different note, but pointing up current NATO difficulties in fulfilling its assigned task, was a statement by French Air Force Gen. Jean Valluy, NATO commander in Central Europe.

In event of Soviet attack, he said, NATO would find its Belgian and Dutch troops "unusable" and its French forces all in Algeria.

He said NATO's first line of defense is manned entirely by the Germans and there "would have to be some delay before the arrival of British and American troop reinforcements."

Valluy went on to condemn "the moral disengagement" of certain NATO nations "apart, perhaps from the United States and Canada."

NATO's founding cornerstone was fear of Communist aggression. And the unity of NATO members has ebbed and flowed with the ebb and flow of the Cold War. Now that fear once more has receded, NATO's weaknesses become the more apparent.

The London Daily Express was expressing common British resentment at "all the blocking tactics of diplomacy" used by France and West Germany to delay a summit meeting with Russia.

Valluy was condemning the practices which have forced a steady retreat from the 50-division goal first set up for NATO, the skeletonizing of divisions which are left and the internal quibbling whereby nations refuse to contribute either the money or manpower which NATO commanders believe are a minimum for European defense.

West Germany will fall 150,000 men short of original target figures.

French President Charles de Gaulle has served notice that his land, sea and air forces are not answerable to NATO in case of emergency.

Coupled with the "moral disengagement" of NATO nations has been mounting disagreement in the changing concepts of missile warfare, and the rising hope that in any such war it would be the United States and Russia blasting away at each other with others escaping if they are cautious and lucky.

NATO commanders say it won't be that way.

Battles Prison Term on Tax-Fixing Conviction

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Matthew J. Connelly, one of two Truman administration officials convicted of conspiracy in a tax-fixing case, has petitioned for a rehearing in his battle to escape prison.

The other convicted official, T. Lamar Caudle, made a last-minute bid Monday for an extension of 10 days in which to file a request for rehearing.
