Judge's Decision Clears Way for Return of Ex-Chief Straley

Osteopathic Hospital Plans Big Expansion in Mill-Pike Building

A $1 million-plus expansion program — doubling its capacity — was announced today for Pontiac Osteopathetic Hospital by Harry H. Whitlow, the institution's administrator.

Whitlow announced that for the expansion the hospital had acquired a four-story building near the northeast corner of Mill and East Pike street, a half-block south of the Perry street hospital.

An 18-month remodeling program to turn the structure into a 170-bed facility is tentatively to begin this spring, Whitlow said.

The hospital plans to spend about $1 million in remodeling and equipping the buliding, he said.

The hospital plans to spend about $1 million in remodeling and equipping the building, he said.

The hospital's main plant at 50 N. Perry St. has 151 beds. The expansion, when completed, will put about 320 beds at the hospital's disposal, Whitlow said.

The hospital was spurred into expansion by the full use its facilities have been put to during the past three years, said Harold Kruger, chairman of the board of directors.

"It has been gratifying to note such widespread public acceptance of our hospital and we are pleased to announce this new move to bring added medical facilities to the Pontiac area," Kruger said.

SERVED AS GARAGE

The new biulding at 34 Mill St. served as an automotive garage and sales office for many years.

It was built by the late Barney Habel, a new car dealer, and leased in recent years by his son, Jack B. Habel, to Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc. It has been vacant most of the year.

Whitlow declined to disclose details or figures involved in acquisition of the building.

The hospital hopes to obtain city permission to put an overpass between its present headquarters and the new building, Whitlow said.

He noted that present plans call for using the top three floors of the new building for patients and the main floor for administrative offices and services.

The top floor would house medical patients, he said; the third.

Four Escapees Terrorize Pair

Ivy Bluff Desperadoes Bind Man, Rape Wife in Memphis Home

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Four desperadoes, who said they had escaped from a North Carolina prison, broke into a home early today, tied a couple on their beds and terrorized them with knives.

"Move and I'll cut you from here to here," said one of the men as he drew a knife across the forehead of Clarence Wortham, 53.

Wortham told police one of the men held him on his bed while the other raped his wife, also 53, in another bedroom. She is a grandmother.

Wortham's guard said he was "one of the 20," leading police to believe the men were among the 20 criminals who escaped Tuesday from Ivy Bluff Prison near Yanceyville, N.C. It is a day's drive from Memphis.

Wortham and his wife were prisoners for two hours while the men ransacked their modest, single-family dwelling in a residential neighborhood.

A massive manhunt fanned out from North Carolina today — with special emphasis on southwest Virginian—for the heavily armed and dangerous convicts still at large from a daringly executed escape from the state's toughest prison.

At least three of the escapees were definitely placed in Roanoke, Va., Tuesday night after a Buchanan, Va., man reported he was forced to drive three men at gunpoint to Roanoke.

W. R. Robinson told police he arrived at his home to find the trio coming from the house. He said they had taken three business suits and left three sets of prison garb. Robinson said he drove the men 25 miles south and left him off in Roanoke. Neither Robinson nor his wife were harmed.

Posses using bloodhounds and scouting planes scoured a six-county area on the theory that all of the fugitives couldn't have gotten out of North Carolina after the escape, despite a four-hour start before the break was reported Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Residents in a wide area around Ivy Bluff slept uneasily Tuesday night behind locked doors and windows, with family weapons within easy reach.

"Our jail wouldn't hold everybody who's packing a pistol under his belt," one Casewell County deputy sheriff said.

Bride and Groom Take Deep Dive for Their 'I Do's'

MIAMI (UPI) — The bridesmaids wore bikinis.

The bride and groom clinked diving helmets when the judge told the groom he might kiss his bride.

This was a wedding ceremony 16 feet under water here yesterday.

The groom, Philip Amero, a professional skin diver, wore a drip dry suit. The bride, Jane Beeton, a former Boston school teacher, joined him 16 feet below in the Miami Seaquarium with fishing weights in her cocktail length white brocade dress. The ceremony was performed before an arch of artificial flowers.

The bridesmaids breathed through aqualungs.

The judge and the couple talked to one another through an underwater telephone system.

See Study Boosting City Airport Stature

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac Municipal Airport is expected to figure prominently in a report tomorrow on a far-reaching study of air facilities in the southeastern Michigan Metropolitan area.

Because of its unique position, the Pontiac airport may be assigned a role of far greater importance in the upcoming jet age than it has assumed up to now.

This possibility — some consider it a probability — has heightened the city's eagerness to hear details of the first authoritative study of the metropolitan area's air needs and how to fill them.

The study will be unveiled tomorrow before the six-county Supervisors' Inter-County Committee and a group of important figures from Detroit, Pontiac and other centers in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The officials will gather at the Botsford Inn in Farmington to hear a presentation by the airport consulting firm of Landrum & Brown entitled Study Report on the Air Transportation Requirements of the Southeastern Michigan Metropolitan Area.

The Cincinnati, Ohio, firm, which has made similar studies in other metropolitan areas — notably Miami — has been at work since April on a $30,000 study for the supervisors' subcommittee on aviation.

The firm was asked to prepare figures predicting the potential increase in air traffic here through 1975. And it was asked to recommend what new facilities are needed to meet this increase and where they should be located.

Landrum & Brown's answers to these questions will be the first authoritative statement on the subject that the area has had.

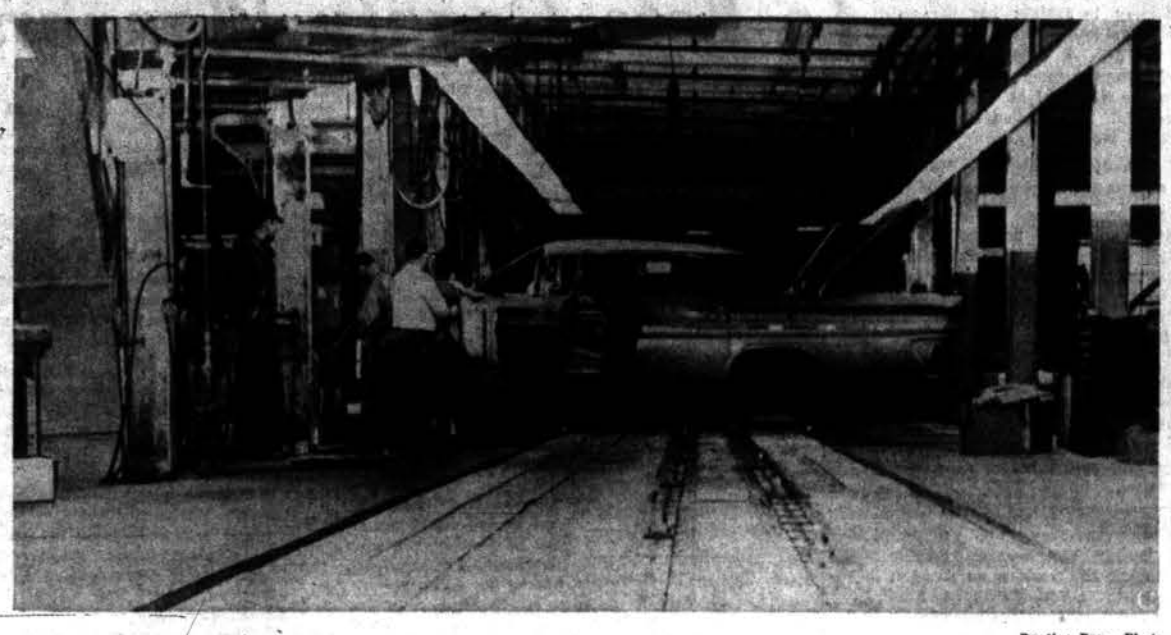

LACKED BACKGROUND

It was because the area lacked technical background for proper airport planning that the study was sought, said Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Hamlin is chairman of the airport subcommittee, one of the inter-county committee's most important subdivisions. Chairmen of the boards of supervisors of the six counties and Detroit's

Assembly Line Set to Roll at Pontiac Motor

GETTING BACK IN PRODUCTION — Accessories were being installed this morning on this 1960 model body at the Pontiac Motor Division in readiness for the assembly line to begin rolling again at the second shift 4:18 p.m. today after a 44-day steel shortage standstill. This will be the first car to roll off the line since operations ceased on Oct. 27.

AFL-CIO Takes Issue to Court

Shakes Senate Structure

LANSING (AP)—A legal attack on the way Michigan's Senate is set up has been launched by the state AFL-CIO.

By design or otherwise, it blasted off what is sure to be one of 1960's hottest political fights.

"Nothing but a propaganda move," said Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville). "Very appealing" was Gov. Williams' reaction.

In a Supreme Court suit, AFL-CIO President August Scholle said his vote in Royal Oak is worth only one-twelfth as much as that of a resident of the 32nd district in the Upper Peninsula.

For this reason, he argued, a 1952 state constitutional amendment that led to this result violated the "equal protection of the laws" guarantee of the federal constitution.

Scholle asked the high court to strike it down and to order the 1960 state senatorial elections held up until the Legislature provides for equitable representation.

In the event the Legislature fails to act, he asked an order requiring election of all 34 Senators next year from the state at large.

Rep. Farrell Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township), an attorney, claimed there was no legal basis for the petition. "The union is out for headlines," said Roberts.

Scholle said he was acting in behalf of 800,000 working men and women.

Gov. Williams and Democrats, who contend the Senate as now constituted frustrates the majority's will, for months have been studying ways of reshaping the Senate.

LAST BASTION

Republicans recently have dramatized their last remaining bastion of political power as the shield that protected the people from a state income tax.

Asked about the Scholle proposition, Williams said unequal representation in state legislatures has held up progress across the country.

Republican reaction was quick and sharp.

"There is absolutely no legitimate federal question involved in how a state sets up its government so long as it remains Republican in form," Hutchinson said.

Hutchinson said the U.S. Supreme Court 90 years ago held that the courts have no business tinkering in such affairs, holding they are "political" questions for the states themselves to decide.

Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) noted that Scholle found no fault with the federal government scheme that apportions the Senate on a territorial and the House on a population basis.

Geerlings said Scholle wanted to put Michigan's legislative branch under domination of counties like Wayne, Oakland and Macomb.

Prior to 1952, the Michigan Senate last was reapportioned in 1925, the House in 1943.

★ ★ ★

The 1952 constitutional change froze Senate districts along territorial lines. It left it up to the Legislature to revamp House districts according to population every 10 years.

Hysteria Greets Ike in New Delhi

Innumerable Multitude Surges Out of Control Around President

NEW DELHI (AP) — A joyously hysterical throng of more than one million—sometimes terrifyingly out of control—surged about President Eisenhower tonight as he rode for miles through this capital of India.

Proclaimed in a huge banner as "the prince of peace," the President was caught tight in an awesome crush of screaming, almost worshipful humanity.

No one will ever know exactly how many Indians stood in their dhotis and saris to cheer Eisenhower along an 11-mile route from airport to city. Police guessed the crowd at 1½ million, but it could easily have been larger.

Many—even the poor illiterates who make up much of this nation's population — must have shared a widespread feeling that Eisenhower's presence at this time was a clear warning to Communist China against further action on the India frontier.

Prime Minister Nehru, welcoming Eisenhower from a triumphant six-hour stopover in Afghanistan, declared that friendship for America had been firmly established in India before his arrival. He said Eisenhower's visit would make this friendship ever stronger, more durable and lasting.

"We are grateful to you and to your country for this visit," Nehru declared, his voice filled with emotion.

Eisenhower responded with a pledge that American leaders will stand beside India's leaders in the quest for world peace.

"The Lord willing, that quest will be successful," Eisenhower said. "All of us know the only alternative to global war is peace. Let us pray that even this little step forward may have some useful purpose in furthering this great cause."

Hello—Police? Designing Man's Casing the Bank

LANSING (AP) — The manager of the Novi branch of the National Bank of Detroit called state police to report a well-dressed stranger had been in "casing" his bank.

But he obtained the license number of the suspicious visitor, who drove away in a 1958 Cadillac.

State police listed the report as "possible bank robbery" and traced the license number.

They found the car belonged to Kenneth C. Black, leading Lansing architect, who designed the new Lansing City Hall, among other buildings.

He was at the branch bank, Black confirmed, made a few sketches and took some notes. But Black explained he was designing a similar branch for a client and was just checking on the latest in bank construction.

Auto Assembly Resumes Today

More Than 1,500 Due Back at Pontiac After 44-Day Shutdown

More than 1,500 workers will return to their jobs on the Pontiac Motor Division assembly line today and tomorrow after being idled 44 days during the steel shortage standstill.

At 4:18 p.m. today the assembly line rolls again with the start of the second shift.

Full scale production has been ordered, with 4,643 units scheduled by the end of this week from six GM plants throughout the country.

Of the approximately 8,000 laid off at Pontiac Motor when operations ceased Oct. 28, some 6,500 already have been called back.

Those remaining will have returned to their jobs by Thursday.

While more than 1,000 hourly rated GM Truck and Coach Division employes returned to work earlier this week, about 500 heavy duty truck workers will remain idled for another two weeks, according to Division General Manager Calvin J. Werner, "because of material steel shortages."

★ ★ ★

A Fisher Body Division official said most of the 2,400 production workers laid off because of the 116-day steel strike returned to work with the first shift today. Others will receive special notification from the plant, he said.

Ionia Court Ruling Kills Ouster by Civil Service

By MAX E. SIMON

The door was open today for Herbert W. Straley to return to his $9,000-a-year job as Pontiac police chief.

Straley's ouster by the Pontiac Civil Service Commission was nullified yesterday by Ionia County Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis.

Judge Davis heard the case on a change of venue from Oakland County.

As a result, Straley, 54, now may petition for reinstatement. The order reinstating him would be a "legal technicality," said Judge Davis.

In his decision, Judge Davis said he reversed the decision because he believed the proceedings of the commission's discharge of Straley were not proper in view of existing acts and statutes covering such a dismissal.

The judge ruled that Straley had committed no acts of "misfeasance or nonfeasance" within 90 days of the time charges were filed with the commission.

Ninety days prior to the filing of charges (Nov. 12, 1958), Straley was stripped of command powers by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

"There were no specific charges of ommission or commission (in his job) and no specific proof of such charges," Judge Davis held.

The judge said that under the State Civil Service Act covering Straley, the Civil Service Commission had to allege and prove specific charges, which Davis said was not done in the case.

Straley said of the decision: "I expected it."

He added: "The things that Willman (City Manager Walter K. Willman) and Eastman and those other rabble-rousers did to me couldn't, in all justice, go unreversed forever."

Only Straley knows whether he'll actually return as police chief and he's not talking.

"I will make no statement on that subject at the present time," he said.

Straley was openly bitter about his long battle with the city which ended in his dismissal.

Of Eastman, who has been running the department as an adjunct to his $12,000-a-year job as public safety director, he said:

"He's not worth $100 a month."

He said Willman "must be blind" to conditions in the police department under Eastman's administration. He called conditions "poor."

It was Eastman who marshalled charges against Straley last February and Willman who presented them before the Civil Service Commission.

Removal charges were filed and Straley suspended Feb. 9. The Civil Service Commission fired Straley April 4 following an 18-session, 65-hour public hearing.

Straley called the hearing "an inquisition."

The former 54-year-old chief has been working for a trucking firm in recent months. Although he's had no official connection with the department the past seven months, he's kept his eye on it, he said.

He said several developments within the department "disturbed" him, but declined to be specific.

Straley is expected to seek back pay amounting to about $7,500.

Willman and Eastman's comments on the reversal ranged from a surprised "Well" to "I'll be darned."

Eastman said the matter was in Willman's hands.

And Willman was closed-mouthed about the future.

"No comment," he said. "None at all."

City officials were withholding comment pending the arrival of the court decision in the mails today.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said he could not immediately predict the city's decision in the mopping up of the legal details involved in the case.

"I won't know a thing until I study the decision itself," he said.

At last night's City Commission meeting, Commissioner Robert A. Landry once again threatened to call for Eastman's removal.

He warned that if Eastman does not resign before next Tuesday he will move then that Eastman be fired by Willman.

Road Is Clear for Straley's Return

Similar moves by Landry and Commissioner Milton R. Henry in the past have been blocked by the five other members of the Commission.

Perhaps recalling these votes, Landry warned:

"If there is a 5-2 vote again blocking this move, I predict that the majority of this Commission will be laughed out of office in 90 days."

His reference was to the March primary for the seven seats on the Commission.

★ ★ ★

"I'm certainly glad to hear of the favorable opinion," Landry said. "There is no doubt in my mind that Straley will return as chief of police."

Henry said he was "happy" with the decision.

None of the other commissioners, nor Willman, expressed opinions.

Henry urged that the Commission move to reinstate Straley "here and now" and pay him his unpaid salary since February.

"If Straley was never legally removed then he is still legally chief," Henry said. "We cannot on all good conscience insist on his going back to the court for an order reinstating him."

Landry supported the motion, but Henry withdrew it after Mayor Philip E. Rowston pointed out that the city had not received any official notice or copy of the opinion.

"We ought not to dilly-daily," Henry said.

Commissioner John A. Dugan warned against a "hasty action" and Commissioner Floyd P. Miles accused Henry of "jumping the gun."

Henry then asked for a special meeting to consider the Straley case "as soon as the court order is filed."

★ ★ ★

The Commission tabled the proposal indefinitely by a 5-2 vote, Henry and Landry in the minority.

Commissioner William W. Donaldson pointed out: "We didn't suspend Straley. Why should we be involved now? This is an administrative matter."

Henry exploded after his efforts in behalf of Straley were tabled.

"I am disgusted with the way we are shirking our responsibilities," he said. "I do not believe you have a right to try and shut me up."

Although most commissioners refrained from voicing an opinion last night, it is probable that the Straley decision will be a heated subject of debate at an informal, non-public meeting Thursday night.

Straley served as the city's police chief from Nov. 11, 1951, until his dismissal by the Civil Service Commission.

Open warfare broke out between the chief and the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. (PPOA) after Pontiac voters on April 1, 1957, approved the scrapping of the 25-year-old Police Trial Board and placed the 110-man department under civil service.

The favorable vote climaxed a PPOA campaign to be freed of the seven-man Trial Board, whose members were appointed by the City Commission.

Association members charged that Straley exercised undue influence over the Trial Board and that it lacked rules of procedure.

It was only a month later that the PPOA was demanding the removal of Straley. The association listed numerous grievances against the chief and claimed vice flourished in the city.

Vice squad officers openly charged their work was hampered by Straley's policies, which, they said, permitted the growth of the numbers racket in the city.

Worried about the internal strife, the City Commission entered the controversy in September of that year. Commissioners authorized a $9,000 study of the department by an impartial outside agency, the Public Administration Service (PAS) of Chicago.

The PAS report added fuel to the fire.

Made public on May 7, 1958, the report was a blistering criticism of Straley's regime.

For 113 pages, the study hit at almost every aspect of police work as conducted by the department.

While the report did not once mention any individual by name, it directed its most withering attack on Straley.

The Chicago experts found the department "characterized by a lack of pride in service, low 'esprit de corps', and little public prestige."

Stung by the report, Straley called it "the work of an inexperienced patrolman who had served only four years in a police department."

★ ★ ★

The PAS study's only purpose was to ridicule and belittle him, he charged.

Eastman, former Seattle police chief, was hired as public safety director by City Manager Walter K. Willman to implement the report—and to bring an end to the internal strife.

Eastman arrived on the job Oct 7, 1958.

Within a week, he imposed a gag rule on Straley, who had attacked the PAS report at a public meeting.

"The report will be implemented —that is my job," Eastman said.

On Nov. 12, 1958, Eastman issued a directive stripping Straley of his powers. He placed Straley on "special assignment" in his office but did not spell out what the chief's duties would be.

The order, in effect, put Straley on the shelf. He was a chief in name only.

In removing Straley from command, Eastman said, "There is no feeling of rapport between the chief and the bulk of the personnel . . . Such a lack of command precludes the possibility of doing a successful job of administration."

★ ★ ★

Before shearing the chief of his powers, Eastman urged Willman to press ouster charges against Straley. Willman refused.

A second attempt by Eastman to have charges filed in December failed.

Meanwhile, behind-the-scenes attempts were made to 'convince Straley to resign, but the chief was adamant.

On Jan. 9, 1959, Willman told city commissioners: "I don't want to see the chief hurt if it can be avoided. He's served the city for seven years."

Finally, on Jan. 26, Willman conceded, "Straley must go."

Charges were filed against Straley on Feb. 9. This was the last day, under a 90-day statute of limitations, on which Straley could be charged with anything that occurred while he still had full powers.

Straley was accused of inefficiency, incompetency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior.

The Civil Service Commission hearings on the ouster charges began on Feb. 18. They dragged on for 18 sessions, winding up on March 25.

During the hearing, Straley blamed his troubles on a small clique within the PPOA which he called "mutinous and rebellious."

He said he was unable to control them under Civil Service, and accused the city manager of failing to back him up in disciplinary cases.

During his administration, Straley was constantly at odds with the PPOA.

The association sought his ouster a second time in August of 1958, following a horse race bookie raid by State Police. Straley had once sought a parole for the man described as the ring's kingpin by State Police.

Another round of the battle was in Oakland County Circuit Court where four PPOA officers obtained orders for promotion over Straley's opposition.

By a unanimous 3-0 vote, the Commission on April 4 found Straley guilty on all charges and fired him.

Straley appealed the decision and was granted a change of venue by the Oakland County Circuit Court after he contended an impartial hearing was impossible here because of the amount of publicity the hearings had received.

Two days after firing Straley, the Civil Service Commission lost jurisdiction over the police department. Voters went to the polls April 6 and approved a return to the Trial Board setup.

Straley was with the Flint Police Dept. from 1925 to 1942. During World II, he was in the Marine Corps. He served as a U.S. Secret Service Agent until April, 1947.

★ ★ ★

Before coming to Pontiac, Straley worked as director of the Division of Pardons, Paroles, and Probation of the State Corrections Dept. and as an administrative assistant of Michigan State Industries.

His yearly salary as police chief was $9,022.

Another interested group that plans to attend is Mayor Miriani's Greater Detroit Air Transportation Committee, made up of important figures in Detroit and surrounding communities. Both Hamlin and Pontiac's Mayor Philip E. Rowston serve on this body.

BASED ON REALITIES

Predictions that the name of Pontiac Municipal Airport will be mentioned often in the report are based on obvious realities:

1. Officials say there is little doubt that within a few years the demand for air travel will soar, perhaps far beyond general expectation.

2. The metropolitan area will have to have more and bigger airports to meet this demand.

3. Because of past experience, it is doubtful that any new airports can effectively be located in the area. Overwhelming local opposition has crushed such moves in recent years.

4. Of existing medium-sized airports, Pontiac's is the nearest to Detroit and the heavily populated suburban areas.

5. Pontiac's airport is open to expansion, especially westward on Department of Conservation property between the airport and Pontiac Lake.

St. Joseph Picks New Chief of Staff for Next Year

Dr. Harry Arnkoff, 140 Illinois Ave., last night was elected chief of staff of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at the annual meeting of the medical staff.

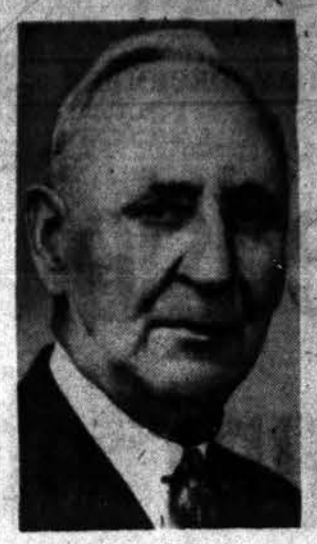

He succeeds Dr. Norman F. Gehringer.

Also elected were Dr. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, 127 Illinois Ave., president-elect for the year 1960; and the incumbent secretary-treasurer, Dr. Theodore Ling, 351 Yarmouth St., Birmingham.

A graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School, Arnkoff joined the St. Joseph medical staff in 1940 after completing a three-year residency at Detroit Receiving Hospital.

In addition to serving on the hospital's executive committee, Arnkoff is a member of the board of directors of the Oakland County Medical Society.

He lives with his wife, Rebecca, and two daughters, Diane Beth and Susan Marsha.

10th Anniversary Salute

To Fete County Planners

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

In 1949, Oakland County supervisors were told it was time to plan ahead. The county's mushrooming growth was becoming more evident each year.

Inscribed in the minutes of the Board of Supervisors was the following:

"From a study of the problem we are convinced that county planning is necessary in order that the future growth and development of Oakland County may be directed in the proper channels, and many problems, such as drainage, sewage disposal, land use and health problems may be disposed of satisfactorily."

Supervisors listened, then acted. They established the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Tomorrow night at a testimonial dinner in Bloomfield Hills three of the charter members still on the commission will be honored at a 10th anniversary gathering.

Special tribute will be paid J. Robert F. Swanson, Bloomfield Hills architect who has served 10 years as commission chairman, R. Clare Cummings, Pontiac banker, and Ernest W. Seaholm, retired General Motors official and former Birmingham school board president.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, is expected to pay tribute for their years of outstanding service on the commission.

BORN OF A SUGGESTION

Today's 11-member commission was born of a suggestion to the board by Henry S. Booth of the Oakland Citizens League. This group was supported in resolutions presented by the cities of Bloomfield Hills and Hazel Park.

The commission and its departmental staff of nine, under the direction of George N. Skrubb, is truly a jack-of-all-trades when it comes to shaping future plans for the county.

Michigan State University Oakland was essentially a product of the commission — particularly the vision of 59-year-old Swanson.

In 1955 the commission made a survey of higher educational facilities in the county. The evident lack of adequate facilities prompted specific studies relating to the location of a new university.

Swanson approached the Alfred G. Wilsons with the idea of reserving their estate as a university site. The rest is history.

The commission's office at 550 S. Telegraph Rd. is a standing monument to 10 years of research and development in any field which has a bearing on the growth of the county and its many cities and townships.

If staff members don't have immediate answers about zoning, sewage, water, location of homes or stores, or a wealth of other information, they soon will get it.

Because of its newness—Oakland was second only to Washtenaw County in creating a planning group — and its widespread reputation, the commission is looked to for guidance from afar. Recently, Japan requested a copy of a guide of subdivision development.

The county Department of Public Works has just received a land use study conducted by the commission which the DPW will use in developing a sewage disposal system for the northeastern half of the county.

"This is probably one of the largest projects we've handled," Skrubb said.

Banks have looked to the commission to determine location of branches.

Skrubb points out that the commission's $70,000-a-year operation is never-ending. Under study today is the use of electronic computers in arriving at important growth statistics.

His staff is available and urges townships and cities to avail themselves of data now on file. The commission also offers valuable assistance, such as the study for the DPW, for the numerous county departments.

All zoning ordinances and amendments for political subdivisions are on file at the commission.

The commission receives a map of all new subdivisions going up in Oakland County.

Probably one of the commission's most valuable studies are the population forecasts. These are aimed at avoiding future embarrassing shortages of classrooms, street capacity, sewers and water, and other essentials.

These studies are a large part of helping Oakland County grow through "the proper channels" the supervisors learned about 10 years ago.

Gales Continue to Batter Seas

Toll of Dead, Missing Leaps to 108 in Fifth Day of Europe Storm

LONDON (AP)—Winter gales in the North Sea overturned a Norwegian freighter today and little hope was held for any of her 20 crewmen.

The giant storm, raging for the fifth day in the Atlantic and along the coasts of Europe, has taken a toll of 108, dead or missing.

The 1,719-ton Elfrida was found floating bottom up off the southern coast of Norway after she radioed for help. Her last call said the crew was taking to lifeboats.

The Oslo motorship Buffalo found two overturned lifeboats and six bodies, and the Norwegian liner Oslofjord found a lifeboat with no one aboard.

PLANES STILL SEARCH

Amateur radio operators said they heard another ship reporting 10 bodies found.

The Norwegian air-sea rescue service said, however, it had three Catalina planes still searching for another lifeboat.

Off the Scottish coast, however, a happy ending for the seven crew members of the North Carr lightship was finally recorded.

Two Royal Air Force helicopters plucked the crew to safety as the lightship drifted perilously close to the rocky shore.

Osteopathic Hospital to Double Capacity

3 DELIVERY ROOMS

Plans call for three delivery rooms there, seven labor rooms and an operating room.

The Perry street building would handle mostly surgical and special cases, Whitlow said.

Removal of most types of patients from the Perry street building will free some areas for new uses, he said.

The hospital plans to add a staff assembly room in the Perry street building, a medical library and a meditation room.

Emergency facilities at the Mill street side will also be expanded, Whitlow said.

★ ★ ★

The hospital moved into the Perry street building — the former Pontiac Hotel — in January 1957.

It housed 120 beds at first. This was increased by a modernization program recently completed.

Whitlow noted that absence of partitions throughout most of the new building will simplify remodeling there.

Inner partitions presented a complication when the hospital moved into the former hotel, but this was offset by the low initial capital outlay involved, Whitlow said.

He estimated the cost of moving into an existing building at about one-third the cost of starting from scratch with a new one.

Held in Juvenile Home

Ortonville Girl Shoots Dad

A 15-year-old Ortonville girl was being held at the Oakland County Children's Home today after wounding her stepfather with a 20-gauge shotgun blast Tuesday afternoon.

Colleen Sue Marsh was turned over to juvenile authorities after making a statement to Oakland County Prosecutor George W. Taylor late Tuesday.

Her stepfather, Jerome Morgan, 46, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with wounds in the abdomen.

The shooting occurred at the Morgan home, 393 W. Glass Rd., where Colleen lives with her two brothers, her mother Mrs. Marilyn Morgan, and her stepfather.

Oakland County sheriff's detectives and Taylor said the frail, blonde teen-ager will "probably face a felonious assault charge in juvenile court."

According to Detective Sgt. Leo R. Hazen and Detective Harry M. Maur, the girl's mother and stepfather were arguing when she went to the basement to get a shotgun belonging to an older brother.

"I just made up my mind I was going down and get my brother's gun and shoot him," Colleen told detectives.

Detectives said Morgan left by a rear door and his stepdaughter walked out a side door with the gun. As he turned to look at her, some 20 feet away, she reportedly fired one shot.

Morgan was sprayed by pellets in the abdomen, side and arm.

The girl calmly put the gun in the house, donned a coat and walked away. She was picked up by deputies about 15 minutes later walking along nearby Granger road.

Morgan ran to a neighbor's home. The neighbor, Mrs. Georgine Pratt, of 385 W. Glass Rd., took him to the office of Dr. Paul F. Schoen Jr. at 449 Mill St., Ortonville.

Schoen called deputies. Mrs. Morgan didn't know of the incident until informed by officers. She remained in the house after her husband left.

"We have argued occasionally, but just the usual family quarrels. My husband never was violent.

"He's been a good husband and father, dependable and a good provider," the woman told detectives.

★ ★ ★

Detectives said the girl, a ninth grade student, had dropped out of Brandon Township High School earlier this year.

Morgan, at the hospital, said he would not sign a complaint against her.

City C. of C. Leaders at Lansing Meeting

A half-dozen leaders of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and chamber manager John W. Hirlinger were in Lansing today attending the organizational meeting of the new Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

A board of directors and officers were to be elected and delegates were to hear talks by several speakers, including Erwin D. Canham, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Scheduled was a debate on Michigan's tax plight by Gov. Williams and Sen. Frank D. Beadle, Republican majority leader.

Predicts George Wilson to Get New Lions Pact

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said today that George Wilson will receive a new one-year contract as head coach of the Detroit Lions.

The News also said the status of President - General Manager Edwin J. Anderson never has been precarious.

The News said Wilson probably will receive a new contract, and Anderson a vote of confidence, when the club's executive committee meets Friday.

The Day in Birmingham

Municipal Officials Hear Recreation Board Report

BIRMINGHAM — Some 25 members of three municipal groups gathered at an informal dinner and meeting last night at Devon Gables.

City officials and the Board of Education met to receive a progress report by the Recreation Board.

After the dinner and small talk, Mrs. William H. Jackson of the Recreation Board told of advancements since the organization of the Recreation Board in 1947.

She said there are more than four times as many persons to serve now than there were in 1947.

"When the program began the recreation board served some 3,000 students, today there are nearly 12,000."

School Superintendent Dwight B. Ireland commented that the recreation program has advanced along with school growth.

"In 1941 when I came to Birmingham there were 5 schools and now there are 18."

"Citizens should be very proud of the recreation facilities included in the school programs."

COMMENDS WHITNEY

Dr. Ireland commended Frank Whitney, recreation coordinator, for his "dependability in solving many problems that have arisen in past years."

Charles Gale, of the Forestry Division showed slides depicting the work of the division in maintaining the 250 acres of parks in the city throughout the year.

★ ★ ★

Recreation Board Chairman William Spence was toastmaster.

The annual Christmas party of the Birmingham Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. Melvin Sterner, Bloomfield Hills.

Members will bring gifts to be presented to men patients at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanitorium.

Stomachs Will Be Empty, but Hearts Overflow

ALBION (UPI) — Some 100 youths at the Starr Commonwealth for Boys, in need of help themselves, will go without lunch Tuesday to help give needy Detroit children a better Christmas.

It has been a tradition since 1914 at the Commonwealth for the boys to have a "fast day" just before Christmas so they can raise money to contribute to some charity.

Although they are also trying to raise $100,000 to match $100,000 donated by the Knights Templar for a new recreation building at the school, the boys voted to donate this year to the Detroit Goodfellows Old Newsboys Fund, which buys gifts for needy children.

The boys go without lunch so the money that would normally have been spent on the meal can be contributed to a charity.

New Cinderella of Scandinavia Calls for Privacy

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — Pretty Danish-born Lisa Eriksen said Tuesday she did not want her marriage to a son of Chicago millionaire banker John P. Kellogg compared with that of Steven Rockefeller and his Norwegian sweetheart.

Miss Eriksen, 22, a former airline hostess, will marry Robert Payne Kellogg Dec. 19. Some newspapers have been comparing the wedding with that of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's son and Anne Marie Rasmussen.

★ ★ ★

"I certainly do not like that comparison, neither for better nor for worse . . .," said Miss Eriksen. "I hope we will have more privacy than did Anne Marie."

Young Kellogg was a passenger on a Canadian Airlines plane on which Miss Eriksen was the hostess two years ago. "It was love at first glance," she recalled.

The Kelloggs approved of their son's choice. "We are so happy that our son has chosen such a sweet and charming girl as Lisa," said Mrs. Kellogg.

Robert also won the blessings of the Eriksens when introduced to them six months ago at the 270-acre farm at Vejlby in eastern Jutland.

Stands By Story About Kennedy

Christian Herald Editor Insists Senator Bows to Cardinal's Orders

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, said Tuesday he stands by his story that Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) submitted to high Roman Catholic Church authority in 1950 by canceling plans to participate in an inter-faith program.

Poling reported the incident in his recently published autobiography, "Mine Eyes Have Seen." He said he had nothing to add to what he wrote.

In it, he said that Kennedy had accepted an invitation to be the spokesman for his faith at a dinner in Philadelphia to raise funds for the construction of the chapel of Four Chaplains, dedicated to World War II chaplains of all faiths.

But at almost the last minute, Poling said, Kennedy, then a congressman, reluctantly bowed out, at the request of Denis Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia.

Poling included the incident in his book as a commentary on Kennedy's efforts as a Roman Catholic to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Protestant clergyman, who preceded his close friend Dr. Norman Vincent Peale as pastor of New York's marble collegiate church, said that Kennedy telephoned him from Washington to tell him he could not appear.

"The congressman's distress was obvious as he relayed this information," Poling wrote. "All but overwhelmed with my disappointment, I reminded Kennedy that the banquet was a civic occasion, that all the faiths were participating, and that we were meeting not in a Protestant church, but on neutral ground in a hotel.

"The congressman replied that he understood all this and that he had done everything he could to change the cardinal's position. His speech was prepared, he said, and he would gladly forward it to me, but as a loyal son of the church, he had no alternative but not to come. Unquestionably, Kennedy was grieved as he reported Cardinal Dougherty's decision to me, and unquestionably also, he was profoundly embarrassed."

Reports Attempted Theft of $100,000 Rembrandt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Corcoran Art Gallery reported Tuesday an attempted theft of one of its paintings, a Rembrandt valued at $100,000.

Gallery officials said marks of some sharp instrument indicated an effort had been made to cut "Man With Hat Holding Scroll" from its frame. This painting is on wood rather than canvas. The damage was slight and the painting can be retouched

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

(SYNOPSIS: The Eskimo festival failed to lift the continuous winter from the Eskimo lands. Although Misk the wise man says nothing more can be done, Oonik the Eskimo boy is determined to try another plan.)

CHAPTER THREE

With Keotuk at his heels Oonik ran home. He found his sled frozen to the side of the igloo. With his snow knife he cut it free. The sled was made of bone and pieces of driftwood, with reindeer antlers as a handle. It was small but sturdy.

Down, down, down Oonik plunged toward the black water.

He harnessed Keotuk and tied his snow saw and seal spear on to the sled. Then he returned to the wise man's igloo where all the Eskimos of the village were gathered.

"Father," said Oonik, touching his father's arm. "Is it true that on the far side of the Arctic Sea is Santa Land?"

His father nodded. "So I have always heard."

"Then," said Oonik, "I am going there."

"What are you saying?" cried his father in astonishment.

SANTA IS GOOD

"Santa Claus is very powerful," said Oonik. "He knows when I have been good and when I have been bad. He knows what to bring me for Christmas. He always comes every Christmas Eve no matter how stormy the weather."

"So?" said his father.

"So," said Oonik, "if Santa can do all these things he can surely cure the Ice King of his rage. I will go and ask his help."

"Son," said the father, "you could never get to Santa Land. It is too far and the storms come too fast and too often. You would die."

"If I stay here we all will die," replied Oonik. "Please, father. My sled is fast and Keotuk is the best dog in the village."

★ ★ ★

Misk, the wise man, put his hand on Oonik's shoulder. "You are brave and wise," he murmured. He turned to the father. "Let him go," he said. "It is our only chance."

Oonik's father saw that this was so. "Go, then," he said, sadly. "Perhaps your small weight and fast sled will help you make it where no one else could."

'GO, KEOTUK'

Oonik ran out to his sled. "Go, Keotuk!" he cried.

Slipping and falling, Keotuk slowly hauled the sled up the ice mountain and down to the frozen sea. It would be hard to say how many days Oonik traveled.

Since it was a summer month (despite the cold) there was no night for, in Eskimo land, the summer is a time of never-ending day just as in the wintertime there is never-ending night. Finally he saw mountains ahead.

"Not much further," he cried cheerily to the dog. "When we get to the mountains we'll be in Santa Land."

★ ★ ★

But, though Keotuk pulled on and on, they never seemed to get any closer and after a while storm clouds came down low over the sea and Oonik could not even see the mountains any more.

STORM COMES

"This is going to be a big storm," he murmured as he anxiously studied the lowering sky. "We'd better stop."

He was especially careful digging his snow cave. He made it large and deep and when he and Keotuk were safely in he turned the sled on its side and pulled it against the opening to keep out the wind. He had hardly finished when the full might of the Ice King's fury burst down upon the sea.

But Oonik didn't care. He snuggled against Keotuk's warm fur and fell asleep.

He was awakened by a terrible noise of crashing ice. He was thrown across the cave and Keotuk came tumbling after him. Then they both slid to the top of the cave. Horrified, Oonik saw that the cave was collapsing.

The ice field on which the cave was had been broken into pieces and now the huge chunks of ice were grinding together, crumbling and piling on top of one another like toy blocks tossed about by a playful giant.

★ ★ ★

Shaking with fright, Oonik suddenly felt the cave being lifted into the air. Then, midst a thousand tons of ice, the cave burst open and Oonik was sliding down an enormous slab of ice.

★ ★ ★

Down, down, down, he plunged straight toward a pool of churning black water at the bottom of the upended cake of ice.

"Oh, help! help!" cried Oonik. "This is the end of me!"

Britain Advised to Aid Colonies

Stay Out of Air Race, Aim at Better Living, Says Policy Council

LONDON (AP) — An official group advised Britain today to stay out of the costly race into space and spend the money to help its underdeveloped colonies and Commonwealth partners.

The government-sponsored Advisory Council on Scientific Policy said in its annual report: "While no one can deny the value or attraction of space research and exploration, its cost both in money and manpower is so great as to place it beyond the reasonable capacity of any but the wealthiest of nations."

The council said Britain should give first priority to strengthening the economic position as well as for the improvement of living standards in the less well-developed countries.

Another official advisory body, the Council on Scientific and Engineering Manpower, warned that the nation faces a continuing shortage of scientists and engineers.

The 16 international airlines made 10,066 scheduled passenger flights across the Atlantic during the summer of 1959.

TWO-STAGE ROCKET — Chemically fueled.

But Science Kits Plentiful

Play Toys Are Lacking

There's a shortage in toyland this year, a scarcity of toys designed strictly for play.

But there is an abundance of instructive toys—playthings that teach how to tell time, or make a clock, or split an atom, or launch a rocket.

Many toys that wind up under Christmas trees will reflect the concern over the nation's knowledge of science.

Both the Toy Guidance Council and the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A., Inc. report a record variety of toy kits geared to teach the use of laboratory equipment.

Biology and physics kits are the latest additions, while chemistry, astronomy and aerodynamics kits have been enlarged. A physics set is designed to give the junior scientist basic training in fluid dynamics, solar heat, light bending and optics.

An electronic set permits him to build 15 different radio sets.

Space launching equipment is available for age groups from toddlers to teens.

One of the more complicated is a two-stage moon rocket that is fueled with sodium bicarbonate and citric acid.

Catering to children's up-to-the-minute awareness of style, toyland offers shoji screens for junior decorators, mosaic painting kits, and kits for building the latest in sports cars.

Television's influence on the younger set is plainly evident. There is a game for virtually every TV program of interest to children. A replica of a TV set has a stage setting and magnetized actors which are manipulated from beneath the set.

★ ★ ★

The Western influence is still strong. A tricycle is designed as a surry with the fringe on top. A battery-operated authentic frontier train is available.

For young children there is a kiddie car that can be taken apart and put back together, a large size clock building kit, and a hobby horse on coasters.

A new modeling compound resembles wood—yellow pine, redwood and walnut — and hardens when left exposed to the air.

The young homemaker can have a 9-piece set of operating models of kitchen appliances. A tea set comes accompanied by a book on etiquette.

In the strictly for fun category are a minature "penny arcade" with a crane to grope for prizes, a hand puppet—"sippin' sam"—that pours himself a glass of milk from a bottle and then drinks it, and finger puppets.

Top Ten Business Stories!

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business news has been front-page news most of the time in 1959. There are few Americans indeed whose pocketbooks haven't been affected, directly or indirectly.

Here is one man's opinion of the 10 business stories that have merited top headlines.

1. The steel strike. Its short-term effects cut off or reduced the pay of about one million persons, halted output in factories short of steel, lowered the total of personal income, slashed the total of corporate profits and of tax collections, delayed the peak of the business boom. Its deeper effect was to bring to a boil the long simmering dispute between labor and management over who would determine work rules, whether to save jobs or to get more output per man hour of labor.

2. The stock market. Common stock prices rose steadily till Aug. 3 and then fluttered fitfully with each breeze from the international, domestic political or corporate corners. Corporate and Treasury bond prices tumbled as interest rates rose to the highest point in many years.

3. Tight money. The money managers aimed at staving off a speculative boom that might end in a bust. Side effects, beyond the rise in interest rates and scarcity of investment funds, were the slowdown in home building, the troubles some communities had in financing projects, and the U.S. Treasury squirming while refunding the federal debt.

4. The cost of living. After months of fair stability, the index began to creep upward again. Everyone noted the rising prices or charges on something or other he bought or needed.

★ ★ ★

5. The status of the dollar. Years of being top dog ended when other currencies began to command a premium price over the American dollar. And gold was flowing out of the country instead of in. The United States was spending more abroad for its imports, travel, private investment, foreign aid, and military bases than it was taking in from its declining exports.

REBOUND STARTS

6. Recovery from the recession. Swiftly climbing production and sales slowed to a walk at midyear. The steel strike and tight money got most of the blame, although some economists thought a loss of momentum was already in the making. At year's end a rebound is under way.

★ ★ ★

7. The auto race. Introduction of the American compact cars to battle with smaller domestic models already out and with foreign imports added zest to Detroit's big push to climb out of the sales recession.

★ ★ ★

8. Corporate profits. By midyear business earnings were at a new high. The bad third quarter for the steel companies and others hit by steel shortages halted the climb. But year's end earnings appeared to be bouncing back. And dividend payments seemed sure to set a record.

9. Budget balancing. Taxpayers, consumers, business, all had a stake in President Eisenhower's struggle to keep federal income in line with outgo. Business was especially interested in where federal money would be spent, while deficit spending would have inflationary threats of further trimming the purchasing power of your dollar.

10. Soviet competition. Premier Nikita Khrushchev stressed this

★ ★ ★

10. Soviet competition. Premier Nikita Khrushchev stressed this potential rivalry in his visit here. President Eisenhower's tours overseas called attention to trade scrambles in a world divided into the dollar area, two trad-blocs shaping up in Europe, and the Communist zone.

Bugs Worked Out in Polaris Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy successfully fired a Polaris submarine missile for the second straight time Monday.

Navy sources said the two consecutive successes apparently means that engineers have worked out the bugs that caused three straight failures in September and October.

A five-week delay was called in the test program after the trio of bad shots. Both missiles launched since then have performed almost perfectly over a 900-mile course.

Royal Oak Approves School Bond Issues

Happily for Royal Oak and Oakland County, the voters in that southern city approved two school bond issues.

★ ★ ★

The costs of education are widening. No other conclusion is possible. The voters in Royal Oak faced the facts squarely and are moving forward accordingly. Operating funds are increased and money has been approved for new construction.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County is a continuously growing and expanding area. That means we face the question of educating a steadily increasing number of children. Formal instruction in schools is a primary and basic requisite of existence. Of late, bond issues including school bond issues have been beaten and Royal Oak citizens are to be congratulated on their wisdom and foresight.

Here's Recipe for Juvenile Delinquents

What helps in Houston can be of equal value in Oakland County. The Police Department down there has issued twelve rules that practically guarantee delinquent children.

★ ★ ★

Here they are:

"1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. He will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.

"2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up 'cuter' phrases that will blow off the top of your head.

★ ★ ★

"3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him 'decide for himself.'

"4. Avoid use of the word 'wrong.' It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him.

"5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.

"6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage.

★ ★ ★

"7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up.

"8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own.

"9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink, and comfort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.

"10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.

"11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, 'I never could do anything with him.'

★ ★ ★

"12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will likely have it."

The Pontiac PRESS stands behind the Houston police.

We agree with them.

Following these rules carefully should mean you're doing your level best to burden the community with some more juvenile criminals.

Britain and Egypt Agree to Overlook Differences

London and Cairo very sensibly have agreed to resume formal diplomatic relations which were broken off in 1956 when the British and French took up arms to defend their interests in the Suez Canal.

The French, however, have shown no signs of re-establishing diplomatic relations at this time due, no doubt, to the Algerian problem. Paris feels that the Egyptians are involved with the rebels and Cairo probably regards the French as being too friendly with Israel.

★ ★ ★

It is of interest to both Britain and Egypt that traditional trading and financial relations be resumed. During the past three years the Russians have dominated Egyptian trade in addition to having pilots on the canal and technicians working on civil and military projects. Pres. NASSER, who doesn't want Communism to supplant Arab nationalism in his country, may have begun to feel Russian pressure.

Despite agreement to let bygones be bygones and to make the best of the existing situation, underlying tensions persist. Syria is not entirely happy as the junior partner in Nasser's United Arab Republic; U. N. soldiers continue to patrol Gaza and the Sinai border; Egypt prevent Israeli ships from using the canal contrary to U. N. directives.

★ ★ ★

The World Bank is considering a loan to Egypt for widening and deepening the Suez. U.S. approval is required. But Pres. NASSER has complicated negotiations by his reluctance to agree to unrestricted passage through the canal.

Christmas Trees

Harvest in Full Blast; the Home Grown Kind Here

Ski bug: A person for whom the Pontiac area has everything that it takes.

The principal commodity now in transit on the Dixie Highway and other main roads in the Pontiac area is Christmas trees. On the Dixie the trucks carrying from 100 to 1,000 of them are passing at the rate of about one every two minutes.

Mostly cut as "thinners" in Northern Michigan woods, under the licensing of the Michgian Conservation Department and on state owned land, they net the cutters only a few cents each.

The principal items in their final cost is in the hauling and the profit of the dealer. They sell on the markets at 50 cents to $5 each, according to the size, shape—and demand.

Most of these northern grown trees are somewhat one-sided, on account of being stunted in their growth by their closeness to others. A real symmetrical tree is somewhat of a rarity.

Christmas trees grown in the Pontiac area from seedlings planted ten or more years ago at proper distances apart are generally quite conical in shape all round and well proportioned. They can usually be bought at as low a price as the well shaped northern trees.

Stand your tree in water, which will delay its "moulting." And, by all means, put a teacup of calcium chloride in the water, which will render the tree fireproof.

A lone swan that has been sojourning on various lakes in this section is now on a lake near the home of

Despite the cold snap, the ice on none of the lakes in this vicinity is safe for skating or ice fishing. Take chances if you wish, but you're flirting with death. Due notice will be given in this column when the ice is safe.

Gradually Inching Up the Leverage

David Lawrence Says:

Citizen, Read Al Smith's Creed

WASHINGTON — It was in the midst of the war. A Japanese destroyer had split an American PT boat in half. Thirteen American boys were cast into the waters of the Pacific. A young naval officer by the name of John F. Kennedy managed to save the lives of most of them at the risk of his own life.

LAWRENCE

What shall a grateful nation, which decorated the naval officer then, say to him now? Shall it tell him that, because he is a Roman Catholic, he cannot be President of the United States? Must such a prohibition be visited on all Americans who happen to be Catholics?

★ ★ ★

The main issue isn't really the birth control question at all. It is whether a Catholic takes orders from his church to the point where, as President, he would not be free to make or execute policies that the Catholic Church didn't like. Can a Catholic in high office exercise independent judgment?

The best answer to such questions is the one made by the late Alfred E. Smith, Democrat, three times governor of New York State and then being mentioned for the presidency.

In an article in "The Atlantic Monthly" in May 1927, in answer to an interrogatory posed by a prominent Protestant writer, Governor Smith said:

"I summarize my creed as an American Catholic. I believe in the worship of God according to the faith and practice of the Roman Catholic Church. I recognize no power in the institutions of my church to interfere with the operations of the Constitution of the United States or the enforcement of the law of the land.

"I believe in absolute freedom of conscience for all men and in equality of all churches, all sects, all beliefs before the law as a matter of right and not as a matter of favor.

"I believe in the absolute separation of church and state and in the strict enforcement of the provisions of the Constitution that Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.

"I believe that no tribunal of any church has any power to make any decree of any force in the law of the land, other than to establish the status of its own communicants within its own church.

"I believe in the support of the public school as one of the cornerstones of American liberty.

"I believe in the right of every parent to choose whether his child shall be educated in the public school or in a religious school supported by those of his own faith.

"I believe in the principle of noninterference by this country in the internal affairs of other nations and that we should stand steadfastly against such interference by whomsoever it may be urged. And I believe in the common brotherhood of man under the common fatherhood of God.

"In this spirit I join with fellow Americans of all creeds in a fervent prayer that never again in this land will any public servant be challenged because of the faith in which he has tried to walk humbly with his God."

Was Al Smith beaten in 1928 by the religious issue? This correspondent vividly remembers that campaign. It was the "wet and dry" controversy that lost votes for the Democratic nominee, who was known as a "wet." There were many Protestant churchmen identified with the Prohibition movement who led the fight against Smith, particularly in the southern states.

But, even so, it was the prosperous condition of the country as a whole which kept the Republicans in power. A Protestant nominee on the Democratic side also would have lost.

The real question to put today to those who know their politics is this: "If Al Smith had been running in 1932 on the Democratic ticket in the midst of the depression of those times, would he have been elected?"

This writer thinks Governor Smith might not have carried 16 out of the 48 states of the Union, as Franklin D. Roosevelt did, but would have carried well over a majority of the Electoral College.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Fever Favorable Reaction; Baby Aspirin Death Risk

A Hartford reader sends a clipping of a newspaper item telling of the death of a seven-week-old baby. According to the medical examiner's report the cause of death was aspirin poisoning.

DR. BRADY

At autopsy the medical examiner found the infant had been given five aspirin tablets.

The baby's father said a doctor had advised giving the baby aspirin, so-called "baby aspirin." "Baby aspirin" tablets contain a smaller dose than regular aspirin tablets.

The baby's father purchased some aspirin but found when he went home that he had purchased regular aspirin. He said the baby was given five of the tablets in two days, and the baby's fever left. But then the baby's condition became worse and they took the baby to the hospital an hour or two before death.

★ ★ ★

The Hartford reader hopes I will comment . . .

What! And make myself still more unpopular, if that is possible?

Oh, well, probably it isn't possible, so I may as well tell you what I think about it.

In the first place, let me repeat what I have said here many times, namely, that acetylsalicylic acid ester (aspirin), the least dangerous pain-killer we have, doesn't cure anything.

In the next place, if or when a child or an adult has fever (elevation of body temperature above the normal 98 or 99 degrees F.), the fever is not the cause of the illness and it should be regarded as a favorable reaction, not as an evil to combat.

DEATH REPORTS

I quote from Bastedo's Materia Medica: "Death has resulted from 5 and 10 grains of aspirin."

From other authorities: "After two doses of five grains each there occurred marked cardiac weakness with pulse rate of 136 and edematous swelling of the face and mucous membranes. "Alarming edema of the face and throat from a single dose of five grains."

I have said here many times also that in my opinion a clinical thermometer in the home does more harm than good. A really smart mother can tell whether a child is sick enough to need the doctor, regardless of the child's temperature.

And for that matter a doctor can't judge any better what or whether anything serious is developing when he knows the child has fever than he can when he doesn't.

The newspaper report of the killing of the infant gave the infant's name, the parent's name, the medical examiner's name and the name of the police officer who questioned the father. It did not give the name of the doctor who advised the father to give the baby aspirin.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Carols About Only Vestige of True Christmas Spirit'

Fie on the old bat with the switchblade tongue who resents carols downtown. Those beautiful hymns are about all we have left to remind us of the true spirit of Christmas giving, and I, for one, am sick of seeing Christ's birth buried under a cheap and gaudy pile of commercialism.

★ ★ ★

If downtown merchants think Rudolph and the rest of that ridiculous tripe represents Christmas music and more money, they're sadly mistaken and stand to lose respect of Christian customers.

★ ★ ★

How long will it be before the Bethlehem scene is ditched because it's termed "controversial" or an insult to atheists? Let's get rid of the trashy drivel and put Christ back into Christmas. More carols, please.

'Declare Clarkston a Disaster Area'

Once again there are those naive enough to suggest that old panacea: More teenage dances . . . more recreation as the answer to juvenile delinquency. Do people really think those fine (?) young men wouldn't have indulged in vandalism if they had had a dance to attend? I doubt it.

★ ★ ★

And those poor children in Clarkston. It's too bad they have nothing to do. Perhaps we should have the government declare them a disaster area and rush them books to read, art projects, school work (extracurricular), friends to play games with, phonographs or television sets.

★ ★ ★

It's much easier to wait for someone to hand you your recreation than to use your brains to create some positive pastime.

Urges All to Burn Candle of Kindness

Thursday marks the 11th anniversary of the U.N.'s unanimous adoption of a Declaration of Human Rights. Although it isn't a law but a moral judgment, this declaration does safeguard certain rights of mankind. The moral judgment of a majority of the world's nations can indeed be a powerful voice.

Human rights are generally thought to be racial equality, but they're much more than that. The declaration proclaims the universal right of all to life, liberty, security of person, freedom of movement, residence, speech, press, assembly, worship and arbitrary arrest. It also includes the cultural rights to social security, education and opportunities to earn a living.

Members of the Baha'i World Faith believe strict adherence to these principles voiced by the U.N. would lead to peace. As our contribution let us today resolve to remember the rights of others in all personal relations and let us assist our racial minorities, disabled and mentally ill to obtain equal freedom of opportunity. If each of Pontiac's 73,600 population burned a candle of kindness this year, we could enflame the whole world with human "rights."

On this date in history:

In 1608, John Milton — one of the world's great poets — was born.

In 1793, Noah Webster founded New York City's first daily newspaper, "The American Minerva."

In 1848, Joel Chandler Harris — creater of the famed "Uncle Remus" stories — was born.

In 1901, the first six-day bicycle race was held at New York City's Madison Square Garden.

In 1907, Christmas seals — to finance the medical campaign against tuberculosis — appeared for the first time at the post office in Wilmington, Del.

In 1920, President Woodrow Wilson was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for 1919.

Here's a thought for today: English Poet John Milton said: "They also serve who only stand and wait."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Colleges Waste Teaching Potential

Alex wants some terse facts contrasting the teaching load of college profs vs. high school faculty members. Discuss this case and pass it along to your School Board or state legislators for we need more business efficiency on the college campus, and it is easily possible.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case D-421: Alex J., aged 37, is a county superintendent of schools.

"Dr. Crane, is it really true that colleges average only 12 students per teacher?

CRANE

"Why that would be considered a very light load by our teachers in grade and high schools.

"For we average 32 pupils per teacher in grammar school and 24 per faculty member at the high school level.

"Please give the public a further expose on the inequity between colleges and high schools."

BRAVO, HIGH SCHOOLS

The average teaching "load" at the college level usually runs between 12 and 15 hours per week (50 minutes is called an hour).

★ ★ ★

A college prof thus may teach three 50-minutes periods in the morning. Then his work is done for the day and he can go home.

But the high school teacher must monitor study halls and otherwise be on active duty in between his or her regular lecture sessions.

College profs don't monitor study rooms nor police the halls in the buildings.

★ ★ ★

And the average college Student: Teacher ratio is only 12:1 whereas the high school ratio is 24:1, so the high school faculty member handles twice as many students and grades twice as many papers!

Last year's figures show the following Student:Teacher ratio in these representative colleges and universities:

Harvard University	2½:1
U. of Illinois	4:1
Northwestern University	8:1
Duke University	8:1
Ohio State University	8:1
Notre Dame	9:1
Purdue University	10:1
Roosevelt University	17:1
Tri-State College	20:1
University of Tulsa	28:1

Tri-State College (Angola, Ind.) launched a building program a few years ago.

★ ★ ★

When I asked the college treasurer how it was possible, he informed me that they were expanding on the basis of tuition revenues.

If the typical college with a 12:1 ratio thus charges $500 tuition, then that means only $6,000 gross income per teacher.

Since the average salary is still approximately $5,000, then only $1,000 is left over for all other college expenses. But if a college were to match the high school ratio of 24:1, then the income per teacher would total $12,000.

Even if the faculty salary level were then boosted 60 per cent and each teacher averaged $8,000 income, there would still be $4,000 left over per teacher for overhead and promotion, buildings, etc.

"HORSE SENSE"

If the smart business leaders on college boards of trustees were permitted to dip into the internal operation of our universities, then the colleges would soon be in the black, without begging from alumni constantly.

And most teachers would gladly handle a 24:1 ratio if they knew their salaries were to be jumped even 25 per cent, not to mention the 60 per cent just cited.

So let's apply a little American gumption or "horse sense" to the problem of higher education. Our economic system cannot maintain a private tutorial system such as Harvard's heavy endowments can finance.

And it isn't needed, anyway, for Harvard students don't excell those of other leading colleges where a ratio of 12:1 or even 20:1 are now in vogue.

Comeback Year Predicted in '60

State Due to See Cars, License Fees, Gas Tax Rolling in High Gear

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Barring a railroad walkout or resumption of the steel strike, 1960 will be Michigan's "comeback year," a University of Michigan economist said Monday.

★ ★ ★

Prof. Thomas Gies told the Michigan County Road Commissioners Convention the state will move into the new year with business in high gear and gathering momentum.

Favorable sales expectations have led the auto industry to boost its capital outlay schedule for 1960 by 30 per cent above 1959 or about three times the rise expected for industry as a whole, he said.

Enthusiastic acceptance of the 1960 model cars is a key factor in a 40 per cent increase in output of major consumer durable goods now scheduled for next year, Gies said, and predicted production of these goods "would top all previous records."

"The exceptional level of activity anticipated for Michigan in its "comeback" year will raise motor fuel revenues and license fee collections four per cent above the 1950 levels—more than twice the increase recorded in the past year, he said.

★ ★ ★

Gies said this would provide total tax revenues from motor fuels about five million dollars above preliminary estimates, while collections from motor vehicle license fees will be three million dollars above those of 1959.

Dedicated to Keeping His Country Independent

Nehru's Neutrality Cracks

By The Associated Press

Afghanistan's King Mohammed Zahir has found that being everybody's friend can be profitable. President Eisenhower's first glimpse of the king's capital, Kabul, will furnish proof of this.

The President's plane will land at a modern airport and he will travel into Kabul on newly paved streets — all paid for with long-term, low-interest credits from the Soviet Union.

Zahir's kingdom has also received Russian credits for oil storage tanks, power plants, factories and modern communications facilities. His armed forces are being trained by Russian military instructors in the handling of Soviet tanks, MIG fighters, Ilyushin bombers and other equipment.

Most of this largesse began pouring into Afghanistan after the king entertained Nikita S. Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin at his palace in 1955.

But the king has received much aid from the United States as well. About 145 million U. S. dollars have gone into the construction of hundreds of miles of roads as well as additional grants for a modern airport in Kandahar, dam construction and teacher training.

King Zahir's strategy of neutrality in the cold war has deep roots. His father's predecessor on the throne, King Amanullah, was ousted because he leaned too far toward westernization to suit his deeply religious Moslem subjects.

Strict neutrality has been his watchword since his coronation Nov. 8, 1933 following his father's assassination.

In World War II, he followed a neutral course until pressure from the British forced him to out German representatives, who also had done much for his country's development.

Since the war, his cousin Minister Mohammed Daud, has steered the same careful course between the Soviet Union and the West.

Friendship with both cold war camps in pushing Afghanistan's development at a rate the country could never afford itself. It is also strengthening the king's hand in dealings with Pakistan, part of whose territory he is known to covet.

★ ★ ★

Born in 1914, Zahir attended Moslem and French schools as a youth, and was graduated with high honors from the University of Montpellier, France. He then attended infantry officers school in Kabul and married his cousin, Lady Humaira, in 1931. They have seven children.

Zahir served as minister of war and acting minister of education before he ascended to the throne.

★ ★ ★

He was the victim of an abortive assassination plot in 1957—the year he visited Moscow—believed to be carried out by members of the "Afghan Republic Army," organized to oppose his policies.

Zahir visited the United States in 1949 for treatment of an eye ailment.

500 Businessmen Due to Organize Chamber

LANSING (UPI)—More than 500 civic and business leaders were expected today for the inaugural meeting of Michigan's new State Chamber of Commerce.

★ ★ ★

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Senate majority leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) were scheduled to present their views on means of settling Michigan's fiscal problem—one of the things that spurred the movement to organize the state chamber.

The two political leaders were asked to make their presentations "concise and nonemotional."

★ ★ ★

The meeting was called by Robert P. Briggs, chairman of the state chamber's steering committee and executive vice president of Consumers Power Co.

House Group Listens to Goldfine Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine, the Boston millionaire who gave gifts to prominent people, returns to Capitol Hill today for what he hopes is a brief session of private questioning.

★ ★ ★

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight, which called Goldfine, was expected to grant his request for a closed-door hearing.

Goldfine declined last year to answer a series of inquiries about loans he was alleged to have obtained from Boston holding companies he controlled. As a result he is under suspended sentence of a year in jail and $1,000 fine for contempt of Congress. He did not contest the charges.

★ ★ ★

Although Goldfine had challenged the subcommittee's right to ask him the questions he refused to answer last year, he had told freely of his gifts and favors to various officials. Among them was Sherman Adams, who subsequently resigned as principal assistant to President Eisenhower.

Would Disclose Stock Option Plan

Top Executives Getting Tax-Gimmick Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Erwin N. Griswold, dean of Harward Law School, called Monday for public disclosure of the benefits corporation executives are getting from a tax gimmick which allows them to play "Heads I win, tails you lose," on the stock market.

Griswold voiced the plea during a panel discussion before the House Ways & Means Committee. The group is conducting a study into various preferences and exemptions in the income tax laws to determine whether some should be repealed.

Griswold assailed as "discriminatory" the tax benefit granted by Congress on "stock options." He said the provision probably has enriched corporation executives by "hundreds of millions of dollars" and created "a number of modern American fortunes."

Terming the provision "mysterious," Griswold said it is hard for the individual citizen to get information about its operation. Therefore, he said, the treasury or congressional staff tax experts should compile information showing the extent to which key corporation officials have benefited.

Under the so-called "stock option," corporations give key executives a long-range option to buy stock in the company at a fixed price. If the stock drops in price, the executive, of course doesn't make the purchase.

But if it goes up, he can exercise the option and acquire stock worth considerably more than his purchase price without reporting the gain as part of his taxable income. Even when he finally takes his profit by selling the stock, he is not required to pay regular income tax rates on it.

His profits are treated as a capital gain on which the income tax is, at most, one-half of the regular rate. "This is a one-way lottery which is understandingly attractive to those who are favored by it," Griswold said.

The committee several weeks ago was told that I. W. Wilson, chairman of the board of the Aluminum Co. of America, had parlayed an investment of $679,201 into holdings worth more than $4,000,000 on which he would have $2,600,000 left after taxes if the stock were sold now.

Chinese Report Transplanting Heads of Dogs

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists claimed today they have succeeded in transplanting the head of one dog to the body of another twice recently.

In one experiment Nov. 11 the head lived 32 hours, the report said. Another head transplanted Nov. 26 survived 5 days and 4 hours, the report said.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union first claimed success in transplanting dogs' heads two years ago but also had not been able to keep the dogs alive for long.

The thigh bone is the longest and strongest in the body.

1 of 2 Transmitters on Explorer VII Dies

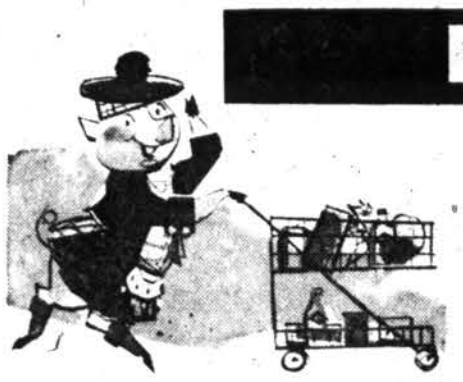

WASHINGTON (AP) — A transmitter clicking out data on micrometeorite impacts from Explorer VII has gone silent.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported Tuesday that last signals from the 108 megacycle tracking transmitter were received last Saturday.

It said transmission halted when chemical batteries were exhausted.

Another transmitter — the telemetry divice powered by solar energy converters and nickel cadmium batteries — still is broadcasting on 20 megacycles.

Woman Claims That Advertisers in Negro Weekly Feared Bombs

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Bomb threat that scared away advertisers forced a weekly Negro newspaper to shut down, Mrs. L. C. Bates, wife of the paper's publisher, says.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bates, president of the Arkansas branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said Monday that anonymous telephone callers harassed advertisers in the State Press constantly. She attributed the calls to segregationists.

"They would call up the smaller merchants and threaten to bomb their stores if they ran more ads in the paper," she said.

★ ★ ★

Bates announced Nov. 8 that the paper had been suspended and at that time blamed financial losses and the termination of a building lease.

Claims People Fail to Report True Tax Dollar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee was told Tuesday that a new study indicates that the average self-employed person has been reporting only about 75 cents of every dollar in earnings for federal income tax purposes.

C. Harry Kahn of Rutgers University testified this meant that about 10 billion dollars a year in income was not reported by farmers, business proprietors and self-employed professional persons on their tax returns for 1955, 1956 and 1957.

The same study showed that employes receiving salaries or wages reported to the tax collector about 97 cents out of every dollar in earnings in the same period, Kahn said. Such employes generally are subject to withholding taxes and have relatively little outside income.

MSU Council to Hold Public ROTC Hearing

EAST LANSING (AP)—The 40-member academic council at Michigan State University has announced it will hold a public hearing Dec. 15 on the issue of compulsory military training at MSU.

Up for study will be two faculty reports and a recommendation from the student government, all asking that military training be placed on a voluntary basis.

★ ★ ★

MSU President John A. Hannah has recommended opponents go slow in asking for abolishment of military training. Hannah, a former assistant secretary of defense, said college reserve officer training courses have been a traditional source of officer material for the armed forces.

Summerfield Sees Gain on Obscenity

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield reports "positive progress" in his war against mail order obscenity.

He says there has been a record number of arrests, stiffer jail sentences and mounting complaints against the peddling of pornography through the U.S. mails since the crackdown began 18 months ago.

Summerfield said there were 315 arrests in the 1959 fiscal year and that the current arrest rate "reflects still further increases." There were 293 arrests in fiscal 1958, 45 per cent more than the previous period.

★ ★ ★

Complaints to the Post Office Department from parents whose youngsters received unordered pornography are up 40 per cent from last year when 50,000 protests were filed, he added.

bear your warmest wishes

Many of our customers have told us it's almost as heart-warming to give as to receive Pendleton sportswear. They know the Pendleton label means quality, and they know how men feel about receiving a new Pendleton shirt or jacket, or even a muffler. The Pendleton label has become synonymous with quality because every Pendleton is dyed, spun and woven of pure virgin wool to an Oregon formula that goes back over 90 years.
This year, bring your gift list in to our Pendleton department and guarantee that those favorite names on your list have a truly "Merry Christmas".

Pendleton Jacket, S-M-L-XL, $17.50

Oldest Marine, 93, Dies —Served 70 Years Plus

LOS ANGELES (AP) — George W. Ewing, 93, said to be the oldest U.S. Marine, died Tuesday at his home.

★ ★ ★

A veteran of the Boxer rebellion in China and the Spanish-American War, Ewing had compiled more than 70 years' service in the Marine Corps including active and reserve duty.

Dr. Ross McIntire, 70, Dies of Heart Attack

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dr. Ross T. McIntire, 70, physician to President Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1933 to 1945, died yesterday of a heart attack.

McIntire also was surgeon general of the U. S. Navy and chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery from 1938 to 1946. He had entered the Navy in 1917 and was promoted to vice admiral in 1944.

In his memoirs, "White House Physician," he strongly denied reports that there were signs President Roosevelt was failing for some time before his death from a cerebral hemorrhage April 12, 1945.

McIntire is survived by his wife and a brother.

Dextrose, a form of sugar, is found in the blood.

130-Room Motel Opens in Midtown Manhattan

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 130-room motel was officially opened Tuesday night among the skyscrapers of midtown Manhattan.

The management said the "Skyline" motel, with 110 parking spaces for cars, would provide free parking for its out-of-town motor guests.

Drunk Escapes Police by Hopping on a Bus

ATLANTA (AP)—An enterprising drunk has found a new way to escape police.

The officer, awaiting the paddy wagon, turned to his motorcycle to write out the charges. When he turned around, the sidewalk was empty. A bus has stopped at the corner and the prisoner had hopped aboard and disappeared.

Versatile Housewife Now Becomes Lawyer

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP)—You can get expert discussion on a wide range of topics at the home of Dr. Paul Gilman. His wife, Bernadine, recently was admitted to the bar.

Already a concert violinist, mathematics and English teacher, Mrs. Gilman received her law degree this year from the College of Law at the University of Toledo.

Fickle November Gal of Capricious Moods

November was a frivolous gal, it can be summed up honestly now. First embracing one season, then another and back again, she changed her mind as often as a skitterish bride.

★ ★ ★

She was dulcet, she was angry, she was serene, she was tempestuous and sometimes downright cantankerous. She sae records for extra attention.

No ordinary November was this year's.

She cooed at Pontiac's citizens with a balmy high of 68 degrees on the fifth and then turned a cold shoulder to us on the 17th with a record low of 11 degrees.

CRIES BIG RAINDROPS

She cried big raindrops six days. She was fair twice and bright five times. She was gray and cloudy eight days and misty on the 24th.

The rest of the days, November was so-so, but on the 2nd, 6th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 20th, 25th, 26th and 27th she was resplendent in glittering snowflakes.

She outdid herself on the 13th with a record three-inch snowfall, posturing all the day in the ermine-like wrap.

★ ★ ★

Some of The Pontiac Press weather headlines will testify to November's capricious character: "Indian Summer to Favor Area for a Few Days," "Winter Sneaks in Early" "Good Night to Read That Neglected Book," "Iceberg for the Weekend," "Warming Trend Defrosts Area After Arctic Dip," "Nice Weather Seen for Football Fans," "Now for the Plunge," "Winter Due Back Tonight."

November's average temperature was 39.5 degrees.

Sight Wreckage of Missing Airliner

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The Colombian navy reported today that its patrol planes have sighted the wreckage of an airliner missing since Tuesday with 46 persons aboard.

The wreckage was seen in the San Blas Mountains in Panama, the navy announced. There were no signs of life.

★ ★ ★

The plane disappeared on a flight from the San Andres Islands to Cartagena, northern Colombia. The San Andres are Colombian islands east of Nicaragua in the Caribbean.

The airliner, a twin-engine C46, belongs to SAM, a private Colombian airline.

The plane was carrying tourists returning to Cartagena and Medellin after a holiday on the islands. A free port was recently declared on San Andres to attract tourists. About 20,000 persons, mostly English-speaking, live on the islands.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Russia to Take Part in Space Efforts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia has agreed to participate with other nations in a permanent international Committee on Space Research (COSPAR).

★ ★ ★

The Russians previously had objected that they were not adequately represented on the committee. They had refused to go along with its plans until the representation was revised.

A revision acceptable to Russia was approved unanimously by cable Monday by members of the governing body of the International Council of Scientific Unions (ICSU), COSPAR's parent group.

COSPAR was set up in October 1958 to continue for one year cooperation in rocket and satellite research started under the international Geophysical year (IGY).

In Monday's action, announced at The Hague, ICSU granted COSPAR a new charter giving it permanent status. Under the new charter membership is open to national groups actively engaged in space research. Nine international scientific unions affiliated with ICSU also will participate.

Raise Own Feathers

The Pueblo Indians of the American Southwest raised turkeys to get feathers for use in religious ceremonies.

Rennie Oil Co. Buys 'Ford' Isle for Public Park

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) — Marion Island in Grand Traverse Bay, sometimes called "Ford Island" because of the Henry Ford ownership for many years, has been purchased by the Rennie Oil Co. of Traverse City, it was announced.

The island will be preserved as a public park and picnic area.

The F. L. Jacobs Co. gained ownership of the island in 1943 and sold it to the oil firm, which will open it to the public in summer months.

The island also will have a wild life refuge and arboretum.

The island's timber stand will be preserved and is expected to be conducive to the nesting of the American (bald) eagles, which have made the island their home for more than 80 years.

Two More Courts Bar Michigan Surety Co.

CHICAGO (AP) — The chief justices of the superior and circuit courts have barred the Michigan Surety Co. from operating its bond business in those courts.

★ ★ ★

The firm is involved in a receiver suit at Lansing, Mich.

★ ★ ★

The first previously was barred from operating in probate, county, municipal and criminal courts in Chicago.

Vote on Annexation in Grand Rapids Tiff

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The controversial "new city" annexation issue, which could make Grand Rapids Michigan's largest community in land area if successful, was being decided at the polls today.

Grand Rapids officials expressed confidence that the plan would succeed, but anti-annexation groups in the five suburbs involved were equally sure the proposal would be beaten. Both sides appealed for a strong turnout after firing final campaign guns in rallies last night.

Officials estimated that Grand Rapids' present size of 24½ square miles would be more than tripled if annexation cleared in the suburban cities of East Grand Rapids and Wyoming and the townships of Paris, Walker and Grand Rapids.

Detroit Realtor Found Dead in Friend's Garage

DETROIT (AP) — Homer B. Wells, 49, president of the Detroit real estate firm of Homer Warren & Co., was found dead Tuesday in an automobile, its motor running in a closed garage.

The garage was at the home of Charles Kendrick, a business associate with whom Wells was spending the night.

Wells' home was in suburban Grosse Pointe Shores. He was married and the father of 2-year-old twin daughters.

Ambassadors Plan Membership of 300

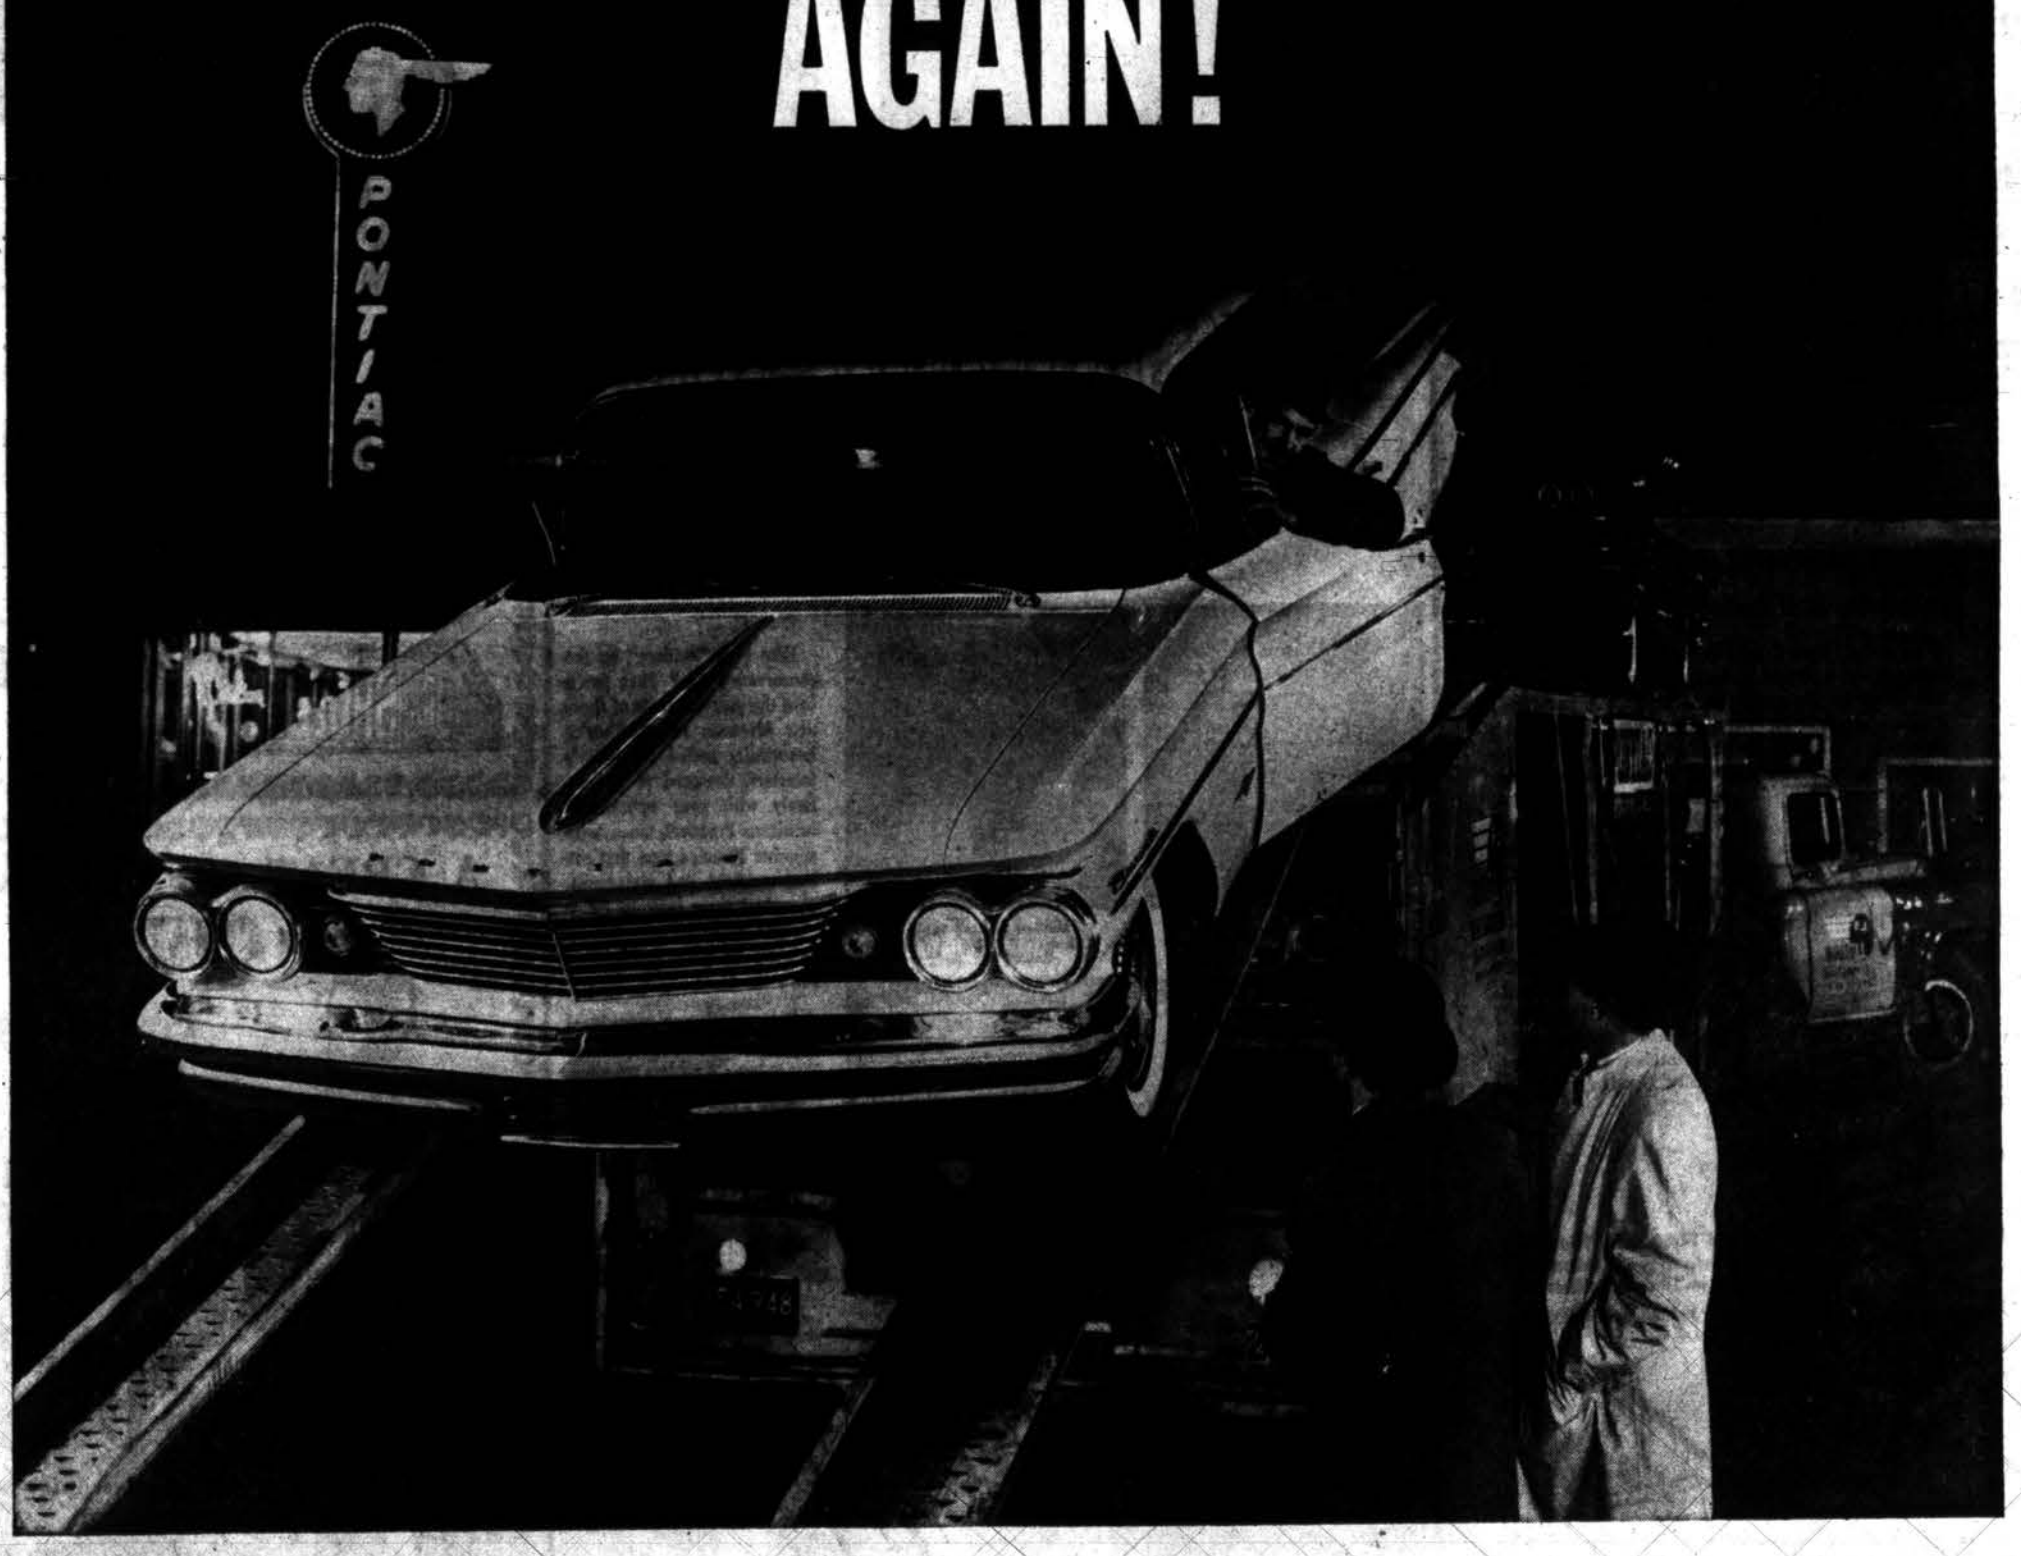

LANSING (UPI) — The corps of Michigan's industrial ambassadors will be expanded to 300, Merrit Hill, Ford Motor Co. vice president said Tuesday.

Hill, chairman of the ambassadors' executive committee, said the group is considering nominations to expand the corps of volunteer salesmen for Michigan. The corps now has more than 100 members.

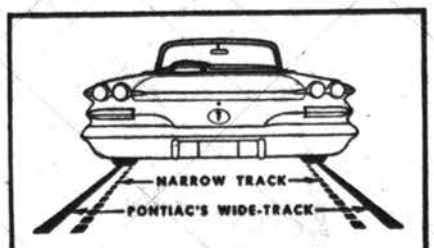

The ambassadors will hold a regional meeting at Wayne State University Friday as part of their program of learning first hand about the state's institutions of higher education.

Ike Visits 1st Monarchy, Woos Shawled Afghans

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — President Eisenhower told the Afghans today "true friendship and mutual responsibility" have become essential among nations.

The President paid a visit of nearly six hours to woo this mountainous neutral kingdom, which is under mounting Soviet influence, on his way from a triumphal visit in Pakistan, a U.S. ally, to India, the keystone of his 11-nation goodwill tour.

* * *

King Mohammed Zahir greeted Eisenhower warmly in near-freezing weather at the Soviet built airport of this mile-high capital. There were cheers and applause.

Eisenhower, bundled in a black overcoat and muffler, smiled broadly as he shook hands with the King and other Afghan officials against the backdrop of the snow-capped Hindu Kush mountains.

An honor guard of the Afghan army snapped to attention. The airport was decorated with Afghan and U.S. flags and the royal standard.

IN ROBES, TURBANS

Thousands of Afghans in long robes, shawls and turbans lined the road at villages in the bleak, barren countryside during the 30-mile drive into Kabul, cheering and applauding.

* * *

The schedule packed in discussions between Eisenhower and King Zahir at Chilstoon Palace, a luncheon given by the King and farewell ceremonies at the Jeshyn national parade grounds.

* * *

Eisenhower took off in early afternoon for New Delhi, 5 hours and 49 minutes after his arrival from Karachi.

This nation of 12 million, on the southern rim of the Soviet Union, is the fourth Eisenhower has visited on the tour he launched Dec. 3. It was the first monarchy on the itinerary.

A nation once great in trade and learning, Afghanistan had welcomed aid from both sides for its backward economy, while maintaining a neutralist position in the East-West conflict.

Dr. Schweitzer Returning to His Mission Hospital

BORDEAUX, France (UPI) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer, the Nobel Prize-winning medical missionary, was here Tuesday to take a ship back to Africa, where he has a mission hospital for lepers at Lambarene in the Gabon Republic.

★ ★ ★

Schweitzer arrived in France Aug. 27. He will be back at his hospital by Jan. 14, his 85th birthday.

Doctor Wants to Test Communists

If You Snore...You Sleep Alone

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Harvey Flack figuratively has his ear to the Iron Curtain to try to hear whether there are any snores coming from the other side.

All the major countries of the world have checked in with snoring information in the greatest anti-snore experiment ever undertaken — all except Russia and her satellites and Red China.

"Perhaps they don't snore over there," speculated the editor of "Family Doctor," one of the publications of the British Medical Assn.

"More likely," commented a listener, "they'll claim to have invented snoring."

TO TEST 1,000

Last month Dr. Flack announced he was looking for 1,000 really loud snorers to test the theory of an "eminent physiologist" that certain jaw and throat exercises would eliminate or cut down the volume of this nocturnal pastime.

"We stopped counting at 2,500 letters," said Dr. Flack happily.

From these letters 250 snoring subjects were selected.

"We picked doubles only," said Dr. Flack, "that is man and wife or man and woman—we didn't ask for marriage licenses. But our experiment requires one partner to check on the snoring times and volume of the other."

He cited miscellaneous information he had gathered.

"For example, two husbands snore to every wife. There are any number of types of snorers—the whistlers, screamers, barkers, meowers, low-pitched snorers and high-pitched snorers.

"As for that old legend people only snore when lying on their backs—we've had wives write that their husbands can snore in any position."

A number of invectors have sent in anti-snoring devices including bundles tied between the shoulder blades to keep the snorer from sleeping on his back, mouth clamps, alarm bells and so on.

Dr. Flack said one byproduct of the experiment would be a study of snoring by race to see whether it is more prevalent in Europe or North America than Asia or Africa.

"But I certainly wish we had some Russian and Chinese cooperation," he added.

★ ★ ★

I told Dr. Flack that I couldn't speak for all the Russians but a Ukrainian in the next hotel room to mine in Moscow snored like Luniks I and II blasting off for outer space.

"Maybe it's the same there as here," said the doctor, quoting: "Laugh and the world laughs with you,

"Snore—and you sleep alone."

Special Election Set for Feb. 24

Oxford Village Grants Pay Raises

OXFORD — The Oxford Village Council last night approved pay increases for the village manager and for 10 hourly-rated village employes for six months beginning Jan. 1.

In other action, the Council designated Feb. 24 for a special election on renewal of the 30-year franchise of the Consumers Power Co.

Manager Ralph Precious was granted an additional $130, to be paid at the time the present fiscal year ends July 1.

The employes' raises, which range from four to 13 cents per hour, will be in effect through June 30.

They were granted after Precious said the financial statement shows the village to be in "better shape" than at this time last year.

In the meantime, the trustees have a schedule of compensation for village employes to consider when drafting the budget for 1960-61.

The head of the Department of Public Works received an increase from $2.09 to $2.15 per hour, his assistant from $1.72 to $1.75 and two members of the DPW crew from $1.64 to $1.70.

The pay of the two local policemen was raised from $1.72 to $1.78 an hour and the sergeant's from $1.82 to $1.86. The police chief's wage increase totals $3.84 a week.

The office clerk's raise is from $1.87 to $2 an hour and the desk sergeant's from $1.71 to $1.15.

A year's renewal of the state license of the Oxford Scrap and Auto Parts Co. on Broadway street was approved, subject to the decision of the chief of police.

The request for approval brought protest from a resident, as well as considerable discussion.

The resident, Stanley Schlicht, who lives near the yard, complained of the noise and looks of the property. He said 40 other people living in the neighborhood had signed a protest petition. They said they wanted the hours section of the zoning ordinance enforced and a high fence erected among other changes.

The wrecking yard owners, P. T. Smith and William Cramer, were present. They said they had put up an eight-foot fence and were complying with the hours directives in the ordinance.

Schlicht said he wanted the yard moved outside the village limits. Councilmen said that since the yard existed before the zoning ordinance went into effect and the owners were meeting the requirements for operation, they had no alternative but to grant the permit.

The Parrish Insurance Agency was awarded the contract for insurance on the fire hall at 50 S. Washington St. The firm's low bid was $136.56.

Seek Gains in Avon School Plans

AVON TOWNSHIP — To streamline the handling of requests for use of school buildings, the Avondale Board of Education has appointed a 14-man committee to recommend policies.

★ ★ ★

The committee is composed of citizens and staff members who, the Board hopes, will have a final report by Feb. 1.

Citizens include Mrs. Ernest Burt, Cleg Bordeaux, James Fehlberg, Robert Bargert, Russell Williams, Locke Bishop, Mrs. George Butler, William Holdsworth and Victor Camp.

Staff members are Lawrence Scharer, Donald Reiman, John Craven, Rudolph Matson and Mrs. Theodore Carter.

WILL ADD 2 MEMBERS

Superintendent of Schools LeRoy R. Watt said two members will be added soon to complete the roster.

Board members decided that too much of their time is spent evaluating each request for use of school facilities, an that if a "fair and just" policy were adopted, they could move much faster.

The school governing body also has approved a program to improve guidance counseling in the system.

The program is an outgrowth on an "in-service" guidance counseling workship in which 33 staff members participated. It was directed by Michigan State University.

A guidance council of staff members to act as a standing committee has been formed.

In addition, the formation of a library study committee has been named to evaluate the present library program. The group is asked to recommend library improvements for kindergarten through the 12th grade.

Supt. Watt has reported that he is faced with hiring additional teachers for next semester.

He said he must find kindergarten, first, second, third and fourth grade teachers to staff the elementary schools.

Detroit Hookup Will Come With Construction of Main

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — "Water from Detroit will be available to Farmington Township by June 1960," Curtis Hall township supervisor said today.

Final plans on construction of a water main from Eight Mile and Farmington roads have been received by township engineers for inspection and recommendations within the week. The plans were prepared by the City of Detroit Water Department.

Hall said the township is readying special assessments against persons who will benefit from the construction.

A year ago a number of petitions were received and certified as sufficient to set up the special assessment water district in the township's southern portion.

Hall said this section is "a dry area," where water has to be hauled in by residents themselves.

★ ★ ★

"Each summer we receive complaints from persons living in this area about the water conditions.

"This has been a prime reason in getting the main out here," Hall said.

The City of Detroit has already let contracts for extension of the 54-inch water main as far as Grand River and Eight Mile.

Final plans for extension into Farmington Township were not expected so soon, Hall said.

★ ★ ★

However, Detroit hurried the plans after last summer's water emergency in Livonia.

Pressure from Livonia officials apparently hastened Detroit on its plans, aiding Farmington Township, Hall said.

At last night's Township Board meeting, trustees decided to put over until a special meeting Tuesday the request of Star Cutter Co., on Grand River avenue at the Farmington city limits to rezone 71 acres of land.

The Star company has asked that 11 acres be rezoned from industrial to residential and 60 acres rezoned from residential to industrial.

Supervisor Hall said the decision was held up because there were "several points in doubt that had to be clarified."

DENIES TRAILER REQUEST

In another action the Board denied a request by the Little Valley Trailer Court to enlarge their area.

Hall said the request was denied because there is no provision in the township zoning ordinance pertaining to trailer courts.

"The Board has no authority to make a decision at the moment," Hall said.

OK Farmington Bond Issue Sale

Kalkaska State Bank Buys 10-Year Paving Securities From City

FARMINGTON — Sale of a $21,000 special assessment paving bond issue has been approved by the City Council, it was learned yesterday.

The bonds issued for the already completed paving of a quarter-mile stretch of Mooney road, between Grand River avenue and Shiawasse street, were sold to the Kalkaska State Bank.

4 PER CENT INTEREST

The bank, lowest of three bidders, bought the 10-year bonds from the city at 4 per cent interest.

The two other bidders were McDonald and Moore Co. and Kenower and McArthur Co., and Moore Co. and Kenower and McArthur Co., both of Detroit.

McDonald and Moore had submitted an interest bid of 4.45 per cent and Kenower and McArthur of 4.61.

"We were quite happy to get such a low rate," said Village Manager Earl F. Scherffius.

"Low interest has been quite uncommon for this type of bond recently," he said.

Scherffius said paving issue rates have been as high as 6 per cent.

In other action, the Council said Virgil Cornwall, a devolper, may purchase an acre of land at Farmington road and Grand River avenue any time within six months

★ ★ ★

Cornwell told the Council that he would like the property for use as a parking lot should he develop adjacent land.

Thatcher Will Leave West Bloomfield Post

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — After eleven years as township supervisor, Hiland Thatcher will officially resign the post here tomorrow.

Thatcher, 68, is seeking appointment to the County Board of Road Commissioners. The Board of Supervisors is expected to make the appointment Monday.

Since Thatcher made his resignation known to the township board Nov. 18 four persons have filed application for his job. One more application is expected.

A three-member committee was formed at that time to screen applicants and make recommendation to the board on the applicants.

The township board will appoint a new supervisor at their next meeting Dec. 16

In reviewing his eleven years as township supervisor, Thatcher said "there have been many developments here which I am proud of, and particularly the growth in population.

MORE THAN DOUBLE

"In 1948 the population was 6,000, today it is about 12,500."

He said the new Farmington Intercepter Sewer will account for an increase of more than 9,000 in the next three years, according to a study by the Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission.

There will be several county positions open because of Thatcher's resignation.

★ ★ ★

He was vice-chairman of the Board of Supervisors, secretary of the Oakland County Dept. of Public Works, a member of the Ways and Means Committee and chairman of the Inter-County Supervisors Commission Special Products Committee.

★ ★ ★

Thatcher, who resides at 3965 Lakepoint Rd., with his wife Neva, has lived in the township since 1933.

4-H Exhibitors Trek to Detroit

30th Livestock Show Means Competition for Prizes, Prices

Today is the big day for 4-H exhibitors in the 30th annual Junior Livestock Show at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit.

It's the day they'll be parading their animals, fatteped up and especially groomed for the event, before the judges in competition for ribbons and prizes.

There are 750 entries in the show. Most were registered yesterday. They come from 28 counties in the southern part of the state. They're entered in three divisions: cattle, hogs and sheep.

After a busy day of judging, exhibitors will attend an awards banquet tonight at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

WILL AUCTION ANIMALS

Tomorrow the animals will be put on the auction block. This traditionally causes a furor of excitement and feelings of mixed emotions.

The youngsters who have raised the animals now are vying for top prices. When bids are in they must let their pets go to the highest bidder.

Last year Kenneth Rush of 64510 Dequindre Rd., Washington Township, raised the grand champion steer. It was sold to Food Fair Markets for $1.75 a pound.

★ ★ ★

The show, sponsored by business and agricultural interests in the Detroit area, has drawn a large number of entries from the Oakland County area including Lake Orion, Leonard, Milford, Oxford, Rochester, South Lyon, Wixom, Attica, Metamora, Almont, Romeo and Lapeer in the steer division.

The 4-Hers with lamb entries come from Columbiaville, Hadley, Romeo, Leonard, Lake Orion, Clarkston, Pontiac and Milford.

The only two Oakland County area exhibitors in the swine division are Jim Upthegrove of 2151 Orion Rd., Oakland Township, and Rita Spiza, 28318 Dixboro Rd., Lyon Township.

Lapeer, Macomb Represented

Exhibit Lambs, Steers

Among 4-H Club members exhibiting their animals in the 30th annual Junior Livestock Show in Detroit today in the lamb division, are two from Lapeer County and six from nearby Macomb County.

From Lapeer County are Linda Beatty from Columbiaville and Stephen Stewart of Hadley. Exhibiting from Macomb County are Curtiss and Marlene Gnepper of 1981 Mack Rd., Addison Township; Tim Russell of 71765 Dequindre Rd., near Romeo; and David, Ruth and Robert Smith of 1400 Mack Rd., Addison Township.

Fourteen 4-H clubbers from the southern part of Lapeer County are registered in the steer division along with 18 from the western part of Macomb County.

Those from the Oxford area are Janet and Calvin Mott, from around Metamora, Connie Phile, Richard and Rosemary Rohrer, Donald Stephens, Dorothy Williams and Faye and Susan Walker.

Charles and David Willing of Almont and Judy and Robert Wenger of Lapeer are included in this group.

★ ★ ★

The 18 4-Hers from the western part of Macomb County with entries in the steer division are Christine and Delphine Browarski and John Hahn who live near Romeo; Larry, Suzanne and Shirley Chamberlin, near Lake Orion; Joan Gaire of Armada; Jerry and Tom Hagaman of Leonard; Tim Quinn of Armada, and Carroll, Kenneth, Mary and Robert Rush of Washington Township.

★ ★ ★

Up for Adoption in Avon Twp.

Draft Personnel Policies

AVON TOWNSHIP — The first written policy governing classification, qualifications, duties and pay of township employes will be presented for adoption at the Avon Township board meeting tonight.

The Board, realizing that the township is faced with an increasing amount of detail work as it expands, named a four-man trustee committee last July to draft the personnel policies.

The group was composed of Earl W. Deap, chairman; Wayne Y. Holman, Lyle R. Knapp and Wayne C. Frink.

They met often to draft the policies which were presented to the Board for study last Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

In the policy, two general classifications of employes are recognized — exempt and nonexempt. Exempt employes are "not eligible for overtime pay."

Job classifications covering work handled by office employes are categorized as clerical and secretarial.

Among the general policies affecting all employes is the requirement that any temporary or permanent help hired by any department head must first be approved by the Township Board.

NO RELATIVES

A further stipulation is that no relatives of township employes or employes' help may be hired and that no salaries or hourly rates may be changed without Township Board approval.

The Township Hall will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday except during June, July and August. During these three months, the office will be open until 8 p.m. Friday and closed Saturday.

The starting rate of pay for cemetery, park and all outside hourly employes will be $1.65 per hour.

★ ★ ★

The trustees further recommend that the established work week for these employes be 40 hours. Assignment of Saturday, Sunday and holiday work will be on a rotation basis among eligible employes.

Other policies covered paid absences, sick leave, termination compensation, vacations, and the hiring of salaried office employes.

The policy states that all employes shall be retired on the first of the month following his 65th birthday. Annual extensions may be granted at the discretion of the Board, however.

Under no condition may the employe be retained after he has reached the age of 70, the rules specify.

If adopted, the policies will go into effect Jan. 1.

To 'Sell' Michigan Farmers to Industry

EAST LANSING (AP)—A program to "sell Michigan agriculture" to business and industry will be proposed to the Michigan Agricultural Conference at its annual meeting here tomorrow.

"Our chief purpose will be to acquaint business and industrial leaders with the statistical, economic and other information about the state's agriculture and its influence upon other industries and its diverse needs, said Forrest A. Smith, executive secretary.

The growing urbanization of Michigan tends to cut off non-agriculture groups from an understanding of farming and farmers, he said.

The conference represents some 75 groups allied to agriculture.

Admits Murder in Self Defense

Sam Locigno, Pal of Cohen, Tells Police of Killing Jack Whalen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sam Frank Locigno, "constant companion" of ex-mobster Mickey Cohen, says he killed muscleman Jack Whalen a week ago in self-defense.

Locigno, alias Sam Lombardo, turned himself in to police Tuesday, accompanied by two lawyers and another of the missing guests at Cohen's dinner party the night of the slaying—Joseph De Carlo.

★ ★ ★

Locigno's confession to Police Chief William Parker came just as a witness reportedly told the county grand jury that a man sitting next to Cohen shot Whalen.

★ ★ ★

Locigno was booked on suspicion of murder.

De Carlo, ex-business manager for stripper Candy Barr now serving time on a narcotics conviction, gave his version of the shooting to newsmen.

★ ★ ★

"I was sitting at the table when a man came in. He hit George Piscitelle and then started around the table for Sam. He was using foul language. I heard two shots fired. I was watching the man and didn't see who fired them. When I hear (sic) shots, I run. That's what I did," De Carlo said.

★ ★ ★

Men who were with Whalen earlier that night say he told them he was going to see "Sam" to collect a debt.

Male Commuters Pick Gifts on Train Home

NEW YORK (UPI)—Male commuters got a chance yesterday to pick out Christmas presents for their wives on a 7 a.m. train from Philadelphia to New York.

The Pennsylvania Railroad added a special club car to the train and a department store lent clothes to help two female commuters — Catherine Woolston of Trenton, N.J., and Susan Wilson of Yardley, Pa., — put on a fashion show during the trip.

No State Debt, Sales or Income Taxes

Nebraska an Economic Oddball

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The guide braska's capital building has one line that's usually good for an arched eyebrow.

"It cost 10 million dollars to build," he says of the architectural showpiece. "And the day it was finished it was paid for."

Outsiders accustomed to the buy-now, pay-later policies of governments go away with the impression that Nebraska is something of a fiscal freak.

Well if pay-as-you-build construction of a capital makes Nebraska an economic oddball, consider this:

Nebraska has no state debts and manages to keep enough money in the bank to meet month-end bills.

It has no state sales tax and no state income tax. Only one other state, Texas, can make this claim, and Texas enjoys the largesse of severance taxes on oil and gas resources unmatched in Nebraska.

State government during the year ended June 30 cost the average Nebraskan $55.60 in taxes, lowest such per capita figure in the nation.

Gov. Ralph Brooks returned from the 1959 Governors' Conference in Puerto Rico to report that other governors thought it wonderful that Nebraska manages without sales or income taxes.

"They didn't listen to the second half," he complained. "We have no parks, no roads, no schools!"

It was his facetious way of saying, he explained later, that the state's economic Spartanism has not been without some sacrifice.

The state's debt free status is nothing new. In the 1930s it led to a vigorous promotion of Nebraska as the nation's "white spot" — a campaign counteract the bad publicity attending several years of draught.

Indebtedness by state government — in excess of $100,000 — is unconstitutional in Nebraska.

Framers of the constitution in 1875 decreed that "the state may, to meet casual deficits, or failures in the revenues, contract debts never to exceed in the aggregate of $100,000, and no greater indebtedness shall be incurred except for the purpose of repelling invasion, surpressing insurrection or defending the state . . ."

The $100,000 limit may have shaped up as a comfortable cushion in those days. Today, even in frugal Nebraska, it's pin money and long-time state officials say they have no recollection of the debt-incurring privilege ever being used.

The constitutional ban isn't likely to be changed soon. It just never has become an issue.

Nebraska relies heavily on the property tax for revenue, not only at the state level but at county, city and school district levels.

Under a recently-set state levy, the owner of a home worth $10,000 will pay about $30 in state property taxes next year.

But cities, counties, schools and other subdivisions also make their levies, with the result that a $10,000 home becomes subject to taxes totaling anywhere from $60 to $500.

The state levy represents only about 15 per cent of the property tax take. Schools, which receive no state general fund aid, pocket more than half of the revenue.

Efforts to enact sales or income taxes with a view to easing the burden on property owners develop regularly at each legislative session — so far, without success.

The state resorts to most of the other going revenue-producing devices, however.

It has a seven cents per gallon state gasoline tax and a four cent per package tax on cigarettes. Liquor and insurances taxes, licenses and fees also help the cause.

Only this year did the state get around to taking pari-mutuel race betting, albeit modestly. Bingo also was legalized this year but not principally for revenue purposes.

Indebtedness, while banned at the state level, is common at lower levels of government. A 1956 survey showed counties, cities, school districts and other subdivisions, excluding public power districts, carrying bonded indebtedness roughly equivalent to the amount of money, federal funds included, spent by state government in an entire year.

De Gaulle to Colony for Council Meeting

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle, who smoothed over an inter-cabinet dispute over government aid to Catholic schools, prepared today to fly to Senegal in West Africa to preside over a meeting of the executive council of the French community.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle and his wife are scheduled to leave tonight in a specially-fitted plane for St. Louis-du-Senegal, the oldest French city on the African continent. Sleeping accomodations have been provided on the plane for the long flight.

★ ★ ★

The council of the French community will meet Friday and Saturday. The agenda calls for talks on economic and aid matters.

Sees Birth Control Pill Acceptable to Catholics

DETROIT (UPI)—Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, medical advisor to the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, said yesterday he expects a highly effective birth control pill or drug should be acceptable to the Roman Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

"We haven't found such a gadget yet," he said, "but it is very likely that we will."

He explained that the pills or drugs that prevent births are outlawed by the Church, but that newer medicines might make ovulation in the female regular.

★ ★ ★

This regularity, he said, would aid the married couple in effective use of the "rhythm system" which is okayed by the church.

Bright Students Jumping the Gun

State High Schoolers Take College Courses —Plan Is Expanding

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A program that allows bright students to gain college credits while still in high school is on the upswing throughout the state, a University of Michigan professor said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Frank O. Copley, a state high school consultant during the past year, said 32 high school students from Michigan enrolled at the university with credits earned under the program.

★ ★ ★

The advanced placement plan, now in its fifth year, permits qualified high school pupils to study college level subjects in their own high school under their own teachers.

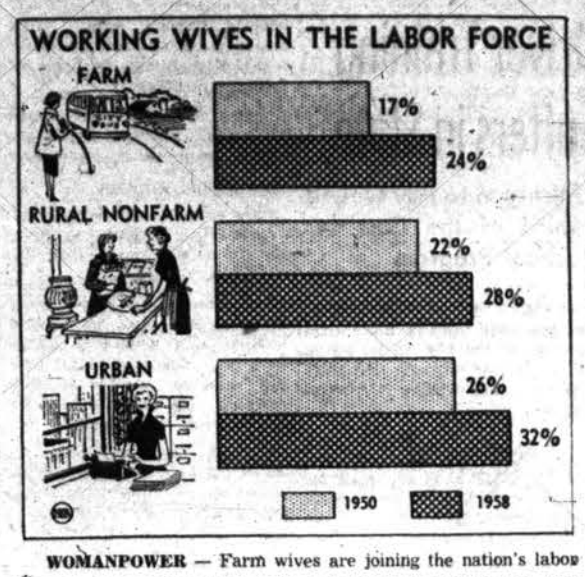

College credits are given for courses in English, mathematics, biology, chemistry, physics, American and European history, French, German, Spanish and Latin.

"If a bright student is ready to do calculus in his senior year in high school, he shouldn't have to wait until college to pursue it," Copley said.

Some problems being encountered in the program, the university Latin professor said, are lack of finances and dangers of putting an extra load on already overburdened high school teachers.

As for the future of the honors program, Copley said it could begin quite early in the grades and extend through high school, junior college, college and graduate school levels.

WOMANPOWER — Farm wives are joining the nation's labor force at a faster rate than their small-town or city cousins (see Newschart above). So reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture, noting that the percentage of farm wives earning wages rose by about a third — from 17 to 24 per cent — between 1950 and 1958. For city and rural nonfarm wives, the increase was about one-fourth during the same period.

Charges Russia Holds Hungary

Lodge Asks for Free Vote in Talk at U.N. Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The United States charged Tuesday that Russia maintained 50,000 Soviet troops in Hungary to force the people to accept a Communist regime "which they thoroughly hate."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge made the charge at the outset of a new United Nations General Assembly debate on the 1956 freedom revolt in Hungary crushed by Red Army troops and tanks.

Lodge charged that trials and executions arising from the rebellion were continuing despite Communist assurances they had ceased.

He appealed to the Assembly to approve a resolution opposed by the Soviets and sponsored by the United States and 23 other powers deploring "the continued disregard" of Russia and the Hungarian puppet regime for U.N. requests for withdrawal of Russian troops and holding of free Hungarian elections.

Against Appointment

LANSING (AP) — The State Employes Retirement Board has asked for Civil Service classification for its executive secretary, Lawrence L. Farrell. Farrell, for 10 years Gov. Williams' executive secretary, took the $13,500 job last January. The board forwarded a resolution to the Civil Service Commission saying the job should not be subject to political appointment.

No. 10 Downing Street to Be Reconstructed

LONDON (AP) — Work will start next summer on reconstruction of the 200-year-old official residence of Britain's prime ministers, No. 10 Downing Street. The job is expected to take about two years.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons Tuesday night that the government also would rebuild adjoining No. 11, official home of the chancellor of the exchequer, and No. 12, the residence furnished the chief whip of the majority party.

Repairs also will be made on the Treasury buillding, around the corner, and the entire project will cost about 3½ million dollars.

Cotton Mill Is Damaged From Tossed Dynamite

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—The winding and spinning room of the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills South Henderson plant was damaged Tuesday night when several sticks of dynamite exploded near the plant.

★ ★ ★

Some 20 persons working in the room escaped serious injury.

Police said they believed the dynamite was tossed from a passing vehicle. It was another in a series of outbursts in the year-old strike at the mills.

Local Safety Groups Little Help to State

LANSING (AP) — Local safety organizations mean well, but do little.

★ ★ ★

That was the gist of criticisms voiced by the State Safety Commission yesterday as it met to consider the problem of cutting highway deaths over the Christmas holidays.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs reported traffic deaths are running 52 ahead of last year.

He said he will try to step up enforcement 50 per cent over the Christmas season with 50 national guardsmen assigned to state police patrols and 48 to sheriffs.

★ ★ ★

Gerald W. Shipman, executive secretary of the safety commission, said five new local safety groups were formed in the state during the past year and three dropped out, leaving 38 active groups.

★ ★ ★

"The big problem seems to be getting responsible people to assume leadership of these groups in the local community," Gov. Williams said.

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, suggested going to the service clubs for help.

Report Great Lakes Below Average Levels

DETROIT (UPI)—Great Lakes levels, except for Lake Superior are below average, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers reported today.

★ ★ ★

In November, the water level of Lake Superior was 0.2 ft. above average. The other lakes were below average as follows: Lakes Michigan-Huron 1.5 ft.; Lake St. Clair 0.45 ft.; Lake Erie 0.65 ft.; Lake Ontario 1.15 ft.

However, all the lakes were above the low water levels shown on lake survey and federal charts.

Peak Output or Not, Steel Pinch Forecast

NEW YORK (UPI) — The auto industry's efforts to grab off as much as 30 per cent of total steel shipments plus a shortage of rail cars probably will produce a pinch in steel supplies in early 1960 despite record output, Iron Age magazine said today.

★ ★ ★

The metal-working weekly pointed out that normally the auto companies consume only from 15 to 20 per cent of steel shipments.

★ ★ ★

The auto demand will keep the steel market "vise-tight" for the products in greatest demand by the car manufacturers, it said.

★ ★ ★

This big share of available steel, Iron Age said, will be needed by the industry to reach its ambitious first quarter production goal of nearly 2,250,000 cars.

Dr. Wade O. Brinker, head of surgery and medicine in the Michigan State University veterinary college said veterinarians are better grounded today in medicine and surgery than ever before.

A veterinarian uses x-ray machines for diagnosis and has such tools and drugs, antibiotics and vaccines to fight animal diseases.

Driver Training Suffers in State

Michigan to Pay Only a Third of the Cost for School Program

LANSING (AP) — State support will pay only slightly more than one-third of the cost of the school driver training program, the State Department of Public Instruction reported today.

★ ★ ★

Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent, said $1,816,567 is in the mail for schools which had 109,050 students participate in the program in the 1958-59 fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

This averages $16.65 per student.

"Actual cost of the program runs to between $40 and $45 a pupil," Bartlett said. "This means a real drain on the many school districts already beset by financial problems."

Bartlett said the attorney general's office has held the driver training program is compulsory.

CURTAIL PROGRAMS

Some schools have been forced to curtail their programs, however, and are building up waiting lists of trainees, he added.

Maximum payment per pupil to the schools was set at $25. Bartlett said a 50-cent driver license fee increase to $4, with half marked for the training program, was expected to bring the payment close to $35.

Although the increase has passed the Legislature, it will not become effective until 90 days after final adjournment — still not in sight.

Episcopalians Take Birth Control Stand

MILWAUKEE, (AP)—The National Council of the Episcopal Church has reaffirmed its stand on family planning through birth control measures.

★ ★ ★

The council, governing body of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, adopted a statement Tuesday restating its support of birth control resolutions adopted by the 1958 Lambeth conference of the world Anglican Communion in London.

Chiropodist Elected Mayor of Monroe

MONROE (UPI)—Dr. Lawrence A. Frost, a chiropodist, was elected mayor here Monday, defeating incumbent J. H. Knabusch by 2,317 votes to 1,817.

The voters also approved a 40-hour work week for policemen.

These Apples Rate Honors as Dessert

Good enough for company!

Orange Apples a La Mode

½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
½ cup strained orange juice
Salt
1½ pounds (about 4 medium) sweet red-skinned apples (unpeeled but cored and cut into eighths
¼ cup cognac.

In a 10-inch skillet stir sugar, orange rind, orange juice and a dash of salt together over low heat until sugar dissolves. Add apples; bring to a gentle boil; simmer, covered, until apples are tender.

Lift cover often and turn over apples so top slices are on bottom and they cook evenly until translucent. There will probably be little syrup left.

Warm cognac and pour over apples; flame. Serve at once with vanilla ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

Fruit Turnovers Welcome as Gift

There's a bit of "you in the gift you've made, doubling the joy of giving. It's too late in the year to start in on a pair of argyle sox, but if you have a free afternoon ahead you can make Deluxe Holiday Turnovers for someone special.

These turnovers were suggested by Martha Logan, well known home economist. She says it's the rich, "flavor-baked" pastry that makes them irresistibly good. A pure-white shortening with a meat fat base will produce a wonderfully flaky pastry.

Sour cream adds an intriguing nuance in taste. "Flavor baked" is the best way to describe these pastry squares, folded to enclose a tart fruit filling.

Because the turnover pastry is so rich, it is important to let it "rest" before rolling. A 15 to 20 minute wait after cutting in the shortening will make the pastry easier to handle.

Use a variety of fillings in these deluxe turnovers. They make a delightful showcase for last summer's preserves and jams.

When baked a delicate golden brown, arrange the turnovers on a pretty tray, add gay wrappings, and learn the fun of playing Santa with a gift from your kitchen.

Deluxe Holiday Turnovers

⅔ cup shortening
2 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup dairy soured cream
2 egg, separated
½ to ¾ cup fruit fillings

Sift flour and salt together into a bowl. Cut in shortening with a pastry blender until it is the size of small peas and corn meal. Beat together sour cream and egg yolk. Add to the flour mixture, one tablespoonful at a time. Toss the mixture together lightly.

Place the dough on waxed paper and knead three times. Press the dough gently into a ball. Let it "rest" at room temperature for 15 to 20 minutes.

Roll the dough, on a lightly floured pastry cloth, into a square approximately 15 by 15 by ⅛ inches. Cut in 3 inch squares. Spread about 1 teaspoon of filling on each square. Fold two corners of each square to the center and overlap them slightly. Press gently to seal.

Place the turnovers on a cooky sheet. Brush with egg white. Bake in a hot over (425 degrees) for 15 minutes.

Canned prepared fruit filling or fruit preserves may be used.

Cheese With Cranberries

For something different to serve at your holiday buffets, prepare your favorite molded cranberry salad and unmold it onto a serving platter. Surround the salad with overlapping slices of Gouda cheese and garnish with cress or curly endive. The sweet mild flavor of Baby Gouda cheese goes well with cranberry salads . . . and most holiday foods.

Two Fruit Pie Bright Note for Holidays

Holiday-bright Pineapple Cherry Pie teams two fruit flavors in a winning combination that will delight your family all through the Christmas season. You'll want to serve it often and you can because it's so easy to make. You start with canned pineapple and cherries so the job is almost done for you!

For a prize-winning crust, sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut or rub in 2/3 cup shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with 2 to 4 tablespoons cold water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together.

Divide dough in half. Roll one half to circle ⅛ inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Roll remaining half of dough for top crust.

For Pineapple Cherry Filling, mix 1 2/3 cups drained crushed pineapple (1-pound, 4-ounce can), 1¼ cups drained unsweetened red tart cherries (1-pound, 4-ounce can) and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Mix ¼ cup sifted enriched fluor, ⅔ to ½ cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add flour mixture to fruit mixtures and stir well with a fork.

Turn Pineapple Cherry Filling into bottom crust. Arrange top crust over filling. Trim and flute edge. Prick or slash pastry to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate oven (375 degrees F.) and bake about 25 minutes longer. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Hawaiian Nut Spread Served on Crackers

Quick to make!

Hawaiian Spread

Package (3 ounces) cream cheese
¼ cup diced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon (about) mayonnaise-type dressing
12 chopped Macadamia nuts

Have cheese at room temperature; mix with remaining ingredients. Chill before serving.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Boneless Chuck Pot-Roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is the inside eye of the chuck after the backbone, ribs and blade bone have been removed. The meat is then tied to form a compact, easy-to-carve pot-roast.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. It is prepared by braising and requires 3 to 4 hours cooking time. The cut lacks an outer covering of fat, the distribution of fat is within the cut.

Berry Lemon Relish Should Be Frozen

NEW YORK (UPI)—An unusual relish to serve with holiday ham or turkey combines strawberries and lemons.

Combine 1 (10-ounce) package frozen sliced strawberries, thawed, with 1 finely-chopped medium-size lemon, 1 cup finely-chopped celery, ¾ cup chopped walnuts, one-third cup firmly-packed brown sugar, and ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Mix well. Turn into refrigerator tray. Freeze 1½ hours or until mushy.

HOLIDAY JELLIES — Clear, shimmering jellies and fruit filled marmalade displayed in a Lazy Susan make a beautiful centerpiece for a holiday breakfast or brunch table.

Colorful Holiday Jellies Double as Welcome Gift

Plan a holiday breakfast or brunch around sparkling homemade jellies and textured marmalade. Beautiful in themselves, these fruit-flavored sweets are even more attractive when they are displayed on a tray or Lazy-Susan.

Decorative jelly molds are easy to achieve, by just running a warm knife around the inside of the jelly glass. Different colors of jelly contrast pleasingly with each other and with fruit filled marmalade or jam.

Hot breads, biscuits, toasts, English or bran muffins, of course, are perfect accompaniments. Really, you need provide little or nothing more than coffee for a satisfying breakfast. Here are some recipes for these easy to make sweets — make some for your own table — some for gifts, too.

Ginger Marmalade

3½ cups prepared fruit (3 oranges and 1 lemon)
1 cup (about 6 oz.) chopped candied ginger
5 cups (2¼ lbs.) sugar
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

Remove skins in quarters from 3 medium-sized oranges and 1 medium-sized lemon. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With a sharp knife or scissors, slice remaining rind very fine, or chop, or grind.

Add 1½ cups water and ¼ teaspoon soda; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Section or chop peeled fruit; discard seeds.

Add pulp and juice to undrained cooked rind. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes longer. Measure 3½ cups fruit into a very large saucepan. Add ginger.

Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin.

Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 7 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 9 medium glasses.

Lemon Jelly

2 cups juice (4 lemons)
4¼ cups (1¾ lbs.) sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

Grate the rind and squeeze the juice from 4 medium-sized lemons, or enough to make ½ cup lemon juice. Add juice and 1 tablespoon grated rind to 1½ cups water and let stand 10 minutes. Press juice through a cloth. Measure 2 cups into a large saucepan.

Add sugar to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 6 medium glasses.

For prettier yellow color, add 1 drop of yellow food coloring with the liquid fruit pectin.

★ ★ ★

Orange Juice Jelly

(Using quick-frozen concentrated orange juice)

1 box (1¾ oz.) powdered fruit pectin
2¼ cups water
¾ cup (6 oz. can) quick-frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed
4 cups (1½ lbs.) sugar

Measure powdered fruit pectin and water into a large saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Reduce heat to low. Add thawed orange juice and sugar. Stir until sugar is completely dissolved. (Do not boil.)

Remove from heat. If necessary, skim off foam with metal spoon. Pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

Ice Cream Is for Holidays

With the holiday season coming, many homemakers are beginning to think about desserts for the festive occasions ahead. Now's the time to start planning delectable ice cream treats for holiday meals.

★ ★ ★

While mince and pumpkin pies remain a favorite high on the list of desserts served at holiday time, they are best when combined with a refreshing ice cream.

Though we all love ice cream just as it comes from the container, here are a few special serving suggestions.

"Holiday Ice Cream DeLuxe"

Set fresh or frozen strawberries in a bowl of Cointreau and allow the berries to absorb the liquor flavor. Just before serving, spoon the strawberries and liquor over vanilla ice cream and top with powdered sugar or a tiny peak of whipped cream.

★ ★ ★

"Minted Pineapple Sundae Topping"

Try this special sauce on vanilla ice cream for a wonderful holiday dessert. Drain one No. 2 can of crushed pineapple, reserving the juice. Add enough water to the juice to make one cup. Combine juice with ½ cup sugar and simmer for five minutes. Add a few drops of mint extract and enough green coloring to make a pleasant color. Add the pineapple and chill. Serve over vanilla ice cream and garnish with springs of mint.

★ ★ ★

"Make Ahead Ice Cream Cake"

This dessert can be prepared ahead of time and stored in the freezing compartment until ready to serve. Whip two cups of heavy cream, adding a teaspoon of vanilla extract for extra flavor. Set aside ⅓ of the cream and tint it a favorite color.

Next, take a quart brick of Neopolitan or other three-colored ice cream, or two pint bricks set end to end, and frost the brick with the white whipped cream. Be sure the top is smooth. Fill a pastry gun with the colored cream and decorate the top of the frosted brick by making a rippled edge, criss-crosses or other design. Return to freezer until ready to serve.

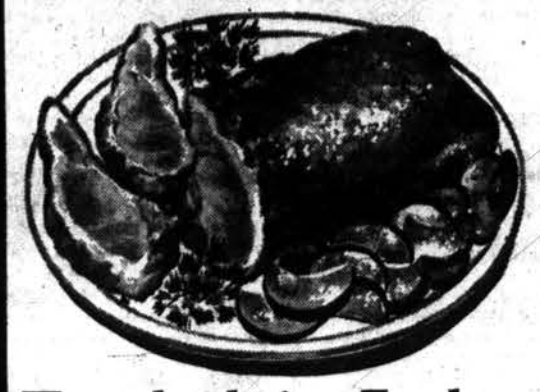

Pickle Ham Patties Can Be Frozen

NEW YORK (UPI)—Make pickle patties ahead of time and store them in the freezer to use for holiday parties.

Combine 2 (2¼-ounce) cans of deviled ham with one-third cup of sweet pickle relish, drained, 1 tablespoon of prepared horseradish, 1 teaspoon of paprika, 2 tablespoons of all-purpose flour and 1 egg, slightly beaten.

Mix well, and shape level teaspoonful into patties. Coat with bread crumbs, using ½ cup total. Fry in hot shallow fat until browned on both sides.

Drain on absorbent paper, wrap in moisture-vapor proof paper and seal. To serve, thaw at room temperature ½ hour or bake 15 minutes in a 400-degree oven. Makes 14 patties.

A LOOK OF CHRISTMAS: This is a portion of Courthouse Park in Elkhorn, Wis., as it appears at Christmas. A Nativity scene may be seen in foreground and a band shell in the background, two of the dozen colorful tableaux erected in the park each Yule season.

Wisconsin Town Proud of Its Park

Christmas Is Community Affair

ELKHORN, Wis. (AP)—At Christmas time, this little town would soften the heart of a Scrooge. For it looks like a town should look at Christmas.

It has natural charm — gaily lighted stores and the old courthouse surrounding a 14-acre park, and over it all a blanket of snow. But it has even more.

Almost every man, woman and child in Elkhorn pitches in to make a real community Christmas.

The whole thing started eight years ago as a single decorative scene set up in Courthouse Park, the center of the town.

It started small, but like Uncle Ludwig's St. Bernard puppy, it grew until it occupies most of the spare space in the park.

★ ★ ★

Manual training students at the high school set up that first exhibit. Water Department employes thought it looked so nice that they built another.

Now 12 elaborate and colorful tableaux built by groups and clubs decorate Courthouse Park each Yuletide, with two or three new ones added each season while an equal number of the oldest are discarded.

Since the town's business district surrounds the square, businessmen have kept up the spirit of things. Each store has a decorated Christmas tree out in front.

At night the park is floodlighted and visitors from miles around parade around the square.

★ ★ ★

A feature last year was a robed choir, complete with organist and a real organ, set up in the band shell. Electronics provided music from the shell and the illusion of reality, listeners say, was startling.

Home decorations flourish on the residential streets.

And Elkhorn has a musical side, too. Nearly half of the three thousand inhabitants of the southeastern Wisconsin town are engaged in its major industry, making and repairing band instruments. Almost everyone plays an instrument.

On Christmas Eve young carolers go from house to house happily singing themselves hoarse.

MAKE-BELIEVE CHOIR: At first glance the organist and choir appear almost life-like. Many visitors to Elkhorn's Courthouse Park mistake the organist for a real person.

The University of California Medical Center at Los Angeles has developed a test to find out whether certain heart patients would be good surgical risks.

He Beat Her Up, She Shot Him: So They're Wed

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI)—A husky construction worker beat up Miss Barbara Ann Alberts. Later she shot him through the leg. But everything's okay now. They're married.

★ ★ ★

A simple ceremony joined Ernest P. Clement, 25, and Miss Alberts, 23, Monday night as man and wife.

It complicated things for authorities here who were to put the bridegroom and bride on trial tomorrow for assault and battery and careless use of firearms, respectively.

A wife cannot testify against her husband, and vice versa.

SHOT IN QUARREL

Mrs. Clement was faced with the firearms charge Nov. 12 after she shot Clement during a quarrel.

He beat her up outside a bar before the shooting incident.

"We love each other," the bride said.

★ ★ ★

You can hardly notice the scars the bride has on her face and the bullet wound in Clement's thigh is almost healed.

Labor Safety Code Proposed

State Commissioner Is Out for Fair Standards in Michigan Industry

LANSING (UPI)—Safety legislation obligating employers to provide safe employment for each employe and giving the labor commission power to establish advisory boards and safety codes and standards was proposed Monday by the State Labor Department.

★ ★ ★

Commissioner James A. Bowden said the state should adopt fair labor standards legislation to provide minimum wages, prevailing wages, updating of hours for females and minors, adoption of protection for migratory workers and revisions of wage payment laws.

★ ★ ★

Bowden said "substantial increase in staffing" is contemplated "to equate the Michigan staff with that of other states and ensure a greater degree of adequacy in safeguarding the state's working population and serving the state's industry."

Federal Court Aids Teamsters

Prevents Justice Dept. From Taking Records of Union Locals

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal court Tuesday killed subpoenas by which the Justice Department sought financial records of Teamster President James R. Hoffa's Detroit locals and four other union groups.

U.S. District Judge David A. Pine called the subpoenas "unreasonable, oppressive and burdensome."

Granting the union's motion to quash the orders, Pine said they called for "fishing into the files" to see what might turn up.

The government had requested the subpoenas in connection with a grand jury investigation of Teamster affairs.

RECORDS DEMANDED

Financial records, some dating back six years, were demanded from Detroit Locals 299, 337, 378 and 985, as well as Joint Council 43. Hoffa heads Local 299 in addition to the 1½ million member international union.

Pine, in quashing the subpoenas, referred to a portion of the Union protest which said government investigators could be sent to Detroit where the Teamsters would make available any pertinent documents.

James T. Dowd, a Justice Department attorney, said later he would draft new subpoenas attempting to pinpoint the type of information sought for the grand jury inquiry.

★ ★ ★

Court-appointed monitors overseeing Teamster activities have been concentrating recently on the finances of Hoffa's Detroit local. Under monitor orders to place the funds in an interest-bearing account, the Teamsters are now suing in Florida for release of $400,000 from a Florida bank.

The monitors have said the money was deposited in the interest-free account to back a loan to a land development corporation.

Union spokesmen have denied the deposit was linked to the loan. Hoffa is understood to have once held options to acquire stock in the development company, Sun Valley, Inc., but allowed them to expire.

NEW ROCKET ENGINE — This XLR115, America's first rocket engine fueled with liquid hydrogen, could narrow the space gap between Russia and America, officials say. Chosen to power the Centaur space vehicle atop a modified Atlas missile, it has been successfully test fired. The Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Co., which released this photograph Dec. 6 in Washington, made the tests at its West Palm Beach, Fla., plant.

To Discuss Television

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Citizens Committee on Education Television will meet here Dec. 16 to hear C. Walter Stone of the U.S. Office of Education give the national viewpoint on educational TV. Samuel Brownell, Detroit superintendent of public schools, will discuss regional television.

Liquor, Beer Interests Flood House With Stream of New Tax Protests

LANSING (AP) — A 34-million-dollar package of nuisance taxes reeled today under a mass bombardment by spokesmen for liquor, beer and tobacco interests.

Republican leaders sought to determine whether a 2½-hour protest against the Senate-approved levies yesterday weakened chances for House passage.

"It probably had some effect, but how much I don't know," said Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) after the House Taxation Committee heard nearly a score of objections.

Conlin, committee chairman, called the public hearing on the plan, which Senate Republicans pushed through last week in an 11th hour attempt to wrap up a revenue program before the 1959 Legislature adjourns.

It would hit smokers and drinkers for 26 million dollars a year and telephone and telegraph users for another eight millions.

Opponents told the committee higher taxes on beer, liquor and tobacco would encourage bootlegging, injure manufacturing, wholesale and retail businesses and pile an unfair burden on one segment of Michigan's population.

Conlin said the bills probably would be sent to the House floor without committee recommendation for passage. He said he doubted they would come up for a vote before next week.

GOP tax strategists in the House are ready to push other legislation to increase the Senate package by 15 to 25 million dollars. Currently in the forefront are a one mill boost in the corporation franchise fee, which would produce 13 million dollars, and a $5 tax on moving traffic violations, worth six millions.

SEES DELAY

"House action might be held up on the Senate package until the new bills put in an appearance and the house has some assurance that they will pass in the Senate," Conlin said.

Several Democratic votes almost certainly will be needed for the bills to clear the evenly divided house. Democrats generally favor a payroll tax and some Republicans are reluctant to vote for any new nuisance taxes.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor), branded the Senate blueprint a "Rube Goldberg" plan which would force Republicans to abandon a record of pay-as-you-go financing in state government. But he did not rule out the possibility he might vote for it.

At the opposite end of the Republican spectrum, Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) assailed the "beer barons, liquor lords and filter kings" who are fighting the proposed levies on smokers and drinkers.

The taxes would add a penny to the five-cent per pack state tax on cigarettes, levy a 20 per cent tax on the wholesale price of other tobacco products, double the $1.25 per barrel beer tax, add a four per cent excise tax on liquor and a three cent use tax on telephones and telegraphs. All would expire June 30, 1961.

Lots of Electricity

A new hydro-electric power plant, scheduled to go into operation near Niagara Falls in 1961, will be capable of lighting 22 million 100-watt light bulbs at the same time.

Most of Nation Warmer, but Florida Cold

By The Associated Press

Skies cleared across most of the country today and warmer weather appeared on the way for the erated in the southeast, afr a East and South in the wake of storms and cold.

Although temperatures moderated in the southeast, after a couple of frosty mornings, it was below freezing at Cross City, northwestern Florida.

Temperatures in other parts of Florida were mostly in the middle and upper 30s in the north and in the 40s and 50s in the central and southern parts of the state. Some truck crops in the Gainesville and Deland districts were damaged by the heaviest frost of the season.

State Aid to Schools Good Now; Bad Later

LANSING (AP)—An eagerly awaited 30 million dollars in state aid will be distributed to local school districts next week.

For 10 days or so, it will cut the state's arrearage to schools to virtually nothing. But on Dec. 25 the amount will bound up again 40 million dollars — not counting seven millions past due for teacher pensions.

In disclosing plans for the school aid distribution yesterday, state officials reported growing restlessness on the part of cities, townships and fair associations for state money long overdue.

State controller James W. Miller said the plight of local governments other than school districts will be laid before the state administrative board next week.

He declined to speculate whether any relief was possible.

Diphtheria Rampage Halted in Kansas Town

GREAT BEND, Kans. (UPI)—Mass immunization appeared today to have halted an outbreak of diphtheria in this central Kansas town.

Barton County Health Director Dr. William Evans said last night no new cases of the disease had been reported and he believed the situation was under control.

However, schools remained closed and doctors continued to administer inoculations.

Ribbon, Cardboard Make Perky Snowman

This jaunty snowman will add a sprightly touch to your home this Christmas.

Only ribbon and a few other everyday materials are needed to make this decoration designed by gift wrapping stylist Kaye King.

Use a grid pattern of two-inch squares (left) to lay out the snowman's body on lightweight cardboard. Cut out the form with scissors and cover the hat in black gift paper. A two-inch pattern will produce a figure 18 inches high, but the size of the squares can be varied to make a larger or smaller snowman.

The head and body of the snowman are made of knotless bows, using a new ribbon that sticks to itself when moistened.

The body requires a series of strips 16 inches long cut from inch-wide ribbon. The ends of each strip are moistened, brought to the center and held in place to form a B-shaped loop (right).

The loops then are joined in criss-cross fashion until the bow is sufficiently full and round. The back of each loop should be moistened to stick it to the bow.

★ ★ ★

The bow for the head is made in a similar manner, using strips 12 inches in length.

If a full-round snowman is desired, two bows of each size should be made. The figure is quite attractive, however, in half - round form and can be used either as a table or wall decoration.

The bows should be attached to the cardboard body with glue. Eyes of blue ribbon, a nose and earmuffs of red ribbon, and a mouth and buttons of black ribbon are formed, moistened and added to the figure. The hatband is a strip of red ribbon.

The broom is a wooden dowel painted or wrapped in black paper. The broom straw is made of yellow ribbon that has been shredded to simulate straw and glued to the dowel.

A colorful muffler is made from decorated ribbon, swathed around the snowman's neck and glued in place.

India to Present Ike With Huge Battle Carving

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's President Rajendra Prasad will present President Eisenhower with a huge ivory and sandalwood carving depicting an epic battle at Kurukshetra nearly 3,000 years ago.

Famed artists at Karwar in Mysore state were commissioned to execute the carving, nearly 7 feet long, 4 feet wide and 3 feet tall.

★ ★ ★

The battle of Kurukshetra was between five good Pandava brothers and 100 bad Kaurava brothers. At the battle the Hindu god Krishna preached the Hindu scripture of Bhagawat Gita (Song Celestial).

The village in the East Punjab is now an important Hindu pilgrimage center.

Actress Fails to Report, Costs Studio $50,000

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twentieth Century-Fox studio has suspended British actress Joan Collins for failing to report in London for a movie role.

She is in New York, while her costars in "Sons and Lovers," Dean Stockwell and Wendy Hiller, await her in London, the studio said.

The studio said the delay, which will require finding a replacement for Miss Collins, will cost around $50,000.

'Question' Record Seems Clean

CBS TV President Quits; Says: 'I Was Forced Out'

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis G. Cowan, who originated the now-discredited quiz show "The $64,000 Question," has resigned in anger as president of the Columbia Broadcasting System television network.

He charged Tuesday that Frank Stanton, president of the entire CBS operation, had forced him out—using health as an excuse—because of his early connection with the show, despite the fact that his personal integrity had not been questioned.

Stanton "made it impossible for me to continue," Cowan declared.

★ ★ ★

His letter of resignation accused Stanton of publicly and privately expressing confidence in his integrity while urging the resignation and asking him not to communicate with his office.

★ ★ ★

Cowan charged that Stanton refused to approve any resignation announcement except one giving poor health as the reason. Cowan refused to go along with this.

In reply to Cowan's statement, Stanton said: "It shocks me that you should attribute to me motives that have no basis in fact whatsoever."

WITH THE 'QUESTION'

Cowan was affiliated with the "Question" for its first seven weeks in 1955. Recent testimony before a congressional subcommittee disclosed that the show and other big-money quiz programs were manipulated to fix winners in advance.

★ ★ ★

Because of his illness Cowan did not appear as a witness but other testimony bore out his statement that the "Question" was honest during his association with it.

★ ★ ★

In another development stemming from the quiz show scandals the National Broadcasting Co. Tuesday ordered an end to a kickback operation practiced by the network.

NBC Vice President James A. Stabile outlawed taking kickbacks from performers willing to refund part of their union-scale fees in return for show spots with publicity value.

His announcement came hours after a New York Post article disclosed that a Negro choral group, the Clara Ward Singers, had returned to NBC half of a $1,041 salary for each of four TV appearances in the last two years.

The program budget could only cover half the salary and the singers, aware of the arrangement, agreed to it in advance for the privilege of appearing on the highly rated "Today" show.

Predicts Large Gains for Steel in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit area steel production will make another big climb this week, Iron Age, the national metalworking weekly, said today.

★ ★ ★

Local mills are scheduling 150,100 tons of steel, equal to 98.3 per cent of capacity. Last week's counts were 141,151 tons and 93.1 per cent of capacity. In the corresponding week a year ago, 136,800 ton were turned out, or 93.1 per cent of capacity.

F&AM to Install Its New Master

William W. Vandercook Will Take Office Next Friday Night

At installation ceremonies Friday night, Pontiac Lodge 21, F&AM, will install William W. Vandercook as its new worshipful master.

Vandercook of 3704 Brookdale Lane, Waterford Township, was elected at the lodge's annual communication last Friday night.

Other new officers to be installed are Francis E. Mapley, senior warden; Lynn V. Sherrod, junior warden; LeRoy T. Jolly, treasurer; Wayne E. Scott, secretary; George T. Pappas, senior deacon, Leland C. Dennis, junior deacon; and Thomas F. Lake, tiler.

Lake, who will begin his 30th year as tiler, was elected tiler emeritus of the lodge.

The installation is scheduled to begin at 8 at the Masonic Temple, 18 E. Lawrence St. It will be the 113th annual ceremony of this lodge.

Sixth Straight Atlas Soars Successfully

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force fired its Atlas intercontinental range missile on another successful 5,500-mile test flight Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

The 85-foot missile rumbled down the Atlantic missile range at 15,000 miles an hour and officials announced it dropped a dummy warhead on target off the South Atlantic island of Ascension.

It was the sixth straight successful test since the Atlas was declared operational last September. The missile has registered 13 successes and one partial success since July.

Red Wealth Lag Cheers Nixon

Says Russ Fight to Lift Living Standard Offers Great Hope for Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon believes that Russia's determination to raise its living standards offers "a great hope" for peace.

He feels that the Russians can improve their lot "only in an atmosphere of peace, of mutual cooperation among nations and peoples. . ."

Nixon reported on the conclusions he drew from his visit to Russia last summer in an article entitled "Russia As I Saw It" in the December issue of "The National Geographic."

The Vice President said this country need not worry about Russia surpassing the American living standard "if only we remain true to the traditions that have made possible our fabulous growth up to now."

EQUALITY IN 7 YEARS? NO

He said nothing he saw in Russia led him to believe the Soviet will equal the U.S. standard "in seven years — or in 70" if Americans adhere to those traditions.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev told Nixon that Russia would be "on the same level as America" in seven years and after that "pass her by."

Nixon said that while he was unimpressed by Khrushchev's boast of matching American standards by 1966, he was impressed by the "almost superhuman effort" the Russians are making to catch up and even surpass the United States.

He said "There is only one way for us to stay ahead — we must constantly move forward."

Civil War Veteran, 117, Still at Brink of Death

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Walter Williams, 117-year-old veteran of the Civil War, took a few liquids Tuesday but showed no change in his fight for life.

Williams, the last surviving veteran of the war, has been stricken with his fourth attack of pneumonia since last summer.

Sea Captain Won't Give Up the Ship

ST. COMBS, Scotland (UPI) — A 62-year-old Finnish sea captain defied storms, the British Coast Guard, and his bosses today to stick with the grounded, battered old freighter that has been his home for 25 years.

★ ★ ★

In the best traditions of the sea, Capt. Jukka Vuorio proudly refused to leave the 1,045-ton freighter Anna after it was driven aground by a fierce gale on the rocky Scottish shore, a victim of a three-day storm that has plagued shipping in the North Sea.

His 17-man crew went ashore on a breeches buoy yesterday, but the skipper refused to budge, in the manner of Capt. Kurt Carlsen of the Flying Enterprise seven years ago.

All through the night, while his creaky old ship wallowed in the hammering, wind-lashed waves 100 yards offshore, its wheelhouse smashed and its radio gone, the skipper roamed the deserted decks of the ship he loves, doing whatever a lone man could to keep "my Anna" alive.

★ ★ ★

Coast guardsmen on shore stood by through the long grim night waiting for a signal from the doughty captain that he was ready to give up and come ashore.

The agreed signal was a flare — a flare that did not burn.

At daybreak today, a message was sent in a bottle over the breeches buoy line, urging Vuorio once again to come ashore.

"No," came the firm answer.

★ ★ ★

Hours later the captain got still another message — from his bosses, co-owners of the ship in Finland: "Give up the ship."

★ ★ ★

And Vuorio's answer again was a stubborn "no."

★ ★ ★

His heroism won the admiration of many Britons but angered lifesaving crews who may be needed elsewhere in the storm.

Four million U. S. retailers and other local advertisers invest about $2.4 billion dollars a year in daily newspapers—six times more than in radio, nine times more than in television.

Kennedy-for-President Club Starts in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — An Indiana Kennedy-for-President Club was formed Tuesday by two Democratic leaders who said they hope to persuade Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to enter the state's primary election next May.

★ ★ ★

"We believe Sen. Kennedy not only is the logical choice and the popular choice but is by far the best qualified candidate," state Sen. Marshall Kizer and 11th District Chairman Albert O. Deluse said in a statement.

Factory Makes Icons for Auto Dashboards

WALLS, Miss. (UPI) — A Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Gregory Bezy, 44, got the idea here five years ago of making small religious icons for automobile dashboards.

★ ★ ★

Walls' major industry today is a plant employing 40 persons to assemble and magnetize the four-and-a-half-inch plastic statues of Christ that are seen in cars all over America.

More than four million of them have been sold, netting about $150,000 annually. The profits go to support Sacred Heart missions in six north Mississippi counties.

Biggest Atom Smasher Better Than Expected

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — The world's biggest atom smasher Tuesday surpassed the expectations of its operators and reached a proton beam with a total energy of 29,000,000,000 electron volts.

The smasher took six years to build and will be used in research into the peaceful uses of the atom by the 13-nation European organization for nuclear research.

Friend Nurses Invalid Speechless 9 Years

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Abbie Lelah Howland is beginning her ninth speechless and bedfast year, nursed by the conscience-stricken driver of the auto in which she was riding when she suffered permanent injury.

Abbie, now 39, was with Doris Wilson, her best friend and a co-worker at the San Joaquin County General Hospital, when their car collided with another Dec. 4, 1951.

★ ★ ★

The law said the accident was not nurse Wilson's fault, but she never forgave herself.

Tears fill her eyes when she recalls the accident. She lost a knee cap.

★ ★ ★

Abbie suffered a brain injury and fractures of an elbow, a foot and both hands. She remained in a critical condition, completely comatose and immobile for three months. Her condition was so poor her broken hands were never set.

She finally opened her blue eyes and began to move her limbs a little.

HER WHOLE LIFE

Mildred Coyle, day nurse supervisor, said: "After Doris' knee got well and she came back to work, she began spending two to five hours a day of her off-duty time with Abbie. Abbie has been her whole life."

Mrs. Coyle told how Doris over the years has given her friend back rubs, baths, permanent waves, excursions to Doris' home for Thanksgiving turkey and a look at a Christmas tree, a trip to a faith healer, nightgowns, a doll, a record player she brought to Abbie's hospital room.

★ ★ ★

"She loved rock 'n roll and especially Elvis Presley. And the louder, the better," Mrs. Coyle said.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Duane D. Deakins, medical director of the hospital, holds little hope for Abbie's further improvement.

In answer to simple questions, Abbie will smile yes or shake her head no.

Needling by Subcommittee Pains Drug Firm President

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of a second major drug company were called by Senate investigators today for questioning about its pricing practices.

J. T. Connor, president of Merck & Co. of Rahway, N. J., was listed by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee as the day's principal witness.

★ ★ ★

The subcommittee is looking into the prices of drugs used in the treatment of arthritis. It is the first phase of a broad probe into whether prescription medicines are being overpriced by manufacturers.

Francis C. Brown, president of the Schering Corp., of Bloomfield, N. J., wound up two days of testimony Tuesday with a sharp challenge of subcommittee figures about his firm's price markups.

He said the subcommittee staff had used distorted figures in picturing the company as marking up prices of some of its medicines by as much as 7,079 per cent.

'SEVERELY DAMAGING'

Testimony presented on the opening day of the hearings was "severely damaging and most unfair to the company," Brown said.

Brown cited as typical of the company's profits what he called a 12.3 per cent return on sales of prednisolone, an anti-arthritis drug.

★ ★ ★

In testimony Monday, John Blair, the subcommittee's chief economist, said the drug had been marked up 1,118 per cent over the cost of production.

Brown said Blair failed to take into account income taxes, royalties, selling, research and administrative expenses, and cash discounts to wholesalers.

On this basis, Brown said, Schering's cost for a bottle of 100 tablets is $12.30—not the $1.57 Blair testified. He said Schering receives $14.03 wholesale for a return of 12.3 per cent.

"These figures represent the average or typical situation," Brown said. "There will be some products, consequently, with lower and some with higher costs or profit results."

He said he considered a return of 12.3 per cent on sales to be reasonable "considering the unusual risks involved in this business."

Transportation Fails in China

System Staggers Under Twin Load of Industry and Agriculture

TOKYO (UPI)—Red China's overburdened transportation system is beginning to stagger under the twin loads of a big autumn harvest and the year-end rush to meet industrial quotas.

Just one year ago the system, taxed beyond its capacity by the frantic "great leap forward" in industry and agriculture, failed to meet the demands upon it and forced the regime to decree severe rationing measures in the mainland's major cities.

Now Peiping is indicating that the problem still is far from solved.

The Peiping People's Daily, official organ of the Communist Party, said in recent editorial that better planning is required if the mainland's enormous transportation needs are to be met this year.

"The incessant leap forward in production has confronted transportation with complex problems," the newspaper said. "The organization of coordinated lines of transportation is necessary."

The People's Daily said production, transportation and marketing must be closely knitted to prevent commodities from piling up in one area while another area went without them.

This is what happened last year. Pigs, poultry and vegetables were shunte daside in favor of steel and heavy industrial products toward the end of the year, and urban areas were severely pinched by food shortages.

DJ Leaves Air —Fired? No, Tired After 203 Hours

HONOLULU (AP)—Disc jockey Tom Rounds was in the hospital today after claiming a new record for staying awake—203 hours, 44 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Rounds began his round-the-clock stunt Nov. 30, shooting at a mark of 201 hours, 10 minutes claimed by New York disc jockey Peter Tripp. Rounds, 23, came to Honolulu from Danbury, Conn.

At the hospital he fell into a deep sleep after a massage.

Retailers to Work for Tax on Ballot

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Retailers Assn. may play a leading role in getting the Republican sales tax proposition on the 1960 general election ballot.

★ ★ ★

However, Otis F. Cook, MRA executive vice president, said a promise of help to GOP senators fell short of a pledge to take charge of a petition drive and pay any bills.

"A couple of senators came to me on it and said, 'Will you get in there and pitch,'" Cook said yesterday. "I said, 'Yes, you can depend on it.'"

Getting the four-cent sales tax issue before voters is a prime Republican tax objective.

In 1952, Cook was chairman of the successful statewide effort that got the so-called "balanced Legislature" proposition on the ballot.

That was the constitutional change that froze Senate districts on an area basis and provided for periodic reapportionment of the House along population lines.

Salvatore Viviano Dies in Coral Gables; Age 82

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—Salvatore Viviano, 82, founder and president of Vimco Macaroni Products Co., Carnegie, Pa., died Monday.

He started a small spaghetti factory in St. Louis 56 years ago. The company moved to Carnegie in 1917 after operating in Chicago and Detroit.

Alfred Burt Carols of Special Interest

200 Hear Traditional Concert

Guest artist Christine Harnsberger of Birmingham, above, explains the construction of her harpsichord to Mrs. Eugene Foley of Lochlin lane and Mrs. William Driver of Birmingham at Tuesday Musicale's annual Christmas concert. Below, accompanying the chorus for the first time was Mrs. Walter Schmitz of Kennett road. Standing at left is Tuesday Musicale's Choral Director, Mrs. George Putnam of Iroquois road and Mrs. Charles Buck of Oxford road who led group singing.

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale's traditional Christmas concert was heard by an audience of over 200.

The chorus under the direction of Mrs. George Putnam performed two groups of familiar carols. Of particular interest to the audience were the Alfred Burt carols in a seldom-heard arrangement for women's voices.

The Rev. Bates Burt, former rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, his son Alfred, and Wihla Hutson, former organist at the church, collaborated in the writing of these carols over a period of years.

★ ★ ★

They were put into finished form and recorded by Alfred Burt shortly before his death, three years ago. The chorus sang four of the nine carols, with beauty and feeling, according to Tuesday Musicale's reviewer, Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gaensbauer pointed out that Helen Schmitz, new accompanist, provided accomplished and able support for the chorus.

Christine Harnsberger, harpsichordist, demonstrated with skill the delicate musical charm of an instrument in which interest has been renewed in the past few decades.

Miss Harshberger's choice of compositions illustrated the fact that the early keyboard does not require the sohority of the piano in order to be musically delightful.

According to Mrs. Gaensbauer, she performed with precise dexterity while maintaining an even touch and the smooth legato necessary to harpsichord technique.

★ ★ ★

Of particular musical interest was the premier performance of the contemporary "Bagatelle" by Haieff, which pointed up the fact that the instrument should be judged on its own merits and not on how it compares with the piano.

★ ★ ★

"Mrs. Putnam deserves congratulations for the expressive singing of the chorus, its fine balance and tonal effects—and especially the finished quality of its performance," said Mrs. Gaensbauer.

Heard in solo or with small groups of members of the chorus were Dorothy Proud, Mary Louise Lindquist, Annabelle Marshbanks, Hazel Maxwell, June Roberts, Yvonne Smith and Audrey Stimpert.

Miss Hutson was present and was introduced to the audience.

Committees for the day were Mrs. Phillip Viereck and Mrs. W. E. Blynn, door hostesses; Mrs. John C. Windiate and Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield, floral committee; Mrs. W. Henry Sink and Mrs. W. H. Heller poured at the tea table.

★ ★ ★

Co-chairmen of the social committee were Mrs. Paul Kantz and Mrs. Bruce Annett. Assisting were Mrs. B. L. Cole, Mrs. W. A. Vernon, Mrs. J. H. Hall, Mrs. E. A. Maier, Mrs. G. V. Poole and Mrs. E. M. Wilmot.

Program chairman was Mrs. J. L. Bennett.

Stay Home if You've Got a Cold

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it very lacking in proper behavior for people to go visiting when they have colds? So many people who are not sick enough to be in bed, but who nevertheless have heavy colds, think nothing of going to other people's houses and inflicting their germs on others.

Maybe I'm a crank about this because I am susceptible to colds, but I definitely think that people who have colds should stay at home and not expose others to their germs.

Answer: I definitely agree with you, and I am quite certain that most doctors do too.

Dear Mrs. Post: Please settle an argument for me. I contend that husbands and wives should never be referred to as Mr. and Mrs. except when speaking to those in their employ and that a husband or wife should be referred to by first name when speaking to casual acquaintances.

My sister says I am wrong and that you always refer to your mate as Mr. or Mrs. except when speaking to friends who know both.

Answer: When speaking to strangers or to persons in your employ, you quite properly say Mr. or Mrs., to social acquaintances you say "my husband" or "my wife." To friends you say "Mary" or "John" whether they call them that or not.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am in my mid-twenties and am planning to be married for the second time. The wedding will be simple but will take place in church with one attendant.

I have a four-year-old daughter and would like very much to have her take part as a flower girl. Will you please tell me if this will be proper?

Answer: It will be entirely proper — and very sweet.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I've been invited to a birthday party (surprise) for a girl friend and given the privilege of bringing my own boy friend. Should I write his name with mine on the card enclosed with the birthday present I'm buying, or should he take his own? He doesn't know her."

Answer: Since he is a stranger to her, you alone take a present.

City Symphony Superb Success

By RONALD K. GRABKE

Under the baton of Francisco DiBlasi, the Pontiac Symphony accompanied Emma Endres-Kountz in a thrilling interpretation of Rachmaninoff's "Concerto No. 2 for Piano and Orchestra."

The soloist expressed herself superbly and the evening will be long remembered. The orchestra did much to enhance the work despite a few lags in tempo.

★ ★ ★

The concert commenced with a work for two brass choirs, "Piano E Forte."

It was written by Gabrielli in 1597 and is characteristic of the style of the period. Successfully performed by the orchestra, the musical interpretation was excellent.

★ ★ ★

High point in the first half of the evening which also included Wagner's "Siegfried Idyll" was the Schubert "Symphony No. 5." This lyrical work was well produced by the orchestra. DiBlasi had the balance needed for a Schubert work. The sections responded readily and sufficiently to his demands.

★ ★ ★

Wagner's "Siegfried Idyll" was an experience in delicacy of nuance, a strength of this orchestra. Due to the technical difficulty of the work, however, this strength and the conductor's persistence were the major redeeming virtues of its performance. The dynamic response was very good and the melodic expression excellent.

The second half of the program consisted of the concerto which as already noted proved exciting and inspirational.

The concert as a whole was quite exceptional and the orchestra great. Pontiac can be proud of its musical achievement.

Science From God, Says Abby

We'll All Answer That Call Eventually

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I believe that God gives life and God is the only One who should take it.

ABBY

And no man should take the life of another even in the spirit of mercy to spare that person physical suffering. I refer to mercy killing.

Then, don't you think it is equally wrong for man (a doctor) to interfere with God's plan by prolonging the life of a patient when it is evident that God is calling that person to his everlasting home? Science has gone too far. When the Lord calls us, we should go. Don't you agree, Miss Abby?

BELIEVER

DEAR BELIEVER: If the Lord did not want man (through science) to prolong life He would not have endowed him with the divine knowledge to do so. Don't worry. We will all answer the "call" eventually.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My problem is so unbelievable for a grown 28-year-old man you'll probably throw it in the waste basket thinking it is from some screwball. I hope you'll answer it because it is on the level.

I've been married 9 years to a girl I've known all my life. She is faithful, honest and loving and an excellent mother to our 3 children. But she is so jealous of me (without reason) that my life is miserable.

I sell for a living and have to go out some evenings. When I am away from her I have to telephone her every hour. She asks what number I am calling from and calls me back to be sure I am not lying. She checks up on everything I tell her. I have led a clean life and never lied to her, Abby. I keep hoping she will get better, but she is getting worse. What should I do?

NOT TRUSTED

DEAR NOT: Get your wife to a doctor. It is not normal for a person to be chronically suspicious without reason. This could be a symptom of something very serious. Don't let it go.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to eat his lunch at a certain tavern because it was handy to his job. While eating there one day he became provoked with the owner because he lets his dog have the run of the place.

The dog "piddles" (excuse me, but that's what he does) all over the floor and sleeps on the tables. My husband likes dogs, but not where he eats.

The tavern owner told my husband that his dog was cleaner than some of his customers. My husband hasn't been back there since. I now fix him a lunch bucket. I think the tavern keeper should be reported for keeping a dirty place. Can you tell me who to report him to?

MARGIE

DEAR MARGIE: All establishments licensed to serve food are inspected regularly or should be. Notify your local Board of Health department.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UNDER AGE": If you can't talk to your own parents, talk to your girlfriend's parents. But unload this information on reliable adult ears as quickly as possible.

What's your problem? For a personal reply write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Had They Known—

(NEA)—Mistletoe, a favorite Christmas decoration, was considered evil by early Christians because they believed it had been the "forbidden fruit" of the Garden of Eden.

Review These Health Rules

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Once in a while it is a good idea for us to review the simple rules for physical and mental health which we know so well and neglect so often.

1. Exercise is becoming more and more important in medical opinion as a preventive measure against hardening of the arteries and heart attacks and the general deterioration which accompanies the aging process. Of course it must be suited to your age and physical condition.

2. Good nutrition. Every year more and more things are being discovered in the research laboratories about the importance of the food we eat. It is not yet known how far reaching these discoveries may be.

3. Sleep and relaxation. We all know how chronically tired we become when we shortchange ourselves in these.

THE EMOTIONAL SIDE

The above are perhaps the first three on the physical side. Now for emotional and mental health.

1. Avoid boredom as you would poison! This affects not only your happiness but your health. Everyone becomes bored sooner or later unless new interests are added to daily life. This is especially important for a woman from middle age on because the heavy responsibility of rearing children suddenly drops away.

2. If you have the worry habit, take real measures to break it. This can cloud every day.

3. Do not live in the past. Today is better than yesterday and tomorrow may be wonderful.

4. Be flexible. Do not brace all of your brain cells against new ideas and new experiences and emotions.

5. Develop a sense of humor. I do not know how folks live without one.

6. Remember that your problems are universal and that many of the people whom you think are so lucky have more trouble than you have — so, be tolerant.

AND I wish you a happy EVERYDAY, because life is, after all, made up of days.

Breaking This Habit's Easier Said Than Done

(NEA) — In this age of nail polish and excellent hand lotions, most women take great pride in having well-kept hands. But oftener than we would like, one sees an adult woman with stubby fingers that are the result of bitten nails.

Nail-biting is a nervous habit but, nevertheless, just that: a habit. It can, like any other habit, be broken. And in the interests of health, beauty and poise, it should be broken.

The best way to break this habit is simply to stop. Decide that you will never bite your nails again and don't. This takes self-discipline, something we all need.

Lutheran 'Ladies' Hold Yule Party

Forty members of the Ladies' Guild of Grace Lutheran Church attend the annual Christmas luncheon-party Thursday in Fellowship Hall.

Ann Hodges and Mitzie Schroeder presented the skit "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town." Lynn Buckman gave a song-and-dance number, "I Am a Movie Star," and Mitzie Schroeder did a vocal number.

Gifts were exchanged among members and each brought an extra present for the church kitchen. The program closed with the singing of carols.

Chalk for Spots

(NEA) — Rub French chalk with a small brush into dull spots left on rugs by furniture pressure. Then vacuum the area.

The president of Turkey is elected for a four-year term by members of the Grand National Assembly from its own ranks.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps in legs, feet, toes, arms and hands is a prolonged deficiency of calcium. So says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles.

Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins B and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottle of 90 tablets, $1.50.

* Other causes for muscle cramps are entirely unrelated to calcium deficiency.

Ever Blow Main Fuse Just as Guests Arrive?

(This is the third of a series of articles in which Washington's best-known hostesses reveal the techniques and tricks that make a party successful—and recount some times when even the best-made plans went wrong.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—Suppose you were tossing a dinner party in honor of the secretary of state, and two minutes before the 60 guests arrived, all of the lights blew out.

Or what if your butler accidentally pulled the chair from under the dignified wife of a high-ranking ambassador, plopping her unceremoniously on the floor?

THINGS CAN HAPPEN

There's no need to feel alarmed at such a thought. Both accidents have befallen chief of protocol and Mrs. Wiley Buchanan, and they keep right on hosting some of the best parties in Washington.

Ruth and Wiley are one couple who meticuously plan every detail of a dinner-party well in advance, and then relax to enjoy it—come what may.

Perhaps that's why their guests have such a rollicking good time that Vice President Nixon once sat on the floor to watch French Ambassador Herve Alphand do a hilarious imitation of the Soviet's dour foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko.

★ ★ ★

The wealthy young Texan and his petite, blonde wife unquestionably have the busiest social schedule in town, for they not only give and attend parties, but must always be on tap for every White House, State Department and Embassy dinner for visiting heads of state.

★ ★ ★

As a consequence, their time is so seldom their own that when they actually glimpse a free evening a month in advance, they immediately dispatch invitations to seal the date, with their friends.

The Buchanans are equally partial to two kinds of parties: Formal dinners for 26 in their elegant dining room, or slightly less formal dinners for 64 guests who are seated at variegated tables in the adjoining sitting room and solarium.

CALL IN EXTRA HELP

The pieces de resistance are always spectacular flower arrangements, for which Ruth has captured innumerable prizes. Her favorite entrees are duck a la orange, or boned chicken brewed in Italian herbs. She invariably serves Brie cheese with the salad course, and her most memorable dessert is Marquis au Chocolat, an egg-cream-and-rum mousse which she discovered while Wiley was ambassador to Luxembourg.

★ ★ ★

To supplement their regular domestic staff of six, the Buchanans call in four extra waiters for their parties, and contract with a caterer to provide the fish course, since he has prime access to the whole salmon and lobsters which Ruth favors.

Unlike mostes' hostess Perle Mesta, who delights in inviting feuding politicians to the same soirees—Mrs. Buchanan chooses only "congenial groups" who enjoy each other's company.

She thinks flowers set the mood for an evening, and that entertainment should be geared to the likes and dislikes of the honored guest.

"For instance, when we entertained for Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles," she said, "we engaged a Mozart trio which performed in the drawing room after dinner, and they loved it. We knew they cared nothing for dancing, but when we gave a party for the Nixons, we always have an orchestra, because we know they like to dance."

The gala ballroom is below stairs in the rambling Buchanan mansion, and it's just as well that dancing had not been planned the evening of the party for the late secretary of state.

Mrs. Buchanan had admittedly "gone all out" that day to create a particularly beautiful table setting of flowers and candelabra. Five minutes before eight, she suddenly decided to take a picture of her masterpiece, and as she plugged in the floodlights, every chandelier and lamp in the house flickered out. The main fuse had blown.

While servants frantically dialed for electricians, Wiley discovered that the front hall and drawing room were mercifully connected to a different circuit, for which he had a spare fuse. Doors to the darkened areas of the house were hastily closed, just as the first limousines rolled to the door.

An hour later when dinner was announced, the lights were still out, but the guests were none the wiser. The dining room glowed with dozens of twinkling candles, and the servants gamely kept the secret of their kitchen hardships. Just in time for the leave-taking, Ruth saw the outer floodlights come on, and knew that the day was saved. The guests could find their cars.

Fate was less benign the time that a top-ranking ambassador and his wife came to dine. Dinner had gone as beautifully as usual, but as the guests prepared to rise, the ambassadress found that her evening gown was caught beneath the chair of her dinner partner.

She therefore sat down abruptly, but the chair was no longer there. A well-trained butler had noiselessly removed it, to free her exit.

The ambassador, in no position to see the previous by-play, started at his prone wife and demanded: "My dear, whatever are you doing down there?"

The Buchanans will never forget it, and the ambassador may never forgive them, but everyone else had a marvelous time!

Next: The secret party ingredient—laughter.)

Saucy Snowmen Surround Pudding

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hard sauce snowmen make festive garnishes for holiday desserts such as plum pudding.

Cream one-third cup butter or margarine and 2 cups confectioner's 10-X powdered sugar. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Form into balls of 3 different sizes and put them together to form the snowmen.

Stick in whole cloves for eyes and nose and bits of candied cherries for a mouth. Stand the snowmen around the platter containing the dessert.

Gouda Cheese Snacks

Gouda-bobs . . . nice for before-dinner appetizers or snacks anytime! To prepare them just wrap Gouda cheese wedges with thin slices of baked or boiled ham and thread onto wooden picks or fancy skewers along with large pickled onions, pineapple chunks and stuffed olives or kumquats.

Custard, Then Mincemeat Appear in Pie Squares

A light, yet taste-satisfying holiday dessert is this unusual Mincemeat Custard Torte.

The holiday turkey dinner insists on that finishing touch of spicy mincemeat . . . set in a flaky crust and topped with a delicate baked custard.

You'll find this dessert quickly and easily prepared with modern-day convenience foods — instant mincemeat and pie crust mix.

And here's a tip to avoid spilling. Pour custard mixture on mincemeat while torte is still in the oven, pulling the oven rack out a little.

Mincemeat Custard Torte

1 package pie crust mix
28-oz. jar mincemeat
3 eggs, slightly beaten with fork
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups scalded milk
⅝ teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to 475 degrees (very hot). Make pastry as directed on pie crust mix pkg. using 2 sticks mix. Roll out to fit jelly roll pan, 15½ x 10½ x 1". Build pastry high on sides of pan. Do not flute edge.

★ ★ ★

Spread mincemeat over pie crust. Bake on lowest rack in oven 20 minutes, or until pastry is golden brown. Place torte on middle rack in oven. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees (moderate).

Beat together slightly, custard ingredients and pour on top of mincemeat. Sprinkle with nutmeg, if desired. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes, or until silver knife inserted into custard 1 inch from edge of pan comes out clean. Serve slightly warm. Makes fifteen 3 inch squares.

Give baked custard a different flavor by adding sherry. Substitute a few tablespoons of sherry for the same amount of milk.

Fresh Coconut Used in Luau Dessert

HONOLULU (UPI)—You can make any meal end like a luau with coconut pudding.

★ ★ ★

Steep 6 cups of grated fresh coconut (meat of 2 coconuts) or 3 cups of packaged coconut in either 3 cups of milk or water drained from the coconuts, plus water to total 3 cups of liquid. Simmer 10 minutes, cool, and strain through several thicknesses of cheesecloth, squeezing out as much liquid as possible.

★ ★ ★

Discard coconut, but reserve liquid. Mix 3 to 6 tablespoons of sugar with 6 tablespoons of cornstarch and add enough coconut milk to make a smooth paste.

Heat remaining liquid to a boil, add the paste, and boil until thick, stirring often. Pour into a square cake pan to a 2-inch thickness. Cool, cut in 2-inch squares and serve to 9.

It's More Fun to Paint When Crowd Does Job

Any household chore or task becomes fun when it's done by a group of people working together. Remember the old-time corn husking bees, the house-raisings, the tree-tapping parties? Everyone found enjoyment in the pleasantly shared experiences. Recently, groups have undertaken many joint projects including painting activities.

If your club, school group or family is interested in ideas for painting parties, write to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 150 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Washington 5, D.C., for your free booklet called PAINTING PARTIES ARE FUN which tells some inspiring stories about what other people have done.

They Use Hand Power

Nearly two thirds of Mexico's 32 million people are without electricity.

Sour Cream Right for Any Salad

Dairy sour cream is an ideal base for simple salad dressings. Its tangy flavor enhances both fruits and vegetables, while its excellent keeping qualities make this dairy food convenient to keep on hand for jiffy-made dressings.

Here are two salad dressings with a dairy sour cream base. The first combines tiny cubes of sharp cheese and cooked green peas in a dressing which offers good contrast for tangy-flavored aspic salads. The second is a blending of sour cream and cottage cheese which is delicious on fruit salads.

Sour Cream Dressing for Aspic

½ cup small cubes sharp cheddar cheese
¼ to ½ cup cooked peas
1 cup dairy sour cream

Fold cheese and peas into sour cream. Serve with Vege-Tomato Aspic Salad Mold. Makes 1¼ to 1½ cups.

Vege-Tomato Aspic

2 envelopes (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatin
2½ cups tomato juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup chopped celery
1 cup shredded cabbage

Soften gellatin in ½ cup cold tomato juice. Heat remaining tomato juice to boiling, add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice, onion, salt and pepper. Chill until mixture begins to set.

Fold in celery and cabbage. Pour into 1¼-quart mold. Chill until set. Unmold, and serve with Sour Cream Dressing. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Sour Cream Dressing for Fruit Salads

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
Salt to taste

Blend sour cream and cottage cheese; season to taste. Serve on chilled fresh or canned fruits arranged on lettuce cups. Makes 2 cups dressing.

Chewing Gum Can Be Treat in Stocking

Here's a little suggestion that will add to any child's pleasure this Christmas. When you're filling the Christmas stocking, slip a few packages of chewing gum in among the nuts and candies and small presents. Children really enjoy their chewing gum, and it won't spoil their appetites before dinner.

Another nice idea is to put some packages of chewing gum in the candy dishes for your family and friends to enjoy. Pick up a box or two so you'll have a good supply handy to add to everyone's delight at your house during the holidays.

For an especially tasty combination of vegetables, serve Limas and Celery. Dissolve two bouillon cubes in some of the liquid drained Limas and Celery. Dissolve two from a pound can of green lima beans. Add some sliced celery; cover and cook until almost tender. Add drained limas and butter. Season with poultry seasoning and heat.

Name Council on Government

National Group Will Allocate Functions of Different Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has named a 23-member commission to allocate governmental functions, responsibilities and revenues among the several levels of government.

The White House, in announcing appointment of the "advisory commission on inter-governmental relations" Tuesday said the President selected the members before leaving on his peace tour.

The commission replaces the joint federal-state committee on inter-governmental relations set up by the Governors Conference at Eisenhower's suggestion. It will hold an organization meeting at the White House next Monday.

Frank Bane, former secretary of the Governors Conference and executive director of the Council of State Governments, was named chairman of the new commission. He is a resident of Chicago and Washington and a native of Smithfield, Va.

James Pollock, professor of political science at the University of Michigan and a native of New Castle, Pa., was named vice chairman.

The third private citizen appointed to the commission is John Burton, of Ithaca, N. Y., vice president of Cornell University. He is a native of North Bloomfield, Ohio, and has held various jobs in the New York state government.

The executive branch of the government will be represented by Sec. of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, Sec. of Labor James P. Mitchell, and Sec. of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

Four governors named as members are Ernest F. Hollings, South Carolina, and Abraham A. Ribicoff, Connecticut, Democrats; and Rober E. Smylie, Idaho, and William G. Stratton, Illinois, Republicans.

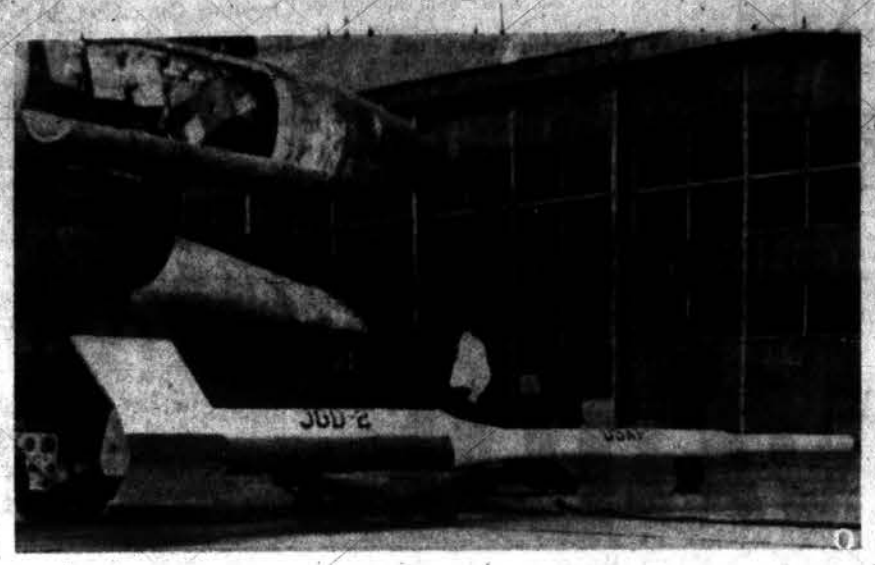

Other members include:

From state legislative bodies: Sens. John W. Noble, Missouri; Elisha Barrett, New York, and Mrs. Leslie Cutler, Massachusetts.

Mayors: Anthony Celebrezze, Cleveland; Norris Poulson, Los Angeles; Gordon S. Clinton, Seattle, and Don Hummel, Tucson.

County officers: Edward Connor, Wayne County; Clair Donnenwirth, Plumas County, Calif.; and Edwin Michaelian, Westchester County, N. Y.

Three U.S. House members, appointed by Speaker Sam Rayburn: Reps. L. H. Fountain (D-NC), Florence P. Dwyer (R-NJ), and Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark).

JAGUAR ROCKET MODEL — The Air Force released this photograph of a new type of research rocket, the Jaguar, Monday. The device is designed to be launched 500 to 600 miles into the sky from a jet bomber during a climb at high altitude. The Jaguar weighs 1,700 pounds and is 29 feet long.

Will Carry Ore Until Lakes Freeze

100 Freighters Still Sailing

CLEVELAND (AP) — One hundred Great Lakes vessels, or more than a third of the lakes iron ore fleet, still are operating in the drive to take ore to the steel mills.

The Lakes Carriers Assn. reported this from a survey Tuesday —at a time when most ships are moored for the winter and awaiting another season.

Many ships will continue to sail until stopped by the winter, the association said.

Pittsburgh Steamship Division of U. S. Steel Corp., operator of the largest fleet on the lakes, said 53 of its 57 ships still were in commission. On this date last year only 16 Pittsburgh vessels were sailing.

"We had pretty good weather and a good week last week," a Pittsburgh spokesman said.

However, he added, steam was being used to keep ore moving at the upper lakes docks. The ore freezes and must be heated in order to load it into the carriers.

ICE IS FORMING

Ice is forming on some stretches of the Great Lakes but only one port, Ashland, Wis., has been closed for the winter, the Coast Guard reported.

The St. Mary's River and approaches to the locks at Sault Ste. Marie are free of ice, the Coast Guard said. Through this important 86-mile-long waterway passes most of the ore shipped from the upper lake ports.

At the Soo, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers said the locks will continue to operate past the normal Dec. 15 closing date.

The last report on ore stockpiles, issued before the strike began July 15, showed about 50 million tons stored. That's 20 million tons less than normal.

* * *

During three weeks in November—the steel strike was halted Nov. 7 by a Taft-Hartley injunction —Lake Carriers reported 5,310,759 tons were shipped compared with 4,528,563 in the entire month of November last year.

With good weather, shippers hoped to get 10 million tons of ore down the lakes before shipping ceases.

At normal operation, the nation's steel mills use some 12 million tons of ore monthly.

Tent Waterproofing

One way to waterproof a tent is to rub paraffin into the canvass then iron it with a hot iron to run the parafin into the fibers.

Son of Willkie to Aid Education

Foundation Will Honor Dead Father Who Had Respect for Study

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Wendell L. Willkie's son laid plans today to build an educational foundation honoring the late Republican presidential nominee.

★ ★ ★

Philip H. Willkie, 40, a Rushville, Ind., attorney and banker, has filed articles of incorporation with the Indiana secretary of state for the Willkie Foundation, Inc.

Willkie said the foundation would commemorate his father's name by strengthening basic education through research and study.

The late Willkie, a lawyer and political philosopher, lost to Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the 1940 presidential race, but served as a good will ambassador under FDR.

STATES DAD'S SPEECH

The younger Willkie said his father's beliefs on education were expressed in a 1943 speech in Durham, N.C.:

★ ★ ★

"The greatest civilizations of history have been the best educated civilizations," the elder Willkie said. "And when I speak of education, I do not have in mind what so many today claim as education, namely special training to do particular jobs . . .

"I am speaking of education for its own sake—to know for the sheer joy of understanding, to speculate, to analyze, to compare and to imagine."

His son said those words would form the ideals of the Willkie Foundation.

Shooter of Employe Denied New Trial

ST. JOSEPH (UPI)—Eau Claire industrialist J. R. Love, convicted of felonious assault in the shooting of one of his employes, has lost a bid for a new trial.

Berrien County Circuit Judge Thomas N. Robinson Sr. Monday denied a new trial motion made by Love's attorney.

Love is free on $2,000 bond and faces sentencing shortly on the Nov. 4 conviction.

Love was charged with shooting an employe during a plant party celebrating the defeat of a UAW-CIO representation election in his plant. Love is president of the J. R. Love Tractor Co.

Transcript Delays Trial of Accused Killer Knight

HOWELL (UPI)—Accused killer Alvin W. Knight who allegedly murdered State Trooper Albert W. Souden and buried him in a shallow grave may not go on trial until February.

Livingston County Prosecutor Wilfred W. Erwin said Tuesday the long transcript of Knight's record-length hearing in November may not be completed before Christmas.

Erwin said the 47-year-old Argentine man will be held in the Livingston County Jail until his arraignment in January.

Knight directed police to the trooper's grave last September but did not confess to slaying the young officer from the Brighton post.

Could Have Been a Dozen Nations

Cultures, Climate Contrast in India

NEW DELHI (AP) — When President Eisenhower comes to India today he will be visiting the world's most populous democracy.

★ ★ ★

This is a sprawling land mass which could easily have been a dozen nations. Within its 1,269,640 square miles live 400 million people. They represent scores of cultures and speak more than 500 languages and dialects.

India has a land frontier of 8,200 miles with Pakistan on the northwest and China and Burma on the northeast. On the south is the Indian Ocean with a coastline of 3,500 miles.

★ ★ ★

India's geography and climate are as varied as its people. Snow never melts on the five-mile heights of the Himalayas in the north. On the central Indian plains summer brings temperatures of more than 120 degrees in the shade. In some desert areas rain is virtually unknown. But India has the wettest town in the world — Cherrapunjui, where rainfall averages 425 inches per year.

★ ★ ★

Although India had civilizations thousands of years before Christ, in later centuries it fell before conquerors from both Asia and Europe. In 1947 the British—last of the conquerors—left and a new day of freedom began.

Two men have overshadowed recent Indian history. Mohandas Gandhi was the architect of passive resistence, the weapon which drove the British from India. He was assassinated by a religious fanatic one year after independence. The other man is Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, a patrician who forsook wealth to become Gandhi's most trusted lieutenant and spent 14 years in British jails.

STAYS NEUTRAL

Nehru has sought to create a socialistic democracy in a country which historically had been ruled by feudalistic maharajahs. He aims to stay out of ideological conflicts between communism and the Western democracies. These goals are interlinked since Nehru wanted help from both sides in developing his country.

★ ★ ★

Until this year most Indians considered this policy a success. Although both East and West criticized Nehru from time to time, both continued to provide aid. The United States alone provided nearly two billion dollars worth of loans or gifts. The Soviet Union gave or pledged about one-third of this amount.

★ ★ ★

Then Communist China moved across the traditional Indo-Tibetan border, occupied several thousand miles of territory, claimed 30,000 square miles more. A dozen Indians were killed by Communist Chinese forces.

REJECTS ALLIANCES

Some Indians wanted immediate alliances to pledge military assistance in case the trouble with Communist China should grow into a big war. Nehru flatly rejected this course. But he has made clear that war between India and Communist China would inevitably mean a global war.

Aid from both East and West has brought a slight improvement in the lot of the average Indian. Irrigation projects, steel mills and new industries have helped to raise the per capita income from $50 per year to $61. The Indian peasant eats more than before, but 700 million tons of food grain must still be imported yearly.

New Delhi is a city of remarkable contrasts. Sleek limousines compete with bullock carts for space on the crowded streets. Beggars maimed by leprosy ply their trade near plush hotels. Sacred cows sleep in the streets near atomic energy research laboratories. Delhi has been the capital of seven empires and the mark of all can be seen.

Adlai Advocates Shutdown Curb

Claims White House Should Maintain Output During Deadlocks

NEW YORK (AP)— Adlai E. Stevenson today proposed to empower the White House to take deadlocks like the steel strike out of the hands of labor and industry. He would authorize a president to continue vital production while such a dispute is resolved.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson, twice the Democratic candidate for president and a potential for the same designation next year, foresaw that such a policy would be criticized as a denial of the right to strike.

'ENTITLED TO SUPPLY'

"When the public is denied alternative sources of supplies, it is entitled to demand that the supply not be shut off," he added.

The alternative, Stevenson suggested in a prepared speech for the Institute of Life Insurance, may be congressional legislation "which would not only stop strikes but might stop or seriously cripple collective bargaining too."

★ ★ ★

"The most likely prospect would be some form of compulsory arbitration, limited to the case itself. But our experience with compulsory arbitration is that it so undermines private collective bargaining that the government becomes the arbiter for all labor disputes, and then for price determinations as well," he said.

KIDDIE CAR-GO — It comes apart and this little girl is happy on Christmas day. The blocks can be loaded into the Car-Go.

Wolverine Shoe Corp. Stock Shift Proposed

ROCKFORD (AP) — Directors of Wolverine Shoe and Tanning Corp. at Rockford Tuesday announced approval of a 2 for 1 stock split and an increase in authorized capital stock of the corporation.

★ ★ ★

The proposal will be placed before stockholders at a special meeting Dec. 28. Present authorized capital is 500,000 shares of $10 par value common stock of which 224,523 shares are outstanding.

Approval of the proposal would become effective Dec. 31 making an authorized one million shares of $5 par value common stock with 449,046 shares outstanding.

★ ★ ★

Directors also have voted a dividend of 10 cents per share payable Feb. 1 to stockholders of record Jan. 18. This will be equal to the 20-cent quarterly dividend policy which has been in effect this year.

Saharah Has History

Eight-thousand-year-old rock paintings found in the Sahara Desert indicate that the now barren wasteland was once the home of elephants, giraffes and antelope.

Finch Lawyers Asking Trial Outside County

DR. R. BERNARD FINCH

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The first day of the Finch murder trial began in a crowded courtroom and ended in a Hollywood television studio.

In between, there was plenty of dramatic action Tuesday.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch's lawyers cited a public opinion poll they said showed the wealthy surgeon can't get a fair trial in Los Angeles County because of sensational pretrial publicity in newspapers radio and TV.

★ ★ ★

Defense attorneys argued among themselves about a request by Finch's lawyers to hold the trial outside the county.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Finch, 41, and his sweetheart, Carole Tregoff, 22, codefendant, are accused of slaying his pretty socialite wife Barbara, 33, last July 18 outside the Finches' luxurious home in nearby West Covina.

HOLD OPINION

Supporting their request for a new trial, Finch's attorneys cited a poll conducted by a Los Angeles marketing research group. They said the poll showed a large number of those people questioned already had an opinion about the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

Miss Tregoff's attorneys said she can't afford additional costs of going on trial outside the county and that she believed jurors here would be fair.

★ ★ ★

Toward the end of the session, the court saw a television station's filmed interview giving the prosecution's reasons for indicting Miss Tregoff.

★ ★ ★

Then it adjourned to a Hollywood television station to see a filmed interview of the district attorney.

Finch's attorneys said the films show public officials improperly expressing opinions of the alleged guilt of the defendants.

Superior Court Judge Walter R. Evans said he would postpone a decision on the request for a transfer until after questioning of prospective jurors.

Grand Rapids Plans in Ashes

Dreams of a New City Crushed in Suburban Ballot Boxes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Plans for a "new city" embracing Grand Rapids and major portions of five suburbs lay buried today in the wake of opposition votes from the outlying areas.

But, said Grand Rapids Mayor Stanley J. Davis, "after the heat of this election dies down and tax bills start coming in, people in outside areas will after a little cool thinking realize they made a mistake."

A light Grand Rapids vote yesterday was nearly 2 to 1 in favor of annexing the cities of East Grand Rapids and Wyoming along with portions of Paris, Grand Rapids and Walker townships. The city counted 18,729 votes in its 110 precincts which have approximately 75,000 registered voters.

The proposal required combined majorities in Grand Rapids and each suburb considered for annexation.

Wyoming, largest of the five with some 43,000 residents and an opposition leader, spurned annexation by a vote of 8,214 to 1,931. East Grand Rapids, a residential suburb, downed the proposal 2,343 to 1,688.

★ ★ ★

In areas considered for annexation, Paris Township voted 3,599 to 699 against the proposal. Walker Township defeated it 2,235 to 990 and Grand Rapids Township voted 1,973 to 1,456 against the new city.

They're Both 99, Will Celebrate 81st Anniversary

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP)—Friday is the 81st wedding anniversary of Peter and Celestia Peterson who have been married longer than any other couple in the nation.

He's 99 years old, she'll be 99 the 28th of this month.

They credit their long and happy life to "plain living and the strong support of the Gospel."

The southern Utah couple took wedding vows Dec. 11, 1878 at the nearby St. George temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

They've lived all their lives in or near Fairview. He was a farmer until he was 82.

Seven of their 10 sons and daughters are still living.

Saginaw Must Slash Urban Renewal Plan

SAGINAW (AP) — Saginaw has slashed its proposed urban renewal project by approximately two-thirds in cost and size because of objections from Washington.

The city council, acting after questions raised by the Federal Urban Renewal Agency, Monday night reduced the project to 124 acres and a cost of $2,466,492.

Original plans were for a project covering 379 acres and costing $6,132,000.

Of the reduced acreage, industry will be given 54 acres and 70 acres will be for residential purposes.

The federal agency had objected in the first instance to the size of the project and the method of financing. The financing of the original plan was to be by special assessment. Under the new plan, land will be sold and there will be no special assessments.

State Building Is Down 28 Per Cent Since 1958

DETROIT (AP) — F. W. Dodge Corp. reports contracts for future construction in October in Michigan totaled $115,001,000, a decrease of 28 per cent compared to October 1958.

Dodge said non-residential contracts were down 38 per cent and residential down 17 per cent.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT — Here's one Pakistani who really looks like he means it as he joins his countrymen shouting "we like Ike." This avid youth is typical of many cheering well wishers who greeted the President on his visit there. If he ever comes to America on a student exchange program, he should make a good cheerleader.

Bronze Plaque Wrong; Marker Needs Editing

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — How do you edit a bronze plaque?

Brown University's Van Wickle Gates are a hallowed campus landmark. Dignitaries assembled about them Monday to attach a plaque to a gatepost thanking Elmer G. MacDowell, '14, a university trustee, for restoring the wrought iron gates.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly the little ceremony collapsed. Somebody noticed the marker identified MacDowell as "Elmer J."

★ ★ ★

The plaque has gone back to the manufacturer to be corrected.

Ahead of Vision Test

It is estimated that almost half of all American drivers got their motor vehicle licenses before official tests of vision were required.

The American expression "That's tough!" is roughly the equivalent of the English expression "Oh crumbs!"

See Permanent Peace on Docks

Head of Ike's Inquiry Board Predicts Pact in Injunction Period

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Guy Farmer, chairman of President Eisenhower's board of inquiry in the dock dispute, says "Chances are very, very good" that East and Gulf Coast longshoremen will not resume their strike Dec. 27.

Farmer made the comment after sounding out both sides in a four-hour hearing. The board is gathering data for a special report on the dispute, which erupted into an eight-day strike before a Taft-Hartley injunction ended the walkout for 80 days.

Seymour Waldman, counsel for the International Longshoremen's Assn., did not share Farmer's optimism. He said southern shippers for the first time were trying to break the tradition of following the settlement negotiated by New York ship operators.

He and other union spokesmen indicated the dockers might resume their walkout when the injunction expires two days after Christmas.

Farmer said he based his optimism on the fact that tentative agreements already have been reached in ports employing more than half of the 70,000 dockworkers originally involved in the dispute.

"The chances are very, very good for complete settlement of the whole thing," Farmer said.

Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" was excluded from the children's room of the Brooklyn Public Library in 1876 and banned altogether by the Denver Public Library.

it has always been our belief that Sunday should be, as our Churches teach us, a day of rest, of relaxation, of meditation. We feel that our employees are entitled to that rest and relaxation; that they, too, should be free to follow the teachings of their faith, just as other Americans are. We support the position of the Churches, who oppose the current rash of Sunday Openings among food stores. However, we do recognize that some people, due to their hours of employment or other circumstances, find it difficult to shop for food during our normal store hours. To afford them an opportunity to do their food shopping without breaking the Sabbath, beginning this week. . .

Tribunal Backs Down From Death Demands

Cuban Firing Squads Still 'Out of Work'

JAILED IN CUBA — At far left is American soldier of fortune Frank Austen Young, 38, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Miami, Fla., who was sentenced to 30 years in prison by a military tribunal in Cuba. At far right is Peter Lambton, 24, British-born American of Nassau who was given a 25-year prison term.

RAFAEL DEL PINO

HAVANA (AP)—There was no work for the firing squad today in Cuba following completion of the first two trials since Fidel Castro's revival of military justice for his enemies.

★ ★ ★

Military tribunals rejected prosecution demands of death for two Americans Tuesday and sentenced them to 30 years in prison. Another American was sentenced to 25 years. The tribunals also sentenced 18 Cubans to prison and acquitted 19.

★ ★ ★

In Pinar del Rio, Frank Austen Young, 38, of Miami, Fla., got 30 years for allegedly leading an anti-Castro band in western Cuba.

Young, who has a wife and three children in Miami, said he would rather be shot than serve the full sentence. But he added: "I don't think I am going to spend much time in prison because the Castro regime is going to last only about another 30 weeks."

Peter John Lambton, 24, British-born American of Nassau, got 25 years on charges of participating in the activities of Young's band. He told the court he was there only to take pictures.

In Havana, a Cuban-born American from Miami, Rafael del Pino, 33, was sentenced to 30 years on charges of flying anti-government Cubans out of the country. He is still stretcher-bound from injuries received when he landed his light plane on a highway last July and was ambushed by Castro forces. The death sentence also was asked for him.

The Pinar del Rio court spared the life of Fernando Pruna Bertot, 24, a Cuban who once attended Columbia University. He was given 30 years.

The tribunals weighed their decision for almost a week, a far cry from the 8 minutes taken last April to sentence to death Alan Robert Nye of Witing, Ind. Nye was later deported.

There were no indications the Americans sentenced Tuesday would get the same release. But lawyers for all three planned to ask the supreme military tribunal for a review. The tribunal could increase the sentences or even give the death penalty.

Airport Hanger Lease Approved

Five-Year Contract Is Expected to Yield City Increase in Revenue

As promised, city commissioners last night approved an $18,000-a-year lease with Aerodynamics, Inc., for use of Hangar No. 2 at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

The five-year lease, which the company can renew for a second five year, is expected to net the city far more in revenues than the net $1,800 a year it has been getting from the smaller tenants occupying the various offices and hangar spaces.

Under the lease, the company guarantees the city three months' rent; undertakes to pay all minor repairs plus maintenance and utility costs, and allows the city to continue using its maintenance shop in the hangar for $104 a month.

The city is contemplating a $50,000 construction project next to the hangar, involving a new maintenance shop and hangar and office facilities for two old-time tenants that now will have to move out of the hangar—Northern Flying Service and Land O'Lakes Flying Club.

The two firms, which have occupied choice first-floor offices, have agreed to rent second-floor rear offices until the building project is completed next summer.

Aerodynamics, a new company, plans to sell and service aircraft and electronic equipment. It plans to use only a small portion of the hangar at first and has agreed to sublease space it doesn't need to the companies and private fliers that have used the hangar in the past.

★ ★ ★

The lease means that the two big city hangars are now wholly leased out to big, private concerns. The other big hangar—No. 1—is leased to Robbins Aviation Corp.

Curtice on Stand Today for Anderson Inquest

SOMBRA, Ont. (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice, retired General Motors president, was expected to take the stand today as an inquest into the duck hunting death of Harry W. Anderson opened.

★ ★ ★

Anderson, retired GM vice president, was killed while hunting with Curtice in a duck blind off St. Anne Island Nov. 18. Curtice said Anderson stood up just as he fired and was struck in the head.

Dr. E. S. Clydale of Alvinston, Ont. was conducting the inquest.

Ontario Attorney General Kelso Roberts ordered the inquest. Roberts said such hearings are standard province policy in the case of violent deaths.

Awaiting Trial for Taking ADC Funds Charge

A Pontiac woman factory worker is awaiting trial in Circuit Court for failure to notify the Bureau of Social Aid that she was employed while still receiving $898 in welfare payments for her three young children.

Mrs. Leah Lathon of 35 Deland Ct. is free on a $100 bond after standing mute when arraigned on a charge of fraudulent receipt of welfare funds. Judge H. Russel Holland entered a plea of innocent for her.

Richard P. Condit, assistant county prosecutor in charge of welfare cases, said Mrs. Lathon, who is separated from her husband, held a job at General Motors Truck & Coach Division and did not notify the department of it. She received the money from Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) funds.

Condit said if Mrs. Lathon demands a jury trial it will not be held until February when the next jury is impaneled.

Restrict Toy Store 'Arsenal'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The missile age is not for the toy department, in the view of Washington authorities.

Last week a 14-year-old boy killed a dog with a steel-tipped arrow he had just bought. That set off a check of toy stores which have long been forbidden to sell arrows, darts and BB shot to children.

Police making the survey found counters loaded with missiles, rockets, cannons and jet planes. At least one item—a chemical-powered 12-inch plastic rocket—went on the list barred for sale to anyone below the age of 18.

"I tested one and it went away over the courthouse," said Clark King, assistant corporation counsel. "It could really be dangerous if fired horizontally."

Faces Probe Friday in Oxford Man's Death

The hunter charged with involuntary manslaughter in the shooting of former Oxford Township resident Jack Williams, 62, of Mullet Lake, faces examination in Cheboygan Municipal court Friday.

According to State Police at Cheboygan, the accused, Roy Bauers, 52, of Carp Lake, has admitted firing the fatal shot when he saw bushes move.

Pontiac General Counts 313 Beds

Remodeling Adds 25; Next Increase on East Wing's 5th Floor

For the first time, Pontiac General Hospital has a bed complement of more than 300.

There were 313 beds available today, thanks to recent completion of remodeling on the east wing's third and fourth floors, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

Adult patients were moved into these areas and pediatric patients, temporarily located in a portion of the east wing's third floor, were moved back to their permanent spot in the west wing.

The change added 25 beds to the previous complement of 288, said Euler.

The next bed increase will probably be on the east wing's fifth floor, said Euler. This area is finished and ready for occupancy, but probably won't be used until the patient load picks up after the slack holiday season, he explained.

A new nursing station and 31 additional beds will be added on the fifth floor "as soon as demand warrants the change," he said.

The hospital is expecting to put its new, 12-bed intensive care unit into operation Feb. 1, he said. This unit will be a highly-staffed area for critical patients.

The hospital expects to have a 390-400 bed facility when the expansion program is completed later this year.

Drug Firm Says It Cut Prices

Merck President Tells Senate of Voluntary Cortisone Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—Merck & Co., Inc., said today that after introducing cortisone for the treatment of arthritis in 1949 it voluntarily reduced the price 90 per cent in three years.

John T. Connor, president of the Rahway, N.J., firm, told the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee:

"At no time since the first sale in 1949 have we raised the price of any of our steroid products."

The subcommittee is looking into the pricing of cortical steroids in the first phase of a broad inquiry aimed at finding out whether there is profiteering by drug manufacturers.

★ ★ ★

Connor contended an objective examination of the facts "will reveal a highly competitive industry, free of excessive concentration, discovering, developing, producing and marketing an ever-increasing quantity of medically, socially and economically valuable products at a stable or lowering price level."

He said that since 1940 Merck's research and development expenditures have been rising roughly 2½ times as fast as sales and profits.

Connor testified that after the development of cortisone, Merck's directors adopted a policy statement providing the company should not attempt to maintain an exclusive position in the drug, but should enable competitors to get into the business.

★ ★ ★

The policy statement also provided, he said, that Merck should do all it could to make cortisone and the latest drugs available to the public as quickly as possible and at reasonable prices.

Connor said Merck's introductory price for cortisone in 1949 was $200 a gram, adding this was about enough to reimburse the company for out-of-pocket production expenses at the time.

"We reduced that price very rapidly for the first three years as we were able to make improvements in production efficiency," he said. "By the middle of 1952, we had reduced it eight times to a low of $20 a gram, a reduction of 90 per cent."

★ ★ ★

All eight price cuts were initiated by Merck and were not made under pressure from other drug firms, he added.

Plan Meets Objections

OK Waterford Sewer Link

City commissioners last night granted Waterford Township permission to hook a new line onto the Pontiac sewage treatment system. But there were some objections.

Approval was granted to connect a proposed sanitary sewer on Tilden street, Huron to Novara. This is the heart of the Huron Gardens neighborhood accused of polluting Crystal Lake through septic tank seepage and overflow into an open drain.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Commissioner Milton R. Henry, whose districts are affected by the pollution, won the approval.

But Commissioners Floyd P. Miles and Wesley J. Wood objected to adding out-of-town loads to the already overloaded treatment facilities.

AREAS WITHOUT SERVICE

Both noted that areas within the city are going without sewage service.

City Manager Walter K. Willman pointed out that the city has been campaigning for Waterford Township to clear up its pollution through substitution of sewer lines for septic tanks.

"Cutting down on pollution will benefit the whole city," said Rowston.

It is the first outside addition to the city's treatment load since the new agreement for service to Waterford Township was adopted two years ago.

It is also the first outside load accepted since the state ordered Pontiac to expand its treatment facilities to curb Clinton River pollution.

Willman noted these facts, but emphasized that, comparatively speaking, the added load would be slight.

New Warning on Real Estate

Urban Renewal Area Residents Told to Be Wary of Shysters

A new warning against hasty real estate deals was issued last night by Commissioner Robert A. Landry to residents of the urban renewal area.

★ ★ ★

"Don't sell unless you're sure," he warned after detailing what he called "unscrupulous" maneuvers by purported real estate operators to persuade homeowners to sell at less than fair market prices.

The city has cautioned against such offers by unauthorized agencies before. Landry said that the warning apparently has had little effect, since there have recently been "numerous" reports that operators are still active.

"They trade on fear and rumor," Landry said.

He added that the operators pretend to have knowledge of the city's urban renewal plans and tell homeowners to sell now because their property is slated for condemnation.

Occasionally they try to persuade homeowners by falsely informing them that "undesirables" are about to move next door, he said.

Landry repeated city assurances that no private information has been distributed in advance to anyone, since final plans have not yet been approved by the federal government.

He emphasized that no one connected with the city is attempting to purchase land and urged homeowners contemplating a sale to first consult with the city's Planning Department.

"They will be able to give everyone the best advice concerning the wisdom of selling now," he said.

Charges Ike's Trek Anti-China Scheme

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China accused the United States today of using President Eisenhower's current tour to the detriment of the Peiping regime.

★ ★ ★

The charge was made by Peiping Radio, official voice of Red China, in reporting on President Eisenhower's visit to Pakistan.

Peiping Radio said "The U. S. ruling clique has been making use of the current tour to openly carry out a anti-China scheme."

Christmas Songfest Slated at McVittie

New Parking Lot Awaits Loop Route

A move to plan a new municipal parking lot bogged down last night because of doubts concerning the exact route of the proposed downtown loop highway.

City Manager Walter K. Willman asked the Commission for authority to begin preliminary negotiations for land and right-of-way to place the new lot — a small one — behind business establishments on Orchard Lake avenue west of Saginaw street.

Merchants have asked for it and have offered to split the costs 50-50, he said.

But Willman was asked by the Commission to try first to obtain from the State Highway Department its plans, if there are any definite ones, for the loop road.

In that neighborhood, it has been proposed that the loop cut towards Saginaw street just east of the Grand Trunk Railroad as an extension of Cass avenue.

"We don't want to spend money on a parking lot, only to have the lot disrupted by the loop highway in a couple years," said Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

ARE SYMPATHETIC

Henry and other commissioners who expressed themselves on the subject of a parking lot, all sympathized with the area's need for off-street parking facilities.

But Henry and Commissioner Robert A. Landry voiced strong objections to any planning for the lot before the loop route is definitely known.

In other business, commissioners appointed James Newport, 384 S. Anderson St., to the post of process server, filling the position left vacant by the retirement of Fred A. Smiley on Dec. 1. Smiley plans to move to Florida.

Newport, a custodial worker at the Public Safety Building, was nominated by the two municipal judges.

A hearing Jan. 12 was scheduled to air a request from Universal Oil Seal Co., 34 W. Kennett Rd., for the vacating of a city alley and a small, city-owned plot located within its grounds. The move was recommended by the Planning Commission.

Five assessment rolls were confirmed. On motion of Henry, five annual payments were scheduled for assessments covering a sanitary sewer constructed on Harvey street south of Ditmar.

The other rolls covered a sanitary sewer on Richmond avenue, Brooklyn to Walton; grading and graveling of Arlene street, Perry to Madison; a sidewalk on the west side of Lake street, from the south end to the Michigan Airlines Railroad near Bethune School; and a sidewalk on the west side of Stirling avenue, Madison to Mt. Clemens.

Approval was given to transfer ownership of the SDD-SDM liquor license at 284 State St. from Robert C. Gifford to Frank Rulkowski Jr.

Commissioner William W. Donaldson, planning a four-week trip to Florida, was given an official leave of absence.

Democrat Wins Vote for State Legislature

DETROIT (AP) — Democrat David S. Holmes Jr., 45, was elected to the Michigan House of Representatives yesterday. He fills a vacancy left by the death of Rep. Charline White.

Holmes defeated Republican James P. Allen, 42, in the 11th district special election, 1,192 to 348. Holmes had led 13 candidates in the Democratic primary. Allen was the only GOP candidate in the heavily Democratic district.

Election officials said the voter turnout was one of the lightest in Detroit history. Only 1,559 of the district's 52,907 registered voters went to the polls.

Ike's Visit Cheers It Up

Karachi's Out of the Dumps

KARACHI, Pakistan (UP)— President Eisenhower's visit to Karachi seems to be just what the doctor ordered to keep this Arabian Sea port from getting an inferiority complex.

For Karachi is a city of mixed fortunes—and has just lost its status as Pakistan's capital. So the chance to play host to a U. S. president is giving it a lift.

Karachi is a big, bustling, overgrown city of two million. Before World War II few in the West had heard of it, much less expected an American president to visit it.

Karachi was born in 1725. For the first 113 years of its existence it was little more than a fort at the west mouth of the ancient Indus River. Then the British started turning it into a major port. By 1941 it had grown into a palm-fringed garden of 350,000.

POPULATION EXCHANGED

It was a fairly orderly city. But, then, in 1947, came independence for the Indian subcontinent—and chaos.

Karachi had been about three quarters Hindu. It found itself within boundaries laid out for a Moslem Pakistan. The Hindus moved out to India. For several days it was a ghost city. Then the Moslems from India started coming in. This exchange of populations went off relatively smoothly, without the bloodshed which reddened Punjab and Bengal.

Karachi suddenly found itself bloated into the capital of a country of more than 80 millions. Slums sprouted on its outskirts. It lost its orderly appearance.

Its geographical position boosted its stature by making it a commercial center for this part of the world as well as the capital. The world's main airlines, building up a network of routes to the Far East, made Karachi an important crossroads and the busiest air center of South Asia.

★ ★ ★

In coming into Karachi the airlines followed an example laid down in 1938 by the planners of the British Empire lighter-than-air service. A big shed to house dirigibles still stands at Karachi Airport as a memorial to this abandoned service.

What hurts Karachi residents these days is a decision, made earlier this year by Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan, to move the country's capital to Rawalpindi, a cool mountain city in the north.

Khan and a skeleton government already have moved there and officially Karachi is no longer the capital although many offices and embassies remain hre.

★ ★ ★

But once again—at least today and tomorrow—Karachi is Pakistan's first city.

DAUGHTER USES below-window space for a whimsical Santa. She cut Mr. Claus from red and white felt; attached him to all metal baffle of built-in air conditioner. Baffle on thinline model can be decorated to match room.

Cranberry Crop OK for Holiday

FDA Has Cleared Tons for Safe Eating Over Christmas Season

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Housewives are expected to have plenty of safe cranberries to serve during the Christmas holidays, Food and Drug Administration (FDA) officials said today.

FDA agents so far have cleared about 9,384 tons of processed cranberries and 13,827 tons of fresh berries for safe eating.

Seizures of contaminated supplies included 8.6 tons of processed cranberries and 133.3 tons of fresh berries.

★ ★ ★

The FDA cranberry inspection began early last month when Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, announced that aminotriazole, a weed killer which induces cancer in rats, had been improperly used on part of the crop.

★ ★ ★

Up to Thanksgiving Day, inspectors worked round-the-clock testing supplies of cranberries and certifying safe lots.

Since Thanksgiving, FDA workers have gone back to regular eight-hour day schedules. They do not expect to engage in another crash program for cranberry testing for the Yuletide season.

In addition to the government's inspection program, growers themselves are policing supplies for possible residue of the weed killer.

Yule Sales Booming Say Banks and Stores

DETROIT (UPI)—It's going to be a big Christmas in Michigan homes, a spot check of retail sales around the state showed today.

The steel strike apparently has not slowed the rush of Christmas shoppers, and, in fact, recalls of laid-off auto workers appeared to be giving retail sales a shot in the arm.

The Federal Reserve Bank here said department store sales for the week ended Nov. 28 were about 8 per cent higher than for the corresponding week last year when the effects of the recession still were being felt.

At Grand Rapids, spokesmen for two of the largest department stores said they expected Christmas season sales to be more than 9 per cent better than last year.

At Lansing, Christmas savings paid out by banks were up 15 per cent over last year.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Reserve Bank official here said "all the reports we have are that Christmas sales are better everywhere, conditions are better despite the steel strike and the auto industry layoffs."

A Detroit Board of Commerce spokesman said a check showed that in most cases Christmas sales were running from 10 to 25 per cent ahead of last year.

At Lansing, most merchants reported sales up 5 or 10 per cent over last year on the Nov. 28 weekend, first of the Christmas shopping season.

★ ★ ★

Also at Lansing, Michigan's deputy revenue commissioner Clarence W. Lock said preliminary reports indicated retail Christmas trade throughout the state was "pretty good."

Honors Parking Ticket

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Suburban Cheektowaga police recently received this payment for a parking ticket: a $2 check drawn on a New York City bank by Lloyd M. Erickson, formerly of Buffalo but now living in Turkey.

Dentifrice Ads Are 'Misleading'

Head of Dental Group Wants U.S. to Demand Proof of Claims

NEW YORK (UPI)—The president of the American Dental Assn. called Monday for a sharp revision of national policy on dentifrice advertising so that the burden of proof of products is placed on the manufacturers instead of the government.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Paul H. Jeserich of Ann Arbor, Mich., told delegates to the 35th annual greater New York dental meeting that under the existing arrangement, the Federal Trade Commission must prove advertising claims to be false before it can enforce actions against advertisers.

"There is no sound reason," he said, "why advertisers who choose to make representations as to the health benefits of their products should not, upon reasonable cause shown, be called representations with scientifically acceptable evidence."

Jesserich recommended that the FTC be empowered to request scientific proof of advertised claims from dentifrice manufacturers.

He also advocated congressional legislation permitting federal agencies to control distorted advertising and the introduction of codes of fair advertising practices for dentifrices.

Jesserich said that a high standard of responsibility should be both expected and demanded, but "unfortunately, that standard has been lacking."

He said that the so-called "miracle" dentifrices had been disappointing. None of the products has lived up to their advance billing, he said.

Calls Park Proposal Great Threat to UP

IRON MOUNTAIN (UPI) — U. J. Noblet, head of the forestry department at Michigan Tech, has protested the proposed acquisition of about 20,000 acres of Upper Peninsula timberland for federal park purposes.

★ ★ ★

Noblet said the area includes 100,000 acres in the Huron Mountains and 96,000 acres in the Pictured Rocks area near Munising.

"More than 38 per cent of the Upper Peninsula is already in state or federal ownership," he told a weekend meeting of the Timber Producers Association of the Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin.

"The diversion of more acreage for state and federal park usage would seriously affect the wood industry of the region and the economy of the Upper Peninsula," Noblet said.

He said the benefits to be derived, if the areas came under the federal park system, "would in no way compensate for their loss as timber-producing land."

The proposal to give the areas federal park status was made last month.

★ ★ ★

The proposal also included the Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes near Glen Lake in the northern Lower Peninsula.

New No. 2 Post for America?

Magazine Says Ike Wants to Create Job of Prime Minister Rank

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Eisenhower will ask Congress to approve a new cabinet post which would outrank the vice presidency and all other cabinet offices, News week magazine said Monday.

★ ★ ★

The new cabinet officer would oversee over the State Department, the foreign aid program, and the international offices of several U.S. departments and agencies, the magazine said. His title might be "first secretary of the government."

Eisenhower will propose the change in hopes of freeing the next President from some of the ever-increasing details which burden the White House, the report said.

Newsweek said the First Secretary's rank would equal that of a Prime Minister, and he would be authorized to sit in for the President at international meetings.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower envisions the officer as "a man of 'commanding' prestige, accepted by Congress and other governments to speak for the first executive," the magazine said.

Big Unions Needed, Hoffa Tells Workers

LINDEN, N.J. (UPI)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa said Monday night big unions are needed to deal with big business.

Hoffa told a group of workers from the Esso Standard Oil Co.'s Bayway refinery that their present union, the Independent Petroleum Workers, is too small and has no power at the bargaining table. He said workers can fulfill their needs with a big company only if they have a big union.

★ ★ ★

The workers will vote in a National Labor Relations Board election Feb. 25 to choose either the Independent Petroleum Workers Union, the Teamsters, the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers (AFL-CIO) or the Operating Engineers (AFL-CIO).

Mamie Pays Visit to Sick Mom Again

DENVER (UPI) — Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower arrived by train Tuesday for another visit with her mother, Mrs. Elivera Doud, who has been in ill health in the past year.

★ ★ ★

Denver friends said the President's wife planned to go directly to her mother's home on Lafayette St. Mrs. Eisenhower looked somewhat tired from the train journey.

★ ★ ★

This is the latest of several visits she has made to Denver this year to spend time with her mother. The White House has said Mrs. Eisenhower plans to return to Washington prior to the arrival of President Eisenhower from his trip abroad Dec. 22.

Detroit Gasket Buys Division of Arvey Co.

DETROIT (UPI) — Purchase of Arvey's Corp.'s Automotive Division by Detroit Gasket and Manufacturing Co. was announced Monday.

The firms said in a joint announcement that Detroit Gasket will purchase machinery, equipment, inventories and supplies at Arvey plants in Nevada and Duluth, Minn.

Birmingham, Rochester, Holly Among Area Losers

Walled Lake and Lake Orion Win

Good showings by area high school cage teams were the exception rather than the rule last night.

Two of these exceptions were turned in by Walled Lake and Lake Orion. The Vikings displayed considerable improvement in downing Cranbrook 68-60 while the Dragons were opening their season with a 57-48 triumph at Oak Park.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham, Seaholm, Rochester, Holly and Lapeer all were losers while Ortonville made it two straight successes.

Walled Lake, beaten at Milford last week, came through for new coach Jim Horein in his home debut. The game served as a good tuneup for the team's Inter-Lakes League opener at Waterford Friday.

★ ★ ★

Bill Allen paced all the scorers with 24 points. Eleven different Cranes got points but John Hayden and Jim Williams were the only consistent boys with 17 apiece.

The Vikings led all the way but had to fight off a strong 3rd quarter surge by the losers. Ken Johnson's rebounding was a key factor in the victory. Cranbrook is now 0-3.

Lake Orion made several mistakes and had trouble on the foul line but still managed a good start sparked by Tom Reed. The 6-3 junior center swished 22 points and grabbed 17 rebounds. Hal Sweet's 15 topped Oak Park, which dropped its 3rd straight.

★ ★ ★

Oak Park took a 12-9 lead in to the second quarter before Reed got hot. Orion moved in front to stay midway in the period. The Parkers cut the difference to two early in the 3rd and sliced a 15-point deficit to six in the final but could not pull it out.

Dondero formed a rude welcoming committee for Birmingham in its initial outing romping 52-31. The Oaks raced to a 34-9 halftime advantage and the "frigid" Maples were finished. John Meadows, who topped the scoring with 21 points and 26 rebounds, had 15 of his total at the intermission.

Rochester showed little of the form displayed in the triumph over Avondale in bowling at Davison, 61-42. The Falcons were ahead once at 8-5 but were out of the running by the third period as coach Gene Konley emptied the bench. Bill Deneen topped RHS with 13 as Reg Dixon slumped from 13 opening night to one.

Holly went all out to whip former coach LeRoy Decker but fell short by three in a 57-54 loss to Fenton. The Broncos held a short-lived edge in the third quarter following a 28-28 tie at halftime. Holly's Ron Morlan edged Jeff Evans of Fenton with 28 points to 27.

Flint Beecher hit 53 per cent of its shots in belting Lapeer 81-54 in the lidlifter for both schools. It was no contest as indicated by a 43-24 count following two quarters. Tom Connors tallied 16 and Dave Fleming 15 in defeat.

Ortonville started right from the opening whistle on the way to a 73-50 trouncing of visiting Goodrich. Earl Richardson's 21 and Mead Meyers with 15 helped make it a fairly easy task. The Blackhawks hit 23 of 34 free throws.

★ ★ ★

Madison Lamphere had a happy opening with a 57-38 pasting of city rival Madison in the 1st of an expected long series. MHS led 10-8 after eight minutes but Lamphere took over from there piling up a 23-9 2nd period. Carmen Bartolone hooped 13, John Hawkins 11 and Lee Spranger 10 in a well balanced attack. Jerry Mattison of the losers topped both teams with 15.

Warren Fitzgerald downed Royal Oak Kimball 53-45, Imlay City took a 71-29 battering at Marysville, Royal Oak Shrine lost in the final seconds and Vasser defeated Millington 53-46 in other games.

Fitzgerald was in front all the way despite a combined 24-point effort by Gary Moody and Bill Chilton of Kimball. Imlay was down 34-11 at the half as an example of its ineptness. Roger Lomerson hit 12 for the Spartans. Although Mike Zink and Bryce McGinnis garnered 11 each, Millington never was ahead.

Shrine fell before Wyandotte St. Patrick 52-49 after leading 49-48 in a see-saw affair. Stan Gracki canned 23 for Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Lakeville scored a 52-46 victory over North Branch in a non-league contest. Mike Ribner had 17 for North Branch while D. Price paced the winners with 16.

Unitas Sets Record for TD Throws

Conerly Now Top Passer for NFL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — New York's Charlie Conerly has displaced Baltimore's Johnny Unitas as the National Football League's top passer, but Unitas has set a league record.

Conerly completed 14 of 21 passes of 271 yards against Cleveland Sunday as he led the Giants to their second straight Eastern Conference title.

With one game to go, the former Mississippi star has gained 1,499 yards on 98 completed passes in 171 attempts, an 8.77 average, league statistics showed today.

He thus jumped from third to first in the passing division, relinquishing his old slot to Unitas, who has an 8.20 average on 180 completions in 340 attempts. He has gained 2,789 yards, the best in the league.

The Colts, however, scored three times Saturday on passes from their star quarterback, thus boosting Unitas' total to a record 29 touchdown passes.

The old NFL record of 28 for one season was held by Sid Luckman.

Detroit's Earl Morrall is second with 51 completions in 111 attempts for 924 yards and an all-important 8.32 average.

Jimmy Brown of Cleveland, still holds a comfortable edge in the ground gaining department. The former Syracuse All-America has picked up 1,177 yards on 257 carries for a 4.6 average.

Baltimore's ace pass receiver, Ray Berry, is far ahead in his specialty. Berry has caught 63 passes for 936 yards and 12 touchdowns.

The kicking toe of New York's Pat Summerall has kept him in first place among the scorers with 84 points.

Royals Survive Hawks' Late Surge

Fast Finish for Celtics

NEW YORK (AP)—The fast breaking Boston Celtics erupted in the final period and ran away from the New York Knickerbockers 121-105 in the second game of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader Tuesday night.

The Cincinnati Royals withstood a second half surge by St. Louis and beat the Hawks 105-101 in the opener at Madison Square Garden before 14,364.

The second game was nip-and-tuck before the sharp-shooting Celtics broke it wide open in the last 12 minutes. Boston was leading 94-83 when the Eastern Division leaders went on to a 12-3 spurt to pull safely away.

The Celtics continued to pour it on as they outjumped the Knicks and kept on hitting consistently.

★ ★ ★

Boston scored its fifth straight victory over New York without the services of Coach Red Auerbach for more than half the game. Auerbach was ejected by Referee Norm Drucker late in the second period for disputing calls by the official. Drucker had called a technical on Auerbach and when the volatile coach continued his tirade, the referee thumbed him from the bench.

New York led 23-22 at the end of the first quarter, but the Celtics had a 54-50 advantage at half-time. Boston entered the final period in front, 86-83.

Frank Ramsey, clicking on one-handers, topped the winners with 27 points, and Bob Cousy, in addition to piloting the Celts after the intermission, scored 24. Willie Naulls and Kenny Sears were high for New York with 22 apiece.

The Celtics hauled down 103 rebounds to tie their own league record.

Warriors Release Former PCH Cager

Guy Sparrow, former Pontiac Central basketball star, has been put on waivers by the Philadelphia Warriors. Sparrow, 26 years old, was secured last year in a trade with the New York Knickerbockers.

★ ★ ★

Having a total of 30 points in the National Basketball Assn., Sparrow has a point average of 3.0 in his first 10 games this year.

★ ★ ★

The release of Sparrow cuts the Warrior squad to the league limit of 10 men required by Dec. 15.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Erich Strederer of Michigan State has been named to the All-Midwest soccer team. Selections were announced here yesterday by coach Gene Kennedy of Michigan State.

Huskies Drop 62-54 Verdict to Hazel Park

Loss on Enemy Court Is Second of Season for Northern

By BILL CORNWELL

"I won't alibi for these boys any more," declared Dick Hall, Pontiac Northern's disgruntled basketball coach. "When they quit scrapping like they did here tonight, they deserve exactly what they got."

Hall was unhappy about his team's performance last night at Hazel Park as the Huskies absorbed a 62-54 lacing from the Parkers for their 2nd loss of the 1959-60 season in the same number of tries.

Unless some improvements are rapidly forthcoming, it does indeed look like a long and dreary campaign for the Huskies.

★ ★ ★

They had their good moments yesterday on the small Hazel Park floor, but there was a virtual collapse in the 3rd quarter and that was all the Parkers needed to spur them on to their 2nd victory in as many starts.

Northern played a respectable 1st half, but fell asleep defensively after intermission and the Parkers erected a lead too great for PNH to overcome.

It was a sloppy, rough-and-tumble contest from start to finish with a total of 35 personal fouls being called, 19 against PNH.

★ ★ ★

Three players accounted for all but six of Hazel Park's point production. Bob Fulcher led the way with 24 points, followed by Jim Zeiter and Bill Boldt at 16 apiece. Zeiter collected six pointers on the free throw line.

Northern also had three cagers in double figures in the scoring column. Steve Thompson was Northern's top scorer with 18 points, half of them in the 4th period, while Jim Capistrant and Mike Fedynik each made 12.

The Huskies held a 13-10 lead at the end of the 1st quarter with Capistrant's two field goals in the final 30 seconds providing the edge.

Fedynik netted his 1st field goal of the season in the opening seconds of the 2nd stanza to boost Northern's margin to 15-10, but the Parkers quickly rallied to tie the score at 15-15.

Fulcher's three-point play late in the 2nd session handed Hazel Park a 26-23 lead and the Huskies trailed the rest of the way. The Parkers led at halftime by a 29-25 count.

Northern's defense fell apart in the 3rd quarter and the Parkers began to run with marked success. They scored seven straight points at the start of the 3rd period and enjoyed a 49-36 advantage entering the 4th stanza. Northern never could make up the difference.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies sagged badly after intermission and Hazel Park took almost full command of the backboards to win going away.

★ ★ ★

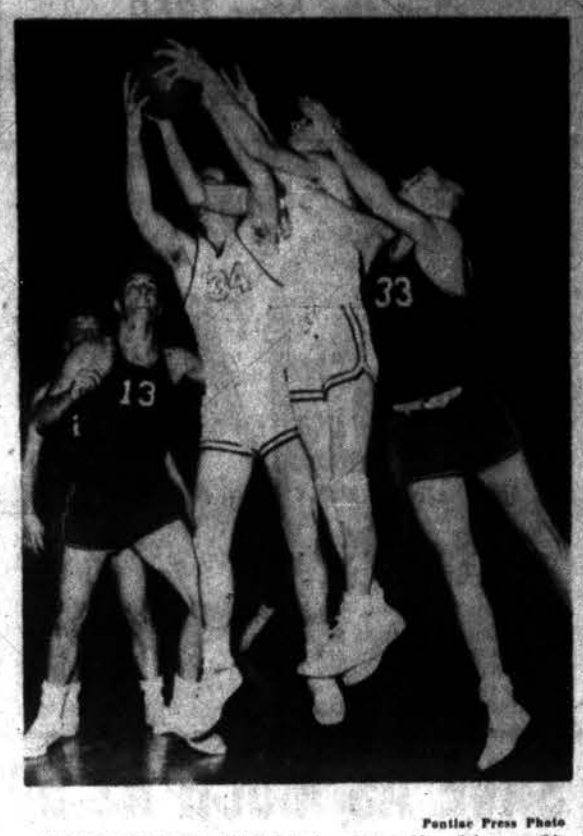

Northern opens its Inter-Lakes Conference schedule this Friday night at Southfield.

VIKING CONTROL—Walled Lake cagers Ken Johnson (34) and Fred Backman seem to have control of a rebound as Cranbrook's Dick Gildersleeve (33) tries to push the ball out of their reach. John Hayden is on the left (13). Walled Lake beat the Cranes, 68-60, last night.

Lots of Palaver Leaves Detroit Same Old Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger brass stirred up lots of muddy water at the winter baseball meetings. But when it settles it looks as if the Tigers will be the same old Tigers.

President Bill DeWitt, general manager Rick Ferrell and manager Jimmie Dykes went to the Florida meeting seeking a first baseman, a shortstop and a relief pitcher. They left Miami last night lugging the contracts of first baseman Steve Bilko, shortstop Chico Fernandez and reliever Ray Semproch.

The Tigers said they were happy with their new acquisitions.

Bilko, a six-time major league flop, weighs about 240 and rarely has hit his weight. He joins Gail Harris and Larry Osborne as a candidate to make Tiger fans forget Hank Greenberg.

Fernandez, obtained in a trade with Philadelphia, provides fresh blood at shortstop. He belted .211 for the Phillies last year and has been known to have a sulking attitude. The latter may make him a Tiger regular. Fernandez will go to spring training filling the role of Billy Martin in 1958 and Rocky Bridges in 1959.

★ ★ ★

Semproch, who hurled three victories last season for the Phillies, joins the Tigers' bullpen brigade.

DeWitt and Ferrell returned to Detroit after trade negotiations with the St. Louis Cardinals broke off. The Tigers wanted first baseman-outfielder Bill White, outfielder Curt Flood and pitcher Marshall Bridges. White hit National League pitching last season well enough to average near .300.

The Cards demanded outfielder Charlie Maxwell and pitcher Paul Foytack from the Tigers. Detroit demurred and offered reliever Ray Narleski in place of Foytack. Thus ended the last bit of trade talk for the Tigers and the brass went home.

Comeback Win in 'D' League

Welden's spotted the Blackhawks a 25-22 halftime lead, then came storming back for a 43-36 victory in a Class D City League basketball game Tuesday night at Lincoln Junior High.

Three Welden cagers hit double figures, Roger Hart taking scoring honors with 11 points and Ken Shaw and Bob Davidson each getting 10. Steve Pocs bagged 10 for the Hawks.

The Pledges had easy sailing in the other Class D contest as they raced to a 52-24 triumph over the Aces. Mike MacManuo sparked the winners with 14 points.

Tonight's "D" action at Lincoln matches the Jets and Eastside at 7 o'clock and Lee's Sales and the Hawks at 8:30. In Class C activity at Northern, the Pontiac Police meet Smith's at 7 p.m. and Field's faces T & C at 8:30.

Red Wing 'Cousins' May Be Tough Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings claim the Chicago Black Hawks as their best buddies in this National Hockey League season of changing fortunes.

The Wings have whipped the Hawks four times in five games this season and meet their cousins here again tonight.

But the Wings won't find it as easy as before.

So far this season Detroit, Montreal and then Toronto have taken turns as the hottest club in the NHL. The Canadiens, of course, have taken a commanding hold on first place.

The Hawks, meanwhile, were languishing a distant last. Now Chicago's time has come. The lowly Hawks have been the winningest club in the league since Thanksgiving, and have pulled into a fifth-place tie.

Crane Skaters Triumph

Cranbrook scored its second win in as many starts in the International Prep Hockey League yesterday by defeating Notre Dame High, 3-2.

Captain Andy Billesdon got two goals and John Plew the other for the Cranes.

All-Star Pin Points

By BILLY WELU
ON THE LINE

LINEUP — Billy Welu points to the location on the lane over which a line bowler rolls.

The pin bowler depends on accuracy and instinct, as well as luck.

The spot bowler is the man of science and precision. The line bowler is a combination of both.

The difference between spot and line bowling is very subtle. The spot bowler knows that if he approaches the foul line in a certain way and drops his ball on a certain spot, with a certain amount of hook or curve, he will achieve his objective.

The line bowler draws an imaginary line from the spot to the pins and attempts to roll the ball over that line. The pin bowler aims directly at the pins.

Determine the value, to you, of any of the three by the degree of scoring consistency. Start with pin bowling and slowly move up to either spot or line bowling. Once you've discovered what's best for you, let that be it. Don't switch with every pitch.

The only way to develop coordination, timing and harmony is to get to know what you're doing and stick to it.

League to Study Chicago Firm's $3 Million Bid

Conference Is Still Against NCAA Policy for TV Athletics

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten, long an opponent of the NCAA's television policy, opens its annual meetings tonight with discussions of a 3 million dollar television offer.

The Big Ten television Committee will ponder the offer made by a Chicago advertising agency and is expected to make its suggestions before the meetings end Saturday.

The deal is for one million dollars annually to televise Big Ten football, basketball and other conference events with an option for renewal after three years.

★ ★ ★

Despite the amount of money involved, the offer is not exceptionally large. The Big Ten already realizes some $800,000 a year from football television under the NCAA program.

However, the offer appears to be ammunition in the Big Ten's drive for schools to arrange their own TV schedules and commitments. The Western Conference has been a foe of the NCAA policy which provides a national-regional football program with controls.

★ ★ ★

Under NCAA rules, the Big Ten cannot accept the television offer.

Neither is the Big Ten expected to accept the offer. But the mere fact that the deal is being considered could force the NCAA to relax its television policy at its convention in January.

Should the Big Ten accept the offer, the move would be tantamount to bolting from the NCAA. This would make Big Ten schools ineligible to compete in NCAA championships.

★ ★ ★

The NCAA could go further and prevent its member institutions from competing with Western Conference teams. Such a move could lead to other conferences and schools leaving the NCAA and collapse of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., far-fetched as it may seem.

Other matters to be taken up during the meetings include the Rose Bowl situation and the conference's financial aid policy based on need.

Last May, the Big Ten failed to renew the Rose Bowl contract following the 1960 game. However, a rue remains allowing individual members to accept a bid to the Rose Bowl and the league must work out how the money will be split by a team which should accept a bid to the Pasadena classic.

On the financial aid policy, some schools are in favor of eliminating the need factor. They contend the Big Ten is losing prospective athletes to other schools because of the controversial clause.

Bowling fans around this area don't have to look toward the World Invitational or any other big tournament for high scores these days the way the local keglers have been smashing the pins.

There were a pair of 300s within four days at county alleys. George Chicovsky hit a big one at the new Huron Bowl where the scores have been increasing from week to week. Then Bill Sonnenberg got the third 300 of the year in the Farmington Major Classic Monday.

Chuck Bligh rolled 279-747, Jerry Lindley 711 and Walnut Lake's Dale Seavoy 727 at Farmington as three 700s and 40 series of 600 or over were turned in. Averages range from 174-218 in the loop. High game belongs to B & M Recreation of Walled Lake with 1198.

The Westside Classic came up with a trio of 700 scores Monday with new member Howard Peterson of Williams Lake heading the pack at 746 featuring a 266. Sam Perna totaled 719 and Joe Foster 703.

Foster is the first of four Pontiac men leading the Class A singles in a Detroit tourney with 955 for five games. Frank Spadafore 946, Al Pietz 886 and Andy Lindsey 882 follow.

A split on his 11th ball prevented Ken Wilhite from going all the way at Dixie Recreation. He hit 288 for Sylvan Lake Laundry in the Friday "B" League.

In the Motor Inn "B" Elmer Sturdevant strung together 13 straight strikes in a 683 closing with 265 for Green Lake Rest Haven. Norm Keely had nine in a row at Huron.

History was made at Red's Recreation in Oxford this week as Newt Braid, secretary of the Oxford Bowling League, fired a 276-660 combination for the top scores there in several years. The single was the 3rd highest ever at that house. A 3-10 split on No. 8 ruined his chance for a perfect effort.

EXTRA ITEMS

The Knights of Columbus is starting a tourney. Council officials hope will be an annual affair. A mixed doubles jamboree will be held for members and their ladies Dec. 19. Entries must be in by Sunday with one prize assured for every 10 entries.

A trio of interesting races continue at Dixie. St. Stephens No. 1 holds a two-point edge over its No. 2 team. The Tulips are one-half in front of the Petunias with others not far behind in the Housewivves race and Rocco's leads the way in the Women's House.

J. Navratil, a Detroit team featuring Monroe Moore, Joe Bonfiglio and John Nickell, finished 16th among 60 of the nation's finest teams in the BPAA team tourney, according to figures just released. Navratil had 12,216. Norwest Lanes was 29th . . . ABC extended four days to May 19. Several local keglers plan to go . . . The 1960 Michigan State Men's meet begins Jan. 16 at Muskegon.

Big doings are coming up Sunday at Hilltop in Rochester. Several top men's and women's teams from Detroit leagues will oppose Rochester All-Star groups. Keglers from both Hilltop and Rochester Lanes will participate in the program which will benefit the Leader Dogs For The Blind Inc.

Louisville Bowler Holds Lead in World Tourney

CHICAGO (UPI) — Lou Frantz of Louisville, Ky., went into the second day of finals in the World's Invitational Bowling Tourney today with a solid Petersen point lead despite his 10th-ranking pin total.

★ ★ ★

Frantz, at 41 the oldest man in the finals, rolled an unspectacular 3,384 yesterday, but won 13 of 16 games to post an 80-34 Petersen total.

★ ★ ★

In second place was Dick Hoover of St. Louis, whose 3,494 pins gave him a 78-44 Petersen score.

Close behind were Bill Golembiewski of Detroit, who finished fast for 3,464 pins and 78-39 Petersen points, and Billy Welu of St. Louis, with 3,478 pins and 78-28 points.

Bill Bunetta of Chicago set a tournament record of 15 straight games over 200 to grab fifth with the day's highest total, 3,534. But nine losses in 16 match games dropped Bunetta's point total to 78-09.

Harry Smith of St. Louis set a meet record early yesterday when he rolled a 983 four-game series, but slipped to 11th place when he lost 10 of 16 games for 75-27 points.

In the women's division, Olga Gloor, 39, of Chicago, swept into first place by blasting 1,688 pins and defeating seven of eight opponenas for t 40-38 Petersen total.

★ ★ ★

Donna Zimmerman of Akron, Ohio, was second with 1,633 pins and 39-13 points, followed by Robbie Frey of Dallas, Tex., with 1,689 pins and 37-39 points, and Pauline Bickel of Omaha, Neb., 1,680 and 37-30.

★ ★ ★

The favorites had their problems in yesterday's bowling. Defending men's champion Ed Lubanski of Detroit wound up 10th in the standings and former champion Don Carter of St. Louis placed 13th.

Defending women's champion Charlotte Grubic split even in games to rank 10th and Marion Ladewig, the former champion from Grand Rapids, Mich., was 12th.

The men were to bowl 16 more games and the women eight games today. The tournament ends Friday.

The bowlers and their game, pin and point totals were

MSU Grid Bust Tonight

Duffy Daugherty, head football coach at Michigan State University, will do a little talking in an official capacity tonight and probably a lot of off-the-cuff talking to promising high school grid material.

The occasion is the annual football banquet sponsored by the MSU Oakland County Alumni Club and the place is Devon Gables, located on the corner of Telegraph and Long Lake roads.

Duffy and members of his coaching staff will be present at the gridiron bust which honors the 1959 Pontiac Press All-County team.

A total of 39 prep gridders representing Oakland's finest during the past season and their coaches will be the guests of honor.

Joining the All-County honor squad will be The Press Class A team plus Doug Stott of Oxford, Oakland's scoring champ this year, and Oxford coach Dick Figg.

Altogether, 13 Oakland schools will be represented.

Two special awards will be presented by The Pontiac Press sports department. The bronze shoe will be awarded to Pontiac Central guard Charley Brown as the county's outstanding player and his coach, Jesse MacLeay, will receive the Coach-of-the-Year trophy.

Rickey May Fight Majors in Court

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Branch Rickey's four-mounth tug-o'-war with baseball's higher echelon for recognition and admission of his embattled Continental League into the major league circle may wind up in the courts, it was learned today.

William Shea, founder of the undermanned circuit, currently limited to six teams, has just about convinced Rickey the time has come to seek Congressional aid in their bid to become a third major league. This was reliably reported to The Associated Press by a source closely connected with the embryo circuit.

Only a clear-cut stand on expansion by the American League — either yes or no — will deter the 78-year-old president of the Continental League from making this grave decision.

The American League had announced Monday that at the present time it had no plans to expand but that it had reached no definite decision on future expansion because of a number of problems which could not presently be resolved. A. L. President Joe Cronin added that expansion was inevitable and instructed his three-man fact-finding committee to continue its study.

★ ★ ★

"The American League decision is not satisfactory to us," the source said. "Cronin had promised us a yes-or-no answer. He hasn't lived up to that promise. Unless the American League tells us it will expand and makes its selection of cities, or declares emphatically and unequivocally that it has absolutely no intention of expanding, I'm afraid the only recourse is for us to go to the courts."

Rickey himself refused to be pinned down when asked whether he would seek the help of men in Washington. He reiterated a statement he had read at a press conference held in his suite here yesterday.

"So long as the major leagues are able to maintain their existing absolute monopoly of players and territories and further continue their tactics patently employed for the purpose of defeating any organization of a third major league," he said, "We will, alone, find ourselves unable to complete the formation of our Continental League.

★ ★ ★

"The answer to our future is presently in the hands of the American League."

The word "alone" was considered the key to the statement. Could that be interpreted that Rickey would carry his cause to congress? The old gentleman refused to elaborate. "You may interpret it any way you wish," he said soberly.

Rickey not only accused the majors of sabotaging his league's plans to organize, but charged Commissioner Ford Frick with indecision and adopting a negative attidue by his continuous sentiment for internal expansion.

★ ★ ★

"There is no interest on the part of the American League to expand," said Rickey. "The commissioner knows it. Everybody in baseball knows it. I think the public should know it, too. They know they cannot possibly get players for a ninth, let alone a 10th team. It's much easier to get players for the formation of a third league than for one team to compete with seven superior teams. Goodness is a relative thing.

"In my judgment, American League opposition the National League had announced there was no sentiment for expansion at the present time arose because certain gentlemen wished to move the Washington franchise to Minneapolis. Because of them, and not because of any thought of expansion, there came about this effective opposition to the Continental League."

Cronin refused to comment on Rickey's assertion that he had offered to release any two cities the American League desired if it was sincere about expansion.

Midgets on Card

Mixed Tag Teams to Rassle

A mixed tag team bout will feature the wrestling card at the Pontiac Armory tonight with Louis Papineau and midget Brown Panther will face Ali Bey and Fuzzy Cupid.

Ali Bey and Louie Papineau, the two heavyweights, have appeared in several main event matches in Pontiac this year, and the two midgets, Panther and Cupid drew the largest crowd of the season when they met at the Armory couple weeks ago.

Another featured bout on the card will pit Paul "Gorgeous" De Galles against Gentleman Jim Hady, junior heavyweight champion.

De Galles is a conceited and arrogant individual whose unsportsmanlike tactics have made him unpopular with the fans.

Dick "Mr. Michigan" Garza will meet Don Duffy in the opening bout.

Old Lions Seek Revenge on Bears

DETROIT (AP)—The older Detroit Lions, once accustomed to winning, have suffered most through this bleak National Football League season.

They're the Lions—Joe Schmidt, Jim Martin, Lou Creekmur, Charlie Ane, Yale Lary—who have an old score to settle Sunday.

Revenge is their only guiding light because they can't help but wind up deep in the standings.

A victory over the Bears Sunday at Chicago would be a happy ending to a sad campaign. And it would square the oldtimers for their disappointment in 1956.

The Bears retain a good chance to tie the Baltimore Colts atop the Western Division standings by nightfall Sunday. All they have to do is beat the Lions while Los Angeles upsets the Colts Saturday. A Ram triumph on their home grounds wouldn't be too astonishing.

Schmidt, Martin, Lary and Co. still have harrowing memories of that 1956 game with the Bears at Wrigley Field. They, like the current Bears, had a crack at winning the title in the season finale.

The Lions chances were good until Bobby Layne faded to pass early in the game. Burly Ed Meadows came in from Layne's blind side and flattened the Lion quarterback after he released the ball. Layne was forced from the game with Harry Gilmer taking his place.

With Layne departed, the Lions were left leaderless. They disintegrated rapidly. The Bears went on to win 32-21 over the team that had trounced them 42-10 two weeks before.

The Lions have defeated their arch rivals only once since—en route to the world championship in 1957.

The Bears have taken the last three meetings, including a 24-14 victory earlier this season.

Illinois Guard Landslide Pick

Bill Burrell Selected 1959 Lineman of Year in AP Poll

By The Associated Press

The role of the football lineman normally is so obscure it is difficult to pick a standout in a single game, much less a full season.

But such was not the problem of sports writers and broadcasters who overwhelmingly chose Illinois' Bill Burrell today as the college lineman of the year in The Associated Press' post - season football poll.

★ ★ ★

The work of this aggressive, 210-pound guard for a team which lost three of its games and tied another was so outstanding that he received more than two-thirds of the 148 votes cast.

Burrell was nominated by voters from every section of the country and by many who never saw him play, but who got reports of his all-around ability.

The Illinois guard, a member of the AP All-America team, beat such leading candidates as the McKeever twins of Southern California, Marlin, an end, and Mike, a guard; Monte Stickles, Notre Dame's all-purpose end; Wisconsin's two standouts, guard Jerry Stalcup and tackle Dan Lanphear; Max Baughan, Georgia Tech center; Mike McGee, Duke guard; and Syracuse's pair of ends Fred Mautino and guard Roger Davis.

Heavy Program for Outdoors

Outdoors events in Michigan hit their peak in January and February, with scores of features on the schedule. They include the opening of the annual Perchville at Tawas, Tip-Up Town at Houghton Lake, fox and rabbit hunting on Beaver Island, the big Metropolitan Beach ice fishing derby, a number of big ski competitions involving Pontiac area slopes as well as many others about the north country.

Here's the bigger events for January:

2—Tawas Bay Perchville ice fishing festival.
8-10—Mich. outdoors ski carnival, Houghton.
8-31—Greenfield Village sports car show, Dearborn.
10—Kandahar club annual jumping meet (Pontiac).
11-17—Coyotte, fox and rabbit hunt at Beaver Island.
16-17—Annual Tip-Up Town at Houghton Lake.
17—Ski races, Mt. Holly, Pontiac.
23—Metropolitan Beach ice fishing derby, Mt. Clemens.
23-24—Winter carnival at Lewiston.
23-24—Caberfae Junior Alpine ski meet, Cadillac.
23—Collegiate ski championship (Alpine), Houghton.
23-24—Olympic ski tryouts (jumping), Ishpeming.
23-24—Speed skating championships, Detroit.
29-Feb. 6—Petoskey winter carnival.
30-31—Kiwanis ski jumping meet, Pine Mt., Iron Mountain.
30-31—Men's slalom, Grampian Mt., Pontiac.
31—Winter sports carnival at Saginaw.

Genesee Sportsmen Host Mich. Gun Assn.

First annual meeting for the Michigan Gun Owners Assn. will be held as guests of the Genesee Sportsmen's club, on Sunday, Jan. 24.

Session will take place at Crosby auditorium, North Vassar Rd. east of Flint, starting at 1 p.m.

Russian Cagers Grab Thriller

DENVER (AP)—After blowing a 13-point lead, the touring Russian basketball team fought through overtime for a 96-93 victory over Denver's Truckers Tuesday night and their second triumph in five games in the United States.

The Russian women posted their fifth straight victory 52-46 over Iowa Wesleyan in the opening game of the doubleheader.

The Russian men hit 59 per cent of their field shots in the first half to build a 49-37 lead. This margin stood up through the first five minutes of the second half. But Art Bunte and Harv Smidt began hitting one-hand jumpers for Denver to close the gap to 72-66 with eight minutes left.

During the next four minutes, the Russians failed to get a fielder and George Lee and little Joe Capua led Denver to a 75-72 lead with 3:36 to play.

3 Waterford Cage Openers One-Sided

White Swan in Class A and Dickie's Marathon and the Felice Falcons in Class B were opening night winners Tuesday in the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's basketball program at Crary Junior High.

The Swan quintet walloped Lytell & Colegrove, 59-38. Dickie's drubbed Gabriel's Golden Greeks, 56-13, and the Falcons trimmed Weedon's Home Equipment, 48-37.

Two "B" games are scheduled tonight at Pierce Junior High. Pontiac Northern's Faculty cagers battle Rocco's Restaurant at 7:15, followed by an 8:30 game between Kuhn's Auto Wash and M59 Sunoco.

Layne Only 224 Yards Short of Passing Record

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bobby Layne, passing wizard for the Pittsburgh Steelers, is only 224 yards away from setting a new all-time forward passing record in the National Football League.

★ ★ ★

The current record of 22,085 yards was set by Sammy Baugh in 16 seasons with the Washington Redskins. Layne has gained 21,862 yards through the air in 12 years in the NFL.

★ ★ ★

With a good performance Sunday, Layne could break the record as the Steelers wind up the 1959 season against the Chicago Cardinals at Forbes Field.

Utica Swimmers Triumph

PCH, Crane Matmen Win

Pontiac Central and Cranbrook wrestling teams scored victories last night.

PCH matmen won their second meet of the season with a 28-26 upset of favored Fitzgerald, while the Cranes were whipping Northville 41-13.

The Chiefs won on five pins and a decision with 127 pounder Ermine Trevine pinning highly rated Bill Chaison of Fitzgerald.

In the 138 pound class Richard Ewer, a first year wrestler, defeated 4-year veteran Bob Sowers, 1-0.

Next competition for PCH will be in the Southeastern Michigan Amateur tournament at Allen Park Dec. 18-19.

★ ★ ★

Cranbrook won all but three events in beating Northville. Butch Heavenrich (112), Phil Renaldo (120), Art Glick (132), Ted Seyfarth (138), Tom Bennett (145) won by pins, while Tom Bonyton 127) and Roland Kaplan (154) scored decisions.

Cranbrook got 10 points on forfeits in the 95 and 103 pound classes.

Northville wins came in the 165 pound class by Blaine Ashby, 180 pound by Fred Mitchell and heavyweight by Bill Juday.

In swimming last night, Utica won its first meet in the North Suburban League by defeating Madison Heights, 64-32.

The Utica tankers took eight of the 10 events as Madison scored only in the 200 yard freestyle and diving events.

Tonight's swimming schedule has Pontiac Northern visiting Southfield in a league match.

In wrestling, Pontiac Northern opens at home against Farmington tomorrow and Walled Lake travels to Dearborn.

PCH WRESTLING SUMMARY:

PNH, Vikings in Mat Openers Thursday Night

The curtain goes up for two local wrestling teams tomorrow night when Pontiac Northern entertains Farmington and Walled Lake travels to Dearborn.

Coach Bill Willson's Huskies will have their work cutout attempting to get off on the right foot in an Inter-Lakes League battle. Farmingon has a victory over Edsel Ford thus far.

★ ★ ★

Winfred Miracle, Carl Bills, Don Davis and Ralph Clauson are expected to be the PNH stalwarts all season. Jerry Cassell heads the capable Falcons.

Rick Schneider will be making his debut at the Walled Lake helm. Mike Cosgrove, Jim Teddy, Bob Christian and Wes Cottrell are among his top boys.

Harrison Munson Sparks Freshmen Cagers at U. of D.

Harrison Munson, former Pontiac Central basketball ace, is pouring through the points for the U. of D. freshman cagers this year.

Munson, who went through PCH with one of the most outstanding scholastic records in history of the school, having compiled a solid A average through four years, is in the College of Engineering at U. of D. He was awarded a 5-year scholarship for basketball.

In two games to date, Munson has scored 57 points, 23 against Assumption and 34 last week against Bowling Green.

Saturday night the U. of D. freshmen will play Western Michigan frosh prior to the varsity game which features the Titans against Purdue.

Kerr Quits as Grid Coach at Dayton U.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Budd Kerr resigned Tuesday as head football coach at the University of Dayton.

Kerr, head coach at the university for four seasons, had a record of 15 wins, 24 losses and 1 tie. He graduated from Notre Dame in 1939.

Spartans Clobbered

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State, an NCAA finalist last season, is having trouble getting its first hockey victory this season.

Colorado College clobbered the Spartans after an even first period last night 5-1 in a Western Collegiate Hockey Assn. game. The Spartans had lost 5-1 Monday night to the same conquerors who had split a two-game set with Michigan over the weekend.

Title-Hunting Liston TV Favorite Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hard-hitting Sonny Liston, who wants a crack at the heavyweight title, is favored to score his 19th straight victory tonight in a 10-rounder with Willi Besmanoff.

★ ★ ★

The 27-year-old Liston, of Philadelphia, ranks third among the heavyweight contenders. A 5-1 favorite to whip the German-born Besmanoff, Liston has lost only once in 26 fights. He has knocked out 16 opponents.

Orioles Slate 35 Exhibition Tilts

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles have scheduled 35 exhibition games for the 1960 baseball spring training season, including 18 contests at their home base in Miami.

★ ★ ★

The schedule released by General Manager Lee MacPhail lists a series of three night games in Havana, Cuba against Cincinnati on March 28-30. The Orioles will split their squad for the trip because they are booked to play on two of those dates in Florida.

Baltimore, champion of the Grapefruit League last spring with a 17-8 record, will meet eight other major league opponents in 1960 pre-season games and Miami and Richmond of the International League. The first game will be here against Pittsburgh on March 12.

From GM to President

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lee MacPhail, general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, will become president of the club when he is elected by the board of directors Friday.

4 W-O Quintets in Holiday Event

Barons, 'Skins, Holly and Brighton to Play at Fenton

Four members of the Wayne-Oakland League will be battling outside opponents in the 1st round of the Christmas basketball tournament at Fenton starting Dec. 28, according to pairings released today.

Bloomfield Hills will open the program in a 5 p.m. contest against Howell. Milford takes on Flint Bendle at 6:30, Brighton goes against Clio at 8 and LeRoy Decker's host team meets Holly at 9:30.

The tourney will continue the next two days with all the teams playing three times in upper and lower brakcets. Trophies will be awarded the champion, runnerup and consolation victor.

A tourney for the junior varsity teams of each school will be held in the morning each day.

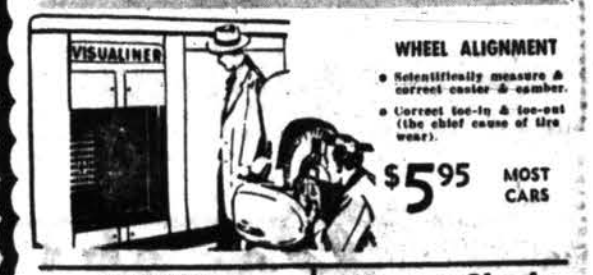

Fourth Win for Tech

HOUGHTON (AP)—Michigan Tech is off and running in the Western Collegiate Hockey Assn. with its veteran team.

The Huskies experience and power paid off in the third period last night for a 6-3 victory over Denver. It was Michigan Tech's fourth triumph in five games in the newly reorganized league.

Along the Outdoor Trail

With H. GUY MOATS

Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

ANOTHER PELT — Gene Fullmer, West Jordan, Utah, mink rancher, takes a look at one of his prospective pelts, as the pelting season nears. Fullmer pelted Spider Webb in a successful defense of his middleweight title, a few nights ago, then hustled back to his minks.

'58 Spotty Year Outdoors

LANSING (UPI)—This was a spotty year for outdoors activities, according to conservation officials.

More people — 18,800,070 — attended Michigan state parks than ever before. The previous high was in 1955.

But there were less hunters and fishermen than last year. All types of resident and non-resident fishing licenses showed a drop of from 4-14 per cent from last year through the same period ending Nov. 30.

There were about 2,312,000 hunters and fishermen who bought licenses in 1959, a reduction from 1958. Revenue was down from $5,211,445 in 1958 to $4,902,865 this year — again in the same period from Jan. 1 - Nov. 30.

★ ★ ★

More deer hunters found more deer, but less bucks. There were fewer bear shot because of cold weather. Only 82 were counted compared to 367 counted in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Pheasant hunters failed to get more than one million birds for the first time since 1952.

Pheasant kill was estimated at 950,000.

There were a few more ruffed grouse (partridge) shot this year — 400,000 to 370,00 in 1958.

Duck hunters averaged about the same daily success as a year ago, but had only 4 days to hunt this year compared to 7 in 15.

Nearly five million trout were planted in various public waters.

The conservation department has asked for an appropriation of 26,797,765 for the 96-61 fisthan was granted for the current year. Most of the increase is earmarked for parks.

Game preserve hunting has grown this year, its first full season since this was allowed in 15.

Duck Callers Fall Out Over Question of Style

By The Press Outdoor Editor

Dedicated members of the great fraternity of duck hunters who call in their targets by means of dulcet tones from a "pipe" probably use many slightly different techniques. The big idea, of course, being to lure the winning waterfoul from overhead, down into range of the hopeful nimrods' shotguns.

A few days ago, down at Stuttgart, Ark., where many Pontiac area duck and goose hunters pay annual late fall, or early winter shooting visits (a number are in that area now) Arkansas and Louisiana "callers" had a falling out. Question was whether or not whose style of quacking—or squawking—was the superior one. Each claimed the honor, but no test was made to demonstrate the relative merits.

RESULTS, NOT STYLE, IS WHAT COUNTS

In the final analysis, however, it isn't style, or technique that counts, Pontiac experts indicated, but how effective is the method of bringing in the ducks, or geese.

★ ★ ★

The whole thing down at Stuttgart started over a statement by a Louisiana-style caller that his style was the bet. The declarer was backed by the fact that he was the 1957 duck-calling champ. He claimed his area's style was for the birds, not for humans.

In the meantime, visiting hunters from Michigan and other areas go about their own calling business, and do all right, at it.

Incidentally, there was good news about the way ducks came through a rather adverse season. Ducks Unlimited reports the birds have done reasonably well, suffering an overall reduction of only 15 to 23 per cent in population totals.

Latest hatch on record, and one of the earliest freeze-ups in history, were factors that worked against the birds, says Duckological' 1950 issue, set up by chief naturalist Bert W. Cartwright.

Cartwright said that waterfowl returned to the Canadian prairies, last spring in satisfactory numbers, but were faced by drought later on. Most moved north to better water, while others stayed to nest on Ducks U.L. projects and other impoundments.

NINE DAY BOAT SHOW LINED UP

Arrangements are already well along for the annual Greater Michigan Boat Show, set for March 19-27. Bigger and better is the word from T. E. Bennett director of the big affair to be held in the Detroit Artillery Armory, on West Eight-Mile road.

Plans call for more than 200 striking exhibits, including features from the entire marine field. Frank Burch is the show manager.

★ ★ ★

Area bowhunters were expected to take part in the first of three big Michigan Bow Hunters Assn. outings, this weekend. The MBH hunt takes place near Battle Creek, Saturday.

It is the association's second annual affair for archers only. Prizes worth $400 are offered for successful hunters, who will be allowed to use only blunt points.

FOX REVERSES SCRIPT—CHASES DOG

Over at Warren the other day, a wild red fox got mixed up, and reversed the usual script, according to the accepted hunting technique. Instead of being the quarry this Reynard started chasing neighborhood canines from a big field. It appears the fox didn't like cats, either, for it also ran off several, say Warren police who finally finished the animal after a 200-yard chase. It will be tested for rabies.

Low Toll at Swan Creek

ALLEGAN (UPI) — The 1959 goose kill at the Swan Creek Wildlife Station is expected to fall short of the record total with less than two weeks of the season remaining, game biologists reported today.

However, the kill at the Fennville Game Station, with 1,419 geese bagged in the latest count, was the highest ever in the area, it was reported.

The goose hunting season ends Dec. 15.

Reports from Swan Creek show hunting pressure has fallen off to a minimum. This was attributed to the cold, snowy weather and the fact that most of the geese flights have already pushed on south for the winter.

The Swan Creek kill at the last total was 1,057, about 150 short of the record.

★ ★ ★

About 12,000 hunters were issued permits for the Fennville area, while 8,000 had permits for the Swan Creek area.

★ ★ ★

Conservation officers reported an extremely high number of illegal shooting cases in the Fennville area and blamed them on the difference in shooting hours with Swan Creek.

★ ★ ★

Browse-Cutter Gets New Test

LANSING — A promising breadwinner for wildlife will soon flex its mechanical muscles on sparse deer-browse areas in northern Michigan.

The device — a D-7 tractor equipped with an 11-foot cutting blade—made its experimental debut last winter on approximately 1,000 acres of non-merchantable forest stands (mostly aspen) in food-shortage areas of nine northern Michigan counties.

Although several growing seasons are needed to fully measure the tractor's cutting effects, early results were encouraging to Conservation Department game men.

Tops and limbs of trees leveled by the heavy machine augmented commercial and emergency timber cuttings to provide badly-needed browse for deer.

Department studies showed that the tractor's clear cuttings promoted sprout growth and regeneration on a wide variety of timber stands. In many aspen stands, the sprout rate surpassed that fostered by controlled burning, another approach to improving wildlife habitat.

Sprout regeneration is aimed at furnishing deer with a post-winter food supply and providing cover and vegetation for ruffed grouse, rabbits and other small game.

Operational costs of the D-7 cuttings were comparable with those for other habitat-improvement techniques such as disking, aerial herbicide spraying and controlled burning.

Winter Trout Fishing OK on 31 Area Lakes

Oakland county anglers get an added fishing break, during January and February (and December of 1960).

Approval for taking rainbow trout, announced recently by the Conservation Department, gives area trouters the most extensive list of fishing waters in the Lower Peninsula.

Area waters open to hook and line fishing for 'bows, through the ice, include some 31 lakes. There is no question of hurting rainbow spawning stock, as there is little or no natural reproduction. Populations are maintained solely by hatchery plants.

Area lakes open for the special season are:

East and West Bridge; Carroll, Cedar Island, Cemetery, Commerce, Crescent, Deer, Dollar, Elizabeth, Green and Green's, Lotus, Maceday, Monday, Mohawk, Orchard, Oxbow, Proud, Reed, Rud, Little Silver, Square, Sugden, Union, Van Norman, Wormer, Horseshoe, and Schoolhouse lakes.

Boston Terrier Match Sunday

Christmas puppy match for the Boston Terrier club of Detroit will take place Sunday, Dec. 13, at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Ferndale.

This affair is an AKC sanctioned match. Eligible puppies must be between six weeks and 12 months of age. Trophies will be awarded at this match for the yearly point winners in the club.

Refreshments will be served and the youngsters will receive Christmas candy.

Location of the hall is at 177 Vester, and the match, to be judged by Oscar Huber of Toledo, runs from 2 to 5 p. m.

Spawn-Taking Fails to Reach Halfway Figure

LANSING—The Conservation Department's spawn-taking operation of lake trout failed to reach the halfway mark in its 3,000,000-egg goal this fall.

Approximately 433,600 eggs were stripped from brood stock at the Department's Marquette fisheries research station.

Department workers shelved trap and nylon gill nets used experimentally in 1958 and relied entirely on linen gill nets in an effort to better last year's take of about 700,000 eggs and reduce trout mortality.

No figures are yet available but reports indicate this fall's mortality rate was down from that of last year.

State Has 2nd Best Year for Forest Fire Control

LANSING — With the threat of forest fires virtually smothered by snow, 1959 becomes Michigan's second best year in forest fire control.

Since early spring, 716 fires damaged only 3,662 acres of public and private lands. This approaches the record set in 1956 when 706 fires burned 3,420 acres.

The state's worst year on record was 1908 when fires raged over 2,369,000 acres. Fire records date back to 1871; previous to that, Michigan's annual acreage losses reportedly ran into the millions.

Milton M. Bergman, chief of the Conservation Department's fire control section, was quick to praise the public for its contribution to fire prevention this year. He pointed out that the public's observance of fire-safety practices greatly lightened the burden normally placed on suppression forces.

The fire control chief also cited cooperation of the press, radio and television as instrumental in holding down fire losses.

Florida System 1st for Coast Guard OK

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida has become the first state to have its motorboat numbering system approved by the U. S. Coast Guard.

The Coast Guard has ceased numbering pleasure motorboats used principally in Florida. Boat accident reports are now made to the nearest Florida county sheriff instead of the Coast Guard.

Hunters More Numerous; Worst Violations Year

LANSING (UPI)—Deer hunters were more numerous in 1959 than in 1958, but they didn't become better sportsmen, a Conservation Department official said today.

"This is one of the worst years for violations we have ever had," said Everett E. Tucker, chief of game law enforcement. "And it is not completely explained by the increase in hunters.

"There just seems to be a wanton disregard for the law."

Tucker said there were 1,401 arrests during the Nov. 15-30 deer season, compared to 929 arrests last year.

"And we have fewer game officers this year," Tucker said. "We have 164 uniformed officers and we'd like to have about 200."

There were an unusual number of violations for failure to lock seals on door and more than the usual amount of hunters shining deer, driving with loaded guns in cars and shooting the wrong kind of deer, he said.

"Hunters even shot 18 elk in the Lower Peninsula, twice as many as last year," Tucker noted.

It is becoming harder to protect the elk herd because it has spread from its former Pigeon River area haunt into other Northern Michigan areas. Planes are used to oversee the main herd, Tucker said, and there have been several convictions for shooting elk.

Tucker said more special deer licenses this year may have caused a greater number of hunters to shoot the wrong kind of deer.

"One hunter with a buck license seen shooting at a doe said 'If I don't shoot it somebody else will,'" Tucker said. More special deer licenses mean there are "more guys who don't have to look before they shoot," he said.

The Conservation Department uses five planes, three in the Lower Peninsula and two in the Upper, to help spot violators. All are equipped with two-way radios to officers in automobiles who can then follow up with a check and perhaps an arrest.

Boating Safer as Outboards Boost Numbers

CHICAGO (NEA) — As outboard boating becomes more popular it also becomes safer, according to a study made by the Outboard Boating Club.

In 1949 there were .47 fatalities per thousand outboard motors in use. By 1958 this percentage had been reduced to .23 per thousand.

The number of outboard motors in use increased from 2,643,000 to 5,525,000 during the same period.

State Gets Cash for Fish Damage

LANSING—The Conservation Department received a check totaling $1,001.80 last week from the Quincy Products Company of Adrian as payment for fish kill which occurred last month in a pothole adjoining Marble Lake, Branch County.

A cyanide discharge from the company's plant at Quincy killed an estimated 3,500 fish, most of which were game fish. Damage costs were itemized per species and based on the latest commercial hatchery prices available.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, Robert W. Parker of the Water Resources Commission, and George Rouman of the Branch County Health Department aided Conservation Department officials in the settlement.

Ray Bluth of St. Louis won the 1959 ABC Masters bowling event with a 214 average for 28 games.

State Studies Water Requirements

LANSING—The 1984 edition of Michigan's water story will be headlined by increased public demands. For the most part, it will be authored by a population expected to number almost 14,000,000 water users — nearly twice the present figure.

Although the state's water supply will remain essentially the same as it is now, competition for its use will be much keener. The surging population growth will boost domestic and municipal water needs . . . expanding industries will demand more and more water . . . recreation will continue to forge ahead in water usage . . . more farmers will find irrigation profable.

How will the state's water supply handle this growing load of users? The framework of Michigan's water-use regulations has already been challenged as inadequate for today because water is sometimes in short supply and conflicts arise over its use.

Many resource leaders feel the answer to water for future generations lies in legislation to develop a new code of water rights.

As one approach to this, it has been suggested that a compromise be enacted, involving surface water rights, between the appropriation doctrine (used in other states) and the riparian doctrine presently employed in Michigan.

Another possibility under the riparian doctrines is a system in which the state would issue water-use permits for reasonable and beneficial purposes.

Riparian rights for domestic uses would be continued while rights to water beyond these needs would then be granted by issuing permits. In practice, waters above a certain stream or lake level would be available for assignment. Use permits would allot a specified amount of these waters and would remain valid for a given period, depending upon the type of use.

Stepped-up efforts in such land management practices as watershed improvement, soil conservation, reforestation, grass-land farming and a host of others are commonly acknowledged by conservtionists as vital to the future of Michigan's water fortunes.

There are many existing and prospective approaches ot conserving and stretching the state's water resources and each must be singly directed at a harmonious program that will benefit the most number of people in the years ahead; a system cognizant of man's needs and nature's limitations.

Dr. Dooley Heads Back to Laos Jungle Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Tom Dooley will return to his hospital in the Laotian jungles early next week with a lame arm and a fresh determination to fight disease and ignorance in newly-developing countries.

★ ★ ★

"I've got an airplane now!" said the boyish, blue-eyed doctor from St. Louis. "Do you know what that means? It means I can open three more hospitals separated by miles of jungles and mountains and still make daily visits to each of them."

Dooley seems to have recovered fully from the operation this summer to remove a tumor from his chest. But his right arm will be permanently impaired by skin grafts and muscle transplants, and he still is 32 pounds under his normal weight.

The 32-year-old doctor spent his recuperative period making a 50-day tour of 46 U. S. cities to raise funds for MEDICO an organization he founded to bring medical care to areas of the world where it is non-existent.

"I made 68 speeches and raised about $350,000," he said. "I've written my third book since I got out of the hospital and just turned the manuscript over to my publisher. Now I'm going home for Christmas."

★ ★ ★

Home is Muong Sing, Laos, deep in a Communist-troubled valley where he is known to the poorly fed, clothed and housed population as "Dr. America." He hopes the twin engine airplane donated by the St. Louis Junior Chamber of Commerce and hotelman Conrad Hilton will have reached Muong Sing before him.

★ ★ ★

"I've got a pilot who will fly it for me for only $150 a month, and CAT Airlines will maintain the plane for me," he said. "All I need now is a charge card for the gasoline—and I don't mind at all if you put that in your story."

Dooley is bursting with plans to expand MEDICO service to 23 countries whose governments have requested teams of medical specialists. MEDICO already has teams in Cambodia, Viet Nam, Kenya, the Belgian Congo, Jordan, Peru and Haiti, treating the natives, teaching them how to carry on alone, then moving on.

Dooley is not deterred by the political situation and jungle warfare in Laos. Communist propagandists tell the people that he is an imperialist spy and that he is waging germ warfare with injections and inoculations. But he does not think the people believe.

★ ★ ★

"Most of them sense that communism threatens what is dearest to them—the family organization," he said. "And they really appreciate what Americans are doing for them. American government aid is doing a crackerjack job now after getting off to a slow start."

Dooley says Dr. Albert Schweitzer, with whom he worked at Schweitzer's Medical Station in Labarene, French Equatorial Africa, is still his greatest inspiration. But he says he dislikes being called the Albert Schweitzer of South East Asia.

"I'm not a missionary, a great musician, a linguist, or a wise old man," he said. "To ask me what I think of Schweitzer is like asking a priest what he thinks of Jesus."

Rex Harrison Shines in His New Play

Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—British star Rex Harrison is in peak form for his new Broadway play, "The Fighting Cock."

★ ★ ★

The witty exercise in satiric high comedy bowed at the ANTA Theater Tuesday night, a standout boxoffice contender.

★ ★ ★

Abetting Harrison is a splendid supporting array, among them two established stalwarts, Arthur Treacher and Roddy McDowall; and a pair of winsome debutantes, Natasha Parry and Margo Anders.

"The Fighting Cock" is a Lucienne Hill adaptation from the French of Jean Anouilh, a dramatist noted for mordant charades of love and marriage.

★ ★ ★

This time the mood is brighter and the arena wider as the players debate a Shavian range of themes.

★ ★ ★

Harrison, whose last New York appearance was as the acerbic professor of "My Fair Lady," portrays a Gallic general pondering the maggoty condition of present day human behavior.

Says Thaw in Cold War Due to Missile Bases

LANSING (AP)—The current thaw in the cold war stems from the existence and planned construction of American missile bases in Europe, U. S. Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich) said last night.

"The people we are dealing with recognize only force and from this position we have brought about this thaw," the East Lansing Republican said in a report to his constituents.

Chamberlain returned this week from a European inspection tour.

Six Educators Study Top Michigan Group

LANSING (AP) — A six-man team of prominent educators has begun an extensive evaluation of the Michigan Education Assn.

The three-day inspection is designed to uncover the state association's weak points and, at the same time, to discover practices which might benefit similar associations in other states.

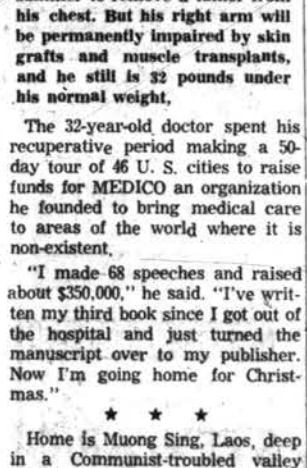

Dr. Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers' Assn., is in charge of the evaluation which is sponsored by the National Education Assn.

Corey said the MEA ranks among the top 10 state education associations in the nation.

Teacher, 70, Army Sergeant
Will Retire to Classroom

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — Orie P. Gruelle, A.B., M.A., Ph.D. and M/Sgt. will return to teaching next year when he retires from the Army.

For 17 years Gruelle, 70, was a Kentucky educator. Part of that time was spent as superintendent of two county school systems. In 1942 the World War I veteran enlisted in the Army.

"With my Army retirement pay," he explains, "I can return to teaching in Kentucky secondary schools."

There is no mandatory age limit for school teachers in Kentucky unless they are covered under the voluntary teachers' retirement system.

★ ★ ★

When World War II started Gruelle tried to enlist in every branch of the armed forces. "But I was 53 and they thought that was too old," he says.

Finally he managed to get into a newly formed military police battalion for handling prisoner of war camps. Soon he was overseas, where he joined a military government unit administering occupied towns in Italy.

Gruelle rose to the rank of captain, but took a reduction to master sergeant during the military reduction of forces in 1947.

Now he's assigned to the education center here as head of the records room. But he describes himself as a jack of all trades, doubling as a teacher, counselor, "and anything that needs to be done."

Arlen, Mercer Team Up Music

'Free and Easy' Show, 'Saratoga' Open Same Evening This Week

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK — A distinction unique in theater history accrued to composer Harold Arlen and lyricist Johnny Mercer Monday night.

Two new shows for which they supplied the scores were performed within a few hours of each other in cities 3,400 miles apart.

Because of the time difference, the curtain went up first in Amsterdam's Carre Theater on "Free and Easy," performed publicly for the first time anywhere before a special preview audience.

Then, at 8 p.m. EST, the curtain rose in New York's Winter Garden on the Broadway premiere of "Saratoga." (It had had a few weeks of tune-up performances on the road.)

"Say, that is something, isn't it?" remarked the easy-going Mercer, who added that he hadn't been aware of the historic coincidence.

Mercer was at the Winter Garden Monday night. Arlen has been ill for a couple of weeks and is a patient in Mt. Sinai Hospital. Both have been scheduled to be in the Dutch city for the official press premiere of "Free and Easy" on Dec. 14.

The team has turned out a generally sound and melodious score for "Saratoga," which is one of the most lavish musicals Broadway has ever seen, what with Britain's designer Cecil Beaton pulling out all of the stops in setting and dressing a story set in 1880 in New Orleans and the New York State spa of the title.

They still do better than anyone the song that carries the melodic and textual flavor of the American Negro, and there are several such in "Saratoga." There are also a couple of lovely ballads and some rousing production numbers.

★ ★ ★

This Morton Dacosta production —he directed and did the adaptation from Edna Ferber's novel, "Saratoga Trunk" –is a picturesque affair with a remarkably fine cast that probably will please most playgoers. Its main fault lies in Dacosta's libretto, which is heavy-handed and gives the production an old-fashioned feeling when it gets too much in the way of the more sprightly elements. A lighter story touch would not have been difficult to achieve.

Renata Tebaldi in Comeback at La Scala

MILAN (UPI)—Soprano Renata Tebaldi tonight makes her comeback on the stage of La Scala Opera House, which she tearfully fled in 1955 because of "persecution" by fans of her rival, Maria Callas.

La Callas gave her "blessing" to Tebaldi's return and said that what's more, she thinks she'll kiss and make up with the La Scala management and make her comeback too—next season.

Buxom Renata was expected to score a triumph in "Tosca" four years after she walked out of the world's foremost lyric theater fighting back tears over the "cold war" launched against her by "Callasians."

Churchill Admirer Buys an Heirloom for Winnie

LONDON (UPI) — An admirer of Sir Winston Churchill paid $1,176 Tuesday for an old Churchill watch at an auction and plans to give it back to him some day.

Maurice Benjamin bought the gold wrist watch from the heirs of Churchill's valet, who received it as a gift more than 50 years ago.

It is engraved with a list of Churchill's wartime campaigns in 1890.

Earthquake-Watching Net Being Tightened in West

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Uncle Sam is tightening up his earthquake-watching system in the western states.

A new high-sensitivity instrument, installed on solid rock in San Francisco, informs the watchers instantly whenever there is an earthquake of importance anywhere.

If the earth movement is in any of the western states or in the western parts of Central or South America, the watchers now are equipped to get experts on the scene quickly.

The idea is to get first-hand information before the passage of time or the intervention of the human element can do anything to change things as the quake left them.

Scattered throughout this American earthquake belt are 77 strong-motion seismographs installed by this watching system—the field seismographic survey of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey.

Normally left untended, these instruments do not record a quake unless there is an appreciable ground movement in their immediate vicinity.

The high-sensitivity instrument called a teleseimic recorder, stands in the field survey office in the United States Mint, a massive structure anchored in solid rock but no longer used to coin money.

Whenever a quake occurs, Thomas Pearce, assistant chief of the service, compares data by telephone with seismographic laboratories in Berkeley or Pasadena and determines the center. If it is near one of his 77 strong-motion installations he gets some member of the survey staff to the scene promptly to collect the on-the-spot record and make first-hand observations.

In this way the characteristics of quakes are determined quickly. If anything unusual is found, it is investigated without delay. Together, these recordings make up a detailed story, and they may show long-term trends in the great earthquake belt.

As an example of how intensification of earthquake observations can be useful, the field service is putting seismographs in individual buildings in the Los Angeles and San Francisco areas.

★ ★ ★

These are small, strong-motion recorders which use ordinary two-gallon stainless steel soup kettles for covers. They can be built in almost any instrument shop, Pearce says.

About 50 of these have been set up in the Los Angeles area and another 45 are going into buildings in the Bay region.

SEPARATE RECORDS

In event of an earthquake, each instrument will make its own record. From the differences in intensity felt by the buildings, Pearce says engineers should be able to determine what type of buildings to put up on different terrain.

State Business Tax Is Upheld by Court

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Department of Revenue has won a case in which the U.S. Gypsum Co. challenged the state's business activities tax.

The company claimed the BAT was unconstitutionally enacted but Wayne County Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara held the act establishing the tax was constitutional, according to Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

O'Hara held the act was approved by both houses of the Legislature in a proper way and compiled with all constitutional provisions.

"We are gratified that this challenge to the business activities tax has been overcome," said Adams.

★ ★ ★

"Michigan's tax structure would have been dealt a staggering blow," he said, if the company had been successful in its case.

The tax brings in about 50 million dollars a year since it was enacted six years ago.

Can Do 90 MPH on Drawing Board

Designing Revolutionary Ocean Ship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A change in ship design even more revolutionary than the one that occurred when sail gave way to steam may be taking shape these days on the drawing boards of an aircraft firm on Long Island.

★ ★ ★

At this stage, however, the emphasis must be placed on the word "may."

Under government subsidy, the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp., at Bethpage, N. Y., is designing an 80-ton prototype hydrofoil ship due for launching in 1961.

If successful, the prototype will be able to skim on top of the water at a speed three times that of today's ocean liners. But the experimental vessel will be only the size of a 35 to 40-foot cabin cruiser.

★ ★ ★

In general, hydrofoil means applying to ships the same principle that keeps airplanes aloft.

Sturdy but light metal foils are attached to struts sticking down from a ship's hull. As the vessel picks up speed, greater water pressure is generated under the foils than from above.

An upward thrust results and the ship itself is lifted until it is skimming the surface with only the foils submerged.

Some small hydrofoil craft are already used for short-haul passenger transportation. Enthusiasts foresee a future in which hydrofoil ships propelled by atomic power would travel at speeds of 200 miles an hour, making an ocean voyage from the United States to Europe possible in one day.

★ ★ ★

They concede, however, that this vision is highly theoretical. Construction of such a ship could prove too expensive; unseen technical barriers could crop up.

The entire future of hydrofoil craft for general commercial use is a question to which there are now no answers—only speculation.

Within the U.S. Maritime Administration, which let the contract for design of the big hydrofoil vessel, officials differ as to how far and how fast this new type of design can be applied.

★ ★ ★

Actual construction and operation of the vessel will be crucial. The hydrofoil ship will be subjected to actual sink-or-float tests and can prove or demolish pencil-and-paper conclusions of a "feasibility study" made for the Maritime Administration.

Maritime planners think the future of hydrofoil vessels lies in passenger travel. Their studies so far suggest that hydrofoil craft will be best suited for short and medium length trips.

They have in mind such voyages as Seattle to Alaska, Miami to Puerto Rico, the Gulf Coast to Central America.

Eventually, trans-ocean travel by hydrofoil ships may also be practical and technically possible. For the time being, however, officials are limiting their prospects to more modest proportions.

★ ★ ★

For trans-ocean travel, a major difficulty is whether hydrofoil design can be applied to a ship large enough to match the floating hotel comfort of today's luxury liners.

But some experts contend that if the hydrofoil travels fast enough to eliminate the need for sleeping accommodations, it would not have to be a floating hotel. It could in fact be much smaller and make ocean travel by ship much like airliner travel today.

How fast will hydrofoil ships go? The test ship scheduled for completion in 1961 will have a cruising speed of 80 knots, or 90 miles an hour. Big ocean liners cruise at 25 to 30 knots.

As for the more distant future, Charles R. Denison of the Maritime Administration has said: "Our recent feasibility studies have arbitrarily set 200 miles per hour as the upper limit. In the future, even this need not remain the upper limit."

Besides their speed possibilities, hydrofoil craft could provide a much smoother crossing than conventional vessels because they would not be buffetted by turbulent seas.

Engineers say that from their viewpoint, especially assuming that today's technical problems will be licked tomorrow, nothing is impossible. But they concede that all of their optimism is still on the drawing boards and that one-day Atlantic crossings still lie years and years in the future.

Virginians Go Easy

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginians are drinking less liquor. The alcoholic beverage control board says the decline started in early 1958. The consumption decrease for the year was 62,543 cases.

Puss Escapes, So Barber Gets $500 Kitty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A barber's cat which ate poached eggs for breakfast "just like a member of the family" was valued in absentia Monday at $500.

That's the amount Municipal Court Judge Byron Arnold awarded the barber, Richard O. D'Amico, for the escape from a pet hospital of Nipper, a black tomcat embodying a mixture of Siamese and Persian.

Were Eager Beavers

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Civic leaders here proved themselves to be real eager beavers. They were at the airport a day early to meet a delegation that was to look for an industrial site.

Soybeans Move Up, Other Grains Stable

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans moved higher in early transactions but other grains showed little tendency to move up or down on the Board of Trade today.

A three million bushel increase in the amount of soybeans shipped overseas last week compared with a week earlier brought a brisk demand for soybean futures at the opening of trade today. Advances ranged up to more than a cent a bushel at the outset but later fell back to fractions as demand fell off.

The wheat market remained a trading affair with little demand in evidence for the bread grain. There was some buying by northwest interests early in the trade and scattered selling by local traders.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, December $1.95⅞; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, December $1.09½; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, December 77½; rye unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.31¾; and soybeans ⅜ higher to ½ lower, January $2.19⅛.

Stock Market Backs Down

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market backed away moderately early this afternoon as some profits were taken.

Losses of fractions to about a point outnumbered gains in the same range.

The market was due for a breathing spell, Wall Streeters said. Some felt that the recent rise was too fast and left the list vulnerable to a decline.

Motors were quite active but highly irregular. Most of the steels were lower or slightly changed although Jones & Laughlin kept a gain of about a point.

Rails were unevenly lower, a few of the major carriers holding their ground or making slight gains. Coppers were mostly higher as were airlines, building materials and mail order-retail stocks.

Drugs, electronics and most oils were on the downside. Chemicals were mixed.

Ford was down a point for a while as the public offering of 2,000,000 shares of Ford common from the Ford Foundation was made. The loss was shaved to a fraction in later dealings.

American Motors dropped about 2 and Studebaker-Packard lost around a point. Checker Motors advanced more than a point. Chrysler and General Motors held fractional gains.

The congressional investigation on markups in the drug business found this group sliding again, Schering losing about a point, Merck more than 2 and Pfizer a fraction.

Fractional gains by Anaconda, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge made the coppers a firm section. Similar gains were made by most leading airlines. United was up about a point.

General Electric dropped about a point and Allied Chemical a fraction, both on profit taking from big gains yesterday. Du Pont added a fraction to its rise of 7½ yesterday.

RECEIVES GIFT — U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher, left, receives a letter from GM President John F. Gordon revealing a gift of $500,000 from the auto firm toward the continuance of the university's Phoenix Project which is devoted to industrial health an to research into peaceful uses of atomic energy.

U. of M. Phoenix Project Pledged $500,000 by GM

ANN ARBOR — General Motors Corp. today pledged $500,000 to The University of Michigan for continuation of research in industrial health and the peaceful uses of atomic energy over the next five years.

Announced by U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher and GM President John F. Gordon, the gift will be made through the university's Memorial Phoenix Project for atomic research. It will be paid in five annual installments.

Under the grant, $350,000 will be allocated to the Institute of Industrial Health, a unit created in 1950 with a $1,500,000 gift from GM to the Phoenix Project. The remaining $150,000 will be used for unrestricted studies of the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

"We are deeply grateful to General Motors for this gift, and for the company's faith in our programs," President Hatcher said. "Nine years ago, when Phoenix was in its infancy, General Motors assured immediate success with a gift of $1,500,000. As the Project now enters its second decade, this company is again strongly supporting work beneficial to all industrial employes and to the general public."

★ ★ ★

"Harnessing the atom for peaceful purposes will mean a better life for mankind everywhere," President Gordon pointed out. "We of General Motors warmly subscribe to the objectives of the Phoenix Project."

"In the relatively brief period of its existence," he added, "the Institute of Industrial Health has contributed importantly to the knowledge of industrial medicine. It is now recognized as one of the world's . . . great education research and service centers in the industrial health field."

The U. of M.'s industrial health research is aimed at the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of occupational diseases. Industrial lighting, noise, toxic materials, air supply and other environmental factors are under study. The work is administered by a board of governor appointed by the University regents. Results are made available to all American industry.

★ ★ ★

Phoenix is the U. of M.'s memorial to its dead of World War II. Devoted entirely to the peaceful applications and implications of atomic energy, it has been financed by $8 million in private gifts.

With the original funds running out, the university has launched a drive to raise $2 million for five more years of operation. The GM gift brings to $760,000 the total pledged to date in the new campaign.

President Hatcher reported that the original funds have been used to build a nuclear reactor, an atomic research laboratory and other special facilities; to finance 175 research studies; to establish the Institute of Industrial Health; and to operate various programs and units across the U. of M. campus.

Manufacturers Elect President

Robert S. Nelson Is Chosen by Group; Also 4 Board Members

The Pontiac Manufacturers Assn. at its annual meeting last night, elected four new board members, and named Robert S. Nelson president for 1960.

Nelson, general manager of the Universal Oil Seal Co., also was one of the four newly elected board members.

Others elected to the board of directors were Thomas S. Wiethorn, manager of Fisher Body Division's Pontiac Plant, Earl A. Maxwell, director of industrial relations at General Motors Truck and Coach Division, and Robert B. Stewart, general manager of American Forging and Socket Co.

Officers elected by the board were Nelson, president; Wiethorn, vice president; Thomas Mair, treasurer; and James F. Spence, executive secretary.

The meeting took place at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. Guest speaker was Michigan State University Oakland Chancellor D. B. Varner.

2 Supervisors Lose Posts

Royal Oak Replaces Smith, Clawson With City Officials

Two old-guard county supervisors from Royal Oak, not re-appointed after serving a total of 44 years on the Board of Supervisors, today wrote off their disappointment with "that's the way they do it" down here.

Removed from the board were Fred W. Smith, a veteran of 28 years, and H. Lloyd Clawson, a veteran of 16 years.

Saying "Fred and Lloyd have done an excellent job," Royal Oak Mayor William Hayward explained their dismissal with, "we wanted to bring county government closer to our city government."

Hayward said by appointing City Commissioner L. Curtis Potter and Bruce W. Love, assistant city manager, this could be done. Potter was just recently elected to the commission.

There was some "indication" that Smith, 75, and Clawson, 71, were not always keeping the interests of Royal Oak in mind during their service on the board, Hayward said.

"They never asked me for anything," retorted Clawson, a semi-retired realtor first named supervisor in 1943.

Smith, a real estate and insurance salesman first appointed in 1931, took his removal more in stride. "After one day of realizing I'm off, I'm very glad," he said. "I feel there is a terrific load taken off my shoulders."

Smith was chairman of the important Ways and Means committee of the Board of Supervisors, which during the past two years has been saddled with deficit county financing problems.

Although Smith said there were some "rumblings" that he hadn't attempted to help Royal Oak schools get their fair share of tax funds, Hayward said such a complaint, which he said he had heard too, had no part in Smith's removal.

Royal Oak commissioners, in their first reorganization session, reappointed William C. Hudson, another veteran of 28 years, and Harry Horton, a supervisor for 14 years.

Adding Potter and Love to the board will bring to 18 the number of new supervisors on the 83-member board this year. Both new supervisors are expected to attend their first meeting Monday.

Knudsen Is Elected to Boys' Club Board

Semon E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division, has been elected to the National Board of the Boys' Clubs of America.

The announcement of Knudsen's election was made in New York by former U.S. President Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Board.

Coast Guard Rushes to Aid of Soviet Seaman

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—For the second time in nine months, a Russian seaman was in need of U.S. medical help today in the stormy Bering Sea. For the second time, help was on its way from the U.S. Coast Guard.

The Russian refrigerator ship Jana radioed yesterday that a member of its crew was seriously ill. The Coast Guard flew a plane with a doctor aboard from Kodiak to Cold Bay, 400 miles west of here in the Aleutians.

The Jana was steaming south through heavy seas toward Dutch Harbor, some 200 miles farther west on Unalaska Island. It was expected to arrive by early afternoon.

The amphibious plane was to fly on to Dutch Harbor in the morning, provided the fog lifted. Coast Guard officials said they believed it would.

The Coast Guard said the plane would pick up the unidentified seaman and fly him to the Kodiak Naval Hospital.

More Ford Common Offered Today at $82

NEW YORK (AP) — Two million shares of Ford Motor Co. common stock were offered publicly today at $82 a share by nationwide underwriting group led by Blyth & Co.

The offering with a value of 164 million dollars is being made on behalf of the Ford Foundation, a charitable institution founded by the late Henry Ford and his son Edsel. No proceeds go to the Ford Motor Co.

Stinko Reviews Delight Producers of New Movie

NEW YORK (UPI) — The producers were pleased that the motion picture was smelly during a world premier last night. They planned it that way.

The spectators got hungry for Chinese food instead of pop corn. Their noses were prickled with the smell of smoke.

At one point the theater had the aroma of a farmyard full of geese. The management was delighted.

It was the world premier of "Aromarama" and, smell-wise, the showing of a travelogue of China, "Behind the Great Wall," was a great success.

Under the Aromarama process, the air conditioning in the newly-renovated De Mille Theater was rigged so that odors were introduced which ranged from the fragrance incense in a Buddhist temple to the animal smell of a tiger in the jungle.

★ ★ ★

The process involves signals carried on the film in the same manner as the sound track. The signals introduce an aroma by triggering a mechanism in the air conditioning system, then whisk the odor into the theater.

The presentation represented a victory for Continental Distributing, Inc., which doctored up "Behind the Great Wall" with smells after it won prizes at the Brussels and Venice film festivals without scent.

Steel Union Signs With Can Firm; Aluminum Next

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Steelworkers Union boasted today about a new labor agreement in the can manufacturing industry and moved on to aluminum in hopes a settlement there would help pressure steel labor peace.

★ ★ ★

David J. McDonald, the union's president, said new bargaining talks start today in Chicago with major aluminum manufacturers. He said he hopes to join the sessions there early next week.

★ ★ ★

The agreement reached Tuesday with the American and Continental Can companies—two of the nation's largest steel consumers—calls for wage-benefit gains valued at 30 cents an hour over a three-year period.

★ ★ ★

It includes provision for wage boosts of 8.2 cents an hour in each of the three contract years. The can workers averaged $2.73 per hour including overtime in September.

★ ★ ★

A feature of the can settlement calls for full hospital-surgical benefit coverage, paid for by the employers, to continue for workers after they retire. Retirement benefits also bere raised.

FOR RETIRED WORKERS

"It is believed this is the first time a major American industry has agreed in collective bargaining to provide for the health needs of employes who retire," McDonald said.

"As a result of this progressive step, one of the great problems of old age is met—namely, the fear of people who retire of losing all insurance protection against the hazards of sickness in old age."

McDonald said the basis for the can agreement, covering some 45,000 workers, was worked out by the union with top men of the two can companies, Chairman Lucius Clay of Continental and President William Stolk of American Can.

★ ★ ★

He said this is in contrast with the situation in steel where, he said, top steel executives refuse to meet with him in real bargaining meetings.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, steel negotiations were moving fairly slowly. Government mediators called in steel industry negotiators for further talks today. They said they had no meeting scheduled with the union but asked for more technical date from union experts.

McDonald said the agreement with the can companies retained intact work practice clauses such as those in steel contracts. One of the major issues in the steel dispute is the steel companies' insistence on changing such clauses to give the firms more leeway in making manpower economies

Mull Dividend Withholding Tax

House Group Hears Conflicting Reports on Recent Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Should the federal government withhold income taxes on dividends and interest at the source to plug up estimated revenue loss of close to one billion a year?

★ ★ ★

The House Ways and Means Committee exploring proposals for revision of tax laws heard conflicting views on this issue yesterday from a panel of tax experts.

The panelists agreed the government is losing a lot of revenue because a lot of people don't report on their tax returns interest on savings, including savings bonds.

But they disagreed on whether the tax withholding which applies now to wages and salaries should be broadened to cover interest and dividends.

Former Internal Revenue Commissioner Russell C. Harrington warned that such a move would impose a burden on taxpayers who live on fixed income and whose livelihood depends on interest and dividends.

★ ★ ★

He said the morale of these taxpayers might be hurt.

What about the morale of wage earners already subject to withholding, asked Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark).

Slezak Rekindles the Past for One of Season's High

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Too many of Walter Slezak's more recent TV roles have found him straining to rekindle memories of his glowing performance in the 1953 Broadway comedy, "My Three Angels."

★ ★ ★

Last night, the role was no longer a pale imitation.

It was the original, rich role of Joseph, a Devil's Island prisoner (No. 3011 — 20 years for swindling) for Slezak and he rolled along with it to help give us one of the most enjoyable productions of the TV season.

The 90-minute NBC-TV Startime presentation of the Sam and Bella Spewack comedy (did you really think Mama Gabor wrote "My Three Angels?") remained true to the original.

★ ★ ★

A bit too faithful in one spot, I might add.

That moment came when George Grizzard (another of the angels, No. 4707, serving a life term for murdering his stepfather) got carried away in trying to describe his late, unlamented victim and substituted another seven-letter word for "buzzard."

This was, in case you wondered, a live show. Probably the last live one the sponsor, Ford, will attempt for a long time.

★ ★ ★

Anyhow, let's remember that while language can be embarrassing—and even offensive to many—the chief troubles of TV today stem from deeds, not words.

Back to the show: Slezak and his angelic buddies, Grizzard and Barry Sullivan (No. 6817, serving life term for wife-killing) had some funny moments as they displayed their sardonic techniques in crime.

They managed to spread around some of the surplus "honor" traditionally found among thieves and did it delightfully.

Slezak, as history's first motivational researcher, made the show a success, but I don't want to slight the others — Will Kuluva, Carmen Mathews, Grizzard, Diana Millay, Henry Daniell and Peter Donat.

★ ★ ★

Sullivan seemed too undecided about how to taekle his role. Director Bretaigne Windust eschewed camera trickery and told the story in a straightforward way. I think he only used about three closeups.

Dr. Tom Dooley was seen and heard last night in a special half-hour ABC-TV program that enabled him to discuss his life and his work in Asia.

★ ★ ★

Of his recent cancer operation, he said only: "Dooley, at this present moment, feels fine." He plans to return to Laos to continue his work.

He is a forceful, overpowering TV speaker. And a magnificent human being, which is more important.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Mae West will portray "Diamond Lil" on a CBS-TV Red Skelton show to be taped next month and shown early next March. Skelton will play three parts opposite Miss West—Clem Kaddidlehopper, San Fernando Red and Cauliflower McPugg . . . The newest fashions from Paris will be presented on NBC-TV Monday, Feb. 29, in a one-hour color special, "Paris a la Mode" . . . Archibald MacLeish's first TV play, "The Secret Freedom," has been scheduled by NBC-TV for Sunday, Jan. 31. Tony Randall, Thomas Mitchell and Kim Hunter will star.

Woman Arraigned for Embezzlement Has Area Estate

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Glenn Averill, 58, sat silent and almost inconspicuous in the courtroom.

The surroundings were unfamiliar to the gray-haired motherly-looking woman who divides her time by living in several luxurious homes.

One of the homes is situated on a 300-acre estate at 6330 Bordman Rd. in Macomb County, south of Almont.

★ ★ ★

The property has been valued at between $300,000 and $600,000. It includes four houses besides a manor large house and numerous farm buildings.

Mrs. Averill was arraigned in what the prosecutor's office described as "the largest embezzlement in Detroit history."

★ ★ ★

Hands shaking, the retired bookkeeper pleaded innocent and waived examination Tuesday on charges of embezzling $100,513 from a former employer. The firm has reported at least $876,168 missing since 1950.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Averill was ordered bound over for Circuit Court trial by Recorders Judge Joseph A. Gillis and released on $1,000 bond.

Wife of a former Detroit police sergeant, Mrs. Averill retired in 1957 from her $20,000-a-year position as head bookkeeper of Giffels & Vallet Inc., a Detroit architectural and engineering firm. She was with the company 29 years.

MRS. MARY AVERILL

A company official went to authorities after Mrs. Averill retired and said something was wrong with the firm's books. Asst. Prosecutor William P. Long said auditors discovered at least $876,168 missing.

★ ★ ★

A warrant for Mrs. Averill's arrest was issued.

Mrs. Averill, living in retirement with her husband Glenn, 62, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was found to have acquired extensive real estate holdings.

Other property listed as belonging to the Averills includes three houses in Windsor, Ont., and a luxurious summer home in northern Canada.

★ ★ ★

In Detroit, the couple lived in a swank apartment in a downtown hotel.

The embezzlement charge is the third in which Mrs. Averill has been involved. She pleaded guilty in 1928 to embezzling $6,000 from Pennsylvania Petroleum Copr. A charge of embezzling $412 the same year from L. C. Smith & Corona Typewriter Co. was dismissed on the prosecution's motion.

General to Head Space Agency

Will Assure Military Cooperation to Civilian Rocket Builders

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department said today that creation of a new civilian space unit headed by an Air Force officer has assured full military cooperation in building high-powered rockets for deep space exploration.

★ ★ ★

The civilian unit, part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), is to be headed by 45-year-old Maj. Gen. Don R. Ostrander, who had been directing military missile programs since 1951.

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, NASA director, announced yesterday that beginning about Jan. 1 Ostrander would be "director of launch vehicle programs."

He will serve as policy boss for Dr. Wernher von Braun and other German-born rocket experts whose transfer from the Army to NASA has been completed except for final details subject to congressional approval.

★ ★ ★

The principal rockets under the Ostrander-Von Braun unit will be the Saturn and Nova, designed to send robot and manned vehicles to the moon and to nearby planets. These will be far larger than any of the present military rockets.

Ostrander's appointment followed a warning by Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, Air Force research and development commander, that there was danger that military brains, spirit and technology would be frozen out of the nation's space program.

Ostrander returned six weeks ago from serving as director of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, with headquarters in Paris.

★ ★ ★

In recent weeks, he had been serving as acting director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA).

★ ★ ★

The Defense Department announced that Army Brig. Gen. Austin W. Betts, former deputy director for guided missiles, would become permanent head of ARPA.

Child Is Expected by Audrey Hepburn

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Audrey Hepburn and her husband, actor Mel Ferrer, announced Tuesday they expect a child next July.

★ ★ ★

Miss Hepburn will accompany Ferrer next week to Rome where he will make a picture.

She lost a child last year after she was thrown from a horse while making a film in Mexico.

Katy Jurado to See Her 'Ernesto' Borgnine

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mexican actress Katy Jurado flew from Cuernavaca Tuesday to surprise her fiance, actor Ernest Borgnine, at his studio set.

★ ★ ★

"I want to know when Ernesto and I get married, so I come queek to find out," she said. "Oh, how I love heem."

Borgnine, who got his final divorce decree from his wife Rhoda Sept. 8, said "some problems remain to be ironed out."

He added: "Katy wants to move to Mexico, but my work is here."

★ ★ ★

The two plan to spend Christmas in Cuernavaca with her two children, Sandra and Victor.

Lucille Ignores All the Gossip

Ball Wants Broadway

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Amid rumors of separation, divorce and financial problems, Lucille Ball calmly is making plans to star on Broadway next season no matter what occurs in her personal life.

Lucy cut a zig-zag course (from her dressing room at Desilu to Paramount Studios two blocks down the street) on an electric golf cart blithely ignoring traffic and gaping tourists.

Once ensconced in the Paramount commissary the rebellious redhead anounced her intentions for 1960.

"I'll move to New York no later than September to put the children in school," she said. "Then I'll start work on my life's ambition, a Broadway show. It's something I've always wanted to do."

What of rumors that Desi Arnaz will join her to produce a show of his own?

★ ★ ★

"I don't know about that," Lucy said without a flicker of humor. "But I don't think broadway can take both of us at the same time. And don't ask me to explain that statement, either."

Lucille is so sure of making the Broadway scene she hasn't settled on which show she will do. Best bet is that the TV star will be seen in a stage version of Dorothy Parker's "The Big Blonde."

"I haven't decided for sure. There have been many offers, including a couple of musicals," she admitted.

Why is she giving up the soft life of an occasional video program for the rigors of a broadway show?

★ ★ ★

"I'm not about to retire, and my contract with Westinghouse is over. I've been committed to sponsors for the past 10 years. Now I'm free for the first time and I'm anxious to do as I please.

"People ask me how I'll feel playing before a 'live' audience," she laughed. "For the past 12 years — three on radio and nine on TV — I've appeared before audiences on every one of my shows.

"The publicity and fame of a successful New York show doesn't interest me. I've had all that.

"As for hard work, that's all I've known for the past ten years. I'm not afraid of working too hard."

Lucy said she will keep her homes in Palm Springs and Beverly Hills (next door to Jack Benny) but refused to discuss how long she will remain on the East Coast.

Ex-Quizmasters Seem to Be Kept Quite Busy

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Whatever happened to all the quizmasters? Well, George DeWitt told me the other morning that he's going back on the air for two networks—doing a one-hour 'Music Carnival" and a half-hour "Spotlight" talent program . . . Naturally, they won't be quiz shows.

WILSON

George, who opened last Friday night in Chicago with Bobby Darrin, said: "The way things have worked out, I'm sort of glad that 'Name That Tune' went off, even though my show was clean and innocent . . ."

Then quizmaster Jack Barry—producer, actor and night club star—revealed that he'd asked a very important question of pretty Patte Preble, member of the casting department of Young & Rubicam ad agency—and that she'd given the right answer ("yes") without being supplied any answers in advance.

★ ★ ★

So they're engaged and will be married early in 1960. Jack, who was hardly scratched in the Quiz Quiz, commented, "This is the first nice thing that's happened to me in a long time."

★ ★ ★

Judy Garland's lost 24-pounds in Doctor's Hospital (where her ailment's been diagnosed as hepatitis) . . . Prince Ghika of Cuba's here trying to persuade Lillian Kramer to become his Princess . . . Henry Fonda, of whom I couldn't be fonder, has a deathless line (by Playwright Robert Anderson) in "Silent Night, Lonely Night." Discussing parental restrictions on children in a scene with Barbara Bel Geddes, Fonda says: "They should put a label on Youth reading: 'Perishable. Use at once.'"

BARBARA

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Tony Martin bowed out of a Miami Beach date in a hassle over Jose Greco's billing . . .

Sammy Davis Jr.'s headlining "Big Party" New Year's Eve . . . The quizzers'll ask about a "long squeeze" TV lens that makes cars seem longer and sleeker in commercials . . . Patti Page's book for teen-agers has been retitled: "Once Upon A Dream."

Bob Hope Lines on Payola Killed by NBC

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Payola and the disc jockey investigation touched off a verbal battle today between comedian Bob Hope and the NBC network.

Funnyman Hope accused the network of censorship in trying to kill a sketch satirizing the current payola scandals.

NBC denied the charge. Network official Hal Kemp said, "As usual Hope had too many plugs for other products on his show, and we just asked him to cut them out. With all the payola thing going on, it didn't seem like a good idea to have him plugging other merchandise."

Population to Be Double by Time 2000 Arrives

NEW YORK (UPI)—A second United States will have to be built in 40 years, say housing officials of Allied Chemical's Barrett Building Materials division.

They point to statistics indicating that for every person alive today we will have two by the year 2000.

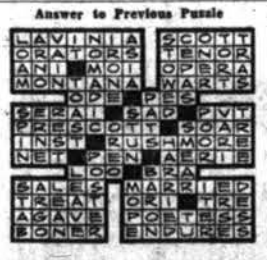

Television Series to Help Mothers Plan for Yuletide

A weekly television program directed at helping mothers prepare for Christmas is being presented weekly by the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service family life committee.

The first of the series will feature Robert Janes, executive director of the Oakland County Family Service Assn., who will discuss the importance of Christmas tradition and rituals to family strength.

This program may be seen Thursday at 11 a.m. on Channel 7. The following programs will be shown on Mondays at the same time and on the same channel.

NEW HOPE FOR HARD OF HEARING

Pontiac, Dec. 9.—Something new has just been announced. It is an electronic development designed for those who hear but who do not understand words. There is nothing in either ear. No dangling cords. No tubes. The sound vibrations are conducted right through the bones of the head to the inner ear, and right to your center of understanding. We have termed this process "Vibratory Sensory Conduction"—truly secret hearing.

The manufacturer has been able to produce a hearing device so small that many who wear it report "No one knows I have a hearing deficiency." It is said to be very reasonably priced.

This new instrument is manufactured by Audivox, Inc., Successors to Western Electric Hearing Aid Division and makers of "The hearing aids your doctor knows."
