Record Budget of $6.7 Million OK'd for City

To Require Increase in Current Tax Rate to $14.98 Per $1,000

The City Commission last night adopted a record $6,788,103 city budget for 1963.

The budget would require a tax rate of $14.98 per $1,000 — a $1.12 hike over the current tax rate — on an assumed total assessed valuation of $288 million.

Although the adopted budget is $347,304 above last year's budget, it still represents a cut of some $257,332 from the budget originally proposed by City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The budget action also involved passage of resolutions calling for the following appropriations:

1. A 1 per cent pay hike across the board and full payment of Blue Cross-Blue Shield premiums for city employes.

2. A $13,625 fund to pay for free parking in downtown municipal parking lots between Feb. 1-May 1. The city's share is to be $8,625 and the Downtown Pontiac Business Association, $5,000.

PROPERTY TAX

Some $4,314,240 is to be raised by local property tax.

The remaining $2,273,863 is to come from other revenues, such as charges for city services and money from the state.

The 1 per cent pay hike amounts to $50,000. The benefit increase is $40,600 over last year's budgeted figure.

The pay hike was approved by a 5 to 1 vote over objections from the Pontiac Firefighters' Association.

Finance Plan to 'Cut' Deficit

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today proposed a record $547-million "balanced" general fund state budget which he said would rebuild confidence in Michigan's financial integrity.

"This budget is both prudent—because it lives within its income—and progressive—because it provides for the future," Romney declared in a message to a joint session of the legislature.

The governor predicted total anticipated revenues for the 1963-64 fiscal year would reach $560.6, leaving a surplus for reduction of the state's deficit of $13.6 million.

Michigan's deficit as of last July 1 was $85.6 million.

Romney said that all reports indicated that the state would have a current year operating surplus of $33 million to apply upon the deficit.

The combination of the two surpluses—$46.6 million—would reduce the $85.6-million deficit by about 54 per cent, he said. The deficit would then be down to $39 million.

★ ★ ★

"The reduction of the deficit by this amount will do much to improve Michigan's economic climate and stimulate confidence," Romney asserted.

The previous budget request record was set last year when then-Gov. John Swainson proposed the figure $528 million.

ASKS INCREASES

Romney called for increased appropriations for a capital outlay (building) program, higher education, school aid, economic expansion, mental health, civil service pay raise, and other individual projects and programs.

Merely to maintain the present level of state services, the governor said, a total of $29.5 million must be added to current general fund appropriations of $511.7 million.

Part of this increase, he explained, must go for state aid to local school systems, which are faced with an influx of 58,000 more children into classrooms in the coming year.

"This budget is designed primarily to meet the needs of the people—now and in the future," Romney declared. "This budget does not permit us to do everything we would like to do, but it will permit us to do the things that we must do."

The Republican governor told the GOP-controlled legislature, which is expected to look favorably on the budget, that adoption of his recommendations would be a "major step in restoring the confidence of our own people and of the nation in our integrity as a state."

Romney said the budget shows that Michigan can live within its income and still meet the most pressing public service needs of the people.

"But it does more than that," he said, "it shows that Michigan can look ahead and recognize its problems and solve them now to prepare for the future."

Romney contended that the orderly, early retirement of the

HOMER V. HANCOCK

Death Takes H. V. Hancock

Local Businessman Ill for Two Months

Homer V. Hancock, a partner in the Hancock Iron Works, died early this morning in Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of two months. He was 79.

Mr. Hancock of 14 Green St. attended the University of Wisconsin and Butler University.

He started his career as a teacher in a country school in Deleware County, Indiana in 1903.

Later he served as assistant principal and as principal of schools in Yorktown, Ind., and principal of the Garfield Junior High School in Muncie, Ind.

★ ★ ★

He resigned in 1909 and moved to Anderson Ind. the following year to manage a loan company.

CAME TO MICHIGAN

In 1917 Mr. Hancock sold the company and came to Michigan doing specialty sales work in Detroit for a year.

With his brother Victor H. Hancock, he organized the Hancock Iron Works in 1923, doing structural steel and iron work until 1945 when facilities were devoted entirely to manufacturing outdoor fireplaces and accessories.

Surviving are his wife, the former Leona Smith; two sons, C. Frederick of Louisville, Ky. and Thomas S. of Milford; two sisters, Mrs. Chester Walker and Mrs. F. G. Kautzman, both in Indiana; his brother Victor; and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Hancock's body will be at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home at 7 p.m. today.

GI Combat Hinted

U.S. to Fight in Viet Nam?

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — Congress received today a strong hint that the United States would send combat troops into South Viet Nam if the Communists launch an open attack from North Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara testified to a "new feeling of confidence" that victory is possible in the current American-supported war by South Vietnamese forces against Communist guerrillas.

He told the House Armed Services Committee the United States is alert to the possibility that the Communists, sensing defeat in their guerrilla efforts, might resort to open attack from across the 17th Parallel.

★ ★ ★

"Obviously, this . . . could require a greater direct participation by the United States," the defense secretary said.

McNamara made these other points in lengthy testimony to a closed-door session of the House Armed Services Committee:

—The United States does not want to dominate the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but will have to stay in the driver's seat as long as it carries so much of the Western defense load.

★ ★ ★

—There is increasing evidence that the Communist unity of Russia and Red China has been "fractured —perhaps irreparably."

—Getting rid of the Skybolt missile will save the nation $2 billion and have "no effect whatsoever" on the future of its big bomber force.

★ ★ ★

—Russia "may now have or soon achieve" the ability to put bomb-carrying satellites into orbit. But there doesn't seem to be any logical reason to do this because there are much more efficient ways of delivering nuclear explosives on targets.

Warming Trend Caresses City; Cold Spell Ends

The cold spell was broken in Pontiac last night when the weatherman gave the city a mild 12 above.

Skies will be clear and temperatures will dip to 5 above tonight, then climb to a warmer 20 tomorrow.

Friday will continue a little warmer but temperatures are expected to be colder over the weekend.

4 Planes Crash in Few Hours

Undetermined Number of Persons Die

By The Associated Press

Four planes crashed within a few hours last night and today with an undetermined casualty toll.

A Navy antisubmarine patrol plane with 14 persons aboard went down in the Atlantic Ocean 230 miles southeast of New York.

Rafts were reported sighted but there was no report of any survivors being seen.

★ ★ ★

The plane, a P3A Orion out of Patuxent River Naval Air Station in Maryland was last heard from at 2:48 a.m. when it made radio contact with Patuxent. At that time the plane was 225 miles southeast of New York City.

SPEED TO AREA

A Coast Guard cutter and two Navy destroyers sped to the area.

★ ★ ★

There was at least one survivor of the crew of six.

The bomber was based at Walker Air Force Base near Roswell, N.M.

At Kansas City, Mo., a four-engine Continental Airlines Viscount prop-jet crashed into a dike last night while attempting a landing at Municipal Airport, killing all eight persons aboard.

The plane had seats for 59 passengers but carried only five. A witness said the plane was afire as it approached the runway.

Meredith Decides to Stay in School

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—James H. Meredith said today he plans to enroll for the spring semester at the University of Mississippi.

The 29-year-old Negro, the first—and still the only—person of his race ever knowingly admitted as a student at the uinversity, made the announcement to newsmen here.

"The Negro is not going," he told his news conference. "I, James H. Meredith, am going."

He read a statement before a battery of newsmen and television cameras.

Meredith said he had "pondered the question for several days" and had taken into consideration the feelings of people in this country and throughout the world.

"I weighed this against my own personal position," he said.

He said he had decided to make his decision known at a news conference because newsmen had requested they get sufficient notice "so they could be present if they desired."

"It is a great tragedy for America that it is a big news item whether or not a student will attend a university," he said.

GETS SCHOOL OK

The news conference was 20 minutes late getting under way because a secretary who was to mimeograph Meredith's statement was absent.

Meredith said he planned to register Thursday or Friday.

Asked about his grades—reportedly low enough in some subjects to give him academic trouble—Meredith said he considered the matter to be a personal one.

Mart Partners Boycott France

Bonn Will Continue Efforts for British

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department today denounced France's blackballing of Britain's entry into the Common Market. But it said the action could do no more than delay Atlantic unity.

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The five Common Market partners of France split with President Charles de Gaulle today over his veto of British membership in the European union.

In Bonn, the West German government announced that it will continue efforts to make Britain a full member of the Common Market.

The announcement followed a

Two Strong Men Will Fight It Out Over Future of Alliance

AP Special Correspondent

PARIS—The future of the Western Alliance may hinge on the question of who is tougher — youthful President Kennedy or the aging but durable enigma of Europe, President Charles de Gaulle.

The world likely will be witnessing two cold wars within the big one — in the East between the Soviet Union and Red China, in the West between the United States and de Gaulle's France.

RYAN

Britain's lost battle to join the European Common Market will have repercussions around the world. Obviously it is a severe—though not necessarily fatal—blow to the Western unity for which statesmen labored patiently over the past dozen years.

There will be cheering in the Kremlin and probably a Soviet attempt to take quick advantage of the breach in the Western front. The Soviet response may take the form of an aggressive new peace offensive, with seemingly genuine gestures on rankling problems, to make it appear that Europe can do business safely with the Communists.

De Gaulle has made clear that he believes Europe should be a force standing between the United States and the Soviet Union, independently wielding its own nuclear weaponry, even though he has no nuclear weapons to wield yet.

He has made France into a poor partner in NATO—hardly a partner at all. Since France is an important piece of European real estate, de Gaulle's policies already have weakened the Atlantic alliance.

De Gaulle also has declared Britain unfit to be considered a part of Europe. He champions "continentalism," a continent looking inward, paternally guided and directed by its powerful heart—France and Germany.

A spokesman reflecting the French president's views says British Prime Minister Macmillan chose the United States instead of Europe by agreeing to President Kennedy's proposal to arm Britain and France with Polaris missiles. This, to de Gaulle's way of thinking, was accepting U.S. domination to the detriment of Europe.

LOOKS HEALTHY

De Gaulle will remain president of France at least until 1966 if his health holds out. Although 72, he looks hale and hearty. For another three years, therefore, the United States must deal with situations created by his policy.

He has struck a hard blow at the concept of European unity and Atlantic partnership which is the core of President Kennedy's world policy. In Europe, diplomats ask: can de Gaulle get away with it?

De Gaulle's popularity in France seems unchallenged, even though one hears misgivings about his frequent references to a possible understanding in the future with Soviet communism. The French economy is booming. French business is happy—probably all the happier now that it does not have to face British competition within the Common Market.

But France has angered influential forces among her neighbors. De Gaulle's concept of a Europe dominated by a French-German alliance can be dashed quickly as a result of what happened in Brussels.

The West Germans want Britain in the Common Market, support the idea of European unity, and above all want the protection of U.S. nuclear might against Soviet communism.

The treaty of cooperation signed by de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer may never be ratified now, even though many West Germans might want devoutly to put a final seal on the reconciliation between Europe's two traditional enemies. Reconciliation within the context of European union is one thing, says many a German, and an isolation from the rest of Europe would be quite another.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle, despite heavy pressure from many directions, stood like a rock against Britain and the United States in the Brussels quarrel.

But the Western Alliance's cold war has only begun.

State Okays Proposed City School Bonds

The Pontiac School District's proposed sale of $3.2 million in bonds to finish a 10-year building program was approved yesterday by the State Department of Public Instruction.

★ ★ ★

The bond package is part of a $3.5-million bond issue approved by the Pontiac Board of Education in December.

The remaining $300,000 is proposed as a short-term bond series to be repurchased over six years and is not subject to state approval.

The bonds are to be sold to finance construction of Baldwin Junior High School in north Pontiac, a new elementary school on the East Side, new school board administration and service buildings, and an addition to Irving Elementary School.

Dr. Dana Whitmer, district superintendent of schools, said the state has in effect pledged its full faith and credit behind the $3.2-million bond package. This tends to lower the interest rates on the loan, he said.

The school board now is waiting for the State Municipal Finance Commission to approve the sale, which would tend to further reduce the rates, Whitmer added.

He said the board hopes to achieve favorable action by the commission in time to sell the bonds in February. Construction would follow immediately.

The $3.2-bond package would be repurchased over 18 years, said Whitmer, and "wouldn't require any additional taxes."

state's general fund operating deficit was essential.

He declared:

"If we do not eliminate this deficit in times of relative prosperity, we shall either not eliminate it at all or we will have to seek excessively higher taxes.

The governor was referring to the 1959 cash crisis when then Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat, clashed with a Republican-dominated legislature over a tax program to meet the state's mounting deficit.

As the debt climbed to nearly $100 million, there was a "payless pay day" for state employes, and pay checks were held back for 10 days.

"There can be no second step into a better future for Michigan without the right first step," he said. "I will not be surprised if it is painful for many of our citizens with pressing and legitimate needs.

"But breaking a bad habit is always painful. Michigan's historically bad habit of spending more than its income cannot continue without further impairment of our economic health and human well-being."

four-hour meeting of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's cabinet to map strategy in the wake of yesterday's French veto of British membership hopes.

"The federal government believes that a constructive way out of the present impasse has to be found," the West German statement said.

"It will continue to work for a restoration of unity among the common market partners and for British entry into the EEC (Common Market)."

In London, Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath, Britain's chief negotiator in the talks here, told a cheering House of Commons that the defeat of Britain's bid to enter the Common Market "is a bitter blow, but not a mortal one."

Earlier, on his return to London from Brussels, Heath told reporters at London airport that despite the French veto, "we shall not turn our backs on Europe."

In Commons, he said: "The events of the past few weeks have shown how many people throughout Europe want us to play a full part in its creation.

"The governments of the five member states of the community, whose people together number some 120 million, have clearly shown that there are many of those who share with us a common view of the Europe we want to see," he said.

★ ★ ★

In another development, informed sources here said negotiations will be broken off on Britain's attempts to enter two other European groupings — the European Coal and Steel Community and the European Atomic Community.

★ ★ ★

Euratom sources said they expected that negotiations which have been going on with Britain for about two months were expected to be broken off in the same way as those with the Common Market.

FRENCH WON'T ATTEND

The mechanics of formally ending the talks are expected to be that the French delegation would not attend the next Euratom meeting and that Britain and the other five—west Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — would vote to end the talks because of this absence.

Adenauer's government apparently took care to balance today's statement to please the British. But, at the same time, it tried not to offend France, with which it has just signed an historic treaty of friendship.

"The cabinet regrets the six EEC governments were unable to agree on a uniform opinion on continuing the negotiations with Great Britain, despite the intensive efforts of five of the six," the Bonn statement said.

"The federal government will continue its unequivocal, repeatedly expressed, policy of economic and political unification of Europe. It notes with satisfaction that Great Britain upholds her determination to join the EEC."

Record City Budget Adopted

survey taken three years ago to adjust wages to a proper level, has not been kept in adjustment by the City Commission as so stated by Mayor Robert Landry.

★ ★ ★

"We feel that according to the Yarger plan, we are considerably behind in wages in accordance with other cities that we were compared with in the plan."

Sgt. Herbert Cooley, president of the Pontiac Police Officers Association, (PPOA) expressed similar feelings about the pay hike on behalf of the PPOA.

Bottom voted against the proposed pay hike stating that he felt it was not a big enough increase "for some of our pay classifications which I think are already too low."

City officials expect the city's tax base to be about $288 million this year. It was $281.2 million last year.

Based on the $288 million, the original budget proposed by Stierer would have required a tax rate of $15.65.

In revising his budget, commissioners cut the estimated tax rate 67 cents and made major cuts in the police and recreation department budget recommendations.

The police department budget allocation is $925,514 — about $55,000 less than Stierer proposed and some $5,000 under the department's 1962 budget allocation.

The total public safety division budget — including fire, police and electrical departments — is $1,902,742. It is some $62,000 less than originally proposed but roughly $32,000 above last year's public safety budget.

Commissioners cut $30,000 from original proposed appropriations for recreation, $10,000 from parks and $5,000 from municipal golf course expenditures for a total cut of $45,000 in parks and recreation.

The 1963 total parks and recreation budget is $332,886, compared to $346,016 in last year's budget.

More minor cutbacks from Stierer's originally proposed figures were made in 20 other departments.

County Staff Due for Raise?

Consideration of a general pay increase for all county employes will be recommended this spring by the Oakland County Board of Auditors.

When the 1963 budget was prepared last year, no allowance was made for pay hikes—other than that of elected officials.

Previously, at least minimum raises had been given to keep pace with the cost of living.

Last year, at budget time, however, the Board of Supervisors declared that the tax allocation board had forced the county into an austerity program in 1963 by failing to increase the county's tax share.

★ ★ ★

Now the board of auditors says there will be a surplus in county funds.

The size of the surplus will be known when the audit is completed within the next few days.

John Witherup, county personnel director, told the Board of Supervisors salaries committee yesterday that a general increase contemplated for this year would amount to $20,000.

★ ★ ★

The salaries committee, which would consider any pay recommendations along with the ways and means committee, remained noncommittal.

City Will File Appeal to State

Condemnation Case on Urban Renewal

Faced with an appeal of the recent R20 urban renewal condemnation case decision, the city has decided to file its own appeal with the State Supreme Court.

The City Commission ordered its condemnation attorney, Harold W. Dudley, to appeal appraisal fees for about a half-dozen properties in the case.

The fees totaled about $11,960.

Under condemnation statutes the city is obligated to pay "reasonable expenses" and a $25-per-day attorney fee to property owners who won awards.

USUAL LIMIT

Fees charged by appraisers for their services and testimony in court usually run no higher than $100 per day, according to Dudley.

The seven appraisal fees being appealed range from $930 to $3,120 each.

State condemnation statutes do not set a limit on "reasonable expenses of property owners."

City Attorney William A. Ewart recommended the action because of the possibility that "the precedent established by the allowance of these fees will affect other cases."

City Parkers Are Faced With Dilemma

To park or not to park?

That is the question in the minds of motorists today as they approach the old county courthouse site in downtown Pontiac.

The free parking lot operated there by the Downtown Pontiac Business Association (DPBA) under a lease with the county was ruled illegal Monday in Circuit Court.

The court evicted the DPBA, but said nothing about the public's parking there.

Motorists who park there do so at their own risk, say county officials.

They plan to ask the DPBA if it will appeal the court ruling and seek a stay of execution of the order pending an appeal.

If the DPBA does not appeal, county officials say, barricades will be placed at the site to enforce a parking ban.

200 Homes Plagued by Water Service Loss

BIRMINGHAM — Temporary loss of water has plagued some 200 homes here in the past two weeks and will probably continue until the cold lets up, Public Works Supt. Thomas C. Brien said today.

Brien said the freezing weather is causing contracting of the smaller residential water mains, resulting in loss of water for several nearby homes until the "break" can be found and corrected.

"We've averaged one or two 'breaks' a day in the past two weeks," Brien said. He pointed out that although most of the mains have been corrected in a matter of hours, the work could take as long as two days.

The public works superintendent said so far this year none of the larger "feeder" lines have burst.

★ ★ ★

"This is the time of year when we have the freezing," he added. "If the below-normal cold weather continues we could have this all through February."

Brien said the "breaks" are noticed either by a loss of water or flooding of yards or basements.

A past president of the Mahn-Go-Tah-See YMCA Camp, he also was a director of the Pine Lake Country Club, a member of the Birmingham Lions Club and the Birmingham - Bloomfield Association.

Subzero Cold Chills Wide Area of North

By The Associated Press

Subzero cold chilled a wide area of the North from the plateau region to the western Great Lakes today and a snowstorm swirled over the northwestern states from Wyoming to Oregon.

Schools were closed in the Portland, Ore., area where east winds blowing through the Columbia Gorge caused drifting snow. Cold air moved down the north Pacific coastal states and Spokane, Wash., had a low reading of -1 degree.

Colder weather conditions spread through the Great Lakes region southward through the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys after the long siege of severe cold had moderated somewhat.

GOP Caucus Gets Plan for Redistricting

LANSING — A tentative congressional redistricting plan calling for a new district in western Oakland County was presented yesterday to a House Republican caucus.

Hogan said the plan was still preliminary and there probably would be several boundary shifts.

His plan would create a new congressional district among the western 15 townships of Oakland County (about 60 per cent of the county's area) plus the City of Pontiac.

The new district also would include parts of either Lapeer and Livingston or Shiawassee and Livingston counties.

No district would vary in population more than 20 per cent from the norm, according to his plan. This would allow a 40 per cent difference between the largest and smallest population districts.

★ ★ ★

Window's Hit by BB Shot

Edgy Bloomfield Township residents heard a report today that a BB shot shattered a storm window in their area last night.

Mrs. Lillian Hatton, of 2063 Lakeward Lane, told police she was playing the piano in her living room when she heard the glass shatter.

Bloomfield Township police said the shot was apparently the work of a prankster—not that of the sniper who shot to death Mrs. Mary Godfrey last Friday night.

Police chief Norman Dehnke said he was almost convinced Mrs. Godfrey's sniper was a "sick boy."

He said if no new leads were uncovered in the next few days, he would publish an appeal to the parents of the boy.

In other developments, a Lincoln Park man went on a rifle rampage in the downriver community of Riverview last night. His 22-caliber rifle has been sent to state police headquarters for a firearms comparison test.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is expected tonight in the Pacific, Gulf and southern Atlantic Coast states while snow is forecast for the Rockies and the northern Appalachians. Colder weather is seen for the north Atlantic Coast states, the Lake's area, the Ohio, Tennessee and Mississippi valleys, the southern Plains and the western Gulf region.

Supervisors Want PR Man

Convinced that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors needs better publicity, its bylaws committee yesterday recommended that a public relations expert be appointed clerk of committees when the position becomes vacant.

"We all know that Norman Barnard (clerk of committees and corporation counsel for the county) won't be in this office much longer," Board Chairman Delos Hamlin said.

Barnard has been mentioned for the probate bench in case Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore is appointed to the Circuit Court.

"It is obvious we need improved public relations," said Hamlin.

A separation of the corporation counsel's office from that of clerk of committees will be required, Hamlin and the committee agreed.

The clerk would have to be qualified to prepare news releases and otherwise able to assist the press in gathering news about the board of supervisors and committee actions, Hamlin pointed out.

"Also, he would have to write speeches for me and assist other county officials in preparing speeches," Hamlin added.

He would work directly under the ways and means committee, he said.

"I don't mean for it to serve as a screening agency between the government and the people," said Cheyz, "but as a committee actively engaged in publicizing the many assets of our county and the good job being done by its government."

The bylaws committee said this could be accomplished best by a single director.

Bylaws Chairman William C. Hudson of Royal Oak said: "One reason a public relations man is needed is because the people have lost interest in their government."

William A. Ewart of Pontiac scoffed at a suggested annual salary of $5,000 to $6,000.

"More like double that amount," he said.

JFK's School Aid Proposal Splits Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's attempt to unite supporters of aid to education has already touched off a bitter division among them in Congress.

Kennedy wrapped 24 separate proposals dealing with everything from elementary to graduate school into one big bill and sent it to Congress Tuesday, urging "high priority action."

The package carries an estimated price tag of $4.6 billion for three years but cuts back sharply previous administration proposals for aid to public elementary and secondary schools.

The idea of lumping everything together was apparently to entice friends of different proposals into making common cause for the whole package, but the first effect has been to alienate influential House Republicans who support some items but oppose others.

'POLITICAL CYNICISM'

Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N.J., ranking GOP member of the House Education and Labor Committee, called the catchall bill "the height of political cynicism," and said Republicans will offer bills aimed at specific targets.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y. called Kennedy's program "incredible in its proportions" and said it robbed individual measures of bipartisan support.

Even such a staunch supporter of federal aid to education as Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., who has led the fight for college aid in previous Congresses, said "I regret the omnibus approach was taken."

The Senate, which generally regards education measures more favorably than the House, seemed more willing to go along with the President, at least for a while. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said he thought it would be "highly desirable" to hold hearings on a single bill and see if common approach to the nation's educational needs can be reached.

Morse introduced the measure in the Senate late Tuesday and said it deserved the support of Congress.

HOUSE HEARINGS

Rep. Adam C. Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, said hearings on the whole package would be held in the House, but he added "I do not know what the final shape of the legislation will be."

The most likely change is the elimination of aid to public elementary and secondary schools. Although Kennedy cut his proposal from the $850 million a year he asked for two years ago to $375 million a year, it still is weighted with the religious issue of aid to private and parochial schools that has kept it dormant since mid-1961.

Kennedy's view is that such aid would be unconstitutional under the separation of church and state. The Roman Catholic hierarchy of the nation contends such aid would not be unconstitutional and noting that Kennedy's education proposals for the third straight year did not ask such aid, a Roman Catholic spokesman termed the program disappointing.

Loss of Leg May Delay Woman's Envoy Career

LONDON (AP) — Barbara Salt, 58, first woman ambassador to be appointed by Britain, has had a leg amputated, the Foreign Office said today.

She suffers from a circulatory ailment. Because of the operation, she likely will be unable to take up her post in Israel next month as planned.

Actress Suing Hotel in Theft of Jewelry

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Linda Christian—contending the Hotel Plaza failed to inform her it had a safe for valuables — has filed a $135,000 suit against the hotel for jewelry stolen from her room last Oct. 25.

★ ★ ★

Junior Editors Quiz on SEEDS

QUESTION: What's in a seed and how can it travel?

ANSWER: Soak some dried lima beans in water for a few days. You will find that the outer skin will then come off easily. You will find two flat halves, called "cotyledons" (3). Look closely and you'll find a tiny plant; at its top you can just see a suggestion of leaves (1) and there is a pointed end which will become a root (2).

When a bean is planted in warm moist earth it swells so it bursts its coat and the minute plant begins to grow, using the material in the cotyledons as food. The root grows first and anchors the plant so the stem can develop.

Besides these parts needed in a seed so it can turn into a plant, there must be some arrangement to scatter them around so they won't crowd each other out.

Some seeds, like the beautiful milkweed of our main picture; have parachutes which develop so they can sail away on the wind. Others are popped or shot out of the mother plant (2).

A great many are encased in attractive fruits or nuts which birds and squirrels carry around (1, 4). Others, like the burdocks, are just waiting for you to rush by so they can grab on and hitch a ride. (3).

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Winter is the time for studying seeds and the marvelous ways they have developed to travel around. Take a walk outside and look for them. A magnifying glass will make your walk much more interesting.

Dems Propose Part 2: $55-Million Program

LANSING (AP) — Democratic party leaders have come up with part two of their priority legislative program for 1963, proposing a three-year, $55-million building program and calling on Republicans for bipartisan support.

The latest proposals were outlined in a joint statement by Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, Senate Minority Leader Charles Blondy, House Minority Leader Joseph Kowalski and State Chairman Joe Collins.

Labeling their proposals as a "building for progress" program, the Democrats said the plan is aimed at the creation of more jobs, an all-out attack on mental illness and meeting fully "the needs and demands of our young people for education."

★ ★ ★

They declared:

"To those who would say Michigan cannot afford this program, we say: Michigan cannot afford not to undertake 'building for progress' now.

"The necessity for total commitment to economic expansion, the pressure of the tragically high number of retarded children on the hospital waiting lists and the crisis in education cannot be ignored. Michigan must act now."

Legislation necessary to enact the program will be presented to the Legislature, the Democrats said.

WANT IMMEDIATE ACTION

"We would welcome the bipartisan support necessary to put this plan into action immediately," they added.

The Democratic program calls for revenue bonding totaling $54,044,500 and general fund appropriations of $1,285,000.

Although current capital outlay projects are not specifically included in the program, it is based on a fully accelerated continuation of construction previously started.

NEWS OF THE AREA

"It is our estimate that approximately $25 million will be required in the gubernatorial budget to meet ongoing capital outlay obligations during fiscal 1963-64," the Democrats said.

They called for the creation of more jobs through expansion of research and training facilities at Michigan's colleges and universities.

"There is a direct relationship between the research productivity of our colleges and universities and the attraction of business and industrial growth," they declared.

"Michigan is ambitious to create more jobs, to secure greater dollar profits and to obtain a larger proportion of the gross national product. To this end, we must expend more for higher education as a capital investment in itself."

RESEARCH AND CARE

An all-out attack on mental illness and mental retardation, they said, should include a program to provide the research and care facilities necessary to sustain such an attack.

The Democratic proposals call for construction of facilities with 1,070 beds for the mentally retarded, a new outpatient service facility for the education and treatment of the retarded, and a research center for investigation into the cause of mental retardation.

Also included is long-range planning for a new 1,000-bed facility to care for retarded patients.

In addition, they recommended construction of facilities with 140 beds for mentally ill, a day school for emotionally disturbed children, beds for mentally ill, a day school for emotionally disturbed children, and special children's facilities of 160 beds for the mentally ill.

Included in the Democratic program for meeting the "needs and demands of our young people for education" was construction of the educational facilities they said are required to overcome what they termed the crisis in higher education.

The first part of the Democratic legislative program was proposed earlier this month. It included proposals for $1.25-an-hour minimum wage, a state civil rights commission, a plan for "senior citizen security" and a "youth opportunities" program.

Both houses of the legislature met yesterday for routine sessions devoted to little more than introduction of bills and guests.

Oxford Hires New Manager

105-Day Search Ends for Village Council

OXFORD — After 105 days of searching the Village Council's efforts have paid off — Oxford has a new city manager.

The 29-year-old former assistant manager of Santa Cruz, Calif., was notified yesterday that his application for the $6,900-per-year job was accepted.

Michael M. Kilgore, presently living in Berkley, was interviewed by the council last Thursday. Verification of his references was completed yesterday when he was notified of the council's decision.

Kilgore, chosen "Man of the Year" of Santa Cruz in 1961, will begin his managerial duties on Feb. 15. He will be released then from a temporary position he holds with General Motors.

The father of a 2-year-old boy, Kilgore was graduated from Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, in 1959. He majored in human and industrial relations.

From March, 1959 to October, 1960, Kilgore was administrative assistant to director of public works in Mountain View, Calif. After that served as assistant manager of Santa Cruz until last November. Part of this time he was acting manager.

The new manager has completed some work toward his master's degree at Stanford University, Stanford, Calif.

The Village Council had until Jan. 15 to obtain a new manager, according to the village charter, but was unable to come up with a man qualified for the job until now.

This was 90 days after the resignation of former manager Robert W. Smalley.

Smalley resigned from his position in October after he was charged with misusing $1,450 in public funds while serving as city manager of Riverview in 1961. He made restitution and is awaiting arraignment in Wayne County Circuit Court.

School District Fact Sheet

Study Group Releases Report

ROCHESTER—The local school district's bus policy, new junior high school and tennis courts are discussed in a fact sheet released today by the Citizen's School Study Committee.

The statement was issued in response to questions requested of citizens by the committee to guide its current study of possible school improvements.

★ ★ ★

Queried on the policy of transportation for parochial school students, the committee found that current district policy provides for transportation of these students, providing they are on scheduled bus routes and there is space.

★ ★ ★

These students are presently transported to the public school nearest the parochial school they attend, according to the committee.

The statement also pointed out that the state does not reimburse any transportation money for any students living within 1½ miles of their public school.

★ ★ ★

JUNIOR HIGH LOCATION

In answer to a question on the locating of the new West Junior High School, the statement says that population studies show the greatest growth in this area.

The school is already filled to capacity.

Regarding the new tennis courts at the high school, the committee found that these were financed through building and site fund money which legally cannot be used for operational costs or salaries.

The new courts will be used as part of the school curriculum and also may be used by the community during off-school hours.

Other areas being explored by the committee include the school district's language laboratories, remedial and honors classes and book and supply purchases.

★ ★ ★

The group extended an invitation to taxpayers to write their views and questions regarding school district problems.

Correspondence should be mailed to the Citizen's School Study Group, 461 Orchardale Drive.

Would Debate 'Antilaborites'

'Officers' Union Funds to Finance Battle

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has declared war on the congressional sponsors of new labor legislation and offered to debate — at union expense — "any antilabor senator" who is willing.

The debate offer was made in a fiery speech here yesterday in which Hoffa outlined plans for a huge "labor march on Washington" in mid-March to seek defeat of the proposed legislation.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa assailed as "garbage" three bills already introduced and called their authors — Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., — "bums." He declared:

"This legislation would reduce the labor movement to ashes. This is a fight for survival — either survival or the destruction of those who cannot fight."

Hoffa's audience was made up of some 200 officers of the Michigan State Building Trades Council.

The most distasteful bill for Hoffa, one which he has attacked frequently, is legislation proposed by Martin.

Hoffa said "stand up and shout, preach, talk and even pray. Tell your members that if any part of this rotten law gets on the books, never again will they have the right to decide what wages, hours and conditions they work under. That will be decided by a third party."

★ ★ ★

He also said Martin's legislation would limit union bargaining to a single employer and confine unions to specific counties or metropolitan areas.

McClellan's bill, Hoffa added, would remove restrictions placed on federal courts in the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes.

The bill by Goldwater would allow nonunion members to vote on contracts, Hoffa said.

QUESTION EMPLOYES — This was the scene of a robbery at a branch of the Bank of Livonia yesterday on Plymouth Road in Livonia. Police question an employe at right. Another employe (background) points out how the lone gunman entered the bank, locked the front door and bound the employes with wire. He fled with a reported $140,000.

Pardon Me, Please, but This Is a Holdup

LIVONIA (AP)—A young gunman with the courtesy of Sir Walter Raleigh robbed a branch of The Bank of Livonia of its cash yesterday. He then fled through a rear door as police were attempting to get in the front.

Police in this Detroit suburb first estimated the loot at $140,000, but the FBI said most branches don't carry more than $50,000 during the week. A check was to be made today to determine the exact loss.

The gunman, carrying a 45-caliber automatic pistol, entered the bank three minutes before closing time, locked the door and handed the manager, John Hampton, 60, a note. It said "Be quiet, this is a holdup."

★ ★ ★

The gunman herded Hampton, three employes and a customer, William Mott, 28, of Livonia, to the rear of the office.

He politely ordered Hampton and Mott to spread their coats on the floor for the three women to lie on. Then he told the men to lie down and bound the employes' and customer's wrists and ankles with wire.

"Tell me when it hurts," he said in applying the wire.

"I'm sorry if I hurt anybody but I'm taking all the chances," he told his victims. "I'll shoot you if I have to."

Meanwhile, the bank president, Guy Spencer, tried to call the branch from the main office.

One of the bank employes, Mrs. Peggy Pyle, 36, said the gunman apologized again for their inconvenience as the phone rang.

Soon two patrolmen, on a routine trouble call, pounded on the front door. The gunman waved to them that he would open the door. Then he fled.

The gunman was described as 5 feet, 8 inches tall, blond with a crew cut, in his late 20s or early 30s, wearing a gray jacket with a black knit collar, white shirt and brown tie —and very courteous.

Awaiting Mystery Resident

ROCHESTER — It may be you, or if not you, your neighbor.

★ ★ ★

No one will know for sure until Saturday, except the committee which is making the selection.

The person being anonymously referred to is the local citizen who will be honored at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner-dance, Saturday from 6:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. at the Elks Temple.

In addition to singling out this village resident for his outstanding service to the community, the evening's agenda will include installation of new Chamber President Paul T. Williams.

★ ★ ★

Outgoing President Harry F. Preston also will be recognized.

Entertainment by the Sweet Adeline Quartet, and the music of Fred Gillams and his orchestra will be featured at the dance.

★ ★ ★

Farmers Hurt by French Act?

MSU Prof Says State Affected by Veto

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan's farmers could lost out because of the French veto of British entry into the European Common Market, a Michigan State University agricultural economist said Tuesday.

The economist, Dr. Lawrence Witt, told some 300 persons at the annual Farmers' Week Livestock Banquet that a note of pessimism now exists which, temporarily at least, will lead to some trade disputes and a loss of markets for some U.S. farm products.

So far as Michigan farmers are concerned, Witt said, it could mean the loss of some poultry and meat markets, as well as a drop in feed grains which now are being exported for European consumption.

France, which has a large farm potential and already faces some surplus problems, has apparently elected to give priority to nationalistic policies, Witt said.

The award for the grand champion steer went to Mahogany Farms of Williamston for a black Angus named "Mr. Mahogany III." The steer was named first place senior steer calf last fall at the Michigan State Fair.

Area Teacher Goes to Ohio

Thomas J. Spear, a teacher and coach at Avondale Junior High School for the past four years, has accepted a junior high school principalship in Rittman, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Spear's resignation has been accepted by the Avondale Board of Education and he will take over his new duties Feb. 4.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of Taylor University in Upland, Ind., the new principal received his master's degree from Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Spear is also a teacher holding a B. S. degree from Taylor University. The Spears have two young daughters.

Will Reside in Detroit After Honeymoon Trip

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Dr. and Mrs. Ian H. A. Murray will reside in Detroit following their recent marriage at a Nuptial High Mass in St. William's Catholic Church, Walled Lake.

MRS. IAN H. A. MURRAY

The bride, the former Carol Jane Sanderson, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Sanderson of 4287 Newton Road.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Gordon Thomson of Edinborough, Scotland, and the late Alexander R. Murray.

On the esquire side, Dr. Walter Levich of Detroit served as best man. Ushers were Dr. Eric Dalton of Buffalo, N. Y., and D. James Sanderson of Berkley, a brother of the bride.

BEATRICE D. KRUG

Announcement is made of the engagement of Beatrice D. Krug to William J. Freund. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Clarence Krug, 5404 Sherwood Road, Brandon Township, and the late Mr. Krug. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Freund, Barrington, Ill. A July wedding is planned.

BONNIE JEAN MOSHIER

The engagement of Bonnie Jean Moshier to Larry Haacke is announced by her parents, Mrs. Clement Baumunk, 343 Parkdale St., Rochester, and Clarence Moshier, 3861 Iris St., Waterford. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haacke, 345 Parkedale St., Rochester. No date has been set for the wedding.

Congress Asked to OK Retail Butter Subsidy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A National Grange Dairy Advisory Committee yesterday recommended to Congress a dairy program featuring a butter subsidy for consumers.

Stage Play at Avondale

Students of Avondale Senior High School will present the three-act comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow in the high school auditorium.

Cast in the two lead roles are Norine Blake, a junior, and Marion Buchanan, a senior. Terry Tolbert and Bill Granger also share top billing in the play.

Both junior and senior class members are taking part in the production. Margaret Rose is director. The public has been invited to attend.

School Tax Defeated

BERKLEY (AP)—Berkley School District voters yesterday defeated a six mill tax, proposed to finance the schools' operating budget, by a vote of 4,331 against and 3,805 in favor.

Honeymoon in State

Married in Milford Church

MILFORD — Honeymooning in southern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Maul who exchanged nuptial vows in a recent ceremony at Milford Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Frank Williams officiated.

The bride, the former Phyllis Rosemary Haddrill, is the daughter of Mrs. Muriel Haddrill, 514 General Motors Road, and Philip H. Haddrill of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

A seed pearl crown secured her veil of illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and fern.

Mrs. Victor Jackson of Saginaw was matron of honor for her sister. Another sister, Karen Haddrill of Milford, and Mrs. George Johnstone of Webberville were bridesmaids.

Ivan Gullickson of Kalamazoo served as best man. Ushers were George Johnstone of Webberville, Kenneth Barnhill of Wayne, the bride's brother David Haddrill of Milford, and the bridegroom's brother, Curtis Maul of Grand Blanc.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The couple will reside in Kalamazoo.

Will De Gaulle Now Try to Break U.S., European Ties?

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The crucial question being debated in Washington today is whether French President Charles de Gaulle will follow up his Common Market defeat of Great Britain with a campaign to break Western Europe's close ties with the United States.

HIGHTOWER

De Gaulle's veto Tuesday of Britain's bid for membership in the market is regarded here as a severe setback to the U.S. campaign for increasing unity within the North Atlantic alliance.

★ ★ ★

A de Gaulle drive to split Europe apart from the United States

News Analysis

—or as one authority put it "to get the United States out of Europe"—could be little short of disastrous.

★ ★ ★

The official policy line taken by administration informants is that the United States intends to go ahead with a broad program for reducing trade barriers, including tariff negotiations with the six-nation Common Market. The administration also intends to carry forward plans for formation of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear striking force built around the Polaris submarine missile.

★ ★ ★

But officials said today that until the dust settles it is difficult for them to see exactly the best way to proceed.

★ ★ ★

Administration officials rule out, for the time being at least, any sort of U.S. retaliatory action against France.

★ ★ ★

Another question is what will British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan do? It will be up to him primarily to chart Britain's economic relations with the Western Europe allies. British relations with France are now more strained than at any time since the Western alliance was formed 15 years ago.

★ ★ ★

The five nations within the market which opposed de Gaulle's black-balling of Britain — Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — also must sort out their policies.

Should they decide under French pressure to go along with de Gaulle's so-called third force policy in Europe, the position of the United States on the continent would become difficult.

However, the Kennedy administration doesn't expect this to happen in view of the stand taken by the five so far.

There is uncertainty also over the future policies of the British Commonwealth countries, such as Australia, Canada, and India. For many years, they all had special economic relations with Britain based on a preferential tariff system.

So long as it appeared that Britain was going into the Common Market they were faced with the eventual loss of this special trade treatment and with the problem of readjusting all their economic relationships—including trade ties with the United States. Now the Commonwealth countries will have to change their plans again.

For Strong Atlantic Partnership

Some Senators Say France Not Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Democratic members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee expressed belief today that a strong Atlantic partnership can be formed without France.

They called the French veto of Great Britain's admission to the European Common Market a jolt to Western Europe's economic stability.

Most, however, agreed with Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, that "the temporary aberration of one member of the Western community, though deeply disappointing, is not fatal."

While French illusions "run their course," Fulbright said in a statement, "the United States and its partners in Western Europe are not without resources to press ahead with the development of a strong Atlantic partnership."

EUROPE NEEDS US

"Anybody can reconsider a mistake," said Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. "I hope de Gaulle will. If he does not, the alternative may be just to let the general go it alone in his defenses.

"We don't need to stay in Europe to protect the United States. They need us more than we need them."

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the French blow need not be disastrous.

"If necessary," Sparkman told reporters, "I believe the United Kingdom, the United States and Canada could form a very effective trade bloc."

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana the Senate's Democratic leader, clung to the hope that "there is still time to reach an accommodation for Britain to enter the Common Market."

★ ★ ★

"I don't think we should assume as yet that the Common Market door has been slammed in Britain's face," Mansfield added.

Sparkman observed that there may be some "ultimate hope—who knows what may happen in one or two or five years."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said the United States and Britain have worked to maintain France as a great nation. He said he is beginning to worry whether de Gaulle is more interested in short term prosperity for France than long term "free world solidarity and security."

★ ★ ★

Paris Government Backs Decision

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's government announced its full approval today of France's action in breaking off the Brussels Common Market talks with Great Britain.

★ ★ ★

It did so during a three-hour cabinet meeting at which both de Gaulle and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville explained the reasons for vetoing Britain's bid to join the Common Market now.

Information minister Alan Peyrefitte said the cabinet also fully endorsed France's refusal to accept any changes in the 1957 Common Market treaty of Rome.

Peyrefitte told newsmen "the cabinet fully endorsed the foreign minister's attidute at Brusesls and particularly the European position adopted by France, which helped to maintain the Treaty of Rome, come what may."

TALKS 'SUSPENDED'

Peyrefitte said that, as far as France is concerned, the negotiations with Britain are not broken off for good but only "suspended."

Peyrefitte added that in the French view the conditions laid down by Britain would have made her entry into the Common Market impossible at the moment.

The cabinet was informed that one of the first results of the Brussels breakdown was cancellation of a meeting of Common Market finance ministers scheduled to open at Baden-Baden in West Germany tomorrow.

Hoover's 1963 Message Applies to Everyone

This newspaper frequently carries J. Edgar Hoover's messages to his own department and other officials. As we've said before, Mr. Hoover is the greatest single law-enforcing man on this globe.

★ ★ ★

Quite naturally he stands forth as the Communists' greatest enemy—and vice versa. But to date, all Soviet efforts to disparage him, or actually unseat him or weaken his authority have gone for nought. He stands too well with a whole nation. Even a few abortive congressional efforts to hinder his activities have failed. Both political parties accept him wholeheartedly, and even the foes of the House Un-American Activities Committee are very cautious in trying to discredit J. Edgar Hoover.

★ ★ ★

His current message to his men says:

"The year 1963 dawns on a deeply troubled world. Communism jeopardizes world peace and posterity. Communists push forward aggressively seeking new lands to rule and people to regiment.

★ ★ ★

"Man now holds in his hands a destructive force of such great potential that its very existence poses the question of whether or not mankind is to have a future. It is no wonder that people everywhere fear the worst, knowing as they do that a militant force dedicated to world rule possesses such destructive power.

★ ★ ★

"Americans are justifiably alarmed. They view with grave concern the tactics of the Communist Party, U.S.A. to undermine our system of justice. Our faith and trust are anchored in the God-inspired hallmarks of Americanism — truth, liberty and justice. From these ideals comes the will of a united, free and righteous people to stand firm against godless despotism.

★ ★ ★

"Law and order are bulwarks of freedom. In this new year, we must be fully apprised of our country's needs and fully informed as to our individual responsibilities. International tension should not divert our attention from vigorous and effective law enforcement. We must be sure the operations of criminals and lawbreakers are detected and the perpetrators apprehended. There can be no breakdown in the respect for law.

★ ★ ★

"Let all officers resolve to make this a distinctive year in the annals of law enforcement. Let no community become a haven for enemies of society. Rather, let 1963 come to be known as the year in which this nation made marked progress toward its goals of freedom, abundance and equal justice for all."

Affection for Prisoner Brings Girl to U.S.

Here we go.

"An attractive German divorcee" who insists she's in love with "Dr. Sam" — the Ohio medical man who's in prison for murdering his wife — has come to this country to spring the Cleveland convict if she can.

★ ★ ★

They met for the first time last week in the Marion institution, although they've been corresponding for more than a year. Touching, isn't it?

★ ★ ★

Dr. Sam's personal affections must be unpredictable as we thought he was in love with his secretary. She wept copiously throughout the trial and shed buckets of tears over poor Sam and her own unhappy predicament.

★ ★ ★

The German girl started corresponding with the killer a year back and now she has come to this country to get him a parole if she can. You wonder just what the family of the murdered woman feels like during these front page antics.

With reference to a certain current hot controversy, most of us can go for days at a time not caring a whit which has the larger population — California or New York state.

The MAT Misses Little, Judging Junior Misses

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Anytime you feel that life is (a) running along too simply; (b) that complications are merely a figure of speech; (c) your feelings of self-assurance are at a record high; and (d) you privately suspect that you are at the threshold of immortality—just serve as a judge of a beauty-talent contest!

Within a matter of minutes, (a), (b), (c) and (d) will be quickly and violently altered . . . and you'll revert to your normal status of a bewildered and helpless male as you struggle to assay the qualities of a company of outstandingly comely and talented young ladies to discover what makes them tick.

• • •

That was the crushing situation in which the MAT found himself last Saturday as one of a panel of judges for the Junior Miss pageant sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

When you consider that each of the 24 entrants had already been the winner of an elimination, the fateful decision of selecting the top three from among them makes something like solving the riddle of the Mona Lisa smile seem as easy as landing in Bobby Kennedy's swimming pool.

• • •

But you couldn't have beheld a group of lovelier, more composed or vibrant young creatures.

At a time when the public prints are pretty well sprinkled with reports of youthful irresponsibility, delinquency and indifference to educational preparation for the years ahead, the high ideals, clear-thinking and social responsibility of the Misses as evidenced during the interviews were most stimulating.

• • •

As the curtain went down on the smash hit staged by our Jaycees, at least one of the judges had stopped wringing his hands over the youngsters . . . He'd decided it was about time they did a little hand-wringing over the oldsters.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS—The vagaries that have possessed our bird and plant life all year have hit another field—Christmas trees.

Several months ago, we wrote about a 1961 tree in Rochester that was still in a fine state of preservation, complete with ornaments and trim . . . wondered if it might hang on for the 1962 observance.

• • •

Well, it did. Reporting on it,

Walter C. (Bill) Williams

of 71 S. Jessie St. phoned in a few remarks about the weather. The printable ones are that during the winter of 1926-27 while working on construction of the Pontiac Motor plant, work was stopped and the men sent home one day at noon with temperature then 17 below.

During the same winter when it was -20 at the expiration of his shift at 2:00 a.m., he worked up a sweat cranking his Model T . . . finally gave up and walked home.

David Lawrence Says:

De Gaulle Shields Own Country

WASHINGTON—There's no use getting mad at Gen. de Gaulle just because he is a realist in a world of anxiety or just because he doesn't see things the way Washington or London sees them.

The French president has lately been the subject of some rather severe criticism as a stubborn, self - centered individual who would rather mess up NATO and the whole defense plan of the West than give up his concept of a united Europe based on continental supremacy without Britain.

Naturally this irritates many people and causes intimations to be given in White House Circles that maybe Gen. de Gaulle is living in the Nineteenth Century.

LAWRENCE

Yet Gen. de Gaulle has merely stood firm on the principle that a leader's first obligation is to take care of his own countrymen.

He hasn't swallowed the propaganda of the supranationalists who think the many nationalities in Europe can be best governed by a single council of state.

It was on Jan. 14 that Gen. de Gaulle gave comprehensive answers to questions asked at a press conference in Paris. He has not modified his position since. While his views were not accepted with enthusiasm here or in London, they were by no means opposed fundamentally to allied solidarity or to the organization of a common defense against the Communist menace.

WOULD WELCOME 'EQUAL'

His statement explained that France would welcome Britain into the "Common Market" on terms of equality, but not as a special partner with trade concessions for the benefit of its home agriculture and its commonwealth associates.

Nor did Gen. de Gaulle exclude the strategy of a common military defense. He said:

"In these conditions, no one in the world—particularly no one in America — can say if, where, when, how and to what extent the American nuclear weapons would be employed to defend Europe.

"Moreover, this does not in the least prevent the American nuclear weapons, which are the most powerful of all, from remaining the essential guarantee of world peace . . . But it remains that the American nuclear power does not necessarily and immediately meet all the eventualities concerning Europe and France.

"Thus, principles and realities combine to lead France to equip itself with an atomic force of its own. This does not at all exclude, of course, the combination of the action of this force with the action of the similar forces of its allies."

★ ★ ★

Referring to the agreement reached at Nassau between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan, the de Gaulle statement said:

"It is a question of constituting a so-called multilateral atomic force, in which Britain would turn over the weapons it has and will have in which the Americans would place a few of their own.

"This multilateral force is assigned to the defense of Europe and is under the American NATO command. It is nevertheless understood that the British retain the possibility of withdrawing their atomic weapons for their own use should supreme national interest seem to them to demand it.

"As for the bulk of American nuclear weapons, it remains outside the multilateral force and under the direct orders of the President of the United States.

"It is true that we, too, can theoretically retain the ability to take back in our hands, in the supreme hypothesis, our atomic weapons incorporated in the multilateral force. But how could we do it in practice during the unheard of moments of the atomic apocalypse? . . .

In sum, we will adhere to the decision we have made: to construct and, if necessary, to employ our atomic force ourselves. And that without refusing, of course, co-operation, be it technological or strategic if this co-operation is, on the other hand, desired by our allies."

Here is a nation's leader who is thinking primarily of his own country and who is not willing to entrust its safety to the trigger finger of an executive in another country.

(Copyright, 1963)

Gemini's Rendezvous Step Important to Moon Project

NEW YORK — The prime purpose of Project Gemini, the next big step the nation's astronauts will take on their way to the moon, will be to master the enormously difficult job of a rendezvous in space.

CONSIDINE

The Russians came within a breathtaking four miles of accomplishing this last Aug. 12 when cosmonaut Pavel R. Popovich was literally shot at cosmonaut Andrian G. Nikolayev, who had been in space since the previous day.

The first men to move out beyond the Moon in quest of Mars or Venus will have to be regularly supplied with food, water, fuel, medical supplies and other equipment — disbursed by "service" vehicles that will tool up to departing space craft like a huckster's wagon used to stop at your door.

Maj. Gen. Ben I. Funk, commander of the Air Force's Space System Division, Los Angeles, summed a bit of the problem in a recent talk.

"Simple rendezvous in space and transfer of fuels and liquid food may not satisfy the military requirements for supporting a manned space force. Logistically, we envision the need to transfer numbers of men or quantities of materials, in bulk.

"It is one thing to rendezvous with a friendly satellite in a controlled environment and predetermined orbit; it is quite another thing to rendezvous with an uncooperative vehicle which might be equipped to take evasive action or be booby-trapped.

★ ★ ★

"Let's be realistic. There is little advantage to coming close enough to a foreign vehicle in space to be able to report that we see it, unless we are also prepared to capture it, or otherwise negate it."

The team of military and civilian spacemen assigned to Gemini count rendezvous, and the achievement of it, is their prime mission.

It is a bewilderingly complicated operation which we must master if we are to stay at least abreast in the space race. It is of such overwhelming importance that it has brought about a truce in the long-standing war between NASA and the Air Force.

'Today's Food Costs Less and Is More Nutritious'

The bag of perfect apples you now pay 69 cents for could cost $2 a bag and the green beans which now sell for 29 cents could sell for 90 cents.

★ ★ ★

Why the higher costs? Because insects and other pests would destroy or seriously damage our food. Insects now destroy $3 billion in food and fiber each year. Losses to all kinds of pests — including weeds, animal and plant diseases, and rodents — amount to $24 billion a year. For every dollar's worth of food eaten in the United States, another 50 cents worth is "paid" to pests and the food they destroy.

★ ★ ★

If the American farmer today followed pest control methods of 1940 each person would pay $72 more per year for food. In 1940 it took 57 hours to supply a family of five with their food needs. Today it takes only 39 hours.

One American farmer produces enough food for 25 people. In Russia, a farmer produces enough for 3½ people. In Red China, a farmer produces enough food for his family.

And while Americans and Western Europeans worry themselves over too much weight (and how to take it off), three-fifths of the world's population go to bed hungry each night and two-fifths suffer malnutrition.

Food costs too high? Not on your life! You're eating more nutritious foods which are available in greater variety at the lowest prices in history.

'Let's Help Wildlife Survive the Winter'

The cold weather and snow are creating a problem for wildlife, especially pheasants and rabbits. We can help by feeding them. I suggest driving a row of nails in a board and pushing on ears of corn and placing in areas frequented by these birds. They will soon clean them off.

Let's help them survive.

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 30, the 30th day of 1963 with 335 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this day include Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the 32nd president, in 1882.

★ ★ ★

On this day in history:

In 1933, Adolf Hitler was named chancellor of the German Reich by President von Hindenburg.

In 1948, Mohandas K. Gandhi was assassinated by an extremist in New Delhi, where Gandhi was leading 1,000 of his followers into a summer house for evening devotions.

In 1962, Cuba was ousted from the organization of American states by a vote of 14 to one, with six nations abstaining.

★ ★ ★

A thought for the day — Franklin D. Roosevelt said: "The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much; it is whether we provide enough for those who have too little."

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Costly Settlement

The Christian Science Monitor

The 31-day longshoremen's strike which tied up United States Atlantic and Gulf coasts ports is estimated to have cost more than $700 million in lost wages and business.

How much indirect loss was caused in shutdowns and layoffs will never be known.

But now that a settlement has been forced by a kind of "compulsory mediation" the cost of the imposed terms to the shipping industry will be far from insignificant even compared with the costs of the strike.

In the first place, the reduction of work gangs in northern ports from 20 men to 17 had earlier been referred to the Department of Labor for a two-year study. This is probably the best way to handle the matter. But it means that savings by mechanization with which the shipping companies could meet the cost of wage increases are denied them for at least two years.

Meanwhile, President Kennedy has referred wage issues in the dispute to a special board headed by Senator Wayne Morse, an experienced labor arbitrator but also a pronounced political liberal. The terms recommended by this board increase labor costs by 37 cents an hour over two years.

This is nearer the 51-cent demand of the International Longshoremen's Association than to the 22-cent offer of the employers. It is enough to raise serious question whether the increase is "in the national interest" to which President Kennedy appealed when he appointed the special board.

★ ★ ★

Further, will the example of what the dockworkers have gained by subjecting the nation to their economic power encourage the New York Typographical Union to continue its strike against New York newspapers until one or more of those publications goes out of business? Or encourage the United Steelworkers to reopen their contract with demands that would have far-reaching and depressive effects?

Assessments

The Farmington Enterprise

Paul Chandler, publisher of the Livonia newspaper and a freshman state representative, made a proposal recently that we wholeheartedly agree with. We hope that he might do something with it in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

His proposal was that assessing property be taken completely out of the hands of elected officials and out of politics.

"Neither township supervisors, nor mayors, nor boards or commissions or councils should be able to touch assessments as they do now," he stated.

The responsibility for assessing property for a whole county should be placed in the hands of a technically-trained, high level assessment bureau, protected by civil service, Chandler feels.

Carrying this thought further, we could see some value in setting up a state central assessing bureau with a staff of professionally trained assessors. The needed number of assessors to handle all its communities could then be assigned to each county.

★ ★ ★

This would eliminate both the state and county equalization boards and also the annual wrestle to determine which governmental boards get how much of the allowable tax millage without voter approval.

As things stand, preparing a township, county or school system operating budget each year has become somewhat of a nightmare.

Sukarno Threatens Budding Malaysia

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

If the signs mean anything, we can look for more trouble in Southeast Asia between now and Aug. 31.

On or before that date the Federation of Malaysia is scheduled to come into being as an anti-Communist member of the British Commonwealth.

NEWSOM

It is to include Malaya, already independent Singapore, self-governing except for British control of its defense and foreign affairs, and the British dependencies of North Borneo, Brunei and Sarawak across the South China Sea on the island of Borneo.

It is opposed by Indonesia which has described Malayan leaders as "accomplices of neo-colonialist neo-imperialists pursuing a policy hostile to Indonesia."

Having relieved themselves of this linguistic mouthful, the Indonesians then went on to say they were adopting a policy of "confrontation' toward the Federation of Malaysia.

Last week, in conversations with UPI president Mims Thomason, leaders in Singapore and Malaya expressed concern over the Indonesian position.

In Kulala Lumpur, Malayan Premier Tengku Abdul Rahman told the Indonesians to "keep your hands off Malaysia."

"Confrontation" is a word the Indonesians used in forcing the Dutch out of Dutch New Guinea (West Irian).

★ ★ ★

It combined political and economic pressures with military threats backed by powerful armed forces built primarily with Communist-block aid.

Now, with West Irian still undigested, the same tactics are to be directed against the federation, with North Borneo, Sarawak and Brunei the targets.

SUPPORTS UPRISING

Since southern Borneo already is Indonesian, the objective would be to bring the whole of the island under Indonesian control.

Some indication of future intent may be taken from Indonesia's unqualified support for last December's abortive revolt in Brunei and from British intelligence reports that at least 700 Brunei insurgents received secret training in Indonesian Borneo.

British troops rushed from Singapore put down the last uprising and the Brishish have made no secret of their fears that more trouble is in the offing.

★ ★ ★

Borneo is the world's third largest island and the population of Indonesia makes it the fifth largest nation behind the United States. It soon will hit 100 million people. Indonesia also is among the world's most heavily armed nations.

Its army contains close to 350,000 well-armed regulars, complete with amphibious tanks and artillery.

It has late-type Russian jet fighters and bombers. Its navy is equipped with a missile cruiser and it has a score of submarines.

President Sukarno has shown himself no great shakes as an administrator. But he knows from experience how to fight a guerrilla war.

His actions indicate two things: he aims to take Indian Prime Minister Nehru's place as leader of Asia's nonaligned nations, and the eastern half of New Guinea now controlled by Australia well could be his next target after North Borneo.

TELLING OFF THE LAW — A pet monkey named Singh screams at officer David P. Beasley after it was caught in Los Angeles yesterday. The monkey escaped from its owner Angela Beard, 25, and tangled with a neighborhood cat before it was recaptured.

Pioneer Dies at Age of 106

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Jean Baptiste Winclose, who came to Canada as a miner from Belgium at the turn of the century to "help open up the country," died yesterday at the age of 106.

He had a colorful career as an engineer, prospector and soldier. He served in the front lines of World War I after being first rejected as too old.

In an interview on his 105th birthday, Winclose said he had his first smoke—from his father's pipe—at the age of three and "I've smoked ever since." He never drank but "my father drank and he lived to be 120."

'Banked Time' Soon to End for Troopers

LANSING (AP) —State police troopers will not be allowed to work more than a 48-hour week after next July without overtime pay or compensating time off, the state Civil Service Commission has ruled.

The commission voted to discontinue a "banked time" arrangement established in 1958 to help compensate troopers who worked more than a 48-hour week.

Under the plan, hours worked in excess of 48 are "banked" and troopers exhausting sick or annual leave can draw on the time and continue to be paid although not working.

★ ★ ★

Franklin Dewald, state Civil Service director, said that although uniformed police traditionally work longer hours than most other employes, the trend has been to reduce these hours. Most other state employes are on a 40-hour week and state police work 48 hours.

Studies showed troopers have been working an average of a 56-hour week, Dewald said, and have accumulated two million hours of banked time since 1958.

"Less than 2,000 banked time hours have actually been used and no end is in sight," Dewald said.

★ ★ ★

Trooper with banked time will be allowed to use it in the future after the policy is stopped.

Crew of 2 Missing After Plane Crashes

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A small passenger plane crashed and sank in fog-shrouded Lake Pontchartrain last night with two crew members aboard. There was no sign of survivors.

Debris from inside the two-engine Trans Air Lines plane was scattered over a wide area. The plane's log was intact, but gave no indication of what happened.

The U.S. Coast Guard said the plane apparently "hit hard and burst open on impact."

Set Rest Area for Freeway

LANSING (AP) — Surveys have started for a safety rest area on I-75 about five miles south of Flint, reports the State Highway Department.

The rest area, to serve northbound traffic, will have parking for about 50 cars and 25 trucks.

Plans call for 16 such rest areas to be eventually built on the freeway, which extends from the Michigan-Ohio state line near Toledo north to Sault Ste. Marie.

Life's Success Really a 30-Year Puzzle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)— The menu for today, dear reader, is a true-life success story with a puzzle at the end.

The puzzle is whether you can guess which—but first, read on:

BOYLE

Once upon a time — about 30 years ago — two young fellows roomed in the same boarding house at a Midwest university. America was still in the stubborn grip of the greatest depression of the 20th Century.

Times were really rough. You could eat on 35 cents a day if you had to. You never bought a new pair of shoelaces until the ones you were wearing had been broken and knotted together in at least four places.

When the two young fellows graduated, one said:

"There's nothing in the way of opportunity out here. I'm going to seek fame and fortune in the big city. I hear there's a dollar to be made there for every light on Broadway."

★ ★ ★

The other fellow said:

"I think I'll go back and settle down in my home town where people know me. Something'll turn up sooner or later."

Well, both these young men—let's call one Mr. Home Town and the other Mr. Metropolis—carried out their decisions. Thirty years later Mr. Home Town phoned Mr. Metropolis and said, "I'll be in Manhattan next Friday. How about us getting together for dinner?"

When Friday came, feeling he'd surely be stuck for the bill, Mr. Metropolis borrowed some money from his wife and went to the restaurant.

★ ★ ★

He and Mr. Home Town reminisced about old times on the campus as they gulped and chewed their way through two highballs, steaks, after dinner brandy—Mr. Home Town really seemed to want to live it up, and Mr. Metropolis felt rather sorry for him—and coffee.

"How have things been going with you?" asked Mr. Home Town.

BIG TOWN SUCCESS

Fingering the bills in his pocket and wondering whether they'd cover the tab, Mr. Metropolis said he had one child, lived in a small but comfortable apartment in an area where there hadn't been a knife stabbing in six months. He said he didn't drive a car, rode the subway, had a pretty good job and hoped if he could hold it to 65 to be able to save enough to retire and move back to his own old home town.

"And what about you?" he then asked.

"Oh, I've got seven kids," said Mr. Home Town. "I invested in a transportation company that did $20 million last year. But, of course, that's not my main interest."

"What is your main interest?" asked Mr. Metropolis.

"Oh, I'd say it probably was banking."

"Which one? I've got four."

★ ★ ★

"Oh, I'd say maybe its farming. We have a little 750-acre place a few miles out of town, and—."

★ ★ ★

"What do you have on it?" inquired Mr. Metropolis forlornly.

"You mean besides my herd of 350 cattle?" replied Mr. Home Town casually. "Not much really—unless you count the horses I keep for show purposes."

As he reached for the restaurant check and opened a wallet stuffed with $50 bills, Mr. Home Town remarked:

"You know, I envy you the cultural advantages you've gained by living in a place like New York all these years. I'm still a country bumpkin. My wife and I get to take in the shows and concerts only when we pass through here each summer on our way to Europe to pick up a few modern paintings."

★ ★ ★

The two men arose, shook hands and parted.

That is the story, dear reader. Now comes the puzzle:

Can you guess which of these two young men was the one who came to the big city 30 years ago to make his fortune and enjoy the finer life—me or the other fellow?

Think real hard.

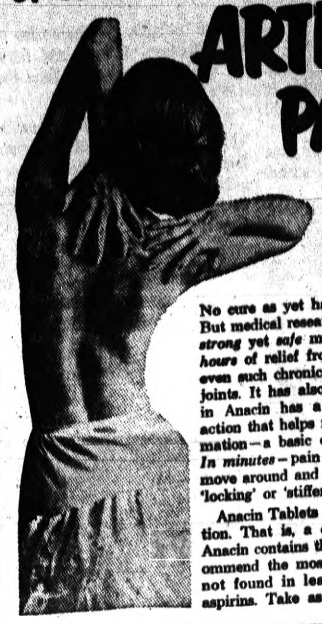
Strong Yet Safe—Gives Hours of Continuous Relief from Minor

ARTHRITIS PAINS



Reduces swelling and inflammation so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again

No cure as yet has been found for arthritis. But medical research has established that the strong yet safe medication in Anacin® gives hours of relief from arthritis' minor pains—even such chronic pain arising from deep in joints. It has also been found an ingredient in Anacin has a special anti-inflammatory action that helps reduce swelling and inflammation—a basic cause of arthritis suffering. In minutes—pain is relieved so it's easier to move around and this helps keep joints from 'locking' or 'stiffening.'

Anacin Tablets are like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever doctors recommend the most, plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. Take as directed.

County Gets New Vaccine

Dr. John Monroe, director of the Oakland County Health Dept., announced today that he has received shipment of the new four-in-one vaccine which provides protection for children against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and paralytic polio.

Dr. Monroe said he has 2,223 doses of the vaccine available for Oakland County physicians.

This, he added, would be "a good start" toward immunizing all of Oakland County's new-born infants.

The supply will be increased, he said, as it is needed.

At present the vaccine will be used to immunize "beginners"—infants who have no record of previous immunization — Dr. Monroe explained.

GIs to Get Oral Vaccine

TOKYO (UPI) — U.S. military authorities announced yesterday that Sabin oral polio vaccine will be used by the U.S. forces in Japan for the first time next month in a mass immunization program.

Any Child Can Obtain Gun, Police Investigator Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Los Angeles police investigator said yesterday that any child can get a mail order gun "as long as he has a piggy bank, can draw the numerals '21' and scrawl his name."

Sgt. Kenneth Carpenter, investigator for the Los Angeles Board of Police Commissioners, made the statement in prepared testimony as hearings on the mail order traffic in weapons were opened by the Senate subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency.

Carpenter said the mail order trafficking in weapons is "a problem of grave concern to our country and especially to law enforcement.

"To this date there are no laws adequately regulating mail order gun sales. This means that anyone—virtually anyone—can get a gun. No one knows just how many of these weapons in the hands of juveniles, juvenile delinquents, ex-convicts, aliens, narcotics addicts, mentally ill persons and adult criminals have contributed to the tremendous rise in the nation's crime rate."

He said California and Los Angeles have tough laws on the subject but they still are not enough to stem the tide. He urged federal action, including a ban on interstate shipment of concealable weapons purchased by mail order.

Noting that most of the gun sales are solicited by mail order coupons in "nationally circulated pulp magazines," Carpenter said the dealers often send the buyer a form to fill out.

In it the buyer "certifies" that he is 21, has not been a convict and is not an alien or a fugitive from justice.

★ ★ ★

"This so-called 'certification' is a mere formality having no regulatory effect over the flow of gun traffic," Carpenter stated.

★ ★ ★

He said mail order gun dealers get most of their weapons from low cost foreign manufacturers, and have even found a way around the relatively high U.S. tarifffs on imported firearms.

Got a Heart? Beats Me

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Three researchers at Colombo University have been listening to animal heart beats in a study of human heart disease.

Some findings reported today: the lion's heart beat is the same as man's; the researchers had an awful time finding the heart of a python, finally located it three feet from the snake's head.

New York Educator to Head Arts Academy

Americans Abroad Are No Longer Bumpkins

BACKGROUND — AP SPECIAL REPORT OF THE NEWS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the 19th century, the American abroad was so rare a sight he seemed like a country bumpkin lost in the big city.

An American novelist built a career on exploring the conflict between the innocent American abroad and old, sophisticated Europe. A European cartoonist drew American diplomats as lanky, Lincolnesque, and blindfolded.

Today the images have changed. Americans abroad are such as these:

The Air Force pilot flying his helicopter over brush hiding Communists in South Viet Nam; the pretty Peace Corps girl teaching chemistry and biology in the heat of Ghana; the debonair diplomat sipping a cocktail with a minister in Paris.

"We have one million Americans today serving outside the United States," President Kennedy said in his Dec. 17 radio-television interview. "There is no other country in history that has carried this kind of burden."

Kennedy's rough estimate of a million Americans abroad includes only U.S. government personnel and their dependents. Perhaps 200,000 other Americans work or study abroad, employed by American firms, sent by churches and relief agencies, or financed by American educational foundations.

The government, however, accounts for the overwhelming percentage of Americans overseas. Twenty-eight federal agencies employ Americans in 127 foreign countries and colonies.

BREAKDOWN

1. As of December, the United States had 640,407 servicemen overseas. Another 14,000 were on sea duty or in transit to foreign posts. In addition, 461,000 dependents of servicemen lived in foreign lands. The Defense Department also employed 22,000 U.S. civilians at military installations.

2. The State Department, as of last June 30, had 6,685 Foreign Service officers working in embassies and consulates.

3. The Agency for International Development employed 3,969 technicians, many of them specialists in agriculture and education, for its foreign missions, as of last June 30.

4. The Peace Corps, as of last Dec. 5, had 3,458 volunteers serving in the underdeveloped lands of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

5. The United States Information Agency, as of last June 30, employed 1,342 American citizens to man its offices and libraries in foreign nations.

6 Other agencies, including the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, the Treasury Department, and the Department of Agriculture, have perhaps 1,000 to 2,000 Americans in foreign lands. In addition, the Central Intelligence Agency had American agents overseas. The number is a closely guarded secret.

These overseas Americans help create the images that foreign peoples have of the United States. For better or worse, they become symbols of America to local populations throughout the world.

MOSTLY MILITARY

The figures show that the great bulk of the representation is military personnel—possible the least trained of all overseas Americans in the culture of the lands they live in. The mere presence of such large numbers of American troops may be irritating to local populations.

U.S. military personnel live at bases in Europe, Cuba, the Philippines, South Korea· Turkey and other areas of the world. For the most part, they do the same kind of work they would do at bases in the United States.

★ ★ ★

But some have different work. Thousands help the South Viet Nam government in its battle against Communists. Others serve as military attaches to U.S. embassies, or as members of U.S. military assistance teams.

In the past few years, the State Department's representatives overseas have been the butt of much criticism.

In 1960, for example, the Brookings Institution reported that some U.S. embassy staffs seem large enough to cause irritation. The institution also noted problems caused by the ostentatious living of some U.S. embassy people abroad and the lack of contact with the people by some Foreign Service officers who prefer to hobnob with the privileged classes of the foreign country.

SOME WIN PRAISE

On the other hand, the State Department's representatives overseas often win praise for their work.

★ ★ ★

In a recent report, the Committee on Foreign Affairs Personnel, headed by former Secretary of State Christian Herter, said the vast majority of government officials abroad "are extremely devoted and able public servants; they should be a source of pride to the American people."

Whether military or civilian, overseas Americans must have certain special qualities to do a good job at representing America.

★ ★ ★

In 1959, a Syracuse University team headed by Harlan Cleveland, now assistant secretary of state, studied Americans at work overseas and listed five of these qualities:

1 Technical skill.

2. A dedication to work, regardless of geography.

3. The curiosity to study another fellow's way of thinking without judging it bad simply because it is different from American thinking.

4. A sense of politics.

5. Organizational ability.

Not all Americans abroad have these qualities. But enough do to wipe out forever that old image of the American bumpkin lost and bewildered the moment he stepped out of the United States.

Daly Agrees to TV Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System announced Tuesday that John Daly has signed a new contract as moderator of the television panel show, "What's My Line."

★ ★ ★

Daly had threatened last week to leave the show, but last Friday announced that he had come to terms with the network.

His salary under the new contract was not announced. He reportedly had been getting about $4,000 a week under the old contract.

Ex-Teacher Dies at 103

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — Barbara Thompson, the oldest retired school teacher in Massachusetts, died today. She observed her 103rd birthday Saturday and received a congratulatory message from President Kennedy.

If a newly hatched turkey were not taught to eat, it would starve.

Will Europe Drive U.S. Back to Policy of Isolationism?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Isolationism, long thought dead, may be resurrected if only as a rallying point for discontent.

It was U.S. policy for most of American history but disappeared after the war when this country began its overseas alliances and aid.

MARLOW

Neither was unselfish. While the United States wanted to stop communism it also didn't want to be left alone in a Communist world.

The alliances and the aid were called "enlightened self-interest" by John Foster Dulles when he was secretary of state.

But the West Europeans, who got the main thrust of American military and economic help, have not carried their share of the burden.

NATO UNDERSTRENGTH

The NATO alliance, supposed to be the main bulwark for the West against any Russian ground attack, has never been at full strength.

The West Europeans, particularly France, never put enough men into it. Europe made an amazing economic recovery.

But the United States has done far more than its European allies in giving aid to backward countries.

Yet, all of them had as much of a stake as the United States in wanting to keep those backward places out of communism.

★ ★ ★

They were outposts of American defense and deterrent not only against a Russian attack on Europe but a Russian attack on this country.

But now this country is becoming increasingly confident against Russia because of its intercontinental missiles based at home.

That, and one other reason: the development of the American Polaris missile submarine.

This deadly weapon, an elusive target under the sea, can hit Russia just as well from offshore as intermediate range missiles on known land bases.

Therefore, they give the United States less need for missiles in Europe. One example: This country is pulling its missiles out of Turkey and Italy.

'ALLIES SLACKING'

This country's diminishing dependence on European bases for its own safety would be enough to start some isolationist talk here again.

It will probably feed on the growing awareness in this country that the European allies are not doing their share in their own military defense or sufficiently sharing with this country the burden of aid to other areas.

And the French, who talk big but were unable to win two world wars alone and more recently couldn't even hold Indochina or Algeria, are adding to the calls now being made for a re-examination of American commitments overseas.

★ ★ ★

Example: French President de Gaulle's brutal affront to the British by keeping them out of the Common Market and his equally harsh rejection of President Kennedy's proposal of a NATO nuclear force.

WARNING OF REPORT

At President Kennedy's request a group of senators, headed by Mike Mansfield, majority leader and Montana Democrat, examined Europe and made a report.

The warning of an American return to isolationism—unless this country's European partners are willing to take no more of the American burden—was sounded in the very last paragraph of the report.

★ ★ ★

Unless there are corrections, it warned, there may be a "sudden, popular disaffection and dangerous retreat to the Western Hemisphere."

Poverty in the 1940s made a glittering rallying point for the West Europeans and melted them into unity.

Under the self-confidence that comes with affluence, and they're all doing sensationally well economically now, there is less unity, more self-assertion.

In the case of France the self-assertion has developed into arrogance and a disregard for unity although the French at this moment probably couldn't stop the Russians for two days by themselves.

If this continues—and the United States is on the receiving end of allied affronts—American cooperation may be tinged with disgust and out of that anything can happen.

Elephants Abound for the Hunter in Forests of Central Africa

FORT PORTAL, Uganda (AP) —Take out a $63 license, add a measure of effort and skill, and you too can be an elephant hunter — if you come to the middle of Africa.

★ ★ ★

This is the starting point for many hunters seeking some of the world's biggest elephants. A familiar sight in the streets of Fort Portal is a Jeep-like Land Rover back from the hunt and carrying huge ivory tusks as trophies.

★ ★ ★

To the north is Murchison Falls Park where elephants, hippos and giraffes are seen. To the south is Queen Elizabeth Park where more herds of elephants, leopards and the fearsome tree-climbing lions roam the great plains. To the west, across the snow-capped Ruwenzori Mountains, are the Congo forests, teeming with big game of all sorts. Also nearby is Park Albert, the major wild life preserve of the Congo.

CONTROLLED HUNTING

The animals are protected in the parks, but much of the forest and bush country outside of the parks is set aside as game preserves and controlled hunting areas that give the hunter a wide choice of game.

Bill Young of Chicago, an engineer who helps build schools and churches for Africans at the Holy Cross Fathers Mission in Fort Portal, also is an avid hunter. He has shot water bucks, uganda kob and topi on various safaris. Recently he spent part of vacation on his first attempt at elephants.

★ ★ ★

Young took along a friend who is an experienced hunter, plus three Africans used as trackers. In a hunting area to the south of the Kazinga Channel and in the general area of Lakes Edward and George, they went into a section that has shoulder high brush, a typical feeding ground for elephants.

The hunters had 375-magnum rifles, the smallest big game weapon that can be used in elephant hunting.

WARNING SCENT

"But what we didn't know was that there was an elephant that was isolated from the herd, and near us, who apparently picked up our scent. He started running which warned the herd and they stampeded away from us," Young said.

Elephants have excellent sense of smell and hearing but their sight is poor. Hunters always try to get in a position where the wind is blowing away from the elephant.

Later, Young and his friend came to a clearing and spotted their prize—a big bull elephant with big tusks at the other edge of the clearing.

"We quietly maneuvered to a place where we knew the wind was blowing right so he wouldn't detect us."

When Young got the elephant broadside to him, he fired his first shot, hitting the beast just above a leg, near the heart.

The elephant ran off, snorting. The hunters and trackers chased it about three-quarters of a mile before it collapsed. During this time Young fired another shot into the heart and one into the brain.

It is a custom for the hunter to cut off the coarse, stringy end of the tail. This indicates that the elephant has been shot legally for the tusks.

Next day, when Young came to have the tusks extricated, he found hundreds of vultures had been eating at the carcass.

One tusk weighed 44 pounds, the other 42. This is average in East Africa. Some tusks go to 100 pounds each, but these elephants are now rare.

There are only two legal ways to ship raw ivory out of East Africa. The hunter who legally shot the elephant can do it. Or anyone can buy tusks at district commissioners' sales of tusks which have been confiscated from poachers or taken from elephants shot by the game department.

The elephant population is increasing in East Africa. There are an estimated 25,000 in Uganda and many more in Kenya and Tanganyika. The game department in Uganda destroys approximately 1,000 a year.

A resident of Uganda must be here for a year before he can hunt an elephant on his own. Visitors, here for a short time, must take along a professional hunter if they go after elephants.

The ordinary hunting license costs $21. For elephant you need another costing $42. Only male elephants may be shot.

Soviet Authors Send Condolences to Frost Family

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Writers Union sent a telegram to the relatives of poet Robert Frost yesterday expressing condolences "on the heavy loss suffered by world poetry."

★ ★ ★

The telegram said that readers in the Soviet Union, which Frost visited recently, came to love his verses, Tass news agency reported.

Another telegram of condolence was sent by several Soviet poets who met Frost, including Lenin Prize laureate Eduardes Mezhelaiitis, Konstantin Simonov, Alexei Surkov and Alexander Tvardovsky.

The telegram said "we came to love sincerely this great poet and charming man."

Urge Annexation Vote

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Kent County supervisors' committee yesterday recommended an April 1 vote on petitions asking annexation of suburban East Grand Rapids and Cascadia Point to Grand Rapids. The matter must be approved by the full board.

The cadet is Michael I. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin H. Miller, 8298 Golfside Drive, Commerce Township.

Maj. Gowing serves as an Air Force Academy Liaison Officer in his community.

Titan Test Launch Seems Successful

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A 98-foot tall Titan I missile roared aloft into rainy skies Tuesday, and minutes later an Air Force spokesman said the training launch was apparently successful.

★ ★ ★

The launching was by a Strategic Air Command crew.

The Air Force said preliminary telemetry reports indicated the missile hit its target area 5,000 miles out in the Pacific.

Aged Prisoner to Be Moved

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Dave Cox finally will leave the state hospital at Larned where he has been for 40 years—the last 24 in maximum security. He will be transferred to a more open ward at the state mental hospital at Osawatomie.

★ ★ ★

Cox was found mentally incompetent in 1924 while awaiting trial on a murder charge. Officials say now Cox is "unable to return to court to stand trial due to his old age and mental deficiency."

He is 99.

Extends Hearing on Rate Hike for Hospitalization

LANSING (UPI) — Public response to a scheduled hearing in Detroit next week today prompted State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn to add another day to the schedule.

Colburn said he received "tremendous public response from both individuals and various groups" seeking to be heard at Monday's hearing on a requested increase by Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

The insurance commissioner said the hearing will continue Tuesday in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

The hospital-medical insurance firms last month asked Colburn to approve rate hikes averaging 27 per cent.

Firm Buys Division, Moving It to State

MUSKEGON (AP) — Breneman-Hartshorn, Inc., has acquired the Woven Wood Shade Division of Hough Manufacturing Corp. of Janesville, Wis., and is moving it to Muskegon.

Employment needs have not yet been set by BHI which is expanding its Muskegon plant at a cost estimated in excess of $100,000.

Same Stars, New Characters

'Ev and Charlie Show' Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "Ev and Charlie show" is about to go into production again with some new characters added to the cast.

★ ★ ★

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today he and House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana will be back in the business of peddling their party's viewpoint at weekly news conferences as soon as Congress gets down to work on legislation.

NEW FACES

Dirksen conceded there will be some changes in the script and some new faces in the television lights.

The general understanding among Republicans is that the two old pros, Dirksen and Halleck, will continue as the stars, but the format of the act may be changed.

★ ★ ★

Instead of presenting only Dirksen and Halleck each week, top Republicans on Senate and House committees which are dealing with specific subjects may be brought in to air their views.

To keep the stage from becoming too crowded, Dirksen and Halleck may alternate their appearances.

VARIETY

To give the whole thing more of an atmopshere of a party endeavor—rather than strictly a leadership undertaking—any Republican governor in town is likely to be drafted for an appearance.

★ ★ ★

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller plans a visit next week. However, Dirksen thought that would be a little early to try to get the show on the boards.

One plaguing circumstance is that no sponsor has turned up. The Republican National Finance Committee orphaned the show by cutting off its budget funds.

FINANCE PROBLEM

Dirksen said the raising of expense money would be no problem. Halleck wasn't quite as certain. He said in a separate interview that "financing is still a problem."

★ ★ ★

Although Halleck said no firm determinations had been made about the format, it seemed rather obvious that the two leaders were bending a little in the wind of complaints from liberal Republicans that their viewpoint got no airing.

Cold-Blooded Stabbing Charged by Prosecution

TAUNTON, England (UPI)—Two 6-inch icicles which figured in a stabbing were brought into court yesterday to prove a prosecution charge they were "offensive weapons."

They had been kept in storage by an ice cream firm.

Breakfast Fruit Can Be Varied

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Has the fruit on your breakfast table changed? No, I don't mean that basket of waxed fruit or even one of real fruit. I mean the fruit you serve your family first thing in the morning.

In other winters we have had grapefruit nearly every day and the teen-ager has eaten oranges as if they were going out of style. Not this year — not with all citrus fruit so expensive. We've been serving different fruits and think perhaps you are too.

This may sound unorthodox, but our family has been having strawberry shortcake for breakfast for years. It is usually in berry time, but there is no reason why you can't have it now. Frozen berries are reasonable.

Make your favorite biscuit shortbread recipe and serve it hot with a big bowl of just-thawed strawberries. Add bacon and milk or coffee for an interesting nutritious meal.

Canned juices are inexpensive and satisfy your desire for something cool and tangy in the morning. Tomato juice, as you know, is an excellent source of vitamin C; but you must drink twice as much of it as you do orange juice to get the same vitamins.

How about baked pears for breakfast? Pop these in the oven as soon as you get up and in 30 minutes they'll be ready to serve.

HONEY BAKED PEARS

8 pear halves (winter pears)
¼ cup lemon juice
½ cup honey
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter

Wash and cut pears in halves; core but do not peel. Arrange in a shallow buttered baking dish.

Combine lemon juice and honey and pour over pears. Sprinkle with cinnamon and dot with butter.

Bake in 350-degree oven, basting occasionally, until pears are tender, about 30 minutes. Serve hot with cream or additional warmed honey.

If you want to use canned pears, drain the halves and bake them only about 15 minutes with the rest of the above ingredients.

In the following recipe you combine your fruit and your bread for a breakfast cake. This one calls for canned apple slices.

CINNAMON APPLE CAKE

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 egg
¼ cup milk (scant)
2½ cups sliced apples (1 can)
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and sugar. Cut in butter or margarine with 2 knives or pastry blender. Beat egg; add. Add enough milk to make soft dough. Spread out in greased 8x8x2 pan.

Drain liquid from canned apples. Place sliced apples in rows on dough; sprinkle with lemon juice, brown sugar and cinnamon. Bake at 385 degrees 25-30 minutes.

Remove from oven; pour melted butter or margarine over apples. Serve warm. Makes 6 servings.

Add Grated Cheese to Crumb Mixture

Parmesan Fish Fillets

4 large fish fillets
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
½ teaspoon paprika
White pepper to taste
1 egg
1 tablespoon milk
Butter

Wash fillets; drain; cut in half crosswise. Mix crumbs, cheese, paprika and pepper. Beat egg with milk enough to combine yolk and white. Dip pieces of fish, one at a time, in crumb mixture, then in egg mixture, and again in crumbs. Fry in hot butter, turning to brown both sides. Makes 4 servings.

Base of Chicken Livers Used in Hors d' Oeuvres

Hors d'oeuvres such as today's recipe for Numaki, an Eastern treat, will keep hot in your chafing dish, to enable guests to help themselves, with never a trip to the oven for you to replenish the supply. The trick is to keep a safe, controlled heat under the chafing dish so the hors d'oeuvres will stay hot throughout the party.

★ ★ ★

Simply place a container of canned heat with top removed in the chafing dish burner under the warming pan of hot water. This safe fuel will keep hors d'oeuvres warm — but not scorched! — and you can easily adapt the range of heat by adjusting the burner cover.

Here is the recipe to follow exactly:

Numaki Balls

3 lbs. chicken livers, cooked and chopped fine
6 eggs, hard-cooked and chopped fine
½ cup minced onion
1 can (8 oz.) water chestnuts, drained and chopped fine
1 lb. bacon, cooked crisp and chopped fine.
½ cup mayonnaise (about)
Packaged flavored fine, dry bread crumbs

Combine first 5 ingredients; mix well. Add just enough mayonnaise to hold ingredients together. Cover; chill several hours or overnight. Shape into small balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Dust with crumbs.

Saute in salad oil in chafing dish, about one dozen at a time, until golden brown, turning once carefully, as balls are fragile. Serve with cocktail picks. Makes about 9 dozen.

Recipe may be cut in half. Any extra balls may be properly packaged and frozen. (Do not store in freezer longer than a month.)

Easy for hostess—balls may be made ahead of time, refrigerated, closely covered, for a day or two, or frozen for a longer period.

I felt so superior!

I had made the "cook 'n compare" test to see for myself how other macaroni products cook up...as compared with Creamettes. Believe me Creamettes really are the more tender, more delicious macaroni!

To Filter Evidence in Smoke Study

University of Michigan scientists have been wondering the same thing, and will use several computers to determine where it goes and how it is diffused in the air.

The computing facility, to be set up by the meteorological laboratory of the engineering mechanics department, is being financed by a $319,000 grant from the National Science Foundation—which apparently has been wondering too.

★ ★ ★

The project is aimed at predicting how such air pollutants as smoke, industrial gases and even ragweed pollen are diffused under various weather conditions, said U of M meteorologist Fred Brock.

★ ★ ★

Believed to be the only facility of its kind, it will be run by Brock and E. Wendell Hewson, laboratory director and orginator of the project.

"Diffusion is at best a difficult problem, and ordinary mathematical solutions can be applied only in simple cases when no complicating effects are present," he said.

Complicating effects include lake breezes, common in Michigan, and temperature inversion (when temperatures increase with height, instead of decreasing—which usually is the case).

As industrialization increases, air must be regarded as a natural resource which must be preserved, he said. To do this, all pollutants must be controlled, and they can be controlled only if diffusion processes in the atmosphere are understood, Brock said.

Six-Month-Old Child Dies in Apartment Fire

DETROIT (AP)—Six-month-old Jo King, son of Mrs. Ernestine King, Detroit, burned to death yesterday in an apartment house fire.

Police said the fire could have been started accidentally by older children playing with matches or an electric heater.

Electrical Parts Firm Moves to New Location

FRANKFORT (AP)—H. W. Jenck's, Inc., has moved from Beulah to Frankfort where it is housed in a new building. The plant expects to employ some 25 persons in Frankfort.

★ ★ ★

Dallas Firm Gives Name to New Warren Plant

DETROIT (AP)—Ling-Temco-Vought of Dallas said yesterday its new division to be located at the Michigan Ordnance Missile Plant near Warren, will be called the LTV Michigan Division.

★ ★ ★

The company has a $100-million contract for development and initial production of the Lance missile, and a $2.5-million contract for development of a 1¼-ton, six-wheeled military vehicle.

Stitching Up Her Dream for MSUO Chorus

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

When the Michigan State University Oakland chorus appears with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Feb. 23 at Ford Auditorium, the 75 women members will resemble "tall white candles with their voices the flame."

★ ★ ★

This is the dream of Mrs. Stephen Dubrul, an energetic volunteer and good friend of MSUO. But Mrs. Dubrul has a way of making dreams come true. She works on them.

A new resident of Oakland County — the Dubruls escaped from Detroit to a farm on Lake George Road 1½ years ago—Mrs. Dubrul took a music course from Dr. Walter Collins. In this way she became interested in the chorus.

In the past when the chorus sang, the girls wore long black skirts and white blouses. From now on they will wear white polished cotton shifts and white shoes.

After the pattern was chosen each girl was measured.

Mrs. Lawrence McLochlin of Rochester, a former professional seamstress, worked with Mrs. Dubrul on pattern selection. She is continuing to work as chief cutter and adviser to the 90 women doing the sewing.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dubrul received numerous donations of supplies and the loan of many sewing machines. She has invited interested women to her home yesterday, today and tomorrow for a gigantic sewing bee. By the end of the session Thursday 75 gowns will be nearly completed.

The girls will then fit their own shoulder straps and have the hems turned to the proper length. The dresses will belong to the college.

We took a Press photographer and went to see the sewing bee Tuesday. Several dozen women were working happily all over the house. Ironing boards were set up in a couple of rooms; long tables in the library were being used by the cutters; and the dining room was humming with sewing machines.

★ ★ ★

No one took time for a coffee break. The coffee came to them. Mrs. Dubrul had planned luncheons for each day of sewing, too.

The seamstresses told us they had planned their own dinners ahead so that they could work as long as possible on the project. Some will come all three days.

On Thursday, mothers with small children will work. Mrs. Dubrul's dressing room will be turned into a playroom and she has planned a special kiddies' luncheon for that day.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dubrul hopes that matching white capes lined in gold can be made later on so that the group can wear the gowns in less formal surroundings.

Mrs. Dubrul never dreams in a small way. She wants to be quoted:

"My purpose in life is not to dress the chorus, but to get a $150,000 organ in the MSUO auditorium."

Pontiac Press Photos

Mrs. Lawrence McLochlin of Rochester, who has been a professional seamstress, is adviser for the volunteer sewing group. She helped choose the pattern for the gowns and is shown cutting one out. The cutting room is the library.

Mrs. J. L. Walters presses darts and seams as fast as they are made. Mrs. Walters, as president of the Rochester Tuesday Musicale, has a special interest in the concert Feb. 23, when the MSUO chorus will sing with the Detroit Symphony orchestra.

Brief Social Notes on Area Residents

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Florida-bound are Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader of Bloomfield Hills for their winter home at Miami Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Ari M. BeGole of Birmingham will join them for three weeks in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Sanders, Bloomfield Hills, are at Delray Beach for their yearly winter sojourn. Mrs. M. M. Burgess of Bloomfield Hills is also at Delray Beach visiting friends, the George W. Walkers, formerly of Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Risdon of Pine Drive arrived home Monday after a week's visit at the Boca Raton Hotel, Palm Beach, Fla. They also spent a few days with their friends the Alan Harts, who now reside at Lakeland, Florida.

★ ★ ★

The John B. Pooles of Bloomfield Hills will entertain some 20 friends at dinner Saturday evening.

★ ★ ★

Weekend houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. Chauncey M. Burke of Glengarry Circle were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nida of Columbus, Ohio.

The William C. Newbergs of Kirkway Drive spent the weekend with their friends Mr. and Mrs. John Connelly, in Dayton, Ohio.

Leaving for Cleveland, on Friday will be Mr. and Mrs. Jere B. Gillette of Hickory Heights Drive, visiting the Scott Hayes, formerly of Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

After a ski weekend at Otsego, Mrs. Martin Archangeli of Birmingham and Mrs. Vernon B. Myers of Echo Road decided to return to Otsego Thursday for a longer period.

Mrs. Myers' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Yort, will join them, coming from Hinsdale, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. John Kerr will also be there.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Weslau Wright and son Skippy have returned home after skiing at Otsego and a weekend visit with the West Galloglys at their lodge.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. McGregor of Birmingham spent a week in Kansas City with their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Greaves, and their two children, Mary, 7, and Critch, 4. They returned home this weekend together with son, Kenneth Jr., who attends Kansas University.

Bride-to-Be Will Surely Understand

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Two months ago I was asked to be a bridesmaid at a distant relative's wedding. I accepted. The dresses that the bride has selected for the bridesmaids to wear are quite expensive and I find that I really cannot afford to take part.

Could I drop out of the wedding party, or having consented to be a bridesmaid am I obliged to go through with it?

A: An attendant, having consented to take part in a wedding, should not drop out except for a very serious reason since it leaves the bride with the difficult task of trying to find a replacement for her, or else to have an uneven number of attendants.

However, if you really cannot afford this expense, the bride will surely understand if you explain that you are terribly sorry but you find you will not be able to be one of her bridesmaids since the cost is really more than you can afford.

★ ★ ★

Q: Last week my husband and I were invited to his employer's house for dinner and to spend the evening. We had a very enjoyable time.

The next day I bought a printed thank-you card and sent it to my husband's employer and his wife.

I am being criticized for having sent a printed card and have been told that I should have sent a handwritten note.

A: Your verbal thanks to the hostess when you left her house was all that was necessary. If you wished to send further thanks, a hand-written note would have been in much better taste than a printed card.

Q: Our son is going to be married in two weeks and I would like to know if my husband and I go directly to the church from our house or do we go to the bride's house and leave from there with the bridal party?

★ ★ ★

'Undo It Yourself'

Woman Chews Tobacco

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine promised her husband she wouldn't smoke any more, so she took up chewing tobacco.

It is disgusting enough to see a man chewing, but a woman doing it looks terrible. She claims lots of women chew but few people know it.

ABBY

I have hinted that it looks bad, but she goes right on chewing. The poor soul must have the habit so strong she can't quit now. Will you ask your readers to pray for her?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: An entire nation could "pray" for her, but the Lord needs her cooperation. A bad habit never disappears miraculously. It's an "undo-it-yourself" project.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am concerned about my daughter. She is a lovely, intelligent, happily married woman with two fine children.

She has been seeing a clinical psychologist for a year. She is not mentally ill.

I've tried to discuss her problem with her but she refuses to confide in me. I know it's fashionable these days to run to psychiatrists and psychologists, but I hate to see my daughter spend her husband's hard - earned money on such a frivolous expense.

How can I convince my daughter she is foolish for continuing this costly fad?

CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: One need not be mentally ill to require help with an emotional problem. If your daughter thinks she needs this kind of help, leave her alone. And be glad she has the courage and sense to seek it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My problem is an over - affectionate husband. When he leaves for work, he kisses me. When he comes home, he kisses me.

If we should meet anywhere else, he hugs and kisses me. He doesn't care whether we are alone or not. He is always telling me how nice I look and other such compliments.

He can't keep his innermost thoughts to himself. Sometimes it is very embarassing.

Please understand, I really love my husband, but his constant show of affection annoys me. How can I discourage him a little without discouraging him altogether?

BLOSSOM

DEAR BLOSSOM: Are you bragging or complaining? Search your soul. Surely you must have a bigger problem.

Mrs. Romney Seeks Aide

Mrs. Lenore Romney said she has asked Mrs. James G. Slater, Lansing to help handle the many requests received for the governor's wife to speak at various functions.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Slater is a former secretary of the Eaton County Republican Committee.

Mrs. Romney said she receives an average of 25 invitations daily for appearances both in and outside of Michigan. Most of the invitations she accepts between now and April 1 will be to speak on the proposed constitution which her husband helped write last year, she said.

Alumnae Set Hubbies' Fete

Apha Omicron Pi Sorority alumnae of the Detroit North Suburban Chapter will hold their annual husbands' party Feb. 9. The Carl J. Holdampfs will open their Royal Oak home for the affair.

★ ★ ★

The evening will begin with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. to be followed by dinner.

★ ★ ★

Stop Streaks by Reversing Pattern

One way to reduce sun-streaked draperies is to make the top and bottom hems the same and select a pattern that can be hung upside down. Every few weeks just hang them bottom side up.

Symphony Excels in Performance

By RALPH HUMMEL

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra last night eased its way through a concert ranging from Mozart to Morton Gould to establish a new high in performance.

★ ★ ★

The occasion was a personal triumph for conductor Felix Resnick, whose continuing work with the orchestra has been rewarded by an ever tighter control and consequently greater variety in dynamics, tempi and tone color.

TWO SOLOISTS

As if this weren't enough, the evening starred two soloists — flutist Albert Tipton and harpist Elise Yockey — who plucked additional laurels.

The two were featured in "Mozart's Concerto for Harp, Flute and Orchestra" in C major. Both are also members of the Detroit Symphony.

★ ★ ★

Tipton has an imposing style which has an amicably aggressive quality even in lyrical passages. As a result, he tends to dominate the harp and act as a spur on the orchestra.

HIGH POINT

His ability for sensitive lyrical expression emerges only occasionally as in the cadenza of the Andante where his singing tone reached a high point of breath-taking beauty.

Miss Yockey, a regular Pontiac orchestra member, gained in audible strength throughout the performance. She emerged best in the last movement, particularly the cadenza.

SENSITIVITY

Resnick, who kept the orchestra wisely in an accompanying position through the first two movements and then let it rise joyously in the last, won a musical success by his sensitivity.

The orchestra had a chance to prove its ever finer mettle in three works which required tour-de-force efforts in parts.

★ ★ ★

"Roman Carnival" by Berlioz provided a light, mood-setting start for the evening. Resnick's outstanding dynamic control and the soloists' expertedly handled parts were married only rarely by weak attacks of individual sections.

BIGGEST CHALLENGE

Chabrier's "Fete Polonnaise" provided no doubt the biggest challenge to the group, and it is to Resnick's everlasting credit that he programed the work and to the players' that they acquitted themselves so well.

★ ★ ★

Clearly, especially brasses and woodwinds remain as strong as last year, with the violins still improving.

VIOLINS AT BEST

The violins reached their best in intonation and just plain following-the-leader in the last work, the Bacchanale from "Samson and Delilah" by Saint-Saens.

Inserted into the exciting "fun" program, Grainger's Irish Tune (Oh, Danny Boy) from County Derry provided a brief sentimental interval.

★ ★ ★

The soothed nerves were soon ruffled by Morton-Gould's "Pavanne" whose bouncy humor drew chuckles quite aside from giving solo instruments another chance to show they're good.

★ ★ ★

The presence of several dozen elementary school children — who sat quieter than mice—suggests that perhaps more children should be invited to attend light-hearted, pleasant concerts such as this.

New Phone Aids Blind

A new phone has proved an aid to the blind. It automatically dials by means of prepunched plastic cards.

By embossing names in Braille on the cards, a blind person can read the name he desires, insert the card and push a start bar to make calls easily.

First 2 Weeks Hardest

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I want to write a word to those thousands of women who have joined my new 8-week Beauty Improvement Plan which is being published in The Pontiac Press.

First, remember that the first two weeks are by far the hardest. After two weeks you will have become adjusted to the lowered food intake and will be over any initial muscle soreness from the exercises.

May I emphasize again the importance of the exercises unless there is a medical reason for not doing them. They are of some small value in weight loss but their marvelous value lies in redistributing your pounds more attractively, and in the increased energy you will experience.

I have used these exercises over and over again in my classes and know what I am talking about.

To highlight this fact I will quote from a recent reader's letter. Not long ago she lost 40 pounds.

Concerning the exercises she says: "I did your exercises faithfully every day. They worked wonders for my figure. I don't know what it is to be stiff or tired any more. I am so limber and full of pep! Dieting paid off, but I believe the exercises were just as important, or more so, to make me lose in the right places."

In my BIP (Beauty Improvement Plan) booklet I give you exercises for the bust, waist, abdomen, thighs and hips.

I did not have space to describe exercises for every measurement. Therefore, today I will tell you how to slim your calves.

Lie on the floor on your back, with your legs straight and your arms resting at your sides. Bend your left knee up close to your abdomen. Circle your fingers around your left ankle, or as far down your leg as possible.

Now, slowly straighten your leg as you pull against it with your fingers. The fingers slip up the leg as you straighten it.

Lower leg to the floor with a stiff knee, toe pointing back toward your head. Do the same thing with your right leg and continue, alternating.

If some of you missed my Beauty Improvement Plan series, or meant to join and didn't, you can still do so by sending 25 cents and your printed name and address for the BIP kit.

This contains the booklet which gives you complete directions and also brings you the fun BIP weight chart on which you can watch your charm line rise as your weight line drops.

Some of you who have already started may want this kit. Just address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Washed Ruler Won't Smudge

It's practically impossible to keep from getting ink, pencil, or crayon marks on a ruler as you use it to draw lines.

To prevent transferring smudges to paper and fingers, wash the ruler often with soap or detergent suds. After rinsing, dry it promptly to prevent wood from swelling and metal from rusting.

Plug the Budget When Salary's Reduced

By MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband is a teacher in a public school. He has an offer to go to a private school in a smaller community, where he feels he would be happier because it means specialization in his field.

The hitch is a salary cut from $5,400 to $4,800. We're now paying $110 rent, and manage to save about $400 a year toward study for additional credits.

I hate to see this go down the drain. Do you think this would be a wise move?

Mrs. B. S. A., Newark, N. J.

Dear Mrs. A.: Only if you plug that drain. In a smaller community, your living expenses should be less. Rent might well come down to $90 a month or less. There's $20 a month toward the $34 or $35 you customarily allot to that study fund.

Transportation should be less, and your food bill can be kept under $100 a month. Recreation will likely be on a less expansive scale.

Places to look for extra dollars include clothing budget and recreation. Try to start a savings account, separate from that dedicated to education. You don't want to be dependent on that special fund for emergencies.

Perhaps a part-time job for you would make sense at this point. A young wife needs to keep her attitude toward income and opportunity flexible.

What may seem a hardship one year proves a windfall the next. I say make the move and the adjustments.

Dear Miss Feeley: How does a guy put his girl on a budget? I make a fairly decent salary, but after I've paid room and board, payments on my car, and other expenses, $15 is all I've got left to spend on a week's dates.

But somehow when I ask my girl for a date, we always seem to get involved with her crowd. That means the $15 is shot on just one evening.

Then when I don't call her the rest of the week, she thinks I don't want to see her. How can I put over the idea she'd see more of me if we could have a quiet date by ourselves?

Wally, Memphis

Dear Wally: Just tell her. If a girl is interested in a man, she's usually willing to trade one large evening for two or three small ones. Suggest that you skip the crowd, as two's company anyway.

Ask her advice on how to spread that $15 so you'll both get the most fun out of it. She'll probably enjoy showing what a good manager she is.

However, if you feel it's too early in the game to start discussing finances, reword your invitations. Instead of just asking her for a date each time, ask her specifically for a certain movie, a place to dance, or an evening you've mapped out yourself.

You can then figure the cost of each evening in advance. If her manners are as good as they should be, she'll go along with it.

Polly's Pointers

Pin Bedroom Curtains

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Thumbtack a length of narrow ribbon to the bedroom window sills, at each side, under the draperies. The ribbon should nearly reach the floor. Loop the lower end of each through the opening in a plastic clothes pin.

Tie a firm knot and then a little bow to cover it. When you open the window at night, hold the drapery folds back and clip them together safely out of the way of spattering rain or snow.

HELPFUL HANNAH

DEAR POLLY — If you do not have a rod in the back of the car for hanging clothes, get a small chain, such as a dog chain, and suspend it from one hook across the back seat to the other one.

Coat hangers can be hooked into the chain links and will not slide to the center or interfere with the driver's view to the rear. The chain can be taken out easily and put away for another trip.

Also when on an extended trip, take your telephone directory along. You will be surprised at how many forgotten addresses it supplies.

M. J. T.

DEAR POLLY — Reading your column daily reminds me of ideas other readers might find helpful. Here is one to prevent loss of gloves and mittens by children. Sew a button on each mitten or glove the right size of the buttonhole of the child's coat. When he takes off the gloves, they can be buttoned right to the coat and many that would be lost are saved.

Legion Unit Has Election Gathering

Mrs. Verner Macom opened her Whittemore Street home for the meeting Monday evening.

Plans were discussed for the forthcoming card party and fashion show. Proceeds from this affair will be used to send a high school girl to Wolverine Girls State in Ann Arbor.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer: Before I give up this brainstorm completely, I must ask you if it is possible to make a suede leather suit on an ordinary home sewing machine. Please give me any hints about stitching, lining, thread, etc. Mrs. C. K.

Dear Mrs. C. K.: Yes, if you are an accomplished seamstress, it is possible to make a very professional looking garment from leather. Since the leather skins are not too large, it will take careful planning with your pattern.

Most garments made of leather have yokes and seams throughout which are there to piece the skins together. Although leather has no straight or bias, it is best to take all your pieces in the same direction on the skins so your garment will hang and wear better.

Seam allowances on leather should be about ⅜ inch, however, they cannot be let out once they have been stitched. Do not use pins, mark your pattern with chalk or paper-clips.

Mercerized thread is suggested and preshrunk seam tape is recommended for all points of strain or where leather is thin.

In machine stitching, keep the seam tape over the seamline or place wax paper over the leather to make stitching easier.

Cut the front interfacing over as far as the armhole, which will help keep your garment in shape. Press the seams open as you go along, using a warm iron on the wrong side of the leather.

★ ★ ★

Lining fabrics can be the same as with any jacket, crepe, satin, faille, or even wool. After garment is complete, press with smooth brown paper on the right side of the leather to keep the iron from scorching the nap of the leather.

Use rubber cement to anchor the fronts and hem.

Sewing with leather is not difficult, but requires patience and care, so take your time and you'll have a beautiful garment. Be sure it is cleaned by a reputable leather cleaner and keep it spot-cleaned each time you wear it.

BEDTIME COSTUMES

Children always like to dress up in costumes. Quite often these are made of poor material and are not a good buy.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Use bias tape to hem skirts, instead of the straight hem tape. The bias tape gives and stretches with the material. It will be much smoother and avoid the puckers we sometimes get when we have finished hemming a skirt. This bias hem tape comes in a rayon finish in almost all colors." This fine suggestion comes from Mrs. H. L. DeLong, Hardy, Va. We are sending her a Tailor Trix pressing board for having submitted the best idea of the week.

Dear Eunice: I am a beginner in sewing and recently bought a suit-dress pattern which calls for buttonhole twist for gathers. I can't seem to find out what this is. Mrs. H. R. B.

Dear Mrs. H.R.B.: Buttonhole twist is a silk thread which is made much heavier than ordinary thread. It is used for decorative stitching and can also be used any place where a more sturdy thread is called for. Most of the larger notion counters will carry this thread in many colors.

Please send all your questions to Sew Simple in care of The Pontiac Press.

If you would like a copy of my booklet, "The Twenty Most Frequently Asked Questions," send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

'Tis Money, Not Sex

LONDON (UPI)—Money, not sex, leads London University couples to set up joint housekeeping without benefit of a marriage ceremony. So they say.

The students, according to a poll published Monday in the University's undergraduate newspaper, Sennet, find that marriage would cut part of their scholarship aid.

"Two single grants are better than the equivalent offered for marriage," was the way one couple candidly expressed their opinion.

★ ★ ★

Another—equally candid and a bit bitter—said a second major difficulty is that university officials frown on marriage before graduation.

University officials had no immediate comment.

SEX TOLERANCE

The answers showed a broad tolerance of extra-marital sex relations. The newspaper said most of the 200 couples who answered the questionnaire admitted sexual relations before marriage.

Sennet said 500 forms were sent out. Of the 200 returned, 40 came from married couples, 95 from engaged couples and 65 from boys and girls just living together.

The quiz was thought up by Mrs. Sue Masterman, 22, who was a student at the university until a few months ago. She and her husband quit school for financial reasons.

★ ★ ★

Sennet said the poll showed the average student couple "living together emerges as a very sober pair, highly aware of their social responsibility and sincerely trying to live up to their own ideals. They have vague intentions of getting married . . ."

One male student said: "Quite honestly, I don't like the present circumstances . . . mainly because we have ruined the original love relationship."

Another male, asked what he would do if his girl friend became pregnant, said frankly: "Panic."

Plagues the Aged

Psychosomatic Illness

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE 0-455: Philo was an ancient Greek merchant who was fleeing from Damascus because the plague had broken out in that city.

DR. CRANE

Along the route he was traveling he overtook a tall, distinguished looking stranger. They greeted each other cordially and trudged along together on foot, meanwhile engaging in conversation.

At noon, they stopped for lunch. Philo shared his figs and fish with the stranger, who thanked him for his generosity.

Finally, Philo screwed up enough courage to ask his companion who he was.

"I am the Black Death," replied the stranger.

"Oh, get away from here — don't touch me!" exclaimed Philo, in great terror.

"Why, you just killed 59,000 people back in Damascus. That's why I am fleeing."

"Not so," he replied calmly. "I slew only 1,000. Fear killed the other 49,000."

And that ancient story illustrates the wide prevalence of psychosomatic medicine.

Whenever an accident occurs, whether on the highway or in your home, what do you think of first?

"Call a doctor," you cry out in panic.

Few of you ever think of calling on God, do you? And that is even true of you modern clergymen, too!

Yet we medics can't even make a scratch heal or cause blood to clot or make a fractured bone knit!

IN SPITE OF DOCTORS

At Northwestern Medical School one of our distinguished professors addressed the class one day with this shocking statement:

"Gentlemen, always remember that 85 per cent of your patients will get well — in spite of what you doctors do for them!"

This week in the United States alone some 20 million patients will call on us doctors for treatment.

Yet 10 million of them (50 per cent) will have no diagnosable physical ailments whatever.

They are "worry warts" and frustrated biddies past the age of 40 who crave a little encouragement from a sympathetic male, maybe because their husbands have died or they are spinsters.

And I don't mean to focus solely on the women, for millions of men are likewise worry warts who consume tons of pills and receive millions of injections, needlessly.

But the men are often scared of becoming platonic. This very fear, like that of the stranger on the road from Damascus, then can produce the very impotence they dread.

Thereafter, they deluge us doctors. Any medic with a positive personality can usually cure them with ordinary saline injections or even magical hocus-pocus, for their problem is chiefly above their eyes, namely, psychosomatic.

So get hep to reality. Unless you have a cut artery or a fractured bone or a real surgical crisis, quit acting so chicken!

You hysterical Americans are trying to worship the M.D. You use him as an idol to replace God Almighty. Get hep.

And send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents, for it can stop platonic marriage better than testosterone.

Announce Troth of Miss Conibear

Mr. and Mrs. George Conibear Jr. of Buckingham Road announce the engagement of his sister, Barbara Marie Conibear, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to Richard L. Synoradzki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Synoradzki of Buffalo, N.Y. Her parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. George Conibear.

The bride-elect, a former Waterford resident, attended Michigan State University, where her fiance received his degree last June.

Don't Expect Boy of 4 to Know Everything

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

★ ★ ★

In front of him several female giants obstructed his view. To the rear he was pushed by a line of adult males. So he squirmed, needing space and air. He didn't get them.

Then in delighted relief from his oppressive boredom he noted one of the red plush cords that confined the crowd of lunch-seeking behemoths around him.

Curious, he explored its meaning by pulling it and behind him the flimsy brass standard attached to it crashed to the floor.

Said one of the lady giants in front of hmi, "A child like that shouldn't be allowed in a public place."

Said one of the male ones behind him, "That's modern discipline for you. A kid starts wrecking the joint and what he gets is a 'Now see what you've done' instead of a good smack on the behind."

★ ★ ★

But at 4, you cannot know that red plush cords are one of your civilization's devices for controlling the herd. You have no way of knowing that they are attached to hollow brass poles. You can't evaluate what you've done because you don't know you have done it. At 4, you just see a red cord and you pull it.

★ ★ ★

They're queer creatures — the giants. They think that what they know about red cords is the only knowledge that exists.

They think that what they have learned about red cords is what you should have learned, too. They want you to be exactly like them; and always, when you can't be, you offend them.

If you hadn't offended mommy by being little, unadjusted and new to the function of red plush cords, she would have said, "That red cord you jerked pulled down the pole that holds it up. Come, we'll go pick it up, and I'll show you how the cord goes through a hole in the pole and pulled it down when you jerked it."

★ ★ ★

Then you would have learned why pulling civilization's red plush cords can produce disastrous results and refrained from other pullings until you got better acquainted with them.

Local Student Engaged in College Experiment

Son of the Robert B. Ballards of Louella Drive, William is one of some 90 students who are spending the week as guests in the homes of alumni and friends of the college.

The program is called the "SAC Exploratory Experience." It is designed to acquaint students with the demands made of persons in a vocation that the students are likely to enter.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. David Siple of Motorway Drive have as their guest during the project Jason Hollopeter of Liberty, Pa.

★ ★ ★

John E. Gottschalk, son of the John Gottschalks of Woodbine Drive, has been elected second vice president of the University of Detroit chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

★ ★ ★

Rodney Ross of Pontiac, freshman student at Eastern New Mexico University, Portals, N. M., will repesent his school in the Baylor University debate tournament in Waco, Tex., on Friday and Saturday.

He will enter the junior division of the tourney, one of the oldest and largest in the southwest.

★ ★ ★

Donald H. Shaw, son of Mrs. H. I. Shaw of Delaware Drive, is among students at Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., named as recipients of the silver key award for scholastic achievement. Mr. Shaw is among students in the school of business administration.

New Material Covers Heels

Leather, rubber, nylon and metal all have been tested to cover the ends of lethal spike heels. Now one manufacturer claims it has a new composition material that wears as long as metal, does not spread and snag, and cushions the sound of the spikes.

Battle to Start for GOP Post

May Rehearse State Convention in County

BY JIM DYGERT

A rehearsal for a state convention battle for the GOP state chairmanship may be in store for Oakland County Republicans at their convention tonight.

Both announced candidates for the post — Arthur G. Elliott Jr. and John A. (Jack) Gibbs — are county residents with strong support among delegates.

★ ★ ★

Resolutions endorsing either candidate — and some are expected — will draw heavy fire from the other's supporters.

COMPROMISE POSSIBLE

A possible compromise was indicated yesterday by GOP County Chairman Charles L. Lyle when he said a resolution endorsing both as "eminently qualified" might be considered.

★ ★ ★

Lyle also said an endorsement would not be binding on the county's 161-man delegation to the party's Feb. 16 state convention in Grand Rapids.

But an endorsement for one candidate would considerably strengthen his position.

★ ★ ★

Opinions differ among the county Republicans as to whether Elliott or Gibbs deserves more credit for building the county GOP organization into one of the state's strongest.

Elliott was Oakland County Republican chairman from 1957 to 1961 while Gibbs served the county GOP as executive secretary.

PLAN FALLS THROUGH

A plan by Lyle to have both appear at tonight's convention fell through yesterday. Gibbs could not accept Lyle's invitation to speak because he is scheduled to give the keynote address at the Macomb County GOP convention tonight.

★ ★ ★

Elliott already was scheduled to report to the convention on Gov. George Romney's administration. He had not been invited to speak as a chairmanship candidate, Lyle said.

Elliott, 45, Romney's campaign manager and closest political associate, has been considered the leading contender as "Romney's choice." He was named by the governor as "one of three qualified candidates."

Gibbs, 30, is executive assistant to retiring incumbent chairman George M. Van Peursem. He decided to oppose Elliott after Romney assured him he was committed to no one, had no preference and wanted an open convention.

WINNERS OF ACHIEVEMENT AWARD — Freckle-faced Kathy Allison, 17, who attends Seaholm High School in Birmingham, and Ray Snarski, 17, a recent graduate of Ford High School in Dearborn, have been named Mister and Miss Achievement for Southeastern Michigan. Kathy is the daughter of Mrs. Alice M. Allison, 4443 Derry Road, Bloomfield Township.

Registration of Area Cars Up in 1962

There were nearly 10,000 more passenger cars registered in Oakland County in 1962 than there were the preceding year, the Michigan Department of State announced.

In all, there were 348,436 motor vehicles of all types registered in the county, a 12,354 increase over 1961.

While passenger car registrations accounted for most of the increase, all types of motor vehicle registrations showed substantial rises with the exception of farm vehicles.

In this category, there was only one more than the 952 farm vehicles registered in 1961.

Passenger cars, 390,060, up from 280,124; trucks and commercial vehicles, 26,320 from 25,278; trailers, 23,898 from 22,983; trailer coaches, 2,370 from 2,174; motorcycles, 2,275 from 2,167; and municipal vehicles, 2,560 from 2,404.

According to Secretary of State James H. Hare, the total weight tax money collected in Oakland County last year was $5,425,098.

Nine Named to Fund Drive

Junior Achievement Team Captains Picked

Nine community business executives have been appointed team captains of Junior Achievement's 1963 fund campaign in Pontiac, Divisional Chairman Homer C. Jackson announced today.

JACKSON

Named by Jackson were:

Milton L. Prashaw, assistant director of purchasing, Pontiac Motor Division; Robert K. Russell, assistant director of purchases, GMC Truck and Coach Division; and Richard Fisher, secretary-treasurer, Maple Leaf Dairy.

Raise Rat Tail Bounty to Renew Enthusiasm

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (UPI) —The local council said today it has raised the bounty for rat tails from three cents to four cents.

★ ★ ★

Renewal Funds at City Hall

★ ★ ★

The City Commission last night okayed the payment of $1,051,616 in urban renewal funds to all property owners except those who are apepaling their awards to the State Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

All awards contained in the verdict handed down by a Circuit Court jury are included in the $1,051,616. But amounts due persons appealing the verdict will be held pending a ruling by the higher court.

The total amount awarded by the court was some $1,085,000, of wihch about $34,000 had been paid prior to the jury decision.

The resolution approved unanimously last night orders the money turned over to the city treasurer, who will act as paying agent.

Pontiac City Affairs

Plan North Side Fire Station

Preliminary cost estimates are $120,000 for the station and roughly $80,000 to $85,000 per year to staff it.

STATION RECOMMENDED

It was one of several areas where branch stations were recommended in a study by the National Board of Fire Underwriters in 1958 and the Pontiac General Development Plan, published early last year.

No tentative construction dates have been set, but the station will be built largely out of 1963 and 1964 capital improvement funds.

★ ★ ★

Ordinances calling for the rezoning to industrial of South Park Subdivision and a six-acre parcel on Oakland Avenue south of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad viaduct were proposed and slated for public hearings at future commission meetings.

OTHER BUSINESSES

Ordinances were adopted rezoning to commercial Lots 80-81, Dupont Heights Subdivision, and Lot 10, A. P. 70.

Adoption of the zoning ordinances came after owners of the lots agreed to deed portions of the property involved to the city as right-of-way for future street widening.

Commissioners okayed a transfer of ownership of a lease on Pontiac Municipal Airport property from Barber's Flying Service to Austin C. McCarty, new owner of the flying service.

The commission also concurred with a planning commission recommendation to deny vacating of a 20-foot alley in a block bounded by Montcalm, Blaine, Lounsbury and Stanley.

Referred to the planning commission for study and recommendations were requests to rezone properties on the North side of West Huron Street, Prall to Henderson, to personal service use; and Lots 98-100, Lakeside Park Subdivision, to commercial use.

Ask Help Recommending Circuit Judge Candidates

The Oakland County Republican Committee has asked the county Bar Association for help in recommending candidates for new circuit judgeships that may be created this year for the county.

★ ★ ★

GOP County Chairman Charles L. Lyle said he has asked county Bar Association Vice President Thomas Dillon to arrange a list of possible candidates.

The county GOP committee would make recommendations to Gov. George Romney if new judgeships are created by the State Legislature.

Lyle said the Republican party recognizes "that Oakland County's growth will result in new judgeships this year."

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, plans to introduce a bill this week calling for two new circuit judgeships in the county.

CHANCES EXCELLENT

Chances of approval for one new judge are considered excellent by county legislators. Getting approval of two is seen as more difficult.

★ ★ ★

County Democrats have objected to creation of new judgeships at this time.

They claim the move for the additional judiciary posts is prompted by a Republican desire to create them while the governor still has the appointment power to fill them.

The proposed new state constitution would give the atate Supreme Court the responsibility of making interim appointments to fill court vacancies.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, who retires Feb. 15, urged creation of two new circuit judgeships to handle the increasingly heavy case load at the courthouse.

One circuit judgeship would cost the county between $50,000 and $100,000 a year. An appropriation would be required from the County Board of Supervisors.

North Korea Backs China in Red Rift

TOKYO (UPI) — North Korea today threw support to Communist China in its current leadership dispute with the Soviet Union.

Kim Il Sung, North Korean prime minister and head of his country's Communist party, attacked the attempts of the Soviet Union to "isolate and ostracize" Red China within the Communist bloc.

He issued an urgent appeal for unity to avoid a split in the Socialist camp which would give aid to "the U.S. imperialists and the international reactionary forces."

★ ★ ★

Kim's remarks were contained in an editorial in the official Radong Shinmoon newspaper, broadcast in full by North Korea's Pyongyang radio.

★ ★ ★

He did not name the Soviet Union as the divisive element, but his references made it clear that the editorial was intended as a lecture for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his supporters.

Local Businessman to Talk in New York

Howard O. Powers of Metes and Powers, Inc., 2000 Pontiac Drive, will be a featured speaker at the annual U.S. Brewers Association convention in New York, Feb. 2 to 7.

Powers, a wholesale beer distributor since 1945, will speak on the subject, "What a Brewer Should Do for a Wholesaler."

Recipient in 1961 of the "Solid Gold Wholesaler" award, the brewing industry's award for unselfish devotion to community interests, Powers is a former president of both the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Exchange Club.

Local Bank Bids Low for Notes

The sale of first preliminary loan notes for Pontiac's second urban renewal project started on a familiar note Tuesday afternoon as a local bank submitted the low bid.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac State Bank and Chemical Bank, New York Trust Co., submitted a bid asking a 1.59 per cent interest rate on the $1,340,000 in loan notes.

Community National Bank submitted the low bid for all five sales of preliminary loan notes in the R20 project.

In asking a rate of 1.59 per cent, Pontiac State Bank and the New York firm edged out the second lowest bid of 1.62 per cent from Solomon Bros. & Hutzler, of New York.

Other bidders were The Bank of America, San Francisco, Calif., 1.66 per cent; and Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., N.Y., 1.68 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Bids were announced unofficially in a preliminary report to the City Commission last night. They will be presented and the sale awarded at next week's meeting.

★ ★ ★

The notes mature every six months.

They will be used to finance land acquisition and other operating expenses in the R44 project already under way.

Educators Plan Studies Report

A standing-room-only audience of educators is expected for a semester report on Oakland County's social studies project at 9 a.m. Thursday at the County Board of Education office.

Closed circuit television will be used in a review of the project's operation.

The project emphasizes the use of many newer sources in teaching techniques, including film slides, recordings, tapes, filmstrips and other materials.

★ ★ ★

School board members, administrators and curriculum specialists from the eight local school districts participating in the project will hear the report.

Project materials have been test-taught in the Pontiac, Oxford, Huron Valley, Farmington, Clarenceville, Royal Oak, Hazel Park and Ferndale school districts.

Forgot His Own Salary

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — State Auditor Michael Howlett told the budgetary commission yesterday he made a mistake in his proposed budget. It omitted Howlett's $20,000-a-year salary.

On Senior High Level

Parents to Get Math Courses

Waterford Township Schools' mathematics program for parents of elementary and junior high school youngsters has fared so well that a course for parents of senior high students is in the offing.

The idea to expose the mothers and fathers to modern mathematics was inspired by the parents themselves.

Enough of them approached assistant to the school superintendent, Dr. Chandos Reid, at PTA functions and other activities to convince the curriculum coordinator that interest was widespread.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Reid, heeding the plea of the frustrated parents who found themselves inept in helping their offspring's mathematics, developed a program to familiarize them with up-to-date mathematics terminology and procedure.

Robert Scrivens, mathematics consultant for the school district, has taken it from there.

Last fall, parents of elementary pupils flocked to the Monday evening sessions. The current series of four weekly classes for junior high students' parents is also well attended.

The final session in the current series is slated for Monday and will deal with nonmetric geometry.

Previous classes have included factoring, numeration systems and an explanation of properties of our numbering system.

On the basis of interest to date, a course in algebra for parents of senior high students is in the planning stages.

It will probably begin the latter part of next month and will be conducted by Scrivens on Monday nights.

'Promiscuity Increasing in Colleges'

★ ★ ★

Writing in the scholarly Journal of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors, the experts emphasized that it is not just a case of wild youth growing wilder.

A REFLECTION

Rather they said, it is a reflection of:

★ ★ ★

The arrival on campus of a late adolescent who is largely unprepared for and often incapable of managing the responsibility for biological and social maturity.

ENTIRE ISSUE

Kate Hevner Mueller, professor of higher education at Indiana University and editor of the Journal, posed the problem this way:

"Crises are inevitable, soul-searching routine and confusion rampant, for sex behavior and sex ethics have become national problems, unacknowledged, unsavory, and unsolved."

Lester A. Kirkendall, professor of family life at Oregon State University, said "30 years' experience in working very closely with young people concerning all kinds of sexual problems and experiences" has led him to assume that:

'CONFUSED'

"1. College youth are confused and uncertain concerning sex standards.

"2. Much premarital sexual intercourse occurs among college level youth. I believe that the proportion of college youth engaging in premarital intercourse is increasing.

★ ★ ★

"3. At the late adolescent level, adult control has practically disappeared. The actual decisions as to what sexual practices shall be followed are made by the youth in their own privacy and their own way. Controls imposed by authoritative adults are a thing of the past. We may not like this, but it is a fact of life."

NO SUPERVISION

Kirkendall said "parental supervision at the college level is gone, chaperones serve primarily an ornamental function, and college rules can, at the most, hamper and inconvenience rather than prevent."

★ ★ ★

The Oregon State professor also said, "We are still trying to motivate and control the sexual behavior of youth by citing the traditional negative consequences of sexual experiences: premarital pregnancy, venereal infection, and community disapproval.

"The fact is that the power of these fear-evoking threats has been markedly decreased."

WAYS TO HELP

Prof. Kirkendall said there are two important ways in which youth may be helped.

"First, they should be helped in thinking their way through the morass of existing contradictions.

"Second, youth need help in developing a value framework which will have meaning for them."

The contradictions, Kirkendall said, are seen on every hand.

Society, he said, stands firmly for premarital chastity, but adults use sex as a lure to promote business enterprises.

Sex, he added, is considered a delicate subject, yet it is treated openly in books, plays and magazines, and is made to seem "an enticing, exciting pastime, in which the chief fault is getting caught."

Kirkendall said every college and university should provide its students with opportunities to establish a comprehensive system of value through classes, conferences and open discussions.

Bulgaria Library Gets 700 American Books

Winter Cold Slows Meat Output

An Agriculture Department reproduction last week was the smallest for any non-holiday week since last September. It was down 8 per cent from the previous week.

★ ★ ★

Cold weather, with snow-blocked roads in many areas, hampered shipment of cattle and hogs from farms to markets.

Gives Low Bid for Demolition

Mt. Clemens Company Asks $69,800

Louis D'Hondt & Son Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens has submitted a low bid of $69,800 for demolition of structures in Pontiac's second urban renewal project.

In a preliminary report to the City Commission last night, City Manager Robert A. Stierer disclosed that D'Hondt, one of two R20 project wreckers, was low among six bidders for the R44 project demolition contract.

D'Hondt currently holds the contract to raze some 101 commercial structures in the R20 project. His bid was $82,000 on that contract.

There are some 43 commercial structures in the R44 project marked for clearance.

D'Hondt's bid for the R44 contract is well below the second lowest bid of $97,172.87 submitted by Wolverine Lumber and Wrecking Co. of Pontiac.

There was a $55,000 range from low to high bids.

Other firms submitting bids were Industrial Wrecking Co., Inc., of Hoboken, N.J., $103,500; Arrow Wrecking, Inc., of Dearborn, $104,999; Sam Allen & Son, Inc., of Pontiac, $114,120; and Weissman Excavating Co., $124,800.

An official tabulation and recommendations will be submitted by Acting City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling to the City Commission at its Feb. 5 meeting.

Killed in Car-Train Crash

YOU MAY HAVE

PIN-WORMS

AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

OLSM Within Half Game of First Place in Catholic Loop

By JERE CRAIG

★ ★ ★

The Eaglets spurted to an 18-10 first quarter advantage over an improving St. Frederick's squad and then held on for a 47-41 triumph at Jefferson Junior High School.

The victory moved them within one half game of idle Royal Oak St. Mary in the Northwest Catholic League race. OLSM is 8-2 in the loop and ROSM is 8-1.

The loss evened St. Fred's league mark at 5-5 and dropped the Rams into a fourth-place tie with St. Agatha.

COSTLY LAPSES

Neither team was particularly sharp with its shooting and the defenses were guilty of costly lapses.

"It looked as if we were starting the season all over," moaned OLSM head mentor Fr. John Rakoczy.

Actually, the contest was close all the way after the Rams rallied from their early deficit to tie the game five times but could never go ahead. The final deadlock was 31-31 with three minutes remaining in the third quarter.

Center John Stolnicki pushed the Eaglets back into the lead with a rebound field goal and they stayed in front the rest of the way. With 2:08 left to play in the game, Charlie Dean cut the winners' margin to 41-39.

Three foul shots by high scoring Larry Janiszewski and a field goal by Paul Herman moved the Eaglets to a safe lead in a closing two minutes of play that were marred by numerous fouls and jump balls.

Janiszewski hit 16 points for the third straight game to lead all scorers.

While the contest was close after the first quarter, it was punctuated by loose ball handling and sloppy shooting.

| OLSM (47) | FG | FT | TP | ST. FRED'S (41) | FG | FT | TP |
| Herman | 4 | 3-4 | 11 | M. Dean | 4 | 3-5 | 11 |

TOTALS BY QUARTERS

|---|---|---|---|---|
| OLSM | 18 | 8 | 9 | 12—47 |
| St. Fred's | 10 | 14 | 9 | 8—41 |

JV: OLSM 47, St. Fred's 45.

DECEPTION — The game was basketball last night but Orchard Lake St. Mary's Larry Janiszewski, a quarterback on the Eaglets' football eleven, tallied two points on this first quarter "run." He beat St. Fred's Charlie Dean (50) and Fred Medina (4) on this breakaway. Several similar fast breaks in the opening quarter were decisive as the Eaglets built an 18-10 lead on the way to a 47-41 victory.

Idle Pontiac Central Gains Second Place

PCH was the only Saginaw Valley Conference team not scheduled Tuesday but the Chiefs continued to climb upward in the standings.

Wilhite had 19 points for the home team to help knock the state's ninth-ranked Class A team (weekly AP poll) into a second place tie in the loop with PCH. It was Handy's second victory of the year and Flint Central's second loss.

Other league action saw Saginaw Arthur Hill, the state's second ranking Class A school, stumble past lowly Midland, 56-47.

Saginaw High joined PCH and Flint Central in the runnerup slot with a 70-58 win over visiting Flint Southwestern; while Bay City Central remained winless by dropping a 69-55 decision at Flint Northern.

In the Arthur Hill contest, 6-10 center Craig Dill poured 28 points through the hoop of which 20 were scored in the first half when the Lumberjacks only led, 27-25.

NONE LEFT

But one irritating nemesis for the Panthers has been Toledo Macomber. The clubs have met only once each of the past two years and both times Rouge has been beaten.

But things were different Tuesday night as Rouge overcame a shaky start and slapped down the Toledo club 53-41 for its 11th straight win this season after an opening loss.

Captains Blitz Oxford, 74-37, as Bogert Stars

Highest Point Total in School's History; Previous Mark 58

By DICK POINTON

Waterford Kettering was 16 points better on the basketball court last night than it had been at any other time in the school's short history.

★ ★ ★

The Captains conquered visiting Oxford 74-37 to set a school scoring record. The previous high was 58 points.

Partly responsible for the record breaking performance according to Kettering coach Joe Duby, "Was our best total team effort of the season."

Kettering, in its second basketball season, is at present two games past the midway point with another non-league game with Walled Lake this Saturday before a Feb. 8 meeting with Tri-County leader Lapeer.

The Captains led 18-10 at the end of the first quarter and under the sure shooting of Bob Bogert and Jim Nyberg, pulled ahead at the half, 33-19.

SCORING HONORS

Bogert, a 5-foot-11 junior, took game honors with 21 points using a quick jump shot from the left front court that pierced the Oxford defense nine times. He also had a three-for-five record at the free throw line.

Nyberg was next high with 13 while Buzz Cork of Oxford was the only Wildcat to get into double figures with 11 points.

The Captains romped to an early second quarter 25-10 lead while holding their opponents to three buckets from the floor and three charity tosses.

Bob Claycomb of Oxford stopped the clock at 3:58 in the second period when he hurt his thumb but he was right back in action to score the final basket of the half.

★ ★ ★

Kettering applied constant pressure the entire game although Duby emptied the bench with 6:17 remaining in the last stanza.

Highlighting the action packed last quarter were two breakaway layups by Dale Manning. The cheering Kettering fans gave the scrappy guard a hand the first time he intercepted a pass and raced the length of the floor to score on a picture play.

The voctory boosted Kettering's over-all record to 6-3 while the defeat was the seventh in eight outings for the Wildcats.

Irate Wilson Seeks Stock

Lions' Coach Can't Attend NFL Sessions

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—The Detroit Lions head coach, George Wilson, is demanding a share of Lions stock so he can qualify to attend the National Football League meetings here.

Wilson was angered yesterday when he was barred from the opening sessions.

★ ★ ★

He was asked by an aide to NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle to get out. The meetings—except for matters dealing with playing rules—are limited to owners, club management and league officials.

Green Bay's general manager—coach Vince Lombardi and Chicago's owner-coach George Halas were eligible to attend.

The miffed Lions coach said, "I think I'll pack my bag and go back home."

The Lions' general manager, Edward J. Anderson, who is a major stockholder, appeared surprised that Wilson had been ordered from the meeting. Anderson said he would take care of it and get Wilson admitted.

But Wilson, still fuming, said, "No sir, I'm not going back in there—not even for the discussion on rules changes—until I get one share of stock and qualify as an owner."

NO OBJECTION

Anderson said he had no objection to Wilson having a share of stock. But this would be up for the team's directors to decide.

The playing rules and a holdover title dispute from 1925 occupied the agenda today after Rozelle reported there would be no further discussion here of the pro football betting investigation.

Johnston New Senator Boss

★ ★ ★

Elwood R. (Pete) Quesada, quick-tempered, controversial former Air Force general, resigned as president Tuesday and sold his stock to a three-man group headed by Johnston.

Veeck, a colorful American League figure as top man at Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago, and Nate Dolin of Cleveland had offered $5 million for the baseball team, despite its 10th place American League finishes the past two season.

When the new Senators were organized two years ago after the old team fled to Minnesota, the 10 original stockholders put up $3 million to get the new franchise rolling.

FIVE SOLD OUT

Under the deal Tuesday five of the original stockholders sold out to Johnston, his business partner James H. Lemon and aviation executive George M. Bunker, with two others retaining their original holdings. Johnston said he, Lemon and Bunker were among the original stockholders.

The new board of directors elected Johnston chairman and indicated he would serve as chief executive officer with an office at the stadium.

★ ★ ★

Johnston issued a statement that said he intended to retain General Manager George Selkirk, Business Manager Joe Burke and Field Manager Mickey Vernon.

He added they probably would "have wider authority in their roles."

Hall Triggers Imlay to Win Over Marlette

The Spartans boosted their season log to 9-2 with a non-league 63-59 triumph over visiting Marlette. The 6-3 Hall led the winners with 24 points to push his average close to the 19 points-a-game standard.

The home team led 27-24 at halftime but Marlette scored 23 markers in the third quarter to move in front, 46-43. The Spartans could not regain the lead until the final two minutes of play.

Key buckets by Hall and Larry Clark shot Imlay City ahead and Marlette could not recover before time ran out.

Dale Goodrich's 12 and Ed Lomerson's 10 aided the winners' cause while Bob Hurd was the top Marlette marksman with 13.

'It Was Ridiculous'—Wilt

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, complained today that he didn't like the idea of having peewees of 6-feet-6 guarding him.

The 7-1 San Francisco Warrior dropped in 62 points last night to lead his team to a 123-103 victory over the hapless New York Knickerbockers in the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader. The Boston Celtics edged the Chicago Zephyrs in the first game, 100-99.

Dave Budd, who stands 6-feet-6 and weighs in at 210 pounds, tried to handle Chamberlain for 31 minutes and got nowhere.

FELT 'HELPLESS'

"It was ridiculous," said Wilt, "I have a lot of respect for Budd, but he should try to play people his size."

"I felt helpless," conceded Budd.

Paul Hogue, the 6-9, 240 pound rookie ordinarily would be assigned to guard Chamberlain. But he was sidelined because of an appendectomy.

★ ★ ★

"Wilt is unbelievably strong," said Budd in awe. "For a while, I figured I'd race him down the court and take the spot I knew he wanted.

"But then," Budd added sadly, "he found another spot."

CONLEY FAILED

Gene Conley, who stands 6-8, also tried to contain Chamberlain, but he, too, had no success. Even though he's shorter than Conley, Budd was given the assignment because he is faster and younger.

The Warriors had their troubles in the first half, running up a narrow 52-50 margin at the intermission despite Chamberlain's 25 points. But they dropped in nine straight near the start of the third quarter and 14 in a row in the fourth quarter to make it a walkaway.

Chamberlain wound up finding the range on 27 of 44 field goal attempts and 8 of 17 free throws. He also grabbed 12 rebounds. Richie Guerin led the Knicks with 22 points.

The Celtics' victory over the Zephyrs was a heart-stopper. In the last 22 seconds, Bob Cousy plunked in a long one-hander and Tom Heinsohn made good on two free throws for the decision.

The Zephyrs were down 87-77 midway in the final quarter, when they suddenly got hot and, led by Si Green, Walt Bellamy and Terry Dischinger, closed the gap. With just 22 seconds to go they held a 97-96 lead.

WINNING POINTS

But then Heinsohn stole the ball from Green, and fed to Cousy, who connected with a 20-footer. Heinsohn was fouled by Dischinger and made good on both his free throws to send the Celts to a 100-97 lead. Woody Sauldsberry scored on a layup for the Zephyrs in the final seconds.

BOWLING

Hats are being doffed by the bowlers at Howe's Lanes to Pat DeLongchamp for her tireless efforts on behalf of the March of Dimes bowling tournament presently underway in Oakland County.

In a period of two weeks there, she has enrolled more than 300 keglers in the tournament at one dollar a head.

Other activity at Howe's recently saw Barb Howe bowl a 247—538 actual combination.

ELKS LADIES

Pontiac women made strong showings over the weekend in the Elks Ladies National Invitational Bowling Tournament at the local Elks Lodge No. 810 temple.

★ ★ ★

Georganna Donnelly and Lois Ann Lohff moved into first place in the doubles events with a 1,202 handicap total replacing Loretta and Mary Newville of Royal Oak.

Selma's Smart Shoppe No. 2 grabbed the second slot in the team events while Chuck's Shack took third place as Torrid Heat fell to fourth. Selma's has a 2,879 total.

Bert McKinch of Port Huron remained first in the singles bowling but fell from first to third in the all events division. Plymouth's Beatrice Wilkin rolled an 1,852 to take over the top spot ahead of Betty Cascarelly from Hillsdale who had 1,839.

★ ★ ★

The Wednesday Night "A" League at Huron Bowl last week reported seven series of 600 or better. Bill Landry's 234-213—645 was tops while Dick Childress had a 253 in a 629 series.

Huron's Rolling Pin League had a 226 by Mary Scheffler and Madeline Lynn scored 218—530 last week. Schumann's leads the loop by six games.

Ladies All Star action at 300 Bowl included a 220 by Katherine Burton, a 216 by Olive Bogard and a 571 by Mildred Anderson.

Triplicates are also in the keg spotlight. Cliff McGinnis hit a 172 threesome in the Fisher Hill League at Montcalm Bowling Center and Charles York's three 151s were posted in the Lutheran Mixed circuit at Airway Lanes.

Other local news:
300 Bowl — Rae Smith 200—533 in the 300 Bowlers loop.
Cooley Lanes — Margo Walker a 516 in the Multi-Lakes Ladies League; and Betty Schenck a 246—544, Myra Green 219—519 and Phyllis Lee Shop's 799 team game (second season high) in the Country Dames circuit.
Wonderland Lanes — Doc Bradley a 245—646, Tom Galbraith a 225 and Ed Pifer a 222 in 850 House League; Nan Member a 214 in the Wondergirls loop; and Len Papke a 237—616 and Olive McCarty a 204-217—602 in Hits 'N' Mrs. League.
Airway Lanes — Alvin Nicholson a 610 and Fred Troeger a 214 in the Lutheran Mixed; Evelyn Davidson a 206—518 in Thursday Nite Ladies loop; and Carrol Aumaugher and Dorris Burgis 662 an 644, respectively, in Airway Angels' handicap circuit.

ABC Will Host 27,500 Keglers

5,010 Teams Entered in '63 Tournament

MILWAUKEE, (AP) — The American Bowling Congress announced today that 5,010 five-member teams will compete in the 1963 ABC tournament Feb. 16-April 28 at Buffalo, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

ABC Executive Secretary Frank K. Baker said that some 27,500 bowlers, including individuals entered in only minor events, will compete in the second richest tournament in the 60-year history of the event.

The prize fund of $495,780 has been topped only by the 1953 tournament in Chicago, which distributed $577,283 in winnings.

GOOSE BAY ENTRY

Team entries were received from every state except Idaho and Utah. However, those states will be represented by indviduals. In addition, teams are entered from Canada, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, Washington, D.C. ,and Goose Bay, Labrador.

New York led the entry field with 1,702 teams. Pennsylvania has 649 teams entered, Ohio 618, Michigan 401, Illinois 379 and New Jersey 266.

SKILL TO SPARE by Dick Weber

DICK WEBER
"Roll a strike ball"
All-Star Champion
LONE 5

When the 5 pin, which is squarely in the middle of the setup, is left standing by itself, a spare ball should hit it a bit to the left.

The reason is simple. Most bowlers have a bit of a hook and the best way to clean up a 5 leave is to roll a strike ball.

U. S. Golf Association Announces 2 Tourneys

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Golf Association announced Monday the dates and sites of two of its future national championships.

The 1964 Women's National Amateur was awarded to the Prairie Dunes Country Club in Hutchinson, Kans., Aug. 17-22.

The 1966 men's National Open was assigned to the Olympic Club's Lake course in San Francisco June 16-18. It was on this course that unknown Jack Fleck beat Ben Hogan in a playoff in 1955.

The 1963 Women's National Amateur will be staged at the Taconic Golf Club, Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 19-24. This year's men's National Open is slated for The Country Club, Brookline, Mass., June 20-22. The 1964 event goes to Washington, D.C., and the 1965 meet to St. Louis.

Southwest Community Races to 100-55 Win Over McDonald's

A Class A team's 100-point output and an upset victory in overtime featured play last night in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's adult basketball program.

★ ★ ★

Southwest Community Club raced to a 100-55 decision over McDonald's Drive-In with Jerry Williams scoring 23 points and Earl McKee 22.

The Pontiac Police team upset Columbia Avenue Baptist, 55-53, as John Bridgewater and Harry Kunkle scored field goals in an overtime period to produce the triumph. The defeat cost the churchmen a chance to tie for first place in the Class C circuit.

Both teams had four men in double figures with the losers' Harold Polsgrove's 16 markers the top figure for the game. Columbia Avenue led 32-23 at the half.

★ ★ ★

Another Class C contest saw Michigan Bell hand Town & Country its sixth straight loss, 44-33. Bud Hayward has 16 points to lead the winners while Roger Reynolds' 15 paced the losers.

SECOND STRAIGHT

Local 653 won its second game in two nights with a 67-60 verdict over The Bachelors' Club. Willie Ratliff had 20 markers for the losers while Jimmy Gardner tallied 17 for the unionmen.

Six games are on tap for tonight in the Waterford Township and Pontiac recreation basketball loops. At Pontiac Northern High School, Town & County will play Local 594 at 7 p.m. and Michigan Bell will tangle with Columbia Avenue Baptist at 8:30 p.m.

Two Class D contests are slated for Lincoln Junior High School with The Chiefs meeting Neopolitan at 7 p.m. and unbeaten Jo-Jo's clashing with The Spartans in the nightcap.

★ ★ ★

Pierce JHS will be the scene of two contests. The first one will have high flying Spencer Floors playing Tim's Barber Shop at 7:15 p.m. and Lakeland Pharmacy has an 8:30 date with Reeves Service.

Kettering, Kimball Win at Wrestling

Waterford Kettering wrestled past L'Anse Creuse 37-11 last night and RO Kimball staged a rally to edge Southfield, 26-21.

★ ★ ★

The Captains from Kettering took advantage of three L'Anse forfeits and scored three decisions plus taking two pins to clinch the victory.

Meanwhile, on the Southfield mats, RO Kimball trailed the entire meet but a pin by Larry Vernier over Ken Potts in the 180-pound division tied things up for the first time 21-21.

The pin set the stage for the winning pin by Craig Irwin of Kimball who clinched the meet by taking Chuck Erkfitz in the heavyweight class.

'BIG' TROUBLE — Dave Corder, who weighs 95 pounds, Mike Six, a mere 315, are the little and the big on this season's Ottawa (Iowa) High School wrestling team. Both are 15 years old.

State Title, Loop Upsets Mark Table Tennis Play

Bigger achievements and new glory will be the keynote as the Pontiac Table Tennis League swings into the second half of its season Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department-sponsored circuit had its biggest weekend of the season beginning last Thursday night and culminating Sunday when one of its members brought home a state championship.

Gerald Saunders of the Francis Fuel team captured the Michigan Table Tennis Novice Division championship in competition at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

In the process of surviving three opponents and four rounds of play, Saunders defeated Vic Corpron of the PTTL's Seaman Manufacturing team in the semi-final round. He won the title by taking Bob Klenn of Detroit, 21-18, 24-22 and 21-19.

LEAGUE UPSETS

Young Beverly Patton kept her poise under pressure to hand Carol Wolverton her first singles match loss with a 21-19, 19-21, 22-20 victory in the Pontiac Central gymnasium.

The 13-year-old Washington Junior High School student weathered a run of 16 straight points by Mrs. Wolverton in the final game that tied the score, and a match-point delivery by her champion opponent that just missed putting it out, to rally for the triumph.

Mrs. Wolverton is the top ranking woman player in the league and had a minus 12 handicap entering the match Thursday. It was Miss Patton who, also, ended Nancy Vondette's winning streak earlier in the year. The latter is the second leading woman player in the circuit.

The other upset saw the league's seventh-place Pepsi Cola squad sweep six in a row from Perc Secord's Capitol Barber Shop team. This dropped the barbers into a first place tie with Dorris Realty at the end of the first half.

The improving strength of the other teams in the league has been evident particularly the last two weeks.

Capitol, which led since very early in the season, saw its four-game lead disappear the last two weeks despite the fact the runner-up realtors could do no better than break even in twelve matches.

The schedule for this week includes Capitol Barber Shop playing A&W Root Beer and Dorris and Son meeting defending champion Seaman's.

Former PCH Matman Aids WSU 'Revival'

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

He's never lost a wrestling match!

In fact, of the ten matches he's wrestled at WSU since last year he's won eight by pins.

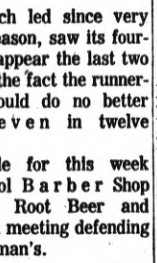
No other Tartar in the six-year history of the sport at WSU can make that statement.

TRANSFER TO WSU

Nosanchuk, a senior who transferred to WSU last fall from the University of Michigan, is leading a mild renaissance in the sport at the Detroit school.

The 130-pound co-captain led the Tartars to two wins in their first five matches by garnering all - important pins. Those team victories — over Adrian, 16-14, and Western Ontario, 26-10 — were only one short of equalling the three team wins Wayne State has managed since the 1957-58 season.



NOSANCHUK

The Adrian win, in which Nosanchuk pinned his man in 30 seconds, snapped a 27-match losing skein spread over three campaigns.

"We're very fortunate to have Mel," says WSU Coach Bob Hurley, a former Michigan grid star. "He's a 'pinner' — the kind of wrestler you like to have to inspire others. If I had eight more like him I'd be the greatest coach in the country."

Because of transferring, Nosanchuk was ineligible to compete for the varsity last winter.

But in six exhibitions, he never allowed his opponent more than a minute on the mat before taking him down for the two-second count.

Ending up at WSU was quite natural for Mel since both his father and mother graduated from there. His father, Barney, a Pontiac lawyer, was an outstanding track performer at WSU, and for 15 years held the varsity pole vault record.

★ ★ ★

Mel is a 1958 graduate of Pontiac Central, where he captained the mat squads in 1957 and 1958 and captured a state regional championship his senior season. That was when Central was just starting its wrestling program.

Only Fourth Meeting

Michigan vs. U-D

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's surprising basketball team, which built its success around a Detroit player, makes one of its infrequent appearances here tonight against the University of Detroit.

The Wolverines, off to their best start in nearly two decades with a 10-3 record, haven't played in Detroit since winning the 1958 Motor City tournament.

Although they are practically neighbors, tonight's meeting is only the fourth between Michigan and the Titans. The Wolverines hold a 2-1 edge in the series begun in 1918. The only time the Titans were able to win was last year, 82-74 at Ann Arbor.

Buntin, a sophomore, has a 22.5 scoring average for 13 games. His average puts him among the nation's top 20 scorers.

WILL DOUBLE TEAM

Michigan's hopes for victory revolve around Buntin having his usual hot game. Detroit's hopes are built around stopping Buntin. To accomplish this, coach Bob Calihan is expected to put two Titan defenders, John Schramm and Dick Dzik, on Buntin.

One question posed by the intrastate clash is: is a team better off going through a mid-season layoff or playing steadily?

Michigan has been inactive since Jan. 14. The Titans have played twice in that 16-day period, finishing a six-game spell of road games.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, 8-9, had been an in-and-out team all season until it upset St. Bonaventure last Saturday at Buffalo. Calihan believes his inexperienced Titans finally jelled against the Bonnies.

Rochester Six in Title Game

Merchants Increase Winning Streak to 6

It's the early bird that gets the worm but the Rochester Merchants' recreation ice hockey team will be looking for more than worms when it clashes with The Chiefs at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

★ ★ ★

By winning their fifth and sixth straight games Monday and Tuesday nights, the Rochester six set up the sunrise struggle Saturday at the State Fair Grounds as the title game in the Detroit Parks and Recreation Department's Senior B Division.

The Chiefs have an 8-2-1 mark to lead the Merchants' 8-3-0 ledger by a point. Rochester must win Saturday to gain the title.

Rochester whipped The Platers Monday, 6-1 as Clarkston's Bill Booth scored one goal and two assists, Hugh Remley and Bob Wilson (both of Pontiac) had a goal and assist and three assists, repectively. Team manager Al Quesnell of Rochester had an assist, also.

In the 5-2 triumph Tuesday over the Hustlers, Dennis Milobar had the three-goal hat trick. Booth had two assists and Wilson one in the win.

Practice Runs Today for 4-Man Bobsleds

IGLS, Austria, (AP) — Practice runs for the World Four-Man Bobsled Championships reach a decisive stage today when teams pass qualifications tests for the races Saturday and Sunday.

Tips for Feeding Birds During Winter Months

Winter Bird Feeding Can Be Hobby

LANSING (AP) — No expensive equipment or investment is needed for one of Michigan's most popular winter sports—feeding the birds.

"But do it for your own enjoyment," advises D. W. Douglass, bird expert with the State Conservation Department. "Don't kid yourself that you are saving the birds or building up the population."

"The birds that remain here all winter have adapted themselves to getting along in our climate," he said.

Deep snow doesn't particularly bother them, he explained. The greatest danger to a bird kill comes with an ice storm.

★ ★ ★

Contrary to popular notion, he said, the greatest variety of birds is not likely to be found in some remote northern area of the state. A farmer in Southern Michigan with a good woodlot is likely to attract more different species to his feeding station.

NEVER WENT SOUTH

Douglass has another bit of news for those who every year write or call in to the editor of their local newspaper to report "the first robin of the spring."

"The first robin is a fake," he declared firmly. "It is just a robin that for some reason decided to hang around in Michigan all winter instead of migrating south with the rest of them."

Douglass said he isn't sure why a robin decides to winter in Michigan. One theory is that the bird might be a crusty old bachelor who doesn't have a mate and so doesn't obey the usual migratory instinct.

Birds are attracted by seeds of all sizes. Sunflower seeds are especially popular Sparrows and other more common birds will clean up bread crumbs and other scraps.

★ ★ ★

Cracked corn, wheat, millet and buckwheat are good feed. If you want to get fancy, peanuts and raisins are delicacies.

The insect-eaters, hard-pressed to find their natural diet in the winter, particularly like suet.

A little grit — sand or ground shells — is appreciated when snow and ice covers the ground. It helps the seed-eaters grind up their food.

The feed can be scattered on the ground or you can build or buy a feeder as elaborate as you like. A metal shield on the post supporting the feeder will keep cats and squirrels away.

Douglass had one plea.

★ ★ ★

Once feeding is started, keep it up. Birds have a regular routine for their day. Once they discover a steady source of food, they will keep coming back for a handout.

Lakeland Archers Record Shutout in League Play

With Mel Inglehart shooting the loop's top men's instinctive score of 240, Lakeland Pharmacy shut out Auto Electric, 5-0, to remain unbeaten after two weeks of action in the Waterford Township Recreation Department's archery league.

Auto had its share of individual stars, however, as Bernard Shaw took top men's free-style honors with 249, and nephew Ron Shaw had best junior free-style score of 204.

Other second-weeks results: Three Hits 'n a Miss blanked Chiefs, 5-0, to take over second place; Drayton Drug best Hay Burners, 4-1; and Untouchables downed Four Musketeers and Flintstones edged Arrowettes by indentical 3-2 scores.

Bounty Repeal Battle Set for Another Round

By DON VOGEL

A release from the State Conservation Department starts out: "Everybody wants economy in government.

"Everybody is against waste. Hunters and fishermen are no exception. They want good hunting and fishing for their license money yet they are wasting almost $250,000 of it every year on a worthless project — bounties."

★ ★ ★

Gerald E. Eddy, director of the Conservation Department authored these words which appeared in the department's monthly magazine.

He goes on to outline why the department feels payment of bounties on fox, coyote and bobcats in Michigan is reaping no harvest.

★ ★ ★

Thus, another annual maneuver gets under way.

The bounty payment repeal question always comes up at this time of year — just after the legislature has convened. The lawmakers have the final say on this subject.

In the past, Conservation Department men have suggested that the bounty system be terminated. They let sportsmen carry the ball.

Those in favor of repeal found just as many on the other side of the fence, and legislators generally not too interested in taking any action.

The department has been operating under what it calls an "austerity budget" this fiscal year. Loss of an additional $450,000 in Pittman-Robertson funds by decision of the federal courts was announced last week.

★ ★ ★

This means less money entering the coffers. It means pet projects within the department's various divisions will suffer — except parks which is financed by car-sticker sales.

Eddy's article is an indication that the department is going to carry the ball this time in an attempt to get bounties repealed and the funds diverted into these projects.

The repeal made it halfway through the legislature last year. It may go all the way this time, but not without strong resistance from those people who feel the department experts are "all wet."

TRAILING ALONG

Paul E. Allen of Clarkston, who operates a snake exhibit near Springfield, writes about his adventures capturing the Florida diamondback rattlesnake in the February issue of Outdoor Life magazine.

Allen's father died last year after being struck by a cobra.

The story is entitled. "Never Drop Your Guard."

★ ★ ★

Lake sturgeon, those speared in Northern Michigan's inland lakes during February each year, are noted for their tasty flesh and eggs (caviar).

Expect Repercussions From P-R Fund Denial

LANSING (UPI) — A long, drawn out legal battle between Michigan and federal officials on how to count hunters has ended but its repercussions are at this time unknown.

★ ★ ★

It might seem that how to count is an elementary ability, but in this case the dispute was an acute example of the misunderstanding of language written into legislation.

Federal officials said Pittman - Robertson monies were to be allotted to states on the basis of the number of hunters in the state. This in itself does not seem too complicated. But the federal people said each hunter should be counted only once.

Michigan conservation officials, and those in a number of other states, contended that the hunter head count should be based on the number of licenses sold. This way, if a hunter bought a deer license, a bear license and a small game license, Michigan would get credit for three hunters.

Since 1959 when the legal battle involving Michigan, Wisconsin-Minnesota and Colorado was started, state officials estimated $450,000 in Pittman - Robertson monies were withheld from Michigan game programs.

DENIED REVIEW

Just recently the U.S. Supreme Court denied an appeal to review the case.

The immediate loss will be determined when state officials complete a survey to determine exactly how many duplications of licenesd hunters are on the books.

Officials said Michigan might receive part of the $450,000 withheld during the last four years, but it might owe the federal government some money — depending on the head count of hunters under the federal definition.

"More important over the long haul, it means this state will have to take an annual cut of between $100,000 and $125,000 in Pittman - Robertson allotments," said conservation director Gerald E. Eddy.

★ ★ ★

Since Pittman-Robertson funds are used for wildlife programs, state officials likely will be seeking legislative appropriations to fill the void caused by the anticipated loss through the years to come.

Romney Urged To Drop Probe

★ ★ ★

Romney is moving ahead with the investigation despite the urgings of one legislator and two Republican members of the Conservation Commission to allow the department to clean its own house.

Most conservation officials welcome the inquiry, although privately. Many of them feel the governor's committee will find little to investigate.

Referring to Romney's statement that the probe was needed to boost "department leadership, morale and effectiveness," one official of the department admitted morale "had been bad" during the recent reorganization.

"Many men were worried over the prospect of being uprooted to different cities to work in unfamiliar jobs. But I think it is straightening out," he said.

Commission and department officials insist the reorganization will relieve some of the jurisdictional problems but the governor is still intent on a comprehensive probe.

DUAL SYSTEM

Executive office officials say another department problem is the dual system of its financing — partly from fishing and hunting license revenues and partly from legislative appropriations.

"I think once the governor becomes more familiar with conservation problems, he'll realize the problem isn't as great as he now believes," one official said.

"During the campaign, he heard a lot of people complaining about the deer situation and jumped to conclusions. They hate us in the Upper Peninsula."

Canine Demonstration

A dog training demonstration by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club will be held Tuesday at Walled Lake High School at 8 p.m. Classes will start the following week. Those attending the demonstration are requested to leave their dogs home.

Winter Blasts Hit Deer Herd

Deer in Northern Michigan weathered their roughest week of the current season during the Jan. 20-26 period as winter clamped the entire state with its bitter-cold grip.

By week's end, whitetails were huddling in or near their wintering yards throughout much of the upper and northern lower peninsulas.

District game supervisors reported that deer were in good physical condition in both northern regions for this time of year.

Boat Owners Seek Registration Forms

LANSING (UPI) — Some 8,000 motorboat owners have already requested their new registrations, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

"Despite the zero weather, many boat owners who know that 'if winter comes can spring be far behind?' Have returned the pre-prepared applications to retain their original boat numbers," Hare said.

The Secretary of State's office last month sent applications to the more than 400,000 persons who had boats registered in Michigan last year.

Snow Hinders 'Walk Up' Try for Red Foxes

The snow was more suited to skiing or snowshoeing than walking.

★ ★ ★

No dogs were used.

Scoring were Jack Greathouse, Drayton Plains; Walter Barrows, Orchard Lake; and Edward Strine, Clarkston. Two of the foxes were females.

"We only drove about two sections," said hunt chairman Lewis Wrenn.

"The snow was too deep and we had a number of dropouts. Actually, we started with only half enough hunters for a good hunt."

Ycaza Sitting It Out

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Panamanian jockey Manuel Ycaza is sitting out a five-day suspension for failing to give racing room in the first race last Saturday at Santa Anita.

It was the second suspension of the meeting for Ycaza. It becomes effective Jan. 31 and continues through Feb. 6.

Potential Often More Than IQ Test Shows

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D

Education is failing to meet the needs of America at both ends of the technological scale. Thousands are unemployed while thousands of jobs go unfilled day after day.

DR. NASON

One has only to check the want ad section of a metropolitan newspaper. The same ads appear week after week for secretaries, cost accountants, engineers, designers, advance communication specialists, etc.

And it's not getting any better!

A U.S. Department of Labor survey shows that the number of openings for engineers, for instance, is increasing about nine times as fast as the total number of jobs.

In every field, there is a growing demand for more highly trained personnel. At the same time, machines are eliminating the strong-back jobs.

Some educators despair. They conclude that our very progress will defeat us because there will not be enough people of high IQ's to meet the needs of our growing technology.

They argue that only about one-third of our population have IQ's above average — from 90-110. Only part of these reach the educational levels soon to be demanded by our society.

There are fallacies in the arguments of these prophets of doom.

The fallacy: There is no such thing as transfer of training.

The truth: The mind can be trained in the skills of study and over into all phases of school and work. More trained minds is the crying need of our present society.

The fallacy: The number of individuals with highly trainable minds is indicated by the results of their I.Q. tests.

The truth: Tests measure to some extent the present day learning potential of individuals. However, these same individuals, trained in the skills of learning and the skills of test taking, take on new potentials!

In one city where a search for highly superior individuals has been conducted for years, twice as many persons have been discovered in the extremely high IQ range as the test makers predicted!

Programs conducted over a period of years in each community in which students with high potential are sought out and trained in the skills of learning would increase our supply of highly trained people.

Scores that students make on intelligence tests depend upon their attitude toward the tests, the background of their homes and previous schooling as well as their innate ability.

Once they have learned how to study and how to take tests—when they recognize their own ability to attain a higher status in life — their motivation for achieving on the test will be higher. These students then will set higher goals for themselves.

The potential of our youth is far greater than it would appear from present test results.

We can come closer to reaching this potential through proper recognition. Training not only will meet the needs of our society for the forseeable future, but will help many individuals achieve happier lives.

Dr. Nason will welcome your question addressed to him in care of The Pontiac Press. Those of most general interest will be answered in his column.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

West's jump to three spades is not recommended as a steady diet. Sometimes, a six card suit headed by the queen runs into too much strength in back of it. This time the bid worked beautifully. North was crowded into making a rather unsound four-heart bid and after East tried four spades, South continued to five hearts.

JACOBY

West opened clubs and continued the suit. South ruffed the third lead and drew trumps. Then he went after the diamonds. When that suit broke four-one he had to lose a diamond trick and was down one.

North apologized for his four heart bid. South complained about bad luck and East, who was keeping score, wrote down 100 points on his side instead of the 150 below the line and 500 above the line he would have had to write had South taken time to play the hand properly.

South should have drawn two rounds of trumps. This would have trumped his diamond loser, returned to his hand with the ace of spades and won the rubber. Then he should have gone after the diamond suit.

Should diamonds break three-two he would draw the last trump after playing two rounds of diamonds. Should diamonds break four-one the second diamond might be trumped. In that case South would be able to trump a losing diamond with dummy's remaining trump and still go down one. The way the cards lay South would make his contract. East would have to follow to four diamond leads and South would

Market Down Moderately

Steels Lead Drop by Industrials

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels led the way for a decline of industrials as the stock market dropped moderately early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

U.S. Steel was under selling pressure, losing well over a point, as the news spread that "Big Steel's" 1962 profits were the lowest in 10 years.

The news came as no surprise to financial experts, but wide publication of the fact exerted a dampening effect on most steel shares and other key industrials.

Mild though the market decline was, it was one of the rare occasions in 1963 when the list has taken a definite downward step. It moved lower from the crest of a straight, six-week advance.

Aside from disappointment over Britain's exclusion from the Common Market, the general news background was not discouraging. A key ecnomic indicator, machine tool orders, were reported to be strong in January and at a 1962 monthly high in December.

ACCOUNT FOR WEAKNESS

Brokers said that "stop-loss" orders accounted for weakness in a number of stocks which have been strong this year. These are orders to sell at a certain price, arranged in advance, to protect paper profits.

Bond Prices Narrowly Mixed

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted some long maturities up 2/23 but most intermediates were unchanged to higher by 1/32. Trading was slow.

Rails edged upward in corporate dealings on the New York Stock Exchange. Industrials and utilities were mixed.

Few changes amounted to a point even among the usually volatile convertibles.

DRIVER IN TROUBLE — Louis LeVeck, 29, of Rock Island, Ill., will have to answer to the law, but not for overtime parking. He drove his car onto ice covering the Mississippi River, intending to cross over to Davenport, Iowa. Instead the ice broke and he had to escape in subzero weather. Police say that when he is released from the hospital he will be charged with disorderly conduct.

Businessman Succumbs to Heart Attack

LAPEER—Richard D. Snoddy, co-owner of Maldick Cleaners, with establishments in Lapeer and Metamora, died of a heart attack yesterday in Lapeer County General Hospital. He was 43.

Snoddy, 347 Harrison St., was a member of the Lapeer Kiwanis Club, American Legion Post No. 16 and Fraternal Order of the Eagles No. 2427.

Surviving are his wife Mary; a daughter Karen, at home; and four brothers, Kenneth of Lapeer, Robert of Imlay City, Duane of Detroit and William of Center Line.

Schoolgirl Killed When Struck by Car

MADISON HEIGHTS — A 13-year-old girl on her way to school this morning was killed when she was struck by a car on John R just south of 12-Mile Road.

Police are holding Byron J. Hihnala, 18, of 29115 Milton St., for investigation of manslaughter. Witnesses told officers he ran through a red light before hitting the girl.

Family Service Supports Aid

Plan Provides Help to Unemployed's Children

The Family Service of Oakland County has gone on record supporting Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed Parents (ADCU), Carl F. Ingraham, president of the agency announced.

ADCU, Ingraham said, works to strengthen families by encouraging them to stay together. It is also a positive step toward curbing chronic dependency, he said, since the emphasis of the program is on rehabilitation.

Ingraham termed Aid to Dependent Children (ADC), the program currently in effect, an incentive for weak families to break up so they can become eligible.

★ ★ ★

He said that Oakland County legislators would be informed of the agency's findings and conclusions.

Robert J. Janes, executive director of Family Service, noted that 2,432 Oakland County families were served by the agency in 1962, an increase of 14 per cent over the previous year.

Of the 1,279 children served by the agency in 1962, a substantial proportion, Janes said, represented adolescent adjustment problems.

While waiting lists do exist, Janes said, no family has been denied service, or particularly harmed by delay. The agency, he explained, will see any waiting list case in time of emergency.

At the January meeting, Hugo Swan, 605 Apple Hill Lane, Rochester, was elected to the Board of Directors for a three-year term.

Woman Hurt in Car Mishap

Julia Salyer, 51, of 726 Lovell St., Troy, is undergoing emergency treatment at Pontiac General Hospital for injuries suffered in an auto accident this morning at Auburn and Rochester roads, Avon Township.

Mrs. Salyer told sheriff's deputies she was driving north on Rochester Road through a green light at the intersection of Auburn Road when her car was struck by a tractor.

★ ★ ★

Tractor driver David Danneels, 19, of 347 N. Williams Ct., Marine City, said he didn't see the light change in time to avoid hitting the car. Danneels was driving east on Auburn Road.

750 Mothers Work for March of Dimes

Braving temperatures as low as 10 degrees, more than 750 Pontiac mothers took part in the March of Dimes "Mothers' March" last night.

Richard E. Speese, Oakland County administrator of the March of Dimes, reported that Pontiac women collected an estimated $3,297 in their door-to-door drive, surpassing last year's total by more than $150.

However, incomplete totals from Oakland County show a projected loss of $5,587 over last year's figures, Speese reported.

Poet Frost Service Thursday

BOSTON (AP)—Private funeral service with only members of his family in attendance will be held Thursday for poet Robert Frost as persons in many parts of the world shared in the mourning.

★ ★ ★

The four-time Pulitzer Prize winner poet died Tuesday at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital at the age of 88. Death was caused by what doctors described as a probably blood clot in the lungs.

★ ★ ★

He had been in the hospital since Dec. 3. A week later, he underwent surgery for a urinary tract obstruction and subsequently suffered a heart attack and two previous blood clots.

Frost, dean of American poets, was considered in many quarters as the uncrowned poet laureate of the United States.

★ ★ ★

The private service will be held Thursday afternoon in Cambridge, where he had made his home. A memorial service will be held Sunday, Feb. 17, at Amherst College.

Burial will be in the family plot at Old Bennington, Vt., where his wife and parents lie.

2 CHILDREN SURVIVE

Two of Frost's six children survive him. They are Mrs. Joseph Ballantine of New York, and Mrs. Irma Cone of Burlington, Vt.

The poet wrote his own epitaph in a poem entitled "The Lesson for Today:"

"And were my epitaph to be my story
"I'd have a short one ready for my own.
"I would have written of me on my stone:
"I had a lover's quarrel with the world."

★ ★ ★

The tributes for the great American poet were led by his good friend, President Kennedy, who said Frost's death leaves a "vacancy in the American spirit."

Detroit Council OKs Sunday Liquor Sales

DETROIT (AP)—A resolution endorsing Sunday liquor sales was approved unanimously yesterday by the Detroit Common Council.

The proposal will be submitted to the legislature, which would have to amend the state liquor laws before it could be put into effect here.

Council President Ed Carey sponsored the resolution for Sunday sale, saying "I feel they will permit us to meet the competition from other cities in seeking national conventions."

★ ★ ★

The council dropped consideration of a proposal to extend weekday bar closing from 2 a.m. to 4 a.m.

Burglars Leave Orders

Contractor Crossed Up

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The sign on the safe read: "There's no money in this safe." Burglars apparently believed the sign and made no effort to open the safe, a Chattanooga contractor told police, but they made off with $6,500 worth of office machines and left a note.

"Leave a few dollars next time."

Extradition Appeal Denied in Illinois

LANSING (AP) — Benjamin Ritholz, convicted in Michigan of bribery, has been denied a rehearing of his case by the Illinois Supreme Court, the Michigan attorney general's office reports.

Ritholz yesterday filed a motion with the Illinois court to hold up extradition proceedings against him while he attempts an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

But the district attorney of Cook County, Illinois, at the same time filed a motion for immediate execution of the supreme court's order.

Start 4-Hour Service for Grand Rapids Mail

Belen stated that Grand Rapids is the 52nd city in the nation and the fifth in Michigan to adopt the new ABCD (Accelerated Business Collection and Delivery) service.

DEDICATED FISHERMAN — An icy hole, leaning pole and makeshift rod were all this Finnish Izaak Walton needed to pursue his hobby in Helsinki's icebound harbor yesterday. The Norwegian tanker in the background was stuck in port when Finnish icebreaker crews went on strike.

Business, Labor Urged to 'Unite'

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today that enlightened business and labor leaders realize "the road to prosperity is one which they must walk together."

Speaking before the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council, Romney said:

"I think, and I hope, that Michigan's history during the last few years will give rise to a new spirit in which labor and business will put their common interests above their separate goals.

★ ★ ★

"Those years have been a harsh and effective lesson in the high price of selfishness — on the part of both business and labor."

Romney noted that he will complete his first month in office this week.

"A whole month has gone by during which Michigan has been under the iron hand of a Republican governor, and what has happened?" he asked.

"Have the titans of industry rewritten the labor laws to their own liking? Have wage scales plummeted to depression standards? Has unemployment compensation been abolished?

"None of these things has happened, of course, and none will."

She'll Wait for Sheppard Till Release

COLMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — The platinum - blonde German divorcee engaged to convicted wife-killer Dr. Sam Sheppard says she will remain here or at Marion until he is released from prison.

That could be 1965 if the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission, which heard arguments yesterday on his request for clemency, does not recommend approval of the plea.

The commission's decision was expected in a few days and will be presented to Gov. James A. Rhodes, who has the final word on the matter.

Sheppard has asked that his second-degree murder term be commuted to manslaughter on the time already served.

Mrs. Ariane Tebbenjohanns, an heiress from Dusseldorf, Germany, who became engaged to Sheppard two weeks ago, said at yesterday's commission hearing:

★ ★ ★

"I want to be as close to him as possible," his fiancee said. "I'll live here in Columbus or in Marion until he gets out." Sheppard currently is in medium security Marion Correctional Institution, where he was transferred from maximum security Ohio Penitentiary.

Skiers Almost Ready for Every Eventuality

GRET BEND, Kans. (UPI) — A group leaving on a skiing trip in Colorado today noted that members included a doctor, insurance man, dentist, optometrists, chiropractor and undertaker.

"We were prepared for any eventuality," said sponsor Hubert Ochs, "until the lawyer decided

Smart NY Jewel Thieves Study 'Celebrity Arrivals'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — How'd you like to be a beautiful girl like actress Connie Towers . . . in your hotel suite at 1:15 a.m. . . . ready for bed . . . then discover that a thief's just stolen your $40,000 jewelry collection . . . and might still be here in your suite?

WILSON

"It was the longest 30 seconds of my life, getting from the bathroom to the bedroom phone," shudders Connie.

"I hummed . . . I sang . . . I pretended to be gay . . . just in case the man might still be in the suite, watching me . . ."

★ ★ ★

Connie, who's very actively pursuing the "celebrity jewelry burglars" who also victimized Linda Christian, Jerry Lewis and Dolores Del Rio, found that the thieves must study the celebrity guides so they'll know whom they should rob.

"Each of our names was on the lists of 'Celebrities in Town' one day — and the next day we were visited by the burglars!" she says.

The burglars generally strike between 7 p.m. and 1 a.m., when the celebrities are seeing shows or doing TV or radio interviews.

Connie said some celebrities staying in New York hotels found that they should turn the TV set on loudly when they go out, and hang out a "Don't Disturb" sign on the door. That may keep thieves from breaking in.

"NOW they tell me!" says Connie, who was on her way to Panama to join her husband Eugene McGrath, who bought her the jewelry. Luckily — he also insured it for her.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Judy Garland and Sid Luft moved their reconciliation to New York from New Orleans, where it started . . . The Elliott Roosevelts took a winter home in Miami Beach. Success of "The School for Scandal" starring Sir Ralph Richardson is one more evidence of the success in Broadway of the great British invasion . . . Paul Ford admitted that he's serious about going on TV regularly again at CBS . . . Sardi's invited "Jumpin' Joe" Levine, the producer, to let his caricature be displayed in its celebrity gallery.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A housewife exclaimed to her husband, "Darling, today I bought the latest model washing machine, only $10 a month!" Her husband said, "Good! How long do you have to make your payments?" The wife shrugged, "Oh, I didn't bother to ask that."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A man who has stolen a kiss has had an accomplice."

EARL'S PEARLS: "People who say 'No news is good news' don't operate a business in New York City."

MEMORABLE QUOTES: "Things ain't what they used to be—and they never were."

A Broadway wife snapped at her husband — when she found a blonde hair on his coat — "Ah HAH! I don't even have a wig that color" . . . That's earl, brother.

Maharis Feels Better, but Not Good Enough

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — George Maharis, who has been off CBS' "Route 66" since last Nov. 6, recuperating from hepatitis and exhaustion caused by returning to work too soon, is beginning to feel better. But he won't return to his costarring part until he is completely well.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know when that will be," Maharis said. "It might be two months or it might be six. But no matter how long it takes, I won't go back until I am well."

Meanwhile, the adventure series about two young men and a sports car continues to roll along with half its cylinders missing. Martin Milner, Maharis' costar, will be traveling alone for awhile, although so far, Maharis' absence has been concealed rather well.

STILL COSTAR

He's still billed as costar, and the show has already reused two early-season shows in which Maharis appears. The disappearance of popular dark-haired Maharis is further obscured by occasional references to him being in a hospital somewhere suffering an unspecified illness.

The ailing Maharis is still bitter about what he considers strong pressures to push him back into the show, which is filmed on locations all over the country.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to get back to work," he said. "But my doctors say it isn't wise yet — not traveling around the country, living in motels and not being near doctors who can watch me. When I feel 100 per cent, I'll be ready to work 100 per cent."

Eye Showdown on Filibuster

Sen. Mansfield to Try for Vote Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, parliamentary shears in hand, hoped today to cut through a tangle of its own making and agree to a showdown tomorrow in the antifilibuster rule fight.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, served notice that he would make a second try to get their unanimous consent for a vote tomorrow on the pending issue.

The question tomorrow, if the vote comes, will be: Does a majority of the Senate have the constitutional right to end debate at the beginning of a session and vote on a rule change, despite the existing rule requiring a two-thirds vote to end debate?

A vote on this question, members said, should end the entire 1963 struggle over liberal efforts to tighten the antifilibuster rule.

They expect the Senate to hold there is no such "constitutional right" to by-pass the two-thirds gag rule. They think the liberals then will be ready to call it quits.

But the trouble is that even a "no" vote may not end the fight.

★ ★ ★

Still pending would be an earlier bloc motion to call up a proposal for amending the gag rule.

This motion, to permit three-fifths of those present to end a filibuster, also is debatable. Southerners have been talking against this for most of the past two weeks, and would continue.

Network Replacing Merv Griffin Show

NEW YORK (AP) — The Merv Griffin and Young Dr. Malone shows will be replaced by the National Broadcasting Co. television network April 1, the network announced today.

★ ★ ★

The Griffin show will be succeeded by "Ben Jerrod," the adventures of a young criminal lawyer, and a medical dramatic series yet to be titled.

★ ★ ★

"You Don't Say," an audience participation show, will replace Young Dr. Malone.

The network said the daytime scheduling of the Griffin show, similar in format to the "Tonight" show, had not worked out and that discussions are under way on future plans for Griffin.

Nixon to Make Appearance on Jack Paar Show

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will appear on the Jack Paar show March 8, his first TV appearance since the widely publicized "farewell speech" following his defeat in the 1962 California gubernatorial election.

Nixon's appearance on Paar's program is the fulfillment of a promise he made to the TV performer last spring.

The March 8 appearance will mark Nixon's third time on Paar's show.

Heart Education Month, Clergy Week Declared

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed February as Heart Education Month and the week of Feb. 3-9 as Clergy Week in Michigan.

Romney called on Michigan citizens to pay tribute to their clergy during the week and to take advantage of education programs sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association, dealing with heart diseases, during the month.

$10,041,855 of Bond Goal Sold in Area

Oakland County residents invested $10,041,855 in series E and H United States savings bonds during 1962, Alfred C. Girard, chairman of the Oakland County savings bond committee announced today.

The 1962 total represented 85.2 per cent of the county's Treasury-assigned goal for the year, Girard said. The 1961 figure was $10,303,730.

In announcing the figures, Girard said he hoped for a substantial increase in purchases during the current year.

He said the Treasury is looking for a large volume of new business from taxpayers who choose to take 1962 income tax refunds in the form of savings bonds, instead of checks.

The option was made available for the first time this year, he added.

"The Treasury also is making a strong appeal for every family to buy at least one savings bond before July 4, 1963," Girard pointed out.

★ ★ ★

"Organizations and clubs of all kinds," he said, "are being encouraged to get behind this effort."

Buying of small-denomination E bonds, accounted for in large measure by payroll savers, was at a near-record peacetime level in 1962. They accounted for 61 per cent of the total.

Purchases of $50 bonds were at a peacetime high, while the number of $25 bonds set a five-year record.

Firm President Dies

Assam History One of Invasion

WASHINGTON — Invasion is an old story in Assam, the state in northeast India that lies in the path of Chinese Communists.

Though frequently overrun by Moslems when the Mogul Empire controlled India, Assam never was completely subjugated. In a passage especially pertinent today, a frustrated Mogul wrote:

★ ★ ★

"Whenever an invading army has entered their territories, the Assamese have sheltered themselves in strong posts, and have distressed the enemy by stratagems, surprises and alarms, and by cutting off their provisions . . . In this manner, powerful and numerous armies have sunk in that whirlpool of destruction, and not a soul has escaped."

Assam, bordered by Burma, China, Bhutan and East Pakistan, is almost cut off from the main body of India. A narrow strip of land between Bhutan and East Pakistan connects the state with the rest of India.

The Himalayas rise along Assam's northern frontier, and rugged ranges of hills block the border along Burma. Cherrapunji, on the south slope of the hills, is one of the rainiest places in the world, soaking up more than 425 inches a year.

Assam is a naturalist's paradise where alpine, Chinese, Indo-Malayan and Indochinese flora and fauna meet. Swampy lowlands are the last refuge of the rare Indian rhinoceros. Wild elephants, bad-tempered water buffalo, and tigers also roam the state.

FLAMING WRECKAGE — This tail section is all that remained after a Continental Airlines prop-jet airliner crashed last night and burst into flames. It was Kansas City Municipal Airport's first fatal air tragedy. Five passengers and a crew of three were killed.

Eight Killed in Plane Crash

Airliner Smashes Dike, Burns for 20 Minutes

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A Lockheed prop-jet airliner, coming in for a landing at Kansas City Municipal Airport, crashed into a dike at the end of a runway last night, killing all eight persons aboard.

The four-engine Continental Airlines Viscount has deaths for 59 passengers but carried only five. All that was left was a mass of tangled wreckage that burned fiercely for 20 minutes.

Dead, in addition to the five passengers, were the three crew members. All eight bodies were recovered.

R. O. Ziegler, assistant chief of air traffic for the Federal Aviation Agency here, said the plane, Flight 290 from Midland, Tex., approached from north to south toward the business district, just across the Missouri River from the airport.

"It made a normal approach until about 50 feet above the north end of the runway," Ziegler said, "at which time it appeared to level off and climb slightly. It proceeded over the runway until it reached the south end of the field, when the nose appeared to drop sharply and the aircraft disappeared from view behind the dike."

Witnesses said the craft hit an earthen bunker and bounced over a 9-foot wire fence. It skidded up the slope of the dike and catapulted into undergrowth 150 yards from the river.

The crash was the first fatal one involving a commercial airliner since the airport was opened in 1927.

The weather did not appear to be a factor. The sky was cloudy, but visibility was 12 miles. The wind was from the north—behind the plane—at 9 miles per hour.

Mart Nations Snub Meeting With France

BRUSSELS (UPI)—The five Common Market nations backing Britain's bid for membership today boycotted a meeting called by France to discuss barriers against Anglo-American investments in Europe.

The meeting of the finance ministers of the common six had been scheduled for tomorrow, but it was called off after West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg said they would not attend.

The boycott appeared to be swift retaliation by the five nations for France's veto of British membership.

It could spearhead a renewed effort to bring Britain into the continent's political and economic community.

The West Germans were particularly upset.

Official sources said the Benelux countries approached the German delegation last night and suggested that West German Finance Minister Rolf Dahlgruen, as the host, call off the meeting set for Friday at Baden-Baden, Germany. The Benelux delegates indicated they would boycott the meeting if it was not called off. It was understood similar indications came from the Italians.

CHANCE TO PUSH

Today Is D-Day for Meredith

JACKSON, Miss (AP) — James H. Meredith said today he plans to enroll for the spring semester at the University of Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—James H. Meredith will say today whether he will return to the University of Mississippi for the spring semester.

The 29-year-old Negro, whose historic enrollment at the previously all-white school last fall followed a night of rioting, has given no hint of his plans.

Meredith refused comment Tuesday night on a copyright Nashville Tennessean story that he had decided to remain at the university.

The Tennessean said in a dispatch from Jackson that Meredith told friends and associates the cause he has been fighting for would be better served by staying at the university.

Meredith said three weeks ago that he would not return for the spring semester unless "very definite and positive changes are made" in his situation, an apparent reference to sporadic outbursts of harassment on the campus.

Record Budget of $6.7 Million OK'd for City

To Require Increase in Current Tax Rate to $14.98 Per $1,000

The City Commission last night adopted a record $6,788,103 city budget for 1963.

The budget would require a tax rate of $14.98 per $1,000 — a $1.12 hike over the current tax rate — on an assumed total assessed valuation of $288 million.

Although the adopted budget is $347,304 above last year's budget, it still represents a cut of some $257,332 from the budget originally proposed by City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

Commissioners voted 6-0 in approving the budget.

★ ★ ★

The budget action also involved passage of resolutions calling for the following appropriations:

1. A 1 per cent pay hike across the board and full payment of Blue Cross-Blue Shield premiums for city employes.

2. A $13,625 fund to pay for free parking in downtown municipal parking lots between Feb. 1-May 1. The city's share is to be $8,625 and the Downtown Pontiac Business Association, $5,000.

PROPERTY TAX

Some $4,314,240 is to be raised by local property tax.

The remaining $2,273,863 is to come from other revenues, such as charges for city services and money from the state.

The 1 per cent pay hike amounts to $50,000. The benefit increase is $40,600 over last year's budgeted figure.

The pay hike was approved by a 5 to 1 vote over objections from the Pontiac Firefighters' Association.

GI Combat Hinted

U.S. to Fight in Viet Nam?

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — Congress received today a strong hint that the United States would send combat troops into South Viet Nam if the Communists launch an open attack from North Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara testified to a "new feeling of confidence" that victory is possible in the current American-supported war by South Vietnamese forces against Communist guerrillas.

He told the House Armed Services Committee the United States is alert to the possibility that the Communists, sensing defeat in their guerrilla efforts, might resort to open attack from across the 17th Parallel.

★ ★ ★

"Obviously, this . . . could require a greater direct participation by the United States," the defense secretary said.

McNamara made these other points in lengthy testimony to a closed-door session of the House Armed Services Committee:

—The United States does not want to dominate the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but will have to stay in the driver's seat as long as it carries so much of the Western defense load.

★ ★ ★

—There is increasing evidence that the Communist unity of Russia and Red China has been "fractured —perhaps irreparably."

—Getting rid of the Skybolt missile will save the nation $2 billion and have "no effect whatsoever" on the future of its big bomber force.

★ ★ ★

—Russia "may now have or soon achieve" the ability to put bomb-carrying satellites into orbit. But there doesn't seem to be any logical reason to do this because there are much more efficient ways of delivering nuclear explosives on targets.

Romney Plans 'For the Future'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today proposed a record $547-million "balanced" general fund state budget which he said would rebuild confidence in Michigan's financial integrity.

"This budget is both prudent—because it lives within its income—and progressive—because it provides for the future," Romney declared in a message prepared for a joint session of the legislature.

The governor predicted total anticipated revenues for the 1963-64 fiscal year would reach $560.6, leaving a surplus for reduction of the state's deficit of $13.6 million.

Michigan's deficit as of last July 1 was $85.6 million.

Romney said that all reports indicated that the state would have a current year operating surplus of $33 million to apply upon the deficit.

The combination of the two surpluses—$46.6 million—would reduce the $85.6-million deficit by about 54 per cent, he said. The deficit would then be down to $39 million.

"The reduction of the deficit by this amount will do much to improve Michigan's economic climate and stimulate confidence," Romney asserted.

ASKS INCREASES

Romney called for increased appropriations for a capital outlay (building) program, higher education, school aid, economic expansion, mental health, civil service pay raise, and other individual projects and programs.

Merely to maintain the present level of state services, the governor said, a total of $29.5 million must be added to current general fund appropriations of $511.7 million.

Part of this increase, he explained, must go for state aid to local school systems, which are faced with an influx of 58,000 more children into classrooms in the coming year.

"This budget is designed primarily to meet the needs of the people—now and in the future," Romney declared. "This budget does not permit us to do everything we would like to do, but it will permit us to do the things that we must do."

The Republican governor told the GOP-controlled legislature, which is expected to look favorably on the budget, that adoption of his recommendations would be a "major step in restoring the

Death Takes H. V. Hancock

Local Businessman Ill for Two Months

Homer V. Hancock, a partner in the Hancock Iron Works, died early this morning in Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of two months. He was 79.

Mr. Hancock of 14 Green St. attended the University of Wisconsin and Butler University.

He started his career as a teacher in a country school in Deleware County, Indiana in 1903.

Later he served as assistant principal and as principal of schools in Yorktown, Ind., and principal of the Garfield Junior High School in Muncie, Ind.

He resigned in 1909 and moved to Anderson Ind. the following year to manage a loan company.

CAME TO MICHIGAN

In 1917 Mr. Hancock sold the company and came to Michigan doing specialty sales work in Detroit for a year.

With his brother Victor H. Hancock, he organized the Hancock Iron Works in 1923, doing structural steel and iron work until 1945 when facilities were devoted entirely to manufacturing outdoor fireplaces and accessories.

Surviving are his wife, the former Leona Smith; two sons, C. Frederick of Louisville, Ky. and Thomas S. of Milford; two sisters, Mrs. Chester Walker and Mrs. F. G. Kautzman, both in Indiana; his brother Victor; and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Hancock's body will be at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home at 7 p.m. today.

Two Strong Men Will Fight It Out Over Future of Alliance

AP Special Correspondent

PARIS—The future of the Western Alliance may hinge on the question of who is tougher — youthful President Kennedy or the aging but durable enigma of Europe, President Charles de Gaulle.

The world likely will be witnessing two cold wars within the big one — in the East between the Soviet Union and Red China, in the West between the United States and de Gaulle's France.

RYAN

Britain's lost battle to join the European Common Market will have repercussions around the world. Obviously it is a severe—

There will be cheering in the Kremlin and probably a Soviet attempt to take quick advantage of the breach in the Western front. The Soviet response may take the form of an aggressive new peace offensive, with seemingly genuine gestures on rankling problems, to make it appear that Europe can do business safely with the Communists.

De Gaulle has made clear that he believes Europe should be a force standing between the United States and the Soviet Union, independently wielding its own nuclear weaponry, even though he has no nuclear weapons to wield yet.

He has made France into a poor partner in NATO—hardly a partner at all. Since France is an important piece of European real estate, de Gaulle's policies already have weakened the Atlantic alliance.

De Gaulle also has declared Britain unfit to be considered a part of Europe. He champions "continentalism," a continent looking inward, paternally guided and directed by its powerful heart—France and Germany.

A spokesman reflecting the French president's views says British Prime Minister Macmillan chose the United States instead of Europe by agreeing to President Kennedy's proposal to arm Britain and France with Polaris missiles. This, to de Gaulle's way of thinking, was accepting U.S. domination to the detriment of Europe.

LOOKS HEALTHY

De Gaulle will remain president of France at least until 1966 if his health holds out. Although 72, he looks hale and hearty. For another three years, therefore, the United States must deal with situations created by his policy.

He has struck a hard blow at the concept of European unity and Atlantic partnership which is the core of President Kennedy's world policy. In Europe, diplomats ask: can de Gaulle get away with it?

De Gaulle's popularity in France seems unchallenged, even though one hears misgivings about his frequent references to a possible understanding in the future with Soviet communism. The French economy is booming. French business is happy—probably all the happier now that it does not have to face British competition within the Common Market.

But France has angered influential forces among her neighbors. De Gaulle's concept of a Europe dominated by a French-German alliance can be dashed quickly as a result of what happened in Brussels.

The West Germans want Britain in the Common Market, support the idea of European unity, and above all want the protection of U.S. nuclear might against Soviet communism.

The treaty of cooperation signed by de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer may never be ratified now, even though many West Germans might want devoutly to put a final seal on the reconciliation between Europe's two traditional enemies. Reconciliation within the context of European union is one thing, says many a German, and an isolation from the rest of Europe would be quite another.

★ ★ ★

Britain Won't Give Up Ship; to Continue Working for Unity

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath returned from the collapsed British Common Market entry talks in Brussels today with a pledge to keep working for European unity.

"We shall not turn our backs on Europe," he said.

Heath flew back to report to the House of Commons on the talks scuttled by France yesterday in defiance of the other five Common Market members who wanted Britain to be admitted.

★ ★ ★

British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys, who preceded Heath in returning from Brussels, showed his anger and frustration to newsmen at London Airport. He denounced French President Charles de Gaulle as a "misguided man" for blocking Britain's entry.

Heath gave a hint at the line he may take in Commons, where he was scheduled to appear later today in a statement at the airport.

"We shall continue to work with all our friends in order to achieve a true unity and to increase the strength and prosperity of this continent."

Heath said that Britain will keep in contact with the five nations — West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — who supported British entry into the market against French objections.

"It is, of course, a great blow to the cause of European unity and to all those countries and people who have been striving to achieve this," Heath said at the airport.

"What has been heartening is the way the five countries, whose governments represent 120-million people, have shown their desire to build the same sort of unity as we here in Britain want to see."

State Okays Proposed City School Bonds

The Pontiac School District's proposed sale of $3.2 million in bonds to finish a 10-year building program was approved yesterday by the State Department of Public Instruction.

★ ★ ★

The bond package is part of a $3.5-million bond issue approved by the Pontiac Board of Education in December.

The remaining $300,000 is proposed as a short-term bond series to be repurchased over six years and is not subject to state approval.

The bonds are to be sold to finance construction of Baldwin Junior High School in north Pontiac, a new elementary school on the East Side, new school board administration and service buildings, and an addition to Irving Elementary School.

Dr. Dana Whitmer, district superintendent of schools, said the state has in effect pledged its full faith and credit behind the $3.2-million bond package. This tends to lower the interest rates on the loan, he said.

The school board now is waiting for the State Municipal Finance Commission to approve the sale, which would tend to further reduce the rates, Whitmer added.

He said the board hopes to achieve favorable action by the commission in time to sell the bonds in February. Construction would follow immediately.

The $3.2-bond package would be repurchased over 18 years, said Whitmer, and "wouldn't require any additional taxes."

confidence of our own people and of the nation in our integrity as a state."

Romney said the budget shows that Michigan can live within its income and still meet the most pressing public service needs of the people.

"But it does more than that," he said, "It shows that Michigan can look ahead and recognize its problems and solve them now to prepare for the future."

He declared:

"If we do not eliminate this deficit in times of relative prosperity, we shall either not eliminate it at all or we will have to seek excessively higher taxes.

The governor was referring to the 1959 cash crisis when then Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat, clashed with a Republican-dominated legislature over a tax program to meet the state's mounting deficit.

As the debt climbed to nearly $100 million, there was a "payless pay day" for state employes, and pay checks were held back for 10 days.

"There can be no second step into a better future for Michigan without the right first step," he said. "I will not be surprised if it is painful for many of our citizens with pressing and legitimate needs.

"But breaking a bad habit is always painful. Michigan's historically bad habit of spending more than its income cannot continue without further impairment of our economic health and human well-being."

Record City Budget Adopted

survey taken three years ago to adjust wages to a proper level, has not been kept in adjustment by the City Commission as so stated by Mayor Robert Landry.

★ ★ ★

"We feel that according to the Yarger plan, we are considerably behind in wages in accordance with other cities that we were compared with in the plan."

★ ★ ★

Sgt. Herbert Cooley, president of the Pontiac Police Officers Association, (PPOA) expressed similar feelings about the pay hike on behalf of the PPOA.

Bottom voted against the proposed pay hike stating that he felt it was not a big enough increase "for some of our pay classifications which I think are already too low."

City officials expect the city's tax base to be about $288 million this year. It was $281.2 million last year.

Based on the $288 million, the original budget proposed by Stierer would have required a tax rate of $15.65.

In revising his budget, commissioners cut the estimated tax rate 67 cents and made major cuts in the police and recreation department budget recommendations.

The police department budget allocation is $925,514 — about $55,000 less than Stierer proposed and some $5,000 under the department's 1962 budget allocation.

The total public safety division budget — including fire, police and electrical departments — is $1,902,742. It is some $62,000 less than originally proposed but roughly $32,000 above last year's public safety budget.

Commissioners cut $30,000 from original proposed appropriations for recreation, $10,000 from parks and $5,000 from municipal golf course expenditures for a total cut of $45,000 in parks and recreation.

The 1963 total parks and recreation budget is $332,886, compared to $346,016 in last year's budget.

More minor cutbacks from Stierer's originally proposed figures were made in 20 other departments.

County Staff Due for Raise?

Consideration of a general pay increase for all county employes will be recommended this spring by the Oakland County Board of Auditors.

When the 1963 budget was prepared last year, no allowance was made for pay hikes—other than that of elected officials.

Previously, at least minimum raises had been given to keep pace with the cost of living.

★ ★ ★

Now the board of auditors says there will be a surplus in county funds.

The size of the surplus will be known when the audit is completed within the next few days.

John Witherup, county personnel director, told the Board of Supervisors salaries committee yesterday that a general increase contemplated for this year would amount to $20,000.

★ ★ ★

The salaries committee, which would consider any pay recommendations along with the ways and means committee, remained noncommittal.

Thaw Cut Short as Snow, Cold Revisit Europe

LONDON (UPI) — Snow returned to Britain today after a break in the six-week cold wave that has swept Europe and even driven starving wolves into populated area of France, Italy and Hungary.

Fresh snow piled up to 5 inches deep covered much of Britain as road conditions deteriorated again after a four-day slow thaw. But the weather was patchy, allowing some counties to escape with only slight falls that turned into slush.

City Will File Appeal to State

Condemnation Case on Urban Renewal

Faced with an appeal of the recent R20 urban renewal condemnation case decision, the city own appeal with the State Supreme Court.

The City Commission ordered its condemnation attorney, Harold W. Dudley, to appeal appraisal fees for about a half-dozen properties in the case.

The fees totaled about $11,960.

Under condemnation statutes the city is obligated to pay "reasonable expenses" and a $25-per-day attorney fee to property owners who won awards.

USUAL LIMIT

Fees charged by appraisers for their services and testimony in court usually run no higher than $100 per day, according to Dudley.

★ ★ ★

State condemnation statutes do not set a limit on "reasonable expenses of property owners."

City Attorney William A. Ewart recommended the action because of the possibility that "the precedent established by the allow- cases."

He said "these appear to be ance of these fees will affect other out of line."

City Parkers Are Faced With Dilemma

To park or not to park?

That is the question in the minds of motorists today as they approach the old county courthouse site in downtown Pontiac.

The free parking lot operated there by the Downtown Pontiac Business Association (DPBA) under a lease with the county was ruled illegal Monday in Circuit Court.

The court evicted the DPBA, but said nothing about the public's parking there.

★ ★ ★

Anyone who parks there does so at his own risk, say county officials. They expect to decide today whether to close off the property.

200 Homes Plagued by Water Service Loss

BIRMINGHAM — Temporary loss of water has plagued some 200 homes here in the past two weeks and will probably continue until the cold lets up, Public Works Supt. Thomas C. Brien said today.

Brien said the freezing weather is causing contracting of the smaller residential water mains, resulting in loss of water for several nearby homes until the "break" can be found and corrected.

"We've averaged one or two 'breaks' a day in the past two weeks," Brien said. He pointed out that although most of the mains have been corrected in a matter of hours, the work could take as long as two days.

The public works superintendent said so far this year none of the larger "feeder" lines have burst.

"This is the time of year when we have the freezing," he added. "If the below-normal cold weather continues we could have this all through February."

Brien said the "breaks" are noticed either by a loss of water or flooding of yards or basements.

Dr. Frederick A. Jeffers

Service for Dr. Frederick A. Jeffers, 37, of 4911 Valley Vista Road, will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Christ Church, Cranbrook.

Dr. Jeffers, a dentist with offices in Birmingham, died unexpectedly of a heart attack yesterday. His body is at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

A past president of the Mahn-Go-Tah-See YMCA Camp, he also was a director of the Pine Lake Country Club, a member of the Birmingham Lions Club and the Birmingham - Bloomfield Association.

★ ★ ★

Surviving besides his wife Marilyn are three sons, Frederick A. Jr., Scott and James, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Jeffers of Birmingham; and a brother, Richard of Birmingham.

GOP Caucus Gets Plan for Redistricting

LANSING — A tentative congressional redistricting plan calling for a new district in western Oakland County was presented yesterday to a House Republican caucus.

Hogan said the plan was still preliminary and there probably would be several boundary shifts.

★ ★ ★

His plan would create a new congressional district among the western 15 townships of Oakland County (about 60 per cent of the county's area) plus the City of Pontiac.

The new district also would include parts of either Lapeer and Livingston or Shiawassee and Livingston counties.

No district would vary in population more than 20 per cent from the norm, according to his plan. This would allow a 40 per cent difference between the largest and smallest population districts.

★ ★ ★

Five Market Nations Skip French Meeting

push her market partners around again.

They said they had no intention of exposing themselves to more pressure from French President Chalres de Gaulle.

The original agenda of the finance ministers meeting was restricted to one subject —a discussion of long - range tax uniformity within the market.

But the French finance ministry announced last week that it would ask the other nations to block the import of American and British capital into the Common Market nations. An American corporation (Chrysler) recently bought majority control of the French Simca automobile factory, apparently spurring the French move.

The French ministry indicated it would act unilaterally to block further American investments if the other members failed to follow its lead.

Window's Hit by BB Shot

Edgy Bloomfield Township residents heard a report today that a BB shot shattered a storm window in their area last night.

Mrs. Lillian Hatton, of 2063 Lakeward Lane, told police she was playing the piano in her living room when she heard the glass shatter.

Bloomfield Township police said the shot was apparently the work of a prankster—not that of the sniper who shot to death Mrs. Mary Godfrey last Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Police chief Norman Dehnke said he was almost convinced Mrs. Godfrey's sniper was a "sick boy."

He said if no new leads were uncovered in the next few days, he would publish an appeal to the parents of the boy.

In other developments, a Lincoln Park man went on a rifle rampage in the downriver community of Riverview last night. His 22-caliber rifle has been sent to state police headquarters for a firearms comparison test.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is expected tonight in the Pacific, Gulf and southern Atlantic Coast states while snow is forecast for the Rockies and the northern Appalachians. Colder weather is seen for the north Atlantic Coast states, the Lake's area, the Ohio, Tennessee and Mississippi valleys, the southern Plains and the western Gulf region.

Supervisors Want PR Man

Convinced that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors needs better publicity, its bylaws committee yesterday recommended that a public relations expert be appointed clerk of committees when the position becomes vacant.

"We all know that Norman Barnard (clerk of committees and corporation counsel for the county) won't be in this office much longer," Board Chairman Delos Hamlin said.

Barnard has been mentioned for the probate bench in case Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore is appointed to the Circuit Court.

"It is obvious we need improved public relations," said Hamlin.

A separation of the corporation counsel's office from that of clerk of committees will be required, Hamlin and the committee agreed.

The clerk would have to be qualified to prepare news releases and otherwise able to assist the press in gathering news about the board of supervisors and committee actions, Hamlin pointed out.

"Also, he would have to write speeches for me and assist other county officials in preparing speeches," Hamlin added.

He would work directly under the ways and means committee, he said.

"I don't mean for it to serve as a screening agency between the government and the people," said Cheyz, "but as a committee actively engaged in publicizing the many assets of our county and the good job being done by its government."

The bylaws committee said this could be accomplished best by a single director.

Bylaws Chairman William C. Hudson of Royal Oak said: "One reason a public relations man is needed is because the people have lost interest in their government."

★ ★ ★

William A. Ewart of Pontiac scoffed at a suggested annual salary of $5,000 to $6,000.

"More like double that amount," he said.

Dems Propose Part 2: $55-Million Program

LANSING (AP) — Democratic party leaders have come up with part two of their priority legislative program for 1963, proposing a three-year, $55-million building program and calling on Republicans for bipartisan support.

The latest proposals were outlined in a joint statement by Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, Senate Minority Leader Charles Blondy, House Minority Leader Joseph Kowalski and State Chairman Joe Collins.

Labeling their proposals as a "building for progress" program, the Democrats said the plan is aimed at the creation of more jobs, an all-out attack on mental illness and meeting fully "the needs and demands of our young people for education."

★ ★ ★

They declared:

"To those who would say Michigan cannot afford this program, we say: Michigan cannot afford not to undertake 'building for progress' now.

"The necessity for total commitment to economic expansion, the pressure of the tragically high number of retarded children on the hospital waiting lists and the crisis in education cannot be ignored. Michigan must act now."

Legislation necessary to enact the program will be presented to the Legislature, the Democrats said.

WANT IMMEDIATE ACTION

"We would welcome the bipartisan support necessary to put this plan into action immediately," they added.

The Democratic program calls for revenue bonding totaling $54,044,500 and general fund appropriations of $1,285,000.

Although current capital outlay projects are not specifically included in the program, it is based on a fully accelerated continuation of construction previously started.

NEWS OF THE AREA

"It is our estimate that approximately $25 million will be required in the gubernatorial budget to meet ongoing capital outlay obligations during fiscal 1963-64," the Democrats said.

They called for the creation of more jobs through expansion of research and training facilities at Michigan's colleges and universities.

"There is a direct relationship between the research productivity of our colleges and universities and the attraction of business and industrial growth," they declared.

"Michigan is ambitious to create more jobs, to secure greater dollar profits and to obtain a larger proportion of the gross national product. To this end, we must expend more for higher education as a capital investment in itself."

RESEARCH AND CARE

An all-out attack on mental illness and mental retardation, they said, should include a program to provide the research and care facilities necessary to sustain such an attack.

The Democratic proposals call for construction of facilities with 1,070 beds for the mentally retarded, a new outpatient service facility for the education and treatment of the retarded, and a research center for investigation into the cause of mental retardation.

Also included is long-range planning for a new 1,000-bed facility to care for retarded patients.

★ ★ ★

In addition, they recommended construction of facilities with 140 beds for mentally ill, a day school for emotionally disturbed children, beds for mentally ill, a day school for emotionally disturbed children, and special children's facilities of 160 beds for the mentally ill.

Included in the Democratic program for meeting the "needs and demands of our young people for education" was construction of the educational facilities they said are required to overcome what they termed the crisis in higher education.

The first part of the Democratic legislative program was proposed earlier this month. It included proposals for $1.25-an-hour minimum wage, a state civil rights commission, a plan for "senior citizen security" and a "youth opportunities" program.

Both houses of the legislature met yesterday for routine sessions devoted to little more than introduction of bills and guests.

Oxford Hires New Manager

105-Day Search Ends for Village Council

OXFORD — After 105 days of searching the Village Council's efforts have paid off — Oxford has a new city manager.

The 29-year-old former assistant manager of Santa Cruz, Calif., was notified yesterday that his application for the $6,900-per-year job was accepted.

Michael M. Kilgore, presently living in Berkley, was interviewed by the council last Thursday. Verification of his references was completed yesterday when he was notified of the council's decision.

Kilgore, chosen "Man of the Year" of Santa Cruz in 1961, will begin his managerial duties on Feb. 15. He will be released then from a temporary position he holds with General Motors.

The father of a 2-year-old boy, Kilgore was graduated from Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, in 1959. He majored in human and industrial relations.

From March, 1959 to October, 1960, Kilgore was administrative assistant to director of public works in Mountain View, Calif. After that served as assistant manager of Santa Cruz until last November. Part of this time he was acting manager.

The new manager has completed some work toward his master's degree at Stanford University, Stanford, Calif.

The Village Council had until Jan. 15 to obtain a new manager, according to the village charter, but was unable to come up with a man qualified for the job until now.

This was 90 days after the resignation of former manager Robert W. Smalley.

Smalley resigned from his position in October after he was charged with misusing $1,450 in public funds while serving as city manager of Riverview in 1961. He made restitution and is awaiting arraignment in Wayne County Circuit Court.

School District Fact Sheet

Study Group Releases Report

ROCHESTER—The local school district's bus policy, new junior high school and tennis courts are discussed in a fact sheet released today by the Citizen's School Study Committee.

The statement was issued in response to questions requested of citizens by the committee to guide its current study of possible school improvements.

★ ★ ★

Queried on the policy of transportation for parochial school students, the committee found that current district policy provides for transportation of these students, providing they are on scheduled bus routes and there is space.

★ ★ ★

These students are presently transported to the public school nearest the parochial school they attend, according to the committee.

The statement also pointed out that the state does not reimburse any transportation money for any students living within 1½ miles of their public school.

★ ★ ★

JUNIOR HIGH LOCATION

In answer to a question on the locating of the new West Junior High School, the statement says that population studies show the greatest growth in this area.

The school is already filled to capacity.

★ ★ ★

Regarding the new tennis courts at the high school, the committee found that these were financed through building and site fund money which legally cannot be used for operational costs or salaries.

The new courts will be used as part of the school curriculum and also may be used by the community during off-school hours.

Other areas being explored by the committee include the school district's language laboratories, remedial and honors classes and book and supply purchases.

★ ★ ★

The group extended an invitation to taxpayers to write their views and questions regarding school district problems.

Correspondence should be mailed to the Citizen's School Study Group, 461 Orchardale Drive.

THOMAS J. SPEAR

Area Teacher Goes to Ohio

Thomas J. Spear, a teacher and coach at Avondale Junior High School for the past four years, has accepted a junior high school principalship in Rittman, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Spear's resignation has been accepted by the Avondale Board of Education and he will take over his new duties Feb. 4.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of Taylor University in Upland, Ind., the new principal received his master's degree from Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Spear is also a teacher holding a B. S. degree from Taylor University. The Spears have two young daughters.

MSU Prof Says State Affected by Veto

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan's farmers could lost out because of the French veto of British entry into the European Common Market, a Michigan State University agricultural economist said Tuesday.

The economist, Dr. Lawrence Witt, told some 300 persons at the annual Farmers' Week Livestock Banquet that a note of pessimism now exists which, temporarily at least, will lead to some trade disputes and a loss of markets for some U.S. farm products.

So far as Michigan farmers are concerned, Witt said, it could mean the loss of some poultry and meat markets, as well as a drop in feed grains which now are being exported for European consumption.

France, which has a large farm potential and already faces some surplus problems, has apparently elected to give priority to nationalistic policies, Witt said.

The award for the grand champion steer went to Mahogany Farms of Williamston for a black Angus named "Mr. Mahogany III." The steer was named first place senior steer calf last fall at the Michigan State Fair.

Awaiting Mystery Resident

ROCHESTER — It may be you, or if not you, your neighbor.

★ ★ ★

No one will know for sure until Saturday, except the committee which is making the selection.

The person being anonymously referred to is the local citizen who will be honored at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner-dance, Saturday from 6:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. at the Elks Temple.

In addition to singling out this village resident for his outstanding service to the community, the evening's agenda will include installation of new Chamber President Paul T. Williams.

★ ★ ★

Outgoing President Harry F. Preston also will be recognized.

Entertainment by the Sweet Adeline Quartet, and the music of Fred Gillams and his orchestra will be featured at the dance.

Would Debate 'Antilaborites'

'Officers' Union Funds to Finance Battle

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has declared war on the congressional sponsors of new labor legislation and offered to debate — at union expense — "any antilabor senator" who is willing.

The debate offer was made in a fiery speech here yesterday in which Hoffa outlined plans for a huge "labor march on Washington" in mid-March to seek defeat of the proposed legislation.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa assailed as "garbage" three bills already introduced and called their authors — Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., — "bums."

He declared:

"This legislation would reduce the labor movement to ashes. This is a fight for survival — either survival or the destruction of those who cannot fight."

The most distasteful bill for Hoffa, one which he has attacked frequently, is legislation proposed by Martin.

Hoffa said "stand up and shout, preach, talk and even pray. Tell your members that if any part of this rotten law gets on the books, never again will they have the right to decide what wages, hours and conditions they work under. That will be decided by a third party."

★ ★ ★

He also said Martin's legislation would limit union bargaining to a single employer and confine unions to specific counties or metropolitan areas.

McClellan's bill, Hoffa added, would remove restrictions placed on federal courts in the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes.

The bill by Goldwater would allow nonunion members to vote on contracts, Hoffa said.

QUESTION EMPLOYES — This was the scene of a robbery at a branch of the Bank of Livonia yesterday on Plymouth Road in Livonia. Police question an employe at right. Another employe (background) points out how the lone gunman entered the bank, locked the front door and bound the employes with wire. He fled with a reported $140,000.

Pardon Me, Please, but This Is a Holdup

LIVONIA (AP)—A young gunman with the courtesy of Sir Walter Raleigh robbed a branch of The Bank of Livonia of its cash yesterday. He then fled through a rear door as police were attempting to get in the front.

Police in this Detroit suburb first estimated the loot at $140,000, but the FBI said most branches don't carry more than $50,000 during the week. A check was to be made today to determine the exact loss.

The gunman, carrying a 45-caliber automatic pistol, entered the bank three minutes before closing time, locked the door and handed the manager, John Hampton, 60, a note. It said "Be quiet, this is a holdup."

The gunman herded Hampton, three employes and a customer, William Mott, 28, of Livonia, to the rear of the office.

He politely ordered Hampton and Mott to spread their coats on the floor for the three women to lie on. Then he told the men to lie down and bound the employes' and customer's wrists and ankles with wire.

"Tell me when it hurts," he said in applying the wire.

"I'm sorry if I hurt anybody but I'm taking all the chances," he told his victims. "I'll shoot you if I have to."

One of the bank employes, Mrs. Peggy Pyle, 36, said the gunman apologized again for their inconvenience as the phone rang.

Soon two patrolmen, on a routine trouble call, pounded on the front door. The gunman waved to them that he would open the door. Then he fled.

The gunman was described as 5 feet, 8 inches tall, blond with a crew cut, in his late 20s or early 30s, wearing a gray jacket with a black knit collar, white shirt and brown tie —and very courteous.

Congress Asked to OK Retail Butter Subsidy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A National Grange Dairy Advisory Committee yesterday recommended to Congress a dairy program featuring a butter subsidy for consumers.

Will Reside in Detroit After Honeymoon Trip

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Dr. and Mrs. Ian H. A. Murray will reside in Detroit following their recent marriage at a Nuptial High Mass in St. William's Catholic Church, Walled Lake.

MRS. IAN H. A. MURRAY

The bride, the former Carol Jane Sanderson, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Sanderson of 4287 Newton Road.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Gordon Thomson of Edinborough, Scotland, and the late Alexander R. Murray.

On the esquire side, Dr. Walter Levich of Detroit served as best man. Ushers were Dr. Eric Dalton of Buffalo, N. Y., and D. James Sanderson of Berkley, a brother of the bride.

BEATRICE D. KRUG

Announcement is made of the engagement of Beatrice D. Krug to William J. Freund. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Clarence Krug, 5404 Sherwood Road, Brandon Township, and the late Mr. Krug. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Freund, Barrington, Ill. A July wedding is planned.

BONNIE JEAN MOSHIER

The engagement of Bonnie Jean Moshier to Larry Haacke is announced by her parents, Mrs. Clement Baumunk, 343 Parkdale St., Rochester, and Clarence Moshier, 3861 Iris St., Waterford. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haacke, 345 Parkedale St., Rochester. No date has been set for the wedding.

Stage Play at Avondale

Students of Avondale Senior High School will present the three-act comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow in the high school auditorium.

Cast in the two lead roles are Norine Blake, a junior, and Marion Buchanan, a senior. Terry Tolbert and Bill Granger also share top billing in the play.

Both junior and senior class members are taking part in the production. Margaret Rose is director. The public has been invited to attend.

School Tax Defeated

BERKLEY (AP)—Berkley School District voters yesterday defeated a six mill tax, proposed to finance the schools' operating budget, by a vote of 4,331 against and 3,805 in favor.

Honeymoon in State

Married in Milford Church

MILFORD — Honeymooning in southern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Maul who exchanged nuptial vows in a recent ceremony at Milford Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Frank Williams officiated.

The bride, the former Phyllis Rosemary Haddrill, is the daughter of Mrs. Muriel Haddrill, 514 General Motors Road, and Philip H. Haddrill of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

A seed pearl crown secured her veil of illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and fern.

Mrs. Victor Jackson of Saginaw was matron of honor for her sister. Another sister, Karen Haddrill of Milford, and Mrs. George Johnstone of Webberville were bridesmaids.

Ivan Gullickson of Kalamazoo served as best man. Ushers were George Johnstone of Webberville, Kenneth Barnhill of Wayne, the bride's brother David Haddrill of Milford, and the bridegroom's brother, Curtis Maul of Grand Blanc.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The couple will reside in Kalamazoo.

MRS. MICHAEL J. MAUL

Will Europe Drive U.S. Back to Policy of Isolationism?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Isolationism, long thought dead, may be resurrected if only as a rallying point for discontent.

It was U.S. policy for most of American history but disappeared after the war when this country began its overseas alliances and aid.

MARLOW

Neither was unselfish. While the United States wanted to stop communism it also didn't want to be left alone in a Communist world.

The alliances and the aid were called "enlightened self-interest" by John Foster Dulles when he was secretary of state.

But the West Europeans, who got the main thrust of American military and economic help, have not carried their share of the burden.

NATO UNDERSTRENGTH

The NATO alliance, supposed to be the main bulwark for the West against any Russian ground attack, has never been at full strength.

The West Europeans, particularly France, never put enough men into it. Europe made an amazing economic recovery.

But the United States has done far more than its European allies in giving aid to backward countries.

Yet, all of them had as much of a stake as the United States in wanting to keep those backward places out of communism.

★ ★ ★

Europe felt increasingly safe behind American nuclear power, particularly its European-based missiles which, although intermediate range, could hit Russia.

They were outposts of American defense and deterrent not only against a Russian attack on Europe but a Russian attack on this country.

But now this country is becoming increasingly confident against Russia because of its intercontinental missiles based at home.

That, and one other reason: the development of the American Polaris missile submarine.

This deadly weapon, an elusive target under the sea, can hit Russia just as well from offshore as intermediate range missiles on known land bases.

Therefore, they give the United States less need for missiles in Europe. One example: This country is pulling its missiles out of Turkey and Italy.

'ALLIES SLACKING'

This country's diminishing dependence on European bases for its own safety would be enough to start some isolationist talk here again.

It will probably feed on the growing awareness in this country that the European allies are not doing their share in their own military defense or sufficiently sharing with this country the burden of aid to other areas.

And the French, who talk big but were unable to win two world wars alone and more recently couldn't even hold Indochina or Algeria, are adding to the calls now being made for a re-examination of American commitments overseas.

★ ★ ★

Example: French President de Gaulle's brutal affront to the British by keeping them out of the Common Market and his equally harsh rejection of President Kennedy's proposal of a NATO nuclear force.

WARNING OF REPORT

At President Kennedy's request a group of senators, headed by Mike Mansfield, majority leader and Montana Democrat, examined Europe and made a report.

The warning of an American return to isolationism—unless this country's European partners are willing to take no more of the American burden—was sounded in the very last paragraph of the report.

★ ★ ★

Unless there are corrections, it warned, there may be a "sudden, popular disaffection and dangerous retreat to the Western Hemisphere."

Poverty in the 1940s made a glittering rallying point for the West Europeans and melted them into unity.

Under the self-confidence that comes with affluence, and they're all doing sensationally well economically now, there is less unity, more self-assertion.

In the case of France the self-assertion has developed into arrogance and a disregard for unity although the French at this moment probably couldn't stop the Russians for two days by themselves.

If this continues—and the United States is on the receiving end of allied affronts—American cooperation may be tinged with disgust and out of that anything can happen.
