Nixon and Khrushchev Exchange Verbal Blows

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Premier Nikita Khrushchev clashed head-on today in a heated informal debate climaxed by Khrushchev's charge that Nixon was trying to threaten him.

"We will answer your threats with threats," Khrushchev stormed in an exchange watched by a crowd of startled spectators as the two men toured the American exhibition here.

They pulled no punches in a sharp-toned exchange that did away completely with diplomatic niceties. Their topics ranged from U. S. military bases to "captive nations" and the relative superiority of U. S. and Russian nuclear arsenals.

In one of the more bitter exchanges, Khrushchev warned that "we have means at our disposal which can give very bad consequences"—an apparent reference to Russia's nuclear weapons.

"We have, too," Nixon retorted.

"But ours are better," Khrushchev shot back belligerently.

The off-the-cuff exchange weakened hopes that the two men might come to an understanding which would solve the deadlock at Geneva.

"It would be a great mistake and a great blow to peace if that (Geneva) conference would be allowed to fail," Nixon said.

Khrushchev said Russia feels that way, too—but a few moments later he was emphasizing Russia's desire for a peace treaty with Germany, an issue outstanding among those on which East and West have been unable to agree.

Nixon spoke in English and Khrushchev in Russian. Their remarks were passed back and forth through interpretes.

Pointing to the two Russians, Khrushchev said:

"Those are our men. Do we have to fear anybody with these men?"

Nixon pointed to some Americans who had been working on the exhibition site and tossed Khrushchev's words back at him.

"Do we have to fear anyone with these men?" Nixon asked, pointing at the Americans.

The debate was marked by accusations about the origins of the cold war and responsibility for the tense international situation.

A short time earlier, in their first face-to-face meeting in the Kremlin, Nixon and Khrushchev had greeted each other warmly and Nixon delivered a letter from President Eisenhower.

Details of the letter were not disclosed.

The debate started innocently enough when Nixon and Khrushchev stopped to look at a kitchen of the model home in a preview tour of the exhibit which Nixon was to open formally later today.

New Lead Advances Search for Arsonist

Armed with a new lead, State Police today forged ahead to crack the arson that gutted the Bloomfield Township home of Teamster Charles O'Brien last Thursday night.

The inflammable fluid used in the arson has "definitely" been identifitd, said Sgt. Oramel O'Farrell, head of the Redford Post arson squad.

It is Speedway No. 1 Blue Tone fuel oil, he said.

This product is sold in bulk form at Speedway gasoline stations, O'Farrell said. It is the similar to kerosene, and commonly used in small oil burners, he said.

Identification was made in the laboratories of two other national gasoline companies, O'Farrell said. Tested was a small amount of liquid in the bottom of three of the four five-gallon cans found in the burned out home, 205 Harrow Circle.

State Police now plan to question Speedway gasoline station operators in hopes of identifying the purchaser of the fuel oil.

Police will begin in the vicinity of the fire, then spread wider afield, if necessary, O'Farrell said.

It was hoped that police might be spared a long search — during which time the trail to the arsonists might grow colder — through the cooperation of Speedway dealers.

"If any Speedway dealer has reason to believe he is the one who sold the arsonists the fuel oil, we urge him to contact the Redford State Police Post," O'Farrell said.

The fuel oil may have been purchased by one or more men, possibly driving an old grey sedan, O'Farrell said.

A car of that description was in the area of the O'Brien home shortly before the fire, according to Mrs. Sylvia Paris, O'Brien's mother, who owns the house.

"But a different car could have been used to purchase the fuel oil," O'Farrell pointed out.

O'Farrell said that a pair of eyeglasses found on the lawn of the O'Brien home belonged to a Detroit television cameman who took pictures of the house the day after the fire. The glasses had been considered as a possible clue.

O'Brien is a business agent for Teamster Local 299 in Detroit, the home local of James R. Hoffa.

Heiress Sobs Tale of Kidnap

New Jersey Socialite Left in Chicago Park After 2-Day Terror

CHICAGO (AP) — A young New Jersey socialite, missing since early Tuesday, turned up in a Chicago lake front park today and told police she had been kidnaped in Newark, terrorized two days and dumped by two young toughs.

Miss Jacqueline Gay Hart, 21-year-old daughter of Ralph A. Hart, an executive vice president of Colgate-Palmolive Co., ran sobbing to a parked police car and cried: "Where am I, where am I?"

The father and fiance of Jacqueline Gay Hart landed at Midway Airport in Chicago today to bring the young heiress back home.

Policeman Jack Blakeslee told her and Miss Hart cried, "my name is Gay Hart; I want to call my dad in New Jersey."

Taken to the city detective bureau, the distraught young woman—her arms bruised—gave a rambling, sometimes incoherent account of the two days since she bade farewell to her fiance, 25-year-old Stanley

U.S. Books Booted by Red Censors

LONDON (AP)—Associated Press correspondent John Scali reported today from Moscow that Soviet officials were censoring books in the American exhibition library.

His report, telephoned to London, said a three-man committee "threw out book after book" from the library at the U.S. exhibit in the Soviet capital.

The telephone connection was cut at this point. It was not known here whether this was due to a mechanical failure in the line or whether Soviet censors had broken the connection.

Attempts to reach Moscow by telephone were delayed by heavy traffic.

Scali is among the American newsmen accompanying Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his visit. Nixon said July 17 that after long negotiations the Soviet government had agreed to let the newsmen file dispatches "freely and without delay."

"This is interpreted as indicating that American newsmen will be allowed to cover the trip without censorship," he said.

Suburban Model Designed for Comfort

THIS IS THE LATEST — Here's a preview of the latest-style bus that will begin rolling off the GMC Truck & Coach Division assembly line early next year. The company says advanced styling and added passenger comfort will make the new line popular with bus companies and patrons. The new line has two models, one holding 53 passengers, the other 45.

GMC Reveals Plans for Two New Buses

Production plans for two new suburban-type buses were announced today by GMC Truck & Coach Division.

The models will offer a stylish new appearance and increased comfort, said Philip J. Monaghan, General Motors Corp. vice president and division general manager.

One the basis of advance description, 144 of the new buses have already been ordered by bus companies, said Monaghan. Production is scheduled for early next year.

One of the new buses will carry 53 passengers. The other, smaller, will carry 45, he said.

Innovations listed by Monaghan include all-new, streamlined bodies with extensive application of bright finish aluminum; greatly expanded window areas; and new materials in interior decor.

The buses will be equipped with new V-6 Diesel engines, Monaghan said; new heating systems; three optional transmissions and an improved air suspension system.

Many items formerly furnished at extra cost have been made standard in the new line, Monoghan said.

Describing the new line as a "complete break with the past" as far as body design is concerned, Monaghan listed these further details:

Bright metal, fluted, anodized aluminum is used extensively in side and rear body panels. Streamlined styling is evident in the forward slanting windows, in both front and rear end design, and in such details as clearance lights, headlight and turn signal housing. A distinctive styling feature is a broad band of bright metal above the windows.

Visibility has been increased, both for driver and passengers. The windshield is nearly three times larger than former models. Driver's window is bigger, and there is more glass in the entrance doors.

Both exterior and interior rear view mirrors have been increased in size. Rear window is over twice as large as formerly. Passenger visibility is improved through side windows.

Improved styling is also evident in the coach interior. Decorative melamine (formerly an extra cost item) is used in ceiling panels which extend clear over package racks to window area. Patterned aluminum is used in lower side panels as a standard feature.

Seat platforms are now only seven inches above the aisle, a reduction of two inches over former 51-passenger models. Entrance step height has been dropped by 1½" to 13½" for easier boarding.

The new V-6 engine delivers more horsepower with no increase in cubic inch displacement. Its new 4-valve head enables the engine to "breathe" better, producing 190 B.H.P. at 2,000 r.p.m. with 55 cubic millimeter injectors. Acceleration is better due to improved torque — 550 ft. lbs. at 1,200 r.p.m. with 55 cu. mm. injectors.

A new heating and ventilating system is located under the coach floor just ahead of the emergency door. Providing quiet, even distribution of head from this central location, it has a capacity of 114,000 B.T.U. per hour, based on a 100 degree water-air temperature differential.

In addition, a powerful new dash heater (as standard equipment) delivers another 41,000 more B.T.U. per hour into the driver area and across the windshield.

Air conditioning, which is optional at extra cost, is integrated with standard heating and ventilating, using the same air system.

Cancer Society Loses Charter

Expel Units in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb for Staying With UF

The charter of the Southeastern Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society covering Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties was revoked yesterday.

A possible court fight looms over an estimated $1,500,000 in division assets.

The national office ordered an accounting of the local group's funds and assets.

The decision was the result of the division's defiance of an order to withdraw from United Fund campaigns.

The ACS recently ordered local chapters to quit united or combined fund drives by next January. It said it could raise more money on its own than by sharing in combined drives.

The local Division refused to follow the ACS directive.

Skip Raincoats, Weekend to Be Sunny and Cool

Umbrellas and raincoats may be left at home over the weekend. The weatherman promises fair and cool with the low near 62 tonight.

Sunny and pleasant is the good news for Saturday, the high reaching 78 to 80. Today's winds west to northwest at 12 to 18 miles an hour will diminish tonight.

Partly cloudy and a little warmer is Sunday's prediction. No rain is expected to fall until after the weekend when scattered showers and thundershowers are again in store for the area.

Sixty-eight was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 84.

Goldfine Given Suspended Term

Sentence Is One Year, $1,000 for Contempt of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine today received a suspended sentence of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine for contempt of Congress.

The fine as well as the jail term was suspended.

In lieu of paying the fine and serving the jail term, Goldfine, gift-giving Boston industrialist, was placed on probation for two years.

In addition, U.S. District Judge James W. Morris directed that Goldfine, if given the opportunity, answer the 18 questions he refused to answer before the House subcommittee on Legislative oversight a year ago.

If the committee should call Goldfine again, Morris said, he must adequately answer the questions which formed the basis of the indictment.

Ike, Mamie Off to Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower left today for Gettysburg, Pa., to spend the weekend at their farm home. They set out by automobile at 9:33 a.m. EDT for the run of about 80 miles. It usually takes about two hours.

3-Part Measure Ties In Levy on Business

Calls for 2 Per Cent on Corporation Profits, 1 Cent Hike on Sales

LANSING (AP)—Suddenly and dramatically aroused, the House today cracked a six months legislative deadlock on taxes.

It passed and sent to the Senate a three-bill package coupling a use (sales) tax boost with a revision of the Business Activities Tax.

Both parties labeled it a compromise.

The logjam broke with 77 to 16 approval of a bill to levy a 2 per cent —tax on corporation profits, to be reduced to 1½ per cent in a year.

Passage of the measure adding a penny to the three cent use (sales) tax came minutes later on a 67 to 21 vote. The third bill, approved 87 to 17, would add two million dollars to the intangibles tax levied on financial institutions.

In its haste, however, the House got into a tangle on amendments to the BAT tax and called time out to iron out the bugs.

Republican and Democratic leaders said the lower chamber would quickly go along with a package to raise the use (sales) tax to five cents and exempt food, then route both to the Senate.

Thus the Senate would be given a choice of three House tax plans. The House on Wednesday sent over one geared to an income tax on both individuals and business.

The action came after a long night of wrangling in a frantic effort to reach a compromise.

Mystery Ship Puzzles Deputies

Is County Host to Space Visitors?

Can Oakland County lay claim to the first rocket ship from outer space? Have you noticed any strange little men scurrying around your neighborhood?

"The Thing," as referred to by Oakland County sheriff's deputies, "landed" yesterday afternoon on Joswick avenue near Pontiac road in Pontiac Township.

Residents noticed the rocket-like object and called Deputies Stephen Navarre and Allan Whittingham.

"When we first saw it at a distance it looked just like a rocket," said Navarre. "It's white with a red streak down the side and has what looks like fins on it."

Navarre and Whittingham crept stealthily toward the strange object. "We weren't sure that it wouldn't explode suddenly," Navarre explained.

"As we got closer, I could see it had some kind of props or supports on it and what appeared to be short nozzles on the top."

A close examination revealed "the thing" was made from some type of hot water tanks with wires attached to the "tail fins."

Deputy Whittingham said, "It looks a little like it may be some part of a watercraft." Navarre thought it could be a part of a carnival ride.

So far, no one in the area has reported any strange looking little men lurking behind bushes.

FROM OUTER SPACE? — Oakland County sheriff's deputies had a mysterious object on their hands today. They were called out yesterday afternoon to investigate this "rocket ship" found alongside a road in Pontiac Township. Anyone seeing any little spacemen lurking in their backyards or fields should notify the Sheriff's Dept. immediately.

County May Readvertise for Bids on Courthouse

Oakland County should drop contracts with two of three courthouse contractors in order to speed construction of the building, it was decided today.

Dropping the contracts may provide a path out of the latest legal entanglement delaying construction, three important committees, of the Board of Supervisors said.

The Board will be asked Aug. 4 to approve readvertising for bids on general construction and mechanical installations, the committees decided on advice of Charles A. Davis, assistant corporation counsel.

"Readvertising for bids will expedite the courthouse project," Davis said.

Readvertising may also open the door to a higher price-tag on the long-delayed courthouse, it was tacitly acknowledged.

The two companies which were awarded the general construction and mechanical trades contracts June 2 have agreed to withdraw, it was announced.

A. J. Fredman, Inc. of Pontiac said it would be unable to keep its bid firm after Aug. 3. Fredman holds the general construction contract at a price of $2,104,520.

The R. L. Spitzley Co. of Detroit said it would have to tack $20,000 onto its mechanical trades bid of $645,550, if it couldn't start work immediately.

Another firm, A. Z. Shmina &

'Hoffa's Days Are Numbered'

Attorney Says Jimmy Won't Last Past October as Teamster Boss

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bitter foe of James R. Hoffa predicts Hoffa and several of his lieutenants will be suspended from the Teamsters Union by October.

Godfrey P. Schmidt, an attorney, told the National Retail Hardware Assn. yesterday that most rank-and-file members would vote against the Teamsters president.

But, he added, Hoffa's political strength within the union is as high as ever, and the only way to remove him from office is by legal action.

Schmidt resigned recently as a member of the court-appointed board of monitors supervising the union's affairs. He quit because of a possible conflict of interest — he represents clients who have bargaining relations with the Teamsters.

He also was the attorney for 13 rank-and-file New York Teamsters, whose suit to prevent Hoffa from taking office resulted in appointment of the monitors.

Schmidt predicted last February that the monitors would be able to force Hoffa out on charges of misconduct by June, he noted, but legal maneuvers caused a delay.

The attorney also said he will file misconduct charges against these Teamster officials:

Fact-Finders Check Strike for President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Squads of government fact - finders concentrated today on steel strike data to provide President Eisenhower with the most exhaustive survey of its kind ever made.

As the strike moved into its 10th day, periodic reports were being sent to the White House by federal experts as soon as they were completed.

The half million striking steelworkers already have lost nearly 100 million dollars in pay. About 10 million will be added to the wage loss each day the strike continues.

With about 90 per cent of the nation's steelmaking at a standstill, daily production losses were estimated at nearly 43 million dollars. Losses also were mounting in allied fields where an estimated 45,500 workers have been furloughed.

Michigan Parks Fee on Verge of Passage

LANSING (AP) — Climaxing a long struggle, a bill to levy a $2 annual admission fee on Michigan's state parks was on the verge of final legislative approval today.

Only Senate agreement on a House amendment was needed to send it to Gov. Williams for signing. The governor said earlier this week he was opposed to the bill but "not opposing it," indicating he probably would let it become law.

Needing 56 votes for passage, the measure squeaked through the House yesterday, 57-47. Democrats, spurred by the Michigan AFL-CIO, defeated it once during the day but Republicans won five Democrats to their cause on a second vote and put it over the top.

The fee plan wouldn't go into operation until next year. State conservation officials recommended postponement to give them time to put the system into good working order.

To Seek New Bids on Courthouse

Sons of Detroit, said a suit blocking the courthouse would be withdrawn if construction were once again opened to competitive bidding.

Letters from the three companies were read at a joint meeting of the Ways and Means Committee, the Special Courthouse Committee, and the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

A suit blocking courthouse construction in behalf of the Shmina firm is now being appealed to the State Supreme Court. There may not be a legal decision until October or early next year, Davis warned.

The suit was initiated by Frank P. Scruggs, a Royal Oak tool and die maker, whose brother is a Shmina employe.

In the suit it is claimed that the Shmina company should have been awarded the general construction contract because Shmina's bid was about $19,000 lower than Fredman's.

The county claims that Fredman's bid was only about $2,000 higher, and the difference in cost would be worthwhile to the county since Fredman promises to use local labor.

Cancer Society Expels Units in Oakland, Wayne

Cancer Foundation to which it arranged to transfer all its assets. The assets include about $960,000 in funds, contributed by the UF and through wills, gifts and other donations.

At New York, the ACS authorized legal action if necessary. Spokesmen for the Southeastern Michigan group said any effort to take over its funds would be resisted.

Branch assets include headquarters in Detroit valued at $400,000.

Karl Bradley, executive director of the Pontiac Area United Fund, said the local UF group will back the ousted Division. An allocation from this year's UF campaign will go to the Michigan Cancer Foundation, he said.

"We will support our local people," Bradley said. "It seems like the national ACS feels that funds already allocated for this year belong to them. We in Pontiac don't feel that way."

"Naturally the UF believes in federation. So does the local cancer society group."

Bradley said it was "possible" that the national ACS may set up its own organization in southeastern Michigan and conduct a separate drive.

He expressed disappointment in the attitude of the ACS national officers and pointed out that the "UF campaign has provided more money for the cancer society than any single drive could."

"Until the last minute we hoped that it would be possible to arrive at a friendly arrangement with the ACS," Bradley said.

"We've always raised sufficient moneys for our local group."

Bradley said the Michigan Cancer Foundation will probably seek a sizeable boost in its allocation because of increased costs resulting from the ouster.

The North Oakland Unit of the Southeastern Michigan Division maintains headquarters in Pontiac. President of the local unit is Dr. John Marra, who said:

"We hoped for a change of heart from the national ACS and believed their policy might be one of flexibility. Evidently, it's not."

"Many features of the ACS program will be hard to take on," he said, "notably the tremendous educational program, and research activities."

Money for local research programs from the U.S. Public Health Service which is received through the ACS may be cut off, he feared.

"We'll need the whole-hearted support of the UF and the good people of Michigan," he said.

Dr. William Bromme, a Division trustee, and Edward W. Tuescher, executive director, said the differences involved only fund raising methods. Both, however, indicated they felt the Division took the proper position.

Dr. Bromme said the ACS "does not take into account the general excellence of the Division." He termed the Division "one of the best cancer-fighting groups in the nation."

The Division is anxious to work with the ACS and is in accord with it on all phases of the cancer program, Teuscher said.

Teuscher said he hoped chartered membership could be resumed in the future but that "until that day comes we have no alternative but to continue our fight against cancer in the manner we have found most effective for the people of this community."

The Division has an organization of 16,000 volunteer workers.

The fund-raising dispute dates back to November, 1957, when the national society ordered its chapters to withdraw from community fund drives.

In 1958, the local branch decided finally to remain with the United Foundation. A one-year contract was signed. The branch had said it would sign a four-year contract this year.

At New York, the ACS appointed Dr. Harry M. Nelson to take over society business in the Detroit region. Dr. Nelson, chief gynecologist at Woman's Hospital, is a director of the local branch.

Will He Share Trouble?

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Thomas Hofschneider, 20, who was arrested for charging people 50 cents to park on state property near Memorial Auditorium, told police he was sharing the proceeds with the man who hired him for the job.

Ike Signs Bill for Foreign Aid

Total 10 Per Cent Short of His Original Request, May Be Cut More

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower signed today a $3,556,200,000 foreign aid authorization bill.

The total is $353,200,000 short, or within 10 per cent, of the amount Eisenhower recommended.

But there is every indication that Congress will cut deeper in the forthcoming foreign aid appropriations bill to provide the actual funds for the program through June 30, 1960.

The bill signed today sets maximums and defines policies.

The biggest cut was in authorization for military arms to allies. Congress set the limit at $1,400,000,000 instead of the $1,600,000,000 Eisenhower recommended. Moreover, it directed that for a two-year trial period military foreign aid be treated as part of the U.S. defense budget rather than a separate item.

Congress also authorized only 155 million dollars, instead of the recommended 20 million dollars, in the fund for the President to spend in unforeseen contingencies.

2 Women Hurt as Cars Collide in Waterford

Two Chessaning women were injured Thursday in a three-car smashup on U. S. 10 near Silver Lake road, Waterford Township, according to Pontiac State Police.

Mrs. Luella Williamson, 63, one of the drivers, and her companion, Mrs. Lois Allen, 71, were treated for minor injuries at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Troopers said a southbound car driven by Robert Baedle, 23, of 4130 Airport Rd., Waterford Township, rammed into the rear of an auto driven by Orville Harroun, 33, of 1058 Daffodil St.

Auto Crash Injures 2 in Waterford Twp.

Two people escaped serious injuries in Waterford Township at 2 a.m. today when their car crashed into two trees and a mail box at Hatchery road near Marlington street.

Edward E. Farnsworth, 23, of 93 Mains St., told Waterford Township Police he was driving west on Hatchery road, when he lost control of his automobile while trying to pass another car.

Farnsworth and his passenger, Lois G. Cook, 15, of 5046 Hatchery Rd., were taken to Pontiac General Hospital. He was treated for knee injuries, and Miss Cook was in satisfactory condition today with right leg, arm and chest injuries.

Husband Shoots Wife in Family Quarrel

A 36-year-old Pontiac housewife was in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital this morning after being shot by her husband last night in a family quarrel.

Mrs. Bessie Lee Moore was shot in the chest by her husband, Walter Ezell, 36. He admitted the shooting to police.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Police Begin Clampdown on Speeders

BIRMINGHAM — "We're getting a lot of automobile racers through here, and we're going to put the squeeze on them," said Capt. Walter Sluiter of the Bloomfield Hills Police Dept.

Yesterday the "squeeze" began when Eric F. Scimitschek, 27, and Adelmiro P. Copioli, 21, both of Detroit, paid speeding fines before Justice of the Peace A. J. Richardson in Bloomfield Hills Justice Court.

The two were clocked at 7:30 a. m. while racing their cars on Woodward avenue north of Quarton road by Officer George Chrisman of the Bloomfield Hills Police force.

Scimitschek won the race against Copioli at 105 miles per hour but lost to the police. He was fined $85 and Copioli came in second at 85 miles per hour to pay a $60 fine.

The Rev. Alfred D. Grey will be guest minister Sunday at the Congregational Church of Birmingham during the last week of the Rev. Raymond Fenner's vacation.

Rev. Mr. Grey was interim minister at the church for a six-month period in 1958-59. He resides at 6696 E. Dartmor Rd., Birmingham.

His topic Sunday will be "The Hidden Man." Mrs. Eleanor Driver, contralto, will be the soloist.

Mrs. Mary (Sadler) Crockett

Service for Mrs. Mary (Sadler) Crockett, 92, of 3933 Kirkland Ct., Bloomfield Hills will be at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home in Birmingham. Burial will be Monday in Forest Hill Cemetery, Shelbyville, Ind.

Mrs. Crockett died at her home Thursday after a brief illness.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, the Missionary Aid Society of the church, and the Senior Activities Group of the Birmingham Community House.

Surviving are her son, C. V. Crockett, of the same Bloomfield Hills address and two grandchildren.

William W. Taylor

Service for William W. Taylor, 40, a former Birmingham resident, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at St. Paul Cathedral in Detroit.

The body will be at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home in Birmingham until Monday noon. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. Taylor died suddenly Wednesday in Dayton, Ohio, where he was residing. He suffered a coronary attack.

He was editor of Manage Magazine, organ of the National Management Assn. in Dayton, and a member of the Society of Industrial Editors, the Dayton Press Club, the Masonic Lodge of Croton, N. Y., St. Paul Episcopal parish in Detroit, and a former chairman of the Central Committee for Layman's Work, Episcopal Dioceses of Michigan.

Surviving besides his wife, Anne, are two sons, David and Peter, both at home, and his parents in New York.

Sniper Kills Father, Baby

Virginia Sheriff Blames Ex-Convict Husband of Wife's Sister

BASSETT, Va. (AP)—A furniture factory worker was shot to death while walking along a country road with his wife today. Minutes later, his baby daughter was killed in the arms of her grandmother, who was wounded by the bullet.

The victims were Marvin Lee Whorley, in his early 30's, and his daughter, Della, 8 months. Whorley's mother, Marjorie Lee Whorley, was wounded in the chest by the high-powered rifle bullet after it passed through the baby's body. Her condition was reported satisfactory.

Sheriff Morton Prillaman said Earl Smith, 28, of Ferrum, Va., did the shooting. Smith was recently released from the Lewisburg, Pa., federal reformatory after serving 30 months on a whisky conspiracy charge.

Prillaman said Smith was married to the sister of Whorley's wife. Mrs. Smith was taken into protective custody.

Recover Thor Cone Complete With Camera

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)— A tiny camera was fired 1,700 miles over the Atlantic in the nose cone of a Thor missile today and was recovered from the sea 2½ hours later.

The Air Force announced that a C54 search plane spotted the nose cone in the water off the island of Antigua and directed the recovery ship Lima to the location.

Coast City Feels Quake

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — The strongest earthquake felt here since December 1954 rocked a large segment of Humboldt County Thursday but its epicenter was out at sea. No damage was reported. It was felt in communities 60 miles apart.

Paralytic Polio Soars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paralytic polio cases increased by 50 per cent last week to a 1959 weekly high of 166. They ran more than three times the number listed for the comparable 1958 week.

Flint Journal Names New City Editor

Martin, whose appointment was announced yesterday by Journal editor Ralph B. Curry, replaces Robert C. Herrick, who has been named editor of the Muskegon Chronicle, effective Aug. 1.

Martin, 48, joined the Journal in 1934 and was named telegraph editor that year. He has been editorial writer since Oct. 24, 1958.

A native of Middleton, Mich., Martin attended Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michigan. He is married and the father of a son.

Gamblers Claim Aid

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Ten persons listing their occupations as gamblers filed claims for unemployment compensation yesterday.

Under state law, the gamblers can draw as much as $5 a week for 28 weeks.

Stalin Shrine Loses Luster of Red Mecca

GORIN, U.S.S.R. (AP)—Once this was a great Russian shrine. It still draws tourists, but it is not the busy place of just a few years ago.

This is the birthplace of Joseph Stalin. In the years when Stalin's name was magic, a trip to Gori was an event on a par with a Moslem's journey to Mecca. The historic debunking of Stalin has cut the prestige of his birthplace.

The little house in which Stalin was born has a protecting roof structure over it, but is much the same in other respects as during Stalin's boyhood.

Near the old house is the large, handsome, expensively built museum that tells the story of Stalin's life, from his days in Gori until the winning of the revolution.

American visitors are impressed by the large number of photographs on display of Stalin as boy, youth and young man. For a country boy, he had his picture taken a rather large number of times.

The exhibits show Stalin as a seminary student, on the way to becoming a priest of the Orthodox church. They show him taking up communism, plotting revolt.

They recount the many times he was arrested, thrown into prison, exiled to Siberia, escaped from Siberia, returned to Siberia.

With success achieved and the Bolshevists in charge, the story ends. "What about the rest of Stalin's life?" the guide is asked.

"Some more rooms are in preparation," was the reply.

Oldster Pans Tickets for Jaywalking

DETROIT (AP) — "I'm old enough to watch where I walk. The police don't need to be spending all their time watching me," 79-year-old Kolman Shkolnik complained as he paid the 27th jaywalking ticket he has received in four years.

Shkolnik's latest violation cost him $5.

He blamed police for his troubles as he stood before Traffic Court Referee John D. Carney.

"One thing I don't want to do is get killed in traffic," he said. "I take care of myself in the streets better than those policemen who give me tickets. They give me a ticket just for walking."

Takes Three to Riot

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Fayette County Fiscal Court got a bill for $157.50 for repairs to the jail after two federal prisoners damaged it. Purchasing Agent Virgil Kennedy explained to the court he submitted the bill to an insurance company which wrote riot insurance on the jail, but was turned down. "The insurance company said it took three or more to make a riot," Kennedy said.

Her Kitty Is Cheetah

MONTCLAIR, N. J. (AP) — Miss Marcel Hight's extravagant tastes include more than simply a Jaguar sports car. Her motoring companion is a six-foot cheetah that cost her $1,200 in a pet shop. Blitz, the spotted cat, is tender at heart. "I just encourage him to play with his toys rather than with people," explains Miss Hight.

Better Headlights for Old Model Autos

ANDERSON, Ind.—A new sealed beam headlight for motorists who operate autos with two single headlight units gives greatly increased night vision and proper aiming of the light beam.

Called the "Guide T-3 Powerbeam 50 Headlamp", it has a built-in, precision-ground mechanical aiming platform for maximum aiming accuracy on the lower beam. Guide T-3 gives an added 20 watts of power on the lower beam for a total lamp power of 100 watts.

The unit, produced by Guide Lamp Division of General Motors, is available for both 6 and 12 volt electrical systems.

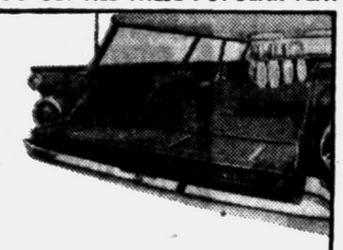

The first basic patents to make "artificial leather" were issued in 1855. "Leatherette" is used for such things as baby buggies and book bindings.

STOP! SWAP! AND SAVE!

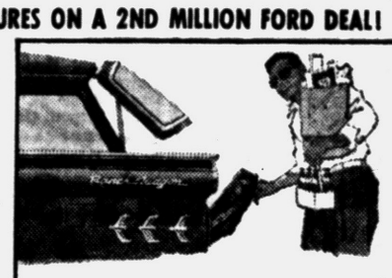

Because over
ONE MILLION 59 FORDS have already been sold
your FORD DEALER can now offer you a tremendous 2nd Million Deal on

AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR WAGON

YOU GET ALL THESE POPULAR FEATURES ON A 2ND MILLION FORD DEAL!

LOADSPACE BIG AS A BOWLING ALLEY! All six Ford wagons give you loadspace nearly 10 feet long, up to 92 cubic feet for cargo! Loading width at liftgate is over 10 inches wider than Ford's nearest competitor. And height of loadspace opening is biggest in Ford's field.

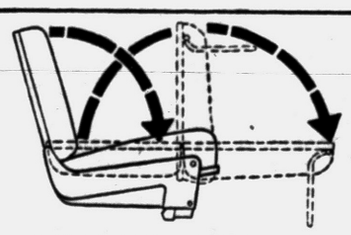

EASIEST IN THE FIELD TO LOAD AND UNLOAD! Only Ford in its field has the extra convenient combination of tailgate and liftgate. They pop open at a touch, raise and lower with one hand ease. No dials or cranks, or extra-cost power equipment needed. And you can open tailgate only, if you desire.

THE ONLY WAGONS BUILT FOR PEOPLE! Ford doors are wider, for easier "get-in" and "get-out." Deep-cushioned, foam-padded seats span the full width of Ford wagons and give the middleman full comfort, too! And Ford packs more weather and sound insulation throughout, than any other wagons in Ford's field.

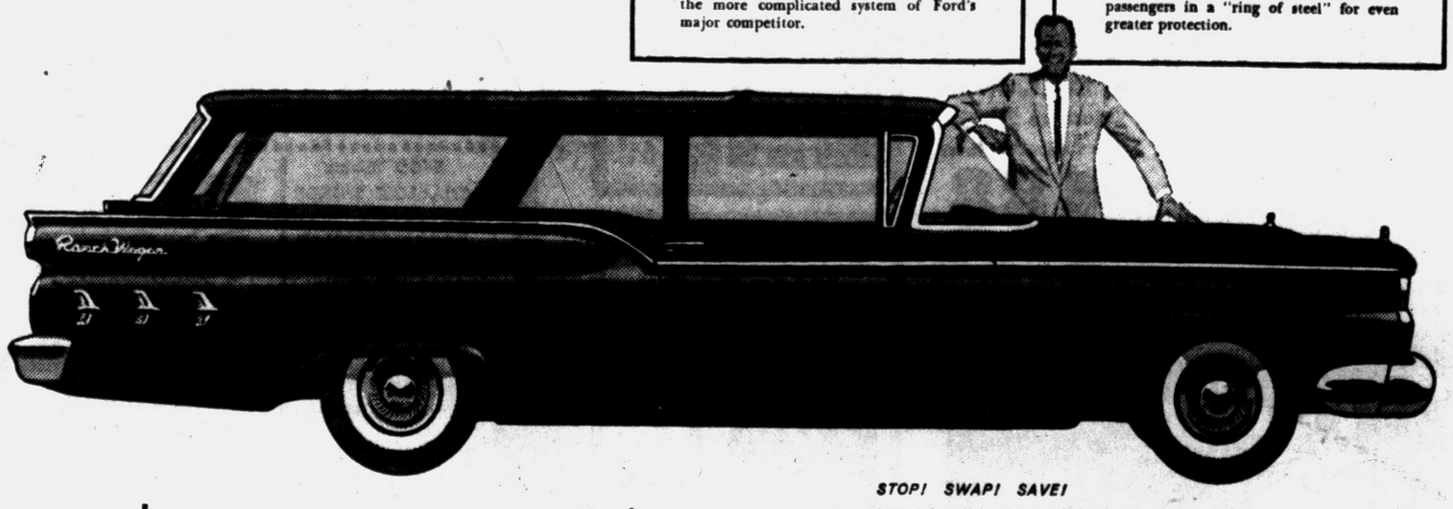

THE ONLY WAGONS IN FORD'S FIELD WITH ALL SEATS FACING FORWARD! Only Ford wagons, in Ford's field, let everybody sit comfortably facing forward. Ford engineers were not "boxed in" by design necessities that make 3rd-seat riders crawl in over tailgates, sit backwards, become blinded by headlights of following cars.

EASIEST WAGONS TO CONVERT! In seconds, Ford Station Wagons convert from luxurious passenger liner to spacious cargo ship. Even a child can flip down Ford's Stow-away seats easily, safely, because Ford's fold-down seat design simplicity eliminates the more complicated system of Ford's major competitor.

'Labor Costs Down 8 Pct.,' Says USW Boss

Charges Big Steel Hoarding Profits

By NORMAN WALKER

NEW YORK (AP) —The steel strike, says the man directing the walkout, won't end until companies agree to a fair split of increased profits with their half-million workers.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, thumbed pages of a newspaper to a short inside article saying a small steel firm had netted almost as much profit in six months this year as the company's highest full-year earnings record.

"It's fantastic," said McDonald. "Wait until the big steel companies file their profits reports next week. You'll see. They're going to have to share that money with us.

"It has always happened that way. And we intend to see it continues."

McDonald's views were as fixed and unyielding on the union side as were those expressed for the industry earlier to the same interviewer by Chairman Roger Blough of the United States Steel Corp.

Talks with the two men, equally firm in their stands in the titanic labor-management clash that has shut down most of the nation's vast steel industry, pinpointed the issues.

The industry is dead set against any new net labor cost increase. The union says the workers deserve—and are going to get—higher pay and companion benefits.

McDonald said the industry is trying to cut its work force, whereas steel employment should be increasing to meet the expanding metal needs of America and countries abroad.

"We are being pictured by the industry as opposing progress and efficiency," McDonald said. "I repeat what I've said: the claim is as phony as a seven-dollar bill. The industry's whole position is based on misrepresentation and distortion of the facts."

The union, said this dapper, well-tailored, prematurely gray union boss, looking for all the world like a top industry executive, has never opposed automation or technical progress.

"As further evidence of the phonyness of industry's arguments, thousands of adjustments in working conditions are made each year by joint agreement in local collective bargaining," McDonald said.

"What the industry desires, however, is to eliminate free collective bargaining in making these adjustments and to substitute unilateral management imposition of its will."

McDonald stressed that the steel industry's total labor bill is less now—with considerably more steel production—than it was in years past—some 8 per cent less, per ton of finished steel, than a decade ago.

"And there are thousands upon thousands fewer steelworkers in the mills today producing more steel and better steel than ever before," he said. "Does that look like featherbedding?"

Aren't the cost cuts due to more efficient machines and production methods rather than to increased worker effort?

"It's the result of both," the union chief insisted. "That's why we only say we deserve our fair share of these hugely increased profits.

"As physical effort decreases, mental effort increases. This is not to say there doesn't still exist a great deal of physical effort — sweat and hard work. Innumerable improvements have been initiated by the workers," he said. "We are not loafers. We work hard. As partners in the enterprise we have something coming. We intend to get it."

What would be a "fair share?"

McDonald said that is a matter for bargaining. But he noted the union has offered to settle on the same annual increase terms that were the basis for the 1956 three-year agreement with steel firms.

"In not seeking more than that," McDonald said, "we have made a concession and a contribution to curbing economic inflation. We have not tried to hamstring the industry in any fashion."

The living cost escalator feature of the expired steel contracts—something the industry wants eliminated—must be continued in any new agreements, he said.

The escalator arrangement gears pay rates partly to the government's living cost index, adjusting them up or down according to living cost changes. The industry says the escalator results in pyramiding inflation.

"The cost-of-living factor has become part of the mores of American labor that the steelworkers union does not intend to drop," McDonald said.

How long will the steel strike last?

McDonald, who has had to cancel plans to accompany Richard M. Nixon on the vice president's current tour of the Soviet Union, said the answer is up to the industry.

"We want our people off the bricks and back at their jobs as soon as possible," he said.

State Creditors Told No Interest on Bills

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams advised Thursday that contractors and vendors owed money by the state can't collect interest unless it is provided for in their contracts.

Adams said, however, a creditor can bring suit against the state in a court of claims. If judgment is allowed, the creditor can collect up to five per cent interest on the money owed, Adams said.

The attorney general added that contractors and others owed money by the state cannot credit it against state taxes.

Numerous state suppliers waiting for their payments had raised the question of interest and the possibility of applying the money against state taxes.

Helena, capital of Montana, was first named Last Chance Gulch.

State Prepares for an Attack

Sets Up Succession Plan Should Leading Officials Be Killed

LANSING (AP) — If Michigan's state and local officials die in an enemy attack on the United States, others will quickly take over in their stead.

The framework of a plan for succession of public officials will become law in mid-October. Gov. Williams yesterday put his signature on two bills setting up the system. It, in turn, was authorized by voters in constitutional amendments approved at the April 6 election.

The new law directs the governor to designate three emergency interim successors, and specify the order of succession, in the event he and the lieutenant governor and other state administrative officials are killed in an attack. The successors must be chosen within 30 days after the effective date of the act.

Other state officers, including the attorney general, auditor general and others, will choose five emergency successors.

All are directed to take into account the advantage of appointments ni widely scattered areas.

As a safeguard, the legislature is empowered to terminate the authority of the emergency successors and call an election to fill vacancies.

A companion bill empowers local governing bodies to set up a system for selection of emergency successors to local officials.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, appointed by Gov. Williams as chairman of the commission on continuity of government, said his group will study the advisability of laws providing for legislative and judicial succession, too.

"Michigan must be a leader in the national effort to assure that if the dreaded holocaust of war should come, the institutions of democracy will be preserved by such forethought and planning," he said.

Want to Name Bridge for Newspaperman

LANSING (AP) — A resolution introduced in the Senate would name the U.S. 23 Bridge across the Saginaw River at Bay City for the late Glenn MacDonald.

MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times since 1934, died last Friday.

The resolution, introduced yesterday, cited MacDonald as "a dedicated public servant, a brilliant newspaperman and practical educator."

It said the naming of the bridge in his memory "will exemplify the progress achieved by those Michigan residents who give unselfishly of their time and efforts to help others."

Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) led the list of sponsors.

Welfare Roll Decline in May Very Sharp

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The number of Americans on public welfare rolls dropped more sharply in May than in any month since October 1950, a Social Security Administration report showed today.

Commissioner William L. Mitchell reported that during May the number of persons receiving general welfare assistance throughout the nation dropped to 1,112,000, a decline of 149,000 from April.

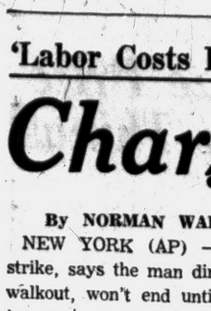

Army Nurse Corps Has New Chief Officer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lt. Col. Margaret Harper of Potomas, Ill., today was named chief of the Army Nurse Corps, effective Sept. 1.

Col. Harper, who will be 48 tomorrow, will succeed Col. Inez Haynes, Army nurse chief since Oct. 1955, who will retire to become director of the National League for Nursing in New York.

2,644 Disabled Placed

LANSING (AP) — The State Department of Public Instruction reports training programs by its division of vocational rehabilitation found jobs for 2,644 disabled workers during the past fiscal year.

Gen. Franco Promises to Adopt Austerity Plan

Once again Spain is in serious economic trouble and, as usual, has asked Western nations for help. This time Gen. FRANCO is willing to adopt some of the austerity program urged by the democracies over the years.

Since 1951 Spain has received more than $1 billion in non-military aid, defense support and surplus farm produce from the United States alone. This year the sum is $50 million in economic aid, figures for military assistance are secret.

Spain's new Minister of Commerce, ALBERTO ULLASTRES, is now in Washington to complete arrangements for loans. The International Monetary Fund is advancing a credit of $75 million; other loans totaling $235 million are being obtained from the U.S. Government agencies and 10 private banks.

As a condition to this economic help, the Spanish government is expected to devalue the peseta, restrict credit, liberalize foreign trade policies, cut expenditures and eliminate multiple exchange rates. The Commerce Minister, an eminent lawyer and economist, can do this only if he gets Franco's backing.

In the past instead of making use of its ablest citizens and dealing with the country's economic plight, Gen. FRANCO stifled all criticism and jailed highly respected citizens. It is true that Spain's civil war hindered its economic growth. But the free countries of Europe have all recovered remarkably since the end of World War II. Spain has not.

Our economic aid in years gone by seems to have been largely wasted. Recent visitors to Spain tell of the contrast between the abject poverty of the masses and the luxurious life of the wealthy.

Academy for Diplomats Opposed by Department

The State Department again has turned down suggestions of establishing a National Foreign Service Academy to train our diplomats.

The present policy is to recruit future diplomats among college graduates across the country. Entrance requirements are high and successful candidates get general training. As they progress and specialize they receive advance training in postgraduate schools, the war college or at the Foreign Service Institute.

Sens. SYMINGTON, Missouri Democrat, WILEY, Wisconsin Republican, and others favor a bill to set up a special school. But LOY W. HENDERSON, deputy undersecretary of state for administration and a veteran foreign service officer told a Senate committee that the State Department prefers to take college graduates and give them on-the-job training.

In a letter to the committee, a 30 year veteran of the service who had been asked his opinion, bluntly wrote that if a foreign service academy were established "we would probably find it caught like the military academies, in a narrow groove. The best officers we produced came from those who had the most extensive and intensive training in the liberal arts, including languages. Our object ... is not to restrict the range to any machine produced class of graduates such as an academy might turn out."

Of the 82 U.S. embassies abroad, 26 have political appointees, few of whom have had any diplomatic training or experience. Career officers aren't paid enough and must have private means to hold top diplomatic posts. In addition to this, there are only about 25 career people available for such top jobs as the U.S. Information Service, Foreign Aid programs, European Affairs, etc.

The fact is that our system of selection is not producing enough high caliber foreign service officers to meet the demand, nor is diplomacy being made attractive as a career.

It's next to incredible that American families manage somehow to support cars at considerable expense and their several wasteful and costly governments and still have enough money left to buy shelter, clothing and food.

Getting Nearer

Quest for Oil and Gas Is Now Approaching Us

Heat: What gets worse by talking about it.

Another attempt to sink an oil or gas well near Pontiac is in the offing. In our neighboring Livingston County a new technique finds "gratifying results," according to

During the last couple of years Michigan's findings in this respect have gradually been working our way, and options now are being taken on the possible location of wells within ten miles of Pontiac.

The last attempt near here was about five years ago when a well was sunk to around 5,000 feet, 12 miles northwest of Pontiac, in Springfield Township.

Some good results were obtained, but not enough to make it a profitable venture. The pipe was driven through a strata of salt over 300 feet in thickness.

It has been found that the oil and gas strata gradually gets deeper toward the east side of the state. At its customary slant, geologists estimate that it is about 6,000 feet here.

"Aw, What's the Use? He's Going Too Fast"

David Lawrence Says:

Khrushchev Fans Anti-Red Flame

WASHINGTON — Nikita Khrushchev has unwittingly contributed to his own spectacular defeat in the court of public opinion throughout the world.

LAWRENCE

The resolution passed by Congress and the President's proclamation in answer thereto, designating the third week in July as "Captive Nations week," might have gotten scant attention but, thanks to the Soviet Premier, the proclamation now has been publicized everywhere. The full text follows:

"WHEREAS the greatness of the United States is in large part attributable to its having been able, through the democratic process, to achieve a harmonious national unity of its people, even though they stem from the most diverse of racial, religious, and ethnic backgrounds; and

"WHEREAS this harmonious unification of the diverse elements of our free society has led the people of the United States to possess a warm understanding and sympathy for the aspirations of peoples everywhere and to recognize the natural interdependency of the peoples and nations of the world; and

"WHEREAS the enslavement of a substantial part of the world's population by Communist imperialism makes a mockery of the idea of peaceful coexistence between nations and constitutes a detriment to the natural bonds of understanding between the people of the United States and other peoples; and

"WHEREAS since 1918 the imperialistic and aggressive policies of Russian communism have resulted in the creation of a vast empire which poses a dire threat to the security of the United States and of all the free peoples of the world; and

"WHEREAS the imperialistic policies of Communist Russia have led, through direct and indirect aggression, to the subjugation of the national independence of Poland, Hungary, Lithuania, Ukraine, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Estonia, White Ruthenia, Rumania, East Germany, Bulgaria, mainland China, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Georgia, North Korea, Albania, Idel-Ural, Tibet, Cossackia, Turkestan, North Viet Nam, and others; and

"WHEREAS these submerged nations look to the United States, as the citadel of human freedom, for leadership in bringing about their liberation and independence and in restoring to them the enjoyment of their Christian, Jewish, Moslem, Buddhist, or other religious freedoms, and of their individual liberties; and

"WHEREAS it is vital to the national security of the United States that the desire for liberty and independence on the part of the peoples of these conquered nations should be steadfastly kept alive; and

"WHEREAS the desire for liberty and independence by the overwhelming majority of the people of these submerged nations constitutes a powerful deterrent to war and one of the best hopes for a just and lasting peace; and

"WHEREAS it is fitting that we clearly manifest to such peoples through an appropriate and official means the historic fact that the people of the United States share with them their aspirations for the recovery of their freedom and independence; now, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the President of the United States is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation designating the third week in July 1959 as 'Captive Nations Week' and inviting the people of the United States to observe such week with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

The President is further authorized and requested to issue a similar proclamation each year until dencen such time as freedom and independence shall have been achieved for all the captive nations of the world."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcoholic Husband Needs AA or a State Hospital

"I have a husband who would sooner drink than work," writes an Indiana reader. "This has been going on for years. He lets his milking go and thinks nothing of it. We have borrowed so much money and are deeply in debt.

DR. BRADY

"I'm just wondering what a woman can do about this. I need help and don't know where to go for it. Could you help me?

"You told one woman to go to A. A., which my husband refuses to do. Otherwise you said go to court. How do I go about this?

"When my husband does work a little he complains that I never do my share of it. Is a woman supposed to do more than a man? I have a 3-year-old boy and three older children.

"My husband is a menace on the highway when drunk. He thinks he owns the whole road. He endangers other people's lives.

"His mother and brothers have pleaded with him, but his attitude is that no one knows as well as he himself what is best for him."

If your doctor knows the situation he will approve and help your application to a judge of a county or supreme court, to appoint a commission (two) registered physicians to examine your husband and advise the court to commit him to confinement in a state hospital for the insane until he regains his sanity.

A man who complains because the mother of his four children doesn't do his chores while he goes on a drinking bout is insane.

If this course seems too formidable, you should at least report to the police of your community about the man's driving while under the influence of alcohol. If you fail to do so and some tragic accident occurs as a result of his irrational belief that he "owns the road" it may add remorse to your sorrow."

About his refusal to go to Alcoholics Anonymous I'll say only that his misconception of character and purpose of A. A. is unfortunate. A good many inebriates, who might get from A. A. just the understanding and encouragement they need to bring them back to sanity and sobriety, reject the suggestion because they don't know what a friendly atmosphere they will find at a meeting of A. A., where everybody is in the same boat, each wanting to help the other, and once the newcomer gets the spirit of A. A. by attending a meeting or two he or she will have made a big step towards recovery.

Nearly all alcoholics refuse to go to A. A. or seek any other help. They generally reject the suggestion as a reflection on their moral integrity. They don't need any help — they can quit drinking whenever they want to! This childish attitude defeats every effort of relatives and friends to rescue the victim. But the people at A. A., who are or have been alcoholics, will be able to convince him that help from others is just what he does need to beat the habit.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"A fellow doesn't begin to improve himself until he becomes dissatisfied with the way he is."

Voice of the People

'We Fail to Realize Price We Pay for These Things'

The moral strength of our nation has been usurped by the greed of men in the political, business and financial world. John Q. Public has been so indoctrinated that he fails to recognize the insidious strangle hold it has on his life.

He doesn't think about our government or the lobbyists in Washington who barter away our freedom in order that a few unscrupulous men can control the average man and his way of life.

These Pied Pipers claim to be our liberators by getting higher wages and government handouts for us. But what they fail to tell us is that with everything we get there is a price that we pay by spiraling inflation. Indirectly we pay for what they claim to get for us by paying higher prices and higher taxes.

Labor has its Reuther and Hoffa to fight for liberation of labor. Have we no one who will fight for our nation's moral strength? We need a Daniel Webster or a Patrick Henry who'll denounce these Pied Pipers who have deluded the working man with talk of liberation and not a word about loss of freedom that goes hand in hand with this so-called liberation.

Look Out, Nixon: Nikita Seems Primed to Erupt

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev, in an increasingly snappish mood lately, has been acting much like a man whose nerves are on edge. His disposition foretokens fireworks when he meets Vice President Nixon face to face in Moscow.

A combination of factors may account for Khrushchev's testiness. It seems likely that physical ailments and nervous tension over Soviet economic and political problems are leaving their marks.

Khrushchev has been bitten by the bug of one-man rule, Stalin style. But he is finding it lonely at the top. He seems to be showing the strain of keeping himself there.

The Soviet boss made a cryptic remark in Poland Tuesday about the Nixon visit: "I don't understand one thingwhat is his aim? I suppose he has good intentions."

Then Pravda loosed a thunderbolt at the U.S. government for daring to suggest that proole in Communist states might prefer another way of life.

A number of problems have caused Khrushchev to behave oddly of late. His cancellation of a visit to Scandinavia seemed out of character. He had virtually budgeoned the invitation out of the Scandinavian governments. Criticism in the Scandinavian press would not appear to be enough, normally, to discourage him from such a project.

At times in Poland Khrushchev showed signs of physical weariness. He is known to have a kidney ailment. At 66, the rugged pace may be telling on him.

On his way to the top of the Soviet heap, Khrushchev was able to share the strain with others who had been through the Bolshevik mill. To consolidate himself, however, he had to eliminate almost all the Old Guard from the rarefied upper Kremlin atmosphere.

The men he leans upon today are new generation bureaucrats and technocrats. Politically they are pale substitutes for the single-minded, ruthless products of the old school, tempered in the forge of revolutionary bolshevism.

Last month he was obliged to call an extraordinary meeting of leading Soviet personalities.

The main concerns of this meeting were certain failures in industry and agriculture to measure up to the ambitious terms of the current seven - year plan upon which Khrushchev stakes his leadership. The plenum ran five days. Its echoes reverberate in the press in bitter complaints about such matters. These pressures can have internal political effects.

Khrushchev is increasingly touchy about criticism from abroad. In his ignorance of Western democracy, he may be convinced much of the outside world waits eagerly to be liberated. Having assumed the role of chief liberator, he may be hurt when his intentions are questioned or when the outside world shows skepticism about communism's promises of a better life.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

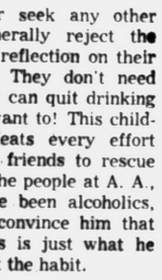

Sterility May Cause Baby-Mania

Tina has a common sex problem. But she is making a mountain out of a molehill. Much of women's desire for children is to prove their sexual normalcy. That's why foster children will quickly change a tense, neurotic woman into a happy, motherly personality. Memorize the last paragraph below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-395: Tina T., aged 27, was weeping as she entered my office.

"Dr. Crane, I am so unhappy," she began, "that I feel almost like ending my life.

DR. CRANE

"Last month I had my womb removed on the advice of two specialists so now I can never have a baby of my own.

"What's the use of living? And how can I hold my husband's love?"

You sterile wives should read your Bible more often. And memorize the first book of Samuel, Chapter 1.

Therein Hannah grieved, too, because she was sterile. She was almost eating her heart out for lack of a son.

She had a wonderful husband who loved her, as indicated by his remonstrance in the following Bible verse:

"Then said Elkanah her husband to her, Hannah, Why weepest thou? And why eatest thou not? And why is thy heart grieved? Am not I better to thee than 10 sons?"

But Hannah couldn't believe her husband, as many sterile wives also can attest.

"He is just trying to be kind and considerate to me," is the usual feeling of such a wife.

For it is a paradox of women that they often try to avoid pregnancy when they think they are normal, but then develop a mania to have a baby as soon as they get the notion they can't bear a child.

And one reason why millions of sterile wives get this baby-mania is not just because they love infants or are afraid they may lose their husband's affection.

No; their secret reason for growing neurotic about lack of a son or daughter is the fact they will be publicly labeled as sterile.

Human beings are almost frenzied in their desire to meld with their own sex and be like all the rest.

Men will grumble about having to shave every day, yet hardly a male would consent to having his beard removed permanently. Women likewise grumble about their menstrual periods, yet they grow crazy with fear of losing them.

In fact, that's why surgeons leave a slight amount of uterine tissue at a hysterectomy, just to serve as a sop to the woman's ego.

For then she still will function on woman's menstrual cycle, even though the major part of the womb has been amputated and she never can conceive.

At the age of 45, many women likewise go almost berserk. And it isn't because of any revolutionary change in their internal secretion, but largely because they don't function every month like so-called "normal" women.

"I must be abnormal," is their secret fear thereafter.

And the adjective "abnormal" is then translated into its common synonym, "insane," after which they may subconsciously try to generate symptoms of the psychotic person to match their diagnosis of themselves.

If you wives can't bear babies, then try to legally adopt them. And in the meantime, become foster mother to an entire group of youngsters, as by teaching a Sunday School class every week, or chaperoning a Girl Scout or Camp Fire Girl group.

Remember, your husband married you because he loved Y-O-U. And he'll always love you, with or without children if you remain alluring and a jolly, ego-inflating helpmeet.

Hunt Fireflies in Spare Time for Fun and Profit

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Need a second income? You might try catching fireflies and selling them to a chemical company here which is willing to pay 25 cents for 100 of the live insects.

The firm wants to collect a million fire flies because they are good sources of two chemicals called luciferase and luciferin, which combine to put the on-and-off glow into the bug's tail.

Scientists of the Sigma Chemical Co. will use the luciferase and luciferin to measure the amount of adenosine triphosphate in human tissue. This compound is the source of energy for many reactions of the human body.

Will Tear Down Imperial Hotel

Plan to Save Portion of Frank Lloyd Wright's Famous Tokyo Building

By RONALD P. KRISS

TOKYO (UPI) — The owners of Tokyo's famous Imperial Hotel, designed by the late Frank Lloyd Wright, have decided to get rid of the crumbling masterpiece — but they'll leave a few bricks intact for sentiment's sake.

"We'll probably tear down both wings of Wright's buildings," said Ichiro Inumaru, executive director of the Tokyo tourist spot.

"But the front entrance and the lily pond are well-known sights in Tokyo, so we'll keep them. The Peacock Banquet Hall is a big money-maker, and we'll keep that too."

The operators of the hotel give the impression that they'd like to tear the whole thing down and replace it with a gleaming, ultra-modern structure.

But, wary of demolishing Wright's Imperial entirely and erasing one of Tokyo's foremost landmarks, they say they will try to leave at least part of it intact.

"On the other hand," said Inumaru, "things might change and the foundation of the old building might sink a little more. It's already sunk three feet. Then maybe we'd have to tear it all down."

It's a safe bet that Wright would have greeted the Imperial's current plans with cold scorn. Twice before, when the hotel added new buildings to the original without consulting him, the crusty old architect lashed out at the designs as "horrible."

This, perhaps, is why the hotel's owners waited until a few months after Wright's death early this year before they got busy with plans for replacing his famous building.

Right now, the Imperial consists of three buildings. Wright's low, rambling structure, 30 years older than the others, opened in 1923 and survived the devastating Kanto earthquake of the same year, one of the worst in history.

A seven-story annex went up in 1954 and a 10-story addition opened last year. Wright called the annex "horrible."

When he saw drawings of the newest building he said, "Oh, no!"

The new buildings have 600 rooms and the old one, 300. Inumaru said nine out of every ten guests, frightened by the unfathomable maze of corridors and the tomb-like interior of Wright's hotel, ask for rooms in one of the new buildings.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sunday Law Orders:

Drink Beer, but Lay Off the Peanuts

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—If you're in St. Joseph Sunday and would like a beer, you'll have no trouble buying it. But just try to buy a sack of peanuts to nibble on. Or a package of cigarettes.

A new city ordinance governing business on Sunday was adopted recently by the City Council of St. Joseph, a city of 78,588 in northwest Missouri.

It was drafted by City Atty. Fred E. Schoenlaub and his staff of five to liberalize an old blue law which said, in effect, don't buy, don't sell and don't play on Sunday.

The new version exempts businesses which provide emergency, necessary or recreational services. Hospitals, hotels, service stations, drug stores, theater and restaurants are among those businesses allowed to open on Sunday.

But drug stores can sell only medicines. Groceries can sell fresh produce, dairy products and soft drinks but not packaged foods such as peanuts. And service stations can sell only gasoline and oil.

Legally, you can't buy tobacco in any form—or matches for that matter. You can buy oil for your car, but not an oil filter. You can buy a soft drink or an ice cream bar at the movies—but no popcorn.

And, you can buy 3.2 per cent beer. Restaurants are exempt. Missouri law requires all taverns to serve food.

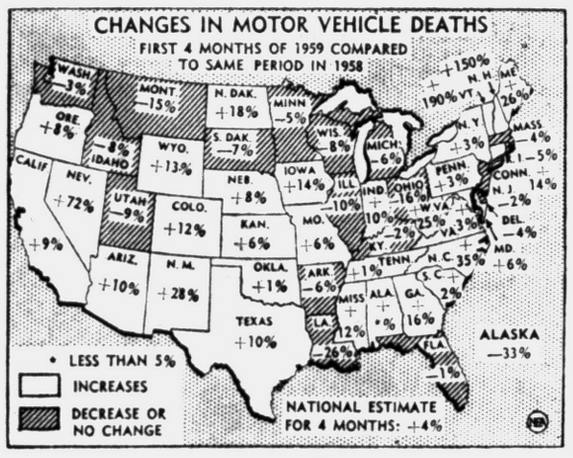

One clever restaurant owner got around the tobacco ban. He simply boosted the price of a glass of milk from 10 to 35 cents and threw in a package of cigarettes as a premium.

The new law caused no public concern until last Sunday. That was after Schoenlaub, acting on orders of Council President Garth Landis, ordered police to enforce the ordinance.

And enforce it they did. Five persons were arrested for selling various items—such as a bottle of ketchup. All were released on bond, and their cases have been continued.

The citizenry was outraged.

TRAFFIC DEATHS CLIMB — Newsmap gives state-by-state percentage change in motor-vehicle fatalities for the first four months of 1959 compared with the same period for the previous year. Fatalities increased 4 per cent for the country as a whole. State registering the biggest increase was Vermont, up 190 per cent. It was followed by New Hampshire, up 150 per cent, and Nevada, up 72 per cent.

State Title Hopefuls in Saturday Battles

DETROIT (UPI) — Four contenders for Michigan boxing titles will be in action tomorrow night in the first of a series of monthly bouts at the State Fair Coliseum.

Detroit heavyweights Dave Shoulders and Sam White are paired in one of the eight-round bouts. The winner will get a crack at state champion Willie Coleman.

Another eight-rounder pits Bob Keeling, Louisville, Ky., against LeRoy Jeffrey, Detroit, in a battle to decide who will fight Gene Gresham for the Michigan lightweight crown.

Two other bouts are also scheduled. The fights are put on by the Big D Boxing club. Matchmaker is Julius Piazza.

Water Rate Hike Set

OWOSSO (AP) — An increase of about 25 or 30 per cent in water rates will go into effect here in August, the City Commission reports.

Murrow Applies for Commission in Naval Reserve

The Navy said Thursday that Murrow applied to serve in the public information field. It was reported that if the commission is granted Murrow would have the rank of commander.

Murrow, 51, said he has no radio or television programs in mind now that are related to the Navy. He is on a year's leave of absence from the Columbia Broadcasting System, although he plans to do two TV documentaries next year and continue to appear on the Small World program.

Goodrich Gives Plant to Cadillac

Rubber Firm Closed Factory 2 Months Ago Despite Citizens' Efforts

CADILLAC (UPI) — The B. F. Goodrich Co. announced Thursday that it will give its Cadillac plant, valued at upwards of $250,000 to the City of Cadillac "to dispose of it as it wishes."

The plant, which manufactured extruded rubber and employed about 200 persons, was closed two months ago. Goodrich officials said the plant was closed because it was not making a profit.

Announcement of the unprecidented transaction was announced by Goodrich president J. W. Keener and came as the result of negotiations by the Chamber of Commerce Industrial promotion committee.

The actual transfer of the 143,000 square foot plant and all of its property totaling about 13 acres will be effective Oct. 1, Goodrich officials said.

The one-story plant was built by the Acme Truck Co., one of the city's major employers before the depression. Goodrich began operations in the plant in 1937 and at one time during World War II employed more than 600 persons.

Cadillac residents were shocked in February when Goodrich announced it would close the plant. In the weeks that followed Cadillac residents pledged $35,000 in a unique "bet" with Goodrich that the plant would show a profit if the company would continue operations. Money pledged to the fund would have gone to the rubber firm to cover its losses if the plant operated in the red.

But Goodrich rejected the offer and went ahead with plans to shut down the plant.

Russia Reports Two War Crimes Sentences

MOSCOW (UP)—Two death sentences in a war crimes trial held 14 years after the war were reported today.

The newspaper Soviet Russia said the chief defendants at the seven-day trial at Rostov were Semizorov and Bondarev (no first names given), charged with aiding Hitler's Gestapo, participation in mass executions, torturing Russian citizens, burning Ukrainian villages and fighting partisans.

About 39 billion cans, worth $1.5 billion were produced in the United States in one year to contain about 1,500 food and non-food items for market.

Pick Journalism Head at Central Michigan

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) — Dr. Gil Maienknecht has been named head of Central Michigan University's new journalism department, CMU President Judson W. Foust said today.

Foust said Maienknecht will continue to serve as head of the University's information services. Journalism has been taught at CMU since 1900 and a major in the subject was offered by the English Department last year.

11 State Employes Ask Revenue Job

LANSING (UP)—Eleven high level state employes have applied for the $17,500 job of state revenue commissioner.

Louis M. Nims, present commissioner, will retire after the first of the year. The job is unique in Michigan in that it is filled by state civil service commission appointment after competitive examinations.

Wednesday was the deadline for filing for the position.

Among those applying were Frank M. Landers, director of the state budget division; Frank Blackford, state insurance commissioner; William R. Hart, deputy auditor general; and Clarence W. Lock and Henry C. Schroder, deputy revenue commissioners.

Other applicants included George M. Harlow, chief of the motor fuel tax section of the secretary of state's office; Sheldon E. Markle, director of field administration for the state tax commission; John Q. Adamson, head of the accounting division of the state liquor control commission; and Gerit Van Coevering, Donovan J. Rau and Roy Struble, all division directors in the revenue department.

President to Reveal Flag Next Month

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower plans to disclose the design of the new 50-star American flag toward the end of next month.

In announcing this Thursday, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the new design will be unveiled at the same time the president issues a proclamation on official admittance of Hawaii to the union.

As for the flag design, Hagerty said the same procedure is being followed as when Alaska became the 49th state.

Eisenhower has reconstituted an advisory committee to help him reach a decision as to how the 50 stars will be arranged. The committee is made up of representatives of various government agencies.

Legislature Sends It to Williams

Clears 'Right to Know' Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill to assure public access to school board meetings was waiting Gov. Williams' signature today.

The so-called "right-to-know" measure, backed by the Michigan Press Assn., cleared the legislature yesterday after House approval of minor Senate amendments.

It would require school boards to open their meetings to the public. Closed-door executive sessions could be held, but not for taking any final action.

Also sent to the governor was a bill to permit small loan companies to lend up to $1,500, raising the present $500 ceiling. New interest rates would lower charges on loans below $50 but double those in the $300 to $500 range where loan companies do most of their business.

Other changes would permit pre-computation of interest, deferred payment charges and issues of life insurance to protect the loan company, with the borrower paying the premium.

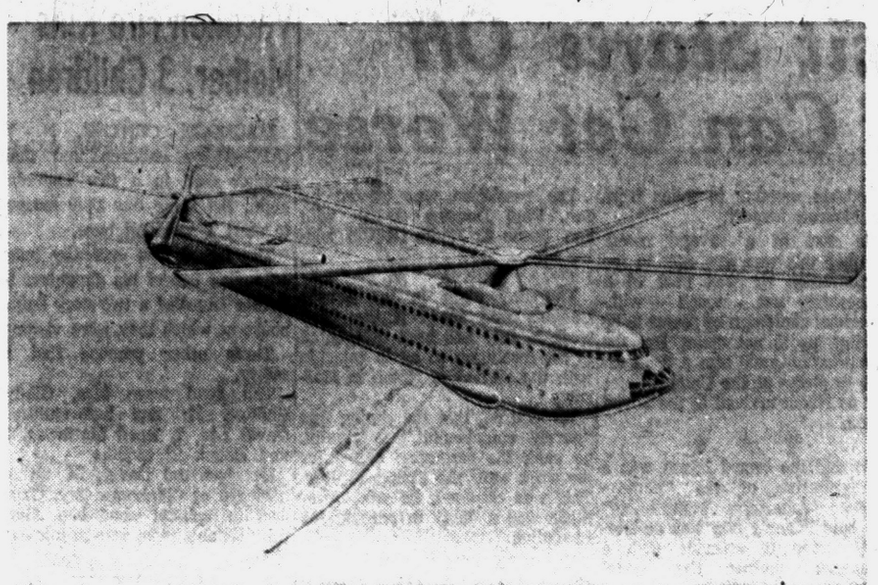

Rep. Willard I. Bowerman (R-Lansing) lost a last-ditch move to kill the measure, contending loan companies already get adequate rates. He predicted Gov. Williams would veto it.

The House rejected a Senate-passed bill to remove a requirement that the state highway department make a good faith offer before making a determination of necessity in buying up right-of-way.

Tobacco Lures Buffalo

PALATINE, Ill. (AP) — Buffalo farmer L. B. Andersen has discovered that one of the most effective taming devices is a supply of cigarettes or loose tobacco. Andersen said the animals are fond of tobacco and will venture very close to him to get a chew.

TOMORROW'S OCEAN LINER? — A giant helicopter, 300 feet long, powered by nuclear energy, takes flight from the drawing board in artist's conception above. It's more than a flight of fancy, however. Preliminary studies the Air Force by Bell Helicopter Corp., though for such a craft have just been completed for there are no plans at present to build it. The projected behemoth would weigh half a million pounds—10 times more than any 'copter in existence—and be able to carry troops, passengers or cargo on its many decks at over 200 miles per giving it virtually unlimited range.
hour. Atom power could keep it aloft indefinitely,

Kittens See 'Combat'

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)—Two black kittens went through amphibious maneuvers with First Division Marines. They were loaded, unnoticed, into the hold of the USS Pickway, a troop transport, with camouflage nets. Acting Cpl. R. G. Balzarett and Sgt. J. R. Hoy found them and took care of them through the amphibious landing and found homes for them with married Marines.

Planned to Dynamite Struck Mill

8 Textile Union Members Get Prison Terms for Plot

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — Eight members of the Textile Workers Union drew long prison sentences Thursday after their conviction for conspiring to dynamite a struck cotton mill.

The eight included Boyd Payton 51, Carolinas director of the union who led the long and often violent strike at the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills here.

Superior Court Judge Raymond Mallard sentenced Payton to 6 to 10 years at hard labor. Judge Millard said: "I hope all of you gentlemen will some day come to understand that the law is bigger than you, bigger than the union, bigger than any organization. The good people of North Carolina will not tolerate anyone holding themselves above the law."

Payton's aide, Lawrence Gore, and Charles Auslander, 47, of Spray, a minor union official, also received 6 to 10 years at hard labor.

All eight were convicted on three counts of conspiring to blow up an office building, the boiler room and a substation feeding power to the South Henderson plant of the mills.

The other defendants and their terms: Warren Walker, 38; Robert Edward Abbott, 21; Calvin Ray Pegram, 22; and Johnny Martin, 57, each received 5 to 7-year terms; and Malcolm Harrell, 23, received 2 to 3 years.

Notice of appeal was given for all eight by their lawyers.

Judge Mallard, who has a reputation for being hard but fair, told the defendants and their lawyers:

"We need unions in the United States. We do not need a union or union officials who think and act like they are above the law. Fear has run rampant in Henderson and Vance County the last few months. I don't know who caused it, but it must end right here."

Supply Fleet Steams North

Canadian Vessels Head for Lonely Outposts in the Arctic

WASHINGTON — A vast supply fleet is steaming north this summer with thousands of tons of stores for lonely outposts in the Canadian Arctic, a huge land of growing possibilities.

This year the Canadian Ministry of Transport is moving a record 80,000 tons of supplies along with missionaries, traders, Royal Canadain Mounted Police officers, and health and welfare representatives.

Inhabitants of the scattered settlements along the desolate, treeless coastlines regard the arrival of a supply ship as the high point of the year, the National Geographic Society says.

For some Arctic dwellers, a supply vessel means the essentials of life — and perhaps a few luxuries — for the whole year. For the waiting sick, it means medical care. For accused criminals, it means a legal trial. For far-flung posts of the Canadian police and isolated radio and weather stations, it means the annual inspection.

Few settlements have any docking or cargo handling facilities. So more than 1,000 men will go north by sea and air to help get the shiploads of supplies ashore by tender. The task is not easy. Many unloading points are beset by drifting ice even in August.

The vessels will operate from Quebec to Hudson Strait and Baffin Island. Some will travel still farther north up Foxe Basin to Cornwallis and Ellsmere Islands where there are Canadian-United States weather stations.

Not one Canadian in a thousand lives in the Arctic. Hardly one in a hundred ever sees it. Yet Canadain territory above the treeline — the true Arctic — covers more than a million square miles.

The Canadian North — sometimes defined as the Northwest Territories and the Yukon — is still vaster; it is big enough to contain more than half the United States excluding Alaska.

A single island, Ellesmere, is nearly the size of England and Scotland combined. Yet the island has a population of only about 60, not counting walrus and musk ox.

The rugged land is not, however, a perpetually frozen waste where nothing grows. Summer days can be hot. There are bees, flowers, and, alas, mosquitoes.

Court Summons Waits for Groom in Bomb Shelter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Life in a bomb shelter may be confining, but it's free of some complications that exist above ground.

A summons for a civil suit has been handed to the sheriff's department for service on Melvin Mininson when he and his bride emerge Saturday from a two-week honeymoon 10 feet under Miami. The suit contends Mininson and another man failed to go through with a deal to buy a beauty parlor.

Mininson, 28, and the former Maria Rodriguez, 27, were wed beside the shelter July 12 and descended into it to publicize the 21½-ton structures and point up civil defense.

At the start of 1959, 4,925,000 persons were covered by employer-employe pension plans in the United States.

Committee Approves Equal Time Exemptions

WASHINGTON (AP) —The House Commerce Committee has approved a bill that would exempt radio-television newscasts from the equal time rule.

The rule provides that a station giving time to one political candidate on a program must give the same amount of time to all other candidates. Under the bill, interview programs and coverage of political conventions also would be exempt.

Nixon's Soviet Visit Starts Off on Wrong Foot, Can Get Worse

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's good will Soviet visit has started off sticky and can get worse. If it does, President Eisenhower and the Senate will have to ask themselves if their timing was bad.

Nixon, whose gladhanding Latin-American tour a year ago was met with spit and stones, got a shocking reception Thursday just about the time he landed in Moscow and started shaking hands with all in sight.

Twenty miles away Premier Nikita Khrushchev, angered by a recent anti-Communist gesture of Eisenhower and the Senate, was deriding the United States and calling Nixon's visit part of a plan to embarrass the Soviet Union.

On July 6 the Senate, by voice vote and with little debate, passed a resolution calling on Eisenhower to proclaim the third week in every July as Captive Nations Week. Eisenhower issued the proclamation July 17.

This was the latest of many similar American reminders that the Soviet Union was holding the satellites in thralldom. It was supposed to serve several purposes:

To remind the satellite people the United States hasn't forgotten them; and to strengthen Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's hand in dealing with the Russians at Geneva on the Berlin problem.

How this could strengthen Herter's hand is hard to see. A Senate resolution on an old theme wasn't going to make the Russians weak-kneed. It was nothing more than a gesture.

And, since this country isn't going to war to free the satellites and there is no visible likelihood of their getting freedom otherwise, the only immediate result could have been expected: it irritated the Russians.

So, Nixon's Soviet visit is billed as a good will tour whose climax of this resolution and proclamation is open to question.

For this reason: when Nixon landed in Moscow it was in the middle of the Captive Nations Week as proclaimed by Eisenhower.

Khrushchev, who had just returned to Moscow himself from a trip to Poland about an hour before Nixon's plane touched down, hastened to address a Polish friendship meeting 20 miles from the Moscow airport.

He was in a savage mood. Whether this was due only to the proclamation or was part of a deliberately get - tough - with-American campaign he seems to be building up is not clear. But the proclamation gave him a good excuse to strike at the United States just as Nixon arrived in the Soviet Union.

He told the crowd Nixon was a representative of the "panic - stricken American imperialists" and said Nixon's trip was deliberately timed to coincide with a campaign against the Soviet Union.

The Senate and the Eisenhower administration both might have anticipated that—by letting Captive Nations Week coincide with the week of Nixon's arrival in Moscow — they might be giving the Russians a chance to embarrass him. And the Russians chose to react just that way.

Any of the year's 52 weeks could just as easily have been designated Captive Nations Week. Why, then, was the choice made of the very week that Nixon went to Russia? The answer seems to be: thoughtlessness all around and not deliberate timing.

The resolution was offered by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill), with Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) joining in.

Thursday night in the Senate Douglas was asked if the third week in July had been designated in his resolution so as to coincide with the arrival of Nixon in Moscow.

He said no, that the timing was "purely coincidental." Originally, he said, the resolution called for the week after the Fourth of July. This was changed, he said, after there was a delay in passing the resolution.

Vacation Fire Kills Mother, 3 Children

MACEDON CENTER, N. Y. (AP)—Three children and their mother died in a fire Thursday night, the same day they arrived to start a vacation here.

The father was critically burned saving one of his daughters as flames engulfed a two-story frame house at which they were visiting.

Three other persons fled to safety.

The dead were Mrs. Gladys Phillips, 32; and her children, David Lee, 7, Reed Matthews, 3, and Helen, 22 months.

Her husband David, 35, an oil geologist of Oklahoma City, Okla., was in critical condition. Mary Ann, Helen's twin, was in fair condition.

It Would Be Deserted

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Howard Godfrey of the City Planning and Zoning Department nearly broke up a meeting of the Mayor's Traffic Safety Committee with this crack: "I have the answer to the traffic problem. Let's allow on the streets only cars which are paid for."

A budget is something that lets you continue to live beyond your means — except that now you have a record of it . . . The modern woman spends about 75 per cent of her time sitting down, figures show. — Earl Wilson.

Long Heads for Kansas Minus Wad

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A dejected Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana prepared today to head for Kansas City minus a wad of cash he lost on the horses.

He plans to transact a bit of business on his Kansas City stopover. He wants to confer with ex-President Harry S. Truman about 1960 Democratic presidential possibilities.

He had intended to go night-clubbing during his three-night stay in Denver. He wanted to see strip-teaser Tempest Storm and had reservations at the club where she is appearing. Instead he snoozed in his hotel suite through all her performances.

He also intended to motor to Fraser, Colo., 75 miles northwest of Denver, Thursday. He said he wanted to "see that place where it gets so damn cold." Instead, he remained in his room making long-distance telephone calls.

Lecithin, the Great Restorer, May Help You

By LELORD KORDEL
Installment Eleven

We were having dinner on the Nelsons' patio, beneath the California stars—Jerry and Julie Nelson, Dr. Steve Preston, who is a brilliant professor of economics, and I. I hadn't seen the Nelsons since my last trip to California. Julie was as lovely as ever, but Jerry's face looked pale and drawn.

LELORD KORDEL

Suddenly and without a word, Jerry slammed down his coffee cup and stalked into the house. Julie's frightened eyes followed him.

The door behind us slammed again and Jerry came out with a cocktail shaker. His hands were trembling as he poured himself a drink.

"Don't let my nerves spoil the party," he said.

"Jerry," I said, "you're going to have the same nerve cells as long as you live. Your body can't grow new ones. The way you care for the ones you have will determine whether or not you will have a strong nervous system or a weak, jangly one."

"Nothing helps," Jerry said. "I've taken sleeping tablets until they don't even faze me. I still can't sleep. And I'm so irritable I don't know how Julie stands it."

"Did you ever hear of lecithin?" I asked him.

"Lecithin?" he said. "No, I don't think so."

"It's a food substance," I said. "It's been found to be an essential constituent of the human brain and nervous system and also of the endocrine glands and the muscles of the heart and kidneys.

"Nervous, mental, or glandular overactivity can use up lecithin faster than it is replaced. Then you become irritable and exhausted."

"What's that you're saying?" asked Jerry.

"It's true, Jerry," I said. "A lecithin deficiency causes all of that and more. The drained vitality of the cerebrospinal fluid must be replenished. A nervous breakdown can result from lack of lecithin, as any really well-informed physician would tell you."

"Could it be a lack of lecithin that causes Jerry's nervous exhaustion?" asked Julie.

'I'M EXHAUSTED'

"Don't you understand?" cried Jerry. "I tell you, I'm exhausted, completely drained, mentally, physically, and emotionally. Just living is too much effort."

"Jerry," I said, "your symptoms show nerve and gland exhaustion. Lecithin added to the daily diet helps overcome nervous exhaustion, headaches, insomnia, brainfag and senility."

"Those all hit me," said Jerry. "All except senility, which won't take long at the rate I'm going!"

"Brainfag," said Steve. "That interests me. Almost every teacher I know suffers from brainfag and nervous tension. Seems to be an occupational disease with us."

"Lecithin," I went on, "is a component of the nervous system, making up about 17 per cent of it. That's why, if the body's own supply of lecithin decreases—which it does as we grow older or work under stress, or for various other reasons — lecithin must be added to the diet, or the nervous system will envitably break down."

"How do you take it?" asked Jerry. "You said it wasn't a medicine."

"It isn't." I said. "It's a concentrated nerve nutrient, extracted from soybeans. The granular type can be sprinkled on your food or mixed in liquids. And it also comes in capsules. It isn't to be taken in place of your vitamins and minerals, but to augment them. By the way, Jerry, I hope you do take vitamins and minerals?"

"Isn't lecithin comparatively new?" asked Julie.

"Not really new." I said, "but the use of it has developed amazingly during the past twenty years."

ACTIVE RESTORER

Dr. Nicholas A. Ferri tells us: "Lecithin has a versatile function in life. It is reputed to be an unusual neutralizer of body poisons, whether they are of internal or external origin. Shattered nerves, depleted brain power, waning activity of vital glands, find in lecithin the most active of all restorers."

Many of your nerve fibers are surrounded by a sheath of somewhat fatty substance, the myelin sheath. This protective sheath is rich in lecithin, which nourishes your nerve cells and supplies them with motive force.

In lecithin deficiency, the fatty sheath is depleted, and we know some of the results: fatigue, irritability, brainfag, sexual decline, nervous exhaustion or even a complete breakdown.

Lecithin is valuable in preventing atherosclerosis, constituting as it does a vehicle for transporting the fat about your body. It makes the globules of fat move on, and prevents their settling on the artery walls or infiltrating the liver and other organs.

"Lecithin should be used by every man," I said to Jerry. Naturally, depending on the need, some men will benefit more than others. But no man can fail to derive exceptional benefits from adding lecithin to his diet."

"I'm going to get some tomorrow," said Julie, "and start feeding it to Jerry every day, come rain or shine."

"You'll see an almost immediate change for the better in him," I said. "You know, the nerve tissue is especially rich in lecithin in the morning. But during the course of the day nerve strain reduces the supply. That's why so many husbands come home from work grouchy and generally cantankerous."

"It's too bad I didn't know about this, some time ago when I was tension-ridden and exhausted," Steve said. "Maybe I could have salvaged my own marriage."

I looked at both men searchingly. Two interesting, attractive men. Extremely intelligent, high-strung individuals, using up tremendous amounts of nerve and gland energy each day: both would find in daily lecithin a potent restorer of life forces.

Hart to Talk at Charlotte

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) will be the main speaker at the Michigan Third District Democratic committee meeting here July 26.

Crum Denies Bribe Inference

Defends Union Offer to Pay Monitor's Fee If He Did Not Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bartley C. Crum says he did not mean to imply in sworn testimony that Edward Bennett Williams, a Teamsters Union attorney, had offered him a bribe.

Crum, a New York lawyer, filed a statement Thursday with the Senate Labor-Management Committee saying his relations with Williams had been on the highest professional level.

In testimony to the committee July 13, Crum said Williams told him the Teamsters would pay the fees of Godfrey P. Schmidt as a court-appointed monitor for the union if Crum did not testify to the committee.

But in his statement Thursday Crum said he wanted the record to show that no inference should be drawn from his testimony about a conversation with Williams that the payment of Schmidt's fees hinged on Crum's not testifying.

Crum said there was no foundation whatsoever for an inference that Williams in effect offered a bribe.

Crum has represented Schmidt in Schmidt's efforts to collect $28,000 in fees from the union for his monitor services. Schmidt recently resigned as one of the three Teamsters monitors.

Williams told the committee July 13 that Crum's statements about him were completely false. Thursday Williams told a reporter Crum's testimony "was false and this is his way of conceding it, as far as I am concerned."

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), committee chairman, said Crum's new statement emphasizes the necessity for the Justice Department "to pursue the matter with a view of determining who committed perjury and to prosecute the guilty and vindicate the innocent."

Hope Signs Prankster's Blank Check

LONDON (AP) — Bob Hope sleepily signed a blank check held out by an autograph seeker as he waited for a plane to Brussels today.

"The boy dashed off with the check, calling back that he wanted to have some fun with his friends," the American comedian told a reporter at London Airport. "I hope he doesn't have too much fun.

"However, I didn't use my bank signature, and if the check should be presented, my bank wouldn't honor it—I hope."

Hope was en route to the Belgian capital to keep a golfing date with King Baudouin, whom he met during the King's recent tour of America.

Auto Muffler Wears Asbestos Wrapper

FLINT — Every 1959 Buick wears an asbestos "muffler" on its muffler for the same reason Junior wears a woolen one around his neck on wintry days — to keep warm.

"The result is the longest-lived and most effective exhaust system in the automobile industry," says Oliver K. Kelley, Buick's chief engineer.

"The asbestos wrapped around the steel muffler reduces the amout of condensation responsible for rust damage and lengthens muffler life considerably."

Buick uses a triple-shell mufler. The inner shell is made of zinc-coated steel, pioneered by Buick expressly for this purpose. This shell is then wrapped with asbestos and enclosed by another zinc-coated steel shell.

Driver Bails Out of Brakeless Auto

Car Shoots Down Nob Hill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—William Gerrard's car started down Nob Hill. He hit the brake. No response.

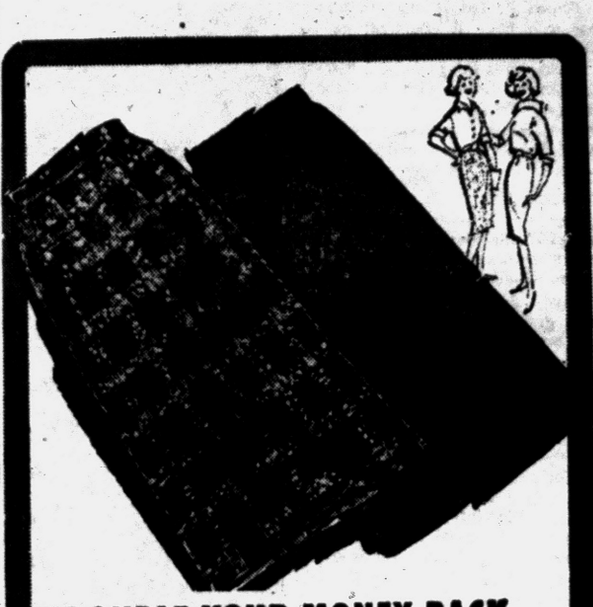

He stuck out his leg and dragged his foot. After three blocks, his heel began to smoke. So the 25-year-old insurance agent bailed out, tearing his pants as he rolled over.

His car careened across five downtown blocks, hitting four other cars but injuring nobody.

Police said he could have used his hand brake. It worked.

Spinsters Make Dandy Gardeners

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. — "Spinsters make the best gardeners," write a man who has made landscaping a hobby. He's troubled by a lawn he has treated but which looks worse than before he aerated it, limed it, fed it organic plant food and gave it chemical grub-proofing.

Taking first things first, I would completely agree with him that spinsters do make the best gardeners. So do grandmothers and so do bachelors and retired married men, providing they don't also own large dogs.

One of the quickest short-cuts to good gardening is a lack of small children and frolicking animals around the place. It's extremely difficult to have a putting green lawn, for instance, if the lawn is also used seasonally for baseball, football, tag and prolonged hose-fights.

It is much easier to have a neat garden where there is no Rover to bury bones or make himself a comfortable cool nest on top of the candytuft.

And it is infinitely easier to have a good garden when one can devote great hunks of time to fussing around in it — a practically insurmountable problem for mothers with small active children.

As a matter of fact, busy young parents with extremely limited time for the joys of gardening would do well to confine their gardening during these washing and ironing years to putting in easily-maintained ground covers, sturdy grasses, shrubs and trees.

EXPERTS FOR LAWNS

As for uncooperative lawns which fail to respond to even the best advertised of treatments, only an expert on the scene could make a proper diagnosis.

It often seems to me, anyway, that gorgeous lawns are a special English art, mostly induced by the cool, rainy British climate which is great for grass growth but discouraging to sun and hot weather-loving weeds.

Besides, there is no general prescription for a good lawn . even the business of liming should be postponed until one makes a test to determine whether the soil has a calcium deficiency.

And many of the modern chemicals used for pest and weed controls are likely to cause browning — temporary if used properly.

Meanwhile, for most of us hobby gardeners, we have turned the corner — in our thinking at least — into fall. It's time to transplant iris, if the beds have become crowded; to make cuttings of such houseplants as ivy, coleus and geranium for next winter's window sill garden.

Keep the withering flower heads from seeding on annuals and biennials if you want to keep them blooming, and sometimes you can get a second blooming from phlox by cutting off the first when it starts to look ragged.

And for some late flowers sow seed now of such annuals as Shirley poppy, cosmos, mignonette and annual phlox to add to the autumn's chrysanthemum an aster color.

KEEP SPRAYING

Many of the plants, still blooming will benefit from a tonic now, to provide them with quickly available nutriment. And of course, keep up with spraying, watering and weeding.

There's still eight or nine weeks of good growing weather, too, in which to get biennials started for next year.

SWEET AND BIG — Lee Hackney, of 58 E. Rutgers Ave., proudly displays this prized apricot tree growing in his orchard. He says the tree produces apricots equally as good as those on the market, maybe even a little sweeter and bigger. The 12-year-old tree suffered a bit in the drought, but is still producing fruit as it has every year in the past.

Rose Wins Women's Vote in National Poll

The rose is 'way out front again in the national flower debate. This time in a poll taken among rural women's clubs throughout the U.S.

More than seven thousand members of such clubs registered their choice during the past month in response to a national flower ballot mailed to rural women's clubs.

Club members voted six to one in favor of the rose over its nearest competitor, the carnation, and actually gave the rose twice as many votes in the national flower derby as all six of its official competitors put together.

Replies to the poll came in from all states except Hawaii and Alaska. Total vote cast was 7516, with the rose getting 5252 of them.

Legislation to have the rose named as the official U.S. floral emblem was introduced in Congress this session by Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. Other candidates that have official backing besides the rose and carnation are marigold, corn tassel, black-eyed susan, poppy and grass.

One Big Drink Each Week Is Best for Thirsty Trees

Thirsty woody youngsters, whether they are evergreens or deciduous trees or shrubs, respond best when put on a regular watering schedule for the hot weather season.

Nobody can really specify just how thirsty a tree really is or precisely how many waterings are required to slake this desire. However, a watering schedule of once every seven days seem to fit most situations. The first Summer and Fall is the particularly critical time.

With the dog days, there may come warning landscape signals that your newest tree pets are in trouble. Seared lawns and wilting flower beds undoubtedly mean your trees are suffering, too — even the stalwart old citizens, particularly if storm sewers have changed the natural water tables.

USE SPRINKLERS

Playing the hose around the base of a tree for a few minutes hardly fits the requirements. Adequate watering calls for application over the large root area with sprinklers or soil soaking devices. This assures penetration to the lower soil area where roots will reach greedily for it.

Some of the more dedicated weekend gardeners now use various types of hydrospears, slim watering needles, that can be inserted into the soil at points where water is needed most. In any event, there is no short cut to doing the job properly.

Lush Eras Swell Landscapes but Thinning Is Due

Even landscapes may have to go through thinning days after boom times. The landscapes in question are those that were planted early in the post-World War II home building spree.

Now, almost a decade and a half later, the outdoors decor may be growing into greenery slums—overcrowded and anything but eye-pleasing. Ten or 15 years after trees and woody shrubs have been planted is a good time to survey them for thinning.

Deciduous and evergreen shrubs commonly used for foundation plantings may have passed the point of no return. Chinese elms, silver maples and other fast growing trees often use not only their allotted space but usurp more from less aggressive neighbors.

Strategic thinning is more than a preventative of further crowding. It also calls for removal of trees with structural faults that threaten safety and eventually must bow to the axe, anyway. Potentially jungle-like settings are not only eyesores but shut off the sun from lawns and threaten healthy shrubbery.

SHRUBS NEED SCANNING

The most unkempt landscaping probably reflects efforts of some home developers to assure quick shade and that much sought after "established" look. But the get-lush-quick look of ten years or more ago now requires the professional eye scanning it for corrective measures.

The professional tree man knows the best specimens to retain and can suggest a gradual program of tree trimming. This will allow desirable trees to develop while eventually eliminating the woody ogres.

Rose Wrap Developed

New for the green-thumb set: Protective wrapping for rose bushes developed by the Agricultural Department in cooperation with the University of California. The wrap is a lightweight paper coated with polyethylene. It keeps rose plants moist without rotting.

Water Essential to Rose Care

Beat the heat! That's the big problem for the rose grower during the summer months, but the solution is fairly easy. In one word it's water — plenty of it to keep up a steady flow of nourishment to your plants.

Water is absorbed through the roots of the plant, carries the nutrients of the soil up into the leaves, and is eventually passed off by evaporation. Sturdy modern plants such as the pre-tested All-America varieties will stand up well under extensive variations of heat and cold, but their vigor demands the nourishment which can be provided only with an adequate supply of water.

The winners of this year's All America award are Garden Party, Fire King and Sarabande, each of which has been tested in special trial gardens located in different sections of the country.

Observations made during the experimental period indicated that vigorous plants like these transpire as much as five gallons of water every day during the hot months of July and August.

The most important consideration in water is to make certain that the job is thoroughly done. The means that the soil must be soaked completely so that the water will carry down to the deep roots of the plant. Remove the nozzle from your garden hose and set the mouth on a board or shingle which will spread the water over a wide area and prevent erosion around the base of the plant.

AVOID WETTING LEAVES

Avoid wetting the leaves or merely spraying the surface of the ground—this does virtually no good at all. Overhead sprinkling, if thorough, may safely be used in arid areas where there is very little summer rain.

The other jobs to be done during the summer are not difficult but should be carried out on a regular basis. Regular use of a spray or dust will control the major insect pests and will arrrest black spot and mildow, the most common fungus diseae.

Application of sprays or dusts should be made about once every ten days in the early morning or the late afternoon. In hot weather the applications should be increased because black spot and mildew thrive on dampness.

Weeding is a permanent chore in any garden, but it can be made almost non-existent by laying down a thick mulch of peat moss, buckwheat hull, compost, well-rotted manure or some shredded material The mulch also helps to absorb some of the intense heat on the ground surface and to protect the hairlike root system which grows near the surface.

A feeding of ¼ to 1-3 of a cup of commercial plant food applied at three to four week intervals will increase the vigor of the plant and the size and quality of blooms.

The Summer chores in the rose garden are simple, and they are the best guarantee of good results.

Swat All Those Bugs

On your morning walk through the garden make sure to pause and examine a damaged spot on any plant. If you find a worm or aphids making a living there, eliminate them right on the spot, for the surest way to avoid the horde of pests in future generations is to eradicate their ancestors!

Best Time to Plant, Transplant Is Now

This is the best time of year to set out many of your favorite garden plants — no need to wait till spring!

Mid-August to mid September is the ideal time to plant iris, peonies, daylilies, and other fleshy-rooted, spring or summer-flowering hardy perennials. It's also a good time to transplant daffodils, tulips, and other spring bulbs.

In all but the coldest states, you can plant or transplant both needle and broad-leaved evergreens. And, if it's more convenient for you, lilacs, forsythias, mockoranges, and other spring-flowering shrubs, as well as many balled-and-burlaped trees, can be planted or transplanted now.

Newly set plants, as at any time of the year, should be kept well watered (but not soggy) unless there is plenty of rain. This is especially important with trees and shrubs. As winter approaches, mulch all newly planted trees and shrubs with six inches or more of leaves or other loose litter.

Soap Saves Gardenias

Special to gardeners — a soapy solution sprayed on a gardenia plant will loosen and wash off the sooty mold which often attacks this sensitive plant.

Borers Put Bite on Big Dogwoods That Are Thirsty

It shouldn't happen to a dogwood, but borer injury frequently does!

Infestation is avoidable, but the horse may be out of the stable and the adult insect out of the wood by this time. The infestation that began in the spring usually leaves little external evidence. Borer presence is evidenced only when branches begin to die or when the life cycle is complete and exit holes of the adult insect are found.

Don't worry about spraying now—it's too late for that. However, you can help your dogwoods survive the ordeal by keeping them in reasonably good vigor. This means seeing that the trees have plenty of water and that they are pruned and fed with a good food high in nitrogen content.

The common dogwood borer (Thamnosphecia scitula) is considered one of the widest ranging and most destructure species. Fortunately, excellent control is afforded by springtime spraying.

That is why every weekend gardener who prizes his flowering dogwoods should circle a reminder on next year's calendar. Thorough wetting of the trunk and large branches with a DDT solution seems to thwart the malevolent borer.

The 1957 record of $17 billion spent by Americans on their vacations in restaurants, resorts, hotels, gas stations and retail stores is expected to be met or surpassed in 1959. To help promote more visitors, hotel and resort advertisers invested over $19 million in daily newspaper advertising, an increase of over 8 per cent over the previous year.

Ocean Bottom Gives Up Its Secrets

By LEONARD ENGEL

ABOARD RESEARCH VESSEL VEMA (AP)—The most inaccessible region on earth is the bottom of the ocean.

Submarines have gone as deep as 1,000 feet. The bathyscaph—a special vehicle for deepwater diving—has been down to 13,000 feet.

Vast reaches of the ocean are 18,000 feet deep or more. In the Marianas Trench west of Guam, British and Soviet research ships have sounded the almost unbelievable depth of 36,000 feet—deep enough to bury Mt. Everest, with a mile and a quarter to spare.

In spite of its inaccessibility, the ocean floor is being made to reveal its secrets. Submarine mountains more massive than any on land; canyons dwarfing the Grand Canyon of the Colorado; plains that stretch for hundreds of miles without a rise of as much as a foot; delicate starfish and other forms of life marvelously adapted to the dark, near-freezing waters and thousands - of - pounds - per-square - inch pressures of the ocean floor.

Oceanographers visit this strange, hidden world with the eyes, ears and hands of science—instruments that can go places and do things impossible to man himself. While I was aboard the Columbia University research ship Vema, one or another device for exploring the ocean bottom was constantly in operation.

Vema and three other ocean research craft were trying to find a good drilling site as the first step toward a historic sea-exploration project: the bold Mohole scheme for drilling a hole through the earths crust beneath the sea.

"We won't know for some months whether a good place for the Mohole has been found," declares Dr. Arthur Maxwell of the Office of Naval Research, co-sponsor, with the National Science Foundation, of the Mohole survey. "By the time the data collected is analyzed, however, no area of the ocean will be better known than the survey area of the Atlantic north of Puerto Rico."

Another device, the thermograd, can be put down to the bottom to feel and record temperatures within the ocean floor, and tell, for instance, whether volcanic activity is taking place near by. An eye for viewing the ocean floor is furnished by the bottom camera.

But the most striking tool for probing the bottom is a 40-foot piece of steel pipe surmounted by a finned weight shaped like a foreshortened rocket. This is the piston corer. Gravity and an ingenious piston arrangement drive it up to 80 feet into the ocean floor and punch out rod-shaped samples of the layers of mud and sediment forming the sea bottom.

Cores brought back by the 1½-ton machine reveal not only the nature of the ocean floor but hidden chapters from earth's book of history.

During the Mohole survey, Vema averaged a core every other day. Analyzing the core samples will take several months. Tension always mounted aboard the ship when the three-man coring gang turned on the powerful diesel motor of the winch that pays out the miles-long heavy steel cable carrying the corer.

The corer often comes up badly bent from its jarring encounter with the ocean bottom. Moreover, there is the ever-present possibility of the cable breaking—an accident that at least means loss of the corer and thousands of feet of snarled cable, and can send the cable whipping across the deck like a lethal snake.

Vote Board Members Decline to Serve

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. John Patterson said Thursday all three newly appointed members of the Macon County voter registration board have declined to serve.

Thus the county where Negroes outnumber white residents nearly 6 to 1 is still without a functioning board to register new voters, White or Negro.

No board has held office there since last December when the two remaining registrars resigned in the face of an investigation by the U.S. civil rights commission.

Patterson made public copies of letters from the three board members appointed last week — chairman Howard Lynn of near Notasulga and J. H. Sadler and John Sullivan of Tuskegee.

All three said they declined to serve because of pressure for Negro registration in the county and because of federal intervention.

Plan Pollution Survey of Flint River Next Week

LANSING (UPI) — A 48-hour survey of the Flint River expected to give complete information on pollution was scheduled to get under way next week, the water resources commission said Thursday.

The survey will take samples of the river from Flint to Montrose every 2-3 hours, said district engineer Robert W. Parker.

It was scheduled to begin this week but rains and high water forced postponement, he said.

The Flint survey is aimed at learning how much industrial waste and treated sewage can be drained into the river without damage, Parker said.

Texas was a republic from 1836 to 1845 when it was annexed by the United States.

ELECTRIC HEAT

Electric heat lets you dial just the warmth you want, room by room. The temperature can be up in one room, down in another. And because heating begins right there, as soon as you touch the thermostat, you can always add extra warmth fast. No need to start up a complete heating plant and wait.

Instead, the room is quickly and quietly filled with clean, comfortable heat (not dry, but with natural moisture kept in the air). And it's uniform, too, with temperatures varying only two or three degrees from ceiling to floor.

Plus all these benefits—whether you're buying, building or remodeling

EXTRA SPACE

Electric heating units are completely built in. You can put to better use the space otherwise needed for chimney, fuel storage, piping, furnace or boiler.

CLEANLINESS

Walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay clean longer because there are no products of combustion to circulate. Electric heat is the cleanest heating method that has ever been devised.

REDUCED RATE

Beginning June 1, residential customers can take advantage of a new, lower rate—2¢ per kilowatt-hour when monthly electrical consumption is over 750 units, or kilowatt-hours. Though other living costs have been rising steadily during the past several years, electricity remains one of your biggest bargains—now more than ever, with this new and lower rate step.

EFFICIENCY

All of the heat created is usable heat. None is wasted up a flue. And with individual control, there is no need to overheat several rooms in order to raise the temperature in just one.

FLEXIBILITY

Electric heat can replace regular baseboards—can be built into the walls or ceiling. Whether it be one room or the entire home, there is a system to give better heating—electrically.

SAFETY

Electric heating systems are designed to distribute heat safely, gently. Concentrations of superheated air are eliminated. There is no combustion process.

CARES FOR ITSELF

Set a thermostat, then forget it. Except for forced air units, electric heating systems have no moving parts. There's nothing to rust out, no filters to replace, no waiting for fuel deliveries.

ELECTRIC HEATING — LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY — CONTRACTOR

from several types of electric heat

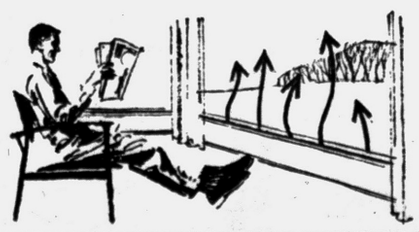

Your choice will be influenced by whether you are building, completely remodeling or simply adding on or finishing off an extra room.

Electric heating units can be installed almost anywhere: They can be embedded in plaster ceilings, set into the floors, built into the walls or used to replace the baseboards.

Whatever type you choose, be sure your home has good insulation, properly installed. Regardless of the heating system used, good insulation is needed for maximum comfort and economy.

THE ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP

works on an entirely different principle from the units described above. It is a year-round climate control system which heats in winter and cools in summer—automatically. It also filters and dehumidifies the air.

Many Products Go Into Perfume

Flowers aren't the only things that make perfume sweet. The modern perfumer has about 1,500 products to choose from, and sometimes uses hundreds in one scent.

Perfumes are extracted from wood, bark, gum, root, kitchen herbs, seeds, nuts, grass, and animals. The beaver, civet, sperm whale, and male musk deer are chief blenders.

Big Coats Set Pace in Italy

Belted Tweeds Go With Slim Suits and Dresses

By SUE CARDOZO

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — The big belted overcoat is the pet of Italian fashion collections for the coming fall and winter.

The eight days of showings in Rome and Florence ended Thursday night. The couturiers joined in a buckle up, muffle up refrain.

Heavy muted tweeds were fashioned into a cape-back silhouette, bulky and round-shouldered, with deep low-set sleeves baring the wrists.

RESTRAINT KEYNOTE

The Italian collections on the whole were sedate, tailored cautious. Their frivolity was restricted to fur trimmings, chunky necklaces and an occasional flounce.

Dark colors and conservative fabrics dominated daytime clothes, But lame (pronounced lah-may), embossed satin and encrusted lace ran riot at night.

Suits and dresses generally were straight and slim, with hemlines below the knees. Tunic tops came back, both fitted and loose. Suit jackets tended to hug the hips.

The waistline wandered slightly, mostly south. Hemlines frequently were doubled by the prevalent use of redingotes, middies and coats slightly shorter than the skirts beneath.

TWO OUTSTANDING

The collections of two designers under 30 were outstanding.

Roberto Capucci showed voluminous evening coats and trim tunic suits. Patrick de Barentzen, Fath-trained Frenchman showing for the second time in Rome, scored with low-slung trench coats and imaginative detail.

Other highlights of the Italian pageant of style were Irene Galitzine's Trompe l'Oeil suits, Fabiani's girded tweed ponchos, and the knitted silks seen among the Florence boutique offerings.

Mingolini-Gugenheim, Fontana and Gattinoni offered pleasing but conservative selections. Their lines ranged widely to suit the many tastes of their large clientele. Fontana exploited the riding coat suit to the fullest, adapting it for wear from the morning through after-theater parties.

Carosa and Veneziani also had conservative collections featuring well-bred, tailored creations.

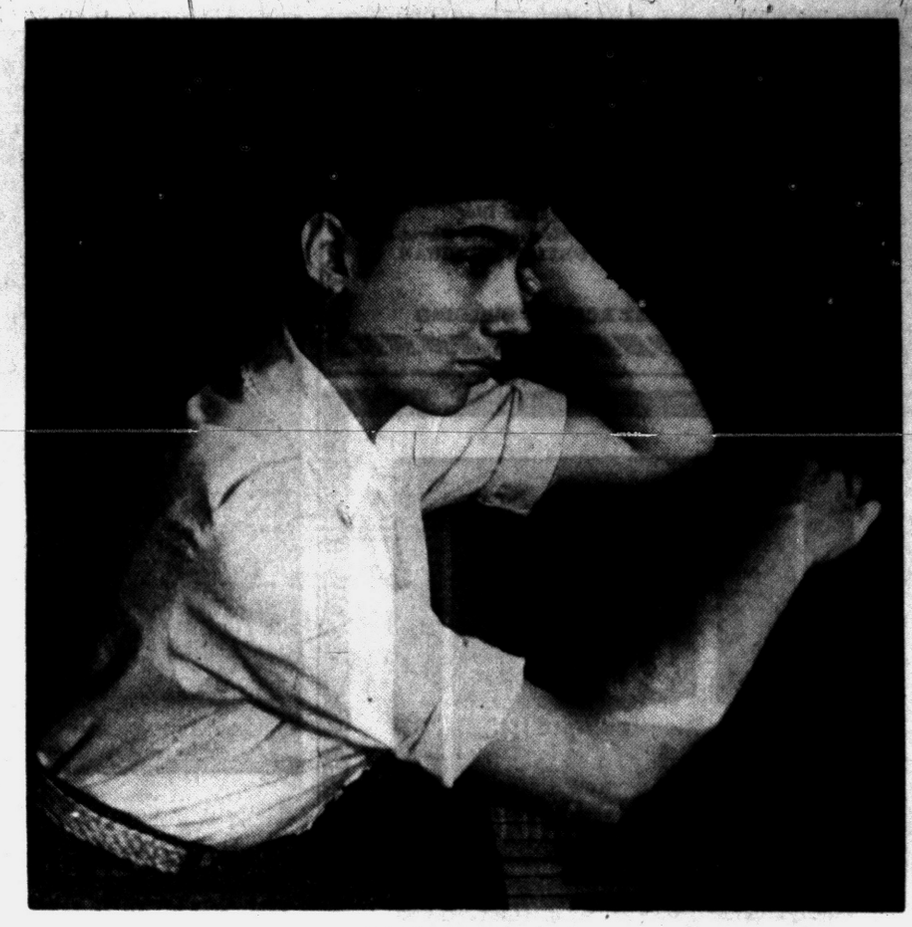

Presbyterian Group Meets

Thirteen members of the Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church met Thursday at the church's Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Ralph Osborn, Mrs. Clarence Failing and Mrs. Edith Hillman participated in the program.

Guests of the day were Mrs. David Anderson of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Val Richards of Toledo, Ohio.

RUTH MECKLER

By MAX E. SIMON

She started her studies before the age of three.

Now a mature artist of 21, Miss Meckler, winner of the Bendetson Netzorg Memorial Award, will be featured in the fourth Cranbrook Gardens Music Festival concert at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

A lot has happened to the Detroit-born girl since she was first introduced to the keyboard by her mother, who taught her until she was 10.

Miss Meckler has studied with the internationally-renowned concert artist, Rudolf Serkin, at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, and this year received her diploma from the celebrated music academy.

She plans to return to Curtis for another year of study with Serkin.

Although her teacher is in great demand as a performer, he immediately flies back to Philadelphia and, therefore, has enough time to devote to his students, Miss Meckler explained.

She receives a lesson a week, usually lasting an hour and a half.

5 HOURS A DAY

"Five hours of practicing a day are a must for Serkin," Miss Meckler said. "It really is good, though. Not only does it build technique and interpretation. It's also good for endurance."

She has no favorite composers or compositions. "I like Beethoven, Schubert, Bach, Brahms," she said. "Whatever I'm playing at the moment I like best."

Although Serkin believes she's ready for a concert career, Miss Meckler has no illusions about the future.

The road to fame for a musician is hard and full of perils. Many talented performers never reach the top. And she knows it.

"Perhaps I can be successful in the chamber music field or as an accompanist," she said. "These musicians are certainly great artists in their own right."

Despite her many years of study, she has just recently begun to appear frequently before the public.

RECENT APPEARANCES

"I just didn't feel that I was ready before," she said. She has performed with the South Oakland and Pontiac Symphony orchestras and last week played the Beethoven Fourth Piano Concerto with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at the State Fair Grounds.

She has already made a recording, the Tschaikovsky Trio in A Minor, for Recital Records, in which she was joined by Gordon Staples, violin and Paul Olefsky, cello.

The performance of the trio at Cranbrook last year was one of the outstanding events of the 1958 festival.

She has been described by music critics as "the most important woman pianist to emerge from Detroit" and a "superb interpreter of great music.

She will be joined Sunday by Staples, Olefsky and Paul Schaller, clarinet.

The program will include the Beethoven Trio in B Flat Major, the Brahms Trio in A Minor, and Bartok's Contrasts.

Olefsky, principal cellist of the Detroit Symphony, will perform a Fantasy for Cello which was expressly written for him by Foss Lee Finney, composer-in-residence at the University of Michigan.

The final concert of the festival will be held Sunday, Aug. 2. It will feature Mischa Kottler, distinguished Detroit pianist.

Tickets for festival concerts are on sale at Grinnells in Detroit and Birmingham and at the garden gate on Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, at concert time.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer W. Bedford of Marquette street announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Lucille, to David Lee Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jones of Mt. Pleasant.

SHARON L. BEDFORD

Shower Fetes Bride-to-Be Joanne Doyle

Joanne Doyle, bride-elect of James Slater, was honored at a shower July 18, given by Mrs. Thomas Foster at her Arislow Lane home in Birmingham, and Mrs. Janice Mazza.

Parents of the couple who will be wed Aug. 29 at St. Benedict's Catholic Church are Mrs. Thomas Doyle, of Chalmers street and the late Mr. Doyle, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slater of S. East boulevard.

Guests present for the affair included Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. John White, Mrs. Harry Shearer, Mrs. Stephan Ernst, Mrs. Jack Roerink, Mrs. Jennie Regas, Mary Lou Blair, Carol Soules, Lee Hess, Karla Stoddard, Jim Lowery, Judy Old, Don Corey, Mr. and Mrs. Bill White, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Brannan, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wakeman, Tom Foster and James Slater.

News of Personal Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Allen and children, JoJeanne, Terry, Steven and Paul III have returned to their home in Washington, D. C., after spending 10 days with Mr. Allen's parents, the Paul J. Allens of Oliver street.

Mrs. Ebey Gives Bridal Shower for Jean Trout

Mrs. Ray Ebey of Woodlow road honored Jean Trout with a bridal shower Tuesday evening.

Jean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trout of Birchcrest street will become the bride of Eldon Runkel Aug. 8 at United Church of Christ. Eldon's parents are the Leonard Runkels of Livonia.

Guest list for the affair included Mrs. Trout, Mrs. Victor Nelson, Mrs. Richard Thomas, Mrs. William Grimes, Mrs. Harold Trout, Mrs. Harold Mullen, Mrs. Roscoe Zimmer, Mrs. Ted Hooks, Noreen Bigelow, Margaret Dow, Mrs. Edwin Hooks, and Mrs. Richard Trella.

Mrs. Ray O'Neil and son, Ronald, have just returned to their West Walton boulevard home following an extended motor tour of the West Coast.

The O'Neils are welcoming as their houseguest, Mrs. Elizabeth Stahl of Hollywood and Antelope Valley, Calif.

The infant's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carleton C. Patterson of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sligh Jr. of Holland.

Thirty-eight were present including the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taber of Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taber of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. William Warrilow of Pompano Beach, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Warrilow of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Born July 21 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Tollenaar) of South Roselawn drive, was a daughter, Kim Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tollenaar of Starr avenue are the maternal grandparents. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maison of Illinois avenue.

After spending a two week vacation in Bay View, Mrs. Everett C. Russell of West Iroquois road and Mrs. L. T. Bindley of Flint, formerly of Pontiac, returned Sunday to their respective homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burr of East Mansfield avenue announce the birth of a son, Mark Alan, July 21 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Select Secretary of Year

By CHRIS MacGILL

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The nation's newly selected Secretary of the Year came here with the "conviction" she didn't have a chance to win that honor.

"I was told I had two strikes against me because I came from New York," said blonde 49-year-old Alicia Cogan.

The widowed mother of three grown children was crowned as the country's top secretary Thursday over five other finalists at the 14th annual convention of the National Secretaries Assn.

Mrs. Cogan, who says loyalty and thorough knowledge of typing, shorthand and filing are the prime requirements for a good office aide, is secretary to Edgar J. Buttenheim, chairman of the board of the Buttenheim Publishing Corp., New York. She has held the post for 17 years.

Julie Lawler, personal secretary to Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, was runner-up. Third place went to Agnes Brown of Indianapolis, secretary to the president of the American States Insurance Co.

Other finalists were Barbara Brett, Riverton, N.J.; Louise Dahms, Kankakee, Ill.; and Edna Davis, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The six were selected on the basis of education, experience, appearance and poise.

Their final hurdle came when they appeared one by one before three judges and over 1,000 association members to tell how they would solve certain office problems.

Each was asked what qualities she would look for in an assistant, how she would deal with an important member of her firm who kept barging uninvited into the president's office, and what advice she would give a young employe offered a better job with another firm headed by a man of questionable reputation.

Mrs. Cogan said she would seek loyalty and versatility in choosing an assistant and would "play up my femininity" in gently persuading the intruder to make an appointment before seeing her boss. She said she would tell a young associate not to consider accepting a job which might be morally corrupting.

Jeannine Stickel Feted

Bride-elect Jeannine R. Stickel was honored at a linen shower Wednesday given by Mrs. Charles Eaglen. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Morris on Kohler street.

Miss Stickel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stickel of Haddrill court, will marry Roy Etton Roeser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roeser of Wayne, on Aug. 22 at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Guests were Mrs. Louis Church, Mrs. Lester Smith, Mrs. William Sheffield, Mrs. Jack St. John, Mrs. Russell Harris, Mrs. Robert Stickel, Mrs. Lester Stickel and Mrs. Ard Bigham.

Mark It Urgent . . . Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of ours is caring for a sweet little old lady who is a semi-invalid. This old lady is a close relative (and I'm not saying how close because I don't want anyone to recognize the case) to a person who is high up in show business.

ABBY

This famous person in show business sends $3000 every month for the care of this old lady. She is not getting that care. I've gone over there at night and found her all alone in the house, sleeping in a chair. If a fire broke out she wouldn't have a chance.

I've walked in and seen her eating cold cream of wheat for her supper. My husband says I should mind my own business. What would you do?

NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: I would send a registered letter marked "URGENT AND CONFIDENTIAL" to the person paying for her care. I'd state the facts and sign my name.

DEAR ABBY: When a man marries a girl who is fresh out of college, he doesn't expect her to be the world's greatest cook and housekeeper. But how much brains does a woman need to know that she shouldn't starch her husband's underwear?

JUST MARRIED

DEAR JUST: That's a pretty stiff question. Give her time.

DEAR ABBY: Can you please tell me why my husband has to have pictures of naked girls hanging up all over the place? He got naked girls on the walls of our bedroom, hallways and on all the closet doors. The garage looks like the outside of a girlie show. I am ashamed when somebody sees them. He is 55. We have a married daughter and a son who is still home. Now our son does the same thing. Tell me, is my hubsand sick or something? MRS. E.

DEAR MRS. E.: If your husband suddenly started this childish business, perhaps he IS sick and ought to see a doctor. If he has always been this way, he is simply immature.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with children. I have found so much consolation in going to church, but now I find myself in love with my pastor. I enjoy every minute I am near him. Neither the pastor nor his wife (she is a lovely person) knows how I feel and I would never let on. I'm afraid I can't hide my feelings much longer. I don't want to give up going to his church. Please tell me what to do.

A READER

DEAR READER: (You are one reader I am not going to send to your clergyman.) What you feel is not "Love." It is a composit of respect, admiration, devotion and gratitude. Try to find a worthwhile single man in whom you can become interested. And regard your pastor as a spiritual leader and a good friend.

Let Guests Go; Then Read Mail

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine received a letter from a mutual friend while I was at her house, and excusing herself she opened it in my presence. After reading the letter she wanted me to read a part and in order to let me look at it, folded the letter in such a way that I could not read the rest. I think this was very rude myself, and would like to know what you say about it."

Answer: Unless she had reason to think the letter might have some special news which would be interesting to you, she should not have opened it in your presence. But having opened it, she should not only have read the part that she thought of interest to you as she came to it, but have explained further that she had read the letter hoping for some expected news that she was waiting to hear. In the way she did it she plainly proclaimed that the letter contained something she did not wish you to see.

"Dear Mrs. Post: There has been some discussion here at home as to whether or not it is wrong to pass anyone on the stairs. The apartment house in which we live has no elevator. We live on the third floor. My wife says it is impolite to pass on the stairs and that one should wait for the other. I have never heard of any such rule and would very much like to have your opinion on this."

Answer: If the stairs are wide enough to pass without danger of jostling, it is not at all impolite to do so.

Pencil and Blend

Avoid Hard Eyebrow Line

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Question Box

Q. "So many women in their fifties and sixties find that they have very thin eyebrows and that many of the hairs they have are grey. What can be done about this? An eyebrow pencil often gives a hard look."

A. I knew one woman who always used mascara on her brows. She used this very lightly but so that every hair was covered. This would get away from the "lined" appearance. However, you would have to be careful about removing the mascara so as not to break the hairs.

If you use a pencil artfully with little light strokes and then blend them with your finger or a little eyebrow brush, you will avoid the dark line. A brown pencil is better for this than a black one.

Of course your eyebrows can be dyed but you must be sure first that you have an expert operator and it is most important that you have a test first to determine whether or not you are allergic to the dye.

Q. "Are blackheads inherited? My mother and all of her sisters have them and now I am getting them."

A: No we couldn't really say that blackheads actually are inherited. However, the type skin could be; for instance, an extremely oily one. Also it may be that beauty care was not emphasized in the family and therefore the complexions have been neglected.

Q. "I am troubled with hardness under my toenails. I remove it but it comes back again. Is there anything I can do for it?"

A. This is usually due to some past injury. I do not know of anything you can do but suggest that you see a chiropodist or podiatrist.

Q. "I have large cheeks. Would facial expressions help this?"

A. I wonder if you mean facial exercises? Facial exercises will make no difference. As to facial expression just keep your natural one. Anything else would make you look strange. If your face is round, you can make it look more slender if you arrange your hair high on top and close at the sides of your face.

Do not worry too much about fat cheeks. Many people find them quite attractive and when you grow older you will be thankful for the extra padding between the skin and the muscles of your face. Of course if you are overweight a loss of poundage will help.

Tomorrow: "Your Undergarments Must Be Right for You."

Keego Urban Renewal Fears Are Answered

Wheat Farmers Vote 4-1 for Rigid Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's wheat farmers voted by a better than four to one margin to continue rigid government control over their 1960 crop, returns showed today.

In return they will receive high price support assistance. The alternative rejected by the farmers was unrestricted plantings and sharply reduced price props.

Returns from all of the 39 states participating in yesterday's wheat referendum showed 80.7 per cent of the farmers in favor of the present wheat program. The almost complete vote was 160,718 to 38,522.

A two-thirds majority was needed to keep the controversial program in effect another year. Farmers gave a 84.1 per cent endorsement in the 1958 vote.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, who has bitterly criticized the present program for producing surpluses, told a news conference in advance of the returns that he did not believe Congress would revise the program at its present session.

Benson said it would be "unfair" for Congress to pass new wheat legislation now in view of the referendum. He said it was "very regrettable" that Congress did not enact the administration's wheat plan calling for lower price supports.

The present rigid program calls for planting allotments totaling 55 million acres, marketing quotas based on the allotments, and price supports at the present minimum level of 75 per cent of parity or not less than $1.77 a bushel.

If the farmers had rejected the controls, they would have received price supports of only 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.18 a bushel. President Eisenhower said Wednesday it was a "sorry choice" the farmers had to make.

About 1,000,000 wheat farmers were eligible to vote in the referendum, but as usual only about 200,000 actually cast ballots.

Much of the criticism of the present wheat program has stemmed from its failure to prevent overproduction. Government-held surplus stocks are now large enough to meet all domestic and foreign requirements for the next two years.

Oakland MEA Names Officers

Avondale High School Head Elected President at Dinner Meeting

At a recent dinner meeting of the Oakland County District of the Michigan Education Assn., representing approximately 1,100 teachers, Rosco V. Crowell, Avondale Senior High School principal, was elected district president for the 1959-60 school year.

The meeting was held at Avondale High School.

Other officers elected were Clinton Galbraith of Lake Orion, vice president; Helen Harding, Oakland County Office of Education, secretary; and Viola Krueger, Avondale Schools, treasurer.

Named as delegates to the state convention for two-year terms were Sanford Burton of Huron Valley, Mrs. Harding and Crowell.

Crowell also has been selected as one of the three people to represent the Mea at the eighth annual meeting to be held in Washington, D.C., from July 31 to Aug. 8.

This is the first time that the United States will be host to this organization Crowell said. He attended the World Confederation of the Teaching Profession as a delegate when it was held in Frankfort, Germany, in 1957.

Auto Accident Injures Four

Chain Reaction Crash Involves Three Cars on Dequindre Road

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Four persons were injured yesterday in a chain reaction accident involving three cars on M59 east of Dequindre road here.

Injured were Raymond Brewer, 56, of 6722 Auburn Rd., Shelby Township, driver of one car; his wife Clara, 55; and Mrs. Eldina Walker, 43, and her daughter, Beverly, 15, who were passengers in the car driven by Mrs. Walker's husband, Franklin.

The Walkers are from Detroit.

All four were taken to Avon Center Hospital near Rochester where Brewer, Mrs. Walker and Beverly were treated and released. Brewer had broken teeth and a cut lip. The Walkers suffered minor neck injuries.

Mrs. Brewer remains in the hospital today where she is listed in satisfactory condition. She sustained possible head injuries.

Driver of the third car in the accident was Donald Schulton, 32, of 46120 Schimmell St., Shelby Township.

Romeo State Police said a fourth vehicle was halted at the intersection to make a left turn. Schulton's car stopped, Walker also stopped and then Brewer's car hit the rear of Walker's sending it into the car ahead.

Brewer was ticketed for failure to stop an assured clear distance behind.

MARGARET CLAPP

A late-summer wedding is planned by Margaret Clapp and Dr. Curtis A. Steele. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Clapp, of 5105 Elkin Rd., Commerce Township, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlo L. Steele of Springfield, Ohio.

Orion Sets Date of Open Hearing on Zoning Law

ORION TOWNSHIP — Township officials have set Aug. 12 as the date for a public hearing on a new zoning ordinance.

The hearing will climax years of work on the project. The previous zoning ordinance was adopted in 1948.

The new law will provide for three residential classifications, a multi-family residential district, business district, manufacturing district and recreational area.

The Township Zoning Board has also approved the rezoning of about two acres of property owned by Dewey Guletie on Maybee road from residential 1 to commercial to permit a dog kennel. Final ratification will be up to the county zoning board.

The Township Zoning Board has voted to ask the local Board of Education for its opinion concerning the establishment of an auto bump shop on Joslyn road near the Carpenter School.

Advises an Open Mind to Employe Suggestions

DETROIT — Operators of employe suggestion plans must have a mind receptive to new ideas if an atmosphere conducive to creative thinking by employes is to be brought to a successful conclusion.

Joseph A. Anderson, vice president of General Motors and general manager of AC Spark Plug Division, advises that "a plant-wide state of mind favorable to new ideas can be a gold mine under your nose."

He cited possible loss of valuable suggestions if key suggestion program operators react negatively to eithe obvious or obscure recommendations by plant personnel.

Job Research to Aid Students

Members of the Cooperative Counselor and Teacher Training Program, designed to acquaint high school students with job requirements and compensations, have finished their research and are now comparing notes prior to distributing their findings to the area's high schools.

Headed by Dr. Carl M. Horn, director of counselor training at Michigan State University, the program began June 22. Participating high school teachers and counselors were assigned to study every phase of some particular business or industry for two weeks.

After the two-week study period each participant was to make a report to the entire group. The teachers and counselors talked with company officers, personnel directors and employes, and poured over the records made available to them, in preparation for their individual reports, some of which extended to 40 typewritten pages.

On July 6, the entire group began touring the places where their fellow researchers had been stationed. They visited the Kresge Co., Socony Mobil Oil Co., Kroger Co., Henry Ford Hospital, Greenfield Restaurants, National Bank of Detroit, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Montgomery-Ward and Ex-Cell-O Corp.

EVALUATION SESSION

Following the tours, a panel discussion was held, allowing members to evaluate the program and to exchange ideas regarding business and industry.

This fall, program members will return to their schools with an increased knowledge of opportunities existing for high school and college graduates, as well as for the few who do not complete high school.

Students will be given a thorough knowledge of company fringe benefits, training programs and personnel policies.

The teachers and counselors reported that the greatest problem of students leaving high school and joining the labor force was a lack of initiative, an unwillingness to accept responsibility, whether the job was routine or complicated.

Area teachers participating were Kenneth J. Battani and Thomas Terry of Clarkston High School; Velma Tibbett of Armada High School; Mrs. William Duckwitz and Mrs. Franklin Sullivan of Walled Lake High School; James Jones of Jefferson Junior High School, Pontiac; and Kenneth Spurr of Mount Clemens High School.

Rapid Growth Threatens Living Standards of All

By DICK HANSON
Press Suburban Editor

KEEGO HARBOR — The haphazard growth of Keego Harbor, stimulated by a rapid spreading out of Detroit's population in recent years, is threatening to overwhelm this city of 3,000, bringing with it substandard living conditions in many blighted areas of the community. This is the reason given last night by Bernard Schroll, regional director of urban renewal, for a revamping of the city's layout—which constitutes urban renewal.

He was one of three experts on urban renewal present to answer questions of residents at a meeting in the Roosevelt school here last night.

It was evident at the meeting that many people in Keego fear plans for urban renewal. Mainly, their fear is that urban renewal threatens them with outright loss of their homes through condemnation proceedings or later by taxes too high for them to meet when it is time to "pay the piper."

On the second count, that of taxes, it was explained by George Conklin of the Federal government's regional office for urban renewal that the piper already has been paid.

In a recent vote, the people of Keego Harbor approved the city's spending of $500,000 for a central sewer system to tie in with Oakland County's proposed Farmington interceptor sewer. This tax money, which already is on hand, would constitute Keego Harbor's cost for urban renewal, supplemented by another $1,000,000 from the federal government.

The federal government has alloted several billion dollars for urban renewal projects, where requested, throughout the land. This already has been paid by the people in federal taxes.

"If Keego Harbor doesn't request urban renewal, some other community will get the money from the government," according to Justice of the Peace Elmer Dieterle, who served as moderator at last night's meeting

In answer to the first fear voiced by several of the approximately 200 people who attended the meeting—that of losing their homes through condemnation—the experts explained that the purpose of urban renewal was to provide a better way of life for those living in the community.

TO HEAR ALL

Urban renewal is not an arbitrary decision forced on the community by a few, they explained. Every voice would be heard before any decisions would be made, they added, urging residents to form neighborhood committees to present their case to the city council so that their wishes would be reflected in a master plan.

A master plan is the first key to urban renewal. It must show in maps and reports prepared by city planning experts and approved by those it will affect what changes are called for in exact detail. This is required before the federal agency will consider approving the project, which in this case would mean its spending $1 million in Keego Harbor.

It will be up to the City Council to submit a master plan to the federal government. They can go ahead and do this on their own decision if they so choose, or they can put it to a public referendum vote before any further action is taken.

Whether or not there will be a vote of the people, in all likelihood, will hinge on public sentiment expressed in petitions now being circulated in Keego both for and against urban renewal.

If the number of signatures on petitions in both cases runs fairly close, a vote of the people is likely. If either side of the question is overwhelmingly supported by a petition, the council as duly elected representatives of the people will be forced to follow the prevailing sentiment as it is expressed.

500 SIGN

As it stands at the moment, over 500 residents have signed petitions for urban renewal being circulated by the Businessmen's Assn. and a Citizens Committee.

The number of signatures on a petition opposing urban renewal was not disclosed by Mrs. Frank (Bea) Haisma, of 1761 Sylvan Glen, who is at this time heading the opposition. She said the number would be revealed at the next City Council meeting which is scheduled for Aug. 18.

Both petitions will be presented to the council at that time.

A master plan showing the proposed location of roads, residential areas, business sections, parks and other public facilities, would cost about $14,000, according to Jack Zurbrick, city planning commissioner and third member of last night's pnael. The plan would also, in its writte nportion, explain fully the financing of urban renewal and problems particular to Keego Harbor.

Businessmen in Keego already have pledged over $1,500 so far to finance the plan and the Community National Bank has expressed a willingness to make up the difference, according to W. D. Hollibaugh, publicity chairman for the Businessmen's Assn.

RISK INVOLVED

He explained that the money would be in the form of a loan to expedite urban renewal with a considerable more than average risk involved.

"If we go ahead and finance a master plan and urban renewal is rejected, we stand to lose the $14,000 ourselves," he said. "Naturally we are anxious to get as much public assurance as possible that Keego Harbor will proceed with urban renewal beforehand."

"We are racing a stiff deadline," he added. "We must paln on having approval of urban renewal by the City Council soon enough to submit the plan to the federal agency before construction on the sewer begins. The earliest sewer construction can start is sometime in September."

If the City Council decides to put urban renewal to a public vote, it would have to be announced 60 days in advance by law. This lends another risk—a race against commencement of the sewer project.

Experts Answer Urban Renewal Questions

Q.—Will urban renewal raise taxes on homes?

A.—Possibly yes, replied George Conklin of the federal urban renewal administration, "but it also will raise the value of homes at the same time."

Q.—What will come first, urban renewal or sewer and water systems?

A.—They must be planned together to dovetail with the overall plan, announced Bernard Schroll, regional director of urban renewal, "Otherwise the systems might have to be resituated to comply with a master plan if urban renewal came later."

Q.— Why do businessmen (in Keego Harbor) feel that we are ready for urban renewal when Ann Arbor, a much larger city, turned it down?

A.—"I don't know why Ann Arbor turned it down, but locally no other group has really gotten behing urban renewal here — someone had to take the initiative," said City Planning Commissioner Jack Zurbrick.

Q.—Who determines which houses are to be torn down as slums?

A.—"Until a final plan is jelled, with streets rerouted according to the plan, we can't tell which houses will come down, be moved or refurbished to meet standards," said Conklin. "After a plan is approved, a planning commission will decide, but they will bear in mind the wishes expressed by various groups to be affected."

Q.—How will the city's share of urban renewal costs be raised?

A.—Zurbrick explained that if Keego acted now, the $500,000 approved by taxpayers for a central sewer system at a recent election would be the city's share toward urban renewal with the federal government paying $1,000,000 or two-thirds as provided by law, after federal approval is gained. Without federal approval there can be no urban renewal.

Questions were submitted to the experts by residents on unsigned slips of paper. An informal discussion or urban renewal followed the quiz. Generally, residents expressed a desire to know more about urban renewal.

Oxford Picks Peach Queen Contestant

OXFORD—The Oxford Chamber of Commerce yesterday picked Caroline McMillan, 18, to represent the village in the Peach Queen contest to be held Aug. 7 in Romeo.

The new "Miss Oxford" is a petite five-foot four-inch, blue-eyed bonde. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan E. McMillan, of 56 Mechanic St.

"Miss Oxford" is no stranger to beauty contests. She was fourth place winner in the Miss Valparaiso U. contest. The girl who won went on to become "Miss Indiana."

Orion Center $4,000 Richer

Centennial Nets $1,500 While Woman's Club Donates $2,500

Last night Gilbert Woodcock, OCC treasurer, reported that the recent "Centennial Spectacular" had netted about $1,500 for the center treasury.

Additionally, a check for $2,500 was presented to the OCC by Mrs. Delbert Matthews on behalf of the Lake Orion Woman's Club.

The center board meeting was unofficial because of lack of a quorum. But an informal report was given on the progress of the building program.

Woodcock reported that a four-inch well is now in. It is 70 feet, six inches deep and pumps 400 gallons an hour, he said.

Referring to the centennial, officials announced that they had been talking to local merchants about staging a similar celebration next year.

The response to such an idea has been enthusiastic thus far, the spokesmen said, because of the success of the three-day program held here over the Fourth of July.

Inquiries of other businessmen and residents will be made in the near future to determine if a similar undertaking would merit further consideration in the months to come, the group decided.

Tiger K's Boost Averages in 11-2 Win

Kuenn-Kaline Lead Bengals in Nat Series

2 Outfielders Combine for 8 Hits in Sweep of Washington

DETROIT (UPI)—Harvey Kuenn figured he could win the American League batting crown this year with a .340 average, but teammate Al Kaline might force him to revise the e timate upwards.

Kuenn banged out four hits yesterday only to see Kaline connect for four hits also as the Detroit Tigers coasted to an 11-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

The two "Ks" played a part in all four of Detroit's scoring rallies against the Senators as the Tigers completed a three-game sweep from Washington.

Eddie Yost singled to open the bottom of the first, took second on an infield out and scored on Kuenn's single. Kaline was credited with a single when Faye Throneberry slipped on the wet outfield grass while trying to catch a high fly to right. Kuenn raced raced to third and came on on a squeeze bunt by Red Wilson.

In the third, Kuenn singled, stole second and scored on Kaline's double. Kaline took third on a wild pitch and scored on Wilson's sacrifice fly.

Kuenn and Kaline singled in succession in the fifth and then worked a double steal. Gus Zernial scored one run with a sacrifice fly and another run came in on a passed ball.

Tex Clevenger relieved starter Hal Woodeshick in the sixth and was tagged for five runs. Singles by Jim Bunning, Yost and Charley Maxwell filled the bases before Kuenn lined a two-run single to left. Kaline's second double brought in another run and Wilson doubled for two more.

In all, the Tigers collected 15 hits in their biggest spree in more than a month.

"I have no explanation for the sudden hitting," manager Jimmie Dykes said. "I guess we're just getting back to normal. We had a rough spell for a while—all teams do—and now we're going again."

Bunning held Washington to four hits and retired 17 batters in one stretch. The Senators scored once in the first on singles by Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew and a sacrifice fly, Allison provided the other run in the ninth with his 26th homer of the year.

New York moves into Detroit to open a three-game series tonight and Dykes has named Don Mossi to oppose the Yankees. Mossi has posted four of his seven wins this year at the expense of New York and has yet to lose to the Yankees.

He will be opposed by Don Larsen (6-5).

Sanford Back in Form, Beats Braves 5-1

Injuries Factor in NL Race

By The Associated Press

If there's to be a turning point in the tight fight for the National League pennant, it may be at hand — not in the won-lost records or batting averages, but in the injury lists.

For while right-hander Jack Sanford proved himself sound again by pitching first place San Francisco to a 5-1 victory over St. Louis yesterday, Milwaukee's third place Braves found they'll have to do without slugging Ed Mathews indefinitely. And second place Los Angeles lost Gil Hodges' perked up bat for at least a week.

Hodges, the man with the big bat in the Dodgers' comeback, pulled a leg muscle last night after his 19th home run had touched off a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs that kept Los Angeles within 1½ games of the Giants.

Mathews, the NL home run leader with 29, was kept out of the lineup because of a bruised hip, suffered Wednesday, as the Braves slipped 4½ games behind with a 6-2 defeat by Cincinnati.

Hodges, who has driven in 61 runs, one less than team leader Don Demeter, and has clubbed nine home runs in the past month to top the Dodgers, broke up a scoreless tie with a two-run homer in the fourth, then was injured sliding in the sixth. The big first basemen is batting .293.

Wally Moon also homered for the Dodgers, his seventh, and forced in another run with a bases-loaded walk in a two-run seventh that nailed it for Larry Sherry (1-2). The young right-hander singled home the clincher in the seventh for his first Major League victory, but needed Don Drysdale's saving relief job after Ernie Banks singled home two runs in the eighth. Moe Drabowsky (4-8) was the loser.

Sanford, winless since June 7 after being struck on the hand by a pitch by Pittsburgh's Bob Friend, gained an 8-9 record for the Giants. He had the Cardinals blanked until the ninth, walking one, striking out five and allowing nine hits. Wally Shannon's two-out single broke up the shutout.

The Giants won it in the first inning on Ken Boyer's two-run error after Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda singled with two out and then pulled off a double steal. Wilmer Mizell (11-5) lost it.

Loser Joey Jay (3-7) had shut out the Reds on four hits for 7 2/3 innings before singles by Frank Robinson and Jerry Lynch and the error set up Jones' eighth homer. Brooks Lawrence (5-9) was the winner in relief, pairing with starter Bob Purkey to check the Braves on three hits. They made two—Billy Bruton's double and Lee Maye's single — pay off for both runs against Purkey in the fourth inning.

Rose-Bowl Talk Hinted for Big 10 Policy-Men

CHICAGO (AP)—The policy-making faculty representatives of the Big Ten will hold an informal meeting this weekend, ostensibly to discuss the complicated Rose Bowl situation.

Conference Commissioner Tug Wilson said there was no agenda planned for the session Friday and Saturday at an undisclosed site.

The date of this meeting was set at the regular conference spring business session in Ann Arbor, Mich., a day before the Big Ten in two seemingly contradictory actions refused to renew its Rose Bowl contract but opened the door to free-for-all participation in the post-season football classic.

A 5-5 deadlock killed the Rose Bowl pact, as far as the Big Ten is concerned, but another 5-5 standoff kept a clause in the conference rules permitting Rose Bowl play on an individual basis.

Thus any Big Ten school may accept a Rose Bowl bid from the newly formed Athletic Assn. of Western Universities.

However, the faculty group authorized a committee of athletic directors to devise controls for the new Rose Bowl arrangement. Presumably these would ban the same school from successive Rose Bowl trips and call for splitting bowl receipts among all members, as currently practiced.

The 1960 game will be the last for the Big Ten under the now canceled contract.

Wilson said he doubted the Rose Bowl subject would be much more than "casually discussed" by the faculty group at this weekend's meeting.

"But anybody can bring it up," Wilson added.

Wilson said there would be no action taken or any legislation adopted at the session.

"This meeting was suggested because at our regular business sessions we have such a tight agenda there is no time for broad discussions," Wilson said.

At the Ann Arbor meeting, a faculty committee was named to study means of breaking a tie vote at the conference table.

This subject also may be discussed at the meeting here. In the standoff votes in Ann Arbor, the anti-Rose Bowl group included Ohio State, Illinois, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Minnesota. In favor were Michigan, Iowa, Indiana, Purdue and Michigan State.

Fast Field Expected for Sports Car 'Pursuit' Race

Close to fifty cars are expected to enter the first Australian pursuit race to be held Sunday at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club Waterford Hills circuit on Waterford Road.

Entrants from all over Michigan driving Austin-Healeys, MGAs, Triumphs, Jaguars, Mercedes as well as Corvettes will be competing for trophies on the 1.5 mile twisting course.

Qualifying begins at 10 a.m. to determine positions for the races which will start at approximately 1:30.

In an Australian pursuit race all drivers except the leader try to overtake the car ahead of them. Overtaken cars are flagged off the course 'til the end of the race which is 10 laps or approximately 15 miles.

There will be eight races Sunday. The club has provided a safe spectator parking area on a bluff which overlooks the entire course.

To make the events even more interesting, the public address system keeps spectators informed of the make, performance and driver of each car as it passes the spectator area.

SPORTS CARS IN ACTION—A field of 50 sports cars will be in action Sunday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in the first Australian pursuit race to be held there. Various makes of sports cars including Mercedes, Jaguars, Triumphs, MGAs, Healeys and Corvettes will be competing for numerous trophies on the course in Waterford Hills.

Tatum Dies of Contagious Virus

Famous College Football Coach Succumbs at 46

North Carolina Pilot Reached Great Heights at Maryland

Feverish and delirious, his poisoned body covered with a red rash, Tatum fought his last downhill hours valiantly and virtually alone. Only his doctors were permitted at his bedside in the isolation ward of the North Carolina Memorial hospital.

His lovely wife, Edna, lay ill at home suffering from the same malady. She is expected to recover. But in the hospital halls stood relatives, friends and players, praying that the big moonfaced man who loved to win, would win this fight.

Tatum was visiting in Canada with his friends, coaches Clyde (Peahead) Walker of Montreal and Frank Howard of Clemson, when he was called home after the death of a sister last week.

Tatum was hospitalized with the virus last Saturday. Since then, his condition worsened rapidly. Physicians said the virus "overwhelmed" Tatum, affecting such vital organs as his liver and kidneys.

Because they could not be specific, they performed an autopsy.

Always the center of controversy, Tatum returned to his Alma Mater here just four short years ago. He wanted to rebuild the school into a national football power.

He came from the University of Maryland where he had built a football dynasty in nine years. During that time, his teams played in three bowl games and in 1953 his team was named national champions and Tatum was voted coach of the year.

"Organization," was Tatum's reply to those who asked him his secret of success. He shined as a recruiter and he was known as a tough taskmaster on the practice field, but above all, he was a top flight administrator and organizer.

A strong family man, Tatum promptly built a fine home in this college village he loved and embarked on a program of rebuilding North Carolina football. Ironically, he figured this year's team would fulfill his dreams.

Tatum, always talkative and jovial, soon became embroiled in a controversy with the student newspaper over professionalism in football.

It was in Winston-Salem a few weeks later, that Tatum finally made his now-famous rebuttal to the paper.

"It is a sad occasion when academic leaders don't have a sufficient education in athletics to realize the benefits athletes receive from the field of sport," he said.

"They seem to think that the only way for a coach to do a good job is to do a poor job and not get many victories."

TATUM DIES — One of the nation's outstanding college football coaches, Jim Tatum, died last night of a poisonous virus infection in the University Memorial Hospital at Chapel Hill, N.C. He was 46.

Bud Wilkinson Is Shocked by Tatum's Death

Wilkinson, a friend of Tatum's since 1937, was speechless when informed of his death.

Finally he said, "I'm so shocked I really don't know what to say. I'm just too shocked to make a coherent statement."

They were coaching rivals when Wilkinson was an assistant at Syracuse and Tatum was at Cornell. They served in the Navy together and Wilkinson came here in 1946 as an assistant to Tatum. He stepped up to the head coaching position the next year when Tatum went to Maryland.

Minoso's 'Slam' Helps Tribe Blast Yanks, 8-5

By The Associated Press

It was the Yankees who tumbled the Indians out of first place a week ago, then dumped them to second again Wednesday night when Cleveland blew a 4-0 lead.

But last night the Indians played like contenders again, edging within a half-game of the rain-idled, first place Chicago White Sox as Minnie Minoso's grand-slam homer triggered a seven-run sixth inning that overhauled a 4-0 Yankee lead and beat the champs 8-5.

It was the insistent Injuns' eighth victory in 17 games against New York — and the seventh they've put away with a home run.

This one, Minoso's 15th, made Minnie the first in the AL to hit two slams this season—and it was his first home run against Yankee pitching in three years, almost to the day, His last home run against New York came on July 24, 1956, when he was swining for the White Sox.

Kansas City's revived A's swept a three-game set from Baltimore with a 9-3 romp and regained sixth place as Washingtno skidded to seventh with an 11-2 pasting by Detroit.

The Indians got to Yankee starter Ralph Terry in the sixth with two runs on three hits and a sacrifice fly. Then they rolled it up against reliever Eli Grba (1-1), who came on with two out and one on. He gave up a single and a walk to load the bases, then walked a run home.

Minoso put his next pitch over the fence.

Jim Perry (5-2) won it, blanking the Yankees for four innings on one hit in relief of Riverboat Smith, who had given up four runs in the first two innings. Elston Howard hit a one-on homer in a three-run first for the Yankees, once more back to .500.

Harry Chiti, Dick Williams and Roger Maris homered for the A's, who scored the clincher on Wayne Terwilliger's two - run single in the third for a 5-0 lead against loser Hec Brown (6-6). Ned Garver (8-9) won it with a seven - hitter, one Billy Klaus' home run, after pitching a two-hit shutout for five frames.

Waller on Sidelines

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Halfback Ron Waller will not play with the Los Angeles Rams this season.

Waller notified the Rams' office yesterday that he will remain out of football this year, hoping to heal shoulder and knee injuries that plagued him last year. Waller, former Maryland star, was all-pro in his freshman year in 1955.

Doctoring Your Golf

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Nothing seems to help!"
DIAGNOSIS: Wrong equipment?
TREATMENT: Having just chanced to read an experts's opinion that half the golfers in my home city of Memphis were playing with clubs unsuited to them, I was struck by the thought that many of the readers of this column are suffering from the same sort of trouble.

Trying to play with clubs that are either too long or too short, or too heavy or too light, vastly complicates the problem of hitting a golf ball right. Grips that are too small or too big in circumference also hurt your chances of success.

Clearly, space does not permit giving a full prescription here. But I can give you the sound advice that you should consult with your course professional about this important matter. He can help you and will be delighted to do so.

As to the importance of this matter, I can tell you that all of us playing professionals work continually to try to get our clubs just the way we think they ought to be.

The vigil never ceases!

Dykes Steaming With Joy Over Tigers' Sweep

DETROIT (AP) — A three-game sweep over the Washington Senators has Jimmie Dykes all steamed up.

The Detroit manager was looking ahead to tonight, when the New York Yankees open a three-game invasion.

"Yeah, it's a battle for fourth place, huh?" said the manager. "Well, it'd give me the greatest of pleasure to beat the daylights out of those guys."

Someone else remarked that two or three beatings by the Tigers might apply a stunning blow to the Yankees' pennant chances.

Several Veterans Join Newcomers as Training Camp Opens

The man who will receive the credit for a good season or the blame for a bad one said simply: "Yeah, but can they play football? That's what I'm interested in learning."

Along with the rookies there was a sprinkling of veterans on hand. All three of the quarterbacks—Tobin Rote, Earl Morrall and Jerry Reichow—checked in along with ends Jim Doran, Steve Junker and Tom Rychlec, and lineman John Gordy.

Sophomore back Dan Lewis was on hand, and so was lineman Ben Paoluccl, the little All-America tackle from Wayne State who had a shot with the Lions last season.

Wilson made it plain he and his coaches must find out quickly which rookies can make the club.

"We have to separate the men from the boys right away," he said. "After all, we have a football game in a little more than two weeks. There's room on this club for as many rookies who are of NFL caliber. But there's no room for a single guy who doesn't want to give 100 per cent—that includes veterans and rookies alike."

Wilson and his aides will run the rookies and the others through two-a-day drills. The rest of the veterans will report July 30.

Of 24 rookies invited to the early training session, only one was missing when heads were counted yesterday. The lone absentee was John Scheldrup, a 1958 draft choice from Iowa State, who previously indicated he wanted to try out with the National Football League club this season.

Bill Glass, one veteran who was expected to appear for the pre-training sessions, also was missing. His wife was expecting a baby "at any moment" and he said he would be delayed a few days. Glass will be switched this season from offensive to defense tackle.

Roosevelt Grier, 270-pound tackle of the New York Giants pro club was the heaviest player in the eastern division of the NFL last season.

LUNCHEON STRATEGY — George Wilson (left) head coach of the Detroit Lions kept busy even at lunchtime yesterday when the rookies reported to camp at Cranbrook. He talks to new assistant coach Scooter McLean over some of the details of training camp operations. The veterans are expected to be in camp next week. A few reported yesterday.

Beefy 49er Rookie Camp Has Eight Topping 240

From Our Wire Services

When the San Francisco 49ers list a 235-pound football player as a "smaller hopeful" one gets an idea of the beef available at their rookie camp that opens in Moraga, Calif. Saturday.

No less than eight of the ex-collegians top the scales at 240 or more and two more of that general poundage will report after the All-Star Game in Chicago.

Which proves the 49ers seek bulwarks for their forward walls, offense and defense, for the National Football League campaign.

Monte Clark, 6-6, 260, Southern California; Henry Schmidt, 6-4, 260, Trinity; George Shirkey, 6-4, 250, Austin; Ted Strahura, 6-0, 250, Pittsburgh State; Hogan Wharton, 6-2, 245, Houston; Don Rogers, 6-2, 245, South Carolina; Bill Kortuz, 6-2, 244, Dayton; and Wally Bavara, 6-4, 240, Holy Cross.

After the All-Stars play, Dan James, 6-2 and 245 from Ohio State, and Frank Geremia, 6-3, 245, Notre Dame, join the fun.

Listed as the "smaller hopefuls" were Jack Bolton, 6-3, 235 from Puget Sound; Bob Carter, 6-3, 230, Denver; and Vel Heckman, 6-0, 230, Florida.

Trades that sent away veteran linemen Bob Toneff and Lou Palatella show hope for line talent from the rookies. Some figure as many as 12 first-year men will stick.

"Our defenses gave up 5.4 yards last year every time the other team ran the ball, the worst showing in the league," the new head coach commented.

In other pro football camps, quarterback George Shaw, who has asked to be traded by the world champion Baltimore Colts, huddled twice Thursday with Coach Weeb Ewbank.

Ewbank said the talks were "just preliminary" and would be resumed, probably Friday.

Shaw, a former Oregon star, was the No. 1 signal-caller for the Colts until a knee injury forced him out of the line-up in mid-1956.

Johnny Unitas has turned in such a brilliant job since then — he won all-league honors last season — that Shaw has seen little action.

Ray Wietecha, a center, and Jim Patton, a defensive halfback, have signed 1959 contracts with the New York Giants. Both were all-National Football League choices last season.

Bill Barnes, the Philadelphia Eagles' leading ground-gainer the past two years, has signed a contract for his third season of pro football. Barnes totaled 1,080 yards on 299 attempts for a 3.6 average since coming to the Eagles. He caught 54 passes for 635 yards.

92 Yachts Set for Big Event

Port Huron to Mackinac Race Has Record Entry; Starts Saturday

PORT HURON (UPI)—A record 92 entries, including the defending champions of each class, will be lined up here tomorrow all trim and shipshape for the 35th annual Port Huron-to-Mackinac sailboat race.

Starting time set for each boat is figured on a handicap basis. The first boats to set sail for the 285-mile trip to Mackinac Island will leave at 12:30 p.m.

The Dyna, winner in last year's Class A division, has been given a handicap of about three minutes over what may prove to be her toughest competitor this year, the 54-foot cutter, Great Lakes.

The Great Lakes, which was scratched from last summer's race because of damage to the spar and difficulties with steering, was given a greater handicap since it is 25,000 pounds lighter than in the Dyna.

The defending champions in the other classes are the Nimbus, Class B; the Quintet, Class C, and the Glory Bea II, Class D.

Tam O'Shanter Has Huge Field for Club Meet

Warren Orlick is a mighty proud man these days. The veteran head golf pro at Tam O'Shanter Country Club reports that 272 golfers spanning all flights are entered in Tam's annual club championship.

"Can any other club in the district or state tie or beat this entry," Orlick boasts. "I believe this is the largest club tournament field in Michigan."

Harold Finney is the defending club champion.

Dr. A. W. Lowe and Dr. Henry Small won Tam's annual spring best ball tourney by defeating S. Rice and P. Newman, 1 up, 20 holes, in the match play final.

Tam O'Shanter's annual Husband-and-Wife event will be held this Sunday.

Senkowski Is Loser

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Fourth-seed Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck, Mich., has lost his quarter-final match in the 18-and-under division of the western open junior and boys' tennis championships. John Karabasz of Coral Gables, Fla., seeded No. 8, whipped Senkowski Thursday, 7-5, 6-3.

Pitt, MSU Meet Sept. 24

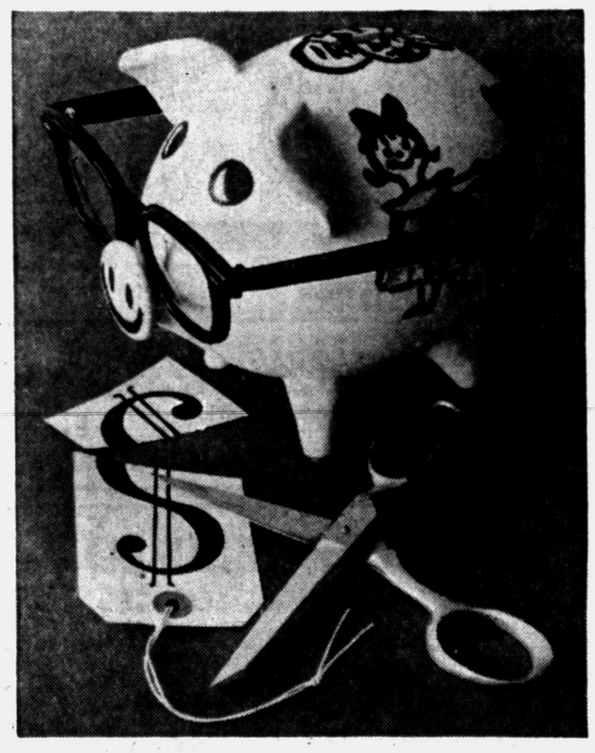

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh Thursday announced its 1960 football schedule —one of the toughest in the history of the school.

The schedule: Sept. 17 — at UCLA; Sept. 24 — Michigan State; Oct. 1 — at Oklahoma; Oct. 8 — Miami of Florida; Oct. 15 — West Virginia; Oct. 22 — at Texas Christian; Oct. 29 — at Syracuse; Nov. 5 — at Notre Dame; Nov. 12 — Army; Nov. 19 — Penn State.

Jurges Slaps on 1 A. M. Curfew for Boston Club

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Billy Jurges has slapped a curfew on Boston Red Sox players it was learned Thursday.

Jurges set the deadline for 1 a.m. or an hour and a half after the end of night games. First offenders will receive warnings but it will cost $100 for every infraction thereafter.

The curfew was put in effect by Jurges in a squad meeting prior to Wednesday's game with Chicago. The players were talking about it Thursday as the club was rained out of a date with the White Sox.

"There is no special reason for it," Jurges responded to a question if any night clubbing was involved. "I just want to make sure the boys get their rest."

The curfew is the first clamped on the cellar-mired Red Sox since Lou Boudreau was manager.

More Liberal Shooting Rules

State Game Body to Consider Changes in Deer Seasons, Bag

LANSING (AP)—Liberalized shooting regulations for the special deer season will be considered at the state conservation commission meeting Aug. 6-7.

Changes suggested include:

1—An increase in Upper Peninsula areas open to "any deer" shooting.

2—An increase in the average kill quota of deer per square mile together with a 10 per cent increase in special hunting areas.

3—A larger special season area in Allegan county where deer are a probem to farmers.

Department game experts also will recommend that an order closing the 2,000-acre Ogemaw game refuge to hunting and trapping be discontinued.

Duck Shooters Face Cutbacks in Season, Bags

LANSING (AP)—Duck hunters can expect cutbacks in the length of season, shooting hours and bag limits this year, the State Conservation Department advised today.

Hunting prospects are expected to be poor because of a severe drought in the major Canadian duck-producing provinces.

Brood surveys indicate that local waterfowl production will be about the 10-year average.

Geese are expected to be at a higher population level and a longer season may be permitted in areas where special hunter controls are in operation.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Carl Lemle's faith in Gary Mouw's golfing ability is starting to pay rich dividends. The Birmingham youngster's victory in the State Jaycee golf tourney at Adrian surely must have inflated Carl's chest to king-sized proportions.

Lemle, Birmingham High School's head football coach who takes over the Maple golf team in the spring, always has had great belief in Mouw's talent on the links. The way the 17-year-old Mouw attacked the par 70 Lenawee Country Club lawout this week certainly did nothing to diminish it.

"I think that Gary will become just as good a golfer —and maybe a better one — than Pete Green," declared Lemle. This is quite a broad statement in view of the accomplishments of Green, who in September enters his sophomore year at the University of North Carolina.

MOUW

Monday, just before leaving for Adrian, Mouw finished second in the 18-hole USGA National Junior Amateur qualifiers at Detroit Golf Club and missed a chance to be the medalist by accidentally striking his ball with a practice stroke while preparing for a one-foot putt on the 18th green.

He rifled a steady 72-72—144 at Adrian to win the Michigan Jaycee title, as did Green in 1957, by three strokes. He also has one Junior District crown to his credit this summer, winning the first event of the season.

Last spring Mouw paced the Maples to their third straight Pontiac Press Prep Invitational championship and two years ago, as a sophomore, he and Green helped Birmingham to another Press triumph.

A surprisingly long hitter for his chunky 5-foot-6 physique, Mouw has earned trips to a pair of national events this year. He has qualified for the USGA National Junior Amateur Aug. 5-8 at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif., and the 14th annual International Jaycee test Aug. 22-29 at Portsmouth, Va.

To the dismay of all rival golf coaches in the Oakland County area, Mouw still has one year of high school eligibility remaining. For Lemle and his puffed-up chest, however, it's a very pleasant thought.

SHORT PUTTS

Detroit's Charles Bauer had the distinction of shooting the only eagle in the State Jaycee test. Bauer scored an eagle deuce on Lenawee's 395-yard 18th hole by knocking a 150-yard 5-iron shot into the cup.

Mrs. Helen Schaefer took low net honors in the Women's Silver Lake League this week with 34, followed by Mrs. John Holton at 35. Mrs. Elbert Looney was the best putter with 15. Eight ladies shared honors in the blind hole division with sevens on No. 3.

The Pontiac area's male golfers take charge of the city course after the gals hold their 18-hole medal play championship Saturday. Men's 18-hole qualifying rounds are scheduled Aug. 1 at Municipal, with the city medal play title up for grabs Aug. 8-9.

Ted Burk of Livonia made a hole-in-one this week at Bob O'Link. Burk aced the 190-yard 3rd hole with his 2-iron. It was Bob O'Link's 6th ace of the year.

All-Stars at Work Prepping for Colts

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The monumental task of molding 52 talented young football players from almost as many colleges into a winning team began today in the College All-Stars' training camp.

Most of the squad arrived yesterday at Northwestern University and went through such preliminaries as getting acquainted and taking physical examinations.

Today they began important early workouts during which head coach Otto Graham will try to determine how best to use each man against the professional champion Baltimore Colts Aug. 14 in Chicago's Soldier Field. His 1958 All-Stars crumbled the Detroit Lions 35-19.

Graham has announced a two-a-day practice schedule for the first two weeks of the three-week training period.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

Women's Medal Play Saturday at City Course

MPGA to Hold 54-Hole Tournament at Morey's This Weekend

Mrs. Zadah DeBolt and Wally Smith will be marked golfers this weekend.

They're the defending champions in the Women's City Medal Play tournament and the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's 54-hole medal play championship, respectively.

The women's annual tourney is slated over an 18-hole distance tomorrow at Pontiac Municipal golf course.

Tomorrow and Sunday are the scheduled days of the Publinx event with 27 holes set for each day on the Red, White and Blue nines at Morey's Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. DeBolt has been the dominant figure in the women's city tournament. She won the event last year for the 6th time in her career. Mrs. Edith Wright won the crown two years ago.

Smith, the Royal Oak policeman who lives in Pontiac, annexed last year's MPGA medal play title over a 36-hole route at Sylvan Glen with a pair of 69's for a total of 138.

All of the area's top Publinx players will be challenging Smith, who just returned from the National Public Links tournament at Denver where he advanced to the 3rd round before bowing to the eventual champion, Bill Wright of Seattle.

Approximately 125 golfers are expected to enter the tourney at Morey's with prizes going to low actual and low net winners. Starting time each day is 8 a.m.

Tee-off time for the ladies at Municipal is 12 o'clock noon with prizes being awarded through the first four positions by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, which sponsors the event. Post entries will be accepted.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runnerup with high-grade golf balls going to the next two places.

Humphrey's Mat Foes Double Up

DETROIT (UPI) — Happy Humphrey, 750 pound Georgia cotton farmer, will take on two grunt-and-groaners at once in tonight's wrestling card at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

He will meet Tiny Tim Hampton and Martin Angelo. In another feature, Dick Garza, muscled "Mr. Michigan" from Dearborn, faces the ex-Venice gondolier, Dominic Bravo.

Two one-fall bouts and another three-fall match between Crusher Cortez and Sailor Jim Clark are also slated for tonight.

Aussies Bench Fraser as Canada Test Opens

MONTREAL (UPI) — Australia benched its ace, lefthander Neale Fraser, but Rod Laver and Roy Emerson remained solid favorites to defeat Canada in the opening singles matches today in the North American semi-final Davis Cup series.

Emerson, 22, who has played only one Davis Cup singles match, was scheduled to open the best-of-five series against Canada's No. 2 man, Don Fontana, 28, of Toronto, Ont. Red-haired Rod Laver, the left-handed Wimbledon finalist, drew Canadian veteran champion Bob Bedard of Sherebrooke, Que., in the second singles.

Women Golfers Open Rain-Halted Tourney

CHICAGO (UPI) — A field of 45 women pro and amateur golfers begin the $20,000 open golf tourney at Mount Prospect Country Club today after a 24 hour delay due to rain.

The event, scheduled to begin yesterday, was deferred due to soaking rains which made the course unplayable. However, it will end as scheduled Sunday since both players and promoters agreed to a double round of 36 holes on Sunday, involving morning and afternoon 18's.

Mickey Wright, winner of the last two tournaments on the ladies pro tour, remained a favorite to take top money, but Patty Berg, Louise Suggs, Betsy Rawls and Beverly Hanson also were regarded as likely to solve the course for rounds breaking the par of 74.

Colorful Troupe at Tennis Clinic Tuesday

An impressive troupe of tennis proteges, guided by Mrs. Jean Hoxie, will appear at the tennis courts near Pontiac Central High School for a clinic next Tuesday afternoon.

The clinic, co-sponsored by The Pontiac Press and the Board of Education, is open free to the public. Bleachers will be installed around the Crofoot School courts for the demonstrations which will be held between 2:00 and 4:00 p. m.

Mrs. Hoxie, who is world renown for having developed some of the country's outstanding junior tennis players, has staged clinics in many foreign countries.

Two of her former junior stars who have graduated into the senior women's divisions are Joyce Peniewski and Phyllis Saganski. Both will appear here.

Miss Peniewski is the U. S. collegiate doubles champ and Miss Saganski is the former Michigan State Junior champion.

Two of the outstanding players in junior ranks today are Ray Senkowski and Francisco Castillo, both 17-year-olds.

One of the new bright faces is the state high school champion. among the younger set of Mrs. Hoxie's students is Peaches Barkowicz, a 10-year-old from Hamtramck.

There is no admission charge, interested people will have the opportunity afterward to register for a two week clinic to be given by the Pontiac Department of Recreation.

The clinic will be open to all ages and continue through August 14th.

Rhodes Sees Need for Housecleaning

Wants Sponsors Bonded

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Speedboat owner Willard Rhodes suggested Thursday sponsors of unlimited hydroplane races be required to post a $50,000 bond to insure compliance with regatta regulations.

Rhodes, whose Miss Thriftway won the Gold Cup race in 1956 and 1957, made his comment following charges Wednesday by owner Ole Bardahl that the sport was fraught with "unnecessary hazards . . . and needless bickering."

Bardahl blamed mismanagement by "a few selfish nonracers and hangers-on interested in self-aggrandizement and personal profit." He refused to name any individuals.

Jack Regas, who drove the Miss Bardahl in the Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Diamond Cup race Sunday, still was hospitalized Thursday with injuries suffered when the cowling ripped loose and struck him in the chest and face.

In apparent agreement with Bardahl's statement that "unlimited racing needs a drastic housecleaning," Rhodes suggested the selection of a professional team of officials to have charge of all hydroplane races.

"Take it out of local hands—hands which may belong to persons unfamiliar with the problems peculiar to hydroplane racing," said Rhodes. "Let the locals provide ambulances, helicopters, patrol boats—everything the regulations call for—but let the team of officials run the race."

The team would travel from race to race and be salaried "so none need cater to the whims of some local dignitary."

Bill Asks More Days of Racing

LANSING (AP)—The Senate Business Committee has endorsed a house-approved resolution that would apply pressure on state racing commissioner James H. Inglis to award more days of racing at Detroit area horse tracks.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), committee chairman, said the bill was approved yesterday despite his opposition.

The resolution, while lacking binding force, would tell Inglis it is the legislature's view that a total of 130 racing days should be allowed instead of the 117 awarded for this year.

In passing a general revision of the state racing code this year, the legislature refused to include such a provision. Dates by statute are within the discretion of the commissioner.

Difficult Dive Puts Champion in Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Amateur woman diving champion Paula Jean Myers Pope suffered a neck injury while practicing for next month's Pan-American Games in Chicago.

Her neck was placed in traction at Palm Harbor Hospital Thursday. She was attempting a difficult cutaway 2½ dive from the 10-meter board at Los Coyotes Country Club Wednesday, when she came out of the pool with severe muscular pains and shortness of breath.

Braves' Mathews Out for Indefinite Time

"It hurts plenty and I can't do a thing," Mathews said yesterday after taking ice pack treatment. "We'll get some heat on it starting Friday and I'm keeping my fingers crossed."

Mathews, who leads the National League in homers with 29, was forced to retire in the seventh inning Wednesday night after crashing into the third base barrier chasing a foul.

Olmedo Tests Mike Green

Olmedo, regarded as the United States' chief hope to retain the Cup, advanced in yesterday's play by outlasting Pacific Coast Conference champion Allen Fox, 6-4, 6-4.

Green eliminated the first seeded player by downing eight-ranked Don Dell of Bethesda, Md. 4-6, 6-1, 12-10.

Then Abe Segal of South Africa upset seventh-seeded Chris Crawford, Piedmont, Calif., 7-5, 6-1.

The men's singles assumed an international air as Barry MacKay, another U.S. Davis Cup prospect, was paired with Segal; veteran Vic Seixas was matched with Ramanthan Krishman of India, and Ian Vermaak of South Africa met Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, still another Davis Cup hopeful, in the other quarter-final matches.

On the women's side, top-seeded Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., flirted with defeat for the second straight day before overcoming Mrs. Baba Lewis of Boston 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

They Thought He Was a Doctor, But He Wore 'Earphones' Funny

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A nervy young man who masqueraded as a physician and had his run of three Memphis hospitals for five months was foiled Wednesday by an alert Negro porter.

"I always wanted to be a doctor," Aldridge said, "but I had asthma and had to quit school. I don't know why I did it. I never used any of the stuff. Sometimes I got it out to look at it. It impressed my wife."

Aldridge said he often chatted with patients about their ailments, but he denies ever attempting to treat anyone. He said he got a scare once when a nurse spotted him standing outside an operating room and said "Hurry up."

Aldridge was charged with 13 counts of grand larceny. Listed among the loot were physicians' bags, narcotics, stethoscopes, hypodermic needles, a tape recorder, a microphone, medical text books and hundreds of other odd objects. Police said apparently none of the narcotics had been touched.

Opposes Bonds for Highways

State Treasury Vetoes Issuance to Support Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The treasury Thursday categorically opposed financing of the interstate highway construction program through issuance of special highway bonds.

The bond proposal has been endorsed by many highway user associations as an alternative to a gasoline tax increase. Asst. Secretary of the Treasury Laurence B. Robbins said, however, it would seriously interfere with the treasury's own efforts to sell long-term general revenue securities

Robbins tolds the House Ways and Means Committee the bond proposal and other alternatives would appear to be impracticable to raise the necessary funds to avert a stoppage and slowdown in the 41,000-mile super highway program.

Budget director Maurice H. Stans also backed President Eisenhower's request for a temporary increase of 1½ cents a gallon in motor fuel taxes if the government is to achieve a balanced budget for the current fiscal year.

Stans also said that in his opinion the only logical long-term alternative to a gas tax increase, and one "which is consistent with sound fiscal policy," would be to cut down the rate of construction and thereby stretch out completion of the program beyond its presently planned termination date in 1972.

"However, such a step would not resolve our immediate problems," Stans conceded, asserting that the proposed increase in fuel taxes appeared the best means at hand of dealing with the current construction deficit.

Federal road officials yesterday told the committee that a half-billion dollar deficit in road construction funds is expected this year. Unless Congress provides additional funds to keep the program on a pay-as-you-go basis, they said, all contracting will come to a stop for at least nine months.

Approves Bay City Man for Rear Admiral Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capt. Floyd B. Schultz, commander of the San Francisco Naval Shipyard at San Francisco, Calif., has been approved by President Eisenhower for promotion to rear admiral.

Senate Group Shelves Fair Trade Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate commerce subcommittee has shelved fair trade legislation for this year.

The bill would require retailers to maintain the prices set by manufacturers on brand name products in interstate commerce and in competition with like products.

A five-member subcommittee headed by Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) voted by secret ballot, it announced Thursday to take no further action on the bill this year.

Saginaw Dredging 'Dead for a Year'

LANSING (UPI) — A proposed dredging operation of the Saginaw River to Bay City is "almost certainly dead for at least a year," Keith Wilson, waterways commission director said Thursday.

He cited refusal of a Norwegian freighter to enter the river as an example of how dredging delay was hurting business in the area.

The freighter Lindenfjord wouldn't enter the river to take on two giant cranes in Bay City because the river wasn't deep enough.

The Bay City Shovel Co. will have to ship the cranes to Detroit by rail for loading on the ship.

Wilson said the House Ways and Means Committee wouldn't accept a request for appropriation of $218,000 to clear the way for deepening by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The project was stymied when railroad companies owning two bridges in Bay City, refused to finance work on the bridges to insure deepening wouldn't weaken them.

Several officials in the area asked the Ways and Means committee to appropriate the $218,000 for the bridge work. The committee did not approve the appropriation.

Wilson indicated a proposal was brewing for the state to pay half and the rest to be raised by area contributions from interested groups or companies.

After listening to numerous stories about car accidents, it comes out that most autos were backing away from each other when the crash occurred . . . No wonder (says Jack Herbert) that our Congressmen look so tired. Their jobs seem to be overtaxing. — Earl Wilson.

Hollywood Headlines:

What About the Losers in Miss Universe Contest?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A new Miss Universe will be crowned late tonight, and everyone will be asking her how it feels to win.

But what about the losers?

For an inside view on how it feels to miss out on the big prize, I talked with Evy Norlund, Miss Denmark in last year's pageant. She lost, but she won. Her appearance at the fete drew attention from Columbia Pictures. She won a contract and now has a good chance to upset the jinx against film fame for beauty contest winners.

THOMAS

The future for Evy looks rosy now, but she admitted that the outlook was bleak just a year ago.

"I was chosen as one of the 15 semifinalists," she recalled, "and then I was eliminated. I had exactly $1 left of my expense money. Yes, I had a plane ticket home, but I wanted to stay in America."

"Yes I felt I had a faint chance," she said. "I think every girl comes here with that idea. But after a while, you realize you are not going to win, and you become resigned to it.

"I knew that Miss Colombia was going to win last year. You can see the politics going on behind the scenes. She is a nice girl, Miss Colombia, but I don't think she should have been the winner. Everyone agreed that Miss Holland was the most outstanding girl."

Asked for comment on Miss Norlund's remarks, Chief Judge Vincent Trotta replied: "I am positive there is no favoritism in the Miss Universe contest. We has set up a sensible honest judging system and we don't care where a girl comes from or what influence she has. The judges are watched carefully and they all work from a code of ethics which I have set down."

"Rehearse, rehearse, rehearse, she said wearily. "That is all you do all week long. You are on your feet all the time until you can hardly stand up."

But though she expressed some bitterness over the judging, she declared she was grateful for her experience in the Miss Universe contest.

"They treat you wonderfully," she said in opposition to the complaints of this year's first Miss New Mexico. "Everyone is so nice to you, and it is enough of an experience just to be able to come to America. All of us are grateful for that."

She was one who didn't have to go back home. Her $1 was supplemented with $100 for being a semifinalist, then she was offered a two-week tour to Canada on behalf of Max Factor. She returned to Hollywood to test for Columbia.

Tiny Strongman Takes Spotlight From Jayne

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — While standing erect with both feet planted in the palm of his father's huge hand, Jayne Mansfield's six-month-old son, Mickey Jeffrey Palmer Hargitay, Jr., gave me an exclusive interview in which he announced he is the world's youngest strong man.

WILSON

"Glub," added young Miklos, dribbling some formula down his chin, "and you can quote me."

"He's going to be 'Mr. Universe' when he's 17!" squealed his mother. "Oooh . . . he's just fabulous," she added, taking him from his father and squeezing him to her famous breast.

"He was born Dec. 21 and already he most six-month-old babies . . . the doctor says he's never most six-month-old babies . . . the dotcor says he's never seen a baby with such broad shoulders and big chest," Jayne went on boasting, so proud that she almost popped out of her bathing suit, which several people were waiting for at the swimming pool.

"He's standing on his father's hand and he doesn't even crawl yet," Jayne said. "He's on a typical Las Vegas schedule—at 2 a.m. after my show we give him a bottle and sometimes he gets so happy saying 'Dad-dee' and all sorts of fabulous things that he stays awake for 30 minutes."

THE HARGITAYS

"He's a sweetheart," announced the admiring father. "Ve vere dreaming of a boy for so long . . ." Together they revealed that the young stalwart was in serious danger of being lost at birth.

"The doctors asked me, 'Which one shall we save if we have to lose one?' Of course I said Jayne . . . " Mickey said.

Jayne's career shoots forward. She's been a surprising drawing card at the Tropicana, working for Producer Lou Walters, at whose former club, the New York Latin Quarter, she first saw and fell in love with Mickey Sr. when he was a muscle man in Mae West's show.

Mickey Sr. surprises the audiences by acting as her piano accompanist when she sings "My One and Only Love."

"I used to play when I was a kid," Mickey explained modestly. "You never know what you can use later . . .

X-Ray Pioneer OK After Cancer Surgery

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Emil F. Grubbe, 84, pioneer in the use of X-ray to fight cancer, was reported in good condition today after undergoing his 92nd operation for cancer, caused by his overexposure to the rays.

The noted physician was in surgery three hours Thursday in Swedish Covenant Hospital. Surgeons removed the index and little fingers of his right hand and then cut a cancerous mass the size of a lemon from under his right arm.

Dr. Grubbe had lost his left hand and large portions of his jaw and nose in previous operations.

State to Follow Captive Nations Proclamation

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has proclaimed July 19-25 as Captive Nations Week in Michigan.

"Nations subjugated by the Soviet Union," the governor said, "look to the United States as the citiadel of freedom and for leadership in bringing about their liberation and independence."

Plans Plant at Charlotte

CHARLOTTE (AP) — General Aluminum Products, Inc., of Eaton Rapids has announced plans to build a $100,000 branch here. Robert Gibson, Chamber of Commerce manager, estimated the plant will employ 50 persons when completed in November.

Highway Dept. Cancels Lenawee Road Contract

LANSING (AP) — In a dispute over working hours, the State Highway Department has canceled its contract with Lenawee County for maintenance of state trunklines, effective Oct. 1.

Commissioner John C. Mackie said the county road commission was the only one in the state to insist on working road crews a 45-hour week.

The department adopted a 40-hour week, with no overtime except in an emergency, as an austerity measure earlier this year, Mackie said.

"This left us little choice but to terminate the contract," he added.

ARGONAUT FORMAL COUPE — For $23,600 it will be built to last.

Economy Car? This'll Cost $22,700

CLEVELAND (NEA) — Slightly built, dressed in a three-button continental-style suit, Richard Luntz seems like the last chap around to be talking in terms of driving 200 m.p.h. on the Utah salt flats.

But Luntz, president of the Argonaut Motor Car Corp., of Cleveland, is out to build the fastest, lowest, safest, longest and most luxurious passenger car today.

The car, the Argonaut, may be the most expensive as well. Prices start at $22,700.

Tests are scheduled on the Utah flats this summer. Luntz expects the Argonaut's 600-horse power Chrysler marine engine to pull the car smoothly to 200 m.p.h.

ALUMINUM BODIES

Bodies on all but one of the seven models will be fitted in Italy, and will be of aluminum.

Luntz does not seem worried about a small car trend spoiling the market for a 21-foot-plus luxury model.

SAMPLE OF FEATURES

Polished brass radiator.
Steering wheel: magnesium and mahogany.
Complete fitted luggage in in every car.
Racing tires.
Individually adjustable shock absorbers.
Fuel tank: 32-gallon capacity, honeycombed to prevent fuel surge.

Optional equipment: air conditioning, vanity, telephone, desk, secretarial and recording equipment, refrigerated food and beverage compartment.

Luntz justifies the Argonaut on social as well as aesthetic grounds. "With millions of persons starving in the world, we simply can't afford waste," says the auto maker.

"The Argonaut is built to last. People would laugh at the idea of buying a home—and accepting a $3,000 loss every year on their investment.

Luntz says the Argonaut will be made in seven models: Sportive, Sedan, Convertible, Formal Coupe, the Texan sports car, State Limousine and the Smoke.

The Smoke is assembled entirely in Cleveland. Wind tunnel tests are under way. The gleaming chassis was given its formal debut in the city earlier this year.

PERSONALLY INITIALED

Most expensive model planned is the State Limousine; $27,400 plus extras and taxes.

"If a family buys an Argonaut they will know the car could be put in storage for 15 years, and then taken on the street without a speck of rust and driven away."

The "Snuff Information Center" says that the average weekly consumption of snuff in the United States is two ounces per user and that the average retail price is 10 cents an ounce.

Stock Market Prices Advance

Most leading shares advanced fractions to around a point but a few losers sprinkled the list.

Present Cases to Commission

5 Firemen Complain About Notification of Job Status Changes

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The five township firemen who recently were laid off and the four whose salaries were reduced presented their cases last night at a public hearing of the Shelby Township Civil Service Commission.

The nine men had previously complained to the commission about the procedures followed in notifying them about the changes in their job status. They said they received no notice of the proposed moves.

At a civil service commission meeting May 27, the five laid off men testified that they learned of their impending loss of employment from a notice posted on the department's bulletin board two days before the lay-off was scheduled to go into effect.

The four whose salaries were reduced reported that their first pay check after the April 25 budget meet was their only notification of the salary cut.

This is the first hearing by the new township Civil Service Commission since it was voted into existence for firemen in the Feb. 16 election and for police in the April 6 election.

Rossellini Loses Bid

ROME (UPI)—A Rome judge yesterday rejected Roberto Rossellini's latest bid for custody of his three children by actress Ingrid Bergman. Judge Alberto Virgilio ruled that Rossellini must allow the children to return to their mother in France Aug. 25 in accordance with an earlier ruling that provides for alternate custody.

More than five million washers, driers and other such home laundry equipment were purchased by Americans in 1958.

Grain Demand Firms Market

CHICAGO (AP)— A slightly improved demand firmed up the grain futures market generally today during the first several minutes on the Board of Trade.

Corn and soybeans, both under selling pressure in yesterday's dealings, moved up as much as major fractions in the early trade. However, dealers said there appeared to be no new price influences and that the buying apparently was a reinstatement of positions that had been sold during the setbacks.

3 White Lake Teens Hurt as Car Hits Tree

Three White Lake Township teenagers were injured Thursday night when the sport car in which they were riding went out of control on Elizabeth Lake road at Teggerdine road, White Lake Township, and struck a tree.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the driver, Serop Metherian, 17, of 10201 Joanna K St., said his car skidded on wet pavement as he slowed down for a curve.

His companions, Sam Sage, 15, of 10270 Lakeside Dr., Mary K. Thill, 17, of 10170 Lakeside Dr., and Gloria Reddman, 14, of 10220 Lakeside Dr., were all treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Metherian was not injured, deputies said.

Court Decision Hits Constitution Revision

LANSING (AP)—The State Supreme Court today refused to reconsider a 10-year-old decision that played an important part in blocking state constitutional conventions pursuant to ballot propositions in 1948 and again in 1958.

In both years, a majority of persons voting on the constitutional convention issue approved a special convention to overhaul the state's 1908 basic charter.

However, the affirmative vote totals fell short of being a majority of all votes cast at the elections for any candidate or on any ballot proposition.

Beverage Cooler a Hot Item for Fast Theft

As an example of how quickly thieves can steal various items, troopers cited on incident yesterday involving Jack Deatherage of 23154 Battelle St., Hazel Park.

Deatherage parked his car near picnic grounds and began unloading it. He set a portable beverage cooler next to his auto and carried other picnic items to a nearby table.

When he returned in a matter of seconds for the cooler, it was gone. Deatherage said the stolen cooler was worth $20.

First It's Hot Iron, Then Cigarette

Fire Strikes Home—Twice

The Waterford Township Fire Department answered two fire calls at a Waterford Township house yesterday while the occupants were away.

Firemen said a hot iron left on an ironing board in the Robert Stevenson home at 1160 LaSalle St. set off the first blaze in the kitchen at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Stevenson and her six children had left the house to visit her brother in Detroit. A neighbor, Mrs. Gerhard Bruemmer of 59 Lynn St., said she noticed smoke coming from the Stevenson house a second time at 5 p.m., and by 8 p.m. she saw flames through a front window.

Assuming the children might be inside, she broke the front door down, then ran back to her house and called the fire department.

Apparently a lighted cigarette in a chair in the living room was responsible for the second blaze, firemen said.

Stevenson, who is renting the house from the Ivan Schramm Real Estate Co., was told of the fire while at work in Oxford. Damage to the one-story frame house and contents was estimated by firemen at $1,000.

Construction to Begin in 5 Months

Set 12-Town Drain Project Timetable

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Barring unforeseen complications, construction of the long-awaited 12-Town Drain project will begin in about five months.

Ashton J. Berst, coordinator of the 12-Town Relief Drains, said it was likely the "actual job" would be started the first of next year.

His statement was in accordance with a "time table" outlined in a letter sent to the 14 municipalities involved by Daniel W. Barry, Oakland County drain commissioner.

Subject of the letter was announcement of the tentative approval given to route changes and extensions necessitated by interference with the Chrysler Expressway project.

The 14 municipalities have been invited to attend a hearing Aug. 14 on the route changes.

Berst expects unanimous approval.

"I don't think the new route will take us out of our way," Berst said. "It may even amount to a little less footage, but it is possible we will have to use a tunnel we hadn't planned on.

"Final construction plans will be submitted by the engineers in about a week. Until then we won't know whether there will be additional cost over our original estimate."

The estimated cost in 1957 was $44,092,000.

The inter-community sewer project has been in the planning stage since 1952. Legal entanglements have continued to snag its progress along the way.

Berst had reservations in his due-to-start prediction.

"I can't pinpoint the date," he said. "It has been too agonizing. We've gone through all the agonies we possibly could."

Drain Commissioner Barry said adoption of the bonds resolution to finance the project should come soon.

"Municipal Finance Commission approval of the bond issue is required," Barry said. "Barring unexpected delay in Lansing, the bond sale may be anticipated in about five months. The construction contracts can be awarded immediately afterward."

Barry said construction bids will be taken in advance of the bond sale and contract award deferred until the bonds are sold. Said Barry:

"Attempting to time-table the project with any degree of exactness is beset with the greatest difficulties as past events have demonstrated. All past forecasts have resulted in the greatest disappointments.

"However, as of this date, the remaining procedure necessary to get the project under construction appears to be relatively routine."

Air-Conditioner Should Dry Air

It's the Humidity That Makes You Miserable in Summertime

DAYTON, Ohio — If you want to remain as cool, calm and collected as a queen all summer long—completely aloof to the weather even during the worst of those dreadful hot spells — then hear what the experts have to say on the subject.

Not only must you beat the heat, but the humidity as well.

Well-informed climate researchers are pretty well agreed that high humidity is just as much the culprit as summer heat when it comes to making us uncomfortable.

Humidity and heat can spoil appetites and dispositions. The family wash gets bigger because all members of the family change clothes more often.

Then too, when you are feeling limp and worn out, any little household task—getting a simple meal or dusting—seems to reach gigantic proportions and becomes almost insurmountable.

Also, high humidity takes its toll of your expensive furnishings such as drapes, curtains and the like. Excessive moisture is the mother of mildew, which in turn raises havoc with everything from leather to paper, especially among items in storage. Even our prized items of metal are not exempt, they corrode or rust.

As usual, our scientists have come up with the answer. You can beat both the heat and humidity at your house this summer thanks to remarkable new air conditioners that not only cool, but have extra capacity to really dry the air too.

Frigidaire designers have come up with this innovation. Called the "Lone Star," this new unit has a revolutionary new dry-cooling system that can remove up to three barrels of water from the air each week. Your room is never clamy, regardless how hot and sticky it may be outside.

Foster Homes, or Institutions; Which Are Best?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Austria places its juvenile delinquents in good homes. In this country we place them in institutions. Why?"

The answer to this question, voiced by Henry Reining Jr., director of the Youth Studies Center at the University of Southern California, is one of many being sought during a five-year study sponsored by the university and the Ford Foundation.

"The Austrian approach looks like a good one," Reining says. "But when we asked Austrian officials why they used foster homes, they told us: 'It's the only thing we can do. We don't have the money to build institutions.'

"In America it seems to be easier to build institutions than to find good homes for delinquents. At the moment it is not clear which is the better way. We intend to find out."

Reining and his associates have spent most of the first year in paper work, selecting experts in various fields and determing what problems should come first.

"Millions of dollars are spent every year in every major city to control and institutionalize juvenile offenders," Reining says. "If we could reduce this expenditure by only 10 per cent, think of the savings in tax money alone.

"But more important is youth itself. We want to know what makes them go bad, and how best to handle them after they do."

The oldest Protestant church in the United States is St. Paul's in Eastchester, N.Y. It was founded in 1665.

Coast Guard Questions Sinking

May Conduct Underwater Survey of Bradley Fate

CLEVELAND (AP) — The coast guard has indicated there may be an underwater survey of the ill-fated freighter Carl D. Bradley which went down with 33 of her 35 crewmen last Nov. 18 in a Lake Michigan gale.

The coast guard made the indication at a hearing yesterday in which it raised the question of "the general condition" of the 31-year-old freighter.

Disagreeing with opinions of an investigating board, Vice Adm. A. C. Richmond, coast guard commandant, said the vessel probably "developed an undetected structural weakness or defect."

He said unexplained presence of hairline cracks in the Bradley's bottom in 1957 "strongly suggests the possibility of structural weakness" and that "two unreported groundings . . . in the spring of 1958 and November of 1958 may have introduced unusual false stresses."

Moreover, extensive work planned for the 1958-59 winter layup by the Bradley transportation Co., a subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corp., "is in itself indicative of wear and deterioration and raises the obvious question of the general condition of the vessel's structure," he said. There was no immediate comment from the company.

U. S. District Judge Charles J. McNamee will preside at a hearing Tuesday in which an effort will be made to reach agreement on the total liability of the Bradley Co. in the sinking of the freighter.

Thirty-six claims have been filed against the company in federal court in connection with the sinking.

15 Beauties Vie for Miss Universe Title

Girls Too Skinny, Says Loser

By RICK Du BROW
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Calif.—Fifteen beauties—all dubbed "too skinny" by a peeved Italian loser—square off tonight for the title of Miss Universe.

The finalists, chosen last night before some 4,000 persons in municipal auditorium, were:

The winner of tonight's finals will be guaranteed $11,000 worth of contracts for tours from a cosmetics firm (Max Factor) and a bathing suit company (Catalina).

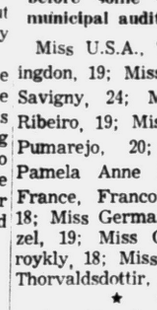

Although half of the finalists are her fellow Europeans, Miss Buccella said they could all use a steady diet of pasta.

"They are nice girls," she said. "But the judges and I seriously disagree.

"I never really had a chance. I was sent here with no clothes except the dress I was wearing, and my family is not rich. Then a friend arranged for the actress Marie McDonald to give me some gowns, but when I wanted to wear a tight one last night I was warned not to."

Newspaperman to Head GM Public Relations

Appointment of Waldo E. McNaught as manager of divisional relations on the public relations staff of General Motors was announced today by Anthony G. De Lorenzo, vice president in charge of public relations. The appointment is effective Aug. 1.

McNAUGHT

A veteran Detroit newspaperman, McNaught has been director of public relations for the Buick Motor Division since April, 1950.

Prior to that he had been a member of the Detroit Times editorial staff for 14 years and was that paper's picture editor before joining Buick.

U. S. Automakers Making More Cars, More Money

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

All but huge General Motors Corp. Have reported their earnings for the first six months of 1959. They presented a rosy economic picture.

Ford and American motors hit all-time records. Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard recovered will be as good or better than nicely from 1958 losses. GM all of them.

Ford was the first to report and listed sales of $2,954,300,000 for the first six months with a profit of $285,900,000 equal to $5.22 a share.

Yesterday, Chrysler, S-P, and American joined the parade. Chrysler netted 58 million dollars ($6.65 a share) on sales of $1,531,000,000. A year ago Chrysler lost $25,239,802 in the same period.

Studebaker-Packard turned a 13 million dollar loss of a year ago into a profit of $12,073,281, equal to $1.87 a share, with the introduction of the new, compact Lark. Total S-P sales were $209,816,771.

American Motors operates on a fiscal year basis starting Oct. 1, so yesterday's report covered nine months, roughly equal to the 1959 model year for the fast-selling Ramblers. American's nine month earnings were $49,599,962, or $8.36 a share.

For Studebaker, the quarter just ended marked only the third one, all in succession, that the company has shown a profit since it merged with Packard. American went into the black a little earlier and is now working on its second straight profitable year.

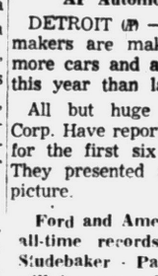

Both companies are riding the crest of the compact car wave. The big three will get into the swim later this year and in his statement yesterday L. L. (Tex) Colbert, president of Chrysler, warned that earnings over the next six months probably would be down due to heavy expenses for new equipment, much of it necessary to produce the Valiant, Chrysler's small car entry.

During the first six months the industry built slightly more than 3¼ million cars, against 1¾ million in the first six months of 1958.

Branch Manager Appointed by GMC

Appointment of Ralph Slaten as GMC Truck factory branch manager in Detroit was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

SLATEN

Slaten, formerly GMC heavy duty truck manager in Atlanta, Ga., zone, succeeds Hughes M. Harper who has been appointed San Antonio, Texas zone manager. He joined GMC Truck in 1957 as a district manager in Atlanta after four years with U. S. Rubber Company there.

Slaten, an Air Force veteran of World War II, was graduated from Georgia Tech with a B. S. degree in industrial management in 1948. He played football there and from 1949 to 1951 coached football at Auburn University.

Governor Gets Bill to Require Glowing Plates

LANSING (AP)—It was squarely up to Gov. Williams today whether Michigan auto license plates, starting next year, will be treated with a special material to improve nighttime visibility.

A 21 to 7 vote in the senate yesterday enabled the reflectorized license plate bill to clear the Legislature.

Williams was sure to get counsel to veto the bill. Sen. John H. Stahlin (R-Belding) said he would see to that.

In approving the measure, the Senate shrugged off Stahlin's claim that it was rigged for a single reflectorized material supplier and Sen. Elmer R. Porter's concern about cost.

Porter, Blissfield Republican, said the new process would render $100,000 of state-owned equipment obsolete and require purchase of $20,000 in new machinery.

Under the bill, motorists would be tapped 35 cents a year to pay for the added expense.

Backers argued reflectorization would contribute to traffic safety and aid law enforcement.

Judges' Pension Bill Gets Senate Nod

The Michigan Senate yesterday passed a bill designed to broaden the eligibility requirements for judges' pensions which would give a second chance to some judges who passed up earlier opportunities to come under the retirement system.

The measure also calls for extending eligibility to widows of some judges, aiding about a half dozen in all.

Among them, said Sen L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains), would be retiring Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty of Pontiac.

The bill went back to the House of Representatives for agreement on minor changes.

Thompson Files Notice of Appeal to Supreme Court

Jack Thompson, former Flint Teamsters business agent, filed notice in the Michigan Supreme Court today that he will appeal the arson conviction that sent him to Southern Michigan Prison.

Detroit attorney James E. Haggerty told the court today an appeal will be filed Aug. 4.

Thompson was convicted April 3 of aiding "human torch" Frank Kierdorf in an ill-fated arson attempt at a Flint dry cleaning establishment last August.

Last ditch efforts by Haggerty to obtain bond through the Supreme Court failed last month. Thompson began serving a 1½ to 10-year sentence July 1.

Jacob Grundy Gets 75 to 99 Years for Murder of 'Girl Friend'

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) — Jacob R. Grundy, 37, today began a 75 to 99 year prison term for murdering his 46-year-old girl friend last fall.

Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown sentenced the four-time loser late yesterday following his conviction of second degree murder for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Ethel Bailey last Oct. 6.

A jury of seven women and five men deliberated for 7½ hours Wednesday before returning its verdict shortly before midnight following a three-day trial.

Grundy, who took the jury's verdict calmly, appeared to breathe a little faster when he heard Brown pronounce sentence but was otherwise calm throughout the proceedings.

Royal Oak Carpenter Facing Murder Trial

ROYAL OAK — Ruled sane by a sanity commission yesterday, a Royal Oak carpenter must stand trial for the second-degree murder he is accused of committing.

Woodrow G. Besonen, 46, of 1912 E. Fourth St., is accused of bludgeoning to death his foreman, George E. Sweigert, 64, Feb. 5 after an argument in Sweigert's home in Detroit.

Besonen admitted the slaying under the influence of a truth serum Feb. 7, but denied the admission the next day, police said.

He stood mute and an innocent plea was entered for him at his arraignment Feb. 11.

The sanity commission was held before Recorder's Court Judge John P. O'Hara in Detroit. No date has been set for the trial.

News in Brief

A bushel of corn, a bushel of tomatoes, nine bags of potato chips, 12 melons, and assorted peaches and plums valued at $25 were reported stolen Thursday from a fruit stand at 6380 Highland Rd., White Lake Township, according to sheriff's deputies.

Paul Eghigian, of 6335 Sashabaw Rd., Independence Township, reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday that someone entered a tool shed at the rear of his home and had stolen cans of auto grease valued at $60.

Thieves broke into a vending machine at Owens' Service Station, 15 Ortonville Rd., Groveland Township, last night and escaped with an undetermined amount of money, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

French Wage Crucial Battle

ALGIERS (AP) — The French army is waging a crucial offensive of the 4½-year-old Algerian war.

All available reserves have been thrown into the massive, forest-covered Grande Kabylie Mountains east of Algiers, the strongest bastion of the Moslem nationalist rebellion against French rule in Algeria.

French troops began the assault Wednesday, striking simultaneously from the ground, air and sea. Gen. Maurice Challe, supreme commander in Algeria, is commanding the operation personally.

So far there has been no word on how the operation is going. But staff officers say the action will continue for many weeks, if not months.

The French general staff believes the future of the Algerian war depends largely on the results of the Kabylie offensive.

The attack comes less than two months before the fall session of the United Nations, which is likely to discuss the Algerian problem. Army sources said the French will make a major effort to smash or considerably reduce rebel military resistance before the debate starts.

To Install Pastor for Disco Church

DISCO — The Rev. Kenneth L. Fischer of Milwaukee, Wis., will be installed as pastor of the new Lutheran Mission here at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church, Utica.

The Disco mission was established this spring, and the first service to be conducted by the new pastor will be at 9:30 a.m. Aug. 2 in the Disco Elementary School, the temporary place of worship for the mission.

The guest minister to preach the installation sermon Sunday will be the Rev. Paul T. Heinecke, executive secretary of the Mission Board of the Michigan District, Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

The liturgist will be the Rev. Louis Heinecke, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church. The rite of installation will be performed by the Rev. Fred Kipp of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Sterling Township, who is also counselor for the Utica Circuit.

Democrats to Study Reapportionment Ideas

LANSING (AP)—Democrats will meet here tomorrow to study various party proposals for legislative reapportionment.

"The main emphasis," said state chairman Neil Staebler, "will be on correcting the gross inequities in the state senate, where senators representing less than one-third of the people hold the majority of the seats."

Apportionment of legislative seats has long been a sorepoint with Democrats.

War Commission Urges Election of Local Groups

LANSING (AP)— The Michigan Civil War Centennial Commission has urged all municipalities to appoint local centennial committees.

The local groups could aid the commission by searching out, collecting and preserving records and data pertaining to the civil war.

Floyd L. Haight, commission chairman, said:

"Michigan must not forget that one out of every eight of its citizens went to service to preserve our cherished ideals, and that one out of every six was killed in action or died from military connection."

Mumps Spoil Game

MABEN, Miss. (UPI) — Last year it was a black eye that caused little league all-star nominee Allen Pugh, 12, to miss the all-star game. This year Pugh sat it out because of the mumps.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

AUBURN HEIGHTS. A real cute and cozy 2-bedroom ranch-type home situated on a large lot. The large living room finished in knotty pine. An excellent home for the honeymooners or retiring couples. $7950 with about $1500 down.

OFF BALDWIN and conveniently located near schools, stores and transportation is where you'll find this sharp 2-bedroom bungalow with full basement. It takes a pretty big down payment but the balance is on a 4 per cent mortgage with low monthly payments of $57 including taxes and insurance.

INCOME. Only $8950 with $1000 down will buy this 2-family income. Each side has 6 rooms and full bath. One side now rents for $75 and the other is vacant. It is located in a good rental area. If you're looking for an income, this may be it.

LIKE PLENTY OF FLOWERS, shade and garden area for your home, out of the city yet very close in, not on the lake but near one, 2 bedrooms and full dining room, basement and garage. If you do, we know you'll like the price. Call and see if we're not right.

OWNER SAYS "SELL" and will take almost any deal on this 4-year-old ranch-type home. They're living in their new home and this one is vacant. So instead of paying rent, why not pay on your own home. It takes very little down. Hurry while you're thinking of calling. Someone else may be looking.

$600 DOWN and $75 per month to include taxes and insurance. Wall-to-wall carpeting in the attractive living room. 2 extra nice bedrooms, wardrobe closets. Fenced back yard. Paved street near the new Northern High. Let's look quick!

CANAL FRONT at Watkins Lake. Lovely 2 bedroom bungalow having a breezeway with Bar-B-Q grill and garage attached. Extra nice sized living and dining rooms are carpeted. Full basement. Completely fenced lot leads down to the water and is lavishly landscaped. A good deal or a WISE investor at only $11,-500.

Slam British for Africa Action

Commission Charges Use of Unnecessary Force in Nyasaland

LONDON (AP) —Grave charges that Britain has turned her African protectorate of Nyasaland into a police state shook Prime Minister Macmillan's government today.

Laborites shouted for the resignation of Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd and prepared to make the Conservative government's African policy a major issue in the approaching national election—likely to be in October.

The police state accusation came in the report of a four-man commission appointed by the government to make an independent investigation into nationalist outbreaks in Nyasaland in February.

Hundreds of members of the nationalist African National Congress were put into detention camps and more than 50 Africans killed by soldiers and police in suppressing the wave of violence and sabotage in Nyasaland which spread to neighboring Southern and Northern Rhodesia. Sir Robert Armitagg, Governor of the territory, proclaimed a state of emergency in Nyasaland — a modified form of martial law giving the government powers to detain anyone.

Sir Patrick Devlin, a high court judge and one of Britain's most distinguished jurists, headed the commission which declared, "We think it quite evident that unnecessary force was used in making arrests."

The British government had said the roundup was made after it uncovered a plot by the nationalists to launch a "massacre" of officials, European settlers and Afr-Africans who sided with them.

May Shelve GI Bill Until Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The GI Bill for peacetime veterans, passed Tuesday by the Senate, may have to wait until next year for House consideration.

The chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, Rep. Orlin Teague (D-Tex), said in an interview today that he opposes its passage now.

To get House approval, Teague said his committee would have to hold hearings on the legislation. He added: "I don't propose to hold hearings this year. I don't want to be a party to sending a GI Bill to the White House which is almost certain to be vetoed by the President."

Captain Kangaroo Bouncy, Gentle Children's Show

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—The big television news among the youngsters in my house has nothing to do with Jack Paar's latest windmill joust or Lawrence -Welk's touch of Godfreyitis.

The really big news is that Sailor Clyde, Miss Frog and Henry the Dog have joined Captain Kangaroo, Mr. Green Jeans, The Dancing Bear, Tom Terrific and the puppets on the Monday-through-Saturday CBS-TV kiddy show.

Captain Kangaroo, played by 34-year-old Bob Keeshan, runs this gentle, excellent show that respects the children, invention, honesty and humor. He has refused to slough off his summertime responsitilities and has, instead, enlarged his cast and even changed the format from the land-locked Treasure House to the seagoing S. S. Treasure House.

Judging by the happy laughter he's winning from my youngsters, ages six and two, he's still very much on target and communicating like mad.

SHORT SHOTS: A 40-second newsreel clip of Vice President Nixon's arrival in Moscow was shown by NBC-TV during its 11 p.m. (EDT) newscast. Flown from Moscow to London via Prague, the film was fed into the transatlantic cable by the BBC, reconverted into a picture at Montreal, beamed to Buffalo, N. Y. and on to NBC-TV in New York, to be shown some 15 hours after the event. This was the second transatlantic transmission of this sort and the picture was surprisingly clear.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Jack Paar has invited Dody Goodman to his NBC-TV show for next Wednesday, July 29, when Paar celebrates his second year with the late-night show . . . "The Killers." Ernest Heminway's story of hired killers in a small town, will be presented on CBS-TV Thursday, Nov. 19 in a 90-minute adaption by A. R. Hotchner.

The full lineup for the Edie Gorme-Steve Lawrence ABC-TV special, The Golden Circle, to be seen on Wednesday, Nov. 25, lists the Andrews Sisters, Nat King Cole, the Mills Brothers and Rudy Vallee as guests.

Air Does Big Job in Producing Cars

In the hands of experienced employes, pneumatic wrenches powered by air compressed to 100 pounds per square inch and supplied to work stations by an amazing network of pipelines and hoses, tighten more nuts and bolts on today's cars than any other device.

At Oldsmobile's main plant in Lansing last year, nearly six billion cubic feet of free air was used to drive pneumatic tools.

The versatility of compressed air lends itself to a variety of other applications as well, such as in power hoists, heavy and light press work, agitators, etc.

Miss Arkansas Gets Jack Webb Film Pact

Webb, who spotted Donna Sue Needham on television, said he wants the 5-foot-6 beauty from Berryville for a role in "—30—", a movie based on one day in the life of a metropolitan newspaper.

Miss Needham, 19, measures 35½-22-35. In the film, she will portray an aspiring actress who is brought to the newspaper office by a press agent seeking a story.

Swear Former Governor Into Administration Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former New Hampshire governor Lane Dwinnel was sworn in yesterday as assistant secretary of state for administration.

Acting Secretary C. Douglas Dillon told Dwinnel that his "reputation as an outstanding businessman and governor has preceded you."

Godfrey to Make 1st Appearance After Surgery

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Radio-television star Arthur Godfrey, who underwent a lung cancer operation April 30, will make his first postoperative public appearance at the Eastern States Exposition Horse Show in September, Edgar S. DeMeyer, general chairman of the show said Thursday.

Godfrey appeared at last year's show and, DeMeyer said, was invited to return for the 1959 show long before it was known he was suffering from cancer.

The announcement of Godfrey's return said he will appear at every performance of the horse show from Friday afternoon, Sept. 25 to the night performance, Sunday, Sept. 27.

Slate Full 7 Days for TV This Week

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—At times in summer it seems as if the home screen carries nothing but repeats. In the next seven days, though, quite a handful of live programs are coming up on the three networks.

The Pirates play the Milwaukee Braves on NBC Saturday. CBS cameras focus on the Dwyer Handicap at Jamaica for "The Thoroughbred Race of the Week." And later, NBC goes to Monmouth racetrack for the $100,000 Monmouth Handicap.

Headliners of the Dick Clark Show on ABC Saturday evening are Will Jordan, Annette Funicello and Stonewall Jackson. Peggy King is the guest of Tony Bennett and the Four Lads on Perry Presents over NBC.

Sunday, The Last Word on CBS has novelist Evan Hunter and reporter Marguerite Higgins as its guests.

For two sides of a question you can tune to two networks in adjoining half-hours. Face the Nation on CBS questions James Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Meet the Press questions Robert Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate committee which has been investigating Hoffa's activities.

Monday on ABC the guests of Mike Stokey's Pantomime Quiz will be Phyllis Kirk and Corinne Calvet. Guests of the Andy Williams show on CBS Tuesday are Julie London, Cab Calloway, comedian Jack Durant and singer Norma Douglas.

The Jack Paar Show has an interesting array of guests on NBC Wednesday with Eileen Christie, Dody Goodman, Edward Everett Horton and Charles Dornan.

Who Pays?—a new panel quiz show—is on NBC Thursday night. Mike Wallace is the master of ceremonies and the panelists are Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Celeste Holm and Gene Klavan.

Brigitte Bardot's Sister Rejects U. S. Film Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Because the role and costume were too small, Brigitte Bardot's younger sister has turned down what would have been her first American film role.

A Universal studio spokesman said Mijanou Bardot cabled from Paris rejecting the role of a secretary to the devil, Mickey Rooney, in "The Private Lives of Adam and Eve."

The studio said she previously had accepted the part but changed her mind after reading the script.

About 150,000 Americans are employed in atomic energy plants and of these about 99.7 per cent are considered standard insurance risks on an occupational hazard basis.

Mother, Suitor Guilty of Murdering 2 Sons

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Wanda Brogdon and her lover Archie Merriam were convicted Thursday night of first-degree murder for strangling her two sons.

They face death in the gas chamber or life imprisonment.

Merriam, 36, had testified that Mrs. Brogdon, 33, showed him how to strangle the boys. Mrs. Brogdon denied it.

Diamonds are made of a common substance. Chemically, diamonds are pure carbon, the same substance as the "lead" in a pencil. Last year, jewelry and silverware advertisers invested $1,498,000 in daily newspaper advertising. That's over 27 per csent more than was invested the previous year.

Castro to Pitch at Ball Game
Boosting Agrarian Program

Beard, olive drab uniform, military boots and all, Castro is scheduled to pitch at least part of a five-inning contest between his soldiers and his police. Proceeds from the game go to the agrarian fund, which is to help peasants get started on the lands Castro seizes from big owners and gives to the landless.

The game is part of the 26th of July revolutionary movement's anniversary celebration which reaches its peak Sunday. A half million peasants are then expected in the capital.

The peasant's decision is certain to be unanimously affirmative, just as it was last February when Castro summoned an estimated 300,000 to another giant rally and asked whether they wanted executions of so-called war criminals continued.

Thousands more peasants continued to pour into the capital. Organizers said as of Thursday night lodgings had been provided for 130,000. They added, however, thousands of additional arrivals still were unregistered.

The city is getting more and more into a carnival spirit, but many looked with apprehension at the celebrating peasants armed with razor sharp machetes, the knives used for cutting sugar cane. Some scuffling and injuries already have been reported. Six hundred uniformed Cuban Red Cross workers have moved into the luxury Riviera Hotel to assist authorities.

President Osvaldo Dorticos told newsmen Thursday night the government is taking all necessary steps to prevent any acts of hostility against Americans during the celebrations.

"There is no hostility among the people or government of Cuba against the United States, nor can there be," he said after correspondents told him that some foreigners — particularly Americans — had been threatened during the one-hour general strike Thursday.

Some American families, however, were reported planning to leave town for the weekend.

Dies When Run Over by Own Car

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—George U. Lansdowne died Thursday when his own auto ran over him four times.

Patrolman J. B. Calloway said Lansdowne, 81-year-old head of a farm implement firm here, was thrown from his car in a two-car collision.

After the wreck, the Lansdowne car began moving in a circle and ran over its owner four times before an unidentified man stopped it.

The driver of the other auto, Mrs. Betty Ann Sud, 25, escaped injury.

State Creditors to Go to Court

Contractors, Vendors Must File Suit If They Want Interest

LANSING (AP) — Most contractors and vendors owed money by the state will have to go to court if they want to collect interest Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams has advised.

A creditor, however, can bring suit against the state in a court of claims, Adams said, and can receive five per cent interest if the judgment is favorable. Such a judgment, he added, should be easily obtained for a valid past-due account.

Adams also said money owed by the state cannot be written off as a credit against state taxes or fees.
