Cold Air Slides In Tonight: 40-Degree Dip Due in Spots

Midnight	77	10 a.m.	84
4 a.m.	76	Noon	89
6 a.m.	76	1 p.m.	91
8 a.m.	76	2 p.m.	91

The beginning of a repeat performance prolonged heat wave for Pontiac and vicinity should be nipped in the bud by a rapidly advancing cold front, the weatherman said today.

Temperatures soared in the 90s Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with the mercury expected to climb to a high of 92 today.

But the Weather Bureau says the cold front, sweeping across Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas is expected to arrive in Pontiac and southern Michigan late today.

The cooling mass, which should cover the entire state by Thursday morning, is expected to drop Michigan's blazing temperatures by as much as 40 degrees in some areas.

The weatherman reports it is likely that the cold front will be accompanied by scattered thunderstorms, some of them possibly severe.

The mercury should skid to a low tonight of 72 in Pontiac with a high of only 78 predicted for tomorrow.

It is expected to dip as low as 42 in western upper Michigan and 44 in eastern upper Michigan.

WARMER ON WEEKEND

The cool weather for Pontiac and Oakland County should last through tomorrow and Friday with temperatures ranging from 74 to 78 degrees.

A warming trend was forecast for Saturday and Sunday, however, with cool temperatures returning again Monday.

The recorded high temperature in Pontiac yesterday was 94 degrees.

Ike Gets Bill Upping Gas Tax

Would Go Into Effect Oct. 1, Keep Highway Program Alive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House sent to President Eisenhower today a bill increasing the federal gasoline tax a cent a gallon Oct. 1. The money will go toward financing the interstate highway program.

The bill will add a billion dollars to motorists' gasoline bills for the next 21 months by raising the gasoline tax from three to four cents a gallon until July 1, 1961.

The extra tax is designed to help overcome a deficit currently existing in funds for construction of the 41,000-mile interstate network.

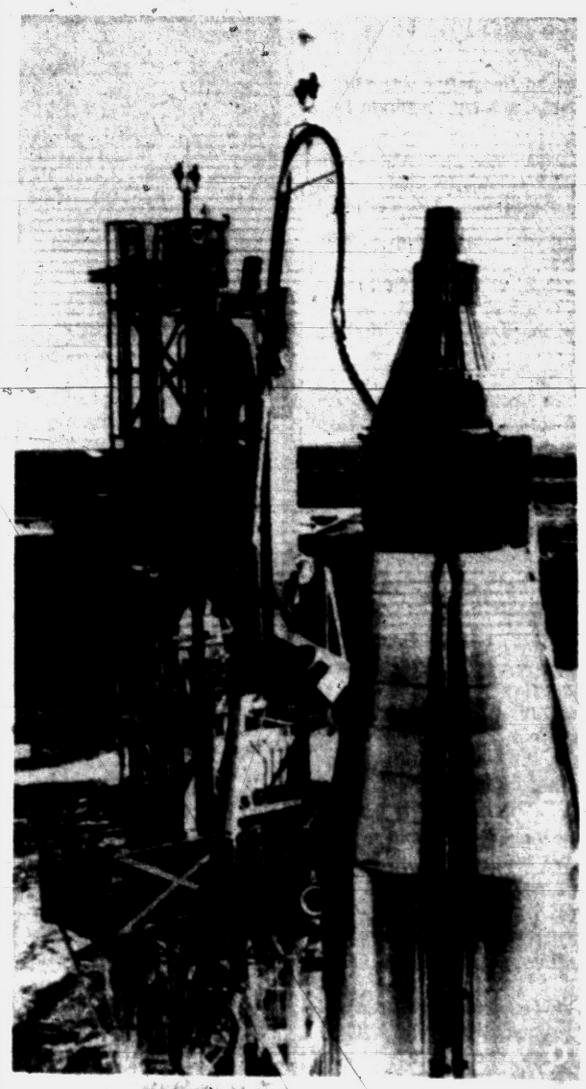

Without the additional funds, the federal-state highway program was threatened with a halt to contracting this year.

Although the emergency financing bill did not entirely meet President Eisenhower's specifications, it was expected to be signed to keep the road building program rolling.

Without debate, the House accepted amendments written into the House version by the Senate.

One Senate provision set the effective date of the tax boost at Oct. 1, instead of the Sept. 1 date provided earlier by the House.

'BIG JOE' ATOP ATLAS — 'Big Joe,' an experimental unmanned model of the type of capsule that will carry the first American into space, is shown in place atop an Atlas missile. It was rocketed high over the Atlantic today and the capsule was quickly located. 'Big Joe' is 9½ feet tall, 6 feet across rounded base and 20 inches across the top. It weighs one ton.

Experts Claim Test Successful Despite Mishap

Capsule Sends Signals; Astronauts to Ride in Similar Carrier

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A space capsule like the one a Mercury astronaut will ride in orbit was blasted hundreds of miles out across the Atlantic today and quickly recovered intact.

Space experts said main research objectives were met despite a mechanical mishap that shortened the flight.

The bottle-shaped steel chamber was hoisted aloft from this missile test center at 2:19 a.m. by a huge Atlas rocket, the vehicle chosen for the first manned flights.

Instead of a man, however, it carried only instruments.

All went well on the launching itself but when the powerful first stage burned out after 2 minutes and 40 seconds it failed to disengage and fall away as planned.

The resulting drag cut the flight short of the 100-mile altitude and 2,000-mile distance planned, but telemetry signals came back for 12 of the expected 20 minutes, indicating that much of the planned range had been achieved.

Then signals were heard from the chamber itself, afloat on the water several hundred miles north of Barbados, and the chamber was quickly located by plane.

Money in Nursery —or for College?

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE AND LILLIAN FINE

Should you send your child to nursery school? Or would it be wiser to save the money to pay college expenses later on?

You may get some help by asking yourself the following questions:

1. Is my son or daughter strong and healthy enough to start school now?

2. Does he have enough play space and the equipment he needs to develop muscles and co-ordination?

3. Does he need more companions of his own age?

4. Does he need more opportunities and experience than I can give him at home?

5. Do I need some help from a trained objective person in understanding my child?

6. Does he show signs of being too dependent and babyish?

If you answer "yes" to most of these questions, your child probably needs the experience of attending a good nursery school.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS

How do you find the right one? First of all, find out from your doctor, neighbors, clergyman, or community officials what schools are available within a reasonable distance. The best school in the world is hardly worth transporting young children long distances.

Investigate thoroughly. This means staying through at least one session and observing carefully the physical conditions, the teachers' attitude, the behavior of the children, and the general "atmosphere" of the school.

Find out how much training and experience the teachers have and what they try to accomplish with the children.

Is the school overcrowded or understaffed? Is there

Advance Gifts Group Hears Challenge From Griffin at Breakfast

"You're all leaders of this community and veterans of the United Fund. You know that our community needs all the services of the agencies supported by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

"Now, let's really get out and translate our conviction into dollars and cents."

So spoke Glenn H. Griffin, advance gifts chairman of 1959 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign this morning to more than 40 advance gifts solicitors at a breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank in the Club Overdraft.

The advance gifts section of the commercial division solicits those commercial establishments which in the past have given more than $100 to the Pontiac Area United Fund. The advance gifts solicitation takes place during the three-week period prior to the kickoff of the general UF campaign.

Almost 40 per cent of the commercial division's goal of $179,000 is made up of advance gifts.

Robert R. Eldred, campaign chairman, noted that with the advance gifts section goal of $78,795 successfully raised, the general solicitation can't help but whiz by the overall UF goal of $647,698.

This year's advance gifts goal of $78,795 is a 4.2 per cent increase over the amount raised by this section during the 1958 campaign.

As an indication of the expected success of the coming campaign, Eldred presented the Community National Bank's advance gift of $7,000 to Griffin. This gift is a $1,000 increase over the bank's 1958 contribution.

Griffin and Eldred teamed up with Karl W. Bradley, Pontiac Area UF executive director, to outline to the solicitors their duties during the 21-day solicitation period.

The general campaign officially kicks off on Oct. 1 with an early evening parade down Saginaw street followed by a torch lighting ceremony.

Union Pressmen Halt Detroit Papers

DETROIT (AP) — A work stoppage by pressmen at the Detroit News today delayed publication of both the News and the Detroit Times.

Neither published afternoon first editions on schedule. The morning Free Press skipped all editions today.

The News missed all editions and the Times printed only a limited run of one edition yesterday.

The three papers, members of the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn., have a joint contract with the Pressmen's Union.

Robert C. Butz, executive secretary of the association, said that Tuesday morning pressmen refused to operate presses at the Detroit News in completing a Labor Day edition in conformance with the contract which permits employes and carriers to get off work as early as possible on holidays.

It has come to the attention of the Pontiac Press that on several occasions recently, photographers have led persons to believe they are representing this publication when they have no connection with us at all. We regret any inconvenience that this may have caused, and assure area residents that this practice will not be tolerated, and legal action will be taken to end it.

Detroit Firm Enters Low Figure

Open Courthouse Bids

A Detroit contractor outbid two Pontiac area firms today as new construction bids were opened for the two biggest phases of the proposed $3 million Oakland County Courthouse.

The base bid for general construction submitted by O. W. Burke Co. was nearly $33,000 lower than bids by J. A. Fredman, Inc. of Pontiac and Schurrer Construction Co. of Waterford Township.

Fredman, who originally had the general construction contract and then withdrew because of legal difficulties, submitted a base bid of $2,093,900. Schurrer's was $2,161,000. Burke's was $2,061,000.

County officials got into the legal tangle this summer when they awarded the giant general construction contract to a local firm.

When Fredman got the contract, suit was brought in behalf of A. Z. Shmina & Sons of Dearborn. It charged that Shmina should have received the contract since his bid was lower than Fredman's.

Shmina, who withdrew the suit when the county promised to take new bids, did not enter the competition today.

Even considering alternates in construction that would affect the total cost, the Burke bid was still about $20,000 less than Fredman's, it was noted.

MECHANICAL BIDS

Officials also opened new bids for mechanical construction.

Once again, the R. L. Spitzley Co. of Detroit was lowest, with a bid of $679,800.

This is $34,250 higher than the price for which it contracted to do the work for last June.

But the rise in the Spitzley price is offset by an apparent reduction in the general construction costs, it was pointed out.

Although a final contract figure for general construction has not been determined yet, Burke's base bid was $55,000 less than the contract price Fredman signed for last June.

The drop in price in part reflects a minor redesign in the building and downgrading of some construction materials since last June, architects said.

Fredman and Spitzley both withdrew from their contracts last month in the face of a long and costly delay while the State Supreme Court pondered Shmina's suit.

The third contractor has stood firm on his contract price. This is the Schultz Electric Service of Detroit, which has a $306,542 contract for electrical work.

OPENED BY AUDITORS

Bids were opened by the board of auditors and the architects, O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham. On hand were members of the supervisors' ways and means committee, buildings and grounds committee and special courthouse committee.

The county is still legally able to reject Burke's bid and accept one of the two higher Pontiac bids. A decision is expected by next Monday when the full board of supervisors meets.

David Levinson of Birmingham, chairman of the special courthouse committee, asked the architects to tabulate and review the bids in time for a recommendation to the three committees at 11 a.m. Friday.

It is hoped that the committees will be able to act on the architect's recommendation in time to put one of their own before the board Monday.

The other mechanical bids were: Eames & Brown plumbers of Pontiac, $695,000; Shaw Winkler, Inc. of Detroit, $697,500; Lloyd S. Thornton Co. of Troy, $699,800; Goss Mechanical Contracting Co. of Detroit, $700,000, and Robert Carter Corp. of Detroit, $706,000.

FREDMAN BID LOWER

Fredman's bid today of $2,093,900 compares with his $2,103,937 bid in April. Shmina's bid in April was $2,092,400.

Burke also bid last April. He was third lowest with a bid of $2,127,000.

34,000 Begin New Term in City, Waterford Schools

Pontiac and Waterford Township public and parochial schools are opening their doors this week as approximately 34,000 students flock to classes for the 1959-60 year.

The fall term begins tomorrow for 20,000 children in the Pontiac school system.

More than 375 youngsters will begin the first day of classes at Emmanuel Christian School on Friday. St. Michael and St. Frederick schools began formal class sessions yesterday.

The enrollment of more than 12,200 students in Waterford Township has already begun, with regular school sessions for all elementary grades slated for Friday. Junior and senior pupils returned to classes this morning.

The Pontiac school system is in the best position ever to meet the needs of its students returning to classes tomorrow morning, said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of the city's schools.

"Capacity is now equal to enrollment," Whitmer said. "Such has not always been the case."

When Whitmer became superintendent in 1954, the Pontiac school district had 25 schools with a reasonable capacity of 14,887. The enrollment, however, was 16,917.

Since that time, the pupil capacity has been increased by nearly 5,000, a 33 per cent increase in five years.

HAS 34 SCHOOLS

The Pontiac School District now has 34 schools with a reasonable capacity of 19,816 pupils. This meets the anticipated enrollment.

More than 260 schools in Oakland County will accommodate 165,000 students returning to classes for the 1959-60 year.

Approximately 6,500 teachers will provide the education for these youngsters in 31 school systems in the county.

This number includes 200 addi-

Vanished Tot Safe in Jackson

Mother Reported Her Missing From Detroit Last Night

JACKSON (AP) — A sleeping 3-year-old girl who vanished in a car reported stolen in Detroit was found today wandering naked through the streets of Jackson, 75 miles away.

Dr. F. I. Van Wagen, Jackson health director, said the child had been molested, but she could not recall being assaulted.

The child's mother, Mrs. Joan Roland, 23, reported her daughter, Debbie, and her car missing last night.

She said she and a friend left the child in the car while they went to get a drink of water near Detroit's Waterworks Park. She said the car was gone when they returned.

Mrs. Roland was held for investigation of child neglect after being questioned by Detroit police. Two officers and a policewoman went to Jackson to get the baby and bring her to Detroit.

Police Det. George Evans said the woman first told him she came from Cookeville, Tenn., but later admitted she had been living at a trailer camp at Clark Lake, near Jackson.

CHANGES STORY

Evans said he was trying to determine whether the baby was kidnaped by accident or taken to Jackson by a friend of the mother.

Nursery School Needed? Or Save for College?

plenty of space indoors and out for vigorous noisy play? Is the play space protected from traffic and intruders?

Is there a variety of toys and play equipment suitable for young children? Does the school have a piano and a phonograph?

Few nursery schools are as attractive as parents might wish. A good nursery school may be located in a big, old-fashioned house or in a church hall. If the place is clean and reasonable safety precautions have been taken, physical conditions are probably acceptable.

Far more important than equipment are the teachers. Genuine liking for children, a sense of humor, energy and tact, plus the ability to think fast are needed.

DO IT YOURSELF

The head of the school should have considerable experience and formal training. A strong-minded, forceful director will probably insist on maximum control and no nonsense; for some children such a school may be too restrictive.

A wishy-washy director may be too permissive and let the children run wild. Of course, a happy medium is desirable.

The personalities and behavior of other children in the school should be considered. Is your youngster likely to be overwhelmed by noise and aggressive tactics of the others? Or will his carefully developed confidence make him appear overaggressive in a group of sissies?

Suppose there is no nursery school available. Well, why not start your own? That is how many of the best nursery schools began. Mothers get together and assume certain responsibilities.

One might prepare lunch, another tell stories, a third take the children for a walk, and so on. These co-operative ventures have the best chance when a fair amount of capital is available and at least one trained person can be hired.

On a less formal scale, parents can devise substitute activities. A story hour for the neighboring children, an occasional visit to the zoo or museum, birthday parties — all these can provide children with meaningful experiences.

DEPENDS ON CHILD

When is the best time for a child to start nursery school? The answer depends on the child. If a youngster has developed some ability to look after himself, if he seems interested in the school when he visits it, and if the director feels he is ready for the experience, it should be safe to enroll him, with the understanding that he may be withdrawn after a trial period.

What if a child doesn't like nursery school. Try to find out why he is not happy. Let him stay home for a few days and then try again.

Talk over the problem with his teachers. If after a fair trial and real effort a child is clearly not benefiting, it is best to withdraw him. Later, another school may be found better suited to his needs.

After nursery school comes kindergarten, and most of what has been said about nursery schools applies to kindergarten classes.

In a few schools, kindergarten is really a kind of fraudulent substitute for the first grade. Instead of providing the supervised play and development activities appropriate for 5-year-olds, teachers coax and nag youngsters to learn to read and do simple arithmetic problems.

Research offers convincing evidence that it is not a good idea. The average 5-year-old is not ready physically, mentally, or emotionally to read.

He has other things to learn: how to get along without Mother for a while, how to get along with other children and how to build his strength and develop muscular coordination.

You can help your children get the most out of kindergarten by maintaining a happy, relaxed atmosphere in the home and cooperating closely with the school.

SCHOOL'S IN SESSION — Loaded down with books for the first day of school in Rochester this morning were (from left) Joanne Ball, 12; Beverly Tachick, 13; Patricia Avery, 12; and Mary Beerbower. They were waiting for the school bus at the Rochdale subdivision stop. Pupils in the lower grades reported to school yesterday, and junior and senior high students went back to classes today.

Truck Hits 3-Year-Old in Pontiac; Others Are Injured in County

Two persons were injured in an accident on W. Maple road, in West Bloomfield Township, last night and an Orion Township youth was hurt when hit by a truck in Pontiac.

James A. Turnbow, 3, of 4900 Baldwin Rd., strayed from his mother, Mrs. Louise Turnbow, on Paddock street near Mechanic street yesterday afternoon and ran into the path of a passing stake truck.

The boy was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital and released. The truck driver, Robert E. Clay, 38, of Detroit, told police he couldn't stop in time to avoid hitting the boy.

Robert J. Piper Jr., 29, of 1023 Canterbury St., was stopped behind an auto at the intersection of W. Maple and Drake roads when a car driven by Raymond L. Swartz, 21, of 3010 Woodlawn St., Walled Lake, struck him from behind, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported.

Piper's mother, Delphene, 56, and sister, Joan, 23, both of 33 Auburn Ave., were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

The three-car pileup also involved another driver, John W. Parkkila, 19, of 6782 Drake Rd., Walled Lake. All three drivers were uninjured.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission Rejects Bids for Library Addition

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission at last night's meeting rejected all general construction bids on the proposed addition to the Baldwin Public Library.

The action was taken because all of the bids submitted were over the city's estimated cost of the addition.

The estimation was made before the commission was informed of an unexpected foundation problem.

According to city engineers, unexpected additional work would have to be done on the property next to the library to insure that construction there would have a solid foundation.

Since the city is determined not to exceed a cost of $151,800 for the library addition, city architects are busy cutting the job down to size by re-aligning some of the specifications.

Only construction bids will be re-advertised. Bids on equipment are being held in abeyance until the building specifications have been reduced to meet the budget.

$43,200 OVER BUDGET

The lowest construction bid submitted was for $195,000 or $43,200 over the city's budget for the project.

In other action, the commission approved the installation of a traffic light at the corner of Maple and Chester streets as the result of a traffic survey conducted by city engineers.

On the recommendation of Police Chief Ralph Moxley, the light will be in operation only during the hours pupils would normally be crossing the street.

BOARD GETS REQUEST

A request to permit construction of a neighborhood swimming pool in the Forest Hills Subdivision, submitted by D. K. Simpson of 292 Henley Dr., was referred by city commissioners to the planning board and the city attorney for a report at next week's meeting.

If the project is approved, plans call for the organization of a non-profit association to own and operate the pool for the resident-members who would pay for construction and maintenance.

Also referred to the city planning board for its consideration was a request by Frank Van Fleteren of 412 E. Frank St. to rezone his property from multiple family residence to non-retail business.

Pontiac to Seek Sewage Grant

Commission Not Sure City Is in a Financial Position to Qualify

City commissioners voted last night to seek federal aid in construction of more sewage treatment facilities.

They're still not sure how Pontiac will be in financial position to qualify for it.

But next Tuesday is the deadline for applying for funds this fiscal year, so City Manager Walter K. Willman recommended that the city enter its application.

Willman said Pontiac, as a large city, normally would be eligible for $250,000 in federal funds, the maximum amount available.

Commissioners adopted a resolution, prepared by Willman, which asks the State Water Resources Commission to give Pontiac high priority on 1959-60 funds available from the U.S. Public Health Service. The Water Resources Commission controls distribution of the grants.

Pontiac probably will get a high priority, since the Water Resources Commission already is concerned with the city's pollution of the Clinton River. The state body has ordered the city to have new facilities to curb pollution in operation by the end of 1961.

Cost for more facilities was estimated at $3,300,000 last spring when voters for the third time turned down general obligation bonds to construct added facilities.

Willman said an initial meeting with members of the Water Resources Commission staff and the State Health Department indicated the cost still might not reach much more than $3,300,000.

He said it may be necessary to construct more aeration facilities than originally planned, but added that this is not too expensive.

Still unsettled is the question of financing. The city could turn to the voters again for approval of bonds, or could issue bonds itself after defaulting on the Water Resources Commission order.

So far, city officials see little chance of defaulting on the order before July 1, 1960, the date the Water Resources Commission says construction contracts should be signed.

But if federal money is to be obtained this fiscal year, contracts must be signed by May 1.

If an election is called, it will be before March 1 next year, the city promised.

Mergenthaler Award Winners Announced

The annual Ottomar Mergenthaler plaque went to Prensa Libre, Havana, Cuba. Individual prizes consisting of a scroll and $500 were awarded to:

Jorge Quintana, Bohemia, Havana, Cuba; Andres Borrase, La Prensa Libre, San Jose, Costa Rica; Horacio de Dios, La Razon, Buenos Aires, Argentina; Peter Aldor, El Tiempo, Bobota Columbia; and Angel Edmundo Font, La Gaceta, Tucuman, Argentina.

The announcements were made by William M. Pepper, Jr. (The Gainesville Sun, Florida) Chairman of the IAPA awards committee, which met in Miami Beach, Fla., Aug. 1 to study the nominations and select the winners.

The awards will be delivered during the IAPA's annual meeting October 6-8 in San Francisco, Calif.

May Go to Laos This Weekend

U.N. Group Agrees It Is Vital to Probe Charges On the Spot Quickly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The U. N.'s new four-nation fact-finding group may get a team off to Laos by week's end to investigate reported invasions from neighboring Red North Viet Nam.

The subcommittee, set up by the Security Council over bitter Soviet protests, met Tuesday with Council President Egidio Ortona of Italy, to make plans for the mission.

Ortona said the four members —Italy, Argentina, Japan and Tunisia—agreed it was vital to carry out its task as quickly as possible.

The West proposed the inquiry group as a compromise the Soviets might not oppose too strongly. Laos had called for U. N. troops to meet the alleged Red aggression in the same way that the Western powers rallied to the defense of South Korea against Communist North Korea in 1950.

The Western plan ran into immediate opposition from North Viet Nam which declared the setting up of the fact finding group was illegal.

The Hanoi government also charged that the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) headed by the United States, plans direct intervention in Laos.

The Red regime said the only way to ease tension in the Southeast Asia kingdom was to enforce the Geneva agreement of 1954 that ended the Indochinese war and to restore the international control commission it provided.

A spokesman in Hanoi denied again that North Vietnamese troops are fighting in Laos.

Forest Fire Flashes Across Deadwood

DEADWOOD, S. D. (AP) — A forest fire first circled and then skipped across this historic gold rush town Tuesday, taking a few homes and businesses, before roaring unchecked into unpopulated timber area to the southeast.

Asst. State Forester Tom Borden said he had heard no confirmed reports of serious injuries or deaths.

The same shifting winds that turned the fire into town helped minimize damage by lofting the blazes into tree tops and producing a scattered pattern of fires.

The flank of the fire was halted three-fourths of a mile from nearby Lead, home of the famous Homestake gold mine.

Deadwood's 3,500 residents were evacuated but some were trickling back early today.

Some of Lead's 6,400 people also were evacuated.

A STRANGE FIRE

"I wouldn't have given a plugged nickel for the whole town of Deadwood at four o'clock," said Rapid City Journal reporter Ken Jumper.

Jumper, who had fought fires with the Navy in Florida, said "it was the damndest thing I've ever seen.

"The hillsides looked like they had been raked by tracer bullets with Christmas tree lighting as far as you could see," he said.

Late Tuesday night, an estimated 2,000 fighters were digging a wide line several miles ahead of the fire, sacrificing the timber in between to try to stop it there.

Borden said fighters hoped for a drop in winds gusting near 45 m.p.h. at midnight.

SECOND BLAZE BURNS

The two blazes had consumed an estimated 16,000 acres. The Deadwood burn had a 20-mile perimeter late Tuesday night.

Temperatures of 100 plus degrees, a long siege of drought and humidity at a near record low of five per cent set the stage for a bad burn.

Find Space Capsule Afloat on Atlantic

Administration reported the capsule had been retrieved at 10:38 a.m. It had been sighted first at 5:30.

A MAJOR STEP

The director of Project Mercury, which is aimed at putting a man into orbit in 1961, rated the re-entry survival as probably a major step forward.

He said the primary objective of the trial was to see how the capsule stood up under the heat and shock of coming back from a simulated orbital path.

The blast-off came at 2:19 a.m. Less than four hours later a search plane reported it had sighted the floating capsule, several hundred miles short of its goal.

At first it was believed that the test of the capsule designed to carry the Mercury astronauts into space had been a complete failure.

The booster stage of the powerful Atlas rocket failed to drop off after burnout 2 minutes and 40 seconds after the blast-off.

The extra weight prevented the main body of the rocket from traveling its full distance under the power of its sustainer engine.

FALLS SHORT OF TARGET

Robert Gilruth, Project Mercury director, reported that the missile flew low and failed to obtain the desired velocity. For that reason it fell several hundred miles short of its intended target area 2,000 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

The Atlas was supposed to boost the one-ton capsule to a height of 100 miles. Gilruth said he did not know how far up the Atlas actually went, but it was considerably below the 100-mile level.

New Heat Wave to Crack Tonight

sweltered under 90-or-above temperatures for 10 consecutive days the latter part of August.

Yesterday's 94 reading was the highest for this city on a Sept. 8 since compiling of weather data was begun. Sept. 8, 1922 came close with 91 degrees.

The lowest temperature for a Sept. 8 was recorded in 1883 at 37 degrees.

4 DEGREES OVER NORMAL

The five-day forecast for Pontiac and vicinity calls for temperatures to average about four degrees above normal. Normal high is 75, normal low 56.

Winds at 1:15 p.m. were south to southwest at 5-8 miles an hour. Seventy-five was the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Rockies to Send Cool Breezes to Some Areas

By The Associated Press

Cool air held in check several days by a high pressure area will push through today, bringing relief from hot, muggy weather to some sections of the country.

Cooling breezes will push eastward and southward from the northern and central Rockies to the northern and central plains states and upper Mississippi Valley.

East of this section, the hot, muggy weather will continue, the Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures soared in the plains states Tuesday. Rapid City, Phillips and Pierre, S.D., all had 100 degrees. Bismarck, N.D., had 105. Fargo, Jamestown and Dickinson in North Dakota also reported over 100 degrees.

The highest reading was 108 at Gila Bend, Ariz. Needles, Calif., had 107.

Ike Will Go on Air for Nikita Preview

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's radio-television address to the nation tomorrow night is expected to set the stage for next week's visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Administration officials said the President probably would explain the reasons for his invitation to Khrushchev and caution against expecting any dramatic developments or sudden solutions of cold war problems.

It also was considered likely that Eisenhower would request the American people to receive Khrushchev politely and correctly as befits a visiting head of state, no matter how strong their antipathies to the system he represents.

TV stations in the Pontiac area will air the President's message at 7:30 p.m. Pontiac time. It will be on radio at 6:30.

Also Investigate Vandalism

City Police Probe Thefts

A rash of burglaries and cases of malicious destruction were being investigated today by Pontiac police.

Topping the list of break-ins was the theft of three bicycle motors from Whizzer Industries, 350 S. Sanford St. The motors were valued at $300. Entrance was gained by breaking a basement window, police said.

Robert Hewitt of 64 Union St. reported to police Tuesday afternoon that someone entered his home through an unlocked door and stole two diamond rings valued at $150.

Detectives are also investigating the theft of 150 pounds of copper metal from the Pontiac Waste Material Co., 135 Branch St. The scrap metal was valued at about $35.

Mrs. Ethel Timmerman, manager of the Linda Lee Shop, 25 S. Telegraph Rd., reported to officers that someone stole a ladies brown wool suit valued at $55.

aged a floor safe the safe was broken off but that the thieves were unsuccessful in attempts to break an inner door.

The office was ransacked but nothing reported missing.

Early this morning Lucius F. Preston, of 223 S. Edith St., reported to police that someone entered his home and took a wallet containing $60 from a bedroom.

A rifle valued at $75, a box of shells and two micrometers were reported stolen by thieves who broke into the home of Emma Scott, of 483 Orchard Lake Ave.

Police also reported that vandals had broken about 12 windows on the east side of Wilson Elementary School, 511 S. Sanford St.

Jefferson Junior High School was entered and offices ransacked but nothing was reported stolen, police said.

Vandals also threw a rock through an $85 plate glass window in the front of the Pontiac Housing Commission Office, 535 Branch St.

Twenty-five new school buildings and 36 additions to schools have been completed for the eginning school year at a cost of $31,000,000 as 10,000 new students report to classes.

HALF DAYS DOWN

"Significantly, every year in the last 10 years, there have been less children on the half days since the year before," said Dr. William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools.

"There was a time when we would have as many as 7,000 kids going to school on half days only. I don't think we will have 1,500 pupils on half days this year. This is 400 less than last year.

"The voters should be complimented for approving millage for new schools to handle the increased enrollment problem."

In addition to the 165,000 students beginning classes in the county's public school systems, approximately 18,000 children are enrolling this week in private and parochial schools in the county.

Coal Supplies Electricity

PITTSBURGH—Bituminous coal generates about 65 per cent of the nation's total supply of available electric energy.

Vote to Continue Ohio Wildcat Strike

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Striking United Auto Workers Union employes voted yesterday to continue a wildcat walkout which has idled 3,500 workers at Chrysler Corp.'s nearby Twinsburg plant.

UAW members voted to repect appeals from local union officers to terminate the strike which started last Friday.

The walkout came after Chrysler fired 12 men said to be leaders in an earlier walkout last week over working conditions.

A Clawson man and a former Troy couple were rescued from Lake Erie yesterday after clinging for 30 hours to an overturned sailboat.

David Caulkins, 24, of 1109 W. Selfridge St., Clawson, told U.S. Coast Guard authorities his 21-foot ketch capsized when high waves arose while they were crossing the lake for Buffalo.

The craft was tossed over, but Caulkins and his passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hendrickson, formerly of Big Beaver Rd. in Troy, managed to climb onto the overturned hull.

Exhausted but otherwise unhurt, they were picked up by a fishing tug and taken to Port Stanley, Ont. The Hendricksons then went to their new home in Amherst, a suburb of Buffalo, and Caulkins returned to Clawson.

Integration Spreads Quietly Throughout Southland

By The Associated Press

Racial moderates were blasted by Gov.-elect Ross Barnett of Mississippi as token integration continued to spread quietly and peacefully into additional Southern communities.

Barnett charged moderates planned to move into his state in the next four years as part of a campaign to pick off Southern states one by one. The South should unite with pro-segregation Citizens Councils to fight attempts at integration, he said.

Barnett told a Citizens Council meeting at Jackson, Miss., Tuesday night that moderates "are nothing more than Southern burglars. They want to rob us of our priceless heritage, and they tell us that we shouldn't complain as long as they steal it a little bit at a time."

He said token integration was "just a sort of token burglary."

About the time he was speaking, two FBI laboratory experts moved into Little Rock, Ark., to assist in the probe of three bombings linked to token integration at the schools there.

A $25,000 reward was posted for solution of the dynamitings Monday night of the school board building, the mayor's office and the fire chief's official car. Police armed with riot guns patrolled the city streets and guarded the schools.

Telephned bomb threats received at two rural grade schools. Pupils were evacuated but a search of the buildings turned up no explosives and classes were resumed.

State police were alerted in southern Delaware for the start of grade-a-year integration in largely rural Kent and Sussex counties. Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, a Republican, said his people were law-abiding and would honor the federal court order. Many schools in the northern area around Wilmington were integrated without incident five years ago.

At Nashville, U. S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller reproached public school officials in Tennessee for not complying voluntarily with the U. S. Supreme Court segregation ruling.

"Why don't they act instead of having to be forced?" he asked during a hearing on a suit to admit 16 children of Negro airmen at Sewart Air Force Base to an all-white county school at Smyrna.

Miller gave the school commission a week to submit an integration plan. Only thre Tennessee public school systems have started integration. They are at Oak Ridge, Clinton and Nashville.

The first integrated public school classes began without disorder in Florida. Four Negroes entered Miami's Orchard Villa Elementary School with eight white pupils. There were 130 pupils when the last term ended but white families have moved from the district since then.

At Tampa, Fla., applications were received from 18 Negro pupils seeking reassignment to all-white schools. Officials interpreted the move as a new test of the Florida pupil placement law.

THEY GO TO SCHOOL — Two sisters, Jan Errol, 9, (left) and Irene Amanda, 8, (right) are two of the four Negro children to enter Orchard Villa Elementary School yesterday in Florida's first integration of public schools in Miami. Entering the building with the sisters is their mother, Mrs. Irvena Prymus.

Two more Virginia communities admitted Negroes to previously white schools, bringing to 80 the number of Negroes in integrated class rooms. The state's public school system has 800,000 pupils.

Twenty-one Negroes joined more than 300 white youngsters at Warren County High in Front Royal. There was no violence. However, a car carrying several white men drove past the school and one of the men yelled to a policeman "You better guard them coons."

At Charlottesville, nine Negroes attended formerly all-white Venable Elementary and three registered with more than 700 white pupils at Lane High.

About two million children started classes in Texas where 101 of the 1,646 school districts are desegregated. Two Negro couples tried to enroll their children in white public schools at Fort Worth. They left without protest when officials said Fort Worth schools would remain segregated this term.

City parks remained closed at Montgomery, Ala., after a federal judge ruled unconstitutional a city ordinance forbidding integration in public recreation facilities. Municipal officials vowed not to reopen the parks while an integration threat lingers.

Whooping Cough Cases on Increase in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Health Commissioner Joseph G. Molner said Tuesday a large increase in the number of whooping cough cases has been reported in Detroit.

During last week a total of 88 new cases was reported, compared to 90 cases reported in all of 1958. Thus far this year, 910 cases have been reported in Detroit.

An average American consumes 222 pounds of wheat and about 75 pounds of corn during a year.

Surviving are his wife, Jane; two sons, Lowes of Metamora and Maynard of Jackson; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Ex-Bank Head Out of Prison, Drives Truck

ELLENVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — William Rose, whose financial manipulations closed his bank and sent him to prison, is now driving a truck for a man who used to work for him.

Rose started delivering bottled gas Tuesday. People in this town of 5,000 or so hardly noticed. The attitude seems to be to forgive and forget.

What they have to forget is that more than a million dollars of the people's money in the now-defunct Home National Bank was misapplied through overdraft loans.

Rose, who was president of the bank, said he merely tried to help out struggling industries in this area and received no personal benefit.

The 53-year-old bachelor, sentenced to five years in prison, was paroled after less than two years. He came home last week.

Kay Kendall Buried Quietly Near Notables

LONDON (AP)—Kay Kendall, the British film beauty who died Sunday of leukemia, was buried today in a graveyard adjoining St. John's Parish Church.

The grave of 32-year-old wife of actor Rex Harrison is next to those of Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, a noted actor-manager who died in 1917, and of George du Maurier, the author and artist who died in 1896.

Miss Kendall's funeral was held privately with only relatives present.

Harrison had asked that no flowers be sent and people wishing to pay tribute to his wife should send donations to the imperial cancer research fund.

Leukemia is a form of cancer of the blood.

Deaths Elsewhere

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Oscar R. Cauldwell, 67, USMC (ret.), World War II commander of the 3rd Marine Division in the attack on Bougainville, died Tuesday. An Annapolis graduate in 1916, Cauldwell retired from the Marine Corps in 1946.

CHICOPEE, Mass. (AP)—Thomas J. Grady, 84, known as the Chicopee Flyer and world champion bicycle rider in 1901, died Monday night.

DETROIT (AP) — Thomas Hupke, 48, a member of the Detroit Lions National Football League championship team in 1935, died Monday night after a long illness. He was a graduate of the University of Alabama.

American aerial photographers were so accurate that they were able to estimate within 40 men the 4,000 Japanese soldiers stationed on an island in the South Pacific.

Ann Arbor Attorney, Age 73, Dies Tuesday

He was a member of a Detroit law firm (Monaghan, Crowley, Reilley & Kellogg) for 30 years before coming here in 1946. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Junket to End All Junkets!

Senators Off to Hawaii?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A junket to surpass all junkets—a free trip to Hawaii for the whole Senate—is getting enthusiastic consideration from some senators.

The taxpayers would foot the bill under terms of a resolution drafted by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. It calls for an outlay of $200,000 to cover members' expenses on the trip.

Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii cabled the invitation for all the senators to take part in a thanksgiving celebration for the 50th state. The Senate Republican Policy Committee received it Tuesday with "hilarity and exuberance of spirit," Dirksen reported.

If the trip materializes, Dirksen said he doesn't expect senators would be required to bother turning in expense accounts.

The GOP leader added that from Hawaii "it isn't very far around to Alaska" and some senators might want to go there too.

Radioactive Fallout Rate Apparently Past Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)— The rate of radioactive fallout from last year's nuclear weapons tests apparently has passed its peak, the Atomic Energy Commission reported Tuesday.

Latest available samplings of the nation's surface air show fallout levels in June were as much as 30 per cent lower than those earlier in the year in some areas, the AEC said.

In a quarterly report, the AEC also disclosed that hot spots where fallout is heavy immediately after tests do not necessarily remain heavily contaminated.

Concentrations of strontium 90 in the soil in California, Nevada, North Dakota and Utah, where high fallout has been recorded after tests at the Nevada proving grounds, are now no higher than the national average and below average in California, the AEC said.

LOWEST SINCE 1958

The report said the June fallout rate for the nation as a whole was the lowest since September 1958, when the United States and the Soviet Union stepped up their testing programs in anticipation of the existing one-year ban on tests.

The concentration of radioactivity at ground level in the eastern United States during June was two to four micromicrocuries per cubic foot of air, the AEC said. A curie is the amount of radiation given off by a gram of radium and a micromicrocurie is a million-millionth of a curie.

In April the level ranged from 9 to 11 micromicrocuries, and in May from 6 to 7.

The AEC statement also included a progress report on methods for removing strontium 90 from milk. It said laboratory tests indicate that up to 94 per cent of the radioactive material can be removed from skim milk. Getting it out of cream is proving a tougher problem.

Pioneer State Bridge Due to Be Replaced

ALLEGAN (UPI) — Michigan's oldest and longest single-span steel bridge will be replaced by a new bridge in two or three years, Allegan officials said today.

Site surveys already have been started for the new span which will be built by the state highway department. The present bridge was built in 1886.

Stops Jeep and Plane Roundups

New Law Will Protect Wild Horses Out West

DENVER (AP)—The wild horse herds of the West, vanishing from the American scene as the buffalo did 75 years ago, may get a reprieve with a new law that went into effect Tuesday.

President Eisenhower signed the measure which makes illegal the decimating mechanized roundups of recent years. The wild horses were run to exhaustion by jeeps and airplanes and wound up as dog food.

One of the strongest voices to end the wild horse slaughter was that of Velma Johnson of Wadsworth, Nev., better known in Washington as "Wild Horse Annie." And it was a Nevada congressman, Rep. Walter S. Baring (D-Nev), whose bill to halt the mass slaughter of the wild horses became law.

"I'm very happy," Baring said. "It shows the people's hearts are still with the good old American traditions."

Since the northward trek of Spanish conqueror Francisco de Coronado in the 1500s, the horse has been running wild in Western states.

A comparatively few shaggy, scrubby wild horses still hide out in the vastness, wary as deer. Some of them are descendants of the fabled mustang that roamed the mountains and high plains a century ago. Others are simply strays.

STILL HIDING OUT

A generation ago Nevada estimated a herd of 70,000 wild horses roamed within its borders. Now officials estimate only 500 are left in that state and only about 20,000 in the entire West.

To fill pet food cans, hunters poisoned water holes and with light planes drove herds into box canyons—with only one entrance and exit—where they were roped and trucked off to the cannery.

NEW YORK (AP)—Membership in American churches and synagogues reached an all-time high of 109,557,741 last year, the National Council of Churches reports.

The Council said that the figure means an estimated 63 per cent of the nation's population belongs to some organized faith.

The major groupings were Protestants 61,504,669; Roman Catholic 39,509,508, and Jewish, 5,500,500. Another 2,545,318 belonged to Eastern Orthodox churches. The overall total includes other small church groups.

Spoons Out Award When He Forgets Key

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — City Councilman Ross Tharp was supposed to present State Appeal Court Justice Lloyd Griffin with a souvenir key to the city at a dinner honoring Griffin.

Tharp found he had forgotten to bring one of the keys. So, he presented Griffin with the nearest thing at hand—a spoon.

Chamber of Commerce Fighting for Economy

Good!

The current issue of "Pontiaction" protests strongly against the failure of the State Legislature to cut expenses of State government to meet other leading commonwealths. According to Chamber figures, the Michigan cost per capita of State government is $163.45. The following figures show how much less than Michigan the states shown pay per resident:

New York	$20.51
Wisconsin	24.45
Ohio	39.26
Illinois	45.96
Pennsylvania	51.17
Indiana	52.90
New Jersey	83.98

As "Pontiaction" points out, new taxes are not the final answer to Michigan's predicament. Rather, Governor WILLIAMS' unhealthy economic climate is partly brought about by the overpowering cost of Michigan government—which seems to remain the same.

We feel the Chamber is on very sound ground and once more emphasizes a point that tax students have been proclaiming for years. ECONOMY should be the first objective of the Governor and the Legislature.

E. C. HAYHOW, a member of the Governor's tax commission, declared in a Pontiac speech that he was inclined to believe Michigan could get along WITHOUT ANY ADDITIONAL TAXES if the Lansing group really put the State government on a sound economical basis.

"Pontiaction" urges voters to take this matter up immediately with our representatives in Lansing and to declare themselves, if they are in agreement with the Chamber's proposal.

And who isn't?

Tough Job Ahead for New York Policemen

New York City announces that she is throwing 1,400 more policemen into the current battle to stop juvenile murders. The state of affairs transcends old fashioned juvenile delinquency.

Gang wars on New York streets and gang mugging and death are putting the ordinary citizens up in arms. Can the police cope with this — or can't they? The city is determined to find out. At the moment, their record is rather a dismal thing. The young hoods and punks are throwing their weight around in a disgraceful and shameful fashion.

Is New York up to the challenge?

Our Seaway Benefits Mustn't Be Hampered

Historic foes of the Seaway have been at it again. Atlantic and Gulf Coast cities and railroads were behind a movement to write into the surplus food bill a restrictive measure which would have deprived the Midwest of much of the benefits of the Seaway.

The measure would have required that all surplus agricultural products shipped to Europe for sale, donation or barter must be "delivered directly to the export vessel at a United States port." The House refused by a vote of 108-71 to write this into the bill but only after debating it for two days.

The restriction would have driven traffic away from the Seaway to the benefit of Atlantic and Gulf ports and increased the cost of shipping surplus foods. Midwest products now go down the Seaway in vessels loaded to about 60 per cent of capacity because of the 27 foot connecting channels. In Montreal they take on the other 40 per cent.

If it were not for this, shipping costs to Europe would be increased and any competitive advantages over the longer Atlantic and Gulf routes, including railroad transportation, would be largely lost.

Foes of the Seaway may be expected to keep trying and we must be alert to preserve the benefits the St. Lawrence route is bringing to the Midwest.

The Man About Town

Doesn't Hurt 'Em

Helps Most of Our Towns; Makes Living Much Safer

Autumn: Finest season of the year—if you do your part.

Cities and villages in the Pontiac area need have no fear when they are bypassed by their main highway through new paving operations. There is no record where any municipality has suffered for that reason.

All have richly benefited by the lessened traffic hazard. And I have it direct from state headquarters that no Michigan business has gone bankrupt because the through traffic has been routed around it.

Right here in the Pontiac area I know of a number of merchants whose business has improved after they were bypassed. If you're interested in how they did it, I'll cite a few cases, on request.

There's something to think about in the findings of one business man, who says: "It forced all of us who were sidetracked to spruce up, clean up, paint up and catch up with the times."

David Lawrence Says:

Civil Rights Report Is Confusing

WASHINGTON—Anyone who had the idea that a national commission to investigate "civil rights" could come up with a coherent report after months of study is bound to be puzzled by the confusing and to some extent contradictory recommendations just issued by the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

LAWRENCE

Six members — three from the North and three from the South — made a conscientious effort to come to grips with the civil rights question as it affects registration and voting, housing and education. But the net results is a sharp division between the six.

As for voting rights, the report presents an anomaly. The three northern members—John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University; the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame University, and Professor George M. Johnson, former dean of Howard University, who is the only Negro member of the commission—joined together to recommend a new constitutional amendment.

They feel it is necessary to take away from the states their present right to determine for themselves all the different qualifications of voters apart from race or color or sex. This is sound reasoning. For, as noted in these dispatches several weeks ago, the Constitution today specifically gives the states the right to define such voter qualifications and to provide, for instance, tests to prove that a citizen can read and write.

Oddly enough, however, two of the southern members—former Governor Doyle E. Carlton of Florida and Robert G. Storey, dean of the Southern Methodist University law school at Dallas, Tex.—joined with the three northern members to recommend the passage of a federal law to prevent individual discrimination in the application of existing state laws on the subject of voter qualifications.

But these same two members, together with a third from the South—former Governor John S. Battle of Virginia—then insisted that an amendment to the federal constitution is unnecessary to secure proper enforcement of voting rights because existing powers of Congress are adequate.

CONTROVERSIAL PART

Perhaps the most controversial section of the report is that which deals with alleged discrimination on the part of educational institutions which receive federal funds. It is signed by the three northern members and says in part:

"More than $2 billion a year of federal funds go for educational purposes and to educational institutions. The principal recipients of these funds are the nation's colleges, universities and other institutions of higher education.

"Whether tax-supported or privately financed, they receive federal grants and loans both for their general support and capital improvements as well as for research projects, special programs and institutes."

Strictly speaking, all private schools could be compelled to admit anyone, irrespective of race or creed or color, or else forfeit tax exemptions and other federal government privileges.

WANDERS AFIELD

It is in the field of housing, however, that the commission finds itself wandering far afield from constitutional principle. It says:

"The need is not for a pattern of integrated housing. It is for equal opportunity to secure decent housing. . . . The Negro's need for an alternative to blockbusting as a way of securing housing must be met just as the legitimate interests of white neighborhoods on the edge of Negro expansion areas must be protected."

This sounds a bit reminiscent of the "separate but equal" doctrines that used to be applied by the courts before the 1954 Supreme Court "desegregation" decisions.

Interestingly enough, while this very section on housing apparently won the concurrence of all six members of the commission, again even this appearance of unanimity is offset somewhat by a supplementary comment by the three southern members concerning future methods of tackling the problem of housing. They warn that "no one pattern will serve the country as a whole."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Invent Fancy Names for Common Complaints

It seems that when we don't really know much about a common complaint we invent a name for it that will satisfy the customers' curiosity and keep 'em from wondering what they've got.

DR. BRADY

Take excessively oily or greasy skin or scalp, for example. Medical lingo for this is seborrhea — excessive secretion of sebum, skin oil, hair oil.

Excessive oil or grease on skin or scalp is best removed by wiping it away with pledgets of cotton moistened with carbon tetrachloride — the non-inflammable 'dry cleaning fluid. This should be done out of doors or before open window, so one will not inhale the vapor, which is poisonous. Powders serve only to absorb the oil.

For seborrhea of the nose (red, shiny nose or "rum blossom") dab white lotion on the nose every second night, let it dry on and wash it off next morning. To make white lotion, put a level teaspoonfull of zinc sulfate and a level teaspoonful of sulfurated potassium (liver of sulfur) in a four-ounce vial and fill the vial with rose water. Shake up the lotion before applying.

Seborrhea of the scalp is usually associated with oily, greasy dandruff. The best remedy is sulfur and salicylic acid, applied systematically to the scalp (not to the hair) as described in Little Lesson 24, The Hair and Scalp, for which send me 35c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Excessive skin oil (sebum) is characteristic of young skins. Insufficient secretion of sebum (skin oil) is characteristic of old skins. Therefore young women should avoid beauty creams, so called; soap and water is what their complexion needs. Older women should avoid soap and water and use skin oil of one kind or another to clean their skins.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Readers Discuss Possible Tragedy

I can't understand why we permit trucks loaded with acid or explosives to drive down our main street. I live pretty close to downtown and when I think of what happened in Oregon, it makes me kind of nervous.

The other day I saw a truck going south on Saginaw make a right turn and go right past the Press office. It had two tank trailers hooked on and both were marked "Danger — Acid."

You know an accident is never anticipated. Let's not wait until a serious accident happens to make us realize how important it is to act now to get rid of this potential danger. How can we get these trucks to stay out of our city when they have no business here?

Henry Sharp

Letters about explosive and acid-carrying trucks in downtown Pontiac certainly merit considerable thought on the part of not only officials, but each and every citizen.

I would suggest another step to be taken initially and that's to go to the trucking associations and ask them to cooperate by driving around Pontiac. There would be no possible reason for them to refuse if they did not make a stop in Pontiac.

This direct approach seems much simpler to me at this time than to talk about possible ordinances, which would conflict with the fact that Saginaw Street is a State highway.

'Must Our Children Read These Things?'

The stories are doing the same damage as the TV programs by glamorizing these punks. Why do our children have to read these horrible stories from as far away as New York? It seems about time someone started saying nice things about our teenagers. If the guilty ones are caught, they should receive adult punishment.

'Why Did They Take Rudy Away?'

I'd like to say how much we've missed Rudy, our tame deer, since they took him away. He was just like one of the family and he would come into the house and we'd feed him. We had had him since June 1958 and he was little then and we fed him from a baby bottle. If we hadn't taken care of him, he probably would have died.

Rudy wouldn't hurt anyone and when he wanted to eat he'd come to the door until he got fed. He liked everything. The men who took him away were just awful the way they picked him up by one ear and a leg and threw him into the back of the wagon. I don't see how they could treat a tame animal so mean.

And I don't see why they turned him out in the wilds when he was so tame. That's being cruel to animals.

'Let Unions Make Their Own Rules'

Looks like big business is gradually getting to the Senate. Why did they have to give in and take away some of the powers unions had? They call this a free country, but how about letting the unions make their own rules to go by? Both unions and management have enjoyed greater prosperity than ever before.

'Motor Scooters Should Be Quieted'

'Let's Get Better Flag at General'

While driving by Pontiac General Hospital last week and thinking how nice it looked, I looked up and saw that poor, ragged American flag flying on top. It's a disgrace for a city such as ours to display a flag as ragged as this. Let's retire this poor flag and put another one up.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of water: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. — Rev. 7:17.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

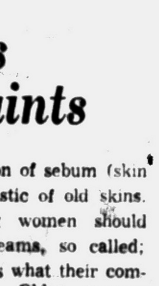

Big Words Are Bad Psychology

Esther's comments should be studied not only by all college students but also by their parents. If I can explain psychology in 2-syllable terms, why should I waste the newspaper space demanded of 5-syllable words? The average word in the Bible is only 2 syllables, and smart editors stress terse, direct writing. So you readers may be the jury in this case.

By GEORGE W. CRANE PH. D.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my psychology professor literally sees red and froths at the mouth every time your name is mentioned in class.

"In fact, some of the men in the class deliberately bring up your column at times just to divert his attention when they are unprepared to recite or when an exam is scheduled.

"For the professor then attacks you, saying you belittle science by writing for newspapers and using 2-syllable words.

"He says you overly simplify psychology, too, and create the impression that personality can easily be changed.

"Dr. Crane, a lot of us have been brought up on your column and we are for you, 100 per cent, but we dare not defend you in our class for we want to make a passing grade, you know!"

PROFESSIONAL JEALOUSY

Yes, I know what Esther means by saying she must make a passing grade.

Despite the glib statement by the usual prof that he welcomes questions and differences of opinion, students soon learn that that is simply "window dressing" or malarky.

Just try to differ with the average professor and your goose is cooked. Modern American students know they must become "Yes-Men" as a rule if they want good grades.

After lamely stalling around for 15 minutes, he finally asked the students if they had any questions. But nobody knew enough about the course at that first meeting of the class, to have a good question.

Repeatedly the teacher asked for questions, so finally a crippled girl down front did respond, probably to make it easier for the prof who obviously was floundering.

And he immediately humiliated her by remarking about the "silly" question she raised and then tried to pat himself on the back by saying any high school graduate should know the answer, etc. etc.

So Esther is a smart girl. Hundreds of you students write to me about the caustic criticisms that some of my teaching colleagues level my way.

Don't jeopardize your class grades by coming to my defense, for it will soon be evident whether the complaints are due to professional jealousy or based on logical facts.

2-SYLLABLE WORDS

The average word in the Bible contains only 5 letters and is thus a 2-syllable word.

Newspapers are noted for their terse style. Good reporters don't try to ritz you by 5-syllable words. Besides, a 2-syllable word is more efficient for it saves the extra 3 syllables of that 5-syllable term.

If you have facts, you don't lose prestige, either, by telling them in simple language. Only intellectual snobs must try to impress you with jawbreaker terms (polysyllables).

As regards the charge that I create the impression personality can easily be changed, what about religious conversions that occur in an hour's sermon? Or Scrooge's dramatic nightmare?

and you readers know that fact, so you don't misconstrue my 3-minute explanation as meaning the patient was cured in the same 3 minutes!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 6c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

GIOVAN MENEGHINI

Maria Callas Calls It Quits

Claims Onassis Is Not to Blame for Breakup of 10-Year Marriage

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Fiery soprano Maria Callas has called quits to her 10-year marriage to the elderly Italian industrialist who guided her rise to the top in opera.

But the 35-year-old soprano said Aristotle Onassis had nothing to do with the bustup though the Greek shipping tycoon has been her recent date.

Onassis said the same thing, but added he would be "flattered if a woman with the class of Maria Callas fell in love with someone like me."

"Now I am my own manager," Miss Callas told newsmen in announcing the breakup of her marriage to 62-year-old Giovan Battista Meneghini. "It has been coming for a long time."

Attorneys for Miss Callas and Meneghini are working out details of their marital split.

ONASSIS FLIES HOME

Onassis flew in his private plane Tuesday to Venice where his wife was waiting for him aboard their yacht. He said reports of a romance between him and the temperamental soprano were "fairy tales—silly inventions."

Both Miss Callas and Meneghini were in Milan Tuesdy but they did not meet. She is here to complete a recording. He came from their summer home near Verona for a meeting of his attorneys with his wife's lawyer.

Woman Drops 5 Floors Into Hubby's Arms

NEW YORK (AP) — A despondent wife plunged from the roof of a five-story apartment building today into the arms of her husband, trying to save her life. Both suffered critical injuries.

Mrs. Alicia Martinez, 30, who had been ill recently, walked out of their Bronx apartment shortly before 7 a.m. Her husband, Felix, 29, searched the neighborhood for her unsuccessfully. Then, returning, he saw her standing on the edge of the roof.

"Don't jump," he shouted. But she plummeted toward the sidewalk. He braced himself and tried to catch her. He broke her fall but was knocked to the walk.

If U. N. Doesn't Resolve Laos Situation

SEATO May Observe 5th Birthday With Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) Tuesday observed its fifth anniversary faced with the possibility that it soon may undergo its first major test.

Officials here said SEATO undoubtedly would have to act to preserve the independence of Laos if the United Nations failed to move into the situation and Communist aggression continued.

As in the Korean War, American GIs will probably have to bear the brunt of such burden.

SEATO never has been called upon to take military action in defense of the treaty area, which includes Laos, since it came into being at Manila on Sept. 8, 1954.

The Chinese Communists originally called SEATO a "paper tiger." They have changed their tune more recently to brand it an instrument of "American imperialism."

The U. N. subcommittee's investigation will provide at least a temporary delay for any SEATO action. But the organization might still be called to act in Laos if the probe subsequently gets nowhere in the U. N. in the face of certain future Soviet obstructionist tactics.

The eight SEATO members—the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan—are pledged to consider any act of aggression against one of them in the area a danger to all and to take action "in accord with their constitutional processes."

A special agreement extends the protected area to include the former Indochinese states of Laos, Cambodia and outh Viet Nam.

Military officials here said that if SEATO should be called upon to move, U. S. carrier-based planes undoubtedly would be the first weapons called into action.

SEATO has no major ground forces on the continent. Thailand, the only member state near Laos, has only a small army sufficient to maintain order within its own borders.

Representatives of the SEATO nations discussed the Laotian crisis here Monday with acting Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon. Diplomatic informants said they agreed the U. N. approach was the best way now to meet the situation.

Employment Hits High

GRAND HAVEN (UPI) — Employment in the 46 industrial plants in the Grand Haven-Spring Lake-Ferrysburg area has reached 4,462, a two-year high, officials of the Economic Development Committee reported today.

Ike's Pleading Is to No Avail

No New Approaches, Only Growls in 57-Day Steel Stalemate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's appeal for a big push to end the steel strike has netted only a new round of accusations between steel management and labor.

Neither side reacted with a new approach to breaking the 57-day stalemate—now the longest steel strike in the nation's history.

"Half-hearted bargaining is not enough," Eisenhower said Tuesday in letters to David McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union, and the presidents of the 12 firms involved.

"Intensive, uninterrupted good faith bargaining with a will to make a responsible settlement is required," Eisenhower said.

His letters went out a few hours after negotiators met for 45 minutes in New York, then recessed until Thursday to prepare for expanded subcommittee negotiations.

McDonald promptly told the President that the steelworkers have been seeking and will continue to seek "good faith, uninterrupted, wholehearted bargaining with the objective of achieving a reasonable settlement."

McDonald said "representatives of the steel companies with whom we have been meeting have either refused or lacked the authority to negotiate, except on the basis of complete denial of any justice to the steelworkers."

R. Conrad Cooper, the industry's chief negotiator, said the steel companies are "seeking with diligence, patience, persistence and determination a noninflationary settlement."

Completed Ferris Dorm Will Greet Students

BIG RAPIDS (UPI)—Ferris Institute's new Frank Johnson Hall, a men's dormitory, will be completed in time for occupancy when school opens later this month, school officials said today.

The dormitory, named after a well-known automotive engineer and former member of the school's board of trustees, will house 150 students.

Quebec Likely to Get Premier Tomorrow

QUEBEC (AP) — Quebec province probably will have a new premier Thursday.

Well-informed sources said Lt. Gov. Onesime Gagnon will call on a Cabinet minister to step into the post a few hours after the funeral of the late Premier Maurice Duplessis.

Capitol Sessions 'Hardly Allow Time for Swim,' Says Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's oldest member said today his main complaint about early and late sessions is that they hardly allow a man time for a swim."

But 91-year-old Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) said he usually manages about 20 minutes of sitting up exercises before taking a trolley to the Capitol.

Green, who will be 92 next month, attributes the drive to adjour Congress this week to a desire on the part of members "to talk to constituents and get around to other work that needs to be done," rather than to physical strain.

Looking over the chamber, Allott noted "the fatigued faces of the gentlemen in this room," as he expressed it, and acknowledged "I am sure I look about as bad as any one else."

Allott directed his remarks to Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) who is fighting to keep Congress in session through next week to act on legislation he thinks should not be neglected.

Dr. George W. Calver, the Capitol physician who has been feeling congressional pulses for 30 years, steered away from any part of a controversy with his charges.

"I know they are all getting a little tired," Calver said in talking with a newsman. "But these are things they've got to do. It seems these long sessions happen every year near adjournment time. We try to keep the members in good shape by frequent examinations."

And besides, he said, "What's the difference between sitting up in the Senate and going to some of the parties and receptions so many have to attend when the Senate is not in session?"

Green, a bachelor who frequently shows up at embassy receptions, suggested that "only a fragile man" shuns hard work and long hours.

"We are not in need of rest," he said with a cheerful smile. "Most members are under an emotional strain because we are taking an unnecessarily long time getting our business done."

Rules Against Bias in Parks

Segregation of Races on Montgomery City Grounds Held Illegal

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. ruled Tuesday that racial segregation in Montgomery city parks is unconstitutional. He also held invalid a city ordinance which prohibits integration in public recreational facilities.

Johnson's ruling does not mean, however, that Negroes can use white parks, since all 13 of the city's parks have been closed since the first of this year.

The judge made it clear that he has no authority to order the city to reopen the parks. But if they are reopened, he said they cannot be segregated as they have been in the past.

City officials are sworn to keep the parks closed — as they have been since Dec. 30 — so long as there is an integration threat.

Says Soviet Scientists to Abandon Ice Floe

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet scientists who manned an arctic ice floe for 40 months are being evacuated, Tass, the Soviet news agency, said today.

Known as "North Pole 6", the 5 by 8 mile floe was first occupied in April 1956 when it was about 200 miles from Wrangel Island off northeast Siberia. It is now about 180 miles northeast of Greenland, Tass said, after drifting more than 8,400 miles.

Tass said the floe was being abandoned because its southern drift made it useless for further observations.

Politician Can't Afford Friends

Nikita Carries 'Stick' for His Foes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

"If you live among dogs," says Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev, who is fond of proverbs, "keep a stick with you."

For him, the cautious philosophy paid off. The 220-pound bundle of energy who heads for the United States next week for the announced purpose of making friends never has had many of them at home. A Communist politician on the way up couldn't afford friends. And when he reached the pinnacle he found yes-men, imitators and envious rivals.

It was a close call for Khrushchev and other members of Stalin's inner circle early in 1953. In the words of an American diplomat, old Stalin had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge seemed inevitable. Nobody was safe.

Stalin, suspecting somebody planned to rub him out in his declining years, cooked up a fantastic tale of a plot by doctors, most of them Jewish, to poisor leading Soviet figures, including himself. Moscow had an ugly sense of foreboding.

NUDGED OUT

Luckily for most concerned — possibly it was more than coincidence—Stalin died in March. George M. Malenkov became premier and party leader, the new boss. But he was not strong enough to rule. Within a few weeks the irrepressible Khrushchev nudged Malenkov out of the party leadership. The doctor's plot was denounced as a grim hoax.

Nikita Khrushchev at last was on his way to the top.

Once secret police chief Lavrenty Beria was safely lodged in a Lubyanka prison cellar awaiting the final bullet, and the police organization was purged of tens of thousands of its more dangerous members, Khrushchev was free to throw his considerable weight around. He did.

With his new post as first party secretary formally approved, he promptly denounced the directors of Soviet agriculture for the sorry mess presented by that phase of the economy. He promised to remedy that, to turn a greater share of attention to producing food and consumer goods for a long-patient population, to relaxing the more awesome terrors of the Stalin era.

BERIA SHOT

Beria was shot and then given a trial as an American spy. The Russian in the street grinned broadly. Thigs would be better. And Khrushchev climbed higher. By 1955 he was able to blame Malenkov for Soviet farming woes and forced him to quit as premier with an abject confession of failure. Nikolai Bulganin, goateed and courtly political-military figure, became premier.

When Stalin's body had been safely encased in a gaudy Red Square tomb for three years, Khrushchev finally was strong enough to denounce him to other Communists as a barbarian torturer and murderer, a military imbecile who nearly brought the nation to disaster.

And Khrushchev's other allies? In 1934, when he was climbing toward the top of the heap under the sponsorship of powerful Lazar Kaganovich, Khrushchev noted: "The ideological principled unity of the Moscow (party) organization was achieved thanks to the skilled daily leadership it had in the person of Lazar Moisevich Kaganovich."

In 1957, after maneuvering Kaganovich out of the hierarchy, Khrushchev called him a man who "fawned and did everything to inflate the cult of the personality of Stalin." So had Khrushchev. But Khrushchev had won.

SWITCHES LINE

His former ally, Malenkov, became, in Khrushchev's words, a henchman and shadow in the hands of the dread Beria.

Khrushchev and the other top leaders may have owed their lives to an alliance with the military and the war hero, Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov. In 1956 Khrushchev hailed Zhukov as a superb general who had been maligned and exiled by Stalin.

In 1957, the marshal was exiled by Khrushchev, who said he had "violated Leninist principles."

Then the time finally came when Bulganin was to be disgraced. He was forced to confess he had engaged in criminal activity with the antiparty group of Malenkov, Kaganovich and V. M. Molotov, Stalin's right hand in foreign affairs. Bulganin felt obliged to characterize Malenkov as a plotter, Molotov as an ignoramus and Kaganovich as an old windbag.

But Stalin himself was not entirely dead. Some aspects of Stalinism still were necessary, particularly in the world movement. When it came to questions of what is called the inevitable victory of world communism, announced Khrushchev, he and all Communists were still "good Stalinists."

Free at last of his main opposition, Khrushchev stood almost alone in the leadership of the party as its first secretary and in the leadership of the government as its premier.

But he still ruled cautiously. He still had enemies. And, at the lonely pinnacle, he probably could rely on nobody as a real friend.

Tomorrow: The traveling salesman.

THROUGH THE YEARS — Above are three shots of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as he appeared in 1957, 1958, and 1959 (from the right). As the leader of Russian Communist nation, he has had few friends, indeed he has found it wiser this way. For a man rising through the ranks in Soviet Russia cannot afford many personal attachments.

Sees Very Little Doubt Reds Back Laos Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is almost conclusive evidence the attacks in Laos are getting support from Communist North Viet Nam, Sen. J.W. Fulbright (D-Ark) says.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, spoke Tuesday after the committee got a 90-minute briefing from J. Graham Parons, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

"Generally speaking," said Fulbright, "I got the impression the policy of the United States is to be very firm."

Civil Defense Fund Bid Dies

Measure to Pay Half State Salaries Killed at Insistence of House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to provide up to $643,000 to pay half the salaries of 206 civil defense workers in Michigan in 1960 has been killed at the insistence of the House.

The money was part of a 12-million dollar fund asked by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization and by President Eisenhower, and agreed to by the Senate.

House refusal to go along with the plan had kept a 6½-billion-dollar appropriation bill tied up since Aug. 14, but the Senate bowed last week and agreed to eliminate the item.

An OCDM spokesman said the estimated Michigan requirement to pay salaries of 206 state and local civil defense workers in 1960 would have been $1,286,000 under present plans. Federal money would have been granted to pay half this amount.

He said the estimate was based on the 1957 cost to the state for 125 fulltime civil defense workers, which totaled $776,000.

Reject Beano in Boston

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts House refused to revive beano—banned 15 years ago after a licensing scandal. A 102-97 roll call vote rejected the bill Tuesday although sponsors estimated it would produce 5 to 7 million dollars a year in tax revenue.

Senator Wants to Take Khrushchev to Church

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) wants President Eisenhower to take Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to church during his visit here.

"It is never too late for any sinner to repent," Johnston said Tuesday.

Ike Eliminates Speaking Dates

Cites Crowded Slate, Which Includes Talks With Heads of 4 Lands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official duties and forthcoming visits of leaders from Russia, Italy Guinea and Mexico caused cancellation by President Eisenhower of speaking dates at Harvard and Brown Universities the White House announced today.

The cancellations were announced in Cambridge, Mass., and Providence, R. I., last weekend, but the White House gave the official reason today.

The President had tentatively accepted invitations to speak at Harvard Oct. 5 and at a Brown University convocation in providence Oct. 21.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower in letters to President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard and Barnaby C. Keeney of Brown, reluctantly cancelled the engagements and referred to the planned exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and coming engagements here with the Prime Minister of Italy, the president of Guinea and a visit by President Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

Hagerty said the Italian leader is coming here Sept. 30. He had no dates for the visits by the Guinea or Mexican leaders nor for Eisenhower's return of Khrushchev's visit to the United States starting a week from yesterday.

"Some time this fall," was all Hagerty would say about Eisenhower's trip to Moscow.

Reports reaching here Tuesday said all the members of the party were in good health and spirits.

Hal Boyle Says:

Hammerstein Still Finds Each Song Elusive

NEW YORK (AP)—Some jobs get harder the longer you work at them no matter how skilled you become.

It is that way with Oscar Hammerstein II, playwright, producer and lyricist.

After 50 musical plays and a thousand songs in 40 years, he finds that song No. 1,001 as elusive to pin down as when he began back in 1919.

BOYLE

He can be seen striding back and forth on the second-floor porch of his 200-year-old Bucks County, Pa., farmhouse like the ghost of some tall old stalwart sea captain exiled inland, seeking an answer in the storm.

"I'm a pacer when I work," said Hammerstein, who is writing the last of 14 lyrics for his latest opus with composer Richard Rodgers, the life story of Maria von Trapp of the famous Austrian singing family.

"I don't know of any art form that requires simplicity more than a song does. But you have to wade through a lot of nonessential detours to get on the right road."

Hammerstein, who started out as a lawyer, jots down words and ideas on a pad of long, lined yellow paper at an antique stand-up desk.

To turn out a single song recently he used up 100 sheets of paper while working every day for more than four weeks.

At 64—he looks a rugged, well-preserved 50—he has turned out enough hits to win immortality. But he says he wants to go on writing as long as he can find new themes.

"Real showmen are like gamblers," he said. "They ride with the good and bad."

"Success in the theater is gained by departing from the beaten path and this is achieved chiefly by the so-called commercial managers, writers and actors," he said.

Unchanged by success, Hammerstein likes chess, baseball, tennis, a swim every morning, and the pleasures of family life. He and his wife have 11 grandchildren.

"I recognize the imperfections of life," he said. "The most important thing in living is to recognize the imperfection of human beings.

"Our assumption that we are more civilized than we really are makes us too disappointed in ourselves. We fight too much to prove that what we don't know is so."

Asked what bored him, Hammerstein smiled and said:

"Doing obvious things; children under 3, despite the fact I have some grandchildren that age; and most birds.

"Most people think of birds as things of gentleness and beauty. But I contend there are cruel birds with cruel eyes. For every nightingale who sings beautifully there are 4,000 or 5,000 birds that make terrible sounds."

Hammerstein, of course, has the lyric authority to back up that statement.

("Peace and Friendship!")

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV

Under this banner, Kremlin Boss Khrushchev is coming to the United States.

To Khrushchev, "Peace and Friendship" means the total enslavement of all nations, of all peoples, of all things, under the God-denying Communist conspiracy of which he is the current Czar.

In exploiting his hypocritical theme, he promises profitable trade to the businessman and heaven on earth to the workingman.

No one, however, has better translated his real meaning and purpose than has Khrushchev, himself, in his ugly boast: "We will bury you!"

This invitation to visit the United States will give Khrushchev the additional standing he needs among the Russian people and among the peoples of those countries teetering on the Communist edge. It will also create despair among the peoples of his Communist-enslaved nations.

If our statesmen or business leaders overlook that Khrushchev is reputed to be one of history's most brutal murderers and most vicious liars they will tend to rob the Khrushchev-captive peoples of their belief that their best hope for liberation is through the United States.

It is imperative for our national survival that our people realize the vast difference between what Khrushchev says and what Khrushchev does.

The terrible brutality of burial into Communist enslavement is known to the people of the 22 captive nations listed below.

Let there be no concessions, no appeasement, no "deals" with Khrushchev. Let us not be negotiated into that position which Khrushchev plans for us—the position of becoming his greatest captive nation!

Meanwhile, let us remember those thousands who died trying to defend their freedom in these Khrushchev-controlled captive nations:

Poland	Tibet	Albania	Georgia
Hungary	North Korea	Idel-Ural	Ukraine
Latvia	North Vietnam	Cossackia	Armenia
Estonia	Mainland China	Turkestan	Bulgaria
Lithuania	Czechoslovakia	Azerbaijan	Rumania
	East Germany	White Ruthenia

The ALLEN-BRADLEY COMPANY, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, urges you to hold fast to your American freedoms. These include your freedom to live, your freedom to worship God, and your freedom to work and to vote as you choose. These freedoms are still with us in the United States of America. But these freedoms have been destroyed by the Communists in those large portions of the world where the Communists have seized control. Don't let it happen here!

The ALLEN-BRADLEY COMPANY manufactures quality motor controls and quality electronic components. With this public service advertisement, the ALLEN-BRADLEY COMPANY is trying to sell you nothing except the importance of recognizing and understanding the horrible threat posed by Kremlin-directed International Communism against our country, our people, and our incomparable American free enterprise way of life.

Up to 25 copies of this advertisement are available—free—to anyone. More than 25 copies are available at the cost price of 2½ cents per copy. Copies are available to schools and churches—free—in any quantity by writing the ALLEN-BRADLEY COMPANY, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Europe Pushing Its Largest Roadbuilding Project Since Roman Times

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —Europe is pushing its biggest road-building project since Roman times—a net of superhighways designed to link all major cities and tourist regions of the old continent.

Eventually, the European highway system will connect such distant points as Helsinki in the far northwest with Lisbon more than 2,000 miles to the south.

How long this will take is still uncertain. Every government is proceeding with construction according to its means. But in the way of hard and visible progress, this is the picture today:

Germany and the Low Countries already possess a net of superhighways linking most of their major centers. Work on new express highways is progressing fastest in Italy.

France, Austria and Yugoslavia are making considerable progress. Russia has completed a good—although not exemplary—highway from its western border point of Brest to Moscow.

Only in Switzerland and Britain is the road-building program seriously lagging. Both have just opened their first stretches of express highway, but are hampered in their efforts either by topographical difficulties (e.g. the Swiss Alps) or by the fact that projected highways lead through densely populated areas.

Right now, approximately 3,100 miles of express highways are in operation. But almost half of them are of an old type, lacking a central dividing strip and other safety features.

Another 1,200 miles of up-to-date superhighways are under construction and due to be completed within two or three years.

They include sections of Italy's scenic 500-mile "Expressway of the Sun," a ribbon of concrete which will wind all the way down the Italian boot from the Swiss border to Sicily.

They also include two of the most spectacular examples of international cooperation in road-building—the superhighway over the Brenner Pass, linking Austria and Italy across the Alps, and the $20,000,000, 7½-mile tunnel under Mont Blanc, Europe's highest mountain.

In the planning stage are another 6,300 miles of expressways which ought to be completed within 10 years or so.

In the overall picture, Germany occupies a favored spot—mainly because the only thing of any use that the Nazis left behind were 1,200 miles of modern, four-lane autobahns . . . built with the stated aim of combatting unemployment, but in fact the backbone of a communication system needed to wage war.

The two projects being pushed hardest in Germany are the 600-mile autobahn from the Baltic port of Luebeck to the Swiss border city of Basel, and the Aachen-Cologne superhighway tying the German autobahn system into the network of the Low Countries.

Both will be completed by 1961. A 70-mile stretch of the Luebeck-Basel autobahn was opened a few months ago between Hamburg and Hanover, leaving only 140 miles of gaps in Germany's most important north-south artery.

Italy has 300 miles of out-of-date autostradas in operation, plus the already completed stretches of the "Expressway of the Sun"—about 50 miles—and some dozen miles near Genoa, Naples and other centers.

France, which boasts the best secondary roads in Europe, has been somewhat slow in realizing an ambitious superhighway program—mainly because the Algerian conflict has been a heavy drain on the treasury.

Nevertheless, six- or four-lane superhighways lead the traffic out of such centers as Paris, Lille, Lyons and Marseilles, and approximately 40 miles of expressways are scheduled for completion per year. The major project is a link between the channel ports, Paris and the Riviera, and tying into the Italian network at Menton.

In addition to the Brenner Pass road, Austria is building another spectacular superhighway, leading east from the German autobahn terminal of Salzburg past Mondsee (Moon Lake) and other scenic spots to Vienna; 88 miles of its area already in operation.

Britain plans to spend $448,000,000 in the next three years modernizing its antiquated highways. This will include a 110-mile superhighway from London to the industrial center of Birmingham.

Behind the Iron Curtain, East Germany's prewar autobahns are the most modern roads in operation. But Yugoslavia, which has nearly completed a modern highway linking its northwestern regions on the Austrian border with the southeastern provinces near the Greek border, is coming up fast.

Did Midas Have Wood Secret?

Find Timber at Tomb in Excellent Condition After 2,700 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — King Midas, whose touch supposedly turned everything to gold, may have had a way with plain old wood, too.

At least, that's what America's lumber industry thinks and why it is watching carefully excavations around King Midas' tomb in a 66-foot mound of earth on a plain near Ankara, Turkey.

There already is evidence that Midas' people produced wooden timbers that are still in good condition after 2,700 years.

Two years ago, a University of Pennsylvania crew dug its way into the tomb of King Gordius, fairly well established as Midas' father, and found a burial vault built of massive wooden beams.

They were hand-hewn, beautifully smoothed and sanded, expertly fitted and in such excellent shape that even after 27 centuries many of the joints were all but invisible.

Wood experts have discovered that the beams were ordinary pine, with no evidence they received some secret treatment.

Lumbermen like to feel that the explanation for this is simple — that, under proper conditions, wood will outlast any other man-made structural substance.

PONTIAC AREA

from R. H. Storm, District Mgr.

On September 17, 18 and 19 Pontiac will hold its annual "Downtown Festival Days." This is the time when everyone has a lot of fun and the merchants display their wares outside for everyone to see.

This year your Telephone Company will be a participant and will display the very latest in telephone equipment for beauty, efficiency and convenience.

We'd be very happy if you would drop by the "Bell Corral" (right next to the court house) where trained people will be available to help you plan your personal telephone service.

EVER WONDER HOW some of our Michigan colleges win so many football games? One reason is their ability to employ new strategy during a game that will capitalize on an enemy's weaknesses. Flaws in the opponent's attack are spotted by an assistant in the press box. How does he relay them to the head coach on the field? By telephone, of course. The telephone enables him to feed the coach a steady stream of information that quite often spells victory for your team.

DID YOU KNOW THAT IT takes a lot more effort and money to write a business letter than to use the telephone? According to a business magazine, the average business letter costs $1.70 by the time you figure stenographic costs, mailing, filing and materials. That cost is duplicated at the other end when a reply is sent. If you look at the long distance rates listed in your telephone book, you'll see how many distant places you can call for less than that. Furthermore, a long distance call is easier, faster and more personal.

Khrushchevs Prepare for Visit to U.S.

By COLETTE BLACKMOORE

NEW YORK (UPI)—If Americans could eavesdrop on the Khrushchev household as it prepares to visit the United States, they would find confusion and excitement at a high pitch.

"How are we ever going to be on time?" is the question probably on Mrs. Khrushchev's mind, the closer departure day comes.

"What should we take with us in the way of clothing and equipment?" Nina Petrovna Khrushchev and her daughters, Rada, 29, and Julia, 38, are asking each other, their friends and anyone they can find who has spent at least 24 hours in the U.S.

When an American maps out a journey to the Soviet Union, he wants to know if it is really so cold in Moscow that people get chilblains on their feet, if the tap water is safe for drinking, and whether it is true that men and women share sleeping compartments in Soviet trains.

If he has a hundred and one questions about how to survive in Russia, there must be at least as many in the minds of Soviet visitors to the U.S., even though they happen to be Russia's No. 1 family.

"Will it be summer or fall when we get to the United States, or a troublesome combination of both?"

"What does one wear for strolling through the cornfields of Iowa?"

"Should we bring walking shoes with us, or stick to high heels for the sake of elegance?"

The Soviet Embassy in Washington has by now given the Khrushchevs a detailed itinerary of their tour, and Nina Petrovna is busy matching her and her husband's wardrobe to the many events on the program.

Mrs. Khrushchev usually dresses in Soviet-designed rayon or silk prints in warm weather, wool in winter. Her husband has several custom-tailored Italian suits, which he occasionally wears at home and probably will bring with him to America.

Nina Petrovna probably will weather the strain of planning in good fashion. She has an even disposition, and is gentle and attentive with people. She is shortish and very plump and her face is broad, rather severely framed by gray hair.

Besides the worry over clothes, the Khrushchevs also have to decide what presents to bring to their hosts in America.

Three years ago on their trip to Britain, Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin, who was then premier, gave Queen Elizabeth a sable stole. They brought the English some Mongolian horses and a baby bear, which was promptly installed in the London Zoo.

In 1958, Khrushchev presented American industrialist Cyrus Eaton with a troyka and three handsome horses to go with it. He will no doubt want to make at least as grand a gesture to President Eisenhower.

The Khrushchevs also have to bone up on their English. Mrs. Khrushchev taught English in her younger days, but she may not remember too much of it.

Sergei, 24, is a graduate of Moscow University, where a large proportion of the students study English. He got some language practice while he was in Britain with his father in 1956. The daughters, Rada and Julia, probably also have a smattering of the language.

Nikita himself understands some English, but it is not certain how many words he would be able to utter if pressed.

Svea Kline, sculptor, who studied under the late Carl Milles, is working with Mrs. W. G. Wright to make sure the Swedish booth for the International Travelers market will have an effective setting. Merchandise from Norway and Sweden will include skiing sweaters, cloisonne jewelry, Orrefors glass and engraved knives and scissors.

CARREEN McCLEMENTS

New president of the Trabajamas Club is Carreen McClements. Other officers are Sherry Gremore, vice president; Carol Campbell, treasurer; Carol Mihay, recording secretary and Kathleen Weitz, corresponding secretary. The formal banquet will be Sept. 30.

Travelers Market Saturday

Saturday, Sept. 19th is the day of the International Travelers Market. Cochairmen Mrs. Robert C. Vanderkloot and Mrs. Edward S. Wellock are busier each day as the day of the benefit for the Save the Children Federation approaches.

Among the 17 booths at the market, Hawaii, our newest state, will be much in evidence. Mrs. Clement C. Richard, sponsor of this booth, promises that visitors will be greeted by appropriately dressed representatives of the Islands. A coconut hat or handcrafted monkey pot ware are just two of the intriguing items on sale. Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson is in charge of the booth. Assisting her will be Mrs. Edward A. Schirmer, Mrs. Thomas C. LeMessurier, Mrs. Thomas B. Adams, Mrs. Henry G. Little, Mrs. John L. Wiant, Mrs. Fotis Takis and Mrs. Alfred D. Fortier.

The American Indian booth, sponsored by Mrs. Paul H. McKenney, will offer Hopi Crafts Guilds cuff links, belts, necklaces, bracelets and saddle blankets. Dr. Willard W. Beatty, an authority on Indians, and associated with the SCF, has been helping in the selection. Also assisting Mrs. McKenney are Mrs. John E. Blomquist, Mrs. James K. Campbell, Mrs. Donald J. Oatman, Mrs. John H. Hoehm, Mrs. Ralph E. Zimmerman, Mrs. George Cavanaugh Jr., Mrs. Frank B. Audette, Mrs. J. Glenn Brozo, Ann Osborn and Jacqueline Brozo.

The Junior League of Birmingham is sponsoring the Southern Mountain booth. It was in this location that the SCF began its work 28 years ago. Handcraft of various kinds, for which Berea College in this region is noted, will be on sale.

Finland has given many outstanding artists to Cranbrook Academy of Art, among them Maja Grotell, the late Eliel Saarinen; his wife Loja and Marianne Strengell. Mrs. Saarinen is chairman of the Finnish booth which will feature contemporary objects of art. She has the support of Mrs. Eero Sarrinen, her daughter, Mrs. J. Robert F. Swanson and her grandson's wife, Mrs. Robert S. Swanson.

MRS. C. T. VAN DUSEN

The Denmark booth, under the direction of Mrs Eric Fromm, will offer Royal Copenhagen figurines among many other items. Mrs. Alfred E. Grann, who is assisting Mrs. Fromm, is a member of the national board of directors of the SCF.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Von Reis are sponsoring the Swedish booth and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones is chairman. Helping her will be Mrs. David R. Burton, Mrs. Glen A. Carlson, Mrs. Phil F. DeBeaubien, Mrs. Roy E. Hawkinson, Mrs. J. P. Judd, Mrs. Thomas King, Mrs. Lawrence R. Nelson, Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom and Mrs. W. O. Newlander.

In the Dutch booth there will be a variety of flower arrangements in unusual containers, also crystal cheese dishes and molds imported from Holland. Mrs. Rocco DiMarco is chairman and working with her are Mrs. A. C. Girard, Mrs. Robert W. Englehart, Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Mrs. Harry L. Winston, Mrs. John S. Mahony, Mrs. James G. Shannon Jr., Mrs. Clyde Hagerman, Mrs. Walter O. Briggs III and Mrs. William J. Scripps.

Rain or shine, the market is on. Make yourself comfortable in low-heeled shoes and enjoy the beauty of the Greek Theater and its grounds. Better bring your Christmas shopping list also—there will be attractive items for everyone in your family.

St. Joseph Unit to Present Paris Fashions

Paris comes to the Elks Temple for the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Auxiliary fashion show and tea Sept. 23.

The colors, the fashions and the fabrics are new in the fashion world this fall. New are the opulent furs, the casual fitted coats, velvet accents, pencil slim skirts, and the walking suit.

There is no problem in sizes, colors or styles. Fashion experts have provided something beautiful for everybody.

In the half size range there is a black French wool sheath patterned in a jeweled oak leaf, a gray imported wool, the scoop neckline covered in an ivy pattern and fully lined in silk taffeta and a jeweled and velvet trimmed jacket.

For the woman 5' 4" and under, there is a town and country black wool suit, a fluid box coat and a pencil slim skirt.

There is a white brocade dinner dress with a scoop neck and very full skirt. It is featured with a Grecian belt covered with jewels and sequins and a brocade dinner coat lined in red.

Sixteen models will show these fashions when the review gets under way at 1:30 p. m. They are Mrs. H. Guy Moats, Mrs. Ronald Schmeiding, Janet Marie Pearson, Mrs. H. R. Lilley, Mrs. Shirley Kalbfleisch, Mrs. May Knoob, Mrs. Pearl Bearwolf and Mrs. Leo Robertson.

Others are Mrs. Joseph Ruva, Mrs. Edwin Dobski, Mrs. Henry Sokol, Mrs. Richard Berg, Mrs. S. J. Poniatowski, Mrs. John Casey, Mrs. Albert Chandes and Mary Tanwouski. Brenda Bouschell will be page boy.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling Mrs. Forrest Rorabaugh, Mrs. Robert Tricker or Mrs. Arthur Kinney at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

There will be a Dixieland band for entertainment and forty door prizes will be given.

Denton-Gibson Nuptials Held in Floral Setting

White chrysanthemums banked the altar of St. Vincent de Paul Church at noon Saturday for the wedding of Joan Gibson of Henry Clay avenue and Ronald Denton of Elizabeth Lake road.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. John Gibson of Dundee, Scotland, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Denton of Clare. The bride was given in marriage by Dirk Van Emmerik.

The bride's floor length gown of embroidered silk organza featured a Bateau neckline and long sleeves. A crown of silk organza held her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

Sharon Aho was maid of honor and Liza Lopeze of Detroit was bridesmaid. They wore gowns of cotillion blue moire taffeta with scooped necklines and short sleeves. Their headbands were of matching material.

The bridegroom graduated from Michigan College of Mining and Technology and is now attending Chrysler Institute of Engineering.

MRS. RONALD DENTON

Phyllis Jo Shook Wed in Evening Ceremony

Phyllis Jo Shook and Gerald T. Winkley were married Friday evening at St. Luke Episcopal Church, Ypsilanti. The Rev. Sidney S. Rood officiated at the double ring ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clark M. Shook of Ypsilanti and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Winkley of East Huron street.

MRS. GERALD WINKLEY

The bride wore a princess style gown of white bridal satin and a headdress she designed herself. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy centered with a white orchid and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attendants were Carol Lynn Shook and Sandra Ann Shook, both sisters of the bride from Ypsilanti; and Marilyn Jean Winkley, the bridegroom's sister.

Best man was Joseph W. Remington of Pontiac. Ushers were Maxe A. Obermeyer of Ypsilanti, Paul R. Sobol of Wayne, and Jerry E. Slusser of Chelsea.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Before leaving for a honeymoon through Michigan and Canada, the bride changed to a beige and rust silk floral print dress with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will live in Ypsilanti.

Both attended Eastern Michigan University where the bridegroom was affiliated with Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

Mrs. Shook wore an ivory and copper colored brocade sheath with matching accessories and a yellow rose corsage. Mrs. Winkley was dressed in delphinium blue chiffon with blue accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Adele Rydeski Wed in Wakefield Church

Adele M. Rydeski and Robert C. Baynes were married Saturday morning at Immaculate Conception Church, Wakefield, in a double-ring ceremony before 300 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rydeski of Wakefield and Mrs. Charles Baynes of Marquette street and the late Mr. Baynes.

The floor-length silk organza gown worn by the bride was appliqued with lace and sequins at the scoop neckline. A crown of pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white glamelias on a white satin prayer book. She also wore a gold cross, a gift of the bridegroom.

Conchita Garcia of Wakefield was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sally Cook of Cadillac and Marlene Chernak of Anvil. Juliann Wirpio was junior bridesmaid. They wore shrimp colored street-length dresses of embroidered silk organza with rhinestone tiaras. They carried colonial bouquets of white glamelias.

Michael Rydeski, the bride's brother from Wakefield was best man. Ushers were John David Bracket of Wakefield, Robert McCurry, Arch Bartlebaugh and Richard Bashore, all of Pontiac. Dean Wirpio was ring bearer.

A dinner was held at American Legion Club in Wakefield and a reception will be held this Saturday also at West Acres Community Club in Commerce.

Mrs. Rydeski wore a blue lace dress with pink accessories and Mrs. Baynes was dressed in rose beige lace with brown accessories. Both had pink rose corsages.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bashore, Mr. and Mrs. James McCurry and Robert McCurry, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Robertson, Mrs. Earl Crandall, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bartlebaugh and Linda, all of Pontiac, Blanche Hamilton of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. James Hintze of Big Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Slaght of Port Huron, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Valesano and children, Peter and Mary Ellen of Negaunee, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Rydeski, and their children, Janet and Richard of Wauwatosa, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Eino Frang and their children Michael, James, Leon and Regene of Newberry and Mrs. Lewis Cook and Sally Cook of Cadillac.

She Gets Scholarship

Former West Bloomfield High School student Sandra Lemon was presented a scholarship award from the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening. Members of the group met Tuesday at Hotel Waldron for a dinner.

Sandra was secretary of the Future Teachers Club in high school and plans to attend Michigan State University Oakland.

Hostesses for the evening were Vera Bassett, Gertrude Barrett, Julia Dimond, Madeline Fox and Fritzi Stoddard.

Tell Your Parents... Abby

15-Year-Old Possibly Pregnant

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You are my last hope. I will be frank with you. I am a 15-year-old girl who has been going steady with a 17-year-old boy. I know it was wrong, but before we could control ourselves we went too far. I think I am pregnant, but I'm not sure. If I go to a doctor, he will tell my mother. Neither my boyfriend nor I have the kind of parents you can talk to. I heard if I am pregnant they can send my boyfriend to prison because I am under age. We don't know which way to turn, Abby. Please put this in the paper and tell me what to do. I can't sign my real name.

FIFTEEN

ABBY

DEAR FIFTEEN: No matter how "impossible" you think your parents are to talk to—they are the first to help you when you are in serious trouble. Believe me, they are your best friends. Tell them at once. This problem is discussed in the September issue of McCall's in an article I wrote entitled, "Things my mother never told me." I hope you will read it.

DEAR ABBY: I resent your statement that "the only way a respectable lady gets a black eye is by walking into a door."

I consider myself respectable. But when my drunken husband came home and without provocation socked me in the eye—was my eye black! I also lost two teeth in the bargain. I suppose you'd tell me that the only way a respectable lady loses her teeth is having them pulled by a dentist?

However, the black eye and the missing teeth were good evidence in court. And now I am happily divorced. And still respectable.

LUCY

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who is the world's worst correspondent. She's married and has four children and lives about 600 miles from me. Maybe I'm at fault for being a worry-wart but when I don't hear from her for a couple of months I get worried and call her long distance. Now the few dollars won't break me, but my problem is: Whenever I call her all I get out of the call is hearing her four kids scream. For some reason the minute my sister gets on the phone her kids make such a fuss she has to spend all her time (and my money) shouting them down. My insides start to boil, I'm no good for three days afterwards. Have you any suggestions?

SIS

DEAR SIS: Call her late at night when you are sure her children are asleep.

DEAR ABBY: I am fifteen years old and don't have much of a figure. In fact, I don't have any at all. The boys won't even look at me. They call me "Pancake". Please don't tell me to go to a Health Studio to build myself up as I can't afford it.

PANCAKE

DEAR PANCAKE: There is more than one way to "build yourself up". Let the lingerie department fill in where Nature cheated you. There is no reason for a girl to concave where she should convex.

To get ABBY's pamphlet "What Every Teenager Wants To Know" send 25c and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

In this day and age of hyper-cleanliness it may be strange to suggest additional cleanliness. It has been discovered, though, that many of the old diseases are creeping up on us because of laxity. Remember to wash vegetables and fruits thoroughly before you eat them and rinse off cans and bottles before opening.

Sharon Marie Millar Wed Saturday Morning

Sharon Marie Millar and James Thomas Hennessey were married Saturday morning at St. Mary Magdalen Church in Hazel Park.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Millar of Waterford Township and Mrs. Edna Hennessey of Madison Heights.

The bride's gown was fashioned of French Chantilly lace and ruffled tulle. It featured a fitted basque waist and long hand tapered lace sleeves. The boat neckline was outlined with a set-in yoke of tulle and the floor length skirt which formed a chapel train was accented with lace front and back panels and side panels of tiered ruffled tulle. Her illusion fingertip veil was held by a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and glamelias.

Bridesmaids were Carolyn Stottlemeyer of Waterford; the bridegroom's sister, Patricia Hennessey of Madison Heights, and Patricia Williams also of Madison Heights. They were dressed like the maid of honor in pale lavender and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations and glamelias.

MRS. JAMES HENNESSEY

Before leaving for a honeymoon to the Upper Peninsula, the bride changed to a hunter green suit with matching accessories. The couple will live in Royal Oak.

Mrs. Millar wore an olive green lace dress with beige accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. Mrs. Hennessey was dressed in pale blue lace with navy accessories and wore a pink rose corsage.

Diamonds, classically a girl's best friend, are now recruited to score for leg glamor in a new style seamless stocking for dates, dining and dancing. It's a stocking with a diamond lace texture. Diamonds come in umber, barely black and topaz shades.

St. Michael Units Plan Activities Lined Up

Future activities of a number of St. Michael Catholic Church units were announced when Altar Society members held their first fall meeting Tuesday at the church.

St. Rose Group members were notified that their group will meet Sept. 15 at the home of Mrs. Carl Garchow on Corwin court, and Mrs. Gayle Coulson announced that the Little Flower Unit will hold a cooperative dinner in the parish hall on that date.

Additional announcements included notice of the Northwestern Deanery meeting at St. Vincent Farrar Church in Madison Heights on Sept. 16; a bazaar which will be sponsored by women of the Altar Society on Sept. 19 and 20; and a smorgasbord to be sponsored by the men of the parish on Sept. 20 at the parish hall.

Proceeds from the benefits will go to the Athletic Assn. of St. Michael School.

On Sept. 30 a Deanery card party will be held at the parish hall of Guardian Angel Church in Clawson.

October events include a meeting of St. Monica Unit at the home of Mrs. Lynn Strong and the Annual Day of Recollection which will be observed at Mt. Mary Catholic Church in Detroit.

Basin Can Be Wonderful Toy

In the hands of a run-about, a brightly colored plastic basin can become a toy of infinite variety.

Set it on the kitchen or bathroom floor, fill it with warm water, and add some soap or detergent. Then let a vivid young imagination — and busy hands — take over.

The sudsy water can serve as a white-capped ocean for sailing boats — or merely as a "sink" for washing dolly dishes.

PTA Executives Map Year's Work

Plans for the coming school year were initiated at a meeting of the Emerson School PTA executive board held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Curtis, president.

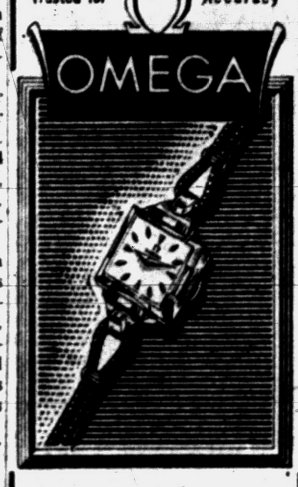

Members of the executive committee voted to postpone and to hold the first meeting of the year Oct. 14.

Mrs. Curtis announced that a vote by last year's board granted an additional donation of funds to the school for playground equipment purchased last year. The money was earned through various projects during the year.

Mayor's Proclamation

The exercise of the voting franchise is an important right given to citizens of the United States. The support of good government requires that citizens vote and participate in all elections, national, state and local. The League of Women Voters has always taken a leading role in the continuing struggle for responsible and effective government. It has accepted this leadership in the interest of promoting the greatest good for all the people. The League and its many enlightened and active members have, through nonpartisan and educational activities, provided the leadership and support in a program sponsoring participation in governmental affairs and elections.

The people of Pontiac are appreciative of the interest taken by the League of Women Voters in the cause of good government. Active participation in the affairs of government is a responsibility of all citizens.

THEREFORE, I, Philip E. Rowston, Mayor of the City of Pontiac, do hereby proclaim Thursday, September 10, 1959, as in Pontiac and urge all citizens to acknowledge the impressive contributions to more effective and responsible government that have been made over the years by the League of Women Voters throughout this community.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS DAY

Club Auxiliary to Celebrate Anniversary

Members of the auxiliary of the Metropolitan Club will celebrate the group's 25th anniversary on Oct. 6.

In charge of the dinner and entertainment will be Mrs. John Wilson, Linda Schroeder, Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. J. E. Smith, Phyllis Wilkins, Mrs. Omar Winton, Mrs. Merrell Petrie, Mrs. Park Nique and Mrs. Joseph Koren.

The auxiliary held a cooperative dinner before a meeting Sept. 2, at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. Mrs. Charles Bryson and Mrs. Harry Eisenberg were hostesses at the affair.

Phone Call Would Have Been Nice

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last week I invited some friends for the weekend. On Sunday morning I called a mutual friend who lives nearby and told her that Mary and John were visiting us and asked if she and her husband would like to come over and spend the afternoon with us and also stay for supper. She accepted but gave no definite time as to when she would be over.

"After dinner, the friend who was staying with me wanted to go into town for something and I drove her in. Our husbands stayed at home. Shortly after we left, our other friends arrived. We were gone about twenty minutes.

"When we got back, this other friend seemed quite perturbed because I was not there when she arrived. In fact, she made quite an issue of it. Will you please tell me if I was wrong in leaving the house and she is justified in feeling hurt?"

Answer: It would have been more thoughtful of you to have telephoned and explained that Mary wanted to get something in town, and that you were driving her in and would be back in twenty minutes.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I'm going to the hospital for several weeks and will not have any private nurse. I'm wondering what to do about the nurses who will look after me. Shall I give each one of them a gift when I leave, or possibly after I return home, or just what is customary."

Answer: The nicest way of showing your gratitude to the nurses, who take care of you is to send them each a gift after you return home.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Should I write individual notes of thanks to friends of my sister in another city who entertained me while I visited my sister?"

Answer: If they gave any special parties for you, then notes would be expected. But if they merely included you in various invitations to your sister, notes would not be expected.

It's a success . . . the pill-box hat which would hardly hold more than three pills, (vitamin ones, of course).

Adolescents Hate Dependence on Adults

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Yesterday morning, without telling anyone, 16-year-old Dody went downtown to a beauty parlor and had her pony tail cut off.

Then, shorn, pale and looking desperate, she came home to sink into a dinette chair and moan, "Don't tell me it will grow again, Mother. Look. Isn't it ghastly? Mr. Joseph calls it a puffball hairdo. I'm just sick over it. I've made up my mind I just can't go anywhere or see anyone until it's grown in again."

Hastening to comfort her, her mother said, "Oh, it's not so bad as that, Dear. Actually, it's quite becoming. Let's get your hairbrush and loosen the set so that it doesn't look like a wig."

So they did. And after a brisk workover with Dody's hairbrush, she had to admit herself that her shining crop of curls gave her face a new piquancy.

In grateful relief, she kissed her mother saying, "It was the stiffness, wasn't it? Oh, Mom, what would I do without you?"

During dinner she got a telephone call. When she returned to the table her mother said, "Who was it, dear? Was it Joe? He phoned you this morning but in all the excitement I forgot to tell you."

There was a pause. Then, jumping up from the table, Dody yelled "Goodness, Mother, do you have to know the names of everyone who calls me for the rest of my life?" And ran upstairs.

This typical adolescent behavior is very tough on parents.

Like Dody, our teenage child will make a decision on his own. Then, terrified he's made a mistake, he begs us for reassurance. We give it to him. And for a brief happy time, we feel the old closeness to him. We think, "What have I been sad for? This child still turns to me for strength the way he used to."

Then we say, "Who was that on the phone, dear?"—and bang! We get told off as though we were King George III and he were Patrick Henry.

He roars his independence of us because he's so furious at his dependence on us. The problem always is, he doesn't know this. His selftrust isn't strong enough to know it. So he turns on us the rage he feels at his own weakness.

If we can see that he's still using our strength, not as he used to but in his new, indirect adolescent way, it stops being so tough.

Lorraine Inez Haps Wed in Our Lady of Refuge

MRS. EDWIN KAST JR.

Our Lady of Refuge, Orchard Lake, was the scene of the Saturday morning wedding of Lorraine Inez Haps and Edwin F. Kast Jr. The altar of the church was banked with white chrysanthemums.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Haps of West Bloomfield Township and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Kast of Bloomfield Township.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace with a Sabrina neckline, tapered sleevees and scalloped hem. A pearl tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums centered by an orchid.

Mary Theerenger, maid of honor, wore an orchid silk organza dress and carried a bouquet of deep orchid pompons. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Whitman of Detroit, Barbara Kast, Georgia Goyer, and Marla VanDecar, all of Pontiac. They were dressed in shrimp colored silk organza dresses with bouquets of pale orchid pompons.

Richard Kast was his brother's best man. Ushers included Raymond Carroll of Royal Oak, Gerald Kast of Warren, Marvin Haps of Detroit and William Haps of Pontiac.

Mr. Haps wore a turquoise print dress with black accessories and Mrs. Kast was dressed in a beige suit with rust accessories.

EARLY FALL

Labor day officially ends the season for wearing white but by no means marks the end of warm weather.

Dark cottons and new fabrics that imitate wool can bridge the season very nicely for you. Take this time to look over your fall clothes, weed out the tired looking things and shop carefully for replacements. Check your hemlines and up-date last year's garments by shortening skirts. This goes for your winter coats too!

There is much to be done so start right away before the busy season catches up with you.

Don't Vegetate

Secret of Youth Is Action

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Besides the economic waste which enforced retirement brings, it often has a damaging effect on personality and health.

At the Middle Mississippi Valley Regional Conference on Aging, which met in St. Louis, Mo., last April, Regional Director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Kansas City said, "It is impossible to escape the conclusion that loss of useful roles in work and in family is responsible for much of the boredom, frustration, confusion, unhappiness and premature aging among today's older generation."

Doctor Jack Weinberg, an attending psychiatrist at the Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago said, "Isolation can be most destructive to the aging individual."

The mother who has been so very busy with the constant and confining job of rearing a family may suddenly feel lost and of little use when the last child leaves home.

MUST BE PART OF LIFE

It has been definitely proven by various studies and observations that the feeling of being on the sidelines of life, that boredom and too much leisure, that not being a part of vital daily life, can lead to mental and physical deterioration. It is a well-known fact, too, that keen interest, someone to love, companionship or a goal ahead is rejuvenating and may well delay the aging processes.

It has been noted in homes for the aged that physical ailments lessened or disappeared when interesting activity and companionship were provided and the folks in the home participated. This also has been observed in the City Day Centers in New York City.

Semi-retirement comes to the woman in the home just as retirement comes to women and men in business, but it comes at an earlier age. Most women lose their children from the home nest around the age of 45 or 50.

The mother who has been so very busy with the constant and confining job of rearing a family may suddenly feel lost and of little use when the last child leaves home.

It is essential for the woman in the home to begin letting go of her offspring psychologically years before this time arrives and that she develop personal, individual interests before then, too.

Otherwise she may miss one of the most exciting chapters of her life and may settle down to premature aging.

Women Can Skip Middle Age Label

By RUTH MILLETT

"At what age does a woman become middle-aged?" ask readers.

Middle age today isn't a question of years — but a state of mind.

So long as a woman keeps the figure of a girl, dresses with dash, leads a busy life, is anxious to try the new, keeps on learning and growing, and is always looking forward to tomorrow she never gets herself described as a "middle-aged woman."

If her age is mentioned at all, acquaintances make a stab at guessing where she fits in. "She's probably in her thirties," they conclude, or in her forties, or, maybe fifties.

But they don't hang the middle-aged tag on her and let it go at that.

But a woman whose only interests are her house, her husband and her children, who has given up the fight to stay trim and young-looking, who chooses her clothes because they are practical, rather than becoming, who wouldn't dream of hunting or fishing or playing golf or taking dancing lessons because she feels she is too old for all such nonsense, who clings to comfort and routine and wouldn't take a chance on anything, is a woman who is middle-aged from the moment she says goodby to her girlhood until she becomes old.

So middle age overtakes some women at 40, some at 45, some at 50. And it never overtakes some women at all.

Today a woman is young until she is old—if that's how she wants it to be. She doesn't ever have to be middle-aged if she doesn't want to be.

Committee OKs School Aid Bill

McNamara's Measure Would Provide Billion Dollar Building Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aides of Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) said the Senate Labor Committee approved Tuesday McNamara's bill to provide a two year, billion dollar program of federal aid for school construction.

The bill would authorize federal aid of 500 million dollars a year to the states for a two year period. The states would be required to provide matching funds.

McNamara estimated that up to 75,000 classrooms could be built under the two year program.

Money would be allocated to the states on a basis of school-age populations and relative needs of individual states.

Says Tire Industry Expects Heavy Sales

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The tire industry is in position to sell nearly five million more passenger car tires this year than it had expected to only four months ago, the B. F. Goodrich Co. reported Tuesday.

E. F. Tomlinson, president of the firm's tire division, said revisions in the company's sales forecasts show present industry passenger-car tires estimates for 1959 at 98,325,000 units, compared with April forecasts of 93,500,000.

Tomlinson said one of the reasons for the optimistic outlook is the upward revision of the number of cars expected to be in operation by the end of the year, 54,570,000, compared with earlier estimates of 53,900,000.

Everyone's Gone Home

Little Argentine Is Quiet Again

By TOM SHAWVER

ARGENTINE (AP)—Almost as suddenly as it had become a bustling community crowded with cars and people, Argentine reverted to its usual role of a quiet crossroads village.

The mass search for Tpr. Albert W. Souden was ended. The body had been found.

Strangers in town — state, county and local police, newsmen and photographers and hordes of sightseers — climbed into their cars and drove home.

"We haven't had so much noise and excitement around here since Gov. Williams came to town a couple of years ago," said Mrs. Elmer Harwood, wife of Argentine's constable.

"That time we had a real ball," she said. "This time there was only tragedy."

Mrs. Harwood was one of some two dozen Argentine area women who dished out free meals to hundreds of searchers who converged on this tiny village of about 200 people when Souden was reported missing.

Through the four days of the search, an air of tension hung over the community. Townspeople huddled near the state police mobile communications center to catch word from troopers in the field, who reported in with walkie-talkie telephones.

Constantly through each day they approached Capt. Burt L. Yungfer, first district commander and director of the search, to ask:

"Any word yet?"

For four days, Yungfer's answer was always the same.

Then the word was flashed that ex-convict Alvin Knight, who had lived here with his mother and stepfather in a rambling three-story frame house, was ready to lead officers to Souden's body.

Almost within minutes from the time the story went out over radio and television stations, cars filled with sightseers streamed into the village.

Newsmen were forbidden to enter the area until the body had been found and carried away, the area searched thoroughly for evidence and Knight taken back to state police headquarters at East Lansing.

When police left the area, curiosity seekers by the hundreds tramped through the fields and into the thick woods where the body was found.

They stared at the shallow impression in the earth where the body had lain, then the freshly dug hole where Souden's uniform had been buried.

Back in Argentine, up on the hill in the big yellow house, Mrs. Veda Wollner, Knight's mother, shielded herself against the prying eyes of townspeople and newsmen.

Those who approached saw a tiny sign near the front door.

House Declares Alford Entitled to Position

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a vote of 245-5, the House has declared that Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark) is entitled to his seat in Congress.

Alford, a strong segregationist, won a surprise write-in victory in Little Rock last November over Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark). Hays was considered a moderate on the question of school integration.

Alford's campaign featured the use of printed stickers bearing his name which were pasted onto ballots by write-in voters. There was some question of the legality of this.

Car Output Drop 1.7 Million in '58

But Still Was 10 Times Greater Than Russia, Says Commerce Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. production of motor vehicles dropped by more than 1,700,000 units last year—but this country still was making more than 10 times the number of autos and trucks produced in Russia.

This information is included in a Commerce Department report on world motor vehicles output in 1958.

The report said world production in 1958 of passenger cars, trucks and buses total 11,724,651 units, compared with 12,849,463 in 1957.

This world drop was attributable to a decline of 1,730,049 units in the United States—from 7,220,520 in 1957 to 5,490,471 in 1958, a recession year. Foreign production was up.

The Commerce Department said that Russia last year made 511,400 motor vehicles, mostly trucks. This total represented an increase in passenger cars and a slight drop in trucks from 1957.

One Decision He Will Never Regret!

There's a new lilt to his spirit today—and his heart is singing a song it hasn't recalled in a good many years.

For today he took title to his first Cadillac—and already he knows that this is one decision he will never regret.

You see, so many of the satisfactions of Cadillac ownership make themselves known to a man the instant he takes the wheel—the car's marvelous comfort and luxury, for instance . . . its feeling of quality and substance . . . its wondrous silence and effortless handling . . . and that abiding sense of pride and fulfillment.

And then, there is the pleasant contemplation of the car's great practicality.

The original investment was far more modest than he had anticipated—surprisingly close, in fact, to the cost of the medium-priced car he had previously owned.

What a revelation the facts about Cadillac value were—and how reassuring the story of Cadillac's remarkable resale characteristics!

And, of course, he knows that the car's great operating economy and dependability will ride with him through every joyous mile.

In fact, if he has any regret at all, it is that he waited so long to discover how eminently practical a Cadillac can be.

How about you? Is there a Cadillac at the end of your private rainbow? Well, then, you owe it to yourself to get the facts firsthand.

Your dealer will be delighted to do the honors at any time you specify.

NO SALE — The kids down in Memphis, Tenn. were jumping with joy when these 'For Sale' signs sprouted at their Treadwell School. But the fun didn't last long . . . only until the signs were revealed as the work of pranksters not anxious to see the end of summer vacation. The hoaxers apparently took the signs from homes for sale in the neighborhood. However, they were quickly removed and school opens as usual.

San Diego Educates 'Weekend Sailors'

Program Tries to Make Boating Safe

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The rapid growth of boating as an American pastime has created so many amateur sailors that authorities throughout the country are devising new safety rules and guides to save lives.

One such program is getting the full sponsorship of officials at the Port of San Diego. They keep amateurs in boats out of trouble and to help in their rescue if they do come to grief.

"Our job is chiefly one of education," said port warden Richard W. Emrich. "Most persons do not deliberately fail to use common sense, it's just that they don't think or don't know."

As part of this educational campaign, the port has printed several small booklets laying down basic roles for weekend sailors. These are distributed through whatever means possible.

"We have established a system of checking vessels in and out of the port," Emrich said." While there is no law that requires anyone to register we're trying to convince sailors and fishermen it's for their own protection. We've tried to make it easy for them.

"Telephones have been set along San Diego Bay at small boat launching ramps. We are asking persons who plan to leave the harbor to call a number and we'll log him out. We ask him about what time he will return and if he hasn't checked in within a couple of hours of that time we notify the Coast Guard."

Emrich said port police keep an hourly check on cars parked near launching ramps after normal hours. He said that if a car is parked for too long a period an effort is made to contact the owner's home.

"Sometimes we learn that the party had planned to go to someplace like Newport or Ensenada and would not return tha tnight," Emrich said. "If we had known this it would have saved a lot of trouble.

"On other occasions the phone is answered by a frantic wife who say her husband should have been back six hours ago but she didn't know who to call."

Emrich said that in either of these cases the port warden's office sends the party a set of the booklets with a polite note urging his cooperation.

One of the booklets is entitled "So You're Going Fishing." It gives tips on the best fishing locations and on general courtesy among boat and ship operators.

A booklet entitled "Now Hear This" sums up boating procedure with this:

Courtesy afloat is merely a matter of the Golden Rule. Sharing the harbor and boat channels with courteous consideration for the rules of the road will make for a well-regulated harbor and a safe one.

"Professional sailors are usually proficient in rules of the road and seamanship. However, it should be the ambition of weekend sailors and hobbyists to sail like professionals.

"Let common sense govern your speed. Excessive speed without regard to the proximity of shore installations and other boating is the most frequent, the most offensive, and the most damaging of all boating practices."

It requires about 45 gallons of water to fill completely a domestic household bathtub of average size.

But Commission May Live On

Major Rights Laws Unlikely This Year

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major civil rights legislation this year is as unlikely as the idea that Soviet Premier Nikita' Khrushchev will ask for political asylum when he lands here next week.

Congress, rushing to get away before Khrushchev arrives, may renew the life of the President's six-man Civil Rights Commission which otherwise dies Nov. 9. That's the most in view.

Civil rights advocates might like to think that if not this year then next year Congress will ram through a strong civil rights bill. Don't bet on it, even though 1960 could be noisy.

Next year is the big election year—for the presidency and Congress—and Southern Democrats, no matter what the year, can be relied on to fight any civil rights bill with real teeth in it.

Such a fight, if it got nasty enough, could split the Democratic party wide open at a time when it wanted unity at the polls. cratic party wide open at a time when it wanted unity at the polls.

The Democratic leaders in Congress—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas—are compromisers who don't like splits. Johnson himself is a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

FIERY PROPOSALS

Tuesday the Civil Rights Commission, although without much real power of its own, threw another log on the fire with a report making some proposals in the civil rights field.

Southern Democrats hopped on them angrily and at once, even though they are still only in the talking stage. Nevertheless, the commission's suggestions are bound to be one more point of argument next year.

But judging from past performance—the maneuvering and compromising in Congress—plus the fact that 1960 is election time, it seems safe to say any civil rights legislation passed next year will be fairly mild.

This seemed the year for any effort at a strong civil rights bill—since Southerners would have had another year to cool off—but neither Johnson nor Rayburn sought to make civil rights a major issue this year.

S-P Workers Okay Two-Year Contract

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Workers at Studebaker - Packard Corp. voted over the Labor Day holiday weekend to accept a new two-year contract providing for an eight cent hourly wage increase now and a six cent increase next year.

Officials of Local 5 of the United Auto Workers said local members voted overwhelmingly in favor of the new contract which was agreed on by negotiators a week ago.

The contract, which covers about 7,000 workers, also provides for increases in pension, insurance, retirement and other benefits.

Khrushchev Plans Visit to Roosevelt's Tomb

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will visit President Franklin D. Roosevelt's grave at Hyde Park, N.Y., the Poughkeepsie New Yorker said today.

It said the date of the visit has not been determined.

Khrushchev is due to arrive in Washington a week from today on a tour of the United States. He is scheduled to arrive in New York Sept. 17.

The grave is a national historic site under the National Park Service. The service declined to comment on the report of Khrushchev's visit.

Russians Invite Hemingway to Visit There

MOSCOW (AP)— The Literary Gazette Tuesday printed a front page invitation to Nobel Prize winning novelist Ernest Hemingway to accompany President Eisenhower to the Soviet Union.

"The arrival in this country of a writer as popular here and in the entire world as Hemingway will meet with enormous warm hearted interest and general approval," the organ of the Soviet Writers Union said.

"We hope he will come," the magazine continued. "He will of course get a reception befitting a welcome guest."

Hemingway was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1954 following publication of "The Old Man and the Sea."

The body of an average adult person contains about one gallon or more of blood, measured by volume.

Port of New York Has Its Busiest Day of Year

NEW YORK (AP)— Customs inspectors had to hop today as the Port of New York had its busiest day of the year with incoming ships.

Ten major vessels came in from Europe and the Caribbean, bearing 9,118 passengers. The customs service had to marshal all 260 inspectors at its command, plus 20 helpers recruited from its clerical staff, to inspect more than 36,000 pieces of luggage carried by the passengers.

Boxcar Takes Work

ST. PAUL — Construction of an ordinary railway box car requires about 2,000 man hours of work, not including the labor needed to produce and process the various raw materials.

Can Deduct Taxes

WASHINGTON — In 25 of the 34 states which levy income taxes, the taxpayers are permitted to deduct their federal income tax payments in computing their state income tax levies.

Option Plays Best in Winged-T

By PAUL DIETZEL
Head Coach, Louisiana State

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — In the previous article we discussed the off-tackle slant, and today's play is its companion play. We'll call it the off-tackle option because it is an option to pass or run play.

I think it's the finest play in winged T football.

The right halfback again starts at the end but this time he blocks him. He tries to use a body block by throwing his head and shoulders beyond the defensive end's outside leg.

The fullback starts directly at that end, just as in the off-tackle slant, to try to make that end think he's going to block him out once again, but this time he slides on past the end and continues out into the flat. He must not get beyond seven yards deep as he heads directly for the sidelines.

The left halfback comes across and makes a very fine fake by reaching for the football, and then he crosses his arms and bends over to give the effect of having the football. He runs directly through the hole and then turns back to the inside to stay clear of the pattern.

The quarterback is, of course, going to run and fake the off-tackle play, but let's cover the blocking first.

The right tackle blocks in on the man over him and tries to keep him from crossing the line of scrimmage. The right guard drives directly at the linebacker and if the linebacker comes across the line of scrimmage he'll block him. If the linebacker drops off, the guard merely holds himself in place because he cannot go downfield since he is not an eligible receiver.

The center blocks the man over him and stays with him to contain him in his tracks. The backside guard pulls and instead of going through the hole as on the previous play he turns back after he's taken about four steps and looks to the backside to make certin there is nobody forcing the play from the rear.

The left end blocks the man over him for one count and then he goes across field, getting about 6 to 10 yards deep and going right in the area vacated by the safety man.

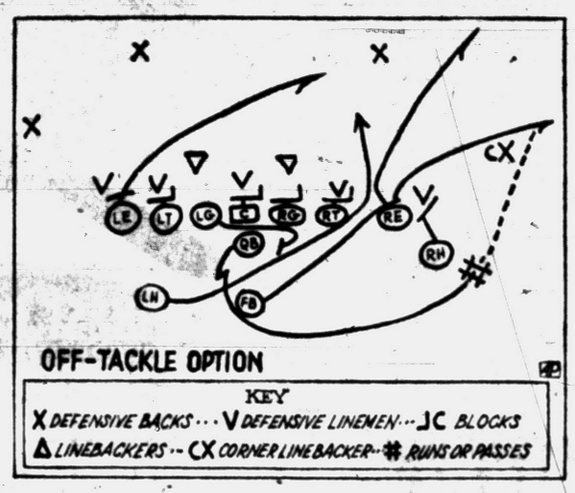

The right end, also in the pattern, takes a drive directly at the defensive tackle but on contact (he's just trying to simulate a two-time block) he turns and runs directly for the flag, meaning the flag on the corner of the field. By doing that he tries to beat everyone deep and force the safety man to cover him deep.

The quarterback rolls on out and as soon as he clears the ends he either runs or passes the ball, depending on what the corner linebacker does. The quarterback makes his own decision on this play after he turns toward the corner man. If the quarterback can gain five yards he runs the ball himself.

TOMORROW: The Bootleg Pass.

OFF-TACKLE OPTION — Deception is the thing that makes this play work. The quarterback fakes a hand-off to the left halfback, hides the ball, rolls out and either runs or passes. If he thinks he can gain five yards he runs.

It's Official: Bombers Can't Win AL Pennant

By United Press International

It's certain today that the Yankees can't win the American League pennant and it looks more and more like the White Sox can't lose it.

The proud Yankees, winners of four straight pennants and nine out of 10 under Casey Stengel, officially became "dead ducks" at 11:35 p.m. (EDT) Tuesday night when Luis Aparicio's 10th inning single gave the White Sox a 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The White Sox' triumph means the Yankees are 17½ games out of first place with only 17 games left to play — and all the machinations and strategems of Casey Stengel himself can't repeal the laws of mathematics. As of today the Yankees' "magic number" becomes 1960.

The White Sox, of course, must still eliminate the Cleveland Indians to win their first pennant in 40 years but that, too, is rapidly becomng a mathematical certainty. Only eight victories in their last 16 games would give the White Sox 94 wins for the season — and the Indians would have to take 14 of their last 18 for a .778 pace to tie!

Early Wynn, an "old smoothie" who'd strangle his grandmother to get into the world series, pitched a six hitter to score his 19th win of the year and put the White Sox five full games ahead of the Indians. The Athletics almost pulled out the decision by scoring two runs to go ahead in the ninth but the go-go Sox tied it in the bottom of the ninth and won out in the 10th.

A crowd of 28,238, which boosted the White Sox' home attendance to a record 1,340,439 for the season, saw Wynn notch the 268th victory of his career. He needs one more win this year to achieve the fifth 20-victory total of his career.

The Athletics had lost 10 straight games and were losing, 1-0, going into the ninth but rallied to go ahead on singles by Russ Snyder and Dick Williams, an error by Wynn, and Bob Cerv's sacrifice fly.

But the White Sox — specialists in late-inning rallies and winning the close ones — tied the score on Sherm Lollar's single, John Romano's sacrifice and Al Smith's double, then won out in the 10th on Jim Rivera's double and Aparicio's single. It was the 31st victory by a one-run margin for the White Sox this year.

Moving in for the "kill," the White Sox open a two-game series tonight against the Washington Senators, against whom they have a 15-5 season mark. Manager Al Lopez is sending Bob Shaw (14-6) against Camilo Pascual (14-10) in an attempt to drive another nail into the Indians' coffin.

—The San Francisco Forty-Niners have traded halfback Bill Stits to the Washington Redskins for an undisclosed draft choice. Stits, former U.C.L.A. star, played with the Detroit Lions before coming to San Francisco.

Eddie Lubanski Named Captain

Detroit Bowler Heads 4th All-America Team Picked by Writers

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Eddie Lubanski of Detroit has been named captain of the fourth annual All-America team selected by Bowling Magazine.

Lubanski, holder of the American Bowling Congress 700 series record and winner of the title in the 2nd World's Invitational tournament, drew 165 first team votes from the 177 bowling writers polled to lead the balloting.

Lubanski, Carter, and Hennessy were repeaters from the 1958 All-America team.

Detroiter Joe Joseph was named to the second team while Billy Golembiewski and Therman Gibson, both of Detroit, gained honorable mention.

'Tigers' or 'Lambs' Tonight?

Bengals Open 11-Game Road Trip at Boston

Either Lary or Bunning Will Pitch for Erratic Tigers Against Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Well, will they be tigers or lambs tonight?

The Detroit Tigers somehow look as good as the best one day, and the very next make you wonder how they win a baseball game.

They face the Boston Red Sox tonight in the opener of an 11-game road trip through five American League cities. Either Frank Lary or Jim Bunning will be the Detroit pitcher, with Frank Sullivan going for the Red Sox.

The Tigers can afford no more of the nonsense that cost them two games in Cleveland on Labor Day. They are just one-half game ahead of the fourth-place New York Yankees, and despite all the talk about third place, it is not going to be anything to brag about even if the Tigers make it.

Like all the other teams, except Cleveland, the Detroit club is so far out of the race that it's going to take a lot more than the current crop of alibis about injuries an so forth to convince the impartial observer that this Detroit team is a good one.

And the Tigers must face the astonishing fact that sixth place, currently occupied by the Red Sox, is only five games down the ladder. And fifth place is just a game and a half away.

It is not inconceivable to think that this band of happy-go-lucky Tigers could finish that low. Detroit is not noted for its furious finishes.

Just a year ago they were in fourth place with a 67-71 record. A brief hot streak produced six straight victories and got them into third place.

Then, in true Tiger fashion, they lost six of their last 10 games and finished fifth. Detroit lost a first division berth on the final day of the season by bowing to Cleveland.

Manager Jimmie Dykes was so put out at his club for blowing the doubleheader in Cleveland that he indicated he might have a heart-to-heart chat with the players before tonight's game. But this largely is the same group of players who have sat in on chats with ex-managers Bucky Harris, Jack Tighe, and Bill Norman.

WOE IS ME—Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., shows a bit of anguish after flubbing an easy shot into the net in his match against Antonio Palafox of Mexico in the National Tennis Tournament at Forest Hills. His pain was short lived as he won in a long struggle, 6-3, 4-6, 10-12, 6-4 and 6-4 in the third round.

Darkness Delays Possible Upset

Buchholz Trails Opponent

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — Earl (Butch) Buchholz, 18-year-old schoolboy star from St. Louis, was on the ropes but not quite out of the U.S. Tennis Singles Championship today.

Down two sets to one as darkness halted play yesterday, the seventh-seeded boy wonder from St. Louis plays off his heated thriller against Brooklyn's Ron Holmberg as the first order of business today with a berth in the quarter-finals at stake.

Buchholz fought off four match points in the third set yesterday before winning it at 10-8 as the light began to fail. Holmberg won the first two sets, 6-3, 7-5.

Alex Olmedo of Peru, Neale Fraser of Australia and Barry MacKay of Dayton, O., the three top-seeded stars, were favored to clout their way into the quarters in the other top matches today.

MacKay faced the toughest assignment against Bob Mark, a "spare wheel" on the Australian Davis Cup team. But Olmedo, champion of Wimbledon and Australia, figured to have an easy time against 18-year-old Chuck McKinley of St. Louis while Fraser expected little more than a workout against Rudy Hernando of Detroit.

In women's singles, second-seeded Sandra Reynolds of South Africa, third-seeded Christine Truman of Britain, sixth-seeded Ann Haydon of Britain and unseeded Dorothy Head Knode of Panama made the round of eight yesterday.

List Net Victors at Orchard Lake

Club tennis champions in five divisions were crowned during the Labor Day weekend at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Pete Trees won the men's singles championship by defeating John Sisson 6-2, 6-2. Trees and Gen Florez joined forces to win the men's doubles title with a 6-0, 6-3 triumph over Chuck Matthews and John Blight.

Jane Slater became the women's singles champ with a 6-1, 6-2 conquest of Marty Miller. Jane and Gibby Slater combined to win the women's doubles crown by conquering Mrs. Dena King and Margaret Getsinger 6-3, 6-4.

Trees and Sue Fitzgerald won the title in the mixed doubles division by defeating Matthews and Susan Fead 6-3, 6-0.

He Picks Chicago to Win Series

Casey Will Be Cheering for Lopez

NEW YORK (UPI)—Casey Stengel, who can't win it himself this year, said today he'll be "rooting for one of my boys, Al Lopez" to cop the World Series and keep the championship in the American League.

As graceful in defeat as he has been in victory in nine of the last 10 years, Stengel predicted that the White Sox would succeed the Yankees as world champions "providing their pitching holds up."

Stengel made the prediction upon learning that the White Sox' 3-2 victory over the Athletics last night had eliminated the Yankees from pennant contention.

"I'm not surprised," he said. "I been sorta expectin' it for some time."

The 69-year-old Yankee manager recalled that Lopez' Indians dropped four straight games to the Giants in the 1954 World Series — the only series in the last decade in which the Yankees did not play — and said he would be "rooting for Lopez and the American League", to take the 1959 series.

"The White Sox have five strong points and the only thing they can't do is hit the long ball," said Stengel. "They'll win the World Series if their pitching holds up because pitching is still 50 per cent of this game."

Stengel listed the five strong points of the White Sox, with appropriate comment, as follows:

—Lopez: He's a great manager and I know because he worked under me for years and his record speaks for itself.

—Shortstop Luis Aparicio: He's all over the place and he catches all the balls that are hit. You put him with that other little fella (second baseman Nelson Fox) and they keep you busy counting double plays.

—Pitching: He's got the pitching in Wynn, Pierce, Shaw, Donovan, Staley and others and he's got a low ball catcher (Sherman Lollar) who makes the umpires think everything is a strike.

—Speed: They run on you — whoosh! Team speed is a terrific factor in baseball and this team has more team speed than any I've seen in some time. You gotta have a good catcher against them or they'll steal everything but your gate receipts.

—Defense: They take hits away from you at every point of the field. They won't beat themselves. It takes a good defensive club to win all those one-run games.

MAGIC NUMBER — White Sox first baseman Ted Kluszewski displays the magic number 14 on his mighty arm denoting that any combination of Chicago wins and Cleveland defeats totaling 14 will mean the pennant for the Chisox. Big "Klu" slugged two homers in the second game Monday against the Athletics as Chicago won both games.

M-59 Feature Won by Logan

Johnny Logan of Charlotte won the Main Event in last night's Modified Hardtop program at the M-59 Speedway. Joy Fair, who was out for his fourth successive victory in the weekly racing card, was sidelined in the early laps of the feature race by mechanical difficulties.

Johnny Wallace, another favorite of local fans, kept steady pressure on the central Michigan driver but was forced to settle for second place. Fair posted fastest qualifying time, and set a new track record in time trials with a 16.15 second one lap time on the quarter-mile asphalt oval.

He finished third behind Logan and Wallace in the Dash Race, and second to Logan in the Pursuit Race. Fair posted a win in the first Heat Race, while other preliminary events were won by Dick Mitchell of Wyandotte and Don Delduca of Flint.

Kenny Schon of Oxford annexed the Semi-Main event in his first local appearance in two years. Don Porter of Flint placed 3rd in the Main Event, while Delduca placed 4th. Don Irish was the first Pontiac driver to finish, with a fifth place sprint under the checkered

Kiwanis 7-2 Victor in Exhibition Tilt

The West Side Kiwanis exploded for seven runs in the late innings to defeat the Northside All Stars, 7-2, in their midget exhibition baseball game last night under the lights at Northside Park.

Larry Wagner of the Kiwanis and Northside's Andy Flores waged a hot, scoreless pitching duel for five innings, then the Kiwanians tallied seven times in the next three innings to ice the decision. The winners had 12 hits.

Wagner hurled the route to receive credit for the victory and limited the All-Stars to just three hits while striking out 16 and walking four. Flores fanned 11 and walked one before giving way to reliever Mike Backus in the 7th inning. Flores was charged with the loss.

Ewbank Seeks Quarterback Reserves

Needs Help for Unitas

By Associated Press

Consider the plight of Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank if something should happen to quarterback Johnny Unitas, the passing wizard who pitched the Colts to the National Football League championship last season.

With No. 2 signal-called George Shaw peddled to the New York Giants, Ewbank has only defensive specialists Andy Nelson and Ray Brown as insurance against an injury to Unitas, who had to sit out a couple of key games during the 1958 campaign with fractured ribs.

Yesterday Ewbank assigned Brown, who played offensively at Mississippi, to the starting quarterback role for Sunday's meeting with the Eagles at Philadelphia. Nelson will be given a thorough test for the remainder of the exhibition schedule.

Ewbank also ordered a shoring up the Colts pass protection. After reviewing films of Baltimore's last outing against Pittsburgh, he said it "wasn't good enough," and cautioned: "It had better improve."

Gets New Chance Tonight, at Breaking LA's Slump

Drysdale Dodgers' Big Hope

By The Associated Press

Don Drysdale, the National League's No. 1 pitcher little more than a month ago, now is the No. 1 guy on the spot as the pennant race turns into the final three weeks.

The big right-hander, whose sidearm stuff puffed Los Angeles into contention, hasn't won in a month. Unless he comes back, the Dodgers are dead.

Since his last victory—a five-hit, 4-2 job on Milwaukee that gave him seven in a row and pushed the Dodgers within a half-game of first place on Aug. 8 — Drysdale has lost six straight and the Dodgers have skidded into a tie for second with Milwaukee, three games behind San Francisco.

Now 15-12, Drysdale gets another crack at junking the slump tonight when the Dodgers open their final, two-game series with last place Philadelphia at Los Angeles. Like the Giants and Braves, the Dodgers have 17 games remaining as they get back to business tonight after a day's rest.

The Giants, with their three-game lead packed away in the lost column, open a two-game series with Pittsburgh at San Francisco while the Braves play the first of two with St. Louis at Milwaukee.

Drysdale is 2-0 against the Phillies, who have dropped 10 in a row at Los Angeles, nine this season. But the Fearless Phils have won seven of their last 12 games, with six of those victories over the Giants, Braves and Pirates, whose pennant push fizzled at Philadelphia.

Jim Owens (11-11), a right-hander who is 1-3 against the Dodgers, was the Phils' choice against Drysdale and the Dodgers, who have a 15-5 edge over Philadelphia. Owens has won three of his last four and gained his first major league shutout in his last start (against the Pirates).

The Giants send right-hander Jack Sanford (12-12), who has lost three in a row, against the Pirates and lefty Harvey Haddix (11-10), Sanford is 2-0 against the Bucs, who have lost six of nine at San Francisco and stand 9-11 against the Giants over-all. Haddix is 0-2 against the Giants.

Warren Spahn (18-13) shoots for his third straight victory for the Braves, who are 11-9 against the Cardinals. Ernie Broglio (6-11), 0-1 against the Braves, faces Spahnie, who has a 53-31 lifetime record over the Cards, but is 2-2 this season. St. Louis has won only two of nine games at Milwaukee.

Seven Players Include 3 Hurlers

Dodgers Buy 'Farmhands'

The Dodgers obtained Phil Ortega, right-handed pitcher, infielder Al Norris and outfielder Tommy Davis from Spokane.

The contracts of pitchers Ralph Mauriello and Bob Giallombardo, shortstop Gene Wallace and first baseman Jim Koranda were turned over to Spokane in exchange for Ortega, Norris and Davis.

Eight players will report to the Dodgers shortly. Sandy Amoros, outfielder, and pitcher Bill Harris of Montreal are due Tuesday night. Pitcher Fred Kipp is due from St. Paul Wednesday. On Sunday night Norris, Davis, catcher Norm Sherry, shortstop Bob Lillis and outfielder Frank Howard will report from Spokane. They'll be eligible to play the rest of the season with the Dodgers.

U.S. Ryder Cup Squad Selected

Art Wall Heads 10-Man Team; Snead Is Picked for 7th Time

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Ten of the top U.S. professional golf stars, led by leading money winner Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., are charged with the job of getting back the Ryder Cup from the British this fall.

The Cup matches will be held Nov. 7-8 in Palm Besert, Calif.

The team, announced yesterday by the Professional Golfers Assn. President Harold Sargent, has Sam Snead back for the seventh time. The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro is the senior member.

Newcomers to the international cup competition are Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N.C., Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., Bob Rosburg of Napa, Calif., and Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C.

Lions to Go All Out for Entertainment

The singing talents of "Tennessee Ernie" Ford . . . the precision marching and musical brilliance of the University of Michigan Marching Band . . . hundreds of colorful Shrine marching units . . . all of these make for the most sensational game entertainment ever presented at a Detroit Lions football game.

This is the lineup for the Lions-Cleveland Browns pre-season game set for Sunday afternoon, Sept. 13, in Briggs Stadium. Game kickoff is 1:30 p.m. and the CBS television network will beam that game from Coast to Coast.

The game is sponsored by the Moslem Shrine Football Charities, Inc. and proceeds will be turned over to the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital Fund.

Boyne Mt. Resort Plan Expansion

BOYNE FALLS (AP) — On a cooling note, Boyne Mountain Lodge spokesmen today announced plans to increase the resort's guest capacity by about 50 per cent for the 1959-60 skiing season.

Everett Kircher, resort owner, said construction of a new, 50-room lodge highlights the expansion program for the coming season. It will increase guest capacity to 300, accommodating more winter sports enthusiasts from the Thanksgiving-to-Easter ski season and broadening summer facilities.

Other projects include two new ski runs, improvements on existing runs, development of a larger car parking area and addition of more chairs to the resort's three double-chair lifts.

Wayne Coach Expects 50

DETROIT (AP)—Coach Herb Smith expected a squad of 50 today when he sent the Wayne State University football team through its first drills. Wayne State officially opened its fall drills Tuesday with a picture taking session at Tartar Field. Smith said he will hold two-a-day drills until Sept. 21. Wayne State has 16 lettermen returning from its 1958 squad which won two, lost four and tied one.

Calcutta Pool Discontinued at Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Golf officials of the Desert Inn Country Club Tuesday announced two major changes in plans for the eighth annual Tournament of Champions.

One is the discontinuance of the fabulous Calcutta auction, a legal operation in Nevada which last year brought a pool of $380,000.

The other is addition of a one-day $10,000 professional-celebrity 18-hole attraction which will precede the $40,000 tournament proper, May 5-8, 1960.

The Calcutta auction, frowned on by the U.S. Golf Assn., and some of the PGA tournament players, was an annual attraction here. In it, players are "bought" by individuals or syndicates who profit, depending upon where their "buys" finish in the tournament.

Grumbling Sam, Absent Hogan in Dallas Spotlight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A couple of magic names in golf, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan, drew most of the attention today as they prepared for the Dallas Open, beginning Friday.

Snead said he had obligations at his White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., headquarters that should have been met.

The slammer said the $200 he'll get as defending champion won't pay his plane fares here. The PGA threatened him with a $500 fine if he didn't show up.

"It will cost me over $500 to play here," Snead said. "It would have been cheaper for me to stay home and pay a $500 fine. I could have made some money giving lessons. Unless I win some money here..."

Yanks, L.A. May Trade This Winter, Snider Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles outfielder Duke Snider has taken cognizance of printed rumors that the Dodgers are cooking up a winter baseball trade with the New York Yankees.

Snider mentioned this rumor on his local telecast last night: Los Angeles may deal southpaw Johnny Podres to the Yanks for catcher Elston Howard. Another rumor: The Dodgers may swap temperamental right-hander Don Drysdale to New York for infielder Gil McDougald and another unnamed player.

It's Casey at the Bat

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Catcher Dennis Casey, 20, batting champion and most valuable player in the Hartford Twilight Baseball League, last night signed with the Milwaukee Braves for a bonus said to be in excess of $15,000.

Bowling Aids Morale of Blind Keg League

Take Mrs. Ann Saxer, who has been completely blind for two years. She started with a game of 30. She now is bowling as high as 190.

The idea came from a Houston Chronicle story about Mrs. Saxer. Rewritten in braille, it appeared in the Texas braille newspaper.

It gave hope to many sightless people that they too could bowl. A league was suggested and formed.

You're in complete darkness. Sounds impossible. Yet these blind bowlers have made scores up to 190.

Truitt Childre, regional head of the rehabilitation program for the state commission for the blind, rolled two strikes and two spares. He was elated. He too is blind.

Jan Hard of Fort Worth is only in her 20's but her sight is gone. She is bowling near the 100's. Walter Trimble rolled 119 after two weeks of bowling. He is partially blind.

"It's the first time we've had a chance to compete against sighted folks," says Childre. "It has been one of the greatest morale boosters ever started here for the blind."

Rookie Guards Give Lions' Big Lift

Two Newcomers Counted On to Help Offense

Rabold-Grottkau Rated Equally in Battle for Starting Jobs

Both have been under considerable pressure and have showed they have the ability to compete with the pros of the National Football League.

The Lions desperately needed help in the center of the offensive line. Lack of tough, durable blocking guards was one of the main reasons for the team's poor showing last year.

When the two first reported to the Lions after the College All-Star game, Rabold, former Indiana captain and Detroit's second draft choice, was rated the better prospect. But now the coaching staff rates both on a par.

Both are big. Rabold is 6-feet-2 and weighs 235. Grottkau, a fourth-round draft choice, is 6-foot-4. He weighs 220 and has not yet reached full stature.

The differences in their playing ability is slight. Rabold is considered the better "pulling guard." He's faster at pulling out of the line to lead blocking or running plays.

Grottkau seems to have a slight edge on blocking in the line, an essential to give the quarterback time to set himself particularly on pass plays.

"We've been using Grottkau as the starter," said assistant coach Aldo Forte, "but actually it's tough to put one ahead of the other."

The Lions continued today preparations for the meeting with the Cleveland Browns in Briggs Stadium Sunday. It will be the second game between the two clubs, with the Lions getting a 9-3 victory in the first contest.

Ex-Players Itching for Jobs

No Manager Problem for Third League

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

The third major baseball league, to be known as the Continental League, should have an easy time finding managers.

A person, even a sports writer, would be surprised to learn how many present players and former players are itching to manage a big league team.

Warren Spahn, the ace southpaw for the Milwaukee Braves, would like to stick in the National League at least two more years so he can win 300 games. However, if a managerial job came along Spahnie probably would take it.

"A fellow would be chicken to turn down a chance to manage in the big leagues," Spahn said not long ago. "If the chance ever comes I'll take it."

AMBITIOUS PLAYERS

And who is to say Spahn wouldn't make a good manager?

Earl Torgeson of the Chicago White Sox and Alvin Dark of the Chicago Cubs are two other present day players with managerial ambitions. Enos Slaughter, still playing at 44, is another who could hardly say no where a baseball dollar is to be earned. There are many others.

The new league could easily look over the field at the minor league meetings scheduled for St. Petersburg, Fla., early in December. Such unemployed managers as Luke Sewell, who led the St. Louis Browns to their only pennant, Mayo Smith, Jack Tighe, Bucky Walters and Phil Cavarretta are a few who probably will be around.

COACHES INTERESTED

Or the backers of the new league need only to look at the present major league coaches, many of whom might jump from the big leagues for a chance in the new setup.

Tony Cuccinello, who has been with Al Lopez 18 years, would answer the call. So would Charley Dressen of the Dodgers and possibly Tom Ferrick, John Fitzpatrick, Fred Fitzsimmons, Don Gutteridge, Don Heffner, Billy Herman, Rogers Hornsby, Johnny Keane, Clyde King, Wally Moses, Frank Oceak, Howie Pollet, George Susce, Al Vincent, Harry Walker and Whit Wyatt.

Ed Lopat turned down three major league coaching jobs last winter to stay with the Yankees as coach of their minor league pitchers. Lopat, who managed Richmond three years, is one of the many in line to manage the Yankees when Casey Stengel retires. Ed is another who probably could be lured by the new league if Stengel retires after this dreary season and the post isn't offered to the former ace southpaw.

Two coaches the present leagues couldn't persuade to handle managerial chores are Pee Wee Reese and Tommy Henrich. Both would rather coach than manage.

COULD RAID MINORS

In the International League, Kerby Farrell, Dixie Walker, Cal Ermer and Steve Souchock are possibilities. In the Pacific Coast League there's Bobby Bragan, Bob Elliot and Charley Metro.

In the lower minors there are such names as Dick Sisler, Luke Appling, Ernie White, Pete Reiser, Grady Hatton, Charley Silvera, Al Hollingsworth, Mike Ryba and Johnny Pesky.

Yes, in the next few months, managers, coaches and players will be coming out of the woodwork to make their intentions known to the backers of the Continental League.

Big Shakeup in Rams' Defense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have just completed the biggest defensive shakeup in the club's history. Seven of the 11 positions are affected.

Coach Sid Gillman has made radical changes and the entire coaching staff believes they will pay dividends when the National Football League season opens. The Rams have won only one of four pre-season games, but much experimenting has been done with a fine crop of rookies.

One of the main changes has been the switch of big Lou Michaels from end to left tackle. The coaches say Lou was a positive standout against the Cleveland Browns last week. They think they have solved one of their defensive weaknesses.

"Michaels is large enough (242) to play defensive tackle, we believe," said Gillman. "He has tremendous strength. The whole question is whether he will be able to maintain the level of his effort against Cleveland. If he's that good in every game, we've found an exceptional tackle."

Gillman also said that John Guzik, rookie from Pitt, has won a job as a linebacker against San Francisco Saturday night. Lamar Lundy has won a job as defensive end and the other one will be held by the veteran Gene Brito obtained from the Washington Redskins.

George Strugar, displaced by Michaels, is battling the 270-pound giant, John Baker, for the other tackle job.

Behind this four-man line will be linebackers Les Richter, Roy Wilkins and Guzik, and relieving them will be Bill Jobko and Jack Pardee.

Two rookies, Tom Franckhauser of Purdue and Clancy Osborne of Arizona State University, have won position in the secondary and will work with the veterans Will Sherman and Don Burroughs.

Thus the defensive shakeup this summer has been the most extensive in Ram history. Only Richter, Sherman, Burroughs and Brito are in the jobs that were assigned them in the winter planning of the coaching staff.

College Gridders Take No Respite From Heat

Drills Cut Short

Preps Hit by Heat

High school coaches in most camps decided to cut short workouts or shift the drills into early evening hours.

Pontiac Central had a heat casualty yesterday morning when sophomore center Tom Eichorn was taken to the hospital and relieved. Coach Jesse MacLeay thus limited afternoon session to board work.

The Chiefs have sustained other losses due to injuries in drills. George Fed, outstanding PCH basketball player, sidelined with a broken jaw in Monday's drills and Tom Buchanan was out with nose injury.

At Pontiac Northern, coach Ed Heikkinen cut short his afternoon workout to an hour of light drills. In the morning session, senior tackle Dick Harmon and Larry Chambers were stricken with heat prostration.

At 3:00 p.m. when the temperature hit 92 at Avondale, coach Frank Crowell decided to call his workouts short.

"For the first time since I've been here, we allowed water on the practice field. We took a break about every 20 minutes," said Crowell.

Sophomore guard Jim Malane suffered a muscle spasm and several Avondale players were taken slightly ill by the heat.

Gene Konley at Rochester said his team had no heat problems. "We are way behind in our drills," said Konley, "because of the hot weather we haven't worked too hard. We've had only one scrimmage."

At West Bloomfield High School, coach Art Paddy called off practice this morning and rescheduled the workouts for this evening.

"We worked twice yesterday, cutting each workout short, and we had a few boys get dizzy and suffer with upset stomachs, but there were no serious cases," said Paddy.

Coach Monte Charles at Southfield was upset but not because of the heat. "We started with 78 players and we are now down to 50," Charles said. "Some of our players are making sure they don't get sick because of the heat, they just decide to quit."

In most cases, classes started today or will start tomorrow and football drills will be limited once daily sessions.

Many of the area grid teams will engage in scrimmage sessions Saturday and their final big workout before the openers next week.

Pool League to Start

Competition in the Monterey pool league will start next week with Jack Diaz the defending champion.

A total of $500 was awarded in monthly prizes last year. Leading players for August were Ruben Flores, Bob Chavez and Diaz.

Prep Cage Ace to U-D

DETROIT (AP) — Charlie North, former All-City and All-State center at Detroit Northwestern High School, has enrolled at the University of Detroit. North graduated from high school in 1958 and enrolled at Coalinga, Calif., Junior College. U-D basketball coach Bob Calihan said North will play varsity basketball for the Titans this year.

STARTER—One of the area's seasons, Gary Ballman of East outstanding athletes for several Detroit, has taken over a starting assignment at halfback at Michigan State in current drills. Ballman is only a sophomore.

Heavy Contact Continues at 3 Major Camps

MSU Player Is Felled by 95 Degree Weather at Scrimmage

Heat or no heat there were no signs of letting up in the football training camps in the state of Michigan.

These were yesterday's activities at the state's three major colleges:

EAST LANSING — "This will be our toughest work week of the fall," football boss Duffy Daugherty told his Michigan State squad.

Daugherty is making good on his promise.

One player collapsed from the heat and another suffered a broken finger as the Spartans went through a scrimmage during 95-degree temperatures yesterday.

Jim Corgiat, Bessemer sophomore, was felled by the heat and spent the afternoon in the hospital. Another sophomore, Fred MacEachron of Grandville, will be sidelined with his hand in a cast for "some time" team physician James Feurig said. MacEachron suffered a badly-broken finger.

Line and defense coach Bob Hollway sounded an optimistic note yesterday in appraising the team's tackle to tackle line strength.

Hollway said rapid improvement of reserves Mich Fillichio and Paul Poulos, combined with the tested prowess of first string guards Capt. George Genyk and Alex Callahan, make the guard posts are just about the strongest spot on the team.

The swift development of a senior and a sophomore, who moved into the center spotlight with first stringer Dick Syring was hurt, have lessened worries at this key post.

Jerry Smith, a 194-pounder from Detroit, has taken over as No. 1 center. Steve Stieler, who was switched back to center after playing guard for a week, has provided much needed second line strength.

Syring, who underwent surgery yesterday on a dislocated shoulder, apparently has been lost for the season.

DETROIT — The University of Detroit's football squad was hit by another wave of injuries after a light workout at U-D stadium yesterday.

Four players, including Terry Faylor of Ft. Wayne, were injured, bringing to eight the number of Titans on the sidelines.

Late Rally Defeats Kalamazoo

Title to Dearborn Nine

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—Dearborn came from behind last night to bury Kalamazoo in an avalanche of runs and win the state amateur baseball championship.

Dearborn scored nine runs in two innings to defeat Kalamazoo by a 12-6 score.

The win gave Dearborn its first state championship since 1941.

Pitcher Mike Yuskowatz, who took over in the third inning, sparked the Dearborn drive. He belted a three-run homer in the eighth frame.

Dearborn will represent Michigan in the National Amateur Baseball Congress tourney beginning here Friday. Kalamazoo has also qualified for the tourney.

Kalamazoo will meet Fort Wayne, Ind., Saturday afternoon and Dearborn will play Nashville, Tenn the same night.

Kalamazoo had won seven of the last 10 state championships.

The annual state amateur sportsmanship award was presented last night to Tom Walsh of Jackson, a former Hillsdale College football great. Dave Goatsalk of Kalamazoo was voted the most valuable player.

Line score:

Dearborn	200 010 450	12	8 1
Kalamazoo	001 011 100	6	12 3

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Louisville Colonels — a farm club of the Milwaukee Braves—clinched the American Assn.'s Eastern Division pennant last night downing Fort Worth 2-0 and 8-0.

White Sox Buy Mexican Catcher for Flag Drive

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox have announced the purchase of Camilio Carreon, the Indianapolis Indians' ace who took American Association rookie of the year 1959 honors.

Carreon, a Mexican, was purchased by the American League leaders yesterday and will join the club Sept. 10 at Baltimore or Sept. 11 at Washington, a White Sox spokesman said.

The long-ball-hitting Latin catcher is a native of Colton, Calif. In 142 games with Indianapolis this season, he batted .312 and drove in 90 runs with 21 doubles, five triples and 10 home runs.

Detroit Meets Virginia Today for Legion Title

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Detroit, the pretourney favorite, and little Phoebus, Va., the sentimental favorite, will fight it out for the American Legion Little World Series baseball championship.

They meet tonight in a game that will end the tourney if Phoebus (2-0) wins. But if Detroit wins there will be another game Thursday night in the double elimination tourney.

Detroit made it into the showdown stage by beating West Hartford, 7 to 6. West Hartford had beaten the Detroit club 4 to 3 in the first round Sunday. Phoebus then beat West Hartford Monday.

Layne's Trial Is Due

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A driving while intoxicated charge against Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers is set for call in county court-at-law here Wednesday.

Layne's attorney said he will file a first continuance motion, making postponement of the trial almost automatic.

Pearsall-Oakley Win Doubles

Bartley 'Shoe' King Again

Dislodging Floyd Bartley from his throne in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's City Horseshoe League is proving mighty difficult for all hands.

Bartley won the annual Labor Day singles championship at Oakland Park for the 3rd straight year by conquering Tom Pearsall in the best-of-five finals.

Pearsall made Bartley work for the crown, however, pushing him to the five-game limit before bowing. Scores were 25-0, 25-21, 9-25, 4-25, 25-23.

The Bartley twins did not fare as well in the doubles portion of the tournament.

Pearsall and partner Rex Oakley won the doubles title for the 2nd straight year by whipping Floyd and brother Lloyd three games in a row, 25-5, 25-4, 25-11, in the best-of-five tourney finals.

A total of 21 singles players and 10 doubles teams competed in the tourney.

The City Horseshoe League will close the 1959 season Thursday night with match position play between the Tuesday and Thursday leagues. Starting time at Oakland Park is 7 p.m.

Cyclists Hold 3-Event Meet at OCSC Sunday

A big field of bicycle racers was expected for Sunday's triple-event racing meet under direction of the Spartan Bicycle Club of Detroit.

Races are set for Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, according to Spartan Club officials, and include a 50-mile seniors' road race, a 10-mile junior event and a 3-mile women's contest. Race will be held, rain or shine.

First event starts at 1 p.m.

Referee is Norman Hill, the chief judge Mel Gruenwald and timer is Louise Portuese. Other officials include starter Del Smith and assistant judge Torchy Belden.

Purebred Pups Camp Awards

The Livonia Kennel Club's anual fall all-breed dog show is set for Sunday, Sept. 13, at the Detroit Race Course, Middlebelt and Schoolcraft roads in Livonia.

One of the top show features will be the presentation of 10 purebred puppies to eight youngsters and two directors of the Charles Howell Scout Reservation and D-Bar-A Scout Ranch. Awards will be in recognition of outstanding performance at the summer camps.

Regulations Unchanged for State Bow Hunters

MIDLAND (AP) — Michigan's bow and arrow deer hunting regulations are unchanged this fall, the Michigan Bow Hunters' Assn. announced today.

Except for one county, the season will open on Oct. 1 and end Nov. 5, giving archers 35 days in the field. The season in Allegan County will end on Dec. 15 because of the heavy deer concentration in farming areas.

Deer of either sex may be taken in all but three counties. Chippewa (except for Drummond Island), Menominee and Emmet counties have buck-only regulations.

Shooting Preserves Add to State Bird Seasons

Michigan's shooting preserves, featuring liberalized regulations, will open Sept. 15 for pheasant and duck hunting.

Some preserves will also offer hunting for chukar partridges, coturnix quail and other exotics.

Together with the late closing date of March 31, this fall's advanced opening will give pheasant and duck hunters 47 more days of preserve shooting than last year.

In 1958, the preserve season on pheasants opened concurrently with small game seasons while ducks became legal preserve targets Oct. 1 in both peninsulas. Hunting was closed to both birds March 15.

A 10-per cent increase in the graduated allowable take of preserve pheasants will also be in effect this fall. The higher kill quota, coupled with a longer season, is expected to lower shooting fees.

Another change will allow hunters to shoot preserve ducks within 40 yards of lakes, streams and ponds. However, hunters may not shoot toward these waters within an 80-yard zone. The 40-yard restriction will enable operators to set blinds in more suitable areas.

Last year's restriction against any artificial feeding on preserves from January 1 to March 15 has been liberalized. The new rule allows the Conservation Department to determine where such feeding will be permitted.

In a minor change, the placement of seals on birds has been shifted from the wing to the leg.

The department has issued licenses to seven new operators this year, raising the number of preserves to 40.

This Horse Hits but Can't Field

APTOS, Calif. (AP)—Kit never will make it to the big leagues. Good field, no hit. Also, he's a horse.

Still the 2-year-old Arabian colt plays ball with his owner, 71-year-old rancher Jaro Bezdicek, who taught him to retrieve a loosely wrapped leather sphere.

"The farther the ball flies, the better Kit likes it," says Bezdicek, a native of Czechoslovakia and former cavalryman in Austria.

"He's a smart horse. I talk to him like a human, and he answers back."

The answers come in the form of a whinny when Jaro asks his pride to beg for sugar. Kit will bring back any object his master throws, such as a jacket or hat, but he seems to be having the most fun chasing the ball.

Bezdicek has lived 34 years on his 20-acre ranch and makes pets of most of his animals.

Connecticut Yankee Wins Cycle Reliability Test

Scirpo, also a winner in 1955, was named grand champion for his consistency in performance in covering the 512-mile circular route through Central Michigan over the Labor Day weekend.

There were 435 entries starting the crosscountry run from Lansing Sunday morning but only 87 crossed the finish line Monday night.

Champions in other divisions:

Early Leaders Hold On, Win 'Derby'

BASS CHAMPION

BIGGEST PIKE

BEST BLUEGILL

By The Press Outdoors Editor

A pair of early leaders in The Pontiac Press 1959 "Big Fish Derby," and another entry that came along midway of the summer-long fishing campaign on Oakland County waters, today were acclaimed as the latest champions in a contest that has annually produced some fine finny specimens.

BLACK BASS—A splendid, 21½-inch long largemouth that pushed the scales up to an even six pounds.

The winning bass entry was taken by Arden Beckett, 400 Barron Rd. Ortonville. Beckett, father of four, with a family that is avidly interested in the piscatorial sport, landed his prize-winning fish on Lake Louise, a well-known bass and pike water, north of Pontiac.

'LUCKY 13' PLUG PROVES LUCKY CHOICE

He was fishing early in the evening of June 24, when the lunker hit his "Lucky 13" plug, off a weedbed.

Winfred Baker, 1290 Stanley, Pontiac, and his friend, Harry Beasley, 45 West Beverley, caught a pair of husky pike that almost threw this division into a stalemate. They were angling on Schoolhouse Lake, on July 6. Baker hooked and landed his fish, a 9¼-pounder, 34½-inches long. Then Beasley snagged one just one-half inch shorter, and 4-ounces lighter.

From the time Butch Doyen entered his one-pound, 10½-inch bluegill on July 1, there began a steady parade of entries for this lively division, until July 23.

On that date Howard Gordon, 1034 Cherrylawn, Pontiac, brought in a really big one, a 10½-incher that tipped the scales at one-pound 4-ounces. This one hung on right down to the wire.

PERSISTENCY WINS FOR HOWARD GORDON

Gordon was really after the bluegill award right from the start. He went fishing every day, each day hoping to hook the "big one." His friend, Dick Smith, entered a 'gill July 18, that led at that time. "I just had to catch one bigger, to beat Dick," Gordon reported after he creeled his winner on Round Lake.

Each division champion will receive from The Pontiac Press a U.S. Savings Bond in the denomination of $50. Bonds will be on their way within a short time.

OBEY GAME LAWS, AND KEEP YOUR GUNS

Recent notice of sale of confiscated firearms, reminds this writer that if there had been proper regard for, and observance of game laws these weapons would still be in the hands of their original owners.

By the same token, those who willfully break the regulations set up for all sportsmen's benefit, should not by any means be permitted their use again.

Bidders may inspect the items Sept. 14-17 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Conservation Department shop in Gaylord, where bids must be filed and where the sale takes place Sept. 18.

Two Ex-Champions Ousted in Tourney

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Two former champions and a 1959 medalist were ousted in Tuesday's first round of the Trans-Mississippi Women's Amateur Golf Tournament at the Hot Springs Country Club.

Sugarfoot, Susie Roll Along, Add New Victories

Both went "blue" in the 6-9 months old great Danes class at Macomb Kennel club show, last weekend at Warren. The handsome puppies are owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts, Clarkston.

Sunday's win was the 5th for Sugarfoot, the 6th straight for Susie. Susie hasn't missed a blue ribbon this summer. Both seek added honors in the Genessee county Kennel club show at Flint this Saturday, and at Livonia's "Midwest Epic" show Sunday. There are 430 entries at Flint, more than 600 at Livonia, where 43 Danes are listed.

You're the Skipper

By JOHN BOHANNAN
Syndicated Boating Writer

Some boatmen have a tendency to over-correct in steering, with the result that the stern is constantly swinging to one side or the other. This is less apparent in small, light craft. They are so responsive that the correction is almost immediate and hardly noticeable. But when an over-energetic helmsman graduates to a larger boat, the wake takes on a snake-like appearance.

The reason is that the weight and waterline length of the larger craft cause it to tend to keep on turning once it starts, and if the helm is put too far over to stop it, the boat starts on another wild swing in the other direction.

All of this makes it difficult to follow a compass course, fouls up navigation and wastes fuel.

To overcome this habit of over-correcting, a light touch on the helm must be acquired. When she first starts to swing, meet her with an easy spoke on the wheel. Practice this under varying wind and sea conditions until you instinctively know how much correction to give, and no more.

In a rough sea you'll find it almost impossible to keep the boat exactly on course. The best way is to make the swings average out equal to starboard and port so you can still make good the intended course.

I have found a small monitor compass an excellent aid to steering in a choppy sea. This is an auxiliary compass containing alternate red and black triangular markings lettered A, B, C, X, Y and Z.

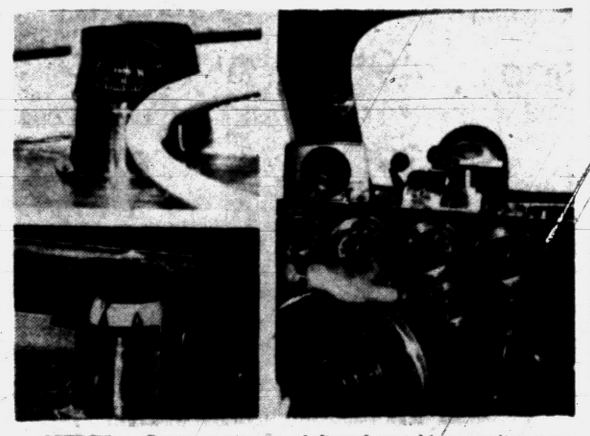

Put the boat on course with the main compass, then set the pointer on the monitor compass on the apex of the nearest lettered triangle. Steering then becomes greatly simplified and easier on the eyes by merely keeping the pointer over the selected mark.

Be sure to mount the monitor compass at least 18 inches away from the other compass to avoid reaction between the two magnetic fields.

Often the play can be taken out of tillers by inserting brass shims so the fitting will grip tightly against the rudder post.

In some respects, single-screw motor boats and sailboats are easier to steer than perfectly-balanced twin-screw craft because you are working against a constant pressure from one side—the turning moment of the propeller on the inboard, or the weather helm of the sailing rig.

Trout Season Nears End

LANSING — Fishermen are reminded that Sept. 13 is the final day of Michigan's 1959 regular trout season. This date also marks an end to all fishing in designated trout lakes and most trout streams.

Some trout streams or portions of these streams will remain open to fishing for other species after the regular trout season closes.

Brook trout will remain on the legal catch list through Oct. 15 in Swanzy an Airport lakes of Marquette County. This experimental regulation is part of a Conservation Department research project.

Rainbow trout may also be taken during an extended fall season—Sept. 14-Nov. 30—in lakes and streams designated by the department.

A listing of lakes and streams open to hook and line fishing during this season can be obtained from the department's fish division, Lansing 26, or any of the department's district field headquarters.

Black's Best at Night

One of the few things on which nearly all anglers agree is that a black surface lure is best at night.

'Kissin' Cousin' of the Mallard

Prof Gives Lowdown on Black Duck

ANN ARBOR — The black duck, a favorite of Michigan game hunters, is practically a "kissing cousin" of the mallard, though not nearly as colorful, says George Hunt (PhD) assistant professor of wildlife at The University of Michigan.

"Actually it's more of a sooty brown, with grey cheeks, olive-yellow bill and coral-colored feet. It weighs from two to four pounds," Hunt says.

"One of the dabbler species, the black duck feeds in shallow water. Food is mainly aquatic plants, grains, grasses, insects and small fish. Of all game ducks, it's probably the most wary and difficult to get before the gun. They are usually abundant on the Detroit River during the winter.

"Black ducks nest usually on the ground, fairly close to water, but their nests have been found as far as a mile from water. Occasionally one will nest in an abandoned crow or hawk nest up in a tree. An average clutch will count eight or ten eggs, but may run up to 13 or 16.

"A migratory bird, the black duck's main wintering areas are along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts. Some spend the winter as far south as the Gulf of Mexico and Florida, and inland to the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

"The black duck is a monogamous species. It selects a mate with which it remains for one mating season. The following year it may have a different mate.

"The courting display isn't spectacular but it's pleasant to watch," says Hunt. 'Several males will fly through the air chasing one female. But the lady gets to select the male of her choice. After they are on the water again, she simply touches him with her bill by way of saying 'This is my man.' From then on he sticks close to her and any intruding males are fought off.

"After the eggs are laid, the male may stick around a few days longer. Then he joins other males and has nothing more to do with the incubation or raising of the brood after they are hatched. The young are precocial, searching for food and water almost as soon as they are hatched.

"Sometimes a clutch of eggs is destroyed after the male has left. If this happens, the female, still determined to raise a family, will entice another male who has not yet mated."

Obedience Classes Begin Sept. 17-23

School Days Back for Canine Pupils

Once more schoolhouse doors open for a new period of instruction, and the area's pupils this week will resume their studies. The youngsters will not, however, be the only ones starting the business of learning, for classes will soon be under way for obedience training for dogs.

Following demonstrations on Sept. 17 at Daniel Whitfield school, and on Sept. 23, at Waterford CAI building, to which the public is invited without charge, regular obedience classes will be instituted. In each case classes are set to open the week following the demonstration.

Southern Michigan Obedience Training club has set up its program for the 1959-60 period, and its members provide the training leadership.

Owners of pets wishing to give their dogs training to make them better canine citizens, are invited to attend the demonstrations where full information about regular training or enrollments may be obtained. They may also contact Reg Armstrong (FE 2-7749) for Pontiac classes, or Jim Richmond (OR 3-3810) for Waterford.

Demonstrations will show what obedience training can do for pets, with both trained novice and advanced dogs taking part. Those attending should not take their pets to the demonstrations.

Storing Outboards

It will not hurt an outboard motor to store it in an unheated place—even in below-zero temperatures. Just be sure to get all the water out of it in the fall, so it can't freeze up, and protect it from the weather so that even sifting snow can't reach it.

Archery Rules 'As Is' on Deer

Michigan's bow and arrow deer hunting regulations remain unchanged this fall. Except for one county, the season will open on Oct. 1 and close Nov. 5, giving archers a total of 35 days afield, reports Michigan Bow Hunters Assn.

The lone exception is Allegan County. There, because of heavy deer concentrations in farming areas, bow hunters have a two and one-half month season, ending December 15.

Archers will again be able to to take deer of either sex in all but three Michigan counties. Chippewa County, excluding Drummond Island, and Menominee and Emmet counties are the "bucks-only" areas.

Bow hunters may also shoot bear under their bow and arrow license.

He's Big Bad Bear

Plastic Bait Business Booming

Kitchen Hobby Pays Off

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)— Charles Burke is in the business of producing bugs, frogs, crawfish, worms and crickets, and business is brisk.

A boon to fishermen, Burke's bugs have taken the digging out of the search for bait.

Ten years ago, Burke was a plastics expert in a small plant in Detroit.

"I started to make molds of insects, worms and eels at home in the kitchen," he says. "I used an engraving tool to create the detail and molded the plastic in the oven of the kitchen stove."

Burke's wife helped him hang up the newly molded fish bait to dry in a utility room. It was a hobby.

Then Burke discovered the climate at Traverse City was better for his health. He used his life savings of $1,500 to launch a new industry.

Last year, his tiny plant turned out three million of the colorful, lifelike insects, larve and spiders which fish seem to think delectable.

Burke, 46, now employs 51 people and has a new plant under construction.

Bait made of vinyl plastic now comprises up to 50 per cent of all bait used, Burke says.

BURKE—'BUGGY'

Serve Salmon Steaks With Cucumber Sauce

Down with the Territory of Alaska — now we have the State of Alaska, 49th in the Union! Barriers in the world of food have been breaking down everywhere recently due to the extensive travels of tourists and men and women in military service and business. When people no longer regard each other's everyday customs as strange, the world becomes a much smaller place.

Thanks to advanced transportation and processing, food products are as familiar half way around the world as they are near their point of origin. Americans everywhere now can enjoy salmon steaks, for instance, native to the waters of the Pacific Northwest.

And Tabasco, the liquid red pepper seasoning made on Avery Island, Louisiana, from peppers grown right there, can be found in Alaska and Hawaii, Europe, Great Britain and South America with little trouble. Tabasco is considered by some to be as indispensable to fish as butter is to bread and you'll probably agree when you taste salmon steaks cooked this way:

Salmon Steaks Alaska

¼ cup butter, melted
4½ teaspoons lime or lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
4 salmon steaks, fresh or frozen, cut 1-inch thick

Combine butter, lime juice and Tabasco; stir in remaining ingredients. Yield: Approximately 2 cups.

1 cup diced cucumber (with peel on)
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon snipped dill, optional

Blend together sour cream and

Tabasco. To bake, place salmon steaks in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Pour Tabasco butter over steaks. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees), 25 to 30 minutes, or until easily flaked with a fork.

To broil, place salmon steaks on greased broiler rack. Sprinkle lightly with salt; pour Tabasco butter over steaks. Place in preheated broiler 4 inches from heat. Broil 15 minutes, or until easily flaked with a fork. If desired, garnish with lime or lemon slices. Serve with *Cucumber Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Note: If steaks are frozen, thaw in refrigerator, or cook unthawed according to package directions.

Cucumber Sauce

½ pint commercial sour cream
½ teaspoon Tabasco

SALMON STEAKS ALASKA — Honor our 49th state by serving a food native to Alaskan waters — salmon. The fish and its accompanying cucumber sauce both rely on Tabasco sauce for seasoning.

Oriental Dish Goes Western

It has often been said that the Oriental people are famed for being able to create something out of almost nothing.

This same philosophy holds true concerning Oriental cookery. These culinary masters of the chopsticks can create an exotic meal with so very little effort and expense.

The name of this new Western-type dish is Western Egg Foo Yung and puts canned luncheon meat into the honored limelight. Another important ingredient found in this recipe is bean sprouts.

As you might expect, soy sauce may be served as a flavor accompaniment, if desired.

Western Egg Foo Yung

1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
¾ cup chopped celery
1 can (16 oz.) bean sprouts, drained
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
6 eggs

Cut luncheon meat into ½-inch cubes and brown in lard or drippings. Remove browned meat from frying-pan and save drippings. Add celery, bean sprouts and parsley to luncheon meat. Add eggs and blend well.

Spoon mixture into drippings in frying-pan, using about 3 tablespoons per patty. Cook until lightly browned on both sides. Serve with soy sauce, if desired. Yield: 12 patties or 6 servings.

Tempt With Doughnut

If you have a breakfast laggard in your house, tempt him with a thin slice of a fluffy powdered sugar doughnut. Packaged cake quality powdered sugar doughnuts from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department cut easily into attractive wafer thin slices that are appetizing with any breakfast beverage.

Chinese Cooky Interesting Not Too Rich

Interesting little cookies, not overly sweet, that you may have tasted in Chinese restaurants.

Sesame Seed Cakes

2 cups flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup corn oil
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup sesame seeds
1 egg (separated)

Sift flour and baking powder; make a well and add corn oil; stir to blend. Beat sugar and eggs together until light and pale-colored. Add egg mixture to flour-oil mixture to form a dough.

Knead dough until smooth on a lightly floured board. Form dough into small balls; brush top or dip into slightly beaten egg yolk; then dip into sesame seeds; place 1 inch apart on greased cooky sheet; flatten slightly. Brush tops with lightly beaten egg white.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 minutes or until firm and barely tinted with tan. Cakes brown only slightly. Makes about 4 dozen 1½-inch cakes.

Spaniards Discovered It

The name, vanilla, comes from the Spanish "vainilla" meaning little scabbard. The 16th century Spaniards gave this name to the long thin slightly curved vanilla bean they discovered at the Aztec court of Montezuma.

Serve Warm or Cold

When three or four tart apples are left over, slice and cook until tender in a boiling sugar syrup made with 1½ cups sugar, 2 cups water, one stick whole cinnamon and a few whole allspice. Serve warm or chilled with dinner.

Mushrooms, diced green pepper or onions sauteed in butter and combined with another cooked vegetable make for a medley of vegetable flavors.

Experiment With Mixes

Have you ever felt like "cheating" on directions printed on a package of cake mix? Such a rebellious impulse, of course, isn't against the law. But few housewives feel daring enough to depart from the rules prescribed by the mix manufacturers' staffs of expert bakers. We've found, however, that skillful "rule breaking" can produce some delicious desserts. Try these "cheaters" — which you won't find printed on any package.

COCONUT APPLE THINS. Use a package of apple thins mix, following directions with this exception. Add one-half cup shredded coconut to the crumb topping that's included in the package along with crust mixture and can of sliced apples. After patting down the prepared crust mixture, place the apple slices over it; then the coconut-crumb topping. In baking, the coconut will turn crispy brown!

PINEAPPLE BROWNIES. Chocolate richness and fruit flavor freshness abound in the same easy dessert! Use a prepared brownie mix that comes packaged with a baking pan. Substitute a scant one-third cup unsweetened pineapple juice for the water listed in the directions. Bake as directed.

The baking pan dimensions are designed so that you can cut out 24 regular sized brownies or 12 2" square king-sized ones. For each dessert portion, place two small brownies or one large one on a slice of pineapple; then top with a scoop of pineapple sherbet. It's a tropical feast.

CHOCOLATE COFFEE CAKE. Here's a version of coffee cake to glamorize dessert or snack time for any true chocolate lover. Use a package of real yeast coffee cake mix. Follow directions until it's time to put in the filling. Then, instead of the suggested filling, sprinkle one-half cup or more of chocolate bits over the dough after it's brushed with melted butter. Roll the coffee cake, bake it, and take credit for clever rule-breaking.

Shrimp Stock Adds Zest to Chilled Soup

Mystery Bisque

1 pound medium-sized shrimp
2 cups water
1 teaspoon whole mixed spice especially prepared for seafood
1 can (10¼ ounces) frozen condensed cream of potato soup
Paprika
Cucumber sticks

Wash shrimp in cold water. Place in a 1½ quart saucepan with the 2 cups water and spice; simmer 3 to 5 minutes; partly cover saucepan. Allow to stand in covered saucepan off heat until cool enough to handle.

Remove shrimp with slotted spoon and save for main course. Strain shrimp stock. Empty potato soup into a saucepan; fill can with shrimp stock (1 ¼ cups) and add. Bring slowly to a boil; cool and blend smooth in electric blender. Chill several hours or overnight.

Serve in cups and sprinkle with paprika; serve with cucumber sticks. Makes 3 servings. The seafood seasoning gives this bisque a spicy flavor that is a pleasant contrast in a chilled soup.

Take No Chances

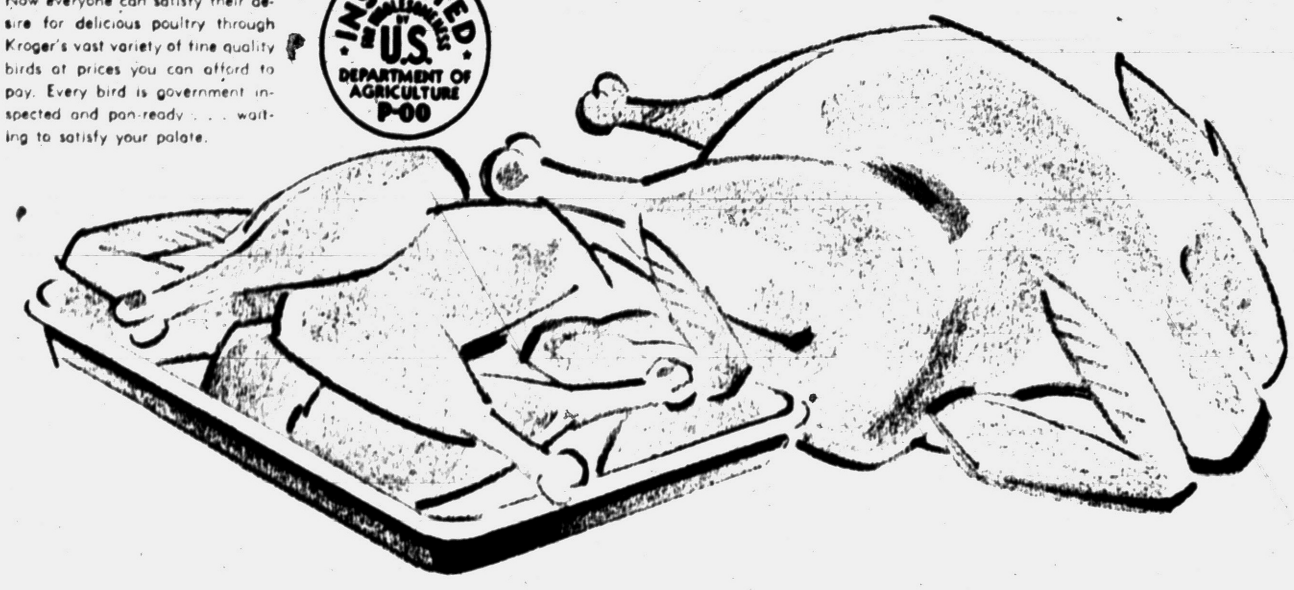

If you bake cake a great deal, your pans may become seasoned so that cakes come out of them easily. But if you are in doubt, grease the bottom of the pan, line with waxed or brown or parchment paper, then grease the paper.

Orange Juice a Base for Cool Fruit Drinks

Better than one Florida orange cooler are four such treats. Frozen orange juice, processed in the Sunshine State when the fruit is at its plentiful best, is a refreshing beverage to quench summer thirsts. Its rich vitamin C content makes it a wise choice, too, because this precious nutrient must be replenished daily.

Orange juice combines well with other flavors to make a variety of tasty cool drinks. The possible combinations are many and once you get started your imagination will lead you on to original concoctions.

Suggested in the following recipes are combinations of orange juice with cranberry juice, apricot nectar, raspberry sherbet, apple juice and gingerale. The refreshing, pure orange flavor predominates in each and insures a healthful drink.

Whether the orange juice is used reconstituted or undiluted, it is still an inexpensive item for summer coolers, particularly in view of its health value.

Grapefruit and Apple Mist

1 can (18 ounces) grapefruit juice
1½ cups apple juice or sweet cider
¼ cup lime juice
12-ounce gingerale

Combine grapefruit, apple and lime juice. Add sugar to taste. Chill until serving time. Add gingerale just before serving. Pour over ice in tall glasses. Yield: 6 servings.

Orange Apricot Duo

1 cup apricot nectar
¼ cup lime juice
12 ounces gingerale

Combine orange juice, apricot nectar and lime juice. Chill until serving time. Add gingerale just before serving. Pour over ice in tall glasses. Garnish with mint. Yield: 6 servings.

Orange Raspberry Frost

1 pint raspberry sherbet

Orange Cranberry Cooler

1½ cups cranberry juice cocktail
¼ cup lime juice
3 tablespoons grenadine

Combine all ingredients. To serve, pour over crushed ice in tall glasses. If desired, garnish with lime slices. Yield: 6 servings.

Vegetable Medley

Put odds and ends of cooked vegetables together so that you have about two cups; heat them in a cup of medium white sauce. Add a topping of grated cheddar cheese and place under the broiler until cheese melts and begins to turn golden-brown.

Facts You Didn't Know About Cantaloupes

Let's get the facts straight about that wonderful summer fruit, the cantaloupe.

The names muskmelon and cantaloupe are often used interchangeably. However, cantaloupe is the name usually applied to varieties having skins with a netlike pattern.

The name cantaloupe is derived from Cantaluppi or Cantalupo, a former home of the Pope near Rome. It is here that these melons were brought from Armenia by monks. The orignal melons are no longer found. The present types closely resemble them, although there has been a great deal of "crossing," producing transformations to enhance the quality, flavor and texture of the fruit.

California leads in cantaloupe production, followed by Arizona and Texas. Some cantaloupes are grown in 21 other states. But the big producer is California.

In the early 1900s, California cantaloupe production was divided between the Imperial Valley and the town of Turlock in the San Joaquin Valley. However, today the San Joaquin districts make up the major producing area, supplying over 75 per cent of the nation's cataloupes during the peak months of July and August. Last year, the San Joaquin districts accounted for all but 200,000 of the total 5.6 million crates of cantaloupes shipped from California.

Mid-summer cantaloupes are hand-picked when, and only when, the melons are fully ripe. The vine-ripened fruit is quickly crated and loaded into refrigerated cars. Ripeness is protected during shipment by ice.

Beige color and high, well-defined, close net are the chief visual characteristics. They are clean at the stem end. (Ragged bits of stem on a cantaloupe may indicate it was picked before it was ripe.)

When you cut a mid-summer cantaloupe, other characteristics are revealed:

Thick meat and relatively small seed cavity;
Deep, attractive, apricot color (often called "pink");
Rich, fresh fragrance—never musty.

Full, field-fresh sweet flavor;
Exceptionally pleasing texture—firm yet meltingly tender.

California mid-summer cantaloupes are a good source of ascorbic acid (Vitamin C) and Vitamin A. Calories? Only about 35 to 40 calories in the average half-shell serving.

California mid-summer cantaloupe is delicious "as is" with nothing added. Unlike many fruits, it requires no "extras" such as cream or sugar for eating enjoyment. On the other hand, some people prefer to sharpen the flavor with a little salt, pepper or fresh lime or lemon juice. The half-shell is the most popular serving.

It is a true "round the clock" fruit, welcome as a breakfast fruit, as an appetizer, as dessert or mid-morning or afternoon refreshment.

It goes with almost everything. It combines beautifully with all other fruits. Next to the unadorned half-shell, cantaloupe a la mode is the most common way of serving it; and for calorie counters, sherbet or water ice is a delectable and refreshing substitute for ice cream. For entree service, heap half shells or thirds with your favorite chicken or seafood salad mixture.

To chill or not to chill? Most people serve cantaloupe well chilled. Many people maintain, however, that California mid-summer cantaloupes should be served at room temperature or only very lightly chilled in order to savor their sunny, sweet flavor.

There is novel, seasonal good eating at nominal cost, with a minimum of calories and a bonus of Vitamin C when California mid-summer cataloupe graces a menu.

Pineapple Cooler

Mix 2 tablespoons frozen pineapple juice concentrate, undiluted and one tablespoon sugar if desired, with 2 tablespoons vanilla ice cream and a little chilled carbonated beverage, in the bottom of a soda glass. Fill ⅔ of the way with the carbonated beverage, add one or two scoops of vanilla ice cream, and fill to the top of the glass with chilled carbonated beverage.

If your macaroni products have a way of being sticky after cooking, you may be using too little water for their initial boiling.

Pontiac Man Pleads Innocent

Accused of Beating Vet in Grand Rapids Hotel Last Month

A 30-year-old Pontiac man, Herbert O. Wilson of 607 Granada St., yesterday pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder in the beating of a disabled war veteran in Grand Rapids last month.

Wilson made his plea at his arraignment before Superior Judge Claude Vander Ploeg. He also asked the judge for time to consult with an attorney and was returned to jail under $10,000 bond.

Grand Rapids police said Wilson admitted beating Jack Levandoski, 32, of Grand Rapids, with the base of a heavy table lamp in a hotel Aug. 4. He said there had been tension between the two men since Wilson's recent marriage to Levandoski's former wife.

Moms, Children Block Highways in Safety Appeal

The mothers and their children caused huge jams north of the city, where workers were driving to a big International Business Machines plant.

To the south, they blocked traffic by marching from Port Ewen across the narrow Rondout Creek bridge, which funnels Route 9W's vehicles into this Ulster County city.

They also blocked Route 209 in the Hurley area.

Weight No Problem

The store reported yesterday that thieves managed to get away with the 1,000-pounder some time Monday night.

Recover Man's Body

GIBRALTAR (AP) — The body of Delisle L. Lodico, 27, Lincoln Park, was recovered from the Detroit River Tuesday, about 50 feet from this downriver community. Police said Lodico, father of five children, apparently dived from a cabin cruiser Monday night.

Installation to Be 'Spectacular'

New Northern Bridge Link Due

HANCOCK (UPI) — Michigan, home of the mighty Mackinac Bridge, is starting to brag about another bridge.

A huge link in the "elevator" bridge across the Portage Canal between Hancock and Houghton was scheduled to be put in place today, weather permitting.

Plans were set for tug boats to float a 3,500,000-pound double-deck combination road and railway steel-lift span in place under the bridge's tower piers.

The State Highway Department, which said the structure will be "one of the world's unique bridges," said the installation of the lift section would be "one of the nation's spectacular bridge building feats."

Great Lakes shipping traffic was expected to be blocked for at least 12 hours when engineers move the 250-foot span 1,000 yards from a shore assembling site to the bridge structure.

Piers, approach work and other construction projects are expected to be completed Dec. 15 on the bridge that will be the only highway connection between Lower Michigan and the famed Keweenaw Peninsula and Copper Country.

The lift bridge has two levels of roadway—the lower to carry train traffic across the canal, and the upper to carry motor vehicle and pedestrian traffic.

THREE POSITIONS

The bridge will operate in three positions—at 7, 32 and 250 feet above the water. The latter position will be used to allow passage of large ships.

The new bridge will replace a swing bridge built in 1906. It has been a source of traffic bottlenecks.

The American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel Crop. has a contract of nearly six million dollars for structural steel and machinery and will move the big span into place. The Al. Johnson Co., Minneapolis, has a contract of about four million dollars for other work.

High State Officials at Trooper's Burial

HOWELL (AP)—Alvin W. Knight brooded in a jail cell today as high state officials and relatives gathered at a tiny town 45 miles away for the burial of a young trooper he is accused of shooting.

Knight, 48, was charged yesterday with killing state policeman Albert Souden, 29, with his own gun in a general murder warrant issued at the request of Livingston County prosecutor Wilfred Erwin.

Held without bond in Livingston County Jail, Knight has refused to make a formal statement since state police quoted him Monday as admitting he shot Souden last Thursday when he went to Knight's home to question him about a $75 burglary.

Knight led police to an isolated area near Argentine, north of here, where he showed them the shallow grave in which Souden's body lay.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and other state officials were to attend burial services for Souden today at Brant, a Saginaw County community in which the trooper spent his boyhood.

Knight told Prosecutor Erwin yesterday:

"Whatever I have done or said to date I have done out of sympathy for Mrs. Souden. I have not cracked or weakened. If it hadn't been for Mrs. Souden, I would still be in East Lansing (where he was questioned). That's all I have to say and I will say nothing else."

HELD OUT 3 DAYS

Knight had held out under intense questioning for three days before he agreed to show police where Souden's body was hidden. The disclosure followed a dramatic personal plea by Mrs. Clara Souden, 23, the dead trooper's wife.

Knight has a police record dating back to 1930 and once was a mental patient in Ohio.

Justice of the Peace Eric Singer said the degree of murder will be determined by a jury or the judge hearing the case. No date has been set for Knight's arraignment before Justice Singer.

Knight asked for a court-appointed defense attorney and Circuit Judge Michael Garland said he would name one in two or three days.

State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs said Knight will be questioned in the Aug. 9 slaying of Alpena bookkeeper Miller Wallace, 32, who was beaten to death with his hands tied behind his back.

Ingrid Wins Round in Custody Battle

ROME (AP)—A tearful Ingrid Bergman today won another round in her court battle with Roberto Rossellini for custody of the three children born of their now broken union.

Rome's Civil Court, in a stormy session behind closed doors, turned down an appeal by the Italian film director to set aside a temporary court ruling that gives the Swedish film star custody of the children.

The court's ruling today turned down Rossellini's appeal. But it granted him the right to have the children for another month — until Oct. 7.

Floyd Patterson Fined $50 After Long Chase

KINGSTON, N.Y. (AP) — Floyd Patterson, former heavyweight boxing champion, was picked up for speeding today on the New York Thruway. He was fined $50.

State Trooper Ray Gavigan said he chased Patterson's automobile for 12 miles before being able to catch up. Patterson said he did not know he was being followed. Gavigan declined to estimate the speed of the chase.

The boxer pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan. Patterson, accompanied by an unidentified sparring partner, was driving south toward his home in Mount Vernon, N.Y., when he was stopped at 5:40 a.m.

Japanese Writers Claim Globe Circling Record

TOKYO (AP) — Two Japanese writers arrived home today to claim a record in flying around the world on scheduled airlines. They said they were first to do it all the way by jet. Their time was 60 hours, 54 minutes, 58 seconds.

The listed round-the-world commercial record is 73 hours 9 minutes 35 seconds, established July 28-31, 1958.

Was Butt of 'Joke'

MITCHEL AIR FORCE BASE, N.Y. (UPI)—Peter Gianelli, of Roslyn, N.Y., smelled smoke in the cockpit of his light plane while flying two friends from Red Bank, N.J., to La Guardia Airport in New York City.

He radioed for permission to land here and came down with emergency equipment lining the field. Firemen reported that the cause of the smoke was a cigaret butt smoldering on the floor of the cockpit.

'Let India, China Settle Disputes'

Reds Tell U.S. to Keep 'Out of Border Rifts Between Nations

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union issued a call to the West today to kee pout of the border disputes between India and Communist China and said the two nations could settle their own arguments.

The official Soviet news agency Tass carried the appeal labeled as a statement, without attributing it to any specific individual. Such staements usually have the weight of government opinion behind them.

The statement, issued a few hours after Red China made public an offer by Premier Chou En-lai to talk the matter over with the Indians, charged that "definite political quarters and the press" in the West are using the Indian-Chinese disputes to promote the cold war.

"By such tricks they expect to paralyze the desire which is gaining ground in the western countries for agreement with the Socialist (Communist) states on questions related to the cold war," Tass said.

Tass termed Indian-Chinese border incidents deplorable. It made no attempt to place blame on either side.

The statement said Western reports of incidents on the Indian-Chinese frontier were calculated to stir up tension before Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

It added: "It is hoped that the Chinese and Indian governments will settle the incidents in the interests of both countries."

GOP Committee to Hold Plan Meeting Saturday

LANSING (AP)—A planning meeting of the Republican State Central Committee will be held Saturday in Lansing, Lawrence B. Lindemer, state GOP chairman, said today.

Lindemer said the committee will map plans for a statewide organizational and educational drive to reach into every county.

Receives German Honor

'Liner Status' Will Aid Muskegon's Shippers

MUSKEGON (UPI)—The port of Muskegon has been placed on "liner status" for overseas shipments, Port Director Capt. Joseph V. Cook said tday.

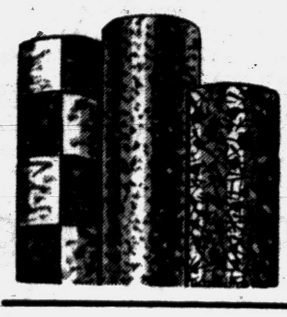

Cook said it marks "the most important single step yet achieved for the port and for Western Michigan shippers." Cook said "liner status" means that foreign ships coming to Muskegon will notify the port in advance of their arrival the overseas ports, they will serve after leaving here.

Until now, shippers had only a few days notice of the arrival of a foreign ship and they were unable to schedule overseas shipments in advance, Cook said.

Orion OKs New Zoning Ordinance

Many Changes Put Into Effect

Ruling Throws Out Industrial District, Calls for Off-Street Parking

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Orion Township Board last night passed its new zoning ordinance after striking out the proposed manufacturing district along Indianwood road and making other minor changes.

Passage of the new law climaxes years of work on the project. It will replace the one in effect since 1948.

Trying to keep abreast of anticipated growth and raise its building standards, the Zoning Board upgraded residential districts and made higher specifications for each district.

The new law requires off-street parking in the business area and a "green belt" between manufacturing and residential districts.

At the public Zoning Board hearing Aug. 12 residents on Indianwood-Baldwin road area appeared en masse to voice their objections to the proposed rezoning. The Board bowed to their wishes.

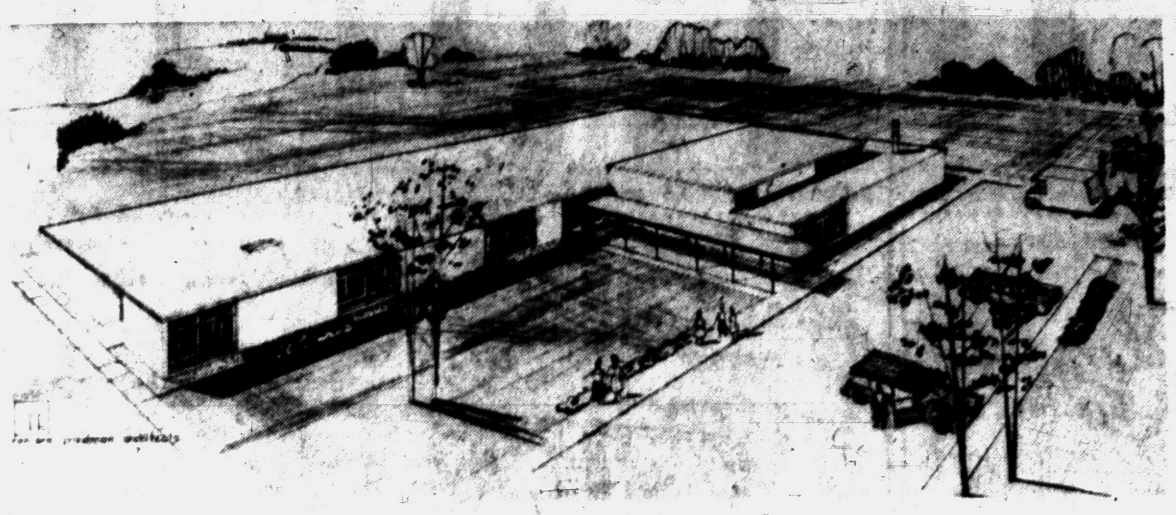

Lot area changes made after complaints were registered by developers and realtors include the lowering of lot size from 10,000 square feet to 9,000 where they are served by both sewer and water. For those with water only, the size was lowered from 12,000 to 10,000 and without sewer or water, they will remain at 14,000 feet.

Under Residential 3, lot size was lowered from 12,000 to 11,200 square feet where there is sewer and water service, with water only from 14,000 to 12,000 and with neither service, the lots stay at 16,000 feet.

Two areas where clinics will be built were designated as "special land use" areas.

The ordinance also provides that 300 feet on each side of M24 (except within the village limits) be zoned for business. A strip 200 feet wide on both sides of Baldwin road from Maybee to Judah Lake road is also zoned for business.

NEW GIRLS' SCHOOL — This architect's concept of the Bloomfield Country Day School for Girls now under construction at 1050 E. Square Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township, illustrates the current trend to replace institutional-type school buildings with a natural environment for learning. The new school was designed by architects Eroh and Friedman of Pontiac. It will contain seven classrooms, a science laboratory, library-study room and a kitchen adjoining a social room to be used also as a refectory. The building will overlook a private lake and accommodate 100 students. Planned expansion will include addition of classrooms to serve a total of 200 students. Bright colors and open vistas are features of the architects' plans.

Water Rates Will Go Up

Oxford Gets Planning Commission

OXFORD — The Oxford Council last night approved the appointment of eight members of the new planning commission and favored a hike in water rates.

Named to serve on the Village Planning Commission were Edward J. Bossardet Jr. and Gerald C. Olrich for three-year terms, Dr. D. C. Davidson and Clarence L. Borst for two years and Francis Baldwin and Robert E. Langford for one year.

The staggered terms will assure a continuity of experience on the commission as provided in the ordinance.

The council elected fellow member Edmund Unger to represent the village governing body on the new commission. And Village Manager Ralph Precious was named administrative official.

The ninth member of the commission is the village president.

Suggested as the first item for consideration by the new community planning group was setbacks in the commercial district of town.

The council also proposed that the new commission study the idea of changing Oxford from a village to a city.

Last night marked the first reading of the amendment to the water ordinance raising the minimum quarterly charge to $5 for 10,000 gallons of water.

WATER RATE SET

The new rate scale provides for increases of 50 cents per thousand for 10,000 to 25,000 gallons, 25 cents per thousand for 25,000 to 50,000 and 15 cents per thousand for 50,000 galons and over.

Another provision is that commercial establishments using 50,000 gallons or more a month be billed monthly.

Apartment dwellers will be billed one half the minimum rate.

According to the village manager, the new water schedule will increase the water sales income by $3,170 per year.

Instead of breaking even as the village would have done if either of the other two proposals presented last night was accepted, there will be $1,000 a year profit, said Precious.

Confirm Mrs. Stone in Washington Twp.

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP—The Washington Township Board last night confirmed the appointment of Mrs. Earl L. Stone, 61, of 7344 West St., as township treasurer.

She will serve out the remainder of her late husband's term which expires in April, 1961.

Mr. Stone had been elected to the treasurer's post last spring after being appointed to the office in November, 1958. He died unexpectedly on Aug. 24.

In other action, the board granted Mrs. John M. Thombs, of 61995 Mt. Vernon Rd., permission to create a park for religious services on her property. She has 12 acres in an agricultural district and 25 zoned for mining.

Hartlein-Hinkel Vows Exchanged in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Sharon Adele Hinkel and Robert C. Hartlein were joined in marriage Saturday by the Rev. J. Douglas Parker at St. Paul Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis W. Hinkel of 215 Perrydale Rd. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert H. Hartlein of St. Clair.

For her wedding, the bride wore a white organza over satin gown designed by her mother. It had a bodice of Alencon lace, a Sabrina neckline and lace outlining the full skirt which formed a chapel train.

Patricia Nieman of Rochester attended the bride as maid of honor. The bride's sister, Lynne, served as junior bridesmaid, and Mitzi Engler, Joyce Tolhurst and Suzanne Craft, all of Rochester also, were bridesmaids.

Duties as best man were performed by Cary Slack of Midland, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Ushers were the bride's brother, Howard, of Rochester, Dennis Smith of St. Clair, a cousin of the bridegroom, Ronald Bowen of Ann Arbor and Edward Decker Jr. of Detroit.

The newlyweds then left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and New York.

MRS. ROBERT C. HARTLEIN

Boys Club Will Hold Open House Friday

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — An open house will be held at the White Lake Boys Club from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday to mark the group's third anniversary.

Visitors at the open house will see the boys working on the many projects available to them at the club located on Cooley Lake road at Union Lake road.

The club, which began with six youths meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ashton, has grown to 122 members, and is affiliated with the Associated Boys Clubs of America. The boys range in age from 10 to 20.

Refreshments will be served during the open house.

Players' Will Repeat Successful Drive

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The West Bloomfield Township Players troupe reports last month's membership drive meeting was so successful that a repeat performance is planned for Thursday at 8 p.m. in the West Bloomfield Township Hall.

Those interested in any phase of theater work are invited to attend. A workshop on the play "Tiger at the Gates" will be held after the meeting.

Black Hills Rich

RAPID CITY, S.D.—Black Hills of South Dakota are reputed to be the richest 100 square miles in the world, producing about one-twelfth of the total known gold output of the United States.

Church in Commerce Schedules Canada Films

COMMERCE — A colored film party has been scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Commerce Methodist Church to show the adventures of a group of teenagers taken on a trip in northern Ontario this summer.

Thirteen youths of the church, accompanied by six adult members, went on a week-long canoe trip through the forests of Canada, starting at Algonquin Park.

Parents, friends and others interested in viewing some 60 colored slides and a 20-minute colored movie have been urged to attend the affair.

Plan Baked Ham Dinner

LAKE ORION — The Women's Department of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold a baked ham dinner tomorrow in the church at 531 E. Flint St. Family-style serving will be from 5 to 7 p.m.

5 Youths Face Court Action

Crime Investigation in Romeo Area Leaves 2 in Jail, 3 Free on Bond

ROMEO All five area youths rounded up in a recent crime investigation by local and state police here have been bound over to Circuit Court in Mount Clemens, two of them remaining in jail while the other three are out on $1,000 bond.

They are Robert Mulholland, 21, of Main street, and Elmer Spencer, 18, of 11333 30-Mile Rd. Spencer is still in jail.

Bert Beal, 21, of 19½ S. Main St., Romeo, and Rodney Bird, of New Haven, are charged with possession of stolen property. Bond was furnished for both.

The fifth youth is Patrick Daugherty, 23, of 2030 Grace St., Rochester, who faces a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime. He remains in Macomb County Jail.

The other three were bound over yesterday after appearing for examination before Macomb County Justice of the Peace Francis A. Castellucci in Mount Clemens.

Farm Labor Rules Hearing to Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interest of agricultural leaders will center on a public hearing opening tomorrow on a Labor Department proposal setting farm labor regulations.

The regulations would require any farmer who wishes to use services of the state and federal employment services for the recruitment of foreign and domestic workers from other states to meet certain wage, housing, transportation and other employment standards.

Action of the Labor Department in stepping into the farm labor field has aroused criticism of some farm groups and some leaders in Congress.

Generally, this criticism is based on the argument that the Labor Department is without clear-cut legislative authority to regulate farm labor conditions.

CONGRESS WATCHING

Congress itself has been looking into the situation with the idea of determining whether such regulation is needed.

"Few governmental actions proposed in recent years have created such widespread resentment among farmers," the Federation has said. "It is our recommendation that the proposed regulations be withdrawn in their entirety."

The regulations would require that recruited workers be paid not less than the prevailing wage in the employment area.

The federation contends that it is difficult to determine what the prevailing wage may be in farming.

A number of welfare organizations are recommending the regulations, saying they needed to assure farm workers of adequate wages.

PLENTY OF HOT WATER for the whole family
with PHILGAS*

An automatic Philgas water heater gives you all the hot water you want, day or night; at the turn of the faucet. You'll never have to skimp on hot water! Or even have to wait for it to heat up again! It's always there when you need it.

What size heater should you install? That depends on the size and requirements of your family. A 30-gallon tank is adequate for an average family of 5.

Philgas is easy to install. Inexpensive, too. No costly wiring job required. And once you install Philgas you can easily add other gas conveniences. Even if you live beyond city gas mains you can enjoy all the comforts of gas . . . with Philgas.

Call our office and ask about the different kinds of Philgas service. If you use Philgas for all your fuel needs you'll find the "Bulk" rate saves you money. And your Philgas service man will keep your tank full. You don't even have to telephone!

So stop in at our showrooms and talk things over. Look at the different sizes and models of automatic Philgas water heaters. There is a size that will fit your family's requirements.

Holiday Traffic Death Toll 438

By The Associated Press

The record of 461 was set in 1951.

The National Safety Council said the tragic toll should serve as a grim reminder of the need for greater driving care.

The council had estimated 450 lives would be lost in traffic during the weekend extending from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday, local times.

The Associated Press counted 307 deaths in traffic in a survey made over a non-holiday weekend from 6 p. m. Friday Aug. 21 to midnight Monday Aug. 24.

In addition to deaths from traffic accidents this year, there were 29 drownings resulting from boating accidents, 62 non-boating drownings and 84 deaths from miscellaneous accidents. The over all total for the holiday was 613.

Sprinkle Soviet Cotton

MOSCOW (AP)—Water sprinklers are being introduced for irrigation of cotton plantations in Soviet Kazakhstan, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today. The news agency said experiments showed sprinkling makes cotton ripen 20 days earlier than surface irrigation by ditches.

BETTER MEALS BUILD BETTER FAMILIES

BEGINNING MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14 and continuing through Saturday, September 26, you'll be seeing this symbol and phrase, "Better Meals Build Better Families." You'll see it displayed in your daily newspaper and in your favorite food stores. It's the sign of "extra" values for food customers.

This symbol identifies a concerted movement backed by food manufacturers, distributors, retailers and their trade associations and your daily newspapers. One of the main purposes of this movement is to emphasize to you, the consumer, the importance of food and regular meals in your family life.

Because food is such an everyday item and because it is so convenient to buy, we are likely to overlook its values and nutritional qualities. Therefore, during September 14-26, you'll be reminded through advertisements in your newspaper and displays in your local food stores of the great benefits that food brings you today.

Remember, better meals build better families. Keep this thought in mind as you plan and shop for the food for your meals in the advertising and feature pages of your "Total Selling" medium—your daily newspaper.

Hollywood Headlines:

Hutton, McDowell Back Before Movie Cameras

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Two once-famous movie names, familiar only to viewers of the late, late show on TV, returned to work before the cameras this week—and with some pungent remarks.

Onetime child star Roddy McDowall is making "The Subterraneans" at MGM, his first movie in eight years. Robert Hutton, now a mature 39, is playing Jerry Lewis' mean stepbrother in "Cinder Fella," in his first Hollywood role, except for bits, since the days when he was a reigning bobby-sox idol at Warners during the Forties.

Roddy spent his eight years profitably on Broadway and television, starring in such stage hits as "No Time For Sergeants" and "Compulsion." His roles ran from farce to Shakespeare. He even played a Mexican in one play.

"I don't think that I could have had that diversification if I had stayed in Hollywood," says Roddy. "I could see that producers identified me too much with 'Lassie' and 'My Friend, Flicka.'"

AGENTS HIS BANE

"Agents have more ego than actors," says Hutton. "Everything here is based on pride and precedent. When I left my Warner contract, my agent arbitrarily set too high a price on me.

"All of a sudden, I wasn't working. Finally, I told him I'd work for nothing to get a good role. He bawled me out, said he and I both would lose status if I did such a thing.

"Then I said: 'How come you can't get me a job in all these television Westerns? I can ride as well as any cowboy in town and I can grow a beard.' His answer: 'You're too high priced for the budget of a TV show.'"

ALMOST QUIT

Hutton admits some lean times and seriously considered going into real estate or some other field.

Recently, Bob did a one day bit in "It Started With a Kiss," with Glenn Ford and Debbie Reynolds. He took it over his agent's strong protests.

Jerry Lewis saw the bit and asked Bob to see him about a part in the comic's version of Cinderella.

"I went without my agent and talked with Jerry who gave me the best deal I have had in a dozen years."

After he was signed, he told his agent, who replied: "I would have asked three times the money."

But Hutton says "I was tired of being the highest-priced unemployed actor. I'd rather be working for less money."

Adams Readies Use-Sales Tax

Plans His Arguments for a Supreme Court Hearing Next Tuesday

Adams and two teams of state attorneys held staff conferences over the Labor Day weekend to plan arguments for a state supreme court hearing next Tuesday.

The court is expected to decide then whether to accept the case but Adams said it could be several weeks before a decision would be made on constitutionality of the tax.

Adams has intervened on behalf of Detroit attorney Charles Lockwood, who last week started a taxpayer's suit asking the court to throw out the penny increase that became effective Sept. 1.

The revenue department said today reports on the first week of collection at the retail level indicated the new law was being accepted.

Zsa Zsa Will Star in Folies Bergeres

PARIS (AP) — Zsa Zsa Gabor will be the top star of the Folies Bergeres beginning next spring, the Folies' director said today.

The director, Michel Gyamarthy, said he was preparing a sumptuous show, but declined to give details.

The Hungarian-born beauty will be the first American to star at the Folies since Josephine Baker — now a French citizen — played there 10 years ago.

THAT NICE COOL WATER — A surprise for James Mehl, sunning himself at a Chicago beach, is provided by four-year-old Arthur Ezerins, who pours a pailful of cool water over Mehl's face. Temperature readings had been over 90 for the second day and high humidity readings added to the discomfort when this picture was taken. But this little boy knows a good answer.

California's climate ranges from subtropical to frigid and its annual rainfall varies from less than two inches a year in the southeast desert to more than 100 inches on the northwest coast.

State Labor Day Toll Well Below Average

LANSING (AP) — There were 13 persons killed in Michigan highway accidents over the 78-hour Labor Day holiday weekend, State Police reported today.

The death toll was up one over the same period last year. Fatalities were sharply reduced, however, from the average of 22 deaths over the Labor Day weekend from 1951 to 1958 and the 32 killed in both 1952 and 1953.

Police said traffic, although heavy, was somewhat lighter than anticipated. All the deaths were in the Lower Peninsula and only one urban fatality — in Hamtramck — was reported.

Through the end of last week, police said, there were 878 traffic deaths in Michigan. This was an increase of 32 over the 846 accidents in the same period last year.

Seven presidents of the United States were born in Ohio.

Souden Ninth Trooper to Die

Reveal Other Deaths in 42-Year History of State Police Force

EAST LANSING (AP) — Albert Souden, 29-year-old trooper shot to death last Thursday after questioning a former mental patient about a $75 robbery, was the ninth state police officer to be slain by gunshot in the line of duty.

The first two troopers slain in the 42-year history of the force were Harold E. Anderson and Cpl. Sammuel Mapes. The two men were killed in a gun battle with rum runners during Prohibition days. Anderson died March 12, 1921 in Novi and Mapes on May 1, 1927 near Sturgis.

On Oct. 13, 1930, trooper John S. Burke was shot to death by bank robbers near Battle Creek.

Trooper Richards F. Hammond was chained to a mailbox with his own handcuffs, beaten and shot to death by an ex-convict on Jan. 20, 1937 in Monroe County. Hammond's slayer was Alcide (Frenchy) Benoit, who later died in prison while serving a life sentence.

Trooper George Branny was killed by a drunk on April 12, 1950 while answering a "family trouble" call near Lansing.

Two state police officers were killed near Clio on Nov. 19, 1956 by a mentally deranged retired postman who shot it out from his barricaded home. Trooper Bert A. Pozza was shot fatally in the chest and trooper George E. Lappi died later in a Flint Hospital after the exchange of shots.

For Satisfaction? For Fun?

LANSING (AP)—A Jackson Republican says Michigan citizens can find out for themselves if the new use tax will cost them more or less than personal income tax plans which died in the Legislature.

Rep. Wilfred G. Bassett suggested that taxpayers keep track of their payments under the new one-cent levy for the next month.

He said that by projecting this amount over the next eleven months and pro-rating the tax on major purchases, taxpayers can come up with a fairly accurate determination of how much the use tax is costing them.

Then, Bassett advised, compare this figure with the piggy-back plan which called for a five per cent tax of federal income tax payments or the 2 per cent flat rate on personal income.

The great majority of taxpayers who make this comparison will find their yearly tax payments "will be less under the use tax than they would be under the personal income tax advocated by Democrats," Bassett maintained.

Market Steadies After Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market steadied early today, showing an uneven price pattern in quiet trading following yesterday's sharp decline.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among most leading issues.

Steels, electronics and airlines were mostly higher. Motors, rails, rubbers and aircrafts were mixed. Oils showed scant change.

President Eisenhower's demand for a quick settlement of the eight-week-old steel strike lent some encouragement to the steels and rails.

The raising of interest rates and tightening of credit still overhung the market, however, and there was no particular incentive for buying.

Fractional gains were posted by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel. Moderately higher were Radio Corp., Philco and United Air Lines.

American Motors, the only active stock to advance yesterday, was down about a point in profit taking. Douglas Aircraft, which posted a substantial gain in the midst of yesterday's retreat, was down more than a point.

Small gains were made by Southern Railway, New York Central, American Tobacco, General Electric and United Aircraft. High-priced International Business Machines added a couple of points.

Corn Prices Slip on Weak Mart

CHICAGO (AP)—Some corn futures contracts slipped to new low prices for the season as the grain market turned generally weak in early Board of Trade transactions.

Most losses were in small fractions but rye and soybeans were down a cent in spots during the first several minutes.

Corn had been hovering just above the season lows for several days and meeting scattered support from time to time on setbacks to those levels.

The breakthrough today was ascribed to continued reports of nearly ideal weather for maturing the crop and the probability that some of it will be marketed considerably earlier than in previous years.

Japan bought a small amount of soybeans overnight but business, both domestic and foreign, was slow otherwise.

Wheat was ⅛ to ⅞ cent a bushel lower after about an hour, September $1.91⅜; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, September $1.17⅛; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, September new type contract 67; rye ¾ to 1⅛ lower, September $1.31⅝; soybeans ⅝ to ⅞ lower, September $2.08⅛.

Local Officials in Key Roles

Municipal League to Meet

Pontiac and Oakland County officials will play a big part in the 61st annual meeting of the Michigan Municipal League tomorrow through Saturday at Mackinac Island.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston is scheduled to preside at one of the opening sessions, a panel discussion on fiscal home rule.

City Manager Walter K. Willman also is due to take part in an opening day discussion on special assessments.

League officials expect about 800 municipal officers from the 415 cities and villages comprising the league. Pontiac's seven city commissioners are scheduled to attend.

Among the speakers are Gov. Williams; Dr. William Haber, economics professor at University of Michigan; Dr. Harold C. Taylor, director of the W. E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research; Norman G. Prichard of London, England, and Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.

Drs. Haber and Taylor are scheduled to discuss the long-awaited study of Michigan's economic situation.

Other county officials participating in the convention are: Herman Stephens, personal property director of the Oakland County Equalization Department; Dean Beier, Birmingham city attorney; Marvin A. Alward, Pontiac director of finance; Richard W. Marshall, Madison Heights city manager; Herbert Herzberg, Birmingham city planner.

Racket Probers on Toledo Case

Hear Witnesses Testify Against UAW Official Richard T. Gosser

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans on the Senate Rackets Committee renew today their inquiry into the United Auto Workers — an investigation called a fraud by Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, a Democrat.

The committee is hearing testimony developed by its Republican members independently of official committee investigators. The hearings, which started behind closed doors, were called to determine whether a full probe was justified.

Just as the session was about to break up yesterday, Kennedy said that his own staff had looked into some of the charges against Gosser and found them fraudulent.

'YOU BE SWORN'

Curtis heatedly shot back at him: "Your line is (UAW president) Walter Reuther's line and (UAW general counsel) Joe Rauh's line . . . if you want to testify, you be sworn."

Undeterred, Kennedy went right on saying that Toledo lawyers had conceded that the charges they helped to press in a lawsuit against Gosser "were all fraudulent."

The dispute developed after John A. Bolman, a former Toledo Union official, testified he was expelled from the Union for 99 years after a law suit which involved misconduct charges against Gosser. Bolman said the suit was settled out of court.

Bolman said he earlier had suffered a brutal beating at a Union meeting when he demanded an accounting from Gosser of Union funds.

Kennedy said the charges — all dating back to an intra-Union fight 10 years ago and relating to Gosser's handling of UAW Local 12's finances — were used to help employers fight a UAW pension plan.

"That's why this whole hearing is such a fraud," Kennedy said. He named H. P. Ells as the principal lawyer handling litigation for dissidents against Gosser. He said publisher Paul Block of the Toledo Blade was paying Ells' fees.

Regarliess of other matters, Curtis continued, "The fact remains that a rank and file member (Bolman) went to the Union for action, and had his jaw broken and was knocked down."

Bolman testifies again today, along with Randolph Gray, former financial secretary of Local 12 in Toledo.

Will Hold Open House Sunday at New Clinic

Pontiac Trophy Firm Buys Sno-Bol Plant

Pontiac will be the home of another national manufacturer, it was announced today.

The former Sno-Bol factory, 23 Chamberlain St., has been purchased by the Ackerman Trophy Co., according to Richard J. Valuet, realtor.

Value of the building, which occupies 4,200 square feet of land, and the property is estimated at $27,000, it was disclosed by the city assessor.

Harry Ackerman, owner and general manager of the company, said the move, making him the 10th manufacturer of a complete line of trophies on a national market, would create initially 75 to 100 new employment positions in the city.

The dealer, who formally assembled parts shipped to him, has been in business in Pontiac for more than 25 years. The Ackerman Trophy Co. display room is at 83 S. Saginaw St.

$160,000 IN EQUIPMENT

Pontiac resident Ackerman said approximately $160,000 in equipment will be installed in the factory for casting, plating and woodworking.

He said operation should begin within 60 to 90 days.

As the first complete manufacturer of trophies in Michigan, the company will compete on the wholesale market throughout the country.

Ackerman said it is hoped that the company will be represented in every major city in the United States.

Said Ackerman, "four of the other nine national manufacturers reported that they ship more than $3,250,000 of trophy material into this state every year."

Briggs Claims Cars Will Sell

Talk About Tiny Autos to Aid Industry, Says Chrysler Man

DETROIT (AP)—C. E. Briggs, who builds Chrysler Corp.'s most expensive cars, says the "new little cars are creating so much talk that the whole auto industry is going to benefit."

Briggs, at a news conference yesterday, maintained that his Chrysler and Imperial sales for 1960 should run up to 50 per cent better than the current year. All Chrysler divisions were hampered this year by strikes within the company and against suppliers.

"More people are going to buy cars next year," Briggs said, "you can just feel it. Whereas at this time last year everybody was still cautious. And they aren't all going to buy those little cars, just like not everybody is going to buy a little house.

"We do not find any evidence in our surveys indicating that austerity is becoming the rule in motoring."

Briggs is vice president of the Chrysler and Imperial Division. The Imperial will be the first of the Chrysler cars introduced, on Oct. 2.

Part of Trend Toward Modesty

No Miss America Beach Photos

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Officials of the Miss America pageant took a giant step Tuesday in their efforts to de-oomphasize the contest. They banned bathing beauty from the beach.

One of the two main activities on the second day of the annual pageant in the past had been an appearance on the beach by the contestants to pose for their official photographs while crowds on the boardwalk watched.

But no more. The 54 entrants in this 32nd contest to choose a Miss America did their posing today around a swimming pool —at the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel.

Abandoning the beach is part of a general beauty contest trend toward modesty. The Long Beach Miss Universe bathing beauty contest has been terminated, and Mrs. America long ago discarded her swim suit for a house dress.

Officials of the Miss America pageant frankly admit that they are looking for more than beauty in their queen — one who can tour the country making up to 10 speeches a day during her year-long reign.

Once Miss America is crowned, she is barred from public appearances in a swim suit, and the posses she assumes fully clad for photographers are closely supervised.

The bathing suit appearance on the beach used to be the only activity of the contest that did not require an admission fee. Audiences at the annual Miss America boardwalk parade of floats last night paid up to $5 in legitimate prices — and much more in scalper's prices — to see the girls.

Those who flock to convention hall to see the three nights of preliminaries and Saturday night finals will pay from $1.25 for a single ticket to $184.50 for a six-seat box for all four nights.

The move from beach to poolside for the swim suit poses was made as part of the increasing efforts by officials to get the pageant as far as possible from the bathing beauty contest it once was. (Many of the girls would prefer not to appear in public in their swim suits at all. Most say it is all right, as long as the display is a tasteful one.)

They all are required to appear in bathing suits during the evening competitions in Convention Hall. This involves walking on a long ramp leading from the stage and out into the audience.

Twenty-five per cent of the judges final decision is based on how girls look in bathing suits. Twenty-five per cent is on how they look in evening gowns and how poised they are over the breakfast table. The other 50 per cent is talent — singing, dancing, painting, playing the flute, reciting "The White Cliffs of Dover," or whatever each girl does best.

When the first Miss America contest was held in 1921, it was strictly for bathing beauties. The girls were measured right on the spot by the judges.

Later, talent was added, at the request of Hollywood scouts looking for movie material, and the girls submitted their measurements in writing. By 1937, the bathing suit aspect began to slip. Now, the "bathing" aspect has been dropped entirely. It is called officially "swim suit" competition.

Nikita's Trip Details Shrouded in Mystery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will see on his visit to the United States is still an official mystery, even though his arrival is only six days away.

So far only a bare-bones outline of the Soviet premier's itinerary has been issued here, although the announcement of his coming was made by President Eisenhower more than five weeks ago.

An apparent reason for the delay lies in red tape in Moscow, thicker than the Washington variety, which makes still more difficult the arduous task of preparing for an historic visit of top importance.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty has named the half-dozen U. S. cities Khrushchev will visit and the dates.

The White House also has announced the detailed schedule for the first two days of the Sept. 15-27 visit. These are Khrushchev's initial days in Washington, marked by ceremonial functions.

But as for specific questions on what the Soviet leader will do on his cross-country travels from New York to Los Angeles—and the questions pour in by the hundreds—the official reply here is that it is still uncertain when an announcement can be made.

That is the stock answer given even after persons and organizations along the Khrushchev route have passed out word locally of arrangements for the visitor.

U. S.-Soviet negotiations over what farm and factory to see, what transportation to use, and other nuts-and-bolts details of the visit have been conducted here through Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy and Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov.

The catch is that what the two diplomats agree on in Murphy's office is not necessarily final.

Menshikov isn't taking chances or okaying something Khrushchev might not like. He messages back to Moscow and may wait days for a reply. Then he sees Murphy again on more details.

On top of this, Khrushchev is noted for acting on impulse. The possibility is left open here that even after the announcement of a specific schedule, the Kremlin chief will take a notion to do something else.

S-P Foresees Big Sales Spurt

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker - Packard, smallest of the U.S. automakers, challenged the big three's smaller car entries today with a prediction that Lark sales will increase by 40,000 cars in 1960.

The Lark is Studebaker - Packard's compact car, first introduced in the 1959 model year. Sales totaled some 120,000 units and pulled the company from a 13 million dollar deficit in the first six months of 1958 to a 12 million dollar profit in the similar period of 1959.

Harold E. Churchill, president of S-P, told a news gathering at his national 1960 preview, that he is aiming for three per cent of the domestic market.

Studebaker claimed slightly more than two per cent in the 1959 model year.

The Lark line for 1960 will include the first convertible to be offered by any of the smaller cars and also a new four-door station wagon. Both cars will be available in either 6-cylinder or V8 models.

American Motors' Rambler also has a V8 but all three of the new, smaller cars — Ford's Falcon, Chevrolet's Corvair, and Chrysler's Valiant — will come only in six-cylinder models.

Churchill listed among the principal values, which he said Studebaker will offer, "consistency of design to deliver high resale value to our owners rather than deliberately planned obsolescence."

Rambler and all three of the new smaller car entries also will stress a continuity of exterior design.

Area Man in Hospital After Tractor Spill

Roy McCreedy, 53, of 9929 Dixie Highway, was hauling dirt from the basement of a home at 9073 Norman Rd., Springfield Township, when the cable between the trailer and tractor snapped flipping the tractor over on him.

He suffered leg and possible internal injuries, sheriff's deputies said.

Confusion Reigns Over Laos Situation

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

Appointment by the United Nations of a subcommittee to look into the Laos situation epitomizes the general lack of reliable information on what is going on there.

By Monday, when the Security Council met, the situation had become so confused that even the Laotian delegate found himself unable to make any statement as the other nations considered his country's appeal for help.

Following instructions from home, he had presented an appeal for a U.N. emergency force to drive out what his government claims are invaders from North Viet Nam.

He had not been provided with any real evidence, however, that the disturbances in the country's northern provinces along the North Viet Nam and Red China borders were more than a local revolt, although undoubtedly they were Communist inspired.

There were current at the time reports that some North Viet Nam soldiers which had aided the rebels had withdrawn to their own territory, and some were inclined to attribute this to the threat of U.N. action. The Reds, however, have never displayed such prompt concern for world opinion, as witness the aggression label worn with unconcern by Red China ever since the Korean War.

The result before the council meeting had been to create a strong feeling among many delegations that the U.N. should take a good look before adopting any emergency measure.

No matter what the parliamentarians eventually conclude about the Soviet effort to veto the subcommittee as a matter of substance, the Laotian government will consider the council action unsubstantial. So will many other small nations who can envision a time when they may need prompt action from their Western Allies.

Henry Cabot Lodge's statement, as head of the U.S. delegation, that establishment of the subcommittee was the least the U.N. could do, can indeed be read two ways.

While the subcommittee is studying the technicalities of whether the fighting represents outside aggression or merely internal revolt, time grows short for saving Laos from the Communists.

There is a possibility that the United States, having now gone through the formalities in the United Nations, may issue some statement of its own regarding its responsibilities under the aid agreement with Laos and under the Southeast Asia Defense Treaty.

Where the Communists may or may not be sensitive to world opinion as expressed through the U.N., they have already shown themselves highly sensitive to deterrent force in being, as at Quemoy.

AWAIT U.N. ACTION — Khamphan Panya, foreign minister of Laos, left, and Premier Phoui Sananikone at a news conference in the capital city of Vientiane talk of the trobule with the Reds in the north as they wait for word of U.N. action. Due to a great deal of confusion about the facts of the alleged aggression by North Viet Nam, the best the world body could do was set up a subcommittee to look into Laos' charges.

'If Any Flock Needs Us, It's Here and Now'

Priests Stay On With Ragged Laotians

SAM NEUA, Laos (AP)—The American priest looked out at the road and a group of ragged Laotians with submachine guns and said "If there's a time a flock needs us, it's now."

"We are going to stay here," said Father Lucien Bouchard, 30, of Attleboro, Mass.

Father Bouchard and four French priests make up the Roman Catholic mission in San Neal. Eighteen miles away, pro-Communist guerrillas stab at government defense lines.

"So far, none of us has seen any fighting," said the young priest who had just returned from a four-day trip through rebel territory. He and the French priests make regular weekly visits to tribal towns within a 12-mile radius of Sam Neua, walking through jungle mountain paths with haversacks and the Bible.

"But a few days ago I slept in a village where the Commies had attacked three hours walk away," he said.

Father Bouchard who came to Laos three years ago has been in Sam Neua a year, living in a shabby stucco house where brown-faced Meo tribesmen in wide turbans and silver necklaces gather for catechism lessons.

Father Bouchard speaks the queer dialect of the Meo fluently. He said mountain-dwelling Meo "are willing to fight on condition they have plenty of support. They are very brave. They're not afraid to die."

British Election Looms; Gaitskell, Bevan Return

LONDON (AP) — Labor party leaders Hugh Gaitskell and Aneurin Bevan returned from Moscow today, and promptly accepted the Conservatives' challenge to fight the Oct. 8 national election on this issue: Who should speak for Britain in the major East-West negotiations which lie ahead?

Stepping from a Soviet jet airliner, Gaitskell told reporters he was delighted Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had set the election date.

"I see that Mr. Macmillan has suggested that the main reason for the election is to decide who shall represent this country at a summit conference," he said.

"We believe that our claims to represent Great Britain are very strong. We believe it is better to be represented by people who have all along believed in the need for a summit conference, when the Conservative government was opposed to it."

No date has been set for an East-West summit meeting, but both the Conservative government and Labor party leaders apparently believe one will be held.

Political commentators already are calling the election, the "summit election." Macmillan, in setting the election date Tuesday, stressed the international issues ahead.

How Michigan Voted on Public Works Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—How Michigan voted yesterday as the House passed, 302-93, the $1,185,309,093 public works appropriations bill.

Republicans for: Bennett, Knox.

Paired against, Republican Ford.

Absent or not voting—two.

SENATE VOTES

Michigan's Democratic Sens. Philip A. Hart and Patrick McNamara voted with the majority yesterday as the Senate also defied President Eisenhower and passed, 73-15, the public works bill.

Hart and McNamara also voted with the majority last night as the Senate adapted, 45-41, an amendment by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) to the savings bond bill to limit the raise in interest rates to 4¼ per cent.

Michigan Lines Up 3rd in Expressway Miles

LANSING (AP) — Figures from the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads show Michigan has become a national leader in expressway construction, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today.

Mackie said the federal agency ranks Michigan third in the nation in dollar volume of construction completed and open to traffic in the past three years on the interstate highway system.

The road chief added that the rating was achieved despite the fact that six other states received more federal highway money.

Beauties Driven Along Boardwalk

Miss America Pageant Opens

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A beauty-laden motorcade along this resort's famed boardwalk officially launched the 1960 Miss America pageant Tuesday night.

Perched on the backs of convertibles and atop floats were 54 young women, eyed appreciatively by a crowd of 150,000 and a nationwide television audience.

The contestants represent every state in the Union, Canada, and the cities of New York, Chicago and Washington. They were accompanied by the present Miss America, Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss.

It started with a motorcycle escort. Then came the Marines, then parade grand marshal Cliff Arquette, known to television viewers as Charlie Weaver, then the girls.

With one exception, things went smoothly. The convertible carrying Miss Hawaii, Gordean Leilehua Lee of Honolulu, broke down.

Miss Hawaii took it in stride. So did a group of state police. They volunteered to push the stalled auto for the last mile and a half. The crowd responded with applause.

But the people who run the pageant made it clear they didn't want the event to be considered a bathing beauty contest.

"We are not running a bathing suit competition here but a contest based on poise, charm, intellect and talent to select an ideal American girl—not necessarily a raving beauty," said Lenora A. Slaughter, executive director of the contest.

Miss Slaughter issued the statement after being told of a story in Monday's L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican City newspaper, which criticized bathing beauty contests, calling them "zoological market exhibits."

New Public Works Bill Invites President's Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inviting a repeat veto, Congress has sent President Eisenhower another big public works money bill containing the same projects which prodded the veto of an earlier measure.

Both Senate and House passage of the new $1,185,309,093 appropriation were with margins far above the two-thirds necessary to pass legislation over a veto. The Senate vote was 73-15, the House 302-93.

The House last Wednesday upheld the first veto by one vote.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), Senate Republican leader, said before Tuesday's vote the measure may be vetoed as its predecessor was.

All projects in the new bill were cut 2½ per cent, bringing the total to $97,166 below Eisenhower's requests.

The bill provides money for several hundred river and harbor, flood control and reclamation projects—including 67 to which the President objected. These projects, with an ultimate cost of almost 800 million dollars, were not budgeted by the administration.

Gas Sales on Increase; State Fatals Up Also

LANSING (AP) — Michigan motorists have boosted their gasoline consumption through August some 68,000,000 gallons above the 1,592,000,000 gallons used in the first eight months of 1958, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported.

Hare said he asked that the figure be compiled for comparison with the highway death toll this year.

The road death count through August was 34 above last year. Hare said the comparison showed gasoline consumed increased by 4.33 per cent while the highway fatality toll jumped 4.11 per cent.

Paint Plant Rocked

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR SINcere thanks to all who have assisted in any way during the recent loss of our loved one. We appreciate so much the kindness and cooperation of Donelson-Johns Funeral Service. The floral offerings were so very nice. God bless each of you who contributed. We could never put into words truly how grateful we feel but may each one of you some how be rewarded for your help and thoughtfulness. The family of A. A. Tribbey.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF WILLIAM HUMphrey who passed away September 8, 1957.
He is gone but not forgotten never will his memory fade
Loving thoughts will ever linger to the spot where he is laid
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget
But time has only proven
How much we miss him yet
God gave us strength to face it
Courage to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose him
no one will ever know.
Sadly missed by mother, father and brother.

OWNER RETIRING — CARRY ON this long established restaurant in Royal Oak. Small investment, large return. Meininger. Lincoln 4-1500.

PROPERTY OWNERS
Plan your estate now by selling your property for cash or for long term contract.
You can stay on the property for any contracted length of time, or you can retain lifetime estate.
You will pay only taxes and insurance, but no rent.
You can keep these sales agreements in a scroll with your attorney or bank.
You can divide and leave your estate in cash or rent contract for your family, church, or friends.
You'll save expenses, time, or any disagreement of heirs.
You can invest this cash for higher returns than your property brings now.
You should consult also a special estate planner.
You should let your property be appraised by licensed realtors.
You should do all these before you sell.
You can call us evenings. ELgin 7-2764. Southfield, Michigan.

Racing After 11 P.M. Banned

Two Contracts Awarded by Waterford Township

Contracts for almost $8,000 in heavy equipment for the township water department were awarded and an outdated ordinance revised and accepted at last night's Waterford Township Board meeting.

Low bidder for a new tractor, the Pontiac Tractor and Equipment Co., was awarded a contract for the vehicle costing $6,242. Another contract was given to Haskins Chevrolet Sales and Service for a new half-ton pickup truck costing $1,498.

The board also adopted an ordinance controlling speed exhibition operation "by powered motor and animals." The new ordinance governing racing prohibits any operation after 11 p.m. where there is a paid admission. Restrictions on mufflers and loudspeaker address systems also were tightened. A fee of $500 will be charged for a license for speed exhibition.

Township Clerk James Seeterlin was authorized to advertise for bids for insurance policies covering all township equipment. Opening of the bids will take place at 8 p.m. Sept. 28.

SEEK TRAFFIC LIGHT

Residents concerned over the safety of their children crossing busy Williams Lake road to the Schoolcraft School were present to seek a traffic signal there. Board members unofficially told the group the township would assume a third of the cost of some $1,200 for the signal light installation.

The board of education has tentatively agreed to pay one-third the costs if the Schoolcraft PTA will pay the other third. The school's PTA will have a special meeting Monday to discuss the matter.

In other business the Board approved the setting up of an office for Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner in a small room on the main floor in the Township Hall. Seeterlin was authorized to get several quotations on office equipment.

2 Pontiac Men Face Trial on Break-In Charge

Two Pontiac men charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime waived examination yesterday before Pontiac Township Justice R. Grant Graham and were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court.

James A. Christensen, 22, address unknown, and James E. Taylor, 32, of 816 Monticello St. were arrested by Oakland County sheriff's deputies early Monday morning in the Shamrock Dairy Bar, 3455 Auburn Rd., Auburn Heights.

An unidentified resident of the area called deputies when she saw the two men walk toward the building, police said. The pair had already broken into a vending machine when apprehended, deputies said.

They also admitted being responsible for one other area breakin, detectives said.

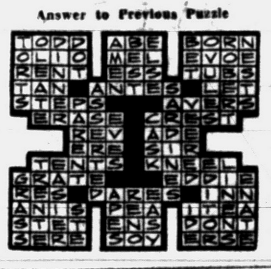

The two are scheduled for Circuit Court arraignment Sept. 14. They were returned to the Oakland County Jail after failing to furnish bond set at $2,000 each.

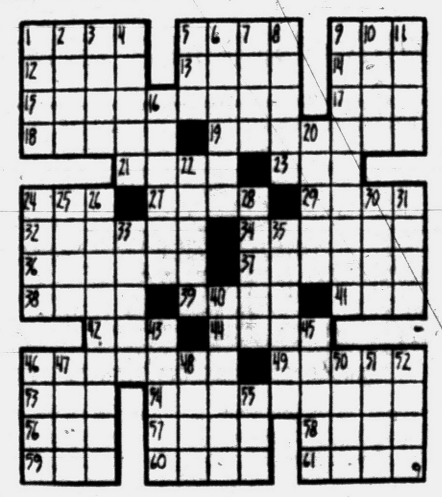

Lewis D. Crusoe, 65, Quits Ford's Board

DETROIT (AP)—Lewis D. Crusoe, 65, resigned today as a member of Ford Motor Co.'s board of directors. He had been a member since 1950.

Crusoe had been associated with Ford since 1946 and was an executive vice president when he resigned in 1957. He continued as a director.

2 Liquor Store Managers Fired for 'Pushing' Brand

LANSING (AP) — The state liquor control commission Tuesday suspended a Kentucky distillery from doing business in Michigan for 30 days and announced the firing of two state liquor store managers for "unethical practices."

The Commission said that agents of the Glenmore Distilleries Co. of Louisville had paid money to the liquor store managers to promote the sale of their products.

Under the suspension order, purchase, sale and distribution of Glenmore products will be prohibited in Michigan starting Sept. 15 and continuing for 30 days.

The commission said a distillery spokesman said the top management of the company had no knowledge of the irregularities and was contemplating action against the employes responsible.

George L. Burke Jr., liquor commissioner business manager, said it was hard to determine the exact amount of money that changed hands but said it was believed to be several hundred dollars.

Burke said there was no basis for criminal action against those involved since nothing actually was taken from the state.

Although the two managers were supposed to push the sale of products of the distillery, no rise in sales was noted, Burke said.

He said other state liquor stores were checked but no evidence of similar practices was found.

Williams Will Tour Europe

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his wife announced yesterday they will leave Sept. 25 for a four-week tour of Jerusalem, Galilee, Athens, Rome, Poland and Germany.

The first part of the trip will be devoted primarily to visits to the religious places of early Christianity, an announcement from Williams' office said.

"The return trip," the announcement said, "will include four days in Poland where the governor will observe how the Polish people are faring under their Communist government; and seven days in Germany, beginning in West Berlin, where he wants to study Germany's amazing recovery and economic growth and the role of education in that growth."

They will return Oct. 22.

Pontiac City Affairs

Improvements Unopposed

There were no objections raised at a public hearing on the assessment roll covering a new sidewalk at Macedonia Baptist Church, Pearsall and Motor streets.

Five other assessment rolls were confirmed. They covered curbs and gutters on Arlene street, Madison to Second, and Harriet street, Adelaide to Baldwin; sidewalks on the south side of Perry street at Joslyn and on the south side of Rundell street, Saginaw to Hamilton; and blacktopping on W. Ann Arbor avenue, Carlisle to Stanley.

A water main on Locke street, Loyd to Bay, was declared a public necessity. So was a sidewalk at Mansfield avenue and Fuller street.

A land deal was wrapped up to extend Linda Vista avenue through to Carr street next year. The city purchased an intervening house at 62 Carr St.

Approved as a matter of routine was the annual contract under which the city is reimbursed by the state for the cost of maintaining state trunklines in Pontiac.

Nothing Like Proteins to Stave Off the Jitters

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—You've met guys who say to you when you drop in—at least I hope you've met such guys—anyway, these guys say, "Have a drink?"

Eddie Albert says, "Have a pill?"

WILSON

To Eddie Albert, this is the height of hospitality. When he handed me a $4.98 bottle of protein pills to prove he was sincere in his generosity, I took out three and stuck them in my shirt pocket, so he only had 1,789 left. I trust the supply lasted him the rest of that day, but I can't be too certain.

"Bob Cummings eats pills for lunch, too," I said.

"Bob Cummings must eat a hundred of these a day and he's a ball of fire!" Eddie Albert was running around his hotel room in circle proving that the pills were wonderful and that now he wasn't nervous or upset or at all concerned at all about anything and especially about the TV show he was going to do in a few hours.

"How do you eat these pills?" I asked.

"What pills?" Eddie Albert asked. "Oh, these I have in my hand. Oh yes. Well, I put a fistful in my pocket and I nibble them most of the day.

"I find if I don't use them," he laughed, rather hollowly, "that I get into political arguments — I take either side—or I find fault with the management. I just keep popping them into my mouth all day and . . ."

ALBERT

"Did you ever try 'Tiger's Milk'?" I asked him.

"I practically lived on 'Tiger's Milk'!" Eddie sang out the sentence in a manner that practically convinced me he had his own personal tiger. "It's in one of the health food recipe books. I must start back on 'Tiger's Milk' right away."

★ ★ ★ ★

Before you go out and order yourself a tiger, let me explain that it's a drink made up of various health food ingredients. I doubt if a tiger would drink it, but for human beings and actors, it's quite good.

"What else do you do?" I inquired.

"I do a lot of exercises . . . surf-board riding and all that. I happen to be a little tense today. I try to keep the cholesterol from clogging up . . ."

Eddie explained that doing the Jack Paar TV show tended to tense him up. One night when he was subbing for Jack, he had both Ben Hecht and Sheilah Graham on his panel. He figured that by the time they got done assassinating characters, he'd have quite a show. To his astonishment, both of them loved everybody that night.

"So all you can do on that show," he said, "is to wake up in the morning, and start to worry, and when it's getting close to air time, you pray."

I was about to leave "Eddie," I said.

"Yes?" His voice was far, far away.

"I've had a tough hour," I said. "Could I please . . ."

He knew. He understood. He handed me the bottle of pills.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Rob't Q. Lewis tells of the doctor so old-fashioned that he still calls a cold, a cold. . . . That's earl, brother.

City's Renewal Plans Approved

Way Clear for Formal Request of $1,705,000 in Federal Funds

Pontiac was headed today into the last phase of preliminary urban renewal planning.

It was disclosed in Washington by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) that the city's over-all plans for civic improvement have been approved by the federal government.

This gives the city the green light to send in its formal application for $1,705,000 in federal funds to finance the 155-acre project.

The project is designed to remove blighted conditions in the southern portion of the central business district and in a residential area east of downtown and south of the Civic Center.

Pontiac is planning to apply for the money this month and get the project under way with initial land acquisition early next year.

Approved today is what the government calls a workable program for renewal. It details what the city plans to do on its own, without federal assistance, to remove slums and block blight.

"The government doesn't want to spend its money here unless Pontiac is willing to take steps on its own to insure the government its money won't be wasted," explained Robert A. Stiere, assistant city manager.

A special meeting of city commissioners and planning commissioners has been called for 7 p.m. next Tuesday to discuss final plans for the grant application.

The city intends to call a public hearing on the entire project before any portion of it gets under way.

Ingemar to Sing With Dinah Shore on TV Oct. 4

"When I was in Sweden this summer, everyone told me how well Ingo could sing," Miss Shore said Tuesday. "So I brought some Swedish songs back with me and he'll sing both alone and with me."

Total Forest Destruction

WASHINGTON — Total area burned over by forest fires in the United States each year is as large as New York state.

Part of War on Youth Crimes

Plan Work Camp in N.Y. for Potential Hoodlums

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says the state will move immediately to curb juvenile delinquency by setting up work camps for potential hoodlums.

Rockefeller announced a program including this and other measures after the meeting with Mayor Robert F. Wagner and other city and state officials to discuss New York's violent crimes involving youngsters.

City police continued their crackdown on teenage toughs by arresting scores of young loiterers in the Times Square area Tuesday night. Most were released after questioning. Since the crackdown started Sept. 1, more than 350 youngsters have been arrested.

In Brooklyn, Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz advised two grand juries not to be influenced by "crackpots, do-gooders and starry-eyed professionals" who he said were responsible for lenient laws for teenage offenders.

Rockefeller's program includes the proposed revision of laws to permit youngsters 14 years old to get jobs. Those under 18 now must get work certificates to get jobs.

His program also includes a speedup of construction of more detention facilities and increasing probation and parole supervision.

Rockefeller's youth camp program calls for two types of institutions to be developed for work on state lands and forests. Potential delinquents would go voluntarily to camps operated by the Conservation Department cooperating with the Education and Social Welfare Department. Youths actually sentenced for minor offenses would go to rehabilitation camps operated by the Correction Department.

The governor declined to estimate the cost of the program.

Current State Debt Rises to $104 Million

LANSING — The state's rising excess of bills over cash to pay them stood at an estimated 104 million dollars today as the state treasury general fund balance once again nosedived toward zero.

Treasurer Sanford A. Brown came up with the figure yesterday when the State Administrative Board released $15,500,000 on hand and in sight before next Tuesday.

The cash shortage is expected to increase before effects of the newly enacted tax increase program begins to reflect in state treasury receipts about the middle of October.

Brown said nearly half of the cash shortage burden is being borne by school districts.

Yep, There's Something Different About Tightrope

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dear reader: The next time you are called upon to search a gunman for concealed weapons—"frisk 'em," as they say on TV—please be sure to feel the beltline in the back.

This urgent information is passed along because on the CBS-TV action show, Tightrope, which began unrolling its cliches last night, the hero is an undercover police officer who makes much of the fact that his gun is tucked in his rear waistline, without a holster.

When two goons frisked him, they missed the gun completely, you see, and were quickly subdued by the nameless undercover police officer who is played by Mike Connors.

The reason for all this detail about a shirttail gun chase is that, as near as can be figured, that's the only distinguishing mark about Connors' role.

Where women are concerned he's sociable and available. He drinks booze — straight. He's handy with his mitts, his gun and any nearby piece of furniture.

He says things like, "Don't send boys out to do a man's job," which he cribbed from Rory Calhoun, who used the line last night in the Texan, and I'm positive Calhoun made it up.

The name of the show is Tightrope. For short, try calling it "Tripe."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The dual role of Miguel de Cervantes, immortal Spanish author, and his literary creation, Don Quixote, will be portrayed by Lee J. Cobb in the Du Pont Show of the Month presentation, "I, Don Quixote," on CBS-TV Monday, Nov. 9.

Sherry Jackson, the 17-year-old actress who portrayed Danny Thomas' TV daughter during her "youth," has landed the female lead opposite Tim Considine in Walt Disney's ABC-TV series, "The Swamp Fox," which stars Leslie Nielsen.

Albert McCleery, producer-director of some of TV's more distinguished ventures "Cameo Theater" and "Hallmark Hall of Fame," has signed a long-term contract with CBS-TV . . . Groucho Mark visits the Jack Paar Show on NBC-TV next Tuesday night.

Not Quite Soon Enough

MEDINA, N.Y. (AP)—Joe Aroski thought his automobile brakes needed checking. He was right. He couldn't stop when he got to a service station. He hit a door, cracked a wall and ran into the owner's parked car. He was fined $10 for driving with inadequate brakes.

Pakistan Builds Refugee Homes

15,000 Families Move From Shacks to New Housing Project

KARACHI (UPI) — It was a big day for Haji Azmatullah, the white-bearded old cobbler.

After nearly 12 years of surviving in fly-ridden refugee shacks, the 60-year-old Azmatullah and his family of seven had a new home.

They were the first residents of Korangi Township, a sprawling, 15,000-unit housing project built in six months by Pakistan's military regime.

Twelve years ago, Azmatullah and his family turned their backs on India and headed for the newly formed Moslem state of Pakistan. But those dreams of 1947 quickly turned into nightmares.

Karachi, a seaport town of 300,000 before independence, burst its seams as Pakistan's first capital. The influx of refugees pushed the population up to nearly two million.

The Korangi units fall short of Western standards but they look good for this part of the world. Each family has its own walled compound with a single room and outside kitchen and bathroom facilities. In time each unit will have electricity and running water. Currently, community taps are available.

The price is what appeals to most refugees. Azmatullah has 15 years to pay the government 1,900 rupees — about $380 in U. S. money.

MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY — Nicholas Petrulli of Valley Stream, N. Y., a suburb of New York City, sits in a Moscow hotel waiting to see whether the Russian parliament will grant him Soviet citizenship. Petrulli, a 38-year-old World War II veteran, turned in his U. S. passport and renounced his American citizenship last week. Now he feels he did a 'stupid' thing in renouncing his American citizenship and he wants to come back to the U. S. Our embassy officials in Moscow say the deal is out of their hands, that it rests with Washington. His former wife, Helen of Los Angeles, says he is a disturbed person but is basically good, and if he would stay home and be a good husband and father, she would take him back. Petrulli is now virtually penniless.

State Payments Empty Treasury

Universities to Have Share of $15,500,000 Money Disbursement

LANSING (AP)—Top state administrators Tuesday released $15,500,000 to state universities, suppliers and schools and to meet Thursday's payroll, once again cleaning out the state treasury.

The disbursements will use up all state general funds on hand or in sight through next Monday.

Of the total, $6,500,000 was alloted to universities as a monthly installment of 1959-60 appropriations, $4,400,000 for state payroll purposes, $1,500,000 to suppliers, $600,000 for debt service and $2,500,000 for past due vocational education obligations.

University of Michigan will get three million dollars, Michigan State $2,300,000 and Wayne State $1,200,000.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown told a special meeting of the State Administrative Board that the state's cash shortage currently stands at 104 million dollars.

Controller James W. Miller said the general fund deficit, including obligations now going through state financial pipelines, is about 114 million dollars.

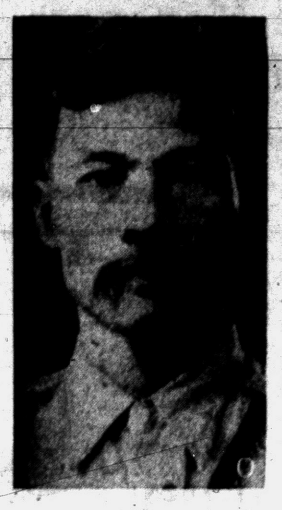

The vocational education money will go to universities and school districts in reimbursement for expenditures through last June 30.

Before the payout was ordered, the state was $2,300,000 behind in settlement of bills by suppliers involved in transactions of under $50,000.

Big Rapids Oil Well May Be One of Best

GRANT (UPI)—The V. E. East Drilling Co. of Big Rapids has brought in what may be one of the best producing oil wells in the Grant area.

The well came in with a 40-foot gusher with a good grade of oil at the 2,238-foot level on the William Peets farm near Bridgeton, northwest of this Newaygo County community.

HEADS REBELS — Prince Souphanouvong is the leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels in Northern Laos. The Laos government has requested U. N. military intervention to stop what it claims is direct aggression by Communist North Vietnam troops operating with Pathet Lao rebels in the northern area.

Wacky Walks Have Officials Crying Blues

The six-story building, which will house the Internal Revenue Service district office, will be the same color.

"Why, if we allow them to paint the sidewalks blue," exclaimed William L. Chilcote, deputy director of public works, "the man in the next block will want to dye his sidewalks green.

"Somebody would come along then with a request to install linoleum on his sidewalk. Where would it end?"

To Be Part of Shopping Center

Building Store in Drayton

Ground was broken last week on Dixie highway near Williams Lake road for a building to house the Crown Furniture Store.

Planned as part of the present shopping center that will include several other chain stores, the new store will have more than 25,000 square feet of floor space. It is scheduled to open in November.

August building permits also included a commercial permit issued by the township building department to Valentino Schuanki of Detroit for a $3,500 office building to be added to a garage building at Telegraph road and Dixie highway.

A permit to build an $8,540 television repair shop was issued to John L. Satler of 2256 Crane St. The shop will be built on Hatchery road between Airport and Crescent Lake roads. The property has been rezoned from residential to commercial use.

Parishioners of the Maranatha Baptist Church at 1520 Petrolia Dr. have asked for a permit to build a $16,390 church on 1½ acres of ground on Jay street, near Cooley Lake road. They said they plan to do the work themselves.

Another permit for a church parsonage was issued to members of the Weslyn Methodist Church, 67 N. Lynn St., between LaSalle and Boston avenue. The permit was for a one-story six-room brick dwelling with a full basement, costing $13,580.

35 State School Units Borrow $2.4 Million

LANSING (AP) — Thirty-five school districts, suffering a financial squeeze because of the delay in state school aid payments, went to the State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday to borrow a total of $2,429,090.

All borrowed in anticipation of taxes. They are unable to borrow against anticipated state aid because of a flaw in the aid bill.

First payments for the current fiscal year also will be held up until the Legislature can correct the measure when it comes back on Sept. 16.

Land Good for Forests

WASHINGTON — About 462 million acres in the U.S. are capable of growing commercially valuable forest lands, according to the Department of Agriculture.
