Russia Agrees to Talks on Ike's A-Pool Proposal

Soviet Note to Bohlen OKs Secret Parleys on Pooling Peacetime Atomic Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that Soviet Russia has agreed to join the United States in secret negotiations on President Eisenhower's proposal for an international atomic pool.

Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, told newsmen the Russian government also has asked the U. S. for additional information on Eisenhower's Dec. 8 plan.

Snyder declined to provide more information on the Soviet note, which Moscow radio said had been handed to American Ambassador Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen in Moscow today.

In outlining his plan to the United Nations General Assembly, Eisenhower proposed that Russia join with the United States and other nations possessing atomic materials in creating an international atomic energy agency for peaceful development.

Moscow radio broadcast an official Soviet government statement on Eisenhower's recent United Nations speech.

The statement, handed to U.S. Ambassador Bohlen in Moscow by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, said:

"Quite justifiably the U.S. President emphasized the danger for the peoples of the world of the situation which is being created unless governments adopt measures against the race in atomic armaments.

"This is even more so now, when, together with the atomic weapons, the hydrogen weapon has already been invented—a weapon which greatly surpasses in power the atomic weapon.

"It must be remembered also that there exist such modern types of armaments as the rocket weapons which modern technique enables to be used over distances of thousands of kilometers, without aircraft, as well as torpedoes with atomic warheads and others.

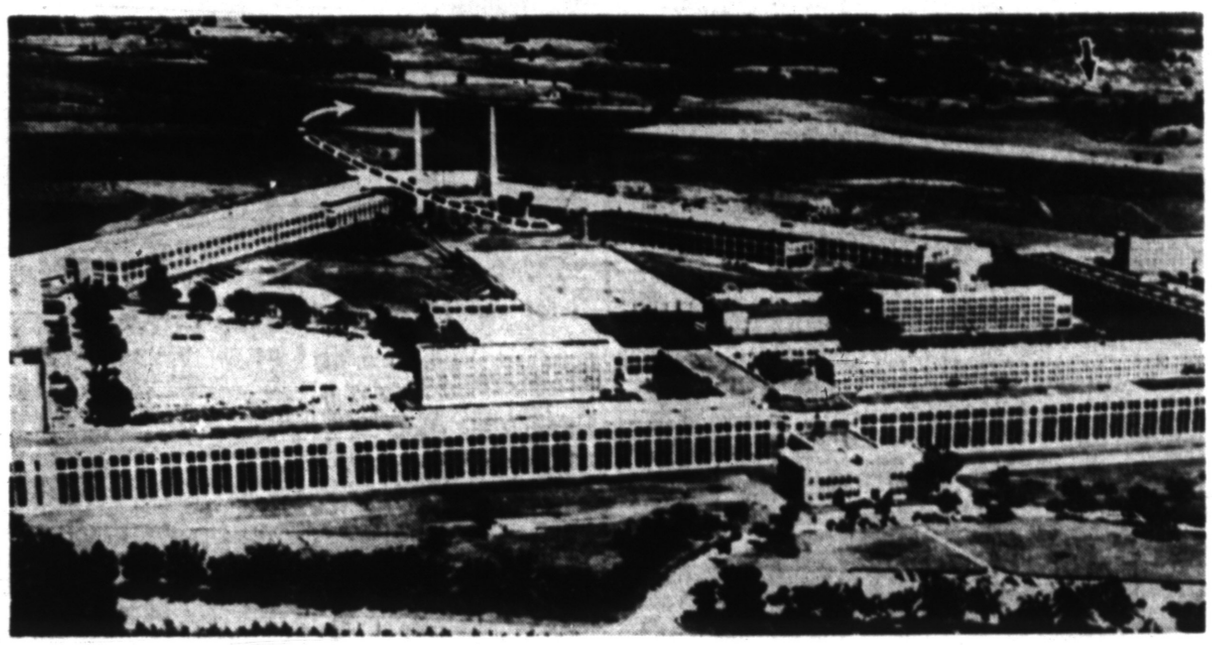

"The discovery of the practical possibilities of the use of atomic power is an immense achievement of modern science and technique."

Guard Against Reprisals From Two Still at Large

Two Women Hostages Freed Unharmed After Wild Night in Fugitives' Stolen Car

DETROIT (AP)—Police today captured three of the five fugitives remaining at large from Saturday night's mass breakout at Southern Michigan Prison.

The three were identified as Edward J. Emrick, Virgil Lane, and Daniel B. Bousha.

Police said the three were captured at 1:19 p. m. (EST) in a private home on Detroit's southwest side.

An anonymous tip was credited for the arrest of the trio. Their capture left only two fugitives at large from the 13 who broke out of Southern Michigan prison via an underground sewer Saturday night.

Police said Bousha, Emrick, and Lane would be taken to headquarters for questioning on the whereabouts of Roman Usiondek, 37, and Robert Dowling, 33, the still at large fugitives.

DETROIT (AP) — An army of city and state police today combed Detroit for five fugitives from Southern Michigan Prison believed to be hiding out in the city's vast residential areas.

The five—described as among the most dangerous inmates at Southern Michigan—broke out of the huge walled penal institution Saturday night, cutting their way to freedom through a steel grate of an underground sewage tunnel.

Eight other inmates who participated in the break have been recaptured.

Two women hostages were freed unharmed after being held 11½ hours by one fleeing group of convicts.

Police were particularly anxious to recapture one of the five fugitives, Roman Usiondek, 37, described as a "psycopath" who may have sought freedom for revenge.

Authorities assigned guards to witnesses who testified at the 1943 trial which sent Usiondek to prison for life for a barroom slaying.

Police removed Circuit Court Commissioner A. Tom Pasieczy from the city today as a precautionary move. Pasieczy was the special prosecutor at Usiondek's trial.

"Usiondek is a coldblooded murderer who swore vengeance on all the witnesses who testified against him at his trial," said Capt. Walter Jeros of the Hamtramck Police Department.

The other fugitives are:

Edward J. Ermick, 43, convicted of murder in Detroit;

David B. Bousha, 28, serving 5 to 10 years for kidnaping in Crawford County;

Virgil Lane, 27, serving 10 to 20 years for armed robbery in Detroit; and Robert Dowling, 33, serving 1 to 15 years for breaking and entering in Detroit.

A complete lack of leads for some 24 hours after they were last seen in Detroit's sprawling northwest section convinced police that the five were lying low until the huge manhunt slackened.

The manhunt concentrated in the northwest area of Detroit where the fugitives abandoned a stolen car and released two women hostages seized shortly after the break Saturday night.

The eight captured prisoners were confined in Southern Michigan's notorious cell block 15, which hardened convicts turned into a lawless fortress during an April, 1952, riot and mutiny. One inmate was killed in that uprising and damage exceeded a million dollars. Another smaller scale riot was staged later that year.

Particularly since those incidents, the huge Jackson institution has been a storm-center of controversy as to whether 5,000 prisoners should be housed in one place.

The latest fugitive returned to safe-keeping was Harold Rosa, 25, serving 4 to 15 years from Saginaw for breaking and entering.

Jackson policeman Lindell Miller captured Rosa on a stairway leading from the basement of a downtown Jackson store (Kaplan's ladies ready wear) while answering a burglar alarm.

Miller noticed a figure on the stairway as he approached the store. He drew his gun and called on the person to surrender. It was Rosa.

"Don't shoot! I'm not armed," Rosa said.

Miller said Rosa told him he had been hiding in the store basement since shortly after the prison break.

The 13 found freedom by cutting through three steel grates of an underground sewer with an acetylene torch. Where they got the torch and the oxygen to operate it was the subject of an immediate investigation by Warden William H. Bannan.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams ordered Bannan and acting corrections Director Gus Harrison to "get to the bottom of this." He said their report will be made public.

Deputy Warden Charles Cahill said he believed the torch was obtained from one of the prison industries. The oxygen, he said, could have come from a construction company's supply stored inside the prison walls.

Out of the filthy drain tunnel, the 13 were 250 feet outside the high prison walls.

Their first move was to converge on the home of Glenn Milliman, 28-year-old auto salesman and former prison guard.

Papers Asking Ouster of Hoffa Bear 1,506 Local Signatures

An insurgent faction of 250 members of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 (AFL) voted to forward petitions to the Teamsters International asking for termination of the local's trusteeship after barring the union's international vice president, James R. Hoffa, from a meeting at Chieftain Hall yesterday.

The determined group also voted 100 per cent in favor of starting court action if Dave Beck, international president, fails to agree to dissolving the trusteeship under Hoffa.

Louis W. Snyder, the group's attorney, reported at the meeting that petitions bear 1,506 signatures of the 2,500 members of the local.

The meeting was the second held by the petitioners under a heavy guard from Oakland County Sheriff's Department. Undersheriff Donald O. Menzies said that 25 deputies were alerted and 12 department autos were used in yesterday's vigilance against physical violence.

Five Sylvan Lake policemen were also on hand.

Menzies said that riot equipment was carried along in case trouble developed.

"We doubled the number of deputies after we learned that Hoffa and some of his aides were going to be at the meeting," Menzies said.

Hoffa arrived with four officers of Local 614 at 3 p.m. at Chieftain Hall, accompanied in another car by Leaun Harrelson, Pontiac state representative, and Daniel J. Keating, former president of the local. Two other autos carrying several

Williams to Ask for More Guards

Would Earmark 126 for Jackson to Prevent Future Breakouts

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams said today he will ask the legislature for 158 more guards for Michigan prisons, including 126 at the Southern Michigan Prison, when 13 convicts fled Saturday night.

Williams said authorities do not know yet the full story of how the escape happened, but he added:

"We do know, however, that Warden (William H.) Bannan is entirely correct when he says he has been operating with a chronic shortage of guards.

"I intend to do all I can to get him and the other wardens the man-power they need for safe operation.

Williams will ask for an increase of 8.5 per cent or $983,000 to operate the corrections system, a total of $12,531,000.

He said that of the increase $848,000 or 86 per cent is for increased personnel including guards and the staff for the new psychiatric clinic at Jackson and the new youth division.

Ardmore Avenue All Lit Up Again for Christmas

Two blocks on Ardmore avenue, which extends north from East Pike street, are again ablaze with Christmas outdoor lights. For the fifth consecutive year occupants of everyone of the 37 houses have arranged elaborate outdoor lighting.

They were illuminated for the first time last night and will continue through the holiday season. More than 7,000 cars were counted passing over the street last year. One-way traffic is necessary and motorists are asked to enter the street from East Pike.

U.N. Readies Last Appeal to 22 Reluctant Prisoners

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The U. N. Command today prepared a last-minute broadcast appeal to 22 American war prisoners who stayed with the Communists, even as the Allied Far East commander indicated hope has been abandoned that any of the 22 will return home.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission announced it had approved an Allied request to broadcast to the prisoners Wednesday—hours before the deadline for explanations to balky war prisoners.

The Allies staked their hopes of winning back prisoners on the broadcasts and a 12-page letter addressed to each man as chances for face-to-face interviews all but vanished in a welter of last-minute delays.

The Communists resumed their long-delayed explanation program today and chalked up their best score to date.

Red members of the Military Armistice Commission pressed again for an extension of the time for interviews beyond Dec. 23 during a 2½-hour meeting today, but the U.N. Command promptly rejected the request.

Gen. John E. Hull, U.S. Far East commander, told newsmen in Seoul that Americans in neutral custody have had both time and opportunity to change their minds. He indicated the Allies have given up hope that any will return home.

The broadcast and the letter appeared to be the Allies' only chance of contacting the prisoners before the Wednesday midnight deadline.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission ruled that the POWs must agree to accept the letter from an Allied explanation team, Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the commis-

Pontiac Post Troopers Join Giant Manhunt for Felons

Pontiac state troopers armed with riot guns and high-powered rifles joined Detroit's all-out manhunt this morning for five felons who broke out of Jackson Prison Saturday night.

Two teams of troopers from Pontiac State Police Post are scouring assigned areas along Eight Mile road in northwest Detroit for clues which may lead authorities to the desperadoes' lair.

The five are believed holed up in Detroit.

The four troopers in two cars have teamed with scores of other state police who converged on Detroit after the five fugitives abandoned their getaway car there.

The local state police post was notified of the prison break less than 45 minutes after prison authorities discovered that 13 con-

Troopers phoned the alert to Oakland County Sheriff's and Pontiac Police Departments in a matter of minutes. The sheriff's department also received a teletype message on the escape and notified surrounding police departments.

Shortly after the original message, troopers here followed by short-wave radio the capture of six of the fugitives. The six were

French Again Fail to Name President

VERSAILLES, France (AP)—The French Parliament failed again today to elect a President of the Republic. It was the ninth ballot taken since last Thursday.

No other French presidential election had ever required more than two ballots. The protracted voting this time resulted from a sharp split, nearly down the political middle, in the Parliament.

Hostage Tells of Wild Ride as Prisoner of Convicts

Editor's Note: The following story was told by one of two women taken as hostages on a night-long escape flight by five Southern Michigan Prison inmates.

By MARY LOU WATTS
(As told to Ed Smith, of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot)

JACKSON (AP) — It was a little after seven p. m., Saturday when these men barged right into our house. One of them held a gun and the others had knives.

They told us no one would be hurt and then proceeded to ransack the house.

All we could do was sit there.

My husband, (Joseph Watts), Helen (Miss Helen Gilbert), Don (Don Peck), Mary (Mary Bober, 14, a baby sitter) and I couldn't believe it.

They took three of Joe's suits, three pairs of his shoes, even the ones he was wearing, and one of his shirts. Don's Cadillac was parked outside, full of gas. It was just like an invitation for them.

We were scared. Little Mary was terrified and began to cry when the men got ready to leave and they said they were taking her as a hostage. We begged them not to take her and they changed their minds.

They ordered Helen and me into the car.

They promised that we wouldn't be hurt. Then they tied the others after colecting about $30 from all of us. But they left one dollar with my husband.

Then we started out.

The man named Dowling (Robert Dowling) was driving. I sat in front with him and another man. Helen was in the back seat with the other three.

We headed south on M-60 at about 70 or 80 miles an hour.

We ran into the first roadblock about 15 miles from home

On 21st December, the U.S.S.R. Minister for Foreign Affairs V. M. Molotov, handed Mr. Charles Bohlen the text of the statement of the Soviet government on the speech of President Eisenhower, published below.

The Soviet note expressed hope that atomic conferences will reach an agreement to lessen the fears of an anxious world. It added:

"The Soviet government considers that during the course of these conversations there should be examined the following proposals of the Soviet government:

"The states participating in the agreement, motivated by the desire to reduce international tension, should take upon themsives the solemn and unconditional obligation not to use the atomic hydrogen weapons of mass destruction.

"The signing of an international agreement on this question could be an important step on the path of the complete banning of atomic, hydrogen and other weapons of mass destruction with the establishment of strict international control to insure the fulfilment of the agreement banning the use of atomic energy for war purposes."

The Moscow statement asserted the Soviet Union "has conducted a consistent struggle for the prohibition of atomic weapons and in addition has worked for reduction of all other forms of weapons."

GERALD K. BLANKENSHIP

Second Crash Fatal to Youth

Survived With Injuries From Similar Accident Three Years Ago

A Pontiac youth, who three years ago escaped with injuries from an auto accident which took the lives of four of his companions, was killed Friday night in a similar accident less than a mile from the other crash scene.

Gerald K. Blankenship, 21, of 24 W. Chicago Ave., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital with head injuries suffered when his car skidded into a Railway Express truck at Telegraph and U.S. 10, according to Michigan State Police of the Pontiac post.

On Feb. 6, 1950, Blankenship was hospitalized for two months with internal injuries when the car he was in crashed into a steel truck at Oakland and Sarasota Aves. Pontiac Police, unable to determine who was driving, said the car was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Three youths in the car, Robert E. Goode, 21, of 114 Cadillac Ave., Peter H. Williams, 21, of 156 N. Paddock St., and Robert H. Ramsey, Jr., 22, of 15 Tregent St., were dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

A fourth companion, Jerry E. Conrad, 20, of 3818 Bird Island, Drayton Plains, died at the hospital about two hours after the accident.

Friday at 8:45 p.m., Blankenship's auto, southbound on U.S. 10, skidded about 35 yards before striking the truck, driven by Floyd M. Totten, 38, of Clio, according to Troopers William Dreger and Charles Johnson.

Teamsters Prepare to Send Petitions

Keating and Harrelson also were barred from the meeting.

Harrelson has been appointed by Hoffa as the local's new acting president. Keating is free under $5,000 bond, awaiting trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on extortion and conspiracy charges. He was indicted by a one-man grand jury recently with several other unionists, including Louis J. C. Linteau, former secretary-treasurer of Local 614.

According to the union's international laws, Snyder said the group would have to wait 20 days for a reply from Beck on the petitions. He added that if the reply is not returned in favor of the group by Jan. 15, further legal action will be sought.

Detroit Woman Injured in Three-Car Crash

Mrs. Olga M. Hart, 23, of 18827 Dequindre, Detroit, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital Sunday for knee and head injuries suffered in a three-car accident while a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Delbert V. Hart, 32, at M-59 and Crooks Rd., Troy Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said that Hart's car, traveling south on M-59, collided with one driven by Ethel L. Maloney, 40, of 8659 Sherwood St., and then hit another auto, driven by Dexter L. Miller, 19, of 105 Summit St., stopped at the intersection.

Deputies said that Hart was attempting a left turn in front of Miss Maloney's auto when the accident happened.

Professor Packs for Physiology Tests in Alaska

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—A University of Oklahoma Medical School physiology professor is packing some 700 pounds of gadgets today for a flight to Fairbanks, Alaska, Christmas Day, and if it's warmer than 40 degrees below zero he says he'll be disappointed.

Dr. Paul Webb will be testing equipment to measure the body heat Air Force men at Ladd Field lose when they breathe arctic air.

He believes the experiment will determine the best type clothing and food for cold climates.

Drought Area Farmers Borrowed 86 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers and stockmen, most of them in drought areas, have borrowed more than 86 million dollars from the Farmers Home Administration since July 1, Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today.

The first International Postal Congress was held in Bern, Switzerland in 1874. Representatives of the United States, Egypt, and 20 European countries attended.

Heavy Fog Blankets West Coastal Area

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Heavy fog blanketed the coastal area last night and early today, closing airports and forcing traffic to a crawl.

Los Angeles International and Long Beach Municipal airports were closed, air traffic being diverted to Lockheed Air Terminal in Burbank, where visibility was good.

Marine traffic was virtually halted. Pilots used radar to reach anchorages. Two small boats carrying five persons were lost in the fog for several hours but finally made port safely.

Probers to Ask Charity Laws

New York Act Would Require State Licensing of Fund-Raisers

NEW YORK (AP)—New York legislative investigators of charity rackets plan to recommend a law making it a penal offense to use the name of a person for raising funds without written authorization.

State Sen. Bernard Tompkins, chairman of a joint Senate-Assembly probe committee, says the group's general recommendations to the legislature also will include these points:

1. Require state licensing of all professional fund raisers.

2. Require state registration—though not licensing—of all charitable organizations except bona fide religious groups.

3. Require that all sponsors receive annual statements on how funds are raised and spent.

Tompkins discussed yesterday some of the revelations before his committee at four days of public hearings here last week.

Witnesses said the names of several prominent persons had been used as sponsors in fund solicitations without their permission, and that New York State has no law specifically banning the practice.

Tompkins said yesterday that all information gathered at the hearings will be made available to State Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein and to the Post Office Department for possible prosecution of alleged charity fakers whose tactics were described by witnesses.

Tompkins estimated that only three per cent of charity organizations are outright frauds—not including groups that are "well-intentioned but poorly administered."

He reiterated his plea that the public not decrease its donations to legitimate charities because of the revelations at the committee hearings concerning alleged racketeering and waste.

3 Collegians Say Co-ed Calendars Doom Petty Girls

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Thousands of men each year take a look at artistic girls on spicy calendars and sigh.

"Now, what could be prettier?"

"A college coed," scream three 20-year-old University of New Mexico juniors in answer. "And we're quitting school to prove it."

The three, Wally Deckert of Springfield, S. D., Larry Ross of Albuquerque, and Hank Edwards of Chapel Hill, N. C., are in dead earnest. They've put out their first calendar with photos of scantily clad coeds in place of the painted long-legged beauties.

• • •

"This isn't just a crazy Joe College stunt," said Deckert, a mechanical engineering student. "We've already got our first calendar on the market here. They're going like hot cakes."

The trio had to convince the university, the parents of 11 of the 12 coeds who were under 21, and a censorship board.

"The university was tough," Deckert said. "The coeds were a cinch. The parents took some talking, but the censorship board—oh, brother!"

Ross, a biology student, dropped by to see Deckert last month.

"One thing led to another," said Deckert. "The next thing we knew we decided to make a calendar using college coeds as the come on."

• • •

The calendars, financed by advertising, feature a coed above each month and a cartoon alongside the dates. Not all the girls show their legs, a concession to the censorship board—but most do.

"But none are suggestive," Deckert said. "The censorship board took care of that. A board made up of two deans and only one student can be pretty tough. They ranked four pictures I still can't see why, but I guess they had their reasons."

"We copyrighted our calendar and we're going to put one out next year. Then, in 1956, we're into the national field. I've quit school already and Hank and Larry are going to quit. Another buddy is going in with us."

The Insurance Company of North America, chartered in 1794, was the first general insurance company to sell life insurance in America. It issued only six policies in five years.

More State Police Needed

One item in the 1954 State budget about which there should be little or no division of opinion is Governor Williams' request for enlargement of the State Police force.

His proposal is that the Legislature appropriate $550,000 to finance the addition of 106 men to the force next year. It is his idea, and we think it a sound one, that 100 of these recruits should be made available for highway patrol duty.

There isn't any doubt about the need for expansion of this still pitifully undermanned force. With personnel, including officers, detectives and desk men numbering under 700, it never has been possible for the force to provide adequate patrol of Michigan's thousands of miles of high speed roads.

An example of how lack of manpower hampers State Police work can be found at the Pontiac Post. There are 16 men on the staff, 12 of whom are troopers. But there isn't any one of them who won't tell you there is work for twice that number.

Consideration of this matter should be entirely free of partisanship. With 1953 State traffic deaths likely to reach 1,900, highway safety should be considered ahead of economy. Governor Williams is right when he said the appropriation he asks is "an investment in highway safety which we must make to save lives."

We believe Legislative approval of such an appropriation would have the unanimous support of public opinion.

Record Ore Shipments

During the season just ended the Great Lakes fleet carried a total of 96,000,000 tons of iron ore from the Mesabi range to the Nation's steel mills.

This not only is the greatest total shipment on record, but it is 4,000,000 tons larger than the previous all time high in the war year of 1942.

Moreover, it is a reminder that some experts say that within 15 years the Mesabi range will have been so depleted that a third of our ore will have to come from other sources.

One of those sources will be Labrador, which by 1956 will be supplying 10,000,000 tons annually, and a couple of years later 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 tons. That, in turn, emphasizes the need for the St. Lawrence waterway as the most economical means of transporting that ore to the mills.

Bridge Bonds Approved

Unanimous approval by the State Administrative Board of the bond issue to finance the Straits of Mackinac bridge leaves only one obstacle to be cleared before construction can start.

That obstacle is the petition filed with the State Supreme Court by State Senator Haskell L. Nichols. While the court refused to enjoin the State Board from approving the bonds, it did agree to rule later on the legality of the issue. This was challenged by Sen. Nichols on four counts.

Members of the Mackinac bridge authority are confident that this last legal barrier soon will be swept away by the court. Also there is significance in the unanimous vote of the State Board. Even State Treasurer Brake, who previously had opposed the revenue bond method of financing the span as too expensive, voted for it.

Certainly it can be argued that the Legislature in approving use of $417,000 a year of State Highway funds for maintenance of the bridge, obviously favored the revenue bond method.

The syndicate which agreed to handle the entire $99,800,000 issue submitted a bid of $95,858,000 or $50,000 more than the minimum acceptable by the State. This is a commission of $3,942,000 if the bonds are sold at par.

We believe the State Administrative Board was right in approving this bond deal. Assuming that the court approves the sale, construction could start early next spring and the bridge could be ready by the fall of 1957.

This long needed physical link of the two peninsulas will prove an invaluable asset to the State's industrial, agricultural and resort interests.

Dr. Johnson on Flying

Though statistics are lacking, it's a safe guess that any newspaper's public letter box is a place where much misinformation is set straight.

An example is The Reader Writes column in the Christian Science Monitor. A British correspondent's letter corrected a statement that no one knew what Dr. Samuel Johnson thought of flying.

More than that, the letter included the following quotes from Dr. Johnson's novel, Rasselas, written in one week of 1759 to pay the expenses of his mother's death. An inventor is saying to Prince Rasselas:

"If men were all virtuous, I should with great alacrity teach them all to fly. But what would be the security of the good, if the bad could at pleasure invade them from the sky? Against an army sailing through the clouds, neither walls, nor mountains nor seas could afford any security."

The sequel to that conversation of so many years ago at least followed natural law. When the inventor tried out his wings he dropped into the lake and the prince drew him to land, "half-dead with terror and vexation."

Safety Committee Praises Finnegan for His Warning to Drinking Drivers

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

We wish to extend our congratulations to Judge Finnegan for his recent statement that "drunk drivers will go to jail."

This is a policy that has been extremely successful in Detroit, and we believe that it will tend to curb the serious accidents that mar the Christmas holidays.

Our committee has been convinced for a long time that a firmer stand by the judges and courts would materially deter the drunk, reckless and speeding drivers who are causing such havoc. We wish to go on record as approving Judge Finnegan's progressive action.

We hope that the public support of this program will be such that it will be continued through out the year instead of just during the holiday season.

Believes Far Too Many Living Frivolous Lives

Man is a dual person. There is the physical body on one side and the spiritual body or soul on the other side. Most people realize that we are born with a spark of the Divine in us. This spark is the soul and if given the chance to grow and expand it will draw us nearer to God.

When our time comes to depart this earth, if we have lived right, the soul will have developed and will be better prepared to return to the Divine Master and we will have had a better life on earth.

Far too many of us persist in the folly of following worldly ways and living a greedy and frivolous life. We have brought our present civilization to the condition it is now in with war and total destruction staring us in the face.

I am satisfied that the only sure way to correct this situation is found in the astonishing statements, of Jesus, revealing the fundamentals of God's laws which contsitute the true path to eternal life.

We should make every effort to follow them, not only when we celebrate the birth of Jesus, but all through the year and we may yet save mankind.

Authorities in Other Lands Don't Share Our View of American Foreign Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Looking through the latest issue of "Foreign Affairs," the quarterly publication of the Council of Foreign Relations—an organization of prominent Americans devoted to the cause of international cooperation — one gets the impression that American foreign policy is in a terrible mess.

Surveying the world scene, it becomes obvious after reading a number of articles that the American people are not being given the truth, but only a series of unrealistic pronouncements from officialdom about the "free world," Allied unity and the United Nations.

"Foreign Affairs" as a publication expresses no opinions of its own but performs a service in giving forthright articles by authorities in other lands. It is apparent that what is accepted as truth in America isn't so regarded elsewhere.

Thus an article by a very important person in India who remains anonymous emphasizes the point that the United States was the aggressor in Korea and charges that the American government originally intervened in the civil war in China by protecting Formosa.

The accusation is further made that the U. N. forces had no business crossing the 38th parallel into North Korea and thereupon became aggressors themselves. The distinguished Indian author continues:

"The question of aggression by China seemed therefore to most Asians a doubtful point. This became clear when the resolution to brand China as an aggressor was introduced at the end of January 1951.

"It is strange that, though the Chinese intervention took place in October 1950, the United Nations waited until the end of January 1951 to discuss whether or not it was an aggression on the part of China.

"It is also significant that when the matter was put to a vote the resolution did not receive the support of India, Burma, Indonesia and other Asian countries. The Asian countries evidently did not consider that China had committed aggression.

"Though the resolution was carried, it was obvious that no great importance was attached to the charge, for otherwise, the United Nations could not have entered into negotiations with the Sino-Korean forces, for that would have been compounding with aggression and a betrayal of the principles of the United Nations.

"An aggressor, ex hypothesis, has to be punished, but instead of doing it, the United Nations, after deliberately branding China as an aggressor, has been equally deliberately engaged in negotiations with that government. . .

"It may sound strange to American ears, but nonetheless it is a fact that the leaders of India and Burma, and perhaps of other South Asian countries, excluding Siam, do not feel themselves threatened by Communism."

To read the foregoing in the light of the hundreds of thousands of words poured out by officials of the present and preceding administrations here about "repelling aggression" in Korea and about the victories for "collective security" which cost America 140,000 casualties there, it is obvious that what is being said inside America isn't shared outside.

Then there's an article by Clement Attlee, former prime minister of Great Britain, who thinks America is wrong in its relations with Red China and he, too, hints that blunders in American policy may have caused the Korean War. He says:

"It may well have been that had China been given her seat in the United Nations, the Korean War might never have been started. In dealing with Asiatic countries the matter of self-respect or 'face' is of great importance. The refusal to recognize the effective government of China affronted the self-respect of the Chinese people."

But it is even more distressing to read the article written by Walter H. Mallory, executive director of the Council of Foreign Relations who, after spending a year in Indonesia, says America is regarded there as a capitalistic country of selfish imperialism and ulterior motive.

He advises patience in dealing with a new country, and on the whole tries to be constructive in his viewpoint.

It is startling, however, to find that after all the hue and cry about America rescuing nations from imperialism, and after the conspicuous way in which the diplomacy of the United States did help to wrest Indonesia from the Dutch empire, it now appears the United States is the villain of the world.

Incidentally Mr. Mallory reminds his readers that there has never been a national election in Indonesia either before or after independence was obtained in 1949.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Says Love Not Enough for Marriage Success

"Oh," we're in love!" Dorothy argues, but love is no excuse for getting married. It is simply the frosting on the cake, and a good cake requires a lot of other ingredients besides frosting! So study this Case Record with unusual care and prepare for a marriage that will be permanent and truly successful.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-373: Dorothy K., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"Dr. Crane, I am in love with Harold, who is 19, and in the Army," Dorothy confessed.

"He wants me to marry him when he gets home next month, and I plan to do so, for we are in love.

"We are so crazy about each other that we don't see any good reason for waiting, but my parents think I am too young.

"So they have insisted that I ask you what you think would be best."

It is time young people realized that marriage is a career. It demands as much skill and resourcefulness as law or medicine or operating a business.

And how many girls of 16 or even boys of 19, have enough training to start a law practice or run a business successfully?

Love is not the only essential for happy marriage. It's just the frosting on the cake, so to speak, and there are a lot of other ingredients for a good cake besides the frosting.

In fact, pound cake doesn't even require any frosting. And successful marriage likewise doesn't even require ardent love at the outset. For love can be developed even after the wedding day.

Dorothy must discount the torrid romance she thinks she is in, for her children in the years to come will want a mother who can "front" creditably in modern American life.

Children like to have mothers who can take an active role in PTA organizations, as well as church societies.

They want their mothers to be able to speak in public or sing and play a musical instrument. For youngsters take pride in having parents who can carry their share of the load in social and civic affairs.

A successful wife should also be a home economist, talented in cooking as well as in operating a home on a budget.

It is also a great help if a wife can operate a typewriter and keep the books for her family corporation. Then she can help make out her husband's income tax and look after their other business affairs.

In addition, she should understand child psychology and be a deft Applied Psychologist in keeping her husband's love through their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

It isn't the torrid love of the courtship which is so important as the permanent, stabilizing love 20 or 30 years later.

Every good wife is a successful career woman who puts to shame the minor accomplishments of a Hollywood actress or a female advertising executive or a woman author, etc.

For a successful homemaker must be the most versatile type of career woman. And she can't succeed unless she is adept at human relations (psychology), plus cooking, finance, and many other vital tasks.

You teenagers who contemplate marriage should give your future children a break, therefore and prepare yourselves as thoroughly for successful marriage as a law or medical student prepares himself for his career.

In the teens, moreover, you need to shop around and date many eligible members of the opposite sex. This gives you more experience with male psychology and more skill in getting along happily with people.

Don't think about marrying till you are at least 21 and have held a job for at least one full year after your graduation from high school.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cents stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Iranian motto for this wonderful holiday is peace on earth and oil to Britain.

Nevertheleast, the British are as cautious as a wolf smelling smoke. They will resume diplomatic relations with their smog masks on.

This week they are ready to muscle in on the Iranian oil reserves. Last week they figured the way to solve the oil hassel was to boil Mohammed Mossadegh in it.

Both sides are willing to let bygones be bygroans.

With Mossy on the sick list the British are dealing with Premier Major General Fazollah Zahedi knowing a name like that can't run more than one edition. The guys who write names on glass doors would pull an engraver's strike.

Mossy had a scheme to sell Iranian pump plasma to the Kremlin. His favorite tune was "Red Sales In the Sunset."

When Mossy became the victim of oriental courtesy the British asked Texas to moderate the argument. But Texas is loaded. And willing to let wells enough alone.

Churchill found out many tough gimmicks in his dealings with the Iranians. Most important was the fellow in the bath tub isn't always the guy who pulls the plug.

But if anybody can distill chaos into fissioned business it's Winnie. Fortunately for the purposes of diplomacy Winnie pre-dates the internal combustion engine.

This is Christmas week and we would like to turn a couple of angles into a quiet corner.

Otherwise we are compelled to make one decision on the chances of world serenity.

Brady Sees No Reason Local Doctors Shouldn't Get Same Publicity as Visitor

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

It was a kind of unwritten law, 25 or 30 years ago, that when a medical society in the community wished to inform the public about a health or medical subject, the speaker who addressed the public should be a visitor or guest and not a member of the local profession.

Obviously this rule was intended to restrain the local publicity hunters.

But that kind of modesty is almost forgotten now. Today when the doctors put on a radio or television interview, panel discussion or forum or a public conference upon a health or medical question, the local talent gets into the act.

For the trick specialist it is wonderful publicity. He has only to refer casually to his field of practice in the course of the discussion.

A surgeon who gets into the act from time to time assures me it boosts his practice tremendously.

Long ago when I was practicing, the practitioners in our town managed to get a little publicity by notifying the local paper when a child was born thus: Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand D. Bull are rejoicing in the birth of a seven-pound son yesterday. Dr. John Doe was the attending physician.

★ ★ ★

When this became tiresome I tried to do something about it. When I delivered the mail carrier's seventh I notified the paper thus: Mr. and Mrs. Special Delivery became the proud parents of a nine-pound daughter Sunday evening. Dr. Wm. Brady was the accoucheur.

A lot of the mailman's customers were alarmed about it—they thought it must be some dreadful complication.

After that the doctors filed birth certificates and didn't try to make a production out of each one they recorded.

But I didn't care. That was about the time I was launching this health column.

After all, the home doctors are only human. Why should they abide by the rules when so many papers made big shots come to town with top billing as from the best advertised "clinic" and lure away a lot of well-to-do patients who would otherwise patronize home doctors?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: The Gremlins capture Willie and the two Dreamlins. Willie accidentally swallows the magic pill Santa made for the Dreamlin queen and turns into a puff of smoke. He escapes and hides in a coffee pot and there he finds the Dreamlin queen.

Chapter 16
THE QUEEN

"Why—you must be the Dreamlin queen!" whispered Willie when he found the lovely creature with a crown on her head imprisoned in the coffee pot.

"Indeed I am," replied the queen "And I do wish you would go somewhere else."

"But I have come to save you!" protested Willie.

"You are choking me and causing my eyes to sting quite badly," complained the queen.

"That's because I ate a pill which was sent for you," explained Willie. "The pill turned me into smoke and that is how—"

But before Willie could finish a terrible thing happened. The magic of the pill wore off and he turned back into his old self.

The poor queen was crushed against the sides. Willie's ears popped off the lid and his tail went up the spout.

"There he is!" cried the Gremlins. "He is in the prison with the queen.!"

"Careful!" warned the leader. "Watch out for more magic he may try on us."

But even if Willie had more magic he could not have used it. He could not even draw a breath he was so crowded in the pot.

The queen could stand it no longer. "You are mashing me!" she squealed.

* * *

Willie leaped and as he leaped the coffee pot turned on its side, rolled across the shelf and crashed upon the Gremlins below scattering them over the kitchen floor.

The pot burst open and Willie sprang out, the queen clinging to his neck.

Willie fled across the kitchen.

He ran down the castle corridor and out the castle door.

"Wait for me!" shouted Mr. Not Much.

"And me!" echoed Mr. Very Little.

The two Dreamlins snatched onto Willie's tail as the puppy passed through the door.

* * *

Willie never stopped. Carrying the three Dreamlins he ran down the castle corridor and out the castle door straight to Santa's umbrella. They didn't relax until they were all safely in the umbrella and on the way to Santa Land.

Then Willie lay back in exhaustion while the Dreamlins told their queen of their long adventure to save her and how Willie had helped.

The queen said, "What an unselfish dog!"

Willie heard her say he was unselfish and thought, "Now I shall be able to fly!"

When they arrived in Santa Land they found Santa and all the workers waiting for them. There was Santa's big sleigh and the eight flying reindeer, too, for it was Christmas eve and soon Santa must take off with his load of toys.

* * *

Willie climbed out of the umbrella. "Wait until those reindeer see me fly!" he thought and he leaped into the air.

But alas! Willie still could not fly.

Santa dug him out of the snow and rubbed him gently behind the ears.

"I saved the Dreamlin queen," moaned Willie. "Wasn't that a fine unselfish thing to do? Why can't I fly now?"

"Willie," said Santa, "true unselfishness is something that grows in the heart. I cannot explain it."

"I shall never fly," said Willie. He gazed longingly at the reindeer waiting patiently to fly away with Santa. "Oh, I did so want to go with you tonight!" he cried.

"You do not have to fly to go with me," said Santa. "Climb in the sleigh and we'll ride together. Hurry now for we must cover the whole world this night."

85 Kites Are Kept Aloft at Once by Enthusiast

BRADLEY BEACH, N. J. (AP) — Charles Baum, 73-year-old tax accountant, thinks flying kites is good fun no matter what your age. Baum goes in for the sport in a big way.

He flies dozens of kites at a time and his record is 85 from one string, a trick he did last summer in this north Jersey coast resort.

Baum attaches each kite to a 50-foot line, gets it aloft and then ties the line to the main line. On his main real is seven miles of nylon cord, some with a test strength of 440 pounds.

Plane Makes Double Rescue

Stratocruiser Escorts DC4 and PBM to Wake Over Pacific

HONOLULU (AP)—A four-engine Tokyo-bound Pan American Stratocruiser escorted two disabled planes to safe landings at Wake Island today in a double "rescue," a Pan American spokesman announced.

One of the disabled planes was an Overseas National Airways DC4 flying under military charter from Honolulu to Wake. It feathered its No. 2 propeller 700 miles east of Wake and radioed for help.

The other was a Navy PBM amphibious search plane which left Wake in answer to the distress messages from the DC4.

* * *

The PBM began losing oil from its starboard engine 200 miles out of Wake. A Pan American spokesman said it messaged that it might be forced to make an emergency landing in the Pacific.

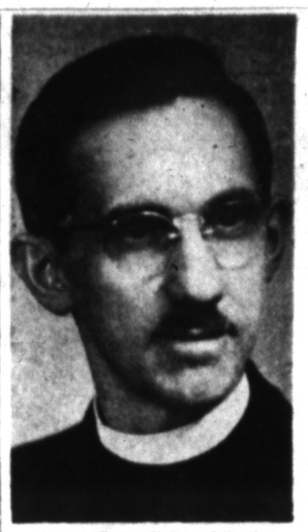

* * *

The Pan American Clipper Nightingale was refueling at Wake when the distress signals came. It left immediately to provide assistance, the airline spokesman said.

The stratocruiser picked up the PBM one hour out of Wake and flew with it as it limped to base at an altitude of 600 feet.

The airliner then picked up the DC4 and shepherded it in to a landing about 30 minutes later.

Army aircraft are divided into general types — the fixed wing, which includes both the two-place and multi-place, and the helicopter which is divided into utility (small) aand cargo (large) classifications.

REV. GEORGE L. GARVER

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Shooting Santa Won't Put Christ Back in Christmas

The Rev. George L. Garver came to Pontiac to become pastor at Lutheran Church of the Ascension on Williams Street in 1947. The church was organized in 1926.

The Rev. Mr. Garver used "Putting Christ Back Into Christmas" as his theme Sunday. Following are excerpts from his sermon:

In the Gospel for the fourth Sunday in Advent (John 1:26) we read the words of John the Baptist to some of the leaders of the people. Of our Lord he said, "Among you stands one whom you do not know."

Christ has always been unknown to most people. He was unknown to the keeper of the Inn at which there was no room. He was unknown to the jealous king who sought to slay Him with the innocents.

And, I fear He is unknown today to many who know the multitude of stories about Him.

In the past several years we have seen a growing emphasis on "Putting Christ back into Christmas." The recent splendid parade in Pontiac with church floats depicting the story of our Savior's birth was part of that emphasis.

We ought to learn that you can't put Christ back into Christmas simply by going back to Bethlehem. Christmas was a glorious occasion in history, but it is not a matter of history alone.

All the stories told and carols sung are hardly more useful to our families than those about Santa, unless the child of Bethlehem and the Christ of Calvary becomes known in our homes as the Lord of our lives.

Nor can we put Christ back into Christmas by shooting Santa Claus. Santa Claus rightfully belongs to the Christian heritage. He teaches something which makes Christmas contemporary. While it may be difficult to teach a youngster the involved doctrines of the church which tells how God so loved the world that He gave His Son to save it, the gifts at the foot of the Christmas tree are not so difficut to explain.

Santa left them out of the goodness of his heart. It did not matter that they were undeserved, and anonymous, and given without waiting for thanks. All that matters now is that they should be accepted and used.

But finally, you can't put Christ back into Christmas while turning your back on the church of Christ. The one place in human history and in contemporary experience where the stories of the Nativity and the benevolent spirit of Santa have always been welded has been the Church. Where else can one turn, universally, in time of trouble and distress?

While nations send munitions the Church has sent relief. While society has acquired things, the Church has served persons.

I have never been over worried about the use of the abbreviation X-mas. And yet the objection ot its use is not hard to understand.

The most obvious meaning of the "X" to most Americans is mathematical; it is the symbol of an unknown quantity. It also is the initial of the Greek language for the very name of Christ; it is the symbol known through the centuries for our Lord.

But the person who really knows our Lord is little concerned about putting Him back in Christmas. Christ has been there all the while.

For the many who have never known our Lord, the season might well be X-mas. Christ, the essential ingredient of the holy time, is for them an unknown quantity.

How truly the Baptist speaks to our day, "Among you stands one whom you do not know."

Oxford Woman Injured as Car Strikes Tree

Mrs. Kathryn Ludwig, 27, of 26 Stanton, Oxford, is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering internal injuries when the car in which she was riding struck a tree Sunday.

Her husband, Ralph, 31, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that he was driving north on Walton boulevard near Silverhill road when an oncoming car in his lane forced him off the road.

Two Girls Injured in 3-Car Accident

Two girls received minor injuries Sunday in a three-car accident at Voorheis and Orchard Lake Rds.

Sherry Breeding, 15 months old, and Betty Lawson, 9, of 1247 Stanley Ave., were treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Sherry's father, James A. Breeding, 23, of 155 N. Winding Dr., driver of one of the cars told Pontiac Police that another car driven by David J. Valko Jr., 271 Woodlawn, Walled Lake, made a turn and hit his car head on. Breedings auto was pushed into the third auto driven by George Elmy, 30 of 235 Voorheis Rd.

Police arrested Valko on a drunk driving charge. They said they were unable to get a statement from Valko after the accident.

2 Missing Convicts Sought in Detroit

fleeing felons ransacked the house, stole clothing, money and a gun and fled in Milliman's car.

A short time later the 13 split up. Six of them stayed in the Milliam car, only to crash in it while attempting to run a state police blockade near Napoleon, 12 miles southeast of the prison

Five of the occupants were captured immediately. These were: Melvin (Bud) Childers, 50, of Glade Springs, Va., a life-term murderer from Detroit; Albert Lord, 37, of Flint serving life for murder in Peck, Mich.; Albert's brother, Delbert, 34, of Flint, also serving life for the same crime; William (Bill) Wayne, 38, of Dallas Tex., serving 15 to 30 years for armed robbery in Detroit, and Robert Brown, 30, of Detroit, serving 15 to 30 years for safecracking.

Dan Beardsley, 37, another murder-lifer from Detroit, also was in the car but eluded police for a short time before he was captured. He told prison officials he planned the getaway but almost backed out when he saw 12 others wanted to get into the act.

Herbert Gulembo, 29, doing 20 to 30 years for armed robbery in Detroit, parted company from the others when they split into two main groups and was picked up Saturday night in a Jackson Hotel. Rosa also stayed in Jackson at that time.

The other five burst into the home of Joseph Watts in Jackson. Holding him at gunpoint, they stole most of his clothes.

Then they drove off in a Cadillac owned by Don Peck, a visitor at the home, taking Mrs. Watts and Miss Helen Gilbert, a nurse also visiting at the home, as hostages.

First they headed toward Indiana. But a report on the car radio tipped them off that bordering states were watching for them. So they wheeled around and sped toward Detroit.

Sticking mainly to the sideroads, they got to suburban Northville before they were spotted. They shook off a pursuing police car. Once inside northwest Detroit, the five convicts got out of the car. Three reportedly went one way and two another. The women ran out of gasoline a short time later, then walked to a filling station and called police.

Mrs. Watts and Miss Gilbert said the fugitives kept assuring them they would not be harmed if they followed instructions.

Both said they were more scared that they would be in the middle of a gun battle with state police than they were of the convicts themselves.

Miss Gilbert said the fugitives told of crawling through the tunnel on their hands and knees, then crawling another 250 feet through the snow to get out of range of prison lights.

Pontiac General Staff Elects New Chief

Newly elected chief of staff at Pontiac General Hospital is Dr. N. F. Gehringer, 39, who will begin a one-year term Jan. 1.

Gehringer succeeds Dr. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, who was named delegate-at-large on the hospital executive committee for 1954.

A member of the hospital's staff since 1941, Gehringer acted as vice-chief of staff this year. He received his medical degree from the University of Michigan.

Other 1954 staff officers include Dr. John P. Williams, vice chief; and Dr. Edward G. Bauer, secretary-treasurer.

Pontiac Man's Brother Steps Into a Nightmare

Donald Peck parked his car in front of the Jackson home of Joseph Watts, strode up the walk, rang the door bell and stepped inside — into a nightmarish situation. Five desperadoes, armed with a knife, a gun and a blackjack, held him at bay as they sized two women as hostages and escaped in his freshly-gassed Cadillac. Peck is the brother of Malcolm Peck, 88 N. Ardmore Ave., Pontiac.

Hostage Recalls Wild Ride With Convicts

but they saw it in time and backtracked to the first side road. Then Helen and I really were scared.

We were in constant fear — not of the convicts — but we were afraid a state police car might come along and open fire. Then, too, we thought we might get in trouble for helping them escape because we were sort of giving them directions when they asked us.

From then on it was just one set of back roads after another.

We finally ran out of gas near Climax (southeast of Battle Creek). There was a filling station open and we pulled in.

"You'll be okay if you don't make a sound," they told us, and we kept quiet.

A state police car passed as we pulled away from the gas station but they didn't notice us. Then it was more backroads until we drove almost to Flint and headed for Detroit — always on the side roads.

It was funny. All of them except the one called Usiondek (Roman Usiondek) were almost kind. One time I sort of bowed my head trying to stay awake and one of the convicts asked if I was sick.

Once they talked about the break and one of them said he felt like turning himself in after the were outside. He said there were too many to be successful.

Whenever they wanted to talk about their plans, though, they stopped the car and talked outside. Once we skidded into a ditch because there was ice on the road. Then Usiondek went wild, screaming about Dowling's driving and waiving a gun. It seemed as if they all were afraid of him.

We reached Detroit about 6:20 a. m. Neither Helen nor I know much about it but we stopped at Wyoming and Joy Roads (on the northwest side of the city). There was a consultation and two of them got out.

Then the other three left, but not before they gave us two dollars to use for food and phone calls. They told us not to turn in an alarm for at least 15 minutes.

We started to drive away but ran out of gas. There was a filling station open and we went in to call. We called the state police and then called home to let them know we were safe.

We hadn't eaten since Saturday afternoon. Even thought the convicts offered to stop and get us hamburgers and coffee during the ride — we were too nervous and keyed up to think of food.

Neither one of us slept, either, although one of the men in the back slept on the floor for a while.

When the Detroit police found us, we both found it hard to believe we were still alive.

U.N. Readies Appeal to Reluctant POWs

sion, said he would get the Americans' answer tomorrow.

Meanwhile, the Reds won back 34 of 250 Chinese captives as interviews were resumed after a 34-day stalemate.

This not only was the greatest number of prisoners the Communists have won back in a single day but was almost triple their best previous record percentagewise.

The previous records were set Oct. 31 when 21 of 459 North Koreans—4.6 per cent—elected to return to Communist rule. The best previous record with Chinese prisoners was far below this—10 won back out of 430 interviewed Oct. 17, a percentage of only 2.4.

In eight days of interviews the Communists have talked to 2,681 prisoners and have won back 104 or 3.9 per cent.

Compound B3, from which the prisoners were drawn Monday, appeared unusually docile. The prisoners agreed readily to permit interviews with half each day —something no other compound has done. The second 250 prisoners will go before Red explainers tomorrow.

Family Learns to Stretch Cash

New Book Suggests Setting Right Standard for Daily Living

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP)—The family budget can be stretched even further.

It may mean that father becomes the family barber and mother settles for last year's hemlines.

But there's hope for those about to surrender in the battle of the bills.

This hope is in a book by a couple with five children who learned how to stretch their income the hard way—by necessity. They say they managed, without feeling they were depriving themselves.

Robert and Helen Cissell found the cost of living increasingly out of control as their family grew. Mrs. Cissell has been teaching home economics and her husband is a professor at Xavier University, Cincinnati.

The two say there are three ways to handle family finances—two bad, and one good.

"One of the wrong methods," they said, "is for a family to try to get enough money to buy everything wanted by everyone in the family. A family will never win this way. . . uncontrolled wants will invariably out - distance even a rapidly rising income."

"The second wrong answer. . . is for the parents to shirk their duty, limiting the size of the family, so that the few survivors may have all the gadgets they want."

The right way, the Cissells said, is to set a standard of living which is within your income and control material wants. And let the whole family plan the budget.

Their book "Stretching The Family Income" (Joseph F. Wagner, New York), recommends budgeting by the year, but figuring expenses on a day-to-day basis instead of weekly or monthly.

"When reducing the daily expenses fails to balance the budget, start whittling on the so-called fixed expenses," they said.

"The answer may be in less elaborate living quarters or lower premium insurance, or postponing the new car."

The Cissells remind that cutting small expenses means large saving. Cut the food bill with home canning, do your own home maintenance, cut the children's hair yourself, ("practice makes perfect"), rebuild old toys.

"Save money by working together," they said. "At the same time you'll increase family unity."

And finally, the Cissells have a word about style changes.

"Sections of the clothing industry," they said, "operate on the idea that clothes are not made to wear but to go out of style. . . . While moving the hemline up and down may make a good living for those who dream up the new fashions, it can have a disastrous effect on the family budget."

Helicopter to Influence Future City Planning

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Society of Planning Officials says that the helicopter is "the coming means of transportation" in short-haul travel.

The helicopter has developed to the point where it should be considered in any long range city plan, and their use for commercial passenger transport in the short-haul market "will be increasing in the next 10 years," the society said.

City officials should start thinking now about "heliports" or landing areas for helicopters, the society added.

In 46 of the states, cities are authorized to establish courts to handle juvenile offenders.

Roses Are Safety Factors on Highways' Islands

SAGUS, Mass. (UP) — A motor vehicle research company reporting on rose bushes as a safety factor when planted on safety islands says they resist the impact of a car as gently as a normal, light application of brakes.

The tests were made to design methods of reducing fatal accidents on multilane highways where vehicles might skid or run out of control.

Driving Goes to Pot

CLOVIS, N. M. (UP)—A woman driver looked back to see that a flowerpot on the back seat was safe. She hit one car, then another and bounced the latter 19 feet into a tree. Total damage $470. The flowerpot was not damaged.

Jacoby on Games

Bolivia Rules Different on Scoring of Red Threes

By OSWALD JACOBY

The scoring of red threes in the various games of the canasta family leads to a certain amount of confusion and puzzlement.

Most people switch from one game to another without realizing that the rules about red threes also change.

The value of a single red three is always 100 points in any game of the canasta family.

The bonus for getting all of the red threes is always 400 points. In the game of canasta, played with two decks of cards, there are four red threes, each worth 100 points.

If your side gets all four of these red threes, you get the 400 points for them together with the bonus of 400 points, or a total of 800 points.

In the games of samba and bolivia, there are three packs, so that six red threes are in play.

If your side gets all six of them, you get 100 points apiece plus the bonus of 400 points, or a total of 1,000 points.

Thus far we have been on easy ground. We reach a difficulty when we discuss the question of whether to count the red threes as plus or as minus scores.

In the game of canasta your side gets credit for its red threes as soon as you have made any legal meld, even if that meld is only 15 points. This is very rare, to be sure, since the minimum first meld is usually 50 points or more.

The important principle is that any legal meld is enough; you don't need a canasta to get credit for your red threes.

If you don't have a legal meld, your red threes are counted against you. This doesn't mean that the red threes are not counted. They are counted as a minus score instead of as a plus score.

For example, suppose your side gets all four red threes in the very first hand of a game, but you cannot meld and your opponents meld out. The value of the cards in the partnership hands is counted against you, and so is the 100-point value of the four red threes. Your score for the hand is roughly minus 1,000.

In samba and in bolivia, you get credit for your red threes only after you have melded two canastas.

These can be canastas of any value. Two ordinary canastas, or two sambas, or one of each. In the game of bolivia you may count a canasta of wild cards as one of your two canastas. (You may even count two canastas of wild cards, if you happen to be so fantastically lucky as to get them.)

Special Levies Pay for Improvements

CHICAGO (UP)—Many cities are using special assessments to finance improvements in streets and sewers, curbs and sidewalks.

The International City Managers' Association reports its survey showed that 591 cities over 5,000 population use special assessment for paving streets.

It also said 540 cities in the same population group used that method to finance improvements in sewers; 539 for curbs and gutters and 527 for sidewalks.

Repaving of streets, water main extensions, street lighting, and off-street parking facilities also are financed in many cities by special assessments, the report said.

The survey said these four methods were used generally in special assessment projects; complete or partial advance payment by property owners, temporary loans from city funds, issuance of certificates or liens the contractor for doing the work and selling special assessment bonds.

Sisters' Babies Are Born Only 10 Minutes Apart

HAGERSTOWN, Ind. (AP) — Two sisters, who recently occupied the same room at the hospital gave birth to a son and a daughter 10 minutes apart.

Mrs. Joseph Longenecker, whose husband was serving with the army in Korea, became the mother of a son, Jay Curtis, while her sister, Mrs. James Giggy, gave birth to a daughter, Suzanne.

Mercury, the planet nearest the earth, is only 3,000 miles in diameter. It is the smallest planet.

Girls Threaten Move

DUNN, N. C. (UP)—Girl students at the local high school, obviously disgusted with the latest fad among male students, tacked this ultimatum on the bulletin board: "Unless those yo-yos disappear we're going to bring out our baby dolls and jump ropes."

Grandma's Brass Bed Back in Style From Yesteryear

CHICAGO (UP) — Grandma's brass bed is back in style.

Brass and ornamental iron beds have made a comeback, coincident with the general trend toward more metal in home furnishings, the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers reports.

But a brass bed can't be hauled from the attic and placed in use without renovation. The association says that a good metal polish, followed by a coat of non-tarnish lacquer, "will do wonders."

An old iron bed with cracked enamel can be renovated by removing the shabby paint and giving it a new coat.

"High colors, such as shocking pink, are popular today," the association said. "White suggests femininity, while dull black against charcoal walls, with colorful accent in spread and draperies are appropriate for a master bedroom."

The manufacturers said a brass bed is "particularly striking" among small, symmetrical modern pieces in the new dark woods, many of which have touches of polished brass.

Scenic Highways Reveal Many Imbibers' Bottles

HOLLISTER, Calif. (AP) — Ever toss an empty beer can or bottle away as you drove along a scenic road?

E. R. Hanna, San Benito County road commissioner, had county jail prisoners clean up such debris along a highway.

In one short stretch they gathered 595 beer cans, 42 quart beer bottles, 25 wine bottles and 6 whisky bottles.

Pall Mall, London's famous ceremonial route, gets its name from the ancient game of paille maille, a favorite of King Charles I and his courtiers. The idea of the sport is to strike a ball with the fewest possible blows through two iron arches set up at both ends of an alley.

Wedded Pairs Both Rich, Poor

Program Counts 1,853 Marriages During Past Seven Years

NEW YORK—Bride and Groom, the show which marries couples on television, is again before cameras.

Emceed by John Nelson, who has been the major domo at 1,853 weddings over the past seven years, the series is presented Mondays through Fridays. The telecasts originate in New York.

Bride and Groom couples have have come from 48 states and 17 foreign countries. There have been atom bomb scientists and zoologists, doctors, lawyers, policemen, clergymen and even a multi-millionaire.

The youngest couple to be married on the show was a 17-year-old pair, and the oldest, 75-year-olds who met at a Townsend Club meeting.

Nelson declares that one of the most interesting things he has learned on the show is that 90 per cent of the time it's the bride who prompts the thought of marriage, and that grooms are twice as nervous as brides.

Prominent and obscure couples are married on the program ... but some of the better-known people include tennis star Tom Falkenburg, Rose Bowl "Queen" Norma Christopher, World War II ace Capt. John Babel, an All-American footbal star Fred Crawford (of Duke).

Nelson says he has heard people question the propriety of getting married on television, but points out that the weddings of both Queen Elizabeth and former Vice President Barkley were broadcast or televised.

As he puts it: "It seems to me that people are interested in romance whether it involves an English queen or an unknown American girl."

"I've always felt that the gifts we give are not the primary reason why couples get married on Bride and Groom.

The chief reason is, generally, that they have families and friends scattered around the country who couldn't possibly attend the wedding except through the medium of television."

Included in the full-scale wedding given Bride and Groom's couples are the songs of Phil Hanna, the organ music of Ivan Ditmars and the harp rendition of Verlye Mills.

Notorious Gate-Crasher, James Connelly Dies

ZION, Ill. (AP)—James Leo (One-eyed) Connelly, who until 19 years ago made a career out of crashin gates of major sports events and political conventions, died last night in a rest home. He was 84.

Until he was 65, he never worked, his best friend, Nick Keller said. He lived by his wits, and he made it a point of honor to be present at all big sporting events and political conventions—without a ticket.

When he did go to work, it was as greeter and chef in a restaurant near Zion operated by Keller.

Student Meets, Marries Girl on Skid Row

CHICAGO (AP) — A divinity student's term project led him to his bride on skid row.

Last March, George E. Weber, 25, grew a beard and became a bum as a part of his sociology studies at Garrett Biblical Institute. Later he abandoned this role to work in human rehabilitation with the Rev. William Seath, superintendent of the Chicago Christian Industrial League.

Weber and Mr. Seath's 18-year-old daughter Wilma were married yesterday in the league's chapel. Mr. Seath both gave away the bride and performed the ceremony.

Party Drought Hits Newsmen in State Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may be a dry year for Christmas office parties in government buildings—the drought already has reached the State Department press room.

The State Department Correspondents Assn. called off its traditional Christmas party, usually attended by top officials, when Under Secretary of State Donald B. Lourie sent the newsmen word the ban on liquor would extend into the quarters they use.

All office parties in State Department divisions will be nonalcoholic. And there were signs the same rule wuld apply in other governmet departments.

If a fire breaks out in Santiago, Chile, the owner or manager of the building is usually arrested and must prove, if he can, that the fire was of accidental origin.

Michigan Sailor Gets Top Award

William Charette Cited for Action as Medical Corpsman in Korea

LUDINGTON (AP) — William R. Charette, a 21-year-old Michigan sailor, has been awarded the nation's highest award for bravery under fire — the congressional medal of honor.

Charette was told Saturday by the chief of naval personnel in Washington that he is to receive the medal for action as a medical corpsman in a Marine rifle company in Korea, March 27, 1951.

The citation said:

"Charette, in combat at an outpost exposed himself to enemy mortar fire and small arms fire to better care for the wounded men.

"At one time, displaying complete disregard for his own safety, Charette protected his wounded companions against an enemy grenade. The grenade rolled to a spot a few feet from Charette and his woundec men.

"He threw himself on the men and absorbed the grenade blast with his body, suffering a severe facial wound."

He was the seventh Michigan serviceman to be so honored. Said Charette: "I did nothing more than my duty. If anyone is to be praised it should be my companions."

Strange Are the Ways of College Graduations

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UP)— John Francis Clark of DeKalb and his elementary teacher of 25 years ago, Mrs. Belle Cobb of Yazoo City, received their M.A. degrees this summer at Mississippi Southern College.

Two families furnished three members each to the class. Mr. and Mrs. John Henley of Johnston Station and their daughter, Mary Gail, graduated along with Mrs. Lela C. Weatherford of Petal, her son and son-in-law.

Beulah and Thelma Tisdale of Bogalusa, La., started school together, stayed in the same classes together until they graduated at Southern. The same was true for Alfred and Albert Breeland, twin brothers from Biloxi.

Excuse for Stropping

CORN, Okla. (AP)— The Rev. L. H. Smith was asked recently why he used an old fashioned, straight edge razor. He replied that in raising boys in his home he found a need, at times, for a razor strop. And since he had to have one for that purpose, he explained, he decided he might as well have the kind of razor calling for strop sharpening.

UAW Repudiates Foreigner Charge

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union said today that it could not condone and had not authorized a printed charge that General Motors imported "foreign immigrants" while 4,000 local workers were idle.

Mike Lacy and Edward Cote, regional directors for the union over whose names the charge was printed, joined the union in repudiating it.

In a joint statement, Lacy, Cote and the international union said that GM had hired only some "skilled tradesmen from Canada" and they could not condone calling them "foreign immigrants."

The previous news release, issued Saturday by Kaiser Motors Local 142 and Livonia Local 735 of the UAW, also claimed that GM had advertised in other states for workers while the local 4,000 were unemployed.

Adrian Police Jail Man in His Wife's Murder

ADRIAN (AP)—Police held Floyd Moss, 33, today in connection with the slaying of his estanged wife, Mrs. Verda Evans Moss, 48, yesterday in her Adrian home.

Police said Moss, in Lenawee County Jail, probably will face first-degree murder charges.

Police Commissioner William Howe said Moss signed a statement admitting killing the thrice-married woman. They had been married since last July, but had not been living together for some time.

Police Recruits—Ha!

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — State Police who were giving examinations to would-be recruits were impressed by a group of 40 husky young men who wandered in. Pencils and paper had been distributed before one of the newcomers blurted, "I think we're in the wrong room." He explained they were members of a visiting football squad.

Man 'Finds' Bill So Kids Can Get Beautiful Dolls

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The little girl held the pretty doll close.

"Can we have these?" she asked hopefully, speaking for herself and two very young sisters.

The mother stood perplexed, clutching a $5 bill. The doll cost $1.98, three would come to $5.94.

She gently pulled the girls away from the department store doll counter.

A man standing nearby moved forward and bent down. When he raised up he held a dollar bill.

"Did you lose this?" he asked.

"No," replied the mother in a soft, earnest voice.

"Well, you must have lost it, because I found it right here," the man replied, pushing the dollar bill into her hand.

The mother brushed away a tear as the clerk wrapped three $1.95 dolls.

Waldron Installs Fire Safeguard

Local Hotel 1st in State to Adopt New Electronic Alarm System

By WILLIAM THOMAS

An electronic fire alarm system, termed by Pontiac Fire Marshall Charles E. Metz as an "advancement to Pontiac fire safety," was installed this week at Hotel Waldron.

The system, which normally allows each room the choice of five radio stations plus a television outlet, is thrown into gear when any part of the building becomes warmer than 160 degrees. At that heat an overhead indicator, placed in each room, is melted and an alarm is set off alerting the desk clerk.

Each 10-room unit forms a "cluster" and after glancing at the control panel near the hotel desk, the clerk can tell in which "cluster" the fire is located and thus quickly direct firemen to the scene.

After spotting the fire, via signal panel, the clerk will then throw an emergency switch which cuts off all radio programs any guest might have coming through his individual speaker, and in its place comes a loud warning signal.

Hotel guests can then be "talked out of the hotel" by the clerk who throws the switch from "siren" to "talk" to broadcast warnings and advice to each room. Correct use of the "talk" switch can avert any panic which might otherwise overcome sleepy guests.

If for some reason the clerk is unable to use the inside microphone, an outside "mike" can be plugged in by firemen who can direct evacuation from the street.

The system, developed by the American Communications Corp. of New York City, is the first of its type in any Michigan city, according to the company's field engineer, Ralph Captain.

"You can't have too much safeguarding of human lives," said Howard Heldenbrand, owner of the Waldron Hotel, who added that this new alarm system comes at a time when people are conscious of hotel fires.

"Another advantage of this system is that you catch the fire before it has a chance to spread," he said.

Captain, who says that he has installed over 100 electronic fire warning systems, expects every hotel in the country eventually to incorporate one.

"Our alarm is also a good air-raid warning devise," said Captain. "I wish more of these systems were used in Pontiac," said Metz, who praised the new alarm setup after an inspection tour

Farm Combine Spurred by City's Purchase of Mill Street Mart

Some 30 farmers Saturday organized the Oakland County Cooperative Growers, Inc., to operate a temporary farmers' market in Pontiac after Dec. 31.

The new organization has applied to Michigan Corporations and Securities Commission for incorporation papers, Edmond W. Alchin, Oakland County agricultural agent, said today.

Producers meeting Saturday named Leroy Currin and Hazen Conners, Milford; Emmert DeConick, Farmington; John Holland and Allie Johnston, Oxford; and Harmon Beatty, Hartland, to the six-man board of directors.

"Organizaing this co-op is the only way the producers can legally operate a market by themselves," Alchin explained.

Producers who have been selling farm goods at the present market at 40 Mill St. will be on their own —at least temporarily—after Dec. 31, he said.

Pontiac City Commission has bought out Oakland County's interest in the Mill Street market and plans to use it for off-street parking.

Oakland County Board of Supervisors has discussed a new local market, but no building has yet been provided.

The producers have asked Pontiac City officials for permission to set up Saturday markets at the Oakland County 4-H Fairgrounds at Walton Boulevard and Perry Street until a new market is ready. The farmers would temporarily cancel Tuesday and Thursday markets, Alchin said.

600 Join City's Urban League

6-Week Campaign Ups Membership From 500 to 1,100

In a six-week drive just ended Sam Logan, community relations director of Pontiac's Urban League, has raised the group's membership from 500 to about 1,100.

"I rang doorbells and explained to people how important it was for them to join the league so we could expand our work of improving racial relations in Pontiac," he said.

"When I took over my job 10 months ago I spent time getting familiar with the city, organized community projects and acted as coordinator in community discussions of common problems," Logan said.

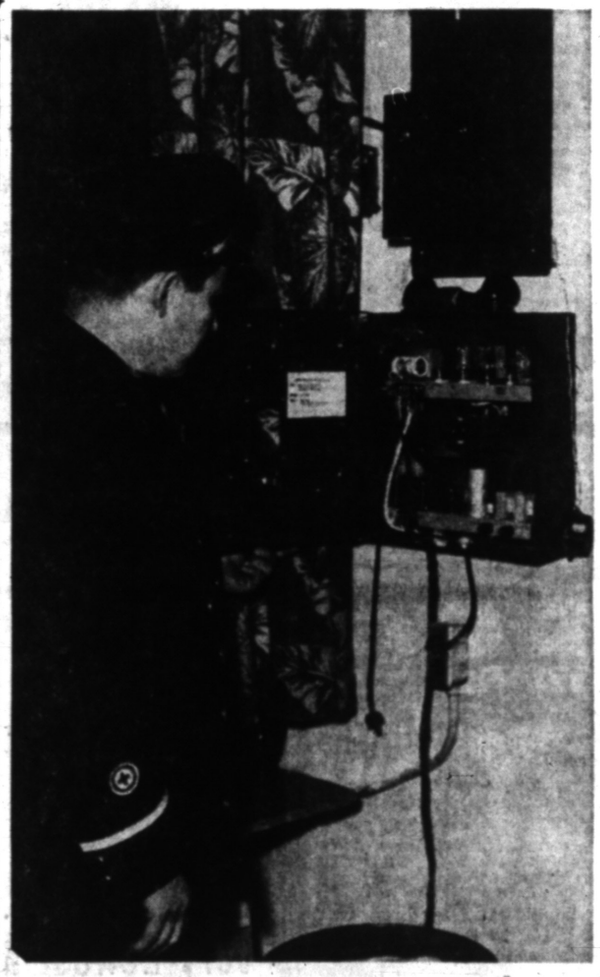

He has worked with youth groups affiliated with the Michigan State Youth Advisory Committee and the local Youth Council. He seeks to coordinate the activities of neighborhood groups and to avoid duplication of effort by similar groups in the community. He works with neighborhood residents in an effort to stimulate efforts at home and area improvements, beautification and maintenance.

"Our league in interested in housing, vocation guidance, employment placement, helping communities to better themselves through unified effort and aiding children in school who are beset with particular problems," he explained.

"We also work with other social agencies to improve interracial relations and promote better understanding."

The 30-year-old Logan spent six-months "in-service training" as director with Cleveland's Urban League before joining the local League's staff.

Previously he had taught school in Rocky Mount, N. C. He was graduated in 1949 from St. Augustine's College in Raleigh, N. C., with a major in social science.

INSPECTS EQUIPMENT—"Nerve center" of the radio fire alarm system installed this week at Hotel Waldron is inspected by Pontiac Fire Marshall Charles Metz. A switch in the control box, which Metz has opened, will allow a desk clerk to alert all patrons by siren if fire breaks out. A microphone attachment enables clerk to broadcast advice to fleeing guests.

Local Observer Corps Will Meet Again Jan. 5

Pontiac Ground Observers' Corp post has cancelled its regular Tuesday night meetings until after Jan. 1, Ray Best, post supervisor announced today.

Next meeting of the skywatchers wil be Tuesday night, Jan. 5, at Oakland County Office Building, 1 Lafayete St.

Chief Warns City of Crime Jump During Holidays

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, warned Pontiac residents and merchants of an increase in crimes which are usually prevalent during holiday periods.

He said that shoplifting, passing of worthless checks, breakins of homes and business places, holdups, and purse snatching have increased slightly since the first of the month.

Wheaton also said that many women are reporting the loss of theft of their purses while shopping in busy districts.

"It's easy to let your mind sway from your purse or other personal belongings while shopping," Wheaton said. "Either carry your money in your pocket or check your articles occasionally while shopping," he advised.

He also warned that women should not walk alone on dark streets, especially if they are carrying a purse.

Filipino Spy 'Joey' Needs Help in Becoming Citizen

By BILLY ROSE

During the past seven years I've written over a thousand columns —about a million words—and I have never used one of these words to ask anybody to write or wire his Congressman about anything.

Today, however, I'm going to urge my reader—and their sisters, cousins and aunts—to get in touch with their senators and representatives on behalf of a Philippine woman named Josefina Guerrero who wants to become a citizen of the United States.

BILLY ROSE

Who is Josefina Guerrero? Well, if you haven't already read it in one of the national magazines, here's her story. . . .

In 1941 Josefina, called "Joey" by her friends, was 23 years old, married to a medical student in Manila, and mother of a two-year-old daughter named Cynthia. One day her doctor noticed a strange blotch on her body and, after a series of tests, told her she had leprosy and advised her to leave her home at once.

Joey packed and left that night.

When the Japs landed in Manila in 1942, they took over the hospital in which Joey was being treated and turned her and the other patients out into the street. A few days later she was attacked by two drunken Japanese soldiers, but beat them off with such frenzy that a member of the Philippine underground who witnessed the incident asked if she'd like to join up.

For the next two years, despite her aching head and blotchy skin, Joey smuggled in food and medicine to American internees and prisoners of war, and smuggled out military information which the guerrillas in the hills radioed to Australia.

When our troops landed on Leyte, it was Joey who mapped the Japanese fortifications on the Manila waterfront and their anti-aircraft batteries along Dewey Boulevard. These maps she managed to get through to her underground contacts by concealing them in hollowed-out apples and oranges. She was, of course, stopped many times by Japanese sentries, but when they saw her lacerated face and swollen hands they drew back in fear and let her pass.

Early in 1945 when the 37th Infantry Division was blasting its way into Manila, Joey took on her most dangerous job. The Japanese had mined and booby-trapped an area through which the Allied forces had to pass and a detailed map of the danger spots had to be delivered to Division headquarters 40 miles north of the capital. Joey volunteered to walk the 40 miles through the Japanese lines.

En route, time after time, the Japanese questioned her, but her mauled face was her passport. Twice Joey was arrested but, thanks to her sores, got away. And when she finally reached American headquarters, the map taped between her shoulder blades, she was too sick to eat the pancakes they made for her.

Shortly after the armistice, the U. S. War Department awarded Joey the Medal of Freedom with silver palm, one of the highest decorations it can bestow on an alien. In 1948 she received something even more important to her —a temporary visa to enter the United States, and permission to go to the Leprosarium at Carville, Louisiana.

At Carville, Joe was treated with the new sulfone drugs and, as of today, the disease is completely arrested in her. Her head no longer aches, she can eat normally again, and there are only a few scars left on her face.

Early this year the U.S. Immigration Service informed Joey that her visa had expired and she would have to be deported. The officials were sympathetic but—well, the law was the law.

Moved by her story, Representative James H. Morrison of Louisiana introduced a bill to grant her citizenship, and persuaded the Immigration authorities to let her remain until the measure came up. Unfortunately, the bill died in committee. However, it will be introduced again by the Louisiana legislator when Congress convenes next month, and a similar bill, I understand, will be submitted to the Senate.

So far, so good—but bills, even the best of them, have a way of getting lost on Capitol Hill.

And, at the risk of sounding like a professional do-gooder, I urge you to give Joey the break she rates and do a bit of wiring or writing yourself. In your own words or mine, here's what I'd suggest you say:

"I think Josefina Guerrero, one of our top spies in the war against Japan, should be permitted to remain in the United States. Please do your best to expedite the bill introduced by Rep. James H. Morrison of Louisiana, which wil come before the Judiciary Committee when Congress convenes."

Will Backtrack City Test Well to Upper Water

Pontiac's test water well at Telegraph Rd. and W. Walton Blvd. struck shale at 336 feet and is being filled in for further experiment at the 114 foot level.

Drilling was stopped when shale was hit because below that level water is too hard for use in Pontiac's system, according to Joseph Gable, acting city water superintendent.

Water was hit between 60 and 114 feet.

"We'll fill in to that level and determine productivity of the supply," Gable said.

If 300 to 500 gallons per minute are obtainable, a pump will probably be constructed, he added.

Paper Napkins Edible, Says Technical Director

ERVING, Mass. (UP) — Here's food for thought: now you can have your napkin — and eat it, too!

Paper napkins are as edible as broccoli — if you like broccoli. Morris Rubin, technical director of the Erving Paper Co., said that tthe "pure cellulose used in the manufacture of paper napkins is the same ingredient found in all green vegetables."

Rubin added that 99.9 per cent of paper napkins are nothing more or less than processed cellulose. Moreover, for the diet-minded, they contain no calories.

Man Gets Three Years to Figure Out Escapade

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UP) — John Reid, 27, stepped on the gas and let 'er rip through Charlotte's business district.

People ran for their lives. Three cars, one pedestrian and a telephone pole didn't quite make it and were hit by the plunging automobile.

Finally captured, Reid said: "I don't know why I done it."

A judge gave him three years in prison to figure it out.

Friendship, Friendship

WESTBROOK, Conn. (UP) — After an election victory over finance board member Daniel Wren, Jr., John A Holbrook resigned, explaining: "Wren is a very good friend, and I don't want to take his position away from him."

Sweeter Corn Is Developed

Plumper Variety First Truly New Strain, Illinois Botanist Claims

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—Sweeter, plumper, long-lasting corn—the first truly new strain in centuries—is promised in the scientific findings of Prof. John R. Laughnan, botanist at the University of Illinois.

In the professional journal, Genetics, Laughnan reported that he has developed a strain of corn four times as sweet as any sweet corn now known. The new type is 10 times sweeter than field corn, he added.

He said his work in genetics and biochemistry resulted in the improved strain, the first entirely new type since Columbus discovered America and the Puritans marveled at the maize eaten by the Indians.

The new strain, he said, would not begin to lose its flavor as soon as it was picked, a major problem in the marketing of present strains.

He said the kernels would be plumper but otherwise there would be little change in appearance.

Incorporation of the new type into present corn strains for marketing would probably take from three to six years, Laughnan said.

He said the new advantages do not come from the "sugar" inheritance factor, or gene, of present sweet corn. They are induced by another gene, called "shrunken-2," the botanist said. The latter gene, he explained, inhibits the normal corn process of converting sugar to starch.

Theater-Going 'Worry Warts' Catch Taxis, but Miss Part of Show

Budd Schulberg, author of "The Harder They Fall" and "What Makes Sammy Run," tells how theater-going "worry warts" are likely to miss half the show.

SCHULBERG

The other afternoon, while waiting outside a Broadway theater to pick up my wife and children at the end of a matinee, a little lesson in human behavior was enacted for me on the sidewalk.

Eager to be prompt and not lose my family in the outpouring crowd, I reached the theater entrance about five minutes before the end of the performance. Inside, the show was riding to its climax and I could hear the applause, the laughter, the pleasurable hum that is the unmistakable esperanto of responsive audiences throughout the world.

This happened to be "The King and I", one of the most imaginative musicals Broadway has produced, and having seen it earlier I could see in mind's eye the bitter sweet finale in which the grave Siamese children and their comically despotic royal father bid goodbye to the English lady who has tried to teach them Western ways.

I was thinking how few shows of this calibre there have been, how American in the best, and refreshingly creative sense this show was and how lucky were the people inside to be seeing it for the first time.

At this moment I was almost knocked over by one of the swinging doors leading from the lobby. A middle-aged couple brushed me aside as they hurried to the curb, their faces set in identical grimaces of determination.

"Harold, there's one, there's one!" the woman cried, and with expressions of harrassed triumph they hailed a cab.

Then out came another couple who were not so much leaving the theater as making their escape from it. From the desperate look in their eyes, I half expected to hear the shrill cry of the prison siren and the warden's tense order to bring 'em back dead or alive. This couple, like the first, flagged a cab and made their get away.

"Was the show over?" I asked the doorman. "Oh no, there are three more minutes." "Then what about these people?" I asked as a third couple came sprinting to the curb.

"These are the worry-warts," the doorman said.

"The what?"

"The ones who worry all through the last scene whether or not they are going to get a cab. The ones who are afraid they may have to walk down to the corner and wait a few minutes. The ones who don't want to be caught in a jam coming out."

He helped the third set of worry-warts into their cab with a beautifully camouflaged smile.

Two minutes later the end of the show was signalled by prolonged applause. It rose, subsided, and then swelled again, and then again, A good sound. The show was alive and so was the audience. At least half a dozen curtain calls.

The onlookers had enjoyed their entertainment and now they were staying in their seats to tell the performers how they felt about them. For some two and a half hours they had been taking, you might say, and now for an extra minute or two they were on the giving end and the actors, still breathing hard from a strenuous effort, were receiving their due.

As I searched the crowd for my faces, I couldn't help marking the difference between these theatergoers and the scattered few who had been careful to miss the final curtain. These people were jammed together to the point of discomfort but their faces were animated. They were talking over the show, which number they liked best and how good the cast was.

It is true that they had to wait in line for cabs, and that some of those further back got discouraged and decided to leave on foot. But as my own family rejoined me, all telling me at once about their favorite moments, and as we started walking toward Broadway because now the street was full of people waving futilely at occupied cabs, I was awfully grateful for that five minute bit of research into givers and takers.

For there in the lobby of this side-street theater it was clear as it would ever be anywhere. People are conveniently divided —male and female, liberal and conservative, peaceful and bellicose, introvert and extrovert, but perhaps no two categories have more meaning for us than the givers and the takers.

Gives feel a sense of involvement with their fellow beings. If someone entertains them, they bestir themselves to tell him so. If someone weeps, they are moved to comfort him. The takers seal themselves off in vacuums of self-interest and are concerned only with their own petty creature comforts. In their haste to beat the crowd, to catch that first cab, they miss the finales and—much more—the satisfaction of rounding out an experience and sharing in the fun.

Tree Cutters Leave Branch

Stump to Pine in 4 Years

KALAMAZOO (AP)—"Woodsman, spare that tree!"—or if you're a Christmas tree cutter, at least watch how you use your ax!

Kalamazoo area Christmas tree producers have taken these words to heart.

Arthur Sowles, his son, Walter, and his son-in-law Bob Verderber, have developed a method of Christmas tree cutting that will cause the state's $4,500,000 a year Yuletide tree business to flourish.

Sowles used to cut Christmas trees as fast he could wield an ax. This year, the Oshtemo tree grower takes more time.

He cuts his Christmas trees in such a manner as to leave at least one branch on the stump.

The single branch isn't for decoration purposes, Sowles says. It is used to produce a new tree on the old stump.

"Using this method," Sowles said, "we can produce a marketable Christmas tree in three to four years. If you raise Christmas trees from seedlings, it takes six years."

The idea of using old stumps to grow new trees isn't original.

Plant pathologists and botanists have known for many years that it was possible for a pine tree to produce more than one crop from a single stump. The process is known as "turn up" in the Christmas tree industry.

The system, as of now, isn't as profitable as it could be. Sowles and his helpers have to prune the second crop trees to achieve marketable shapes.

Air Force Wives Brighten Lives of French Orphans

MONTIGNY, France (UP) —Tucked away behind the stone walls of Maison Ste. Marie on the outskirts of this small French village are 60 abandoned French children, 2 to 12 years old.

Two years ago some of them did not have even a toothbrush.

Today, they are better-fed, better-clothed and feel they have a better chance in life because of the wives of U. S. Air Force officers serving at Fontainebleau headquarters of NATO's Allied Air Forces Central Europe.

Tomorrow?

The wives club is worried. When the cold war brought the transfer of central air commander Gen. Lauris A. Norstad to Paris he had to take many of his staff officers with him. With these officers went their wives.

A small group still is trying to carry on. But they say they need help. They need money for coal, canned mea , powdered milk, sugar, chocolate and anything else that might be useful for children that age.

"There are now fewer of us here to help the children," said Mrs Dudley D. Hale, wife of Brig. Gen. Hale, AAFCE's deputy chief of staff for operations.

We need coa., sheets, mattresses and a fire extinguisher badly," added Mrs. Gretchen Gorog, wife of Capt. W. F. Gorog of Warren, Ohio.

This small cluster of needy but unwanted children came to the attention of the wives in 1951. Now hardly a week goes by that some festivity is not arranged to clear the drabness in their lives.

Mrs. Hale, a native of Paris, Ky., has brought the natural hospitality of the Blue Grass State, as well as its traditional neighborliness, into this French setting.

Bright - eyed, seven - year - old Yvonne summed up the meaning of American help as she looked fondly at her now one-season-old overcoat:

"You see, this is the first thing I ever had which was mine when it was new."

Burglar Comes Back, Gets PAIRS of Shoes

SAGINAW (UP) — A burglar broke into Lent's Shoe Store but an oversight made his loot practically worthless.

David Lent said none of the stolen shoes matched.

At Long Last Arrives

KOSCIUSKO, Miss. (UP)—This city of 6,800 named in 1834 for the Polish patriot, Gen. Thadeus Kosciusko, will soon acquire its first citizen of Polish descent. S/Sgt. Jerome J. Kraftowicz of Milwaukee, now stationed at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala., recently married a Kosciusko girl and has bought a farm near here on which to settle when he is discharged.

Paul Bunyan Statue Gets One-Year Stay

VISALIA, Calif. (UP) — A one-year stay of execution has been granted Paul Bunyan and his blue ox, Babe, by Tulare County's planning commission.

Irked by the traffic jam caused by motorists who park along Highway 198 in Three Rivers near here to inspect the 30-ton redwood statue of the legendary characters, the commissioners had been seeking its removal to a less congested spot. However, they granted the reprieve after the carver, Carroll Barnes, suggested establishment of a parking area.

Surviving Brodie Twin Goes Home for the Holidays

CHICAGO (UP)—This will be the first Christmas at home for 27-month-old Rodney Brodie, the survivor of Brodie Siamese twins.

Doctors at the University of Illinois Research Hospital gave their approval yesterday to the request of Rodney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, to take him home for the holidays.

* * *

The jubilant parents immediately set out by car with him for their farm home near Ferris, Ill., where the little boy can become better acquainted with his four brothers and sisters.

* * *

"We have no special plans," Mrs. Brodie said before leaving. "Our Christmas will be similar to that in most homes."

"We have looked forward to this for a long time," said the father. "The entire family will be present for the first time."

Rodney has lived in hospitals since birth, first at St. Anthony's in Rock Island, where he and his twin Roger were born, then at the research hospital in Chicago. Roger died 34 days after an operation separated them Dec. 17, 1952.

Surgeons still must provide a hard protective skull cover before Rodney can leave their care.

Democrats Ask Policy Details

Claim Must Be Shown Before They'll Support Ike's Program

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (UP)—Several Democratic senators said today that what President Eisenhower calls his sound, progressive program will have to convince Democrats in Congress of its merits if it is to get their support.

While the Democratic comment included predictions that his proposals would not automatically be opposed on party lines, there were complaints about the exclusively Republican invitation list to last week's White House conferences on the legislative program.

* * *

Some Democrats criticized what they said was secrecy maintained about the outcome of the conferences. The President announced the scope of the discussions, but apparently is reserving most details for his nationwide broadcast Jan. 4 and State of the Union message to Congress Jan. 7. He has said he plans to work on those late this week.

Some of his advisers have suggested a stripped-down program, limited to a few vital issues.

Whether or not this course is followed, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) predicted Eisenhower may encounter more trouble within his own party than from Democrats on some proposals.

Humphrey said in an interview he thought there would be more division among Republicans than among Democrats on foreign policy, state-federal relationships and foreign trade.

Some Democrats, he said, felt that Atty. Gen. Brownell "went beyond fair play" in the controversy over Harry Dexter White. Brownell said former President Truman promoted White despite FBI reports of evidence linking White to Soviet espionage. Truman said an appointment of White was allowed to stand to avoid revealing FBI investigations.

* * *

But Humphrey added he doubts the Democratic feeling on this issue will affect his party's attitude on legislation.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) agreed, in a separate interview, but said of the Eisenhower legislative program as it has been outlined so far:

"It doesn't seem to have a very large dynamo and it doesn't look like it is going to progress very far."

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said in an interview, "It will be a good trick if the Republicans can cut defense expenditures and have stronger defense, if they can cut taxes and still balance the budget and if they can expand social security while freezing the payments."

Memphis Seeks to Spare Hotel of Edison Fame

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Orders to tear down a building where Thomas A. Edison once lived have resulted in a drive here to honor the inventor.

Edison lived in Memphis as a young man in the 1860s, moving away before he attained prominence. It wasn't until 1879, at Menlo Park, N. J., that he invented his electric light.

The drive began after wreckers were ordered to raze the old hotel where Edison had lived to make way for a new building.

Mrs. J. D. Mallory got an option to buy the property and urged a fund-raising campaign to convert the place into a museum.

Then Piomingo Park across from where Edison lived, was renamed Thomas A. Edison Park.

Mrs. Stephen A. Fransioli, whose father-in-law built the small hotel, still has the key to the room in which Edison lived.

"It's a very curious one, solid copper," she said. "I inherited the building, and when forced to sell it during the depression, I kept the key to Edison's room."

Tuberculosis is not hereditary but is caused by a germ.

Lewis May Bid for ILA Election

UMW Chief Reported Seeking Leadership on N. Y. Waterfront

WASHINGTON (UP)—United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis may be readying an open bid today to become new labor chief of the turbulent New York waterfront.

It was reliably reported that Capt. William Bradley, newly chosen president of the allegedly crime-ridden International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) was due here from New York to visit Lewis.

Bradley's visit appeared obviously timed for its effect on the balloting tomorrow in a National Labor Relations Board election between the ILA, and the new union which the AFL formed only a few months ago, saying its efforts to force a cleanup had failed. Crime probers have accused the old ILA of harboring criminals and a number of its officials have been indicted.

* * *

There seems little doubt that Lewis has been working quietly but persistently in behalf of the old ILA. Last week an official of the AFL-ousted ILA reports that Lewis had supplied a $50,000 loan to help fight the new AFL union.

The 73-year-old Lewis declined any comment, but it is reported that his brother and top organizer in labor sectors outside the coal industry, A. D. (Denny) Lewis, has met frequently with officials of the old ILA.

The reported loan led to speculation that the old ILA is destined to become part of District 50 of the United Mine Workers. Denny Lewis heads District 50. This is the UMW branch of all sorts of Lewis-organized workers outside the coal industry.

Lewis has been trying for some time to get a foothold in New York City. Brother Denny launched a campaign a few years ago to try to organize the city's taxicab drivers, but the plan flopped.

The fact there appears to be little love lost between UMW chief Lewis and leaders of the AFL and CIO may have as much as anything to do with the UMW move in the present longshore situation.

Couple Hopes 'Orphan's' Plea to Santa Isn't a Hoax

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A suburban couple hope a message from Canada today will help them out of an unhappy Christmas dilemma.

It began Friday when Mr. and Mrs. John D. Westhoff of Westbrook Park bought a Christmas tree. Attached to it was a note. In a childish scrawl it read:

"Dear Santa—I am a poor little orphan girl, age 12, and I would like to have for Christmas an angora hat and mits set. Color red, if possible. Thank you, Santa. Love and kisses. Eva Hughes."

The writer gave her address as "Springfield, Kings Co., N. B., Canada."

* * *

Then, because they wanted to "help a poor little girl have a happy Christmas," the Westhoffs organized a gift-raising campaign among the neighbors. Mrs. Westhoff bought the red angora hat and mittens.

All concerned pitched in to help the "orphan" girl in Canada have a Christmas such as she never dreamed. Then came disillusionment.

The manager of the Philadelphia Better Business Bureau, Verner Gaggin, heard about the note and cautioned the Westhoffs that it might all be a hoax.

Repeated checks of similar letters have been made and none has ever proved legitimate, Gaggin said.

* * *

The bureau's chief investigator, George Conner, said such a racket has been going on for over 20 years.

"Already 20 or 30 letters have been turned over to the bureau this year," he said, "and the worst is yet to come. Usually they are attached to the larger, more expensive trees in hopes someone of means or an organization will receive them and respond.

The Westhoffs were bewildered and crushed.

"We've got six or seven gifts now with another 10 or 15 coming," Westhoff explained. "Now I don't know what to do."

Mrs. Westhoff said "the whole thing has just about spoiled our Christmas."

* * *

Meanwhile, a neighbor of the Westhoffs, Thomas Waters, a contributor to the gift collection himself, decided to check. He called the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at a barracks near Springfield in New Brunswick. Officials there said the notes are a common practice among children who live many miles from towns and rarely get an opportunity to see Santa. But they promised to investigate this particular case.

The Westhoffs hope the mounties are able to turn up a real, live little orphan, named Eva Hughes.

Kean Offers Compromise Corporate Tax Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise on the issue of giving corporations income tax relief has the backing of Rep. Robert W. Kean (R-NJ), a member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Kean proposed yesterday dropping the corporate tax rate from the present 52 per cent to 50 per cent, effective Jan. 1, 1955.

Under resent law the rate is scheduled to drop to 47 per cent next April 1, but the Eisenhower administration has asked Congress to cancel the reduction.

20 M.P.H. Seems Faster When Chasing Tractor

FAIRVIEW, Mont. (AP) — Farmer John Reidle's tractor took off, unmanned, into the darkness. He chased it — across railroad tracks, through fences, a beet field and across a road. It just missed a car.

Reidle said his tractor could go only 20 m. p. h. but after his chase afoot he swore: "It seemed to go twice that fast."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark

Survey Shows Industries Ease School Taxes

CHICAGO (UP)—Suburban residential areas have found that commercial and industrial development can ease the tax burden of public schools, according to the Municipal Finance Officers Association.

The association cited a recent study of Anne Arundel County, Md., a community that is primarily residential.

An analysis of one large housing development showed that each school child required $107 of county taxes per year. The development was supplying about 50 per cent of that required amount.

The study also showed that county services required by industrial or commercial developments were low in cost compared to those required by residential areas.

As a result, the association said, taxes on such property could be used to offset the cost of services for residential areas.

In a similar study, it was found that the average home in a new subdivision in San Mateo County, Calif., yielded less than $50 a year in taxes for school purposes. It cost the county $204 to maintain a child in school one year, not counting capital expenditures or bond costs.

Many of the homes in the area sent more than one child to school.

DOWNBEAT FOR FAIR—Little Francois Lesueur finds the Scrap Iron Fair in Paris an excellent opportunity to demonstrate his aptitude as a tympanist, at the same time drumming up attendance at the annual event.

Plastic dishes, made of polyethylene, and flexible bottles of the same material, can be toughened by bombardment with powerful electron beams. They can withstand sterilizing steam.

Haverford School Operates in Black Due to Ex-Student

In fact, the 120-year-old institution on Philadelphia's "Main Line" can now afford "guest" instructors who would make the nation's larger universities sit up and take notice.

The general face-lifting is credited to William Phillips, an alumnus who became a leading New York attorney and investment banker. He left his alma mater the residue of his estate, totaling $2,000,000, when he died in 1950 at the age of 68.

Philips, a shrewd investor with a passion for Shakespeare, provided in his will that half the estimated $80,000 annual income from his estate be used for "general purposes."

The provision has resulted in a salary increase for the 50 faculty members and the end of deficit financing for the institution.

The rest of the money is to be used for collecting "Renaissance literature centered around Shakespeare, learned periodicals for the college library" and to have "distinguished guests visit the campus."

Dr. Gilbert F. White, 41-year-old president of the college, said the school inaugurated its "Philips' Visitors' lectures this semester. He said plans call for series of lectures on various subjects by top-flight experts.

Fear Vienna Doomed by 2083

Feel Falling Birth Rate May Extinguish Famed Danube City

VIENNA (INS)—Vienna city officials say this beautiful city on the banks of the Blue Danube is doomed for "complete extinction" in exactly 130 years.

The officials said Vienna, famous for its care-free people and as the birthplace of the Vienna waltz, will be a deserted place "like a forgotten boom town in the U.S.A." after this period, if the present decline of population continues.

The officials said they don't want to "throw a scare into the people of Vienna" but only wanted to call attention to the fact that "Vienna needs more children."

"In Vienna," one official said, "this problem is already a matter of life or death. Either we'll have more children, or this city with its rich tradition may eventually cease to exist."

This official stressed that the authorities' appeal for more children wasn't prompted by any "master race" theory which was used by the German Nazis to campaign for the same cause.

They added that it was no help for the city that it is among the capitals with the highest rate of illegitimate births in the world, as such births only are a very small contribution towards settling the problem of a declining over-all birth-rate.

One official said statistical material compiled during a recent census clearly shows that as many as 6[illegible] per cent of all Vienna households comprise less than three persons.

"If Vienna wants to survive," he went on, "Every married couple should have at least three children.

"However, only eight per cent of the Vienna couples fulfill that demand."

He added that it was a matter of "simple arithmetic" to figure out when there "won't be any people left" in Vienna, and the figure they arrived at was 130 years from now.

Vienna's vice-mayor, Franz Honay, had this to say on the problem:

"We cannot hold responsible (for the decline in the birth-rate) the economic difficulties encountered by newlyweds. We think the reason (for it) is the outright fear of young couples in love to get married.

"What we city officials must do is to give young couples everything they need to get married on and to have a large family."

The Vienna officials added that the declining birth-rate also will soon bring about economic difficulties due to the loss of production entailing unemployment.

They forecast that, in less than thirty years, Austria, whose capital is Vienna, will have to "import" foreigners to work here and thus supply taxes with which to pay the pensions of the old Viennese.

Russian's 10th Number Performed in Moscow

LONDON (AP)—Dmitri Shostakovich topped Beethoven last night—in quantity if not in quality. The Russian Composer's 10th symphony got its first performance in Moscow. Beethoven wrote only nine.

Announcing the premiere, Moscow radio said the symphony was played by the Leningrad Philharmonic Orchestra, which also introduced the composer's other nine.

Male, Female Write Nebraska Report?

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—In a report on a survey of 1952 accidents, The Nebraska State Accident Record Bureau said men drivers were involved in 84.78 per cent of the accidents.

Then it quickly added "the surprisingly large percentage of male drivers should not be viewed with too much alarm. There are no definite figures to prove it, but it is taken for granted that most of the driving in the state is being done by male drivers."

Around the statehouse they give you one guess as to who wrote that report—a male or a female.

Survey Shows Industries Ease School Taxes

CHICAGO (UP)—Suburban residential areas have found that commercial and industrial developmen's can ease the tax burden of public schools, according to the Municipal Finance Officers Association.

The association cited a recent study of Anne Arundel County, Md., a community that is primarily residential.

An analysis of one large housing development showed that each school child required $107 of county taxes per year. The development was supplying about 50 per cent of that required amount.

The study also showed that county services required by industrial or commercial developments were low in cost compared to those required by residential areas.

As a result, the association said, taxes on such property could be used to offset the cost of services for residential areas.

In a similar study, it was found that the average home in a new subdivision in San Mateo County, Calif., yielded less than $50 a year in taxes for school purposes. It cost the county $204 to maintain a child in school one year, not counting capital expenditures or bond costs.

Many of the homes in the area sent more than one child to school.

DOWNBEAT FOR FAIR—Little Francois Lesueur finds the Scrap Iron Fair in Paris an excellent opportunity to demonstrate his aptitude as a tympanist, at the same time drumming up attendance at the annual event.

Plastic dishes, made of polyethylene, and flexible bottles of the same material, can be toughened by bombardment with powerful electron beams. They can withstand sterilizing steam.

Haverford School Operates in Black Due to Ex-Student

In fact, the 120-year-old institution on Philadelphia's "Main Line" can now afford "guest" instructors who would make the nation's larger universities sit up and take notice.

The general face-lifting is credited to William Phillips, an alumnus who became a leading New York attorney and investment banker. He left his alma mater the residue of his estate, totaling $2,000,000, when he died in 1950 at the age of 68.

Philips, a shrewd investor with a passion for Shakespeare, provided in his will that half the estimated $80,000 annual income from his estate be used for "general purposes."

The provision has resulted in a salary increase for the 50 faculty members and the end of deficit financing for the insttition.

The rest of the money is to be used for collecting "Renaissance literature centered around Shakespeare, learned periodicals for the college library" and to have "distinguished guests visit the campus.

Dr. Gilbert F. White, 41-year-old president of the college, said the school inaugurated its "Philips' Visitors' lectures this semester. He said plans call for series of lectures on various subjects by top-flight experts.

Fear Vienna Doomed by 2083

Feel Falling Birth Rate May Extinguish Famed Danube City

VIENNA (INS)—Vienna city officials say this beautiful city on the banks of the Blue Danube is doomed for "complete extinction" in exactly 130 years.

The officials said Vienna, famous for its care-free people and as the birthplace of the Vienna waltz, will be a deserted place "like a forgotten boom town in the U.S.A." after this period, if the present decline of population continues.

The officials said they don't want to "throw a scare into the people of Vienna" but only wanted to call attention to the fact that "Vienna needs more children."

"In Vienna," one official said, "this problem is already a matter of life or death. Either we'll have more children, or this city with its rich tradition may eventually cease to exist."

This official stressed that the authorities' appeal for more children wasn't prompted by any "master race" theory which was used by the German Nazis to campaign for the same cause.

They added that it was no help for the city that it is among the capitals with the highest rate of illegitimate births in the world, as such births only are a very small contribution towards settling the problem of a declining over-all birth-rate.

One official said statistical material compiled during a recent census clearly shows that as many as 6[illegible] per cent of all Vienna households comprise less than three persons.

"If Vienna wants to survive," he went on, 'Every married couple should have at least three children.

"However, only eight per cent of the Vienna couples fulfill that demand."

He added that it was a matter of "simple arithmetic" to figure out when there "won't be any people left" in Vienna, and the figure they arrived at was 130 years from now.

Vienna's vice-mayor, Franz Honay, had this to say on the problem:

"We cannot hold responsible (for the decline in the birth-rate) the economic difficulties encountered by newlyweds. We think the reason (for it) is the outright fear of young couples in love to get married.

"What we city officials must do is to give young couples everything they need to get married on and to have a large family."

The Vienna officials added that the declining birth-rate also will soon bring about economic difficulties due to the loss of production entailing unemployment.

They forecast that, in less than thirty years, Austria, whose capital is Vienna, will have to "import" foreigners to work here and thus supply taxes with which to pay the pensions of the old Viennese.

Russian's 10th Number Performed in Moscow

LONDON (AP)—Dmitri Shostakovich topped Beethoven last night—in quantity if not in quality. The Russian Composer's 10th symphony got its first performance in Moscow. Beethoven wrote only nine.

Announcing the premiere, Moscow radio said the symphony was played by the Leningrad Philharmonic Orchestra, which also introduced the composer's other nine.

Male, Female Write Nebraska Report?

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—In a report on a survey of 1952 accidents, The Nebraska State Accident Record Bureau said men drivers were involved in 84.78 per cent of the accidents.

Then it quickly added "the surprisingly large percentage of male drivers should not be viewed with too much alarm. There are no definite figures to prove it, but it is taken for granted that most of the driving in the state is being done by male drivers."

Around the statehouse they give you one guess as to who wrote that report—a male or a female.

The Adjutant General's office of the United States Army operates 368 soldiers' service clubs in various parts of the world. Dances, parties and other entertainment are given in these clubs to provide off-duty recreation for men and women in the Army.

In this holy season, may we pause to extend our wishes to all for a joyous Christmas filled with love and good will.

Nylon Sews Easier on Paper Backing

When sewing nylon, if your needle drops down too far in the throatplate directly under it and puckers the nylon when it comes up for the next stitch, try this:

Use a piece of ordinary wrapping paper. Make a small square, big enough to cover the throatplate hole. Tape the edges to your machine. Your needle will just puncture the paper and offer less resistance to the fabric. This eliminates the need for changing the plate if you do a lot of sewing on nylon.

Longfellow Gives Yule Program

Holiday greetings in song and pantomime prevailed Friday at Longfellow School as the early elementary grades presented a Christmas program for their parents.

A miniature sleigh and reindeer, led by "Rudolph," was the setting for Mildred Gingell's first grade choral reading of "The Night Before Christmas" and "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer".

"Away in a Manager" was sung by Dorothy Virtue's room, with the children dressed as wise men and angels in the Nativity scene.

Shepherds by a fire, overlooking Bethlehem, formed the setting for "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by Mrs. Norman Kuijala's room, and angels then gathered in the background with the shepherds to sing "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing".

"Frosty the Snowman", "Christmas Secrets" and "Merry Christmas" were sung by Mrs. Hugh Cook's third graders who held up a life-sized picture of Santa Claus.

A pantomime accompanied "Up on the Housetop" performed by the kindergarten children of Mrs. Homer Cowger's room, and then Diana Wallis led them in a band selection.

Margaret LeCocq's third graders presented "Finding the Right Tree" and "O Little Pine", and the second grade rooms of Mrs. Allen Cotterman and Mrs. Leon Bogan combined voices to sing "I'm a Little Christmas Tree" and "White Christmas".

"Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" was sung by Nancy Prevette's first and second graders, who also recited "Mary". Larry Hull sang "Sleep My Little Jesus", and the chrous sang "Silent Night".

"The Toy Shop" came to life as Faye MacNamara's kindergarten children presented the grand finale, which included "Dolly of Mine," "Santa's Rhythm Band" and "Mery Christmas Song."

Yuletide Week Launched by Community Choruses

Season Celebrated With Songs Ranging From Ancient to Present Day Numbers

By DONNA ANDERSON

"Fanfare for Christmas" by Martin Shaw officially ushered in the Yuletide Sunday afternoon when Pontiac's big, happy musical family gathered at Pontiac High School for the annual Community Christmas Concert.

Pontiac Women's Chorus joined the MacDowell Male Chorus and the entire Vocal Department of Pontiac High School in presenting the fine concert, now a tradition, that never ceases to be a joy and an asset to our city.

George Putnam, director, and the Vocal Department concluded the first part of the program with the Austrian folk song, "As Lately We Watched", arranged by Black.

Then, the Combined Girls Glee Club took over, Directed by Jeanette Vier, the girls sang "All Were There" by Lynn and "The Holy Child" by Snodgrass. "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" and "A Babe So Tender" were the contributions of the Boys Glee Club.

"Wolcom Yole", the ancient English welcome to the Christmas season, opened the program of the Pontiac Women's Chorus directed by Charles E. Hutton and accompanied by Dorothy McKibben. "O Gathering Clouds" arranged by Bain-Breck was followed by "Born Today! Christ the Lord" by Sweelinck.

Even the audience had a chance to add to the spirit of the day as Henry Elling stepped to the podium to direct a community carol sing which included "O Little Town of Bethlehem", "Silent Night" and "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Diane Beach played the violin obligato when the Senior Girls Ensemble presented "Christmas Snows of Sweden" by Gaul-Riegger. For a change of time and mood, the girls concluded their offering with Ringwald's arrangement of the popular "Merry Christmas To You."

MacDowell Chorus members opened their part of the program with a surprising arrangement of "Jingle Bells", then they turned to Scott's 16th Century composition, "The Coventry Carol".

"Cradle Song of the Shepherds," the Glatz folk song, and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones", a 17th Century work by Bennett, closed the program by the male chorus, which is directed by Mr. Putnam. Oscar Schmidt is accompanist.

"Sleeps Judea Fair" by MacKinnon and "Shepherds Christmas Story" by Dickinson were presented by the A Cappella Choir before the traditional "Twas the Night Before Christmas," given in the choir's usual delightful manner.

Old friends met once again and pleasant memories were revived when former Vocal Department members joined in the finale composed of the majestic measures of the genius of Bach and Handel.

"Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light", "Beside Thy Cradle" and "The Hallelujah Chorus", accompanied by Jerry Libby at the piano and Mr. Schmidt at the organ, closed the program in the true spirit of Christmas.

High school accompanists included Nancy Beach, Ponnie Sue Davis, Judy Dickstein, Marilyn Glennie, Marilyn Goode, Myrna Webster, Judy Thurman, Greta Phipps, Jerry Libby, Carol Hobart and Marilynn Hardy.

June Halliday presented preconcert organ music, and appropriate decorations were arranged by Edward Avedision and the art classes of John Allshouse.

With music chosen from worship offerings of 16th Century musicians to the lighter spirit of modern composers, Sunday's concert was symbolic of the ageless meaning of Christmas in a changing world.

Maple Leaf Club Has Anniversary

Members of Maple Leaf Club celebrated the club's fourth anniversary Friday at a Christmas party held at Rotunda Inn.

Mrs. B. J. Woodhull introduced those who presented the program for the day. Each member told the story of her most interesting Christmas.

Mrs. William McClure presented a poem for the birthday of the month and a Christmas poem. Members exchanged gifts during the social hour.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Edward Silk, Mrs. Earl G. Long and Mrs. Stuart Townsend. Mrs. Nellie Copp of New Brunswick, Can. was a guest.

Two Betrothals Revealed

BIRMINGHAM — At an open house Saturday afternoon in their home on Pilgrim road, Mr. and Mrs. Rawson Vaile announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Charles Duncan McCall Jr.

Elizabeth attended Ogontz Junior College in Philadelphia and Western College for Women in Oxford, Ohio.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. McCall of West Hartford, Conn., and a graduate of Purdue University. He is a member of the United States Marine Corps.

They are planning to be married in the late spring.

At a family supper party Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Raisch of Adams road announced the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Carl David Brunsting, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Louis A. Brunsting of Rochester, Minn.

Low-Speed Wind Tunnel Being Built for U. S. Navy

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Chance Vought Aircraft is building a low-speed wind tunnel for testing models of the high speed aircraft the company is building for the U. S. Navy.

Company officials said that the idea isn't as startling as it sounds. As one engineer explained:

"Even in today's era of high speed aircraft we need to be able to take off and land the airplane on a carrier at relatively low speed." He also explained that the data would serve a secondary purpose as a basic source of information for analysis of high speed problems.

Bids for construction of the new facility, to cost approximately $1,000,000, were let in November.

Designed for use in Chance Vought's jet aircraft and guided missile program, the new wind tunnel will be used in place of facilities which the company has been using throughout the United States.

Actual high speed work will continue at various high speed tunnels such as the United Aircraft Corporation tunnel in East Hartford, Conn., the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y., and government facilities such as the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Speeds of the new tunnel will range up to 200 miles an hour, which the engineer said might be considered an insignificant figure in the age of jets.

"The very things that are involved in building an airplane that will go at high speeds give you greater problems at low speeds," he said.

You Needn't Cut Off Heat When Taking Winter Trip

By HUBBARD COBB

We've never had a winter vacation and the way things are going we don't expect to ever get one, but a lot of people do take off for a week or so and a lot of them don't really get to enjoy themselves because they worry about how the house back north is getting along.

As a matter of fact, they get off to a wrong start by worrying even before they leave whether to leave the heat on in the house while they are away or turn it off.

It won't hurt a house or the furnishings if you turn off the heat provided you do all the necessary things like draining the plumbing and the heating system and removing all foods and liquid that might freeze up.

The trouble with this arrangement is that it takes time to put a house to bed for the winter and then when you get back from your vacation you come home to a cold and dank home.

All this sort of trouble can be eliminated if you leave the heating system on—turned down low, of course, to conserve fuel—while you are away.

Chances are that if you are only going to be gone for a week or two the cost of the fuel to heat the house won't be more than what a plumber will charge to drain the plumbing system and then put it back in working order.

The disadvantage of this setup is that if something happens to the heating system while you are away you will be in real trouble.

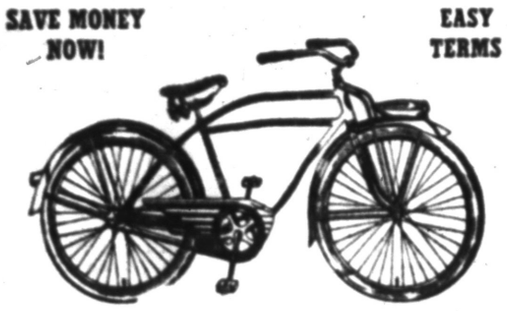

We suggest that if you do plan to leave the heating system in operation, get a friend or neighbor to check your house daily to make certain that everything is in order.

Give him the name and phone number of your plumber or furnace serviceman so that in the event things go out of order, they can be attended to at once.

Dad Ought to Be Part of Wedding

Should Stand Back of Daughter Despite Disapproval

By EMILY POST

An unhappy mother writes me: "Our daughter is marrying against our wishes. We do not approve of the man she is marrying. (He is years older than she and has been married before.)

"Since she has taken it upon herself to go against our judgment, do you think she can expect her father to give her away? He says that taking part at her marriage would be acting the part of a hypocrite because everyone knows how he feels. Your advice would be much appreciated."

Answer: A father who publicly stands back of his daughter no matter whether he thinks she is right or wrong is not a hypocrite but a thoroughbred.

While he is entirely right to try to dissuade her from what he thinks will bring her ultimate unhappiness, I think he will be very sorry later on if he refuses to give her his blessing.

Many parents have stood behind their children in situations of which they did not approve, because one of the rules in the code of perfect parents is that they never let their children down.

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man and girl are leaving their seats in a theater, does it seem rude if the man goes out of the row ahead of the girl if he happens to be sitting nearest the aisle, or is he supposed to stand and let her pass in front of him so that she may go out first?

Answer: They go out in the order in which they are seated. When he gets to the aisle he stands aside and lets her go first, or else they walk out together.

Dear Mrs. Post: The head of our company was recently appointed United States ambassador to a foreign country. He will be coming back to the States soon and we would like to know how we are to address him when speaking directly to him here at the office. Your help will be appreciated.

Answer: In his own office, I think you would call him what you always have. Formally before strangers you would call him "Mr. Ambassador."

This gift reveals special thoughtfulness because it sidesteps the conventional things. The newest in hair brushes, its flexibility permits the brush to conform to the shape of the head with the slightest pressure.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

A new family has moved into our neighborhood. But I'm afraid they're off to a bad start. They're erecting a high fence and have let it be known it is so they won't be bothered by children and dogs. It looks as though nobody in the neighborhood is going to bother them—for there's not a house in the block that doesn't have either children or a dog—or both.

Good fences don't always make good neighbors. Sometimes they shut neighbors out.

Window Painting Precaution Urged

You can make painting windows easier if you take precautions with the ladder.

To keep the ladder from breaking through the window pane, nail a flat board across it to straddle the window. The ladder will then rest on the window frame instead of the glass.

Try to Serve Cherry Puff While Warm

Mrs. Coleman Is Contributor of This Delicious Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Cherry Puff is a lovely dessert to serve at Christmas time. Mrs. Fred Coleman, today's contributor, says to bake it at the dinner hour and to serve it warm.

Besides caring for a large home and her family, Mrs. Coleman works part time in a business office. She is choir mother at her church, belongs to the Opti-Mrs. Club and is a member of a Child Study Club and the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs.

CHERRY PUFF
By Mrs. Fred Coleman

1 No. 2 can tart cherries, drained
½ cup liquid from cherries
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
2 eggs, separated
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
½ cup sugar (for the batter)
6 tablespoons sifted cake flour

Crush cherries, add liquid, ⅛ cup cugar and tapioca. Simmer 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

Beat egg whites until foamy; add salt and cream of tartar. Beat egg yolks thick; add ⅓ cup sugar and beat thoroughly. Fold into egg whites, then fold in flour.

Pour cherry mixture into a 1½ quart casserole. Pour batter on top. Bake at 325 degrees for 40 minutes. Serve warm.

Simple Remedy for Eye Circles Due to Neglect

Most women are occasionally troubled with circles under the eyes. The condition may be due to lack of sleep, eyestrain, insufficient fresh air, or water.

Should circles persist despite efforts to improve your daily routine, it would be advisable to consult your doctor. However, if the circles are caused by some minor neglect, there is a simple remedy.

This treatment stimulates circulation and relieves tension around the eyes. For it you will need a package of Roman camomile and a roll of three-inch gauze.

Make bags from five-inch lengths of the gauze and place one teaspoonful of the camomile in each bag. Then steep two bags in a cup of hot water.

Meantime, apply your eye cream or tissue oil and take the beauty rest position: Reclining with feet higher than head.

When the bags have steeped for five minutes, remove them from the water and allow them to cool until they are comfortable to the touch. Then apply one over each eye; cover with a dry cloth and rest until the bags are cold.

Daily treatment for a week should bring excellent results. Use fresh bags each day.

Adhesive for Rubber

There's a new adhesive on the market which is supposed to stick rubber to any kind of material or surface. The new adhesive, designed as an all-purpose item, is said to work on rubber weatherstripping, mending rubber boots and re-sealing linoleum or rubber tile.

Spanish Name Metal

South American Indians are believed to have been the first people to find and use the precious metal platinum. Later, when the Spanish conquistadores stumbled across the strange white metal while looking for gold, it was scornfully dubbed "platina" — meaning, smaller in value than silver. Today, platinum and its sister-metals palladium, ruthenium, iridium and osmium are not only popular in jewelry but have vital applications in transportation, communication, electronics, medicine and dentistry.

Vary Your Scents

American women like variety and change, so wear your perfume as you do your accessories —to suit the occasion. Let your own nose be your guide and enjoy different scents for different times in your life.

TV Show Leads Way With Color

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP) — A young man did a few relaxed dance steps in front of the camera and then stopped as another camera a few feet away turned on a blue-eyed blonde in a green dress.

It looked like any other hectic television rehearsal. But in the control room where mysterious men with headphones watch such rehearsals on half a dozen different screens there was a difference.

On some of the screens the man had brown eyes and the girl's dress was green. On others everything was black and white and gray.

The cast was rehearsing for "The New Revue," a weekly variety show which CBS has been photographing in color since it began two months ago, even though the viewers watched on black and white screens.

Now that the Federal Communications Commission has approved a color system, such two-way rehearsals will be frequent. Color TV sets will be in mass production in six months, CBS officials say. That scene in the control room soon could be duplicated in any two-set household.

Generally, the outlook is rosy.

Mike Wallace, the versatile fellow with the brown eyes, stepped over to the visitors' corner in the crowded studio. He looked tired on the black and white screen and very healthy and ruddy in color. In real life, he needed a shave.

"Women come out looking wonderful in color," Mike said enthusiastically. "The whiter your skin the better you photograph. The color camera accents the pink tones."

"This is left over from our color shows two years ago," explained Mike, who in a young sort of way is an old-timer in color programs. He and his wife, Buff Cobb, had a color show ready in 1951 when the CBS color system was abandoned, and now he emcees "The New Revue."

Mozart Piano Club Gives Yule Recital

Piano solos were played by Loretta Waara, Frances Spencer, Pamela Thomas, Susie Woodman, Electa Harris, Margaret McCarthar and Sarah Jo Faxon. An informal get-together followed the program.

New Baby Blanket Has Safety Feature

NEW YORK (UP) — One manufacturer of nursery accessories is out with a blanket which he believes will cut the annual toll of infant deaths through suffocation. The blanket has five plastic rings attached to each side.

Each ring slips easily around a bar of the crib. The result — as the infant moves around, the blanket rides up and down, yet at no time bunches or tangles.

Hems Went Up and Down Before Dior

Hemline Alterations Were Even Swifter in Early 20s

NEW YORK (UP) — Christian Dior is a hemline coward compared with some of his predecessors.

The Paris designer's edict that skirts should be one and one-half to two inches shorter this year was a mild one when you consider how designers used to move the hemline up and down the leg.

Consider the years 1919 to 1923. Those years, the hemline jumped up and down like a jack-in-the-box.

In 1919, skirts were almost to the floor. By 1920 they were mid-'calf; in 1921 they came down two to three inches, stayed there in 1922, and in 1923 dropped down around the ankles again.

Skirts with trains dragged the dirt in 1900. By 1906, they had lost the trains, but still were down to the floor. In 1913, the hobble skirt came along, and it was hard to determine the length, because of the uneven hemline.

Skirt lengths were about the same in 1924 as they are now. It was actually the late '20's, before the era of the flapper length — at the kneecap and higher.

Hemlines shifted down again in 1930 and '31, and by 1932 were about the same as today.

By 1933, designers dropped them another two inches where they stayed until 1936, then went back up a couple of inches.

Came the 40's, and wartime government restrictions on amount of cloth available, and skirt lengths soared up almost to the flapper length.

Dior rose to fame when he lengthened them again after the war, and some women were milling around in skirts almost as long as those at the turn of the century.

The traphagen exhibit stops at 1953 and the mid-calf length.

Health Facilities of School Ought to Be Checked

Mothers of first graders have a few lessons to learn, too. Most important is to find out just how clean the school is, and how modern the facilities for cleanliness are.

Mothers will learn it pays to take a personal interest in school equipment and let their approval or disapproval be felt!

Actually, teachers appreciate this interest and know that parent groups can sometimes accomplish needed improvements that otherwise get lost in the shuffle.

It's advisable to inspect the washrooms, drinking fountains and lunchroom.

See if plenty of hot water, soap and clean toweling are provided in the washrooms. See if floors and fixtures have that well-scrubbed look.

Ask to see the kitchen or areas where food is prepared and dishes are washed.

If all doesn't look as clean as it should, then see what you can do about changing conditions.

Your child is entitled to facilities that allow him to keep the standards of cleanliness he practices at home — standards that you've spent a lot of energy and psychology instilling in him.

It would be a pity if indifferent cleanliness habits were encouraged or allowed the very first year he leaves his home environment to see something of the world.

A basket of provisions was made up for a needy family, and gifts were planned for shut-ins. The Rev. Charles D. Race gave the evening prayer.

Follow Directions to Keep Hands Soft

If dish or clothes washing is making your hands look like an old scrub cloth, try three steps as a remedy. Use just the amount of detergent or soap the manufacturers direct.

Use a small amount of water softener in the dishpan or washing machine. Rub a good hand cream on your skin as soon as hands are carefully dried.

'Winged Hairdo' Style of Air Age

PARIS (INS)—A hairdo with wing-flaps like elephant's ears will be the latest coiffure if Paris hairdresser Guillaume succeeds with a new style.

Guillaume has come up with the "Winged Hairdo."

Says he: "Today's woman is no longer in the clouds. She flies above them and pierces the sound barrier."

Therefore, this style-setting Parisian hair artist maintains, the modern woman's hairdo must be speedy as a jet plane, saucy as a flying saucer, light as an atom and modern as 3-D.

All this, claims Guillaume, is true of his "Winged Hairdo."

The "wings" of the new hairstyle are formed by symmetrical hair cowls curving out and over or above the ears. These hair flaps, something like the handles on a vase, add width to the face. The top and back of the head are kept rather flat.

Guillaume has five variations of the "Winged Hairdo," which he calls "Sabre," "Globemaster," "Vampire," "Delta" and "Trident." They all call for hair at least four inches long at the sides, to make the out-curving "wings."

Bar Pin Enjoying Revival of Interest

Some of the smartest new jewelry collections for the 1953-54 social season show a definite revival in the popularity of a particular style favorite of grandmother's day, a survey of New York designs shows. The style is the bar pin, a piece of jewelry that formed an indispensable part of women's costumes around the turn of the century, together with a cameo brooch.

Typical of the modern versions is a pair of precious white palladium curved bar pins, with diagonal welts lending design interest. Small diamonds project from the rim of the curve on individual, long palladium prongs. The same design is shown in rubies, sapphires or acquamarines.

Popular Girls Do Grooming While at Home

Haven't you observed that the girls who are forever primping at parties are not very popular?

Constantly adjusting their jewelry, checking their coiffures or touching up their makeup, they seem too concerned with themselves to warrant the interest of others.

The popular girls, on the other hand, having groomed carefully at home, can devote themselves entirely to having, and being, fun.

There is less temptation to fuss if you are certain you look your best. So it is wise to take a little extra time with dressing.

Of course, the girl whose hair is very fine may complain that no matter how carefully she brushes and combs it, it is disarray a short time later.

Since the trend today is toward the sleek, neat look, that situation should not be tolerated.

But something can be done about it before it happens. Even baby-fine hair can be made to behave.

A lanolin-rich hair dressing added to the setting water will help greatly to keep the hair from flying wild.

For added control of the little hairs that flutter on the forehead, a bit of the dressing should be patted on after the hair has been arranged for the evening.

For complete insurance, an invisible hairnet should be worn. Nothing tops a net for keeping unruly locks in check. When bought in the right size, it will not flatten the coiffure.

Method for Washing Leather Gloves

After washing leather gloves, roll them in a turkish towel from finger tips to cuffs. Knead for a few minutes; unroll and blow into the fingers to shape them properly.

Lay on dry towel to dry. When still damp, work leather gently with fingers until pliable.

Children Who Assume 'Protective Coloration' May Lose Own Identity

Future Family Album May Be Tape Recording

CHICAGO (INS) — The family album of the future will be a "voice album."

That's the prediction of Virginia Brandon, a lady who works for the world's largest manufacturer of tape recorders.

Miss Brandon says tape recorders with baby's first word will be just as important in homes in a few years as the little bronze shoes.

She claims thousands of families are now using tape recorders to save memories of special occasions — and running the tape to hear the actual voices years later.

Miss Brandon also says tape recorders are coming into wider use because of special needs. In the files of the Webcor Co., she says, letters telling of tape recorders used for "talking correspondence" between servicemen and their families.

Other persons have used tape recorders as a natural soundtrack for home movies. One man said he was using it to provide music in the chicken-coop and step up egg production.

The tape recorder use Miss Brandon liked best was invented by a father who couldn't get his children to eat quietly at mealtime. So he made a tape-recording of the gobbles and slurps and made the children listen to themselves. They took the hint.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Workman Proves Spirit of Christmas Is Not Dead

Christmas is coming and I've been having my annual letdown, compounded by home-sickness and a touch of cynicism. Each year, toward the end of November, it all begins again — wild-eyed shoppers, seductive displays of gadgets, seasonal politeness of expectant doormen and delivery boys.

MISS McBRIDE

Moodily I scan the lists of those who are looking expectantly in my direction, yet never satisfied, no matter what I do. Then I take refuge from my depressed thoughts in nostalgic longing for the days when Christmas was an ecstacy, and an orange found in my stocking hung by the kitchen stove was so precious I saved it for a week, sucking rapturously each day to prolong the pleasure.

I pity the frenzied-looking shoppers, seemingly eager to grab anything offered. They are surely missing thet excitement of those with only a few nickels to spend who yet are on fire with the newly discovered joy of giving.

I must have been about 7 when I learned that there are two sides to Christmas, and with the pennies and nickels I'd saved from the eggs laid by my dozen hens, I haunted Miss Ruth's bookstore.

I bought Mama a picture in a gilt frame of a little girl that I thought looked like me, and Papa a Dutch boy whose pants had a sandpaper seat which said, "Scratch me."

Perhaps this kind of harking back is general among leftovers from big families to whom no celebration ever comes up to Grandma's remembered Christmas dinner with four kinds of pie and a dozen varieties of relishes.

Anyway, this year I've recovered some of my holiday zest for the unlikely reason that a suburban friend had a plugged-up septic tank. To unplug it, she summoned John Jub.

"Some people are in terrible shape in this world," Mr. Jub began morosely, working away. "Take that woman yesterday. She brought out this little old ragged pocketbook to pay me. Then she saw the bakery truck coming and told her little girl to go buy a loaf of bread.

"The child said the baker wouldn't give them any more bread until they paid what they owed. Well, a man couldn't go home and sit down to a good supper and take any comfort in it if he had to think about that kid not having bread. So I told the woman that cleaning her septic tank was a present and to use the money to pay the baker."

Then Mr. Jub looked sheepish, ducked his head and went away from there, probably sorry he'd talked so much to a stranger.

Maybe he'll feel better if he happens to read in his hometown paper that the real spirit of Christmas is not just a memory but exists wherever there are generous, loving hearts.

NEW YORK (INS) — Zipper shoes are the newest thing in men's footwear.

In line with "a trend toward comfortable clothes for men," the company has come out with a line of zippered shoes in brogues and oxfords, with plain or wing tips.

Show Their Resentment Through Angry Behavior

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The animal world has a survival technique called "protective coloration."

By it, an animal seeking to divert hostile pursuit will appear as something he isn't. An insect, threatened by a hungry bird will assume the likeness of a withered, inedible leaf. A deer will use his dappled hide to become part of the forest's light and shadow.

However, when the insect and deer have successfully eluded the enemies, they become themselves again.

When humans use this survival technique, they may not become themselves again. Like Jerry W., the 17-year-old son of a hard-working, self-made, wealthy lawyer, a human child may get stuck with the false identity he has assumed to divert disapproval and criticism.

For example, Jerry bitterly resents his father. He hates the comparisons everyone makes between the expensive private school he attends and Mr. W.'s educational struggles.

He is bored by reminders that after school his father drove a truck, instead of a red convertible. He's fed up with the pressure to admire the parent who overwhelms him with "advantages"—and then uses them to inflate his superior virtues.

But Jerry doesn't know how angry he is. He can't afford to. So to avoid thinking of himself as a bad, ungrateful boy, Jerry presents to himself and everyone else a false identity.

He regards himself as his father's admiring and grateful son. Unlike the insect and deer who know what they are, Jerry, out of his need for moral survival, has convinced himself that he is something he is not.

But of course his true identity won't be denied. Jerry won't express his real feelings in conscious words, so they express themselves in angry action.

He drives his car too fast and often smashes it. He fails at his expensive private school. He scorns plans for a career. In every way he demonstrates his contempt and rejection of the "advantages" provided by his resented father.

It is with people like Jerry in mind that psychologists plead with us to permit children to be their true selves with us.

So those of us who think of ourselves as specially wonderful and heroic overcomers of disadvantages should take great care to invite honest criticism.

If we can't take it, there's something wrong.

We probably fiercely resent those struggles for which we demand admiration. We are very mad that we had to drive trucks. We are really terribly jealous of the child who is enjoying so many privileges that we were denied.

We want admiration instead of criticism—because we feel cheated.

Rake May Be Safety Hazard

The importance of proper storage of a rake after that last leaf has been cleared off the lawn has been stressed by a safety-minded home demonstration agent.

A rake can be a dangerous weapon. There's nothing more hazardous than leaving a rake out in the yard with its teeth exposed, or a hoe resting on its side so that the blade is up."

Leaving garden implements lying around not only exposes the family to painful foot punctures, but increases chances of tripping and being cracked in the head by the long wooden handle of the rake.

Proof of Progress

Use your family camera to record more than the activities of the children. "Before" and "after" pictures of a home improvement project will give you proud proof of your talents.

MRS. MAURICE B. TOWNSEND JR.

Jeanne Guild Becomes Bride in Birmingham Rite

BIRMINGHAM — Jeanne Guild of Birmingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Elmer Guild of Elk Rapids, was married to Maurice Brainerd Townsend Jr. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice B. Townsend of Jackson.

The bride wore a white Chantilly-type lace gown, the scoop neckline edged in appliques of seed pearls. The skirt fell in folds of accordion pleating. A tiara of matching lace held a swirl veil of illusion and she carried white camellias and carnations with ivy.

Mrs. Earl Narum of Detroit was matron of honor. Her gown was of red velvet and she carried white poinsettias. Both wore camellia foliage in their hair.

Dr. James D. Townsend of Minneapolis, Minn., was his brother's best man and ushers were Paul R. Guild of Cincinnati, brother of the bride; William B. Sparks of Jackson, Dr. Gordon Hardie and Bruce E. Corley of Ann Arbor.

A reception was given at Rotunda Inn.

Face Exercise Halts Wrinkles

If you have reached the 40-plus stage and are noticing that lines are forming between your nose and month, there are three things you must do to prevent their deepening.

If you start now, a rich lubricating cream can do wonders. But it will avail nothing if you do not cooperate fully with it.

Beauty, after all, is not skin deep. Some women can live very successfully, facing numertous disappointments and sorrows and yet reveal none of their suffering in their faces. They have learned the secret of serenity.

And it's a secret anyone can learn. People can condition themselves to almost any mood.

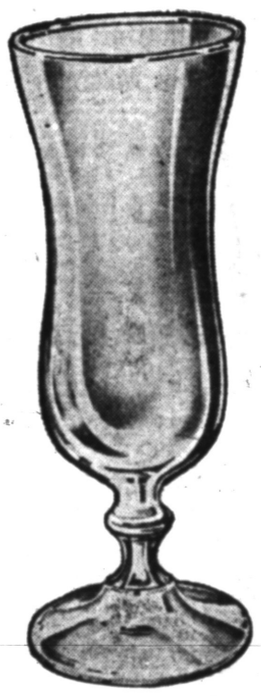

Simply by forcing your mouth to turn up at the corners, you can make yourself feel better, psychologists tell us. There is certainly no doubt that you will look better.

To cultivate a relaxed, pleasant expression, puff out your cheeks and whistle often—in private, of course.

Here is an exercise for suppleness: Open your mouth wide vertically and try to close your lips over the open teeth and jaws gradually for part of the distance.

Do this three times, counting up to 15 while drawing the lips tightly over open jaw; count 10 more after your lips are closed before relaxing jaws.

Holiday Foods of Many Lands Served

Nearly 100 guests gathered Friday evening to participate in the Christmas party of the New Citizens League. Held in the cafeteria of the high school, the party featured holiday foods of a dozen countries.

A program, "Christmas Around the World," was presented under the direction of Janice Antona, sponsor of the league. A description of Christmas in their native lands was read by Mrs. Miran Awedian of Greece, Mrs. Lena Sachs of Switzerland, Cecily Dubis of Poland, Mrs. Gloria Banghart of England and Greta Bladh of Sweden.

A visit from Santa Claus and refreshments concluded the evening.

Mrs. M. E. Baldwin Hostess to Group

Mrs. M. E. Baldwin was hostess in her home on North Perry street Friday afternoon to the Pioneer Sisters for their annual Christmas party and luncheon.

Mrs. Harry Stowell used "Star of Bethlehem" as her devotional topic and Mrs. Richard Raber presided over the business meeting. Mrs. John Hall of Lake Angelus was a guest.

VIRGINIA ANN BERESFORD

Debutante Bows to Society at Tea in Bloomfield Home

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Virginia Ann Beresford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Beresford, wore a Patrick-designed waltz-length frock of emerald tulle Saturday afternoon when she was presented to society by her mother at a tea in her home on Lone Pine road.

Her dress was appliqued solidly with crimson silk ribbons, and flounces of the attached matching taffeta and tulle formed a very bouffant skirt. A crushed green velvet cummerbund encircled her waist and she carried a bouquet of crimson carnations and ivy, a gift from her father.

Mrs. Beresford's gown was of brown lace with short sleeves bordered in mink. Her flowers were brown cypripedium orchids.

The library, where Mrs. Beresford and Virginia received their guests, and the rest of the house were decorated with Christmas greens and arrangements of holly and crimson carnations.

Others were Anne Coulter and Barbara Barker of Bloomfield Hills and Julia Keydal of Detroit.

Mrs. Beresford's assistants at the table were Mrs. J. Rodney Weeks, who is Virginia's godmother; Mrs. Edwin M. Beresford, Mrs. Warren S. Booth, Mrs. W. Lloyd Kemp, Mrs. John W. Sanders and Mrs. Henry S. Booth.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Barker gave a dinner-dance in their home Saturday evening to honor Miss Beresford.

Machines Make Prefabs Faster Than by Hand

A major producer of prefabricated houses has announced that its plants will be modernized early in 1954 to the point that the product will move along assembly lines "untouched by human hands."

Aim of National Homes Corp. is efficiency and not sanitation, however, in development of the non-human handling plan.

By eliminating the steps in constructing sections of a house which involve hand labor, James R. Price, company president, claims tha tmore houses per hour can be produced in two plants at Lafayette, Ind., and Horseheads, N. Y.

The assembly-line carpenters qualify as fast workers even with several steps in the process still being performed by hand.

Some 70 to 75 houses, complete with air conditioning and automatic laundry, are turned out daily at the two plants.

When the efficiency program is completed, lumber will be manhandled only at the time it is unloaded from a freight train and again when the completed sections, up to 21 feet long, are loaded aboard tractor-trailer trucks, bound for the home site of some prospective occupant.

Graceful Moves Develop Charm

Teen-agers, generally so well acquainted with Hollywood's make-up techniques, tend to overlook one of the stars' chief charm assets.

The top actress never waste motion. Except when portraying an unappealing character, they employ movements that are gracefully flowing but deliberate.

Now, this is a picture presented too seldom by teen-agers. Charged with an abundance of energy and an eagerness to be socially effective, some of you work at being overanimated. Eyes, heads, hands keep up a confusing accompaniment to conversation.

The results are unhappy, indeed. For one thing, excessive motion detracts from the power of one's speech. Furthermore, the aimless movement of the head minimizes the effectiveness o the eys. And, of course, when hands are constantly in motion they cannot be shown to the best advantage.

...Thee best way to conquer the habit is to eliminate motion entirely in the beginning.

keeping head, hands and eyes quiet, you can begin to practice using them to advantage.

An occasional quick, light movement of the hand is very pretty. Or a slow, measured movementof the head to stress an important point can be extremely effective.

New Nylons Help Reduce Hosiery Bills

Treated carelessly, hosiery could easily become a woman's most expensive clothing item. Along with tight garters, our delicate stockings must face these enemies: chipped nails, roughened skin and chair splinters.

Most of us have learned to adjust our garters properly, to check our nails before donning or washing our hose, to pat a bit of cream on our heels after bathing and to be certain that our chairs are smooth.

Of course, we occasionally forget to be careful. And then there is nothing we can do about the furniture we encounter in offices and public conveyances. So it would seem that snags will always be with us.

However, a well-known hosiery company claims it has taken a giant step toward eliminating snags. Its new hosiery features a construction that locks the other stitches in place when a single thread is snagged. Thus, the run is arrested before it can get a start.

Although a run will still result should you pull more than one thread, the company says that research shows one-thread snags cause most runs.

According to this firm, you can get dozens of one-thread snags without worrying about a single run. When you get a snag, you need only to hold the thread away from the stocking and snip it.

Available in 12 denier, the new stockings are said to have a well-designed heel and foot reinforcement.

Turkey and Nuts Good 2nd Day

Here's a good second-day dish. We object to calling it a leftover. Try this recipe any time that you have a small amount of turkey or chicken that you would like to stretch out to feed four people.

Turkey Cashew Casserole

1 cup chopped turkey
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1½ cups coarsely cut celery
¼ pound cashew nuts, coarsely chopped
1 tablespoon minced onion
Dash pepper
Salt, if nuts are unsalted
30 butter crackers, coarsely crumbled (about 2 cups of crumbs)

Mix together first 6 ingredients. Taste, add salt, if necessary. In 1½ quart casserole place layer of the turkey mixture and the butter cracker crubs, ending with the crumbs. Bake in slow oven at 325 degrees 40 minutes. Serves 4.

TURKEY CASHEW CASSEROLE — A small amount of turkey enhanced with the crunch and rich flavor of crackers and cashew nuts expands to a magnificent main dish for four. It's a wonderful way to use up any scraps of turkey.

Set of Food Containers Should Fit Shelf Space

A set of covered containers for food storage is a worthy investment. Those made of transparent glass or plastic will save cover lifting since their contents are easily seen, and are easy to clean. Tight covers will save money by preventing waste from drying and flavor-mingling.

When you shop for storage dishes remember to measure storage space on your shelves and in your refrigerator and buy containers that will fit the space.

Children Love 'Em; What?—Tangerines

Among all the citrus fruits, tangerines are the sweetest and for that reason they're a favorite for eating as is—and so good that way that it's not necessary to try to improve them by cooking!

Children love them because they're so easy to peel, and you'll love them for the same reason—lets you fix all sorts of attractive arrangements, such as these handy little stands.

Tangerines belong in every lunchbox during the winter months, their brief harvest season, for they're an excellent source of vitamin C, so important in the daily diet in order to keep resistance to colds at a high level.

Dessert Tangerines

Make a cut around center of Tangerine. Make vertical cuts from blossom end down to center cut; remove peel. Loosen remaining peel to make a base. Remove white membrane and pull sections apart slightly. Fill center with raisins.

Rolled Roast Crowns Holiday Table

Man of the House Will Appreciate Aids in Carving

Though carving the roast is a task for the man of the house, he will appreciate your help in making the job easier. Here are several ways to make his performance more successful:

1. Let the roast stand for 15 minutes after removing from the oven. This allows the juices to 'set" and makes carving easier.
2. Don't overcrowd the meat platter with garnishes.
3. Make sure the carving knife is very sharp. (It's a good idea to reserve the carving set exclusively for carving.)
4. Provide a small platter for the sliced meat.

Ham Sandwich Fussy but It's Mighty Good

Fancy, fussy—but mighty good is this deviled ham with raisin sauce sandwich for party serving. Make a thick raisin sauce by cooking 1 cup chopped seedless raisins with ½ cup water and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Cool.

Prepare regular sandwich using a generous filling of deviled ham and a layer of cooled raisin sauce. Toast on both sides under broiler or in a sandwich grill and serve hot. These may also be prepared as open face sandwiches if desired.

HOLIDAY RIB ROAST — A rolled beef rib roast is perfect for holiday feasting. This noble roast makes a hit with the man of the family, too, because it's so easy to carve. Garnish simply with oven-browned potatoes and crisp green parsley.

Also Relieves Holiday Budget

This Feast Makes a Hit With Menfolk Because It's So Easy to Carve

Attractive beef prices (due to plentiful beef supplies now on the market) will help relieve the holiday strain on the budget.

Here's all there is to preparing a kingly rolled rib roast for your Christmas or other holiday dinner: Season the roast and place, fat side up, on a rack in an open, shallow pan. Roast at 325 to the doneness you prefer.

The most accurate method for determining doneness is to use a meat thermometer. Insert it into the roast so that the bulb rests in the center of the roast. When the thermometer registers 140, the roast is cooked to the rare stage; at 160, it is medium done; when the thermometer reads 170, the meat is well-done.

If you do not have a roast meat thermometer, allow the rolled rib roast to cook 30 minutes per pound for rare, 35 minutes per pound for medium and 40 minutes per pound for well-done. (When cooking a rib roast with bone in, cooking a rib roast with bone in, reduce the time 10 minutes per pound.)

Rich brown gravy made from the flavorful beef drippings is a roast beef dinner must. To make the gravy, carefully skim off all but 2 to 3 tablespoons of the fat. Into the fat and drippings, stir 2 to 3 tablespoons flour and slowly add 1 to 1½ cups water.

Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Season to taste. (When the roast is cooked to the rare stage, there will be only a small mount of drippings for making gravy. In this case use the smaller amount of fat, flour and liquid.

Angelica or citron and whole red cranberries make a pretty frosting decoration for a holiday cake.

Please Yule Guests With Coffee Eggnog

Christmas is a merry time for everybody—except the homemaker who spends all of her holiday time in the kitchen cooking and baking. The goodies she creates thrill her family and a new thrill for them, with no work for the homemaker, is Coffee Christmas Nogs. It's simple.

To each quart of prepared eggnog (commercial or homemade) add 2 teaspoons of instant coffee. Top with heavy whipped cream to which you have added rum flavoring (one teaspoon rum flavoring to one pint of heavy cream before whipping).

Chill the coffee eggnog in the refrigerator and when company pops in, serve and watch them enjoy this refreshing holiday beverage.

Turkey in Chafing Dish Nice for Hearth Supper

NEW YORK (UP)—Try curried turkey, made in a chafing dish, for a fireside supper during the holiday season. Use leftover turkey if you wish.

Make the sauce with a can of condensed cream of chicken soup, thinned with a small amount of milk and seasoned with a tablespoon of curry powder.

Christmas Bell Salad Pretty and Different

Here is a delicious sounding salad that can be made in a jiffy. Think how pretty it will look on the Christmas dinner table.

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup strained beets

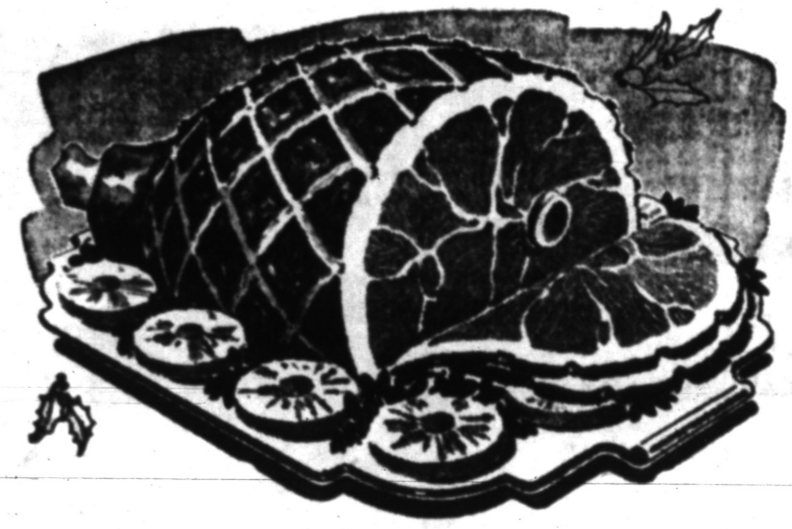

Dissolve flavored gelatin in hot water. Add strained beets. Pour into a lightly oiled oblong (10 x 6x 1½ inch) cake pan. Chill until firm. Use bell-shaped cooky cutter to cut out bells. Decorate with softened cream cheese.

Yields 6-8 servings. Left-over bits may be cut with a melon-ball cutter to garnish other salads.

CHRISTMAS TREE BUNS — Children will love these individual Christmas trees that can be eaten for breakfast on Christmas morning. Add colored sprinkles or bits of candied fruit for further decoration on the frosting.

Children Will Be Thrilled by Christmas Tree Buns

Christmas Tree Buns

⅔ cup milk
½ cup sugar
1¼ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons shortening, soft or melted
⅔ cup water
3 tablespoons sugar
3 packages or cakes of yeast
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup chopped candied fruits
6 cups sifted flour

Scald milk and stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Set aside to cool to lukewarm. Measure water and 3 tablespoons sugar into mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved.

Combine the milk and the yeast mixture. Add eggs. Mix candied fruits with half the flour. Stir into yeast mixture. Stir in remaining flour, or enough to make a dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes or until surface is smooth and satiny, and dough feels springy and elastic and does not stick to the board.

Put dough into greased bowl and brush top lightly with shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk—about 1½ hours. Punch down dough, turn out on board.

Shape into even ropes one-half inch thick and about 20 inches long. Shape each rope into a tree on greased cookie sheets. Start with a 3-inch base and wind rope back and forth, getting smaller and smaller until the 20-inch rope is used and the tree is formed.

Attach a piece of dough to form trunk. Cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Bake in hot oven at 425 degrees about 20 minutes or until brown.

Frost with confectioner's sugar frosting pressed through a pastry tube.

Sugar Frosting

Prepare Ham Roll for 2nd-Day Meal

Purchasing a larger roast with plans for second and third meals is often a wise move.

During this month when there's probably a strain on the budget, more than ever you'll want to turn to thrifty servings.

Ham and Sweet Potato Roll

¾ pound ground ham
½ pound ground pork
½ cup cracker crumbs
1 egg
¾ cup milk
Pepper to taste
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes

Combine all ingredients except potatoes. Spread on waxed paper to one-half-inch thickness, making a sheet about 6x10 inches. Spread with seasoned mashed potatoes, and roll like a jelly roll.

Place in roasting pan and bake in moderate oven (350) for one hour and 15 minutes. Six servings.

New Junior Food Is Chicken Dinner

The toddler set will have difficulty warding off raids on his private larder now that his newest Junior Food has appeared in the markets. This meal-in-a-dish is Junior Chicken Noodle Dinner. It's just as good as it sounds! It has that special quality, attributed to only a few foods, . . . the quality of the more you eat, the more you want.

For mothers Junior Chicken Noodle Dinner is a ready solution for small fry's lunch or supper dish any day of the week. The texture and consistency of this new baby food is just right for the junior initiate, who is learning to feed himself.

This home-style Chicken Noodle Dinner is prepared from short strips of egg noodles and bite-sized pieces of chicken, blended into a heavy creamy sauce of chicken broth, wheat flour, carrots, whole milk powder, celery, cream, onions, salt, brewers' yeast and monosodium glutamate. To delight th toddler, golden flecks of carrots are spotted throughout the tasty sauce.

Nutritionwise this wholesome Junior Chicken Noodle Dinner contributes good quality protein and B vitamins to the child's diet.

Trick for Hanging

Do your small fry like to make gingerbread men with you, before Christmas, for tree decorations? After you have the cookies cut out, press small cord loops into the back of the heads before baking, so the little figures will be easy to hang on green boughs.

3 Pumpkin Pies as Easy to Make as Only One

When you're making one pumpkin pie, you might as well make two or even three to use up the rest of the pumpkin. There are three slightly rounded cups of pumpkin in a No. 2½ can. You'll find 1 rounded cup of pumpkin will make a right good pie.

While you're at it, make 2 more batches of your favorite filling all but adding the milk. Put in a freezer container and into your freezer.

When ready to make a pie, reach for that unbaked frozen shell and the pumpkin mix, and allow to stand until the mix is thawed. Then add one tall can of evaporated milk (that's 1 and 2-3 cups) to the mix, stir well and pour into the unbaked shell. Bake as usual, and what a pie you'll have with little effort.

We think you'll like this method better than freezing the baked pie, though that can be done successfully.

Using evaporated milk, just as it pours from the can, in your favorite pumpkin pie filling makes for creamy smoothness, richness of flavor, and economy that's, something to talk about. Besides, the milk is always on hand on your kitchen shelves, ready for a thousand and one uses.

If your recipe calls for more liquid than the 1 and 2-3 cups in the tall can of evaporated milk, add enough water to make up for the slight difference.

If your family dotes on whipped cream with pumpkin pie, you can dress up the top of the pie, when cold, with a circlet of unsweetened whipped cream and have a choice of "sweeteners" alongside — warmed honey to drizzle over the cream, maple syrup to pour into a slightly scooped-out fluff of the cream, orange marmalade or preserved ginger to top the cream. . . mighty good eating!

Turkey Combines Well

So many good dishes to make with leftover turkey! Serve it in a curry sauce with accompaniments of crumbled bacon, moist coconut, salted ground peanuts and chutney. Team it with cooked noodles and a well-seasoned cream sauce for a casserole dish. Use it in croquettes and deep-fat fry; serve with baked sweet potatoes, scalloped tomatoes and a crisp green salad.

Recipe Puts Sherry in Fudge Cake Bars

A gaily wrapped box of sherried fudge bars is a from-the-kitchen gift to be happily received.

Sherried Fudge Bars

½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 (1 oz.) squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 eggs
1 cup (firmly packed) brown sugar
¼ cup sherry wine
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Mix melted butter and chocolate. Beat eggs until light; add sugar gradually, beating well. Stir in chocolate mixture; add dry ingredients, then sherry and nuts; blend well. Turn into a greased and floured 8-inch square pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 45 minutes, or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool slightly, then cut into 2-inch squares. Roll in confectioners' sugar, if desired. Makes 16 squares.

Vary Apple Fillings

Varying your baked apple fillings this season and listen to your family's raves. Orange marmalade mixed with chopped raisins and a little brown sugar is one everyone will love. Baste the apples with fresh orange juice instead of syrup.

While Decorating Tree, Keep the Menu Simple

It's not too early to start planning your tree-trimming supper, especially if a few friends are joining your family to help with decorating the evergreen. Make the menu simple.

You could have canned baked beans heated in a bean pot, crisp strips of bacon, cole slaw, relishes and hot rolls. For dessert have fresh fruit, a preview of your Christmas cookies, and lots of coffee.

Planning your Christmas food gifts now? Buy some miniature gaily decorated sleighs; fill them with cookie and candy treats from your kitchen when Santa-time comes around.

Bowl of Fruit Always Tops as Centerpiece

Ever make your own fruit gift baskets? This is fun and rewarding. Everyone enjoys good fresh fruit and you can make it a double present by packing it in an attractive and useful basket.

Some good candidates this season are apples, pears, tangerines, kumquats, bananas, Emperor grapes, oranges and grapefruit.

Incidentally, these same fresh fruits will make you a wonderful fruit bowl for the holidays.

Having a well stocked fruit bowl makes it easy to serve plenty of time saving fresh fruit desserts. And it makes a striking centerpiece for dinners and buffets.

A good family project with an old fashioned flavor is the stringing of fresh cranberries for tree ornaments. A good bright string looped around the tree is attractive and adds a natural look that we often lose today. This is also a good idea for centerpieces.

For Yummy Muffins

A little mincemeat goes a long way if you use it in this fashion: Make up a standard muffin batter and fill greased muffin pans about one-third full with the batter; put a teaspoonful of the moist mincemeat in the center and then top with batter again. Bake as usual.

Finely chopped candied cherries, raisins and pecans or walnuts, are delicious added to pound cake batter.

Fruit Cakes Differ in North, South Areas

Just what is a fruit cake? Basically it is a glamourous version of rich pound cake, so laden with extra fruits and nuts that the original cake can hardly be recognized.

The recipe used by one national bakery for their famous fruit cake calls for a mixture of 60 per cent fruits and nuts and only 40 per cent pound cake.

Aromatic spices, dark raisins and molasses added to this mixture produce the old fashioned, dark fruit cake still supremely popular in regions far south of the Mason-Dixon line.

In northern regions where the taste preference is for a lighter fruit cake, these same spices, light raisins, and a light hand with the molasses produce a lighter fruit cake which is flavored to perfection with just a touch of brandy.

But dark or light, north or south, fruit cake remains a tangy, tasty, easily digested dessert which demonstrates its year-round versatility by the countless delicious combinations in which it may be served.

Topped with traditional hard sauce, or one of the many tasty cooked sauces, it is the perfect wintertime treat. In warmer weather, thin slices of rich fruit cake go wonderfully with ice cream.

Light butter cream fillings spread between and over tiny slices make tempting petit fours, and nut butters or seasoned cream cheese combined with fruit cake fingers can accent your party with original fruit canapes.

Temperature for Dough

Ever have trouble with your yeast breads? Then watch to see that your dough is at about 85 degrees during rising. If the dough is too warm the bread is likely to have a coarse texture and a "yeasty" flavor. If the dough is too cold, the bread may be on the heavy side and low in volume.

Sunday Morning Treat

Serve bacon-'n-banana rolls with pancakes as a Sunday breakfast treat. Wrap one slice of half-cooked bacon around each banana half and fasten with wooden picks. Place under broiler and turn until bacon is crisp all over. Serve immediately.

Chowder Suits Holiday Spirit

A chowder supper, the night before or after can be as much of a celebration as the memorable holiday itself.

Filled with warmth and goodness, a steaming tureen seems a symbol of hospitality, a welcome to your family and friends.

Everyone gathers gladly around the dining table. Or guests pick up their own chowder bowls from the buffet, then settle comfortably around the living room to feast and chat.

Grand makings for the chowder come right from your kitchen shelf. Creamy rich condensed mushroom soup or chicken soup as the base. Golden kernels of corn. Cubes of rosy ham or some of the leftover turkey to round out turkey to round out the chowder.

How's that for a bowlful of goodness to savor with relishes (cranberry sauce and celery) and hot buttery cornbread! Wedges of pumpkin pie appear as dessert.

Mushroom Crowder

1 cup cooked ham, finely diced
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
⅛ cup finely chopped onion
1 can (1¼ cup size) condensed cream of mushroom or chicken soup
1 can milk
1 can (2 cups) cream style corn

Brown ham in butter; add onion; cover and cook until limp. Blend in soup and milk; add corn. Heat but do not boil. Serve garnished with chopped green parsley.

Turkey Chowder

Cooked turkey may be used in the chowder instead of ham. Then add one cup turkey when adding corn. Use two tablespoons chopped pimiento for garnish instead of parsley. Makes four servings.

Browned So Deliciously

To prepare oven-browned potatoes, cut medium potatoes in half (or leave smaller ones whole) and parboil for 10 minutes. Drain and place around the roast; sprinkle with salt and pepper and cook with the meat the last hour. Turn the potatoes and baste with the beef drippings several times during cooking.

Quick supper dish: Bake four potatoes and split. Heat a can of spaghetti sauce with meat and pour over the potatoes. Serve with a tossed green salad.

Host Partly Responsible, Should Plan Coffee Last

We have the finest highways and the safest cars but these alone cannot save the occupants of a car operated by a man or woman unfit to drive because of ecesses at holiday parties.

Police cannot gauge the fitness of drivers of passing cars and under ordinary circumstances are not aware of dangerous insobriety until an accident writes the inevitable, tragic finish.

The only persons who know whether a driver should be permitted to drive are the driver himself, his passengers—and the host whose establishment or home he has just left.

Thus, it seems that the logical place to begin preventing accidents is at the holiday party.

It appears also that those who give parties at Yule time—or at any other season for that matter—must see to it that no guest drives who is unsafe to handle a car.

For taking precautionary steps at the source, there is a great deal of merit in spreading custom of considerate hosts of serving coffee as the final drink of the evening—the "one for the road."

While it is not suggested that a cup of coffee will make an unsober driver completely sober, it is felt by a growing number of safety authorities that the acknowledged steadying effect of coffee after alcohol would have beneficial effects.

Obviously a drink of coffee as the final round will leave the departing guest in better shape to handle a car than if the final round is something stronger.

Another benefit to be derived from serving a sobering "one for the road" is that by serving such a drink for safety's sake just as he departs the host will bring attention at the psychological moment to the need for caution.

Another service to guests that hosts ought to perform involves diplomacy. It is a task that requires a great deal of tact to persuade often stubborn guests that they are not fit to drive but it is a duty.

Such guests must be made to ride home with sober friends or to take a cab. If they are permitted to drive and there is death or injury, the host must be considered in the category of a negligent accessory.

With approximately 3,000,000 more cars on the road this year than during the holidays a year ago, casualties will rise accordingly unless hosts in public places and in private homes and their guests pay a fraction of the attention to the highway safety as they do to having a good time.

Egg Slicer Good Gadget

An egg slicer is an inexpensive gadget that's worth having in a kitchen. It cuts hard-cooked eggs evenly for use in sandwiches, salads and creamed dishes, and as garnishes.

Fresh eggs are rough and chalky in appearance. Avoid those that are smooth and shiny—they are old.

Yuletide Brings Tempting Meals on Rail Diners

About 22,000 special Christmas dinners will be served on Canadian National Railways' diners during the Yuletide Season.

A major speciality of the CNR Christmas dinner is the plum pudding. Made by Romeo Charest, chef instructor for the system, from the Canadian National's own recipe, the plumb pudding is specially prepared in the commissary at Montreal.

This year, 3,700 cans of pudding, weighing one and a quarter pounds each, or having a total weight of more than two tons, have been prepared during the Christmas season.

Thousands of pounds of mince meat and cranberry sauce will be used to add to the flavor and variety of the holiday feast.

Mince pies are made on the trains to insure freshness and all food except the plum pudding is prepared in the dining car kitchens for the same reason.

CHERRY SALAD WREATH — Guarantee holiday party success . . . serve maraschino cherry wreath filled with turkey salad. Use whole cherries and holly leaves cut from green pepper as decorative garnish. Thinly sliced walnut bread and assorted relishes round out the menu.

The alchemists of Europe used potatoes in love potions when they were first introduced there.

Turkey Salad Centers Another

Sparkling molded salads always rate high on the list of party favorites, and with special menus being planned for the holidays, some new salad suggestions are welcome.

Cherry Salad Wreath, festively garnished with maraschino cherries and green pepper, is a flavorful blend of chopped cherries, pineapple and cucumber molded with cream cheese and lime gelatin. Tangy turkey salad fills the center of the wreath at serving time.

Cherry Salad Wreath

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 3-ounce package lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
1 cup pineapple juice
1 cup finely diced cucumber
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, well-drained (about 20 cherries)
Crisp salad greens

Soften unflavored gelatin in ¼ cup water 5 minutes. Dissolve unflavored and lime-flavored gelatin in 1 cup boiling water, stir until gelatin is dissolved.

Beat cream cheese and ¼ cup pineapple juice until light and fluffy; add remaining pineapple juice, gelatin mixture, cucumber and pineapple. Chill until mixture is slightly thickened. Fold in cherries and turn into greased 2-quart ring mold.

Chill until firm. Unmold and surround with crisp salad greens. Fill center with Tangy Turkey Salad. Makes 4-6 servings.

Tangy Turkey Salad:

3 cups diced cooked turkey
1¼ cups chopped celery
¼ cup lime juice
Mayonnaise

Combine turkey, celery and lime juice; add enough mayonnaise to moisten. Mix well and chill thoroughly. Fill center of ring mold with turkey salad.

Ask Meat Man to Cut Backbone of Pork Loin

An easy-do roast that's a favorite for holiday meals is a pork loin roast. For ease of carving, ask your meat man to loosen the backbone; then it can be removed in the kitchen after cooking and the roast can easily be carved into chop-size servings.

To cook, place the pork loin roast, fat side up, in an open, shallow pan. There's no need to use a rack—the bones of the roast form a natural rack. Roast at 325 for 35 to 40 minutes per pound or to an internal temperature of 185. Garnish the roast simply with spiced fruit (pears, apricots, peaches or crabapples) and touches of parsley.

Salad dressing standby: Mix a can of condensed tomato soup with a generous half cup of salad oil and another of vinegar. Season to taste.

For Meat Balls Deluxe, Use Can of Beef Gravy

For meat balls deluxe, cook them in a rich sauce made with 1 can of beef gravy. To make meat balls, season 1 pound ground beef with salt and pepper; shape into about 12 balls. Brown these in hot shortening, cooking some sliced onion with the meat; now add the can of beef gravy (about 1¼ cups). Simmer all about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Serve the meat balls with cooked buttered rice (about 3 cups). Arrange rice in ring on platter; pour meat balls and gravy into center. Makes a guest-night dinner with green beans and a peach salad.

Chicken breasts can be stuffed and baked in an hour's time. The candied sweet potato slices fashioned from canned sweet potatoes and the asparagus spears can be table-ready in a few minutes.

Popcorn Fun for Kids

The kids popping corn these cold-weather nights? Give them a big wooden salad bowl to put the corn in when it's ready; then hand everyone a paper cup in which to put individual portions. It's fun to eat popcorn this way, it's convenient and it saves muss.

Family Has Fun at Hearth Meal

If you have a fireplace plan a hearth-side meal for just the family. Plan a similar meal even without a fireplace.

Sometimes it is fun for the family to have a buffet meal in the living room, just like company.

Holiday Time Meat Balls

1 egg
6 tablespoons bread crumbs
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons chopped onion
¾ teaspoon salt
½ pound ground beef
2 tablespoons fat or drippings
1¼ cups condensed vegetable soup
1¼ cups water
4 ounces elbow macaroni

Beat egg. Add 4 tablespoons bread crumbs, milk, onion and salt. Stir until well blended. Mix in ground beef. Shape into 8 small balls and roll in remaining bread crumbs. Brown lightly in fat or drippings in heavy skillet. Add soup and water, stirring until blended.

Bring to boil, cover, reduce heat and simmer gently 15 minutes. Add macaroni. Cover and simmer gently 15 minutes longer or until macaroni is tender, stirring occasionally. Makes 4 servings.

Poached or soft hard-boiled eggs should be served on a reducing diet rather than eggs that are scrambled or fried in butter or margarine.

Shape Pancakes Like Yule Tree

Christmas Tree Pancakes

1 package of pancake mix
1 teaspoon pure vanilla

Prepare pancake mix as package directs, adding the pure vanilla just before baking pancakes.

To make Christmas tree pancake be sure griddle is well greased and hot enough to make a drop of batter outline shape of tree on griddle then fill in with more batter. (It's just a triangle on top of a little square.)

CHRISTMAS TREE PANCAKES—Here's an amusing new idea for Yuletide morning. Serve the family Christmas tree pancakes. Shape the cakes into little trees on the griddle and listen to the squeals of delight as the children demolish their holiday flapjacks.

To Enrich Green Olives

Try this with green olives: pour off brine and add two tablespoons of olive oil. Shake well and allow to stand a half hour before serving.

Next time you are serving a small pie to five, cut it this easy way. Cut it first in the shape of a large letter Y, then slice each of the two large pieces on each side of the Y, in two.

Candied Orange Rind Uses Ginger Flavor

Candied orange rind is always a luxury. At this season it is especially nice to serve with other Christmas treats. Try this unusual recipe using ground ginger for a different flavor.

Ginger Candied Orange Rind

Rind from 4 large oranges
Cold water to cover orange rind
2 cups granulated sugar
3 cups granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
½ teaspoon ground ginger

Cut oranges into eighths, lengthwise. Cover with cold water; simmer until tender. Drain, reserving 1 cup liquid for later use. Scrape inner white portion of skin with teaspoon. Cut rind into ¼-inch strips. Combine the reserved 1 cup liquid, the 2 cups granulated sugar, the 2 teaspoons ground ginger and salt. Stir over low heat to dissolve sugar. Cook to 238 degrees or until syrup forms a soft ball when tested in cold water. Add rind; simmer until the rind has absorbed most of the syrup (about 20 minutes). Mix the last 2 ingredients. With a fork, lift rind from pan and roll in the sugar-ginger mixture. Cool on waxed paper. Store in tightly covered container. Yields about ½ lb.

Ginger Candied Grapefruit or Lemon Rind

Substitute the rind from 3 large grapefruit or the rind from 5 to 6 large lemons. Simmer in water 10 to 15 minutes; drain and repeat, cooking until rind is tender. Make syrup with 1 cup fresh water instead of reserved liquid.

Plenty of Mushrooms?

When mushrooms are plentiful, serve them as a main dish in this delicious way. Prepare a slice of toast for each serving and spread generously with deviled ham. Brush peeled mushroom caps with butter and place 2 or 3, depending on size, on top each piece deviled toast. Top or fill each cap with small spoonful of sour cream. Broil until mushrooms are tender, about 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Mrs. Nietubyc Describes Her Traditional Dumplings

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When we observe Christmas we are carrying on traditions that had their beginning in the long ago. For most of us our memories are all of American Christmases.

But for Mrs. Alex Nietubyc the memories are of holidays celebrated in Poland, her native land.

Although Mrs. Nietubyc has been in this country for some time, this is her first Christmas as an American citizen.

With the help of Mrs. Nietubyc's son-in-law, Eugeniusz Bora, who acted as interpretor, we found out about Christmas customs in old Poland. Mrs. Nietubyc's English is limited, but her pleasant smile made up for the words we could not exchange.

Although presents were exchanged on Saint Nicholas Day, Dec. 6, the real Christmas celebration began on Dec. 24. It was a day of fasting until the first star appeared in the sky.

Then the family sat down to dinner at a table on which some hay had been placed; this represented the manger.

After a prayer was offered, the oplatek or Christmas wafer was broken and shared with each person at the table. Mrs. Nietubyc gave us one of these wafers which is about three inches square, very thin, and imprinted with the scene of the Three Wise Men following the star.

It is white, although some do come in colors. Made of just flour and water, the wafer is translucent.

No fat or milk was used in the preparation of the 13 traditional dishes on the Christmas Eve table. A special soup often served was borscht.

Then followed fish (usually jellied carp), many kinds of vegetables, dumplings with mushrooms and poppy seed, cabbage, and a fruit compote.

The dinner Christmas Day was prodigious in its use of ham, sausages, veal and chicken. On Jan. 6 another gala time, the Feast of the Three Kings, marked the end of the Polish Christmas season.

We asked for a recipe from Mrs. Nietubyc. Obtaining it was a hilarious process.

Like the United States, where food customs differ in various sections of the country, Poland has its regional food. The Boras and the Nietubycs came from two different regions and argued good-humoredly about just what does constitute a good Polish dumpling. The four-way conversation finally agreed upon this recipe.

Kolduny (Dumplings)

½ pound pork, ground
½ pound beef, ground
2 eggs
Salt and pepper
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon marjoram
Water to make a soft dough

Mix together the ground meat, 1 egg, the marjoram and the seasonings. Let stand while you make the dough. To the flour add the egg and enough water to make a dough you can roll out.

Roll out the dough, cut into large circles. Place a spoonful of the meat mixture on each dough circle. Fold in half and press the edges together.

Cook in boiling, salted water 5 to 7 minutes. Serve with buttered bread crumbs or with the liquid in which they have been boiled and to which you have added some sliced onions.

We wish Mrs. Nietubyc and all the other new American citizens a very Merry Christmas; we hope that your adopted land will always be the haven of peace and good will that you now believe it to be.

Vary With Chili Powder

Hearty vegetable salads need a good tangy dressing. That's why French dressings are so popular. For a delightful variation on your favorite French dressing, add ½ to ¾ teaspoon of chili powder to the basic dressing recipe. It's equally good on meat or fish salads, too.

Top grapefruit halves with honey or molasses and broil until heated through and lightly browned around the edge of the fruit.

Mold Holiday Salad in Cranberry Bells

Mold this fruit-filled cranberry salad in bell-shaped molds for the holiday dinner. Or cut around cardboard bell patterns when salad has been jelled in a square pan.

Cranberry Salad Bells

1 pound can whole cranberry sauce
½ cup raisins
½ unpeeled, cored apple, chopped
½ cup finely chopped celery
1 teaspoon powdered ginger
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water

Combine first six ingredients. Place gelatin in custard cup. Add cold water. Let stand two minutes. Place custard cup in pan of boiling water until gelatin dissolves.

Stir into cranberry mixture. Spoon into molds which have been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve in lettuce cups. Serves four to six.

YULETIDE PUDDING — Puddings put on holiday airs in the best spirit of the day. For a wonderful, and different, holiday dessert, try Yuletide pudding made with ready-to-use eggnog. It's rum-flavored, but non-alcoholic.

Ready-to-Serve Eggnog Flavors Yuletide Pudding

Tradition calls for it — and holiday appetites are ready-whetted to enjoy it — eggnog as festive and friendly as the season itself!

In olden days, every hostess had her own carefully guarded secret recipe for Christmas eggnog. Today a creamy luscious, just-right eggnog is ready for the asking.

Locally available, this eggnog has its own subtle flavor secret. Non-alcoholic but rum-flavored, its teasing lusciousness is appreciated by the whole family, including the children. (They love to be included in "big folks' " doings!)

One quart of eggnog makes eight punch cup servings. Keep plenty on hand for seconds. If there's any left over, pour it on prunes—or sliced bananas — or peaches—for a new thrill to the taste buds.

Ready to use eggnog can help with holiday planning in another way too. It's wonderful for an easily made, luscious Yuletide pudding.

Yuletide Pudding

1 package vanilla pudding
1 cup read-to-use eggnog
1 cup milk

Place pudding in top of double boiler. Add eggnog and then milk, gradually, stirring until blended. Place over boiling water; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Pour into serving dish or sherbet glasses. Chill. If desired, garnish with fruit slices. Makes four servings.

Eying Calories? Read, Be Happy

Many people have aksed for a recipe for maple syrup with little or no calories. Now, thanks to the new non-caloric sweetener, that can be cooked without becoming bitter or losing its sweetness, low caolorie maple syrup is here.

It has pouring consistency, maple flavor, and real sweetness.

Do not store this maple syrup more than a few days in your refrigerator; use it up on desserts or make up Maple Delight. We are giving you a recipe for Maple Delight candy—each piece contains only 7 calories.

Remember that one pancake, 4 inches in diameter has 65 calories; one waffle just 6 inches in diameter can contain 230 calories. Be sure to count those calories in pancakes and waffles and don't eat too many.

Maple Flavored Syrup

2 cups water
2 teaspoons cornstarch
2 teaspoons non-caloric sweetener or 10 tablets crushed
1 teaspoon maple flavoring

Mix corn starch with ¼ cup of the water, mix well. Combine remaining water, non-caloric sweetener and flavoring in saucepan and bring to boiling point over low to medium heat; now add corn starch mixture and stir well. Remove from heat and cool.

Before serving stir rapidly with fork or beat with rotary egg beater. Store in refrigerator; do not keep more than a few days.

Maple Delights

Soften two envelopes unflavored gelatine in ½ cup maple flavored syrup (above recipe). Heat ½ cup syrup and add to gelatine mixture. Stir until dissolved. Pour into small square pan that will give one-inch depth to candies. Chill until firm. Wet a sharp knife; loosen candy around edges of pan; turn onto board lightly dusted with powdered sugar. Cut into one-inch cubes. (Sugar may be eliminated if desired). Eat at once, or keep inch cubes. Each contains 7 calories, protein 1 gram; fat, 0; carbohydrate 0.75 gram. If made with drate 0.75 gram. If made with regular maple syrup each piece would contain 50 calories.

Ham-Egg Dish Is Thrifty Treat for Yule Buffet

It's fun to entertain at Christmastime, but you may hesitate because of the expense. If that is your case, then here's a buffet menu that lets you entertain with a flair, without breaking your budget.

Creamed ham and eggs in a giant rice ring can be the answer to your entertaining needs.

If you have a large round green platter use it. A red luncheon cloth will carry out the Christmas colors.

Serve this main dish with broccoli, individual frozen fruit salads, hot parkerhouse rolls, coffee, tea or milk. Your dessert might be Christmas pudding or fruitcake.

To prepare the ham-egg rice ring do this: Cut cooked ham into bit-size cubes. (This is a good way for using leftovers). Combine them in a cream sauce with sliced hard-cooked eggs.

Arrange within the fluffy rice ring just before serving.

When you are making white sauce over direct heat be sure to use a heavy saucepan and keep the heat low; stir constantly, scraping the sauce from the sides and bottom of the pan, until thickened and bubbly.

This Is Dessert Superb!

Here's a delicious quick trick with lovely, golden Muscatel wine. Drain canned cling peach halves and pineapple chunks. Place a peach half cup side up in a stemmed sherbet glass and fill with 3 or 4 pineapple chunks. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, pour room-temperature Muscatel over all. The dessert looks pretty and tastes superb.

It's a good idea to choose a can opener that works for rectangular as well as round cans.

Truck Strike Hits Minneapolis Papers

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—News-hungry residents of this city of more than half a million population lined up again last night to purchase copies of the Minneapolis Tribune, sold only in the newspaper's main lobby since an AFL teamsters' strike knocked out all truck deliveries.

The morning paper continued to publish but made no effort to deliver papers to homes or newsstands. Sales, made only in the lobby were limited to five copies per buyer.

• • •

Cut from the usual 620,000-run, only 75,000 copies of the Sunday edition were printed. All were sold by mid-afternoon. Last night sale of the Monday edition was brisk. Newsstands sold out all out-of-town papers they had.

The Evening Star also will be affected by the walkout. The two papers are owned by the same company and printed in the same plant.

Company officers said they would continue publishing both newspapers as long as limited newsprint supplies last. The drivers now on strike ordinarily haul the newsprint rolls to the plant.

Woman Dies as Blaze Consumes Hidden Toys

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Virgil Eckstein left his small son and daughter in the cab of his pickup truck while he went into a grocery store at Shelby.

When he came out he found his daughter Pamela, 4, on the floor, a bullet wound in her head. She died later in a hospital.

Police have not yet determined where the .22-caliber bullet came from but Coroner Robert Burns said it may have come from some distance.

Sewing Study Tests Goods

'Seam Research Lab' Can Redesign Needle for Less Friction

NEW YORK (UP) — An ultra-modern sewing machine will lay down 5,000 stitches in a minute, but in a few minutes at such speed the needle is heated by friction to some 500 degrees, Fahrenheit.

Some of the new synthetic fibers will melt at high temperatures, and one now much in use starts melting when the heat gets up to 250 degrees.

What to do—slow the machine? But if you slow the machine, you'll mess up the needle trades. High production rate is the only way to offset high labor costs.

One of the most effective and least known of industrial science laboratories deals with such problems as this one. It is the Seam Research Laboratory in the heart of Manhattan's bustling garment district.

The problem of friction heat was solved in several ways. One was to add a gadget to the machine that keeps the flying needle bathed in a stream of cool air.

Another was to redesign needles. One new needle has a barely perceptible shoulder just below the "eye." It is the last part of the needle to penetrate the fabric, and enlarges the hole just enough for the needle to withdraw without rubbing against the fabric and creating more heat friction.

The laboratory has been through many headaches with the synthetic fibers. Heat was only one. Another is their elasticity. When a needle displaces the fibers, they spring back to their original positions when the needle is withdrawn. The result used to be, more often than not, a "puckered" seam.

Needle design again was the answer, but it came only after long studies with imposingly complicated instruments that, among other things, permit a precise analysis of the way a needle striking 5,000 times a minute, penetrates any material.

There are instruments to measure the tensile strength of seams, and those, in certain garments, can be very important, as William L. Emmerson, the laboratory chief, was quick to point out with a graphic example.

"The thread and seam suitable for one of Marilyn Monroe's slinky evening gowns wouldn't do at all for one of Esther Williams' bathing suits," he said. "The stress and strain would murder it."

The laboratory deals only with industrial sewing although its findings filter down to the housewife who makes her own dresses.

But her problems generally are of a different order. She'd have no use for a 5,000-stitches-a-minute machine—and she might sew her fingers if she had one. They require high skill and close concentration.

But industrial sewers keep it humming. Last year, problems came from the needle trades of 20 countries. It tested the sewing qualities of many of the new synthetic fibers before they were offered in bolt goods form for the home sewer.

Creeping Cardboard Box Holds Scare for Driver

SHELTON, Neb. (UP)—Bill Drage of Shelton, spotting a cardboard box in his way, saw it move, but decided the wind was blowing it and bumped it with his truck. Out tumbled three boys, ages 4 to 8.

They had crawled under the box and were creeping along on their hands and knees to transport it from a store to home.

The boys were injured only slightly, but Drage said he "never was so scared in my life."

THE LITTLE TREE THAT TALKED — By WALT SCOTT

Cities Setting Up 'Gripe Centers' to Get Efficiency

The National Institute of Municipal Clerks reported such centers in operation in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Norfolk, Va., Houston, Tex., Beloit, Wis., and Prattville, Ala.

The institute said greater efficiency has resulted from the centers, according to local officials.

Before, when calls came in about clogged sewers or uncollected garbage, the departments concerned had to be reached directly. Often their employes were out on another job and the complainant's temper was frayed and his confidence in local government lowered.

"Gripe centers" help insure that complaints will receive a courteous hearing and will be sent to the proper place, with follow-ups until action has been taken.

In Philadelphia, the Mayor's Office for Information and Complaints had 150 visitors on opening day and answered about 200 telephone inquiries. At the end of the first year the average had grown to more than 500 questions or complaints per day.

95 Per Cent of Murders Are Caused by Drink

CORNWALL, Ont. (UP)—Prof. Joslyn Rogers, University of Toronto medico-legal expert, told a meeting here that 95 per cent of murders and 20 per cent of traffic fatalities in Ontario are caused by overindulgence in alcohol. Most murders now, he said, result from "drunken brawls."

Ex-Prisoner Robs Again to Return to Fortress

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (UP)—Harold R. Weber, 35, Belleville, likes prison so well he wants to go back.

Weber recently was released from Menard state prison after serving 30 months for forgery. A week later he showed up at police headquarters here and told officers he had robbed a service station.

"I want to go back to Menard," Weber said. "Things have changed there since Ross Randolph has been appointed warden. We get excellent care, the food is good and the warden mingles with the men."

Muscular Dystrophy Treatment Is Helpful

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (UP)—Dr. J. Ray Van Meter, associate professor of neurology at the University of California medical school here, reports encouraging results from a new treatment of muscular dystrophy.

Dr. Van Meter has been treating 10 patients, suffering from the crippling and virtually hopeless disease, with amino acids and selected vitamins over periods ranging from two months to a year.

He said improvement was noticed in every patient and that they reported a return of strength and a sense of well-being. He added however, that the treatment cannot be considered a cure.

If the treatment is successful, he said, the patients probably will have to take replacement nutrients for the rest of their lives.

Bounty Can Be Costly

KNOXVILE, Tenn. (UP)—It may cost you $63 to collect a bounty for killing a hawk in Knox county. The county pays a $1 bounty when a hawk killer produces the bird's head and feet and a sworn statement it was killed in the county. But State law provides a $64 fine for anyone killing all but a few varieties of hawks.

Storage Space Useful in Glove Compartment

CHICAGO (UP) — Your car's glove compartment can be one of your best traveling assets, suggests the president of an international car renting company.

Stock it with items that can be of help—a first aid kit, sun glasses, notebook and pencil, aspirin, facial tissues, whiskbroom.

Governor and Daughter at Odds Over Issue

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Susan, daughter of Gov. Robert Crosby of Nebraska, popped her head inside the executive office door just when her Dad was deep in a press conference.

Crosby glanced at her and remarked "Oh, no school today. I was just talking to the teachers' convention — and your teachers were there—and I told them one of the things wrong with the schools today is that there are too many holidays!"

Bob Considine Says:

Cheating Charity Expose Hampers Honest Funds

NEW YORK (INS) — New York State Sen. Bernard Tompkins has done such a splendid job exposing charity gyps that people are beginning to look under Santa Claus' beards before dropping a dime on the drum.

It's rough on Santa, and several of the more responsible charities have complained that they are suffering a bit because of the expose of the unethical ones. But the fumigation had to be done, and Tompkins and his associates are to be complimented for the manner in which they have laid about with a big stick.

It's astonishing but true that there is no law—federal, state or municipal — which requires a charity organization to account to anyone what it does with the money it collects.

Just one of the organizations looked into by Sen. Tompkins' committee, the Disabled American Veterans, showed a $21,000,000 "take" during the years without direct aid to disabled veterans.

His group has found charities whose administrative staffs spend from 50 per cent to 100 per cent of receipts.

And he has found others, like the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, where every cent contributed—every cent—goes into cancer research and work.

At hand is a wire from Herbert R. Edwards, M.D., executive director of the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association. Dr. Edwards says the Christmas seal campaign is lagging. He agrees that the rooting out of the gyps has been long overdue, and invites examination of the T.B. seal campaign.

"These penny stamps have fought a mammoth battle against the country's number one infectious killer," he wires. "Advances in medicine have reduced the number of deaths but there are almost 20,000 cases of tuberculosis in New York City today.

"Our fund-raising costs do not exceed an average of 15 per cent of gross income . . . we need a positive statement at this point that the tuberculosis associations direct their campaigns chiefly toward tuberculosis prevention.

They maintain an active program in the field of education and information, and in social and medical research. They directly serve the patient by counselling guidance and rehabilitation service, and provide X-ray services for individuals and in industry."

Prefabrication Ancient With Housing Business

Way back in 1867 the firm of Gardner and Vose here was advertising "ready made cottages" and guaranteeing to have them ready for occupancy within a few days.

"They are the most paying investment to be found," the company said, "as they will readily rent anywhere at from $12 to $20 a month."

Hits Close to Home

13 Is Lucky Number for Walhalla Woman

WALHALLA, S. C. (UP)—Mrs. Rod Turnbull, born on a Dec. 13, has no fear of 13s.

She was born in the 13th year of her parents' marriage and was the 13th grandchild in her generation. There are 13 letters in her maiden name and her 13th birthday came on a Friday the 13th.

She never plans things for her lucky day, the 13th, so avoided being married on that date. But she sailed from the United States to join her husband in Japan's occupation forces upon a 13th, and she and her husband sailed back home on a 13th.

What's in a Name?

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — A pretty girl who was pinched (for speeding) got a wry laugh when she read the names of the two policemen on the ticket.

The signatures read: Goforth and Ketchum! (Paul G. and Bruce).

Cannot Be Too Careful in Passing Bum Check

KEYSER, W. Va. (UP)—A truck driver picked the wrong victim when he tried to pass a worthless check to a gas station owner named Earl Kemp at Newcreek.

The next day Kemp went to the trucker's home at Berkeley Springs and hauled him back to a justice's court, where he made good the $20 check and paid a $5 fine.

Kemp is sheriff of Mineral County.

Berserk Squirrel Attacks Humans

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Earl E. Geesaman, York county game protector, thinks the squirrels in his county are getting tired of people. He said one squirrel ran wild in Spring Garden Twp. and managed to frighten a couple of humans.

"The squirrel would attack humans for no apparent reason. It bit three persons before it was finally shot by a police officer," Geesaman said.

The animal was checked for rabies, but the report was negative.

City Cows Fail to Find Grass in Asphalt Jungle

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Three cows came to the city to graze the other day but failed to find any grass in the asphalt jungle where they were rounded up before a downtown crowd on the way to work.

The three fugitives were part of a herd of 21 which escaped when a semi-trailer skidded into a ditch and overturned near a packing plant.

Oklahoma's Toll Road Is Success

State Planning to Build Three More Such Pay Highways

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (INS)—Oklahoma dared to make a 38 million dollar dream come true—the Turner Turnpike—in just four short months rated the "safest highway anywhere." Now, the state wants to build three more costly, badly-needed toll roads across Oklahoma.

Many thousand of American motorists who have used Highway 66, which crosses Oklahoma, are applauding.

Financial and safety success of the 88-mile super-highway linking Oklahoma City and Tulsa have many states eyeing similar toll roads.

Gov. Johnston Murray, leading the fight for more toll roads, says, "People are tired of traveling narrow highways through a maze of small towns, and the toll road is the answer, motorists paying as they use them.

"Only dreamers imagine we can have free roads. Bond buyers like the toll roads, and are ready to finance a network of turnpikes across the nation. Oklahoma will be the center of that network, carrying cross-state traffic easily with strong, big enough, safe highways without adding new burdens to taxpayers.

"The toll roads of Pennsylvania New Jersey and now Oklahoma, now have proved their worth, Murray said.

The Turner Turnpike, named for former Gov. Roy J. Turner, its No. 1 booster, had just 48 accidents and one fatality its first four months of operation, with 815,095 vehicles traveling 51,500,000 vehicle miles. The rest of Oklahoma had 409 deaths from traffic from January 1 to October 25 this year, 448 for the same period last year.

The Turnpike has a speed limit of 70 miles an hour. Only nine mishaps have resulted from blowouts and the lone fatality occurred when a car pulling a house trailer overturned. Now, new rules make such conveyances travel at a maximum 45 miles an hour, to prevent weaving accidents.

The edges of the road have been outlined with reflective markers at 100 and 200-foot intervals. And the over-size traffic signs have been completely reflectorized so that they can be seen up to half a mile away at night.

Physician Says Calorie Counting Only Aid to Diet

CHICAGO (UP) — A well-known authority on overweight says there is no quick and easy way to reduce safely.

You drop pounds by dropping calories, says Dr. Norman Jolliffe, director of the bureau of nutrition of the New York City Health department.

The physician, writing in the current issue of Food Technology, says it is not surprising that skipping meals, following trick diets or eating high protein meals turn out to be failures at weight losing.

"The reducing diet should form the basis of dietary re-education so that proper eating habits will continue after the desired loss of weight has been attained," he said.

His rule to dieters — learn food values, count calories.

"The milestones on the reducing trail are fairly far apart," he said. "As you proceed along on a sub-calorie diet, and come to the point where you have achieved a deficit of 3,500 calories, you can mark up a loss of one pound of adipose tissue."

Driveway Advice Given

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—University of Illinois agriculture experts advise farmers to plan their driveway entrances so they can see at least 700 feet in both directions before driving onto the road.

About 13 per cent of forest fires are caused by lightning.

Woman Gives Up Garbage Collecting

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP) — This city's last lady garbage truck driver has traded her three-ton truck for the sewing needle and the broom after more than 10 years service.

Mrs. Ethel Jackson, 67-year-old widow, doffed her gloves and cap for the contrasting quiet of domesticity. She had hauled thousands of tons of garbage and drove more than 100,000 miles.

She was one of seven women garbage truck drivers hired by the city during the World War II manpower shortage. Mrs. Jackson didn't especially want to retire, but she'd passed the 65-year age limit.

Lost Bear Prefers Map to Motorist's Sandwich

KENMORE, N. Y. (UP) — Ken Behrens is responsible for this story of a bear that knew what to do when lost in Allegheny State Park.

Behrens explained that he was driving through the park when suddenly the big brown animal flagged him down and sauntered over to the car. Behrens offered the bear a sandwich, but the animal spurned it. Instead, it grabbed a road map and ambled off.

Man, 91, Says Illness Assures Longevity

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UP) — John Wesley Cox, 91, advises frequent illness to assure longevity.

"If a man's not used to sickness, he's liable to croak the first time a little old bug gets hold of him," Cox said. "It's like trying to climb in the ring and fight somebody when you're not in training."

Cox, a retired farmer, has spent a good part of his life around doctors' offices and hospitals. His son, Harvey Cox, recalled that "there seldom ever was a time when Dad felt real good."

Cox said when he was 40 he never expected to reach 50 and after that he was certain he would die before reaching 60. At 85 he underwent major surgery.

Today he is spry and still going to doctors. He gave up chewing tobacco long ago and never smoked or drank.

Hal Boyle Asks:

What Is Christmas? Love, and Joy in a Child's Eyes

NEW YORK (AP)—What is Christmas?

It began with the worship of an infant, and even today you miss the sparkle of Christmas unless you see it by the candles of joy in a child's eyes.

Christmas is the one holiday of the year that adults can never take away from the kids—so they might as well quit trying. From the dawn's early light until the twilight lowers to the music of a tired, sleepy hand beating on an already broken drum, Christmas properly is the property of childhood.

* * *

We grownups try to get into the act, but our real role is that of appreciative audience. There is no fun on Christmas greater than watching a kid have fun. And how could there be? For only in such a manner can we ever truly bathe in the fountain of youth, and know again the morning delights we somehow lose along the way.

Some adults feel hurt if they don't get more Christmas cards than they send out—as if Christmas were a popularity contest and they had lost it. Others worry if they do get back more cards—as if Christmas were a matching contest that the rules of a courteous jungle require to come out even. Still other adults get secretly or audibly miffed if they get a wrong present—as if Christmas were a competition between pocketbooks.

It is these so-called grownups who most often complain that Christmas has become a racket, and as far as they are concerned they are quite right. To them it is a racket because they have approached it in that spirit. Childbirth would be a racket, too, if a mother had a baby only to sell it to the highest bidder.

* * *

All such spiritually barren folk should have their hearts, if not their heads, examined and be given a massive dose of the world's oldest wonder drug—the elixir of loving-kindness.

What make a child love Christmas? Wonder and surprise. The immortal ecstasy of opening a package and finding something new inside. The value of a gift means nothing to him. And what difference does it make if the child breaks his gift five minutes after he opens the package? He has given you a reward that will last as long as memory—the wonderful look of happiness when he first saw his gift, his face sweet as the spring sun and his voice like a glad bird's cry.

If someone deeded you the earth and threw in the moon for a souvenir, could you summon up such utter appreciation?

* * *

There are some who say that there is too much emphasis on giving presents to children at Christmas and too little emphasis on religion—too much of Santa Claus, too little of Christ. But I recall reading that the three wise men brought gifts to the infant Jesus in the manger, and I don't recall reading that he grew up a spoiled child.

* * *

Someone told me a story the other day of a little boy who surprised his mother with a present for her birthday. It was a big, awkwardly tied package. As the mother pulled more and more wrapping out of the box without finding anything, she began to suspect a trick.

"Why, I don't believe there's any present inside at all," she exclaimed, pretending disappointment.

"Yes, there is, too!"

"What is it?" asked the mother.

"It's me!" said her liftle son, jumping up and down with glee.

* * *

There is a French maxim that says, "Zest is the last gift of the gods."

What is Christmas but zest—the zest of seeing a happy child, and kindling through remembrance the zest you knew yourself as a child on Christmas morning?

None of us know what the infant Jesus really looked like, but don't we all feel he smiled on his birthday?

Zealanders Prefer Beef

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (UP) — Contrary to popular belief about New Zealanders' eating tastes, lamb is not their first choice. It's beef. Government statistics show New Zealanders eat 109.9 pounds of beef per capita, and only 66.2 pounds of mutton, with lamb 'way down the list at 10.5 pounds.

Americans use about 500 billion matches a year.

Fear Escapee Seeks Revenge

Vowed to Kill Court Official; Companions Described by Kin

DETROIT (UP) — A "black sheep," a "victim of bad companionship" and a killer bent on revenge.

Those descriptions fit three of five fugitives who escaped Saturday from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson and are believed hiding out in the Detroit area.

Roman Usiondek, convict ringleader, was feared attempting to carry out death threats against Circuit Court Commissioner Thomas Pasieczny. The commissioner was the state's assistant prosecutor in charge of the murder prosecution against Usiondek in January of 1943.

At the trial, Usiondek warned Pasieczny:

"If I am ever free I'll kill you."

The commissioner has asked police protection, as have six persons who testified as witnesses at Usiondek's trial.

Meanwhile, the mother of one of the fugitives pleaded Sunday that her son give himself up.

Mrs. Dorothea Dowling, of Detroit, is the mother of 11 children. One is Robert Dowling, 33, serving 1 to 15 years for breaking and entering when he joined in the escape Saturday night.

Mrs. Dowling said: " He got in with bad companions."

"Oh, how I pray he will change," she sobed.

In contrast was a sister's feeling for fugitive Edward J. Emrick, 43, an escaped killer.

"He was a black sheep from the start and has never changed," said his sister, Mrs. Pauline Wichtman, of Detroit.

Mrs. Wichtman said her brother has been in trouble with police as long as she can remember.

Emerick was sentenced to life July 18, 1952, for the first degre murder of Detective Russell Blanchard during an attempted holdup. His police record includes eight convictions since April, 1928.

"He never paid any attention to anyone. He always did what he wanted to do," said Mrs. Wichtman. She said she saw her brother about two years ago but hasn't heard from him since.

Officer Joins Hunt as 'Personal' Cause

DETROIT—No one asked patrolman Russell G. Blanchard any questions when he gave up his day off Sunday to search for five Southern Michigan Prison escapees loose in Detroit.

One of the prisoners still at large is Edward J. Emrick, 43, jailed as an accomplice in the March 15, 1952, murder of city detective, Russell J. Blanchard, 50, the patrolman's father.

The 24-year-old, unmarried patrolman joined the force four months after his father's death. He told his superiors yesterday:

"I have a personal reason . . ."

His father was killed by Edward Kozlowski, then 54, of Detroit, when he tried to break up a robbery. Kozlowski was fatally injured resisting arrest. Emrick was an accomplice.

Blanchard said he thought he could spot Emrick easier than others could. "Besides this is my job," he said. "My father died doing his duty."

Prison Escape Timetable

JACKSON (UP)— A timetable on the escape and ensuing flight of the 13 Southern Michigan Prison convicts, beginning with Saturday night follows:

6:05 p. m. — A routine check discloses at least 10 convicts missing.

6:10 p. m. — A group of convicts invade Jackson home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Milliman. They depart after stealing civilian clothing, a gun and car.

7:10 p. m. —A group of five storm Jackson home of Joseph Watts and create a two-hour reign of terror. They depart in a stolen Cadillac with two women hostages (Mrs. Watts and Miss Helen Gilbert, a visitor).

8:04 p. m. — Milliman car overturned during a chase five miles southeast of Jackson. Police take five escaped convicts back to prison. A sixth is picked up an hour later.

5:45 a. m. — Fleeing Cadillac is spotted in Northville. Northville policeman gives chase, meanwhile alerting Detroit police.

6:32 a. m. — Women hostages released without harm in Detroit.

Groom Faints, Gets Married in Bandage

TURIN, Italy (UP) — Pasquale Monti, 25, said "I do" in a trembling voice and fell in a faint.

His bride screamed. The priest bandaged the groom's bruises.

Jackson Prison Has Long History of Penal Trouble

By TOM FARRELL

JACKSON (UP)—The escape of 13 convicts from Southern Michigan Prison Saturday night was the biggest break in the prison's 116-year history.

But it was only one of the many incidents that have occurred through the years at Michigan's penal "trouble spot."

Long to be remembered will be the four-day riot in April, 1952. Some 2,000 inmates, led by "Crazy Jack" Hyatt and Earl Ward went on a wild spree that inculded taking 12 guards hostages.

At one point, state police bullets killed one convict and several others were injured to restore order. "Peace" didn't come to the grim pentagon-shaped prison until the rioters were promised steak and ice cream, along with a chance to air their grievances before state officials.

Before that, the stand-out uprising came in 1912 at the old prison, which was abandoned in 1930.

Starting on Labor Day, some 500 convicts picked up wrenches, knives, razors and anything they could get their hands on to drive guards and prison officials outside the walls.

Five companies of Michigan militia were called into action by former Gov. Chase S. Osborn during the five-day mutiny. Finally, the rioters surrendered and released 11 guards held as hostages.

In July of 1952, there was a sequal to the April mutiny but on a much smaller scale. State troopers who had been stationed inside the walls since the April riot ended the new uprising inside of two hours. Only three hostage guards were held.

A guard was killed and three prison officials were held for a time in 1939 when six inmates went on a rampage during a football game in the prison yard. The convicts got outside the walls but were recaptured within hours.

Demonstrations and minor uprisings almost have been too common to list. The most recent include a five-hour sit-down strike by convicts last May, the breaking of a liquor smuggling ring by prison officials last August and an attempted riot which fizzled in September when guards discovered salt dumped in coffee urns.

A trusty brought the prison back into the news last Oct. 17 when he kidnapped a guard at knifepoint and forced him to drive 130 miles. The guard was found to be unharmed when the prisoner was captured.

Wardens generally have blamed the trouble on a shortage of guards.

William H. Bannan, the latest person to head the institution, said the Saturday night escape was made possible because there were not enough guards on duty durihg the weekend to check a tunnel through which the 13 convicts crawled to freedom.

Bannan said he heard a "ripple" —a rumor—that inmates planned to escape under walls, and ordered that such passageways be checked daily to see if they had been tampered with. However Bannan said no action was taken against the persons the rumors indicated would try to escape.

"At Jackson," Bannan explained, "we get tips like that every day. You couldn't lock everyone up who was named in such information or nobody would be working."

State Reward Offered for Escaped Convicts

DETROIT (UP) — Michigan residents today were reminded of a standing offer of $50 for information leading to the recapture of an escaped prisoner. It applies to the five Southern Michigan Prison convicts who disappeared in Detroit.

The state money cannot be paid to policemen, nor is it paid if the convict is arrested for any other crime. Police have placed wanted circulars at all city transportation terminals.

Fleeing Felon Sees TV for First Time

JACKSON (UP)— One of the five Southern Michigan Prison escapees who invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watts Saturday night was "amazed" when he saw the couple's television set.

"I've never seen one before," Mrs. Watts quoted the fugitive as saying. "Isn't it wonderful? I'm amazed by the whole thing."

WILLIAM H. BANNAN

Warden of Jackson Prison, William H. Bannan, has launched an investigation to find out where the 13 convicts got the torch with which to free themselves from the prison last Saturday. Bannan blamed the lack of guards at the prison for the breakout.

Former Witness Seeks Protection From Escapee

DETROIT (UP) — John Hill, a Detroit factory worker, requested police protection today while officers hunt for the five remaining fugitives who escaped from Southern Michigan Prison Saturday night.

Hill turned state's witness in the murder trial of Roman Usiondek, 37, in 1943. Usiondek was sentenced to life in prison when he was convicted of killing a Hamtramck tavern owner.

Hill said Usiondek swore at the time he would kill him if he ever got out of prison.

Usiondek was among the five who took two Jackson housewives as hostages and sped to Detroit in a stolen car.

There are 6,000 high schools in the country now offering complete courses in driver education, including behind-the-wheel driving instruction, to more than 325,000 students a year.

The Girls Are Safe

Long Night of Grim Vigil Ends With Welcome News

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

JACKSON (UP)—The skimpy, masculine-type Christmas decorations around the Jackson State Police Post clashed strangely with the taut atmosphere Saturday night.

The post is headquarters for the tense hunt for five escaped convicts careening through the night somewhere with two young women hostages.

The place bristles with police brass, reports and photographers, all trying to cover their concern for the pretty young hostages by talking tough.

The spirit that led to the Christmas wreath on the door, the gag Christmas tree with no branches and the tacked up Christmas cards seems far away indeed.

Out in the moonlit cold, more than 200 state troopers, sheriff's deputies and city police shiver at blockade points looking for the biege Cadillac the escapees stole.

Midnight comes and goes. One o'clock. Two o'clock. The initial excitement dies. The terse conversations on the police radio wavelengths die down. And you wait.

State police Capt. Bruce McGlone theoriezes sleepily, "they've holed up someplace."

You decide to take a walk across the street to Southern Michigan Prison, out of whose huge confines 13 prisoners had run like rats through a sewer.

Acting Corrections Commissioner Gus Harrison and Warden William H. Bannan are keeping their own vigil in the hall office, barn-like nerve center of the world's largest prison.

Talks with the six who had already been recaptured have convinced Bannan this was not an organized break.

"Some of the guys we got back didn't even know some of the other guys," he says. "They were just standing around when the break started."

"What we want to know real bad," he continues, "is where they got the acetylene torches. They're supposed to be in the gun room."

Grimly he adds:

Back over to the police post in the eerie crispness of the cold moon.

A few false leads have been checked out. Joseph Watts, husband of one of the hostages and owner of the car, has called a couple more times. He's been told gently by a tough state trooper there is still no news and that everything possible is being done.

Newspapermen have conked out all over the furniture, and you find a hard wooden chair. Three o'clock. Four o'clock, you've been smoking too many cigarettes. Five o'clock.

You're resigned that there will be no hope of nailing the convicts until they start to move with daylight.

Then the radio comes to life at 5:45 a.m. long before dawn.

The escape car has been spotted on the outskirts of Detroit, the girls still in it.

The post is suddenly vibrant as orders crackle out, reporters telephone and everyone keeps an ear on the radio loudspeaker.

The blockade is tightened around Detroit and especially south of it.

And then the big break. The girls call Detroit police to report they have been released unharmed when the car ran out of gas.

Mrs. Watts calls her husband, and he reports to the command post, "she says they haven't been touched."

Driver Sentenced Here for Negligent Homicide

Arthur Williams, 21, of 940 Warren St., Detroit, was sentenced to nine months to two years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson today by Oakland County Circuit a negligent homicide charge.

Williams pleaded guilty Dec. 11 to striking a pedestrian on Eight Mile Road in Ferndale on Sept. 5. Police said Williams was drunk at the time and didn't stop until chased by other motorists for several blocks.

Perhaps the oldest road on earth winds across the Near East between the valleys of the Euphrates and Nile River. Camel trains and marching armies packed down this ancient caravan route thousands of years before the Christian era.

Spartans Spice Bowl Drills With 'Fireman' Act

Gridders Work as Rescue Team in Hotel Blaze

Help Occupants Out of Danger, Play the Part of Hosemen

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A group of Michigan State football players, here for the UCLA Rose Bowl game, organized into a fire-fighting and rescue crew yesterday when a blaze threatened the Huntington Hotel where they are quartered.

The fire, of undetermined origin, started shortly before noon in a basket in a linen closet on the 3rd floor of the main hotel building.

Many of the players are housed on the same floor of the rambling, 300-room hotel. No one was injured, although a number of the players helped firemen bring the blaze under control.

Helping him on the hose detail were center Joe Badaczewski, tackle Jim Jebb, guard Alvin Lee and halfback Gene Lekenta.

Center Fred Rody, guard Alvin Lee, end Bill Quinlan and tackle Hank Bullock went from room to room to lead the occupants, many of them elderly, to safety.

Quinlan and Bullough wheeled one elderly woman in a wheel chair down to the lobby.

One woman appealed to Jebb to find her French poodle and the big tackle crawled into a smoke-filled room calling—"here doggie, here doggie" until he located the poodle under a bed.

"It was a good thing the team was there," said Pasadena Fire Chief Stan Edmoundson. "That little guy with the hose (Slonac) took charge as well as any of my men could. And the big guy with the skinned nose (Quinlan) did a heck of a job, too."

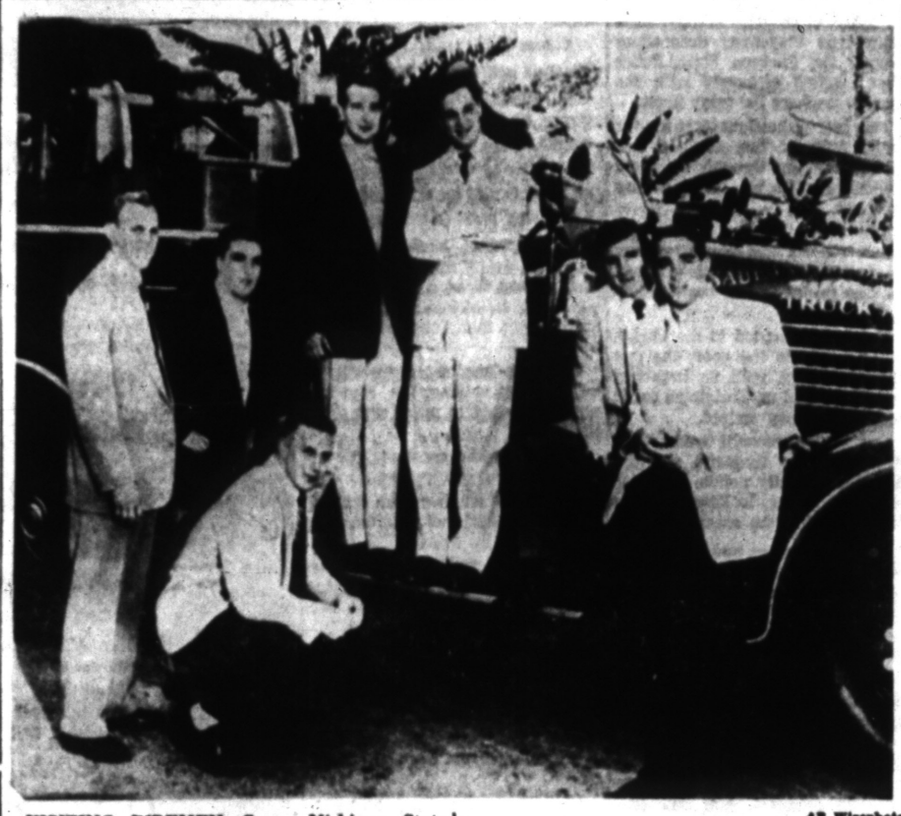

Three alarms brought seven companies of Pasadena city fire equipment to the scene.

* * *

The fire itself was limited to a small area around the linen closet and a nearby room but smoke and water damage was extensive. The damage was estimated at $25,000 by Edmoundson.

Most of the players involved took a dip in the hotel pool afterwards. Then took off for a tour of Hollywood and a viist to a television show.

"All of them were heroes," said Hotel Manager-owner Stephen Royce. "We certainly are grateful to the team."

Quarters Please MSC

By ROBERT E. VOGES

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — "Its not too bad if you don't mind roughing it a little."

Michigan State line coach Duffy Dougherty was talking about the setup the Spartan family has at the hotel Huntington at Pasadena, "camping-out" spot for the squad prior to the Rose Bowl game.

The huge resort hotel is set in exotic park-like surroundings overlooking San Gabriel Valley.

Most of the year, the hotel caters to socialites, dowager-type old ladies and others with money and the knowledge how to spend it gracefully.

But once every winter, a few weeks before New Year's, the hotel erupts into a turmoil of activity that has the sweet old ladies peering over their knitting in the lobby in amazement.

That's when a football team and all its followers moves in to take over. This year, its Michigan State, and the Spartans are enjoying every minute of it.

Coach Biggie Munn told team members they should have a good time — within some limitations. Now that the settling down business is about completed, the squad is starting to enjoy itself.

The 44-member squad is housed on the second floor of the main hotel. They have full use of all facilities — except that the specially-warmed water of the outdoor pool will be off limits after Tuesday.

The putting green and the outdoor tennis courts also are attracting their quota of athletes.

Rose Bowl committee has set up a system so chauffuer-driven cars will take groups of players whereever they want to go. So the linesmen, backs and ends ride royally to downtown Pasadena to do their shopping or order a car for a trip to Los Angeles to see the sights.

A lot of the players have friends and acquaintances on the coast who have taken them in hand to see the sights.

There is a busy schedule of events for those who like their fun organized. The hotel has movies and concerts and visits to several television shows and the Hollywood studios are on tap within the next week.

Spartans Chalk Up 3rd Straight

Oppose Pitt Tuesday After Dumping Team From USC 81-63

EAST LANSING (AP) — With three consecutive victories behind it, Michigan State's basketball squad faces University of Pittsburgh tomorrow night for the last home game of the year.

Spartans, displaying lots of shooting accuracy and offensive drive, defeated Southern California Saturday night 81-63.

Behind 14-12 at the end of the 1st quarter, Spartans drove out in front 44-44 at the end of three quarters and never again were pressed.

Forward Al Ferrari again was high scorer for MSC with 21 points —seven field goals and seven free throws. Forward Chet Carr was Southern California's top scorer with five field goals and three free throws for 13 points.

In their only previous clash, Pitt took MSC's measure 36-34 in 1937. Pitt this year has lost four of its six best men through graduation and has dropped a Big Ten encounter to Michigan by eight points.

On Saturday, Spartans will leave by plane for games with Southern California and UCLA. En route home it will meet Iowa and Kansas State.

Longden Wins 3; One Is a Thriller

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) - Johnny Longden rode three winners at Bay Meadows Saturday, including the featured $10,000 Au Revoir Handicap — but his greatest victory came aboard Feudin' Frank, a $1,600 claimer.

* * *

One bridle rein broke shortly after the start of the 1¼ mile race and the veteran jockey had to call on his cunning to get Feudin' Frank up for a nose victory. Win price was $11.30.

Longden won the 'cap on the favored Grey Towner, $3.70.

Wolverine Cage String Ended by Butler Five

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — Michigan's basketball winning streak was snapped at three games Saturday night when Butler's Bulldogs pulled out an 81-77 victory over the Wolverines.

It was a see-saw affair until midway in the fourth period when a slide shot by Johnny Mustain put Butler ahead 70-69. Butler never again was headed, although the Wolverines pressed until the final gun.

Michigan, sparked by Bill Torgenson, and Jim Barron who hit for 21 points each, started out fast in the 3rd period and took command of the game. They led 67-60 before Butler came from behind to win.

Ex-Tigers Now Pilots

DETROIT (AP)—Jerry Priddy and Billy Hitchcock, who played for the Detroit Tigers in 1953, are now managers in the minor leagues. Priddy will pilot the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League in 1954. Hitchcock will manage the Buffalo Bisons of the International League.

John Mauer is in his third year as Florida's varsity basketball coach.

Only 2 County Prep Quintets Play Tuesday

Only two Oakland County teams are in action Tuesday night as the remained of the county's prep cagers take a break for Christmas.

Max Berry's Ortonville High club, still seeking its 1st win of the season, goes to Goodrich and Clawson plays host to Fitzberald in an Oakland B Conference game.

* * *

After three banner seasons, Ortonville has had a lean start this year, dropping four straight. Improvement was shown in the Hawk's last outing, a 6-point setback by a good Imlay City five.

Clawson, which has split in two games with Bi - County teams, opens its Oakland B competition against Fitzgerald, winner once in three starts.

Ortonville at Goodrich; Fitzgerald at Clawson; Mt. Clemens at Grosse Pointe; Millington at Vassar; Mayville at Marlette.

Bump in Car Costs Hockey Player $320

Pair of 'Dips' Nab Detroiter Dineen's Wallet

BOSTON (AP)— Bumps are all in a day's work for rookie hockey player Bill Dineen of the Detroit Red Wings, but a bump he got in a railroad car cost him $320.

Dineen said prior to last night's Detroit-Boston National Hockey League game that he discovered his wallet gone after a woman jostled him on the train that brought the team here from Indianapolis. He said a man accomplice apparently picked his pocket after the woman brushed into him.

His Detroit teammates chipped in with a collection that netted more than half the amount of the loss.

Amvets' Boxing Show Curtailed

Windsor's Flu Epidemic Cuts Representation to Three Fighters

An influenza epidemic in Windsor curtailed the Bemis-Olsen Amvets' amateur ring show Saturday night at the Pontiac Armory. Only three fighters from Windsor were able to appear, and matchmaker Virgil Roberts matched Pontiac boxers in three other bouts to round out a 6-match card.

* * *

City fighters took victories in two of the three matches involving Windsor boys. Bob McDonald, 138, knocked out Bill Whitesills of Windsor in the night's fastest bout, chilling the Canadian in 1 minute 40 seconds of the 1st round.

* * *

140 pounds — Wally Green (P) over Tom Shaw (P), TKO 3rd round.
140 — David Whitesills (W) won dec. over Wayne Beets (P).
145—Joe Cadwallader (P) won dec. over Bill Scribner (P).
135 — Jim Lord (P) over Gordon Tanner (P), TKO.
135 — Grady Johnson (P) won dec. over Gerry LeGault (W).

Anglers to Approve Trout Regulations

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan trout fishermen today had assurance that the state conservation commission will do nothing drastic about trout regulations without approval of the fishermen themselves.

This was the promise of Commissioner Donald B. McLouth of Detroit, chairman of the commission's fish committee, following a meeting at the department's Institute for Fisheries Research on proposed drastic trout restrictions.

Even Appendicitis Can't Stop Rio's Bevo Francis

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Not even an attack of appendicitis can stop the sensational scoring antics of Clarence (Bevo) Francis, the skinny sophomore center and sparkplug of Rio Grande College's basketball team.

* * *

Francis suffered a mild attack Saturday night during Rio's game with the University of Miami and spent the last few minutes of the first quarter on the bench.

* * *

The pains passed quickly and he re-entered the game and paced his mates to a 98-89 victory. The 6-foot-9 center wasn't up to his usual high-scoring form until the second half, but then he cut loose and picked up 32 points to bring his night's total to 48.

* * *

"Bevo came over to the bench and asked me to take him out when the pain got bad," Coach Newt Oliver reported. "In just a few minutes he said he was all right and asked me to send him back in. I told him I wasn't interested in winning if it might affect his health, but he insisted he was okay and I let him start the second quarter."

* * *

Francis said last night he planned to continue playing until the basketball season is over, barring a bad attack which would make an operation mandatory.

"If nothing else happens, I'll go ahead and finish the season and then have the operation," he said. "I wanted to have the operation last summer but I had to work to get money to go back to school."

* * *

Oliver planned to fly his team to Raleigh, N. C., today. Rio is scheduled to play North Carolina State tomorrow night and Wake Forest Wednesday night.

Len Casanova, head grid tutor at the University of Oregon, has published a booklet outlining his basic offensive and defensive formations. The booklet, "Football Is Fun," will be sent free to anyone who wants it.

Casanova said he believed an understanding of Oregon's basic plays would help Oregon fans enjoy the game more fully.

Ron Murphy Hospitalized After Stick-Duel Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another brawl involving Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion held the National Hockey League spotlight today following last night's hectic New York-Montreal game which sent the Rangers' Ron Murphy to a hospital and the Canadiens into second place.

Geoffrion, the Canuck right winger who was fined $250 for charging referee Frank Udvari last Nov. 12, swapped sticks with Murphy in a wild 2nd period at Madison Square Garden and resulted in Ron sustaining a fractured jaw bone and a concussion.

Each received match penalties from referee Red Storey which calls for an automatic $100 fine.

Rangers, with little Wally Hergeshimer scoring twice, triumphed 3-1. In other games, Detroit Red Wings moved into the lead by whipping the Boston Bruins 4-2 and the last-place Chicago Black Hawks trounced the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-1.

"Storey's handling of the affair was outrageous," said Garden president John Reed Kilpatrick, afterwards. "I'm going to protest his decisions to Clarence Campbell (NHL prexy)."

Storey declined to comment, except to say he will make his report in person to Campbell at Montreal today.

Fight, which started with some minor scuffling in Montreal zone between players of both clubs, suddenly erupted into a duel of sticks between Murphy and Geoffrion. The latter subsequently struck Murphy across the face and the Ranger fell in a heap.

Boom Boom also received a gash on the right side of the head and New York defenseman Ivan Irwin came away with a cut requiring four stitches to close.

Crowd Applauds as Munn Lets It Watch Practice

Opens Gates as Fans Gather Around; Gives Squad Stiff Session

By ROBERT E. VOGES

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A lot of hard work is on schedule this week for the Michigan State team preparing for its Rose Bowl game with UCLA on New Year's Day.

MSC football boss Biggie Munn proved it's pretty hard to please a coach after a late Saturday afternoon scrimmage session that had a crowd applauding and sports writers burbling.

There were eight touchdowns made in the session. But Munn was critical of the failure of Michigan Staters to hold Michigan State. Most of the scoring plays didn't satisfy the coach.

"There was one dandy though" Munn admitted. "Everyone carried out their assignments perfectly on that one."

On this play quarterback Earl Morrall heaved a 70-yard touchdown pass to end Ellis Duckett.

West coast sports writers, casing the MSC squad, were particularly impressed by Leroy Bolden, the hard-hitting, high scoring, pint-sized Spartan who bowled through his teammates with methodic fury.

"I wasn't too disappointed," Munn said as he prepared for a full week of the unglamorous grind of daily practices. "They tried real hard on Saturday. They were putting out.

"But we have a lot of work on. We need hard work on the fundamentals. There was shoddy blocking and some pretty sloppy pass protection."

Munn made a solid hit with several hundred fans who crowded around the locked gates of the practice field by deciding to let them in to watch.

His decision received a spontaneous round of applause and Munn responded by introducing all of his players before the workout started.

On the Sunday off-day, the MSC party toured Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Santa Monica, got a glimpse of the Pacific Ocean and visited UCLA before sitting in on a television show where the UCLA team also was in attendance.

Bruins also scheduled two-a-day practice sessions, resuming today. Coach Red Sanders, who has missed three drills because of a chest cold, hoped to be back on the field today.

Oriole Management Is Aiming for 6th Place

BALTIMORE (AP) — If the Baltimore Orioles reach 6th place in the American League next season, President Clarence W. Miles says he'll consider the baseball team's major league debut a success.

However, he added in a television interview yesterday, "I am hopeful that we can reach 5th."

And after next year, he expects the club acquired by Baltimore following a last-place finish in St. Louis to keep on climbing. Miles predicted it would be a 1st-place contender in two years, "more possibly three years."

Ruben Gomez' 13 wins rates him as top Giant pitcher for 1953.

Seven Irish Gridders on Shrine Game 11's

By FRANK LEAHY
Notre Dame Football Coach

Football's finest hour is coming up and it gives the Notre Dame coaching staff considerable pleasure to know that seven of our players will be represented in the Shrine Charity games, benefits of which go to the Shrine crippled children's hospital. It was my privilege to be a member of the staff for one of these games and after having seen the effect a visit to the children's hospital has on the players it is easy to realize why this so called exhibition game always is a hotly contested battle.

Leahy

First game was played in 1925 and has grown into a major post season attraction.

Because the game has grown so popular, a few years back the Miami, Fla., Shrine group organized to run a game exactly like the one on the West Coast and have done an equally fine job.

Representing Notre Dame in the North-South game in the Orange Bowl on Christmas night will be our fine captain and end, Don Penza, whose all around ability will add much to Coach Holcomb's North team.

At right guard will be Minnie Mavraides, an all around performer. Next to Minnie will be center Jim Schrader, an offensive blocker rated with the best. In the backfield, Tom McHugh is the Notre Dame man on the North squad and I am sure he will acquit himself admirably.

Out on the coast a truly fine Eastern squad will be joined by three Notre Dame seniors, Neil Worden, John Lattner and Art Hunter. I haven't seen the squad list for the coast game yet, but it matters not as these three lads will make a tremendous contribution to any team in the country.

Cadillac Fans Sending Coach to Rose Bowl

CADILLAC (AP) — To say that Cadillac is mighty proud of native-son Bert Zagers, halfback on the Michigan State College football squad, tells only half the story.

Former Aussie Star to Help Train Cuppers

American Team Hires Dinny Pails in Effort to Sharpen Seixas

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE — Australian professional Dinny Pails has been hired to help sharpen up the American Davis Cup tennis team for the Challenge Round against Australia here next week.

* * *

Bill Talbert, captain of the U.S. contingent, said today Pails will join the Americans tomorrow and work out twice a day with the team through Saturday.

The Americans will also have a chance to work out with Ted Schroeder, who was a member of the U.S. team two years ago. He is here on a writing and radio assignment for an Australian newspaper and has offered his services.

* * *

The Challenge Round draw is scheduled Saturday. The matches will be held Dec. 28 through Dec. 30.

"We are not getting Pails as a teacher, although he can help in that respect," Talbert said. "Our purpose in hiring him is to give the boys some first class competition this week."

* * *

Pails served as a trial horse and coach for the Belgians last week and it was mainly through his efforts that the Europeans threw a scare into the Americans in the interzone finals at Brisbane.

Pails, now a little chubby and balding, formerly was a member of the Australian Davis Cup team. He later turned pro and toured with Bobby Riggs' tennis exhibitionists, having a long series with Pancho Segura.

* * *

"Pails has wonderful ground strokes and we think he will help step up the pace of our boys," Talbert said. "I particularly plan to have him work a lot with Seixas so Vic can get back on his game. Also, Pails is an Australian and can give us a different kind of competition. He should quicken the interest among the fellows who might tend to get dull playing just among themselves."

It's Time Out!

"One nice thing—we never leave those 7-10 splits or other difficult shots for our second ball!"

Giant Boss Got Fast Shuffle

New York Press Incensed by 'Retirement' of Steve Owen, Howell Placed on Spot

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Pro football is very sick in this town since the Giants suddenly gave the gate to Steve Owen, their coach for 23 years, and handed the job to Jim Lee Howell, one of Steve's assistants.

* * *

It is hard to recall when any move of the kind evoked such a wholehearted roar from the local press, and it would not be surprising if the effects are strongly felt when next season rolls around, as it will.

The Giants have been on lean times lately, but so great was Owen's personal popularity that his team largely escaped the riding its performances merited and would have received in most cities.

* * *

It was known that the veteran coach did not have the kind of money to toss around for top players that some of his rivals had.

Tim Mara, who founded the Giants and appointed Owen, a burly lineman from Oklahoma, as his coach, has retired from active participation in the club's affairs and turned the reins over to his sons, John and Wellington. There is a feeling that the boys gave their dad's old friend a fast shuffle.

* * *

Howell is going to find himself in an unenviable position, even though no one has anything against him personally. One of those incensed by Owen's firing already has referred to the former pass-catching end as "Clean Pants" Howell, explaining that he acquired the nickname while playing for the Giants and not taking his defensive duties too seriously.

Writer Scores Ivy League Schools for Restriction on Spring Football Practice; Cites Penn Problem

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — Is spring practice, or the lack of spring practice, going to be a factor in arranging many football schedules from now on?

Is gambling on a verdant turf for 21 days in March or April going to make a big change in modern football?

We understand that Dartmouth dropped Army for this reason and Pennsylvania suffered considerably this past season because spring training was taboo.

* * *

As the case now stands, only the Ivy League bars spring practice. The Big Ten and all other conferences and independents are permitted the privilege of instruction ahead of play. It makes a big difference — at least a touchdown or two.

* * *

Penn faced a killing handicap, meeting Notre Dame, Ohio State, California and others—especially those teams faced early in the season.

I could never see why spring practice should be barred, provided it isn't forced on a player. Let him have his choice. It is accompanied by no publicity, no crowds. Modern football is a complicated competition. It can't be taught in a hurry.

A coach and his staff have more time in the spring than they have in the fall when there is a game to be faced every week.

It takes time to work on, and develop passers, kickers, and teach the many fundamentals that are essential. These things simply can't be taught in a few hurried fall weeks when tension is rife.

* * *

A game is worth playing well if it is worth playing at all. There are a lot of young fellows who want to work at spring practice. They don't want to be caught before 30,000 or 40,000 spectators unprepared.

* * *

It is ridiculous to have an important body stand aloof from all the other conferences, seven or eight in number.

We agree with the Ivy League on the restriction of athletic scholarships, not scholastic scholarships, but those given strictly and completely for football ability.

* * *

But as long as a student keeps up in his college work he shouldn't be barred from any sport he might select. Spring football is instruction. Autumn football is competition. We think the colleges that have no spring practice are foolis hto play those that do.

Court Giants Pitted Against Each Other Tonight

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Four of the biggest basketball players in captivity and a couple of "little" All America players swing into action tonight in a lively Monday night program that has six of the top 10 teams on the courts.

* * *

The four giants clash head on, with the biggest pair on exhibition at Corvallis, Ore., where top-rated Indiana meets Oregon State. Don Schlundt, 6-foot-10 center who helped the Hoosiers win the NCAA title and No. 1 ranking last year, for a change will look up at his opponent, Wade (Swede) Halbrook who measures 7 feet 3.

The other pair will meet at Champaign, Ill., with Oklahoma A&M's 6-11 Bob Mattick enjoying only a slight edge in height over 6-9 Johnny Kerr of Illinois.

* * *

The All America stars, Tom Gola of La Salle and Cliff Hagan of Kentucky, will play in the Kentucky Invitational Tourney at Lexington, first of the season's bumper crop of holiday basketball tournaments. They won't oppose each other tonight — La Salle meets UCLA and Kentucky plays Duke—but they probably will in the finals tomorrow.

* * *

Kerr dumped in 27 points Saturday as the Illini, ranked fourth in the country, won their fifth in a row and ended De Paul's six-game winning streak 79-65.

* * *

Other top 10 teams in action are Minnesota and Louisiana State, who met with varying success Saturday night. Minnesota, No. 6 team, romped to a 74-46 victory over winless Colorado. But LSU probably lost the No. 5 spot to Wisconsin's pressing defense and accurate shooting. Big Bob Pettit scored 33 for LSU, but Wisconsin hit on 54 per cent of its shots for a 82-66 victory. Minnesota plays at Tulsa tonight and LSU entertains Northwestern.

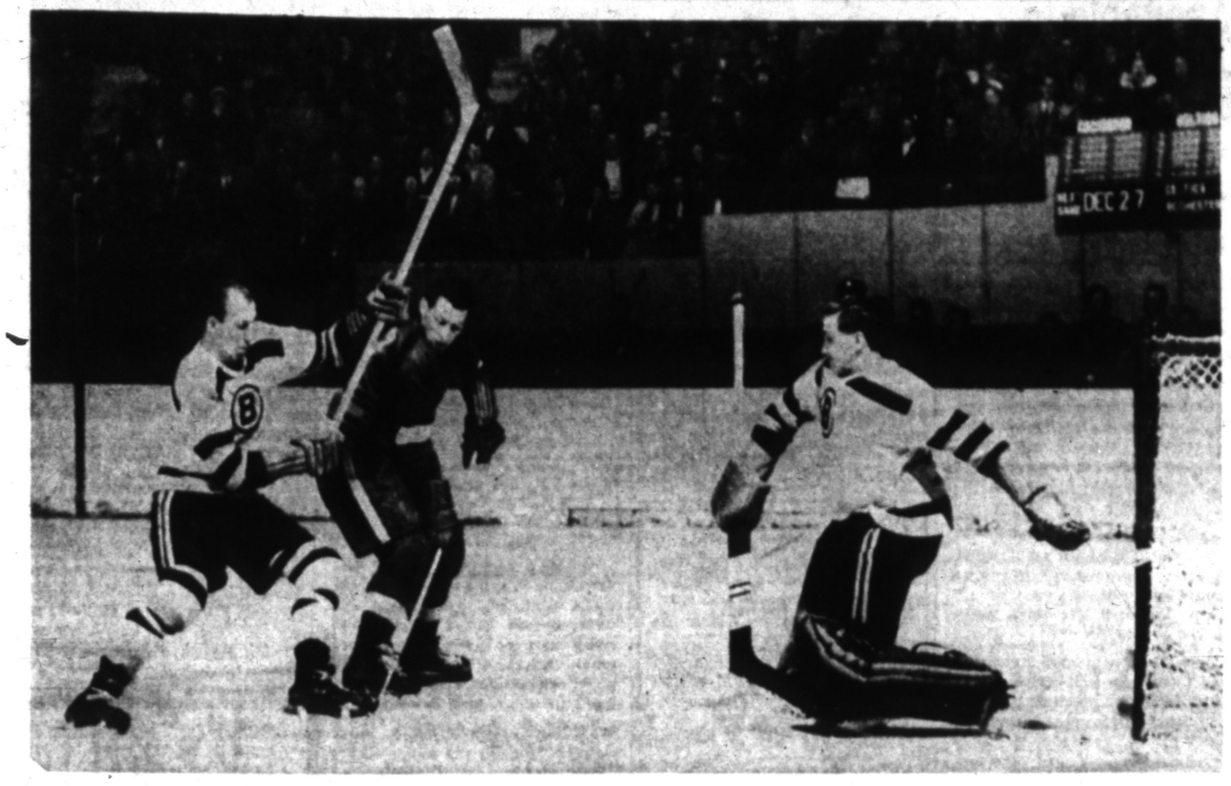

* * *

Duquesne, rated third in the country, can thank its sensational sophomore, Si Green, that it escaped Louisiana State's fate against Toledo. With less than three minutes to play, Duquesne trailed by 3 but Green drove in for two field goals and Duquesne won 60-57.

Western Kentucky, No. 10, had to spurt at the end to down St. Bonaventure 82-76 behind Art Spoelstra's 28-point scoring, while Fordham, one notch higher, scored 23 in the last quarter for a 51-24 win over Columbia.

North Carolina State, No. 8, scored when it had to for an 89-74 victory over Penn State.

Amos Stagg's 41 years at Chicago is still a record for college football coaches.

Stranded Duck Hunter Saved by Army Glider

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — A duck hunter stranded at low tide was rescued from mud flats of San Pablo bay last night by a swamp glider from Hamilton Air Force base.

U. M. Drops 2 Games

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (UP) University of North Dakota defeated the University of Michigan's defending NCAA hockey champions Saturday night 5-3.

The Dakotans, who also downed the Wolverines Friday night, were sparked by three goals off the stick of wingman Ben Cherski, who turned the hat trick for the 2nd straight night.

Baker Rules 2-1 Favorite in Return Match Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Baker, the big Pittsburgh heavyweight, is a surprising 2-1 favorite to even an old score with hard-hitting Clarence Henry of Philadelphia at Eastern Parkway Arena tonight.

Henry, once the world's third-ranking heavyweight, came from behind to knock out the 6-foot-4, 220-pound Baker in the eighth round at Madison Square Garden Nov. 23, 1951. That was the first defeat of Baker's pro career. He blamed bad hands for the loss.

Baker has been bothered with swelling hands all through his career but an operation is supposed to have made his mitts sound. Henry only recently returned to the ring after a long layoff caused by an eye injury.

The big boys will start swinging at 10 p.m., EST. Du Mont will telecast the 10-rounder to some parts of the country.

* * *

The International Boxing Club is passing its usual Wednesday and Friday night network television fights because of the Christmas week.

The only coast-to-coast network TV fight of the week will be beamed out of Boston's Mechanics Building Saturday night when welterweights Livio Minelli of Italy and Wilbur Wilson of Boston meet in a 10-rounder. Minelli is subbing for Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago. ABC will telecast starting at 9 p.m., EST.

Broncos Halt Loss Streak, Beat Falcons

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Western Michigan Broncos, who had lost two of their three previous games, turned on the steam Saturday night to score an 85-78 win over Bowling Green, one of the nation's highly regarded basketball teams.

After falling behind early in the game, Broncos moved into a 54-30 lead at the half and never were headed. They led 60-52 at the end of three periods.

Cleveland Will Be Favored by Touchdown

Browns at Full Strength With One Exception

Linebacker Thompson Out; 4 Lions Said to Be Ending Careers

By BUD SPRUNGER

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, who once thought championships were as easy to get as good conduct medals, make their second try Sunday to regain the National Football League crown they lost in 1951.

Coach Paul Brown, as cautious as he is eager to win, remarks his players "haven't got it until they get it." But there's not much doubt the improved Browns are in a better position to beat the Detroit Lions this time than they were last year when the Lions dropped them in the championship playoff, 17-7.

Because the two top Cleveland pass-catchers — Dub Jones and Mac Speedie — were on the bench with injuries, the Lions were favored by a touchdown last year. This time the Browns are picked by about the same margin.

All the Clevelanders, except linebacker Tommy Thompson, are in good shape physically, while the Lions will be without Pat Harder, their rugged blocking fullback whose knees gave out during the regular season.

In order to get a little more time for the passing of Bobby Layn, coach Buddy Parker moved halfback Bob Hoernschemyer to the blocking spot. But even Hoernschemyer, at 195 pounds will be between 45 and 55 pounds lighter than Cleveland's two crashing ends, Lenny Ford and Doug Atkins.

Cleveland's Otto Graham, meanwhile, has had his greatest season, completing 64.7 per cent of his throws for an average gain of 10.5 yards a try.

Neither team worked out yesterday and both start serious work today. Brown takes his team into a series of "seminars" in the morning and then after the mental work they move onto the practice field to try new formations.

Four of the Lions will be playing their last pro games—center Vince Banonis, now in his 9th year; offensive end Cloyce Box, in his 4th defensive back Bob Smith, in his 6th; and defensive tackle John Prchlik, who is in his 5th year.

Rosen Claims All AL Batting Titles but One

Vernon Nips Indian Star by Single Point in Average

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Rosen, Cleveland's slugging third baseman, may have gotten the cake, but he didn't get the icing to go along with it.

Rosen, who last month received the American League's most valuable player prize, topped the circuit in almost every offensive department but one, according to official statistics released yesterday.

In winning his 2nd championship (he won with .353 in 1946), Vernon capped the closest American League batting race since 1949. That year, George Kell, then with Detroit, triumphed by two-tenths of a per cent over Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox.

Rosen, who battled Vernon right down to the final day of the season, led the circuit in home runs, 43, runs batted in, 145, runs scored, 115 and total bases, 367.

Third place in the offical statistics was shared by Minnie Minoso of Chicago and Boston's Billy Goodman, each with .313. They were followed by Jim Busby, Washington, .312; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, .308; Kell, Boston, .307; Hank Bauer, New York, .304; Dave Philley, Philadelphia, .303, and Dale Mitchell, .300.

Yankees won the team batting title with a .273 mark, although the second-place Cleveland Indians hit the most homers, 160 to 139 for the world champions.

Lloyd Mangrum Wins Montebello Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For the 4th time the Montebello Open Golf Title has been won by Lloyd Mangrum.

He fired a 66 on the final round yesterday for a 54-hole total of 202. His finale score was 6 under par.

Mangrum eagled the 476-foot 18th hole on three successive days, and yesterday he holed a 50-foot putt for 3 on the par-5 hole.

Hopman Predicts Aussie Victory in Cup Match

MELBOURNE (AP) — Harry Hopman, Australia Davis Cup team captain who doubles as a newspaper columnist, today predicted Australia would defeat the United States in the challenge round next week four matches to one.

Hopman, writing in the Melbourne Herald, pointed to American titlist Tony Trabert as the chief threat to Aussie hopes and conceded one singles match to him.

Doud, Steward Win Rolladium's Dance Contest

Final dance contest at Pontiac Rolladium was held Sunday with winners of six weekly contests competing for the large challenge trophy. Beverly Doud and Duane Steward of Drayton Plains were the winners.

They represent the Rolladium.

First races of the 2nd skating period were held Saturday with the following skaters winning: Class A-Dick Savedge and Julie Hadden; Class B —Richard Hamlin and Diana Rigotti; Class C — John Evans and Janie Metzner.

Proficiency tests were passed Sunday by the following: John Matejec (figure test), Frank Blenman, Mary Jo McBrearty, Harold Hackett, Marguerite Leipprandt and Virla Lee Landon (gold bar dance) and Pat Jarrard (three-bar figure).

Willie Hartack Hits '350'

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP)—The winningest jockey who'll pull on a boot today is Willie Hartack, a 22-year-old Pennsylvanian looking for his 351st victory of the year.

But Dec. 26, when Willie Shoemaker returns from a two-week vacation and tries to extend his all-time record of 476, Hartack once again will take his place in the shadow.

Hartack joined the circle yesterday by piloting three winners at Charles Town to continue his phenomenal performance at this meeting.

Aggie-Illini Clash Tops Missouri Valley Activity

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Oklahoma A & M's once-beaten Aggies, as usual the class of Missouri Valley Conference basketball, run into a tough home court club in 4th ranked Illinois tonight, then hurry home to protect their own Gallagher Hall record against Southern California.

Southern Cal, the team that last beat the Aggies on their home court, stops at Stillwater Wednesday night.

Those are the top games on a light valley schedule this week that offers plenty of intersectional competition.

While A & M makes its first trip to Champaign, Ill., Detroit travels to New Orleans to play Loyola of the South and Tulsa is at home to Minnesota in another Valley-Big Ten scrap.

Saturday, Detroit goes to Buffalo to play St. Bonaventure while Wichita is host to Hamline and St. Louis opens 1st round play against LaSalle in the holiday festival at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Houston, at home for the Friday-Saturday double date, won 77-62 and 71-63.

Lions Put 6,500 More Ducats on Sale; TV Is Not Discussed

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions threw tickets — 6,500 of them —on the troubled waters today to soothe National Football League fans still clamoring for seats for the Dec. 27 championship game with the Cleveland Browns.

Lions said the tickets — which went on sale at 9 a. m. EST — included 3,000 for reserved seats and 3,500 for standing room.

Any Detroit area television action will not come before tomorrow, National Football League commissioner Bert Bell told Lions officials "not to discuss TV with me until every ticket is sold."

Seilaff's Pin Team Regains Match Title

ADRIAN (UP) — Lou Sielaff's Pfeiffer team regained its Michigan match-game bowling title Sunday night by coming from behind to defeat Buzz Fazio's Strohs by 164 pins.

Teams met here after appearing at Bay City, Saginaw, Rochester, Lansing and Jackson. Stroh carried a 119-pin lead into the final three games.

Pfeiffer cut Stroh's lead by 10 pins, 958-948, in Sunday night's 1st game. Then the winners registered totals of 1,042 and 1,025 to 899 and 902 for Stroh in the final two rounds.

Wants Sports Job

Young Through at MSC, but He's Looking Ahead

By ROBERT E. VOGES

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Rotund Ralph H. Young, the man who is "Mr. Michigan State" to thousands in the athletic world, sat in the sun beside a swimming pool at Pasadena.

Sweat beaded his forehead where the hair was growing thin. He was wearing a dark eastern-type suit and he swung his short legs comfortably as he talked—enjoying the heat of the California sun.

It was the ideal backdrop for a talk with a man who has just learned that his retirement has been officially accepted.

But while he reminisced, sometimes wistfully, about his 30 years with Michigan State, the retiring athletic director was also looking hopefully toward the future.

When the word first came that the state board of agriculture had accepted his resignation and mapped his retirement plans, Young seemed a litle stunned—although he expected the news.

"I don't know just what to say," he told newsmen. "I wasn't quite prepared to say anything. You fellows help me."

"I suppose I should say I've enjoyed being with Michigan State. It's been a wonderful 30 years."

The former football player, a renowned trencherman who has grown with the college, recalled when he first joined the MSC staff in 1923 as athletic director and head coach.

"We only had two full-time coaches then," he recalled. "Myself and John Kobs. "Our student enrollment was only about 1,800. Now we've got more than 16,000 students and between 40 and 45 coaches."

It. Young's first year, forerunner of the present Macklin football stadium was built with a capacity of less than 16,000.

They built it in less than 30 days. W were one of the first colleges to have our stadium smack in the middle of the campus. The rest of them liked to build stadiums right on access highways."

"I don't know for sure," he admitted. "I want to laze around for a while and get caught up with myself. But I would like some sort of a job in sports public relations — perhaps for some company or for the government of some foreign country.

"I'd like to be a sort of a sports consultant—if there is such a thing. I like people and I think I've made a lot of friends in this business. It would be hard to give up sports when you've been around them so long."

Tebbetts Has Long Pitching List for 1954

Redleg Roster Includes 14 Righthanders, Eight Southpaws

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs is going to take a look at a long list of pitchers during the 1954 spring training sessions. The Cincinnati roster includes 22 hurlers — 14 righthanders and eight southpaws.

The righties are: Tom Acker, Maurice Fisher, Art Fowler, Howie Judson, Bob Kelly, Clyde King, Barney Martin, Bud Podbielan, Frank Smith, Corky Valentine, Herm Wehmeier, George Zuverink, Jim Melton and Jack Crimian.

The lefties are: Fred Baczewski, Jackie Collum, Niles Jordan, Joe Nuxhall, Harry Perkowski, Ken Raffensberger, Cliff Ross and Moe Savransky.

Of the newcomers, Melton, Crimian and Fowler are standouts. The 23-year-old Melton pitched for Mobile in the Southern Association in 1953 and showed great control. In 172 innings he issued only 43 walks.

Fowler was purchased from Atlanta in the Southern Association. He led the league in earned run averages, innings pitched and shutouts.

OCSC Party Attracts 450

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club held its annual kiddies' Christmas party Sunday afternoon, with a record 450 youngsters attending. It was the largest party in the history of the affair.

Fleming Is Winner of Southern Event

WEST MONROE, La. (AP) — Pete Fleming fired a 71 yesterday to win the $1,500 Twin Cities golf tournament.

Fleming, St. Andrews, Ill., pro, had a three-day total of 207 to take 1st place prize of $500. Seven strokes behind was Buster Cupit West Monroe, whose 214 won $250.

Trailing them were Marty Furgol with 218 and Labron Harris with 220. Furgol, pro at the Lamont, Ill., Country Club, collected $150 and Harris, Oklahoma A&M golf coach, received $100.

Aerials Will Feature North-South Contest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Football fans who like their games heavily flavored with passes should find the Shrine's annual North-South all-star game Christmas night very much to their liking.

Both squads are well equipped with quarterbacks who know how to throw the ball and backs and ends who are adept receivers.

South Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami has one of the most spectacular aerial combinations in the nation in the Georgia battery of quarterback Zeke Bratkowski and end John Carson. They were tops in the Southeastern Conference last year and high among the national leaders.

"I've seen a lot of passers in my time," said Gustafson, "and I'd put the Brat up there with the best of them."

Will he emphasize a passing game against Purdue Coach Stu Holcomb's North squad?

The South coaches didn't overlook their other signal caller, John Bordogna of Nebraska, however.

"He runs and has a lot of deception," said Missouri Coach Don Faurot, the father of the split-T attack the South will use. "Both these boys have worked out of the split-T before and are capable ball handlers."

Holcomb and Kansas State Coach Bill Meek spent a lot of time with their aerial combinations. Quarterbacks Elry Falkenstein of Illinois, Fred Davis of Butler and Roy Evans of Purdue hit their receivers regularly with short passes. Bob Balderston, Kansas State fullback, and Dusty Rice, Iowa halfback, made numerous catches.

Winter Fails to Slow Down Archery Club

Pontiac Archery Club has moved indoors for the winter season and a 10-team league has been formed to shoot Monday and Wednesday. A class for beginners is planned after the holidays.

All equipment will be furnished and the classes will be open to the public. Range is open daily for club members.

An archery golf tournament was held Sunday at the city golf course. Joe Lavire, Helen Orr, Edie Grove and Jimmy Jenson won top honors among a field of 40.

Cue Star Dies

TOKYO (AP)—Kinrey Matsuyama, 56, dimutive Japanese cue artist who several times was runnerup in world or U. S. three cushion billiard tournaments, died last night following a heart attack. He finished 2nd to Willie Hoppe in the world tournament at San Francisco last year and was 6th at Chicago last spring. Matsuyama weighed about 100 pounds and was only 4-feet-11.

Detroit Takes Sole Possession of First Place

But NY Rangers Could Drop Red Wings Into Tie Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — Detroit Red Wings will know by tonight whether the New York Rangers are Indian givers.

The Red Wings' 4-2 win over Boston last night, coupled with new York's 3-1 defeat of the Montreal Canadiens gave Detroit undisputed — for the day — possession of 1st place in the National Hockey League.

But tonight the Red Wings face the same New York team in the league's only scheduled contest. It will decide whether the Wings remain in 1st place alone or go back into a tie with the Canadiens.

Detroit matched its best winning streak of the season, making it five straight last night. Boston was ahead only once.

Boston's lead was short-lived though, as Red Kelly, Detroit's league-leading defenseman, scored his 12th goal midway through the 3rd period. Rookie forward Earl (Dutch) Reibel and forward Marty Pavelich followed with two more to put the Wings out of danger.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

Case—Change With Age

Add To The Push-Away—One of the remarkable bowlers of all time is Mort Lindsey of Stamford, Conn., who is now in his 60s. Today he still has a power hook and with it the same speed he had 25 years ago because he gradually increased the push-away of the ball to enlarge his swinging arc.

"No reason why age should slow down the ball," he explains. He used to start from a crouch. Held the ball below the waist line. Now he is more erect; holds the ball waist high, in the palm of the left hand. Pushes the left hand away from the body in timing with the first step (right foot) in his four-step footwork, as if to hand the ball to someone.

He still is well down at the finish, as sketch shows, his arm reaching out in a full follow-through for control. His left arm is extended for perfect balance. Take Lindsey's tip: If your ball is losing speed, add to the push-away.

Executives to Study Baseball

Frick, 9-Man Committee to Go Over Structure of National Pastime

NEW YORK (AP) — A nine-man committee of major and minor league executives appointed by Commissioner Ford Frick will study the basic structure of baseball "to see if we are on the proper ground."

"If we are not," Frick said in announcing the committee, "it is time to get on it."

* * *

The committee, called to meet Jan. 7, will go over such problems as the "reasonable" advancement of qualified players, unreasonable concentration of player talent and high bonus payments to untried youngsters.

* * *

Although Frick did not mention the Supreme Court decision on baseball in his annoucement, the meeting date comes almost two months to the day after the high court ruled that baseball is not subject to federal antitrust laws. Frick commented after the Nov. 9 decision that "it does not mean that baseball is granted a license to do as it pleases."

Less Red China Shipments Seen

Sources Think Trade With Communists May Be on Downgrade

WASHINGTON (UP)—U.S. Figures show free world shipments to Communist China on the downgrade in the second half of this year.

Foreign air-Commerce Department statistics estimate exports to Red China from non-Communist nations at 18½ million dollars in July and $19,300,000 in August. The monthly average in the first half of the year was $27,160,000.

One reason is the probable end of iron and steel shipments from France and West Germany, which Commerce Department estimates put at more than two million dollars a month between January and June.

• • •

Even more important is the decline of Communist Chinese buying from the British colony of Hong Kong, their most important trading partner in the free world.

Hong Kong's sales averaged more than 10 million dollars a month in the early part of the year. The July-October figures ran less than half that.

Britain itself ranked fifth in shipments to Red China for the first half of 1953. British experts think the figure for the whole year will reach about $17,400,000, most of it in wool, chemicals, textiles and textile machinery.

Whitmore Lake Flier Clings to Craft in Gulf for 36 Hours

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—A 47-year-old Whitmore Lake, Mich, man is recovering in a hospital today after being pulled from the Gulf of Mexico yesterday. He was clinging to his disabled light plane.

Roy K. Carlson was rescued by the sea-going tug Peter C. Gallagher, after clinging to the pontoons of the overturned craft for 36 hours, frantically waving his cigarette lighter at planes overhead.

Carlson, picked up about daybreak Sunday, was treated for exposure, cuts and bruises. A Coast Guard helicopter brought him, by a litter lift, from the tug to St. Petersburg.

Carlson, still hazy from his ordeal, told Coast Guard officials that he was flying from Livonia, Mich, to Lake Park, Fla., near Palm Beach, when his pontoon equipped plane developed engine trouble.

He made a forced landing Saturday afternoon, somewhere north of Cedarkey, about a quarter-mile off shore. He was picked up about 60 miles west of Anclote Key, near Tarpon Springs.

Without a life preserver, Carlson said he was repeatedly knocked off the pontoon perch. He said he ate his one candy bar "as slowly as possible."

Then when hunger attacked him, he said that he tried to munch seaweed "but it was too soggy."

Carlson said that he saw five airliners pass overhead but could not get their attention with his cigarette lighter. He pulled rope and cloth out of the plane and soaked them in gasoline for a flare.

But then his lighter failed to light and Carlson decided to save his last two matches to light the flare as a "last resort."

It was then he was spotted by the tug. His plane received a damaged tail in the landing and waves soon turned it over.

Wrong Place to Rest

FRESNO, Calif. (UP)—William K. Hodge, 46, of Fresno, stopped at a West Fresno police precinct station "just to rest" and promptly was locked up. Police discovered Hodge's car was one sought in connection with a liquor store holdup in East Fresno about two hours earlier.

Native Chuckles at Hollywood's Epics on Africa

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — This story might be titled "Hits and Misses Below the Veldt" or "They Pulled a Wrongo in the Congo."

It concerns George Michaels, a rudy, English-sounding native of South Africa, whose fore forebears hailed from Lebanon. This chap is actually a white hunter, and he has a merry chuckle at some of the boners pulled by Hollywood epics about Africa.

"Mind you, American films are very popular with movie-goers in Africa," he remarked. "But some of the things in those films are so off the beam that they're ludicrous.

• • •

"For instance, in 'Mogambo' Clark Gable shoots a black leopard out of a tree. There are no black leopards in Africa!

"The picture also showed a cheetah walking quietly through Ava Gardner's tent at night. That would never happen. At the slightest sound, the cheetah would be racing away."

"I have been watching some of the African shows on TV too. The other night I saw a chapter of 'Ramar of the Jungle' which had a battle between a tiger and a water buffalo. Neither is found in Africa."

Another thing Michaels finds amusing in the elaborate safari in most African films.

"They usually show dozens of native bearers, a vast number of tents with mosquito netting and natives in white jackets to serve dinner," he observed. "I have been taking hunters on trips for 15 years and I never saw anything as fancy as that. Once I took out a couple of people from here in Hollywood and they were terribly disappointed because we took along only the bare essentials. They expected a big production.

"Africans are also amused by the portrayals of the colored people in African films. The tribes are often mixed up, with one kind of people shown as living in a type of village that another tribe uses. And they are generally shown all decked out in feathers and fancy attire. That is only for ceremonies. The rest of the time they wear only a loin cloth.

"Many pictures show the colored people as fierce and menacing. Nonsense! There are no hostile natives, except in the most remote and inaccessible areas of Africa. Even those who haven't seen white men are curious about them. They'll gather around you in interest, not poise spears at you.

• • •

"Another common scene shows the animals charging the hunters. African animals are so wary of humans that they will run away at the first sound. Only those who are maddened by disease or the weak weapons of natives would charge."

Michaels has made a lucrative business of combining hunting and movie making. He long acted as guide and operated a gun shop in Victoria. Now he has made a full-length movie, "African Fury," which Allied Artists will release early next year. You can bet that it will be authentic.

Italian Children Get Gifts 3 Times in Single Month

In many parts of the country, presents are exchanged three times — on St. Nicholas Day, Dec. 6; on Christmas Day, Dec. 25; and on the day of Epiphany, Jan. 6.

Even so, most Italian children won't get as many gifts as their counterparts in other Christian nations. For Italy has more than its share of poverty these days.

St. Nicholas Day is especially important in the big Adriatic port city of Bari. People sometimes say it's the hometown of Santa Claus. Bari doesn't look much like the North Pole, but there's a certain accuracy to the idea.

For the bones of St. Nicholas himselm are there. They were brought to Bari many centuries ago from Asia Minor, and lie today in a beautiful basilica close to the sea.

St. Nicholas is a saint especially of children, and along the Adriatic and in many other countries of Europe his day is a children's holiday with Christmas trees, toy fairs, gifts and candy.

Presents are exchanged on Christmas Day in honor of the birth of Christ, as in all other Christian nations. The celebration on the day of Epiphany marks the time when the wise men came with gifts to kneel before the child who was born in a manger.

In Italy this also is called the day of Befana. Befana is a witch but a kindly one, and legend has it that she leaves presents on trees for children when her day comes once a year.

When its all over and the bills come in, the fathers may find some use for the patron saint of children, too. For St. Nicholas is also the patron saint of pawnbrokers.

He Tees Off on Tea

PORTLAND, Me. (UP)—Members of the Kiwanis Club courteously ordered tea instead of the usual coffee because an officer of the British light cruiser, HMS Superb was their guest. When the cups were placed on the table the Britisher asked a waitress to bring him coffee, confiding in his hosts, "I loathe tea."

Ferrer, Hepburn Named Top Stars

NEW YORK (UP)—Audrey Hepburn and Jose Ferrer have been named top movie stars of the year in an annual poll of critics by Film Daily, a trade publication.

Results of the poll were announced last night.

The European-born Miss Hepburn also was named top "find" of the year because of her first big U.S. screen role in "Roman Holiday."

Ferrer was cited for his acting in "Moulin Rouge."

Crooner Frank Sinatra's dramatic role in "From Here to Eternity" and Gloria Grahame's part in "The Bad and the Beautiful" won them citations for best supporting performances.

The nod for the ablest directing went to Fred Zinnemann, and for the best screen writing to Daniel Taradash, both for "From Here to Eternity."

Says Probers Should Be Bound by Stricter Rules

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) says congressional investigations should not be halted but they ought to be bound by stricter rules.

"The real abuse is the abuse of Crooner Frank Sinatra's draftioners last night. He said that is why he's sponsoring a bill to set up a mandatory code for investigating committees.

Corn, Soybeans Firm on Board

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn and soybeans displayed a firm tone in a quiet, listless market on the Board of Trade today. Other cereals had a slightly easier trend.

There was buying in soybeans following sales of cash beans over the weekend to Holland and Formosa while very light receipts of cash corn for a Monday, totaling 122 cars, created demand for the yellow cereal.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ½ cent lower, December $2.00½, corn unchanged to ½ higher, December $1.53⅛, oats ⅛-½ lower, December 74⅞, soybeans unchanged to higher, January $2.99½ and lard unchanged to 35 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $17.80.

Admitted to Pontiac General Hospital were: Nicholas F. Schimmer, 30, of 120 Poplar, who suffered rib fractures and possible internal injuries; and Mrs. Angela Karasek, 49, of 139 Welfare, who was treated for leg and wrist fractures. Both are reported in good condition.

Blast Furnace Safer Than Kitchen Range

NEW YORK (UP) — Employes of United States Steel Corp. are three times safer around a blast furnace than near the kitchen stove, according to the company's safety department.

A survey showed that lost-time accidents during leisure hours outnumbered those on the job by a three-to-one ratio.

U. S. Steel, the nation's No. 1 producer, this year received the honor award from the National Safety Council for its record of only 2.17 accidents per million man-hours worked in all steel-producing divisions.

Sugar Daddy Is Really Mixed Up, Says Doctor

OMAHA (AP) — The sugar daddy in his "foolish fifties" really exists and he's usually pretty mixed up emotionally, says Dr. Francis J. Braceland, psychiatrist-in-chief of the Institute of Life, Hartford, Conn. He told an Omaha Midwest Clinical Society meeting:

"A fellow reaches 50 and realizes time is getting short. He may decide that a change of jobs or a change in wives will help him stay young for a while longer."

But, says Dr. Braceland, he is just fooling himself."

Placed on Probation

Charlie L. Stokes, 24, 10263 Russel St., Detroit, was placed on two years probation and assessed $150 costs today for carrying concealed weapons by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick. He pleaded guilty Dec. 11 to carrying a pistol in his suit pocket while attending a dance.

Develops 3-D Maps

STANFORD, Calif. (UP) — And now we have 3-D maps.

After many years of study, a Stanford University cartographer, Joseph E. Williams, has developed a "Shaded relief" technique which causes mountains and valleys to stand out with remarkable boldness.

Aircraft Higher in Calm Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts were actively higher today in a Stock Market that displayed improvement in most areas.

The best gains came to between 1 and 2 points, but they were rare. The usual advance or decline was a small fractioin.

Korean Winterization Plan Completed by U.S. Army

TOKYO (NEA)—American soldiers in Korea are snuggled in, ready for a cold winter but are reported ready to fight a hot war in extreme cold weather.

The winterization program, started last December, is complete. And the U.S. Army issue for the bitterly cold months ahead is the envy of other U.N. troops.

Heavy winter clothing, which not all troops received last year, already has been issued to every soldier. Only heavy parkas and over-white sheets for snow fighting are being held in reserve. In addition, a new pile liner for wind-proof overpants is being issued.

Besides actual clothing, antifreeze for trucks (750,000 gallons), lumber and tools for winterizing tents, heaters and stoves, snow and ice equipment for vehicles and pre-fab buildings have been pouring into the truce-taut area for the past three months.

Individual clothing for soldiers had a high priority in the winterizing program. To Korea-proof a single man from the skin out, excluding helmet, costing from $198.53 in the Korean Communications Zone to $241.98 on the front line.

Last year, only 15 per cent of the troops in the line had heavy "OG" (Green wool) outer garments. This year they are 100 per cent issue.

Last winter, new heavy duty winter boots went to 25 per cent of the command. This year 80 per cent have them.

Three sets of heavy woolen underwear and down-lined sleeping bags have been issued every man. Lt. Col. Ivan Egeler, Traverse City, Mich., of the quartermaster section says that the major issue was completed by Oct. 15—while balmy weather still prevailed.

Enough winterized tents have been issued for all troops on the basis of 11 men and two stoves per tent. A tent kit consists of pre-cut wood for a solid floor and for the sides up to the break, reinforced ridgepoles and support bars. Many of the tents will have poured cement slab floors.

Pre-fabs and tents are being raised within 100 yards of the main possible battle positions and men will rotate between the firing line and their quarters.

Metal pre-fabs, at a cost of $1,600 to $3,100 each, were built in the U.S. and shipped here. The present plan calls for 11,370 such units. It is hoped that production of them will be under way in Japan at a cost of a little more than $1,000 per unit in time for next year's demands.

For tents, 137,000 oil burners, reported to use five gallons of fuel oil per day per stove under average conditions, are being supplied, along with 20,000 small engineer gas stoves for bunkers and dugouts and 16,000 large engineer gas space heaters for pre-fabs and occupied civilian buildings.

"We've done the job they asked for," one Tokyo staff officer and former fighting veteran said. "I only hope we haven't made them so cozy they won't come out of their snug little nests to fight if they have to."

A foreign U.N. observer, whose units have among the best fighting records in Korea but no prospect of a steam-heated winter, commented. "It must be wonderful to have such wealthy taxpayers back home."

Population Shift Seen in Finland

Farmers Flock to Cities as Industrial Production Increases

WASHINGTON — With Finland's basic economy shifting from agriculture to industry in postwar years, tens of thousands of Finnish citizens have forsaken farms and flocked to the factories.

A vigorous metal industry employs 80,000 workers, double the number in 1939. The shipbuilding industry has six times the capacity of 1944.

Half of the country's four million inhabitants are today engaged in industrial pursuits, compared with less than one-fourth fifty years ago. Helsinki, Tampere and other Finnish cities are crowed with former rural residents.

Forests—Finland's "green gold"—are still the nation's major asset. Lumber, plywood, pulp, paper, and prefabricated houses are leading exports. Over 75,000 are employed in wood-working plants.

Nearly three-fourths of the nation's 130,162 square miles are forested, mainly in spruce, pine and birch. The land, one-and-one-half times the size of Great Britain and slightly larger than New Mexico, contains more than 60,000 lakes.

These are only 7.5 million acres of arable land, against 54 million acres of forest, and agricultural production has always been low. Much of the country's soil is rocky and barren. Finland is the climatic limit for cultivation of grains.

To earn extra money to meet higher living costs, whole farm families work at factory and forestry jobs during the winter and other slack farm seasons.

Nearly one-third of Finland's area lies north of the Arctic Circle. The climate is tempered slightly by warm ocean currents, but snow generally covers the country from Christmas through April.

Summers are short but brilliant. In mid-summer the sun shines at least 18 hours a day. Shops, offices and factories close at 3 p.m., permitting outdoor-minded Finns to throng beaches and parks.

Finns are sports enthusiasts. The country boasts more than 500 athletic fields, and over 700,000 citizens are enrolled in various sports organizations.

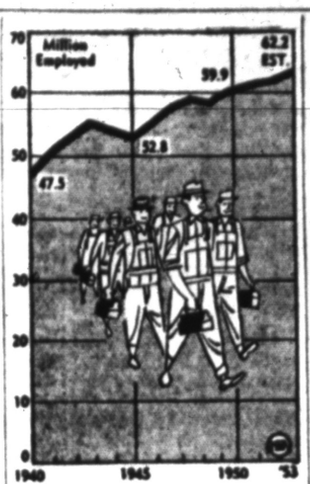

In a walking contest with Sweden in 1941, no less than 1,507,111 Finns participated. The nation's top athletes have won 69 Olympic Gold Medals, proportionately more than any other country.

A nation born of war, Finland gained her independence in 1918 when she broke away from the crumbling Russian Empire. A loan from the United States helped establish the new Finnish national regime.

With steady payments, Finland has reduced the debt to about $7 million.

One of the world's most literate countries, Finland has compulsory education for children 7 to 15. The State University at Helsinki has over 10,000 students.

The many-voweled Finnish language is one of Europe's oldest spoken tongues. Helsinki and many other cities are bilingual, with street signs, shop and restaurant names appearing in both Finnish and Swedish.

OFF TO WORK — Above Newschart shows trend of employment in the U. S. since 1940, when there were 47.5 million persons working. The growth continued until 1943 when the number decreased, with many workers entering the army. In 1952 there were 61.2 million people working, and an all-time high of 62.2 million is expected for 1953.

2 Trapped in Car in Crash Sunday

Five persons were injured Sunday in a two-car collision that trapped a Detroit woman and her daughter inside their auto.

Mrs. Hazel Amosson, 48, of 8028 Southfield, Detroit, and her daughter, Mary Lee, 18, suffered shock and cuts when their car collided with an auto driven by Suddeth M. Watkins, 30, of 2875 Devondale, Bloomfield Township, according to Troy Township police.

The Detroit women, treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, were trapped in their overturned car at Crooks and Eighteen Mile roads until a wrecker pulled their car onto its wheels, according to Police Chief David Gratopp.

Watkins suffered knee bruises, his wife, Ann, 33, was treated for back, leg and foot injuries, and their 14-month-old daughter, Kathy, received forehead cuts.

Gratopp said that the Troy Township Fire Department was on call to prevent gasoline which spilled onto the highway from the wrecked cars from igniting.

Eight Lands Lay Claim to Coldest Part of World

WASHINGTON — A frigid land mass, virtually devoid of life, draped with an ice cap hundreds of feet thick, and cut off from the rest of the world by icy seas —that is Antarctica, the last continent, explored by at least a dozen nations and claimed, in part, by eight of them.

Antarctica is as large as Europe and Australia combined, says the National Geographic Society. Averaging 6,000 feet, it is higher above the sea than any other continent. In the center is the South Pole, on a plateau 9,800 feet above sea level.

Whales and seals are the only mammals indigenous to the frozen waste. Together with penguins and a few other species of birds, they inhabit the fringe areas. Away from the sea there is no life. In the heart of this vast Sahara of dry, powdered snow, ice, and intense cold, not even bacteria can develop.

Although the United States has sponsored a number of expeditions to Antarctica, it has never pressed any claim to the lands at the bottom of the world. England, France, Norway, Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Chile and Russia have staked claims.

Antarctica is shaped like a huge, round white cake with triangular pieces cut out on two opposite sides. The indentation south of the Atlantic Ocean is the Weddell Sea, long a base for whalers. The other, south of New Zealand, is the Ross Sea. Here Admiral Richard E. Byrd founded Little America, base camp for his three expeditions in 1929, 1934 and 1947.

Away from the coastline, Antarctica is a high plateau, broken only by mountain ranges and the ridges and furrows of packed snow driven by the wind, like ripples left on a beach after the tide has receded. Surrounding the Pole there is an almost permanent area of high atmospheric pressure, caused by the intense cold.

Unlike its Arctic counterpart, which has an oceanic climate, Antarctica's climate is continental and thus subject to much greater extremes. Antarctic temperature averages 40 degrees colder than the Arctic the year around. The winds are the most constant and violent in the world.

New Liner to Be Built

LISBON (UP) — A 300,000,000-escudo (nearly $10,000,000) liner is to be built in Portuguese yards for service between Africa and Lisbon, Marine Minister Americo Thomaz announced.

Frank L. Wright Hits Profession

'Ashamed' of Architects Who Are Now Employes Not 'Way-Showers'

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Frank Lloyd Wright, the perennial rebel and one of the greats in American architecture, is a ripe 84 years old but he's lost none of the fire of his youth.

But instead of droning the customary niceties of a more conventional after-dinner speaker, he lambasted his own profession with the zeal of a fire-and-brimstone preacher and castigated Americ[illegible] in general for their respect of "mediocrity."

"I am ashamed of my profession. There are no architects any more. There are only employes. Nowadays the prizes for buildings go to corporations, not to men. The successor to Sir Christopher Wren is Lever Brothers."

The venerable, white-haired apostle of design, who is given to wearing brightly colored weskits and flowing ties crumpled through an irregular knot, said he had never identified himself with the architecture profession because it refused to rebel against the domination of the machine.

"But I don't see them at work anywhere. They do not give form to our buildings and thus to our lives. They show no way to a life of beauty."

Wright, once described by the noted Swedish architect, Siegfried Gideon, as "the only man in the world who can draw poetry out of industry," called himself an "old one" who has "written too many books" and "talked too much."

"I used to say we must learn to master the machine," he said. "I never thought what I feared would come about. We are dominated by the machine in all our lives.

Named 'Post of the Month'

Milford Observer Corps Given Air Defense Award

MILFORD — Grand Rapids Filter Center, headquarters for Michigan's Ground Observers' Corps, has named the Milford unit as the first member of the new "Post of the Month Club."

Mrs. George Eberle, post supervisor and Milford civil defense director, explained that one of Michigan's some 900 posts will be given the award each month from now on.

Milford's post, manned by about 115 families, marks its first anniversary this month.

The Michigan award, signed by Gen. B. W. Chidlaw and Lieut. M. R. Sell Jr., of the U. S. Air Force, arrived Saturday, Mrs. Eberle said.

The certificate announces that "The Air Defense Command, by appointment of the detachment commander, has bestowed upon Golf Nectar 23 Black (Milford's call letters) the designation of "Post of the Month" for December, 1953."

"Since its beginning, Golf Nectar 23 Black has been on 24-hour operation except for the night Milford was the scene of a freak tornado," the filter center said. "This outstanding record has been attained by the close cooperation of Milford townspeople and their sense of responsibility in keeping America safe from air attack."

Mrs. Eberle says the Milford post was on duty the night of the tornado — and every other night.

Thoroughfare Confusion Is Finally Cleared Up

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Considering the sloppy way most people tack st., ave., pl., or dr. to mailing addresses, postmen have had a legitimate beef in one subdivision. Mail, public utility and delivery men have been required to find addresses on Quatro Way, Quarto Lane, Quatro Place and Quatro Drive, all close together.

So the four streets have been renamed Figueroa, Bewley, Gunther and Jackson, respectively.
