

STAFF BULLETIN

June 30-July 6, 1969

Published weekly by University news service, 114 North Foundation
(ext. 2219). Deadline for submitting material is 5 p.m. Thursday.

SUMMER SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SOARS

With the final count still not complete, Summer School enrollment has far exceeded the most optimistic estimates by University officials. As of Thursday night the total had reached 1,230 students for OU's first full-fledged summer school. Late registrations were scheduled to continue through last Friday.

According to Summer School Dean, Lewis N. Pino, and Acting Registrar Lowell Ruggles, the unexpected numbers resulted in long registration lines. Both are hopeful that, with this initial experience, the registration process will be beefed up enough next year to make it easier for students to complete their registration. Ruggles reports that the major slow-down in the lines occurred at the point of fee reductions because of the large numbers of "guest" students who had not previously gone through the OU fee reduction process. Despite the heavy registration, only two sections were closed.

MEADOW BROOK MUSIC FESTIVAL OPENS SIXTH SEASON

Thursday night at 8:30 p.m. the University's Meadow Brook Music Festival will open its sixth season with Van Cliburn as soloist with the Detroit Symphony. Sixteen Ehrling will conduct.

The evening will launch the Festival's most ambitious program to date, a nine week schedule of 38 major events featuring an impressive array of instrumental, vocal, and dance talent.

Cliburn will be soloist Thursday, Friday, and Sunday (6:30 p.m.) playing the Beethoven Concerto No. 5 in E flat Major. The Festival will fly Cliburn to Interlochen for his annual benefit concert there Saturday, bringing him back to Meadow Brook for his Sunday performance. Pianist Cynthia Raim will be the Festival soloist Saturday playing the Rachmaninoff Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini. Tickets are available at the Festival box-office.

BOARD ITEMS DUE JULY 1

The next meeting of the Board of Trustees will be on Friday, July 18. Items to be included in the agenda must be in Mr. Stoutenburg's office by noon on Tuesday, July 1. Material received after the deadline will be held for the next meeting of the Trustees, which will be in September.

MORE BOARD ITEMS

In addition to the appointments and promotion listed in last week's Bulletin, the MSU Board of Trustees authorized Oakland University to seek approval from the State Board of Education for Ph.D. programs in Engineering and in the Physical Sciences. In other board actions, vice provost Frederick W. Obear was named acting provost; James E. Davis, assistant professor of chemistry, was named assistant provost. Melvin Chernow, professor of history, was named chairman of New College; Alfred Lessing, associate professor of philosophy, was named chairman of Charter College; and Carl Vann, associate professor of political science, was named chairman of Allport College. G. Phillip Johnson, professor and chairman of mathematics, was named acting dean of graduate study.

PROJECT RIGHT NOW GAINS MOMENTUM

Project RIGHT NOW: Beaufort, launched by OU students several weeks ago, is gaining momentum. In addition to a growing number of pledges of support from organizations in the community, the Project was sparked this week by a check for $500 from a member of the Oakland University Foundation and a gift of 35 cases of canned food from a wholesale food outlet. According to Ed Holloman, food is still needed for the South Carolina community and the food collection baskets will remain in use on campus. Contributions of non-perishable items will be appreciated.

URBAN AND TEACHER CORPS TEAMS HERE FOR INSTITUTE

Some 110 members of urban and teacher corps teams from throughout the country are participating in a three-week institute which began last week at OU. Under the direction of Roderic E. Righter, associate dean of the School of Education, the institute is one of four being conducted in the United States under the federally funded Project REAL. Similar institutes are being held at the University of Southern California, Temple University, and the University of Oklahoma.

CLOSED FOR INVENTORY

The Stores supplies department will be closed today, Monday, June 30, for inventory. It is anticipated that the office will be open for business by 10 a.m. on Tuesday, July 1. Other University Services operations will remain open through the inventory period.

UNIVERSITY BOOK CENTER CLOSED TODAY FOR INVENTORY

The University Book Center will be closed for inventory all day Monday, June 30. According to Bill Marshall, it is hoped the Center will be open for business by 11 a.m. on Tuesday.

CLOSED FOR THE FOURTH

The Sports and Recreation Building will be closed Friday, July 4, but will be open during the regular hours Saturday and Sunday.

ROCHESTER HISTORY PUBLISHED FOR CENTENNIAL

Local history buffs may be interested in the newly published "A Lively Town: 152 years in Rochester." The illustrated volume is available at $5 through Marge McAdory, 107 NFH; the Library Circulation Desk; Charlie Brown, the Oakland Center; or Mary Wood, Chancellor's reception area.

SPECIAL EVENTS TICKETS AVAILABLE IN NFH

Beginning Monday, June 30, all Special Events Series tickets will be available at the NFH box office adjacent to the Meadow Brook Music Festival office. The box office will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Tickets will also be available at the Festival grounds.

JULY 4 A HOLIDAY, EXCEPT FOR MEADOW BROOK SCHOOL OF MUSIC

All classes and offices will be closed on Friday, July 4, except those associated with the Meadow Brook Summer School of Music. All Meadow Brook School activities will be held as usual.

N. Y. TIMES AVAILABLE AT VANDENBERG DESK

Because the Oakland Center will normally be closed on Sundays this summer, the Sunday N. Y. Times will be available after 11:30 a.m. on Sunday at the Vandenberg Hall Desk.

CALENDAR

Wednesday July 2	8:30 p.m.	Meadow Brook Orchestra Concert, Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion
Thursday July 3	8:30 p.m.	Meadow Brook Music Festival, Detroit Symphony Orchestra conducted by Sixten Ehrling, Van Cliburn soloist, Baldwin Memorial Pavilion
Friday July 4	8:30 p.m.	Meadow Brook Music Festival, Van Cliburn, soloist
Saturday July 5	8:30 p.m.	Meadow Brook Music Festival, Pianist Cynthia Raim, soloist
Sunday July 6	6:30 p.m.	Meadow Brook Music Festival, Van Cliburn, soloist