Nine Children Send Mother for Christmas Visit to Parents

SAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. John Hayden is packing her bags for a Christmas Eve flight to see her parents in California for the first time in 18 years—thanks to nine little "sneaks."

That is how the Long Island mother, 45, good-naturedly describes her children who pooled their resources for months to finance the trip without telling her know about it.

The children, ranging in ages from 16 years to 28 months, turned the trick with dimes, nickels and pennies earned in a variety of ways. Their father, John Hayden, learned of the campaign only recently.

He added a goodly sum. "I was flabbergasted when I learned the other day what they had done," Mrs. Hayden said.

"And the worst part of it all was that they did it right under my nose without me knowing a thing about it."

The two eldest Hayden children, John Jr., 16, and Maureen, 15, thought it would be nice if their mother could visit her parents in Santa Ana for a week.

WORKED UP PLAN

Together they worked up the plan of having all the children chip in each week to pay the fare. That was last summer. They passed the idea on to their sisters and brothers, and the campaign was under way.

John washed dishes at a diner one day a week, and Maureen worked as a counter girl. Virtually all of their earnings went into the fund.

Landing Airliner Flips

43 Flee Burning Plane

From Our News Wires

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — Quick action by two young military school cadets and the stewardess cleared the way as 40 passengers and a crew of three scrambled from a burning Frontier Airlines plane at the Grand Island Airport Friday night.

With the plane on its back and flames bursting out in a severed wing section, cadets Ron Henderson, 19, of Gering, Neb., and Frank Flicker, 16, of Scottsbluff, Neb., along with stewardess Pat Reed of Aurora, Colo., quickly opened the two exits and ushered everyone out.

Five were hospitalized, but all were reported in good condition.

As the plane approached the field, pilot Joe Romano, 40, of Denver, told his passengers there was a ground fog that made the approach hazardous.

As Capt. Romano finished his announcement, Henderson turned to a fellow passenger and commented that the landing could be rough.

"We'd better fasten our seat belts good and tight," he said. "The next thing I knew the plane flipped over," Henderson said.

The plane touched ground, skidded about a half mile before flipping over. It came to a stop about a half mile short of the runway. As the plane skidded the left wing was torn off and burst into flames.

Immediately stewardess Reed, Henderson and Flicker swung into action, and within minutes everyone was safely on the ground.

Miss Reed, 21, said none of the passengers panicked when the plane crunched into the field and overturned.

Complete Deal for Medicine, Food Ransom

20 Months of Captivity Comes to an End for 1,113 Imprisoned Men

MIAMI (AP) — The first of the 1,113 liberated Cuban invasion prisoners will arrive in Miami Monday, the Cuban Families Committee announced today.

The announcement yesterday followed an agreement by the Castro government yesterday to release the invasion prisoners after 20 months of captivity in exchange for medicine and food.

Ernesto Fryere, secretary for the Families Committee, disclosed the Monday arrival time after a telephone conversation with James B. Donovan, chief committee negotiator in Havana.

Fryere also spoke with Alvaro Sanchez and Mrs. Virginia Betancourt, committee members, and said he was told all the prisoners had been informed they were to be freed.

Donovan broke the news himself to some prisoners held in Havana's Principe Castle.

Red Cross officials said they are highly optimistic that the entire prisoner group will be back among their friends and relatives by Christmas. Some 26,000 relatives of the captives live in Miami.

A mother of one of the prisoners said the men in Principe Prison had a feast of homemade delicacies Friday. She said it was the first time in more than six months that parcels had been allowed to go through to the prisoners.

The freighter S. S. African Pilot was expected to sail for Havana from Port Everglades, Fla., today with some of the supplies requested by Prime Minister Fidel Castro as the price for the release of the prisoners. The medicines were donated by U.S. drug manufacturers.

The Cuban government originally demanded $62 million as a ransom. The value of the food and medicine agreed on is estimated at $53 million.

The pact specifies the prisoners will be freed when 20 percent of the supplies are in Cuban hands.

The Red Cross said it is expected to take a few months to get the full amount of the supplies that Castro wants.

Exiles Wary of Prisoner Trade

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban exiles here were hopeful but wary today over a prospect that 1,113 captives would be freed from Fidel Castro's prisons.

The yearning parents, wives and sweethearts of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners have been disappointed before, when negotiations stalled.

There was no wild enthusiasm when news came from Havana Friday night that Castro had signed an agreement with James B. Donovan, Cuban Prisoner Families Committee negotiator, to release his prisoners in exchange for $53 million badly needed medicines and food.

"First let's see what Fidel does," commented a prominent exile. "This has happened once before, and the prisoners didn't come home."

Another exile said, "We are not going to celebrate until they are here."

At Homestead Air Force Base, where the captives will be flown Sunday from Havana in Pan American World Airways planes if all goes according to plan, government and Red Cross preparations were under way to receive the prisoners.

A big Christmas tree and hearty meals await them.

The men will be examined by health officials. Then they will pass through special immigration facilities, receive $40 spending money plus a clothing allowance and be reunited with relatives who have waited for them.

If the incoming prisoners arrive in the same condition as the last batch—60 wounded or ailing men several months ago—they will reach the United States in nothing but T-shirts and trousers, and carrying only what they could bind up in a bandanna.

MAGIC—Six-year-old Holly Hawke seems hypnotized by the glitter of decorations on the Hawke family's Christmas tree. Winter has come inside the home with artificial snow bedecking the branches and the glow of candlelight in the glass bulbs. It's the time of happiness for children of all ages, just as in Holly's home at 2890 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township.

U.S. Warned by Soviets About Mission to Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Dispatch of a U.S. military survey mission to the Congo has brought a Soviet warning that the move could lead to serious results.

Soviet Chief Delegate Valerian A. Zorin blasted the action as he and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson held separate news conferences Friday to give their views on the 17th General Assembly session that just ended.

Stevenson said the eight-man mission led by Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman had been sent to strengthen Secretary-General U Thant's plans to end the secession of Katanga Province.

But Zorin accused the United States of embarking on "the road to direct subversion" of U.N. principles.

Zorin declared anew that the Soviet Union has no intention of paying any part of the $100 million-month Congo bill which prompted the assembly to schedule a special session next spring to deal with the situation.

Skybolt Good On Test But It's Still Doomed

Administration Silent; Other Sources Say Altitude Unchanged

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The successful test of a Skybolt missile today will not change the administration's decision to drop the Skybolt development program, informed sources said today.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger would not comment on the Skybolt test at Cape Canaveral.

From other sources, however, it was determined that today's successful firing from a high-altitude jet bomber would not change the administration decision to drop the program which has cost the government $75 million thus far.

Defense Department sources in Washington agreed that the successful test would not change matters.

USE LIMITED

One reason why the successful test will not shift the decision to abandon the program is that Skybolt is linked to the use of manned bombers and, according to informed sources, could not be regarded as an up-to-date and operational weapon any longer than 1970.

In the big two meeting between President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan which ended in Nassau yesterday, the British reportedly accepted the fact that manned bombers have a highly limited life as far as the Western arsenal is concerned.

This was why the British came to accept the American decision to drop Skybolt and settle instead for the underwater and longer range Polaris missile which allied experts figure will not be outmoded for 15 to 20 years.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who must take chief responsibility for dropping Skybolt—which the British at one time counted upon as the leading weapon in their nuclear arsenal—was represented as confident that among the inner factors of the problem are explained to Congress, senators, and representatives more directly concerned will go along with the administration.

Macmillan Hit by Criticism

Bitter Defense Row Threatened Over Deal

LONDON (AP) — The agreement between Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Kennedy to provide Britain with Polaris missiles in place of Skybolt brought a wave of criticism from right and left today.

It threatened to produce the biggest and most bitter defense row since the war.

The opposition Labor party was reported planning to mount a major attack on the government.

It will oppose the deal on the grounds that it is too late, too costly and that the nuclear deterrent had better be left in the hands of one power, the United States.

A furious onslaught was also expected from some right-wing rank-and-file members of Macmillan's ruling Conservative party when he reports back to the House of Commons next month.

As they prepared to disperse for the Christmas recess there were many angry accusations that Macmillan had bartered (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Ask Criminal Contempt for Gov. Barnett, Aide

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Federal appeals court has been asked to hold Mississippi's governor and lieutenant governor in criminal contempt for blocking the enrollment of a Negro at the previously all-white University of Mississippi last September.

The Justice Department made the request Friday, acting on a directive issued by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which will hear the case.

The New Orleans-based appellate court has already convicted Gov. Ross R. Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr., of civil contempt.

If the two officials are found guilty, it could mean jail terms and large fines. Penalties are almost unlimited in criminal contempt cases.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced in Washington that Leon Jaworski of Houston, Tex., immediate past president of the American College of Trial Attorneys, had been appointed a special counsel to handle the government's case.

Kennedy said the Justice Department obtained outside counsel because a number of its staff personnel were involved in negotiations with Barnett during the crisis over Meredith.

Still Negotiate

Strike Seems Imminent

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz met with both sides today in a new effort to avert a longshoremen's strike tomorrow on Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Negotiators expressed pessimism on hopes of averting a walkout, and longshoremen began mapping plans for around-the-clock picketing.

William Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, assisted Wirtz in the talks.

A spokesman for the International Longshoremen's Association said the union would permit ships to unload passengers. The union also would refrain from picketing action that would block tugboat assistance to ships arriving in ports, he said.

CONTINUATION

The strike by 60,000 longshoremen would be a continuation of one that was halted after four days by a federal court injunction obtained by the government early in October.

The court enjoined the longshoremen under the Taft-Hartley Act, which provides for an 80-day cooling-off period in strikes affecting the national welfare.

The injunction's effectiveness expires Sunday, leaving the dock workers free to strike again in the contract dispute.

WIRTZ BUSY

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, together with federal mediators, was prepared to make a last-ditch effort today to avert the walkout.

Chief issue is the size of the longshoremen work gangs. The shipping association, comprised of American and foreign-liner lines, and stevedoring firms serving the affected ports, proposes to cut the work gang size from 20 to 17 men over a three-year period.

But the union opposes this, saying the industry already is highly automated and adding: "We don't want to negotiate our men out of business."

Macmillan will have to justify the switch from Skybolt to Polaris, while demonstrating that Britain can afford the huge sums needed to build Polaris-carrying submarines and the Polaris warheads. The country's conventional forces or raising taxation to new high levels.

NO JUDGE NUMBER

Eight of the circuit's nine judges participated in the deliberations leading to the civil contempt convictions of Barnett and Johnson. However, it has not been determined how many of the jurists will hear the criminal contempt case.

Civil contempt is aimed at enforcing compliance with a court directive and offers the defendant a chance to purge himself and perhaps escape any penalty. Criminal contempt involves punishment for an act already committed with no chance of gaining forgiveness through future action.

STOPPED TWICE

Barnett twice stopped the Negro, James H. Meredith, from enrolling at Ole Miss. Johnson turned him back once.

Meredith was finally enrolled at Ole Miss on Oct. 1—the day after a night of rioting which killed two persons and injured scores.

The circuit court enjoined Barnett and Johnson from interfering with Meredith's enrollment and three days before the Negro enrolled at Ole Miss the governor was found guilty of civil contempt.

The court last month directed the Justice Department to institute the criminal contempt proceedings.

Meanwhile, Dr. Charles F. Haywood, provost of the University of Mississippi, has resigned, it was disclosed Friday night.

Millions of motorists headed for the highways today for visits during the extended Christmas holiday with a reminder from safety experts to drive with extreme caution.

Heavy snow fell in wide sections of the Eastern half of the nation and driving conditions were hazardous in many areas. Most dangerous spots reported by the Weather Bureau were from the Middle Atlantic coastal states northward.

The early count of traffic deaths appeared running about normal for a nonholiday period.

Since the start of the 102-hour holiday period at 6 p.m. last Friday, 34 persons were killed in traffic accidents. Fires claimed the lives of six persons in the last 24 hours.

Children of Associated Press newsmen Walter R. Mears in a blaze which swept the Mears' new home in Alexandria, Va.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 650 to 750 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the four-day holiday ending at midnight Tuesday.

Council officials said the death toll could be held lower if motorists obey traffic regulations. They cited drinking and speed as the major causes of accidents on the highway.

The council said that in a 102-hour holiday weekend, traffic deaths would total 470. However, an Associated Press survey covering a four-day period from 6 p.m. Dec. 7 to midnight Dec. 11 showed 371 fatalities on the highway. It also showed 64 persons lost their lives in fires and 76 others were killed in miscellaneous accidents, for an overall total of 511.

In last year's three-day Christmas holiday period, 524 persons were killed in traffic mishaps. The record traffic death toll for any holiday was 706 during the four-day Christmas holiday of 1946.

N. Koreans Claim U2 Flew Over

By The Associated Press

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A federal court jury resumed deliberations today in the James R. Hoffa conspiracy trial as the Teamster Union president's case entered its third month.

Judge William E. Miller allowed the six women and six male jurors three and a half hours to discuss the case last Friday. When no word was forthcoming from the jury room at the supper hour, he called an overnight recess.

CHARGE INDICTMENT

Hoffa, president of the 1.5 million member Teamsters Union, was charged in a two-count indictment with conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting undercover payments from a Michigan transport firm. The government said the payments were a bribe for labor peace.

Each charge constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum prison sentence of one year and a fine of up to $10,000.

Throughout the trial, which began Oct. 22, Hoffa maintained he received no illegal payments and never double-crossed Teamster drivers as the government charged.

AWAIT WORD

The courtroom took on a relaxed appearance as everyone waited for word from the jury. Hoffa, 49, spent the time alternately joking with newsmen and issuing sharp instructions to his attorneys and aides. Pointing out two previous federal court juries had acquitted him on other charges in past years, he said he had no doubts about the outcome.

MARSHALS RELAX

U.S. marshals, relieved from standing guard at the courtroom doors, lounged in the jury box talking over plans for Christmas.

Miller spent the time in his chambers, resting up from what he said was the longest trial over which he has ever presided.

The Taft-Hartley Act prohibits a union leader from receiving payments from a company whose employees he represents.

The government said Hoffa and Commercial Carriers, Inc., Detroit-based hauler of new cars, violated the act by conspiring to set up and operate Test Fleet Corp., a truck-leasing venture chartered here in 1949.

Commission's Agenda Covers Traffic, Parking

BIRMINGHAM — Traffic and parking problems will be the main items on the agenda for next Thursday's 4 p.m. City Commission meeting.

The commission meeting, ordinarily held on Monday, is scheduled for later in the week because of the holidays.

Several recommended changes in the city's parking and traffic regulations will be presented for commissioners' approval by police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

The police chief said the new regulations, which either prohibit or limit parking on several streets, already have been in effect on a trial basis.

Commission approval is necessary to make them permanent. In a petition presented to the city clerk's office, the commission will be asked to place two-hour parking limitations from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Townsend Street between Henrietta and Chester streets.

The petition is signed by 20 residents in the neighborhood.

Residents complained that parking spaces in front of their homes are taken by shoppers and downtown store employees all day.

In another report, Moxley suggested installation of a delayed amber signal on the traffic light at Oakland Avenue and Hunter Boulevard (U.S. 10).

The delayed signal would allow traffic more time to clear the intersection and avoid congestion at the center island on Hunter Boulevard, Moxley said.

Special family Christmas services will be held at 9:30 and 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Congregational Church of Birmingham.

The service will include narration of the Christmas story in words and music by Rev. Raymond Finner and the church choir.

The primary and preschool departments of St. James Episcopal Church will present a Christmas pageant at 9:15 and 11 a.m. services tomorrow in the Chapel of the Holy Spirit.

Donald Gault, lay reader, and the Rev. David Van Dusen will lead the 10 a.m. service at the Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkeley.

Mr. DuBois died today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, following a long illness.

He was a retired custodian in the Birmingham School District, a member of First Methodist Church and a Mason.

Surviving are three sons, S. Elting of Birmingham, Richard B. of Grayling and Jack C. of Detroit; a daughter, Mrs. Edward H. Stone of Lockwood, Colo.; one sister, Mrs. Hugh M. Hemphill of Birmingham; and seven grandchildren.

Mrs. Harold Gieggle

Service for Mrs. Harold (Janet E.) Gieggle, 44, of 1447 Yosemite St., Birmingham, will be at 2 p.m. Monday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mrs. Gieggle died yesterday at her residence. She was chairman of the library committee at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, and a member of the PEO of Detroit.

Surviving are her husband and her mother, Mrs. Walter Jorgensen of Detroit, two sons, Thomas H., Charles, and one brother.

Red Guerrillas Kill U.S. Officer in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A U.S. Army warrant officer was killed today when his helicopter was hit by Communist ground fire, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The spokesman said the FBI helicopter was flying a support mission for South Vietnamese government troops in the central highlands, a Communist guerrilla-infested area about 250 miles north of here.

Castro first proposed swapping the captives for 500 bulldozers. Protracted talks followed, but they got nowhere.

A military court on April 8, 1962, found 1,179 prisoners guilty of treason and sentenced them to 30-year prison terms, but the court also set a ransom for each prisoner.

Negotiations then began between the government and a committee representing the families of the prisoners.

In August, Donovan, an international negotiator who arranged the exchange of U.S. pilot Francis Gary Powers for a Soviet spy, obtained special clearance from the U.S. State Department to enter Cuba and he began his meetings with Castro. The talks led to a project to exchange the prisoners for food and medicine.

In the meantime, 60 wounded and ill prisoners were ransomed on credit for $2.5 million and a few others were ransomed by their relatives or by a ransom committee for amounts ranging from $10,000 to $250,000.

U.S. Draws Warning Over Congo Mission

with the threat of U.N. bankruptcy.

Zorin charged that the assembly had no legal right to station the 18,000-man U.N. force in the Congo and insisted that the matter should be handled by the Security Council where the Russians wield a veto.

President Moise Tshombe's Katanga government joined in the protest made by some Leopoldville deputies.

"We protest against the neo-colonialist maneuvers which are against the interest of the African people," said a communiqué issued by the presidential office here last night.

The arrival of Gen. Truman and his mission in Leopoldville was accompanied by an anti-American burst of criticism from opposition members of the Congo Parliament there Friday.

Extreme nationalists charged the United States was preparing to set up a military base in the Congo, and called on Premier Cyrille Adoula to explain his dependence on U.N. support.

Gen. Truman said he would meet with military and government officials to see what kind of U.S. military equipment would be useful to the U.N. force. He said his mission did not foreshadow the sending of U.S. troops to the Congo.

Reds Charge Two as Spies

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two more persons — a Russian physics teacher and a West German tourist — were accused today of spying for Western intelligence agencies and the mushrooming espionage scare here.

The latest accusations, making a total of 11 persons named in seven weeks, were published in the newspaper Leninist Pravda which reached Moscow today.

The report identified the Russian as physicist teacher Rudolph Friedman, who allegedly became an American agent due to his love of abstract art.

The West German was identified as Helmut Kemmer, who was attempting to photograph a "defense object" and was expelled 24 hours later.

Previously accused as Western espionage agents were five members of the United States embassy here, a British businessman, two Russians and a West German woman.

Junior Editors Quiz on PYGMIES

QUESTION: Why are Pygmies so small?

ANSWER: These tiny jungle people have always fascinated explorers. They inhabit various localities, such as central Africa and the Malay Peninsula, mostly in dense forest near the equator. Pygmies live by hunting and gathering roots and forest plants.

They are simple folk, caring little for the elaborate ceremonies and costumes of their larger neighbors, although they are said to have a sense of fun and to like music.

The pygmy's bow is tiny, but he is an expert with it and his arrow is deadly, for he often smears its tip with poison. Certain groups of Pygmies also use the long blow gun which can throw a poisoned splinter with extreme accuracy.

Pygmies are about 4½ feet tall. Scientists think that the small size is due to "mutation," that is, to the variations which nature constantly experiments with, as if he wanted to find just the right thing for the right place.

The little Pygmy, with his small stomach, gets along very well in the dense forest where game is scarce and others might starve. Also, he lives in thick jungle which other natives don't want to occupy. This isolation has probably helped to keep him small.

FOR YOU TO DO: It would be fun to cut out the jungle pictures and color it, using crayon or water color. The pygmies could be a brownish gold and the leaves green.

Do you see the orchids between the pictures and the white butterfly? These could be colored brilliant yellow and pink.

Port Huron Official
Cites IRS 'Politics'

The president of Port Huron's Industrial Development Corp., Norman Cosgrove, has charged the Internal Revenue Service with maneuvering "for political reasons" so a location in downtown Detroit can be chosen for the proposed IRS Midwest Data Processing Center.

The charges were contained in a telegram sent to Mortimer Caplin, IRS director, yesterday.

Pontiac, Port Huron and Detroit are bidding for the site.

Pontiac officials and Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, voiced similar opinions last summer when Pontiac was left off the IRS list of recommended sites.

MADE STRONG BID

Pontiac had made a strong bid, offering several land parcels as sites for the center.

Local officials still plan to carry the local bid to the congressional committee designated to choose the site.

The committee is expected to meet on the matter early next year.

In his telegram yesterday, Cosgrove said, "It seems both inconsistent and unreasonable that while the IRS is in the midst of a huge public relations campaign to eliminate loopholes in the tax laws and thus increase federal government revenues that this same agency spurns our offer to provide it with a $2-million facility at a cost of a dollar a year."

Port Huron offered to build the agency a $2-million building and lease it to the IRS for $1 a year. Citizens approved a

Winter Endangers
Stock in Soviet Area

MOSCOW (U) — Thousands of head of cattle and sheep are in danger of starving or freezing to death this winter in Kazakhstan, where the temperature goes down to 22 to 40 below zero, Pravda said yesterday.

The Communist party newspaper said farmers in the virgin lands there failed to lay in enough winter fodder and build enough shelters for the livestock.

Pravda based its story on the report of an inspection team which said it found broken windows in livestock quarters and that "wind and snow blows in through holes in the roofs."

Capitol Humor Flow Reverses

Swainson Ribs Newsmen

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson, often the target of good-natured ribbing by the Capitol press corps at gridiron-type functions, turned the tables on the newsmen this week and tossed some good-natured barbs of his own.

At his second annual Christmas party for reporters, the governor played the role of Santa Claus and handed out "gifts" to the press, radio and television newsmen who have covered his two years in office.

To one newsmen who has been on the beat for more than 30 years, Swainson gave "the collected works of Walter Reuther" with the comment that the reporter's editor has been saying that was Swainson's chief reference book.

A radio reporter who had been heard to comment that state government was "all Greek to me" received a book which Swainson said was printed in Greek (one reporter said it was Russian).

CLEANS OUT FILES

Swainson, who moves out of the executive office in 10 days, apparently cleaned out his files to find appropriate presents to hand out. There were Swainson bumper stickers, lapel pins, ties, tax pamphlets and old campaign posters each presented with an individual twist.

One newsmen was described by Swainson as the "best up-to-date reader I know" — he can sit at one end of the table at a press conference and read the letters on my desk.

The governor's barbed comments kept the newsmen and their wives roaring with laughter.

But the reporters didn't laugh any harder than Swainson has on the occasions when he has been ribbed by the press corps at parties at which he was a guest.

A group of reasonably harmonious newsmen who dub themselves the "Soapy Singers" (because they first sang at a going-away party for former Gov. G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams) has managed to come up with a number of songs kidding the governor and other prominent officeholders or prominent politicians.

One song they sing is called "The Saga of Johnny D." to the tune of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp — the Boys Are Marching."

It touches on some of the highlights of Swainson's career and then plunges into the chorus:

"I am governor, remember.
"No one tells me what to do."
"Maybe Reuther has a chore;
"Give me time and maybe I'll get back to you."

Far from being offended, Swainson laughed heartily when he first heard the number — and now joins in the chorus whenever the "Soapy Singers" cut loose.

Newsmen, who may have disagreed with Swainson's actions on certain matters, never found him lacking in a sense of humor.

Gets $7,000 From Grand Rapids Bank

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police today sought a middle-aged man who robbed a northwest Grand Rapids branch bank of some $7,000 late yesterday and then escaped on foot.

Police said the robber, wearing a plaid jacket and a brown hat, waited his turn in line at a teller's window of a Union Bank & Trust Co. branch.

Teller trainee Dianne Witzcak, 21, said the man shoved over a note, reading: "Put all your big money on the counter. I have a sawed-off shotgun. I will shoot." No one saw a gun, police said.

Teller Walter Polus watched as the girl handed over about $1,500. Polus then was motioned by the robber to the next cage, where a cash drawer was cleaned of about $4,700.

Polus said the man stuffed the bills into his jacket pocket and walked out.

GM President Sees Healthy Economy

DETROIT (AP) — John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, said he expects the economic environment to continue generally healthy in 1963.

He spoke at the annual General Motors Christmas program at the company's headquarters.

Gordon acknowledged "There are some differences of opinion on this subject (the economic outlook). But in my view, the evidence to date is solidly on the side of the optimists, whose number has been increasing lately."

Roscoe Pound, for many years dean of Harvard's Law School and one of the nation's foremost legal authorities, majored in botany at the University of Nebraska.

City's Urban Renewal Takes Forward Step

Concluding the longest judicial proceeding in the county's history, a condemnation jury Wednesday handed its verdict to Circuit Court Judge WILLIAM J. BEEK. It covers the land involved in acquisition suits under Pontiac's Urban Renewal Project No. 1.

The total award is slightly over $1-million — $250,000 less than the amount asked by the owners of the 59 parcels but some $108,000 more than was originally offered by the city.

The verdict seems a fair one, and the court and jury panel of 14, in session for a total of 77 days, are to be commended on the conscientiousness of their deliberations and the equity of the findings.

Although counsel representing 12 of the property owners indicates motion for a new trial will be filed, with appeal also to the Michigan Supreme Court on the validity of the municipality's need for the land, it is to be hoped that Pontiac's progress toward rejuvenation of its central business and residential areas will not be long retarded.

Art in the Soviet Union to Remain 'Untainted'

Although NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV has himself been charged with deviationism by the hard-shell Stalinists, he made it plain at a recent conference of Soviet artists that henceforth there would be none of the same in their respective fields.

According to Pravda, the premier, in a meeting of artists, writers and radio and television representatives, decreed that orthodoxy would be strictly the order of the day.

The emerging light in Soviet art and writing apparently has not been to the liking of top management of the party or government, and the crackdown has been hard.

Abstract artists have been forbidden to show their paintings, and musicians have been warned against Western jazz.

Characterizing the first category, KHRUSHCHEV earlier this month called it the work of sick people. He said it "looked like the daubs that a switching, paint-smearing donkey's tail would produce."

Present at the meeting was Alexander Deineka, a painter of pure socialist realism who has pleased Soviet authorities with his works depicting strong bodies, bulging muscles and smiling, happy faces.

If any voices of liberalism in the arts were heard, they were not mentioned in Pravda or Tass.

The conclusion is that while NIKITA may permit a little "taint" of democratic influence in Russian economic and sociological spheres, he is committed to keep "pure" the aesthetic concepts of the arts.

Tremendous Progress Made by Peace Corps

Practically everyone agrees that the Peace Corps to date has been a stunning success. Members are now at work in nearly two-score foreign countries, and reports reaching Washington indicate the Corps members are received with enthusiasm.

We must admit that at the outset this newspaper did not cheer when the Peace Corps was established on a temporary basis by executive order in March 1961. Yet the progress it has made speaks for itself.

The program started with a few hundred volunteers, and shortly thereafter thousands signed up. After this, Congress put the service on a permanent basis and appropriated sufficient funds for a Peace Corps of 2,000.

The requests for Peace Corps assistance are so great that the appropriation has been enlarged to provide for 10,000 volunteers either in training or on the job overseas by next September.

College-educated young people have shown remarkable enthusiasm for service in the Corps, and there is equal enthusiasm for their assistance in the countries where they have been working.

Peace Corps Director Sargent SHREVER has said that "we are only meeting about a quarter or a fifth of the demand for our product and we are only taking into service about a quarter or a fifth of the people who want to serve."

The Peace Corps, functioning as a small but dynamic adjunct of the general foreign aid program, is directed at the needs of farmers, villagers and poor workers in cities rather than to large economic developments.

We feel the Corps is deserving of a word of praise for the excellent contributions it has made.

An Old-New Wish

A Very Merry Christmas to Old Friends and New

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND
Since there is no edition of The Press on Dec. 25, the MAT now wishes everyone a joyous Christmas Day, with heartfelt thanks for the many season's cards and expressions of good wishes that have made this a particularly happy one for him.

As an observation, it seems that there have been more signs this year of thoughtfulness on the parts of individuals and groups for the needy and less fortunate, that no one might be without the joy of beneficence which the Day symbolizes.

There was high drama at MSOU Thursday evening—15 feet of it, since a Christmas tree of that height was involved. Loaded with beautiful ornaments and standing in the dining room, it was the focal point for the annual press dinner given by Chancellor

Durward B. (Woody) Varner

But near catastrophe appeared in late afternoon in the guise of a bevy of fetching women students. . . . Well, they weren't really fetching in this case—they were taking . . . taking all the lovely decorations off the tree! It seems they belonged to members of the Women's Student Association and had been on lend-lease to the university . . . were now being taken home to brighten the trees of the lenders.

But resourceful manager of food services

Edwin Goodwin was equal to the occasion. Dropping everything, he combed the countryside for replacement ornaments—and just as the dinner guests began arriving the last silver bell went aloft the tree . . . Saved by the bell, you might say.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

Throughout the ages man's faith in God has been assaulted by the godless; each generation has fought the fight.

For Christians, the anniversary of the birth of the Christ Child is an occasion for renewal of faith. Recalling that this event changed the shape of the world — brought lordly kings to a lowly stable, then humbled a pagan empire — men realize that faith can move mountains.

"I am with you always," said the Savior, "even unto the end of the world."

Days of All Faiths:

Christians Slow to Honor Birth

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER
It took Christians 300 years to get around to celebrating their Lord's birthday. Christmas was first observed in Rome about 336. Another century went by before the festival became general throughout the Christian world.

One would think the birth of Christ would be the first and biggest event in the Christian calendar. It was the most important thing that had ever happened. It was a turning point and the beginning of a new era in the history of the world.

But the early Christians just couldn't bring themselves to celebrate a birthday — any birthday. The pagans had spoiled the whole idea for them. Pagans believed birthdays were dangerous, because they marked the transition from one stage of life to another and any change is filled with danger.

Therefore, on a birthday the spirits had to be appeased, and the wild heathenish things people did to please the spirits were just too much for the Christians. They couldn't associate such goings-on with the birthday of the Savior, and it was 300 years before they realized that they could honor the Lord in more dignified ways.

COMPETED WITH SOLSTICE FESTIVAL

Nobody knows the real date of Jesus' birth. At first they tried several dates, in December, January, March and various other months. Finally, in the fifth century they settled on Dec. 25, not because it was any more likely than any of the others to be accurate, but because it was the winter solstice (in the old calendar) and they were trying to combat the great pagan "Birthday of the Sun God" festival that was held at this time. It is still a question who won: the Christians or the pagans.

For all of our familiar Christmas customs, decorations, etc., only one is purely Christian. That is the crèche, the little group of figures gathered round the Christ Child in His manger. (You might count the lattice top on Christmas mince pies — it represents the manger slats. But that is pretty farfetched.)

All the others — the holly, mistletoe, carols, exchanging of gifts, general merry-making, overeating — come from the pagan solstice festival that was going strong before there was any Christmas.

PURITANS HAD NO CHRISTMAS

Resistance to the observance of Christmas continued right down to recent times. In 1644 the English Parliament forbade it, and here in America the Massachusetts Bay Colony decreed a fine of five shillings for anyone who was caught feasting, laying off work, "or in any way observing" this day. It was considered both "pagan and Popish."

Superstitions, etc.
If you were born on Christmas Day, you will be able to see spirits. And you will never be hanged. You won't see any spirits on Christmas Eve, though. It is well known that ghosts never appear on that night.

A "white" Christmas means a prosperous year ahead, but a "green" Christmas will fill the graveyard.

The abbreviation Xmas may be in dubious taste, but it is not really irreverent, as many think. The X is the Greek letter chi, the first letter of Christos. It has for centuries been used as a symbol of the Lord's name.

Washington Notebook:

Heyday for Social Climbers

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A few Washington merchants were disgruntled recently by First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy's shopping habits. The story goes that Mrs. Kennedy ordered some very rare and hard-to-get items for the White House renovation, which the storekeepers had to pay for in advance. The items didn't come in by the time Mrs. Kennedy was notified of her late arrival, no reply was made. While merchants reportedly were waiting for a thank you note, at least, for their efforts things took a turn for the better. The items were a complete sell-out to Washington social climbers who heard about Mrs. Kennedy's original selection.

Washington newsmen are trying to unride the case of the "missing jereboam." Cognac producers put on display at the National Press Club an empty jereboam — nearly a gallon cognac bottle — as a prize to be drawn for by NPC blood donors. The very first day the jereboam went on display it mysteriously disappeared from the premises. To solve the mystery, cognac producers now are offering another bottle of cognac as a reward, if the cognac fancier will return the missing empty jereboam and will donate one pint of blood.

An NPC spokesman promises the identity of this donor will be protected.

'Loans Instead of Donations Might Help Federal Deficit'

The $7.8 billion federal deficit need not kill all hope of a tax cut. These millions in federal tax money being donated to cities for urban renewal should be in the form of loans. Collateral might be in the form of mortgages on tax anticipations. The interest on these mortgage loans could pay off the deficit and yet enable a tax cut. We might as well do it this way because each dollar extracted from the U.S. Treasury must be replaced with $1.29. Better six per cent on the mortgage loans than 23 per cent on grants. We would get this interest back in the form of tax cuts.

This Reader Backs Adlai Stevenson

Did you dislike Mr. Stevenson so much that your eyes can't read anyone else on the Bay of Pigs? Politicians running for President promise anything with no intention of fulfilling those promises, such as false employment figures before an election or President Kennedy's promise to put the unemployed to work, or President Ike's promise of 100 per cent parity to the farmer. Mr. Stevenson tried to promise what he thought he could deliver. He was too honest to be elected President.

'Writer Is Right About Praise'

I'd like to add a note to the very true letter of Eugene G. Hill regarding Thomas Paine. Paine not only contributed or suggested our American Bill of Rights, but also had a hand in forming the French Constitution and the Bill of Rights. He would have written the British Bill of Rights, too, but the royalty managed to have him blackballed and booted out of England.

Why is Paine preferably forgotten and suppressed even today by so-called Christians? Read his "Age of Reason," and you'll know.

Raises Questions on Topp's Sentence

In the recent Topp murder trial several questions came to mind. Three psychiatric tests prior to the trial proved Topp mentally competent at the time of the crime. If he was mentally competent, what was he doing in the State Hospital? If he had tried for a hearing for release prior to the crime would he have been found incompetent? Assuming he was competent as judged, isn't it possible that being interned could have given him a mental condition?

I'm not saying he's innocent but it sounds as though the law bent with the wind to suit itself. G. D. S.

In 1775, the Continental Naval Fleet was organized under Capt. Ezek Hopkins.

In 1894, Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, an officer of the French general staff, was found guilty of treason and sentenced to imprisonment on Devil's Island.

In 1957, the Scottish Freighter Nerva sank in a North Sea gale with 28 seamen aboard.

A Christmas thought for the day — It is written in the New Testament according to the Gospel of St. Matthew: "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

He added that he is proud to say he has gone through a double conversion and is now a Methodist and a Republican.

Brooks Hays of Arkansas, White House aide on congressional liaison, recently described himself to a new acquaintance as an eccumenical Baptist and a bipartisan Democrat.

Remembered the friend: "You can't hardly find that kind any more!"

Hays told the story of a pastor in a prosperous Arkansas church who one day got a phone call from an agent of the Internal Revenue Service. The agent asked: "Did a Mr. Forrest Rogers contribute $500 to your church in 1961?"

The pastor replied: "I don't have the records right in front of me so I can't say. I'll have to check with my treasurer. But I can tell you this: If Mr. Rogers didn't contribute, he will!"

Fire Damages the Penobscot

DETROIT (AP) — A fire last night damaged an office on the third floor of Detroit's tallest skyscraper, the Penobscot Building. No one was injured.

The flames were confined to the four-room suite of the Congress Copy Creatives Service, Inc. Some late office workers crawled out on fire escapes to get away from billowing smoke.

One fireman was overcome by smoke and taken to the hospital. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Report Job for Swainson

Dem Power Struggle?

LANSING (AP) — Reports of a power struggle within the Michigan Democratic party—with Gov. Swainson named as a replacement for State Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins — brought blunt denials and oratory silence from party leaders yesterday.

A published report said the power fight had resulted in "behind-the-scenes" turmoil at Democratic state central headquarters.

According to the report, a group of Wayne County Democrats, sparked by the party's organized labor element, seeks to install Swainson in the top state party post after he leaves office Dec. 31.

Their alleged plan would put Zolton A. Ferency, the governor's executive secretary, in a post as deputy chairman for legislative liaison.

One unidentified source was quoted as saying Collins, a Jackson insurance man, would be moved up to national committee-man replacing Congressman-elect Neil Staebler.

Swainson issued a bluntly-phrased denial that any such power struggle is in progress. The report, he stated, was "without foundation."

Ferency said he knew nothing so-called power struggle, adding that he is not a candidate for any party post "simply because there are no vacancies."

He indicated, however, that were Collins to resign or change jobs in the party, he might be considered a candidate. At present, said Ferency, his plans after Swainson leaves office are not confirmed.

"In any event," he said, "I have every confidence the Democratic convention in February will determine the future course of the party and its own leadership."

Wife Want New House This Year?

DETROIT (AP) — Looking for a last-minute Christmas present for the wife?

What about a fairly good little house — that you can get for free?

In case you'd like it, get in touch with Robert Brody of Samuel Brody & Sons in Detroit's Cadillac Tower. But the give-away house measures only 24 by 24 feet.

Brody said he bought a lot (at Mark Twain and Eight-Mile Road) to put up an office building. The house is in the way and he'd like to get it taken away within two weeks.

"Either we can give it away, take it away or tear it down," Brody said.

"Frankly, it would cost us more than the house is worth to tear it down and cart it away. But it is a fairly good little house and I'd rather give it away to someone who wants it."

Popular Soviet Art Show Panned by K

AP Special Report
By GEORGE SVETKEY
MOSCOW, (AP)—The most popular show in Moscow this month is a big art exhibit that Soviet Premier Khrushchev panned. "Thousands of curious Muscovites have flocked to the barn-like 'Mange,' under the Kremlin's walls, to get a glimpse of some of the paintings that enraged Khrushchev. They don't get to see the ones that really set him off."

Many readily admit they have come to see what all the fuss is about—the Soviet regime's propaganda organs erupted into an uproar over "Western influences" that Khrushchev detected in some of the paintings. Lines outside the exhibit often reached Lenin's mausoleum on nearby Red Square. The high-ceilinged, fluorescent-lit hall has been jammed with university students, workers on day off, peasants in from the country, students on outings and old pensioners. The majority of the 100-odd works on display are the usual fare at Soviet art exhibits: romanticized scenes from the Bolshevik revolution, the civil war, and World War II, heroic workers, happy collective farmers, and the father of them all, Lenin. These "socialist realist" works generally are immediately recognizable and understandable to the viewer.

This is the kind of painting Khrushchev enjoys, as Stalin did before him. But the Soviet leader found a number of items he said were unacceptable imitations of decadent Western trends and alien to the Soviet people. One example of this art, it seems, is an impressionist nude, her bulky torso highlighted in prominent places with bright colors. This canvas by a painter named Falk, dating back to 1922, was shown for the first time at this exhibition. Another is a piece called "The Geologists" by Nikonov. This is a grim picture of four geologists in a wild mountainous region. They appear to be tormented by the elements. Khrushchev apparently considered this one too depressing. These and other criticized works are easily located by the crowds that set Khrushchev off on his tirade hangs in a locked second-story room. These pictures, privately shown to Khrushchev, have never been seen by the public. Artists told Westerners later that Khrushchev's predictably acerbic reactions were just what conservative artists wanted to put liberal opponents in their place. According to these sources, the whole incident and the subsequent anti-modern art propaganda campaign were engineered by conservative forces who consider Western-oriented artists subversive.

America's Foreign Car Romance Cooling Off a Bit

By BEN PHILGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — The American motorist's romance with foreign cars isn't as hot and heavy as it once was, but it is far from over.

Despite the vast array of domestic offerings on the market, enough buyers want something different that about one of every 10 cars sold in the United States this year was imported.

Admittedly this is quite a comeback from the peak import year of 1959 when the ratio of foreign to domestic sales was better than one to 10. Total volume will run between 340,000 and 350,000 this year against 614,151 then.

But for the imports which survived the shake-out, five per cent of an annual seven million car market looks both sufficiently inviting and challenging to stay in the race.

Domestic manufacturers agree five per cent is worth fighting for. In the pre-compact days of the mid-1950s, the Americans kept saying they would seriously consider smaller cars only if the imports ever reached five per cent of the total sales.

EXECUTIVES DOUBTED

It also is no secret that many of the Detroit executives who were saying this honestly doubted such a situation would occur. Smaller cars were offered by American Motors and Studebaker as a matter of economic necessity. But General Motors, Chrysler and to a much lesser extent Ford introduced compacts with considerable reluctance.

The foreigners had forced their hand and they didn't like it. But the public did. Buyers welcomed the smaller cars with open pocketbooks and the rush was on.

The importers who had failed to establish a firm base here were trampled in the compact stampede, then deserted. Their snob appeal vanished. Customers no longer were willing to put up with slow service and even slower replacement of parts.

The retrenchment period was painful to many. Cars rusted at the docks. Where possible, shipments were turned back intact. Dealers quit in droves and distribution staffs were in the constant turmoil of reorganization.

The worst apparently is over. Automotive News, a respected trade paper, surveyed importers early this month and found them solidly optimistic about the coming year — no great surge, but no more lost ground.

The makes which remain universally emphasize the need for high quality dealers providing decent service and readily available parts.

GOOD PRICE RANGE

Most American companies concede the imports caught on in this country because they found a price area not covered by domestic makes—under $2,000. And it was into this economy range that the Big Three aimed their original small cars.

The domestic trend in the last year and a half, however, has been away from the drab utility models which commanded the lowest prices into more luxury and bigger engines which boosted the stickers well above $2,000.

The Automotive News survey found 57 of the 206 imported models now on sale in this country are priced under $2,000 while only nine American models are that low. Four Rambler Americans, two Valiants, and one each from Dodge Dart, Corvair and Falcon.

37 Michigan Cities Get FM Channels

MILAN (AP) — Edward Hoffman, treasurer of the tiny, embattled Gramlich School District, has resigned at the suggestion of the State Department of Public Instruction. Deputy State Superintendent Jack Rambouts said yesterday.

An audit of the district's books by State Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum disclosed questionable practices, Rambouts said. He indicated that the other members of the three-man board, Frederick Karl and Fred Franzen, may resign soon.

Questionable practices, Rambouts said, included the signing of district checks by the wives of two board members, the manner and procedure of establishing individual salary rates of the board members, the lack of minutes of board meetings and some budgeting procedures.

The board has been engaged in a running battle with parents of 17 of the 22 children in the one-room Monroe County school, about nine miles southeast of here, over what they said were "scandalously low" academic standards.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-seven Michigan cities were assigned new frequency modulation (FM) radio channels yesterday by the Federal Communications Commission, which now has made 2,730 FM assignments.

The assignments included the present 1,200 stations, which will keep their present channels. Six of the 37 Michigan cities were assigned two channels. They are Escanaba, Ironwood, Kalama, Marquette, Saginaw and Traverse City.

Purchase Post Office

OWOSSO (AP) — The city of Owosso has purchased the former post office building here for $32,000. The government announced the sale yesterday through the General Services Administration.

Port of Toledo Has Busy Shipping Year

Even so, says James G. Downing of Atlanta, who represents imports on the industry relations committee of the National Auto Dealers Association, more imports need good models in the $1,495 range.

"The $1,200 car from Europe cannot hope to compete successfully on a volume basis," he said. "The potential market in America is great (for imports). Let's hope the key to volume sales can be found."

Other specialized areas, such as sports cars, have proved profitable for importers, especially the British. Seventy-two of the imports now sold here are sports cars. Triumph, Austin-Healey and MG, all sports models, stand third, sixth and eighth in total import sales through the first 10 months.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Preliminary figures show that 1962 was the busiest year in the port of Toledo since the St. Lawrence Seaway opened four years ago.

The Toledo-Lucas County port authority said today that an overall tonnage increase of six per cent was recorded. Total tonnage is expected to top the 35 million mark, including 27 million tons of coal.

With three new high-speed grain elevators in operation, the port showed a 35 per cent increase in grain shipments over 1961. Some 1.6 million tons of grain were loaded.

General and miscellaneous cargo tonnage was up 25 per cent over last year.

Church's Thankful for Pope's Help

MONTREAL (AP) — The Rev. Emami Sambayya of Calcutta says the meeting two years ago in Rome between Pope John XXIII and the Archbishop of Canterbury changed the role of the church in India. Anglicans in North India, Pakistan and Ceylon were being asked to join other religious denominations to form a united church in India.

Canon Sambayya, principal of Bishop's College in Calcutta who was in Montreal to receive an honorary degree, said "the new friendly relations" between India's church leaders was "undoubtedly due" to the Rome meeting.

The entrance is on the south side of the building off Crescent Lake Road. The cost of the structure is $70,000. This is a mission church extension project sponsored jointly by Bethany Baptist Church, the Michigan Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Home Missions Society.

Regular Sunday worship services are at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday; Sunday School at 10:45 a.m.; evening fellowship 6:30 to 8 p.m. Wednesday mid-week services are at 11:30 a.m. and at 7:15 p.m.

It was in 1955 that a group of pastors and laymen from the American Baptist Churches of the Pontiac area met to discuss the establishing of a church in Waterford Township.

In the spring of that year William Goding, a graduate student of Northern Baptist Seminary in Chicago, began a visitation in the Crescent Hills area to determine the need for a church. Bethany Baptists sponsored the church. A small group of people and Rev. Ben Bohn developed, organized and carried on the work. In February 1960 Rev. Robert L. Adams came as pastor.

Paul Gilgore was appointed general chairman of the building council. A survey was made and used in planning for construction.

First Baptist Choirs to Sing for Services

Christmas services of the First Baptist Church will feature all three choirs and special messages by Rev. Robert H. Shelton. The order of service for the morning will include the singing of Mendelssohn's "There Shall a Star Come Out of Jacob" by the Church Choir. The sermon by Pastor Shelton is entitled: "His Name Shall Be Called Wonderful."

The Christmas concert will be presented at the 7 p.m. service. The choir will sing "Carol Ye," R. C. Wilson; "Silent Night," arr. by Black; "Rejoice, Our Lord Is Born," Okolo-Kulaks. Messiah selections will include "And the Glory of the Lord," "Glory to God," "Worthy is the Lamb," "Hallelujah."

An outstanding feature of the evening is the cantata by the two youth choirs. They are presenting the beautiful new "The Night the Angels Sang" by John Peterson.

Pastor Shelton will conclude the service with a Christmas sermonette. The public is cordially invited to hear these 140 voices in this evening of rich musical experience, the pastor said.

E. German Cries Out Through Bible Passage

GLENDALE, Calif. (U) — The North Glendale Methodist Church received a postcard from Communist East Germany, with the notation, "II Corinthians 4:8," penned at the bottom. The passage cited says: "We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed but not in despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed."

WARRENSVILLE HEIGHTS, Ohio (U) — Aldegaue Methodist Church has opened a storefront "outpost" in Cleveland as a bridge between the suburbs and downtown.

Staffed with volunteers, the outpost does not conduct regular worship services as such. But persons interested in city problems may telephone or stop in to discuss how they can help; noonday prayer groups meet there; research on church-related urban problems is conducted, and it serves as a collection center for food and clothing for emergency distribution.

'Rid World of Hunger to Fight Communism'

A concerted worldwide crusade against hunger is the best weapon against communism, Dr. Elfan Rees told a large meeting in New York this week. "You can't digest Karl Marx on a full stomach," he commented.

Secretary of the Geneva office of the World Council of Churches' commission of the churches on international affairs, he addressed the annual meeting of the Friends of the World Council.

"If I wanted to make Communists," he said, "I would preach my gospel to the hungry." The political implications are also serious, he continued, "as the hungry go on breeding."

The one-third of the world that is ill fed, even overtired, is white, and the two-thirds that are half starved are black and yellow. In addition, said Dr. Rees, the third that is overtired all themselves Christians, while those that are hungry are Mohammedans, Buddhists, Hindus and pagans.

Dr. Rees paid tribute to various national and church campaigns against hunger — the German Protestant "Bread for the World" campaign, Britain's "Hunger in the World," and others.

The "Share Our Surplus" drive of the U.S. churches through Church World Service, he said, has been sending food to hungry lands for a decade. "I've seen what it's done and thank God for it," he added. "It's not enough."

Vitality important now is teaching the hungry to plow and sow better in order to reap better harvests.

"I would like to see some of our younger people being ordained as missionaries because of their qualifications in agriculture, sanitation and dietetics," said Dr. Rees, adding that his work should not all be left to the Peace Corps.

Stating that his "ministry is to disturb the comfortable," Dr. Rees made a plea for concerted efforts to harness the goods and knowledge of the richer nations in order "to achieve victory over this enemy, hunger."

World Church Council Plans Week of Prayer

Under the theme, "He Is Our Peace," the annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will be observed Jan. 18-25 in churches around the world.

The World Council of Churches' Commission on Faith and Order has prepared an order of service to pray "for the unity which Christ prayed, unity in truth and love, for the sake of our common witness and service."

Sponsored in this country by the Department of Faith and Order Studies of the National Council of Churches, the observance is increasingly becoming an occasion for interconfessional Bible study, retreats and discussions between those of different confessions.

Preceding the musical presentation Mrs. George Romney will present a Christmas message. This will be the last time that any of the Romneys will address a local congregation as members of the local ward.

Better Avoid Loudness on Streets

By Emily Post Institute

Q: Yesterday as I was coming home from school I met a boy I know whom I hadn't seen for a long time. We stood talking on the corner for a while. My mother happened to see me and later reprimanded me for this. She said it was very bad manners and very cheapening for a girl to stand on the street talking to a boy.

A: To stop and talk briefly to a boy you know can hardly be considered bad manners, and unless your conversation was a lengthy one and you attracted attention by giggling and loud talking, your mother's reprimand was not justly deserved. You should not, however, make a practice of standing on street corners talking to boys.

Q: One of the men with whom my husband works stopped at our house the other evening to see my husband about a business matter. His wife, who is a complete stranger to me, had come with him but she waited outside in the car. I did not ask her to come in.

My husband thinks I was very rude not to have gone out and asked her to come in the house. Will you please tell me if this was necessary under the circumstances?

A: If the husband was there only a few minutes, it was not necessary to ask his wife to come into the house. But if he was there for any length of time you should have gone out and asked his wife if she wouldn't like to come into the house.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses," answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Praises Girl's Principles

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am so mad right now I am seeing red! I want to find out if my daughter did the right thing. She is 17 and her name is Annette. Three weeks ago Annette's best girl friend asked if she could borrow her floor-length formal for the prom.

Annette had just broken up with her steady and had no hopes of going to the prom herself, so she said yes. The night before the prom one of the nicest boys at school called and asked Annette to the prom.

She said no because she had promised her dress to her friend. I say she was a fool. She should have said yes and asked for her dress back. What do you say?

ANNETTE'S MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: I say you should be proud of a daughter who puts her promise to a friend above a date to the prom. Too bad Annette didn't think of "borrowing" a dress from another Cinderella who wasn't going to the ball.

DEAR ABBY: Do you have any suggestions on how to handle a 16-year-old son who threatens to beat you to death with his fists? I am 52 and can no longer handle him. I have had to back down from several challenges lately and it is undermining my position of authority. He reads your column. In fact, I think it's the only part of the paper he reads.

DAD: DEAR DAD: Apparently when you were bigger and stronger than your son, you controlled him by the threat of your physical strength. You taught him well that might made right. Now he is reacting to your own harsh form of discipline. Or he might be emotionally disturbed. Consult a doctor on how to reestablish normal relations with him.

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy at school who asks the girls if he can kiss them to see how their lipstick tastes. He says he can tell if their lipstick is expensive or cheap. What do you think of such a boy? He is in the 9th grade.

NINTH-GRADE GIRL: DEAR NINTH: When a boy wants a kiss, one excuse is as good as another. But if a girl lets an acknowledged "lipstick taster" get a hit close, the GIRL is cheap.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I know what you will think of me when you read the unforgivable thing that I have done. I am married to a wonderful man. I have three beautiful children. They all favor their father. I have reason to believe I am expecting another man's child and I am sick with shame.

So many innocent ones will be hurt by it all. Should I tell my husband the baby isn't his? He would surely know it because he and this man are as different as night and day. I have thought of leaving him and the children, but I have no place to go. I have also thought of taking my life and the little life to come, but I can't bear the thought of leaving my children motherless. Please tell me what to do. I am—

SUICIDE BENT

DEAR SUICIDE BENT: Don't tell your husband (or anyone else). The baby could be your husband's. Stay home and resolve to be a good mother to ALL your children, and a good wife to your husband. Pray for forgiveness. (The Lord is merciful.) And ignore all alternatives except re- minding where you are and doing your job.

MRS. RODERICK A. CAMPBELL JR.

Wed Friday in Kirk of the Hills were Roma Lee Nephew and Roderick Alexander Campbell Jr. Parents of the couple are Mrs. W. D. Besselco of Miami Shores, Fla., and Clarence J. Nephew Jr. of Birmingham, and the Roderick A. Campbells of Bloomfield Hills.

Jewel-Encrusted Pin Has Feet, Can Walk

NEW YORK—If the diamond lady with you is wearing on her blouse should start to take a walk, don't be surprised! M'lady is probably wearing a live jewel-encrusted scarab beetle brooch from Mexico.

The scarabs are all the rage in Europe, and the fad is beginning to creep into the United States.

The jewels in the brooch are set in a silver grid around the beetle's midlife, while a gold chain and pin keep him from roving too far.

When he's not out for the evening, the beetle is kept in a small cardboard box along with a piece of bark from Mexico. He can survive from two to six years if fed a little sugar every few days.

The cost of a gift bound to make any woman scream ranges from $50 to $1,000, depending upon the value of the jewels.

CAROLE LYNN SANDELMAN

May vows are planned by Carole Lynn Sandelman, daughter of the Harold Sandelmans of Rutherford Road, and Robert Ralph Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones of Ogdensburg, N.Y. She attended the University of Michigan. Her fiancé is a graduate of St. Bonaventure University, N.Y.

She Drank Secretly

Had to Bolster Her Ego

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE 0412: Dora D., aged 38, is an attractive wife.

"But Dr. Crane," her husband told me, "she is a secret drinker."

"For several years she fooled me, since she is charming and comes from a cultured home. But apparently she started using liquor long ago."

"At first she drank when I was away from home and then sobered up enough to disguise her liquor habit."

"But now she has cirrhosis of the liver. Her abdomen is swelling so badly that the doctor had to tap it and drain off almost a gallon of fluid last week."

"He says she might still survive if she would swear off the booze."

"But she cries and says she can't do it, so she might as well drink and die. What can I do?"

HEED DESCARTES
Earlier this week I told you that the French scientist Descartes believed our mechanical human machine had a few divine sparks implanted in it at birth.

Which was why we could respond to noble appeals and courageous unselfishness.

But some people stifle those "sparks" or maybe choke out the divine flame altogether. Perhaps Hitler was of this sort and Nero and modern callous gangsters who used to offer to commit a murder for a mere $50.

What's wrong with Dora? Her unsuspecting husband has been so naive and trusting that he neither detected her addiction to alcohol nor her clandestine affairs.

Dora was sterile. So she has suffered from a sexual inferiority complex that goes back 15 years to her wedding day.

Since her feminine ego was thus deflated severely, she first tried to escape reality via excessive use of sleeping powders. Then she later fled from her worries by using whisky as an anesthetic for her brain.

And while under the effects of liquor, she became flirtatious, for she wondered if she were "all there as a woman," as she later confessed to me.

USED THEM
Her affairs became numerous and with many men, but she was not really in love with her male paramours.

No; she simply used them for cosmetic effect, to bolster her wounded ego.

Many women who are sterile feel unduly downcast and inferior. Biblical Rachel thus nagged Jacob until he angrily replied to her that he was not God, so why blame him!

And Biblical Hannah grieved, despite the fact her devoted husband reassured her repeatedly by saying, "Why weepst thou? Am I not better to thee than ten sons?" But Hannah still grieved.

White tapers marked family pews in Trinity Lutheran Church, San Rafael, Calif., Friday evening where Nonette Ann Gunther of Pontiac and Orley R. Holm of Belvedere, Calif., spoke their marriage vows.

Rev. Braunsweiger performed the candlelight service before an altar decked with white poinsettias and chrysanthemums.

Daughter of the C. P. Gunthers of Lincoln Avenue, the bride wore a floor-length sheath gown of white velvet styled with court train. Her veil of pure silk illusion fell from a sequin and pearl tiara. She carried red poinsettias and holly.

Mrs. Wayne Dailey, Sacramento, Calif., matron of honor, and bridesmaid Mrs. David Imery of Belvedere, appeared in red pené de sole and carried holly and white poinsettias. Barbara Lee Imery was flower girl.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. O. R. Holm of Carmel, Calif. and the late Mr. Holm had Donald Young of Carmel for best man. Seating the guests were Samuel Hook, Del Wilson and Russell Bohle, all of Carmel, and David Imery of Belvedere.

After a reception in the San Francisco Yacht Club Belvedere, the couple left for a honeymoon in Squaw Valley and Hawaii. They will live in Belvedere.

The bride is a University of Michigan alumna and her husband is a graduate of the Polytechnic Institute of California.

Cymbidium orchids accented Mrs. Gunther's mocha silk crepe ensemble and a champagne lace sheath dress for the bridegroom's mother.

DR. CRANE

for such women feel below par in the eyes of the public. Much of their concern to have a baby is simply the selfish desire to "show off" their ability to conceive; not their great yen to fondle an infant!

Dora ultimately went so berserk that she became a chronic drunkard. When whisky destroys liver cells, they are replaced with scar tissue, which means cirrhosis.

So face your problems and you'll not need the whisky! Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It shows how to solve sex problems and banish divorce.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long a cent stamp, self-addressed and printing costs when you send your psychological tests and pamphlets.

Girls Sing at Kiwanis Yule Show

The Camp Fire Girls Chorus, directed by Mrs. Jasper Warden and Mrs. Melvin Boersma, presented a Christmas program to the West Side Kiwanis Club Thursday.

This program is one of several community service projects currently under way by Camp Fire groups in the Pontiac area for the holiday season.

In other activities, the O Ki Tan Da Junior Hi Camp Fire group prepared a dinner for the girls at the Oakland County Children's Home.

Christmas tree decorations will be donated to Pontiac State Hospital by the Jumping Jacks Blue Bird group of Willis School, while the St. Fred's Camp Fire unit is making dolls for children in the hospital.

Other groups are collecting clothing for a Camp Fire family whose home was destroyed by fire, caroling in their neighborhoods and in convalescent homes.

Slow Eating Much Better

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Did you ever stop to think how silly we all look when we chew? There we sit, opening and closing our mouths. If we had to think about it we would not only feel silly but be bored to death.

In fact, we chew so unconsciously that we never think at all. It is, nevertheless, an important activity.

The main three classifications of food we eat are proteins, carbohydrates and fats. Digestion of proteins does not begin until the food reaches the stomach. However, an important part of digestion of carbohydrates takes place in the mouth. The digestion of all food is completed in the small intestine.

ENZYME IN SALIVA

There is an enzyme in the saliva which acts on carbohydrates. Chewing is necessary to mix the saliva with the food. So we chew not only in order to chop the food into small parts but thorough chewing is also an aid to good digestion.

From the standpoint of digestion, it is more important to chew mashed potatoes than beef.

Slow eating is beneficial also because all digestion is better when one eats in a relaxed atmosphere.

Also, if you have to watch your calorie intake, "slow eating makes smaller amounts seem more filling."

Find Women Can Work as Long as Men

NEW YORK — The old-fashioned chivalrous idea that permits women to quit work at an earlier age than men may be contrary to the mental and physical facts of working life. The Insider's Newsletter said today.

Older women who have careers not only carry on at least as long as men, but, in many cases, have a far greater wish to do so, according to a study made by the French Labor Department.

Despite the fact that her physical change may seem more dramatic, a woman on the job actually grows old more gradually than a man does, the report revealed.

France and the United States have the same traditional differential in retirement age (62 for women, 65 for men). However, the study found that the falling off capacity to do the job between the ages of 55 and 65 is more pronounced among men.

The French study was designed to update retirement rules throughout industry, but the investigators found many employers way ahead of the government. They prefer to retain women workers in their late 60s and early 70s than men of similar age.

background for LIVING

LIGHTED SCENE — For years, William Hartman Jr., of 3770 Lahser Road, wanted to have a realistic scene in his big barn. The figures shown above are almost lifesized and are illuminated from inside. Spot lights on outside trees make this a memorable scene to people passing by on the road at night.

Yule Season Projected

Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's almost here—that wonderful night that has been celebrated for hundreds of years by people all over the world and will probably go on being observed until throughout eternity.

Every year it seems that decorations become more dramatic, gifts and wrappings more beautiful and the Christmas spirit more delightful.

This is one season that never gets monotonous throughout the years.

A little of the Christmas spirit is depicted on today's Home Section page, showing some of creativity of Oakland County people.

ENHANCES CHANDELIER — The dramatic Christmas arrangement of Mrs. William E. Hartman Jr., 3770 Lahser Road, complements the old crystal chandelier in the dining room.

PICTURE POSTCARD — That's what Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Newman of 28 Oriole Road copied to decorate their doorway. Every year the couple has created unusual entrance decorations and this year was no exception. The Christmas tree is aluminum and the door is outlined with tiny lights.

UP ON THE ROOFTOP — This merry scene has been duplicated all over Oakland County, but the Wesley Harbaugh home at 7020 Commerce Road seems to come alive at night.

Christmas lights in various colors line the house. Santa and his reindeer sparkle and the whole effect is spotlighted from several different angles.

MEXICAN CHRISTMAS TREE — When the John Thorses of 58 Neome Drive, visited Mexico last year, they found this unique Mexican tree — made by Indians — in the back woods. Mrs. Thors pointed out that this type of ceramic work is a slowly dying art. Its garish construction and brilliant colors depict the Indian's version of the Christmas story.

CHEERY ENTRANCE — At night, the A. T. Hastings' front porch at 4818 Malibu Drive in Bloomfield Hills, is even prettier than during the day. Lights line the rooftop and Santa bids a merry "hello" to guests entering the lovely home. The recent snowstorm made the front of the house look like a Christmas postcard.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT — This "living" fireplace in the Allen Hawke's home at 2890 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, will be burning brightly all during the holidays. Though not visible, there is a complete village tucked among the evergreen branches. Flicker lights make the mantle a real thing of beauty.

LEISURE CENTER — "Let's play this record!" Hi-fi, television, a home art gallery, even a movie section can be incorporated into a handsome family leisure and entertainment center like this. Any room can be modernized for purposeful living by the installation at moderate cost of lumber and attractive Masonite panels. For a free plan on a family leisure center and paneling send a post card to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Hot Water Good Idea in Garage

To many people, wintertime is misery time. But to those who think ahead in planning ways to be comfortable in cold weather, the frosty or snowy outside can be a pleasant change.

One very practical way to beat the weather, as well as adding more year-around enjoyment to your home, says a plumbing-heating-cooling information service is to have both hot and cold water available in your garage or in the carport area.

With a twist of the faucet, the convenience of indoor washing facilities is yours outside the home.

Since hot water is essential for all proper cleaning tasks, from scrubbing off dirty boots and garden tools to washing the car and family dog, you should talk to a plumbing contractor about installation of hot and cold water lines into the garage, carport or other convenient location outside the home.

A special wintertime advantage of hot water outside the home is being able to regularly flush away harmful road salts and other chemicals from the car. Many a car has been seriously damaged by ice and snow-melting chemicals because the chemicals have not been washed off.

During the summer, hot water is invaluable for all cleaning tasks outside the home, as well as for tempering water for children's wading pools.

All in all, any time of the year can be more pleasant for your family with the convenience of both hot and cold water outside.

Fix Up Room to Suit Child

Children can squint a cloud into a camel or a kingdom, or turn a weed patch into a jungle. It's entirely a matter of imagination, according to Arthur Brill, noted decorator and fabric consultant.

And parents, he adds, can use their imagination to make such fantasies more than passing. One way is to provide a child with a personalized bedroom by decorating it just for him.

"Comfort him with his own favorite colors and playthings," says Brill. Without spoiling either the child or the budget, it is possible to provide a private heaven — merely by using a pot of paint and some plastic planking.

Brill has created a space-age room, in red, white and blue. Its fanciful purpose is implicit in a space-ship window shade, and cantilevered bunk bed. An odd, irregular series of shelves complete the setting, and control the clutter.

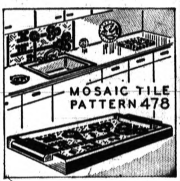

The space-age room for a youngster was part of a major exhibit called "Past, Present-Future" presented by a tire company at the Sherry Netherland Hotel.

Actual boat decking was used to give the walls a planned effect. The material was nautolex, an outdoor marine material with minimum upkeep problems.

Vinyl pervaded the room, appearing in black "painted" on the stool top, in blue "Capra" vinelene on one wall, and on the bed pad. And one swipe of a damp sponge cures all.

Here's How to Refurbish Your Tarnished Tinsel

A thoughtful Pontiac resident, Mrs. Ray Oxender of 877 Cameron St., called in an appropriate suggestion for this time of year, and it is being passed on to you.

Every year when Christmas decorations are brought out, you may discover tinsel tarnished and dull. To bring the tinsel back to life, Mrs. Oxender suggests:

Dunk the tarnished tinsel in a solution of half water and half ammonia and let it soak for about an hour. "It comes out even brighter and sparklier than when it was new," she says.

LAST-MINUTE WRAPPING

These two youthful models like sitting on the floor to finish their Christmas work. The great variety of colors, designs and shapes in area and accent rugs these days, coupled with renewed appreciation for genuine hardwood, has sparked a trend toward exposed floors. Rugs are used to define areas of a room, to tie the groupings together, or to point up a striking piece of furniture.

Discard Shovel but Clear Walk!

Watch for mysterious bare spots after the first snowfall this winter! The office entrance or the sidewalk in front of a department store may be snow-free.

Some of your neighbors will wake up to a clean driveway, too. Magic? Early risers? No, these snow-free areas will mark where hydronic snow melting is silently at work.

The National Better Heating-Cooling Council explains that a coil of pipe or tubing is placed a few inches below the surface of the driveway, sidewalk, or other area to be kept free from snow. Hot water circulating through these coils melts snow as it falls, and antifreeze in the solution prevents the system from freezing when it is turned off.

Snow melting is not a new idea. Long used in locations such as plant loading ramps, and for side-walks in front of offices, department stores and hotels, the same type of automatic snow melting now can also help free the homeowner from the strain of winter. In either commercial or residential use, the same hydronic (hot water) boiler that heats the building can be provided with the extra capacity to give the comfort and safety of snow-free walks and drives.

New Dryer Attachment

Something new in dryer attachments is a bag used to dry clothes hung on hangers. A flexible hose carries warm air from the dryer through the bottom of the bag. The attachment is seen as a work-saver for men's wash-and-wear suits as well as blouses and shirts.

Doors Important in Building or Remodeling

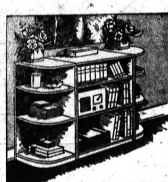

A door is more than a slab of wood separating two rooms. It's an important part of the decor and it's also a hard-working household necessity that must perform its job well for years.

You can change exterior and interior color schemes, repolish and rearrange the furniture, and even knock a wall out to enlarge a room. But once the doors are hung, you're not apt to replace them.

It's vital, then, for the family planning to build or remodel a house to choose doors that are both attractive and durable.

This is one reason more and more architects, home developers, remodeling authorities, and interior decorators increasingly are specifying wood panel and louver doors for homes, inside and out.

Today's panel doors of ponderosa pine come in a wide variety of designs to give beauty and durability to all styles of homes.

Decorations Can Be Costly

Christmas decorations can add a lot to the color and spirit of the holiday season, but they can also be the cause of needless expense when used unwisely, advises Otto F. Wenzler, architectural consultant of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co.

"Home owners are continually being cautioned around this time of year to use common sense in decorating their homes to avoid serious fires," he said, "and this advice is very valuable. Yet, there are many other costly things that can take place because of the improper use of Christmas decorations which go unheeded."

For example, although it's fun to greet guests and passers-by with cheery cut-outs and paintings on the windows, they can cause cracked glass, especially if you exercise your artistic abilities on the inviting expanse of a big window.

As Mr. Wenzler explains it, those colorful decorations cause a build-up of heat from the sun at the area they cover. This area in time gets considerably warmer than the uncovered glass surrounding it and expands, thus causing an additional stress which could cause glass breakage.

To avoid trouble, the architect suggests keeping any window decorations back from the glass to allow free air circulation, rather than pasting or painting them to the glass. Lighter colors, are safer, too, as they reflect the heat rather than absorb and concentrate it in one place.

Social Customs of Era Reflected in Its Furniture

Furniture design, both utilitarian and artistic, reflects the social customs of an era, writes the associate curator of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in a study of early American furniture.

Ten, coffee and chocolate drinks became fashionable in England and France about the middle of the 15th Century. Expansion of English world trade and privateering brought many new foods to Europe.

Almost immediately, high society made drinking these new beverages special social occasions. Ladies and gentlemen urged their cabinet makers to create special tables for each of them. English China makers created the first pots for brewing the new beverages.

Our early settlers quickly developed a comfortable chair to hold a wide arm to handily hold a stein of ale.

The low cocktail table as we know it today, is purely a 20th Century design.

MODEST LUXURY — The gracefully sloping roof of this three-bedroom split level is a tipoff its floor plan is out of the ordinary. A similarly sloping ceiling extends over the living room, dining room and foyer, with exposed beams running front to back. The exterior is of brick veneer and vertical V-grooved boards.

Modest-Sized House Keeps Open Feeling

BY JULES LOH
In order to be a small house—or a "modest-sized" one, as most developers choose to say it—each room clearly has to be scaled down, and the feeling of spaciousness so important to modern living simply goes by the boards in the face of plain reality. But is it always the case?

In today's House of the Week, a four-bedroom side-by-side split level, an open feeling is preserved in both the formal and informal living areas yet each room is clearly defined and privacy isn't overlooked.

Size of the house: a mere 1,325 square feet on the living and bedroom levels, plus the bonus slab level (the portion raised above ground from the basement to make it livable) of 356 square feet.

The home is design J-53 in the weekly series. The imaginative architect who accomplished the paradoxical feat of bringing the open spaces into a small area is Rudolph A. Matern.

TIP-OFF

The exterior lines of the house are a tip-off to Matern's method of doing this. The gently sloping roof forms a similarly sloping ceiling above the living room, dining room and foyer.

Exposed beams, running front to rear, not only create interest in their own right but also serve to link the three rooms in one massive formal expanse.

All three rooms are clearly separate, the rear of the fireplace shields the main entry and a protruding wall makes a visual division between the living and dining rooms.

The informal area — kitchen, family room and den are treated with a similar technique.

Railings and a six-step separation divide kitchen and family room, and a folding partition makes the den either a cozy study or an integrated part of the open informality.

Architect Matern's ingenuity extends in equal measure to other less noticeable parts of the design.

For example, note the "piggy back treatment," as Matern describes it, of the coat closet in the foyer.

MEDICINE CABINET
Above it is a generous medicine cabinet in the upstairs bathroom, and below it a 27-cubic-foot laundry storage closet. This is typical of the careful attention paid to full use of every square inch of the house.

ATTRACTIVE EXTERIOR
The exterior of the house is as attractive beyond the measure usually found in homes of this size:

Many split levels, especially small ones, have the dull silhouette of staggered boxes; this one has the graceful lines of a far more pretentious and expensive home.

It is built of brick veneer and vertical V-grooved boards. The attractive front entrance is made of 4-by-8 wood frames and includes the door glass panels, hardwood panels and a sliding window.

ter design standpoint.
To appreciate the exterior fully, you can look at a 35 millimeter slide of the artist's original full color drawing. Matern will mail one free to all who ask. His address is on the J-53 study plan.

The kitchen of this home — which is the "home within home" in the opinion of many — is a particularly well ordered arrangement.

Large windows overlook the rear porch and back yard, offering adequate supervision as well as plenty of light and air. The room is large enough for a breakfast table, out of the way of the work area.

There is plenty of counter space, 18 linear feet to be exact, and there is a separate counter adjoining the refrigerator.

Aside from its practical economy, this home offers a number of luxury touches — such as the balcony porch adjoining two of the bedrooms. This is an equally interesting feature from an exterior point of view. Because water is a better conveyor of heat than air, large amounts of heat can be transported in the small diameter pipe or tubing of a hydronic heating system.

With nearby wooded areas melting away as shrubs spread demand for tree-land bids up their price. For the most part wooded lots are indeed worth a premium but it pays to find out before signing on the dotted line.

Cautious shopping will prevent costly chopping. But if you're already saddled with trees to cut down or move, then this Fall is the time to do to before the ground freezes. With leaves off, trees weigh less and are less bulky, and the work is less costly.

The experts found three trees worth saving. All the rest, for a homestead, were no better than monster weeds.

Powder Room at Home Good Investment

Most people, when possible, try to plan their homes to give their families and friends the utmost in comfort and convenience.

One of the finest investments you can make in your home is a powder room. In terms of convenience as well as materially increasing the value of a home, a powder room is well worth considering.

It can save innumerable steps in any home, and is a particular blessing if there are very young or elderly persons in the family.

Another big point in its favor is that it can easily be kept clean for the use of visiting friends. Never again will someone have to rush to clean up the main bathroom when unexpected guests knock on the front door.

If you are thinking of building a home, it will pay you to talk to the architect about adding a powder room.

Most any house, though, has space that can be converted. A good plumbing contractor will be able to spot the best possible location for a powder room, considering lowest possible remodeling expense, piping availability in the walls and floors and utmost convenience of use.

A large closet, the end of a hallway, an old pantry, the space under a staircase — and such space is a reverse boards and is a good possibility for installation of a modern powder room.

Wood paneling is now available in many new and intriguing patterns. One such pattern, in South under a staircase — and such space is a reverse boards and is a good possibility for installation of a modern powder room.

Northern Takes I-L Lead by Feasting on Falcons

Huskies Sharp in 62-35 Rout of Farmington

Reese, Chatzka Star as Toller Teammates Held in Check

By JERRY CRAIG

There may be a turkey dinner awaiting the Pontiac Northern Huskies Christmas day, but last night they had a falcon feast they enjoyed as much as any holiday blue plate special.

The Huskies gorged themselves on Falcons especially imported from Farmington for the affair at the PNH gymnasium; and when they were through, a 62-35 triumph put the home team atop the Inter-Lakes League basketball standings.

The taller, more highly regarded Farmington squad suffered its first league loss (1-1) to a fired up pack of Huskies who played their finest game of the young season. PNH is 3-1 overall, and is the only unbeaten team in the I-L (2-0).

The game reaffirmed the belief that there is a place on the basketball court for the good small player. With the visitors featuring a lineup of 6-4 Russ Cleveland and Chuck Gaddie, and 6-6 Walt Grimala, their leading performer was 5-9 Paul Chatzka.

With 6-3 frontliners Gary and Roger Hayward in the Huskies' lineup, the scoring leader for the home team was 5-9 Jerry Reese who took game honors with 21 points.

Chatzka tallied 14 points for Farmington and in the words of coach Jack Quigley, "he came to play." The perturbed mentor wouldn't toss any bouquets to the rest of his squad, however.

For Northern it was a real team victory. All five starters played most of the game and contributed to the Huskies' success with defensive and offensive heroics.

High-scoring Gary Hayward tallied only 15 points — 8 points below his season average — but was a terror on the backboards. He was ably assisted by brother Roger Hayward and Wayne Daniels in keeping the Falcons' rebounding to a minimum.

Reese and Mike Burklow kept the ball moving in the backcourt and frequently broke up Farmington offensive maneuvers with their ball hawking.

It was the Huskies' pressing man-to-man defense that threw the visitors completely off stride. After Dick Fusco hit a lone one-hander at the start for a 2-0 Farmington advantage, the Huskies scored 17 straight points before Chatzka closed the first quarter scoring with a field goal in the last 36 seconds.

Grimala and Chatzka led a rally at the onset of the second period that narrowed the margin to 17-12 but the Falcons never came closer the remainder of the game. At halftime it was 28-17 for Northern.

In the final quarter, Chatzka and Grimala again teamed to spark the losers within 10 points of PNH, 43-33, but then Reese scored seven straight points and the game was out of reach.

Flushing Trims Lapeer

Flushing's height and weight was too much for Lapeer last night. After taking a 29-20 half-time lead, Flushing gradually pulled away in the second half and finished with a big 33-point 4th quarter.

Ed McKinney had 18 points with seven field goals and Mark Young had 11 points. Lapeer's Mike Powell collected 13 points.

State Can Send Six to Skating Trials

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan was given a quota of four men and two women entries for the Olympic speed skating trials at Minneapolis, Feb. 1-3.

In all, 65 men and 34 women from 16 state speed skating associations will compete for berths on the 1964 Olympic team. The final squad will consist of 14 men and eight women but this will be trimmed to a competing unit of eight men and four women just before the winter Olympics in January, 1964.

Tri-River Game, 65-45

Riverside rolled over North Farmington 65-45 last night in a Tri-River Conference game.

The winners slipped to a 25-19 half-time lead and then turned on the steam in the last two quarters.

Tom Binkowski scored 17 for Riverside. Bill Phillips tallied 17 for North Farmington and 6-5 Mike Fleming collected eight points and 21 rebounds.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Calm confidence was in the air as Wisconsin's Big Ten football championship went through their final home workouts yesterday in preparation for the Rose Bowl game with Southern California.

The Badgers' high scoring machine is starting to show the sharpness that rolled up 285 points and an 8-1 season record.

Nobody in the Wisconsin camp is making any victory predictions.

And any mention of Southern California is sure to draw nothing but praise for the nation's No. 1 college football power.

Coach Milt Bruhn is a lot happier with his team these days as the quality of its practice work improved this week. "Our timing is getting better, but we still need some work out there," he said.

Wisconsin played its last game Nov. 24 when it won the Big Ten title by beating Minnesota 14-9. A two-week layoff left the team rusty and up until the last two days Bruhn has been dissatisfied with progress.

"The problem, of course, is to bring them along so that they are ready on the big day," Bruhn said.

"It's a long time since we've played, but we hope they'll play a game New Year's."

concerns somewhat and passing and pass defense in the Bruhn plans to catch up on some open spaces outside," he said. Bruhn's last Rose Bowl appearance was in Pasadena. Bruhn's last Rose Bowl appearance was in 1960.

Green Bay's Worst Team

Remember Those '58 Packers?

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Four years ago this month the future of the Green Bay Packers was akin to peering down a black and bottomless pit.

Now, as the Packers prepare for their third straight National Football League championship game, the only dark spots are the fading black and blue marks collected in winning the Western Division title with an impressive 13 and 1 record.

They'll bid for their second championship in a row in New York on Dec. 30 against the Eastern Division champion Giants, a team crushed 37-0 by Green Bay in the title game a year ago.

WORST TEAM

In December of 1958 the Packers were the worst in the league after posting their poorest record in 40 seasons of pro football. They won only once and played a tie in a dozen games.

The board of directors that supervises the non-profit Packer corporation did the usual—turned out the old coach and hired a new one. The choice was Vince Lombardi, hired from the ranks of Giant assistants. The selection couldn't have been better, although Lombardi's task of rebuilding the rundown football team appeared to be too much for any man.

The driving, dedicated and demanding Lombardi turned out not to be any man, and did the job. His first team posted a 7 and 5 record and the next three made their way to the championship game.

Revitalizing teachable players from the 1958 squad, shrewd trading and great success in the draft of college players molded the team, hailed by some as the best in the history of the professional game.

There are 18 players remaining from the 1958 team. The solid core of the old guard includes defensive tackle Dave Hanner, center Jim Ringo, Bill Forester and ends Max McGee and Gary Knefele as well as quarterback Bart Starr, tackles Forrest Gregg and Bob Skronski and defensive half-back Hank Gremminger. All but Knefele and Skronski are starters.

FANCY TRADES

Some fancy trading in 1959 cost the Cleveland Browns defensive end Bill Quinlan and reserve half-back and end Lew Carpenter. That same year Lombardi landed offensive guard Gene Thurston from Baltimore. Defensive end Willie Davis came to Green Bay in a deal with the Browns in 1960, and a year later Cleveland gave up reserve quarterback John Roach for a draft choice.

The Packers got Hanker Boyd Dowler in 1959 and the first choice in 1960 was Tom Moore, who has been a great replacement for Hornung, restricted by a knee injury this year after leading the league in scoring for three seasons.

The year 1960 also brought two free agents to the Packers—defensive back Willie Wood, the league's interception leader this year, and Ken Iman, a center who takes up linebacking when injuries thin the ranks. Two seasons earlier safetyman Jesse Whitenton walked into camp a free agent.

Freshmen of 1959 who have made the grade in a big way are fullback Jim Taylor, the NFL's outstanding player this year; linebacker Ray Nitschke and offensive guard Jerry Kramer.

The rest is in the record books.

State Survey May Alter Local Tax Base

By DICK SAUNDERS

The Michigan State Tax Commission is currently conducting a spot survey of assessed property values here that may provide the background material for 1963 tax appeal cases.

"The survey should take about a month," said City Assessor Edward C. Bloie. "It's part of a statewide spot check for equalization purposes."

The primary aim of state tax inspectors is to see how close the assessed values of local properties are to equalized valuations.

The state recommends assessed values be set at or near 50 percent of the market value of property.

Results of the Pontiac survey will be pooled with those of other Oakland County areas to aid in determining county equalized valuation, Bloie explained.

Findings of the state inspectors could also have quite an effect on how the city's tax board of appeals reacts to requests from property owners for assessment cuts next spring.

CITY LOST

The feeling among many city officials is that the city took a beating last spring; that the loss of $9 million in the tax base was too great and not entirely justified.

General Motors Corp. and downtown property owners asked for—and got—major cutbacks in tax assessments.

GM appealed on the basis that inventory was down at local plants. Merchants and property owners blamed urban renewal demolition for hurting their volume of business and property values.

The reverse is also true if in-

After consulting with Bloie, City Manager Robert A. Siver last month proposed a 1963 city budget based on a $288-million total assessed valuation.

This is a $6.8-million increase over the 1962 tax base.

Although Bloie warns that "we really won't have anything concrete to go on until early next year," he admits that "indications are that the tax base should increase somewhat."

Bloie is basing much of his opinion on traditional patterns.

"This has been a year of unusually-high a 10 production," he noted. "When plant production is high, industrial equipment inventories usually go up and the end result is a higher tax base."

The yearly reassessment of various areas of the city by Bloie's staff should also bear some fruit. It takes about eight years to cover all of Pontiac.

THAT TIRED OLD MAN

Behind the misted white whiskers of that Tired Old Man are deep lines of frustrations and victories. He wasn't content to slough long days down stream nor plot through tedious forests. He conceived a demonstration that reached the stars and every spot on earth; he built machines to lift the soil, seed it and harvest the crop, he installed power machines in his blacksmith shop to build refrigerators and automobiles, sent electrons through wires, wrote cloth by the thousands of yards, converted corn stalks into soft silk-like threads. His work was about over.

He inspired youth with visions of their tomorrow—utilize power from the sun, unravel secrets of nature, control hurricanes and use that force for the benefit of man, make truth a power to illuminate superstition. He hesitated and went on, the sea is your frontier! It's a potential source of food for untold millions of people and with conservation will produce wealth and food forever. His voice was a whisper but he considered, he pondered, with yourself and with others. Good luck, here. The future is yours. Youth is fulfilling the Old Man's assignment.

2-Gun-Bandit Sticks Up Store

A bandit dressed in blue-striped overalls pulled the guns on two women cashiers at the A&P Supermarket, at Lahser and Maple Roads, Bloomfield Township, yesterday and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

Bloomfield Township police said the bandit stepped up to a cashier's cage in the front of the store at about 3 p.m.

He pointed the guns at the two women and told them to lie on the floor of the cage for two minutes.

When the women complied, the bandit snatched a brown manila envelope filled with money and ran out the door, police said.

He escaped in a stolen car driven by an accomplice. The bandit had cut the store's telephone wires before the holdup.

Township police found the stolen car 50 minutes later, parked at the corner of Telegraph and Maple with its motor still running. There was no sign of the bandits.

The holdup man was described as between 35 to 45 years old, about 5 foot 8, weighing 135 pounds, blue eyed and of light complexion.

He wore horn-rimmed glasses and had a hat pulled down over part of his face, witnesses told police.

Wife, Children Give President Sunny Hello

Mrs. Kennedy and Caroline and John Jr. were on hand at West Palm Beach Airport when the President arrived from Nassau Friday afternoon. They stayed well away from the official welcoming committee, however, and greeted Kennedy at a little-used gate to the field.

The First Lady was standing beside a white convertible with young John as the President's motorcade drove along the airport apron. The line of cars stopped and Kennedy alighted to embrace his wife, who preceded him here by a week.

Mrs. Kennedy threw her arms around the President and gave him a warm kiss. The chief executive then took the wheel of the car after greeting daughter Caroline, who had stayed inside the auto.

Jobless Rate for Michigan Below U. S.

LANSING (AP)—A survey by a Michigan State University Research Bureau disclosed today that Michigan unemployment dropped below the national level in October for the first time since January 1960.

The MSU Bureau of Business and Economic Research said that there were 127,000 jobless workers in the state in October. This represented 4.4 per cent of the population.

The bureau said preliminary figures for November indicate 5.1 per cent unemployment for Michigan and 5.3 per cent for the nation. This would be the first time in nearly seven years that the state was below the nation in unemployment for a two-month period, the bureau added.

Highest unemployment area in the state in October was the Upper Peninsula, with 6.4 per cent jobless. Flint showed the lowest rate with only two per cent of the labor force idle.

A year ago, the Upper Peninsula had nine per cent unemployed and Flint 2.8 per cent.

No IRS Plot

-Cavanagh

Denies Political Links
in Bid for Center

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh said today "there has been no political maneuvering by Detroit" to obtain the Midwest computer center which the Internal Revenue Service plans to build in either Detroit or Fort Worth, Pontiac also has been mentioned.

"All our efforts to obtain the center," Cavanagh said, "have publicly been known."

"When the IRS decides to locate in Detroit, as I hope they feel they should, it will be on the basis of what Detroit has to offer."

Cavanagh's remarks were prompted by a charge from the Port Huron Industrial Development Commission, that "it appears that IRS, for political reasons, is attempting to maneuver a location in downtown Detroit can be chosen despite prohibitive costs of such action."

$1 RENTAL FEE

Port Huron has promised to build the IRS a $2-million building and charge the agency only $1-a-year rental if Port Huron is chosen for the center.

Cosgrove raised the political issue in a telegram to IRS Commissioner Mortimer Caplin Thursday, a copy of which he sent President Kennedy.

An IRS spokesman said in Washington yesterday a decision might be made in January.

He added that the Port Huron site and several Detroit locations have been given a priority rating and submitted to the office of the secretary of the Treasury.

Asks Talks by Labor Business

DETROIT (AP) — An American Motors Corp. vice president has proposed that management and labor sit down together and seek to find out what has happened to the community's economic growth.

The proposal was made by Edward L. Cushman in a letter urging the Employers Association of Detroit to take the initiative in bringing about a peace conference.

Cushman said a major obstacle to continued economic growth of both Detroit and Michigan has been "the effect on this region's economic climate of its undeniable reputation for antagonism between labor and management."

The architect of American Motors' profit-sharing contract with the United Auto Workers Union suggested the Employers Association of Detroit organize a conference of labor and industry in the immediate future to "examine what genuinely are the obstacles to economic growth in our community."

Wayne Stettbacher, general manager of the association, termed Cushman's proposal "an excellent idea" and said "we certainly will pursue the matter at our next board meeting in January."

Stettbacher voiced belief labor leaders generally would be equally agreeable to a joint meeting.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother, Mrs. J. M. Nelson, who passed away 10 years ago today, Dec. 22, 1952. Time speeds on, ten years have passed. Within our home, where all seemed bright and full of life, we miss her warm smile and her gentle voice. Her vacant place there is none can fill. Down here we mourn, but not in vain. For up in heaven we know she is smiling and watching over us. Lovingly, your children, David, Victor and Jean.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GLADYS Krenker who passed away Dec. 22, 1962. And from friends from day to day. But never will the world be the same. From memory pass away. —Daddy and family.

Cubals Hit by Shortage in Medicine

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two Cuban physicians, who fled their homeland, reported yesterday there is "medical chaos" there.

Speaking as millions of dollars worth of medical supplies were readied for possible shipment to Fidel Castro in return for invasion prisoners, Dr. Marcos Antonio Roman said in an interview: "There is a 90 per cent shortage of foreign-made pharmaceuticals in Cuba. And there is an almost absolute absence in most categories of those manufactured in Cuba. Antibiotics are not even produced in Cuba nowadays."

Romeu of Havana, tall, slender and still nervous after a hazardous boat trip from Cuba a few weeks ago, added: "It is painful to see empty shelves in drug stores. Even such things as aspirin and aspirin are missing. As to products from Communist countries, they are scarce and those sent to Cuba not always satisfactory."

Dr. Pablo Guerra Hernandez, who was a pediatrician in Havana Infancia Hospital, said: "Epidemics in Cuba are becoming chronic. There are signs that the death rate is going up almost daily. This is because of scarcity of medicines and the undernourished state of the people due to food shortages."

"Child epidemics have caused deaths by the thousands," he said.

The two said they risked death when they left Cuba.

"There is such a need for medical men that none are allowed to leave. We sneaked away with some companions at night," Romeu said.

"Nearly 2,000 physicians already have left Cuba. This has produced a disastrous situation. If physicians were allowed to leave, the country would be without doctors, since 95 per cent of them oppose the Castro regime."

Dies Four Months After Kidney Graft

LONDON (P) — Dr. Ian Clark, 34, who had a kidney transplanted to him from another physician in an operation last August, died yesterday.

Dr. Clark was the only known man in Britain with a kidney grafted from an unrelated donor. Hammersmith Hospital said Dr. Clark died from effects of blood pressure, "which for many years had been an essential part of his illness. The transplanted kidney was damaged by the high blood pressure and its function was progressively impaired."

Don Knotts, the cowardly deputy on television's Andy Griffith Show, was made an honorary deputy in his hometown, Morgantown, W. Va.

Cuban Captives to Be Released by Christmas

SURPRISE FOR MOM—Mrs. John Hayden is presented with money for Christmas Eve flight to see her parents in California for the first time in 18 years. Money was saved by the children, with an addition by the father (right). From left, children are: John Jr., 16; Maureen, 15; Dennis, 14; Nicholas, 12; Margaret, 9; Donald, 8; Michael, 6; Thomas, 5; and Christopher, 1.

Nine Children Send Mother for Christmas Visit to Parents

SAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. John Hayden is packing her bags for a Christmas Eve flight to see her parents in California for the first time in 18 years—thanks to nine little "sneaks."

That is how the Long Island mother, 42, good-naturedly describes her children who pooled their resources for months to finance the trip without letting her know about it.

The children, ranging in ages from 18 years to 28 months, turned the trick with dimes, nickels and pennies earned in a variety of ways. Their father, John Hayden, learned of the campaign only recently.

He added a goodly sum. "I was flabbergasted when I learned the other day what they had done," Mrs. Hayden said.

"And the worst part of it all was that they did it right under my nose without me knowing a thing about it."

The two eldest Hayden children, John Jr., 16, and Maureen, 15, thought it would be nice if their mother could visit her parents in Santa Ana for a week.

WORKED UP PLAN

Together they worked up the plan of having all the children chip in each week to pay the fare. That was last summer. They passed the idea on to their sisters and brothers, and the campaign was under way.

John washed dishes at a diner one day a week, and Maureen worked as a counter girl. Virtually all of their earnings went into the fund.

Dennis, 14, contributed the money he had earned from lawn cutting and other odd jobs. Nicholas, 12, donated a great deal of his newspaper route profits.

Margaret, 9, Donald, 8, Michael, 6, and Thomas, 5, chipped in dimes, nickels and pennies from their allowances and money given them for work around the house.

"Even 18-month-old Christopher did his share," Mrs. Hayden said. "If he found any coins on the floor or on a dresser, he would put them in the piggy bank for the trip."

Mrs. Hayden said she will visit for a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Huelken C. Moberg, whom she hasn't seen since 1944.

"They really never expected me to be able to come out to see them; what with me having so many children and always having a baby on the way," she said. Will she miss the children?

"This will be the first time away from them on a holiday, and I certainly will miss them," she said.

"I doubt that they will miss me," she added with a smile. "They're going to be too busy keeping house with their father."

Castro Agrees On Medicine, Food Ransom

1,113 Men Imprisoned for 20 Months Since Bay of Pigs Invasion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The first liberated Cuban prisoners of war will arrive in Miami Monday, the Cuban Families Committee announced today.

HAVANA (AP)—A Christmas gift of freedom today awaited 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners after 20 months of captivity. The Castro government agreed Friday to release them in exchange for medicine and food.

The men will be freed on or before Christmas, attorney James B. Donovan of New York, chief negotiator for the prisoners' families, announced. Donovan broke the news himself to some prisoners held in Havana's Principe Castle, and word of their long-awaited freedom also was relayed to other captives held on the Isle of Pines off southwest Cuba.

In Washington, Red Cross officials reported the first prisoners are expected to arrive in Miami Sunday. But Havana Radio said they would not be freed until Monday.

Red Cross officials said they are highly optimistic that the entire prisoner group will be back among their friends and relatives by Christmas. Some 20,000 relatives of the captives live in Miami.

A mother of one of the prisoners said the men in Principe Prison had a feast of homemade delicacies Friday. She said it was the first time in more than six months that parcels had been allowed to go through to the prisoners.

RANSOM READY

The freighter S.S. African Pilot was expected to sail for Havana from Port Everglades, Fla., today with some of the supplies requested by Prime Minister Fidel Castro as the price for the release of the prisoners. The medicines were donated by U.S. drug manufacturers.

The Cuban government originally demanded $62 million as a ransom. The value of the food and medicine agreed on is estimated at $83 million.

The pact specifies the prisoners will be freed when 20 per cent of the supplies are in Cuban hands.

The Red Cross said it is expected to take a few months to get the full amount of the supplies that Castro wants.

Exiles Wary of Prisoner Trade

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban exiles here were hopeful but wary today over a prospect that 1,113 captives would be freed from Fidel Castro's prisons.

The yearning parents, wives and sweethearts of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners have been disappointed before, when negotiations stalled.

There was no wild enthusiasm when news came from Havana Friday night that Castro had signed an agreement with James B. Donovan, Cuban Prisoner Families Committee negotiator, to release his prisoners in exchange for $83 million badly needed medicines and food.

"First let's see what Fidel does," commented a prominent exile. "This has happened once before, and the prisoners didn't come home."

Another exile said, "We are not going to celebrate until they are here."

At Homestead Air Force Base, where the captives will be flown Sunday from Havana in Pan American World Airways planes, if all goes according to plan, government and Red Cross preparations were under way to receive the prisoners.

A big Christmas tree and hearty meals await them.

The men will be examined by health officials. Then they will pass through special immigration facilities, receive $50 spending money plus a clothing allowance and be reunited with relatives who have waited for them.

If the incoming prisoners arrive in the same condition as the last batch—40 wounded or ailing men several months ago—they will reach the United States in nothing but T-shirts and trousers, and carrying only what they could bind up in a bandanna.

U.S. Warned by Soviets About Mission to Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Dispatch of a U.S. military survey mission to the Congo has brought a Soviet warning that the move could lead to serious results.

Soviet Chief Delegate Valerian A. Zorin blasted the action as he and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson held separate news conferences Friday to give their views on the 17th General Assembly session that just ended.

Stevenson said the eight-man mission led by Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman had been sent to strengthen Secretary-General U. Thant's plans to end the secession of Katanga Province.

But Zorin accused the United States of embarking on "the road to direct subversion" of U.N. principles.

Zorin declared anew that the Soviet Union has no intention of paying any part of the $10 million-a-month Congo bill which prompted the assembly to schedule a special session next spring to deal

Winter Arrives With Snowfall, Cold Weather

Winter arrived in Michigan at 3:15 a.m. today and promised residents a traditional "White Christmas." About one inch of snow fell overnight, and more is expected between now and Christmas Day.

Cold weather will prevail throughout the holiday weekend. A low of 15 is predicted for tonight and a high of 20 for Sunday.

Lowest temperature preceding 8 P.M. today in downtown Pontiac was 22. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 29.

Right, Left Hit Mac in Wave of Criticism

Bitter Defense Row Threatened Over Deal With United States

LONDON (AP)—The agreement between Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Kennedy to provide Britain with Polaris missiles in place of Skybolt brought a wave of criticism from right and left today.

It threatened to produce the biggest and most bitter defense row since the war.

The opposition Labor party was reported planning to mount a major attack on the government.

It will oppose the deal on the grounds that it is too late, too costly and that the nuclear deterrent had better be left in the hands of one power, the United States.

A furious onslaught was also expected from some right-wing rank-and-file members of Macmillan's ruling Conservative party when he reports back to the House of Commons next month.

As they prepared to disperse for the Christmas recess there were many angry accusations that Macmillan had bartered away Britain's nuclear independence and was coming back empty-handed.

The Laborite Daily Herald splashed its report of the Polaris deal across its front page under the bold heading: "Macmillan's Surrender."

A smaller heading said: "Kennedy wins all the way."

The Daily Express, independent but leaning to the right, described Macmillan's deal with Kennedy as "The Sell-out" in a banner across its front page. It called it the end of Britain as an effective nuclear power.

Macmillan will find himself in the position of a man trying to juggle several hot potatoes at the same time.

He will have to justify the switch from Skybolt to Polaris while demonstrating that Britain can afford the huge sums needed to build Polaris-carrying submarines and the Polaris warheads without weakening the country's conventional forces or raising taxation to new high levels.

Skybolt Test Huge Success

Controversial Missile Could Stir Congress

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The U.S. Air Force today launched its controversial Skybolt missile from a high-flying jet bomber and scored a ringing success that may have paved the way for a congressional fight to save the program from extinction.

The 5-ton missile, which President Kennedy is bidding to kill as a major weapons system, roared 900 miles across the Atlantic Ocean to its first success.

The success came after five straight failures that had played a major part in a joint Anglo-American decision only yesterday to relegate the complicated missile to the scrap pile.

President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had agreed to drop the Skybolt system and concentrate instead on the submarine-launched Polaris missile as a replacement.

What impact today's shot would have on that move could not be determined immediately. But it put a strong card in the hands of those who have argued HURRYING TOWARD CHRISTMAS—Neither rain nor sleet nor storm shall stay these carriers of cheer and gifts from their appointed rounds. So what's a little slush? Good boots and cash will carry Mom and Dad through to Dec. 25. Prodding them along is the knowledge that there are only two shopping days left 'til Christmas, including tonight when stores are open late. And so they speed up the season's shuffle to the time of tinkling street-corner bells, carillons and Christmas carols.

Ask Criminal Contempt for Gov. Barnett, Aide

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A federal appeals court has been asked to hold Mississippi's governor and lieutenant governor in criminal contempt for blocking the enrollment of a Negro at the previously all-white University of Mississippi last September.

The Justice Department made the request Friday, acting on a directive issued by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which will hear the case.

The New Orleans-based appellate court has already convicted Gov. Ross R. Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr., of civil contempt.

If the two officials are found guilty, it could mean jail terms and large fines. Penalties are almost unlimited in criminal contempt cases.

NO JUDGE NUMBER

Eight of the circuit's nine judges participated in the deliberations leading to the civil contempt convictions of Barnett and Johnson. However, it has not been determined how many of the judges will hear the criminal contempt case.

Civil contempt is aimed at enforcing compliance with a court directive and offers the defendant a chance to purge himself and perhaps escape any penalty. Criminal contempt involves punishment for an act already committed with no chance of gaining forgiveness through future action.

Barnett twice stopped the Negro, James H. Meredith, from enrolling at Ole Miss. Johnson ordered him back once. Meredith was finally enrolled at Ole Miss on Oct. 1—the day after a night of rioting which killed two persons and injured scores.

The circuit court enjoined Barnett and Johnson from interfering with Meredith's enrollment and three days before the Negro enrolled at Ole Miss the governor was found guilty of civil contempt.

The court last month directed the Justice Department to institute the criminal contempt proceedings.

OFFICIAL RESIGNS

Meanwhile, Dr. Charles F. Haywood, provost of the University of Mississippi, has resigned, it was disclosed Friday night. No reason for the resignation was given but Chancellor J. D. Williams said Haywood had discussed his action with him and that a joint statement would be issued today.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune said it had learned that Haywood and several other top officials at the university felt the State College Board had waited too long to oppose the re-entry of Taylor Robertson of Jackson, Miss., a sophomore expelled for alleged activity in the demonstrations at Ole Miss.

Robertson got an order from Hinds County Chancellor (Judge) J. D. Stennett last month directing the university to readmit him and barring the college board or university officials from interfering.

Only a Day Away

Dock Strike Expected

NEW YORK (AP)—A threat of a dock strike that would tie up shipping in all Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports from Maine to Texas was only a day away today.

With no indication of averting it, longshoremen were meeting in New York City today to plan for round-the-clock picketing.

A spokesman for the International Longshoremen's Association said the union would permit ships to unload passengers. The union also would refrain from picketing action that would block tugboat assistance to ships arriving in ports, he said.

CONTINUATION

The strike by 60,000 longshoremen would be a continuation of one that was halted after four days by a federal court injunction obtained by the government early in October.

The court enjoined the longshoremen under the Taft-Hartley Act, which provides for an 80-day cooling-off period in strikes affecting the national welfare.

The injunction's effectiveness expires Sunday, leaving the dock workers free to strike again in the contract dispute.

The Air Force, in a masterpiece of one-day planning, completed a successful test flight today.

The missile went to the firing line under the wing of a B-52 bomber flown out of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

The four-jet engine shot past Cape Canaveral at about 400 miles per hour and dropped the 35-foot Skybolt from an altitude of more than 40,000 feet at 3:15 a.m. EST.

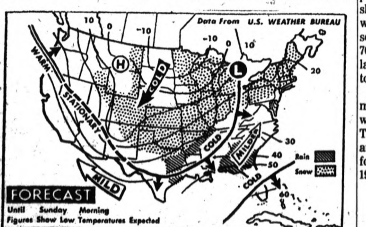

Less than five seconds later the missile's solid-fueled engines roared into life and shot toward the brink of space ahead of a brilliant white vapor trail.

The two-stage missile was aimed at a target about 900 miles away.

N. Koreans Claim U2 Flew Over

PANMUNJON, Korea (AP)—Communist North Korea charged today that an American U2 plane violated the Korean armistice agreement by a two-hour flight over its territory Dec. 6.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Chang Chwan-hung told the Joint Military Armistice Commission that the U2 flew in from the direction of the South Korean island of Yungpyung, 70 miles west of Seoul, as "part of the Pentagon's provocative acts all over the world."

The senior U.N. Command delegate, U.S. Air Force Maj. Gen. Joseph E. Gill, said an investigation would be made. Gill in turn charged that North Korea was violating the armistice agreement with a military buildup. He said the North Korean air force now had more than 500 combat planes in operation compared to none when the armistice was signed.

WASHINGTON SILENT — In Washington, Defense Department officials had no comment on the North Korean charge.

There was no comment from the Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry on Formosa on a London Communist Daily Worker story that the Chinese Nationalists had resumed U2 flights over the Chinese mainland.

The Chinese Reds claimed they shot down a Nationalist U2 over the mainland last September. At that time, a Nationalist spokesman said the nationalists had every right to fly over China because "we are simply flying over our own territory."

The London story said the flights were resumed after the United States secretly replaced two Nationalist planes lost three months ago. There never has been any indication that the Nationalists lost two planes.

Council officials said the death toll could be held lower if motorists obey traffic regulations. They cited drinking and speeding as the major causes of accidents on the highway.

The council said that in a 102-hour holiday weekend, traffic deaths would total 470. However, an Associated Press survey covering a four-day period from 6 a.m. Dec. 7 to midnight Dec. 11 showed 371 fatalities on the highway. It also showed 64 persons lost their lives in fires, and 76 others were killed in miscellaneous accidents, for an overall total of 511.

In last year's three-day Christmas holiday period, 524 persons were killed in traffic mishaps. The record traffic death toll for any holiday was 706 during the four-day Christmas holiday of 1946.

The shuttle planes will be loaded with drugs and food on their way to Havana. Red Cross officials called the project the largest operation ever undertaken by the organization in the handling of relief supplies to meet human suffering. More than 100 U.S. manufacturers contributed or pledged food and drugs to the program.

'PARTIAL COMPENSATION'
Havana Radio said the exchange will be completed "within the next 12 to 15 days" and six months and the first shipment will probably reach Cuba tonight. The broadcast referred to the exchange as "partial compensation for the damage suffered by the Cuban people during the April 1961 imperialist invasion of Cuba."

The radio said the shipments to Cuba have been guaranteed by a letter of credit on the Royal Bank of Canada in favor of the Cuban National Bank, for the total "indemnification" amount.

The Red Cross said in Washington arrangements to guarantee the shipment were made through American as well as Canadian banks.

Three members of the Cuban Red Cross are going promptly to Miami to check on the shipments, the Havana broadcast said.

(Two doctors who fled Cuba have emphasized Castro's need for medicines. They said in Miami that epidemics have caused deaths by the thousands and that even such things as aspirin are missing from drug store shelves.

It was reported in Baltimore, that the Red Cross was making plans for a second ship to carry supplies to Cuba.

The agreement climaxed off-and-on negotiations that began only a month after the prisoners were captured in the April,

Commission's Agenda Covers Traffic, Parking

BIRMINGHAM — Traffic and parking problems will be the main items on the agenda for next Thursday's 8 p.m. City Commission meeting.

The commission meeting, ordinarily held on Monday, is scheduled for later in the week because of the holidays.

Several recommended changes in the city's parking and traffic regulations will be presented for commissioners' approval by police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

The police chief said the new regulations, which either prohibit or limit parking on several streets, already have been in effect on a trial basis.

Commission approval is necessary to make them permanent.

In a petition presented to the city clerk's office, the commission will be asked to place two-hour parking limitations from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Townsend Street between 11th and 12th streets.

The petition is signed by 30 residents in the neighborhood.

Residents complained that parking spaces in front of their homes are taken by shoppers and downtown store employees all day.

In another report, Moxley suggested installation of a delayed amber signal on the traffic light at Oakland Avenue and Hunter Boulevard (U.S. 10).

The delayed signal would allow traffic more time to clear the intersection and avoid congestion at the center island on Hunter Boulevard, Moxley said.

Special family Christmas services will be held at 9:30 and 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Congregational Church of Birmingham.

The service will include narration of the Christmas story in words and music by Rev. Raymond Fenner and the church choir.

The primary and preschool departments of St. James Episcopal Church will present a Christmas pageant at 9:15 and 11 a.m. services tomorrow in the Chapel of the Holy Spirit.

Donald Gault, Jay Feader, and the Rev. David Van Dusen will read the Christmas story and second-grade pupils will portray the characters.

Mrs. Geggie died yesterday at her residence.

She was chairman of the library committee at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, and a member of the PEO of Detroit.

Surviving are her husband and her mother, Mrs. Walter Jorgensen of Detroit, two sons, Thomas H. Charles; and one brother.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The start of a trip by a group of American students planning to spend Christmas in Havana in defiance of the U.S. ban on travel to Cuba was postponed today.

A busload of students was to have left this morning for Toronto on the first leg of the journey. The postponement came after the Canadian government refused permission for the landing of a Cubana Airlines plane which was to have taken them from Toronto to Havana.

MOSCOW (UPI)—Two more persons—a Russian physics teacher and a West German tourist—were accused today of spying for Western intelligence agencies in the mushrooming espionage scare here.

The latest accusations, making a total of 11 persons named in seven weeks, were published in the newspaper Leningrad Pravda which reached Moscow today.

The report identified the Russian as physics teacher Rudolph Friedman, who allegedly became an American agent due to his love of abstract art.

The West German was identified as Helmut Kemmer, who was attempting to photograph a "defense object" and was expelled 24 hours later.

Previously accused as Western espionage agents were five members of the United States Embassy here, a British businessman, two Russians and a West German woman.

Better Avoid Loudness on Streets

By Emily Post Institute
Q: Yesterday as I was coming home from school I met a boy I know whom I hadn't seen for a long time. We stood talking on the corner for a while. My mother happened to see me and later reprimanded me for this. She said it was very bad manners and very cheapening for a girl to stand on the street talking to a boy.

A: To stop and talk briefly to a boy you know can hardly be considered bad manners, unless your conversation was a lengthy one and you attracted attention by giggling and loud talking, your mother's reprimand was justly deserved. You should not, however, make a practice of standing on street corners talking to boys.

Q: One of the men with whom my husband works stopped at our house the other evening to see my husband about a business matter. His wife, who is a complete stranger to me, had come with him but she waited outside in the car. I did not ask her to come in.

My husband thinks I was very rude not to have gone out and asked her to come in the house. Will you please tell me if this was necessary under the circumstances?

A: If the husband was there only a few minutes, it was not necessary to ask his wife to come into the house. But if he was there for any length of time you should have gone out and asked his wife if she wouldn't like to come into the house.

Praises Girl's Principles

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am so mad right now I am seeing red! I want to find out if my daughter did the right thing. She is 17 and her name is Annette. Three weeks ago Annette's best girl friend asked if she could borrow her floor-length formal for the prom.

ABBY

Annette had just broken up with her steady and had no hopes of going to the prom herself, so she said yes. The night before the prom one of the nicest boys at school called and asked Annette to the prom.

She said no because she had promised her dress to her friend. I say she was a fool. She should have said yes and asked for her dress back. What do you say?

ANNETTE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I say you should be proud of a daughter who puts her promise to a friend above a date to the prom. Too bad Annette didn't think of "borrowing" a dress from another Cinderella who wasn't going to the ball.

DEAR ABBY: Do you have any suggestions on how to handle a 16-year-old son who threatens to beat you to death with his fists? I am 52 and can no longer handle him.

I have had to back down from several challenges lately and it is undermining my position of authority. He reads your column. In fact, I think it's the only part of the paper he reads.

DEAR DAD: Apparently when you were bigger and stronger than your son, you controlled him by the threat of your physical strength. You taught him well that might made right. Now he is reacting to your own harsh form of discipline. Or he might be emotionally disturbed. Consult a doctor on how to reestablish normal relations with him.

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy at school who asks the girls if he can kiss them to see how their lipstick tastes. He says he can tell if their lipstick is expensive or cheap. What do you think of such a boy? He is in the 9th grade.

NINTH-GRADE GIRL
DEAR NINTH: When a boy wants a kiss, one excuse is as good as another. But if a girl lets an acknowledged "tip-stick taster" get that close, the GIRL is cheap.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I know what you will think of me when you read the unforgivable thing that I have done. I am married to a wonderful man. I have three beautiful children. They all favor their father. I have reason to believe I am expecting another man's child and I am sick with shame.

So many innocent ones will be hurt by it all. Should I tell my husband the baby isn't his because he would surely know it as different as night and day. I have thought of leaving him and the children, but I have no place to go. I have also thought of taking my life and the little life to come, but I can't bear the thought of leaving my children motherless. Please tell me what to do, I am—

SUICIDE BENT

DEAR SUICIDE BENT: Don't tell your husband (or anyone else). The baby could be your husband's. Stay home and resolve to be a good mother to ALL your children, and a good wife to your husband. Pray for forgiveness. (The Lord is merciful.) And ignore all alternatives except remaining where you are and doing your job.

Jewel-Encrusted Pin Has Feet, Can Walk

NEW YORK—If the diamond lady with you is wearing on her blouse should start to take a walk, don't be surprised! M'lady is probably wearing a live jewel-encrusted scarab beetle brooch from Mexico.

The scarabs are all the rage in Europe, and the fad is beginning to creep into the United States.

The jewels in the brooch are set in a silver girdle around the beetle's middle, while a gold chain and pin keep him from roving too far.

When he's not out for the evening, the beetle is kept in a small cardboard box along with a piece of bark from Mexico. He can survive from two to six years if fed a little sugar every few days.

The cost of a gift bound to make any woman scream ranges from $50 to $1,000, depending upon the value of the jewels.
