Clawson Backs Courthouse on Telegraph Road

Committee Head Says Supervisors Selected Best Spot for County

H. Lloyd Clawson, chairman of the special building committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, today replied to Clarence K. Patterson, who had voiced opposition to moving the courthouse from downtown Pontiac. Clawson's statement follows:

"I feel that it is my duty as chairman of the Special Court House Committee to reply to the article of September 16, appearing in the Pontiac Daily Press. I refer to the article by Clarence Patterson.

"Mr. Patterson is a highly respected citizen, an outstanding lawyer and a splendid person, but even such persons can err.

"Mr. Patterson is worried about transportation, not for himself but for others. May I point out to him that probably the recipients of welfare and Old Age Assistance would be the outstanding example of those whom he thinks would be inconvenienced. May I further point out that they, for several years, have had little if any difficulty finding the Welfare Office which is located in the same area in which the courthouse is proposed to be placed.

"We, the supervisors, have given thorough consideration to the transportation problem, and have decided that no problem worthy of mention exists. If any does develop, you may be assured that we will solve it.

"May we call to the attention of the entire opposition to the site chosen by the supervisors stems from a few people in the center of Pontiac. I do not criticize them for voicing their opinions if they feel their interests are adversely affected, but they must realize that we, the supervisors, are representing the whole county. What we do must be governed by what (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Ike Urges Commies to Pray for Peace

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower appealed today to the people of Russia and other Iron Curtain countries to join Americans tomorrow in a day of prayer for world peace as "the true cure" for war-breeding tensions.

In a message beamed to the Soviet Union and its satellites over the powerful radio facilities of the Voice of America, the President said:

"May the world be ringed with an act of faith so strong as to annihilate the cruel, artificial barriers erected by little men between the people who seek peace on earth through the Divine Spirit."

Voice of America transmitters began broadcasting Eisenhower's appeal worldwide at 6 a.m., EST, today—with special emphasis on reaching people of the Iron Curtain countries.

The National Day of Prayer for Peace being observed in the United States tomorrow was provided for in a resolution passed by Congress and approved by the President.

15 Chaplains, 13 Crewmen Bail Out of Burning Plane

NEWHALL, Calif. (AP)—Praying as they parachuted in shirt sleeves, 15 chaplains landed safely minutes before their disabled Air Force C46 plane crashed and burned yesterday. The three crewmen also bailed out successfully.

"You can be sure there was plenty of praying going on," said the Rev. Lertis R. Ellett of Lawndale, Calif., Church of Christ, who is an Air Force reserve colonel.

"This was an occasion when, doubly, we were practicing what we preach: namely, prayer," said the Rev. Neville E. Carlson of Fillmore, Calif.

The group of Civil Air Patrol chaplains from Southern California left Burbank at 3:03 p.m. (PDT) in the C46, bound for a regional CAP chaplains' conference at Sacramento scheduled for last night and today.

The chaplains and crew were

Dr. Sheppard Is Denied Bail

Held in Jail for Trial Oct. 18 in Bludgeoning of Pregnant Wife

CLEVELAND (AP)—Unless his attorneys do something to prevent it, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard will go on trial Oct. 18 on a first degree murder charge in the bludgeoning of his pregnant wife.

Sheppard was a solemn-faced loser yesterday in a battle to win release on bail. He was led back to his jail cell after Judge Edward Blythin ruled he could find no evidence that a Grand Jury indictment had not been properly found and presented.

The judge announced he would issue a special call for 75 prospective jurors sometime this week.

Sheppard's attorney, William Corrigan, told newsmen later he may file a writ of habeas corpus in the Court of Appeals, contending his client is held in custody unlawfully. Such a writ could be given an immediate hearing.

The bail hearing hit a dramatic peak yesterday as Corrigan made his final plea to the judge.

Corrigan, a 68-year-old white haired scrapper with bulldog tenacity, brought tears to the eyes of Sheppard and the 30-year-old osteopath's family as he referred to "this innocent young man, his murdered wife Marilyn, and their unborn child."

The attorney declared the indictment against Sheppard was the result of "public clamor which was stirred by the press" in an attempt to sell more newspapers.

All three of Cleveland's big daily newspapers expressed views before Dr. Sheppard was arrested last July 30 that authorities were proceeding too cautiously. From the start, Sheppard has insisted he was innocent and that a bushy-haired man entered the house and clubbed his wife.

Corrigan slapped particularly at Walter Winchell who wrote recently that "the key word in the Sheppard trial will be sterility."

That statement, said the lawyer, "hit a new low in journalism."

All during the hearing Sheppard broke into tears whenever his attorney described his life with his wife and six-year-old son before the slaying July 4.

Fall Arrives Thursday

'54 Summer Sets Record High, Low Temperatures

With the approach of fall Thursday, a glance back at summer shows it was a season of temperature records.

An all time temperature record for Sept. 8 was smashed when the mercury soared to 98 degrees. On the opposite side of the ledger a record chill was established July 8 when the temperature plunged to 48. This broke an 82-year mark, established in 1891 when a 49-degree low was recorded.

Summer here was also a season of droughts.

A 14-day dry spell which struck the county July 14 seriously threatened crops and water supplies. On July 28 a "million dollar rain" temporarily saved most farmers from serious crop losses.

Although Pontiac suffered no water restrictions during the summer, described as unusually dry, most South Oakland County communities labored under curtailed water use edicts throughout the season.

During August, another dry spell struck shortly after mid-month, damaging county crops and producing income losses for farmers.

Much needed rainfall which began Sept. 13 saved fall planted crops each and holding them until Oct. 11.

Nationalists Tell of Sinking Ships

Claim 15 Commie Junks Sent Down, 32 Others Damaged by Jets

TAIPEH (INS) — Chinese Nationalist warplanes were credited today with sinking 15 Chinese Communist junks and damaging 32 other enemy vessels in attacks along the Fukien province coast opposite Formosa.

A Nationalist communiqué reported the results of the air attacks by American-made F84 Thunderbolt jets in the area of Tung Island this morning.

The 15 Red junks were sunk near Tung and 30 others damaged in the same area.

To the north, two more Red vessels, including a 70-ton motorized junk, were hit by rocket-firing Thunderbolts.

The communiqué also reported that Nationalist gunboats engaged Red warships in the vicinity of the Tachen Islands off the Chekiang province coast, north of Dukien, Monday morning.

The official bulletin said the Nationalist warships encountered "a few" Red ships which fled in a thick fog after an exchange of shells.

No damage was reported to either side.

Nationalist artillery on the Quemoy Island which lies just eight miles off the Red China coast continued to pound Communist positions on Amoy Island in coordination with air attacks.

The current military action, termed a "vest pocket" war, began Sept. 3 when Red shore-based artillery opened fire on Quemoy.

The Nationalists have since thrown ships and planes into the battle to avert any attempt by the Reds to storm Quemoy which lies on the approaches to the Chiang Kai-shek stronghold of Formosa.

Red China Row Threatens Start of 9th Assembly

Fight to Seat Peiping May Postpone Formal Organization

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A new fight over anticipated demands to seat Red China threatened today to delay—at least briefly—the organization of the ninth United Nations General Assembly.

Russia, India and some other Asian countries were expected to launch the new struggle to replace the Chinese Nationalists with Peiping representatives shortly after the session's formal opening this afternoon.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles was on hand to lead the campaign for keeping up the bars against the Chinese Reds.

The United States, backed by Britain, planned to ask the Assembly to shelve the question until the end of the year. The same strategy was used last year to keep Peiping out.

Both the Americans and the British were confident of a clear winning majority. To strengthen their case, U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. in a weekend statement charged the Chinese Communists with 39 attacks in the past four years on ships or planes of Britain, Panama, Denmark, Norway, France, Portugal and the United States.

With the seating contest out of the way, organization of the Assembly for business promised to be smooth sailing.

Withdrawal of Thailand's Prince Wan Wathayakorn from the Assembly presidency race yesterday left the field clear for Prince Wan Wathayakorn, the only other announced candidate for the post.

Once election of officers is out of the way, Dulles is expected to open the fortnight of policy speeches from delegation leaders with an exposition of U.S. policy Thursday. Delegates looked for him to comment at length on Peking.

Pontiac Airmen on Afternoon Pass Wins $6,500 Home

A Pontiac airman who spent a routine Saturday afternoon pass by attending the California State Fair at Sacramento won a $6,500 home which was being given away. The chance on the home cost him nothing.

He is Airman Second Class Daniel Greenwald, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Greenwald, of 329 Whittemore St. He spent the afternoon with some buddies from McClelland Air Force Base, and learned of his good fortune when he returned to the base in the evening.

What to do with the home posed a problem for Greenwald. The best cash offer he could get was only about half the home's value. He had no time to move it and anyway, he writes, he has no use for a home since the Air Force furnishes lodging.

Finally he traded it for a luxury model car, whose value was not far below the price placed on the home.

Greenwald is a mechanic with a weather reconnaissance squadron.

He won the home, incidentally, on his mother's birthday.

Greenwald has been in the Air Force two years. He enlisted in 1952, and had attended Pontiac High School before entering service.

Limited Rams Truck, Killing 1

28 Hurt on Board NYC Streamliner as 9 Cars Leave Track

MATTOON, Ill. (AP)—One person was killed and 28 others were injured yesterday when a New York Central streamliner plowed into a truck at a crossing and went off the tracks.

The NYC's diesel-powered Southwestern Limited, bound for New York with an estimated 85 passengers, struck the truck and the second unit of its diesel engine was derailed. Nine cars following it careened from the tracks and came to a screeching, rending halt 200 yards beyond the crossing. The last two cars remained on the rails.

Rescue crews attributed the relatively small number of injuries to the fact that the derailed cars did not splinter.

Killed in the collision was Cary Bryant, 24, of Mattoon, driver of the truck laden with gravel.

The train was speeding eastward after a scheduled stop at Mattoon when it hit the truck at 11:42 a.m. (CST).

Only three injured remained in the hospital overnight.

Would-Be Assassin of Yoshida Is Arrested

But Record High Budget Passed by Supervisors

Pay Increase Is Slated for Some Employees at Regular Meeting

Although an all-time high budget was passed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday, individual taxpayers will be paying a lower rate than they did last year.

The reduction in the rate from 5.25 to 5.14 mills was made possible through an increase in over-all county valuation, said Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county Board of Auditors.

"Several millions dollars in new buildings were added to the tax rolls last year," Moore explained.

Included in the county's $6,690,408 budget for 1955 is provision for 47 new employees. The new workers will be mainly nursing and office employees, according to Carl Johnson, county personnel director.

Pay hikes were awarded some employees in the engineering, medical and administrative classes and to most appointive and elective officials.

Members of the Board of Auditors will receive $11,000 yearly salaries, compared to the current $7,500. Road commissioners will receive $6,000 compared to the present $3,500.

Other appointed officers getting boosts are members of the Social Welfare Board, who will get a raise from $5,000 to $5,500, and the dog warden, who will receive $6,201, compared to $5,941.

Elected officers slated for raises are:

County clerk (now, $8,250; 1955, $9,750), drain commissioner ($8,200 to $9,750), prosecutor ($10,000 to $11,500), register of deeds ($8,250 to $9,750) and sheriff ($7,000 to $8,500).

The three circuit judges, while having their county pay trimmed $1,000 annually, will actually receive a total salary boost.

A recently revised state law provides that circuit judges receive $12,500 from the state, but not more than $22,500 as their total state-county income. Judges for (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Cooler Weather Seen for Pontiac Tonight

Wednesday will remain a little cool, with skies slightly cloudy. High for the day, forecasters say, will be 60 to 64 degrees.

The mercury registered at 62 in downtown Pontiac at 8 a.m. today, dropping to 52 by 10 a.m. Rising steadily during the remainder of the morning, the recording was 58 at 1 p.m. Rainfall early today registered .03.

Two Party Rule Campaign Issue

Leonard, Williams Meet in Debate

By JACK L. GREEN

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Williams and Donald S. Leonard, the Democratic and Republican candidates for governor of Michigan, have had their first encounter of the 1954 political campaign.

And they debated this central theme, promulgated by Leonard:

"The crucial and predominant issue is that we need a governor of the same political faith as the majority of the Legislature if you are seriously interested in solving the many problems facing Michigan today."

Leonard said he would agree that if the state elects a Democratic Legislature it should have a Democratic governor, too. But he argued that "predominantly Republican" Michigan will continue to elect a Republican-dominated Legislature.

Williams, accepting the challenge, said he believed a Democratic House of Representatives will be elected this year. Because of "constitutional gerrymandering," he said, a Republican Senate is unlikely.

But, granting the Legislature will be Republican, Williams argued that a governor and Legislature of the same party does not insure "forward action."

He recalled, he said, that his predecessor, the late Republican

Kim Sigler, had "more good dog fights" with the Republican Legislature than at any time in history.

Former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, a Republican, had legislative troubles, too, he said.

Williams said a former Democratic Governor, Murray D. Van Wagoner, had a good record of cooperating with Republicans and that great progress was made in the administration of the late Gov. Woodbridge N. Ferris, a Democrat with a Republican legislature.

He said Detroit expressways now are being built "in spite of, not because of the governor."

Leonard charged Williams with having the "unmitigated gall" to claim he had solved the state deficit when actually Williams had "sat on the sidelines as a complete heckler" when the Republican Legislature was passing the business-receipts tax to balance the budget.

Asked by one of the 1,000 economic club members who heard the debate how he explained his statement that "we" balanced the budget, Williams made his first public disclosure of that theory.

He said that when he was elected in 1948, Sigler's controller told him new taxes would be needed and gave him a list of possibilities. One was the corporation profits tax, he said.

He said it took him two years to convince the Legislature the state needed more revenue. Then, he said, the Republicans advocated a series of "nuisance" taxes on soda pop, beer, hotel rooms and so forth.

He argued the 1952 election was fought on that issue and was a "draw," but he said the result was a Republican passage of the business receipts tax.

"When I said 'we' balanced the budget, I was pretty accurate," the governor said. "The Republicans didn't end up with more excise and nuisance taxes and the governor didn't get his corporation profits tax. But we ended up with a tax which falls on profits and wages about equally."

Williams challenged Leonard to say whether Michigan had serious unemployment since the Republican won the national administration.

"Michigan," Williams said, "has been hurt more severely by Washington mistakes than most other states. . . . We have felt more keenly the chill winds of Republican recession."

"Whatever may be said of federal (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Votes Down Bloomfield Sewage Plan

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM—Anticipated approval of an agreement by the city commission whereby Bloomfield Township would use and pay for the services of Birmingham's sewage treatment plant, fell through last night, by a vote of 4-3.

Lawmakers tabled further discussion of the subject until next Monday's meeting.

One of the reasons for the change was an opinion that the contract had been negotiated in order to supply services to the Garling Construction Co., which is building a 500-home development on the former Mercer Farm property in the township.

Commissioner Dean Beier, who gave an affirmative nod to the agreement, said he saw no reason for further debate on the subject, under discussion for some time.

been treating the township's sewer. He argued that the city had no right to no remuneration for years, and would not benefit financially. Beier felt that new or future developments had no bearing on the contract.

Representatives from the construction company said septic tanks would be the only other alternative. They also informed the commission that at the request of the Birmingham Board of Education, a 10-acre site near Lincoln and Cranbrook roads had been reserved for a school.

The proposed contract would handle the sewage disposal problem of the township until January, 1956, when it is expected that contracts for the proposed Evergreen interceptor sewer will be completed.

The interceptor, to be shared in by area communities, would funnel the sewage into Detroit for treatment. If the proposed inter-

Cranbrook Lists 5 New Teachers

Robert E. Bates to Head Department of Music at Boys School

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Harry D. Hoey, Cranbrook School headmaster, has announced the appointment of five new masters to serve on the faculty for the coming year.

Returning to head the department of music and the gym class is Robert E. Bates, who taught at Cranbrook from 1945 to 1951. A Harvard University graduate, he also has taught music at Bridgman, N. Y., and the Avon School and Greenwich County Day School in Connecticut.

Joining the mathematics department is Hubert H. Riechers, with 25 years of teaching experience. He was with the Illinois public school system for 11 years and spent 14 years at Lake Forest Academy, Ill., where he served as head of the mathematics department and director of admissions.

Riechers received a masters degree from the University of Colorado after he was graduated from Wisconsin State Teachers College. Hugh M. Davison Jr. becomes a member of the history and mathematics departments. He has over 12 years of teaching experience in preparatory schools, was graduated from Virginia Military Institute and earned his masters degree in history at Ohio State University.

Foreign languages and history will be taught by R. P. Hoover. He holds a degree from Michigan State College, spent two years in the U. S. Navy and taught at the Munising High School for three years.

Another Harvard University graduate, Scott Nicholson will teach English. Recently he has been working as staff assistant on the Hoover report.

MRS. HAROLD B. DOREMUS

Drayton Woman Is Polio Victim

Mrs. Harold Doremus, Former Ann Jossman, Stricken Suddenly

Mrs. Harold B. Doremus (Ann Jossman), 30, of 2290 Highland Dr., Drayton Woods, died last night of bulbar polio. She was stricken Sunday and died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Her death was the first from polio in Pontiac this year, although the disease has claimed six others in Oakland County in 1954.

Born here May 24, 1924, she was the daughter of William R. and Berne Randall Jossman, former Pontiac residents and now of Daytona Beach, Fla.

She was married to Harold B. Doremus July 1, 1946. Her husband and a son, Steven Burke, survive.

Other survivors, in addition to her parents, include two sisters, Mrs. Robert J. (Jane) Rioux, of Falls Church, Va., and Mrs. Paul E. (Sally) Horton, of Metamora.

Mrs. Doremus was a graduate of Denison University, Granville, Ohio, where she became a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. She was a member of St. Andrew Episcopal Church and president of the St. Catherine Guild.

The body is at the Hulton Funeral Home. Service will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in All Saints Episcopal Church, with the Rev. C. George Widdfield and the Rev. Waldo Hunt officiating. Burial will be private.

Her family requests that in lieu of flowers, any memorial gifts be made to the polio fund.

"The site we have chosen is ample for our present needs, provides plenty of room for expansion in the years to come and we have unlimited parking space. The present courthouse and county office building properties, in private hands, will undoubtedly be improved for commercial use and will be a source of tax revenue to the city and compared with public ownership by the county, he has an asset to the city rather than a liability.

"We have not failed to weigh the potential of adverse economic effect to the city by moving the courthouse from its center. We believe that private enterprise on the location of the present county owned property will more than offset any losses involved.

"I commend Mr. Patterson for frankly recognizing the need for new facilities but would expect no less from a man of his caliber. We concur with Mr. Patterson when he said, 'The purpose of these governmental functions and offices is service to the general public and we should not forget that fundamental fact.'

"We, the Board of Supervisors believe we are making a move which will be for the best interests of Mr. and Mrs. Oakland County."

FHA Probers End Indianapolis Hearings Today

INDIANAPOLIS (INS)—The Senate Banking Committee delves into more evidence today of purported windfall profits of millions of dollars in loans guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration.

The hearings in Indianapolis, presided over by Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) will end today after considering 17 projects in Indiana in which windfall profits by promoters were estimated to total $600,000.

Also under scrutiny will be FHA-financed housing at the naval ammunition depot at Crane, Ind., at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, the Golfmoor development at Gary and the Arcadia Apartment at Louisville, Ky.

The controversial Essex Apartment House project in Indianapolis will undergo a second study by members of the Senate committee.

Firemen's Hours Cut

CHICAGO (U)—Chicago firemen will go on a 56-hour work week Nov. 1, the first reduction in working hours in nearly 20 years. The city will add 160 more firemen to the force.

English Cabinet Eyes Alliance

Ponders Mendes Plan for the Rearmament of West Germany

LONDON (INS)—The British Cabinet meets today to discuss French Premier Pierre-Mendes-France's new formula to bring West Germany into the orbit of a West European defensive alliance.

Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill will preside at the morning meeting, at which time the ministers also are expected to hear Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's report on his talks with U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles last Friday.

The British will be hosts to a nine-power conference in London Sept. 28, at which time West Germany's defense role and its relation to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) will be charted.

Mendes-France said yesterday in Strasbourg that if the nine-power conference reaches agreement on German rearmament, experts could produce a draft of 15 or 20 articles covering his proposals "in about a month."

The U. S., West Germany and the Netherlands already have accepted British invitations to attend the London conference. Other invited powers—France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Italy and Canada—are expected to follow suit.

In yesterday's speech to the consultative assembly of the European Council, Mendes-France stressed the need for finding "a simple formula" which would take into account each nation's special case.

Mendes-France called for greater British participation in west Europe's defenses and said that if the London conference reached agreement, "this time the French Parliament will not wait three years" to vote on the plan, which is a substitute to EDC.

Britain was not a member of the rejected EDC.

1954 Summer Sets Temperature Records

Severe storms were at a minimum during the summer with the highest winds being recorded June 27 when 30-mile-an-hour gusts struck the area causing power line and severe tree damage.

That briefly was Summer 1954, wonderful for picnickers, swimmers and outdoor lovers (record crowds jammed Oakland County parks and beaches) but a problem for gardeners and farmers.

Fall is scheduled to arrive in Pontiac Thursday at 8:56 a. m.

State Collects $42 Sales Tax Per Resident

LANSING (U)—Michigan collected $42.21 in sales taxes from every man, woman and child in the state in 1953-54 fiscal year, the State Revenue Department said today.

This was second only to Wyoming which collected $42.98.

The survey showed that a total of 27 states levy sales and use taxes similar to Michigan's. California was third in per capita collections with $38.94 and Utah fourth with $36.75.

The average collection of the 27 states was $38.58.

State Revenue Commissioner Louis M. Nims said Michigan's collections were high because of the broad base of the tax, because the state's average income is high and because of vigorous collection of tax by his department.

And It Isn't Even Spring! Police Foil an Elopement of Youth, 9, and Girl, 10

Plans for a fall wedding made yesterday in a Waterford Township grade school by a boy, 9, and a girl, 10, were interrupted early today when Township Police caught up with the eloping couple.

The pair were found snuggled together on the back porch of a vacant house next to another home which police said they burglarized during the night.

Police Chief Frank Van Atta said the youthful pair took $4.55 in money, a ring, a ball of yarn and two bracelets from the home on Elmhurst St.

The boy, who has a record of 14 break-ins earlier this summer, also admitted that he and the girl took a necklace, candy, pens, and paper from a jewelry store, a drug eral policies in the national picture—and I think they have hurt the nation—it is undeniable that they have brought unemployment, reduced business activity and brought farm distress to Michigan.

Leonard hit at Williams for suggesting unemployment resulted from "the recent entry into Washington of an administration which is trying to end the hounding and bumbling of the previous Democratic administrations."

Leonard said unemployment results "from the transition from a war to a peacetime economy. Unemployment cannot be attributed to politics. It has existed in both Democratic and Republican administrations. In 1949, 1950 and 1951 the state faced major unemployment problems which only the Korean war solved."

Leonard said "the situation is bettering now. Men are going back to work. Retail business is bettering. The problem has been complicated in Detroit by automobile model changeovers. But one month from today employment will be better."

Both candidates agreed unemployment compensation laws should be improved, more highways built, more schools are needed and that teachers should be better paid, and that preparations must be made for the St. Lawrence Seaway era.

ident Eisenhower's plan to set up a peace pool of atomic power, despite Soviet objection to it.

The expiring eighth Assembly, in recess since last December, was closed out with brief formality yesterday by its president, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit. Sister of India's Prime Minister Nehru, she was the first woman elected to head a U.N. Assembly.

Wearing an amethyst colored sari, she rushed the final ceremony through in less than five minutes. She told the delegates she would hold off her review of the eighth Assembly's work until she took the chair today, to serve until election of her successor.

The ninth Assembly opening today found many high ranking delegates absent, remaining in Europe for the London conference next week on German sovereignty and rearmament. Dulles also plans to attend it.

First President of the United States to ride in an automobile was William McKinley who was taken to a hospital by a motor ambulance after being fatally wounded by an assassin.

Mitchell Blasts Hostility of AFL

Labor Secretary Says Union Could Get More by Being Friendly

LOS ANGELES (U)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell's appeal that the American Federation of Labor support the Eisenhower administration apparently had fallen on deaf ears today at the Annual AFL Convention.

Top AFL leaders and delegates gave no indication of plans to mollify their steady barrage of criticism of President Eisenhower and the Republican administration.

However, Mitchell in his address at yesterday's opening convention session appeared to be appealing to the AFL's 10-million-member rank and file more than to the labor organization's leaders.

Pontiac Deaths

Howard Merl Conine

Howard Merl Conine, 67, of 40 Cherry Ct. died yesterday afternoon at Pontiac General Hospital after a five years' illness.

Born in Detroit April 25, 1887, he was the son of Moe and Thessa Dean Conine and married to Augusta Hagemann. Coming here from Detroit 40 years ago, Mr. Conine was member of the Bethel Evangelical Church and was employed by the City of Pontiac, as an engineer.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a sister and a brother, Mrs. May Trowbridge of Milwaukee, Wis., and Allen Conine of Detroit.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Bethel Evangelical Church with the Rev. Maynard Osterie officiating. Burial will be in Perry Mount Park Cemetery. Mr. Conine is at the Voorhes-Siple Funeral Home.

Ernest Ealson

Word has been received of the death in San Gabriel, Calif., on Aug. 21 of Ernest Ealson, a former Pontiac resident.

Mr. Ealson was employed by Consumers Power Co. here and was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church. He was a past master of Pontiac Lodge No. 21, F&AM in Pontiac. He was employed by the Southern California Edison Co. before he retired.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Phoebe A. Ealson; a daughter, Mrs. O. L. Baker, of Running Springs, Calif.; a son, Ernest J. Ealson of Pasadena and four grandchildren.

Japs Spend $42 Million Each Month on Pinball

TOKYO (U)—Pachinko, a Japanese vertical pin ball game named for the sound of the ball, does more business in Japan than the department stores.

Pachinko parlors throughout Japan report they take in 42 million dollars a month while Japanese spend 35 million dollars a month in department stores.

Enrollment Up 10 Pct.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U)—Enrollment at the University of Illinois was up nearly 10 per cent over last year as classes started yesterday. The total of 16,340 students included 13,619 undergraduates and 2,721 advanced students. There are 3,582 war veterans, an increase of 33 per cent over last year.

3 Local Singers Will Be on TV With Eddie Fisher

The Four Joes, a singing group consisting of three Pontiac boys and a New Yorker, will appear on Eddie Fisher's TV show Wednesday night.

The quartet, Kenny Davis and Steve and Pete Antos of Pontiac, with Lou Tulliano of New York, recently were on Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scout show and are currently working a six-week engagement at the Copacabana in New York City.

Davis and the two Antos boys have been together since high school. The three met Tulliano in the service in Japan while touring Japan and Korea with Eddie Fisher.

Davis is the son of the Ross Davis' of Eddy Court, and the Antos boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Antos of South Saginaw Street.

Birmingham Mother Is Sent to Hospital

A Birmingham housewife, found unconscious from carbon monoxide poisoning June 15 beside the dead body of her three-year-old son, was recommitted to Pontiac State Hospital yesterday when objections were raised to releasing her into private care.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem objected to releasing Mrs. Betty Jane Howitt, 37, saying doctors at the hospital felt she needs more treatment of a type not available at the private institution suggested by her husband, Clyde.

Judge Arthur E. Moore ordered Mrs. Howitt treated at the hospital until doctors there authorize her removal. She is suffering from the effect of fumes inhaled in the family garage at 1683 Cole St.

GULF'S COMPLETELY NEW AND DIFFERENT GASOLINE...

ACTUALLY MAKES CARS PERFORM BETTER THAN NEW...

AFTER 15,000 MILES!

NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX

HIGHER-THAN-NEW HORSEPOWER! BETTER-THAN-NEW ON GASOLINE MILEAGE! AND NOT A SINGLE TRACE OF CARBON KNOCK OR PRE-IGNITION AT ANY TIME—EVEN ON THE STEEPEST MOUNTAIN GRADES!

Instead of trying to fight trouble-making deposits with so-called "miracle-additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates the Gulf scientist is holding in the unretouched photo above, and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power . . . free from knock or pre-ignition.

Starting with your first tankful, this new, super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:

► More complete engine protection than the so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines. Why? Because Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines—and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.

► Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new

NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

► No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.

► Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

That's why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

Lacy Iron Gadgets Beautify Bathroom

Expanded metal, the iron made in a mesh-like form, has moved into the bathroom as well as to the living room. One manufacturer is offering a line of black expanded metal hampers, wastebaskets, tissue holders and wall shelves.

It's called "Chantilly," and does look something like black lace. The black is lined with white, pink, blue or yellow, and the manufacturer is planning a companion line in chocolate brown iron with beige lining.

Wait for Dry Day

Apply all wood finishes in dry, nonhumid weather. Finishes—paint, lacquer, enamel, varnish or shellac—come out best when the woodwork is treated with an undercoat. Shellac ordinarily dries dust-free in 10 minutes. But for most desirable results allow at least three hours between first and second coats.

Let Friends Know You Are Coming
Invite Them to Be Your Guests Where You Are Staying

By EMILY POST

A wife writes: "My husband and I are taking a cross-country trip by car and will pass through certain cities in which we have friends. Most of them we haven't seen in years, some we have been out of touch with. I think it would be a splendid opportunity to renew these old friendships.

To try and avoid missing them when we're in their towns, could we write on and give them some idea of when we expect to come through. Would this obligate them to anything?"

No that you will not obligate them to anything, the best thing would be to telephone them when you get in their city and invite them to come to see you or have lunch or dinner with you wherever you are staying.

Dear Mrs. Post: When traveling a long distance on a bus next to someone who is a stranger, is it improper to start a conversation—particularly if between a man and woman?

If it is really a long distance, I think it would be quite proper. It would be better if the woman started the conversation.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a woman in the late forties, have never been married, not engaged. I am going to wear and now I am going to buy one for myself. My question is this: Could I be criticized if I wear the ring on my left hand? I would prefer to wear it there as my right hand is my "work" hand and I can never feel quite comfortable with a ring on that hand.

There is no reason why you should not buy the ring you'd like and wear it. The fact that it may be taken for an engagement ring is no one's concern but yours.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if, when giving a gift to a man, it is wrong to put ribbon on the package? My fiancée's birthday is next week and I would like to make the package look as attractive as possible, but don't want to do anything "silly."

Answer: Certainly tie it up with ribbon but don't make it too fancy with bows and bows and bows!

Freezer Eases Job of Preserving Fruit

If you own a home freezer, your fruit preserving job will be easier. Jelly-making fruits may be frozen without sugar. The freezing and thawing softens the fruit, releases the juice and also causes the fruit color to dissolve in the juice.

Then it's not necessary to heat juicy berries to extract juice. They can simply be crushed or pressed.

Many other frozen fruits need only the minimum of heating to extract juices. Generally, pectin needs to be added to fruit juice that has not been heated to make sure that it jells.

DiETING Woman Spoils Fine Dinner for Others

The other night I went to a beautiful dinner. All the food I like best to eat was served. The meal was superb—most of it. Yet I had a miserable time, simply because of a horrid woman who is on a diet and insisted on telling about it.

The result was that with every mouthful I felt guiltier and guiltier and finally gave up when the soufflé came on and that detestable woman estimated the calories in even an infinitesimal slice of its rich chocolate deliciousness. So I am as bitter as reader Grace Pearsa of Houston, Tex.

"Every so often we have a dinner party," she writes, "I like to cook and I like to have my friends enjoy the food I prepare. Our table is always as pretty to look at as the food is good to eat."

Stick-on Veneer Covers Plywood

SEATTLE, Wash. (INS)—Ever wonder what to do about the unattractive end-grain in a plywood table-off-rabbit? There's always been one answer—elbow grease and wood dough.

But now a Seattle firm has come up with a new boon to the do-it-yourself craftsman—a finishing material for plywood edges that goes on as easily as a band-aid.

It's a paper-thin slice of veneer three-quarters of an inch wide and as long as you want it. The stuff is made in fir, birch, walnut, oak and Philippine mahogany. You buy it at any retail lumber yard.

"At our most recent party the guests consisted of men and women, both fats and leans. The meal was a delicious one, if I do say it as shouldn't, and for dessert I'd made a luscious lemon pie and a delectable cake heaped high with smooth frosting.

The guest who was the impetus of the party is a man who travels constantly. It is a joy to cook for him for he really appreciates home food. But one of our other guests was a woman on a diet, and two others present were leaning that way.

"So our fine dinner, prepared with such joy, became a nibbling contest between the dieter and the near dieters, with the rest compelled to eat half what they would normally because they felt so guilty enjoying their food. When the dessert came, one piece of my heavenly pie was eaten—and that by me, darn it! The cake was barely tasted. Even the guest of honor contented himself with one helping of everything, though he usually comes back for more. He was cowed, that's all, by the way everybody else stopped eating."

"Can't people learn to be kind? If they are invited out for a dinner, couldn't they live on toothpicks and ice water the rest of the day and then keep still and allow others the privilege of enjoying the food that has been so happily prepared for them?"

I say hurrah for Mrs. Pearsa! I'm a dieter rife with good intentions myself and I'd willingly go on toothpicks and ice water for two days before a really good butter-and-cream home-cooked meal.

The only alternative to that is to refuse the invitation. I believe.

As Mrs. Pearsa says, there's nothing that so ruins one's enjoyment of a good meal as somebody disdaining the mashed potatoes or shrieking for salad with no dressing.

As a matter of fact I'm convinced that dieters ought to avoid meal-time contact with non-dieters. They do better eating solitary or in the company of other dieters. People on diets don't want to talk about anything else, and the only people who are interested in diets are dieters. Yet the slimmest (I'm told—this I'll probably never know from actual experience) feels like a gross gourmandizer when the dieter delicately picks.

Plan Party and Stick to Schedule

Suggestions Given for Farewell Party for Boyfriend

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: My boyfriend is leaving for the service in a few weeks, so we are planning a party for him, about 30 of us. We thought we'd have it a 'come as you are party.'"

"But what kind of entertainment can we plan, or should we just let things take their course. And what about a gift? Should we all bring separate things, or go together on one bigger one? What about food? We haven't much money to spend. We need your help badly, please!"

Sounds like fun, planning a farewell party he'll long remember. If you can count on screwball costumes, your "come as you are" idea would be amusing. But if no one will dare wear hip boots, pajamas, hair curlers or disreputable levis, you can dress up a bit and give him a pretty memory to keep.

Your party can dissolve or get out of hand, if you let things take their course. Better to plan it to the last detail and stick to schedule.

The gifting can be a real stunt if you'll all bring separate things. Have a slight conference with his mother, and find out just what your boy friend can take with him. Pass the list around. And to it you might add pads of writing paper, packets of envelopes both plain and air mail, books of stamps, a little accordion picture frame for snapshots, a magazine subscription, socks in the right color and size, handkerchiefs, pen and pencil address book. I could go on and on.

The stunt is to assemble all the packages ahead of time, and hide them all over the place. A jingle will give the guest of honor a clue to the hiding place of each gift. A real treasure hunt that will keep him and the rest of you occupied for some time.

The rest of the evening can be spent at one or another of the stunts and games in my PARTY BOOK, which I'm rushing off to you. In it you'll find some partner finders and mixers, in case you want to dance, too.

And there's an idea for a sundae bar if your gang has a very sweet tooth. If you've all spent many happy moments together in the local ice cream emporium, it might be fun to make a real thing of mixing your own for a change.

To top it all off, have someone take flashlight pictures of the gang as a permanent record of this big evening for your boy friend to take away with him.

Anyone else who'd like a copy of my free PARTY BOOK is welcome to have it. Just write me for it, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

AAUW Will Bring Artist to Pontiac

Pontiac Branch of the American Association of University Women welcomed several new members and guests at their annual barbecue at the home of Faye Donelson on Voorheis road Monday evening.

Plans were made for the major project of the year, the concert by Jean Goldkette, pianist, which are to be sponsored here on Dec. 8, for the benefit of the AAUW Fellowship Fund.

Nationally, the AAUW each year gives about 30 fellowships to American women scholars, and brings 50 women from 30 or more foreign countries to the United States for advanced study and research. In Michigan approximately $11,000 was raised for this purpose during the 1933-34 season.

Jean Goldkette, one of America's greatest pianists, will appear in two concerts at the Pontiac High School Auditorium. In the afternoon a concert will be presented for students, and in the evening another concert for adults.

General chairman for the concert arrangements will be Miss Donelson, assisted by Mary Heitsch as ticket chairman.

C. E. Butterfield Retires as AP's Radio-TV Editor

By SAUL PEET
(For HAL BOYLE)

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Butterfield—you know the byline as "C. E. Butterfield"—is retiring as radio-TV editor of the Associated Press.

Around here, that's a little like saying the RCA Building is going to be torn down for a parking lot. Matter of fact, most of us were happily convinced that Charley would still be writing about radio long after NBC became a faded dividend memory in the minds of David Sarnoff's descendants.

But Charley says he's tired and wants to go down to Florida and raise chickens. I don't why. The kid doesn't deserve a rest. We were just getting him broken in.

After all, he has only been writing about radio more than 30 years. He has been radio editor only 27 years. He has done his column only 22 years.

With all that, the boy is only 62. He started young, at 14, on his family's kitchen table in Champaign, Ill. Charley built an amateur wireless station in 1906.

"In those days," he recalls, "there were no commercial stations. All I got was coded signals from the government stations. I couldn't understand the code but it was fun for me, anyway. It wasn't for the rest of the neighborhood."

"You see, I used an electrolytic rectifier to cut in on the house current, which was A. C. Every time I pressed down on the telegraphic key, it dimmed all the lights in the neighborhood. You should've heard the squawks."

In 1918, he came up to Chicago to do general bureau work for the AP. Within a few years, he was finding stories to write about radio at a time when many people still couldn't spell the word. For example he wrote about Chicago's "silent nights."

On those nights every station in town closed up so radio owners could begin whirling their dials to see how many long distance stations they could pick up. On a good, clear night you could get Los Angeles.

Charley came to New York as AP radio editor in 1927. This was at a time when radio fans were just switching from battery sets, which frequently spilled over and burned a hole in the living room rug, to receivers using house current.

The big attractions then were the A & P Gypsies, the "Cluquet Club Eskimos" (an orchestra), Graham McNamee, and the Revelers Quartet, of whom only Frank Parker is still singing. Charley also tuned in on the first broadcast by a couple of fellows known then as "Sam and Henry." When the boys left Chicago they had to leave the name behind with the local radio station. In New York they became known as "Amos 'n Andy."

In 1932, Charley made the front pages with an exclusive story. It was the first transatlantic short-wave interview on record. The man on the other end in Vatican City was Guglielmo Marconi.

Even in those days, Charley was firing questions at the experts about a fantastic bit of nonsense known as television. In that interview, Marconi told Charley television's chances were "rapidly" improving.

Charley was writing so long ago about TV the headline writers hadn't even had time to catch up with the name of the new medium. One head over a Butterfield story was: "Sight-seeing by radio."

Charley was not only writing about the new gadget in the early thirties; he even built his own first TV set out of a kit of parts. His first receiver used a neon lamp instead of a cathode ray tube. Thus the picture was dark red and light red instead of black and white.

You didn't have to be a grasshopper to enjoy the first experimental programs that came over Charley's set but it would have helped. Even with a magnifier, that set provided a picture only 1½ inches wide and one inch long. To see anything, he couldn't be any more than two feet away.

In those days, about all there was to watch was experimental pictures transmitted by NBC. Charley particularly remembers one in which all that happened was that a wooden figure of a cat kept revolving around a turntable.

But he watched that postage stamp screen and he watched and reported on everything that came with the bigger and better screens developed since.

Now he says he's going to retire in November, which just goes to show you how tough it is to hold on to help these days.

Missouri has produced 264 million tons of coal since 1806 which represents only about one per cent of the state's total coal reserves.

Eyeing Food Supply From 1-Celled Plant

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Scientists are now going to the rooftops to help the world's food supply. Dr. Bruce R. Mead of the University of California at Los Angeles has begun a research project to trap a tiny one-celled plant known as chlorella.

This plant, built up from sunshine, water and small bits of chemicals, produces tons of proteins and fats in a day. Harvesting will be simple—just a matter of scooping off the chlorella floating on the water.

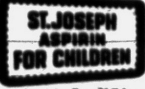

The university's pilot plant has been installed on a building rooftop. It has a small U-shaped trough through which will circulate water and a few chemicals. Sea water also will be used to produce chlorella, because of the abundance of chemicals in it.

Initially, the process will provide rich supplements for cattle feed. When the food is tasty enough, the scientists promise a "chlorella cocktail" for humans.

On British Railways, special tickets are sold to workmen who use the trains before 8 a.m. at a cost of a penny a mile.

Youth, 5, Killed in North Branch

Driver Not Held After Striking Richard Kukes on Millington Road

NORTH BRANCH — Richard Kukes, 5, died yesterday when struck by a car in front of his home on Millington Road.

Driver Mrs. Ruth Bryce, 29, of Silverwood Road, told deputies of the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department that the youth suddenly appeared in front of her car.

She said he must have come out of a ditch along the roadside. Mrs. Bryce was not held.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kukes. He was taken to Lapeer County Hospital by Dr. D. Ballinger, but died there soon after arrival.

English Teacher at Walled Lake Wins New Home

WALLED LAKE—If high school English and Latin students of Mrs. Donald Milligan heard more about houses than they scheduled subjects last Friday, it is understandable.

Late Thursday Mrs. Milligan was informed that she was the winner of the three bedroom dream home offered by an appliance firm.

The home is located in Franklin Knolls, off James Cousen's highway.

The Milligans were given the opportunity to enter the contest when they purchased appliances for their new home at 2012 Hoeft Dr., Walled Lake, earlier in the summer.

Mrs. Milligan spent one Sunday writing entries which ranged from serious letters to jingles. Altogether she submitted 27.

When her students asked her the secret of her success she said, "I owe it all to the public schools where I learned to write."

New Officers Selected by 2 Farm Bureaus

NORTH BRANCH — Election of officers was featured at a recent joint meeting of the North Branch and Arcadia Farm Bureaus.

Glenn Worgess was named general director of the two clubs, with Elton Bauman, chairman; Warren Crawford, vice chairman; and Mrs. Howard Seelye, secretary.

Farmer Freed in Eviction Case

John Donovan Given Suspended Sentence for Guilty Plea

LAPEER — John Donovan, who pleaded guilty to obstructing justice in the eviction of a Lapeer farm widow, yesterday received a suspended sentence and was ordered to pay court costs totaling $100.

Donovan pleaded guilty to obstructing Lapeer County Sheriff Clark W. Gregory in his efforts to oust the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens from her home in June, 1952. The farm had been sold at court order to meet an assessment against a bankrupt insurance group.

Donovan, of Inlay City, pleaded guilty before six other farmers went to trial on similar charges. The six others were acquitted after their trial last week in Charlotte.

Similar charges against another farmer were dismissed by Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

The suspended sentence, handed down by Judge Quinn, apparently ends the long-drawn-out prosecutions stemming from the eviction.

Two men, Floyd Scriber and Erwin C. Russell, now are serving 1½ to 2 year prison terms for obstructing justice. Clayton C. Gilliland of Detroit, alleged leader of farmer resistance to the eviction, is appealing a 4½ to 5 year prison term for conspiracy.

Register Tonight for Adult Classes at Waterford High

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The growing demand for adult education programs sends Waterford Township into its fourth annual course for grown-ups of the area.

Under the direction of George Trumontin, early registration will take place tonight at the high school from 7 to 8 p.m. It is also possible to register the night of class opening, Sept. 28, said Trumontin.

A new course available this year will be in tailoring. Other popular classes to be given are in beginning sewing, advanced sewing, blueprint reading, shop course and typing.

Credit Union Reports Membership Increase

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake School Employees Credit Union approved 30 new members at their September board meeting, raising the membership to 164.

Treasurer Bill Doggett reported that as of Aug. 31, shares balances totaled $21,534.52, loans outstanding, $15,808.74, and cash on hand $6,577.69.

Steps were taken to fill three vacancies, and to arrange for a credit union mailbox in the school office.

County Calendar

Orionville — Orionville First Baptist Church will observe Family Night tomorrow with a potluck dinner served at 7:30 p.m.

Metamora — The Metamora Birthday Club will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Hardwick.

Orionville — MOMS unit 14 will meet at 8 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Betty Featherston, on West Mill street.

MRS. JAMES A. CURT

Walled Lake Couple Tour Through Eastern States

WALLED LAKE — Honeymooning in the Eastern states are Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Curt, who were married at Walled Lake Methodist Church in a double-ring ceremony Sept. 11.

The bride is the former Marilyn Elaine Woodworth, daughter of the Russell Woodworths of Walled Lake. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Florence Curt, also of Walled Lake.

For her wedding, which was attended by some 150 guests, Marilyn wore a gown of white, chantilly lace over satin, with ballerina skirt of pleated nylon.

A satin headpiece decorated with pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil. Her bridal bouquet was centered with an orchid.

Joanne Curt, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Shirley Rauh and Rose Zimmerman were bridesmaids. Flower girl was the bride's sister, Linda Woodworth, while Graham Curt, the bridegroom's brother, was ring bearer.

Russell Curt served his brother as best man while James Combs and the bride's brother, Richard Woodworth, were ushers.

About 300 guests attended the reception at the Farmington American Legion Hall, following the ceremony.

BETTY JANE FOWLER

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Fowler of 3443 Signet, Drayton Plains, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Wayne L. Morgan. He is the son of the Clark J. Morgans of 7785 Allen Rd., Clarkston. No date has been set for the wedding.

Study Club Sets Meeting

WALLED LAKE — Assignment of topics and plans for the coming year will spark the first fall meeting of the Walled Lake Study Club, set for 12:30 p.m. Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Leona McRae on West Main street. Co-hostesses for the luncheon affair will be club president Mrs. Walter Heinke, Mrs. Lee King and Mrs. Florence White.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN LANDS

DAVISBURG — Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Lands. They held an open house for a few friends and relatives. The Lands are former Pontiac residents.

Maxine Beadle Wed to W. A. Hodgkinson

NORTH BRANCH — At a Saturday morning ceremony in SS Peter and Paul Catholic Church here, Maxine Beadle and William Allen Hodgkinson were united in marriage. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Beadle. He is the son of the Albert Hodgkinsons.

For the 10 a.m. rites, Maxine wore a gown of ivory slipper satin with beaded neckline, and a fingertip veil. She carried an orchid on a white prayer book.

Rosemary Hodgkinson of Caro, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's maid of honor and Mrs. Keith Byers of North Branch served as bridesmaid. Margene and Larry Beadle, children of Mr. and Mrs. William Beadle, were flower girl and ring bearer respectively.

The bridegroom's brother, Fred, was best man, and Charles Beadle served as an attendant. Ushers were William Beadle and Keith Byers, the bride's brother and brother-in-law; Charles Dooghe and Thomas Ruhlman.

A reception for 250 guests followed the ceremony. The couple will live in a newly built home in Burlington Township.

Harvest Supper Planned

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP—The Mt. Bethel annual Harvest Supper will be held Sept. 29 at 6 p.m. The church is located at Bald Eagle Lake and Jossman Roads.

Install Neumann as Postmaster at Rochester

ROCHESTER — U. S. postal inspectors turned over the post office books to Cole L. Neumann at noon yesterday and officially installed him as temporary postmaster at Rochester.

Neumann, who is 44 and the son of a former postmaster, succeeds outgoing postmaster Clarence Bushman. He lives with his wife, Geneva, and daughter, Karen, 11, at 315 Taylor St.

The new postmaster is a graduate of Rochester High School. He has a B. A. degree in journalism from University of Detroit, where he also studied commerce and finance.

For the past 14 years he had been employed by Packard Motor Co.

Horse Show Ends Washington Festival

WASHINGTON—A variety of colorful entries, perfect weather conditions, and an enthusiastic crowd of spectators all added to the success of the first Washington Horse Show Sunday.

It climaxed a two-day celebration staged for the benefit of the Washington Volunteer Fire Department. A free dance, with music by the fire department orchestra, was held Saturday evening.

The horse show was located two blocks west of the Washington grade school. William Alward was show committee chairman. Ringmaster was Andrew C. Kreucher and Earl Shaver of Rochester acted as judge.

Woman Trapped 40 Hours With Husband's Body

TOLEDO, Ohio (U-P) — For 40 hours after her husband died, Mrs. Iva B. Soncrant was alone with his body on rough Lake Erie in their disabled outboard motor boat.

"I prayed and I cried... only the thought of my three sons kept me battling when the odds against me seemed so large," she said yesterday after fishermen found her 4½ miles offshore and rescued her.

Mrs. Soncrant said she and her husband, Joseph, 57, of Toledo, went fishing Saturday. The boat's motor stalled and Soncrant collapsed while trying to start it.

She said she did not realize Soncrant was dead for two hours. For 40 hours she tried unsuccessfully to attract passing boats with screams and a piece of her skirt used as a flag.

She had to keep bailing water from waves out of her boat to keep it from foundering.

"One of my sons is only 20, and I though he needed me now that his father is gone," she said, "so I kept praying and pumping..."

Three-fourths of the world's total population lives on only about one-eighth of the earth's land surface.

Olivia to Make Paris Her Home After Marriage

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U-P) — Olivia De Havilland is back in town, but only to make a movie. She'll make Paris her regular residence after her marriage to Pierre Gallante.

"Pierre is an executive of Paris Match, the popular French magazine, and his duties keep him there," says Olivia. "Although my home will be in Paris, I'll make pictures in England, France, Italy, Spain — and Hollywood."

I asked if a California girl like herself would not miss Hollywood. "You forget that I was born in Japan," she replied. "Of course, I grew up here and I do miss the weather. You forget how good it is while you're away. You say, 'Oh, it's foggy all through June and I've seen April when you didn't even see the sun.'"

"But when you come back, you realize how fabulous the weather is."

"Human beings adjust to wherever they are, and I must say there's no finer place to become adjusted to than Paris. It is an absolutely wonderful place, and my son Benjie loves it as much as I do."

Olivia is here to play the nurses role in the medical saga, "Not as a Stranger." I saw her after she made tests for the film, and she was in white gown and cap, ready for surgery. She showed me a pile of rubber gloves, needles, scalpels, etc., which she is learning to handle under the instruction of a registered nurse.

"We're going into surgery tomorrow," Olivia said with anticipation. She explained that she, Frank Sinatra and others on the picture would be allowed to witness an operation.

Olivia said her forthcoming marriage will take place some time after the picture is finished. Gallante will meet her here in December. The marriage would have taken place sooner, except that French law required a nine-month wait after her divorce.

Before the deadline, she got involved with making "That Lady" in Spain and England. She came here immediately afterward. The wedding cannot be done in a hurry, because Olivia has to go through some red tape in order to retain her American citizenship, which she intends to keep.

I asked about her plans for son Benjie. "He is enrolled in a wonderful French school, and he loves it," she said. "We always think of the English schools as the best in the world. But the English and many others told me that the French have the equivalent of a college education by the time they are 18."

Is she concerned about Benjie losing touch with his native land? "Not at all. Benjie is a remarkably American boy. Even at 5, he is an amazing combination of an intellectual and an athlete. The gentleness of the French culture will do him good. And he'll return to this country periodically."

'Alfalfa' of 'Our Gang' Undergoes Operation

LOS ANGELES (U-P) — Carl Switzer of the original "Our Gang" comedies is recuperating after an emergency appendectomy.

Switzer, who played the role of "Alfalfa" in the early films, underwent surgery Sunday night at Temple Hospital.

The trumpeter swan, with a maximum weight of 40 pounds, is the heaviest flying bird in North America.

New England Plays Fast on Daylight Saving Time

BOSTON (U-P) — Remember that hour of sleep you lost in April when your state went on daylight saving time?

Well, you can have it back next Sunday — unless you live in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire or a few communities in Vermont.

The reason: the Massachusetts legislature decided last spring that whatever benefits accrue from having daylight time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September would be enhanced considerably if extended to the last Sunday in October.

Rhode Island and New Hampshire followed suit and a few Vermont towns near Massachusetts or New Hampshire figured it might lessen the confusion by doing likewise.

hour's sleep trying to figure what time it is when you are in New England. Without the aid of an abacus or slide rule you can see there are chances for some dandy time-saving. For instance:

If you take a plane from Boston to New York next week and there is a good tailwind you can leave at noon, EDT, and arrive at LaGuardia Field at noon, too — EST, that is.

Or if you live in Brattleboro, Bennington, Rutland or Bellows Falls, Vt. (all staying on daylight time) you can "save" an hour in driving to the state capital at Montpelier, which is going back on standard time.

In Maine, the Legislature meets today on the "time problem. If Maine doesn't stay on daylight time, it could be quite a "slow" trip from Portland to Boston. A fast train takes about two hours, but if you left Portland at 5 p.m. EST, it would be 8 p.m. EDT, when you got to Boston.

You radio and television fans are going to have your troubles, too. Networks originating in New York, for example, will be on standard time but the programs will come an hour later if you live where the "fast" time will be held over.

Oh, well, it will be all over in November.

Wheat Weaker,
Others Holding

CHICAGO — Most grains held within narrow price limits in relatively quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today. Wheat showed a slightly weaker trend than the rest of the list.

Attention was focused on September soybeans, in which this was the last day for trading. The open interest still was quite large in this future. In other September contracts the open interest has been materially cut down in recent weeks.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ lower, September $\$2.15\frac{1}{2}$, corn unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ lower, September $\$1.50\frac{1}{2}$, oats $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ lower, September $\$1.44\frac{1}{2}$, soybeans $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ higher, September $\$12.84\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, September $\$16.70$.

Police Vacancy Stirs Rumors

Deputy Superintendent Eyed for Detroit Post as Morgan Retires

DETROIT (INS) — Speculation centered around Deputy Superintendent Kennedy Lawrence today as successor to retiring Detroit Police Superintendent Edwin S. Morgan.

Police Commissioner Higgins refused to confirm or deny reports that he would name Lawrence to the important post.

Higgins announced late yesterday that Morgan would retire Feb. 1, a month after his 60th birthday.

Morgan, who started as a beat cop in the city's toughest precinct 32 years ago, was the youngest superintendent in the city's history when he was named to the post in 1945.

He held the job longer than any officer in the history of the force as a climax to a highly respected career.

Morgan has eight precinct and two departmental citations and one commissioner's citation.

Said Higgins: "He has done his job with fairness to everyone. He was firm when he needed to be and if a situation demanded diplomacy he had that. His reputation and example are an example for every policeman."

Show Business When Americans Mention Monroe They Aren't Thinking of Doctrine

By EDDIE CANTOR

Like everybody else in the business, I've tried to analyze the success of Marilyn Monroe. A more pleasant pastime I haven't yet discovered! I did discover the reason for the whole country thinking of "Marilyn" instead of "Doctrine" when the name Monroe is mentioned.

It isn't just her figure which, to put it subtly, is special, nor her open-mouthed, provocative glance, nor her walk, nor even her voice which someone has described as sounding as though it came over a transom. It's her sense of humor.

At one thime, I thought Marilyn's press agents were responsible for her clever comebacks, and indications of a busy brain. I found that most of them, like everything else of Marilyn's, are her own.

In Atlantic City, where she led the Miss America beauty parade in a low-cut gown, someone told her she attracted a lot of attention. Said Marilyn: "I noticed people staring but I thought they were looking at my grand marshal's badge."

Debbie Denies Feuding With Marilyn Monroe

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Pert little film actress Debbie Reynolds has put her dainty foot down firmly to squash the latest Hollywood rumor that she is feuding with Marilyn Monroe.

In fact the young movie star even tossed Marilyn a bouquet last night after tossing a kiss to her on a nationally televised show, NBC's "Operation Entertainment."

When asked whether she had indeed called Miss Monroe "Joe DiMaggio's girl," Debbie replied firmly: "I didn't say it." And she added: "I am one of Marilyn's biggest fans."

Debbie also denied flatly that she and singer Eddie Fisher are engaged.

WCTU to Elect Officers

ORTONVILLE — Election of officers is scheduled by the WCTU at a 2 p. m. meeting tomorrow in the home of Mrs. Clare Wolfe on East Mill street.

The average man weighs one pound more at the North Pole than at the Equator. The earth spins faster at the Equator, and centrifugal force weakens the pull of gravity.

County Births

Almont — Mrs. Theodore Lester has announced the birth of a daughter, Cheryl Lynn, born Sept. 19.

Mt. Pleasant — Mrs. H. T. Younger has announced the birth of a son, born Sept. 14.

Death Notices

BRICKER, SEPTEMBER 20, 1954. Joseph A. Bricker, age 69, of Trail, Wis., died at his home, 1000 W. 10th St., Detroit, Mich., on Sept. 20, 1954. Burial will be held Thursday, Sept. 23, at 1:30 p. m. in the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Walled Lake, Mich.

$2 Million Plant Up for Auction

Dowagiac Welcoming Prospective Buyers of K-F Factory

DOWAGIAC (UP) — Dowagiac is all set for the biggest sale in its history.

Starting today and continuing Wednesday, the huge $2,000,000 Kaiser-Frazer plant here and all of its machinery and equipment will be auctioned. Nearly 1,000 buyers are expected to be on hand for the auction.

K-F closed down the plant when it consolidated its operations in Toledo after the merger of K-F and Willys-Overland.

Biggest item to be auctioned will be the plant itself which contains 350,000 square feet of space and is located on 27 1/2 acres of land.

However, K-F will not decide immediately whether to sell the huge plant to the highest bidder. The company has a 24-hour option during which it may reject any or all bids on the plant.

Machinery and equipment, however, will be sold right off the floor to the highest bidder.

Major R. J. Weller urged Dowagiac citizens to "roll out the red carpet" for prospective buyers of the plant.

"Never again will Dowagiac attract so many industrial prospects at one time," Weller said. "A favorable impression Dowagiac could pay dividends in the future."

City officials hope the plant is sold to someone who will either start a new industry or more an already existing manufacturing plant here. Unemployment in Dowagiac has been above normal since K-F closed down.

Tours of the city's schools, new hospital and other facilities will be available to prospective buyers who wish to see more of the town, Weller said.
