State Reports Only 5 Deaths on the Highway

Drowning Accounts for 5 More; Farmer Dies in Tractor Mishap

From Press Wire Services

Memorial Day National traffic death toll reached 101 today, about 10 per cent under the predicted 110 fatalities for the one-day U. S. holiday.

Illinois had the most with 11.

Michigan counted six dead, one a victim of a hit-run driver. Drownings claimed five lives, and a Lapeer County farmer died in a tractor accident.

In other violent deaths, 29 persons drowned and 28 others were killed in miscellaneous accidents throughout the nation.

The record traffic death rate for any one-day holiday was set on Christmas 1946, when 253 persons were killed on the highways.

Last year's Memorial Day holiday extended over a three-day period—a weekend—and 369 persons lost their lives in motor mishaps. Total accidental deaths were 696.

Generally mild weather lured millions of motorists to the highways yesterday in the first holiday of the spring-summer season.

Michigan prepared for the holiday traffic by mobilizing 838 State Policemen, 217 National Guardsmen, six state-owned airplanes and two helicopters.

County and local officers also turned out to control traffic.

Supervision by these units, plus the fact that the mid-week holiday discouraged many families from making long road trips, were attributed in part for the low highway death toll.

State Police said "the traffic toll was about average for a normal weekend."

Russell C. Sachs, 29, of Monroe was killed when the motorcycle on which he was a passenger overturned in a ditch on a Monroe County road. Charles Stanifer, 40, of Monroe, who was operating the vehicle, said he was forced off the road by a car.

Richard Borrello, 19, of Grand Rapids was killed in a three-car wreck in the northwest suburbs of Grand Rapids.

Ronald F. Alvestetter, 19, of Hart was killed in a two-car collision near Hart in Oceana County.

Mrs. Amenda Klein, 87, of Detroit and Edward Bartol, 39, of Bay View were other traffic victims. Bartol was the victim of a hit-run driver.

* * *

Gov. G. Mennen Williams personally congratulated holiday motorists and the special state force of traffic officers. He said, "This minimum toll of deaths on our highways is a moving example of good driving by our citizens. I hope we can better it in the future."

State and local parks drew throngs of visitors resulting in four deaths by drowning.

Duane Amunson, 22, of Port Huron lost his life in Baker Lake near Fenton.

Glen Wellington, 43, of North Lake drowned in Otter Lake.

Joseph Morgan, 47, of Battle Creek drowned in the St. Joseph River.

The fourth drowning victim was 22-year-old Walter B. Rodriquez, of Saginaw who died while swimming in Crystal Lake in Montcalm County.

Mrs. Elsa D. Miller, 56, of Dearborn, a multiple sclerosis victim, drowned when she fell from the cottage of her porch into Portage Lake.

* * *

In other accidents, Stanley McDowell, 51-year-old father of eight, was killed in a tractor accident at his farm a mile east of Columbiaville in Lapeer County McDowell's tractor overturned and fell on him as he was removing stones from an embankment. The tractor slid 40 feet down the embankment, dragging him with it.

Twining to Select "Visit" Aides

WASHINGTON (INS)—Air Force Chief of Staff Nathan F. Twining today begins lining up a delegation of top officers to accompany him to Russia's Aviation Day show in Moscow June 24.

* * *

The official Soviet invitation to Gen. Twining was accepted by the United States yesterday.

President Eisenhower personally made the decision to accept the bid—which had also been cleared with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

The visit of American air experts to Moscow on a non-diplomatic mission is something new. Twining and his selected aides are expected to bring back some additional information on Russian air power—a subject of sharp debate both in the Pentagon and in Congress.

The Soviets have also invited top air defense officials from many other nations to observe the ceremonies and demonstrations of fighters and bombers in flight.

The administration's acceptance of the invitation to Twining to head a delegation at the Moscow show had been expected.

BUILD UP PRESSURE

However, top officials had hoped that all of the joint chiefs of staff would be asked to attend—but Moscow limited the bid to the Air Force.

Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland expressed fear the trip would build up pressure for Soviet leaders to visit the U. S.

Knowland said "protocol" would demand a return visit by Russians, and declared this could lead to top Soviet bosses Nikita Khrushchev and Nicolai Bulganin coming to this country for a state visit.

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty, however, told reporters he knows of no invitation even to Russian air force officers to visit America.

Skin Diver Dies in County Lake; Holiday Toll Low

Drowning Only Major Tragedy in Celebration of Memorial Day

The drowning of a 22-year-old Port Huron man yesterday marred Memorial Day outings in which thousands swarmed over Oakland County roads and visited county lakes and parks.

Sunburn and clogged traffic lanes luckily remained the chief complaints. The absence of any serious traffic injuries or pile-ups was termed "a real triumph" by law officers.

The drowning victim, Duane Amunson, reportedly had been skin diving at tiny Baker Lake, two miles southwest of Holly.

His body was recovered from 20 feet of water at 3 p.m. by Fenton Police, one-and-a-half hours after he disappeared while swimming under water to shore in diving apparatus.

A companion from Port Huron, Vern Masson, 22, said Amunson had suddenly come to the surface, removing his mouthpiece.

Lake Erie Holiday Voyage Erupts Into Teenager Riot

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A holiday outing ended in a voyage of terror for passengers aboard a Lake Erie amusement park vessel last night as teenagers rioted aboard the ship.

Reporters aboard the crowded Canadiana for the 15-mile trip from Crystal Beach amusement park in Ontario to this city described it as "a nightmare of flashing knives and sobbing, frightened" passengers.

Rioting aboard the Canadiana flared up after a day of disorders by white and Negro youths at the amusement park.

Cpl. J. E. Legate of the Ontario provincial police at Crystal Beach was quoted by the Buffalo Courier-Express as saying the disorders were "strictly racial."

But F. L. Hall, general manager of the amusement park, said the disturbance there was "not a race riot."

Six persons were treated for injuries at hospitals in Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont., and at least 10 others were treated for minor injuries at a first aid station at the park.

Provincial police arrested nine Buffalo youths at the beach. Five were Negroes and four whites.

The Negro youths were charged with unlawful assembly and the whites with creating a disturbance. All were released under $500 bail each.

NO CHARGES PLACED

Buffalo authorities took three Negro teenagers into custody when the Canadiana docked here shortly before 11 p.m.

Police said no charges were placed against them immediately.

It was not known what set off the disturbances at the beach. An estimated 15,000 to 20,000 persons, mostly Americans, were reported at the park yesterday.

Margaret Wynn and Dick Hirsch of the Buffalo Courier-Express, who were aboard the three-decked steamship, reported that "nearly 40 white youngsters, several beaten or cut, cowered below decks in the ship's dining room for most of the trip after being attacked or threatened by the many Negro teenagers who made up the majority of the passengers."

Human Bones Flown to FBI

Labs in Washington to Identify Remains Found in Port Huron Creek

PORT HURON (INS)—A pile of human bones and a hank of hair were flown from Port Huron to FBI labs in Washington today to try and establish identification of the sawed-up horror.

St. Clair County Sheriff Ferris P. Lucas said remains of the bones were cut in three parts with a saw. Hands, feet and a vertebral section of the lower back were still missing.

Eleven-year-old Edward Hollis, a freckled-faced sixth-grader, said he saw the bones in Smith's Creek about six weeks ago but thought they belonged to a dead deer.

A more recent visit to his favorite fishing spot revealed the skull and upper section of the body. He ran screaming to the home of his brother-in-law who called police.

Sheriff's deputies dragged the stream and came up with more bones and some hair.

He said the only missing woman in the area who fits the dimensions of the skeleton is Mrs. Dorothy M. Gerkowski, 45, of nearby Marysville. She disappeared Aug. 27, but was not reported missing until March 1.

Sees State Getting Road Law Bonanza

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) says Michigan will benefit more than any other state from the 51 billion dollar federal road building program.

Potter said yesterday the program will give impetus to cement and heavy equipment production in Michigan.

The Republican senator was in Michigan to dedicate Vassar's Memorial Stadium. He was interviewed later at Willow Run Airport.

He said new model automobile production and stepped-up defense contracts will boost employment to an all-time peak in the last quarter of the year.

B & O Train Hits Boulder at Tunnel; Engineer Dies

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio's westbound National Limited plowed into a boulder at a tunnel exit near here early today, killing the engineer. His fireman was missing.

The huge rock apparently had been loosened by heavy rains and rolled down the hillside to straddle the tracks.

The train was en route to St. Louis from New York. Engineer J. C. Riley, 62, of Grafton, W. Va., was found dead in the wreckage. Fireman Paul R. Hooten, about 32, of Grafton, was missing and railroad officials said it was improbable that he could have escaped.

It was 2:22 a.m. when the diesel came out of a 100-foot tunnel just after passing through the community of Cornwallis.

The train was believed to have been traveling about 40 miles an hour, normal for that point. It was due in Parkersburg, 29 miles away, at 3 a.m.

At the mouth of the tunnel, there is a short stretch of land before the railroad crosses Bond Creek.

The National Limited, as customary to help it over mountainous grades in this area, was pulled by two diesels.

The front engine rolled over into Bond Creek from the short bridge, while the second one overturned on land.

The first six cars derailed, but only the first one overturned.

The five sleepers on the rear did not leave the tracks. They were returned to Clarksburg and routed into Parkersburg via New Martinsville, W.Va.

Officials said it would be some time before the main line could be cleared.

* * *

Passengers in the three coaches and railway personnel in the dining and baggage cars were transferred to an emergency car and brought to Parkersburg.

The scene of the wreck is between Parkersburg, on the Ohio River at the western edge of the state, and Clarksburg, in central West Virginia.

* * *

First reports had a diesel mechanic missing, but railway spokesman said no such employe was aboard the train.

William Baum, a mail clerk, was treated here for shock and head cuts, then sent home.

Aged Women Pay Homage to Loved Ones

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Annie Coffey, 97, was up to decorate her husband's grave in the Ashland Cemetery on Memorial Day.

She came all the way from Gadsden, Ala., to perform the ritual she began in 1928. Her husband John died in 1906.

Mrs. Coffee has traveled more than 28,000 miles on her annual trips since moving to Gadsden to live with a daughter.

CACHE, Okla. (AP) — Quanah Parker was remembered yesterday by Topay, the last surviving widow of the famed Comanche Indian chief.

The old and crippled Indian woman visited Parker's grave and said she is "looking forward to joining him."

The great chief died 45 years ago, but Topay, the last of his eight wives, has lost track of her age. She admits to having married Parker when she was 25.

Topay was brought to the Comanche cemetery about eight miles northwest of here at Post Oak Mission. Rolling her wheel chair to the edge of the 17-foot granite monument, erected by the government 30 years ago, she laid on the grave paper floral wreaths which she herself had made in recent weeks.

Then speaking through an interpreter, she told a newsman that "life is not as rich and bountiful as in the old days."

Speeds Confirmed at 500-Mile Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Official final standings were compiled today on yesterday's 500-mile auto race, confirming that Dick Rathmann of Trenton, N. J., had finished 5th just before hitting a wall.

The official standings will determine the split of the quarter-million-dollar prize purse, to be computed today.

1. Pat Flaherty, Chicago, 128.490 mph.
2. Sam Hanks, Pacific Palisades, Calif., 128.303.
3. Don Freeland, Redondo Beach, Calif., 127.668.
4. Johnnie Parsons, Van Nuys, Calif., 126.631.
5. Dick Rathmann, Trenton, N. J., 126.133.
6. Bob Sweikert, Indianapolis, 125.489.
7. Bob Veith, Oakland, Calif., 125.048.
8. Rodger Ward, Los Angeles, 124.990.
9. Jimmy Reece, Oklahoma City, 124.938.
10. Cliff Griffith, Indianapolis, flagged in 497½ miles, end of race, 123.471.

Conrad Beaten by Reid Jack

Last American Falls by Wayside in British Amateur Tourney

TROON, Scotland (AP)—Reid Jack, Scottish amateur champion, knocked defending champion Joe Conrad out of the Brish Amateur Golf championship today, beating the Texan one-up in their 6-hole quarter-final match. Conrad was the only American to reach the last eight.

Jack played some magnificent golf during the afternoon round on the windswept 6,583-yard Troon links, coming from behind after being three down at the end of the morning round. He shot the front nine in par 35 to, lead two-up at the 27 hole turn.

Conrad, from San Antonio, Tex., lost control of his long game, then rallied to carry the match to the last hole. Three up starting the 2nd round, he lost his lead at the 22nd hole, saw Jack go ahead at the 24th, tied it up again at the 25th and then faded to fall three holes behind.

With the match apparently gone, Conrad came back strongly to square it again at the 33rd, only to lose the 35th and the match.

Troopers Increase Speed Radar Sets

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Police announced plans today for putting into operation four more radar units for traffic law enforcement.

* * *

State police first used a radar unit on Telegraph Rd. last December and in 57 days made 983 speeding arrests.

The new units will be used in high accident areas, which were not specified by location.

* * *

It was also disclosed that a new electrical speed watch, a timing device with tubes stretched across a pavement, has also been in service by police after a three-day test in the Lansing area.

A Woman's Logic?

MADISON, Wis. (INS)—Mrs. Erwin Heldt, 23, said she backed her car into her husband's auto "because he bumped into mine a couple of weeks ago."

Storms, Hail Pelt County, Bringing End to Holiday

Windstorms, hail, and brief torrential rains hit portions of Oakland County late yesterday, sending holiday crowds scattering for shelter toward the end of a sunny Memorial Day.

Thunderstorms and lightning skipped through eastern and lower Michigan yesterday, leaving a trail of nervous residents, but relatively little property damage.

A tornado warning issued for the Jackson area sent residents scurrying to basements when skies darkened and winds increased. Major damage, however, was confined to Jackson where a flash flood at Francis and E. Euclid left several autos stranded.

The alert was lifted at midnight with no reports of twisters sighted in the state.

In Detroit, as in many other cities, there were many reports of downed trees, wires and branches. Lightning caused two minor fires, felled wires and shattered show windows. No one was reported seriously injured.

Uses Lincoln Tunnel as Speedway

Leads Police on 2-State Wild-Car Chase

FORT LEE, N.J. (AP)—A Baltimore businessman, arrested for illegal parking in New York City, led police on a wild auto chase across the Hudson River yesterday, ignoring toll gates and bullets as he hit speeds up to 95 miles an hour.

The motorist, Joseph Fisher, 38, suffered not a scratch in the two-state escapade, though his 1956 car now bears 14 bullet holes.

Police said one patrolman was knocked down at the entrance to the Lincoln Tunnel in New York but Fisher halted with three cops standing in his path inside the George Washington Bridge toll gate when he tried to return to Manhattan.

Sixteen bullets were fired at his $7,000 air-conditioned car during the 11-mile pursuit. Fourteen struck the vehicle, one of them going through the windshield.

"I wanted to get out of New York and then in again," Fisher was quoted as saying in explaining why he fled.

MENTAL PATIENT

A fistful of charges were filed against the stocky man. Dr. Eugene Gersh ordered him to the psychiatric section of Bergen Pines Hospital, the Bergen County institution in nearby Oradell.

Dr. Gersh said Fisher told him he had been a patient four times at the Seton Mental Institution in Baltimore and was released only two weeks ago. He is a jobber for his father who operates a clothing firm in Baltimore.

New York and Fort Lee authorities gave this account of the affair:

Patrolman William Culley noticed Fisher's cream-colored car double-parked before the swanky Sherry Netherland Hotel on Fifth Avenue and later triple-parked in front of the nearby Hotel Pierre. He was told the owner had "panhandled $2 from some persons" leaving the Pierre.

WENT FOR COAT

Cully picked up Fisher's license, registration and car keys.

At the 17th Precinct police station, Fisher said he was cold and went out with Culley to get his coat. He jumped in his car and, using a spare key, drove off.

The ride took him to the entrance to the Lincoln Tunnel, where he nearly ran down a patrolman, and out on the New Jersey side where he knocked down a patrolman, James Flannelly.

Then, with three carloads of cops in pursuit, Fisher barreled through a toll entrance to the New Jersey Turnpike, drove to the north end of the superhighway and headed east on Rt. 46.

* * *

He reached the George Washington Bridge, flashed through the toll gate—the fourth one he had passed—and put on his brakes 40 feet inside the entrance plaza as three policemen stepped in his path.

Ike Kicks Off '56 Campaign

President Makes First Speech, Appealing for Republican Congress

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower made his first 1956 campaign appeal for election of a Republican Congress today in a fire-breathing political speech to Citizens for Eisenhower leaders.

He pledged that he will campaign as "energetically and enthusiastically" as possible to help win a GOP victory in November.

Eisenhower also slammed headon into charges that U.S. prestige abroad has slumped under the foreign policy of his administration.

He declared: "I think the prestige of the United States has never been as high since the World War as it is today."

As for the issue of his health, he asserted emphatically: "I was ill last fall. I can only say this—now the only way I know it is the doctors keep reminding me."

The President spoke informally at the Statler Hotel to some 500 persons attending the first nationwide campaign conference of the National Citizens for Eisenhower organization.

He told his audience: "I am a Republican in our two-party system. Consequently to do work best I think it is only logical that the people you give to me as my closest associates be bound to me by party loyalty as well as official and personal loyalty."

The President said frankly that the goals Republicans set for themselves in 1952 at home and abroad have not yet been reached. But he said steady progress is being made toward the twin goals: enduring peace and lasting prosperity.

H. WAYNE GABERT

Gabert Is Appointed to UF Drive Post

The appointment of H. Wayne Gabert as a member of the top leadership of this fall's Pontiac Area United Fund drive was announced today by Campaign Chairman Walter K. Willman.

Gabert will serve as chairman of the Advance Gifts committee of the Commercial division. A Pontiac appliance store owner, Gabert was chairman of the commercial division during 1955's successful United Fund campaign.

He has long been active in Pontiac Area United Fund work and other community activities. Gabert is vice-president of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, as well as a member of the Optimist and the Elks.

The Advance Gifts committee is being reactivitated this year. It was not a part of United Fund campaign structure in 1955. Gabert's committee will call on the management of businesses included in the commercial division to solicit "firm" gifts for the United Fund.

In announcing the appointment City Manager Willman said, "I am very pleased that Wayne has agreed to work on the United Fund campaign again this fall. I feel sure that all Pontiac businesses will want to cooperate with him in making this year's United Fund the best yet."

Detroit Traffic Survey Finished

3-Year Study Suggests Expressway Arteries Extend to Suburbs

DETROIT (INS) — A three-year traffic survey handed to Mayor Albert E. Cobo today recommended 1.5 billion dollars be spent for a new 259.2-mile road building program for metropolitan Detroit.

• • •

The survey was under the direction of Dr. J. Douglas Carroll, a nationally recognized traffic authority, and cost $750,000. It was sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Roads, the State Highway Department, the Regional Planning Commission, the County Road Commission and the City of Detroit.

Proposals in the survey suggest expressways should be extended to a radius of 25 miles from the heart of Detroit.

It proposed that a "stage one priority" be set up for construction of 105.5 miles of X-ways at a cost of $775 million in the next 13 years.

• • •

Presumably the majority of the stage one building would be carried out under a Federal Highway Bill expected to pass soon in Congress.

Atomic Wastes Present Problem

Where to Dump 'Active' Residue Puzzles Plants in Nuclear Work

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (INS) — An atomic energy specialist at the University of Rochester predicts that by 2000 A.D. the U. S. will have an annual disposal problem for some 300 tons of dangerous radioactive wastes.

• • •

G. Hoyt Whipple told the American Industrial Hygiene Association in Philadelphia that some of the possibilities for disposal were burial in dry ground, stagnant ocean deeps, ice caps, and caves and even rockets to the moon.

Ironically, Whipple pointed out, "Oceanographers strongly favor land disposal while geologists show a decided preference for ocean burial."

The nuclear researcher said the disposal problem has "worldwide significance" and demands careful planning because global production of fissionable products will have reached 1000 tons a year by the turn of the century.

Whipple said at present almost all atomic wastes are stored in underground tanks, but they are expensive to install and are subject to leaks, earthquakes and other accidents.

"Members of the ship's crew and private police," the reporters wrote, "vainly attempted to keep order, but when one fight was broken up, another flared in a different portion of the weather-beaten boat."

"Most of the trouble," they continued, "was caused by gangs of Negro girls who walked the deck, attacking and molesting young white girls.

"Firecrackers were carelessly flung at passengers, exploding at their feet. Several received powder burns. Switch-blade knives were brandished. Youngsters were shoved to the deck by the rampaging mobs which rushed back and forth over the decks.

"Many older white persons were segregated by worried crew members. They sat quietly in roped-off sections of the slow-moving ship, attempting to comfort their crying, terrified children."

Found in Chair With Suitcase

Missing Pilot, 60, Rescued

WINNIPEG, Man. (UP)—A 60-year-old Toronto pilot greeted rescue last night sitting in a chair perched on a tiny ice floe which had been his home for 12 days while it drifted through northern Hudson Bay near the Arctic Circle.

• • •

Carl C. Crossley, veteran bush pilot, then picked up his suitcase, climbed into a canoe and helped Cpl. Al Savage of Kamloops, B.C. paddle nearly two miles to a waiting plane which had landed on an ice shelf.

The downed airman disappeared May 19 while flying a pontoon-equipped Norseman from a secret DEW-line base to Churchill, Man., 610 miles north of Winnipeg. He was found Tuesday on an ice pack approximately 10 feet wide off the northern end of Southampton Island, 1,075 miles north of here.

IN GOOD SPIRITS

Crossley was flown 85 miles to Coral Harbor on the southern end of Southampton Island where a public health nurse said he was in excellent condition and good spirits but tired.

A radio message received here said Cpl. Savage found Crossley sitting in a padded aircraft seat, protected from the wind by a tarpaulin. The gear was taken from the Norseman a couple of days after the Toronto airman made his emergency landing on the ice. The plane was later blown away by high winds and it sank.

• • •

Asked if he could walk, Crossley replied "Certainly" and picked up his suitcase and got into the canoe. He has been flying for 40 years.

Mrs. William R. (Eula E.) Harrell, 49, died yesterday in her home, 651 Bow Lane. She had been ill a year.

Born in Tuscola County May 16, 1907, she was the daughter of William and Clara Barrons. The Harrells were married July 14, 1941 in Sault St. Marie.

Mrs. Harrell came here 35 years ago from Wilmot, and was employed by the American Forging & Socket Co. She was a member of the Bemis-Olsen Amvets' Auxiliary and the Land of Lakes VFW Auxiliary of Keego Harbor.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her father, of Commerce; a daughter, Mrs. Charlene Ervin, and two grandchildren, all of Pontiac. A sister, Mrs. Doris Wideman, is living in Commerce.

Service will be at 11 a.m. Saturday from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with the Rev. Henry E. Wrobbel of the Calvary Baptist Church officiating. Burial will follow in Kingston Cemetery.

Mrs. William Kelly

Mrs. William (Anna Mae) Kelly, 90, of 101 W. South Blvd., died Monday in Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of eight years.

Born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., Dec. 31, 1865, she was the daughter of Thomas and Nancy Holt Edmonds, and married William Kelly in Jasper, Ala.

A member of the Macedonia Baptist Church, she had been a resident of Pontiac 18 years, coming here from Detroit.

Mrs. Kelly leaves a stepdaughter, Willa Tennant, and a grandson, Richard Kelly, both of Pontiac; two sisters, Mrs. Susie B. Martin of Gary, Ill., and Mrs. Corrie Johnson of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Kelly's body will be at the William F. Davis Funeral Home from 3:30 this afternoon until 7:30 this evening. It will then be taken to her home to remain there until the service at 2 p.m. Friday in the Macedonia Baptist Church where her pastor, the Rev. L. R. Miner, will officiate. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Michael Walsh

Michael Walsh, 69, of 2306 St. Joseph St. died yesterday morning after a long illness.

He was born on Prince Edward Island, Canada and married the former Katherine Reid.

Mr. Walsh had been a resident of Pontiac 32 years coming here from Port Arthur, Ont., Canada.

A member of St. Michael's Catholic Church, he also belonged to the Holy Name Society of his church and the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

In 1952, he retired from the Pontiac Motor Division where he had been employed in the inspection department.

Surviving are four children, Mrs. Fred Lesperance of Davisburg, Mrs. Leo Davis of Drayton Plains, Mrs. Richard Lane and Mrs. Melvin Skelton, both of Pontiac, 16 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Two brothers also survive, James Walsh of Port Arthur and Sylvester of Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Walsh's body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday. The Knights of Columbus will say the Rosary at 9:30 Friday evening.

The funeral will be at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from St. Michael's Catholic Church with burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Lapeer Area Marks 2 Holiday Fatalities

The Lapeer area recorded two fatalities yesterday, as a tractor crushed a farmer and a Flint man drowned.

Stanley McDowell, 51, of 4607 Klam Rd., Lapeer was killed about 7:30 p.m. in the tractor accident. He was pulling stones from an embankment when a chain broke, and the machine plunged over the embankment backwards, pinning McDowell beneath.

He is survived by his wife and eight children.

Glen Wellington, 43, of Flint drowned in Otter Lake, 20 miles northwest of Lapeer, when a boat he was riding in capsized. Four others were rescued, and a skin diver recovered his body in 30 feet of water.

Gruenther Hits Foreign Aid Cut

NATO Chief Says Plan of Reds to Reduce Army Won't Lessen Peril

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther said today Russian "smiles, happy talk or receptions in the Kremlin" do not justify any cut in President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program.

• • •

The supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Europe said that even if the Russians carry out their announced intention to cut military forces by 1,200,000 men, it will not reduce their capability to launch an attack.

• • •

Gruenther told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that when Germany's full contribution of troops has been added to existing strength, he could give "a reasonable guarantee" NATO forces can "defeat an act of aggression."

• • •

He said five divisions of German forces will be brought under the NATO command by the end of the year, but will require further training. The ultimate contemplated German contribution is 12 divisions.

Roy West to Seek Deeds Nomination

Berkley constable Roy M. West recently announced he will seek the Republican nomination for Oakland County Register of Deeds in the August 7 primary election.

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., a former court clerk, was named to the post last week by three GOP county officials to replace the late Orrin McQuaid, who died suddenly May 15 after 17 years in the office.

West, a former sheriff's deputy and constable of Berkley for the past four years, said in his announcement of candidacy he would maintain McQuaid's staff and established system if elected to the office.

Married and the father of two children, West has lived in Berkley for 15 years and belongs to Oddfellows, Lions and American Legion.

Black Market in Nickel?

WASHINGTON (INS) — Charges that a U.S. "black market" in nickel is threatening to force small metal firms out of business were to be explored today by the Senate Small Business subcommittee.

School Board, Architect Study Derby Furnishings

BIRMINGHAM—Furnishings for Derby Junior High School, which is expected to be completed this fall, are being planned by Board of Education members and school officials.

Nine firms entered bids for furnishing the school at the Tuesday night special meeting of the board.

Pictures, prices and catalogs accompanied the bids, and will take lengthy study, it was predicted.

School officials and some board members, and one of the architects of the new school met this morning in a study session to look over proposed furnishings.

Birmingham and Mt. Clemens lead among cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 population bracket for traffic safety, according to the National Safety Council. Neither city had traffic deaths in the first four months of the year.

Last month's accident statistics, says Police Chief Ralph Moxley, show $7,966 in property damage in 42 accidents and seven persons injured.

Salary adjustments are being contemplated for all city personnel in the 1956-57 budget now under consideration by the Birmingham City Commission.

A preliminary schedule is based on three per cent on salaries, six cents an hour on hourly rates, with a minimum increase of $125 a year. Already reviewed by department heads, the plan will come up at a commission meeting shortly, city officials predict.

The adjustments are in line with changes being made in adjoining cities, officials say. Salaries of department heads will be adjusted on an individual basis for the new budget, according to the plan.

Service for Loren O. Blunt, 412 W. Lincoln, who died Tuesday, will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. He died suddenly in Pennsylvania while golfing.

5 Injured Slightly in Maple Collisions

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Five persons received minor injuries in two of the four accidents reported in Bloomfield township yesterday.

Four Detroit teenagers were injured when cars driven by Mary Bickos, Detroit, and Russell W. Smith, 21738 Wheeler, Farmington, collided at 7 p.m. at Maple and Telegraph Roads.

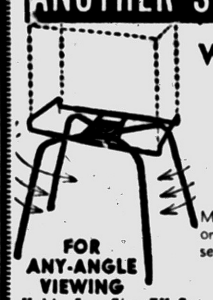

They were Michael Matthews, 13, Francis Karres, Georgia George and Katherine Pappas.

At Maple and Colby at 6 p.m., Mrs. Orville Rust, 558 Muer, Birmingham, received cuts on an arm when her husband failed to stop in time as Barbara E. Teery of Detroit, halted her car at a corner.

Suffocation Causes Death

FLINT (UP) — An autopsy yesterday showed an 82-year-old woman found dead the night before in her home in the outskirts of Flint died of suffocation. Mrs. Minnie Boegner was found dead near an overheated oil burner. Investigating sheriff's officers said the intense heat had melted a nearby clock and radio.

Yonkers Policeman Faces Manslaughter

YONKERS, N. Y. (INS)—A 26-year-old Yonkers patrolman was booked on first degree manslaughter charges early today for fatally wounding a guest at a Memorial Day party while trying to break up a brawl.

• • •

The tragedy occurred last night at the SOS Social Club here. Patrolman Michael O'Hare, who was off-duty at the time, said he fired in self-defense during a free-for-all.

Stanley E. Whiting, 24, of Yonkers, a city forestry department employe, died in Yonkers General Hospital 30 minutes after the shooting while undergoing an emergency operation for removal of a bullet in the abdomen.

According to the police, O'Hare, married and the father of two, had marched in the Yonkers Memorial Day parade yesterday. Afterwards, he attended the party with about 50 fellow American Legionnaires.

The beer party was in high gear both inside the club room and outside on the lawn when a fight broke out inside among Whiting and four others.

• • •

The patrolman was summoned from outside to stop it. Before he could show his shield, he said, the victim and some of the battlers attacked him.

Musical Guild to Talk of Met Opera Threat

TORONTO (INS) — The American Guild of Musical Artists meets in Toronto today to act on general manager Rudolph Bing's threat to cancel the 1956-57 Metropolitan Opera season.

Ontonagon Paper Mill to Create Jobs for Workers Living in Upper Peninsula

ONTONAGON (AP) — The Ontonagon Paper Mill is getting new demands so it can digest hardwood as well as soft.

• • •

The Huss Ontonagon Pulp & Paper Co. will spend three million dollars on the plant.

The rehabilitation and expansion program will convert the mill from a Kraft liuser board cylinder mill to a neutral sulphite semichemical process for manufacturing pulp and container board from hardwoods.

Before the mill became inactive in 1954, it was dependent on softwoods. It formerly was operated by the National Container Corp.

The mill was acquired this spring in a multimillion dollar transaction by the Huss Ontonagon firm, which was organized as an affiliate of the Huss Lumber Co of Chicago.

The semichemical process was developed in 1950 by the United States Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis., and is already in use at some pulp mills in the Midwest.

Alvin J. Huss, president of both the new pulp and paper company here and the lumber firm in Chicago, said the rehabilitation program will include installation of continuous digesters for the semichemical processing, new refining equipment and a new building to house a 176-inch paper machine that will have a speed of 1,500 feet a minute.

AREA SUPPLIES WOOD

Raw material for the mill will include such hardwoods as birch, maple, basswood, elm and beech. The wood will come from both the company's 30,000 acres of timberlands in Ontonagon and Houghton Counties and other sources on the northwestern part of the Upper Peninsula.

Huss said the plant's machinery for use of softwoods will not be used immediately but will be kept intact.

Huss said the company will use the most scientific tree farming methods available. He said a recent survey of Upper Michigan timber resources indicated a residual stand of more than 24 million cords of hardwood pulp available in the Ontonago area.

No date has been announced yet for the remodeled plant to start operation. The old plant employed more than 200 owrkers.

SECOND IN AREA

The Huss Ontonagon operation is the second pulp mill project recently announced for Upper Michigan. The Celotex Corp., Chicago, has announced plans to build a new insulating board mill at L'Anse. The firm purchased several hundred thousand acres of cutover timberlands from the Ford Motor Co. to be operated as a tree farm to supply the new mill.

The Ontonagon Pulp Mill dates back to 1881 when a lumber mill was organized as the Ontonagon Lumber Co. It was sold the same year to the Diamond Match Co. In 1896 the mill was destroyed by a fire that burned the village of Ontonagon to the ground.

Another mill was built in 1923 when the Ontonagon Paper Co was formed to produce Kraft cylinder liner board for corrugated shipping containers. The mill was purchased by National Container in 1946. It was closed two years ago because of the scarcity of softwoods in the region.

Snow Removal Meeting Called

Upper Peninsula Faces Fund Problem Inherent to Retained Fall

ESCANABA (AP)—Though spring is here at last, snow removal is still a weighty problem in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

• • •

It's serious enough so that the Upper Peninsula Road Builders Assn. has had a committee studying the way state funds are alloted for snow removal.

From its survey of an area where it snows hard and lasts long, the committee reported something should be done.

The way snow melts—or doesn't—is the villain. When snow falls in the southern counties of Michigan, it usually melts fairly soon. But in the Upper Peninsula it falls and stays.

60 INCHES NEEDED

To qualify for snow removal aid a county must have 60 inches or more snowfall a season. In lower Michigan counties, even though much of the snow melts in a few days, the total snowfall still counts toward aid.

But in northern counties, "retained" snow makes up much of the cost of snow removal. Accumulated snow has to be plowed many times in a season.

Getting rid of snow is strictly a service. It doesn't improve highways but tends to deteriorate them. Higher snow removal costs means less money available for road building and maintenance. In the process funds shrink so counties can't match federal aid for road work.

• • •

The average householder may pay with only a stiff back to clear snow from his walk. In the Upper Peninsula last winter it cost a whopping average of $130 a mile to keep highways clear.

• • •

The study committee is trying to figure out a more equitable division of funds. It will take up the problem again at the road group's annual meeting at Copper Harbor June 20-21. It hopes to have recommendations ready for the 1957 Legislature to relate the aid formula more closely to Upper Peninsula needs and costs.

Detroit Youth Admits Larceny From Building

Pleading guilty to larceny from a building, James R. Ambrose, 18, of Detroit, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for sentencing Tuesday. He is being held in the county jail on $2,000 bond.

Ambrose was arrested by Royal Oak police, and pleaded guilty at the arraignment by Royal Oak Justice Fletcher Renton.

Russian Predicts Red Trade in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Dmitry Tchouvakhine, Russian ambassador to Canada, has predicted that Russian merchant vessels once again would be seen in New York.

• • •

A reporter remarked that Soviet vessels no longer called here. The ambassador replied:

"You will see them again; they are coming."

• • •

Tchouvakhine said trade between Canada and Soviet Russia was "developing" and that it had grown some in the last two months.

Revoked License Charge Brings Jail Sentence

A Rochester man is serving 30 days in Oakland County Jail on a driving with a revoked license charge. He was found guilty Tuesday at a hearing held by Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback.

LeRoy Houck, 37, had 20 days added to his original sentence when he failed to pay a $25 fine and $15 costs.

Admits Reckless Driving, Gets 30 Days in Jail

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, Robert Carpenter, 27, of 5140 Eastview St., Independence Township, was lodged in the Oakland County Jail for 30 days Tuesday.

The arraignment was held by Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback. He handed down the sentence when Carpenter did not pay fine and costs totaling $100.

Seaton Is an Ace 'Trouble Shooter'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fred Seaton has a reputation around the White House as an ace "trouble shooter." And it's quite certain President Eisenhower had that reputation in mind when he nominated Seaton to be secretary of the interior.

Stocky, affable Fred Seaton is used to dealing with troublesome situations. He has been doing it as a White House aide since Feb. 19, 1955—first as an administrative assistant to Eisenhower and for the last year as deputy assistant.

PICKED ON MERIT

It was from that latter assignment handling liaison with Congress and government departments that Eisenhower picked him yesterday to succeed Douglas McKay in the Cabinet. McKay resigned April 15 to run on the Republican ticket for the U. S. Senate from Oregon, where the power and water policies he developed are a No. 1 issue in his contest against Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse.

Newspaper, radio, television and farm magazine executive, Seaton, 46, is a former Republican senator from Nebraska and has long been active in party affairs. At 26 he was secretary to Alf M. Landon as the GOP presidential nominee in the 1936 campaign. Seaton served in the Senate by appointment for a year after the death of Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry in 1951.

Seaton's face usually is lighted by a warm smile. His thinning light brown hair shows gray at the temples. Five feet seven inches tall, his weight stays around 162 pounds.

A few minutes after his nomination was announced yesterday he professed surprise. But he confided to reporters a bit later that he got the first word of his selection last Thursday. It undoubtedly came from Eisenhower himself.

As for qualifications for his new job, Seaton said in reply to a question that he didn't think he ought to discuss that. He said he is interested in conservation problems and is a hunter and fisherman.

LOVES TO FISH

"I've never been arrested for violating the game laws," he said. "As a hunter, I'm average. As a fisherman, I'm among the world's best. No fisherman is worthy of calling himself one unless he considers himself among the world's best."

His role as a "trouble shooter" who has many friends in Congress has helped get a good many pieces of administration legislation through the Capitol mill. In one case—the first farm bill enacted this year—he reportedly was one of those who urged Eisenhower to veto it.

MET IN EUROPE

Seaton first met Eisenhower in Paris in 1952 when Eisenhower still was supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe and some key Republicans were urging him to run for president. Seaton, then a senator, did too.

Shortly after Eisenhower got into the race, Seaton joined his staff as an adviser who handled many knotty campaign problems. It was during that period that Eisenhower came to admire Seaton and to decide he wanted him in the government.

At the White House, Seaton has had the President's full confidence and easy access to him. Aides to Eisenhower say it was his own idea to pick Seaton for the Cabinet.

NEBRASKA PUBLISHER

Seaton is president of the Seaton Publishing Co., of Hastings, Neb., his home. He also heads the Nebraska Television Corp.; is publisher of the Hastings Tribune, and is president or vice president of concerns publishing daily newspapers in other Nebraska cities, in South Dakota, Wyoming and Kansas.

• • •

His organization also publishes several weekly newspapers and the Western Farm Life magazine with headquarters in Denver. It operates radio stations in Nebraska and Kansas.

Seaton was born in Washington, D. C., Dec. 11, 1909. His father, Fay Seaton, was secretary to Sen. Joseph L. Bristow of Kansas when Bristow appointed a young fellow named Dwight David Eisenhower to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point in 1911.

• • •

Seaton met Gladys Hope Dowd during their Kansas State College days and they were married in 1931. They have four adopted children. Donald, 15, and Johanna Christine, 13, are American-born. The other two are World War II refugees Monica, 10, is French, and Alfred, 9, is German.

Child Star Baby Leroy About to Become a Dad

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Child Star Baby Leroy, who retired 20 years ago at the age of 4, is about to become a father.

Ronald Leroy Overacker, now a lifeguard, said yesterday that he and his wife Patricia expect the child July 15.

As Baby Leroy, Overacker was an infant movie star during the 1930s. He began his career at 8 months. After his retirement he grew up in nearby Alhambra and obscurity with his mother.

Two Weeks of Life Left

Cancer Dooms 3-Year-Old

MENDON (AP) — Doctors say 3-year-old Eileen Hemple, apparently healthy two weeks ago, will be dead in another two weeks from a rare form of cancer which is speedily fatal.

Her ailment has been diagnosed as Wilm's tumor, which affects the lungs and kidneys. It is one of the quickest acting of all cancers.

Eileen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hemple, took the child to a hospital two weeks ago when they noticed a red mark on her back. Doctors sadly announced their diagnosis and sent her back home to live out the few remaining weeks with her family.

The Hemple's have five other children, all boys.

Eileen still plays around the house but is losing weight and growing steadily weaker.

Churches, merchants and neighbors have pitched in to help the family be with the little girl as much as possible in the next few weeks. Hemple is a truck driver.

LONDON (AP)—Lloyd's of London says they're prepared to offer insurance on an atomic power station.

"The risks involved will be little different from those encountered in many modern industrial or power production plants," the British Insurance Assn. reported Monday after Lloyd's men had inquired into atomic energy risks.

Ike Wise in Signing Second Farm Bill

Congress at long last has succeeded in passing and President EISENHOWER has signed a compromise farm bill.

As such it naturally falls short of the Administration's idea of how agricultural policy should be improved. Certainly, its various provisions have the effect of making it impossible for either side to claim political victory in its passage.

From the viewpoints of the President and Secretary BENSON, the bill is a step forward in that it eliminates the rigid price support which had been written into the vetoed bill.

Another gain lies in the fact that it retains the President's $1.2 billion soil bank program. He suffered a setback, however, when Congress rejected his plan for advance payments to farmers this year for withdrawing land from production in 1957.

One of two spending measures written into the bill over Administration objection authorizes use of $500,000,000 to bolster the prices of perishable foods. Another adds $200,000,000 to the current program for disposal of surplus goods to the needy overseas.

But the President can point out that the bill increases farm aid a total of $1.9 billion. He also can emphasize its features he opposed, including the boost in the support price on feed grains, fought by dairy, hog and chicken farmers.

The truth is that the bill is the best compromise that could be obtained in the present session. We believe the President was politically wise in signing it.

Litterbug Fines Favored

Our guess is that no area in the country will give more enthusiastic approval to the idea of a nationwide war on litterbugs than Oakland County.

Certainly no county can suffer more in loss of beauty from unsightly litter along its highways or in its public parks. The fact that over the years there has been a gradual decrease in the practice of using side roads and even main highways as public dumps, in no way alters the attitude of good citizens.

Here, as well as over the country generally, an overwhelming percentage of the people wants to keep America beautiful. A Gallup poll just completed shows that on a nationwide basis 86 per cent of those questioned favored fining litterbugs to the full extent of the law.

One thing anti-litterbug leaders have learned, however, is that the mere passage of laws won't solve the problem. Enforcement is almost a superhuman task and the only hope of success is the co-operation of all citizens.

Oakland County residents do a fairly good job of keeping litter to a minimum. But we can do a much better job of helping to keep America beautiful by making sure that our own highways and byways are free of trash.

Let's resolve here and now never to be a litterbug!

Red China's Stalling

It has become more and more apparent as the weeks go by that Red China has been stalling on the release of Americans still held by Peiping.

Last September at Geneva, China's spokesman promised U. S. Ambassador U. ALEXIS JOHNSON that these prisoners would be allowed to go home "expeditiously." Between then and now 28 of 41 Americans known to have been in Communist China's jails were permitted to leave the country. No move has been made, however, toward releasing the remaining 13.

U. S. suspicion that our nationals are being held for blackmail purposes has been strengthened by the latest development. It came in the form of an unjustified Peiping demand that all Chinese held for any cause in American jails, be freed as the price of the 13 Americans' release.

Our Government has complied to the letter with the Geneva agreement. Everything was done to facilitate the return to their homeland of those few Chinese who wished to go. It therefore has every right to expect that Red China live up to its bargain.

It long has been known that Red China seeks U. S. recognition and admission to the United Nations. Its stalling in the matter of the American prisoners is further proof it isn't yet ready to keep its international commitments.

NOT all of the younger generation are being pampered. A lot of them are required to walk to and from school—if the distance doesn't exceed five blocks.

Local Council Stands 7th Among 100 in Its Region

Footwork: What aids a man in a fight; also in keeping away from one.

According to the annual report of of Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts, only seven of the 100 councils in Region 7 now have a larger membership. This region comprises the states of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin, and we are in competition with councils in such cities as Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis and Milwaukee.

Covering most of the area of Oakland and Macomb Counties, Clinton Valley Council had a boy gain in membership the past year of 24.7 per cent. It now has passed the 10,000 mark in boys and adults identified in its membership.

Although it has been cited on a number of occasions for the excellence of its work, our council operated the past year at a cost of $4.04 per boy, as compared with an average of $9 per boy in the entire region.

David Lawrence Says:

Survey Shows Labor Rank and File Now Favoring Election of Republican

WASHINGTON—Peace and prosperity and the broad issues of a relatively contented electorate are more important politically today than the narrower interests of groups such as labor union partisans.

This is the plain meaning of the latest survey conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion under the direction of Dr. George Gallup. It shows that for the first time in 20 years the majority of the labor union members responding to the survey now favor the election of a Republican rather than a Democratic nominee for the presidency.

After the 1936 election the Gallup survey found that only 20 per cent of the labor union men voted Republican and in 1940 and 1944 it was still only 28 per cent and in 1948 it slipped back to 26 per cent. In 1952 it went up to 39 per cent and today the Republican nominee gets 54 per cent.

This is a phenomenal jump upward for the Republicans and completely reverses the 1952 survey figure when Stevenson got 61 per cent of the labor vote. Today Stevenson shows 42 per cent and there are 4 per cent who are undecided.

What has happened in the last four years evidently is a steady swing toward the Republican nominee and his party by the labor voters not because they are less interested in trade union issues but because they are influenced more by broader questions such as economic contentment and international peace or, as in 1952, in making their protest against bungling of the Korean War and corruption in government under the Democrats.

The theory that the labor union members vote as their leaders tell them to vote holds good only to a degree. This pressure doesn't influence them all to go to the polls when they have no protest to make and likewise it doesn't persuade the wives of union members to vote against an administration which is trying to keep their sons from being drafted for actual combat in war.

The latest Gallup poll is confirmation of one of the oldest axioms in national politics, namely that basic and elemental factors of the broadest kind influence an electorate of more than 50,000,000 voters. Highbrow arguments to which the so-called "intellectuals" so often attach great importance do not radiate very far into the electorate.

DEMS LOSING ISSUE

Also the attempt to scare the people into thinking that Russia is outstripping us in air power and could defeat us makes headlines and is widely printed, as it should be, when it comes from authoritative sources, but it's going to be hard for the Democrats to convince the country that a man who has given most of his life to military service has suddenly become careless about or indifferent to the nation's safety. The argument merely boomerangs.

The truth is the Stevensonites and the other Democratic aspirants are annoyed because they aren't making headway with this issue among the voters generally. They have tried also to confuse the people by arguing that the nation's foreign policy is weak or rudderless or contradictory but the number of people who care about anything else but the main achievement—the avoidance of a shooting war—is relatively insignificant.

The Gallup Poll as just announced is the most sensational piece of political news printed in a long while. It is no surprise, of course, to professional politicians or to those who have studied intimately and objectively the course of many national campaigns. But it will be a surprise to those labor leaders who think that the vote of the rank and file in America can be controlled by a few men whose speeches on national issues either favor appeasement of Communist Russia or else the expenditure of more taxpayers' money to buy the goodwill of governments like that of India which profess not to know whether or not the Communists are cruel aggressors and ruthless colonialists or just crusaders for some form of state socialism.

Labor leaders will have difficulty trying to prove that the Republican party is hostile to the workingman when there are more people employed today and at higher wages than at any time in the history of the United States.

Substantial Nourishment: Fried Mush for Breakfast

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

You will not find mush mentioned in the outline or pattern for the basic health, regeneration, corrective, protective or reducing diet described on p. 43 of Little Lesson 16, The 7 Keys to Vite, (for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope). But I need substantial nourishment in order to carry on, not only for the knock-down and drag-out affairs on the bowling green but also for the battles I have to fight almost constantly these days in order to stay alive here or there, when the interests emphatically wish I were dead, and the people who keep telling me they wouldn't miss this column remain discreetly silent when or if it no longer appears. And so I go for fried mush, for breakfast.

The mush I rave over is made of coarse, yellow preferably freshly ground corn—ground in a hand or power mill for domestic use, such as those mentioned in the pamphlet Wheat to Eat. You may have this pamphlet upon request (clipping of this item will not suffice) if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

When I order fried mush for breakfast, hold the syrup. I do like a wee dab of butter on it, but if the mush is crisp and brown I won't complain about the butter shortage. On second thought, please bring me some syrup. I'll pass it along to someone who plays hard or does honest work. I do no honest work and therefore I cannot profitably use sugar, candy, or syrup.

Some poor geeks who might enjoy fried mush as much as I do eschew it because they think it is too rich, difficult to digest, heating or something, and as for crude yellow corn meal freshly ground at home, they're a little afraid it isn't fit for human consumption unless the big mills have purified and prettied it in dainty packages.

Here's a letter from a lady in Virginia, where, I hope, corn pone is still a staple of the diet:

"Dear Dr. Brady,

We have read your column for years and we use many of your remedies. I wish it were required reading for every young mother.

I want your baby book for my daughter-in-law with her first baby. I enclose 35 cents and stamped envelope bearing her address.

May you live many years and keep up the good work. You have so much good to say—why waste space with sarcasm?

Sincerely,

(Signed) ....."

Tell me, Ma'am, is it sarcastic to refer to people who think yellow corn meal unfit for human consumption as poor geeks?

It would be easy to feed you a daily ration of soft soap and sympathy, but I'm afraid it would make dull reading and, if you read it anyway, fill your mind with morbid notions.

Some readers forget that this is a health column. A newspaper is not the place to discuss medical subjects that may give a lot of reasonably happy people something to worry about.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Voice of the People

Readers Present Views on Physicals in Schools

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am afraid the writer of a letter in Wednesday's paper has forgotten one thing. No matter how many physical examinations our children have, whenever Almighty God calls them, whether they are in gym, in the cafeteria or walking down a street, they will pass on.

Another point I would like to bring up is that according to health books our children are supposed to have an examination twice a year. This boy's parents did have him examined a few days prior to his attack, but the Lord called him and his parents realize that he was ready to answer the call.

My only regret in writing this letter is that neither your letter nor mine can help the grieving parents of this boy to forget. There is nothing that either of us can do except to offer our sympathy and let the subject of physical examinations before gym lie until someone else is ready to do something about it.

Still Another Parent

We should put into effect a program of physical examinations for our children in the schools. It could save a child's present and future health and possibly even his life.

To be excused from a gym class a student at Pontiac High School must have a doctor's written excuse at the beginning of every semester. Having to do this is not only a waste of time but also a waste of money.

Perhaps if we had already given such examinations the boy who died of a heart attack playing basketball in the high school would be here today. To those who feel that the program would be too great an expense, I can only say to ask the parents of that boy how much they think it would have been worth.

Today, we as parents, citizens and even as taxpayers must stop shutting our hearts to our fellow men. Today, more than ever, we must learn to be more tolerant and generous to each other if we expect our country to hold together, not to be divided into classes or casts.

Ivan A. Gill

Hey, Another Parent. I'll bet if that had been your son, you wouldn't be so sharp with the words. You and the lady who got so hot about having to pay a little money to straighten the curve should get together, or are you already relatives?

You probably wouldn't yell nearly so loud and long if you had to pay extra for your cup of coffee. But what's saving lives to a cup of coffee?

By the way, I'm a young parent, and I wouldn't let someone with your attitude take care of my dog, let alone raise my children.

Baseball, Race Relations

Natives of the South Seas Take Up Modern Ways

By JIM BECKER
(For Hal Boyle)

HONOLULU (AP) — The dreamy, unsophisticated South Pacific is no more. The island natives, via radio and war-gained knowledge, are strictly up to date.

Loin-clad baseball teams sporting pitchers with a wicked curve, school teachers strictly up on the racial situation and natives who turn down cigarettes of the wrong brand are the things that travelers find now.

SAILORS CHALLENGED

The Navy destroyer escort Whitehurst found the baseball team on a palm-rigged atoll named Lukunor. The chief of the island challenged the sailors.

The bases were made of palm leaves and driftwood and there was an outrigger canoe in centerfield. The natives had no gloves or shoes and their uniforms were loin cloths, but they could play baseball.

Lt. (jg) Tom Kelleher from Salem, Mass., the ship's athletic officer, got up a team of pretty confident sailors—until they got to bat.

The natives won 7 to 4.

"The only reason we got any runs at all was because their second baseman couldn't field a ground ball," Kelleher said.

The lieutenant struck out the first time up, and singled the second. It was the only really solid hit the sailors got.

"I never saw anything like that pitcher. He had a really wicked curve," said Kelleher, who played three years of college ball.

David B. George of Honolulu, back from an eight-month cruise in the South Seas, said he visited an island in the Fiji group that hadn't had a white man on it in 20 years.

HOW 'BOUT IT, MAC?

A native walked up and asked him:

"Mac, how are you handling the racial problem in the United States, now?"

The native was a school teacher and an avid listener to radio newscasts.

In the Cook Islands groups, George reported that the natives turned down his offers of cigarettes.

"Wrong brand," he explained. "The Army had an air base there during the war and the natives got spoiled. Anyway they didn't like these filter tips."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Spoil Children With Allowance; Give Them Opportunity to Earn Money

Donnie is on an allowance, so he grumbles and hates his parents. He blames them whenever he runs out of funds. So use scientific psychology and teach children to earn their spending money. Then you prepare them for life and eliminate their gripes, for they can blame nobody but themselves.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-370: Donnie P., aged 11, is grumbling about money.

"Dr. Crane, we don't know what to do," his harassed mother protested.

"His Daddy and I read a magazine article a year ago in which it stated that the experts in child psychology advise giving a child a weekly allowance.

"Well, we gave Donnie an allowance of 50 cents per week. But now he is angry at us. For he says all the other kids get more than we give him.

"So the 'allowance plan' has caused him to grow bitter at us and dissatisfied. What else should we do?"

PROOF OF THE PUDDING

The real experts in child psychology do not recommend allowances for children. Some sentimental writers who have no children of their own and theorize from textbooks, may suggest allowances.

* * *

But we trained psychologists recognize that a child should learn that money stands for sweat and work, callouses and maybe tears of self denial.

Allowances are simply a family dole. They are gift money. And you Bible scholars know what happened to the Prodigal Son when he got gift money.

And life makes no allowances for anybody!

So why create the false notion

LET CHILD EARN MONEY

It is obviously wise for children to have money so they can get used to handling it and buying shrewdly.

But offer them jobs, not a family dole (allowance). Pay them fairly. Don't spoil them, either, by giving them $1.00 for a job that normally is a 50 cent task in the neighborhood.

And don't spoil baby-sitters by drunkenly handing them more money than the prevailing wage scale in the area.

Beginning at kindergarten, set a list of duties that come under the heading of "pay jabs."

As children grow older, they can wash windows at 5 cents or 10 cents per window. Piecework is an ideal arrangement to use with children when possible.

* * *

Mowing lawns, raking leaves, washing or polishing the car, shining Daddy's shoes, massaging Mamma's scalp, ironing the flatwork, doing the weekend cleaning, etc., can be included.

You will soon find that your children don't get angry at you parents under this pay-for-work arrangement.

CEILING UNLIMITED

For then they have an unlimited ceiling on their weekly input. If they want more money than 50 cents per week, as Donnie does, then they have only themselves to blame for they can easily earn $1 or even $5.

As long as ample jobs are available, if they are too indolent to earn more money, they must gripe at themselves, instead of at Mamma or Daddy.

Furthermore, they become much better bargain hunters when they spend the money which they have actually earned. They think twice and even thrice.

"Easy come; easy go," is the rule with gift money (allowances). But with earned wages, the child thinks "Hard come; hard go."

Send for my booklet "Correct Strategy for Child Rearing", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents in coin (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Mitchell Lauds Ike's Policies

Says Working Man Now Has Level of Well-Being Unequaled in History

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The working man, in the words of Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell "has a level of well being unequaled in history"—thanks to the Eisenhower administration.

• • •

President Eisenhower's "hand-picked executives" have reduced spending, cut taxes and removed "oppressive controls from the economy" the secretary told a $100-a-plate Republican dinner Monday.

"The beneficiaries of this sound and workable policy are America's 65 million wage earners," he asserted.

'A CLEAR GAIN'

He said that between 1944 and 1952 when the Democrats were in power, workers were given the impression that they were getting an average wage increase of $21.89 a week. However, Mitchell contends, the real spendable weekly earnings of a single man dropped $1.88 a week because of inflation and taxes. But now, on an average weekly wage of between $78 and $80 a week, "the worker has received a clear gain of about $6" since 1952, he contended.

• • •

The labor secretary said the Eisenhower administration has engineered a legislative program which has extended social security to 10 million additional workers and has benefitted another two million by increasing the federal minimum wage to a dollar an hour.

• • •

But, Mitchell said, a Democratic Congress has knocked out Eisenhower proposals to improve the status of 40 million workers. He added that such Eisenhower proposals as equal pay for equal work regardless of sex, the first ever made by a president in a State of the Union message, "have disappeared in congressional committees — committees controlled and guided by Democrats."

Germany Ready to Outfit Navy for Baltic Duty

BONN, Germany (AP) — For the third time in this century a new German navy is taking to the seas.

• • •

By 1959 it may be a hard-hitting force serving as West Germany's naval contribution to the Atlantic Alliance. Its main task will be to guard the Baltic Sea, Russia's gateway to the Atlantic.

• • •

Germany's first navy, built before World War I by the Kaiser, was defeated in World War I. The Germans themselves scuttled most of what was left. Germany's second navy went down under World War II Allied bombardments of Germany's harbors and naval bases.

The new navy will be unique in many ways. All in all, it will number 170 ships manned and serviced by 20,000 men. No ship will exceed 3,000 tons displacement, excepting a training vessel of 4,500 tons.

There will be a number of destroyers, each with a tonnage of 2,200 and crews of from 250 to 280 men. The speed of these ships will average around 34 knots. They will be armed with new-type guns usable against aircraft as well as against ships.

Detroit Pooches Rush Mailmen for 108 Bites

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 49,000 dogs successfully attacked the city's 2,566 mail carriers 108 times during 1955.

Two of the mail carriers bitten during the year were nipped "indoors." In both instances, the carriers had their fingers in a mail chute when Fido struck.

Clifford C. Nunn, safety director of the Detroit Post Office, said 15 bites occurred "above the knee and to the rear."

Other statistics compiled by Nunn showed 77 bites needing medical aid; 12 resulting in disabling injury and 26 working days lost because of bites.

National Casualty Ads Said to 'Misrepresent'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has ordered the National Casualty Co. of Detroit to stop what FTC called misrepresentation of the benefits of the firm's accident and health insurance policies.

By a 3-2 decision, the FTC adopted, with modifications, a hearing examiner's finding that the company had misrepresented in its advertising the duration of its accident and health insurance policies, the extent of coverage and benefits, and the physical requirements for policy holders.

The FTC majority also held the company misrepresented the amounts paid in connection with surgery.

Syria Holds Wheat

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria today banned the export of Syrian wheat to France or Algeria. The measure followed press reports saying Syrian merchants recently shipped 9,000 tons of Syrian wheat to France and Algeria for use by French forces fighting Arab nationalist rebels in Algeria.

Minister Flubbs Dial for Recorded Prayers

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—This is the gospel truth, if not the Gospel: When you dial 3-5000 in Boise you get Mrs. Eva McReynolds, not a recorded prayer.

• • •

Mrs. McReynolds' telephone has been ringing steadily since last Sunday, when a Boise minister announced that by dialing 3-5000 you would hear recorded prayers played on the 'phone by an automatic device.

• • • •

But he got his telephone numbers mixed. Number 3-5000 is Mrs. McReynolds' telephone. The correct numbers for the prayer are 3-0000 and 3-3000.

So Think Scientists

WASHINGTON — Green surfaces on Mars, astronomers believe, are caused by a scanty water supply melting from the poles, which quickens some form of vegetation. Vast reddish-ocher areas are thought to be desserts, says the National Geographic Society.

Coldwater Foundry Makes Human Body Spare Parts

COLDWATER (AP) — Spare parts for the human body come off the assembly line at the same foundry that makes machine tool and aircraft parts.

• • •

The Midwest Foundry in Coldwater is one of two firms in the country to make a metal ball and socket used to replace diseased or injured hip joins.

The other is the Austenal Laboratory Inc. of New York, which pioneered manufacture of the device using an alloy of cobalt, chromium and molybdenum.

Midwest Foundry also used a special alloy with cobalt as a base. Unlike most metals, the alloy has no unfavorable reaction in the human body. The ball and socket made of it operate normally with human nerve, tissue and bone.

Roland S. Banister, manager of the foundry, said Midwest was selected to produce the ball and socket joints on the basis of a questionnaire circulated by the distributors.

LOST WAX METHOD

Technicians at Midwest had to meet rigid specifications of surgical houses. The parts are produced by what is known as the "lost wax process."

The parts are first shaped in wax from which a mold of ceramic material is made. The wax is burned out of the mold—or "lost" — and molten alloy poured into the cavity. Then the investment mold is broken open to release the alloy castign.

The average ball section of the joint is about two inches in diameter. It has a four-inch tapering shank or prong to keep the ball in place at the top of the femur or thigh bone.

The joint must be cast with a minimum of surface pitting, as any crevice could be the source of a fracture or rupture of the hollow alloy ball. The parts are polished to a mirror like surface because the alloy is under constant attack by body chemicals.

• • •

Midwest's major production is in cast parts for aircraft, machine tool and appliance industries. But it also makes other surgical equipments such as cranial traction hooks, bone clamps and spreaders.

• • •

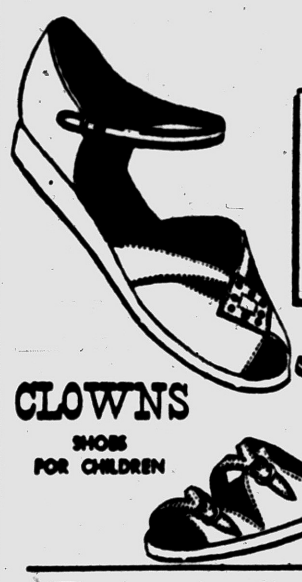

"Production in items such as the prosthesis never will be very high," said David W. Stackhouse, Midwest design engineer. "But we're proud of the foundry's contribution to medical science and human welfare."

Prowess in Political Affairs Shown by Red Orthodox Leader

METROPOLITAN NIKOLAI

NEW YORK (AP)—Metropolitan Nikolai, Russian prelate who arrives here Saturday as the guest of U.S. churchmen, has shown his prowess in Soviet politics. He has tried to put the Russian Orthodox Church behind all the twists and turns of the Soviet government's foreign policy.

• • •

Nikolai heads a delegation of Soviet church leaders who will spend 11 days in this country. They are returning a visit that a nine-member delegation of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, headed by the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, made to Russia in March.

RELIGIOUS ENVOY

Nikolai has represented the Soviet Union abroad and in foreign affairs more frequently than any other Soviet religious leader. A few years ago his voice was raised almost as frequently as Pravda's in condemnation of the United States. Before Stalin died he said:

"The greedy tentacles of the octopus across the ocean are trying to engulf the entire universe. Capitalist America, this fanatic prostitute of the new Babylon, having established a world marketplace, is trying to seduce the peoples by pushing them into war . . ."

• • •

When Nikolai arrives here this weekend, he undoubtedly will speak for the let's-be-friends attitude that Georgi Malenkov, Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin have been promoting in their trips abroad.

• • •

If Nikolai is reminded of some of the things he said earlier, he likely will take the same line Communist leaders take in similar situations — that it is better to forget the mistakes of the past and look to a better future.

Nikolai is No. 2 man in the Russian Orthodox Church. Its leader is the Patriarch of Moscow, Alexei.

Defense Services Only Carrying On Old, Old Debate

(Following is the first of a two-part series recalling past instances of interservice bickering and reviewing the latest flareup of military rivalry.)

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — A zealous pilot who dropped a sack of flour on an Army command post more than three decades ago probably touched off the airman-soldier wrangle over military missions.

The argument—stemming from pride of service and sincerity of purpose—has lived on. It is still here, new only in the cast of characters and the stage setting of guided missiles, jet planes and atomic weapons.

ANGER DEVELOPS

Details of the flour sack incident—the time, the place, the man—have been crowded from the record by all the angry words uttered since.

As weapons and the art of war have changed, so have some of the doctrines and aspirations of the services.

The Army today has its own "organic aviation," planes and helicopters used for a variety of missions of the battlefield, including the airlift of small units of troops and the resupply of forward battle positions.

It has more. Today the Army has missiles—short-range rockets, antiaircraft guided missiles, medium-range bombardment guided missiles, a 300-mile range ballistic missile—and a project to build one of 1,500 miles range, the Jupiter.

• • •

Within the Air Force there is feeling that all this new flexibility of the Army means it is stretching its mission to intrude upon that of the Air Force.

• • •

The growing Navy carrier program and the expanding heavy bomber project of the Air Force have added fuel to the fire.

GENERALS TALK

Two top air generals recently pointed up the argument before congressional committees.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chief of the strategic air command, says that in strategy-making "we never are able to plan definitely on the fleet because we don't know where they are going to be."

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, based his attack on two contentions:

• • •

1. The range of carrier-based planes "is relatively short" compared with that of land-based bombers.

• • •

2. "We must be realistic about such factors as the probable location of the carriers, as well as the amount of striking power they could contribute (to the strategic air offensive), which is small."

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, reiterates the Navy's publicly proclaimed position—its "primary role" is to maintain control of the sea. Threats to that control, Burke contends, may exist in various forms, like submarines, planes or missiles.

Autopsy Scheduled in Death of Youth

An autopsy will be held in the death of a Hazel Park youth who died in Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital yesterday after a Tuesday night fall from a stalled car.

William Owens, 15, of 20490 Mitchell, reportedly landed on his head when he tumbled from the bumper of a car being pushed. According to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Owens, he returned home, watched television, and went to bed.

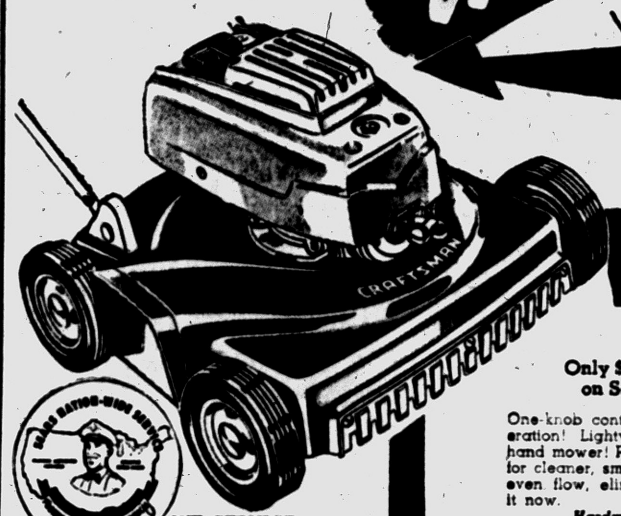

He was taken to the hospital later when he became incoherent.

Parke, Davis to Move In

Ann Arbor OKs Resolution to Permit Research Center

ANN ARBOR (AP)—This city has paved the way for the proposed construction of a 10 million dollar Parke, Davis Medical and Pharmaceutical Research Center on the University of Michigan's north campus—the cornerstone of a contemplated 300-acre research area for private organizations.

* * *

The city council, meeting informally, passed a resolution of intent Monday, unanimously approving the annexation of the 300 acres of university owned land, disclosing plans by Parke, Davis for the research facility.

Spokesmen for the university said Michigan was prepared to offer an option to buy 56 acres of the land to Parke, Davis and Co., a Detroit pharmaceutical firm, for the project.

Wilbur Pierpont, vice president in charge of finance for the university, said it would be the first step in a research area devoted to private research organizations working with the University.

He said that in original university plans, the area was thought of as "a place for the encouragement of research activities allied to our own activites" in the areas of engineering, pharmacy and medicine.

The proposed plot is located on U.S. 12 (Plymouth Road) bordering the city in Ann Arbor Township.

Mayor William Brown asked Pierpont if other organizations had contacted the university for the use of the research area. Pierpont answered, "Yes—we've had discussions with some others, but this is the largest one we've had."

Pierpont said the facility would employ 300-400 highly trained personnel. The city council passed a resolution declaring it to be in the best interest of the city to assist in the location of the facility in Ann Arbor by annexing the land, providing essential services and cooperating in any other ways to make the project a success.

Mayor Brown said, "I certainly think we should do everything to land them here. I certainly know we will not be without competition."

Pay Hike for Jurors Ruled Out by Law

A 1929 state statute will have to be amended before Pontiac Municipal Court jurors can receive a commission-approved $3 pay hike, City Attorney William A. Ewart has told the commissioners.

On May 1 the City Commission instructed Ewart to prepare a resolution to raise the pay of the jurors to $6 per day.

Further investigation by the attorney showed this would be in violation of a present state law, which Pontiac operates under, making $4 maximum pay.

The commission is slated to ask the city's state representative in Lansing to see if the legislature would amend the act to make the maximum $6.

The kilts worn by Greek Evzones (soldiers) sometimes contain more than 40 yards of material.

NON-SHAGGY DOG STORY — In Crawfordsville, Ind., when Charles T. Stephenson yells "Next," it's quite likely that his boxer, "Toni," will leap into the chair. Sometimes Toni gets the works, both a haircut and a little tonic, as shown above. Stephenson claims she always waits her turn, and doesn't try to exercise the "ladies-first" prerogative.

They Have Some Claim

DULCE, N. M. (AP)—The Jicarilla Apaches have hired a research group to establish boundaries of land they claim was theirs when the United States appropriated it. They want compensation for land lying, roughly, between the Continental Divide and the eastern border of New Mexico and from the Arkansas River in Colorado south to an east-west line through Albuquerque.

Mediterranean Has Known Wars for Years

WASHINGTON — The blue Mediterranean Sea has witnessed so many world-important events and shaped the destinies of so many nations that its story reads like a novelized gazetteer.

* * *

Magnificiently scenic and deceptively placid, this vast near-lake separating Europe and Asia from Africa has been called the "Cradle of Civilizations," "Highway of History," and "Sea of Troubles."

Current emphasis is on the troubles, as nationalist revolts and border tensions make news from French North Africa to the British island colony of Cyprus and neighboring Arab - Israeli states of the Near East. But there is hardly a square mile of the strategic land-water area that has not, at one time or another, known military or trade conflict and rivalries, and, conversley, periods of high achievement and progress.

The key to historic events of the Mediterranean region lies in basic geographic factors, says the National Geographic Society.

MIDDLE OF THE LAND

Stretching more than 2,000 miles from Gibraltar to the Suez Canal, this almost tideless sea since time immemorial has offered an easy and accessible link between the many and varied peoples along its shores. Its very name means "in the middle of lands."

A jagged coastline of deep inlets, bays and sub-seas has provided an endless succession of good harbors to shelter and launch navies and merchant fleets. Mild climate, with sunny summer days, starry nights and steady winds, encourage pioneer sailing.

Thus the science of navigation developed naturally in Mediterranean waters, beginning with the island-hopped in crude log dugouts made from once abundant forests in the area.

In medieval days, powerful city states — Pisa, Genoa, Ragusa and Venice — sprang up along the northern arms of the sea. Growing rich on maritime trade, they poured into European markets the East's spices, silks and other exotics carried by caravan to Syria, Turkey an Egypt.

In Italy the Renaissance bloomed and scattered its seed over the rest of Europe. From Spain and Portugal in the west, fleets of discovery and settlement sailed for the Western Hemisphere.

Meantime, other chapters of Mediterranean history were being written by invading Norse seamen and barbarians from central Europe; by clashing Saracens and Crusaders; by pirates who long preyed on the sea's rich shipping.

The growth of European interests in African exploration and colonization during the latter half of the 19th century gave the Mediterranean new importance as a supply and communications route.

The Crimean War of 1854-56 (England, France, Turkey and Sardinia against Russia) spotlighted strategic stepping stones and bottlenecks, such as the Dardanelles Strait leading to Russia's only southern outlet, the Black Sea.

Completeion of the Suez Canal in 1869 cut an exit at the eastern end of the Mediterranean and made the sea an invaluable short cut for world shipping and a "life-line of empire" for the British.

World War II found the Mediterranean a battle theater on its largest scale, when British and American troops fought Axis forces along the southern shores, and, victorious, leaped from North Africa to take Sicily and fight their way up the Italian peninsula.

Since the war, the United States' continuing interest in this part of the world has been underlined by duty tours of the American Navy and by the establishment of scattered bases on both sides of the sea.

Florida Bus Boycott Gathering Momentum

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A Negro boycott of city bus service has been judged about 50 per cent effective after one day of operation.

About 200 Negroes met Tuesday night and voted to boycott the buses until seating of white persons and Negroes on predominatly Negro lines is made on a first come, first served basis. They also want Negro drivers on the predominantly Negro lines and what they termed more courtesy from white drivers.

Unemployment for Americans is lowest between ages 35 and 44.

But Girl Eventually Beats Mechanical Rival—for Awhile

Man's Love for Car Puts Woman in Shade

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—There is scarcely any sight on earth that can make the throat choke up with more emotion than the spectacle of a grown man showing off his new car.

• • •

Here is man, unmasked . . . immaturity with physical stature . . . silly grin stamped on a proud body . . . true love and a power-steered chassis.

"Well, what do you think of it?" says the man, clutching casually at the door of his tin romance.

You shrug your shoulders and the sun goes out of his life. Possibly, so do you. But never the car.

• • •

God made man, and General Motors made the auto, and every time the twain meet, women for awhile fade into the background—creatures who were put on earth only to praise or shut up.

NEVER SO CLOSE

A boy and his dog were never so close as a man and his car. Boys always acknowledge their mothers.

• • •

What makes grown men such fools about automobiles is not for such as us to analyze; but such as us will, anyway, because we are annoyed.

We were introduced to a revolting sunshine yellow and black convertible with chameleon seat covers some time ago and the memory has not worn off yet.

"Here she is!" said the owner, adding affectionately (to her, not us), "Baby. What do you think of her?"

• • •

"Well!" we said, which was the most considerate statement to be made.

A LITTLE LOUD?

"Just what do you mean by that?" inquired the yellow and black man.

Discretion, nuts. "It's a little loud, isn't it?"

"Loud!" he exploded like a Model T in cranking. "This is the quietest little baby you ever heard. Purrs like a kitten, this kid. Hop in, I'll show ya."

We hopped, too, because every woman has to hop into a new car—particularly a convertible — or she's considered a sedate old spinster with no adventure in her soul.

And we purred at 70 m.p.h. across the parkways (officer, you goofed) till it was proved that baby was not loud, and man was absolutely insane.

There have been other experiences since: Watching the fellow in the purple sport shirt cut them down on Queens boulevard in the powder blue foreign sports car; seeing a respectable, conservative newspaper editor fly out to Flint, Mich., to pick up the hottest new sports Buick; observing the pink-cheeked boys matching Cadillacs and homburgs.

• • •

Fortunately for the female sex, the infatuation between a feller and his sexless amour wears off, usually after the first week (though to a certain class of men, cars will always be closer than girls regardless of their respective mileage. These are known as hydramaniacs, or idiots.)

LOYAL WOMEN

Then, in the ensuing six months, a woman becomes attached to the car—because that's the way women are, loyal, kind, and suckers for habit. And the man begins talking like this: " 'Ja see Al's new Jag? That's for me. Old Baby's just about had it . . ."

And the woman says, "What do you mean? There are only 9,000 miles on Old Baby."

But man prevails, of course, and along comes that glorious day when a lavender load pulls up to the curb. "Well, what do you think of it?" he says.

• • •

Kavanagh Comments on School Bus Rule

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh has held that local school boards have broad powers in arranging public transportation for students, including the power to contract with parents for transportation by private auto.

Answering a series of questions from Oswald G. Casanova, Iron County prosecuting attorney, Kavanagh said the establishment of school bus routes is strictly the power of local school boards, subject to review by the State Department of Education.

Kavanagh said a school district board can require parents to transport children at their own expense to a regularly established school bus line.

• • •

He also held a board cannot be required to furnish public transportation to an isolated pupil even though the pupil lives on a well-established county or state road.

Cruises Started

OSCODA (AP)—Sightseeing cruises were started yesterday on the Au Sable River between Five Channels and Cooke Dam. Two daily trips are scheduled during June. The boat will make four daily trips during July and August.

State Liquor Agency Schedules Hearing

LANSING (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission states it will hold a public hearing on state liquor laws at 8 p.m. June 11 in the city county building at Sault Ste. Marie.

Under state law, the Commission must hold two of the hearings annually to give the public a chance to air complaints about liquor laws.

The commission said it will discuss the laws and then give visitors a chance to ask questions.

Monaco Joins U.N. Observers

Gambling Principality Joins Japan, Korea and Other 'Lookers-On'

UNITED NATIONS (INS)—Princess Grace's new Riviera domain, the principality of Monaco, will henceforth be represented at the United Nations.

The U.N. has disclosed that the tiny gambling principality, site of the wedding of the Philadelphia film star and Prince Rainier III, has decided to send a permanent observer to the 76-nation world organization.

This will place Monaco in the same diplomatic category as Japan, Korea, West Germany and Switzerland, which are not U.N. member states but maintain observers there.

Monaco will be represented by Marcel Palmaro, counsul general in New York. The state already is a member of the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) and the World Health Organization.

Prince Rainier personally visited the U.N. last January while on a bachelor tour of the U.S., and just before announcement of his engagement.

UM Fills Scholarships Except—One Indian

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Another sign of the Vanishing American:

• • •

The University of Michigan had only one unused general scholarship out of 1,500 available this school year. It was to cover tuition for an American Indian.

Ivan W. Parker, secretary of the committee on university scholarships, said the university had placed four of the five American Indian scholarships available. He said as many as 65 applications were received for each of the 1,500 available scholarships.

200 Youngsters to Perform for Public

Fourth Annual Recital Due at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Over six-hundred persons are expected to attend the fourth annual ballet recital here at 8 p.m. Friday, starring nearly 200 area youngsters.

The recital, sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department and climaxing 32 weeks of classes, will be held in the Waterford Township High School Auditorium.

A trip around the world will be portrayed in colorful dance and songs. Along with the bright and gay costumes, band music will help create atmosphere for visits to the North Pole, "Land of Fantasy," Japan, Ireland, France, Sweden, Hungary, Holland, Poland, Spain, Russia and back to Michigan.

Carol Wolfe, recreation department director and instructor for ballet, reports: "This recital should be the best and most colorful yet."

Tour of Kitchens, Rummage Sale Set at Rochester

ROCHESTER — A Kitchen Tour is scheduled by the Woman's Society of St. Paul Methodist Church for June 6, with friends and guests invited to attend. It will begin with a coffee hour at 9 a.m. in the church dining room followed by a tour of seven outstanding kitchens.

Mrs. J. W. Davis and Mrs. Johnson R. Newell are in charge of ticket sales and will be assisted by each circle chairman.

Plans are being made for nursery service at the church house during the tour.

* * *

The Woman's Society will hold a rummage sale at the Plassey Garage Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. Proceeds will go to the building fund.

Two-Day Rummage Sale to Be Held at Rochester

ROCHESTER—To raise money for its anual scholarship fund, the Rochester Woman's Club is sponsoring a rummage sale at the John Plassey Garage at 440 Walnut St. Friday and Saturday, from 9 a.m. both days.

Mrs. L. L. Whims and Mrs. James Hosking are in charge.

Named for Degree

James Warren Hulen of Auburn Heights has been named by the Alma College registrar as a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts with majors in Business Administration and economics and a minor in French. During his four years in college, he has been a member of the Economics Club, Intramurals, Sports Writer for Almanian, and Alma Christian Assn.

Schedule Holy Hours

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A holy hour will be conducted at 8 p.m. today in St. Patrick Church and preceding the first Friday of the month. Confessions will be heard from 4 to 5 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9 p.m., Thursday. Holy Communion will be distributed Friday morning during the 6 o'clock Mass and again at 8:30 a.m.

Imlay Bible School Opening on June 4

IMLAY CITY — The Congregational Church will conduct a Vacation Bible School starting Monday and continuing through Friday, June 15, from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Sunday School rooms. Children who will begin kindergarten next year, through the 7th grades are urged to attend.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Organizational Meeting at Avondale Junior High

AVON TOWNSHIP — The second organizational meeting of Avondale Junior High PTA will be held Monday June 4, at the school, at 8 p.m.

District Director Mrs. Mark Goddard will preside and by-laws and nominating committees will report. Officers will also be elected for the 1956-57 school year.

Parents having students in the junior high or who will have a student there are especially invited to attend.

Brandon Township

The Township Schools PTA here installed officers for the coming year in the recent meeting which was the final one of the school year.

Those who took office were: Leland Grovenstein, president; Aldor Wepfer, father vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Waite, mother vice president; Mrs. Frank Sherman, teacher vice president; Mrs. Dale Burt, treasurer, and recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Kessler.

Accepting Registrations for Rural Bible Camp

LEONARD — Registrations are being accepted for 10-year-olds to attend the Rural Mission Camp at Gull Lake during the third week of June. Mrs. Marion Sutherby, superintendent of the Dryden Methodist Sunday School, has urged that those wishing to attend enroll with her without delay.

Ann Arbor Policeman Killed in Auto Wreck

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An Ann Arbor policeman who was to be married Saturday was killed today when his patrol car smashed into a steel light pole in downtown Ann Arbor.

Patrolman Leonard W. Allen, 23, of South Lyon, was dead on arrival at University Hospital. He was riding alone.

Six Seek Posts on School Board

Troy Residents Warned Register by Friday for July 11 Election

TROY—Six candidates are seeking two posts that are open on the Troy board of education.

Deadline for registration is Friday, officials warned voters, and the election is set for July 11.

Two three-year terms are open, one vacated when Louis Hildebrant died May 2, and the other to be left by Mayor Frank Costello, who is not seeking re-election. Mayor Costello is currently board president.

Seeking the post are Lloyd A. Stage, 3437 Alpine; Wilfred R. Schultz, 6074 Livernois; Mrs. Edwin B. (Dorothy) Reed, 3128 Talbot;

Gene Johnson, 2649 Crooks; Ben Jones, 4053 East Square Lake Road; and Clark D. Gill Sr., 2531 Elbow Lane. Gill operates a drug store in the Big Beaver area.

Almont Church Schedules Future Events

ALMONT — Dates for future events were scheduled by the First Congregational Church evening fellowship at a recent meeting.

The Vacation Bible School of the church will be held June 18 - 29, it was decided.

The last two weeks in July was set aside for the Girl Scouts Day Camp.

Camp for the senior and evening fellowships will be held July 8 - 13 at Pilgrim Haven, and camp for Sunday and Bible School teachers will be at the same place, June 24 - 30.

Farmington Gardeners to Hear Talk Monday

FARMINGTON—The Farmington Garden Club will meet at 1 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Robert Crooks, 4090 Twelve Mile Rd., Novi.

Telephone Reappears

HOLY CROSS, Ky. (AP) — This little community is about to get telephone service with the outside world after a 15-year interruption. Long-distance phoning was ended when the operator quit. Now a new company is hiring a new operator.

Deny Petition Asking Halt of Gravel Work

Petition for a temporary injunction halting the gravel - mining operations of F. S. Ward Co. in Waterford Township was denied Tuesday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Waterford Township attorney John W. Bell said the question of a permanent injunction against the company will be tried at an early date.

The suit was brought after the gravel-quarrying company leased property which was zoned for residential use to expand its operations.

Bell said the company's original operations on residential land had been allowed by the township because they had started before passage of the zoning ordinance in 1951.

PADDY ANN McBRIDE

Dr. and Mrs. John Russell McBride, 914 Liberty St., Lapeer, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Paddy Ann, to Frank Wallace Jefferies, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace Jefferies Jr., of Hinsdale, Ill. Miss McBride will be a June graduate from the University of Michigan, where she is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta. Jefferies is a junior in the School of Medicine at the University of Michigan where he is affiliated with Sigma Chi and Nu Sigma Nu. The wedding is planned for August 18.

Father-Son Banquet Saturday at Oakwood

THOMAS — Thomas OES will sponsor a Father and Son Banquet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the OES Hall at Oakwood.

Troy Aligns School, City

Education Board Votes Release on Two Areas Beyond Limits

TROY—Troy's school district should all be within the limits of the city and township, board of education members believe.

To achieve this, they are requesting the Oakland county board of education to turn over a 100-acre section valued at $28,000 in Macomb county to Utica Public Schools.

A resolution for the transfer was voted at a board meeting at the high school Tuesday night. At an earlier meeting, members voted to turn a section of 40 acres in Avon township over to the Rochester Public Schools.

There are only two students in the Avon section who would be switched from Troy to Rochester schools and only a few in the Macomb county section.

Opening of bids for additions to Troy No. 2 Elementary and Troy Junior High Schools, set for this week, has been postponed until next Wednesday night.

Bidders had requested the extension for more time for estimating costs of construction.

An instrumental music program may be the only youth activity sponsored by the schools this summer.

A recreation program held other years with the township and United Foundation sharing the school's expenses, is not planned for this year. Residents had voted down a millage allotment to support recreation activities.

The music studies will be for six weeks and will be in classes from 9 a.m. to noon daily, board members decided.

U.N. Command Excoriates Reds

Issue Blistering Note Calling Flagrant Breach by Korean Overseers

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command said today it is calling off all operations of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in South Korea and pulling in a blistering statement accusing the North Korean Communists of armistice violations and the Czech and Polish members of the commission of covering up illegal Red activities.

U.S. Maj. Gen. R. G. Gard charged the Communists had used the commission "as a blind" behind which to illegally move jet fighters and other war materiel into North Korea.

The United States early this month told its Korean war allies steps should be taken soon to abolish the commission. Both the United States and South Korea have long charged that the Communist North Koreans have prevented the truce team from working effectively to check armistice violations.

Broadway Star of '20s Reveals Sixth Marriage

NEW YORK (AP)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, a Broadway glamor girl in the 1920s, has disclosed she married her sixth husband three years ago.

• • •

Before sailing yesterday aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth, Miss Joyce appeared before newsmen with her husband, banker Andrew C. Meyer of New York and Woodbury, Conn.

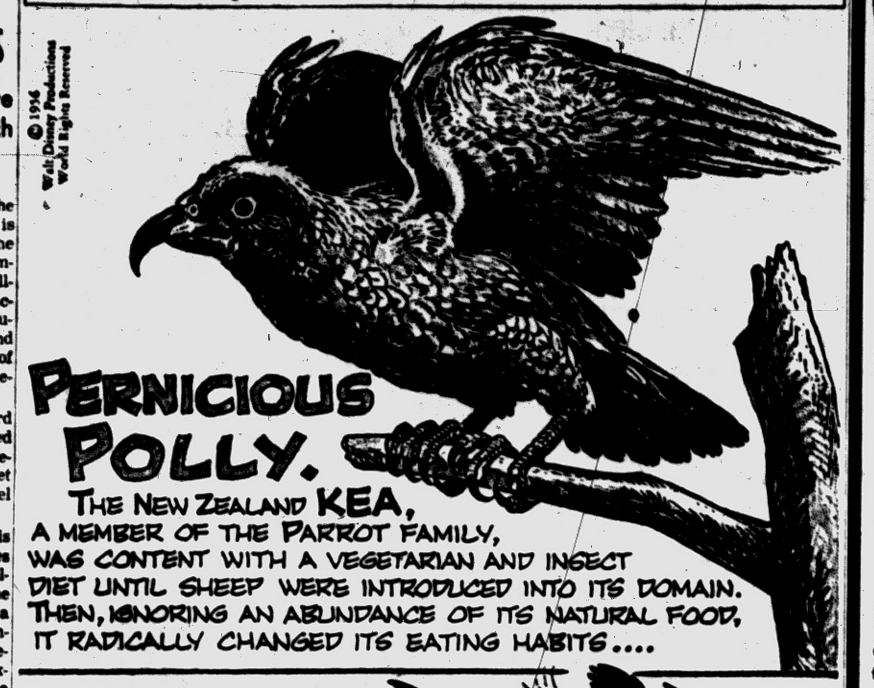

• • •

Miss Joyce, generally believed to be well along in her 60s, said she and Meyer were married in Lucerne, Switzerland, in 1953.

"We kept it a secret until this morning," she said.

Meyer said it was his first marriage.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

Sees Small Chickens

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Poultry specialist Edward F. Godfrey says chickens who make breakfast eggs in future years probably will weigh less than four pounds each — not five to seven pounds like the ones today.

Godfrey told a poultry producers meeting that feed will be more efficient and hens will consequently be smaller and able to lay 240 eggs annually.

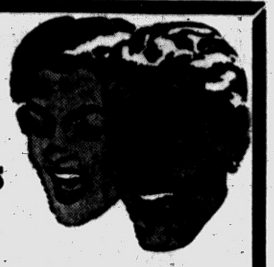

Worcester, Mass. claims that the cotton gin, sewing machine, power carpet loom, steam calliope, and street lunch cart were invented there.

Medicine Costs Millions

NEW YORK—The total prescription business in United States drug stores rose to $1,233,600,000 last year, a jump of 15.4 per cent above the previous record, reached in 1954. Independent stores did most of the prescription business — $1,112,000,000 worth compared with chain stores' $121,600,000.

DOUBLE TAKE — The interest seems to be mutual in Paris as an exhibit and a bearded visitor come face to face at Paris' Galerie d'Orchy. The man is getting an inside look at the mounted head, and the fish appears to be surprised by the visitor's bearded chin. The museum was exhibiting deep sea photos, equipment and souvenirs.

Waits for Hatching of 2nd Rare Crane

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Audubon Park Zoo director George Douglass took up his rooftop vigil today, waiting to see whether a second whooping crane egg hatched during the night.

* * *

Douglass noted through his binoculars late yesterday that the second egg was cracking.

The first of the two eggs hatched Tuesday and the first whooping crane ever born in captivity emerged from its shell. Douglass said it appeared in good condition and was gaining strength.

Storms, Rains Sweep Across Central States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather hit sections of Kansas and Oklahoma and rainy weather extended from eastern Colorado over wide areas eastward into New England today.

* * *

Severe thunderstorms broke out last night along the eastern border between Kansas and Oklahoma. Funnel clouds were reported from north of Oklahoma City northward to near Hutchinson, Kan., and eastward to the Missouri border.

Electrical storms and strong winds swept areas in southeast Kansas. Rain was heavy in some sections. Showers and thunderstorms continued this morning from eastern Colorado through northern Arkansas, western Kentucky, southern and central Indiana, into Lower Michigan and around most of the lower Great Lakes region.

Light showers fell in central New York and in parts of Central New England. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were reported from the mountain areas of southwestern Idaho and in northern Oregon and central Washington.

Cooler air moved into the northern Great Lakes region, the upper Mississippi Valley, the northern and central plains and the eastern slopes of the northern Rockies. Strong winds, with showers, accompanied the cooler air as it pushed into the eastern Dakotas and western Minnesota.

Battle Creek 'Fails'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Butler (R-Md) predicts the Federal Civil Defense agency's national headquarters will be shifted back to the Washington area by the end of the year. He says its present location at Battle Creek, Mich., "just hasn't worked out."

Jury Reaches Verdict in County Jail Death

A six-man coroner's jury this morning returned a verdict of death by coronary thrombosis in the death in Oakland County Jail May 21 of Jim W. Brown, 33, of Walled Lake.

Deputy Coroner Isaac W. Prevette originally diagnosed the cause of death, and pathologist Dr. John J. Marra of Pontiac General Hospital confirmed his diagnosis.

Brown, who was in jail awaiting trial on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, was found dead in a washroom by fellow inmates. Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons requested the inquest.

Submarines have been captured by cavalry and rammed by trucks. They have fought battles with infantry and railroad artillery. One wank a Zeppelin; another was attacked by an enraged Turk in a rowboat.

4 Sought by Police for Assault on Clerk

The victim, William Lambouris, claimed the youths entered the store at 501 S. Saginaw St. about 6:30 p.m. in what he thought was a holdup attempt.

One of the youths brandished a nickle-plated pistol at him, Lambouris said, with which he reportedly struck Lambouris on the head from behind as the clerk walked to the cash register.

Scientist Says Weaker Parent Sets Child's Sex

LONDON (AP)—Medical researcher A. B. Maxwell came up today with a new idea for predicting the sex of unborn children: The weaker sex—husband or wife as the case may be—usually reproduces its own.

* * *

Writing in the doctors' journal "Medical Press" of Cambridge University, Maxwell said he reached his conclusion from a study of 60 pairs of parents with three or more children each. He said his research showed:

One group of exceptionally strong and healthy men, each married to a delicate wife, produced 75 daughters and 6 sons.

* * *

A second group of strong, robust women, each with a delicate husband, had 84 sons and 10 daughters.

A third group in which both parents were strong and healthy, had a total of 70 sons and 66 daughters.

Youths Admit Burglary of Boys Club Quarters

Two 16-year-old Pontiac boys this morning admitted to the breakin of the City Boys Club early Tuesday according to Det. Otin E. Hoffman.

The pair is held at the Oakland County Juvenile Home, Hoffman said.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1956 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN, SEVENTEEN

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING — It's a pleasure for air travelers to use the Flint Bishop Airport because of the modern facilities offered there. Shown above is the new administration structure built in 1953. It contains a dining room, coffee shop, rent-a-car services, Capital Airlines ticket counter, and a large waiting room. It cost $450,000 (includes tower) while another $120,000 was spent for parking lots and other improvements around the building. Airport jitney service is available between the field and downtown Flint eight minutes away.

HEADED FOR NEW YORK — Three 5,000 foot runways allow Capital Airlines to employ DC4's and Constellations at the Flint municipal airport. The field has 10 DC4 and two Constellations flights daily. One flight is non-stop to New York. Shortness of runways at Pontiac Municipal prevents commercial service from coming into the local field.

Flint, Like Pontiac, Met Need to Expand Airport

EDITOR'S NOTE — The article below is the last in a Press series devoted to the Pontiac Municipal Airport and its future chances of growth to meet the needs of Oakland County. In today's article the Press examines similar problems faced by Flint leaders in establishing Bishop Airport as one of the state's outstanding fields.

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

FLINT — Behind the beautiful and modern Bishop Airport here is years of endeavor on the part of city officials and its manager for 22 years, Clyde E. Cole.

Everywhere one glances around the 580-acre site, the most up-to-date airport facilities can be seen. Its ultra-modern waiting room sitting below the control tower is enhanced with colorful interior decorations.

The field, eight minutes from downtown Flint, embraces three 5,000 foot runways on which large Capital Airline DC4's and Constellations come and go with ease.

Hope that someday Pontiac will rank alongside Flint's field can be realized from listening to Cole explain the long and tedious effort that led to Flint's success.

"It's a long process," he said. "In the early days nobody at the City Hall wanted to hear about the airport."

"Now it is a complete reversal as everybody is realizing the airport is a very important city function today," Cole added.

Manager Homer D. Hoskins of the Pontiac Municipal Airport is today working towards a successful airport improvement program in the city.

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, state aeronautics director, classifies Bishop Airport as one of the most "ideal" for its size in Michigan.

The most recent improvements at the field, the administration building and tower, were paid for by a $600,000 revenue bond act approved by the Flint City Commission. The airport was dedicated in 1953.

Despite its fine position in airport classification, Flint is not standing still. Plans are in the offing to issue another bond act to increase its east-west runway to 2½ miles in anticipation of jet-propelled commercial airliners.

Cole attributes much of the success in overcoming city official apathy towards airport improvement to the establishment of a 15-man Airport Advisory Committee.

Set up in 1954, the group consists of such top city officials as the mayor, city manager, city director of finance, city attorney, superintendent of public works, and Cole.

A representative of the Flint Chamber of Commerce, the Jaycees, a union official, a member of the Genesee Road Commission, an attorney, and four industrial leaders in the city comprise the rest of the group.

They act as a liaison between Cole and the City Commission and convey recommendations of the manager to the commissioners. "The commission has accepted every recommendation of mine without reservation," Cole added.

Homer Hoskins said he sees no need for such a committee in Pontiac and does not believe it would help the local development situation.

Hoskins' recommendations go to City Manager W. K. Willman who refers them to the commissioners for study.

"I feel that the chain of command here is the most efficient," Hoskins said. "I am not saying this setup doesn't work fine at Flint but I believe if you get too many people involved you get bogged down."

Unable to secure commercial flights out of Pontiac because of runway length limitations, many city residents travel to Flint to make their flight connections.

With the construction of the new building and tower, yearly revenue at the field shot from $35,000 to between $90,000 and $100,000. The building alone produces $17,000 in income.

There is a large dining room facing the field, a coffee shop, lounges, two rent-a-car services, ticket counter for Capital, and airport administration offices.

The airport site off Bristol Road was donated to the city by Arthur Giles Bishop in 1934 for whom the municipally-run field was named.

Cargo flights totaled 44,245 (inbound and outbound) in April while air freight numbered close to 25,000. Mail service is also a vital part of services afforded at the port.

Two flying services are based at the field along with many corporation-owned aircraft.

Many other Michigan cities send representatives to visit the Bishop field to study the expansion program and facilities here.

"No city can be condemned for spending money on its airport," Cole emphasized. "In two or three years results will begin to show because of the expenditures."

"For the sake of the community the city airport cannot be neglected today," he concluded.

Boating Rules Simple, but They Can Prevent Tragedy

Safety means smooth sailing — or motoring.

That's the word from the U.S. Coast Guard and experienced pleasure boat skippers to the estimated 25 million persons, including thousands of Oakland County residents, who will be spending their leisure hours and vacations on the water.

But the growing popularity of recreational boating has raised the question among safety experts of the Institute for Safer Living as to the extent of recognition of the need for personal safety precautions and facilities to be available in the 5½ million pleasure craft operating on U. S. waterways this year.

Spokesmen for the institute, an accident reduction group of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co. of Boston, point out that rules for safety on the water can be divided into two parts.

The first safety factors to be considered are mechanical or navigational ones involving the boat itself. These factors are best acquired in three different ways.

1. A safe and respectful attitude toward the craft which you are operating.
2. Thorough knowledge of the waters in which you are operating.
3. Experience in the use and handling of such craft.

The second part concerns personal safety, or if an accident does occur, the ability to administer swift and efficient first aid. The limited storage space on the average small pleasure craft is no excuse for omitting an emergency medical kit anymore than to omit medical facilities from the largest coastwise steamer, according to the institute experts.

Most leading first aid supply dealers provide a special marine or boating first aid kit. Also, such a kit may be readily assembled by including the following items from your local drug store:

a. Petrolatum jelly and mineral oil, sterile in fold-up metal tubes.

b. Antiseptic — sealed swabs of Iodine 2 per cent, Metaphen, Merthiolate, or equal.

c. Aromatic spirits of ammonia, liquid or ampule.

d. Assorted bandages — includes triangular bandage, an inelastic tourniquet, gauze dressings, and "Vaseline" sterile petrolatum gauze dressings for burns.

e. Also include 4-inch scissors, splinter forceps, and a first aide textbook (Red Cross) Store all materials in a waterproof metal container with an inner and outer case to be sealed by a rubber gasket so that contents are fully protected against all elements.

Remember that proper first aid knowledge and equipment is doubly essential for boat enthusiasts because a doctor cannot always be reached immediately in case of injury.

Liberal Arts Comes Into Own

Wanted: Graduates --- Any Kind

Employer competition for Joe College of '56 has proved entirely too fierce for comfort at most engineering schools. It is making schools of business administration very happy. It is delivering an overdue thrill to placement departments of liberal arts colleges.

* * *

It is even bringing corporation scouts to women's colleges seeking Joe's sister Betty for the type of management training course formerly limited to men.

These are some of the preliminary highlights of the 21st annual survey of U.S. college placements now in process by Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

Engineering seniors, shuffling through an assortment of the earliest job offers on record, have often been bedazzled by the glamor of big name companies, especially those in the "Buck Rogers" fields —guiled missiles, electronics, etc.

They have refused even to look over the literature of excellent but less well-known firms, which have canceled their recruiting schedules at some schools because they couldn't get enough seniors interested to justify sending an interviewer.

At many engineering schools the recruiting firms have outnumbered the available seniors. So the rising tide of demand for college-trained men assures good jobs for practically all graduates in business administration courses.

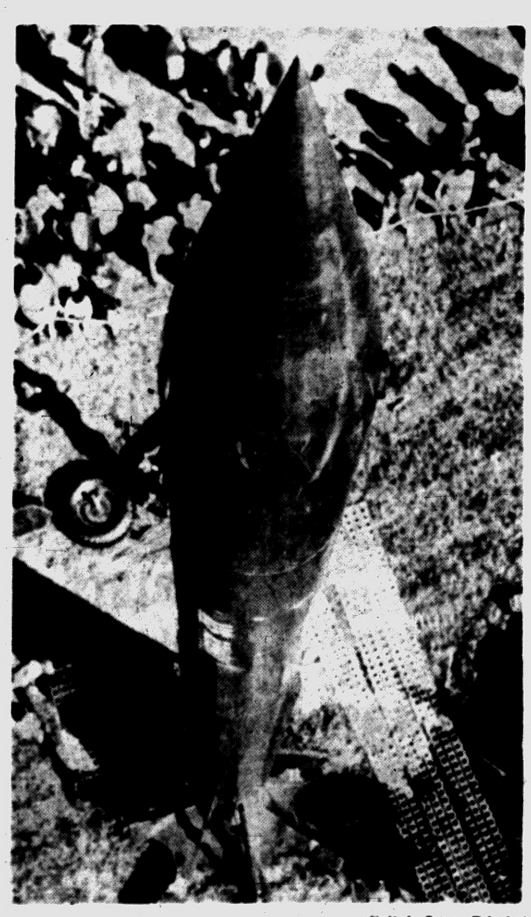

The simple mathematics of the situation has forced a fresh appraisal and a growing appreciation of the worth of the liberal arts man as a future business executive.

And corporations are taking the career aspirations of the woman graduate seriously. Some 50 firms are sending recruiters to Columbia's Barnard College for women this year. Some of the women will be placed in management training courses usuall limited to men.

Starting salaries will be up again, all along the line, the preliminary report says, but because this year there is the widest range of offers on record—the same senior at New York University reported offers varying from $370 to $460—reliable averages for the 1956 classes are yet to be calculated.

MIGHTY MISSILE — Dwarfed by the huge lethal weapon, Swiss crowds study the U. S. Army's guided missile "The Corporal" during the two-day International Air Show at Zurich. Nine countries participated in the exhibition, sponsored by the Swiss Aero Club of Europe. The Corporal, armed with either an atomic or high explosive warhead, will enable Army field commanders to strike deep into the enemy's rear — far beyond the range of ordinary artillery.

TWA Pilot Praises New Soviet Jet Liner

MOSCOW (AP) — "They've really got themselves an airplane," said pilot Gari Ketcham of Clifton, N.J., after hitching a ride on Russia's prize TU104 jet passenger liner.

Ketcham, a TWA relief pilot on international runs, was the first American to get a brief spin in the plane which caused a sensation when it appeared in London last month. Several Western reporters previously had been ushered through the craft, however.

Ketcham, 27, had read newspaper accounts of the Soviet plane and came to Moscow determined to get a look at it. Much to everyone's surprise he did.

He went out to Vnukova Airport yesterday and managed to talk his way onto the plane through pilot Boris Bugviev, whose friendship he had made hanging around the airport since he arrived.

Ketcham said he was spending today with Bugviev and that the Soviet airman planned to visit him soon in Clifton.

The American's determination to get a look at the jetliner was publicized in Western newspapers and apparently caught the eye of Soviet officials. Otherwise it is doubtful he would have first gotten a visa and, second, won himself a ride. Observers pointed out that Westerners rarely strike up casual friendships with Soviet jet pilots.

CWACK TROOPS MARCH — A squad of four-day-old ducks moves over a tiny bridge in the miniature garden at Chessington Zoo, England, looking much like a file of troopers moving into enemy territory. Queried in duck language about why they used the "aqueduck" when they can swim, they wise-quacked about the lack of water by saying, "We didn't want to get our feet wet."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A WATCH

A watch is a useful thing if you know how to tell the time. Here is a Junior Editor playwatch that you can make if you follow the directions carefully.

Color the watch and the bracelet and then paste the picture on strong paper. Cut out the two parts of the watch. If you want to use the small hands shown here, cut them out carefully and fasten them to the center of the dial with a small brass fastener, with the head on the outside and the prongs — well flattened down — on the inside. The diagram "E" shows you how the watch will look with the hands fastened on. Then paste the front and back of the watch together so that they match exactly.

If you decide not to use the separate hands you can mark the time on the dial as shown in the diagram "F."

Now cut out the two parts of the bracelet. Put the end marked "A-1" through the slit at "A" and fold back under, as shown in the diagram at the bottom. Put the end marked "B-1" through the slit at "B" and fold under. Try it on your wrist for size and paste these ends under so it is a good fit.

Cut the slit at "D" and slip end "C" through it, folding the tab so it will be inside against the wrist. Now your watch is finished and you can put it on.

(D. Brant, Gray, Pa., first sent us this suggestion. Perhaps you have some suggestions for Junior Editors. If so send them in care of this newspaper, and they may win you $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Automation to Miss Small Businessman

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Automation and other modern means of mass production will have no serious effect on the status of small business as a whole in the U. S., said a University of Michigan expert in this field.

• • •

Where automation can cut costs and serve a mass market, it will probably accelerate consolidation of small business interests, says Associate Prof. William M. Hoad, of the school of business administration.

• • •

At the same time, however, it will create new markets for sub- and super-standard products which cannot be mass produced and, by increasing the standard of living, will create new demands for trades and services which small business traditionally fulfills.

McClellan Hits Foreign Aid Plan

Maintain $4.9 Billion Reduction Would Assist Air Force Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) suggested today that money cut from President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid budget could be used to finance a faster buildup of U.S. air power.

• • •

McClellan is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, now working on a defense budget of nearly 33½ billion dollars which some air power exponents contend may not assure supremacy for U.S. air strength over Russia's.

The budget for the year starting July 1 calls for roughly 15½ billions for the air force, 10 billions for the Navy and 7½ billions for the Army.

NOT SATISFIED

McClellan, a vigorous critic of past foreign aid policy, lined up with those calling for more money for air power. The issue has touched off a new interservice row in the Pentagon, with echoes in Congress.

McClellan declined to give a specific figure he thinks the Air Force should get. Sen. Chavez (D-NM), head of an Appropriations subcommittee handling the defense budget, has predicted the full committee will vote to boost the Air Force budget by one to two billion dollars and perhaps vote more money for the Army too.

"We should emphasize Air Force strength," McClellan told a reporter. "I am not at all satisfied with the progress being made. It should be accelerated, and we should provide whatever is needed."

• • •

He said foreign aid should be considered separately from the defense spending problem, but that reduced foreign aid could make more money available for defense.

SYMBOL OF AN ERA 'SPEAKS' — A stone lion at foot of Nelson's Column in London's Trafalger Square appears to use battery of loud speakers set up for a public meeting. Ironically, the meeting at the symbol of empire was held by a movement in behalf of Cyprus.

Evangelists Send Tracts to Sea in Corked Bottles

WASHINGTON—The world's oldest messengers—ocean currents—are being used today as long-distance couriers more than ever before.

• • •

The United States Navy Hydrographic Office and the Fish and Wildlife Service cast sealed bottles and plastic "drift cards" into the sea at various places to trace the course of important currents.

But there is a more romantic side to oceanic delivery service. On Christmas night, 1945, a young soldier returning from European duty in a Liberty ship wrote a wistfull letter saying that he was lonely. He sealed the note in a bottle and threw it into the Atlantic Ocean.

Next September the youth, then a civilian, received a letter from Ireland. An Irish colleen, while walking her dog along the rocky beach of Dingle Bay, had found his note and been touched by it. Corresponding through more conventional channels ,they fell in love. The postal suitor flew to Ireland to claim his bride.

A California beach stroller in 1949 picked up a bottle with a fabulous note inside. Written in 1937 by an English millionairess, the letter directed that her entire estate be shared beetween her lawyer and the finder of the bottle.

EVANGELISTS SEND TRACTS

During the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, a fisherman found a bottle bearing an important political secret. As a result, the Queen appointed an official "Uncorker of Bottles." She made the reading of bottle messages by unauthorized persons a hanging offense.

Evangelists have long taken advantage of the ocean currents. An Alabama minister has tossed more than 30,000 bottles into the Alabama River to be carried out to sea. The bottles contain copies of his sermons. The Merseyside Bottle Evangelists, an organization in Liverpool, England, enclose tracts and scripture quotations in containers. These are given to missionaries to be cast into the ocean in all parts of the world.

At one time the United States Navy rewarded finders of its "drift cards" with small sums of money. Now they are given a chart of the area where the message was found. The story is told that the finder of a bottle off the coast of British Somaliland duly received his chart but because of its size believed it to be a check for a huge amount of American dollars. He was disenchanted when the bank refused to cash it.

Israel Grows Fruit

JERUSALEM — Israel produces some 300 varieties of 30 kinds of fruit. At a recent exhibit in Haifa 50 varieties of citrus fruit were displayed along with about 50 varieties of grapes, 30 of apples, 20 of olives, more than 15 of figs, and 10 of pomegranates.

Don't Be Excited; Heart Skipping Can Be Normal

ANN ARBOR (INS) — "Don't worry if your heart skips a beat now and then," advises a heart specialist at the University of Michigan Medical School.

• • •

Dr. Franklin D. Johnston, professor of international medicine and director of the heart station at the medical school, warns that excessive concern over your pulse or heart beat can turn you into a confirmed cardiac neurotic.

The doctor explains that many people with no heart disease have transient skipping or irregularities of the heart. But individuals with symptoms of this kind should not jump to the conclusion that these sensations are indications of serious heart trouble.

In medical terms, these irregularities are known as extrasystoles. They are marked by peculuiar "turning over" or "thumping" sensations in the region of the heart, or occasionally the upper chest or neck.

• • •

Dr. Johnston states that some people are only aware of the irregularity when they feel their pulse at the wrist.

Them That Can—

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — John Dyer Wilbur, Albuquerque, asked U. S. District Court to declare him bankrupt. He listed debts of $5,725 and assets of $1,550. He said he was employed as a financial consultant.

Talents Aplenty Possessed by This Crew

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three men operate a firm here which has done everything from taking a hunk out of the globe to building a better fishhook. Sam Adams, his brother, Ted, and Marion J. Miller, plan to take on more trained technicians with imagination. Much of their work has been for physicians doing research at the University of Louisville Medical School.

• • •

"The physician knows what his research problem is," Adams says, "but he hasn't the faintest idea of the mechanical limitations. That's our job."

• • •

They have

Built a table which tilts from horizontal to vertical to study people who faint when they stand up; and electronic respirator to keep anesthesized animals breathing while researchers operate on them; a nerve stimulator to tell surgeons when they've uncovered a nerve.

• • •

They have also made a trigger fishhook for an inventor. The hook is spring actuated and sets firmly in a fish's jaw when mouthed.

Perhaps one of their oddest jobs was an order for copper-lined world globes with a hunk cut out. The customer wanted to grow flowers in them.

House to Debate Ike Defense Bill

Wartime Authority of President and Executive Reserve Plan on Tap

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House called up for debate today a bill to extend President Eisenhower's defense production powers and to expand disputed restrictions on use of unpaid businessmen in government.

• • •

The bill would continue for another two years carry-over wartime authority for the President to purchase and allocate strategic materials, and to establish production and supply incentives to meet defense mobilization goals.

OPPOSITION UNLIKELY

There appeared to be no concerted opposition to an extension, although seven Democratic members of the House Banking Committee, contended one year is enough. They said the entire defense program should be subject to a yearly review by Congress.

Over strong administration objections, the Banking Committee wrote into its draft of the bill additional restrictions on a program authorized last year to train businessmen for government duties in the event of a future war.

Under this "executive reserve" program, defense agencies may recruit business executives from private life to fill key government posts in an emergency as "WOCs" —or "without compensation" officials.

Kefauver Jibes Rankle Adlai

Stevenson Takes Issue on Charge of Seeking Segregationist Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adlai Stevenson accused Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee today of engaging in "mud-slinging tactics that will hurt the Democratic party" in their battle for California's 68 Democratic presidential nominating votes.

• • •

Stevenson jumped from northern California to the Los Angeles area last night for a major campaign speech at a Town Hall luncheon today while his rival campaigns in the San Diego area.

POOR LOSER

Although he ignored Kefauver in a series of speeches yesterday, Stevenson displayed his resentment in a statement labeling his opponent as a "poor loser" in that contest. Stevenson took 22 of Florida's 28 convention votes and Kefauver won 6.

"Sen. Kefauver is engaged in mud slinging that will hurt the Democratic party," Stevenson said. "I shall not stoop to those tactics. I am sorry that he has resorted to personal abuse and deceit in these last days of the primary campaign.

• • •

"He did the same thing in Florida. There is such a thing as wanting to win too much. What is at stake is not just his victory or mine but the presidency of the United States. To diminish the stature and dignity of the presidency by such tactics does our republic a disservice and weakens the Democratic party."

'SEGREGATIONIST'

What aroused Stevenson's anger were Kefauver's charges yesterday that Stevenson was backed by "Talmadge-type politicians," that his rival had the support of racial segregationists in Florida and as governor of Illinois had vetoed a proposed 10 per cent increase in old age pensions.

• • •

Stevenson's aides said they found nothing new in Kefauver's latest attack. Some of them were advising Stevenson to answer Kefauver in kind.

LAW OF THE LAND

Stevenson himself appeared to believe he would lose rather than gain support by entering a slugging match of this kind with the Tennessee senator.

Stevenson has said that he supports equality of opportunity for all persons regardless of race or creed. He has said the Supreme Court's decision for racial integration in the schools is the law of the land.

• • •

He has explained previously that he vetoed a pension bill passed by the Illinois Republican Legislature because the Legislature failed to provide the funds to pay for any pension increase.

He told audiences yesterday that better education, better health, greater equality of opportunity for all and a more secure old age are goals he wants to attain.

Area Resident Seeks Water System Tap

But unlike the legendary Mr. Blandings, Schmier's troubles had barely started when the house was built.

And Schmier's well troubles last week wound up in Oakland County Circuit Court, with a petition asking the court to require Bloomfield Township to let him tap into the township water system.

Schmier says his house, at 860 Ardmoor Dr., is just outside an area provided with township water. And he says the township board has refused to let him tap into the system on those grounds, despite his petitions and offers to pay for all expenses of connection.

The house that Schmier built has a well, the petition says, which cost $3,000. But the water from the well is undrinkable, being so high in mineral content that it's corroding all the brand-new plumbing.

At a circuit court hearing scheduled for June 11, the township will be required to show cause why Schmier's petition shouldn't be granted.

Killer of Babysitter Asks Chair Reprieve

BOSTON (INS)—Counsel for convicted babysitter-killer Kenneth R. Chapin, 20, of Springfield, waged legal battles on two fronts today to save him from the electric chair.

• • •

Chapin is under sentence of death any time between June 1 and June 9 for the murders of Lynn Ann Smith, 14, and her charge, Stephen Goldberg, four, both of Springfield.

Officials at the new state prison in Walpole said he acted as though he had no realization time was fast running out for him. They said he appeared outwardly unconcerned and uninterested.

Attorney Samuel P. Sears of Boston went to Washington to ask a justice of the U. S. Supreme Court for a 60-day extension of the deadline for filing a petition for a writ of certiorari for a review of the case.

Science's Latest: A Tall, Cool One on Tap for Coin

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Well, it's here at last.

You push an eight-ounce glass against a lever beneath a tall glass tube that looks like a paper cup dispenser, and two ice cubes clink into the glass.

Move the glass a few inches to the right, under a convenient spigot, dial a number which may read one ounce or two ounces, as you prefer. Push one button for your favorite liquor, another for your favorite mix.

Presto: An "automated hi-ball."

General controls company of San Francisco today unveiled its unique automatic bar, which proseconds, as the highlight of a reception and open house officially dedicating its new building.

The bar, weighing 200 pounds and standing 44 inches high, 36 wide and 22 dep, was conceived and designed by GC's assistant advertising manager, Huntley Briggs, and took $4,000 to build.

The mechanism will not count the drinks. But if more than half the hi-ball glass is dialed for liquor, the machine goes "ZZZphut" and a red light flaashes.

Harding Defies Cypriot Rebels

British General Orders Celebration of Queen's Birthday Despite Peril

NICOSIA (INS) — Field Marshal Sir John Harding defied the Cypriot war of terror against Britian today by ordering a full celebration of the Queen's birthday.

The dynamic little governor of the rebellious island ordered colors unfurled, cannons fired and bands to play throughout Cyprus in honor of the British sovereign.

Harding, a target of repeated assassination threats and attempts, planned to review a parade personally in Nicosia.

He reportedly told persons close to him, "If I die, I die. But the Queen's birthday must be celebrated."

Despite a bomb incident yesterday near Famagusta in which two members of the security force were killed and 16 wounded while returning from the parade rehearsal, big celebration.

Two Cypriot Greeks died today of wounds received in recent attacks, bringing the number of deaths in the past 11 days to 18.

There was only one last-minute change—several score additional troops were ordered to guard the parade ground by a moat alongside the 500-year-old Venetian walls of the old city of Nicosia.

Special security patrols combed every inch of the parade grounds, even cutting down tall weeds in which Cypriots might hide.

Tornado Damage Toll May Hit $6,500,000

MUSKEGON (AP) — Insurance adjusters and agency spokesmen today estimated the damage toll from the tornado-born May 13 hailstorm will climb to $6,500 for dwellings alone in the Muskegon County area.

A survey of insurance claims yesterday indicated that some 12,000 to 15,000 claims would be filed by Muskegon County home owners. The figures did not cover some 4,000 autos damaged in the storm.

Can Blood Injection Affect People?

Schizophrenia Studies Emphasized

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Joel LeBlanc, 34, a quiet, gray-haired intellectual, stared through his glasses at a doctor lighting a cigarette.

"Why is he doing that?" he wondered.

• • •

Suddenly, he thought he knew. "He hates me. That's why. He hates me."

Joel saw another doctor smile. "Why is he smiling? Because he hates me too. They all hate me. They want to hurt me."

Joel wanted to hurt them first. He saw a stool. "I'll bash that smiler's head in," he decided. He rushed to the stool. Then he stopped short.

IS JOEL SICK?

Have you guessed what was wrong with Joel? He was showing symptoms of schizophrenia—a dread mental disease.

If Joel was a real schizophrenic, he probably would be taken to a mental hospital like 350,000 other victims in this country. His chances for full recovery would be slight.

• • •

But Joel's symptoms disappeared in less than two hours. He was not a schizophrenic. He was a subject in a dramatic experiment that may point to a cure of the illness that accounts for half of our mental patients and a quarter of all those who lie in hospital beds.

A GUINEA PIG

Joel had been injected with a substance isolated from the blood of actual schizophrenia patients. He and another volunteer, Fred Coudere, 25, who also is a prisoner at the Louisiana State Penitentiary, took the shots in experiments conducted by psychiatrists and biochemists of Tulane University's medical school.

It is part of a study to learn whether mental illness is associated with specific chemical or other changes in the body. Whether the substance isolated from patients' blood is a cause of the disease, or is something produced by it, cannot yet be answered.

• • •

Psychiatrists call Joel's symptoms paranoic — he was afraid the world was against him.

Joel has felt much better since the experiment. "Blowing my stack for a while seemed to help me," he said. "I haven't even been mad since then."

OPPOSITE SYMPTOMS

Opposite symptoms were shown by Fred, a thin young man who often slouches in a chair, his hands loosely touching, as he chews gum and talks. Fred sometimes gets violently angry but, after the injection, "I became more like a zombie than anything else."

These reactions of Joel and Fred are only fragmentary evidence that schizophrenia could be caused by a substance in the blood. The Tulane researchers — psychiatrist Robert Heath, head of the team; his assistant, biochemist Byron Leach; psychiatrist Sten Martens, and biochemist Matthew Cohen — say the experiment is still only in the early stages.

Dr. Heath first announced the experiment at a meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn. in May, and has declined to discuss it publicly since.

One next step is to give the blood substance to more persons, who are not prisoners.

Researchers also have to be sure Joel and Fred actually became schizophrenic and not something else. Scientists know so little about schizophrenia they are not sure whether it is one disease or several.

• • •

Scientists also have to find out exactly what is the substance that changed the personalities of Joel and Fred. They have to discover when it develops in schizophrenia.

Obviously, Dr. Heath and his team are a long way from any cure or preventive. But the results with Joel and Fred indicate science may be knocking at the door that hides the solution to the problem of wasteful, terrifying schizophrenia.

Fallen Tree Limb Shorts Detroit Police Precinct

Two fire engines, two police cars and a public light commission truck came to survey the damage.

Traffic lights at eight intersections near his home were out of commission for four hours. Two circuits to the Schaefer precinct police station were knocked out and several fire alarm boxes were put out of order.

Doak Walker's Uncle and Girl Killed in Plane

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—The crash of a light plane yesterday killed a minister and a 15-year-old neighbor girl who asked him for a ride.

• • •

Killed were the Rev. William Lowry Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Iowa Park, Tex., and Carolyn Ann Whittenburg.

Witnesses said the plane was attempting a take-off.

The Rev. Mr. Walker, an uncle of former Detroit Lions football player Doak Walker, had just landed from taking his daughter for a pleasure ride in the family's small plane when Carolyn asked for a ride.

What a Picnic!

DETROIT (INS)—Sidney Lavina, 38, of Detroit told police today that thieves who robbed his store must have been planning a picnic. They stole thirty pounds of spare ribs, 15 pounds of hot dogs, five pounds of sausage, 20 loaves of bread, five cases of beer and $45 dollars in cash.

Soviet Reaction on Plan Awaited

British Proposal Seeks Continuance of Mideast Missions by Dag

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Western diplomats waited anxiously today for Russia's reaction to a British resolution asking U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to continue his good offices in the Middle East.

* * *

The U.N. Security Council called a session for the second round of debate on the resolution. Arkady A. Sobolev, Soviet delegate, said he would speak today but gave no hint as to his stand.

Britain, the United States and France were in agreement on the resolution. Sobolev sought to become a sponsor at one stage of negotiations in the last few days. The West decided however, to let Britain stand alone as sponsor.

* * *

The resolution, backed by the majority of the council members in speeches Tuesday, commends Hammarskjold for his successful mission to the Middle East last month. It requests him to continue his good offices and calls on the conflicting parties to cooperate with him. It asks the U.N. truce supervisor, Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, to report to the council any truce violations endangering cease - fire agreements renewed at Hammarskjold's suggestion.

They Ain't Flattered

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—A resident of a downtown hotel called the police to say he heard something that "sounds like a young girl screaming" in an alley behind the hotel. Investigating officers turned in this report: "The only thing we've found up here is the Charlotte Boys' Choir. Musta been them."

Classic Treasury Look

WASHINGTON—The 72 Ionic columns of the United States Treasury Building from one of the capital's classic sights. Each column measures 36 feet, 9 inches in height, 12 feet, 6¾ inches in circumference, and weighs 35 tons. All were cut from single blocks of granite, the National Geographic Society says.

Singapore: Strategic Crossroad;

Land of Much Trade and Vast Wealth, Also of Many Races, Languages

WASHINGTON—Singapore, the sprawling City of the Lion, commands one of the world's strategic crossroads.

* * *

Ships of all maritime nations pass in the busy Strait of Singapore where seas meet at the southernmost tip of Asia, midway between India and China. The city itself, the National Geographic Society says, stands on a pleasant green island of 200 square miles dangling like a diamond-shaped pendant from the mainland. This location has brought trade and vast wealth to the city.

* * *

As heart of the British Crown Colony of Singapore, the hot and humid seaport presents a British facade. Men in sun-drenched white play cricket on a waterfront green, near pillared government bluildings and Victorian business houses. However, the colony has been moving rapidly toward self-rule in recent years. Now it seeks full independence.

* * *

Behind its staid facade, the city pulses with Oriental life. Although geographically a part of the Malay Peninsula, to which the island is attached by a causeway, the city has always been overwhelmingly Chinese. Among some 830,000 residents, four out of five trace their ancestry to China.

COSMOPOLITAN CITY

There are miles of streets with small Chinese shops displaying fine jade and porcelain curios. Fluttering flaglike above the sidewalks are numerous family washes hanging from bamboo window poles.

Cosmopolitan is the word for Singapore. The passing parade includes Malay policemen, blond Europeans, dark-eyed Indian schoolgirls in vivid saris, burnoose-swathed Arabs, Pakistanis in white fezzes, and petite Eurasian stenographers wearing chic western clothes.

But there has been little fusion of races. Each retains its own language, customs and religious practices, a fact which often gives visitors the sensation of being in several cities at the same time.

* * *

In Singapore's popular amusement parks—Happy World, Great World and New World—merry-makers may buy an astonishing variety of products ranging from bird's-nest soup to Hawaiian shirts made in Japan.

"PRIDE OF THE EAST"

Tradition says a Malay city of importance once stood on the tropical island. It was called Singapura, Sanskrit for City of the Lion. Javanese warriors are said to have put the city to sword in the 14th century, spilling a river of blood.

Only a pirate-haunted, jungle village remained when Sir Stamford Raffles landed in 1819. The far-sighted young employe of the East India Company recognized the potential of the magnificent harbor and persuaded the Sultan of Johore, who owned the island, to let him set up a trading post.

On the fringe of a steaming mangrove swamp Raffles founded his city, a free port "open to all ships and vessels of every nation." He envisoned Singapore as the "emporium and pride of the East."

Singapore grew and prospered as Malaya's riches—chiefly rubber and tin—poured through its natural gateway to the world.

* *

Skyscrapers and housing projects are changing the complexion of Singapore—but the old flavor remains. Blending as one, the aromas of incense, Turkish coffee, fragment tea, spices, curry and heavily ripe bananas send Singapore's own special perfume across the ship-filled harbor.

Cinderella Day Parade Starts Clean-Up Week

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"A Cinderella Day" parade will march up Market street Sunday, with brass bands leading contingents of charwomen, garbage collectors, street cleaners and others who work by night to keep the city clean.

The parade is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as part of a June clean-up to get the town spic-and-span for the Republican National Convention in August.

Spanking Session

DETROIT (AP)—Spanking in public schools has been approved by the Detroit Council of Parent-Teacher Assns. but only after a spanking hot argument over the issue. The leader of the no-spanking faction twice was cut off the public address system and one prospanking man offered "to show the anti-spanking gentleman out of the hall." Final vote to support the spanking policy was 151-83.

Director Reveals 200 Vacancies Left for Camp

There are 200 vacancies left for children in the Pontiac Public School system to attend this summer's Parks and Recreation sponsored "Frog Hollow Camp," David R. Ewalt, director of the department, announced.

The first and third five-day periods are filled, he added. The following periods are still open: July 2-6, 16-20, 23-27, July 30-Aug. 3, and Aug. 6-10.

Boys seven through 13 years, and girls, nine through 12, can attend one of the seven periods conducted under supervision at the Pontiac Lake and Highland Recreation areas.

To date 300 children have registered to attend the camp. There is a $2 registration fee.

DEW Line Could Be Missile Base of Future

FLYING HIGH — Above the frozen north, an Air Force plane wings over Arctic terrain that typifies the 3,000 mile DEW Line system.

ABOVE THE ARCTIC CIRCLE (NEA)—An ideal foundation has been laid for a 3,000-mile string of offensive-defensive guided missile bases across the top of the North American continent.

• • •

A tour of the full length of the Distant Early Warning radar line — the first visit ever approved for newsmen — reveals this startling fact. The DEW line was built primarily to warn of enemy bomber attack.

U. S. and Canadian officials refuse to comment on whether converting DWW line sites was considered in the original planning.

But whether by design or luck the obvious fact remains that the DEW line can easily be made into the guided missile equivalent of America's war-deterring Strategic Air Command and Air Defense Command.

SHORTEST DISTANCE

Just as for enemy bombers the route over the Arctic to U. S. cities is the shortest for the intercontinental missiles which the Russians are building. And the Arctic will be the place to base the anti-missile missiles which the U. S. is trying to develop.

DEW line sites also are the ideal locations for the retaliatory intermediate range ballistic missiles — able to travel 1,500 miles — which the U. S. is rushing to build. From the Arctic the IRBM could hit vital Russian industrial targets.

Actually, when the DEW line is completed it will be far more than a "foundation" for missile bases. The U. S. Air Force, its contractor Western Electric Co. and the Canadians have already done about 75 per cent of the job by licking the unbelievable difficulties of extensive construction work in the Arctic.

SELF SUFFICIENT

Excellent aerial, sea and sled-train supply lines effectively criss-cross this vast frozen region depending upon the season. The terror of survival up here has been eliminated by excellent clothing, shelter and experience.

Each DEW line station is a small, completely self-sufficient unit designed to support constant radar surveillance of the skies. Altering that mission for guided missile operation probably would be much less than the original $400 million cost of the DEW line.

Living quarters and housing for most of the electronic equipment are long rows of box-shaped, connected buildings built on timber stilts to eliminate snow drifting. Adding more rows, or making them longer would be a simple job compared to starting from scratch. The bigger DEW stations have huge garages built of structural steel and covered with aluminum panels. These, too, are designed for easy expansion.

The garages are heated and have elaborate machine shops. Little redesign would be necessary to adapt them for missile storage.

Powerful diesel generators to run the electronic equipment and provide power for other needs are built into the box-like structures. They, too, could supply power for the electronic needs of missile guidance and tracking systems.

It's obvious from the excellent materials and equipment which have been used for the DEW line that the installations were built to last between 50 and 100 years.

DELICATE MISSILES

Missiles are delicate electronic devices probably difficult to operate under Arctic conditions. But radar is delicate, too. And experience has proved that it can be operated with extreme effectiveness up here.

Luther Experts Meet

AARHUS, Denmark — The first International Conference on Luther Research, organized by the Lutheran World Federation, will be held in Aarhus August 13-18. Along with Lutheran theologians, a number of prominent Methodists, Congregationalists, Angelicans, and other Protestant scholars from Europe and America are expected to participate.

Brazil Output Drops

PELOTAS, Brazil — Grain production in Brazil is at levels seriously below the country's consumer needs. To assist the Agronomy Institute of the South at Pelotas in an expanded program of research on cereal improvement the Rockefeller Foundation has given the school $60,000.

Rigid security restrictions cover details of the effectiveness of DEW line radar. But U. S. officials are convinced that it will give a three to five hour warning of the approach of any jet aircraft.

* * *

By the time Russia has effective missiles, U. S. and Canadian officials are confident that effective missile countermeasures also will be developed.

Plenty of Spilled Milk if Anyone Wants to Cry

DANVERS, Mass. (AP) — There was plenty of spilled milk to cry over on the Newburyport turnpike —3,500 gallons to be exact.

* * *

Truck driver Jesse Bolles, 48, veered his tank truck to avoid a car and the truck, Boston-bound with 3,500 gallons of Maine milk, jackknifed and overturned.

* * *

Bolles and his son, Paul, 12, escaped with bruises but holiday traffic on the busy turnpike was held up nearly four hours while firefighters washed the milk from the highway.

Adlai Assailed on Four Counts

Angry Note in Daylong Stumping by Kefauver Marks California Tour

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver assailed Adlai Stevenson on four familiar fronts in the windup phase of their approaching California race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

There was a pronounced angry note to Kefauver's daylong stumping here yesterday in his bid for 68 perhaps vital Democratic delegates in next Tuesday's primary.

He repeatedly attacked Stevenson on civil rights, "Bossism," pension and monopoly issues. Generally the attack was along the same lines he has used before against his rival. But Kefauver left little doubt he intends to continue the offensive in the final days of the campaign.

"I don't think it is unfair to criticize someone if you only state the facts," he told an outdoor rally in Balboa Park.

• • •

The tenor of Kefauver's speeches was in sharp contrast to the high spirits shown by the Stevenson camp after successive victories over the Tennessee senator in Oregon and Florida.

Kefauver himself remained outwardly optimistic about his California chances in their last election contest before the Democratic National Convention in Chicago next August. He assessed his prospects here as "very good."

Away from the platform, he was more like the pre-Florida Kefauver. He went handshaking along Pacific Beach and at the East San Diego County Fair in El Cajon. At the fair, he was given a lamb by two youthful farmer admirers. He tossed hoops after a prize in a midway booth — without any luck.

• • •

At news conferences and before audiences, however, he departed from his tactics in earlier California visits by blazing away primarily at Stevenson rather than the Eisenhower administration.

Strike Still Unsettled

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — No new progress is reported in the seven-week-old strike at the Anderson-Bolling Manufacturing Co. plant at nearby Spring Lake, where 200 production workers have been idled by UAW-AFL Local 239's walkout in a dispute over new contract and wages.

Moose Convention Set

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Walter L. VanOeveren, president of the Michigan Moose Assn., will be among principal speakers at the organization's 44th annual state convention, opening Friday. About 1,500 delegates are expected at the sessions.

Major Steel Producers Unite for Contract Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Representatives of the nation's three largest basic steel producers came here today to open unprecedented joint contract negotiations with the United Steel workers.

• • •

For the first time, the three companies — U.S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Co. and Republic Steel Co. — joined at the bargaining table. But they emphasized they were acting separately.

After David J. McDonald, president of the USW, had announced the new procedure in negotiations earlier this week, Vice President John A. Stephens of U.S. Steel told the same news conference the move is not to be construed as industrywide bargaining.

A JOINT EFFORT

"It is a joint effort to reach an early settlement," he said.

The three companies employ about 350,000 of the 650,000 USW members in the basic steel industry whose contracts expire at midnight June 30.

Representatives of the "Big Three" and the USW will meet here again tomorrow. The sessions then are expected to recess until June 6 when they resume at New York.

ONLY FOR SELF

Although McDonald has made no secret of his ambitions to get the steel industry to bargain on an industrywide basis, he said each of the three major steel companies "will be bargaining only for itself."

Meanwhile, negotiations with other companies are expected to be on a standby basis — to see what happens between the USW and the Big Three.

• • •

Included in 22 union proposals are requests for a "substantial" wage increase, a 52-week program of layoff benefits, premium pay for weekend work, and an insurance program paid for entirely by the companies. The steelworkers average hourly pay now is $2.46.

Forty Hartland High School seniors will leave June 8 for the annual senior trip to Washington, D.C., but only 39 are a-comin' back.

John Gregory, 17, will stay in the capital to serve as Page in the House of Representatives for the balance of this congressional term.

Son of Mrs. Marguerite Gregory of Hartland, in Livingston County, John was valedictorian of his class and won the University of Michigan Honor Award this year.

He was appointed Page by Hartland Superintnedent of Schools Frank Hartman, authorized to make the appointment by Rep. Don Hayworth of the Sixth Congressional District.

Booklet on County Roads in Demand by Residents

A total of 2,560 copies of "Wagon Roads to Expressways," Oakland County Planning Commission's booklet on area road history and problems, have now been distributed, Planning Engineer Robert A. Larson said today.

Response from the general public has been "very gratifying," Larson said, with 775 copies taken from a box in the lobby of the County Office Building. Written requests to the Plan Commission accounted for 150 more, and distribution to office visitors totalled 120.

Other copies have gone to:

Governmental agencies, 650; businessmen with professional interest in the subject, 400; universities, high schools and libraries, 55; manufacturers, 270; newspapers and publications, 45; other, 200.

The booklet, written by Larson in collaboration with former Pontiac Press staff writer Burdett C. Stoddard, reveiws the history of roads in the Detroit area leading to the present inadequacy of the system.

Proposed solutions and long-range plans are discussed.

Greater Road Peril: Showy Social Drinker

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS) — Dr. C. J. Rehling, chief of the Alabama State Crime Laboratory, told a traffic court conference that the social drinker is a greater highway menace than the habitual drinker for this reason:

"The social drinker likes to speed, to show off, while the driver who is just plain drunk is a little slower."

16,000 Tour Beaches

G'wan, Light Up! It's Legal to Puff Butts in Fairbury

FAIRBURY, Neb. (INS) — Citizens of Fairbury can cut loose and begin smoking cigarettes legally. They can also ride a horse on a city sidewalk without running the risk of going to jail.

* * *

The Fairbury city council has decided to cut out some of the ancient ordinances in the city's code, inserted long ago by some extremely blue-nosed city fathers.

For instance, that ban on smoking. It applied only to smokers of cigarettes in public eating places. Pipe smokers, tobacco chewers and cigar puffers were exempt.

This code of a sterner time also provides for the arrest of children who play in the streets to the irritation of passing horses.

City Attorney Max Denney says the revision is going to set the town back four or five thousand dollars, what with printing costs and all.

* * *

The cost may be worth it, though, to the town's policemen who have been looking the other way all these years when diners in restaurants and lunchrooms put a match to a cigarette.

City Attorney Denney believes the anti-cigarette ordinance may have been unconstitutional all the time.

Pope Suffering Voice Trouble From Work Load

VATICAN CITY, (AP)—Pope Pius XII underwent a general medical and cardiograph examination last night. Doctors said the pontiff, who has suffered a slight weakening of the voice, showed no sign of throat infection or other physical disturbance.

* * *

The report said the slight lowering of the Pope's voice had been caused by a general tiredness after the heavy work load he has been carrying this month.

Vatican sources quoted the doctors as saying the examination "confirmed that there was no reason for preoccupation" over the pontiff's condition.

These sources said the physicians expressed belief a few days of lightened work would rest the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church and permit his voice to return to normal.

The Pope received some 200,000 persons in daily audiences during May. In addition, he gave 17 major speeches and spoke many times to small groups of pilgrims.

Stonewall Jackson Dies in Battle

South Routs Union at Chancellorsville

WASHINGTON — Ninety-three years ago, cannon crashed across Virginia's dark mass of Wilderness between Washington and Richmond, flashing the high noon of Confederate military fortunes.

The roar was the Battle of Chancellorsville, a crucial struggle in the American Civil War. It produced one of General Stonewall Jackson's most audacious marches and surprises. It was waged some 10 miles west of Fredericksburg in a region where tangled fastnesses formed an appalling stage for battle, the National Geographic Society says.

Chancellorsville's successful outcome encouraged General Robert E. Lee to undertake the invasion of Pennsylvania, ending in defeat at Gettysburg two months later and the decline of Southern arms.

The campaign, taking its name from the Chancellor family's home in the Wilderness, was studiously planned. The American Army of the Potomac stood reorganized around strategic Fredericksburg, about midway between Richmond and Washington.

THE BATTLE

A new commander, General Joseph E. Hooker, proposed to leave a strong force holding the town, then outflank Lee's left and rear, forcing him to fight on two fronts or fall back to Richmond.

Suspecting Hooker's scheme, Lee detached about 9,000 troops under the command of General Jubal A. Early to hold the formidable heights behind Fredericksburg. Then, on May 1, 1863, Lee suddenly shifted his main divisions to counter the Union concentration at his back.

Hooker withdrew. He regrouped his army in a defensive arc extending from the Rappahannock River westward into the Wilderness.

LEE'S PLAN

During the night of May 1, Lee and Jackson contrived a daring plan: They would send Jackson's 2nd Corps of some 28,000 men on a secret woodland march to strike the Union Army's exposed right flank, held by the 11th Union Corps with no natural pivot.

Shortly before Jackson moved at 7 a.m., someone noticed that his sword had fallen from its position against a tree. It was viewed as an ill omen. Lee, with forces now perilously divided, watched Jackson ride off into the woods. He later reflected: "Such an executive officer the sun never shone on."

Near twilight of May 2, the Union 11th Corps felt the assault in a stampede of rabbits, squirrels and birds. Then the attackers rushed, rolling up the Federal flank.

That night Jackson was mortally wounded by his own infantrymen who mistook his party for the enemy.

Next day, May 3, the Confederate forces under Lee joined in a springing attack on Hooker's center ranks, driving them across a plateau toward the river. Lee stopped the chase when he heard that other Federal forces, having pushed Early were advancing.

Leaving a small force to pin down Hooker, Lee hurried eastward to counter the new threat. He struck near Salem Church on May 4-5, forcing these Federal troops across the Rappahannock. Then he marched his tired men back to Chancellorsville—to find that General Hooker also had retreated north of the river.

* * *

Operation Big Pull

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — There was an ominous silence from the back seat of Mrs. Frank Burke's car. She looked around to see her son Randy, 4, peering down the throat of his sister, Linda, 7.

"I'm playing doctor," Randy replied.

He was.

Byrd Reveals Personnel Hike

Civilian Employe Gain for Federal Agencies Shows in Report

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) reports that civilian employers of the government increased 6,954 in April—the fourth monthly increase since August, 1955.

He said there were 2,359,611 civilians on the government payroll at the end of April.

Byrd made his reprot as chairman of the joint committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures.

Major increases in April were found in the Agriculture Department, which picked up 1,716 employes, the interior department, with an increase of 1,101 and the Commerce Department, with a hike of 551 employes.

TVA, CANAL DECREASE

Decreases were reported by the Tennessee Valley Authority, which lost 335 employes, and the Panama Canal, which had its payroll go down 485.

In the Defense Department, the Navy had a decrease of 831 civilians. But the Air Force increased its civilian employment by 4,517—the 12th consecutive montly increase. The Army's civilian payroll rose 148 in April.

Federal employment within the U. S. increased 6,226 in April and outside the continental borders, by 728.

In addition to the 2,359,611 civilians on the payroll in April, the armed forces had 297,790 citizens of other countries working for it overseas. The bulk of these were in Japan, where 142,952 Japanese worked for the U. S. military, and in Germany, with 109,941 employed.

Denmark had the least—nine—of its citizens on U. S. military payrolls.

Culprit Seeks Law

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (INS) — Law and order, drive-in style:

The state policemen didn't even look up when a car moved slowly into the driveway of Company B headquarters and came to a stop at the curb. Out popped a 16-year-old youth, who strode over to the first trooper he saw and announced:

"I stole that car two days ago and I want to turn myself in."

KO'ED FOR LOVE SCENES — Two-ton Tony Galento, barrel-bellied former heavyweight boxer, is mugging for the movies now. Starring in "The Best Things in Life Are Free," Tony, who also claims to be a lover at heart, plays it up with co-star Roxanne Arlen. Tony says "Lovin' I can do all the time, but my face don't call for it."

Ike Requests $82,500,000 for Nuclear Development

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has asked Congress for another $82,500,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission for a stepped-up program including development of new "military propulsion reactors."

• • •

The White House was secretive about the precise uses to which the new money will be put, but speculation centered on the program of atomic power plants for aircraft.

News Secretary James C. Hagerty would only say:

"This money is being put into this so we can take advantage of recent technological advances in the military part of the program."

Actually, $112,500,000 more will be channeled into the fields outlined today, but $30 million will be obtained from unobligated balances of previous appropriations.

ALL INCLUSIVE

Of the $82,500,000, $68,400,000 will used for operating expenses and $14,100,000 for plant acquisition and construction.

Hagerty said the operating expenses include design, development, testing and production of weapons and development of military propulsion reactors.

He said the funds also will be used for an accelerated program in the development of civilian atomic power reactors.

"Military propulsion reactors" now are in use by the Navy to propel its atomic-powered submarines.

• • •

War Cost 151 Billion

WASHINGTON—The Korean War cost the United States aboue one-third as much as World War II and nearly three times as much as World War I. Total cost of the Korean War was about 151 billion dollars, cost of World War II was about 500 billion, and World War I about 66 billion.

Missiles to Guide Planes

Chrysler Scientist Foresees Robot Stars Circling Earth

DETROIT (AP)—A missile scientist forsees man-made stars guiding ships and planes throughout the world.

Lovell Lawrence Jr. of the Chrysler Corp. says they will be powered with atomic energy and will circle the earth at a speed of 17,000 miles an hour in a path 600 miles out in space.

His plan would require three man-made stars to be fired at eight hour intervals so that there would be a radio signal available at every point on earth practically every minute of the day or night.

Plane or ship navigators, he said, would determine their positions by noting the time of the strongest signal as the satellite passed overhead and checking the time against a prepared almanac.

Lawrence's star would be two feet in diamater and would have eight radio antenna beaming signals earthward. Inside the star he would put a 15-pound atomic-energy generator. The power source would be a one-pound isotope of Strontium 90.

He predicted the atomic energy plant would have a 20-year useful life, after which the star would keep circling the earth but putting out no radio signals.

Jap Silk Export Up

TOKYO—Japan exported 86,000 bales of raw silk during 1955, the largest annual postwar exports except for 1950, when 95,000 bales were shipped abroad. Average annual postwar exports of raw silk, however, amount to only about 20 per cent of the average yearly silk exports in the 1930s.

HOLD THAT TIGER — Pearl Steves, a female among felines, gets acquainted with Woodland Park Zoo's 10-week-old Tiger cubs in Seattle, Wash. That's because Pearl is a candidate for the title of "Miss Air Power," and will represent the Flying Tiger Line, Inc., on Air Power Day, Aug. 4.

Homer Martin Starts Milk Farm Project

DETROIT (AP) — Homer Martin, former United Auto Workers union president and leader in a movement to organize Michigan dairy farmers, said he was leaving for Utica, N. Y. today to help form a nationwide dairy farmers organization.

• • •

Martin said he will discuss plans with the Rev. John W. Dorney, head of Tri-State Milk Producers' Association.

• • •

Martin said the farmer should "name his own price for milk." He said cooperatives have a "conflict of interest."

Canterbury City Has Exhibition

'The Living Past' Gives Visitors Story of Famed British Cathedral

CANTERBURY, England—Visitors to this catherdral city this summer can now be eye-witnesses to some of the greatest dramas in history. A permanent exhibition, called The Living Past, has recently been set up in Burgate House beneath the Gothic spires of Canterbury. Here, a series of ingenious models and scenes depict the story of this spiritual capital of England through the ages.

* * *

No one can fully comprehend the splendor of Canterbury without a glimpse at this show. Since Roman times, the Cathedral has been built, burned down, rebuilt, enlarged, destroyed, remodelled, damaged and redecorated. One replica displays the Saxon Cathedral constructed over the spot where St. Augustine baptized King Ethelbert in 597 A.D. Another model shows Canterbury as a Tudor city before the stained glass windows of the Cathedral were smashed by the Puritan crusader, Blue Dick Culmer.

Panel scenes reveal how St. Alphege was killed by the Danes for refusing to turn over church treasure. Others portray such colorful episodes from Canterbury's past as the funeral procession of the Black Prince, the state visit of Queen Elizabeth I in 1573 and the wedding of King Charles I.

Highlight of The Living Past Exhibition is the murder of St. Thomas Becket, Archbishop of Canterbury in 1170. All English schoolboys learn the facts of the archbishop's death by heart, and Americans should have at least an outline of this tragedy to understand Canterbury.

It began when the Archbishop was charged with defying the throne and slain inside the Cathedral by the knights of Henry II. This murder began an invasion of Canterbury with thousands of penitent pilgrims and kings, including Henry II, marching barefoot over cobblestones to worship at the Shrine of St. Thomas Becket.

The exhibit has reconstructed the Becket Shrine, canopied and encrusted with the jewels which Henry VIII carted away. Before the Shrine stands Geoffrey Chaucer with a few companions from his immortal pilgrimage.

Air-Cooled Sidewalks in Texas Shopping Site

DALLAS (INS)—Blistering Texas summers—infamous for their killing toll on crops—have nurtured at least two rather unique air-conditioning ideas.

* * *

A Dallas building firm plans to construct a 10 million 40-acre suburban shopping center that will be equipped with air-conditioned sidewalks.

And a Dallas County grain farmer has installed an automobile size cooling unit in his combine that will bring 100 degree plus field temperatures down to bearable levels.

The cooled walkways plan is being mapped out by a pair of Dallas builders — Edward Dicker and Jerome Frank — for a new center to be constructed in nearby Garland.

TRANSLUCENT ROOF

Dicker says the center — shops, sidewalks and malls—will be covered by a huge translucent roof. Centrally located air conditioners will circulate cool air throughout the shops and walking areas. The roof will be slightly tinted to reduce glare.

The roof will be translucent, Dicker explains, to permit the sun's rays to reach the trees, plants and grass that will be placed in the malls and along the sidewalks.

Completion date has been set for next year.

The farmer who decided to "turn off the heat" is Ralph Pickett whose 1,100-acre tract of land is just a few miles northwest of Garland.

38 DEGREES

The equipment was installed by Cecil Ray, a Garland garage owner, and employes of a Garland refrigeration firm. Ray says the cooler is capable of reducing temperatures to about 38 degrees in the cab.

Pickett's cooled combine is said to be the only such air-conditioned piece of farm equipment in the United States and has aroused the interest of manufacturers who have sent representatives to inspect the remodelled machine.

How to keep cool in the summer in Texas is one of the state's biggest problems, with temperatures in June, July and August frequently soaring above 120 and staying there.

China's Nationalist Government in Formosa announced its anti-Communist guerillas staged 131 commando raids along the China coast in 1955.

Modern Israel Surrounded by Hostile Arab Nations

WASHINGTON—Four Arab nations surround Israel on its land fronts—Jordan, Egypt, Lebanon, and Syria. The Kingdom of Jordan on the east has by far the longest Israeli border.

* * *

Stretching some 350 miles, the Jordan frontier bulges westward into Israel within ten miles of the Mediterranean coast at one point, says the National Geographic Society. Northeast of the bulge, the Jordan-Israeli boundary meets that of Syria in green and fertile lands around the Biblical Sea of Galilee.

On the south, the line streaks through a rock and sand wilderness. Extending 110 miles from the Dead Sea south to the Gulf of 'Aqaba, it forms the eastern side of Israel's triangular Negev Desert, whose opposite side is bordered by Egypt.

Between the northern and southern extremes of the Jordan-Israeli frontier are found two geographic features of potentially high economic value—the Jordan River flowing through a spectacular trenchlike valley,' and the Dead Sea, world's deepest depression, 1,286 feet below sea level.

CONTROLS SACRED SITES

Before the partition of Palestine and the Arab-Israeli war of 1948, Jordan territory lay entirely east of the Jordan River and the Dead Sea. Then came Jordan's occupation and annexation of "Arab Palestine" across the river. Today the Arab kingdom holds both sides of the Jordan River for nearly two-thirds of its course, as well as most of the Dead Sea shores.

It also controls many sites sacred to Christianity, Judaism, and Islam, including Old Jerusalem; Bethlehem, the birthplace of Jesus, and Jericho, where Joshua's trumpet brought the walls tumbling down.

Along the Jordan River banks, and here and there in an oasis or fertile valley, present-day farmers cultivate olives, fruits, grains and other subsistence crops much as their ancestors did in early Biblical days.

JORDAN IS YOUNG

Minerals and other natural resorces as well as water are lacking, while Jordan's population has more than trebled in late years. In an area about the size of Indiana, an estimated 1,400,000 people now live. Of these, 400,000 were added in 1948 as West Jordan residents. Another five to six hundred thousand are refugees from other parts of former Palestine.

Like its neighbors of the north Arabian Peninsula, the Jordan kingdom is young as a sovereign nation. A part of the Ottoman Empire before the British expelled the Turks in World War I, Jordan territory was briefly included in the post war Arab state of Syria.

In 1921, Transjordan, as it was then called, was placed with Palestine under British mandate from the League of Nations. Twenty-five years later, Britain recognized the independence of the renamed Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan.

Olivier Ponders Marilyn's Effect on Britishers

LONDON (INS) — British film star and producer Sir Laurence Oliver has confided he is "getting the jitters" about the arrival of U.S. movie queen Marilyn Monroe.

Oliver told the gossip columnist of the London Daily Sketch: "Marilyn is a problem all of her own."

He explained that if he hired a dozen security guards to look after her, he will be accused of "keeping her in a fortress."

Oliver indicated, however, he will take no chances with the latest bit of American lend-lease. He said:

"If we need a movie scene inside Victoria Station, I'll build it. I am not risking riots."

Blonde Mink

By DAMON RUNYON

Sitting in Mindy's restaurant eating tripe with garlic I am listening to Julie the Starker give out with the inside of the tragic plight of our mutual pal Slats Slavin what is buried up in Woodlawn without a stone and how it is on account of this here blue mink. Julie is explaining how Miss Beatrice Gee, who was fianceed to Slats, gloms onto the 23 thou poke from Slats as he is kincking the bucket and how she promises he should have a stone over his head, it should keep off the snow. Seems Julie is talking with Slats when he visits the grave and Slats is worrying about the stone when he asks Julie he should look up Beatrice and find out what is holding up the engraving because it is cold down in the ground. Now Julie who knows Slats has been the sucker in a quick flim-flam promises to look up the babe and find out. After the waiter brings in two cream soda, Julie says . . .

"Pardon me, but can you tell me the name of the fur that party over yonder is wearing?"

(Part Four)

"I find her standing at the bar of a gaff called the Palmetto with a couple of guys and I notice she is wearing a fur coat the colour of mist that I do not remember ever seeing on her before and I turn to a dame who is sitting at a table and say to her like this:

"'Pardon me, little miss,' I say, 'but just to satisfy my curiosity, can you tell me the name of the fur that party over yonder is wearing?'

"'Blonde mink,' she says. 'It is perfectly beautiful too.'

"'And what does such a garment cost?' I ask.

* * *

"'Why,' she says, 'that one seems to be first-class merchandise. It costs twenty-five thousand dollars. Maybe more, but not much less. It is the very newest fur out!'

"Then I walk over to Beatrice and tap her on the shoulder, and when she turns I motion her out of hearing distance of the guys she is with and speak to her as follows:

"'Well, Bea,' I say, 'your new coat must hang a little heavy on you considering that it represents the weight of a nice tombstone. I never mention it to you before but I hear your last chat with the late Slats Slavin including your promise but until I find you in this lovely benny no one will ever make me believe you mean to welch on your word.'

IT WAS A STEAL

"'All right, all right,' she says. 'So I do not buy the stone. But it costs twenty-six hundred and all I have is twenty-three thousand and an odd tenner and this coat is a steal at twenty-three. If I wait another minute longer someone else is sure to snap it up and the dealer wants all his cash. Besides Slats will never know he does not get the stone.'

"'Bea,' I says, 'I have a talk with Slats today at Woodlawn. He knows he has no stone and he is upset about it. But he is making excuses for you, Bea. He figures you are unexpectedly delayed a bit in getting it there. You have the guy fooled even yet.'

"At this Beatrice gazes at me for some time without saying a word and I notice that looking into her eyes is just the same as looking into a couple of ice cubes. Then she gives her coat a hitch and brings it closer around her and finally she says:

BUT SLATS IS COLD

"'Julie,' she says, 'I want to tell you something. If ever again you speak to me or about me I will start remembering out loud that Slats has a large bundle of cash on him that last night and I will also start wondering out loud what becomes of it and a guy with your biography cannot stand much wonderment such as that. And if you see Slats again tell him how I look in my new coat.'

"'Bea,' I say, 'you will never have any luck with your new coat because it means leaving poor Slats up there in Woodlawn restless and cold.'

"'No luck?' she says. 'Listen,' she says, 'do you see the dopey-looking little punk in the uniform leaning against the bar? His name is Freddy Voogan and his papa is a squillionaire out in Denver and I am going to marry the kid any minute and what do you think gets him for me? My blonde mink. He notices how nice I look in it and insists on meeting me. No luck?' Beatrice says. 'Is kicking up a gold mine no luck?'

* * *

"'Bea,' I say, 'it is bad enough to rob the grave as you already do but it is even worse to rob the cradle.'

HE IS ON THE BUST

"'Good-bye, Julie,' Bea says. 'Do not forget to tell Slats how I looked in my new coat.'

"Well, I will say she looks wonderful in it even though I am greatly disappointed in her because it is plain to be seen that Beatrice has no sentiment about the past. So now I am compelled to report back to the late Slats Slavin that he is on a bust as far as the stone is concerned and I hope and trust that my revelation will not cause him too much anguish."

And with this, Julie the Starker dunks up the last of the tripe gravy on his plate with a piece of rye bread and gets up to take his departure and I say to him like this:

"Julie," I say, "if you happen to think of it, kindly ask the late Slats to look over the entries at Hialeah for the next few days and if he can send me a winner now and then I can get parties to bet a little for me."

* * *

"Well," Julie says, "Slats has other things on his mind besides horses right now, but," he says, "I will try to remember your request although of course you will carry me for a small piece of your end."

Then he leaves me and I am still sitting there when a plain clothes copper by the name of Johnny Brannigan comes in and sits down in the chair Julie just vacates and orders some Danish pastry and a cup of Java.

Feather Duels Exist in Malaya

First to Guffaw Loses; but Bismarck Reneged in Another Challenge

NEW YORK — Feathers are the favorite dueling weapon in some parts of the world.

* * *

One of these 'tickling' duels was held not long ago in Jahore, a jungle state in Southern Malaya. The duelists, who wore only loincloths, were restricted to a circle ten feet in diameter.

"Armed with peacock feathers, the two combatants circled each other warily for a few seconds, then went to work tickling each other under the chin, in the ears and nostrils, under the armpits and along the ribs.

"After about 14 minutes, one man bursts into loud guffaws. The others was promptly declared the winner and walked off with the jungle maid they had been 'fighting' over."

OTHER DUELS

However, unusual duels are not confined exclusively to the jungle. Several years ago in a London pub a violent argument broke out between two husky truck drivers. The men subsequently stepped outside, jumped into their trucks and proceeded to ram each other head on. Both trucks were wrecked and both drivers went to the hospital —their honor satisfied.

* * *

One of the most ingenious duelists on record was a little scientist who offended the great German statesman Bismark, a man noted for his skill with both a pistol and a sword. The professor chose sausages as the weapons. One sausage, he explained, was perfectly good — the other contianed deadly germs. He then offered Bismark first choice to bite. Bismark called off the duel.

Nevada, with a population gain of 31 per cent between April 1, 1950 and July 1, 1954 had only 60,000 more people, but led the nation percentagewise.

Rebels Forming Rights Platform

Mississippians Planning Rebirth of Dem Party Split of '48

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —Mississippians for States Rights, a virtual rebirth of the 1948 Democratic party split, organized yesterday a platform based on what they termed loyalty to principle rather than to party.

* * *

About 250 cheering, applauding persons from throughout Mississippi agreed to qualify independent presidential electors in an attempt to create a foothold for bargaining with either the Republican or Democratic party for full states rights.

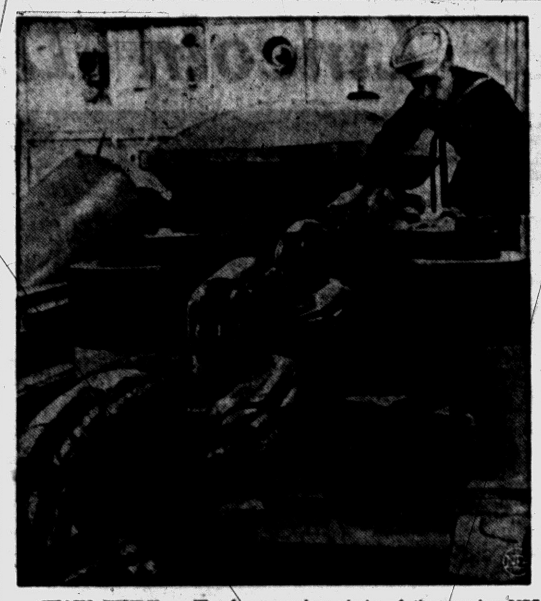

Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan of Jackson, a founder and keynoter of the organizational meeting, offered the hope that if 100 unpledged, independent electors voted in a bloc, they could throw the election into the House of Representatives where each state has one vote.

Visitors from Alabama and Louisiana reported similar plans afoot in their states.

* * *

McGowan said Mississippians for States Rights was organized on the assumption that neither major party would nominate candidates acceptable to the South. His group, however, does not have the backing of the governors of the states involved.

Statisticians report manufacturing employment in the Tennessee Valley up 88 per cent since 1929 compared to a U.S. average 52 per cent.

CHAIN STUDY — The huge anchor chain of the carrier USS Saratoga is inspected by EM3 James Milligan at the naval shipyard in Brooklyn, N. Y. Each link weighs 360 pounds. The 60,000-ton Saratoga, to be commissioned this month, has more horsepower than any other ship ever built for the U. S. Navy.

Sen. Clements Pleased as Opposition Melts

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Earle C. Clements, pleased by pledges of support from the enemy camp in his own party, said today the Democrats will carry on in full harmony in the November general election.

The Senate's majority whip said wires of encouragement were received from all opposition leaders, including Gov. A. B. Chandler, after his hard-hitting victory over Joe B. Bates in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Queen Bestows Honors

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II today bestowed titles, medals and decorations on more than 2,000 of her subjects for services. The honors list was the 19th issued by the young Queen. It included the naming of one new viscount, three new barons and scores of knights.

Work on New Lincoln Division Progressing Rapidly

NEW HOME OF THE LINCOLN AUTO — This architectural plan shows the multi-million dollar general offices and plant of the Lincoln Division, now under construction in Novi Township. Occupancy of the 200,000 square foot office building is planned for January, 1957.

LINCOLN PLANT NOW — This photo of the new Lincoln Division at Novi Township was taken this week, showing just how far construction work has progressed. Architectural and Engineering work was done by Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Inc., of Detroit.

5,000 Persons Will Be Employed

Completion Scheduled for Spring, 1957

MILFORD — Contracts for the Lincoln Division's general office building and manufacturing plant in Novi Township were announced today by Ben D. Mills, Division general manager and Ford Motor Company vice president.

The general contract for the one-story 1,300,000 square-foot manufacturing plant was award the W. E. Wood Construction Co. of Detroit, which is currently laying the foundation. Included in this contract is a quarter-mile test track.

Work on the three-story 200,000 square-foot general office building, which will employ the lift-slab method of construction, was started last month by the Long Construction Co. Long will also build a power plant to supply both the plant and office building.

Grading of the 325-acre plant site began by Sugden and Sivier of Detroit, last December and that work is almost finished. More than 250,000 cubic yards of dirt have been moved to date.

Included in the facilities are four cafeterias, two dining rooms, an 800-line telephone switchboard and complete teletype and duplicating systems. Completion of the plant and office building is scheduled for spring of 1957.

Employment opportunities resulting from the construction of the new plant and office facilities, were outlined today by James Craw, Division Industrial Relations manager.

A total of some 5,000 persons will be needed to fill salaried and hourly positions at the plant, Craw said.

Of these, he pointed out, some will be employed immediately and others when the general offices and plant are completed.

Immediate openings are at the present Lincoln General Offices in Dearborn and include such classifications as process engineers, production equipment design engineers, material handling engineers, financial analysts, secretaries, senographers, typists and clerks.

The annual capacity of 90,000 cars on a straight-time basis, is scheduled to go into operation in mid-1957. The annual payroll will be between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 according to company officials.

Milford and surrounding towns have already felt the "growing-pains" of industrial towns. Hundreds of new homes are being built, new shopping centers are being planned and more school facilities are being constructed.

Wixom, closest to the new plant, has not felt the impact of the big project as yet, but land is for sale, and before long residents look for one of the biggest building booms in the towns history.

Drivers Escape Unscathed

ROMEO—Thomas Brady of Detroit, driving on Rochester road yesterday north of Romeo road, attempted to pass a car driven by John L. Lucas, 68, of 307 North Main St., Romeo and cut back too closely. His auto caught the Lucas car, spinning it around into a ditch. Brady's car also overturned in the ditch. Occupants of both cars miraculously escaped unhurt, according to police reports.

Know Neighbor and His Phone, Urges Chief

TROY—Police Chief David Gratopp is completing a series of contacts with residents, especially of Charnwood Hills, in hopes of catching a burglar who has struck numerous times in this and surrounding cities.

He has directed residents to learn their neighbors' names and phone numbers. In case of a home being burglarized, police could call nearby homes rather than search.

The burglar is believed to seek refuge in nearby residences when he is heard while in a home. Last week, a burglar robbed a home and apparently hid next door as police searched for him. He also stole a purse from the neighbor in whose home he took refuge.

Fred Wegner to Resign

PLEASANT RIDGE (AP)—Fred E. Wegner said today he will resign July 15 as city manager of Pleasant Ridge to accept a job with the National Assn. of Home Builders.

He will head the association's newly created Department of Community Facilities in Washington, D.C.

CAI Dance to Bid Farewell to Seniors

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — "Farewell to the Seniors" will be the theme of the high school recreation youth night dance to be held from 8-10 p.m. Thursday at the CAI building.

There will be favors for the graduates, and a band will furnish dance music.

This is the last dance of the school year, but three vacation dances have been scheduled. The first will be held on June 28.

Children's Day Sunday at Four Towns Church

FOUR TOWNS—Next Sunday will be Children's Day at Four Towns Methodist Church. There will be no classes, and Rev. W. Cadman Prout will deliver a special sermon. Individual gifts will be presented to each child.

$1,500,000 Structure

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has plans for a new $1,500,000 2-story accounting building in Northwest Detroit on a 40-acre tract at Southfield and Northwestern.

Snappy Postal Service Certain With Cooperation

Michigan farm residents can insure that their postal service remains first-rate and make life easier for their carrier by cooperating in this month's observance of rural mail box improvement month.

Says Burr Hunt, president of the Newaygo County Rural Mail Carrier Assn.:

"If each one on the route could understand how much time and effort would be saved by his carrier by properly placed mail boxes, I am sure he would gladly cooperate."

Mail service definitely is improved for the patron who has a mail box properly located and marked, with approaches free from ruts and obstructions, Hunt observes.

Golden Anniversary of Meat Inspection

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department will open a special exhibit Friday in celebrating with the livestock and meat industry the golden anniversary of the Federal Meat Inspection Service.

• • •

The exhibit will be in the patio of the department's administration building and will feature meats; their place in the diet, and the part the meat inspection service plays in meat production.

Driver of Fatal Car Fined, Gets Jail Term

LAPEER — Frank E. Smith, 27, 1530 Wright St., Flint, driver of the car which struck and killed Francis Leo (Jimmy) Sweeney, 11, on Monday afternoon, east of Lapeer on M-21, was brought before Justice of the Peace, Mrs. Isabel Hannah.

He was charged with driving a car while his application for a driver's license had been denied, due to faulty vision in one eye.

Smith was sentenced to spend 30 days in the Lapeer County jail and fined $100 and costs of $6.85. He has paid the fine and starts serving his jail sentence.

Waterford Church Club to Hold Rally Friday

WATERFORD — The Good News Club and the Sword of the Spirit Club of the Waterford Community Church will hold a rally and program at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Church.

Fish Fries Beginning

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Beginning Friday, the Women's Guild of St. Patrick church will hold a fish fry every Friday from 4:30 to 8 p.m., in the church hall. The public is cordially invited to attend. Take-out orders will be available. Mrs. Gerald F. DeSormier and Mrs. Marvin Wilson are co-chairmen.

Grandma Now as Good as New at Her Age, 103

CYNTHIANA, Ky. (AP) — Starting her 104th year of life, Mrs. Eliza Ann Rogers had one main hope today—that her friends would live to see her on her 110th birthday.

• • •

She reported herself "as good as new" on her 103rd birthday yesterday. Hundreds of friends sent cards and a great-great-granddaughter presented her with a cake.

• • •

The operator of the nursing home where she lives said Mrs. Rogers has made one concession to age: moving downstairs several years ago because her children and grandchildren were "getting too old" to climb the stairs.

French Government Eyes Mollet's Rule

PARIS (AP) — France's National Assembly buckled down today to debate on the general policies of Socialist Premier Guy Mollet's government. The spotlight centered on the darkening Algerian crisis.

• • •

Mollet has been authorized to call then for a vote of confidence in his four-month-old regime. The ballot is expected next Tuesday.

Although no end appeared in sight for the bitter 18-month-old Algerian insurrection, Mollet's government seemed in little danger of falling at this point.

BACK MOLLET

The Senate threw its weight behind Mollet's Algerian resident minister, Robert Lacoste, yesterday after getting a rundown on his "pacification and reform" program for the turbulent North African territory.

Last night the Assembly subcommittee reported after examining the Algerian situation that it had "full confidence in the minister resident."

• • •

Lacoste, told the Senate that during June the number of French ground troops alone in Algeria would total 364,000 men.

"This force should permit us to win," he said.

Don't Smoke in Bed!

Rescuers Almost Choke Dobbin With Tow Rope

TAD, W. Va. (AP)—Delbert Igo's horse fell into a 35-foot-deep well Tuesday. Igo frantically called Bob Morris' Wrecker Service in nearby Charleston.

• • •

Morris winched his heavy wrecker to a tree, dropped a rope over the horse's shoulders and hauled him, dripping wet and still as death out of the well.

For 15 minutes, Morris and a bystander gave artificial respiration, pumping the horse's muscled chest. A sudden heave, a snort and the bewildered and bedraggled animal stood wobbly on his feet.

Veterinarian F. E. Hersey says the 4-year-old animal is in danger of dying, but not from the 3½-hour dunking in the well.

According to Hersey, the rope thrown around the animal's shoulders to hoist him out of the well apparently slipped up around his neck and almost choked him.

Hollywood Headlines

Hypnotism Throws Spell on Filmdom's Partygoers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bridey Murphy has brought a new party craze to Hollywood—hypnotism.

• • •

Toast of the town after only six weeks here is a Scottish-born Canadian named Bill McGonigle. At various parties he has hypnotized Kathryn Grayson into telling of another life as an English housewife, Jane Powell into persisting with her diet and Phyliss Kirk into giving up sweets and cigarettes.

FAD LOVERS

Hollywood embraces fads with vigor—author Gayelord Hauser's diet and scrabble struck hard here. So it was only natural that the movie folk should become intrigued with hypnotism. A professional entertainer is currently hypnotizing notables nightly at Mocambo. Volumes on hypnotism have been snapped up at the book stores.

• • •

McGonigle, 34, has been invited to 15 exclusive parties in recent weeks and, to hear him tell it, he has been a sensation. Among his amazing achievements was shutting up Mickey Rooney.

• • •

The obstreperous Mick was always getting into the act while McGonigle was hypnotizing others at a recent party. So the hypnotist put the whammy on Mickey and made him sit silently in a chair.

LITTLE NERVOUS

"I was a little nervous about working in front of these people," the Scotsman observed, "because all of them are entertainers in their own right. But they seemed to be fascinated by what I was doing."

• • •

And no wonder. He regressed Kathryn Grayson to a "previous life" as the wife of an older man and the mother of three children in 19th century England. McGonigle said that the singer gave an amazing reproduction of the talk of a semi-illiterate Lancashire woman.

Publisher Raps His Profession

Says Working Authors Make Less Than $3,000 a Year Income

NEW YORK (INS)—"Most writers," says Edward Uhlan, "seem convinced that a publisher is a fellow who drinks champagne out of an author's skull."

* * *

As president of Exposition Press, one of the largest "subsidy" (you pay them) houses, Uhlan knows this is nonsense—publishers can't afford champagne. In a semi-autobiography, "The Rogue of Publishers Row" he tells why.

Today's publishers, he maintains, are like a sorcerer's apprentice: They can "conjure up books, but fall miserably to make them disappear." This may be one of the reasons that over half the authors registered with the Authors' League of America earn under $3,000 a year.

Uhlan blames the industry's horse-and-buggy methods of advertising, merchandising and distribution.

Four thousand-odd retail book outlets, the majority of which are concentrated within 500 miles of New York City, are expected to satisfy the needs of 166 million Americans; sixty percent of all book advertising is placed in the pages of two New York newspapers, an "unhealthy" state of affairs; publishers do not space out their books, but issue them en masse during the four "heavy" months of April, May, October and November, thus forcing reviewers to overlook many titles for lack of space.

Bob Considine Says:

Time to Read the Long-Neglected Mailbag

NEW YORK (INS) — Strange and wondrous things pop out of envelopes when a fellow in my Dodge starts shucking long-neglected mail:

Capt. Eugene R. Guild, spokesman for the 88 survivors of Korean War dead who are suing the government for $1,000,000 for each boy lost, writes, "I notice that press accounts are failing to mention that the kin have pledged the money to purge Communists from the government."

THE BERRYS — By Carl Grubert

Plant Villains Prey on Innocent Vegetable Crops

CORVALLIS, Ore. (INS)—There are "villains" in the plant world just as there are in real life and some of them, disguised as innocent flowers, can raise havoc with vegetable crops.

Plant pathologists at Oregon State College have run a number of these villains to earth through research

Fragrant daphne plants can be the cause of a ruined cucumber crop. According to J. A. Milbrath and Roy Young, daphne odora from 48 different collections contained virus harmful to cucumber plants.

Dahlias have been known to carry virus which knock out tomato plants in record time.

Gladiolus fields have been found with infections which ruined commercial bean and cucumber fields.

So the next time your cucumbers don't turn out as well as you expected, look around for one of these plant villains nearby.

Try Budgeting Food Buying

Buying food on a budget is simpler when you select thrifty meats. Fresh beef tongue, a thrifty meat, makes a hearty family main course when served with a piquant onion sauce. Here is the recipe:

BEEF TONGUE WITH SAUCE

1 fresh beef tongue
1 clove garlic, sliced
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon thyme
4 whole cloves
10 peppercorns
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup vinegar

Sauce

3 medium onions, sliced
¼ cup butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons flour
1¾ cups meat stock
1 branch celery, chopped
½ bay leaf
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons pickle relish
1 tablespoon vinegar

Wash tongue, place in a pan and cover with cold water; add seasonings. Cover pan, heat to boiling, then lower heat and simmer 50 minutes per pound of meat or until tender. Remove skin, slice and serve with the sauce.

Sauce: Brown onions in butter; blend in flour and brown slightly. Add stock, celery, bay leaf, salt, and pepper. Simmer ½ hour or until onions are tender. Remove bay leaf. Sieve and cook 10 minutes longer. Mix in relish and vinegar and serve. 6 to 8 servings.

Hot Weather Trouble? Try Cool Glass of Milk

A cool glass of milk makes one of the most refreshing drinks anyone can have in hot weather. But if a little variety seems like a good idea, then occasionally throw in a change by using food coloring, to produce pink milk, or green milk; by adding fruit juice, such as the sweetened juice from canned peaches or pineapple; by adding extracts, such as maple and vanilla; or spices, such as cinnamon or nutmeg.

• • •

For a super-duper Grape Milk Shake, combine 2 cups milk, 2 cups grape juice, ¼ cup pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, and ¼ cup cream. Mix in shaker or stir with eggbeater until foamy. Serve chilled.

Drippings Make Gravy

Don't throw away the appealing flavor found in the broth of cooked meats. These drippings make delicious pan or cream gravies and the nutrients found in gravy contribute to the general food value of the meal.

SUMMER'S SALAD PLATE — Arrange small leafy greens like chicory or water cress in an X, forming four open triangles on the plate. Heap crisp carrot curls in center. Spoon cottage cheese in two opposite triangles, using about ½ cup for each mound. Core apples and cut into thick slices. Arrange with grapefruit sections in remaining two triangles. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Let's Have Fried Chicken This Week

After the holiday, many shoppers may be looking for ways to stretch their food dollars. Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, suggests several ways of keeping within the food budget.

Planning meals in advance with imagination for ways of using leftovers is the first step. Studying food ads, then checking prices and quality at the counter keeps the shopper up-to-date on changes in the food market. A written market list cuts shopping time and serves as a reminder to stay within the family plan.

MEATS—This is the season when pork prices are gradually rising. Fewer hogs are marketed, so all pork cuts show retail increases. There are more heavy weight hogs than earlier in the spring with coarser-grained, darker colored meat. For the thriftier cuts of pork, choose picnics, Boston Butts, or cottage butts.

Beef prices remain about the same as last week with very slight increases on some cuts. Beef is generally the lowest it has been in several years with some cuts ranging from 5 to 15 per cent less than a year ago.

One of the most reasonable values is chuck roast at about 20 to 25 cents per serving. Round steak, another good cut for braising or swissing, is specially priced in some stores.

A small amount of spring lamb is in the market. These young lambs are smaller than usual due to late spring weather. Their high price is off-set by the fine quality available.

POULTRY—Broiler-Fryers are popular at this time. Due to strong customer demand, prices have remained fairly steady for several weeks. There is a wide difference in price depending upon size, quality, and whether the birds are whole or cut up.

VEGETABLES—There is wide variety in quality and price of vegetables on the produce counters, and each warm day brings the "home grown" season nearer. So far, a small supply of Michigan grown asparagus is available. Shoppers will notice it's superior quality compared to that which is being shipped in.

For several weeks the quality of green beans has not been good, but improvement is now very evident. Green beans should be cold and crisp if they are to have the best fresh flavor. If green beans are on the market list, select a pound for each 4 to 4½ servings.

Cabbage, tomatoes, and corn all wear slightly higher price tags. One retailer explains that heavy consumer demand for these vegetables has decreased supplies and temporarily raised prices.

More long white California potatoes are arriving, and in many stores these are the best value. Both Idaho and Maine potato supplies are dwindling, and Michigan's crop is almost gone.

FRUITS—Now that strawberries are arriving from Indiana, Michiganders know that within two or three weeks locally grown berries will be here. Now might be a good time to compare costs between fresh and frozen strawberries. A quart of good quality fresh berries will give 5 or 5 one-half cup servings, compared to a 10-ounce frozen package with 2½, or a 16-ounce frozen package with 4 servings.

Honey dew melons and Tartarian cherries are rather new items on the summer fruit counter, and since supplies are light, prices are high.

Summer Morning Dish: Chilled Cream of Wheat

HOT CREAM OF WHEAT
Topped with Chilly Ice Cream

Although it rates as a special treat, this breakfast dish satisfies the need for one hot dish every day. And, best of all, it does so in the cool of the morning when it's easier to prepare, more fun for the family.

Preparation is simple. Cream of Wheat is cooked quickly, according to package directions, spooned hot into cereal bowls and topped with ice cream from the freezer. From a nourishment standpoint, this new breakfast dish is practically a "complete food." Rich in protiens, Enriched Quick Cream of Wheat contains generous amounts of extra minerals, vitamins and wheat germ, while the ice cream provides the food values of cream, sugar and flavor all in one.

With an almost limitless variety of ice cream flavors to choose from, a Cream of Wheat a la Mode breakfast can be different every day.

VARY CREAM OF WHEAT A LA MODE

Fill individual casseroles or jumbo coffee cups.

Chain Cooking Saves Time, Fuel, Work, Money

Chain cooking means cooking too much on purpose. It is economy cooking for it saves time, fuel, work and money. Nothing is wasted and everything is saved.

Chain cooking is of two types: Large quantities of a recipe prepared for five or 10 meals ahead, frozen in meal-size packages for simple reheating; or cooking to create ready-cooked elements for other recipes calling for pre-cooked ingredients.

Pepper in the Diet

TOKYO (AP)—Socialists formed a human wall and tossed pepper in Japan's Diet (Parliament) corridors today in an effort to block legislation strengthening government control of education. They were attempting to prevent floor debate on a series of bills centralizing Japan's school system.

Introducing Lever Brothers' new non-dairy spread for bread!

Keep in refrigerator to protect perfect flavor

THE FIRST MARGARINE UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED TO TASTE LIKE THE HIGH-PRICED SPREAD!

All you need to do is try it once! You can taste that Imperial is a completely new kind of margarine . . . a product so superior that it carries a guarantee never before made in all of margarine history. But then, there's never been a margarine like it! Imperial is the first margarine unconditionally guaranteed to bring you the tantalizing flavor formerly found only in the expensive spread for bread.

Imperial's Got That Flavor

Flavor is what's been missing in margarine. And flavor is what Lever Brothers devoted seven years to achieve . . . seven years of testing formula after formula to bring you the incomparable flavor of the expensive spread for bread. It wasn't hard to make Imperial spread smoother and easier than any other margarine. And it wasn't hard to make Imperial as nutritious as even the most expensive spread you can buy. The trick was flavor. And Imperial is the first margarine to capture and hold that unmistakable flavor everybody loves.

Tastes Like the High-Priced Spread

We know you may find it hard to believe that a margarine could live up to all we claim for Imperial. So, we want you to give Imperial the toughest tests you know. Spread Imperial on bread or toast . . . use it for seasoning vegetables . . . plop a generous chunk of Imperial in your frying pan and set it sizzling with eggs for your fussy husband. Any way, and every way, new Imperial tastes like the high-priced spread.

Aroma to Match That Flavor

Imperial's superiority shows itself in many ways—as a matter of fact—in every way you use it. For instance, when you fry with Imperial, just lean over and sniff its sweet, fresh goodness. Imperial smells so good it makes you hungry just watching it melt. Hot or cold, in your frying pan, or spread on bread, Imperial is the one margarine you'll never have to make excuses for—no matter how fussy the company.

You Agree, or We Return Your Money!

Try Imperial and see. Remember—when you take home a pound of Imperial, you're not buying, you're just trying. Because Lever Brothers unconditionally guarantees Imperial will taste like the high-priced spread to you, or they'll return every penny you spent to try it.

P.S. Like the high-priced spread, Imperial is delicate and perishable. So to protect its perfect flavor, always keep Imperial in your refrigerator!

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

We imagine that almost every man who attended school or college in the east, and thousands of servicemen who have visited New York City, know our favorite spot there—the German-American Rathskeller. We've been an addict for more than 30 years, and we hold Joe King and Jack Lichtenberg, the proprietors, in highest regard.

The establishment overflows with "gemutlichkeit" and good eating—and here is one of their most popular dishes, "SAUERBRATEN WITH RED CABBAGE AND DUMPLINGS." This makes for a big crowd of people. Probably one-third of the quantity will serve eight.

10 pounds lean butt or bottom round beef, cut in pieces of pot roast size
Mixture of 2 3 cider vinegar and 1-3 water
10 ounces claret wine
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 stalk celery, chopped
3 medium onions, chopped
1 carrot, thin sliced
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices

Stir the pickling mixture together well. Place meat in a suitable receptacle—a kettle or preferably a wooden bucket or pail, and pour the mixture over, making sure that the meat is covered. Set in a cool place and let stand two days. Turn the meat and let stand two more days.

After the fourth day, remove meat to proper sized oven pan. Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Strain vegetables, saving the marinade. Pour vegetables over and around the meat, and cook 15 minutes, stirring vegetables to prevent burning, and turning the meat.

Reduce heat to 300 degrees and continue turning, cooking and stirring vegetables until all is a rich golden brown. The meat, says Joe, "will give off with its own juices."

When all is nicely browned, combine one can of tomato paste with one cup of rich beef consomme (two bouillon cubes in boiling water will do), and pour this over the meat, then stir in enough of the pickling mixture to cover. Cook, turning frequently, until meat is tender, probably from two to 2½ hours.

Remove meat, strain off the liquid, thicken it to suit with flour and water, bring to a boil, then stir in four ounces of claret, and that is your gravy.

The meat is served on hot plates, two slices one-quarter inch thick per portion with dumplings on one side, the gravy poured over, and red cabbage on the other side. For the POTATO PUMPLINGS:

Scrub and boil eight medium sized potatoes in their skins until not quite tender; remove from water and peel while still warm. Do this the day before you make the dumplings.

Put the potatoes, when cooled, through a meat grinder, and add two eggs; two tablespoons farina; one tablespoon cornstarch; one cup small bread croutons. Season with salt and a pinch of thyme and add ¼ cup fine minced parsley. Knead batter until thoroughly mixed.

Roll into balls two inches in diameter with floured hands. Bring a pot of salted water to a boil, then reduce heat to a simmer and cook the dumplings, uncovered, for 15 minutes.

RED CABBAGE: Chop one large or two small heads of cabbage in thin slices "julienne." Place in pot, add two apples, cored, peeled and finely chopped; one cup vinegar; pinch of salt; two tablespoons sugar; one cup of water.

* * *

If using winter cabbage, use 1½ cups water. Chop two small onions fine, saute in two tablespoons bacon fat until golden, and stir into the cabbage and simmer about 45 minutes. "Prosit!"

Stuffed Celery Salad New Delightful Treat

Stuffed Celery Salad

1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
3 tablespoons finely chopped chutney (without syrup)
24 pieces celery (cut them in 1-inch lengths)
½ cup chopped pecans
Bibb lettuce or romaine
French dressing

Have the cream cheese at room temperature; mix well with the chutney. Fill celery pieces with cheese mixture and sprinkle with chopped pecans; do not try to fill celery wedges full if there is not enough cheese to go around. Arrange stuffed celery pieces on Bibb lettuce or romaine. Serve with a French dressing made from olive oil, wine vinegar, prepared mustard, salt and pepper. Makes 6 servings.

Serve Barbecue Sauce With This Easy Recipe

Simplicity is the order of the day for barbecues . . . even the cook should be able to relax. Here's a simple barbecue sauce that's particularly good with ham steaks.

To a small can of tomato paste add ½ cup of sautéed chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon cider vinegar, ½ teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, and 1½ teaspoons molasses. This is enough to serve six. Heat thoroughly, serve immediately . . . and then take things easy.

Milk Shakes, Chiffon Cake Give Cooks the Breaks

Summer is hesitating on the threshold. Let's welcome her by using some of the new food products now appearing on the grocer's shelves.

You can have all the milk shakes you want this summer—and easily too—if you'll use the new milk shake powder called Kool Shakes. You add your own milk and sugar to taste. The result is a thick, smooth milk drink.

Calorie watchers can use skim milk and less sugar or a sugar substitute. A milk shake made in this manner has about 100 calories per 8-ounce glass. You may choose vanilla, chocolate or strawberry flavor.

Last weekend we had chiffon cake for dessert on Sunday. We made it with a new cake mix. It was delicious, fine-grained and moist.

The mix differs from other mixes in that you add two fresh eggs to the packages of dry eggs. Finally you add the contents of a little sack of vegetable oil. Bake in a tube pan like an angel food cake.

Have you seen the new frozen scallops? They are cooked to a golden-brown goodness, then quick frozen. All you have to do to serve them is to heat them briefly. They're good for dinner or on a hors d'oeuvre tray.

No longer will pink lemonade be limited to your trips to the circus. You may now buy quick frozen pink lemonade concentrate.

Pink Lemonade Soda

For each soda, stir 6 tablespoons Frozen Concentrate for Pink Lemonade (½ can) into ¾ cup carbonated water in a tall glass (18 to 20 ounce size). Add a scoop of strawberry ice cream; stir briskly to blend.

If desired, top with whipped cream or more ice cream, and a maraschino cherry. One 6-ounce can of frozen concentrate makes two large, or three small sodas. Serve at a teen-age "slumber" party.

Young mothers of today's babies take canned baby food for granted. They forget—or perhaps do not know—how recently this food came on the market. That, however, is not the point of this story.

Do baby meats save time and money for mothers? An experienced Home Economist learned the hard way about the money and work-saving virtues of prepared baby meats.

Her careful tests proved that it takes 6 ounces of round beef to yield 3½ ounces of cooked, scraped beef when prepared by a home method. A full 20 minutes were needed to scrape and cook the 3½ ounces of beef.

Although the beef was troublesome, the real trial in the "at home" meat tests was veal. The old-fashioned word "ornery" best describes slippery veal round. It cost the Home Economist 10 ounces of veal round steak, 35 minutes and a blistered finger to produce the equivalent of 3½ ounces.

By the time beef liver is trimmed of its outside sheath and heavy veins, it requires 6 ounces of beef liver to produce 3½ ounces of cooked, ground liver. Preparation time was about 15 minutes. Remember this timing reflects the work of an experienced food person.

For some time we have meant to tell you about the quick Caramel Nut Rolls you can now buy in cans. You'll find them in the refrigerated dairy case at your grocer's.

All you do is crumble the caramel nut topping into a pan and sprinkle with water. Top with the unbaked rolls. Bake 23 minutes at 375 degrees. Invert the pan of baked rolls immediately after baking. The result is a luscious, sticky sweet roll.

With the picnic season starting now may we end with our annual warning:

REFRIGERATE ALL FOODS CONTAINING MAYONNAISE OR COOKED EGG MIXTURES, LIKE CUSTARDS.

Mix your potato salad at the last minute. Take all the ingredients to the picnic in separate containers. Do the same with such things as chicken and ham or fish salads.

Forget custard fillings for cakes and eclairs during the warm months. Don't risk poisoning your family. Dangerous germs multiply fast in these egg mixtures.

Instant Tea Answer for Thirsty Household

Families who still aren't reconciled to most instant products can try the new instant tea with a good conscience. Tea connoisseurs, the fussiest food experts in the world, have put their seal of approval on the already-brewed instant tea on the score of flavor and point out that it has the extra advantage of being immediately adjustable to individual tastes for strength and color.

Instant tea is a perfect answer for households who like and enjoy iced tea. About a teaspoon, mixed first in a little boiling water and then with ice and cold water added, yields within a few seconds a full ten or twelve ounce glass. For hot tea, a half teaspoon in boiling water is enough for the average tea cup, with more or less tea added according to personal taste.

Pink Rhubarb Adds Contrast to Rich Toppings

Pretty pink rhubarb makes a tart contrast to a rich batter topping. Serve this pudding with sweet or dairy sour cream.

* * *

Combine 2 cups rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces (about ½ pound); 1 orange, cut in small pieces (if desired); and ⅔ cup sugar. Divide mixture evenly into 6 greased custard cups.

Sift together 1 cup sifted enriched flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Cream together ¼ cup shortening and ¼ cup sugar. Add 1 egg and beat well.

Add ½ teaspoon vanilla extract to ⅓ cup milk. Add to creamed mixture alternately with flour mixture. Stir until smooth.

Drops batter onto rhubarb mixture, almost filling custard cups. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

says Connie Clausen on the BEECH-NUT TV Program

Make Wedding Cake at Home

Vanilla Flavor Is Traditional

Hand-Decorated Treat Reflects Old Tradition of Family Warmth

Happy is the bride the sun shines on—and doubly happy the one whose reception reflects the warmth of her family's affection in such details as a beautiful homemade wedding cake!

The tempo of life in 1956 makes it necessary for today's bride and her mother to forego the hand-embroidered trousseau lingerie and hand-hemmed damask napkins that were in the hope chest of grandmother's day. But one sentimental tradition that can be carried out even on a limited time schedule is the homemade, hand-decorated wedding cake baked in the bride's own home. A cake that has the same nothing-but-the-best-ingredients, and pride of creation, that grandmother's bridal cake did.

Vanilla is, of course, the traditional wedding-cake flavor. And upon the quality of the vanilla extract used in both cake and frosting depends the goodness and "real" taste of this wedding dessert. Often overlooked in baking is the fact that a good pure vanilla extract not only adds its own flavor but brings out that of other ingredients, especially the fresh dairy products.

Grandmother, and her mother, assured themselves of fine vanilla flavor by chopping up a vanilla bean and steeping it in warm milk to distill its delicious essence. It was a time consuming process but the results justified it. Today's mother of the bride can get the same true vanilla flavor from a bottle of the pure extract of vanilla.

When the happy bride cuts her beautiful cake how wonderful to know that its taste will live up to its looks!

Wedding Cake

One pan, 9¾x2¼ inches
One pan, 7½x2¼ inches
One pan, 4x2¼ inches

You will need three packages of white cake mix, the quantity of liquid and egg whites called for in the directions and ½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract for each package. Set oven temperature to 350 degrees (moderate).

* * *

Prepare one package of cake mix at a time. Fill each of the cake pans approximately one-half full with batter. Place the largest pan in the front. Bake the largest pan 55 minutes or until tester inserted in the center comes out clean; the medium size pan 45 minutes; the smallest pan 30 minutes. Remove from oven and cool 30 minutes in the pans. Turn out onto wire racks. Carefully remove paper at once. Frost cake the next day for best results. Yield: 75 pieces.

Vanilla Cream Frosting

1½ cups butter or margarine, softened
10 cups (3 pounds) sifted confectioners' sugar
¾ cup milk or light cream
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons pure vanilla extract

Mix butter or margarine until fluffy. Add sifted confectioners' sugar alternately with milk or cream mixing well after each addition. (If frosting is too thick, add more milk or cream.) Blend in salt and pure vanilla extract. Keep bowl covered with a damp cloth while frosting cake to prevent it from becoming too dry. Yield: This amount will frost and decorate the entire cake.

To Decorate Cake

Cut a stiff piece of cardboard ½-inch larger than the diameter of the largest cake. Cover with cellophane. Brush all loose crumbs from cakes. Place the largest one on cardboard, making sure it is centered. (Placing cake on cardboard makes it easier to handle.) Spread with frosting, smoothing it down with a spatula dipped in hot water. Top with medium size layer, being sure it is centered. Frost. Top with the smallest layer and spread it with frosting. Place on the serving plate.

Now put the finishing touches around the bottom and edges of cake, with frosting put through a decorator's tube. Use the star tip for edges and flowers and the leaf tip for the leaves.

Grandma's Recipe Tops

Grandma's recipe for sugar cookies is still a good one. But give the cookies new flavor by sprinkling them with sesame seeds before baking. Or melt mint-flavored chocolate pieces and sandwich two cookies together with the minted chocolate. Or top the cookies with dates (cooked until thick in a little orange juice) and then spread the date topping with a plain chocolate frosting.

Serve Chicken With Left-Overs

You'll be using up leftovers—but the family will never guess it—when you serve these taste-tempting Chicken Squares made with pieces of broiled or roasted chicken. The chicken is combined with cooked rice, hot chicken stock, eggs and seasonings, and then flavorfully topped with a layer of oven-toasted rice cereal blended with melted butter. Bake for about 40 minutes, and cut into squares before serving.

If you wish, this recipe can be prepared in the morning and stored in the refrigerator for baking just before dinner time.

Chicken Squares

3 cups diced or sliced cooked chicken
1 cup cooked rice
1½ tablespoons chopped parsley
1½ tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1½ cups hot seasoned chicken stock
1 cup oven-toasted rice cereal
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine

Combine chicken, rice, parsley, pimiento, salt, pepper and eggs; mix carefully. Stir in hot chicken stock. Pour into greased 8x8-inch pan. Combine Rise Krispies and melted butter; sprinkle over chicken mixture. Set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 40 minutes, or until set. Yield: 9 2½-inch squares.

Glamour Your Cake by Broiling Frosting

To add lots of glamour to your favorite cake, broil this frosting right on before removing from the pan. Its elegance belies its simplicity.

Brown lightly ⅓ cup chopped blanched almonds in a shallow pan under the broiler. Mix them with 3 tablespoons butter, ⅓ cup brown sugar and 1 tablespoon evaporated milk. Spread on cake and place under broiler until mixture is bubbly. It just takes a minute or two so watch carefully! This does nicely for a cake baked in a 9x9x2 inch baking pan.

Quick Ham Sauce

Quick sauce for ham: Combine a well-drained No. 2 can of crushed pineapple with 1 tablespoon prepared horse-radish and a pinch of salt and mustard. Chill overnight. Serve cold with baked ham.

Various Drinks Will Satisfy All

It's always time for a refreshing drink. From the everyday requests from the children for drinks after school and the afternoon pick-up you need for yourself, to the planned party occasions, there's always a time for drinks in variety.

And to please the whims of all members of the family, it is well to have an assortment of bottled carbonated beverages chilling in your refrigerator. Small-sized bottles are just right for a single drink and a selection of ginger ale and orange, grape, black cherry, and raspberry among the fruit flavors should suit everybody for a quick thirst-quencher. Of course, the large bottles are more economical for making sodas or other mixed drinks for a crowd, or for those times when unexpected guests drop in.

This drink, made with fresh orange juice and grape soda, is a fine one for the youngsters and equally as good for informal parties.

Vineyard Delight

Juice of 2 oranges
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
1 pint orange ice
1 28-ounce bottle grape soda

* * *

Divide orange juice, grated peel and orange ice between 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold grape soda. Stir gently to mix.

Springtime Also Means Salad Season Time

Spring is here, bringing birds, flowers—and salads. Yes, it's the salad season, and the class in salad dressings will please come to order. For top honors we nominate Molasses Salad Dressing, the perfect accompaniment for fruit salads.

* * *

For four servings combine a cup of mayonnaise with ½ cup real New Orleans molasses and three tablespoons lemon juice. You'll be rewarded with a delicious dressing that's a real winner in its class.

Pasta Dishes Save You Time

Tops in the time-saving department are macaroni, spaghetti and egg noodles. There's no peeling, no washing, no waste. In addition to all these attributes, they're nourishing and popular with all ages.

Macaroni with Swiss-Chive Sauce

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup chopped onions
¼ cup chopped chives
2 cups grated processed Swiss cheese (about ½ pound)
1 cup milk
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter or margarine. Add onions and cook until tender. Add remaining ingredients and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until cheese is melted. Serve sauce over macaroni.

When you serve iced coffee, dress it up by topping it with honey sweetened whipped cream, then sprinkle with cinnamon and nutmeg.

Try These Tips on Beef Burgers

The editors of a home magazine have, in their June issue, put together an article about the real beef burger —unadorned, unadulterated, untouched by extraneous seasoning. And if you want to know how to make the best plain beef hamburger in your town—not the hundreds of chopped meat variants known to man in every part of the civilized world—here's one article you should read.

Here, as contained in this article, are some of the "Do's" for the perfect, all-American hamburger:

1. Get acquainted with the goodness of economical chuck and neck meat.
2. Keep fat to a minimum.
3. Remove the sinews, clots, cartilages, and all excess fat.
4. Cook meat soon after grinding —immediately, if possible.
5. Avoid crushing or mashing meat.
6. Make sure that your grinder is sharp and powerful.
7. Grind meat once through the fine cutting blade, if meat is not fibrous—once through coarse blade and then once through fine blade if it is fibrous.
8. Cook low and slow, at least three inches from source of heat if broiling; on a thermostatically controlled griddle or surface until at 350 degrees F.
9. Don't overcook; five to 15 minutes are the usual limits.
10. Add salt after cooking—never before.
11. Cook hamburger with as little fat as possible on a very lightly greased non sticking griddle.

Serve Scone Ring Strawberry Plates

Strawberries served in a Scone Ring make a glorious dessert.

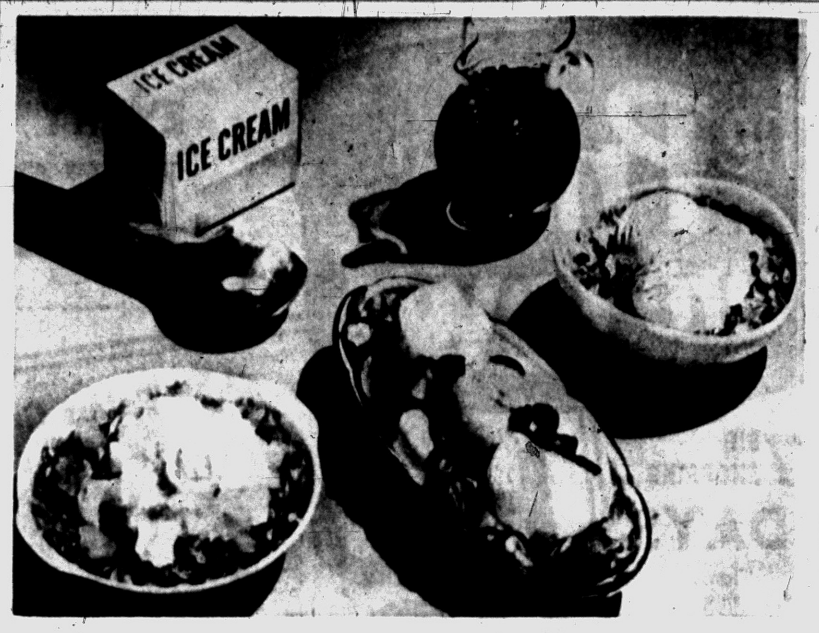

Sift together 3 cups sifted enriched flour, 4½ teaspoons baking powder, 1½ teaspoons salt and 4½ teaspoons sugar. Cut in 6 tablespoons shortening. Beat 2 eggs.

Add 1½ cups milk to beaten eggs and addall to flour mixture. Stir only until flour is mostened. Pour batter into greased 9-inch ring mold. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes.

When baked, unmold and fill center with about 1½ quarts sweetened strawberries. Garnish top and sides with whole berries. Makes 8 servings.

Dessert Formula

When you bake desserts that make the most of fresh spring fruits, be sure you keep right on using enriched flour. The enrichment formula—thiamine, niacin and riboflavin plus food iron—is your year-around assurance of top nutrition at no added cost.

ICE CREAM FOR BREAKFAST! — It's a new idea, but no more radical than soup for breakfast. That caught the popular fancy in the past year. Teenagers will fairly fly to the breakfast table when they spy these cereal sundaes. Pyramids of creamy rich ice cream nesting atop flaky whole wheat cereal say "Good morning" in a most nutritious way.

Cereal Sundaes Are Easy to Prepare for Dessert

Cereal sundaes are simply the easiest way yet to serve milk, sugar and fruit over cereal. The milk and sugar can be found in ONE package of ice cream. The wheat flakes come out of a package ready to eat. Add a delicious fruit topping and presto, you have a bowl of cereal boasting the conventional accompaniments, but prepared in an unconventional way. Personally we are in favor of any shortcuts you can mention. In these busy days it is really the only way to keep meal preparation in proper relation to one's life.

Ice cream and cereals are popular cheer leaders whenever served. They rate cheers for the cook. Ice cream, an important dairy food, is high in nutritive value. Whole wheat flake cereal contains the vitamins and minerals of 100 per cent whole wheat recognized as most important to all of us. So in serving this combination you provide much more simply "good taste" for your family. It will be a sure-fire way of creating enthusiasm for breakfast, which you realise is the day's most important meal.

Speaking of enthusiasm, your teenage offspring will fairly bound for the table when cereal sundaes mark the order of the morn. What's even more gratifying, they'll undoubtedly insist upon making their own at times, each one trying to outdo the others' creations.

By varying the many, many kinds of ice cream available these warm summer months, along with fruit toppings of different kinds, and keeping the box of wheat flakes handy, the number of possible combinations is endless. And regardless of the kinds your children come up with, you can be sure that they will be getting from these cereal sundaes the vitamins and energy they need to be bright and sparkling.

One of our favorite wheat flakes and ice cream combinations consists of our own version of banana ice cream. Soften vanilla ice cream just enough to whip with an egg beater. Add mashed bananas, as you beat the ice cream, and you have an unusual varation of the bananas on wheat flakes idea. Top with crushed pineapple, a year-round favorite.

Another bowlful of zip and boun is comprised of maple ice cream with maple syrup drizzled over the top. The teen-ager crowd agrees that this rates an "A" for appeal.

The banana split has long been at the top of the taste Hit Parade. Try tucking a cupful or two of flaky wheat cereal underneath the bananas and ice cream, top with strawberries, and you have the number one breakfast choice, as well. Served in the conventional banana split dish it is gala enough for the most formal summer brunch, yet so yummy and filling it will satisfy all ravenous young appetites.

For your brunch buffet, serve a tasty combination of softened raspberry revel ice cream nestled into wheat flakes and crowned with fresh or frozen peaches. Soften ice cream by whipping with wooden spoon. Another flavor team in full dress color is butter almond ice cream covered with cherries.

Q. What is the name of these cuts of meat?

A. Beef Short Ribs.

Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?

A. They are cut from the ends of ribs and contain a section of flat rib bone and alternating layers of fat and lean.

Q. How are they prepared?

A. They are cooked slowly by braising or in liquid ond require 1½ to 2½ hours for cooking. To braise, brown the short ribs on all sides in their own fat. Season with salt and pepper and add a small amount of liquid. Cover tightly and cook at a low temperature (simmer) until tender.

Colorful Dessert Is Cherry Puffs

Showers! Showers! Right now the calendar is brimful of parties for brides, mothers-to-be and sweet girl graduates. Outstanding refreshments go a long way toward making a shower successful, so when you're the hostess, you will want something very special.

Happy idea is Cherry Puffs, a colorful dessert that sets the stage for decorations, too. Tying in attractively with a pink and white color scheme, these elegant cream puffs are filled with ice cream and topped with a sauce of dark sweet cherries. For variation in flavor and color, canned blueberry or peach pie fillings are also good toppings, and they make refreshment time so easy on the hostess!

Cherry Puffs

1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 can or jar (16 ounce) pitted dark sweet cherries
½ teaspoon almond extract
8 baked cream puffs
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Combine cornstarch and salt; add syrup drained from cherries and mix until smooth. Cook until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Add cherries and almond extract; cool. Cut cream puffs in half and put a scoop of ice cream in each. Replace tops and spoon on the cherry sauce. Five servings.

Piquant Egg Dish —Ideal Noon Meal

Poached Eggs on Ham Toast

1 cup ground ham
¼ cup finely diced celery
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
Toast
Poached eggs

Mix together the ham, celery, sweet pickle relish and mayonnaise. Spread on toast and top with poached eggs. Here is one way to poach eggs: break an egg into a saucer and slip it gently into boiling salted water in a deep skillet; have enough water so egg will be covered. Cover closely and allow to stand, with heat turned off, until as firm as desired. Remove eggs with slotted spoon and drain thoroughly before serving. Note: Dry or prepared mustard may be added to the ham mixture for savory flavor.

Ever Try This?

For a delightful and unusual garnish for a steak or chops, cut 6 bananas in half and wrap with slices of bacon and fasten with wooden picks. Broil or bake in a moderately hot oven (400 F.) until bananas are tender and bacon is crisp. Turn frequently.

GRAND SLAM CAKE—Low in calories, simple to make, this Grand Slam Cake is prepared with a low calorie chocolate cake mix. The package includes also the low calorie frosting mix. Bake in a loaf pan, slice and frost. Chill several hours. Garnish with cherries and almonds. Slice diagonally and serve.

Few Calories in This Cake

Without question, trump for the evening will be this "Grand Slam Cake." Those watching their calories will be thrilled to learn that this rich creamy cake is made with a low calorie chocolate flavored cake mix. The frosting, which also is low calorie, is included in the package.

The chances are that the day your bridge club meets, you'll have a dozen other things to worry about too. You'll be happy to learn that this delicious "Grand Slam Cake" is so easy to prepare.

The proper thing is to start by carefully following the package directions. Next pour into a greased 9¼x5¼x2¾-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, 20-25 minutes. Cool.

Slice as for bread. Prepare low calorie frosting as directed on package. Spread frosting between slices and on top and side of cake. Chill several hours in refrigerator. Garnish with cherries and almonds. Slice diagonally and serve.

Crisped, Tossed Salad Ideal Summer Plate

A cool salad, either a crisp tossed salad or molded gelatin salad, could be the main course on a warm spring day. And a salad can be made hearty for even the most ravenous appetites by adding meat to the ingredients. Chilled canned meates can be cut into strips, diced or cubed, and added to salad to make it more filling.

Canned luncheon meat is a tasty addition, and dried beef, ham, Vienna sausage, corned beef, frankfurters, and tongue are also salad-worthy meats. Canned meats add flavor to potato, macaroni, and bean salads, too.

Farm Life Influences the Various Pork Prices

Seasonal ups and downs in the price of pork are largely the result of the facts of life on the farm. Most farmers plan to have the biggest number of baby pigs born in the Spring, feed them on carefully planned diets of corn and other special feeds for about six to eight months. That means the biggest number of pigs will come to market in December.

Many hog raisers also arrange to have their sows, or mother pigs, produce a second litter of pigs in the fall, and that times out to put a second peak in the supply of hogs in March. From March to July fewer hogs come to market and prices rise. From July to December, more hogs come to market and prices fall.

Beef that is to be pot-roasted should be a cut that weighs at least four pounds.

Orange Crop Exceeds Record of Recent Years

The Sunshine Special from the sunny south and west is off to a good start! Oranges are plentiful and much in demand. There are about one-fourth more oranges than the average for the past 10 years, and three-fourths of these are coming from Florida.

Although poor picking weather and a late crop made early prices of California Navels very high, they have been decreasing steadily in the past two weeks. However, there are fewer navels this year.

More boxes of oranges will reach the fruit counters than in 1954-55.

The Navel is preferred for slices and sections, as a dessert orange. It is thick skinned, easy to peel and segment, bright orange in color. Navel formation at end opposite the stem is a group of cells.

The Valencia rates high for juice. It is heavy for weight; has 1 to 5 seeds, fewer than other juice oranges; greenish outer skin in late season.

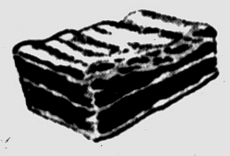

The Temple is a favorite for out-of-hand eating, dessert, or as a juice orange. It has loose thin skin; coarse grained; easy to peel and segment.

Danish Fish Pudding Zesty

Smart cooks who are constantly seeking new recipes will find a great deal of interest in this Danish fish pudding. It is easily adapted for the use of almost any fish that is available although white, meaty fish is the best. It can be served as the main course of a dinner or lunch and has excellent possibilities as the basis for a smorgasbord buffet . . . along with assorted cheeses and smoked and salted fish, a few salads, and meat balls.

Danish Fish Pudding With Mushroom Sauce

1½ pounds cod fish or haddock
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup cream or undiluted evaporated milk
2 egg whites
3 tablespoons fat
¼ cup finely diced onion
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups well-seasoned chicken broth
1/16 teaspoon powdered thyme
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Put fish through food chopper, using finest knife. Add salt and evaporated milk, blending well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold into fish mixture. Pour into 1 quart baking dish. Bake in slow oven, 350 degrees F, until set, about 1 hour. Meanwhile melt fat in small saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and cook, stirring frequently, about 1 minute. Stir in flour. Add chicken broth, seasonings and contents of can of mushrooms. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Add lemon juice. When fish pudding is done, serve immediately with the hot mushroom sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

COFFEE AND STRUDEL — Strudel is a Hungarian pastry that has been happily adopted by Americans. This Pineapple Peach Strudel is much easier to make than the traditional kind. It will give you a heavenly product to serve with coffee, Viennese style, if you please — with whipped cream.

Make Sure Your Strudel Is Flaky, Tender and Thin

The strudel is not only a truly delectable dessert — it is delightfully cosmopolitan in flavor. Though it is thought to be Hungarian in origin, the Austrians took to it so warmly that the strudel is now practically a national institution.

The basis of a good strudel is the pastry itself. It should be flaky, tender, delicately thin. (In Vienna, they say that you should be able to read the morning newspaper through strudel pastry.)

The traditional way of making strudel dough is a somewhat difficult process, but this recipe turns out strudel dough that is perfect and, at the same time, easy to create. No tedious shopping for the filling ingredients, either. Frozen peaches and canned crushed pineapple blend to make a filling that is as appealing as springtime.

Follow a pleasant Continental custom when you bring the strudel to your table. Pour generous cups of steaming coffee Viennese style — topped with drifts of whipped cream. Nothing tastes better with this fruit-filled pastry. To do the strudel justice, make certain there's enough Viennese coffee on hand for refills when the call goes out for "seconds" of dessert.

Pineapple Peach Strudel

1 cup sifted enriched flour
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
3 tablespoons ice water
½ cup butter or margarine, cut in ½-inch cubes
Pineapple Peach Filling

Mix and sift flour and cream of tartar. Toss butter cubes in flour until well coated but do not blend with flour. Add 3 tablespoons water all at once. Mix gently with wooden spoon, using a folding motion, until mixture forms a ball (do not break up butter more than necessary.) Pour remaining water over crumbs in bottom of bowl and pat into pastry ball. Flour board well. Toss pastry in flour on board until it can be handled. Pat into a square 1½ to 2 inches thick. Roll out ¼-inch thick, keeping corners square. Brush off excess flour. Fold in thirds. Roll a little to seal layers. Fold in thirds again. Chill. Repeat 4 times. Roll out as thin as possible in oblong about 12 inches square. Spread filling over pastry. Roll up as for jelly roll and seal ends. Flatten roll. Place on baking sheet. Brush top with egg yolk diluted with a little water. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 40 to 50 minutes. Dust with confectioners' sugar. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Pineapple Peach Filling

2 packages frozen sliced peaches
1 large can (approx. 1 pound 4 ounces crushed pineapple)
¼ cup chopped Maraschino cherries
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Vary Forms, Shapes of Fruit Shortcakes

Fruit shortcakes can be almost any shape or form. Why not vary those you bake this spring? If you like a biscuit-base shortcake, you can cut them with a doughnut cutter to make a "peek-a-boo" shortcake. Or, simplify the process of cutting out the biscuits by rolling the dough to a rectangle and cutting it into squares.

Individual sponge shortcakes are also fine companions for fresh spring and summer fruits. When you want an extra-quick dessert, buy these at your local bakery or in the baked foods department of a grocery store.

Tuna Fish Tips for Family Dish

Tuna is a natural mixer. So many ways to use this good canned fish when it's time to serve your family lunch.

Ever discover, for instance, how pleasant creamed tuna tastes with cooked sliced carrots added? It's fine over crunchy toast for texture contrast. For salad-and-dessert with this main dish, you might offer home-style canned peach halves filled with cottage cheese. Arrange the peaches on crisp salad greens and top the cheese with pecans; pass French dressing, mayonnaise or your favorite dressing for fruit.

Creamed Tuna and Carrots

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2½ tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 can (7 ounces) solid-pack tuna (drained)
3 cups sliced cooked carrots
Salt and pepper
Minced chives or parsley

Melt butter over low heat in a 2-quart saucepan. Stir in flour. Add milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly.

Break tuna into pieces and add with carrots to sauce. Stir in salt and pepper to taste.

Reheat and sprinkle with minced chives or parsley. Serve over or with crisp buttered toast. Makes 4 servings.

Tuna Tips

Give creamed tuna and green peas a lift. Serve topped with Chinese-style crisp French-fried noodles. Spiced pineapple chunks are a nice go-along, too.

Ever add tuna to a tomato sauce for spaghetti? Different and good!

Makes Nice Tart

If your family likes a very tart fruit punch, mix throroughly the juice of 2 oranges and 2 lemons, 2 cups of grape juice, 2 cups water and 1 to 2 teaspoons of honey. Service ice-cold.

Make Breakfast Congenial Meal

Weekend breakfasts can be leisurely family-get-togethers with tempting food to spur good feeling. Unlike the other days of the week when there's a rush to get to work and school there's plenty of time to prepare good food and to make a real family occasion of the meal.

Don't overlook the possibilities of entertaining at breakfast as it can be most congenial. You'll find, too, that it takes less effort to prepare than dinner and it's far easier on the budget.

For a special treat that's sure to please, try golden cornmeal griddle cakes. They're yeast-raised to give them an interesting bread-like texture and flavor. They're easy to make as they need only be mixed and set aside for half an hour to rise.

Cornmeal Griddle Cakes

½ cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
¼ cup warm, not hot, water (Lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast; active dry or compressed
1 egg, beaten
½ cup yellow cornmeal
½ cup enriched flour

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast.) Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved.

Add beaten egg, cornmeal and flour. Beat until smooth, about 1 minute. Cover, let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. Stir down.

Pour onto moderately hot, slightly greased skillet to form cakes about 4 inches in diameter. Bake over medium heat until bubbles appear over surface and edges seem dry. Turn and brown on second side. Serve with hot syrup. Makes 6 cakes.

Time for Steaks

Broil one-inch steaks on each side for five minutes for rare, six minutes for medium and seven minutes for well done. Meat that is one and one-half inches thick should be broiled eight minutes for rare, ten minutes for medium and eleven minutes for well done. The two-inch thick steak requires 15 minutes, rare; 17 minutes, medium and 19 minutes, well done.

Fashion Actually Follows the Demands of Women

Designers Do Not Dictate New Styles Whimsically

Although frequently it appears that Fashion . . . with a capital F . . . has a habit of leading womankind to follow bright new ideas conceived by powerful artists with little regard or interest for our mundane needs and wishes, this in fact is not true.

Experts tell us, and have facts to prove, that fashion does indeed have deep roots in the slippery soil called: "What women need and want for a particular era."

It seems that the empirical "they" who make fashion what it is take careful cognizance of the winds of desire and wishful thinking that buffet us about—whether we know it or not.

This is all admittedly mysterious and a trifle heady for the average person to think much about, but there are a handful of facts around that give support to the point.

Before we go into the story of fashions for summer and spring-into-summer, it might be well to review these facts.

Remember what happened to us fashion-wise after the war? Women everywhere had become so very tired of the same, fabric-careful styles that wartime yardage limitations imposed on us.

* * *

Designing geniuses—notably cold toward limitations of any kind—found decrees handed down by the government on how much yardage could be used dreadfully dampening to inspiration and enthusiasm.

DEPRESSED STATE

As a result, during the war, all of us—perhaps without knowing it—were in a fashion-depressed state. We were all fashion-bored, tired. Along came Victory Day and what happened?

* * *

Overnight, or almost, womankind appeared in dramatic, opulent, overlong, overwide fashions called "The New Look."

It was evidently exactly what we needed and subconsciously wished for. At least sales indicated this. Never have women gone on such a coast-to-coast shopping spree.

Everybody went swirling along happily and it was many a month before anything remotely like an upper calf was seen.

It appears that fashion was right. We deeply desired a completely "New Look" and certainly we got it.

* * *

Today, however, we are experiencing a new fashion revolution—one that is destined for a far longer run than the "New Look."

'REALITY FASHIONS'

This time the trend is toward "Reality Fashions," or fashions that can be worn for our "fifth season."

* * *

This season, which has come into being due to many factors, suggests clothing that is neither strictly for summer, spring, fall or winter, but in essence is wearable during a great many months of the year, and for a multitude of occasions.

Such fashions might appear in California in December, in New York in June, and on the Riviera almost any time.

Certainly "Reality Fashions" make common sense—and high fashion. It is a fact that people today are traveling more than ever before. Transportation has stepped up travel requirements and the well-rounded wardrobe for various climates is the important thing.

* * *

Designers responsible for our newest looking summer fashions are giving us this new approach to clothing as well as a distinctly new look.

Everywhere the emphasis is on lightness in weight, and on fabrics that are in a very real sense "thermostatic."

Woolens, so fine in texture that they are actually transparent, and worsteds as crisp and clear-faced as a pocket handkerchief are making an impact on the story of fashion for summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Campbell of West New York avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Walter L. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Jackson of Cherrylawn drive. No date has been set for the wedding.

Paris Shoes Get Simple, Sturdy Look

PARIS (INS)—The myth of the chic Parisienne mincing along the streets in dainty, super-high heeled shoes is getting a serious blow.

The latest fashion in Paris—at least for the early day—is to wear shoes which are "down-to-earth" and have a touch of sturdiness.

Genevieve Fath started the trend by showing sporty city clothes with laced shoes standing on a one-and-a-half inch heel. They are two-tone shoes combining black patent leather and white suede.

Shoe designer Donna Greco is also for "tailored" shoes for early day wear. She has created an extremely chic yet comfortable model in pump shape with a two-finger high heel. The shoe is made of coarse navy-blue linen which has the toe-cap and the heel part covered with white kid.

Crocodile shoes are considered more elegant for sports than for dressy wear in Paris. With a straight two-inch heel at the most, they now come in a modish pale beige or a darker nut-brown color as smart accessories for flannel, camelhair, jersey or tweed clothes.

The young set, fervently devoted last year to the flat ballet-slippers is now switching to decollete pumps with a one-and-a-half-inch heel for a more "grown-up" look. Except with slacks, which Parisiennes do not wear in the city, the ballerina shoes are out.

The latest paris shoe-shades include coral red, turquoise and a new "Royal Airforce blue."

Wash Plastic Bags

Designers of handbags for warm-weather wear have found, in plastics, the things women want. New plastic handbags can be washed and so stay fresh through sticky, dusty weather. They wear well. They come in finishes, colors and styles that go well with seasonal clothes.

Most Useful Dress

Most useful dress any woman can have in her wardrobe the year around is the simple black crepe. Good for so many occasions and easy to dress up or down.

BARBARA GRIFFITH

Barbara Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Griffith of Summit avenue, will graduate June 9 from Mercy School of Nursing, Detroit, the Mount Carmel Unit.

Sylvan Shores Holds Supper

The Sylvan Shores Civic Improvement Association held its annual Memorial Day cooperative supper at the community parksite, with Dr. and Mrs. John Schmitt serving as chairmen.

* * *

Others serving on the committee for the day's activities were Mr. and Mrs. Earl McHugh, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zeleznik and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hoffman.

* * *

Due to the resignation of Elmer Lipman, president of the organization, who is moving out of town, George M. Newton assumed the duties of president.

Full Linings Coming

The idea of lining a dress completely is a growing one. It's especially good for fabrics like silk, jersey or velvet. If the dress doesn't come with lining, ask your tailor or dressmaker to put in a skirt lining.

Fashion important this season is the wool knit. The spectator costume by Toni Owen in clay beige co-ordinated with stripes of orange ice features a slim skirt with straight-cut jacket that falls to the hipline. The long-sleeved jacket makes it ideal to appear atop many other fashions in the well-rounded wardrobe.

Wool stars in stripes and looks fashion-wonderful. This camisole suit of all-wool peppermint-striped jersey in red, white and navy is a Reel-Poise original. Camisole straps, wide-cut and tailored, are anchored to the back with large brass buttons. For the jaunty and nautical look, the suit has straight-across legs and slot pockets at either side.

Summer smart is this Golduorm sweater, as comfort right and as practical as it is fashion smart. The tiny all-white shirt collar buttons down in the best shirt tradition. The white accents are repeated in the ribbing of the shirt ending and in the short side vents. This wool knit is light and airy.

Haymaker uses "tweedy looking" hopsacking wool fabric, light in weight and striped in bright colors, for this distinctive blazer jacket. Texture of the fabric and the manner in which it is dyed give the navy blue and red stripes on white background a "whitened look." Smart and summer-right.

Shocking Behavior Is Reported

Guest at Reception Takes the Liquor Home With Him

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "My husband and I were recently invited to a large wedding reception at a hotel. A bottle of liquor was put on each table, along with soda and gingerale, for the guests to help themselves.

"As very few of the guests at our table drank, there was quite a bit of liquor left in the bottle. When it was time to go home, one of the men who was seated at our table took the bottle home with him.

"I was very much surprised at this but the other guests seemed to think it was quite all right. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: I thoroughly agree with you! It would be hard to imagine behavior more shocking than this.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother, my fiance, his mother and I are going to receive guests at a party Mother is giving in honor of my engagement. My fiance is a stranger here and knows only a few of my best friends, and his mother is a total stranger. Will you please tell us the order in which we should stand to receive?"

Answer: Your mother stands nearest the door, then his mother, then you, and then your fiance.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other day a friend and I went to visit another friend in the hospital. We took the elevator, which was a self-service one, up to the third floor. It was quite crowded and many of the passengers were women.

"I did not remove my hat and my friend took me to task later for not doing so. Will you please tell me if I was wrong not to remove my hat?"

Answer: In a really crowded elevator the best place for your hat is on your head. Had the elevator been nearly empty, you should have taken it off.

Completing the guest list were Mrs. Edith Dawson, Mrs. John Wardell, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks and Mrs. Herman Rentschler.

Change the Pictures

Changing pictures on the wall that a sick child faces may cheer him. He may want to clip out magazine pictures to hang. A prism hung in a sunny window or a mobile ornament may make the sick room more interesting to a child.

Mrs. Grace Shulz Luncheon Honoree

Mrs. Grace Shulz was honored at a birthday luncheon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Emma Pelican on Anderson street.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Kreklow, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Clarence Senger, Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite, Mrs. Lulu Luby, Mrs. Maude Place, Mrs. Duncan McVean and Mrs. Bessie Slaybaugh.

NANCIE ANN LUTZ

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Lutz of Loyalty drive, West Bloomfield township are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Nancie Ann, to Loren Dale Loy. He is the son of Mrs. Loren Loy of Birmingham and the late Mr. Loy. The couple plan a June 16 wedding to be solemnized in the Lutheran Church of Birmingham.

Bloomfield Garden Club to Hold Picnic on June 11

Mrs. Howard Flint will be hostess to the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association for the annual June picnic. The event is scheduled for June 11 at her home, "Rolling Acres Farm," on Walnut Lake.

* * *

Ray Henstock, director of the Detroit Garden Center, will speak on "Annuals . . . Their Planting and Care."

Members of the Osage Branch will be guests at the picnic. There will also be a plant sale.

The Bloomfield Hills Branch was the recent recipient of two state awards. The first award was for having Michigan's best flower show of the year, "May Magic." The second award was for sponsoring the formation of the Osage Branch.

* * *

Mrs. Howard Steggall, Bloomfield Branch member, was elected Michigan state corresponding secretary at the annual meeting in Birmingham.

Student Nurses to Get Diplomas

Two-hundred and thirty-four student nurses will receive diplomas at the commencement exercises of the Mercy School of Nursing, Detroit, on June 9 in the Memorial Building of the University of Detroit.

* * *

Candidates will be presented by Sister Mary Valentina, executive director of the Mercy School of Nursing.

* * *

Honors will be conferred by Right Rev. John A. Donovan, auxiliary bishop of Detroit. Music for the occasion will be provided by August Maekelberghe.

Sponsors of Symphony Elect Board of Directors

Mr. Wyman Is Named Chairman

Mrs. Shadley Will Serve as Leader of Women's Unit

The annual meeting of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Inc., was held Tuesday afternoon in the Casa del Rey.

George Wyman was elected chairman of the board for the 1956-57 season and Mrs. Maxwell Shadley will serve as chairman of the Women's Association to the Pontiac Symphony.

Elected to serve on the board of directors were Edward Barrett, Robinson Bronoel, Mayor William Donaldson, Mrs. Donald Hogue, Judge H. Russel Holland, Richard Poole, Mrs. B. B. Roush and Mrs. S. V. Sekles.

Also serving are Mrs. Shadley, Clyde Troxell, Kenneth Turner Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Uligian, Mrs. J. C. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. George Wyman.

Officers of the executive committee who will make plans for the seasons are Mr. Poole, president; George Putnam, first vice president; Mrs. Walker, treasurer; Helen Larkin, recording secretary and Mrs. Irving Gordon, corresponding secretary.

Plans Are Made for Denim Dance

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mrs. John R. Davis is again chairman for the Denim Dance to be given for the benefit of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic. The date this year will be Oct. 6 and the place, Bloomfield Open Hunt.

Mrs. James Q. Goudie, cochairman, entertained at a recent luncheon for several of the committee heads. Present were Mrs. R. L. Polk, Mrs. Robert Vanderkloot, Mrs. Ray Cunningham, Mrs. Frank J. McGinnis, Mrs. Walter Williams and Mrs. H. M. Bacon.

MR. and MRS. R. A. CARTER

Gloria Jean Banks and Richard Allen Carter were married Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Banks of Clarkston are her parents. Richard is the son of Mrs. Martha Carter of Oakland avenue.

Carter-Banks Rite Read

Given in marriage by her father Gloria Jean Banks became the bride of Richard Allen Carter Saturday in Grace Lutheran Church. The 4 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Streit of Detroit in the presence of 200 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Banks of Clarkston are parents of the bride. He is the son of Mrs. Martha Carter of Oakland avenue and the late Golden G. Carter.

The bridal gown of lace and tulle featured a boat neckline and long pointed sleeves. A chapel sweep train trimmed with iridescent sequins accented the gown. Her headpiece of lace and tulle secured her fingertip veil.

She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and carried an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Delynn Banks was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rita Banks, sister of the bride, and Nancy Walser. They were gowned identically in green crystalette. Their bouquets were of pastel daisies and wore matching headpieces.

Raymond Baber Jr. of Lake Orion was best man. Ushers for the ceremony were Dale Ritter of Allentown, Pa. and Leslie Miller.

Pastel Sweaters Need Special Care

NEW YORK (INS) — Your pastel sweaters that give the soft, feminine touch to your spring outfit need special washing care to keep them fresh looking.

Woolen sweaters, unless treated to make them shrink-resistant, must be handled with care to prevent matting, shrinking or changing color. Sweaters made of synthetic fabrics are less susceptible to shrinkage, but they may change shape in washing because of their construction.

As an "ounce of prevention," here are some sweater washing tips from the Tide Washing Clinic.

Wash them before they're badly soiled, first removing fancy buttons, ornaments and shoulder pads.

Make an outline of the sweater on heavy paper or a towel before washing, so you can fit the garment to proper shape later. Or you can use a drying form.

Dunk the sweater in lukewarm water with plenty of suds. Wash quickly by hand, being particularly gentle with woolens. Then rinse in clear, lukewarm water.

Squeeze out as much water as you can, then roll the sweater in a towel and knead it to remove more moisture.

Unroll it and lay the sweater on the outline, stretching it to shape.

If the sweater has contrasting colors, separate front and back panels with a towel and dry quickly in an airy place away from heat. Angora sweaters should be brushed to keep them fluffy.

Princess, Vivien Lei Think Alike Hat-Wis

LONDON (INS)—Princess Margaret and actress Vivien Leigh caused a milliner's dilemma yesterday when both were photographed wearing identical hats.

Margaret and Vivien wore the hats to different functions. The hats are in a simple coolie style stiffened with white organza and covered with a navy blue banded ribbon.

Parenthood Board to Be Entertained

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hatt will entertain Wednesday evening at their home for the board of directors of Oakland County Planned Parenthood and for couples who have given the OCPP financial aid.

Dr. Dorothy Lie, anthropologist on the staff of Merrill Palmer School, Detroit, will speak.

MR. and MRS. ARTHUR SANCHEZ

Alice Rivera and Arthur Sanchez were married Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rivera of Belmont street are her parents. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Trinidad Sanchez of Rapid street.

Alice Rivera Is Married

At a Nuptial Mass performed Saturday Alice Rivera became the bride of Arthur Sanchez. The Rev. William Immel read the service in St. Vincent de Paul Church in the presence of 250 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rivera of Belmont Street and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Trinidad Sanchez of Rapid street.

As the bride approached the altar she was wearing a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned with a basque waistline. The scoop neckline was accented with lace and sequins. A tiara of sequins secured her finger-tip veil of illusion and she carried an arrangement of white gardenias.

Rose Rivera chose a ballerina-length gown of light blue crystalette for her duties of maid of honor. The bride's other attendants, Nenfa Paramo, Juanita Villa, Lucy Sanchez and Mary Ramirez wore pink crystalette gowns fashioned identical to the honor attendant's. All of the attendants carried bouquets of pink roses.

Joseph Leal performed the duties of best man. Seating the guests were John Cantu, Jesse Ramirez, Paul Sanchez and Gonzalo Santa-Cruz.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the League of Catholic Women with an evening reception held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Rivera chose a gray dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Sanchez selected a brown and white flowered silk print with white accessories.

City Camp Fire Girls to Receive Awards

Give Them Pause

Best way to make your shoe wardrobe give you good service is to have at least three pairs; one to wear, one to retire for a day or two, one ready in the closet. Wearing the same pair of shoes day after day with no break soon wears them out.

"U.S.A., Our Land of Music" is the theme for the spring concert Thursday and Friday at Eastern Junior High School. Here in a number from the concert are (left to right) Diane Meyers and Karen Hayden. Pianist is Lynn Thompson. Margaret Snyder and Henry Elling are directing the singers. Curtain time is 7:30 on both nights.

Ceremonies to Be Held on Saturday

Council's Campsite Near Clarkston to Be Setting

The annual citywide Council Fire of the Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls will be held Saturday evening at the campsite near Clarkston.

Awards earned during the year will be presented. They include certificates of rank for girls who have passed their Trailseekers, Woodgatherers, Firemakers and Torchbearers tests.

The birthday project patch will be presented to girls who took part in the 1956 birthday project, "Plant Seeds, Reap Friendship". Needlework Guild beads will be presented to girls who sewed two or more garments for the Needlework Guild last fall.

Three and five-year membership pins will also be awarded, and graduation certificates will be given to fourth grade Blue Birds who are "flying up" to the Camp Fire Girls.

The program will start at 7 o'clock and will be followed by refreshments.

In case of inclement weather, the program will be held in the Wever School gymnasium on West New York avenue.

Wives Need Lives of Their Own

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Complaints that women make about their husbands' careers usually fall into one of two categories:

"The trouble is, my husband isn't ambitious enough" or "The trouble is, my husband is too ambitious!"

• • •

Women with the first complaint, of whom Sally is an example, talk like this:

"My husband is easygoing and pleasant, but I doubt if he'll ever be really successful. He isn't aggressive enough.

"He'd rather putter around his workshop than go to company functions or see his co-workers socially.

"Men who began with the firm the same year he did are zooming ahead, while he just plods along.

"We aren't too badly off financially, but we have nothing like the money we'd have if he really was a go-getter.

SOMETHING WRONG?

"Is there anything I can do to make him more ambitious? Isn't there something wrong with a man who takes work so lightly?"

Florence, on the other hand, say this: "Bill is so dedicated to his job, he might as well not have a wife and family.

"He works all kinds of hours, has golf dates with his business associates on weekends and is always at company parties.

"I go with him when I can, because it's expected, but I really feel that his job is his whole life and he wouldn't even notice if I left.

"I know I ought to be grateful that he's so successful, but my life is so empty and I'm so lonely that I might as well have no husband at all."

Oddly enough, the basic trouble in these two cases is the same.

SECOND-HAND LIVES

These women have both been living their lives at second-hand, concentrating too much on their husbands' careers and too little on their own lives. We women are often urged to "help your husband get ahead," or words to that effect, and so we build up no interests of our own.

Even when a wife is at home raising a family, she must think of herself as an individual member of the human race, and not as an appendage to her husband's career.

She must find some outlet for her creative instincts, some useful way of fulfilling herself.

If she doesn't, she'll either prod her husband mercilessly, forcing him into ambitions and accomplishments that are not in his nature, as Sally wants to do, or she'll languish alone and turn into a chronic nagger and whiner, as Florence is about to do.

• • •

The pity is that it would be so easy, really, for both of these women to find interests of their own. The world is full of things to do.

Even the world of house-plus-family will offer opportunities for self-expression and the development of talents to the woman who is willing to grow up and take some of the responsibility for her own life—as her husband takes responsibility for his.

Worsted Seen as Best Fabric

Since most men would normally prefer the prestige and appearance of a well-tailored gray flannel suit to a garment designed primarily to create markets for detergents and home appliances, they will be happy to know that lightweight worsted flannels, in varying shades of gray, will be among this year's popular summer fabrics. Like other tropical-weight worsteds, they have the advantages of texture, body and superior "tailorability" not found in many other fabrics.

Their open, porous weave makes these suits cool and comfortable on any summer day, and worsted fabrics retain their shape and shed wrinkles readily—requiring a minimum of care and cleaning during the hot weather months. Thanks to these new lightweight fabrics, the clothes conscious businessman can have a summer version of "the gray flannel suit," too.

Fat Discouraged by Busy Muscles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is a general trend in feminine weight accumulation, but when the pounds mount, individual women have individual figure problems. One woman may find that most of her extra pounds seem to land on her hips while another may discover that a pad of fat on her abdomen seems to be the main result of a gain in weight.

Actually some women are prettier and younger looking at 40 or 45 and older if they carry a few more pounds than what was ideal for them in younger years. They keep more "bloom." Their faces remain more youthful looking.

However, remember that I said a few more pounds. By this I mean from 5 to 8, not more than 10, ever. Ten probably is carrying this theory too far.

Fat is less likely to accumulate over busy muscles and while we use all of our muscles we use some of them more strenuously and more frequently than others.

Therefore, extra activity in the spots in which we are prone to bulge is a bonus.

The following exercise is fine for both hips and abdomen and is therefore a popular one. Lie on your left side. Place your right hand on the floor in front of you for balance. Swing your right leg forward and backward in a smooth rhythm.

This exercise will help reduce the abdomen.

For the abdomen try this one: Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend the left knee up close to your abdomen. As you straighten the left leg, bend the right knee. Do not touch the feet to the floor, once you begin.

One leg straightens as the other bends. Bring the heels close to the floor but do not touch.

* * *

If you would like either my hips or abdominal exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 for hips and leaflet No. 2 for abdomen. Send your request to Josphine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

VFW Group Holds Memorial Services

Memorial services were held for departed members by the VFW 1008 Auxiliary Monday evening at the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue.

A report on the recent Fifth District meeting held in Walled Lake was made by Mrs. Loren Beach. The group made plans to observe Memorial Day at Perry Mount Park Cemetery. Mrs. Florna McCrae gave a report on her duties as chairman of Poppy Day.

Corduroy Coat Is 'The Thing' This Summer

NEW YORK (NEA) — The coat that you can wear spring, summer and fall is a good investment for any wardrobe.

It should be good for travel, for wear in city or country, in sun or rain. It should be light enough to go over summer clothes, yet provide enough warmth for cool evenings and those chill, rainy spring days in both summer and early autumn.

This year, this all-purpose coat comes in corduroy—corduroy of many widths, colors and textures. It may be a trench coat or it may be cut on Empire lines. Because it's water-repellent, it eliminates need for an extra coat when you travel.

St. Dunstan to Present 'Our Town'

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — June 8, 9, 15 and 16 are the dates for St. Dunstan Guild's last production of the season, which this year will be "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder. This play was given several years ago by the guild and many parts will be taken by the same members who did them at that time.

Cranbrook's Greek Theater, with its beautiful natural setting, will make conventional stage settings unnecessary, conforming with the spirit of the play.

Otis C. Thompson will play the stage manager who introduces the audience to the characters—mainly members of the Gibbs and Webb families.

Robert N. Woodruff and Mrs. Fred C. Pew will portray Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs, with John S. Coppin and Mrs. David W. Lee taking the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Webb.

Others in the cast are Lewis C. Keenan Jr., Mrs. Roy M. Nelson and 11-year-old Natalie Adams and Wendy Hutton. Brent Miller will take the part of Wally Webb.

Mrs. John D. Kice and Mrs. Donald McDonald are co-producers and Avon L. Newcomb is technical director.

Technical workers are James L. Schneider, lights; Maurice F. Smith Jr., sound effects; Mrs. Thomas J. King, properties, and Mrs. Victor Armstrong, costumes.

Mrs. Jack E. Berno is in charge of makeup and Mrs. Jack U. Klarr will prompt.

S. Gordon Saunders Jr. is making posters, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Wise Jr. are in charge of programs, Dr. Dwight C. Ensign is handling photography and George H. Heideman is chairman of the house committee.

BEER AND SKITTLES

Invitations reading "The Girards invite you for Beer and Skittles" have been received by many friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Girard of Woodward avenue. The affair will be given June 9 at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Mrs. Girard's sister, Mrs. Paul Keller, left today to return to her home in Deerfield, Ill., after a 10-day visit with the Girards.

Two young gentlemen, Michael Girard and Everell Fisher Jr., flew in Tuesday from the Phelps School near Philadelphia. No more school until fall.

• • •

Dr. and Mrs. James A. Morton, with three of their six children, spent Memorial Day at their cottage at Sand Point. Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Wallace and their children accompanied them. Mrs. Morton expects to go up for the summer early in June.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson entertained several friends at luncheon that day.

• • •

Mrs. Ralph L. Polk of Lone Pine road will have as her houseguest next weekend Mrs. Otis T. Gregg of Hackensack, N. J. Mrs. Polk will give a small dinner for her guest June 9.

Mrs. James Q. Goudie will entertain for Mrs. Polk and Mrs. Gregg on June 10.

In the June Ladies' Home Journal

Will your baby be born perfect?

Before your baby was born, you thought, "What if I lose the baby? What if my baby isn't perfect?"

Now doctors have discovered that many tragic defects in newborn babies are not inherited. In the June Ladies' Home Journal you'll read how this revolutionary new theory can help you avoid such heartbreak as miscarriage, stillbirth, a child born mentally or physically deficient.

8 ways to help be sure

You'll read about eight specific steps you can take now before your baby is born—or even conceived . . . see how a few extra precautions before marriage and during childbearing years can help make sure your babies and their children will be born perfect.

You'll read about the risks working mothers-to-be face; the dangers of a change to high altitude while pregnant; the amazing effects lack of vitamins—or too many—can have on mothers and their babies; what illness you should deliberately try to catch before pregnancy; the effects of radiation, X ray and anesthetics.

Whether you or your loved ones are having a baby now . . . or dream of having one sometime in the future...you can't afford to miss "The Uninsulted Child."

Dehart is hitting .286 with Aberdeen S.D. in the Northern (C) League and Engleman is hitting .250 with Montgomery of the Sally League.

Caswell has appeared in three games for Jamestown, N.Y. and in seven innings he has given up 9 hits and struck out 7 for an 0-1 record. Kebler is 0-1 at Thomson, Ga. with 6 innings pitched.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If any race driver still thought green was a bad luck color (an ancient superstition in the trade) they could get a sound argument today from George Francis Patrick (Pat) Flaherty, who won the 40th 500-mile race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Flaherty, a red-haired 29-year-old racing veteran, roared unscathed yesterday around a track littered with oil and debris from seven bad wrecks and innumerable spins and skids.

Two drivers, two pit crew members and two spectators were hurt as cars splattered against the concrete retaining walls and banged into one another.

He started on the pole as the fastest qualifier in Speedway history and he beat veteran Sam Hanks of Burbank, Calif., to the finish line in the closest windup since Wilbur Shaw nipped Ralph Hepburn by 2.15 seconds in 1937.

Flaherty took the 41-year-old Hanks by 20.46 seconds, or about a third of the 2½-mile track. Hanks, starting for the 11th time, had to work his way up from 13th place in the starting lineup and his pit stops consumed 18 seconds more than Flaherty's. But he just couldn't overhaul the flying Irishman after they began running one-two midway in the race.

Two more laps and the picture would have been different because Flaherty's throttle arm broke after he took the checkered flag. The three-eighths inch metal arm operates the fuel injector and would have put Flaherty on the sidelines if it had broken during the race.

The racing during competition was the fastest ever but due to an hour and 11 minutes of slowdowns for wrecks the final average was 128.49 m.p.h. compared with Bill Vukovich's 1954 record of 130.84.

Flaherty wasn't lucky—he was due. He had wrecked cars in two of his previous four starts in the 500, sandwiched between 10th place finishes in 1950 and 1955. He missed Dick Rathmann's spinning car about 2 feet late in yesterday's go-around by splendid driving.

• • •

Car owner John Zink of Tulsa, Okla., and master mechanic A.J. Watson of Glendale, Calif., put the winner across the line for the second straight year. They were the men behind winner Bob Sweikert of Indianapolis in 1955.

Flaherty, Zink and Watson won't know how much they won until the annual victory dinner tonight but Pat picked up $19,200 in lap prizes alone — $150 for each lap he led. The Speedway sets the purse according to the gate, which looked like more than 100,000 customers in spite of overnight rain.

Don Freeland of Redondo Beach, Calif., finished third unofficially, followed by Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., the 1950 winner; Dick Rathmann of Trenton, N.J., who pulled out of the spin that menaced Flaherty and then crashed on the south straightaway after crossing the finish line; Sweikert; Rodger Ward, Los Angeles; Bob Veith of Oakland, Calif., highest rookie finisher; Jimmy Reece, Oklahoma City, and Cliff Griffith, Indianapolis.

• • •

Dick Rathmann (his brother Jim retired earlier with mechanical trouble) escaped injury in his mishap. Lee Elkins of Kalamazoo, Mich., owner of the car complained that officials didn't flag Rathmann properly and he thought he was still racing after taking fifth place.

That was the 10th car banged up in the race, in which the lead changed eight times before Flaherty took charge in the 76th lap.

Hard Luck Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., protege of the late three-time winner Wilbur Shaw, led three times in the race and was running a close second to Flaherty when his magneto failed with 13 laps to go.

Paul Russo, a grandfather from Canoga Park, Calif., threatened to run off from the field in a new V8 Novi and led from the 10th lap until his car crashed on the southwest turn on his 22nd circuit. He was unhurt but two women spectators suffered minor injuries when struck by debris.

OUT OF DANGER ZONE — Paul Russo of Canoga Park, Calif., runs from his wrecked Novi Vespa Special yesterday after he spun and crashed into the wall on the southwest turn of the Indianapolis Speedway. He suffered no injuries. He was far ahead of the field going at 142 m. p. h. when he spun and crashed.

Pastrano Scores Split Decision Over Spieser

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Willie Pastrano's finally got Chuck Spieser out of his hair, but the swift New Orlians heavyweight's future plans have little pattern.

Pastrano, borrowing a page from the baseball manual, hit to all fields last night as he displayed a newly-acquired style of infighting in winning a nationally televised 10-round split decision over the former Olympic team member from Detroit. At 172, Spieser spotted Pastrano 10½ pounds.

The meeting was the third between the two and the record now shows two triumphs for Pastrano and one draw.

Pastrano opened bad cuts under Spieser's eyes and showed a marked superiority in the boxing department. But the official could not agree on the decision.

Referee Frank Kercheval tabbed Spieser the winner 6 rounds to 4 with the crowd of 9,000 howling in disapproval. But Judge Eddie (Kid) Wolfe had willie winning, 8 to 1 with 1 even and Judge Pete Glaruso had Pastrano ahead, 7 to 1 with 2 even. The AP tally had Pastrano far in front, 8-2.

Pastrano, a study in contrast since he showed no marks of battle, said he had a two-weeks cruise with the Naval Reserve ahead of him and then, well he just doesn't know.

Spieser, 26-year-old Michigan State alumnus and third-ranked lightheavyweight contender, had no excuses to offer. He estimated he won four rounds, "but that's all."

• • •

The bout was a big success for Promoter Bonny Geigerman and his newly-formed Louisiana Boxing Club. The $35,636 gross gate was the largest for a fight here since Ralph Dupas whipped New York's Frankie Ryff in a bout that pulled around $48,000.

Midget, Junior 9's Play Memorial Day

Five member teams of Pontiac's Midget and Junior baseball leagues warmed up for the approaching season with three Memorial Day practice games at Beaudette Park.

Earl's Market won both ends of a doubleheader in the Midget division. Whitfield Cubs bowed in the opener, 14-1, and Mahan Realty was trounced by a 14-3 count. Ruth homered for the winners in each game.

Carrolls and Hewitt each slammed home runs and Lamphere pitched a five-inning no-hitter as Don Nicholie blanked the Tel-Huron Tigers, 9-0, in a Class F game.

Record Track Finale

CAMDEN, N. J. (INS) — Three records tumbled as Garden State Race Track closed its 25-day spring meeting on Memorial Day.

A new world record for daily double wagering of $378,404 was set and the day's total handle of $3,413,739 also was a new track mark.

Record 50 Blasted; Thomson Hits 4

Majors Go on Homer Spree

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been a long time coming, but Bobby Thomson finally looks ready to deliver the payoff for the Milwaukee Braves in that ill-fated deal they arranged to get him from the New York Giants in 1954.

The Swaftin' Scot was the man the Braves figured they needed for the pennant, and so they packaged pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, catcher Ebba St.Clair, infielder Billy Klaus and about $50,000 and sent them to the Polo Grounds for Bobby and catcher Sam Calderone.

• • •

You know what happened. Thomson broke an ankle in spring training, hit only two home runs and the Braves finished third. The Giants won the flag — with Antonelli winning 21 games.

Last season, Thomson hit 12 homers while playing on a part-time basis and the Braves finished second to Brooklyn.

All told, the two clubs combined for 15 home runs among the record 50 which were blasted in the 16-game Memorial Day card.

For all the records and Thomson's great day, however, most of the excitement was set off by Mickey Mantle's "nearmiss." The Oklahoma strong boy, jolting his 19th and 20th homers of the season as the New York Yankees swept Washington, smacked one against the facade on the third tier in right field that missed by 18 inches of being the first fair ball ever hit out of mammoth Yankee Stadium.

Thomson hit two homers in each game — his first "double" since Aug. 22, 1953. A pair of two-run homers by Hobie Landrith and Dee Fondy in the sixth got the job done in the opener for the Cubs, however, 10-9. Thomson's three-run blast triggered a four-run sixth that helped Milwaukee to an 11-9 edge in the nightcap.

Cincinnati replaced St.Louis as the NL runner-up, sweeping the Cardinals 6-3 and 6-5. Ray Jablonski's three-run homer in the eighth won the opener. Doubles by Frank fired a six-run third that won the nightcap.

• • •

Pittsburgh held fourth place, 1½ games back in a split with the New York Giants. Dale Long's triple won the opener in 10 innings 5-4 for the Pirates. A two-run double by Al Dark broke up the nightcap for the Giants in 15 innings, 5-3.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia also split, the Dodgers scoring six in the sixth off Robin Roberts to win 6-5 in the opener. Then the Phils, with seven unearned runs, ran off with a 12-3 decision.

The Yankees beat the Senators 4-3 and 12-5. Mantle's big belt with two on gave them the lead in the opener. Mantle's 20th homer cracked a 3-all tie in the nightcap and a five-run sixth iced it.

Billy Pierce needed help, but won No. 100 in the majors and third straight over Cleveland as Chicago clipped the Indians twice 6-3 and 9-8.

• • •

Busy Prep Hurler

Wins 3 Tilts in 24 Hours

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Joel Wildrom, one of Western Michigan's busiest high school baseball pitchers, today held a 10-5 season record after posting his three latest victories within 24 hours.

Wildrom, 18-year-old Grand Haven High School senior, pitched a four-hit shutout Monday night against Coopersville. Tuesday night, in a twi-night doubleheader against Muskegon Catholic, he earned two victories.

Wildrom pitched a 7th inning relief role for a 4-3 victory and came back to pitch a full nightcap, winning 15-5.

• • •

He has pitched in 15 of his team's 17 games, completing 12 full games and striking out 100 batters, while holding an earned run average of 0.38. His record includes one no-hitter and three shutouts this season.

Wins First Start

DETROIT (AP)—McGuinea, Michigan's 2-year-old pacing champion in 1955, stepped to an easy victory in his 1st start of the year in the top pace at the Wolverine Harness Raceway last night. He paid $18.20, $7.20 and $2.60 across the board. A crowd of 7,416 wagered $304,784.

Tigers Win Twinbill, 11-3, 5-1

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Detroit Tigers flew eastward today, seriously wondering if Memorial day may have been an important turning point for them in the American League pennant chase.

The Tigers whipped the Kansas City Athletics twice, 11-3 and 5-1 in a morning-afternoon twin bill. Their next action will be tomorrow night against the red hot New York Yankees in Yankee Stadium.

Even though they won twice the Tigers failed to gain ground on the pace-setting Yankees since the Yanks also won a pair over Washington. Detroit trails New York by nine games.

But the Tigers did get a little breathing space between themselves and the cellar. Seventh place Washington is 2½ games behind Detroit and Kansas City is three games back.

The Tigers received a combination of excellent pitching and timely hitting in both victories yesterday. Young Paul Foytack posted his 4th triumph in the opener and contributed three hits good for five runs batted in to the 14 hit attack.

In the afternoon game Virgil Trucks, working with a swollen ankle, checked the A's on only three hits, one was a homer by Harry Simpson, his second of the day, and the other two were singles by ex-Tiger Johnny Groth.

* * *

Charlie Maxwell found the range for a home run and a single in the first game and added a pair of singles in the second game to raise his batting average to .375, second best in the league although 50 points shy of Mickey Mantle.

Harvey Kuenn had 5 hits in 11 times up during the day and moved into fourth among the league's hitters with .348.

Two home runs produced all of the Detroit runs in the afternoon game. Kansas City was ahead 1-0 going into the 8th when Earl Torgeson walked and al Kaline homered into the left field seats. Then in the 9th Frank House came up as a pinch hitter with two on and homered.

* * *

Art Ditmar, who last Sunday handed the Tigers their only shutout of the season, was the second game loser. The victory was Trucks' first and his first complete game.

The Tigers now own a three-game winning streak, their longest of the season. But four games with the Yankees are in the immediate future. Tomorrow night's game will be followed by a single game Saturday and a doubleheader Sunday. The Tigers stand 2-3 against the Yanks so far.

Crowds Total Half Million

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight major league baseball doubleheaders and 11 race tracks attracted more than a half-million sport fans on Memorial Day this year.

Baseball attendance totalled 204,354, which is nearly 50,000 more than the 194,448 of last year. Turnout for American League games was 122,025 and for National League contests it was 118,329.

Orion Fisherman Lands Husky Calico

Fishing in Square Lake, near Lake Orion on the Memorial Day holiday Warren Lovelase, 657 Longview, Orion, landed a fine calico bass. The 13-inch-long fish weighed a pound 2½ ounces. It was taken in about 6 feet of water with a minnow lure.

Hugh Hodges of Detroit was with Lovelace. The pair also took some big perch including one that was 11 inches long, along with a fat, 9-inch bluegill.

An Oriental Victory

TOKYO (INS)—Leo Alonzo of the Philippines retained his Oriental lightweight championship by pounding out a split decision over Jiro Sawada of Japan in a 12-round bout at Tokyo's International Stadium Wednesday night.

Alonzo weighed in at 135 pounds; Sawada scaled 134½.

Wisconsin Rally Beats Broncs, 5-2

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Wisconsin rallied for three runs in the 8th inning to break a 2-2 deadlock and win its second straight victory over Western Michigan yesterday, 5-2.

Illinois Leads "M" 2nd in Big 10 Titles

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's sports fortunes continued to rise in the last year. Of 10 Big Ten championships entered, the Wolverines won four.

For the 2nd straight year, Don Canham's track squads won the outdoor and indoor championships to raise to 22 and 17 the number in each section the Wolverines have won.

Wolverine teams also won the Big Ten wrestling and tennis championships and sent their top tennis star Barry Mackay to Europe with Davis Cup hopefuls.

The victories raised to 99, the number of outright conference championships the Wolverines have won, while sharing in an additional 24 for a total of 123. Only Illinois tops Michigan with 117 outright and 27 shared for 144 total.

* * *

Illinois and Michigan are the leading schools recordwise among the six charter schools which still remain in the conference. Michigan was absent from conference competition for nine years, 1908-17.

The others and their total championships shared and outright: Wisconsin 54, Minnesota 48, Northwestern 30, and Purdue 29.

Indiana and Iowa each joined the conference in 1899, four years after the conference was formed. They have won 41 and 16 respectively. Ohio State which joined in 1912, missing 17 years, has 48.

* * *

Michigan State which entered in all sports but football in September 1950, has won seven championships.

Missing—One Needed 7-Iron

Anyone got an extra 7-iron? The Waterford High School golf team, which recently added the Pontiac Press Invitational meet to its regional championship, will be vying for state honors at the Black River Country Club in Port Huron, Friday and Saturday with one distraught member on the team.

It seems that at the Pontiac Municipal Course, scene of the Press tourney, Jack Reynolds either lost, misplaced or had taken from him by mistake his lucky seven iron.

The Skipper ace is hoping someone will notify him of the stray 7-iron. Please call FE 5-6902.

GM 9 Romps to 4th Win in Row

Defending champion General Motors romped to its 4th consecutive victory and the Anderson Jets lambasted the CIO Local 594 in a Class A City Baseball League doubleheader Wednesday at Wisner Field.

GMC, riding on the strong right arm of pitcher Steve Kebler, pounded out 10 hits to trounce Oliver Buick, 7-1. Kebler struck out six and scattered eight hits.

The Coachers jumped on starter Ken Campbell for three runs in the 3rd frame, then chased Campbell in favor of Lee Griffin with three more in the 4th.

The Jets assaulted four pitchers for 13 hits, including a two-run homer in the 3rd by Bob Johnson, to paste the CIO, 17-5, in the nightcap of the Memorial Day twin bill.

The union club sent starter Vernon Rains to the showers with two runs on four hits in the 1st stanza, but reliefer Jim Addis controlled the situation the rest of the way to receive credit for the win.

Fowler's Fine Foods will meet the Elks No. 723 in tonight's league attraction at Wisner Field. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

Clarkston Beats Flint

The Clarkston Merchants evened their Tri-County Baseball League record at 2-2 yesterday with a 12-4 victory over Flint Buick Local 599 on the Clarkston diamond. Fred McAndrew scattered five hits and fanned 13 in hurling the distance and Pete Palshan collected three of Clarkston's 13 safeties.

The Merchants clash with Mt. Rose Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in a league game at Mt. Rose.

Lone Surviving American

Conrad Holds 3-Up Lead Over Scot

TROON, Scotland (AP) — Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., the defending champion, held a three-up lead over Scottish champion Reid Jack at the end of the first 18 holes of their 36-hole quarter-final match in the British Amateur Golf Championship today.

The little Texas redhead forged ahead on the back nine of Troon's testing championship course after they had reached the nine-hole turn all square.

Up to the last two holes it was a tight match in which Conrad took the lead three times only to be overtaken. Then the American, who had gone one up at the 14th, won the 17th and 18th with pars to gain his biggest margin.

Conrad led two-up after winning the tenth and eleventh, but Jack won the next two to square it. The Scottish champion shot a round of 38-40—78 over the wind-swept par 35-36—71 Troon links. Conrad had a 37 on the back nine but did not return a complete score as he had picked up on the fourth hole.

* * *

Conrad, the only remaining American out of 27 who started the tournament Monday, took the lead by winning the second and third holes but couldn't hold his margin.

A cold east wind blowing in from the Firth of Clyde made play difficult on the tricky, 6,583-yard par 35-36—71 Troon championship links.

With Conrad one-up going to the 17th, Jack drove into a bunker and then exploded clear over the green and the Texan won with a par three. Conrad went three up with an easy four on the 410-yard 18th. His second shot there was only ten feet from the pin. Jack took a five.

Allen Park Juniors Win Sectional Rifle Tourney

A sharpshooting team from Allen Park Junior Rod & Gun Club has won the sectional smallbore rifle match, at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. Team No. 1 fired an aggregate 1409x1600 to take top honors at the OCSC range at Waterford, competing against a strong field that included 76 boys and girls from 12 teams, representing nine communities.

One of the tightest contests was that for expert class teams, won by Detroit Edison Rifle and Revolver Club, Junior Division, with 1403x1600. Oakland County Sportsmen's Club Blanche R. Wilson team missed a tie by a single point lower standing count, although the team total was also 1403x1600. OCSC girls, however, held high team for girls (1403). Members were Nancy Newman, Carolyn Henry, Margaret Kempel and Jane Martin.

Event was a registered shoot and winners qualified for national junior championship matches. Forty-eight shooters fired as team members of 12 clubs, Allen Park (3), OCSC (2), Roseville, Grand Rapids, Ecorse, Dearborn, Detroit, Flint and Lansing.

Other results:

Edward Bartolussi, a sharpshooter of Roseville, won the gold medal for high individual; 98 88, 98, 83—377x400

Medal winner for first place in the Master Class was won by Dona Rose, of Roseville; 96, 83, 91, 90—360x400.

First place in the Sharpshooter Class went to Bernard Wanderpol of Grand Rapids; 96, 85, 94, 94—369x400

High girl was Nancy Newman of OCSC, 96, 81, 95, 95—367x400.

Third Expert Class team—Roseville Sportsmen's Club, Junior Division; 1398x1600.

Allen Park Junior Rod and Gun Club No. 2, won the first place medal for Marksman Class team, 1280x1600.

Reports First Ace of Season

What is reported as the first hole-in-one for Pontiac's Municipal Golf Course this season, was fired yesterday afternoon.

Where only one ace was registered on the layout for the 1955 season, the new year has already got a good start.

Yesterday's lucky (or accurate) golfer was R. S. Whitescarver, 65 Bloomfield Terrace, who banged a 3-iron shot to the No. 5 green (North course) a 190 yard, par 3 hole. Ball hit on front of the green and rolled in. Whitescarver had a 41 for the round, played with Don Roder, Bob Martin and John Janczarek.

City Softball Tonight

Pontiac's City Softball Leagues swing back into action tonight after a Memorial Day vacation. Four games are scheduled at Beaudette and North Side parks.

In National division games at Beaudette, Richard's Tavern meets Lunsford Market at 7 o'clock and Franklin Products tangle with Drive-In Cleaners at 8:30. Stadium Inn faces GMC at 7 and Bicmar Inn battles Elks No. 810 at 8:30 in American loop contests at North Side.

Wolverine Swimmer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — James M. Kruthers, outstanding University of Michigan swimmer from Dearborn, has been awarded the Western Conference Medal for proficiency in scholarship and athletics at the University, H. O. Crisler, director of athletics, has announced.

Kruthers, an industrial engineering student, has maintained better than a 3.2 average in the Engineering School while earning three letters as a varsity swimmer.

WEDNESDAY'S HOME RUNS

Triandos, Orioles; Gernert, Red Sox; Lollar, Moss 2, White Sox; Wertz 2, Smith, Ward 2, Carrasquel, Colavito, Indians; Maxwell, Kaline, House, Tigers; Renna, Simpson 2, Athletics; Mantle 3, Bauer 2, Robinson, Yankees; Killebrew, Senators; Walls, Pirates; Reese, Snider, Dodgers; Ennis, Lopata 2, Phillies; Mathews 2, Aaron 2, Thomson 4, Adcock, Braves; Bailey, Jablonski, Redlegs; Sarni, Boyer, Sauer, Cardinals.

5-4 Verdict Over Orion

A two-run homer by Weaver after two were out in the 6th inning handed Rochester a 5-4 victory over Lake Orion in a high school baseball game Tuesday at Lake Orion.

The victim of Weaver's circuit clout was Chuck Melchert, Orion's ace hurler who gave up only five hits and struck out 13. Henderson was the winning pitcher. It was the 6th setback in 10 games for the Dragons.

Rain Washes Out All-Stars' Game

A sudden rain in the bottom of the 2nd inning washed out last night's exhibition softball game at Drayton Plains between Shaw's Jewelers and an All-Star team from the Pontiac and Waterford leagues.

Shaw's Percy McConner and the All-Stars' Doug Hall were waging a scoreless pitching battle when the showers arrived. Hank Shell of the "stars" had tripled in the 1st inning for the only hit.

The Waterford Township Softball League resumes play tonight at the Drayton ball park. Lakeland Pharmacy tackles the VFW at 7 o'clock and Emmanuel Baptist faces Gidley Electric at 8:30.

Races, Dinner Mark Holiday at Yacht Club

Sailing in brisk winds, Larry O'Dell's boat came through a winner in Wednesday's Memorial holiday race at Pontiac Yacht Club. Jerry Liston and Bill Moreau comprised O'Dell's crew.

Bettenhausen to Race at Crystal Speedway

SAGINAW — Tony Bettenhausen, who was shaken up slightly in his crash at the Indianapolis Memorial Day "500", yesterday will be the man to beat Saturday night, June 9, at Crystal Speedway, 15 miles south of Alma, in what should be one of the finest midget car racing programs ever offered in Michigan.

Promoter Bob George of Saginaw said today he definitely has signed Bettenhausen to race a midget in the United States Automobile Club — sponsored show at Crystal Speedway.

Track Crowds High

Nashua Finishes 4th at Belmont

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nashua, the world's richest horse, posed a question of his right to rank with the turf's great after finishing out of the money for the second time in his brilliant racing career.

Can the son of Nasrullah who sold for $1,251,200 last winter and has won more money than any other horse in history carry as much as 130 pounds and still win?

To achieve greatness many horsemen say a horse must be able to win with even more than 130 in the saddle. On that basis Nashua still has to prove himself.

The strapping 4-year-old picked up 130 (the most he has ever carried) in the Metropolitan Mile at Belmont Park yesterday and ran fourth as Midafternoon, who never had won a stakes race, ripped off the distance in 1:35 under 111 pounds, and paid $20.60. The time equalled the stake record established in 1930 by Jack High.

* * *

The defeat of Nashua was the high spot of the holiday at 11 thoroughbred tracks where a total of 3,421,951 fans wagered $20,049,774.

The running of the historic $25,000-added Dixie Handicap at Pimlico saw Chevation from Willie DuPont's Foxcatcher Farm score by a nose over Cockfield Stable's Akbar Khan. Greentree Stable's Maharajah was third in the mile and three-eighths over the turf course.

* * *

Rex Ellsworth's Terrang, stablemate of Swaps, captured the $29,700 Will Rogers Stake over a field of so-so 3-year-olds at Hollywood Park where 67,648 formed the largest crowd of the day.

* * *

Skipper Bill carried John W. Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm silks to a neck victory in the $25,550 Brandywine Handicap at Delaware Park. Timed in 1:44 3-5 for the mile and a sixteenth, Skipper Bill paid $21.20 to win.

* * *

Paxton Hickan's Lycka won her sixth successive race in accounting for the $30,950 Betsy Ross Stakes at Garden State. She led the entire 6 furlongs for a 1:09 4-5 clocking and a nose decision over Pro Bono. In the mutuels she returned $11.20.

* * *

Sea O'Erin, veteran campaigner from Allie Reuben's Hasty House Farm, won his second straight Balmoral Citation Handicap at Washington Park. A stretch drive carried him to end of the mile and three-sixteenths a nose in front of Dance N'Sing. He paid $5.60 to win and won $25,600 of the $44,100 purse.

Near-Record Inventories Worry Nation's Car Dealer

DETROIT (AP)—Major subject of discussion in the Auto industry currently continues to be the near-record dealer inventories — something in excess of 900,000 cars by the latest count.

Production cutbacks that reduced this month's car assemblies to about 475,000 units, along with intensified sales effort, presumably cut into the pileup of new cars in dealer storage lots and warehouses. Accurate figures on new car deliveries do not become immediately available; it usually takes from three weeks to a month to tabulate them.

But new car sales have been running at a rate of about 500,000 units a month. Authoritative sources say that level has been maintained in May; they add that June and July deliveries probably will top that average.

But nobody in automotive quarters is topping the latest prediction by Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president who says 5,800,000 cars will be sold this year.

Curtice earlier had put the year's probable total at 6½ million retail deliveries.

All the nation's car makers have finalized their 1957 models; all have contracted for millions of dollars worth of new tooling for the production of the new cars, expected to reach the market late in October and early in November.

But right now all are concerned with the job of reducing the huge inventories at the dealer level. Production schedules for the weeks immediately ahead are undergoing constant revisions. All the revisions are aimed at shrinking the stock of unsold new cars.

Nab Fleeing Drunks After Nightly Chase

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — City police officer Lee Cannon had his hands full when he arrested two suspectes for drunken driving. He took the driver from the car to the patrol car and started back for the other man.

• • •

When he again reached the patrol car, suspect No. 1 was running down the street. Cannon gave chase and caught him after a three-block sprint. When he returned to the patrol car, suspect No. 2 was driving away in the suspects' car.

• • •

Cannon tossed suspect No. 1 into the patrol car and sped after No. 2. He finally got both men to the city jail.

Recreational visits to U.S. National Forests totalled less than 19 million in 1946 and more than 40 million during 1954.

Soybeans Firm, Others Weaken

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans held firm but other cereals weakened after getting off to a steady start on the Board of Trade today.

• • •

All grains opened with small gains on steady commission house buying. Trading was very slow with no demand of importance noted. Shortly after the start the market headed downward and dealings picked up speed.

More favorable weather for crop development, plus limited export and domestic demands for cash grain, appeared to be behind the renewed liquidation.

Market Shows Modest Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—A modest advance in the stock market today made a pale contrast to Tuesday's surging rally.

• • •

There were gains of 1 to 3 points and losses of 1 to 2 points in today's market with plus signs holding a slight edge throughout.

Trading was not very fast and came to an estimated 2,500,000 shares for the day. That compares with 2,430,000 shares traded Tuesday.

• • •

The market on the day before the Memorial Day recess shot ahead in the strongest upward movement in 17 years as a result of concentrated buying at bargain levels following a three-week reaction.

• • •

Today at the start, the market was somewhat mixed with some good gains dotting the list. Peak plus signs moderated, but the market retained its forward look.

Chemicals had the highest look of the major divisions, and also coming up were farm implements, aircrafts, radio-televisions, utilities, electronics issues, railroads, airlines and movie issues.

• • •

The steels were mostly unchanged to lower while motors and oils were rather mixed. Coppers headed down along with rubbers.

General Dynamics jumped ahead around 2 points on the news of a Royal Canadian Air Force contract for submarine hunting planes.

OH, DEAR, OH DEER! — It's a tough world as this week-old Costa Rican fawn found when he ventured into it at the Como Park zoo in St. Paul. He ended up in a nearby pen of mules and emerged with two broken hind legs. Now wearing casts, the youngster will have to stay close to its mother for a couple of weeks.

Insurance Benefits Reach $25 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan families received more than $25 million from life insurance death benefits during the first three months of this year.

The Institute of Life Insurance said the $25,048,000 paid out under 15,605 policies compated with $23,226,000 under 14,530 policies during the corresponding period in 1955.

In a similar period 10 years ago, Michigan families received $12,112,000 under 10,459 policies. The institute emphasized that the 107 per cent increase in a decade reflected increased ownership of life insurance rather than a rising mortality rate.

For the nation as a whole, more than $605 million in death claims was paid out under 447,440 policies in the first quarter of 1956.

Business Notes

Charles A. Erdman, assistant controller of Parke, Davis & Co., was recently elected secretray of the Detroit Chapter, National Assn. of Cost Accountants, for the 1956-57 term. Erdmann lives at 7455 W. Greenwich, Birmingham.

Promotion of Alex C. Morris, of 393 S. Marshall St., to manager of the Cook Coffee Co.'s Dayton, Ohio, branch was announced yesterday by Edward Ornstein, vice president.

DETROIT (INS)—George Romney, president and chairman of American Motors Corp., announced today the election of Walter Jeffrey to vice president and general manager and Homer L. Travis to vice president-sales, both of Kelvinator Division.

• • •

Romney said the appointments follow recent action by the board of directors elevating Bernard A. Chapman from vice president and general manager of Kelvinator to vice president in charge of operations for the corporation.

Set Construction Date on New Water Tank

Sylvan Lake's new 150,000 gallon water tank is expected to be installed by Sept. 1, according to City Manager Ernest L. Ethier.

The city extended the date from March 1 because of difficulty in selling $50,000 worth of revenue bonds to complete the new $275,000 water system, Ethier explained.

• • •

The official said the city has the funds from the bond sale available, permitting work to begin on purchasing the elevated storage tank. Watling, Lerchen and Co. of Detroit bought the bonds at a 1½ per cent discount for $49,250.

Architectural Firm Launches Expansion

Expansion and incorporation of Birmingham's Linn Smith architectural firm under a triple partnership was announced today by President Smith. The new company will be known as Smith, Tarapata, MacMahon Inc., Architects.

Principal officers include Smith, president; Peter Tarapata, vice president and secretary, and Charles MacMahon Jr., vice president and treasurer. All have had extensive experience in architectural design.

Smith is a resident of Birmingham while Tarapata and MacMahon each live in Bloomfield Hills.

New Chinese Fiction

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 60 microfilmed works of rare vernacular Chinese fiction have been transferred to the University of Michigan's general library. They were obtained in Japan. The works were paid for by a Horace H. Rackham grant and the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation. They will be called the Guggenheim collection.

Tell It to the Marines

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—That blood-alcohol test which indicated a high alcoholic content could have been all wrong, motorist J. M. Thayer argued in police court. A miner, he claimed he was exposed to atomic radiation in 1953. Its effects may have caused an error in the alcohol reading, he said. Judge Erwin R. DeLuche wasn't convinced. The fine for drunk driving: $142.

Judaism, Christianity and Islam all originated in the Middle East.

Semester's End Brings Rush of Area Graduations

With the approach of summer and the end of the current school year, a number of schools in the Oakland County area are preparing to hold graduation exercises.

South Lyon

Commencement for the class of 1956 of the South Lyon High School will be held in the new high school gymnasium at 8 tonight.

The processional and recessional will be played by the high school band. Dr. Guy H. Hill, co-ordinator of high school co-operation of Michigan State University will give the address on the theme "Tomorrow's World."

Lake Orion

A class of 105—the largest ever to graduate from Lake Orion High School—will attend outdoor Commencement exercises at 8 p.m. June 7 in the school's athletic field. Baccalaureate service will come four days earlier, on June 3.

Dr. Guy Hill, professor of education of Michigan State University, will give the Commencement address on the topic "Faith to Move Mountains." Donald McFate will give the valedictory

Imlay City

Don Currie, director of placement and alumni relations of Michigan State Normal College, will be the commencement speaker at 8 p.m. Friday for the Imlay City's 53 graduating seniors. His subject will be "To Each According to His Ability."

Arlene Muir and Marion Strump will give the salutatory addresses and Eileen Rathka will give the valedictory.

Principal Richard Wheeler will present the senior honor award. Jim Kirkbride, president of the senior class will turn over the gavel to Austin Stroman, president of the 1957 class.

There will be vocal selections by the senior girls, and presentation of the class gift by Marion Strump, vice president of the senior class, with acceptance by William E. Knight, member of the board of education. Eileen Tathka will play a piano solo.

Principal Fred Wiegman will present the class and Wesley Allen, president of the board of education, will award the diplomas. Senior Class President Edward Leach and Vice President Paul Allen will present the class flowers.

A departure from tradition will be the omission of the junior class as an honor guard. Because of the size of the class, the juniors will confine their part in the program to ushering and escorting the senior class.

Baccalaureate service will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in the high school auditorium.

The service will open with the Glee Club singing "Holy, Holy, Holy," and scripture reading and prayers will be presented by Dr. Mont C. Oliver of Lake Orion Methodist Church.

The sermon, "Try This for Size," will be delivered by Rev. Walter Ballagh of the First Baptist Church.

Dryden

Baccalaureate Service for the 27 graduating seniors of Dryden High School will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in the high school gymnasium. The students also will be honored at the morning worship service in Dryden Methodist Church.

Wednesday at 8 p.m. the students will receive their diplomas at commencement exercises in the high school gymnasium.

Baccalaureate speaker will be the Rev. Stephen Chapko. His topic will be "The Alphabet of Success." Music for this service will be by the Methodist Church Choir.

Dr. William H. Roe, associate professor of education at Michigan State University, will give the commencement address. Janet and Jeanine Abbott will be co-valedictorians, and Shirley Behnke is salutatorian.

Holly

With the largest senior class in its history—95 graduating students—Holly High School will hold its commencement program outdoors on the school athletic field. The exercises are scheduled for 8:15 on the night of Tuesday, June 12, two days after the baccalaureate services.

Dr. Harold Dorr, dean of field services for the University of Michigan, will be the speaker at this, the school's first outdoor graduation. His topic will be "Much Has Been Given—Much is Expected."

Clare Voorheis, vice president of the school board, will award the diplomas, and Holly High School Band will play the processional and recessional numbers.

Valedictory address will be given by Karldeen Jubelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Jubelt of Andersonville road, Davisburg. Pat Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of Rose Center, is the salutatorian.

Baccalaureate Services, scheduled for 8:15 p.m. June 10, will be held in the multi-purpose room at Holly Elementary School. The Rev. Cyril Rancourt, pastor of St. Rita Catholic Church, will give the sermon on "The Open Road."

Following the service, local pastors will sponsor a reception for the graduates, their friends and the teachers. It is the first time such a reception has been scheduled.

Marlette

Commencement exercises for 61 graduating seniors were held at Marlette High School last week, with Dr. Harold E. Sponberg, assistant director of Extension Service, Michigan State University, as the principal speaker.

Richard Kaminska, high school principal, and Melvin Dickson, class sponsor, presented the class. James Sullivan, board of education member, awarded the diplomas.

School closed Friday for all pupils. Regular classes will resume after the summer vacation.

Davisburg Pair Repeat Vows in Candlelight Rite

DAVISBURG—Community Bible Church here was the scene of the recent evening candlelight service which united in marriage Kaye Frances Campbell and Donald James Cummings.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Earl Campbell of 569 Broadway andt he bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs Everett Cummings of 5510 Ormond Rd.

One hundred guests were present as Kaye Frances spoke her vows in a gown featuring a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace and sleeves tapered to points over the wrist. Her tulle skirt with lace inserts ended in a cathedral train.

Attending Kaye were Joyce Campbell of Davisburg and Connie Cummings and Carol Koop, bridesmaids, also of Davisburg.

Best man for Donald was Edward Roberts of Drayton Plains and groomsmen were Linwood Koop and William Campbell, both of Davisburg. Robert Harroun and Claude Campbell, both of Pontiac, were ushers.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH IN THIS WAY TO thank all our good friends church, fraternal order, etc. for their comfort and support in the sickness and death of my husband David Keefer. Mrs. Keefer and niece.

In Memoriam 2

TREASURED MEMORIE, OF A devoted son and brother, James Mazza who died May 31 1951. You have left a beautiful memory.

And a sorrow too great to be told
But to us who have loved and lost you,
Your memory will never grow old
No morning comes, no night returns,
But what we think of you.
From his loving Mother, Father, Sister and Brother-in-law

Holiday Crowd Watches Skier Plunge to Death

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (UP) — The swift-running Snake River swept a water skier over the brink of 212-foot Shoshone Falls yesterday as outlookers taking the Memorial Day sun watched in horror from the shore.

Still missing today was the body of 32-year-old Melvin W. Hulbert of Boise, Idaho.

Witnesses said Hulbert lost his balance and fell into the water of a lagoon about 1,000 yards upstream from the falls, one of the highest cataracts in the west. He splashed around in the water, apparently unconcerned, while the current edged him ever closer to the lip of the falls.

"About 200 feet from the falls he seemed to realize he was in trouble," one witness said. The boat which had been towing him and another craft made desperate, dangerous last-minute passes in an attempt to rescue him almost at the brink.

Brother Bob Subs for Arthur

Betty Field Will Star in 'Happy Birthday' on June 25

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Bing Crosby's next TV action will be aboard Jack Benny's already completed June 17 film (Jack's in England) with Jack and George Burns in an old vaudeville routine....

Looks like Bob Crosby gets the summer sub job for Godfrey's Wednesday nighter ... Jo Stafford turned it down....

Betty Field gets the June 25 "Happy Birthday" role offered first to Imogene Coca and Nanette Fabray....

Victor Riesel will "Meet the Press" Sunday....

SHOW BIZ LURE

Arthur "Street Singer" Tracy felt the nudge of show biz despite getting rich in real estate so the old radio star will record four sides for RCA-Victor, with Radio-TV in the offing....

Lawrence Welk's slight accent isn't because he was born abroad—he was born in North Dakota—but his Alsatian parents spoke with a German accent and Welk absorbed a little of it....

Secret of the unexpected ascendency to the top 10 AV shows of "The Millionaire," which hands out a fictional tax-free million bob in each show—the viewers haven't a chance to win the $64,000 either.

NBC has a Saturday afternoon jazz show for fall teeveeing.

$2,300,000 SALE

The 52 old films 20th Century-Fox just sold down the TV channels went for $2,300,000....

"Ozzie and Harriet" have landed their sponsor for next season—Eastman Kodak—through '57 with a four-year option ... Starts in the fall after Kodak cuts loose from Screen Directors' Playhouse.

The "Conelrad" system, by which all radio and TV stations are mobilized for war emergency, will have a test sometime in the next two months....

Integrated Beaches Open in Maryland

BALTIMORE (UP) — Maryland's two main publicly owned beaches opened yesterday for the first time on an unsegregated basis. No incidents were reported.

Negroes used unsegregated bathing facilities in only one of the two areas, however. At Sandy Point State Park on the Chesapeake Bay about 15 miles south of here, what was described as a "handful" of Negroes used a beach which had formerly been for whites only.

At Fort Smallwood Beach just south of the city and operated by it, no Negroes used the bathing facilities newly opened to them, but in the general park area, as has been the practice in the past, Negroes used the playgrounds and picnic tables along with whites.

Policeman's Wife Held in Murder After 'Accident'

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A Memorial Day argument with his wife ended in death for an off-duty San Francisco policeman.

Lt. Al Nelder said Patrolman Roland Holm, 32, handed his revolver to his wife and told her to shoot herself.

When she didn't, Holm said:

"All right, shoot me, then. You're a coward."

IT WENT OFF

"When he gave me the gun, I just grabbed it and it went off. I don't know what happened. It went off so fast I thought he was just faking. I didn't want to hurt him. I love him. He's my husband. He put the gun in my hand ..."

Mrs. Holm's sister, Mrs. Vivian Mohr, said Holm and his wife had been arguing about a vacation.

Mrs. Holm was booked on a suspicion of murder.

Memo to Suit Thief—It May Feel Pretty Hot

DALLAS (UP)—Note to the thief who stole a size 43 suit from the Main Street Cleaners:

That charcoal-colored suit may get uncomfortably hot for wear on Dallas streets and not just because it is flannel.

UM Obstetrician Refutes German Measles Fears

ANN ARBOR (UP)—German measels, long a spectre that haunted expectant mothers, is still something to worry about, but not as much as before.

• • •

Ever since Australia's great epidemic in 1941, says Dr. Donald Pearse, University of Michigan obstetrician, it was generally believed the disease caused a high rate of abnormal developments in the unborn child.

Dr. Pearse says mothers should still go to see their doctor if they think that they have been exposed. But treatment with gamma globulin can prevent it, if caught early enough.

The Australian experience led many to think that 80-90 per cent of the babies whose mothers had contracted the disease would be born abnormally, Dr. Pearse said.

• • •

These are the findings of a study made in Sweden. The study showed that 93-95 per cent of the babies born to mothers who had the disease during early pregnancy were born normally. Only five to seven per cent were effected.

Muskegon Foreign Tonnage on Uptake

MUSKEGON (UP) — Port officials say Muskegon harbor's foreign import-export tonnage has taken a sharp upswing over the volume handled in recent years.

• • •

N. W. Hemmick, port director for the Chamber of Commerce, said harbor facilities have handled 2,500 tons in imports in the current shipping season. Imports totaled 354 tons in 1954 and jumped to 3,000 tons last year.

Hemmick reported 2,100 tons in exports already scheduled through June.

Meanwhile, the city has created a harbors department as an additional city office, anticipating a still greater upsurge in foreign shipping on the Great Lakes.
