Major Crime in Pontiac Up 15 Pct. in '66

By DAVID J. COOK

Major crime in the City of Pontiac is up nearly 15 per cent from last year, according to 10-month figures released by the Pontiac Police Department.

In addition, police records show the number of reported major offenses in Pontiac has already passed the 5,000 mark in 1966.

On the basis of a monthly average of 476 offenses through October, the projected year-end figure will be about 5,712.

The city's previous recorded high for a single year was last year, when the total was 4,988.

The sharp increase this year continues an upward swing which has leveled off only twice since 1959.

Police Chief William K. Hanger, who admitted he is "frankly puzzled" by the crime rise, nevertheless pinpointed four areas he believes are contributing to the increase:

- Social attitudes which make it "unduly easy" to commit crimes;
- Public apathy and unwillingness to provide funds for adequate law enforcement;
- Low bonds for criminal offenders after their arrest;
- Supreme Court decisions making convictions difficult along with "soft sentences" for those who are found guilty.

"BIGGEST OBSTACLE" Hanger singled out police manpower as the "biggest obstacle" to combating crime in Pontiac.

Even in the face of a doubling of major offenses in the last decade, the number of police personnel has remained constant.

Manpower presently stands at 117, having gone as low as 110 and as high as 122 in the past 10 years.

"Theoretically," Hanger explained, "every police officer should spend 50 per cent of his time on patrol — simply being seen and making his presence felt in the community.

PATROLS SUFFER

"Our men are so busy most of the time taking reports of crimes already committed they spend virtually no time fulfilling this patrol function," he said.

"Chicago recently had a large increase in crime in a particular area — they boosted the number of conspicuously marked cars in that area and cut the offenses to almost nothing."

Principal court decisions affecting police work, according to Hanger, have been the much-publicized Escobedo and Miranda opinions.

In Illinois vs. Escobedo (1964), the Supreme Court ruled a criminal suspect was entitled to have legal counsel present during interrogation.

RIGHT TO REFUSE

In the Arizona vs. Miranda decision rendered this year, the court held that a suspect had the right to refuse to answer any questions put to him by police.

"Both of these cases drastically limit the ability of the police to interrogate suspects," he said.

"Some crimes, however, could never be solved without confessions."

"I don't in any way advocate the third degree. As far as I'm concerned, interrogation is mainly a matter of wits — a police officer versus a suspect."

'CONCERN FOR ACCUSED'

"I don't think it's too much to ask a man to account for his activities when circumstances point to him as a likely suspect."

"Court decisions and public comment seem to reflect a great concern for the accused — apparently no one is too worried about the victims of crime."

Public attitudes were also described by Hanger as "apathetic" toward crime.

"This is shown in the past by the reluctance of the citizenry to finance either raises in police pay or increased manpower," he said.

ATTITUDES CHANGING

The chief cited, however, "growing evidence" that attitudes toward crime are changing.

"I think people are beginning to react to what they

Particulars on School Presented

Education specifications for a new — and highly flexible — high school were presented last night to the Pontiac Board of Education.

Developed by Pontiac Central High School faculty members, the report will keynote board consideration of school building needs.

School administrators estimate that a high school incorporating all of the facilities sought by educators would cost $8.5 to $7 million.

The proposed school, based on a 2,400-student capacity, would have some 275,450 square feet of classroom space. The present PCH has 177,778 square feet of floor space, including classrooms and corridors.

Said to have a "reasonable capacity" for 1,875 students, the 53-year-old building has an enrollment of 2,414.

REPORT DELAYED

Prepared during the 1964-65 school year, the report was delayed in central administrative offices for a year because of demands on staff time for labor negotiations, intergroup relations and federally funded programs, Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said.

Notable throughout the proposal are plans for movable partitions in various kinds of rooms. These would allow for both large — and small-group (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Ferryboat Goes Down Halfway Between Crete, Greek Coast

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A Greek passenger ship with 282 persons aboard sank in a violent storm in the Aegean Sea early today. Twenty survivors were reported saved and others sighted in the water.

The 8,900-ton Heraklion sank halfway between the island of Crete and the Greek mainland, in its regular 10-hour crossing from Crete to Piraeus, the port of Athens.

The first survivors sighted were floating in the sea 19 miles northeast of the island of Milos, where the Venus de Milo statue was discovered in 1820.

Shipping officials said the Heraklion carried 206 passengers, including one foreigner, and a crew of 75 commanded by Capt. E. Vernikos.

SERIES OF DISASTERS

The sinking of the ferryboat was one of a series of postwar disasters to Greek ships.

Europe's worst postwar maritime disaster was the sinking of the Himeria, which went down off Athens in 1947 with a loss of 392 lives.

In the first hours after the disaster, the Merchant Marine Ministry said there appeared to be no hope of survivors. But as ships and planes converged on the disaster site, wreckage and people were seen in the water.

In Sullenberger Murder

Memphis Man Charged

A 21-year-old Memphis, Tenn., man was charged yesterday with the murder of Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, former Pontiac surgeon.

Memphis police charged Clyde E. Triplett with first-degree murder, following his statement to them concerning the slaying of the 51-year-old doctor.

Sullenberger's body was found in a water-filled sand pit in Memphis Sunday.

Sullenberger, director of a Memphis hospital emergency room, drew national attention in 1958 when he was dismissed from Pontiac General Hospital for personal misconduct. Details of the slaying and Triplett's statement were withheld by authorities who said that further information would not be revealed until Triplett is tried on the charge.

LED POLICE

Four youths arrested Tuesday because they had been in possession of Sullenberger's car led police to Triplett, according to Memphis Police Commissioner Claude Armour.

He would not say how the car came into the hands of the four youths.

The car was recovered Monday on a farm outside of Memphis. The owner of the farm said the four had left it there Nov. 29 after telling him it had broken down.

Sullenberger had been missing since Nov. 17, when he was last seen leaving the hospital.

BEATEN, SHOT

An autopsy revealed that Sullenberger had been beaten about the head and shot twice.

He had been practicing in Texas prior to arriving in Memphis Nov. 1 to take a job as a supervisor at the John Gaston Hospital.

Guess What? More Rain Due

Ground in the Pontiac area, already soggy from heavy rains and melting snow, will get another drenching today, tonight and tomorrow.

Rainfall yesterday measured approximately one inch. The weatherman forecasts rain, occasional thundershowers and unseasonably warmer temperatures, the low 50 to 55 tonight, and the high, near 60 tomorrow.

Street flooding today was reported in two areas — Woodward just north of Square Lake Road, Bloomfield Township, and Dixie Highway southeast of Williams Lake Road.

There were few problems getting through, however.

COLDER FORECAST

Saturday's outlook is cloudy and colder with showers possible.

Variable morning winds will become southwest at 5 to 15 miles per hour this afternoon and tonight.

The low in downtown Pontiac was 58 prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 61 by 1 p.m.

Education Board to Study Medical School Facilities

The entire field of new medical education facilities, including Pontiac's projected osteopathic college, is to be studied by the State Board of Education before there is approval for expansion of Michigan State University's two-year medical school.

This was the outcome of a public hearing yesterday in Lansing before the state board.

Romney Gets Soundings on '68 Chances

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan's Gov. George Romney makes a series of public appearances and private calls here today to take what political observers considered soundings of his chances for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Romney told newsmen in Charlotte, N.C., yesterday that he would not make up his mind about running "for at least six months," which gives him that much time to prove what support he can count on.

Romney's public appearances here included a news conference, a speech to the National Association of Manufacturers and a dinner given by the United Jewish Appeal.

An aide to Romney said it could "not be ruled out" that Romney would make private calls on former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay.

In Reno, Nev., it was reported that Leonard Hall, former Eisenhower-Nixon campaign chief, is asking key western Republicans to support Romney for president.

Paul Laxalt, Republican governor-elect of Nevada, said Hall met with him in Reno last week to discuss support for Romney.

RECORD SYSTEM REVISED

Teddy: Limit Draft Law

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says he will ask Congress next year to limit the extension of the present draft laws to six months or a year — unless it is able to agree on a proposed reform before the legislation expires June 30. The Massachusetts Democrat expressed doubt, however, that the complex issue of the Selective Service System and the myriad of suggestions for altering — and abolishing — it could be digested in the half-year left before the deadline.

"I'm hoping for something before the end of the expiration," he told a newsmen Wednesday night, "but it isn't realistic."

"If we have a delay," he added, "we have to keep the present laws in effect a minimum amount of time." He set this at not more than one year.

NORMAL EXTENSION

The draft laws normally would be extended for four years.

Kennedy's comments came shortly after he and other participants in a just-concluded national draft conference spelled out their findings in a public panel session.

More than 100 educators, government specialists, congressmen and students spent four days discussing the draft and some alternatives. The meeting, an outgrowth of the growing public debate over the fairness of the draft, was arranged by the University of Chicago.

Major Crime Rises 15 Pct.

"Another sign is the frequency with which businessmen want to hire off-duty police personnel for protection of their stores."

"Some store owners who feel they can't afford special protection are putting in requests for concealed weapons permits."

LEAD INCREASE

Counted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as major offenses are murder, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft.

Robbery and auto theft have been the leaders in the recent rise, with increases over last year of 38.4 and 28.2 percent, respectively.

Burglaries, too, have contributed, with an average of almost three a day through October of this year.

Of equal concern to police, if for no other reason than sheer volume, is the number of so-called lesser offenses.

MINOR OFFENSES RISE

Over a seven-year period, minor crimes have shot from 3,828 in 1959 to a total of 7,764 last year. This year the rate is running about the same as 1965.

Combining with the lesser offenses from a standpoint of police workload, has been a similar rise in miscellaneous noncriminal calls.

These calls — which range from rescue runs and personal assistance to lost and found — presently are 20 percent ahead of last year, when the 10-month total was 1,167.

Murder — or more properly, criminal homicide — nearly doubled in the first nine months. Seven persons have met death violently this year, as against four in 1965.

SINGLE DECREASE

The single category to show a decrease so far this year over 1965 is rape, with seven verified offenses through October as against 12 a year ago.

Significantly, arrest figures show juveniles — persons under 18 — to be responsible for much of the increase in burglaries and auto thefts.

Through the first 10 months of this year, nearly half, or 43.1 percent, of auto thefts in Pontiac had been solved with the arrest of juveniles.

Similarly, about one of six break-ins — 16.8 percent — was traced to a person under 18. The number of armed robberies accounted for by juveniles has nearly doubled, with 7.1 percent recorded through October as against 3.6 percent last year.

Cheyz Trial Witness Tells of Probe Ploy

By JIM LONG

A prosecution witness testified yesterday that a grand jury investigator had once given her $500 to flash before White Lake Township Supervisor Edward R. Cheyz, but that she was never asked to make a direct bribe.

"If he (Cheyz) asked for it, I was supposed to give it to him," said Mrs. Estelle Dawson during her cross-examination by Cheyz, attorney, Joseph Louisell.

"If I had offered it to him it would have been a bribe, and I knew Mr. Cheyz wouldn't go along with it," said Mrs. Dawson.

The testimony came late in the third day of the trial in which Cheyz is charged with conspiracy to bribe and bribery involving a parcel of property which Mrs. Dawson wanted rezoned for an apartment project.

The trial had come to a halt earlier in the day when Mrs. Dawson, a 67-year-old widow, began to cry while being questioned by Louisell.

Mrs. Dawson said that she was contacted by State Police detective Edward Seath after returning to the area from a trip in early February.

Prior to that, she said she had gone to another attorney, Anthony Reune, and told him about a proposal made by Cheyz to promote the development.

Cheyz is accused by the grand jury with conspiracy with Richard Hanson, a public relations man with the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson. Cheyz allegedly was to receive $1,000 of the $3,000 Hanson was going to charge Mrs. Dawson for his services.

Hanson, 34, of 2771 North Lake, Waterford Township, is not on trial. He was granted immunity from charges by Grand Juror Philip Pratt.

Mrs. Dawson said that Reune called it a "shakedown," and apparently went to the grand jury with the story while she was out of town.

"Did he (Reune) ever tell you about his difficulties with Cheyz?" asked Louisell.

"No, I didn't know he had any," replied Mrs. Dawson.

After she returned to Pontiac, Mrs. Dawson said she gave Seath permission to record a phone conversation she had with Hanson, but that Seath did not give her any instructions as to what to say.

Two days later, according to Mrs. Dawson, she went to see Cheyz at the township hall to discuss the rezoning matter.

It was at this meeting, she said, that she took the $500 given to her by police. She said police had equipped her with a microphone that recorded the conversation in a truck outside.

RETURNED MONEY

She said she returned the money to Seath when she arrived back at the Pontiac State Police post.

Hanson was arrested the next day at the Pontiac Mall shopping center following a meeting with Mrs. Dawson, at which time she paid him $500 cash and a $1,000 check.

The trial resumed this morning with Mrs. Dawson returning to the stand for further questioning by Louisell.

Airport Deal Issue Looms

of the city's proposal that the county be allowed to occupy the building at 1 Lafayette rent-free until Dec. 31, 1968.

The point of disagreement was the fourth provision of the city's offer calling for retention of ownership by the city of 50 T-hangers at the airport during the period the county continues to occupy the 1 Lafayette property.

Yesterday's committee action, taken at a closed-door session, still has two hurdles to clear at the county level before becoming a formal proposal.

It must win the approval Friday in a joint meeting of three committees of the County Board of Supervisors, ways and means, building and grounds and aviation.

Then the recommended land transfer will become an issue at a meeting of the 86-member board of supervisors next Wednesday.

If approved by the full board, the land transfer's fate will rest with the City Commission.

Husband-Wife Scientists Get Cranbrook Award

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A husband and wife team of scientists yesterday were given the Mary Soper Pope Medal by Cranbrook Institute of Science, "for distinguished accomplishment in the field of plant sciences."

They are Drs. Karl and Halving Jolivet Sax who are currently residing at Cranbrook where Karl Sax is the first appointee to the Institute's Distinguished Scholar Chair.

The Saxes are engaged in a study of the effects on chromosomes of the use of various beverages, drugs and pesticides.

After he retired as director of the Arnold Arboretum at Harvard University in 1954 and as professor of botany at Harvard in 1959, Dr. Sax accepted many visiting professorships.

The medal, designed by Marshall Fredericks, was established in 1946 under grants from the family of the late Mrs. Pope of Bloomfield Hills.

BIRMINGHAM — Clifford H. Higgins, 28136 Forestbrook, Farmington Township, has been named general chairman of the sixth annual Living Endowment Campaign at Detroit Country Day School.

Father of a student and an alumnus, he is president of the H and H Tube M a manufacturing Co.

The Living Endowment Program furnishes operating funds for the school, including faculty salaries and the scholarship program.

The goal this year is $40,000.

Four area residents have been named to positions with the Abraham Lincoln Civil War Round Table of Michigan.

James K. Flack, 286 Larchlea, Birmingham, was appointed vice president.

Named to the board of directors were L. C. Burch, 1400 Echo Lane, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Florence Dedy, 411 Smith, Birmingham; and William Spring, 6065 Franklin, Bloomfield Hills.

Arms Found in County Jail Shakedown

A shakedown, ordered last night after rumors of a planned breakout at the Oakland County Jail, turned up a trove of weapons, including an imitation pistol, according to Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

Irons said the search of "P" cellblock on the jail's fourth floor resulted in transfer of two of the 25 prisoners to second-floor cells.

Among the confiscated items was a realistic gun, its handle carved from a bar of laundry soap, a barrel made of a plastic toothbrush case and a trigger bent from a spoon handle.

Weapons taken by turnkeys also included small knives crudely fashioned from spoon and fork handles.

SEMINAR ROOMS

It would contain a main reading room equipped with individual study carrels and listening stations. Also included in the area would be eight small seminar rooms readily adaptable for English and social studies classes.

Waterford Police Firing Upheld

By a 6-0 vote last night, the Waterford Township Board by resolution upheld the dismissal of Patrolman Ronald Freeman from the township police department because of "official misconduct."

The decision culminated a hearing held under the Veterans' Preference Act in the Waterford Township High School cafeteria.

Freeman, a seven-year veteran of the force, disobeyed a direct order to sweep the police station floor Nov. 7 and was discharged three days later.

Freeman then appealed the dismissal and was granted a hearing before the Waterford Township Fire and Police Civil Service Commission.

The Civil Service Commission, likewise, ruled the dismissal justified following a lengthy hearing last Saturday.

The appeal next could be taken to Circuit Court.

Saigon Mayor Rests After His Arrest by Yank MPs

VAN VAN CUA

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — Saigon's mayor entered a hospital for a checkup and a rest today less than 12 hours after American military police arrested and handcuffed him on the Saigon riverfront shortly before 2 a.m.

Friends of Mayor Van Van Cua, who is also a doctor and a paratrooper colonel, said they expected he would be asked to take time off from City Hall for an extended rest.

Cua was disarmed and handcuffed by U. S. military police after he brandished a Thompson submachine gun at them, U. S. officials said.

They said the MPs were summoned to the riverfront near the city's floating restaurant after reports that a man was firing a gun. A U. S. spokesman said the MPs "detected an odor of alcohol" on the man, who later proved to be the mayor.

The Americans, apparently unaware or unsure of the mayor's identity, searched him and took a .38-caliber revolver from him. He was wearing a sport shirt and slacks.

U. S. officials disclosed the mayor had been involved in at least one previous incident recently when he stopped a military convoy moving through Saigon. Other sources said that on one occasion during the last week the mayor halted traffic on a main street late at night.

Beer brewing techniques were perfected in the monasteries in the early days of the Christian era.

'Only 2 in Race for A-Smasher'

Contest Said Between California and Illinois

WASHINGTON (UPI) — California's lieutenant governor-elect said yesterday that only California and Illinois were still in the running as sites for a $375-million atom smasher planned by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Robert H. Finch also said he had been assured by Commission Chairman Glen Seaborg that a decision on a site for the huge accelerator would be reached this month.

He said that his belief the AEC had narrowed the potential site to two was based on information from congressional and other sources rather than from Seaborg.

Finch said he had assured Seaborg that the Republican administration of Gov. - elect Ronald Reagan would live up to all commitments made by the outgoing administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown in an effort to win the accelerator for the West Coast state.

Dr. Sam Hints of Suicide if Found Guilty

NEW YORK (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard, acquitted last month in the 1954 bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn, indicated Wednesday night he would have shot himself in the courtroom or on the street if he had been convicted and had to return to jail.

Sheppard, appearing on the National Broadcasting Company's Johnny Carson "Tonight" show, also implied that he carried a pistol into the courtroom with him.

Carson asked him: "What would you have done if this trial had found you guilty. In other words, they would not have acquitted you, which they did."

Sheppard replied: "You are the first one who has come straight from the shoulder and asked me. I would have pulled that pistol from my insides and we would have had another court right on the street. Or in the courtroom. Because I wasn't going back (to prison)."

Carson then said: "You would have rather committed suicide."

"I had it ready," Sheppard replied. "I wasn't going back."

A Cleveland, Ohio, jury acquitted Sheppard Nov. 16 in his second trial after he had spent nine years in prison for the crime.

Lake Michigan Issue Before High Court Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court was to receive recommendations today for a solution to the 60-year tug-of-war between the city of Chicago and six Great Lakes states over Lake Michigan water.

Under normal procedure, the court would order the report by Special Master Albert B. Maris — filed and set dates for the filing of objections from interested parties.

The roots of the dispute lie in the remarkable engineering feat which reversed the flow of the Chicago River so that it ran out — instead of into — Lake Michigan.

Sanitary canals then were built and the city's sewage flushed down the Illinois waterway into the Mississippi River.

Wisconsin was the first to complain back in 1922. Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New York later joined in the charge that the diversion had lowered by at least 6 inches the water levels of Lakes Michigan, Huron, Erie and Ontario, their connecting waterways and the St. Lawrence River.

FORMULA PRESCRIBED

The Supreme Court in a 1920 order prescribed a formula, based in part on population, by which Chicago might continue to divert water from the Great Lakes system and directed the city to build adequate sewage treatment plants.

In 1958 the complaining states once more appealed to the Supreme Court for help.

They said the population of metropolitan Chicago had mushroomed to such a degree that the allowed diversion threatened to become disastrous to their interests.

Syria Seizes Oil Firm Assets

Company Is Owned
by Western Interests

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria's Socialist regime announced today it has seized all assets of the western-owned Iraq Petroleum Co. in Syria, including the pipeline that carries Iraq's oil to the Mediterranean.

A communique broadcast by Damascus Radio said the pipeline and other company property was taken over for payment of transit royalties due for this year.

IPC officials will be allowed to continue running the pipeline under supervision of four committees set up by Syria's ministry of finance, the communique said.

The seizure followed the collapse of negotiations between Syria and the IPC which ran from Sept. 10 to Nov. 16.

BROKE OFF TALKS

Syria broke off the talks then and threatened to take action against the company, which is owned by British, French, Dutch and American interests.

Syria had demanded that its transit royalties for allowing the oil to be pumped across its territory be doubled. In announcing the seizure, it said back royalties for this year totaled more than $8.4 million.

Rescuers Know Their Lines

By LOIS MANDLER

The lifeline gripped the electric pole tightly with his feet, threw one end of the fall line over the crossbar and tied it under his unconscious partner's arms and carefully lowered him 30 feet to the ground.

Before the rescuer could begin mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and cardiac massage, the victim stood up to ready himself for a performance.

The scene was a semiannual review of pole rescue and revival techniques for cardiac arrests.

Participating at a warehouse in the Oakland County division of Detroit Edison Co. were eight linemen.

The men had watched a film and discussed techniques. Now they were practicing.

MAIN INTEREST

Instructor Arthur Watts explained that "safety was the main interest."

He then demonstrated mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and cardiac massage on "Rescue Anne," a flesh-colored, blonde-haired, rubber doll in a blue jump suit.

The men took turns, placing one hand on her forehead and the other on the back of her neck for a tight grip, taking two quick mouth-to-mouth air exchanges.

Alternately, another man pushed his hands heavily against her rib cage and released, 15 times to stimulate her heart.

SPECIAL TIMING

To the timing of 2, 15, 2, 15, they gave "Anne" artificial respiration and massage until they did the procedure automatically.

The linemen, all of whom have taken Red Cross first aid and review it yearly, have also rehearsed taking pulses, checking for dilated eyes and other signs of a cardiac arrest.

They have a knowledge which may have to be used on the job, at home, on the beach or anywhere.

Yearly, there are some 620 accidents nationally where workers come in contact with energized conductors and are knocked out. The last fatal accident in the Oakland County division was in 1959.

Gets Trade Post

DETROIT (AP) — Thad M. Demery has been advanced to vice president in charge of leasing of the still uncompleted Detroit Trade Center, it was announced Wednesday. Associated with the center since its inception, he is one of the principal owners of Demery's Department Store in Detroit.

Germans Put Curbs on Cigarette Ads

BONN (UPI) — Men of distinction will no longer figure in German cigarette advertising.

The decision was the most important of the advertising guidelines agreed on by West Germany's 17 leading cigarette manufacturers. They acted at the suggestion of the Federal Ministry for Health, and to avoid parliamentary moves to legally restrict their advertising.

The cigarette makers agreed not to advertise in magazines for minors, not to use athletes in word or picture advertising and not to show anyone under 25 years of age smoking.

NATO Likely to Give N-Unit Full Status

PARIS (AP) — The nuclear planning committee which has been functioning within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is expected to be given permanent status during the meeting next week of the NATO ministerial council.

The committee, which has had several meetings in Paris, Washington and Rome, was proposed on May 31, 1965, by U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. McNamara said then that the United States was prepared to share nuclear responsibility within the alliance and suggested a select committee of four or five defense ministers to study the problem.

By State Board of Education

School Spending Hike Urged

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education decided Wednesday to recommend a $250-million increase next year in state spending on secondary and elementary schools, and said some needs still would be unmet.

Biggest increase under the board's plan would be a $147.8 million boost in basic state school aid. The 1966 Legislature granted a $67.1-million increase for the current fiscal year.

Other major additions would be $14.5 million for special education, $10 million for free text in state spending on secondary and elementary schools, and $39.1 million for teachers' retirement and $12 million for a special program for children "locked in poverty."

The total package would raise state spending on public elementary and secondary education from $619.5 million this year to $779.1 million in fiscal 1967-68.

In recommending a $12-million program for better education in low-income neighborhoods, Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, said a much higher figure had been considered.

He called the proposed $39.1-million boost in teachers' retirement funds "a significant step in completely funding the (retirement) systems."

The state and Detroit retirement systems have been described as not actually sound, although no immediate crisis has arisen.

The proposed school aid increase, Polley said, would provide for raises in teachers' salaries averaging 8 per cent, raises in other salaries averaging 5 per cent and a 4 per cent increase in other costs.

He said 40,000 new pupils are expected, in addition to the current statewide enrollment of slightly more than 2 million, and $22.8 million was recommended to hire 2,000 new teachers and pay other new costs.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

The special $12-million program would reach neighborhoods where "whole families are educationally starved, school dropouts are high, and gifted children are hidden," said Polley.

The program would include an urban school service corps to help in inner-city schools, special projects to reduce dropouts and general improvements.

The board's recommendation said the state should help build schools in districts which have reached their limit in levying property taxes.

Contributing a one-third share to such districts, Polley estimated, would cost about $25 million.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Other recommendations to the Legislature included:

• A program of establishing vocational education centers to serve all areas of the state. Community colleges or groups of secondary schools would operate the centers. "All who can profit should have equal opportunity to enroll in vocational education programs of their choice, no matter where they live," the board said.

• Regulation of private trade schools to protect students against schools which quickly go out of business.

• A $466,000 appropriation for a crash program to improve community college libraries.

• Incentive awards of up to $800 a year for 400 needy high school students who otherwise might not be able to go on to college.

• An appropriation of up to $1.8 million to delay increasing school lunch prices.

• A change to permit non-citizens of the United States to hold temporary teaching certificates. Many of these people, the board said, make excellent teachers of foreign languages, and some of Spanish origin could fill migrant teaching situations.

• A change to allow school districts to join with other districts in operating school buses for any federally supported educational or recreational programs, and to authorize districts to provide buses for emergency uses.

• Authorization for the state superintendent of public instruction to rule on adequacy and location of the site and educational usefulness of any proposed new school buildings in the state.

The board also discussed a legislative bill that would have required the consent of parents for any psychological tests of school pupils. Members argued that a policy statement by the board would be better.

A law, they said, would be too restrictive since schools depend on such tests to learn how to help pupils. But, they added, the state needs safeguards against misuse of information obtained in the tests.

MIG IS HIT — The Department of Defense has released photos showing a North Vietnamese MIG after it was hit by a burst of 30mm cannon fire from a U. S. fighter-bomber over North Viet Nam on Dec. 4. Chicago Probing Plunge of Elevated Railway Cars

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Transit Authority officials continued today to look into the causes of the derailment and subsequent plunge to the ground Wednesday of two elevated railway cars.

One person was killed and 25 were injured. Four of the injured remained in hospitals. The dead man was William McCullough, 49.

George De Ment, chairman of the CTA, said some kind of "foreign material" on the track may have derailed the last two cars after six 43,000-pound steel cars passed the obstruction.

Other officials theorized the derailed car may have been derailed earlier and that contact with the intersection of a switch may have caused the cars to drop 25 feet over the side of the elevated structure.

The accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. as the southbound Jackson Park express approached 41st Street on the city's South Side. There were 50 persons aboard the train.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn said, "It was a good thing the Indiana Avenue station at 41st Street on the city's South Side. There were 50 persons aboard the train."

The train's motorman, Samuel Jones, 38, a 15-year veteran, said the train was traveling at 10 miles an hour when the derailment occurred. De Ment said he believed Jones acted competently.

CIA officials said it was 53 years — Jan. 18, 1913 — since any part of "L" train had plunged to the street.

DEMONSTRATION — Graduate student David James demonstrates his "elastic water" at California Institute of Technology. James discovered the solution, described as the first room-temperature liquid found to seemingly defy gravity by flowing uphill. The solution contains about 99.5 per cent water and 5 per cent powdery resin.

House GOP Chiefs Map '67 Domestic Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders are mapping their 1967 domestic legislative program in a series of meetings with defense and economic experts, legislators and governors.

One session has been held, and four more are planned in the next two weeks.

The finished product will be unveiled by GOP leader Gerald R. Ford in the Republican evaluation of the "State of the Union," expected to take place about a week after President Johnson's "State of the Union" Message. Congress reconvenes Jan. 10. No dates have been set for the President's major messages.

As was the case last year, Ford is expected to discuss domestic issues, such as inflation, the draft, taxes and government spending, while Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen analyzes foreign policy.

SAME FORMAT

Some Republicans were critical last year when Dirksen outlined a Viet Nam policy close to the President's, but preparations are proceeding on the assumption the same format will be used.

The Republican leaders held one session here last week on federal-state relations. The GOP position in this area has already been detailed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House GOP Conference.

This is a tax-sharing plan under which a fixed percentage of tax revenues would be returned to the states, with an added amount going to poorer states.

On Friday, Ford plans to meet in Colorado Springs, Colo., with the members of the Republican Governors Association — 32 GOP governors or governors-elect. The Michigan Republican hopes for strong endorsement of the tax-sharing measure.

Two sessions are planned next week, one on defense policy and the other on crime and law enforcement.

The first, on Dec. 14, will bring together senior GOP members of the armed services and appropriations committees with a number of retired military leaders, including Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations.

Income Tax Chances Die

LANSING (AP) — The last dim chance for a state income tax this year flickered and died Wednesday in the House Democratic caucus.

Meanwhile, the Democratic-dominated committee on House policy tried to write the Democrats' proposals for equal leadership of next year's equally divided chamber into the rules of this year's House.

A motion by outgoing Rep. H. James Starr of Lansing that the merit caucus endorse passage of fiscal reform, probably including an income tax, in the postelection runoff session that began Wednesday was discussed and voted down, Democrats said.

Slayer Tripped by Phone Call?

Woman Overhears Confession in Mix-Up

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Somewhere in the United States a three-time killer may read this story and feel a gnawing fear.

He perhaps made that one mistake police say many criminals eventually make — the need to share the terrible secret with another.

This killer — who shot and stabbed to death Robert W. Sims, 42, his wife, Helen, 37, and their daughter, Joy, 12, last Oct. 22 at Tallahassee — apparently was compelled to call his mother by long-distance telephone.

A mistake in line connections brought in a third party who overheard the confessions, police revealed yesterday.

A woman, whose identity was being kept secret for obvious reasons, said she was making a long-distance call when she was unintentionally connected with another call.

INSIDE INFORMATION

She reported she heard a man say: "Mother, I have just done a horrible thing. I have killed three persons."

She also heard other information on the Sims' slayings that police believe only the killer could have known.

Authorities have not said where the woman was when she heard the confession or when the call occurred. But telephone company officials narrowed the destination of the call to about 200 telephones in Brevard County.

A thorough investigation is under way, but so far has failed to produce the recipient of the call.

There are approximately 75 million automobiles on the nation's highways.

"There wasn't much support for it," said Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, who was presiding over the caucus at the time.

'WASN'T CLOSE'

"The feeling was that we, as a lame-duck legislator, shouldn't try to impose our will on the people in something like this," he said. "We took a vote, but it wasn't very close."

Democrats on the House Policy Committee approved an amendment to House Rule No. 1 providing that when the House is evenly split between the parties, as it apparently will be next year, it must elect cospeakers, one from each party.

Democratic leaders have urged that this be done next year, but Republican leaders have opposed the idea. Wednesday, the House Republican caucus formally turned the proposal down.

West Virginia Poverty War Firm Closes

COWEN, W. Va. (AP) — A cabinet making plant, staked to $631,236 in loans from federal, state and private sources, is closing down after 10 months in business as an antipoverty project.

Its president partially blames the failure on inadequate financing.

"We're out of money and failed to make a profit," said Clyde Leslie, president of the Wood Turning Co. "If you don't have enough money to start with you are in trouble."

Leslie announced Wednesday that the plant in this small central West Virginia community was shutting its doors after filling a few remaining orders. Its 60 employees had made television cabinets, kitchen cabinets, chairs and other wood products.

OPENED LAST FEBRUARY

The firm opened last February after receiving loans of $267,000 from the Economic Development Administration, $75,000 through a Small Business Administration guarantee, $129,236 from the West Virginia Industrial Development Authority and $100,000 from private sources.

When you start a new business," Leslie said, "you have troubles," adding that he felt a buyer could be found for the plant and its equipment.

The failure was the second in West Virginia involving a business created as an antipoverty project.

The National Seating and Dimension Co. near Williamson in the southern part of the state went bankrupt two years ago despite receiving federal loans totaling $1.5 million. The plant also produced wood products.

Ike Entering Hospital Today

'I Have Many Rocks
in Me,' Quips General

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Eisenhower is scheduled to enter Walter Reed Army Hospital at midday to prepare for removal of his gallbladder.

"Apparently I have many, many rocks (gallstones) in me," the 76-year-old, five-star general quipped Wednesday. "I have asked the doctors to save me a few."

Eisenhower is to come here from his Gettysburg, Pa., home by car or helicopter.

Date of his surgery has not been announced, but Eisenhower said he expects to be hospitalized for 12 days — leaving him time to get home for Christmas.

Doctors have indicated they' schedule the operation after E senhower has undergone preliminary tests, which may take three or four days.

The original announcement Monday that Eisenhower would have his gallbladder removed did not specify that he had gallstones — but the general confirmed the presence of the stones.

He also told newsmen Wednesday at Gettysburg that he and his wife, Mamie, would plan to leave for Palm Desert, Calif., Jan. 4 instead of Dec. 2 as previously scheduled. The Doctors have offered no details on the nature of tests they will administer. Usual preoperative tests include blood-chemistry studies, a chest X ray and electrocardiogram of the heart, and X rays of the gallbladder.

NO DETAILS

Eisenhower, however, was hospitalized at Walter Reed about two weeks ago for what was described at the time as a routine physical examination. He may have undergone his gallbladder X rays then.
