Senate Moves to Hike SS Checks

People in the News

TESTIFIES ON '53 PROBE—Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) told the Senate Rackets Committee he knew of no political pressure that ended a 1953 House investigation of the Teamsters Union. Hoffman and Rep. Wint Smith headed a special House subcommittee which opened a probe of the Teamsters. The inquiry ended suddenly in Detroit.

House Rushes to Take Action on Labor Bill

Senate-Passed Plan, GOP Version Snubbed by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Backers may decide today whether to try a short-cut method of getting a labor control bill before the House in this waning session of Congress.

The House Labor Committee yesterday refused to consider a Senate-passed measure or a rival substitute backed by Republican committee members.

Rep. Stewart Udall (D-Ariz) said in an interview a final decision would have to be made by today on whether to try to call the Senate bill up Monday in the House under a suspension of the rules procedure that requires a two-thirds vote.

Udall recalled he said last month that the Labor Committee did not have time to go through the normal process of hearings and reports to get a bill to the floor and that the only way to do it was through the short-cut route.

"I still say if the bill is called up, it's going to be difficult not to vote for it," Udall said.

Other committee members said they did not think the bill had a chance of getting the two-thirds vote necessary for its consideration.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa), sponsor of the GOP-backed substitute, contended there was time to work out what he called a good bill and then pass it.

The Senate bill would require public disclosure of union finances, grant the secretary of labor power to subpoena records, and require election by secret ballot of national and local union officers.

It also contains provisions aimed at curbing thefts of labor funds and safeguarding rights of union members.

Eight Million New Car Sales in 1965 Predicted by GM President Curtice

FLINT (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president, today predicted new car sales in the United States next year will approximate 5½ million units; by 1965 he said, they will total eight million a year.

Curtice made his prediction in an address prepared for delivery at a "Salute to GM" luncheon, marking a civic celebration of GM's 50th anniversary year. General Motors was born in Flint.

Increased automobile production, Curtice said, should "set off a chain reaction throughout the whole economy," because many other industries are dependent upon the auto industry.

General Motors' plans, he said, provide for recalling 100,000 hourly rate employes by mid-October. "By Nov. 1 hourly rate employment in the United States will reach 325,000," he added. (GM's average number of wage earners in the first half of 1958 was 296,909 workers. It was 363,132 for the first half of 1957.)

Curtice's estimate of a 5½ million new car market next year compares with an estimated 4,300,000 unit sales for 1958.

"Barring labor difficulties," Curtice said, "I anticipate a marked increase in the level of automobile production with the start of the 1959 model year.

"Industrial production has recovered from the low reached in April. Manufacturing employment in June and July rose slightly for the first time in 18 months and the average factory work week showed a substantial increase. Total employment is more than 65 million, while the unemployment picture has improved."

The GM executive, who marked his own 65th birthday today, said other encouraging signs include rising housing starts, retail sales, government expenditures, personal income and gross national product.

Flint Story, Page 10

"All of these factors, as well as other indices, are evidence of an improvement in consumer and business confidence," he said.

His optimism for the long range, he said, was based on such expected gains as a marked increase in population by 1965; a total of 73 million gainfully employed civilians; gross national product of 600 billion dollars compared with 428 billion now; total disposable income of 420 billion dollars, an increase of one-third and additional industrial productive capacity.

Curtice said, however, that "to achieve these gains by 1965 will require cooperative effort with all elements of society working for the common good. . .There must be incentives to attract investment capital . . . Management must be alert to its responsibilities and all who work must recognize that the only way to have more is to produce more."

Finance Group Approves Raise of 7 Per Cent

Attempt by Democrats to Up Pensions 10 Pct. Appears Foredoomed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A final effort to fatten the election-year boost in Social Security benefits was set in the Senate today.

The Democratic move to push the planned Social Security benefit increase to 10 per cent appeared to be foredoomed.

The Senate Finance Committee ignored veto warnings yesterday and voted to fatten the pension checks of the nation's 11,800,000 Social Security recipients with a 7 per cent cost-of-living hike.

The bill previously passed by the House, was approved by voice vote after the committee rejected, 9 to 6, a motion to eliminate proposed increases in public assistance grants which had come under sharp Administration fire.

The measure now must be approved by the full Senate. It then would go back to the house which either could accept Senate changes or send it to conference to work out a compromise.

However, Democratic leaders said it was sure of final congressional approval before adjournment.

The Administration endorsed the 7 per cent increase in social security benefits—and a companion increase in taxes on workers, employers and the self-employed—to make up for rises in living costs since the last such increase in 1954.

But Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, warned he would urge President Eisenhower to veto the bill unless Congress eliminated features calling for a hike in federal grants for public assistance to the needy, aged, blind and dependent children.

The finance committee's only concession to these complaints was to limit such federal-state payments to an average of $65 a month for adults and $30 for dependent children. The House had voted to fix a ceiling of $66 and $33 respectively.

Committee experts said that would reduce the additional cost of the public assistance feature from 288 million dollars a year to 249 million dollars.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La) said either he or Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) would offer the amendment today to make the Social Security benefit increase 10 per cent instead of the 7 per cent voted by the Committee.

Other senators forecast the move would be defeated and that the Senate would take the bill substantially as drafted by the Finance Committee.

And Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan) predicted the House would as quickly accept the minor revisions made by the Finance Committee in the rush for adjournment.

Believe All 99 Aboard Airliner Were Killed

Atlantic Gives Up 37 Dead

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — Hope was virtually abandoned today for any survivors from the KLM airliner Hugo de Groot, which crashed off Ireland's Atlantic coast with 99 persons aboard.

By noon, 37 bodies had been recovered from a square mile of floating wreckage about 100 miles off Galway Bay where the four-engine, New York-bound airliner went down in stormy weather before dawn yesterday.

"We have more or less lost hope of finding survivors now, 30 hours later, but the search is still continuing," a spokesman for the Royal Dutch airline said.

An undertaker said the first bodies brought ashore were in "pretty bad shape indicating an explosion on board the plane."

Ships and planes of five nations were searching the area, picking up bodies and wreckage.

A ship which recovered five bodies said only one—that of a boy—was wearing a lifebelt.

The search went forward under a bright sun. The seas were calm after yesterday's storm.

HIGHEST TOLL

The deaths of all 99—including 53 Americans—would be the highest toll of any single-plane commercial accident.

The American-built Super-Constellation was the first commercial plane to go down at sea on the North Atlantic route flown by more than five million persons since World War II.

KLM began an investigation to find out why the plane crashed without even a radio report of trouble.

Flight 607E from Amsterdam to New York was last heard from 35 minutes after taking off from Shannon Airport for Gander, Nfld., after a refueling stop. Capt. F. A. E. Roelofs radioed that it was flying normally at 16,000 feet.

10-HOUR SILENCE

Then silence. Some 10 hours later a British airline pilot saw spots on his radar screen. A Royal Air Force patrol plane flew over and sighted wreckage.

The French trawler General Le Clerc sped to the scene and picked up eight bodies.

The British tanker B. P. Distributor picked up another three bodies plus a passport, personal papers and other flotsam. Twelve other ships hurried into the area.

The search continued throughout the night.

"It was an eerie scene lit by our flares," said Flight Lt. Keith McDonald, pilot of the plane that first spotted the wreckage.

At dawn the search widened to include a cluster of tiny uninhabited islands about 50 miles from the crash scene. "There is a remote possibility some might have reached them," said Lt. Cmdr. James Whyte, a harbormaster helping direct the search.

As the KLM investigation began, all that was known was the plane ran into bad weather soon after taking off with 45 men, 38 women, 8 children, and a crew of 8.

There was no evidence of any ditching procedure.

"Whatever it was, it is obvious that it happened suddenly," said KLM station manager Lawrence Melling. "After all, four engines and four radios do not cut out immediately."

Airmen at Shannon said there are three main causes of accidents in aircraft which could account for the sudden loss without radio warning:

1. A sudden explosion of whatever cause. The possibility that lightning struck the plane was not immediately ruled out, although lightning normally bounces harmlessly off such aircraft.

2. A sudden fire which destroyed communications and aircraft controls.

3. A mechanical failure that damaged controls, such as a propeller's coming loose and flying through the plane.

Oakland Dems Endorse Williams for Presidency

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Oakland County Democrats went on record last night as endorsing Gov. G. Mennen Williams for the 1960 presidential nomination.

They also voted unanimously to ask delegates to the Democratic state convention in Grand Rapids next week to affirm recent school integration and civil rights decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court.

A plank approved, too, in a 12-point platform adopted in Pontiac last night was endorsement of federal aid to education.

Support of Williams for the presidential nomination came after keynote speaker John B. Swainson, candidate for lieutenant governor, urged the Oakland delegation to "give the country a Democratic president in 1960." He did not mention Williams by name here.

Swainson, looking more like a college debater than a candidate for the state's second highest post, did however plug the man he hopes to work under.

The former state senator from Detroit placed the blame for increased taxes on the Republican controlled Legislature.

"Governor Williams couldn't pass a tax if he wanted to," Swainson remarked.

"It's the Republicans, who

Pontiac, Flint Men Killed in Belgium

Two Michigan servicemen, one reported to be from the Pontiac area, were killed when an aerial KB50 tanker crashed near St. Vivth Belgium, it was announced today.

Air Force headquarters in Europe identified the Pontiac man as Robert R. Rhodes, a staff sergeant. Efforts to contact the victim's family here were unavailing.

The other Michigan serviceman was Capt. Robert M. Corbin, of Flint.

The crash occurred as the four-engine plane was on a routine flight Wednesday from Wiesbaden, Germany, to its home base at Sculthorpe, Norfolk, England, the Air Force said.

Pressure to Halt '53 Quiz Denied

Hoffman Tells Probers No Impropriety Linked to Inquiry's Quick End

WASHINGTON (AP) — A veteran Michigan congressman says he knows of no political pressure which brought an abrupt end to a 1953 investigation of the teamsters union.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman told Senate investigators yesterday that Rep. Wint Smith (R-Kan) was guilty of nothing improper in connection with the inquiry or its sudden end.

The 83-year-old Hoffman testified voluntarily under oath.

The abortive investigation by a special House subcommittee headed by Hoffman and Smith had been under scrutiny of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, currently looking into the affairs of President James R. Hoffa and his Teamsters Union.

"I don't like this charge that I yielded to pressure," the white-maned Hoffman told the committee.

He denied any differences with Smith, denied that Smith blocked a possible contempt of Congress citation against Hoffa and told the committee as he left the witness stand:

"Don't get any wrong ideas about Wint Smith."

Smith was quoted in 1953 when the hearings ended suddenly in Detroit as saying that the word to stop them came from "way up." He has never elaborated.

Thus Went Aug. 15, 2008 ... a Day Like Any Day

By SAUL PETT
AP Staff Writer

Last in Series

On Aug. 15, 2008, despite some heavy moon-bound traffic, the earth made its complete turn in space in the usual elapsed time of 23 hours, 56 minutes, 4.091 seconds.

It was a day like all other days. Some history was made, some footnotes were added. Some people died, some were born, humanity inched forward.

In Moscow, the Linsky government had won complete control and began downgrading the Malinsky government, which had downgraded the Shmolsky government, which long before had downgraded the Khrushchev government for making a cult out of world travel.

In the United States, inflation had finally been halted and once more a housewife could buy a loaf of white bread for $2.89.

Her husband, the average American, set out for the office in a car 36 feet long, 18 inches high. He drove lying down, steering with his feet, his eyes on a small TV screen in the ceiling. Air experts predicted that in the future helicopters, rather than autos, would be commonplace.

It was, as usual, a busy day in Washington.

The President of the United States, a former physicist, told his semiannual press conference:

"E plus M2 minus W equals NG12." Early English translation: "I'm going to Saturn for the weekend."

The State Department said it was still hopeful of obtaining recognition from the government in Dallas.

An eight-star general, chairman of the Consolidated Chiefs of the Combined Chiefs of the Joint Chiefs of Staffs, testified that an atomic-missile war was imminent unless the Army were given complete control. Another congressional committee was told the nation's economy could easily withstand a deficit of $990,000,000,000,000.

Out of Mt. Rushmore, South Dakota, workmen were chiseling in the profile of Richard M. Nixon.

On television, Americans and viewers around the world enjoyed varied fare on their 20-by-20-foot screens. Most of the programs came from a global TV headquarters set up in the Taj Mahal in India.

The late show this day featured a TV first, a movie called "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Earlier in the evening, viewers watched, in living, deliciously gruesome color, an actual prefrontal lobotomy operation followed by a quiet interlude of candid, cross-sectional views of a living cancer followed by an inspirational wrestling match between two midgets and a bull atop the Eifel Tower.

In Honolulu, the first major league baseball game ever played on the islands was won by the recently transplanted Oahu Giants, who defeated the transplanted New Hebrides Dodgers 18-1 in a pitcher's duel. Only 16 homers were hit over the short, left-field orchid wall.

In Tibet, Howard Johnson's opened the newest in its chain of restaurants on Mt. Everest "because it was there." On the bottom of the world, new split-level housing developments were still mush-rooming in Antarctica while some of the older residents complained of the commuting problem to New York.

British newspapers gave only a paragraph to the fact that the English Channel was swum by a 2-year-old boy. This excited only a little less attention than the day's session at the United Nations in New York. In its 9,483rd veto, Russia killed an American proposal to extend the U. N. mandate on the moon on the grounds it was a procedural rather than a substantive question.

Military Funds Hiked by Senate

Michigan Will Receive $9.9 Million More Than What House Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a military construction authorization bill calling for expenditure of $41,772,000 at Michigan defense installations.

It added $9,904,000 to what the House had approved previously for Michigan.

The bill approved by the Senate yesterday called for a total expenditure of $1,720,115,000 for construction at U. S. installations around the world. It was $501,300,000 higher than approved by the House and some $10,500,000 below the Administration's request. Differences between the House and Senate figures now must be ironed out in conference.

Three new Michigan authorizations included in the Senate bill were $5,666,000 for a new headquarters building, Detroit Arsenal, Centerline; $514,000 for Kinross Air Force base, Sault Ste. Marie, and $3,724,000 for a new hospital at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mount Clemens.

Michigan authorizations approved both houses are:

Kinnoss AFB, $9,43',000; K. I. Sawyer Municipal Air Port, Marquette, $10,673,000; Selfridge AFB, $3,579,000, and Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, $8,696,000.

Rains Bringing Heat Relief to the Midwest

By United Press International

Fifty-mile-an-hour winds and drenching thunderstorms pushed ahead of a cool front today, bringing heat relief to much of the Midwest.

Spencer, Iowa, was buffeted by high winds and nearly an inch of rain in just three minutes early today. Gusty winds and heavy thundershowers also hit Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and South Bend, Ind.

The South Bend storm last night dumped more than 1.2 inches of rain in less than two hours, flooding low lying sections of the city. The storm was accompanied by winds and half-inch hail stones that ripped down tree limbs and power lines throughout the city.

Chicagoans also were treated to a spectacular lightning display during the night as giant sparks of light flashed to the south of the city. Callers jammed newspaper and Weather Bureau switchboards inquiring about the brilliant lightning.

Golf ball size hail battered Waterville, Minn., during the night and hail up to four inches in diameter hit the town of Ocheyeden in Northwestern Iowa.

Warmer weather and scattered thundershowers invaded the eastern Great Lakes and New England last night with temperatures as high as 70 degrees reported in northern Vermont at midnight.

Refuses to Tell Anything About Missing Uncle

Probers Calling Kierdorf Witness

Myron D. Weiss, who wouldn't tell investigators here anything about the missing Herman Kierdorf, is now under subpoena to appear before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee.

Weiss was served with a subpoena by Sherman Willse, a committee investigator, minutes before he was released from custody yesterday by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

The 52-year-old Detroiter may be called before the Washington probers in about a week or so, said Willse, a member of the committee's Detroit office, who is seeking possible links bwween the Washington investigation of James R. Hoffa and the arson of a Flint dry cleaning pickup station Aug. 3.

Also subpoenaed was Frank Thompson, a fellow business agent with Frank at Teamster Local 332, in Flint. Thompson, held five days on suspicion of aiding Frank in the arson, was freed at a habeas corpus hearing Wednesday.

The arson resulted, authorities believe, in fatal burns to Flint Teamster Leader Frank H. Kierdorf, 56, and the disappearance of Frank's uncle, Herman, 68, former Detroit Teamster aide to Hoffa.

Weiss, who authorities say is the last known person to have seen Herman, had been held in protective custody here five days. "We questioned him six different times," said Ziem, "and he told us next to nothing."

The prosecutor said there was no evidence on which to base a charge against Weiss.

Weiss had admitted driving Herman away from a used car lot where he sold his Teamster Cadillac Aug. 4, the day he dropped out of sight. Pressed to describe his role in this episode, Weiss replied only, "I was a patsy," Ziem reported.

He denied any knowledge of Herman's whereabouts, Ziem added.

Once reported to be in fear of retaliation from Herman and "Herman's friends," Weiss announced Wednesday, Ziem said, that he "wasn't worried anymore" and had no desire to remain in protective custody.

Authorities had described Weiss as a butcher at a Detroit meat-market in which Herman was interested. Yesterday, Weiss denied to reporters that he had ever been a butcher or had worked for Herman.

In reply to questions from reporters, Weiss gave a demonstration of the kind of answers he reportedly has been giving Ziem and his staff the past five days.

With the release of Weiss, the investigation has slowed down considerably.

Questioned here this morning was Leaun Harrelson Jr., son of the president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614. Like about a dozen or so Teamsters and non-Teamsters before him, young Harrelson was asked to account for his movements the night of the fire, Ziem said.

Racket Probers Raise Question

Teamster Denies Talking About 'Kidnap Money'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gus Zapas, an Indianapolis Teamsters Union official and former convict, today denied in the Senate rackets hearings that he talked with two Chicagoans in 1953 about getting rid of "hot money—stolen money, kidnap money."

The hearing was recessed without development of this reference.

Some time ago, Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the committee, said it was seeking information about a missing $300,000 from the ransom paid in 1954 by the parents of Robert Greenlease of Kansas City, Mo., kidnaped and slain in 1953.

Kennedy threw the question at Zapas against a background of inquiry into the case of Dave Probstein, an Indianapolis lawyer-businessman who mysteriously disappeared in 1955 on a trip to St. Louis.

The Greenlease kidnapers were caught in St. Louis and about half of the record $600,000 ransom from the October, 1953, crime was recovered or accounted for.

Kennedy asked Zapas whether he had discussed with two Chicagoans efforts to "get rid of a sum of money—hot money—for a few cents of the dollar" and whether it was "hot money—money that had been stolen, or kidnap money."

"No, sir," Zapas replied.

Zapas had denied earlier that he ever threatened to kill Probstein. He said Probstein was "a pesty fellow" he wanted to get out of his hair. But he denied making any threats.

"I might have got in an argument with him," Zapas said. "I might have called him a name or something. But I never said, 'I'll kill you.' "

Blonde secretary Betty Starrett told the committee yesterday that she once heard Zapas threaten to kill Probstein. But she said that was a normal manner of speaking for Zapas.

Among Probstein's Indianapolis business interests was a taxi company financed partly through a loan from Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. There has been testimony that Zapas and other Indianapolis Teamsters officials finally took over the company.

Among other witnesses today was Joseph G. Wood, an Indianapolis attorney, who testified that Probstein called him to his home on June 5 and told him he was about to undertake a dangerous mission. He said Probstein was a scared man, and asked him to help look after Mrs. Probstein's interests if he did not return.

Passes Tax Relief for Small Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House approved today a bill to provide 260 million dollars a year in tax relief for small business and make wide-ranging technical revisions in the revenue laws.

The measure, a compromise of Senate-House differences, now returns to the Senate.

Principal provisions would:

1. Allow small concerns faster write-offs of federal taxes on the first-year cost of depreciable property.

2. Extend from two to three years the period in which businesses can carry back current losses.

3. Extend to 10 years the time for installment payment of taxes on estates consisting of an interest in closely-held small businesses.

4. Permit investors to treat as ordinary rather than as less favorable capital losses, those losses resulting from purchases of stock in small business enterprise.

5. Increae from $60,000 to $100,000 the minimum credit against income for tax purposes of accumulated or retained earnings.

Senate Moves to Up SS Payments

Social Security, it had to consider a proposal by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) to withhold funds — if there are any — for any Pentagon-sponsored studies on possible U.S. surrender in nuclear war.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, last night proposed the cut-off in the form of an amendment to an appropriation bill. It had been disclosed earlier that some kind of "surrender study" or studies had been prepared at the Pentagon's request.

After a long debate, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) said the lawmakers should have a chance to study the matter before acting. The Senate then agreed to quit for the night and resume consideration of the amendment today.

Under both the House and Senate bills, the Social Security tax on the nation's 75,000,000 full and part-time workers and their employers would go up from 2¼ per cent of the employe's first $4,200 in earnings to 2½ per cent of the first $4,800.

The present 3⅜ per cent levy on self-employed persons would increase to 3¾ per cent. The dollars and cents increases would range up to $25.50 each for workers and their employers and $38.25 a year for self-employed persons earning as much as $4,800.

MR. AND MRS. KEITH MILLER

Former Pontiac Teacher, Husband Among Victims

Former Pontiac elementary school music teacher, Mrs. Keith Miller, 23, and her husband were among the 99 person who died yesterday in the crash of the KLM Dutch airliner into the Atlantic.

The former Phyllis Baker, she taught at Crofoot and Malkim schools during the 1956-57 school year. She was considered an accomplished pianist.

She and her husband, 28, a sportswriter for the Freeport, Ill., Journal Standard, were married in June 1957. Mrs. Milleer was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baker of Lennon, a community near the Genesee-Shiawassee County line. Her father is a hardware merchant.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Mr. Miller was the son of Jackson Harness Raceway manager Peter R. Miller of Plymouth, who with his wife had gone to New York to greet the young couple on their return.

The Millers were on their way home after vacationing in Italy and Germany. Miller, who was stationed in Germany with the Army, had fulfilled a promise to take his wife there for a visit.

have controlled the Legislature for 101 of its 107 years, who would want you to believe that the executive office in Lansing is the guilty culprit," the speaker went on.

He asked that Democrats to "campaign on the issues . . . campaign on the record the governor has recorded in Lansing . . . and most of all, let's give him a Democratic Legislature."

Carlos Richardson was re-elected to another term as chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee.

Elected Wednesday to the committee along with Richardson were: Mattie L. Baker, of Royal Oak Township, and Mrs. Robert P. Scott, of Pontiac, co-vice chairman; Faye Moskowitz, of Huntington Woods, secretary; and Robert L. Fenton, of Oak Park, treasurer.

Richardson was the unanimous choice to head the Oakland delegation in Grand Rapids.

Inspiration was pumped into the shirt-sleeved crowd Thursday as Swainson reminded the men and women that their party had scored "a first" in the Aug. 5 primary by outvoting Republicans.

With this in mind, delegates agreed to initiate a registration drive between now and the Nov. 4 election to increase registration "by at last 17 per cent."

Swainson criticized attempts of Republican legislators and their "hold the line" policy on state spending. "It can't be done with a constantly expanding population," he said.

Introduced to the crowd was former Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, of Birmingham.

Van Wagoner said the Oakland Democratic slate of nominees is the party's "best chance" to possibly sweep county offices in the fall election.

These candidates marched to the front of the room and were introduced.

"We here in Oakland County, who find heavy school taxes necessary to provide the proper education essential to the children of this highly important industrial area, wholeheartedly subscribe to the principle of matching funds for school development," the resolution on federal aid to education read.

This, as did the other 11 points of the platform, passed without discussion.

The only debate from the floor came when Richardson, of Waterford Township, asked delegate approval of invoking the unit rule of voting in Grand Rapids.

Charles D. Arnold, delegate from Hazel Park, rose to oppose this. "We're all delegates and we should all have a voice," declared Arnold.

When a lengthy discussion on this matter loomed, delegates agreed to bring it up again at a caucus in Grand Rapids.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Police Probe Possible Beating of Man

BIRMINGHAM — Bloomfield Township police today are investigating the possible beating sometime yesterday of Raymond Williams, 27, 1034 Trumbull, of Detroit.

He was found lying unconscious in the woods off Hadsell road, just south of the Pontiac city limits, by a youngster walking near her home, Township Police Chief Norman Dehnke said.

The left side of Williams face was "pretty much caved in," Dehnke said. Doctors at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital said it appeared his face had been struck only once or twice. His condition this morning was satisfactory.

Questioned last night by Pontiac Police Det. Thomas C. Mitchell and township police, Williams said he had been in Saginaw and did not remember how he had gotten to Pontiac. Dehnke said the man had been drinking and possibly "had been involved in a bar-room brawl."

He had no idea how Williams got to the spot where he was found. Williams had no money on him and Dehnke believed he may have been beaten and robbed.

Detroit police have been asked to check several addresses found in William's wallet in an effort to locate his wife, Rosie. A call to the Union Depot in Detroit where Williams is employed revealed no further information about him.

Williams will be questioned again as soon as his condition will permit it, Dehnke said.

Bloomfield Hills police soon will be carrying one of the most effective and powerful sidearms, the .357 magnum.

The guns will be purchased with a gift of $900 from Roger M. Kyes, former secretary of defense who makes his home in Bloomfield Hills.

The department will be among the first in the area to be so heavily armed.

All activities of the Birmingham Recreation Department, with the exception of the Teen Center at Eton Park, will end this week.

Recreation Board Chairman John J. O'Gorman said Teen Center activities will continue for two more weeks, providing recreation for the high school-age group.

Plans for its 1958 antique show are being made by Piety Hill Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

According to Mrs. Donald Hirshman, chairman, the Sept. 24-27 event again will be directed by Sam Yagley of Annsville, Pa.

told the Senate Committee Wednesday he asked Smith to assure better treatment for Hoffa during the 1953 hearings but never requested that they be halted.

Ratner's correspondence with Hoffa, presented in evidence by the Committee yesterday, included statements by Ratner that Smith had blocked a contempt citation against Hoffa and was quarreling with Hoffman over treatment of the Teamster leader.

Hoffman at one point told the senators, "If you want to know who effectively stopped the hearings, I'll tell you." In the answer that followed, Hoffman:

Said former Rep. Shepard Crumpacker (R-Ind) boasted of stopping proposed hearings on the Studebaker plant in South Bend, Ind.;

Said the bipartisan leadership of the House had halted hearings into union activity in Michigan's 1950 Democratic primary election.

Hoffman testified that no contempt charges were voted against Hoffa in 1953 "because he purged himself. He came in and told us what we wanted."

Hoffman denied, as testified Wednesday by Ratner, that he had been unfair in handling Hoffa during the hearings. As for Smith giving Hoffa better treatment at Ratner's request, Hoffman said:

"Wint Smith is a kindly gentleman who never wanted to hurt anybody. I'm a different sort of a cuss."

Hoffman got in a denunciation of President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers as "a leader of goons for the past 17 years."

Asked by Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) to compare Hoffa and Reuther, Hoffman said Reuther was much worse adding:

UAW Leader Raps Curtice Predictions

DETROIT (UPI) — The nation's economic recovery is being jeopardized by refusal of General Motors Corp. to bargain in good faith for a new contract with the United Auto Workers Union, a union official charged today.

Leonard Woodcock, a UAW vice president who heads the union's negotiating team at General Motors, made the charge in response to the speech by GM President Harlow H. Curtice at Flint, in which Curtice predicted a "renewed surge of American prosperity."

Woodcock noted Curtice's prediction of sales of 5,500,000 new cars in 1959 was "far from the point the nation has to reach for real prosperity." He said the number of workers GM is calling back for production of 1959 models was "almost 70,000 fewer than for comparable periods in the last three years."

"GM's so-called prosperity still is based on people being out of work rather than on full employment," he said.

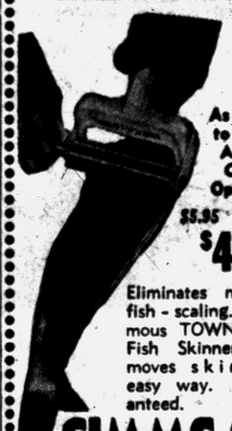

Skunk Sweet as Flowers

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (UPI) —Mrs. R. E. Deitrick appealed today to residents of this area not to harm her missing skunk named Petunia. "Petunia is unarmed and smells nice," she said. "I spray her with cologne."

Ike Off to Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower plans to spend the weekend at his Gettysburg farm, the White House announced. He will leave the White House this afternoon either by helicopter or limousine.

Accused of Trying to Have Mate Killed

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Police have accused Mrs. Frances Marjorie Miller, 31, of trying to have her husband, William, 34, killed for a $500 fee.

She pleaded guilty before an alderman yesterday to a charge of solicitation to commit a felony.

Dist. Atty. Michael A. Hanna charged Mrs. Miller last week approached a young man and asked him to shoot her husband during a fake robbery.

Hanna said the man whose identity is kept secret, informed Deputy Constable Charles Carpenter of Washington.

Police quoted Mrs. Miller, attractive mother of a seven-year-old boy, as saying she wanted to dispose of her husband "because of unbearable home conditions."

Officers quoted the husband, an operator of heavy construction equipment, as saying his domestic difficulties were "no more than usual."

One Milkman's Wife Leads Troubled Life

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A milkman's wife sued for divorce in circuit court here claiming she wasn't able to get enough sleep.

Mrs. Grace Simerson said her husband, Roy, went to bed early enough but kept falling asleep while smoking. As a result she had to stay awake guarding against fires.

Report Jack Warner Spends Restful Night

CANNES, France (AP) — Doctors said Jack Warner's temperature returned to normal today after the film producer's first really restful night since he was injured in an automobile accident Aug. 4.

The doctors continued to reserve judgment on his condition, however, and kept the "no visitors" sign up. Warner, 66, suffered severe head and chest injuries.

Hal Boyle Says:

Sure-Fire Ways to Spot Big-City Big Shot

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell whether a man's really a big shot in the big city?

It isn't as simple as it used to be in "Diamond Jim" Brady's day.

Anybody could tell at a glance Brady was important. He'd have a diamond stud in his shirt the size of an ox's eyeball. And on his right arm he usually was wearing Lillian Russell, one of the famous theatrical figures of his day.

But success today isn't so ostentatious. You have to look for the prestige symbols.

What are they? A survey of office peasants here revealed that, in their opinion, a man has truly arrived if—

. He goes to lunch at 1 p.m. instead of noon.

2. He is on an unlimited expense account.

3. He comes to work at 9:30 instead of 9 a.m., and leaves at either 4:30 or 6:30—depending on his whim.

ALWAYS OUT OF CASH

4. He never has any cash in his pocket, and if he wants a newspaper off the corner stand, whoever he's walking with has to pay for it.

5. He carries an attache case. (The slimmer the case the more important he is.)

6. He has at least two personal secretaries. (An executive who has to share his secretary with another executive is a hopeless failure in the modern office hierarchy.)

7. His office has a closed door. It has wall-to-wall carpeting and the paintings on the walls are originals. Somewhere in it is at least one live green plant, which he and one of his secretaries (the prettiest one) playfully water together.

8. He has a wife who is a committee chairman of a socially acceptable charity, and gets her picture in the paper once a year — but no oftener.

9. He heads the annual drive of another socially acceptable charity, and gets his picture in the paper for a good cause once a year — but no oftener.

10. He plays golf and bridge, but believes pinochle is the name of a famous children's book.

11. He has a big home in the outer suburbs, and a small apartment in the city — so he won't have to stay at a hotel if he works late.

12. He has two cars, a small foreign sports car for the country, a long black limousine for the city.

These dozen tests measure well the rating of anyone in the average office aristocracy except the chairman of the board himself.

He busts all the rules. He wears dollar neckties, drives a 10-year-old cheap automobile because that was the kind he liked when he was younger. He eats an apple for lunch, then takes a nap on company time. But he gets into the office at 8:30 a.m. because he gets an oldtime kick out of being the first one to arrive at work.

He terrorizes the other executives, but the typists believe he's an old softie because he goes down to the soda fountain with them during coffee breaks, and always cries a little when they bring in the cake for his annual birthday party.

The chairman of the board often is the last to leave, because he likes to stand all alone and remember how things used to be. His big adventure is Thursday night, when the maid is gone and his wife cooks the meal, and he can help dry the dishes, like in the old days.

That's the big goal today: to become such a big shot you can act like a little shot again, and enjoy the simple things of life in your own way.

Born in a log house in the hills near Clearbranch, Tenn., Tilson went to New Haven to enter Yale University. He was graduated from the law school in 1894.

Expect Passage of Farm Bill

House Proposal Faces First Test in Senate Committee Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—An 11th-hour House farm bill comes up for its first Senate test today amid mounting speculation Congress will enact farm legislation acceptable to the Eisenhower administration.

Faced with a congressional rush for adjournment, Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said he favors accepting the House bill and sending it to the White House.

Ellender expressed that view as his committee prepared to meet in closed session to consider the bill, passed yesterday by the House.

Even though the measure is altered only slightly from a farm bill rejected by the House less than two weeks ago, it won voice vote passage after House leaders reached a compromise on the issue.

Ellender said he considered the House measure fairly close to the recently passed Senate farm bill strongly endorsed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Benson also praised the new House version.

In general, both bills go far to meet Benson's requests for lower price supports and fewer government controls over farmers.

Both also meet objections of cotton and rice farmers who face sharp curtailments in acreage eligible for price supports unless Congress agrees on a new bill.

There is a traffic accident every three seconds in the United States.

Will Be Ready Next Month

Report Work on Schedule for City's Northern High

Doors of the new Pontiac Northern High School should be ready to open when school begins again next month.

Contractors have indicated their work is proceeding on schedule to have classrooms completed by Sept. 4 for an estimated 980 pupils, Assistant Superintendent Otto C. Hufziger reported to the Board of Education last night.

Board members authorized borrowing of $2 million to complete financing of the new high school and other current construction, plus next year's building program.

About $400,000 is earmarked for Northern High School equipment.

Next year's buildings, previously announced by the Board, include additions to Washington Junior High School, and Bagley Elementary School.

A new elementary school is planned on a site near Square Lake in West Bloomfield Township in the southwest corner of the school district. The site was purchased two years ago.

At present, the board plans to pay back the $2 million out of special millage approved by taxpayers in 1954, said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, schools superintendent.

"Whether this millage will prove to be sufficient, though, depends on the stability of state equalized valuations and the schools' allocated tax rate," Whitmer observed.

When equalizations and allocations go down, tax collections under the voted millage go down, too, he pointed out.

Deaths Elsewhere

PARIS (AP)— Frederic Joliot-Curie, 58, Nobel Prize-winning atomic scientist, died yesterday after surgery for a severe internal hemorrhage. Joliot-Curie and his wife Irene won a Nobel prize in 1935 for their discovery of artificial radioactivity. He was once head of France's Atomic Energy Commission but was dismissed because of his Communist party connections.

YMCA Furniture Lifted

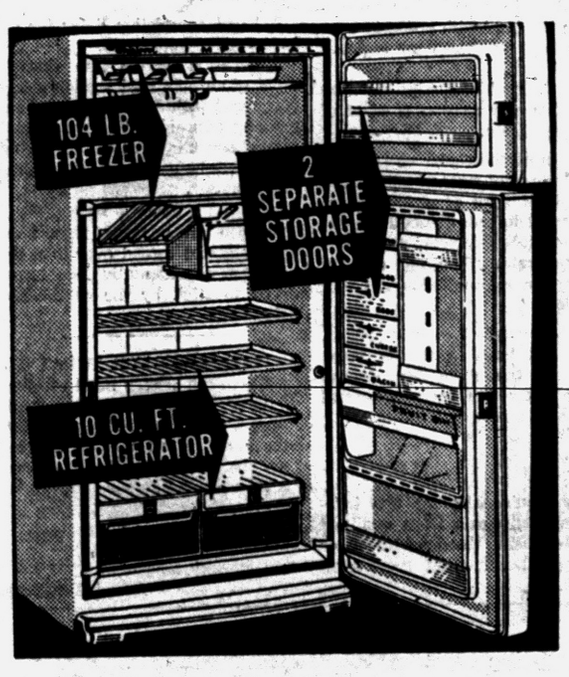

CHICAGO (UPI)—Officials of the Chatham YMCA on Chicago's South Side today puzzled over a theft. Someone "lifted" six curved redwood benches and a large patio table from a new outdoor swimming pool. The "Y" officials are pretty sure the furniture was lifted since the pool is surrounded by an 8-foot high fence topped with barbed wire.

Turkey Again Gets Western Assistance

In the process of modernizing and industrializing Turkey in a hurry, the government of Premier MENDERES has been in financial difficulties for some time.

Turkey is building dams, irrigation projects, harbors, power plants, highways and huge public buildings at a rate which has outstripped its ability to finance. Although there have been great increases in production and exports, they are not enough to take care of these ambitious programs.

The gross national product has risen 60 per cent and farm subsidies are responsible for an increase of from 9 million to 16 million tons of grain this year. Despite all this Turkey hasn't the money to buy repairs for its 40,000 tractors, an increase from 2,500 in 1950 and most of them American made, or to import coffee for its famed coffee houses. Its currency is badly inflated and its international credit is so poor that anything which requires foreign exchange or credit has been almost unobtainable in that country.

Two years ago Premier MENDERES came to Washington to ask for a $300 million loan to ease the economic crisis. He was told that until Turkey stopped contributing to its own inflation, it would get no help. But $2 billion in American military and economic aid was expended.

However, Turkey now is getting a loan of $359 million in a complex deal wherein the U. S. is joined by the International Monetary Fund, the European Economic Co-operation and its member nations. The U. S. is loaning $234 million, the OEEC $100 million and IMF $25 million.

In return Turkey is pledged to change its present unrealistic currency rate, to take steps to control its internal credit and to come up with a reasonable budget for 1959. Whether or not this can be done, the nation undoubtedly will get this help as it is the West's staunchest ally in that area.

Turkey has the biggest armed force in the Middle East and one of the strongest in NATO. Ankara claims that more than 40 per cent of its national budget must be used for defense. It is a potentially rich country and in time should be able to pay its own way. For these reasons the loans appear to be justified.

Chinese Reds Attack Nationalist Positions

The Nationalist Chinese believe the mainland Communists are about to invade Formosa or its adjacent islands.

For some time now the Chinese Reds have been building up air power with Soviet equipment at a number of mainland airfields within striking distance of Nationalist held islands. Clashes between Red MIG-17s and CHIANG KAI-SHEK planes already have occurred and Communist artillery has bombarded the off shore Quemoy and Matsu islands.

The new outbreak has serious implications for the United States. The American commitment to help defend Formosa and the Pescadores is plain. But with respect to Quemoy and Matsu our obligations are implied more than explicit.

In a joint resolution Congress authorized the President "to employ the armed forces of the U.S. as he deems necessary for the specific purpose of securing and protecting Formosa and the Pescadores against armed attack, this authority to include the securing and protection of such related positions and territories of that area now in friendly hands . . ."

There is a possibility that in the recent KHRUSHCHEV talks in Peiping, MAO TSE-TUNG won Moscow's approval for an attack on Nationalist China. It also may be a tactic to divert attention from the serious famine in Red China where in the last few months one million people are said to have died of starvation.

Part of our 7th Fleet, including 70 ships and two attack carriers, is in the area and can protect Formosa if need be. Okinawa with its American air base is nearby. But any incident calling for U.S. action could touch off all out war in the Far East.

Remedy Needed in Boat Dispute

In reference to the article, "Motor Boats Endanger Safety of Residents," which appeared on August 11th in your column, we have lived on Union Lake all our lives and have seen very few incidents where life and property has been endangered by motorboats.

We agree that any incidents endangering lives, personal property, and discourteous driving stems from the public fishing site on the lake.

As an example we saw this so-called water deputy reprimanding a resident boat owner for coming too close to shore while dropping a skier. There were no swimmers in the immediate area. The same day we observed boats dropping skiers approximately the same distance from shore at the public fishing site with swimmers in the area — where swimming is prohibited!

Let's hope something is done to remedy the present situation so that everyone, residents and nonresidents, may enjoy the lake safely with the very most enjoyment.

One Safety Rule, Stay With Boat

On July 21, you wrote an article on safe swimming. I would like to correct you on one point which is very important.

One of the first rules of boat safety is always cling to your boat. Your editorial said, "Never try to cling to a boat or canoe, even if it is unsinkable," etc. Time and time again people have saved their lives by staying with the boat. They do not sink—a rowboat or canoe may still be paddled even if filled with water.

The Man About Town

About the Bridge

Receipts More Than Cover Interest on Bonds Issued

A letter comes from Executive Secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority

Lawrence A. Rubin,

stating that it now appears that the tolls on "Mighty Mac" in its first ten months of operation "will have grossed sufficient funds to pay a full year's interest."

As this leaves two months to cover the cost of operation and upkeep, it would appear that it is paying expenses. The Authority is not required to retire any bonds until 1964.

Mr. Rubin feels that the present passenger car toll of $3.25 will be enough to meet all future needs, and does not anticipate any raise. When the bond paying time arrives, it may be different.

Foregoing that extremely ancient egg about frying one on the sidewalk, of Pontiac Lake has a better one. He asserts that an egg laid by one of his hens on a hot day was partially cooked, and he concludes with, "Between the egg and I, two hot ones have been laid."

The sentiments of every vacationist who plans things ahead are reflected in a letter from

of Waterford, who writes: "The worst nuisance we meet is the guy who is obliged to spend most of his vacation time in hunting places to sleep and eat, and the rest of it in kicking about what he finally got."

If you feel inconvenienced by detours incidental to street and highway improvement in the Pontiac area, according to now forced to use the Detroit expressways, you should feel fortunate. He writes that in the big city, "They never seem to make up their minds for two days in succession."

David Lawrence Says:

Too Much Surrender Talk in U.S.

WASHINGTON—Why all the surprise at the talk of "surrender"? Members of Congress are astir because a theoretical study of the advantages and disadvantages of "surrender" in case of nuclear war has suddenly become news. It attracted no such attention when the whole study, made by a private organization and financed by the United States Air Force, was made public in book form two and a half months ago.

LAWRENCE

But there should be no surprise at the discussion of "surrender" concepts. Several members of Congress themselves have in past months been unwittingly bolstering the "surrender" idea.

The talk of stopping nuclear tests, for instance, could result in a "surrender" psychology, because it aims at giving a potential enemy the privilege of continuing tests clandestinely, since there are no sure means of detecting whether he is or is not cheating.

The talk of the horrors of nuclear war and that America cannot survive and must choose between some kind of "negotiated" agreement or destruction is also a kind of "surrender" talk.

The talk of "disengagement" of American forces stationed in Europe is "surrender" talk in the guise of peacemaking. For, if American troops are withdrawn from Western Europe, it means that they cannot get back there as quickly as could Soviet forces which, by agreement, had previously withdrawn from Poland and nearby countries.

The talk deriding "massive retaliation" is related to the "surrender" concept. For, if the United States does not speak from strength, its position before the world can be weakened and a miscalculation by the enemy can ensue.

The talk of appeasing Nasser and giving him what he wants in the Near East is "surrender" talk.

Much of this emanates from Congress and particularly from those who seem to be sniping constantly at Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He is derisively accused of "brinkmanship," although he is a statesman of rare courage who doesn't flinch before the Communists.

The present furor in Congress over "surrender" concepts is based on a book written by Paul Kecskemeti for the Rand Corporation, a scientific agency operated by various universities on a financial grant from the U. S. Air Force. It isn't an official document but a scientific study by a private organization. The section which gives rise to the present discussion reads as follows:

"We must also mention the possibility that a power might develop a perfect winning strategy for all-out nuclear war, i. e., the strategy of a first strike that eliminates all significant retaliatory capabilities on the adversary's side.

"Once this happens, strategic surrender—at least strategic surrender of the classic type discussed above—will be irrelevant. But this kind of situation points to the possibility of surrender of a different sort; surrender without fighting. If one power has a monopoly of such a winning strategy, and its adversary knows it, a mere threat of attack might induce the latter to surrender politically."

The key words are "surrender politically," and that's what many journals and spokesmen of appeasement are unwittingly advocating nearly every day.

They have ridiculed "massive retaliation" from the beginning. They have insisted that America must take the "first blow" in a nuclear war. They have ignored the fact that the Soviet military journals for the last several years have conceded that their official strategy requires the striking of the "first blow." It would be suicide, therefore, for the West to wait till the enemy has poised his attack before setting in a motion a strategy of active defense.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Farmers Have Gold Mine in Health-Giving Foods

The last time (and I mean last) I made a crack here about the dumb farmers who feed such a valuable food and skim milk to the pigs, I heard from a young farmer who obviously knew what he was talking about. It was pretty painful.

DR. BRADY

In a courteous way, this farmer explained that when the price of feed bears such and such a relation to the price of hogs it is good economy to feed skim milk to the pigs and indeed animal economy and government agriculture experts advise just that.

Anyway, I'm glad to know I have one friend among the farmers. Now, if we could get under the skin of a farmer here and there enough to make him eat his own wheat as it comes from the thresher, that would be something.

Of course the poor people today scarcely know how to eat wheat in the form nature provides for the staff of life. In my feeble way I do what I can to teach 'em how, in the pamphlet WHEAT TO EAT, available free to any one who asks for it and encloses a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A farmer's wife says that in winter her husband milks only once a day, in the evening, and she doesn't like the milk, so she has depended too much on calcium and vitamin D. But she found she wasn't getting enough riboflavin (vitamin B2 or G); she doesn't explain how she reached this conclusion. So she reverted to a childhood job — while her husband was doing chores she did some of the milking, and now she drinks milk fresh from the cow as she used to when a child and she feels better than she has felt in years.

I envy the lady the privilege. If you cherish the delusion that this is a free country, try to get a dipper of milk fresh from the cow. I have been trying for many years but in vain — my best laid plans have been frustrated by health ordinances or popular prejudices. Next time I go out after milk I'll carry a gun, break into the milking shed and hold the gun on the milker, while I drink all I want.

The farmer's wife continues:

"We farmers have a gold mine but we are so blind. My husband and I, thank God, do not have the money to buy vitamin and mineral pills. How else would we have rediscovered milk and wheat ground in our old coffee grinder?

"I even grind wheat for our two dogs — it seems to keep them in fine condition. May God grant you good health and long life. We need you, Dr. Brady." (Mrs. R. M. —)

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Highway Dept. Planning to Bar 'Horse Trading'

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department said today that it is going to try to eliminate "horse trading" with property owners in land purchases for highway right of way.

John C. Mackie, comissioner, announced a new system of right of way acquisition.

"We need to acquire more than 50,000 acres of right of way within a short span of a few years to meet schedule demand of our $1,250,000,000 five year program," Mackie said. "The old system had to be revamped to get the job done."

Mackie said the new policy, which has been in use in many areas of the state for several months, now will become general procedure throughout the state.

It will include the following points:

1. A requirement for two independent appraisals from qualified sources outside the department for any parcel valued at more than $25,000.

2. Rigid and far more extensive requirements for detail in all appraisals.

3. Rigid completion dates for all independent appraisals.

4. Creation within the department of an appraisal section solely concerned with supervising and expediting appraisals by outside real estate consultants and reviewing appraisals before an offer is made to the owner.

5. Once an appraisal has been approved and turned over to a department representative, he is ordered to stick by the established price.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Comment Infuriates Wives

The Catholic Church has used the various sex booklets offered via this column for its excellent Cana - Conference counseling. And I have also conducted many marriage clinics for various Protestant and Jewish churches. But this one cited below is the only case where such advice backfired.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-389: Dr. Roy Burkhart, crusading clergyman at Columbus, Ohio, asked me to conduct a marriage clinic at his famous church a few years ago.

So I talked to possibly 2,500 wives in the afternoon, giving them the very same data which I reveal to you readers in this newspaper column.

DR. CRANE

That night the men's club had a big dinner, and afterwards they adjourned to the sanctuary where I gave them the identical address I had offered their wives that afternoon.

But what we didn't anticipate was the fact that the wives eavesdropped in the kitchen!

For this great church was modern in all respects, so it had loud speakers in every room, including the kitchen.

And when I began my address to the men, one of the ladies in the kitchen said:

"Oh, we should turn off the loud speaker"

Thus, the large crew of wives in the kitchen got a second exposure to my medico-psychological address.

As I told you, it was the same in content as when they heard it earlier that afternoon.

But two of the wives, I was told by Dr. Burkhart later, had caught their husbands in illicit affairs.

So when I now informed the men's meeting that wives are usually 50 per cent to blame when their husbands stray, at least because of the wifely sins of omission, these two wives were furious.

They had not protested in the afternoon when I had uttered the same truism. But now they suddenly realized that I had helped their husbands get out from under their dictatorial thumbs.

Next week these wives asked Dr. Burkhart for letters of transfer from his big church.

But Dr. Burkhart was like the 95 per cent of editors who cannot be coerced into canceling this column when the shoe fits and 2 out of 2,500 try to put on the pressure.

BRAVO, DR. BURKHART

For Dr. Burkhart met the issue head-on. He told his packed auditorium about the two requests for transfer of church letters.

And he politely informed the group that he had invited Dr. Crane to conduct the annual marriage clinic, partly because Dr. Crane was both a university psychologist (Ph.D.) as well as physician (M.D.).

He said anybody who attended a marriage clinic should certainly go there with the expectancy of getting helpful facts and not sugary platitudes about "birds and bees and flowers and trees."

So he said he would be very happy to sign letters of transfer for any other members of his huge congregation who felt like they wanted to move onward.

Nobody else protested. And those two wives probably would never have done so if their husbands hadn't attended the night lecture!

But when campaigns of villification against this column and the courageous Columbus Citizen are launched, you don't have to think twice to guess who may be involved.

I tell you this case, to document yesterday's column, for it is silly to try to oppose the onward march of truth.

And good newspapers, like scientific clergymen, don't let 1 per cent of benighted folks stop the truth for the other 99 per cent.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Mideast Organization Plans Kicking Around for 2 Years

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's idea for some organization to develop the Mideast has been kicking around in one form or another for at least two years. He proposed it this week to the United Nations.

This was a switch. Until now the Eisenhower administration had relied mainly on a different approach to the problem of helping the Arab countries develop industrially, agriculturally, and so on.

The emphasis had been on dealing with the nations individually and giving them help individually.

What Eisenhower offers now is a broad, regional Mideast development organization to be run by the Arabs themselves with the money and technical help coming from interested countries, like the United States, and from private capital.

This would, if the President's words can be interpreted correctly, put the Arab-run organization outside the U. N.

Almost two years ago—on Dec. 20, 1956—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) suggested a regional, rather than individual country-by-country, development plan. But he differed from Eisenhower in suggesting it be handled through the U. N.

The idea, in various forms, has grown since then.

Humphrey laid out his idea after the Suez Canal crisis of 1956. That was when Britain, France and Israel attacked Egypt after Egyptian President Nasser's seizure of the canal that summer.

Since that time American difficulties with the Arabs have multiplied. Western influence in the area has dwindled shockingly. Nasser has increased his grip on the Mideast Arabs. Soviet influence among them has steadily grown.

So what Eisenhower offers now, besides its intention of trying to create peace and stability in the area, is obviously an attempt to keep a bad situation for the West from getting worse.

There is bound to be speculation now on what might have happened if Eisenhower had suggested a couple of years ago what he now proposes. That speculation now, for all practical purposes, is like water over the unbuilt Aswan dam.

Eisenhower made no specific promises on what this country will do if the Arabs agree on his idea—and that's questionable—for the simple reason that he couldn't until he saw what the United States was getting into.

But say the Arabs eventually buy the idea. If it takes as long to work out the regional development plan as it did to work out details for the Aswan dam—a matter of years—the United States might not then want to put up money.

For this reason: by that time Nasser may have achieved domination of the Arab states. Dealing with him as boss of the Arab world would be tougher than when he was just as Egyptian dictator in 1956.

Electrical Workers End 30-Day Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Union electrical workers ended their strike against Detroit-area contractors yesterday, 30 hours after the walkout was called.

Federal Mediator E. M. Sconyers said members of Local 17, International Brother of Electrical Workers agreed to return to work today. Terms of the settlement were not announced.

The strike was the first by the union in 65 years. It was called against members of the American Line Builders Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Assn. The old contract expired last April.

The walkout affected work at Selfridge Air Force Base in Mount Clemens and threatened to delay the opening of the State Fair Aug. 29.

Waste Treatment Developed by Dow

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. has announced development of a new waste treatment in the battle against stream pollution.

A product, called Dowpak by the company, proved successful in field tests on wastes from metallurgical coke, kraft paper, ragmill, chemical and petroleum plants, Dow said.

Dowpak handled waste flow rates of more than 800 million gallons an acre per day without difficulty, the company said.

Dowpak, made of layers of specially treated sheets of Dow's polystyrne or saran, is light enough that it can be stacked in self-supporting units as high as 42 feet with simple under drains.

Dow said Dowpak's weight is only one-twentieth that of the conventional rock filter beds that are restricted to large ground locations and require extensive drainage systems.

Soviet Army Raps Journey of Nautilus

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet army newspaper Red Star charged today that the United States sent the atomic submarine Nautilus under the arctic ice as part of its war preparations against the Soviet Union.

In an article broadcast by Moscow radio, Red Star referred to "the big propaganda hullabaloo set up by the U.S. press in its attempts to depict the trip of the Nautilus of America's answer to the satellite."

The paper questioned official American statements that the aim of the transpolar voyage was to open up a new sea route for nuclear-powered freight submarines between the world's two main oceans.

"No, the U.S.A. was not interested in scientific problems or a peaceful study of the arctic," Red Star declared. "Nuclear-powered, rocket-armed submarines are meant for war against the U.S.S.R."

May Postpone Worker Recall

Walkout of 26 Drivers Threatening Return of 42,000 at Chrysler

DETROIT (UP)—Chrysler Corp. officials were expected to decie today whether to postpone the scheduled Monday recall of 42,000 workers because of a strike of 26 truck drivers.

The walkout at a stamping plant in Twinsburg, Ohio, has cut of fthe supply of 1959 model parts, th company said.

Picket lines set up by the drivers were observed by other employes. The strikers said they walked out because of personal grievances.

Chrysle rsaid most of the workers it planned to call back are in the Detroit area, and they were laid off while the company retooled for the 1959 models. Production was to start next week on 1959 DeSotos, Chryslers, Dodges and Imperials, with Plymouth production scheduled to begin Sept. 2.

Picketing at the Twinsburg plant was restricted to two pickets at any oe gate by a court restraining order obtained by the company. The order also forbids members of United Auto Workers Local 122 from interfering with workers entering or leaving the plant.

Elsewhere on the auto labor front, some 2,500 workers were idle at the Ford Lincoln Division plant because of a jurisdictional dispute, and contract negotiations between the UAW and the Big Three auto makers continued yesterday with no reported progress. The talks were scheduled to resume today at General Motors and Chrysler, but have been adjourned until Monday at Ford.

Minnesota Eyes Job Placements of Heart Patients

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — What do employers think about job applicants with heart disease?

Preliminary findings from a Minnesota State Health Department survey of industry indicate many companies are reluctant to hire persons with heart disease because they don't believe they have suitable jobs available.

But Dr. Wyane Mathy, U. S. Public Health Service official working with the department in heart disease control programs, said most people with heart disease can do almost any kind of work for which they are trained.

"If the employe has been placed at a job for which he is suited," Mathy said, "the employer generally runs no special risk. The worker with the unknown or unsuspected heart disease is a much greater risk to the employer."

Mathy said an objective method of evaluating the capabilities of cardiac workers is needed for selective placement in positions where they can perform fully without overtaxing their capacity or becoming an economic risk for the employer.

"Such a means of evaluation would be a major step in putting cardiacs back to work so they can remain independent and self supporting," Mathy added.

Another health department heart disease control program is aimed at the homemaker. The average woman with heart disease can usually continue to manage her household, if she learns work-saving methods which require a minimum of physical exertion, health officials said.

With this in mind, they are cooperating with the University of Minnesota in setting up a series of classes, taught by a home economics graduate, to show simple, inexpensive methods of making kitchen, laundry and other household work easier.

Nautilus Trip Carefully Timed, Navy Says

Subsea Route Open All Year?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy indicated today the new submarine route under the North Pole may be blocked by shifting ice part of the year.

"The entrance to the Barrow Sea valley, leading from Point Barrow, Alaska, into the true Arctic Basin, is only four or five miles wide and very restrictive," the Navy said in reply to questions posed by United Press International.

"During the Arctic winter this 'lead' would be more difficult to penetrate due to shifting ice conditions."

The Navy did not answer directly a question whether the USS Nautilus, prior to its successful voyage under the North Pole Aug. 3, had been turned back in a previous attempt by an 80-foot-thick wall of ice. Such reports originated in letters home by crewmen of the nuclear-powered submarine.

But the Navy made it clear the time for the Nautilus' successful voyage was selected with care.

The Navy said the Nautilus sailed from Seattle, Wash., last June 8 to explore ice conditions and make preliminary under-ice excursions in the Bering Straits and Chuckhee Sea "to determine feasibility of a cruise all the way across the Polar Basin."

VISITED PEARL HARBOR

"Following these preliminary investigations, Nautilus returned to make the first visit of a nuclear-powered submarine to Pearl Harbor. While the ship was in Pearl Harbor, the Navy conducted a series of aerial reconnaissance flights to keep a check on ice conditions to determine the optimum time for the departure from Pearl Harbor, July 23, for the first trans-Polar crossing."

The Navy said security would not permit releasing information concerning "conclusions as to the practicability of a trans-Polar submarine cruise at any given time of year."

The four-day, 1,830-mile cruise of the Nautilus has been hailed as opening the way for possible use of the "deep sea valley" route by nuclear-powered cargo submarines traveling between the major oceans of the world.

Military experts also saw the new route as enabling missile-carrying American nuclear submarines to move in close to Russia's northernmost shores in event of war.

Whether the newly-disclosed ice hazards would restrict use of polar-dwelling nuclear submarines to effective use only in warm-weather months was not revealed by the Navy.

DEPTHS VARIED

In announcing the Nautilus' feat, the Navy said the deep sea valley which the submarine followed was only 300 feet deep in places, although its depth ran to thousands of feet at others. At the Pole itself, the depth was 13,410 feet.

Meantime, the Navy announced yesterday that the atomic submarine Seawolf was conducting "environmental atmospheric control tests" in the Atlantic that will keep it submerged for long periods of time.

It hinted the Seawolf may break the previous submerged endurance record of 31 days, 5 hours, held by the Skate. Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn) said earlier yesterday that the Seawolf was cruising in the South Atlantic on a voyage that would "extend to Antarctica" and perhaps set a new endurance record for subs.

The Navy announcement said the Seawolf was not operating in the South Atlantic and was not conducting Antarctic experiments.

In another development, resolutions were introduced in the House and Senate yesterday calling for congressional award of a gold medal to Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover for his work in developing the nuclear submarines and power plants.

The resolutions were introduced just a day after Rickover received a Navy apology for being omitted from the guest list at White House ceremonies last week honoring the Nautilus' polar feat.

GOP Promises Rapped by Hart

Candidate for Senate Says Republicans Too Short on Performance

ST. IGNACE (UP) — Lieut. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, says the Republicans have been too free on promises and too short on performance.

Speaking off-the-cuff at a Mackinac County Democratic rally last night, Hart said the GOP has oversold the American people on the Republican capacity to produce and has been "running up blind alleys on many commitments."

The senatorial hopeful, who will oppose Republican Sen. Charles Potter in November, said county Democratic chairmen throughout the state are predicting a heavy Democratic vote in the election.

Asserting that "this can be a real deep Democratic year," Hart said there is bitter disillusionment in the caliber of Republican leadership.

He declared that the Republicans have promised peace, prosperity and freedom from corruption, and then asked: "Do we have it?"

Hart referred to the Middle East situation as "something less than peace."

He was scheduled to attend a meeting in Escanaba today.

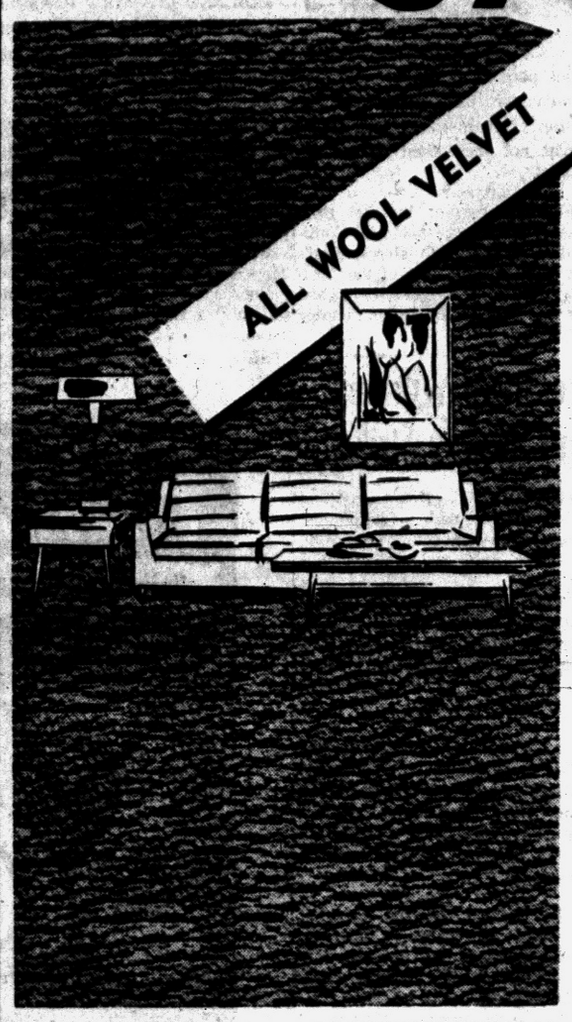

Sheep Graze at Night to Avoid Sunburn

CANBERRA, Australia — Many farmers in New South Wales are keeping their sheep in sheds during the day and allowing them out to graze only at night. Recent heavy rains caused a prolific growth of two type of poisonous herbiage which, when eaten by shorn sheep, caused the animals' skin to become extremely sensitive to sunlight.

Hot summer sunshine after the rains caused an estimated 5,000 newly shorn sheep to fall victim to bad cases of sunbourn.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PICTURE?

This man is looking for a diamond "bargain"...but shopping for "price" alone isn't the way to find it. For if you don't know diamonds, you have no way of telling if you are getting a true value or just an inferior diamond. You'll make a wiser diamond purchase if you first choose a jeweler with a record of reliability and proven experience. Then, select the diamond of your choice for whatever sum you have to spend.

Women Top Hecklers of Night Club Comics

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Men used to be the hecklers in night clubs but now the women are throwing the insults at the comedians. The men didn't quit voluntarily—the women made them shut up so they could talk.

WILSON

Comedian Henny Youngman, author of this allegation, who subs for Jack Paar on TV this coming Monday night — says that all over America he finds women shouting out his punch lines before he can speak them. He has a comedy routine about wives. He begins it by asking, "Now take my wife—PLEASE!"

"As soon as I say 'Now take my,' claims Henny, "some women in the audience yells out, 'husband—PLEASE!' They know all the jokes. One woman screamed at me, 'I can do all those jokes.' So I had her get up on the floor and try it. She was pretty good. I told her she could be another Milton Berle, only we didn't need another one."

Henny finds that the women customers won't heckle him, though, providing he is ridiculing husbands.

"A lot of women are frustrated performers and this is their chance to show off so I have a lot of fun with them," says Henny. "If they get too loud, the headwaiter takes care of them."

About the rudest remark Henny makes back to a woman is, "Is that your hat or did you rent a cabana?"

"Years ago we would be rougher," he remarked. "We might look at a woman heckler and say, 'Sex takes a holiday,' or 'Now you know why they find women cut up in trunks.'

"We gave that up," he said, "when there'd be some real rough guys waiting for us outside with a revolver. Sometimes they'd come right across the floor at us inside."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Gene Leone, the fabulous restaurateur, confessed (as Ray Heatherton started a radio show there) that he tumbled out of a canoe and ruined 1,000 words of his memoirs he was writing while rocking the boat . . . Golfer Jimmy Demaret can handle the golf at the Concord these days—it's the bachelor girls who pester him . . .

Dancer Gene Nelson and singer Danny Scholl almost came to blows over bows during a strawhat "Oklahoma!" show. (Gene's son, 11, helped talk 'em out of it) . . . Diana Dors is asking only 10Gs a week for a Las Vegas appearance; no takers yet . . . Some backers of "World of Suzie Wong"—which isn't even cast yet—were offered a 25 per cent profit for their stock . . . June Hamill, a former "Miss MacIntosh Apple," is another Wilson Girl Nominee.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Summer television is very healthy. It keeps TV fans out in the fresh air.

Sometimes a horse player goes to the racetrack in a $6,000 Cadillac and comes home in a $75,000 Greyhound bus . . . That's earl, brother.

President May Attend Legion's Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — President Eisenhower may attend the national American Legion convention in Chicago next month if world conditions permit.

John S. Gleason Jr., national Legion commander, said the President will address the opening session if the United Nations has completed by then consideration of the Middle East crisis.

The convention begins Sept. 1, Labor Day. Former President Harry S. Truman is to address the group Sept. 3. Also scheduled to speak is Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy.

The Legion will present its Distinguished Service Medal to Bernard Baruch.

Driver Fills Up 20-Foot Well —With His Truck

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Dump truck operator Larence McMahan filled a well yesterday—with his dump truck.

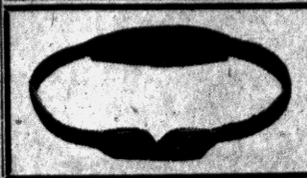

He arrived at a new construction project and looked out of the cab for instructions. A man motioned for him to back up and then signaled a halt, shouting "Okay, dump 'er right here."

Suddenly, there was a great rending and crashing and McMahan found himself, truck and all, at the bottom of a rock-walled, 20-foot farm well.

McMahan climbed unhurt out of the hole where the windshield had been. The truck is still in the well.

FLINT CITY HALL — The City Hall for the 6½ million dollar Flint Municipal Center is the heart of the five-units and the largest building in the group. Already hailed as a masterpiece of municipal design, the new center is rapidly gaining recognition as the finest complex of civic buildings of its size in the country.

$6½ Million Project Contains 5 Units

Flint Dedicates New Municipal Center

FLINT — Beaming with civic pride, hundreds of Flint residents looked on today as Mayor George M. Algoe and a score of other city officials dedicated their new five-unit $6,500,000 municipal center.

The dedication ceremonies came at the wind-up of an exciting year for the city of Flint. 1958 has seen immense strides taken towards the completion of their outstanding new cultural center, the 50th anniversary celebration of General Motors with its attendant Golden Milestone Jubilee and completion of what is already being hailed as the finest municipal center of its size in the country.

Guests at the dedication included Robert Moses, internationally renowned city planner from New York, who originally conceived a municipal center on the run down piece of property which bordered downtown Flint, and C. Henry Haberkorn, general manager of H. E. Beyster & Associates, Inc., the Detroit and Grand Rapids architects who executed Moses' plans.

A five level, 108,800-square-foot City Hall, largest in the group, to house all of the city offices that were formerly crowded into the old city hall and in scattered other buildings, with room to spare.

A Municipal Courts Building which houses four courtrooms and offices for the judges and other court officials.

The Police Facilities Building with everything from pastel colored detention cells to training facilities for Flint's police force.

A Public Health Building housing clinics and laboratories and offices dedicated to the detection and prevention of disease.

Tree lined reflecting pools and winding garden paths on a gently undulating site that gives the municipal center the appearance of a college campus.

Another feature of the center is the Veteran's Memorial Plaza dominated by its towering Trilon, dedicated to the men of the armed services.

The bulk of the financing for the center came from Flint taxpayers who passed a $5,000,000 bond issue. Other funds came from federal agencies and the sale of the old city hall and police headquarters.

The highest suspension bridge in the world spans the Arkansas River in Colorado. It is 1,053 feet above the river and the main span is 880 feet.

Lovers Take Note!

CHICAGO (UPI) — Young lovers could do worse than study the latest exhibit in the Motorama section at the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry. The exhibit's purpose is to help motorists improve their driving in emergencies. But the part that should interest young romantics is entitled: "Rules about parking a car on rural roads."

Curbs on Trade Eased by U.S.

Soviet Bloc in Europe Eyed by Businessmen, Allies as Markets

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reluctantly easing its curbs on trade with the Soviet Bloc in Europe.

It is doing so under pressure from allies and American businessmen in search of new markets.

The Commerce Department announced it plans a substantial cut in the list of 922 items banned in any U. S. trade with the Communists.

All trade with Red China, North Korea and North Viet Nam continues to be prohibited, however.

And some items, especially in fields like chemistry and electronics, will be added to the list of commodities prohibited in U. S. trade with the Soviet Union and the Soviet satellites of Eastern Europe.

Officials could specify no particular items to be lifted from the control list. They said no decision had yet been made except the general one announced by Secretary of Commerce Weeks after a four-month consultation at Paris with 14 other free world trading nations.

"Significant changes are being made in U. S. export controls," Weeks said. "These changes will lead to a net reduction of U. S. controls."

Other officials said there will be a substantial cutback in the number of items banned in U. S.-Communist bloc trade.

Some metals will be included among decontrolled goods, they said.

The 15 nations which met at Paris included Japan and all the North Atlantic Treaty members except Iceland.

They agreed upon a master list of 120 items banned in Red trade and 35 to be watched for possible embargoing if they appeared to be "strategic"—that is, potentially helpful to Chinese-Soviet war power.

This represents about a 50 per cent cutback in the previous list of banned items adopted in 1954.

The master list is kept secret. But the member nations generally publish their own lists drawn from the recommended items agreed upon at the 15-nation session.

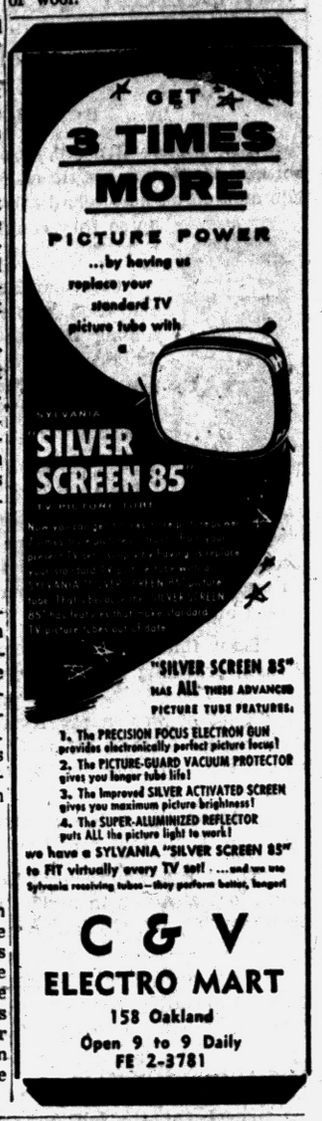

Tow Trucks Warned

DETROIT (AP) — Radio-equipped tow trucks have been warned to stop listening in on police radio broadcasts. In some cases the trucks have reached accident scenes and removed damaged cars before police arrived. Asst. U.S. Atty. George Woods says a violation carries a maximum penalty of a year in prison and $1,000 fine.

Electric Shock Fatal

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. John Hippert, a 33-year-old housewife in nearby Cuyahoga Falls, was electrocuted last night when she picked up a floor lamp while watering her back lawn. She was found on the cement floor of her back porch, clutching the lamp in one hand and the hose in the other.

Doolittle Takes Post With Space Firm

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gen. James H. Doolittle has been named board chairman of Space Technology Laboratories, a firm devoted to the study of missile and space problems.

The laboratories, now a division of Ramo-Wooldridge Corp., will become a separate corporation in the near future, and Doolittle will assume his new position Jan. 1.

The famed flying hero, who led the first bombing raid on Tokyo during World War II, will be in charge of the largest concentration of scientists in the nation working exclusively on missiles and space technology, Ramo-Wooldridge said.

Research on Lightning

BRISBANE, Australia—Research workers at Queensland University have built a special observatory at the school for collecting information about lightning. This will be collated at United Kingdom headquarters of a 5-year-old program of lightning-research studies.

Air Force Fires Advanced Rocket to Gather Data

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An advanced research rocket has been fired from the Air Force Missile Test Center to probe the earth's atmosphere.

The huge missile roared aloft last night, flashing on and off in a brief climb through the cloud-filled Florida sky. The rocket's type was not made known immediately.

The Air Force announced the rocket was a test vehicle for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Officials said the missile is being used in a program of atmospheric sampling to gain basic research information.

Scientists hope the missile will shed light on such problems as manned space flight and an intense field of radiation 600 miles up in space.

Existence of the deadly rays, which could considerably delay man's first venture in space, was discovered by Explorer satellites.

The radiation data is being analyzed at the physics department of the University of Iowa.

Top U.S. Commander Warns Anything 'Could, Might Happen'

TAIPEI (AP) — America's top commander in Formosa today described the situation in the Formosa Strait area as a serious, powder keg, one in which "anything could and might happen."

But Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot told newsmen he doesn't think there will be an attack on Formosa. If the Reds do attack, he asserted, the United States will fully live up to its treaty commitment to defend the Nationalist Chinese island.

Smoot compared the increased activity of Communist jets over the Formosa Strait in the past days with probing by infantry. He said if this is followed by bombing and strafing of the Nationalist offshore islands, coupled with troop movements and concentrations of invasion ships and bombers, then the situation will be quite serious.

The Nationalists, meanwhile, claimed a bigger success than originally reported in the naval encounter yesterday off the Red China coast.

The Defense Ministry claimed one Communist gunboat was sunk. Today it upped the score to three gunboats sunk and two heavily damaged. It claimed neither of the two Nationalist warships involved suffered any damage or casualties.

Wish Is Reality: Boy Rides Horse Through House

He was startled to find a teenager riding a horse out the front door of one house as he made his rounds.

"What are you doing?" asked White.

"I've always wanted to ride a horse through a house," the young equestrian said, then guided his mount off the front porch and trotted away.

Munro Chairs Mideast Debate

He Wields Gavel at U. N.

By United Press International

The man wielding the gavel as president of the emergency session of the U. N. General Assembly is a big man with a big voice, a big laugh and a big knack for keeping things under control.

He is New Zealand's ambassador to the United States, Sir Leslie Knox Munro, one of the most colorful personalities at the United Nations, as well as one of its ablest diplomats.

TREMENDOUS WORKER

Six feet, two inches tall, and brawny, Sir Leslie at 57 is an imposing figure of a man, a tremendous worker, with a ready smile and booming laugh that makes him a U.N. favorite with delegates and reporters alike.

His efficiency in running the unwieldy proceedings has won him much praise in the past. He is known as a "quick man with the gavel," he likes things to run on time. Even the Russians have expressed admiration for Munro's insistance on "keeping things clicking along."

Sir Leslie was a teacher, radio broadcaster and nesspaperman before he turned to international diplomacy. He studied law at the University of New Zealand and was dean of the faculty of law at Auckland University. He was born in Auckland Feb. 26, 1901.

BECAME EDITOR

Prior to, and during, World War II Munro was a radio broadcaster and newspaper columnist, writing on international affairs. He became editor of the New Zealand Herald in 1942 and remained there until his appointment as ambassador to Washington in 1952.

In his dual role as his country's ambassador to the United Nations and the United states, Sir Leslie has been one of the busiest men at the world organization. In one year he served as president of the Trusteeship Council while also sitting in the Security Council, three times as Security Council president.

He was a familiar lumbering figure in U.N. corridors as he shuttled from chamber to chamber. On weekends he had to rush off to Washington to tend to his ambassadorial job.

Sir Leslie, who was knighted in 1955, is regarded as an astute operator in the diplomatic field. His reputation names him as especially effective in private conferences. In his public speeches he is apt to be short and to the point, in keeping with his preference for clocklike procedure.

The ambassador and Lady Munro make their home in Washington, where their two married daughters and grandchildren live. But it was in New York that Sir Leslie was found when the United Nations was looking for him frantically one day late in 1956 to call a Security Council meeting to deal with admission of new members.

Officials scurried all over town but the then president of the Security Council was nowhere to be found. When at last contact was made Sir Leslie had a simple explanation: "I was Christmas shopping."

More than two-thirds of American households own one motor vehicle and about 8 per cent own two or more, according to current statistics.

Proposes Settlement in DuPont-GM Case

CHICAGO (AP)—A new proposal has been made in an effort to settle the DuPont-General Motors anti-trust case.

The latest of several proposals was presented yesterday to U. S. District Judge Walter J. Labuy. It was made in compliance with a U. S. Supreme Court ruling ordering DuPont to give up its ownership of 23 per cent of the General Motors Corp.

Atty. Manuel E. Cowen, appointed by Judge Labuy to represent General Motors stockholders, recommended that voting control of GM be divested from the DuPont Co. as a means of breaking up what the Supreme Court called "a tendency toward monopoly" between the two firms.

Cowen, in an 85-page report, suggested DuPont retain control of its 63 million shares of GM stock but that the court remove the stocks voting power from DuPont officers and directors and pass it on to the more than 185,000 stockholders of DuPont and two holding companies.

Bill Hearst, his Seattle Post-Intelligencer's financial editor and Alaska Buff, Fergus Hoffman, and I reached Ketchikan by Alaska lard.

Back there lies a lot of memories, a few eye-opening experiences, and a soon-to-be 49th state of awe-inspiring size and vigor, but steeped in formidable problems.

In the past day and a half we have been in Anchorage, Juneau, Petersburg, Wrangell and this place. It's an end-run down a Panhandle that stretches seemingly endlessly down the Gulf of Alaska like a kind of Chile shoring up what would normally be the coastline of Canada.

ANCHORAGE gave us a chance to look at Alaska's two modest skyscrapers, meet Lt. Gen. Frank Armstrong (the inspiration for Cy Bartlett's and Beirne Lay's "Twelve O'Clock High"), done with Republican publisher Bob Atwood and his Democrat wife, and experience Col. "Muk-Tuk" (Walrus Blubber) Marston, the Amon Carter of Alaska.

Marston does everything in a big way, including his discovery of a whole jade mountain ("tried livin' in Texas once," he boomed, "but had to leave. Claustrophobia.")

JUNEAU has 150 inches of rainfall each year, a sawdust saloon named the Red Dog, a fine hotel named the Baronoff (named for the territory's first Russian governor) and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Stepovich and their eight young children.

We had dinner with that fine family on their last night in the governor's mansion, where the young Notre Dame man served with historic distinction. He's now running for the U.S. Senate.

This is a plug: I hope he makes it. He has such moving faith in Alaska's ability to overcome its weather, lack of people, need for more roads, industries, everything.

He spoke glowingly of the 200 letters he had been getting each week from people who want to stl in the new stat; of the homstaders to be attracted to the 103,000,000 acres the state will receive from the federal governmnt, the untapped oil, the $36,000,000 Alaska Lumber and Pulp Co. at Sitka to export rayon back home. New York Insurance Benefits Lead Nation

NEW YORK — Benefits paid to life-insurance policy holders and their beneficiaries in New York State topped the billion-dollar mark in 1957, about $100,000,000 greater than the year before. The payments made New York the first billion-dollar-benefit state; they amounted to one sixth of the benefits for the entire nation.

Issue Warning on Hurricane

South Atlantic Islands Told to Prepare in Case 'Cleo' Threatens Area

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Persons in the Windward and Leeward Islands of the south Atlantic were told today to ready themselves for quick action if Hurricane Cleo should threaten their area.

Cleo, first hurricane of the season, marched along today at 15 m.p.h. bearing west-northwest about 700 miles east of Martinique, French Antilles, or about 2,200 miles east-southeast of Miami.

Hurricane watch was in effect for the Windward and Leeward Islands but the Weather Burueau advised that persons in the area should keep in touch with latest advisories and bulletins in case the hurricane watch is changed to hurricane warning.

Highest winds in Cleo were estimated at 145 m.p.h. near the center. Hurricane force winds extended 75 miles to the north of the center and 50 miles to the south.

The Weather Bureau said the hurricane is expected to maintain its present intensity and increase slightly in size during the next 12 hours.

At the Air Force Missile Test Center at Cape Canaveral on Florida's east coast, Cleo was seen as no threat to the Air Force's attempt to launch a moon rocket, scheduled for Sunday morning.

Cleo's predecessor, Becky, was believed to have degenerated into a wide area of squalls with few if any characteristics of a tropical storm.

The Weather Bureau said highest winds were 40 m.p.h. in scattered squalls and announced it would issue no more advisories unless the storm redevelops.

Use of atomic power was predicted by H. G. Wells in 1894.

Boss Says 50-50

Chance for Moon Rocket

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A top air force general claims the United States has a "50-50" chance of blasting an instrument-carrying robot to the vicinity of the moon in the first lunar-probe launching expected next week.

Lt. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commander of the Air Research and Development Command, gave his first evaluation of the lunar rocket mounted at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's advanced research projects agency, previously had estimated the chance of success in the first lunar shot at "no better than one in ten."

However, Johnson's estimate applied to a different degree of success. In the achievement he spoke of, the radio-equipped robot would pass at least once around the moon and would transmit to earth a picture of the moon's far side which has never been seen.

No actual date has been announced for the launching, but informed sources said the blast-off could occur as early as 7 a.m. EST Sunday.

Anderson, who is the Air Force's overall boss for both Cape Canaveral and the Ballistic Missiles Command at Inglewood, Calif., discounted the fact that the 100-foot lunar rocket's third stage has never been flight tested.

He said in an interview the third stage has received innumerable ground tests and is "a good rocket."

The first two stages of the lunar rocket are the Air Force's Thor-able, which has carried two space-traveling mice on 6,000-mile journeys into the South Atlantic.

The instrumented robot journey to the moon would be 226,000 miles, and would take at least two days. But only a small amount of additional power is required because the 60-pound robot would be moving in airless space.

Gentle Approach Used Before Tickets Issued

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — City police are using the gentle approach on motorists parked overtime at meters.

Chief Blair Overton has ordered his men to scout around for the driver and warn him rather than write out a ticket at once. He points out the purpose of the police is to serve the public, not to make money.

Steel Industry Cutting Outlays for Expansion

NEW YORK — The American Iron and Steel Institute reports that the industry, which his spent 10 billion dollars for plant expansion and modernization since World War II, will greatly cut such spending this year.

Capital expenditures for 1958 are budgeted at one billion dollars, about $750,000,000 less than in 1957, when 7,300,000 tons were added to the nation's steelmaking capacity.

Rossellini Says 'Happiness' Found in India

But that, L'Europeo said, was about all Rossellini would say in connection with married Indian scripteriter Sonali das Gupta, to whom his name has been romantically linked for over a year.

L'Europeo's Rome correspondent Oriana Fallaci quoted Rossellini as flatly denying reports that Mrs. Das Gupta, now reported in a secret hideout in Paris, had had a baby by him.

"Now I will tell you a thing I have never told anyone," Miss Fallaci quoted Roosellini as saying.

It was while working on a series of documentaries in India last year that Rossellini met Mrs. Das Gupta.

On his return to Europe last November he won legal separation from his actress wife Ingrid Bergman, and last month a Rome court annulled their 1950 Mexican proxy marriage. Miss Bergman did not contest Rossellini's annulment suit.

Handyman Quizzed in Employer's Death

DETROIT (AP) — A handyman who worked for a Detroit furniture store owner was sought for questioning today in the death of his employer who choked to death on his dental plate during a beating.

The body of Rudolph G. Fahl, 67, was found in the basement of his store yesterday, partly hidden under a pile of furniture pads and cardboard boxes in an obvious attempt at concealment.

Police said Fahl apparently was attacked in his bedroom in the rear of the store, dragged to the basement and hidden. His hands were tied and he was clothed only in an undershirt.

Investigators, who did not disclose the name of the missing handyman, said robbery was the motive. Fahl's diamond ring and his late model Buick were missing. He reportedly had extensive real estate holdings.

The worker had been hired only last week, detectives said.

Inflated Rubber Bags Help Protect Freight

CHICAGO — Some of the nation's largest rail shippers have begun to use air-inflated rubber bags as dunnage in freight shipment. This new type of support and protection saves time formerly spent in blocking and bracing. It also facilitates loading and unloading. The bags restrain movement and absorb shock, and thus help reduce damage caused by impact.

Missionary in China Not Consulted

Raps Movie on Her Life

HONG KONG (AP)—The real-life heroine of Ingrid Bergman's latest film today denounced 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. as "a bunch of liars."

"I don't know what filthy words they might have put in Ingrid Bergman's mouth—things which I would never have said," said Gladys Aylward, a diminutive, over-60 missionary whose life in China is the subject of the 20th Century-Fox movie "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness."

Miss Bergman plays Miss Aylward in the movie, which has not been released yet.

A spokesman for the film company denied yesterday that the film had been made without consulting Miss Aylward. He maintained she was very enthusiastic about the picture and felt it would help her missionary work.

But Miss Aylward, who recently arrived in Hong Kong from Formosa, said Mark Robson, the producer of the film, had not sent her a script as he promised.

"I believe they are doing something in the film which they know I won't like, so they have not sent me the script. I know nothing about the film," she declared.

"These people — Fox — have been hounding me for months and they won't tell me anything. I have suffered under the Communists and Japanese, but I have never suffered so much pain as over this picture."

Donated by Women's Auxiliary

City Hospital Gets Blood Equipment

Through the time and effort of the Women's Auxiliary of Oakland County Hospital Association, Pontiac General Hospital now boasts the most modern equipment for blood procurement.

The women, long-time sponsors of the blood bank, donated $2,000 for the new equipment which takes blood from volunteers and stores it in plastic bags.

An innovation, the bags replace the old style bottles and preserve the blood far better than the bottles did. They also provide greater safety factors for patients.

Air isn't allowed in the blood and it is kept free from any possible contamination.

PREVENTS WASTE

Another advantage offered by the bags is that the exact amount of blood needed by a patient can be put into the bags which comes in many various sizes. Previously, when a specific amount was taken from a bottle, the rest could be saved only a short time and was then useless.

Also included in the new equipment is a centifruge for blood separation and a compressor, a special unit for taking various quantities of blood It also can take blood by weight and then shut off automatically.

"We can separate the various important components of the blood now and give patients exactly what they need," says Dr. John Marra, director of the hospital's pathology laboratory.

Dear Abby....

Mommie's Little Girl a Terror

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: How does a person go about telling her best friend that she is spoiling her daughter (aged 6) rotten? My friend's child is the worst behaved child I (or my friends) have ever seen. During a bridge game she will sit in her mommie's lap the whole time whining and pestering her mother.

ABBY

"She is constantly interrupting the game by asking for gum, candy and soft drinks. The rest of the girls and I are ready to scream but we like this woman so much we don't want to hurt her feelings. I would appreciate any suggestions you have for improving the situation."

READY TO SCREAM

DEAR READY: "Mommie" is in need of a friendly suggestion and if you are her best friend, you are elected: Her child (like all normal children) will get away with as much as she can. If Mommie can't discipline her, she should visit a child counseling service and get a few pointers.

"DEAR ABBY: The man who lives next door is fat and jolly. He's ancient. He must be in his fifties. He keeps telling me what a knockout I am and how he envies the lucky man who marries me. He is married himself. He bet me a dollar he could get both his hands around my waist and he won. Do you think he is harmless or should I watch out?"

NEIGHBOR GIRL

DEAR NEIGHBOR: This foxy old wolf proclaimed DOLLAR DAY and got himself a bargain. At 50, a man is not ancient — nor is he harmless. Keep your distance.

"DEAR ABBY: We are an older couple and have some dear friends with whom we visit back and forth. Whenever we go to their home for dinner they let their parakeets fly around the rooms. They also don't discourage the birds when they fly to the table and eat out of our dishes while we are eating. I don't think this is very nice but we don't want to say anything. Abby, they think this is cute. What do you think?"

MRS. R. K.

DEAR MRS. R. K.: I think your friends are for the birds. You would be perfectly within your rights to ask them to keep their little feathered friends in their cages during mealtime.

"DEAR ABBY: I fell in love with a married man but I didn't know he was married at the time. I haven't gone out with him since I found out he's married but we see each other at work every day, which makes it hard for me to get over him. I am old enough to move out of my parents' home and get a job out of town, which is what I'd like to do because I know if I keep seeing this man at work I might go back with him again. I can't tell my parents why I want to leave. What should I do?"

ALL CONFUSED

DEAR ALL: Tell your parents you want a change of scenery and a new outlook on life (it's true). I recommend it — and the sooner the better.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JERRY: It is not enough to boast that you've never "hurt a fly" . . . what have you done lately to HELP one?

Big Loan Calls for a Note

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a friend asks to borrow a sum of money, is it wrong to ask for a promissory note? A discussion came up on this the other day and it seems I was the only one who thought it proper to ask for a note. The others felt that it was very discourteous to ask this of a friend and that it showed lack of faith in him (or her) to return the money. I would very much like to have your opinion on this."

Answer: For an amount that one can afford to lose, asking for a promissory note would be most unfriendly, but if the loan is for a really sizable sum, I think a note should be asked for, and willingly given.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We've been invited to a wedding and there is no mention of our 12-year-old son. We feel that since he is no longer a little child and knows how to behave that he should have been included. He has counted so much on going. Would it be correct to take him?"

Answer: I'm sorry to say that unless his name was included in your invitation he is not expected, and therefore you should not take him. Omission of his name should not be taken as a slight to him, because in most instances it is impossible to provide space and food for many children outside of the immediate families. And to include an especial few is to risk hurting the feelings of the parents of all of the others.

Honored at Bridal Shower

Martha Varney bride-elect of James Chalmers was honored at a kitchen shower Thursday evening at the Linden drive home of Mrs. George Tremper. Mrs. George Hurley of Flint assisted her mother as cohostess.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Varney of Nelson street and Mrs. Alice Chalmers of Battle Creek. They will be married Sept. 27 at First Presbyterian Church.

Others attending were: Mrs. Earl VanDyke, Mrs. L. V. Ostrander, Mrs. James Sutton, Mrs. Eldred Mather, Mrs. Lyle Venner, Carol Venner, Mrs. Keen Haddad, Mrs. Wallace Brown, Mrs. James Graybiel, Mrs. Ralph Mason, Mrs. Richard Kuhns and Mary Kuhns of Dearborn.

Tight Ankles Is New Complaint

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "What causes a feeling of tightness about the ankles? Is it nervous tension?"

A. Nervous tension does tense up the muscles, but I never have heard of anyone who felt it in the ankles. Perhaps this may come from strain due to weak arches. I suggest that you ask your doctor about this.

Q. "I have a small mole on my bust. Is this dagerous?"

A. Any mole which changes size should be investigated. Also, if the mole on your bust is placed so the bra rubs it, it might be a good idea to have it removed. Ask your doctor.

Q. "I am a redhead and I hope you have the answer to my problem. I have freckles ad I simply look awful in them. I simply hate them. I have them on my face and arms, legs, back and shoulders. When I get into the sun they come out darker. Is there any way I can get rid of them?"

A. I really do not know of anything that will bleach the freckles. It will help if you use one of the screening creams or lotions when you are out in the sun. And enjoy your outdoor life early in the morning or later in the afternoon, when the rays are not so direct, whenever possible. Also wear a hat. There are also make-up bases which will hide them.

Sandpaper surgery is sometimes resorted to for removal of freckles. I do not think yours are nearly so unattractive as you believe them to be. Some folks think they are attractive.

A reader is advised to take hip-slimming exercises. The bicycle ride, above, is a good one.

Q. "I am 14 years old and have hairy legs. Am I too young to shave them?"

A. No.

Q. "I am 14 years old. I am 5 feet, 5 inches tall. What should I weigh and how are my measurements? My bust measures 36 inches, waist 27 and hips 39."

A. You should weigh around 125 pounds. However, if you have a very large frame you should weigh more. Your measurements are in pretty good proportion. Take hip-slimming exercises and follow your doctor's advice in diet.

Q. "I am almost 30 years old and of medium bone structure. I am 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weigh 138 pounds. My bust measures 36, waist 28, hips 36. My friends say I am fat but my family thinks I am just right. Who is correct?"

A. I hate to think that your friends are jealous, but you are just right.

Q. "Does chewing gum have calories?"

A. Only the sugar in it. You would have to chew lots of gum to make this an important factor in diet.

Invention Under Your Hat? Tell It to Charlap!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—The innate laziness of women has long been a source of satisfaction, not to say money, for Paul Charlap.

Mr. Charlap is a "product talent scout," that's why. He spends his life flying round the country in a single-engine plane, searching for new inventions to prevent a woman from having to lift more than one finger at a time.

"Maybe you have a brother who's developed something, and he's running around lookin' for somebody to take his product," said Mr. Charlap. "Well, I'm dyin' to meet him. Tell him to get in touch—we can make him a millionaire overnight, if his idea is so good.

"I mean I'm talkin' about millions. Money pours out beyond your wildest dreams if you just have a product that'll save women some time and trouble. Many of the great inventions do not come out of the big labs, you know. They come out of the average guy's noggin."

By "great" and time and trouble-saving inventions, this scout refers to such products he has developed and made famous as a couple of kinds of air-wick, a million-buck rinse for nylons, ready-tea which was his baby, and a new pink car-wash-and-wax.

"I'm willing to listen to anybody's ideas," said Charlap. "On anything.

"Right now, however, I'm especially interested in finding someone who can make a paper towel impregnated with abrasive soap that smells like French perfume and comes in pastel colors, with which a woman can clean out her bathtub and groom herself for a party in one easy swipe . . ."

Charlap, himself a graduate chemist from Pennsylvania U., has been working on this idea for months. "I've tried everything — unsuccessfully. My wife is unhappy. I've experimented on all our walls at home. Now, whenever the humidity gets high, they lather up."

His eccentric but fortune-making business began when Paul quit pre-medical school after 18 months because it made him sad. "You lose so many good people in that racket." He took up chemistry, and decided it was fun creating things, and putting them over.

His first success, Nylast, made hundreds of thousands of dollars nine years ago. It has been his policy ever since to pamper the ladies.

Frequently, he is painfully unsuccessful. He heard of a new shoe shine that came out of a squeeze bottle. Great idea. He flew his little plane to the Midwest to visit the inventor and got himself a lovely squirted-on shine. But the solvent in it gave him asthma.

"I said if this guy could change the solvent, I thought we had a deal. He succeeded. So we sent out the new, improved product. It was great for a few hours. Then the stitching came out of the shoes and the soles fell off."

EXPLOSIVE TEST

Another time, while Charlap was testing a new gasoline additive, his new car exploded with him in it.

A notable flop was a new eyeglass cleaner whch he introduced some time ago. It made spectacles dazzling clean. "But you had to rub it in, there's the rub. A woman won't stand for that."

Charlap says he'd give his eyeteeth to find a great new product right now. And speaking of that, if you have a preservative that guarantees the lifetime of an eyetooth, write him at Scarsdale, N. Y. Only, make sure it's something you simply apply to the tooth . . .

Orders General Motors to Produce Records in Price-Packing Probe

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. has asked a Federal Court judge to quash a subpoena ordering the auto firm to produce records pertaining to a grand jury investigation of alleged price packing.

GM attorney George L. Derr said the U.S. Justice Department has asked for information "next to impossible to produce," because it fills more than 150 rooms in the company's records section.

Derr said the government is seeking records on more than 100 car dealers in Michigan.

In asking Judge Clifford O'Sullivan to throw out the Aug. 8 subpoena, the auto firm said the order violated the company's right to freedom from illegal search and seizure and is "too broad in scope, too vague and does not designate exactly what is to be produced."

The grand jury has been hearing evidence in the price - packing case for about a month, and spokesmen for the Antitrust Division believe the probe will continue for another four or five months.

Staff at Walled Lake High Prepares for Opening Day

By ELEANOR DUCKWITZ
Walled Lake Correspondent

WALLED LAKE — When the 8 o'clock bell rings on the opening day of school on Thursday, Sept. 4, the casual visitor to Walled Lake Senior High School will find the halls empty, and more than 1,100 students in their proper classrooms. Except for a few new students in the office waiting to have schedules made, he would think school had been in session for weeks.

The orderliness will not be due to the anxiety of the students to return to their studies after a 10-week vacation, although many may feel this way. Rather, it will be the result of weeks of advance planning and organization on the part of Principal E. V. Ayres and his staff.

Instead of the 10-week break which students and faculty members have, this group was absent from thier jobs for only four weeks in July.

The advance planning starts the year before as soon as Ayres knows from various reports how many students will be in grades 10, 11 and 12. Then he determines how many additional teachers he will need to supplement those who are returning. When he has this information he draws up a master schedule assigning teachers to classes five of the six periods each day.

Next comes the making out of schedules by students. The counseling staff assists with this task. Counselors also visit the junior high and the Dublin school whose ninth graders will swell the student body the next fall. This year's tenth grade class will have more than 450 members.

The task of scheduling isn't a simple matter of putting so many in a section and then filling others in a routine matter. To complicate the process are the classes that only have one section.

Another factor which has to be considered is the brilliant student. This fall there will be three special sections of English for 10th graders who have demonstrated an above average proficiency.

About thirty of these were in a special science section in 9th grade and they are to be kept in the same biology section.

The 11th and 12th graders also are divided in their English sections, with most of the college prep students kept together.

Finally, the teacher load must be considered and an attempt made to see that each faculty member has approximately the same number of pupils daily.

Locker lists must be made out and a master sheet kept of the numbers of the locks which are assigned to each teacher for his homeroom. Students are assigned to homerooms alphabetically by grades and these must be balanced by numbers and master lists posted throughout the building so students can find the proper rooms on Sept. 4.

In addition, each faculty member receives several handbooks on school policies and procedures, all of which must be ready before teachers report on Sept. 2. On that and the next day, arrangements must be made for group and department meetings, briefing of new teachers, and time allotted for preparing rooms and lesson plans.

Numerous other tasks must be accomplished, and there are the interruptions.

A student may decide he wants to change his schedule. If his reasons are sound, then his request is granted.

Graduates come in for assistance with college applications or to request recommendations for jobs.

Faculty members want to see their schedules and there are the parents who have all sorts of questions to be answered.

New students are always welcomed. In fact, they are urged to complete their enrollments prior to the opening of school.

As the end of vacation approaches, Ayres and his staff find themselves working longer and longer hours in order to have everything in readiness. When school opens, however, he and Oliver Rose, the assistant principal, and the secretaries, Mrs. Evelyn Sterling and Mrs. Wava Lindler, can see that the careful planning was indeed worthwhile.

Jordan Rejects U.N. Troops

Threatens to Hamstring Attempts of West to Stabilize Mideast

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Jordan's rejection of a plan to station U.N. forces on her soil so British troops could pull out threatened today to hamstring Western efforts to stabilize the Middle East.

The American and British delegations to the U.N. Assembly's emergency session on the Middle East hoped, however, that Jordan's turndown was only a token gesture. "A lady never says yes right away," one Western official said.

Plans were also under way for another trip by U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold to the Middle East during which he could try to persuade King Hussein's government to admit a U.N. force to his threatened kingdom.

Jordanian Delegate Abdel Monem Rifai jolted the Assembly yesterday by declaring his government would not agree to permit either U.N. observers or military units on Jordan territory.

"What Jordan needs and asks for," he said, "is material assistance to reinforce its own army and security forces."

Such a refusal could torpedo efforts by the United States and Britain to put through a formal proposal for replacement of their troops in Lebanon and Jordan with U.N. contingents.

Both the West and the Soviet Union had been in tacit agreement that U.N. units of some sort should take over.

Commerce Dairy Barn Demolished by Flames

Damages to the building and its contents were estimated at $30,000 by Commerce Township Fire Chief Ray Price. There were no serious injuries.

Besides Commerce, fire departments from Walled Lake and Novi, White Lake and West Bloomfield townships were called out.

Flames already had engulfed the barn by the time they arrived however. There was no water supply available, Price said. Efforts were concentrated in keeping the fire from spreading to nearby buildings.

Sam Smith of 41300 14-Mile Rd., Kling's nephew, said he was in the basement of the barn when the blaze broke out. Flames swept through the entire structure so quickly, he said, neither he nor Kling were able to save contents of the barn.

Destroyed in the 104 by 36 foot building were 13 feeder hogs, 10 small pigs, a sow, 150 tons of hay, 180 bushels of seed oats and a hay conveyer.

Chief Price said the fire was caused by a three horse-power electric motor on the conveyer. It was at this location that Smith first saw flames seeping through the floor.

Commerce Township firemen at Station 2 in Oakley Park answered the call at 5:45 p.m. A second Commerce fire truck arrived at the scene soon after from the Main Station. Other departments followed.

Many firemen were still at the scene at 9:30 p.m. to keep the fire under control.

His bill adds that "The vermin and flea situation is worse than that inflicted upon the Egyptians at the time the Pharaohs first refused to allow the Hebrews to leave Egypt under the banner of their leader Moses."

'Surrender Study' Rumor Stirs Up Storm in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new fury of Senate debate was in prospect today over reports that the Pentagon has been studying possible circumstances under which the United States might surrender in an atomic war.

The subject set off a veritable storm of criticism in speeches last night. At one point an attempt was made to close the galleries to the press and public because of the seriousness of the topic. But it wasn't done.

The United States has never lost a war and the legislators were indignant that the military should be having even the slightest thought of any American surrender.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) proposed tacking onto a $3,594,000,000 supplemental appropriations bill a rider that would nullify any surrender study contract and bar any payments in connection with it.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said most Americans would rather die than see their country under the yoke of another power.

At the White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower "certainly wouldn't agree to any talk about surrender of the United States." Hagerty said Eisenhower had ordered an immediate investigation of the reports about the surrender study.

But even as the furor raged there was no solid confirmation that the Pentagon was undertaking any special surrender study. A spokesman would only say that it was standard military practice to consider all eventualities, even those unlikely to arise.

TRACE ORIGINS

The rumors apparently traced back to a study begun in 1951 by the Rand Corp., an independent, nonprofit organization which engages in national security research. Rand, which has a contract with the Air Force, analyzed the ways in which other countries have surrendered in the past.

The study, completed last year, was recently published in book form with the title "Strategic Surrender, the Politics of Victory and Defeat."

But Rand denied that the study dealt with any possible American setback.

"Nowhere do the study or the book deal with any hypothetical U.S. surrender," the firm said. "The question of negotiating with an opponent of the U.S. in a wartime situation is treated solely in the context of a termination of a war in which the U.S. would be victorious."

KNOWLAND SPEAKS

Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) said he had studied the Rand report and had found nothing smacking of any suggestions of American surrender.

The Republican leader told the Senate he could say categorically that Eisenhower had not authorized and has no knowledge of any surrender study.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

"So, why is 'Nel Blu De Pinto De Blu' going to die," the sad-eyed boy exclaimed. That was my astounding prediction of last week, one which record charts oppose.

To qualify the statement, I didn't mean the song itself will die, but unless sale charts are revamped it most likely won't stay in the top ten for long.

Why? Because there are nearly a dozen recorded versions of it fighting each other. Moreover, two of the versions are see-sawing back and forth in popularity—those by Dean Martin and the originator, Domenico Modugno.

When you lump all the versions together—or even the top two—the song is a big hit. But record charts only recognize a single recorded version. Unless the public picks one version and buys it alone, the song will sell to a divided public.

FIVE ACES: In keeping with the above theory, let's take a good look at this week's top five sellers. "Little Star" by The Elegants is way out in first place on a plateau all its own.

"Nel Blu De Pinto De Blu" we will list as second best, but only by stretching a point. Domenico Modugno, the Italian vocal star, has a slight edge over Martin at this point. On the basis of his sales alone, the tune can't be ranked second, but in total sales it is a strong second.

Following, in third is "Poor Little Fool" by Ricky Nelson. Fourth spot is being held down by Perez Prado's "Patricia." A tie for fifth place finds "Just A Dream" by Jim Clinton (waning in popularity) and "Devoted to You" by the Everly Brothers (looking better all the time).

POP ALBUMS: For vocal fans, August LP releases worth note include "Cole Espanole" (Capitol W-1031) a collection of latin numbers by Nat King Cole; "Closer Than A Kiss," (Columbia CL-1174) a group of romantic ballads by Vic Damone; and "I Remember Russ" (Columbia CL-1164) another "I Remember" LP by Jerry Vale, this time a tribute to the memorable stylist Russ Columbo.

For the continental touch try "Confetti" (Capitol T-1029) by Les Baxter & his Orchestra; for dancing parties it's hard to beat "Dancing Over Waves" (Capitol T-1028) by Ray Anthony's Orchestra; and country and western fans will find "Let's Live A Little" (Columbia CL-1172) by Carl Smith a welcome addition to the record shelf.

Milking Cow by Hand Saves Man's Life

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — Donald Draught, 73, has electric milking machines on his nearby farm. But he milked a cow by the old-fashioned hand method yesterday and it probably saved his life.

One of the machines short circuited and killed a cow. The cow fell over dead on the machine and set off a chain reaction through metal stanchions.

Draught was thrown away from the cow he was milking and was able to turn off the current before a fire started.

But the short circuit had already done its damage. Seven cows lay dead in the barn.

Draught said their value was $1,500.

Material failures are responsible for only 12.4 per cent of the fatal airplane accidents in the United States.

Peach Queen to Visit Selfridge

ROMEO — Peach Queen Bonita Brookshear left her Waterford Township home early this morning to visit Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens. While there she was to tour the base, board a jet plane and hand out peaches to servicemen in the mess hall.

Accompanying her were her two maids of honor, Patsy Carr of Utica and Carole Ryden of Pontiac plus an attendant from Romeo, Jill Trask.

Next Tuesday evening Queen Bonita and members of her court will be honor guests of the Romeo Rotary Club for dinner at the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center.

Earlier this week, the queen's schedule of activities was highlighted by a yacht trip on Lake Erie aboard a 45-foot cruiser. Included in her entourage were her first maid of honor, Anita Hall of Warren, Joanne McGuire of Oxford, Jeannette Barklay of Armada and Miss Trask of Romeo.

Other members of the party included the girls' escorts and several members of the Peach Festival Board.

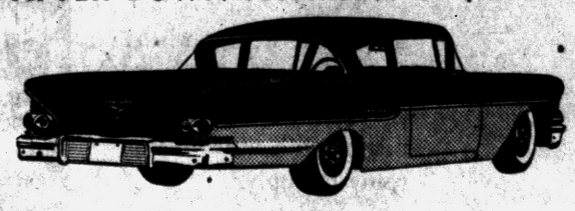

As the festival — slated for Labor Day weekend—approaches, the Queen's days will be increasingly filled with personal, radio and television appearances.

She also has an appointment with Detroit Mayor Miriani and a date to visit Motor City Speedway next weekend.

Adds 600 Gallons

A summer shower, one inch deep, adds 600 gallons of water to each 1,000 square feet on your lot. To add 600 gallons, using a 50-foot hose and sprinkler would take you three hours and 20 minutes, even if you keep the faucet wide open. To add an inch of water to a 50 by 100-foot lawn, with the same equipment, would take 3,000 gallons and 16 hours.

Raises 900,000 Glads in Waterford

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

For almost 40 years, Harold James of Waterford Township has been leasing land along the banks of the Huron River in order to grow gladiolus.

His theory that "if you've got water—you're independent of any weather conditions," has helped him establish a reputation as a glad expert and also has satisfied his natural "green-thumb" instinct which he has had since childhood.

It all began some 50 years ago, when he was a lad of five years old. A neighbor lady gave the little boy several different types of plants and told him to "make 'em grow!"

James, who lives with his wife at 1560 Benvenue Dr., near Sylvan Lake, has been making them grow ever since. He has been experimenting and producing unusual gladiolus for commercial use since 1924. However, his records show that there isn't much profit in the business anymore.

The wholesale as well as the retail prices have remained the same for the last 15 years, although the fertilizer, land lease and hired help has more than tripled, he claims.

"Once you start raising and experimenting with glads, you just can't stop—it gets into your blood," James explained.

A pre-season inventory of land along the Huron River usually nets James eight or ten acres of rich, sandy loam, which he leases from the owner for two or three years.

He then rotates his crops for better production,and often goes back to the original land after a period of time and re-leases the land again.

The design and operation of his overhead irrigation water system is unique because it is so adjustable to any area in a matter of a few hours, James said. It is powered by an old fire engine which he purchased in Pontiac after World War II.

A standard fire hose is connected to a screened suction box resting on cement blocks in the river bed. Galvanized pipes run to the crop of flowers and pressure from the water gently turns huge sprinklers back and forth, throwing 30 foot streams on both sides of the center pipe. James controls the speed of the sprinkler operation by an oscillator valve.

At the present time, James has eight acres along the river on the corner of Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads, and his 300 foot rows of spiked beauties are a "sight to behold."

Each of the 150 different varieties of glads have their own names and James said that most of them read like a horse-racing form.

There is Prestige, Phantom Beauty, Firebrand, Dream Girl, Spotlight, Modern Times, Salmons Elite and Sweet Sixteen along with Brown Eyes, Red Charm, Patrol and Golden Palomino.

After the seven cycles of plantings have finished blooming, James hires high school boys to help him dig up some 900,000 bulbs, which are dusted with insectacide and stored in screen bottomed trays at 40 degree temperature.

Proving his point that water can outwit nature's meanest weather, James relates that early one April morning there was a violent sleet storm.

He rushed out to his budding-glad crop, and turned on the entire irrigation system. The sprinklers went to work sucking warm water up out of the river, coating each tiny bud with a protective shield of ice.

James continued the operation until the sun had come out to take over the melting operation. Only 15 per cent of his crop was lost, while others in the flowering business were wiped out. "Just a lucky hunch," he added.

List 5 Directions to Grow Geraniums From Seed

Like delightful flower surprises? Then you ought to grow geraniums from seed. You'll be richly rewarded with many interesting shades among the plants produced from a single packet.

The Floradale strain, for instance, includes white and shades of pink, salmon and scarlet to deep crimson.

Geraniums are easy to raise from seed and you can have them in bloom most of the year — indoors and out. Plants flower five to six months after seeds germinate.

HERE'S HOW

Here are some foolproof directions.

1. Fill a shallow box, pot or seed-pan within an inch of the top with finely sifted soil. Add a half-inch layer of fine vermiculite and firm it smooth.
2. Mark rows one-quarter inch deep and two inches apart.
3. Gently rub the husks from the seed in the palm of your hand, or soak the seed in warm water a couple of hours to speed germination.
4. Sow the seed thinly and pat in, just barely covering. Keep the vermiculite evenly moist and moderately warm for six to eight weeks since some seedlings require that long to appear.
5. When one or more true sets of leaves develop, carefully move seedlings to individual two-inch pots. Later, when they become potbound, move to four-inch pots, where they can remain for three or four months.

Geraniums flower best when slightly potbound and kept on the dry side. Use low-nitrogen fertilizer for more bloom, less foliage.

Noted Coach Succumbs to Heart Attack

Sanders Dies Suddenly in Hotel

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Death, apparently from a heart attack, yesterday ended the career of one of America's great football coaches, Henry "Red" Sanders of UCLA. He was 53.

Sanders, who came here from Vanderbilt in 1949 and developed UCLA Bruin teams of powerful pre-eminence, died in a second-floor room of a small hotel near the downtown area.

A blonde woman, about 30, who identified herself as Ernestine Drake, was sitting in a chair a few feet from Sanders' body when police arrived. She said she was with him when he died. He was wearing pants, shoes and socks but no shirt.

"He complained of the heat," Miss Drake said. "He ordered two soft drinks brought to the room. We talked of football and I said I didn't follow the game. 'Football is a great game,' he said. 'You should come out this fall and see a few games.' Those were his last words."

Miss Drake said Sanders suddenly clutched his chest and rolled over on one side of the bed. She said she ran for help, and when she returned she found him on the floor.

HENRY (RED) SANDERS

She told a reporter she is a clothes model, born in Vienna.

Sanders had no record of a heart ailment, but homicide detective R. T. Reid said a heart attack apparently caused death. An autopsy will be performed.

Sanders was a progressive, imaginative, inventive coach who had a 27-year coaching record of 102 wins, 41 defeats and 3 ties. Fellow coaches across the nation voted him Coach of the Year in 1954. That was the year the Bruins won nine games and became UCLA's first undefeated and untied team.

UCLA was searching for a coach who could give it parity with its home-town rival, the University of Southern California, when it came upon Sanders at Vanderbilt.

He gave the Bruins nine top-flight teams and took them to the Pasadena Rose Bowl after the 1953 and 1955 seasons, but lost both games to Michigan State.

Sanders got the main job done, though. His Bruins won six of nine games against Southern California.

Otto Hopes His Speedy Backs Can Run Around Detroit Secondary

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

CHICAGO — All-Star football coach Otto Graham admits that the 1958 crop of collegians assembled here to meet the Detroit Lions is one of the best in several years, but he scoffs at the statement of his former pro coach Paul Brown who said, "this is the best All-Star team in the last decade."

"These kids are good and they've worked hard but they can't cope with the experience of the pros," said Graham.

For this reason the former Cleveland quarterback says he will call all the plays from the bench just as his ex-coach does with the Browns.

"The reason is very simple," says Graham," these quarterbacks will be jittery and I believe like Paul Brown does, that we can see a lot of things that the quarterback can't and our coaches are in better position to call the plays.

Asked if he ever disputed any plays sent in from the bench by Brown even after his many years of experience in the pro leagues, Graham denied that this brought about any bad personal feelings between he and the coach.

Graham admitted that he was not hiding his strategy against the Lions by saying he would use the airlanes as much as possible. With a host of speedsters he can use as pass receivers, Graham's strategy is to outrun the Lions' secondary.

"This is our strongest point," says Graham, "I believe we have the speed to cope with Detroit's experienced but "slowing-down" defensive backs."

Lions' coach George Wilson and Graham, who incidentally are both alumni of Northwestern University, promise to go all out without pulling any punches.

Wilson said he would go along with all his veterans in both the offensive and defensive units and unless the Lions take the lead by a wide margin it is not likely that too many rookies will see much action.

The team pulled into the Edgewater Beach Hotel yesterday afternoon in peak physical condition and unlike the other pro teams who held skull sessions and workouts under the lights, the Lions were free from all assignments.

A last-minute pre-game meeting was held this morning at 11:00 a.m., but otherwise the players had all the time to themselves.

"We've played under the lights before, so we didn't need a special workout just for that," said Wilson.

This will be the 4th time in the 25-year history of the game for the Lions to make an appearance.

The All-Stars tied the Lions in 1936 with Earl (Dutch) Clark, now at U. of D., drop-kicking the extra point for Detroit and Wally Fromhart placekicking the conversion for the Stars. In 1953 the Lions whipped the Collegians 24-10 and in 1954 the Motor City crew smothered the Stars, 31-6.

The veteran among Lion coaches as far as All-Star history goes is assistant Buster Ramsey, who played in two classics and is now going into his third game with the coaching staff.

Advance ticket sales for the game have not reached expectations. However, indications point to the largest crowd since Detroit's last appearance in 1954 when 93,470 watched the classic.

Detroit has always drawn well in the annual game. The last three years, in two games against the Browns and a game with the Giants, the crowd figured around 75,000.

Estimate for tonight goes about 80,000 with some 8,000 Lions' fans from Michigan in the crowd.

Thunderstorms predicted for today are expected to clear by game time, which will be 8:30 p.m. It will be televised nationally.

Tigers 'Robbed' at Cleveland

Theft in 10th Inning Gives Tribe 10-9 Win Over Bengals

KANSAS CITY (AP) — If the Detroit Tigers have taken out theft insurance in the past 24 hours, they might feel a bit more at ease in showing up on the baseball diamond today.

They were the victims of an outright steal yesterday in losing a 10-inning game to the Cleveland Indians, 10-9. The thief was third baseman Vic Power, who stole home plate — not once but twice. It was the first time such a feat had ever been performed in the American League.

Today the Tigers meet the seventh-place Kansas City Athletics and they're hoping to do better against Ralph Terry than they did against five Cleveland pitchers in Thursday's wild game which saw the lead change hands several times.

Power's first dash home came in the eighth inning, and put the Indians ahead, 9-7. But Detroit tied things up in the ninth with a couple of runs, one of them unearned. The tallies came on a walk, two singles and an error by catcher Russ Nixon on a throw to the plate. Al Kaline scored Detroit's ninth and final run of the day.

In the 10th, the bases were loaded by the Indians after singles by Power and Nixon and an intentional walk to Larry Doby. Then Power pulled his record-breaking steal.

Rocky Colavito clouted two home runs for the Tribe and teammate Vic Wertz also hit for the circuit. Harvey Kuenn homered for the Tigers.

Ten pitchers saw action and allowed 29 hits. Frank Lary took his 11th loss against the same number of wins, while Gary Bell gained his seventh victory against six defeats.

Beat Redlegs Again While Bucs Are Idle

Braves Pad NL Lead

By United Press International

Pitcher Joey Jay and the Milwaukee Braves wasted no time introducing Jimmy Dykes to the facts of life for a manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Dykes, who succeeded Birdie Tebbetts yesterday, escaped the embarrassment of suffering a no-hit defeat by only one single last night when the Braves spoiled his debut with a 3-0 victory.

Jay yielded only a sixth-inning single to Jerry Lynch for eight innings and Warren Spahn pitched the ninth after the 6-foot, 4-inch Milwaukee rookie issued his eighth walk to lead off the frame.

Thus, Dykes was introduced to the fact that probably led more than anything else to his predecessor's failures — the Redlegs just can't beat the Braves. The world champions whipped 'em 18 times in 22 meetings last season and last night's victory made the 1958 count 11-3.

Jay, the National League's "Player of the Month" in July, struck out four batters as he notched his seventh win against four losses.

Bill Bruton homered for the Braves' first run in the first inning and Wes Covington's triple and an error made it 2-0 in the second. Roy McMillan's error and Del Crandall's single built the lead to 3-0 in the eighth. Don Newcombe suffered his 11th defeat against two victories.

The win restored the Braves' lead over the idle second-place Pittsburgh Pirates to six games and left them 6½ ahead of the third-place San Francisco Giants who beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, in an afternoon game. The Los Angeles Dodgers downed the Chicago Cubs, 7-3, in the other N. L. game.

In the American League, the runaway New York Yankees walloped the Boston Red Sox, 8-2, Vic Power's second steal of home gave the Cleveland Indians a 10-9 triumph over the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 5-2.

Willie Mays snapped a 2-2 tie with an eighth-inning homer and Orlando Cepeda doubled home another tally to lead the Giants to their victory over St. Louis. Johnny Antonelli won his 13th game although 41-year-old Marv Grissom went in to retire the last batter in the ninth. Daryl Spencer also homered for the Giants.

Pitcher Don Drysdale and outfielder Duke Snider paced the Dodgers' 10-hit attack with round-trippers that helped hand Johnny Briggs his third loss. Drysdale was lifted in the eighth inning but got credit for his seventh win compared to 11 defeats. Ernie Banks had three hits for the Cubs.

Johnny Kucks yielded only four hits over the last six innings to win his eighth game for the Yankees. Mickey Mantle was tossed out of the game for arguing a ball-strike decision in the fourth inning but Tony Kubek's three hits and two each by Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald made up for his absence. Dave Sisler suffered his sixth loss for Boston.

Ray Moore scattered five hits to win his ninth game for the White Sox, who took over sole possession of second place in the A. L. Luis Apraricio extended his consecutive-game hitting streak to 12 games with two hits and Bubba Phillips knocked in two runs to pace the White Sox' attack.

5 Past Champs Among 30 Seeking City Golf Crown

Five former titleholders, including defender Paul Bada, are among the 30 players who will seek the City Medal Play Golf Championship this weekend at Pontiac Municipal course.

The past champs in the field besides Bada are five-time winner Glen Harding, 1955 titlist Ed Wasik, Ron Rothbarth and Mike Andonian.

Bada, who always seems to shoot well over Municipal's deceptive 18-hole layout, will be the man to beat when many of the city's best golfers start leaving the 1st tee at 12 noon Saturday.

The annual 36-hole Tournament runs tomorrow and Sunday with 18 holes slated each day beginning at 12 o'clock.

Bada won the City crown for the 2nd time last year, defeating Andonian and youthful Jack Reynolds in a sudden-death playoff. Reynolds, the MSU golfer, is unable to compete this year.

Andonian, who defeated Bada in June at Pontiac Country Club to win the State Publinx crown for the 3rd straight year, is paired with his old rival on opening day, along with A. K. Burton, last Saturday's qualifying medalist.

Several standout players in the field who have never won a City championship but must always be regarded as strong contenders include Chuck Barker, Dick DeWitt, Dick Robertson and Joe Burgdorf—to name just a few.

Saturday's pairings and tee-off times:

12:10—M. O'Shaughnessey, Brinker, Steve Condon.
12:30—Al Papazian, Joe Gaines, K. Catlett.

Georgia Peach Speaks His Piece

Modern Baseball Players Lack 'Initiative' – Cobb

NEW YORK (AP) — Ty Cobb advocates greater use of the stolen base, thinks modern players don't show enough initiative and inventiveness, and blames the batters, not the pitchers, for the recent beanball epidemic.

Otherwise the game of baseball is being played not much differently from his day — with due allowances made for the lively ball. And he believes such stars as Mickey Mantle, Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Willie Mays, Whitey Ford, Alvin Dark, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews would have been stars in the 1910's, '20's and '30's.

The 71-year-old Hall of Famer, and former Detroit Tiger great, thinks the modern era of athletes breeds a pretty good crop but he adds that the old timers were more aggressive, and had more initiative, will to win and devotion to their work.

"I realize we are in a different era today," the remarkably erect, alert and rugged-looking Georgia Peach said in a recent visit to New York to attend an Old Timers' game at Yankee Stadium. "The home run now reigns supreme. The brainy, old-fashioned type of play has given way to the slugging, swing-from-the-heels craze.

"I still insist there is room for more inside baseball, such as the bunt, the hit-and-run and the stolen base. These tactics have been almost completely discarded.

Cobb acknowledged he was a favorite target for pitchers but he rarely got hit.

"I was pretty nimble on my feet," he said with a smile, "and I could dodge 'em pretty well.

It's the players' own fault they get hit so often, Cobb contended.

"They all swing from the heels," he said, "with their legs spread as far apart as they can. They simply can't get out of the way of those inside pitches."

Casey Nervous! Uses 'Pincher' to Get Tallies

BOSTON (AP) — New York Manager Casey Stengel was asked yesterday why he sent Enos Slaughter to pinchhit for pitcher Duke Maas against Boston in the fourth inning with the Yanks ahead 3-2.

"I had heard in the third inning that a manager (Birdie Tebbetts) just lost a job," Stengel replied. "So I got a little nervous and decided to get some runs."

Slaughter came through with a two-run double and the New Yorkers romped 8-2.

Jets, Business 9s Win Openers

Start City Baseball Loop Series, Beating Union, Lumber Clubs

Jets in Class A, and Pontiac Business Institute's Class B baseball clubs came through with convincing victories, last night on Wisner and Jaycee Park diamonds, to open the "best-of-three" series leading to city championships.

The Jets crushed CIO No. 594 under a barrage of 17 hits, 11-1, while the Business club outlasted Talbott Lumber, 12-9, despite being outhit, 12-11. Two homers figured in the scoring, LeRoy Nichols' 4-bagger in the 1st accounted for two runs for PBI, while Don Talbott got one in the big 2nd for Talbott's.

Jets scored five times in the first frame to ice the win. Gene Cox went all the way as the winner.

Lumbermen took the lead over PBI in the 2nd with a 5-run blast, only to see PBI drive in four counters in the 3rd to take over. PBI stayed in front rest of the way.

Class A winners of this series meets Shaw's for the city title, while the B winner tangles with Boys' Club. Shaw's and Boys' Club won the regular league season's play.

Ex-Redleg Manager Watches More of the Same

Idle Tebbetts Is Spectator

CINCINNATI (AP)— A solemn-faced man and his wife sat in a box at Crosley Field last night and watched the Cincinnati Redlegs hit a season low in batting futility.

It was Birdie Tebbetts who earlier in the day had quit as manager of the Redlegs because "I believe that it is better for Cincinnati baseball that someone succeed me."

Last night he watched the Redlegs lose chance after chance to get something going for the lack of a few base hits. It was the same problem he had been fighting all season. Only it was worse for Jimmy Dykes who had taken over as acting manager.

The Redlegs got only one hit off Joey Jay in eight innings and none off Warren Spahn in one in a 3-0 victory by the Milwaukee Braves over the Cincinnatians.

Tebbetts and his wife sat with Redleg General Manager Gabe Paul at last night's game. Earlier, Paul had said, "I certainly would recommend him to another organization. I have never worked with a manager who was more cooperative."

Down in the Redleg clubhouse, the retiring manager also got a big boost from several of his players.

"It's a lousy shame," said pitcher Joe Nuxhall. "He's a great guy and an exceptional baseball man. The thing he did most for the player was build confidence, make the player believe he was better."

Veteran outfielder Gus Bell said, "Players made the mistakes —who doesn't—but they (the fans) took it out on Birdie. We knew his great talent and respected it."

Bell's reference to the fans was in connection with the chorus of boos which have greeted Tebbetts of late as the Redlegs sagged and finally dropped into last place.

Catcher Smoky Burgess said, "There was none better. He's a great manager and I mean it."

Tebbetts, who reportedly was being paid between $35,000 and $40,000 a year, will be paid off for the rest of this season but the 1959 portion of his contract will be cancelled.

In the Crosley Field press room he said this would be his first summer vacation since he entered baseball. He said he and his family would be here for several days and then would go to their home at Nashua, N.H.

"I want to stay in baseball as a manager," he said.

After praising Paul he added, "I felt my debt was to retire before my presence hurt Gabe, the Cincinnati baseball club and me."

Tebbetts, a one-time American League catcher, took over the managerial job here in 1954, coming from Indianapolis of the American Assn. His greatest year was 1956 when the Redlegs finished third and weren't eliminated from the pennant race until the next to the last day of the season. He was named "Manager of the Year."

ANY ELEPHANT COULD DO IT — Wrestler Firpo Zybysko, 240 pounds, must know how it feels to be sat on by an elephant. That's no pachyderm but Happy Humphrey, all 740 pounds of him, on top of Firpo. It was all Humphrey needed to win after five minutes of action in their bout at Jackson, Mich. Referee Dean Rockwell, usually a deadpan character, seems to be getting quite a kick out of it. College Officials See 'Big 5' Forming Loop to Replace PCC

CHICAGO (AP)— Chances of a new college football conference to fill the gap opened by the death of the Pacific Coast Conference appeared weak today.

College officials, in Chicago for tonight's All-Star football game, said that chances for a nation-wide league which would comprise such teams as Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Miami of Florida, Pittsburgh, Southern California, UCLA, Syracuse, Washington, Stanford and California were anything but good.

One spokesman put it this way: "Why should Army, Navy or Notre Dame tie themselves up with a conference? They do well enough as independents."

In the past, these three institutions have been cool towards suggested conference commitments.

Still another official set forth the belief that the "big five" of the West Coast — Southern Cal., UCLA, California, Stanford and Washington — would eventually form their own league.

Tug Wilson, Big Ten Athletic Commissioner, said that football schedules have been made up through 1962 and possible new conference tieups would have to be four years away.

Wilson implied that he believed the "big five" of the West Coast would eventually form their own conference and then would add one or two other members.

Figuring in all of the comment was the Rose Bowl which for the past decade has been a match between representatives of the PCC and the Big Ten. The present contract runs through 1960 and since the PCC will still operate this fall the two leagues again will furnish the 1959 opponents.

However, the 1960 game will present a problem. Many suggestions were thrown around but one possibility would be a Big Ten representative against one of the California schools.

Meanwhile, the Big Ten meetings in December should clear the picture with a definite decision as to the Western Conference's plans toward the Rose Bowl and other post-season football games.

Elks Win District 'A' Softball Crown

Elks No. 810 wrapped up the district Class A softball championship Thursday night at Beaudette Park with a 3-2 victory over Mt. Clemens. The Elks now advance to the Class A regional tourney, scheduled next week at Port Huron.

CIO Local 594 of the City League and Drayton Drug from Waterford took it on the chin last night in district Class B openers at Mt. Clemens.

Bill Middleton of the host Mt. Clemens team tossed a no-hitter at the Drug squad for a 4-0 decision. Middleton struck out 18 batters and faced only 21 men. Two walks and an error gave Drayton its only base-running opportunities.

Royal Oak handed the CIO a 6-3 setback with single runs in the 5th, 6th and 7th innings after the Union club had battled back from a 3-0 deficit with a three-run rally in the 4th to tie the score.

Lynus Grant hurled the Elks to the Class A title with a steady seven-hitter and Mt. Clemens was shutout until the bottom of the 7th when a belated two-run uprising fell short of the mark.

Jack Ganzel homered for the Elks in the 1st inning and Grant aided his own cause with a run-producing single in the 6th when the Elks scored twice. Chuck Mason drove home the 3rd run.

Spencer came from behind to defeat the Post Office crew. The Mailmen tallied twice in the 5th to take a 2-0 lead and Spencer bounced back to knot the count in the 65th.

A double by Gary Mellema followed by Dennis Alden's single delivered the winning run in the top of the 9th as Dick Shell outpitched Art Weiss in a battle of six-hitters.

Gene Shell was the losing pitcher for Drayton Drug with Bill Boulet reliving him in the 6th stanza. Mike Hanes was the losing hurler for the CIO, although he supported his own cause with a two-run double.

The Pontiac Police and Lakeland Pharmacy swing into action tonight in district Class C openers at Beaudette and North Side parks. The CIO, Drayton Drug and the Post Office also see action this evening at their respective tourney sites.

Runaway Victories in Women's League

Commerce Drive-In and the All-Stars were runaway winners last night in women's City League softbal laction at North Side Park.

The All-Stars whitewashed Pursley Ambulance, 155-0, in a five-inning contest featuring homers by Effie Seay, Katy Boykins and Tony Balante and a five-hit moud job by Nancy Oldham. Wanda Selack made five hits in five tries, one a home run, to spark an 18-6 Commerce win over Costello Trucking.

In men's exhibition play yesterday at Beaudette, Cliff LaRose slammed a homer to help Griff's Grill wallop Autos of Erope, 10-2.

Andrade KO's Bell

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Cisco Andrade of Whittier, Calif., was credited with a seventh round knockout over Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, last night when Bell couldn't come out for the eighth round. Andrade weighed 136¾; Bell, 133.

Patterson Thinks Roy's Spoofing

Harris Willing to Fight on All or Nothing Basis

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Heavyweight challenger Roy Harris says he'd be willing to fight champion Floyd Patterson winner-take-all, but the champ thinks the Texan was just spoofin'.

Both left their training camps yesterday for a local television appearance during which Harris claimed he'd be willing to take nary a penny should he lose Monday night.

Patterson, who knows Harris stands to collect $100,000 win or lose, answered:

"I think that's more of a joke. I don't think Roy really thinks that way."

They left the point that way. Both appeared calm, collected and unlike two gladiators who will box Monday over a 15-round route or less for the world's heavyweight championship.

Harris, asked if he thought he had improved in recent months, replied:

"I think I've improved quite a bit. I have a lot better control of my left hand, my footwork is better and I move around better."

Tiger Deals, Rookies Fail

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of three articles on the Detroit Tigers—their managerial and player changes, their build-ups and letdowns and the deals they have made).

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—After the Detroit Tigers failed to challenge the New York Yankees in 1957—when they boasted they would do it—they adopted a policy of cautious optimism for 1958.

The Detroit club finished fourth, 20 lengths behind the champions, last season. Apparently the 1958 finish will be little better, if any.

When time came to make the moves to improve chances for 1958, the front office held the front-liners. They dealt off second-liners and in return received second-liners who have given second-line performances generally.

Result: Second-line finish.

The club had high hopes for a flock of rookies in spring training. None came through. Some veteran pitchers—Harry Byrd, Lou Sleater, Mickey McDermott, George Spencer, Vito Valentinetti, Joe Presko and Herman Wehmeier—came and went.

The Tigers got rid of players who seldom had done them any good and received in return players cast aside, many of them by clubs in worse shape than the Tigers.

Detroit rescued Jim Greengrass, Bill Taylor and Stan Palys from the minor leagues. After a brief trial, it sent them all back.

In all, the front office made transactions—many of them trades—involving more than 40 players. Some of the players, of course, were in more than one move.

"You have to keep trying," general manager John McHale explained, but added:

"You can't trade and win a pennant. You have to develop your own players. You can trade for help here and there but I don't believe you can purchase or trade for a winner."

The club has found that an improved bench—which was an aim for 1958—is not enough. Players tossed away by less fortunate clubs do not burst into stardom once in a Tiger uniform. And not since 1952 has Detroit made a big reshuffling of front-line players.

In June of that year the Tigers dealt off four regulars — Hoot Evers, George Kell, Johnny Lipon and Dizzy Trout—and the Boston Red Sox gave them Walt Dropo, Johnny Pesko, Fred Hatfield, Don Lenhardt and Bill Wight. Some fans say this type of deal is what is needed now.

McHale said the club adopted a get-tough policy with players after last season. Observers who have been close to the club for years insist the players have been paid too much money for mediocre performances and that they have been pampered and spoiled despite a lack of success.

A 15-minute clubhouse ban imposed on sports writers when Bill Norman took over as manager—and approved, if not suggested, by the front office—has been damaging to the team from a public relations standpoint. One Detroit writer said: "The players are getting more difficult to interview—because they know they can get by with it."

Jack Tighe, when he was manager, once called some of the players complacent. Other club sources who refused to permit use of their names, say the players are much more interested in individual performances than team effort. For that reason, they say, it is time for wholesale changes in the front line.

(Tomorrow: The 1959 season, and its possibilities.)

Par at St. Paul Takes Terrific Beating

Hebert, Jacobs Set Pace

While they held the first-day lead in the wildest scoring orgy in the long history of the Keller Course event they were just one shot ahead of four others, and two strokes in front of 10 more. Still another group of 10 were only three strokes off the pace as 26 players shot 5-under-par 67s or better on the par 36-36—72 layout that carries a yardage of 6,557.

PGA officials with the touring pros called it the greatest opening scoring of the season in any tournament and one of the hottest first rounds in recent years. A total of 64 in the starting field of 123 broke par and 15 more equalled it.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Frank Stranahan, Paradise, Fla., Cary Middlecoff, Hollywood, Fla., and Doug Ford of Paradise were bunched at 7-under-par 65.

Among those bracketed at 66 as the field moves into the second round, which may call for par or better to make the cutoff at the 36-hole mark, were PGA champ Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., Art Wall, Pocono Manor, Pa., Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., Mike Souchak, Grossingers, N.Y., and Ken Venturi of San Francisco, defending champion in the tourney.

Church Softballers Open Tourney Today

Two games will be played tonight, on the Pontiac Jaycee field, in a church team softball tourney that includes clubs from Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, in Pontiac, Lake Orion, Port Huron, Detroit and Wayne. Port Huron has two entries, both in action tonight. Tourney is a single loss elimination event.

Tonight's games, both at 7:45 o'clock — Port Huron No. 1 vs. Redford at No. 2 field; Port Huron No. 2 vs. Lake Orion at No. 1 field.

Winners meet Saturday at 2 p.m. on the same field, along with Pontiac vs. Wayne, and a consolation tilt. Victors of the two tourney tests play for the top spot at 5 p.m.

U.S. Military Supplies En Route to Tunisia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is shipping a new supply of military equipment to Tunisia to strengthen that North African country's police force.

The shipment, part of which has arrived in Tunisia, includes small arms, jeeps, trucks and radio supplies. A similar shipment was sent earlier this year.

American officials said the equipment was being turned over to Tunisia at the request of President Habib Bourguiba. They said there was no connection between the shipments and the unrest in the Middle East.

NATALIE PICKS UP THE BONDS — Actress Natalie Wood, who says she's among the unemployed, poses with $27,050 in government bonds which she picked up in Hollywood. They represent savings since she was five years old. Although she will not be 21 until July 20, 1959, she got her savings because she is married. She wed actor Robert Wagner last Dec. 28. Natalie is under suspension by Warner Brothers because she refused to work for $750 a week. AP Wirephoto

Rumor Princess Grace to Have Another Baby

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Rumors of another impending birth in Monaco's reigning family have been sweeping the principality and the adjoining French Riviera coast for the last fortnight.

Sources in the Monaco palace refused all comment today.

Prince Rainier and his wife, the former Grace Kelly of Hollywood and Philadelphia, already have a daughter and a son.

'Tap' Police Broadcasts

DETROIT (AP) — Radio-equipped tow trucks have been warned to stop listening in on police radio broadcasts. In some cases trucks have reached accident scenes and removed damaged cars before police arrived. Asst. U.S. Atty. George Woods said unauthorized monitoring of police radio broadcasts is a violation of the federal wiretap law and carries a maximum panalty of a year in prison and $1,000 fine.

Clamp Curfew on Refugees

Police in Jordan Raid Camps, Arrest Sixty Opposed to Hussein

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Police clamped a curfew on the Palestine refugee camps around Amman today and then raided these tinderboxes of opposition to King Hussein's government.

Police sources said about 60 or 65 persons were arrested. Other sources said blasting powder and ammunition were found.

The clampdown opened the Moslem sabbath, a day of possible trouble because it brings emotional, easily inflamed crowds into the streets. Another 500 to 800 security troops were added last night to the already heavy military guard in Amman.

Rumors rocketed through the Jordanian capital. One said that antiroyalist riots might occur today. Another said an attempted coup was frustrated yesterday.

Of the 250,000 people in Amman, about 75,000 live in refugee camps scattered on the outskirts. Police began raiding the camps just as dawn was breaking.

The refugees have been in camps since the new state of Israel drove them out 10 years ago. Most of the half-million refugees in Jordan live on U.N. relief. They have tended to follow the brand of violently anti-Israeli Arab nationalism preached by President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who has issued veiled calls for Hussein's assassination.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Brown didn't get excited when she saw a snake trying to enter a cage with her son's pet mice. She picked it up behind the head and put it into a container. Her son later took the container to the woods and discovered the snake was a poisonous copperhead.

Hollywood Headlines

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella O. Parsons is in Hawaii her column will be written by Dorothy Manners).

HOLLYWOOD—A sudden change of mind takes Dana Wynter off to Ireland to join James Cagney and Don Murray in "Shake Hands With the Devil."

With the signing of Dana and English actress Glynis Johns, producers Walter Seltzer and George Glass are ready to start shooting at the new studio outside Dublin on Sept. 8.

Going along for the ride is Hope Lange, in private life Mrs. Don Murray, who will welcome their expected baby in the Emerald Isle in October.

Forget about Elizabeth Taylor moving into that $3,000 per month house she rented in Tucson.

She's back in Hollywood after just two days in Arizona, slightly aghast over the swarms of tourists attracted to the ranch by all the publicity in the Tucson papers.

Operating on the theory that the only place a star can have any privacy is in her home town, Liz is back in Beverly Hills looking for a house.

Another unexpected development—she's taking off for Europe the middle of September soon after the opening of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" in New York and Hollywood.

Beautiful Miss U. S. A., Eurlyne Howell (much lovelier than she appeared on TV) has a new romance as well as a new career. She's dating Jim Herman, Loretta Young's nephew.

And they tell me out at Warners she's not just a one-shot actress. The people who have seen her debut in one of the "Mavericks," report that Eurlyne has a lot of confidence and poise and comes off okay in her emotional scenes.

But that Dixie dialect has to go. With her contract now extended to two years, she'll have some time to drop that "you-all" lingo.

Hollywood in shorts:

Sad that the Liam O'Briens, (she's the former Claudette Thornton), lost the expected baby they wanted so much.

You couldn't pry Rock Hudson away from the Keely Smith-Louis Prima act at the Sahara the whole four days he spent in Las Vegas. He was planked down front so often he was practically part of the show.

Susan Hayward's husband, so ill 10 days ago that she had to fly to his bedside in Georgia, so much improved he's now in Hollywood visiting her.

Police on Okinawa Free U.S. Executive

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Okinawan police last night free an American businessman from labor unionists who had held him captive in his own office for an hour and a half.

Police arrested 20 unionists who had formed a human wall around William Baxter, formerly of San Francisco, who operates an auto sales agency in Naha.

Shortly after, 40 more screaming unionists were jailed when they demonstrated at a police station to protest the earlier arrests.

Baxter said he obtained the order after nearly three weeks of pressure from the union, including several earlier periods of imprisonment in his office.

New Hospital Gadget Efficient as Nurse

CHICAGO (AP) — A handy little hospital gadget — not as pretty as a nurse, but just as efficient in many respects — has been unveiled at Wesley Memorial Hospital.

Its designers called the bedside central center the first completely integrated system of self-help for patients. It consists of switches, pushbuttons and knobs mounted on a small panel and placed on a bedside table within easy reach of the patient.

Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulaton Co., which produces it, said the control center can draw the drapes, switch the lights on and off, operate a television set, regulate the room temperature and raise or lower the height of the bed.

Briggs Loss: $204,140

DETROIT (AP) — The Briggs Manufacturing Co. today reported a net loss of $204,140 for the first six months of this year as against a loss of $42,926 for the same period last year. Briggs said a continuing "chaotic pricing situation" in the plumbing fixtures has made profitable operation impossible.

Grain Futures Move Slowly

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices shifted only slightly from previous closes again today in early dealings on the board of trade.

Activity was slow and dealers said the market appeared to be merely marking time and awaiting some new incentives. Most prices were narrowly on the plus side in early transactions.

Trade was almost at a standstill near the end of the first hour and some contracts had eased a bit. Wheat was unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel, September $1.84¼; corn ⅜ higher to ¼ lower, September $1.27⅜; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, September 62⅜; rye ¼ to ½ lower, September $1.23; soybeans ⅛ to ⅞ higher, September $2.24⅜; lard unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.67.

U.S. Tightens Money Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board, showing deepening concern over the threat of inflation, has reversed its recession policy and moved toward tightening the money supply.

The change in direction — the first since last November—came with the announcement that effective today the discount rate at the San Francisco Reserve Bank would go up from 1¾ per cent to 2 per cent.

The discount rate represents the interest charged Federal Reserve member banks borrowing money from the reserve system. A boost in discount rates normally goes hand in hand with a general increase in interest charges.

Thus, the reserve board action yesterday held broad implications for anyone planning to go into debt to buy a factory, an automobile or a living room rug.

Tighter Credit Lowers Mart

NEW YORK (AP)— The stock market was lower in early trading today in the wake of a move toward tighter credit by the Federal Reserve Board.

A flurry of selling at the opening drove prices down fractions to a little more than a point. Prices then held at about these levels in slower trading. A few stocks recouped part of their losses.

At the peak of the selling the ticker lagged behind trading for three minutes.

Late yesterday the Federal Reserve Board approved a boost in the discount rate for the San Francisco Bank from 1¾ to 2 per cent. The move was regarded as the start of a trend toward credit restraint.

American Telephone & Telegraph, Anaconda, Du Pont and Boeing were off around a point and U.S. Gypsum more than 2. Anaconda reported sharply lower earnings for the first half of 1958.

Pontiac Reports GM's Vauxhall Gains in Favor

A rapid rise in popularity of the British Vauxhall import automobile, now available in all sections of this country with Pontiac dealers, is evidenced by U.S. registration figures computed for the first six months of 1958.

Appearing for the first time in Pontiac dealer show rooms late in 1957, the General Motors-built car climbed from an eleventh place position in import registrations in January 1958, to eighth place in June.

Vauxhall registrations for June advanced better than 123 per cent over January while the entire car import group achieved but a 62 per cent increase.

Comprising the bulk of Vauxhall shipments to Pontiac dealers, at the rate of 1,500 per month, is the popular four-door Victor Super sedan. Also receiving an excellent reception is the new Vauxhall station wagon with imports currently scheduled for 500 per month. Both cars roll off the assembly line at General Motors' Vauxhall plant in Luton, England.

Cement Firm Says It Won't Undersell

The Chicago Tribune said Wednesday that American cement manufacturers are concerned about a new 35-million-dollar plant St. Lawrence is building near Dundee. It quoted a cement spokesman as saying there are enough plants in the Michigan area already to meet demand, and that the added output of a new plant might bring on a cement price war.

Dennis Temple, treasurer of St. Lawrence Cement Co., denied the Dundee plant will undercut U. S. prices.

"The new company has not yet declared its policy but we're not going to undersell," Temple said. "The capacity of the plant being built at Dundee is such that we will have to sell outside that area."

Jerry Singing Blues

JERRY LEWIS — "The more confused my personality became, the more it confused everyone around me."

He's Both Star and Producer

TV's 'Little Monster' Now Being Tagged as 'Schizophrenic Kid'

By JERRY LEWIS
(As told to Erskine Johnson)

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — For years my pals have been tagging me with nicknames such as "The Monster," "Child Star," "The Fearless Leader," but now they have hung a beauty on me.

They call me "The Schizophrenic Kid." While I'll admit it has a more sinister sound than the others I also have to admit it fits.

BRANCH OUT

Ever since I've been in show business I have been reading about movie stars branching out in other fields such as writing and directing and I would say to myself, "Are they kidding — who needs it?"

It has always appeared to me that acting was hard enough without trying to do another full time job at the same time. But one morning I peered into the mirror and spotted a lone gray hair and thought to myself:

"Buddy-boy, child star doesn't fit you any longer. Maybe the other boys have got something after all. You'd better look into that other stuff. Directing? Writing? Why go half way? You can do it. Be a producer."

That was the day the balloon went up.

My previous impressions of the duties of a producer was a man who found a script that hadn't been re-made too many times, hired a director, a couple of stars and assorted other people, handed them the script and then headed for the golf course. What a poor-deluded lad I was.

Those steely-eyed condors who make up the board of directors of a major motion picture studio don't hand you a million dollars, pat you on the back and politely murmur, "We know this is your first picture, son — just do the best you can."

They want action and results.

MEETINGS START

Once they give you the money the meetings start. There are breakfast meetings, luncheon meetings, dinner meetings and meetings late at night. They even have meetings to call other meetings.

Once they have spent $800,000 worth of man-hours deciding how to save $35 on a piece of scenery, they solemnly wish you well and retire to the sanctuary to commence brain washing another producer.

During my first effort as a producer-star the schizophrenic shakes didn't take effect since the studio thoughtfully provided a corps of trained observers to peer over my shoulder and see that few costly mistakes were made. But for "Rockabye Baby," they gave me knowing smiles and said:

"This is it — sink or swim."

Then my personality really split. One minute I was the thrifty producer looking to cut corners and save a buck here and a buck there and in the next breath I was the star battling for expensive retakes — sure I could do the scene better with just one more try.

My wife Patti would greet me at the door at night and inquire:

"Schizophrenic Moon Keep Shining."

Elvis Presley Attends Rites for His Mother

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley bids farewell to his best girl at a Memphis funeral home today. Mrs. Vernon Presley, the young singer's mother, died early yesterday at the age of 42.

Elvis, granted an emergency furlough from the Army, had spent the day before chatting with his parents in her hospital room, but was asleep at his suburban mansion when she died.

Gladys Presley was hospitalized Saturday with a liver ailment, acute hepatitis, but doctors said an unexpected heart attack caused her death. Her husband was at her bedside.

"It broke my heart," Elvis said as he went to the hospital. "She was always my best girl."

Pension for Widow of Gestapo Chief

SCHLESWIG, Germany (AP)— A West German court has ruled that the widow of Gen. Reinhard Heydrich, Gestapo boss of Czechoslovakia, is eligible to a war widow's pension.

Heydrich was killed by Czechoslovak resistance fighters in 1942 after terorizing the country as the deputy Nazi "protector."

In her claim Mrs. Heydrich contended that her husband's death was "connected with the war events," the standard requirement for payment of the pension.

Social welfare authorities turned down her application. Mrs. Heydrich then appealed to the court.

The maximum pension is 165 marks—$39.27—a month. Court officials refuse to disclose the amount to be paid to the widow.

No Statehood for Puerto Rico

Island Governor Says People Not Interested, Prefer Present Status

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Statehood for Alaska is not altering the plans or aspirations of Gov. Luis Munoz Marin for Puerto Rico.

"We're not on that road at all," Munoz says. "In our status of commonwealth, we are a unique creation within the American system.

Munoz spoke optimistically in an interview of the future of his island homeland.

He has seen Puerto Rico transformed from an "unsolvable" economic problem — as congressional investigators once described it — to an expanding industrial economy with ever-rising per capita income.

Munoz admits the current recession has been felt in Puerto Rico, but not as much as on the United States mainland.

Having lured much light industry to the sunny island, Munoz said the tendency now is toward heavier industry to provide more jobs to balance the economy and fight poverty.

One of the principal attractions has been tax exemption and in earlier days low wage scales. The latter are rising.

Does Puerto Rico, with its exemption from the federal income tax and its tax exemptions for industry, steal industry from the mainland?

The governor contends it does not. Islanders pay a commonwealth income tax.

As for plants deserting the United States and moving to Puerto Rico, he says: "We have a deliberate policy that no tax exemption will be granted to a plant moving out of another location. I wouldn't sign an authorization unless that were so."

'Special Flight' to 2 Weddings Ends in Death

They were heading for their home in nearby Bradford to celebrate their first wedding anniversary this Sunday, and to attend two family weddings over the weekend.

They didn't get there. Max, 25, and Joyce, 22, are among the 99 presumed dead in yesterday's crash of a KLM Dutch airliner in the Atlantic.

The news brought grief to members of their family. But Joyce's father, the Rev. Glenn R. Rust of the Church of the Brethren in Bradford, said the weddings will not be postponed.

Joyce's sister will marry Darrell Parks, a student at Ohio State University, Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Rust will officiate at both weddings.

U.S. Merchant Marine Adds 5.3 Billion Yearly

NEW YORK The total contribution to the United States' economy growing out of the American merchant marine both directly and indirectly is estimated at $5,300,000,000 a year.

The contribution of seagoing and shoreside operations and shipbuilding activity amounts to $2,800,000,000 a year.

Of this total the contribution of the American-flag fleet in foreign trade, $400,000,000; and of ship conthe American-flag fleet in domstic trade, $400,000,; and of ship construction and repair industries at $1,300,000,000.

Number of Connecticut men on farms has shrunk to about three per cent of the state's population.

Warns Soviets Gain in Power

Sen. Kennedy Reports World Balance Swings in Russia's Favor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) says the world balance of power is shifting sharply in the Soviet Union's favor because of big Soviet gains in missile power.

He told the Senate last night the deterrent ratio might shift so heavily as to encourage the Soviets to attack the United States in an effort to "take a short cut to world domination."

Kennedy's remarks drew bitter criticism from Sen. Homer F. Capehart (R-Ind) and other Republican senators, who decried the references to Soviet superiority over American military might.

Capehart, his voice booming, said Kennedy had mentioned 35 to 50 times that the Soviets were superior to the United States in their defense effort.

Such remarks, he said, were coming close to giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

Capehart leaped in with his criticism of Kennedy while the Senate was in the throes of a furious debate over reports that the Pentagon was studying conditions under which the country might surrender in an atomic war.

During the snarl Capehart and Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) proposed closing the galleries to the press and public. Democratic opposition, however, quelled the move.

"Maybe I'm wrong," he said. "throw me out of the Senate if you will. Maybe I have only a thimble full of brains as one senator said. But this gives aid and comfort to Pravda (Soviet Communist newspaper).

Conclave Scheduled by Knights Templar

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — More than 8,500 sword-wearing members of the Knights Templar will come trooping into the city tomorrow for the start of their weeklong 47th triennial conclave.

Billed as the largest national convention ever to hit Indianapolis, the Knights' conclave will feature a gigantic parade tomorrow night. There will be about 10,000 persons in it.

Sunday afternoon the public is invited to attend an impressive devotional service in the huge Indiana State Fairgrounds coliseum, conducted with complete lodge ritual.

Twenty-eight Knights' drill teams will compete all day Monday in the coliseum for national drill honors.

Income Payments Rise From Life Insurance

NEW YORK — Income payments to American families from their life-insurance policies now exceed $750,000,000 a year, representing proceeds from policy benefits of previous years. That's nearly three times the total at the end of World War II.
