

Air Force Sonic Boom Startles Thousands

Air Force officials admitted today that two jet airplanes cracked the sound barrier somewhere over southeastern Michigan last night.

One of the planes set off a sonic boom that rudely aroused and alarmed thousands of residents in Oakland County and surrounding areas, who flooded police switchboards with worried questions.

If it was any consolation, an Air Force spokesman pointed out to those whose slumber was shattered that the boom came from the nation's fastest jet plane, the F-104 Starfighter, "involved in an exercise to give the Detroit area air protection."

The Starfighter, clocked once at 1,404 miles an hour, holds the world's speed record, said the spokesman, a member of the public information staff at Selfridge Air Force Base.

The pair of Starfighters came from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio, a part of the Detroit Air Defense Sector.

The boom was heard over an area 60 miles wide, apparently centering in the skies above south Oakland County.

The blast, which occurred shortly after midnight, had a double beat to it that closely identified it with an unusual, but distinct peculiarity of sonic booms.

The first boom, generally described as a deep rumble, was immediately followed by a less—but sharper—bang, most people said.

Although most sonic booms are caused by a wave of pressure from the nose and wings of a fast-moving jet, occasionally a second wave is produced by the tail. Apparently two pressure waves were heard last night.

Many persons said their houses were shaken by the shock. There were numerous reports of rattling window panes and dishes.

Scattered reports of damage were being investigated. A Milford woman reported she returned home after the blast to find her picture window shattered. Sheriff's detectives felt, though, that the

Here's Brief Explanation of Sonic Boom

What is that sharp, explosive clap called a "sonic boom?"

Basically, a sonic boom is a wave of various pressures and lengths hitting the ear. These waves and pressures created by a plane traveling faster than sound can be compared to the ripples created by a rock thrown into a still pond.

The stronger pressure waves created by jet planes, pushed outward by the sudden release of energy, cause what are known as "explosions," "shock waves," "sonic booms."

damage might be attributed to children throwing stones.

The boom was heard in Essex, Ont., 15 miles southeast of Windsor; as far south as Monroe, as far west as Ypsilanti and Brighton and as far north as Lake Orion and Oxford.

Porch lights flashed on up and down hundreds of residential streets in the Pontiac area as residents looked outside for the cause of the boom.

A peculiarity of sonic booms, according to the Air Force, is that they seem to originate in the vicinity in which they are heard. They also seem to come "from all around" instead of from one direction.

Pontiac police handled more than 100 telephone queries, and several hundred worried people flooded the Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. switchboard with calls.

There were mixed reactions to the boom. Some thought it was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Tell of Easy Show Winnings

TESTIFY AT HEARINGS—Two former contestants of the defunct quiz show "Twenty-One" appeared yesterday before the House Legislative Oversight Committee to testify on charges that

Contestant Claims 'Dotto' Quiz Rigged

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A former contestant testified today that the now-defunct television quiz show, "Dotto," was rigged to permit him to win $11,600 but he then was ordered to "take a dive."

David Huschle, young manager of a New York City restaurant, gave the testimony to a House subcommittee investigating the operations of the once popular TV quiz shows.

The house group previously has heard testimony from former contestants and publicity agents that NBC's old "21" quiz show was rigged by giving contestants questions and answers in advance.

"Dotto" was the first of a number of TV quiz shows to be taken off the air in the wake of charges that they were "fixed."

Huschle, who earlier this year testified in a New York County grand jury investigation into TV shows, said he won the $11,600 by appearing as a contestant on three "Dotto" shows in June, 1958 when the show was carried at night on the NBC Network.

He said he previously had won $3,700 on the show when it was carried on the daytime CBS network. In these performances in February, 1958, he said he was given some help but was not supplied in advance with all of the questions and answers.

Huschle said, however, that on the evening shows, Gil Cates, assistant producer, supplied him in advance with answers to all questions and also told him the identity of the person he was required to identify to win at "Dotto."

The object of the game was to identify a picture of a famous personage. The picture was filled in by connecting a series of dots on a large screen. A given number of dots were connected as a contestant answered a question correctly.

Huschle said Cates told him the identity of the picture in advance except on his last appearance when he was under orders to lose even if he knew the identity of the picture. Before questioning Huschle, the subcommittee showed his losing performance on a screen.

Huschle lost to Connie Hines, a pretty model who recently had come to New York City from Jacksonville, Fla.

Huschle testified that Cates contended it was necessary for him to lose after amassing winnings of $11,600 because the show had a budget allowance limited to $10,000 a week for prizes.

The witness said he felt that he could have remained on the show for additional performances without wrecking the budget because the prize winning would have evened out over the weeks. "But I felt I had been treated fairly so I agreed to go along," he added.

At all events, Huschle said, he was unable to identify the picture. It was one of Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

Conservatives Favored to Win in English Vote

Both Parties Confident of Victory as Britons Choose Government

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative party was favored to win an unprecedented third term in office today as Britons voted to elect a new House of Commons.

Eleventh-hour public opinion polls, the stock market and the bookmakers—legal in Britain—all indicated the Conservatives would win a majority of the 630 House seats and with it five more years in control of the government.

After a final canvass of 100 key voting districts, Conservative leaders predicted their majority would be about 50 seats, three less than when Parliament was dissolved Sept. 18.

The Laborites also predicted victory for their side by a majority of about 15 seats.

Three final public opinion polls showed a jump in Conservative popularity. But they still reported a massive 16 per cent of "don't knows"—people who either hadn't decided which way to vote or wouldn't tell their decision.

On the London Stock Exchange, steel shares made substantial gains. This indicated Britain's financiers were confident of a Conservative victory for Labor threatens to put the steel industry under government ownership if elected to office.

The bookies also were still betting on the Conservatives. You had to put up three pounds on the Tories for a chance at winning only one pound.

And one pound on Labor gave you a chance at winning three if the Laborites were victorious.

TORY JUBILANT

The Conservative party chairman, Lord Hailsham, was jubilant.

"I thought the uncommitted would suddenly make up their minds," he said. "That is happening. The gap is widening."

There were the usual victory predictions from the two party leaders.

"We are going to win," said Macmillan.

"I am confident we shall win," said Labor chief Hugh Gaitskell, but he added, "To be sure of a good majority, we shall need a really high poll."

How many of Britain's 35,400,000 eligible voters would turn out was in doubt. The weatherman promised another fine, sunny day, enhancing the prospect for a heavy poll. But early voters in 23 counties groped their way to the polls through fog. If it continued, the size of the vote might be seriously affected.

Achin' Wynn and Podres Duel in 6th Series Game

CHICAGO (UPI)—Early Wynn, ers today in the sixth game of the Sox to keep their Series hopes alive.

They faced "sudden death," trailing the Dodgers three games to two in this best four-out-of-seven game series.

Manager Walt Alston went along with Podres, winner of the second game, confident that he would close it out and bring to the West Coast its first world's baseball championship.

"BACK FEELS OKAY" "He tells me his back feels okay," Alston said, "so there isn't any reason why he shouldn't beat them again."

Wynn said his sore right elbow was "okay" and that he was "honored" by being selected to keep the White Sox in the running.

Alston made one lineup change, putting Duke Snider, who had been out with his chronic ailing knee, in center field.

That gives him six left-handed hitters, counting Podres, in his batting order.

The Sox, who again will wear the black stockings they wore in the fifth game, were glad to get back at brick-walled Conahey Park.

"It feels good to be back in a real ball park," said Nellie Fox. "That Coliseum park is for the birds—not baseball."

Train-Car Crash Takes 6th Victim

Mother Dies in Hospital Leaving 2 Children Only Survivors of Tragedy

A train-car crash near Lapeer Sunday claimed its sixth victim today.

Mrs. Lynn D. Morris, 35, died of her injuries in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

The Morris car skidded into the side of a New York Central Railroad freight car and a half-mile north of Lapeer, killing the father, 38, and four of the Morris children who ranged in age from seven months to nine years.

Mrs. Morris and their eldest son, Earl, 16, suffered critical injuries in the accident. Earl remained in critical condition today.

A daughter, Lynda, 11, is reported recovering in Lapeer County General Hospital.

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—Chief Magistrate Nicholas Castellano asked Patrolman Edward Adelman what the strange button was on the policeman's uniform. Union President at Convention in Atlantic City

Denies Large Income Tax Claim, Settles for $615 Extra Amount

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The United Auto Workers International Convention, opening here tomorrow, will be asked to raise dues to replenish the Union's strike-drained treasury.

How much has not yet been determined by the executive board in pre-convention policy-making sessions.

"We are still kicking it around," UAW President Walter P. Reuther said last night when asked by newsmen what the dues increase recommendation would be.

On another front, the UAW said today that Reuther has made an additional income tax payment of $615 to the government for the three-year period of 1955-57.

But in the statement it denied a published report that there was a $1,000 tax claim against Reuther. It said the tax payment was an expense allowance, mostly travel costs, totaling $1,000.

DENIES REPORT

The union also denied a report by the Detroit Times that tax claims totaling $250,000 against 57 employees of the union were settled for $106,000.

It said UAW officers and staff members have made individual settlements with the government on expense accounts resulting, it said, from a "change in interpretation of this part of the Internal Revenue code."

"Any objective evaluation of the expense allowances of UAW officers would show them to be modest in comparison to those of many other labor organizations," the UAW said. "In comparison to the expense allowances for business executives they are insignificant."

The board reportedly was considering a proposal which would make basic dues $5 a month, an increase of $2 over the current level of $3.

Reuther ran into considerable opposition two years ago in putting through an increase of 50 cents a month.

Ziem Resigning Dec. 1, but Who'll Replace Him?

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today confirmed reports he plans to step down from his position Dec. 1 to prepare for his elevation to Oakland County circuit judge the first of next year.

Questioned by The Pontiac Press, the four-term Republican prosecutor said he would spend December "getting together those things necessary before I take the bench."

Since Ziem's election to the bench in April, speculation has mounted as to who his successor will be. Mentioned most frequently is Chief Assistant George Taylor.

The five Oakland judges in all probability will make Ziem's Dec. 1 announcement date official with a joint statement shortly after pointing out how and when his successor will be named.

It has been precedent several times in Oakland County history that the chief assistant moves up. Donald C. Noggle was elevated to the top post in 1944 after being Prosecutor Charles L. Wilson's chief assistant.

Noggle named present State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge Jr. his chief assistant. Lodge moved up as prosecutor in 1946 when Noggle resigned under pressure.

Others, including several of Ziem's longtime assistants, have been mentioned as being in the running for the $13,500-a-year job.

Also mentioned in some circles has been present Circuit Judge Theodore F. Hughes who will be leaving his short-term, six-month judicial post when Ziem begins his six-year term. A Republican, Hughes said he plans to return to his law practice in Berkeley.

LAW NAMES JUDGES Michigan law states that the circuit judges of Oakland's Sixth Judicial Circuit will name Ziem's successor.

Seventeen hundred volunteer workers will set out Tuesday on 11th annual United Fund Torch Drive in the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin area.

Students at Seaholm High School will get an extra holiday Oct. 16 when the Oakland County Branch of the Michigan Education Assn. holds its annual Teacher's Institute at the school.

"Challenges to Education" is the theme for the first general session. Dr. Carl C. Byers, lecturer in human relations, will be the main speaker. He is sponsored by General Motors Corp.

Other special guest speakers will be Clayton A. Seiber of the National Education Assn.; Dr. W. H. Roberts, member of the NEA International Relations Committee and professor of history at Hillsdale College; John W. Tenney of Wayne State University's Department of Special Education; and Dr. Fauzi M. Najjar of the Social Science Department at Michigan State University.

Approximately 5,000 teachers are expected to attend the session which will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m.

Twenty township Seaholm High School seniors are among 10,000 students across the United States named National Merit Scholarship semifinalists.

Those named as semifinalists for the scholarships constitute less than one-half of one per cent of the nation's high school seniors, all of whom were eligible to vie for the honor.

Locally they are Keith Bateman, Alfred Bauman, James Bird, Joan Briegel, James Codner, George Dick, Don Frey, Richard Ganchan, James Hall and David Hunter.

Barbara Koch, David Lindsay, Barbara Monroe, William Noe, Orin Pearson, Gary Poole, Daniel Rodgers, Gerry Storch, Robert Tigelaar, Jane Thompson, Donald Van Doren and Don Wehe.

These students took the national merit scholarship qualifying test given in 14,500 high schools last March.

Semi-finalists will take the scholastic aptitude test of the college entrance examinations board, December 5.

HIGH SCORERS here will be named finalists — thus eligible for scholarships.

The national merit scholars will be announced about May 1 next year.

The number of winners will depend on the amount of support the program receives from business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, and individuals.

Ziem Resigns Dec. 1 —but Who Follows?

Judge, William J. Beer, said the new prosecutor will "have to be named prior to Jan. 1 when Ziem ascends the bench and sometime after his planned Dec. 1 resignation.

There is no particular machinery set up for the appointment other than it will be up to the judges to make it," Judge Beer said.

This will leave the decision up to three Republicans and two Democrats, although judges are elected and serve on a nonpartisan basis.

Judges Beer and Clark J. Adams are Democrats, while veteran senior Judges Frank L. Doty and H. Russell Holland, and Hughes, are Republicans.

Ziem's successor will serve until a new prosecutor is elected next November.

PROBABLY REPUBLICAN

The appointee likely will be a Republican and carry his party's colors in the November balloting.

The interim successor does not necessarily have to be a member of Ziem's present staff of 12 assistants.

However, odds are heavy that he will be. He could be any practicing attorney from the county, an observer said.

Ziem joined the Prosecutor's Office in 1947 as an assistant. He was named chief assistant in 1950 and elected first as prosecutor in 1952.

He was re-elected in 1954, 1956 and last year. He is 43 and lives at 955 Sylvan Shores, Waterford township.

Reuther Is Talking Hike in Dues at Convention

No. 600 in Dearborn, Mich., is not a delegate at this convention.

Stellato plans to arrive here Sunday as an observer. He reportedly is staying in the background of Union politics and preparing for another try at the Democratic nomination for congressman in his district next year. He was defeated in the primary last year.

EXPECTS TO WIN

Reuther apparently has the power to win approval of a dues increase without too much difficulty. He also is expected to be re-elected president at next Tuesday's session along with other top Union officers on his slate.

Union leaders say a dues increase is necessary to offset a decline in income that started during the 1958 recession when several hundred thousand members were laid off, and also to build up the strike fund.

The Union paid out nearly ten million dollars in strike benefits during the first six months of this year and the strike fund has dropped from nearly 20 million dollars last Dec. 31 to under 15 million despite a current special assessment of $1 a month.

The executive board contributed one million dollars last month to the United Steelworkers' strike and the convention will be asked to authorize further monthly contributions as long as the steel strike continues.

The UAW had an average number of 1,143,707 dues-paying members in the first six months of 1959, compared to the 1958 average of 1,026,050. Two years ago the union had a dues-paying membership of 1,200,000.

To recoup, the Union is planning an aggressive organizing drive, particularly among white collar workers.

Despite financial troubles, the UAW isn't broke, Secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey reported the Union's net worth on June 30 as operating under a court injunction rather than acceptance of the other's demands for a dispute-ending agreement.

The last joint negotiating session was held Tuesday night. It ended in complete deadlock. Since then there is no evidence that either side has attempted to arrange further joint meetings.

In ordering court action on the dock strike, Eisenhower repeated that if the strike were permitted to continue, it would imperil national health and safety and affect the food supply of the heavily populated Atlantic and Gulf Coast areas.

His order climaxed a day in which the Taft-Hartley law's emergency machinery turned with almost unprecedented speed.

A fact-finding board held hearings in Washington Wednesday morning, wrote its report during the afternoon and dispatched it by Navy jet plane Wednesday night to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters.

Later in the hospital, her mother repeated this and said she didn't plan to press charges against her 300-pound husband, who is unemployed because of a heart condition, said Mrs. Fishell.

The prosecution then charged Marshall with careless use of firearms. This was changed to manslaughter when Mrs. Marshall died.

an automobile backfiring, others said it sounded like a gun report.

There were others who, awakened suddenly from sleep, immediately connected the noise with prowlers. "I thought it might be a bomb—that we were being attacked," said Mrs. Amelia Sands, 646 Homestead St.

Doing a little late house cleaning, Mrs. Sands said the shock caused her vacuum cleaner to jump out of her hands.

Mrs. Mildred Goss, 4173 Fieldview St., Commerce Township, was sleeping when the sound woke her. She ran down three flights of stairs to the basement to check whether her new automatic furnace had exploded. It hadn't.

Aroused from her sleep, Mrs. Jean C. Lawson, 132 N. Telegraph Rd., thought her husband, Harley, had fallen out of bed. But Lawson was sleeping peacefully through the boom.

A Birmingham man feared it was the beginning of an atomic attack. "With all the talk about atomic bombs, you can imagine how it felt to be awakened this way," he angrily told Birmingham police.

The Birmingham station was one of the busiest, handling telephone calls. More than 50 came in within a few minutes.

One caller was Birmingham Police Lt. Robert Schaul, 1623 Webster St., who had just retired for the night when he heard the noise. "I thought it was a gas explosion somewhere in the neighborhood," he said. "That sort of thing scares the daylight out of you."

Law agencies, checking quickly with each other by radio and telephone, immediately discerned that the boom was heard over such a wide area that its cause, if not a big bomb, was probably a jet plane.

Since there were no reports of a bomb, the latter explanation was quickly accepted.

Detroit police reporter receiving more than 1,000 telephone calls and other police units in south Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw counties were swamped with queries.

Residents of Essex, Ont., said they heard a low-flying jet plane approach the ground and then climb. The maneuver was followed by an explosion, they said.

Assistant Prosecutor Anthony Renne called two doctors, two sheriff's officers, and Marshall's daughter and son-in-law in an attempt to show Mrs. Marshall died April 6 as a result of a .38 caliber bullet wound in her stomach. The cause of death was listed as meningitis.

However, the daughter, Mrs. Hazel A. Fishell, at whose home the Marshalls lived, at 1841 Point Dr., testified Tuesday that her mother told her she had been shot by her father. "But he didn't mean to do it... It was an accident," she quoted her mother as saying.

Later in the hospital, her mother repeated this and said she didn't plan to press charges against her 300-pound husband, who is unemployed because of a heart condition, said Mrs. Fishell.

The prosecution then charged Marshall with careless use of firearms. This was changed to manslaughter when Mrs. Marshall died.

Can't Fly U.S. Flag at Bases in Spain

MERIDEN, Conn. (UPI) — Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn.) protested to President Eisenhower Wednesday that the American flag is not permitted to fly at U.S. military bases in Spain.

Kowalski cabled the protest from Madrid during a tour of American military bases in Europe in behalf of the House Armed Services Committee.

He said Ambassador John Lodge advised him the flag can't be flown because "this would cause the United States difficulties with the Franco government."

Kowalski said "I cannot believe that the American people, who have contributed almost one and one-half billion dollars in military and economic aid to Spain, should have to accept this humiliating decision."

Track Sale at Jackson 'Unofficially' Refused

JACKSON (AP) — The Jackson County Board of Supervisors has turned down what racetrack owner Leon A. Slavin described as his final offer to purchase the 40-acre Jackson County Fairgrounds in downtown Jackson. Slavin offered $185,000.

Slavin has operated the Jackson raceway on the fairground's track since 1949. He estimates its average betting handle is $2,500,000 for a 36-night harness racing meet. Slavin, who lives in Kalamazoo, said he would be forced to move his racing operation from Jackson unless supervisors agreed to sell him the fairgrounds. He declined to say what sites he was considering, but did say he might lease an established track.

Supervisors "received and filed" Slavin's final offer. They declined to vote on whether they wanted to sell, which members said amounted to a turn-down.

Southfield Would Ease Drain Tax by Amendment

SOUTHFIELD—Faced with the possibility of residents here being assessed $2,006 per acre for the planned Eight Mile storm drain, the city council has drawn up a proposed charter amendment that would extend the time to pay the added tax.

If approved by city voters in a special election, the amendment would extend the time limit on paying off special assessments from 10 to 30 years.

This would ease the tax burden by spreading it over a longer period of time, explained City Clerk Patrick Flannery.

The issue, in relation to the Eight Mile storm drain is theoretical inasmuch as a method of financing the proposed $4,700,000 drain has not been decided to the satisfaction of the county Board of Supervisors.

Mayor Donald L. Swanson, representing Southfield on the Board of Supervisors spearheaded a move which has been able to delay spreading the assessment until local tax committees have had a chance to study it in detail.

Supervisors will reconvene Oct. 26 to receive the committee report.

The issue is presently before the Oakland County Circuit Court where attorneys are debating whether current drain assessment proceedings should be scrapped altogether and new ones initiated where the benefitted areas (Southfield and Oak Park) would be assessed at large instead of through a special assessment district.

The proposed amendment to the city charter would see the city and taxpayers share Southfield's part of the Eight Mile storm drain cost, said Flannery.

A date for the special election on the amendment will be scheduled at the Oct. 19 meeting of the city council, he said.

Oak Park hasn't decided yet what action it will take on the drain construction, its City Manager Virgil C. Knowles said yesterday.

Predict Farm Surplus Gone Within 20 Years

ROCKTON, Ill. (UPI)—A group of leading farm editors predicts that all farm surpluses will vanish in the next 20 years.

The forecast came in a survey of editors attending the Martell-Rickard Farm Editors Forum here.

It also showed the editors believe that farmer-controlled marketing organizations will take over the government's role in agriculture by 1980.

Whole oil can be used in making of vitamin pills, lipstick, machine oil, soap and other products.

Boy, 15, Faces Trial as Adult

Oak Park Man Shot in Holdup Remains on Critical List

Willie Mays, 15, of Detroit, charged with armed robbery with intent to kill, will stand trial as an adult.

Detroit police said the youth has admitted shooting Joseph Weinman, 38, of 22110 Cloverlawn St., Oak Park, in his Detroit pawnshop Sept. 29 during a holdup.

Seriously wounded in the stomach, Weinman remains on the critical list today at Detroit Receiving Hospital.

Mays faces a preliminary hearing in Detroit Recorder's Court tomorrow morning.

Juvenile Court Judge Nathan J. Kaufman waived jurisdiction over the boy after he allegedly confessed the crime to police.

Weinman was robbed of $60 during the holdup and his brother, who was in the store at the time, was slugged over the head and passed out momentarily.

Mays also admitted that he stabbed a private policeman about a week earlier when he surprised Mays and his accomplice at the rear of a home in Detroit's Palmer Woods section, Detroit police said.

Mays will be tried with ex-convict William Floyd, 23, of Highland Park.

SPEAKS AT MSUO — Principal speaker at yesterday's "Clergymen's Convocation" at Michigan State University Oakland was the Dean of Chapel and Plummer Professor of Christian Morals at Harvard University, Dr. George A. Buttrick, far right. He was introduced by Methodist Bishop Marshall R. Reed, president of the Michigan Council of Churches, at left. Chairman of the steering committee in charge of the day-long program was the Rev. Robert F. Hermanson of the University Presbyterian Church, Avon Township, in the center. The convocation drew 100 ministers of many faiths to the new university.

Dean of Harvard Chapel Addresses 100 at MSUO

By LEE WINBORN

A hundred ministers from Macomb and Oakland counties yesterday heard one of the country's leading religious educators urge them to press steadily forward in their striving for truth.

The occasion was the first Clergymen's Convocation at Michigan State University Oakland with Dr. George A. Buttrick, Dean of Chapel at Harvard University, as the principal speaker.

In an inspiring address, Dr. Buttrick defined truth as a "land of fact, ever increasing with the addition of more facts, organized into self-harmonious knowledge through which the mind steadily presses and may eventually reach."

He said he hoped that the new university, without imposed pattern or crippling entanglements, will have the courage to teach Biblical thought in its true light.

The Senior Choir will organize during its practice session at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the parsonage, 191 W. Tienken Rd. New officers also will be elected for the coming year. All members are expected to be present.

Dr. Buttrick urged his ministerial colleagues to preach to the "dynamic depths of the subconscious" of man whom he described as having "one leg in time and one in eternity."

One of the primary objectives of the day-long convocation was to explore the educational needs the new university can serve.

Fields considered by the clergymen were guidance and counseling, church business administration, church architecture trends, changes in secular education, and teaching techniques and methods.

They also explored the possibility of offering Bible education, leadership development, sermon preparation and interprofessional encounters.

The steering committee, calling itself the "Clergy Friends of MSUO" yesterday was named to act as the permanent committee.

Another six members will be elected next year with all 12 to serve for two years with an overlap of experience on the board.

Elected were the Rev. Robert Hermanson, University Presbyterian Church, Avon Township, the Rev. Raymond Wolf, American Lutheran Church, Mount Clemens, the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, First Methodist Church, Rochester, and the Rev. J. E. Yates, Emmanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church, Royal Oak.

The rest of the permanent members of the committee are the Rev. Lenworth R. Minor, Macomb Baptist Church, Pontiac, and the Rev. Joseph Chapman, Bethany Baptist Church, Pontiac.

Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, director of continuing education at MSUO, is an ex-officio member of the permanent body.

The group yesterday decided to try launching the first in a series of programs for church school teachers in November. The subject will be teaching techniques and methods of instruction.

Other programs also will be held for religious education directors and the ministers themselves during the coming year.

The newly elected committee will serve as a liaison between the larger group of clergymen and the university.

The programs it is planning are designed to appeal not only to the protestant clergymen, but also to ministers and laymen of all faiths. It is hoped that the larger organization will become interdenominational with representation from all faiths in the area MSUO serves.

Chancellor D. B. Varner, speaking to the clergymen in the morning session, told them MSUO stands ready to assist all professional groups in their pursuit of excellence, helping them to improve the quality of their performance.

Oakland Firm to Aid Students

Two Scholarships for MSUO Given by Local National Twist Drill

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Howard L. McGregor Jr., president of National Twist Drill and Tool Co. here, has presented two scholarships to freshmen at Michigan State University Oakland, in behalf of his company.

The tuition awards, amounting to more than $500, represented the enthusiasm and interest felt by the company in having a new university in the community, McGregor said.

He said that the firm, like many other business interests in the area, wanted to accept the responsibility of doing all in their power to support higher education in the Oakland-Macomb community.

D. B. Varner, chancellor of MSUO, welcomed the gift of the two scholarships as an act of generosity that will have two notable benefits.

First, he said, the scholarships will make it possible for two worthy students to go to college. And second, the scholarships will give the company an active interest in the university as a community enterprise.

The fact that some 50 scholarships have been donated by individuals and firms in the area, attest, Varner said, to an unusual degree of community interest in, and support of, the university's program.

Food Best Way Boys Club Gets Land; to Rival Soviet Begins Building Fund

Economist Says U.S. Should Use Agriculture to Fight Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A White House economic adviser says America should make agriculture "a major testing ground" in its rivalry with the Soviet Union.

Don Paarlberg, President Eisenhower's special assistant on economic matters, said there was no other area where American strength so greatly exceeds Russia.

He said the way to turn America's agricultural superiority to international advantage was to share the fruits of U.S. abundance and help other nations step up their own farm production.

Paarlberg, who spoke at the Agriculture Department yesterday, took his theme from President Eisenhower's proposal to set up a "food for peace" program.

He said the United States already has gone a long way toward using surplus farm goods for advancing American foreign policy but more should be done.

Paarlberg said, though, that care must also be taken to avoid "dumping" crops on other countries and threatening international price structures.

$95,000 Pledged for New Church in Clarkston

CLARKSTON—A final tabulation of the Methodist Church Ground-Breaking Crusade this week shows a total of $95,000 pledged for a new church, according to the Rev. William J. Richards, pastor.

More than 100 men of the church called at 600 Clarkston area homes in the campaign for the new church scheduled for construction in early April.

Kingscott Architects and Engineers Co. of Kalamazoo has been hired to design and supervise the construction.

The new church will be of colonial architecture to coincide with the parsonage across from the Clarkston high school.

With a balance of some $81,000 in the building fund, and the new total pledged, church officials plan to borrow an equal amount to begin construction next spring.

Auction Saturday 5 P.M. at Paint Creek Church

GOODISON — The Paint Creek Community Methodist Church will stage an auction Saturday, beginning at 5 p.m., at the church located at the intersection of Orion and Collins roads.

Auctioneer will be Duane Upton. He will take bids on furniture, farm equipment, electrical equipment, dishes and other donated items.

The final pick-up of contributions will be made Saturday. Persons with articles to donate are asked to contact either Harold Brion or Mickael Mannino.

KEEGO HARBOR — The home-Plans for the building are being less Boys' Club of West Bloomfield prepared by the National Boys' Club, parent organization.

Heart of the Lakes VFW Post 2706 here has made a site available to the boys for a new clubhouse. They lost their old one behind the Roosevelt High School when it was torn down this summer to allow expansion of the school building.

A 99-year lease on 300 square feet of property on Summers street, behind the VFW Hall, was given to the boys' club by the VFW for a token fee of $1 a year with an option to buy the site.

The next step for the boys is to raise money to build a new clubhouse on the site. They have $1,750 in the kitty and already have gained another $250 in their current "Bucks for Blocks" campaign.

In their fund drive, the boys are selling tickets for $1 each, enough to buy one cement block to add to the construction of the clubhouse.

"We want to build a 50 by 70 foot clubhouse on the site," announced Carl Missett Sr., director of the Boys' Club.

"We figure we can build it ourselves, with a little volunteer help perhaps, for $10,000," he added.

He was charged with beating his wife and being drunk in a public place which is contrary to a city ordinance. The wife-be

Lanza Teeter-Tottered on Success Ladder

From Our News Wires
HOLLYWOOD — Mario Lanza's career was one of the movies' strangest.
 The one-time piano mover who might have become the greatest singing star in movie history, died of a heart attack Wednesday in Rome, Italy, at age 38, thousands of miles from the Hollywood he hated.

The late Italian conductor, Arturo Toscanini, once said that Lanza possessed "the greatest voice of the 20th Century."

From poor beginnings in Philadelphia's tough neighborhoods, he won quick success that brought him more than a million dollars in one year. His golden tenor voice made him popular with millions—both bobby soxers and their mothers.

His first movies were fantastic successes. Then he tossed over his career and did nothing for a year. He got in a fight with that Hollywood giant, MGM, over his role in "Student Prince." They said he was washed up.

Yet he came back, making headlines again and again. He never equalled his first success, but nonetheless was doing well.

Remember these incidents?
 1935—A Las Vegas casino canceled his $100,000 night club engagement because he failed to appear. His story was that he had laryngitis.

1934—A storm of controversy when he starred in a TV spectacular, and it was learned afterward that his songs were recorded. He was only mouthing the lyrics. Later, to prove he hadn't lost his voice, he did another show, singing live.

BATTLED WEIGHT

Mario's biggest battle was with weight. He loved spaghetti and the grape. Without trying he could balloon to 200 pounds, plus. He tried to slim down for his movie roles.

But in some films he appeared slimmer in certain scenes than in others. Several of his movies were delayed because he failed to trim down in time to start them.

In 1937 he shed nearly 100 pounds, getting down to a slender (for him) 184 and embarked on a new career in Europe.

He has since appeared in a series of films abroad, interspersing movie work with concert tours.

In 1951, at 29, Lanza was the wonder boy of the music world. His rise from piano mover to triple-threat king of concerts, phonograph records and movie boxoffices had all show business talking.

A handsome fellow with dark curly hair and a cleft chin, his booming voice and emotional delivery had made him the darling of the bobby soxers. But his popularity didn't stop there. Matrons, business men and grandmothers queued up to him, too.

He was a one-man bonanza, too.

THE GREAT CARUSO

"Lanza proves hottest longhair draw with $177,720 gross in 22 concerts," read a Variety headline after one of his tours.

"The Great Caruso," his best-known film, was setting boxoffice records.

His recording of "Be My Love" sold about 1,500,000 copies, "unbelievable" according to RCA Victor for a Red Seal classic. Another "Loveliest Night of the Year," also topped 1,000,000.

His concert tours were the most remunerative since Nelson Eddy's.

Yet his critical reception was only fair. The consensus was that he had warmth and great power, but was technically crude and needed training.

Lanza was largely self-taught. He came to Hollywood with only 15 months of lessons.

Lanza's Rags to Riches Saga

The only son of poor Italian parents, he grew up amid the tenements of Philadelphia's South Side. It was an "opera" neighborhood—the families discussed music like Brooklyn talk baseball.

From the age of six Mario haunted a record shop owned by a neighbor, playing operatic arias. He listened by the hour to his father's collection of Caruso records.

But he didn't get seriously interested in singing until he was 19. Having no money for training, he began to sing along with Caruso on records.

A friend introduced him to an opera singer who took him to the head of a concert agency. He was told to practice more. Instead, Mario went to work for his grandfather, hauling pianos in a truck.

WON 1ST OVATION

One day, delivering a piano to the Philadelphia Academy of Music, he again met the agency head, William Huff. Huff introduced him to his companion and suggested that Mario sing. He did, and the friend was impressed.

The friend it turned out, was Conductor Serge Koussevitzky. He invited Lanza to the Berkshire Music Festival, where he won his first ovation.

Shortly after his New York debut, Mario was called into the Army. He served nearly three years in various entertainment units. Discharged in 1945, he was almost broke.

Jim Murray, the former RCA Victor vice president, interviewed him at that time and recalls: "He weighed nearly 300 pounds—100 more than he does now. He told me he was bothered by

GOP Long Range Report Accents Liberation Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — American foreign policy should give top priority to "peaceful liberation" of captive peoples from Communist domination, a Republican study committee said today.

"We must encourage and exploit any weakening of the bonds that tie the satellites to Moscow," said the 40-member committee, named last March to recommend long-range goals for the GOP.

It thus sounded the "liberation" note that formed a prominent part of the Republican party's 1952 platform, but which administration foreign policy pronouncements have soft-pedaled in recent years.

The committee, however, was careful to qualify its liberation proposal with the words "peaceful" and "nonviolent."

The group, called the Committee on Program and Progress, also endorsed a proposed international agreement for the demilitarization of outer space.

Its report of 8,500 words on "national security and peace," made public by the Republican party, is a comprehensive statement on foreign and defense policies, recommended as guide lines for future party planning.

In the foreign affairs field, the report favored (1) progressive shifting of foreign economic aid from government grants to private investments and loans, (2) conditional trade with Communist states that will "help thaw the cold war," and (3) creation of an emergency military force by the United Nations in the event of crisis.

The committee advocated maintenance of a balanced and rounded defense with a variety of weapons for either global or limited wars, but with the United States striving constantly for disarmament agreements.

"We seek to insure that the frontiers of the free world rest not on our own shores, not on the shores of the Atlantic and the Pacific, but on the very borders of the Sino-Soviet bloc itself," the committee said.

catarrh so badly that on some days he couldn't sing."

Murray signed him anyway and it was quite a deal—for Lanza.

He got a $3,000 bonus and the contract stipulated he would work

Lanza buckled down. He saw a doctor for his catarrh. He dieted and exercised to lose weight. He studied under Enrico Rosati in New York. And gradually his career gained momentum.

He made concert tours. One summer he sang for Jan Peerce while the latter vacationed from his radio show. He got offers from Hollywood, but turned them down. They weren't big enough.

When he made his first appearance at the Hollywood Bowl in 1947, representatives of most of the big studios were on hand.

Lanza got a huge ovation after his first aria (his wife says it lasted 12 minutes). After that, the studio offers were much bigger.

He signed with MGM—on practically his own terms. His contract allowed him to make any entertainment deals he wanted to except for television.

Kidnaped? Or Off on a Lark?

3 Montana Girls Missing

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Are three teenaged high school girls off on a lark with three California desperadoes who disguised themselves with fancy cowboy clothes and polite manners? Or have they been kidnaped?

FBI agents and local officers, seeking an answer to those questions, directed an ever-widening search today for a rose pink 1959 Pontiac sedan.

The girls have been unreported since they stepped into that car last Friday at the Helena High School. They are Claudia Fuller, 17, Sharon Lee McDowell, 16, and Sharon Irene Balazs, 17, members of families in modest circumstances.

For a few days before, they had been dating three newcomers to Helena.

Sheriff Dave Middlemas said the men, dressed in "fancy cowboy clothes," talked of plans to lease or buy a ranch. The girls, all horse lovers, appeared to be impressed.

Actually, the sheriff said, the three men are "armed, desperate and dangerous—as bad as they come."

The FBI identified them as George R. Jann, 29, Frank H. Spicer, 24, and Frank E. Fisher, age unknown. Jann and Spicer escaped Sept. 11 from a Soledad, Calif., prison where they were serving burglary terms.

U.S. N-Experts Off for Russia

Atomic Group Planned Exchange Visits When Khrushchev Was Here

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of top U.S. nuclear experts leaves today for the Soviet Union, starting an exchange of visits and information with Soviet scientists. The visits may be the forerunner of an increased exchange of nonmilitary atomic information. But neither of the hosts is expected to disclose any new information during the tours.

Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission will head a delegation of six experts leaving for Moscow late today. Prof. Vasily S. Emelyanov, Soviet director of peaceful uses of atomic energy, is expected to bring a group of Soviet specialists here next month.

The exchanges were arranged by McCone and Emelyanov while the Soviet scientist was here last month with Premier Nikita Khrushchev. McCone stressed the tours will not involve military installations or operations or the production of weapons or nuclear-powered submarines.

STEPS TO SURVIVAL — In the last 10 years, fires have killed over 100,000 persons in the United States. More than twice that many have been severely burned or disfigured for life. In 1958 alone there were about two million fires in this country at a cost of 1.3 billion dollars in property loss. These figures are cited by the National Fire Protection Association for National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10. Prevention is, of course, the important thing. But when a fire does break out there are certain safety steps each member of the family should know to take. Sketch above shows how a safety-trained family reacts to keep the terror of a fire from turning into tragedy.

2 Rockefeller to Seek Office?

Brother Winthrop May Initiate Campaign for Governor in Arkansas

ATLANTA (AP)—Two Rockefellers may run for major political office in 1960.

Winthrop Rockefeller, visiting Atlanta to exhibit his prized Santa Gertrudis cattle at the Southeastern Fair, said there have been many suggestions that he offer as a candidate for governor of Arkansas.

Some persons have suggested that he should run on the Democratic ticket but he said in an interview with the Atlanta Journal: "I don't know whether or not I'll run, but I do know it won't be as a Democrat."

He is waiting, along with everyone else, to see if his older brother, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, offers as a Republican presidential candidate.

Winthrop Rockefeller said his brother has not confided in him because "he is a very discreet person." He added that his brother would fulfill his obligation to the people of New York.

The younger Rockefeller operates a 5,000-acre ranch near Morilton, Ark.

GOP Forces Angry in New Hampshire

Political Hornets Nest Stirring

WASHINGTON (AP) Republicans wondered today whether a political squeeze play is developing in New Hampshire that could affect the 1960 GOP presidential nomination contest.

Gov. Wesley Powell said Tuesday he is prepared to support Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) as a favorite son candidate. That came as chilling news for supporters who have been trying to get New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller into the state's presidential primary next March.

There is speculation that if the senator were to let his name go into the primary, there would not be much room left for either Rockefeller or Vice President Richard M. Nixon to enter the contest.

Since Bridges is tabbed as an out-and-out Nixon supporter, a favorite son delegation could be expected to throw its support to the vice president at the July party convention.

On the other hand, Nixon's friends were obviously disappointed by Powell's fresh declaration at a news conference that he is maintaining neutrality between Nixon and Rockefeller.

Asked to evaluate their qualifications for the presidential nomination the governor said he regards them so far as equal.

Because Powell is a former protégé of and administrative assistant to Bridges, Nixon's backers had hoped the governor would be on their side.

But Powell may face a stiff fight for renomination and re-election next year. Some New Hampshire politicians thought his comment about Bridges might be a means of sidestepping a direct presidential stand now to await further developments.

Bridges didn't say yes and he didn't say no to Powell's idea that he become a favorite son candidate. The senator said he was gratified that Powell had said he would get substantial backing for the nomination from New England states.

Bridges noted in a statement that he intends to become a candidate for re-election to the Senate next year.

Most of Bridges' friends seem to think that he has laid aside the presidential ambitions he held as early as 1936 when he was governor of the state. They doubt that he can be enticed into even a favorite son role again.

Savers Are Snapping up Tempting U.S. Note Issue

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—This is a nation of savers as well as a nation of spenders. The United States Treasury has just underscored that point by the unexpected rush of small investors to buy its new five per cent notes.

Some think the Treasury now may have found an interest ceiling and that after the usual fall rise has run its course rates will level off. So the borrowers have some reason to rejoice today, too.

A lot of the savers were just changing from one form of savings to another, it's true. And the Treasury is competing with the savings banks, savings and loan associations, its own savings bonds—and possibly the stock market—in placing its 4-year, 10-month notes into the hands of the small savers.

But the number of persons who could lay their hands on from $1,000 to $25,000 in cash for a savings type Treasury note surprised the Treasury itself. Estimates of the total amount thus sold run from one half to one billion dollars. The remainder of the two-billion-dollar issue will be allotted among the investment institutions, trust funds and banks, which are believed to have oversubscribed it heavily.

The Treasury is pleased at getting its notes into the hands of those it thinks more likely to hold onto them than are banks which use them for setting up credit for loans to business—which the money managers tab inflationary.

But there are others who aren't so pleased.

Seeing their customers withdraw funds to buy Treasury notes, some banks are wondering if they'll have to raise the interest rates they pay on time deposits to compete. Savings and loan associations have the same problem.

Since these two are prime sources of money for mortgage investment, builders are asking if available funds for the housing boom will be drying up from the Treasury competition.

But the Treasury's success takes it out of the really short-term money market for that amount, easing some of the pressure that has been sending interest rates up.

Summer Uprising in Haiti Is Probed

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI)—An inter-American investigating team headed by John C. Dreier of the United States has arrived here to look into last summer's invasion of Haiti.

The group, a subcommittee of the peace commission of the Organization of American States, was assigned to investigate recent disorders in the Caribbean under the terms of the recent Santiago agreement.

Dreier said the subcommittee will leave Thursday for the Dominican Republic, also the target of an invasion attempt during the summer. He said the subcommittee's report probably will not be published until February.

14 Game Card for Michigan Teams

By The Associated Press
Michigan college football teams clash with nine out-of-state opponents this weekend on a 14-game card.

State gridders hold a 16-13 edge in interstate battles but the Michigan boys might have a tough time maintaining the edge this weekend.

A full slate of MIAA games is on schedule, as usual, with Hope going outside the loop for a home game against Wabash. The Indiana school was a 27-7 winner over another MIAA school, Kalamazoo, in its opener, but last lost two straight since.

The honeymoon may be over for Olivet, riding on cloud nine after winning two of three games. Hillsdale, one of the state's three undefeated-united teams, probably will puncture the bubble Saturday night at Hillsdale. Olivet has not beaten a Hillsdale team since 1937, and the victory before that was all the way back to 1926.

Adrian and Albion renew a feud that began back in 1909. This year's game will be played at Adrian, and hometown Bulldogs will be seeking to end a string of nine straight victories by the Albion crew. Adrian's last victory over Albion was a 26-7 verdict in 1949, and the Bulldogs have scored only three touchdowns against Albion in the last four years.

Joe Campbell Named Golf's No. 1 Rookie

Twenty-three-year-old Joe Campbell has been named "Golf Rookie of the Year" for 1959, it was announced today. Campbell was selected for the honor by vote of the year's twenty-five leading money-winners on the Professional Golfers' Association tour. He is the third to win the coveted award. Ken Venturi was the first winner in 1957 with Bob Goalby named last year.

Campbell has earned over $10,000 in prize money this season and is a natural athlete despite his relatively small stature. A native of Indiana, he played guard on the Purdue University basketball team in addition to his "major" in golf. In college, he won the NCAA Championship in 1955 and was the Western Conference individual titlist the following year.

As an amateur, Campbell won a place on the 1958 United States Walker Cup team, and finished second in the Western Amateur that year. He turned pro after the 1958 Master's tournament in Augusta where he racked up a creditable 314. He did not, however, immediately go on tour but accepted a playing job at the Beaverbrook Country Club in Knoxville, Tenn., a position he still holds.

Hanovers Featured in Futurity Today

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Diller Hanover and John A. Hanover meet today in the final round of trotting's triple crown, the Kentucky Futurity.

They will be among a field of 10 in a race valued at $53,930 if all start. Also in the field is the Silk stablemate of Diller Hanover, who finished second in the Hambletonian.

A victory could make the favored Diller Hanover odds-on choice for harness horse-of-the-year.

Alma is at Kalamazoo for the other MIAA contest.

Eastern Michigan goes to Northern Michigan for the second time on the football field. Central Michigan tries to get back in the interstate conference title picture, taking on Illinois normal, a team the chippewas have defeated seven times in nine previous meetings.

Hawks Rout Rangers, 5-2; Canadiens Skate Tonight

By The Associated Press
The talent-laden Montreal Canadiens swing into the 43rd National Hockey League season tonight as the strong favorites to wrap up their fifth straight championship and Stanley Cup.

Boston's Bruins, beaten by Toronto in the first round of the 1958-59 playoffs, furnish the opposition at Montreal. A year ago the Flying Frenchmen were a little slow off the mark but once they got rolling they spread-eagled the field.

Coach Toe Blake, who readily admits he has quite a hockey aggregation in the Canadiens, calls the Chicago Black Hawks the team he fears most. Last season the Canadiens eliminated the Hawks in the first round of the Stanley Cup competition after a fierce struggle.

"They have shed their losing complex," said Blake of the Hawks which finished third last year after missing the playoffs for many years.

And the Hawks showed the Mon-

Wings Win, 4-3 in Exhibition

Detroit Skaters Score 12 Straight Preseason Victories

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings overcame a two-goal deficit last night, scoring three times in the final period to pull out a 4-3 victory over Sudbury of the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

The victory extended Detroit's unbeaten string to 12, in exhibition games this year.

The Wings, down 3-1 at the end of two periods, exploded in the third. Norm Ullman fired a goal, Gordie Howe then tied the score and Alex Delvecchio posted the winner.

Detroit plays its final exhibition tonight, opening the National Hockey League season at Montreal Saturday and returning home Sunday to meet the New York Rangers.

Local Dates Reserved for Ladies State Meet

The State Women's Bowling tournament will start in Detroit December 5th and Pontiac WIBC secretary Peggy Bender reports that reservations for local entries have been made for December 12th and January 9th. Bowlers should call Mrs. Bender at FE 5-5343 for desired date. The tourney will be at Great Lake Recreation on Woodward near Palmer Park.

Moorhead State has lost four in a row and will be the underdog against Michigan Tech in the game at Houghton. Allegheny is rated a slight favorite over Wayne State in a Presidents' Conference game.

Western Michigan tries again for its first Mid-American Conference victory but the outlook is dim. The Broncos face Bowling Green, always tough and winner of two straight so far.

Oregon State and Michigan are rated even and Iowa is slightly favored over Michigan State in the Big Ten encounters.

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's two rival fight clubs merged yesterday and announced the first of a proposed weekly boxing card at the Boston Arena.

The first bout, matching former world heavyweight champion Erizard Charles and New England heavyweight champion Lee Williams, will be held Oct. 20.

The new partnership—a merger of the Sharkey A.A. and the Goodwin A.C.—brings together Sam Silverman, Johnny Buckley, Tony Valenti and Nuno Cam. It will operate as the Sharkey A.A. with Silverman the matchmaker.

America Called Cultural Pygmy

Musicians' Head Says That at This Rate We'll Leave Minor Heritage

NEW YORK — Herman Kenin, president of the American Federation of Musicians, said Tuesday that unless America develops its culture and art, it will leave only a minor mark in the history of man.

Kenin, chairman of a lunch of President Eisenhower's music committee of the people-to-people program, said in an address prepared for delivery to the committee and its guests that "until recently we have been immersed in the physical problems of a pioneer nation."

"In addition, he said, America has had to fight two major wars and generally defend its ideals. "Now we have reached our national maturity," he said. "It is a time to consolidate our gains, to reflect upon our future. But above all it is a time when we can afford to apply our talents and our energies to the greater development of our national culture and our native arts."

Red Ocean Research Amazes Westerners

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI)—The Soviet Union apparently is as far down in ocean research as it is up in space technology. This was the feeling today among Western scientists attending the 61 nation, 47th annual international council for the exploration of the sea here. Frank amazement was expressed by the non-Communist scientists at the extent and scope of Soviet sea research, particularly because Russian reports released here only cover operations in the area of interest to the council. This area includes the eastern North Atlantic from the Barents Sea to West Greenland and from the ice border to the equator. It is well known Soviet ocean research also is being conducted on a large scale in the Arctic Sea off Siberia, the Pacific and in the northwest Atlantic.

Miss Universe Contest at Miami Beach in '60

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Miami Beach will be host to the 1960 Miss Universe contest. Eliminations will start July 4, with finals scheduled for national television coverage July 9. Miss Colombia won the title of Miss Universe in the 1959 contest, held at Long Beach, Calif. Hank Meyer, city publicity director, announced the contest will be held in conjunction with "International Month," a tribute to the 50 or more nations expected to be represented.
