UF Collects 75 Pct. of Goal With 6 Days to Go

Initial Urban Renewal Area

This is the area selected by Pontiac's planning consultants as the initial site to undergo a $4,030,372 rehabilitation program. The city last week made application to the federal government for a grant of $1,705,346, the government's participation in the program.

From this sum the city hopes to get $98,000 so that continued surveys and plans be made to continue the program. Officials have stressed that all structures in this area — termed central business district fringe number one — will not necessarily be torn down.

They also say that it will be several years before actual physical work commences.

The city's first urban renewal program was drafted by the firm of Geer Associates of Birmingham. David S. Geer said the 155-acre parcel was chosen because of its proposed use as a civic center, potential increase of more off-street parking, deterioration of homes, and the fact that it must be 55 per cent residential to qualify for federal aid.

Tigers, Athletics Swap 13

Bengals Giving Maas, House, Tuttle, Small

Peppery Billy Martin, Zernial, Tom Morgan Coming to Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Tigers and Kansas City Athletics today completed a 13-player trade, one of the biggest swaps in history of the major leagues.

The Tigers sent outfielders Billy Tuttle and Jim Small, pitchers John Tsitouris and Duke Maas, catcher Frank House, and two minor league players to be named later to the A's.

In return, they got infielder Billy Martin, catcher Tim Thompson, pitchers Mickey McDermott and Tom Morgan, and outfielders Gus Zernial and Lou Skizas.

Six American League teams reportedly have been bidding for the services of Martin, the aggressive 29-year-old infielder who played five seasons with the New York Yankees before he was traded to the A's last June after the "Copa incident." He hit .252 lase season and connected for 10 homeruns.

The seasoned Zernial, with 225 homeruns in his lifetime, including 27 last year, is expected to play left field with Charley Maxwell shifting to another garden or possibly first base.

Morgan, 27, another former Yankee, probably will be used as a relief pitcher—a Detroit weakness this year when the team finished fourth.

Thompson, 34, hit only .205 last season but caught the eye of Detroit brass when he hit three home runs in three straight games at Briggs Stadium.

Tuttle and House were major disappointments for the Tigers. House, signed for $82,000 and two cars in 1948, never hit more than .260 for the Bengals.

Tuttle joined Detroit in 1954, and hit a promising .266 and .279 the next two seasons before slipping to .251 this year.

Kansas City probably considers "prizes" of the swap. Small has shown a great deal of potential but had little opportunity to play because of inexperience.

Maas posted a 10-14 record with Detroit last summer.

General Manager John McHale of Detroit said "We are gambling the future against a better ball club in 1958." He said the Tigers are "still after a catcher and anybody else that can help us."

Manager Jack Tighe said he will use Martin at shortstop with Harvey Kuenn moving to first base or the outfield. He expressed confidence in Morgan as both a starting pitcher and a reliefer.

Farmer Unmoved as Grisly Findings Mount

Gein Grilled on Murders

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Ed Gein, 51-year-old bachelor, appeared to show no remorse, a state criminologist said last night, after more than five hours of questioning in connection with the slaying of a widow and the finding of 10 human skulls in his farm home.

Charles Wilson, head of the Wisconsin State Crime Laboratory, said he could not detect any remorse, "just a sort of detachment."

Gein, brought to Madison for interrogation in connection with the butchering of Mrs. Bernice Worden of Plainfield, Wis., faced further questioning today.

★ ★ ★

As Gein's grisly story was being investigated, Sheriff Herbert Wanserski of Portage County said he recognized one of the skulls found on Gein's farm near Plainfield as that of a long-missing woman.

★ ★ ★

Wanserski told newsmen that he did not believe Gein's story that he had taken the assortment of skulls and grisly human remains from cemeteries.

The sheriff said: "We have found the face and head of Mary Hogan among the objects in Gein's farm home."

He said Mrs. Hogan was a 54-year-old Portage County divorcee who disappeared in December 1954 from the rural tavern she operated at Bancroft, about six miles from Gein's farm.

Wanserski said he had taken part in the investigation since it started Saturday night after the discovery of Mrs. Worden's butchered body.

EDWARD GEIN

ADMITS BUTCHERING

Gein has admitted butchering the 58-year-old widow after dragging her bloody corpse from the hardware store she operated in Plainfield.

He insisted, however, he did not remember actually killing Mrs. Worden.

Gein was equally emphatic in saying that he didn't know anything about Mrs. Hogan's disappearance.

INSISTS SKULLS LOOTED

Gein, a handyman and sometime baby sitter, has maintained relics found in his house had been looted from graves "while I was in a daze-like."

Gein's attorney William Belter said he had not verified reports that parts of 15 female bodies had been found in Gein's house.

He said an officer at the Gein farm, whom he did not know, had told him there were some "extra"

Pontiac Varnish Resumes Work

Uses Machines Not Hit; Injured Man Reported 'Holding His Own'

The Pontiac Varnish Co. damaged by fire and explosion Monday night, is back in production today, but one of the blast victims is in critical condition.

H. K. Johnson, 44, of 97 Prall St., is "holding his own" at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where he is suffering from third degree burns and shock.

The explosion claimed the lives of two of Johnson's co-workers and caused damage estimated between $150,000 and $200,000.

★ ★ ★

George K. Zimmerman, vice president, said today the building's basic beams are not damaged, and all loose brick has been removed to avoid accidents.

He said the plant is back in production using machinery not hit by the explosion. An investigation has disclosed that some of the mill machinery was only slightly damaged and can be repaired quickly, he added.

Police are still keeping a guard at the plant to keep curiosity seekers away. Last night the fire department made a run to the plant when the night watchman reported flames on the second floor, but no fire was found.

Snow Flurries Due, With Continued Cold

Mostly cloudy and cold tonight and tomorrow, with scattered snow flurries is the forecast for the Pontiac area by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The low tonight will be near 26-30, and Thursday's high will reach around 36-40. Precipitation will total around one-half inch, with snow flurries tonight and Thursday and rain about Saturday night and Sunday.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 32 degrees. The thermometer registered 40 degrees at 2 p.m.

$148,546 Sought to Complete $612,000 Drive

Big Push for Success of One-for-All Campaign to Aid 55 Services

With only six days to go, the Pontiac Area United Fund has reached 75 per cent of its $612,000 goal.

Dr. Dana Whitmer, campaign chairman, said today that $463,454 has been pledged or collected. He urged the volunteer workers to "dig and dig deep to collect the remaining 25 per cent" by next Tuesday's final report and award luncheon.

The Industrial Division leaped to the fore among the campaign groups when an additional $32,000 was turned in today by employes of the 10 Pontiac Manufacturers Assn. plants.

George Watson, division head, said his team has now taken in 81.7 per cent of its $404,273 quota.

Other divisions are not faring as well. The Commercial Division, headed by Carroll Osmun, has the next best record with 61.7 per cent of its quota in. The division has recorded $101,413 out of a $164,280 goal, Osmun stated.

He called an emergency meeting for noon today at which his division leaders will report their progress directly to Dr. Whitmer.

HOME CAMPAIGN LAGS

The Geographic Division, which does the door-to-door solicitations, is straggling with 46.4 per cent of its $21,548 quota in to date.

★ ★ ★

Major trouble, according to Mrs. George Eldred, division chairman, is in Waterford Township where poor weather and Asiatic flu have cut results to only 34.1 per cent of its $6,820 quota.

The Pontiac area reports 53 per cent of its $14,728 quota is in.

Mrs. Ralph T. Norvell with 18 district captains is conducting the Pontiac geographic drive, and Mrs. Donald White is Waterford co-chairman, assisted by 22 district captains.

According to Dr. Whitmer, the 55 agencies supported by this year's

Seek $150,000 for Legal Fees

Teamsters to Raise Fund

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harold J. Gibbons of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters said today officers of the union hope to raise a $150,000 legal defense fund.

"If we could get $150,000 I would feel very happy," said Gibbons, an international vice president of the union.

"It would be used in case any of us got into any kind of legal troubles so that we would have some kind of financial assistance."

Gibbons said only full-time paid officers of the union would contribute to the fund. Those participating would give a $1,000 promissory note to be paid off at the rate of $10 a week.

★ ★ ★

"A number of us thought about it and kicked the idea around because if we lose a paycheck we are in trouble," Gibbons said.

"The plans developed from a series of talks and informal conversations."

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The fund would be administered by a board of trustees, Gibbons said.

★ ★ ★

Asked if the fund would be used to help provide legal aid for James R. Hoffa, the union's president-elect, Gibbons said:

"I think Mr. Hoffa has raised some money of his own. He has mortgaged his home. Obviously he would be entitled to consideration. I haven't even discussed it with him and it will not be raised in terms of Jimmy Hoffa."

Trial of Hoffa on a wiretap charge will start Friday. Federal Judge Frederick Van Pelt in New York set the date Tuesday, declaring he saw no reason for further delay. Hoffa also is under indictment on a perjury charge.

Hoffa is charged with conspiring to tap illegally the telephones in the Teamsters Union

Winds Kill Michigan Man, Topple Trailers on Bridge

High winds whipped across Michigan Tuesday killing at least one person, toppling car trailers on the Straits of Mackinac Bridge and blanketing points in Upper Michigan with up to 12 inches of snow.

Henry Kortman of Grand Rapids was killed when a tree blew down on him as he operated a bulldozer on a farm south of Allendale.

Winds up to 80 m.p.h. were recorded at the Mackinac Bridge at the peak of the storm. Two light trailers were tipped over but no one was injured.

Muskegon reported gusts of 60 m.p.h. Lake vessels were kept in harbors because of high winds sweeping Lake Michigan.

Iron Mountan reported a foot of snow. The eastern part of the Upper Peninsula was due to get more snow today.

Boats were sheltered in the St. Mary's River at Sault Ste. Marie as 50 m.p.h. winds hit the area.

Donald Mark, meteorologist at Muskegon, reported 60 m.p.h. wind gusts there but said the full velocity wasn't recorded because some of the weather station's wind-measuring instruments were blown away.

Despite the trailer mishaps the Mackinac Bridge traffic patrol kept vehicles moving at a normal pace. Drivers of cars reported they were not bothered by the gusts.

The high winds hit the state at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. The Weather Bureau said continued high winds were expected to diminish in most areas by tonight.

Winds measured at 30-35 m.p.h. struck the Detroit area, knocking down utility wires and smashing several plate glass windows.

Judge Scores Henry's Tactics

Levin Sets Trial Date on City School Zoning, Angered by Delay

Detroit Federal Judge Theodore Levin yesterday set a December 18 trial date for a suit asking redistricting of Pontiac schools, and blasted Pontiac Negro attorney Milton R. Henry for his courtroom tactics.

★ ★ ★

The suit was filed two years ago by Henry, on behalf of his daughter, Shannon. Henry claimed that the present school district boundaries, while not forcing segregation of races, at the same time do not wholly enforce integration.

Judge Levin threatened contempt action against Henry if he did not comply with court rules, and said the attorney's tactics had delayed trial of the case.

"If it were not for your persecution complex, I would have dis-

Faubus Refuses to Put Troops on Guard Duty

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas says he will not order state police or National Guardsmen in Arkansas to guard anyone in school.

However, the governor said yesterday, Arkansas National Guardsmen will have to carry out federal integration enforcement orders or "they will be court-martialed at the drop of a hat."

The Army announced all regular Army troops would be withdrawn from the high school and integration orders would be handled entirely by federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen.

Faubus said he wouldn't "take any state police force or National Guardsmen to transport anybody to school and guard them while they are in there."

Willing to Surrender Treasure to Rearm Statue

Imlay Boy Offers Bayonet for Union Hero

By DICK SAUNDERS

A 10-year-old Imlay City boy has gallantly offered to complete the rearming of Pontiac's Civil War hero, whose bayonetless rifle was returned to his waiting hands last week.

The Press reported in last Wednesday's paper that the gun stolen from the statue a few years ago had been found by patroling Waterford Township police officers.

It was returned to its rightful owner in the park at N. Saginaw St. and Okland Ave., minus the bayonet which had originally adorned its barrel.

Friday, a letter reached The Press from Ricky Bogart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bogart of 260 Belle River Ave., Imlay City.

Ricky said he had read "that you needed a bayonet for your Civil War rifle."

He continued, "I have got one if you want it. If you want it send a card to me."

ANTIQUE WEAPON

Ricky turned out to have not only an authentic bayonet, but a U. S. Army issue, 1851 Harpers Ferry muzzle loader.

Ricky's father, a foundry worker at the Alma Manufacturing Co., gave him the bayonet several years ago so he'd have something that none of the other boys had. The gun went to Ricky's brother, Larry, 16.

Mr. Bogart explained that he had found the gun and bayonet in the loft of his father's barn in Imlay City about 35 years ago. He doesn't know how much it is worth, but has kept it around just as a family heirloom.

Ricky picked up the paper last week and read the story about our statue. Then he decided to offer his bayonet.

"I kinda hated to see it go," he said, "but I figured you needed it more than I did so I sat down and wrote the letter."

DECLINED OFFER

The youngster was willing to part with the antique, but this reporter declined the generous offer.

However, if the Civil War veteran here ever needs reinforcements, there's a boy in Imlay City ready to come to the rescue with a bayonet to fit his long-wandering rifle.

Pennsylvania Campaign Attracting Industries

(Eighth in a series of articles on taxes and industry.)

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's secretary of commerce, William R. Davlin, says the commonwealth's continuous campaign to attract new industry has brought much success in the past 12 months.

Davlin added:

"We look for industry from out of Pennsylvania to come in at even a greater rate in the future."

CITES FACTORS

Davlin cites three main factors for the increase:

1. The creation in 1956 of the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority with the right to lend up to five million dollars to community groups seeking tenants for industrial plants.

2. A better tax climate for manufacturers and utilities.

3. Professional personnel in the State Commerce Department capable of "charting a course of selling Pennsylvania and then following the course to success."

HAVE EVERYTHING

"We have everything a new industry could want in great quantities and we're not being bashful about letting the world know about it," Davlin said.

A total of 383 million dollars was spent in industrial expansion in Pennsylvania last year as compared with 265 million in 1955.

During the last year 491 new or expanded industrial plants sprang up to provide a job potential far up in the thousands.

AID FIRMS

The Industrial Development Authority already has aided local community organizations with loans totaling $4,162,000 for constructing manufacturing plants to entice new industry.

The state chamber of commerce, an industry organization, says much of the success springs from "an overall revenue system which should be more attractive, not only to corporate management, but to all employes."

Backbone of this contention was elimination, effective Jan. 1, 1958, of the five-mill capital stock tax on Pennsylvania manufacturers. This was done by the last session of the general assembly.

REFUSE TO AGREE

Labor leaders refuse to agree that the tax climate in Pennsylvania played a major part in new industry locating in Pennsylvania.

Harry Boyer, president of the state CIO, said he doubts if repeal of the capital stock tax ever played any part in the relocation of industry in Pennsylvania.

Instead, he and Joseph A. McDonough, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, credit much of the success to "the largest skilled labor surplus of any state and the job the state commerce department has been doing in selling Pennsylvania."

Though there might be some disagreement on how Pennsylvania did it, there is nothing but accord among all circles on the fact that the state did expand its industrial muscles to such a great degree recently.

"Industrial development has increased in Pennsylvania in the last year by about 30 per cent over the previous year," Davlin said.

He added that "the tax structure, particularly as regards this phase of government, was adopted largely on the recommendation of a tax study committee appointed by Democratic Gov. George M. Leader.

REPRESENTS ALL

"This group representing all walks of life and both political parties put aside politics and cooperated to advise on taxes that I feel helped the industrial situation in some way."

The commonwealth operates to a great extent on revenues gained from a three per cent retail sales and use tax — a broad based levy.

The GOP contends this type tax, with considerable exemptions for industry, is the most pleasing for industry and the most equitable for all citizens.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Leader opposed the sales tax but let it become law with reluctance.

Gwilym A. Price, president of Westinghouse Electric Corp., agrees that Pennsylvania "faces a brighter future than it has experienced in the last decade as a result of the improving tax picture."

R. Warren Grigg, industrial development manager for the Pennsylvania Railroad, said:

"The solid obstacle to dynamic growth in this state's economy has been an industrial tax burden heavier than that of most neighboring states. Although further improvement is needed, the outlook for increasing success in bringing industries into Pennsylvania is brightened by initial changes which show a growing recognition of this problem and represent a start in the right direction."

City Commission Accepts Resignation of Brewer

Pontiac city commissioners last night accepted "with regrets" the immediate resignation of Willis M. Brewer as one of the city's seven representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Brewer resigned to accept the newly created post of Oakland County Road Co-ordinator.

In a letter to the City Commission, Brewer informed the city he also intended to resign around Jan. 15 as chairman of the Board of Trustees of Pontiac General Hospital.

"There are a few matters we wish to take care of before retiring," Brewer said regarding the second resignation.

Brewer has been a member of the Board of Trustees since it was formed in July of 1952. He was elected chairman last July.

"My association with the members of the Board of Supervisors and township and county personnel has been most pleasant," the 10-year veteran of the board said.

★ ★ ★

Mayor William W. Donaldson asked that a "fitting tribute be drafted thanking Brewer for his diligent and loyal service to the city." The commission voted unanimously to draft such a resolution.

★ ★ ★

Brewer yesterday accepted the $8,500-a-year post of co-ordinator with the Oakland County Road Commission, a part-time position combined with the job of road commission personnel director.

As road co-ordinator, Brewer will use his influence as a leading Pontiac and Oakland County Democrat in expediting in Lansing state and federal road projects proposed for Oakland County.

He also will be called on to co-ordinate such projects with road proposals desired by Oakland County communities.

Brewer said he would continue as manager of the Secretary of State's Pontiac office, a job which pays wholly on a fee basis.

A Pontiac realtor, Brewer is a former chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee and is now an executive committee member.

'Skull' Farmer Not Remorseful

HEADS SKINNED

Sheriff Wanserski told newsmen that the heads found in the farmhouse had been skinned. The detached portion, he said, made up "faces of a regular size, well preserved, with hair, ears, lips and nose."

The sheriff said he examined 10 such objects, apart from the skulls found in the building, and that "all but two of them are faces. The others are only scalps. The ones with the faces have no eyes, only holes." He confirmed that other items fabricated of human skin were found.

Belter said that he will enter a plea of innocent by reason of insanity when Gein is arraigned in Waushara County Court Monday on a charge of armed robbery. He is being held under $10,000 bond on the charge in connection with the theft of a cash register in Mrs. Worden's store.

There are the crime detective books, a medical anatomical volume, chairs covered with human skin. There are skulls found under chairs in boxes in the home. There are also 10 whistles and toys similar to those found in cereal boxes.

There are even cans of used chewing gum.

Throughout the nine-room house, the floor was heaped knee-deep with trinkets, toys from cereal boxes, bottle caps and old newspapers. One man said:

"About the only kind of container we didn't find were milk or coffee can. He must have lived on oat meal, canned soup and peanut butter."

Prominently propped on a heap in the living room was a black funeral wreath. Since Gein's parents and only brother died in the 1940s, he presumably has been the only person to stalk the nine-room frame house for more than 10 years.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

If you wish to build a home, or a camp, on the side of a hill, which side of the hill should you choose?

There are two main considerations in your choice. You should think about the sun and you should think about the prevailing wind. The best location is to build on the side which gets the winter sun and also the prevailing fair weather wind.

It is true that both conditions cannot always be met. If they can, meet them, for you will enjoy fresh air and cool breezes in summer and winter sun and warmth in the winter—as far as possible.

Moreover, if you are on the wrong side of the hill, as far as the prevailing wind is concerned, you will be troubled more with dust insects, pollen, etc. Wind eddies form on the leeward side as the prevailing breeze passes the hilltop. The cleaner, straight-moving wind on the windward side is preferable.

Night Bus Runs Prove Failure

City Lines Halts Trial Service, Tells Union 36 Rode in 10 Days

Only 36 passengers rode city buses on night runs during a 10-day trial period granted because union officials complained that workers were without transportation, the City Commission learned last night.

E. W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent of Pontiac City Lines, Inc., said this service would again be discontinued today "because you can readily observe there weren't enough riders to warrant continuation."

On Nov. 5, Andrew Wilson, president of GMC Truck and Coach Local 594, UAW, urged restoration of certain runs because of their use by second shift employes. A similar complaint was heard from Pontiac Motor Division Local 653, UAW.

Dreasher, in a letter to the commission, said the 36 passengers represented an average of 3.6 riders per day during the trial. On one day there were only two passengers on all four factory runs, he said.

Officials of the bus company discontinued all service on Sundays, holidays and evenings after 6:45 (except Mondays and Fridays when stores are open) because of lack of patronage.

Judge Scores Henry's Tactics

missed this case long ago or sent you to jail for 10 days.

"If you were not a Negro and walking around with a chip on your shoulder, I would have disciplined you long ago.

"All you do is to come in here and insult me. You talk about human rights and the rights of Negroes and this is an insult to me and to any decent American because you have no right to assume that the judges of this court do not understand the mandate of the U. S. Supreme Court and to assume that there is any prejudice in our hearts because of race or creed.

"I never have been treated so shabbily by anyone.

"You have paid no attention to letters from this court or telephone calls and your promises have meant nothing. I want this case tried. I am going to set this case for trial."

★ ★ ★

Atty. Henry replied, "I take exception. I think I have had some rather extreme cases in these courts and I think I have not been treated like a gentleman when I walked into them."

★ ★ ★

Judge Levin commented, "If you don't abide by the rules of this court, I will have you disciplined. I'm telling you that so you can come prepared. Bring your lunch basket with you and your pajamas because you are not going to be delivering any more speeches to me. We have had a lot of trouble with you in this building."

U.S. Missiles to Britain?

WASHINGTON (INS) — Pentagon sources said today it is possible that Britain will receive an initial supply of U. S. 1,500-mile missiles within a year.

The Day in Birmingham

Real Estate Firms Ask Offices Closed Sunday

BIRMINGHAM — Commissioners have accepted the proposal of the Birmingham Real Estate Board to pass legislation closing these offices on Sundays. The matter has been turned over to the city's legal staff for the proper drafting of the ordinance.

Real estate brokers, who some months ago closed their offices on a voluntary basis, have asked a city ordinance to protect themselves from non-members who might take advantage of their inactivity on this day.

The closing on Sunday has received much favorable comment from the many churches in the area, as well as residents.

Legal advisors have been asked to prepare the ordinance as quickly as possible. State legislation has been asked by real estate men, with the Birmingham group seeking local action as a faster means of protecting their commercial interests.

Another program in the Birmingham Town Hall series is scheduled for tomorrow and Friday mornings at the Birmingham Theater. Mrs. Peter Marshall, widow of the former chaplain of the Senate, will be the featured speaker.

Mrs. Marshall is author of "A Man Called Peter," the book that has sold nearly two million copies and has been translated into many foreign languages.

In 1955 the book was made into a highly successful motion picture.

Her other books include "Mr. Jones, Meet the Master," "The Prayers of Peter Marshall," and two juvenile volumes, "God Loves You," and "Friends with God."

A native of Tennessee and the daughter of a Presbyterian minister, Mrs. Marshall has devoted her time mainly to writing and speaking appearances since her husband's sudden death in 1949.

Town Hall officials are predicting that her appearance here will prove one of the biggest attractions they have ever scheduled.

The customary luncheons and informal chats will be held after both programs, at the Birmingham Country Club.

The basement of the municipal building will be the future home of the water meter repair department. Commissioners had asked that a study be made to try and locate this division in some existing building to save the expense on constructing new quarters.

A meeting with the health department, which is being moved into the former police department quarters, revealed there would be room for the meter section in what had formerly been the detective bureau.

"We want to thank the health department staff for their splendid cooperation in this," Robert Kenning, assistant city manager, said.

No action has been taken on the request of the garbage and rubbish collections in Birmingham until further study of needs can be made. The GR Authority has cited the lack of separation of combustible and non-combustible materials, and made suggestions on how they should be handled.

City officials pointed out that a contract survey with the present collector should be made before action is taken. Grass clippings and wet leaves are the main nuisances. Separate collection costs are deemed too high to enter negotiations without more information.

UF Now in Last Lap With 75 Pct. of Goal

"Give Once for All" drive are counting on a successful campaign to maintain the current level of services to the growing Pontiac area population.

"If we do not reach our quota, it will mean that many of our less fortunate citizens will be without aid they desperately need and other worthwhile youth and adult services will have to be curtailed," he said.

Whitmer paid tribute to the fine work being done by all volunteers, especially singling out George Watson, head of the Industrial Division.

Watson said today, "We have cut out quite a job for ourselves. We handle our own promotion and have trained more than 1,700 solicitors.

"Every supervisor in the Industrial Division is a United Fund solicitor," Watson added.

★ ★ ★

He cited "The civic-minded efforts of both management and labor united in the common cause of bettering their community" as the primary reason for the division's early success.

Admitted Killer Stands Mute

Arraign Former Convict on Murder Charge in Grocer's Death

Edward Drew, 26-year-old confessed slayer of an elderly Commerce Township grocer, yesterday stood mute to a charge of first-degree murder at arraignment in Circuit Court.

Drew, an ex-convict released from Jackson Prison in July, was ordered by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty to stand trial and returned to Oakland County Jail without benefit of bond.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said Drew may be tried in January.

Drew, a Commerce Township man who had served prison time for breaking and entering, has confessed shooting the grocer, Karl Kolm, 63, through the heart with a rifle Oct. 23 at Kolm's store, 1010 Oakley Park Rd., two miles north of Walled Lake.

Ziem said Drew still denies that the shooting occurred during an attempted holdup and that he clubbed Kolm's wife, Amanda, 64, on the head with the rifle as he escaped from the store.

Drew was arrested fleeing the area an hour later, but the rifle has never been found, Ziem said. Drew claimed he tossed it into a muddy canal about a half mile from Kolm's store.

Adjoining Areas Defeat Annexation to Holland

HOLLAND (AP) — The proposed annexation of parts of four adjoining townships to the city of Holland was defeated in an election yesterday.

The city voted in favor of the annexation which would have increased its area from three square miles to 42 square miles and doubled its population of 16,000.

But the areas to be annexed voted overwhelmingly against the proposal.

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Chapter 23

Mason continued, "I'm not worried so much about getting Conway off as I am that the public may take it as a Scotch verdict: Guilty but not proven, and Conway will never be able to live it down."

"He's not the kind who would try very hard," Drake said.

"In some ways he's not a fighter," Mason admitted. "He gets discouraged and throws in the sponge. He'll fight like the devil on a business deal but in a matter of this sort which affects his personal integrity he feels completely crushed.

"You keep in touch with your elevator operator — what the devil's her name?"

"Myrtle Lamar," Drake said.

"She isn't taking you seriously, is she?" Della Street asked. "You aren't going to wind up breaking her heart, are you, Paul?"

"Not Myrtle!" Drake said, grinning. "Her heart is made of India rubber."

"Those are the kind that fool you," Della Street said. "Probably beneath that cynical exterior, she's extremely sensitive and . . .

"Don't you go destroying her illusions, Paul Drake!"

HE GETS A KICK

"You can't destroy them," Drake said, "because she hasn't got 'em. As a matter of fact, I get a kick out of being with her. She knows that I'm trying to pick her brains to find out something about the case that has eluded us so far, and she's doing everything she can to help.

"She's telling me every little thing she can think of about the operation of the hotel, about what happened that night and all that.

"My gosh! The gossip I can tell you about the things that go on in the hotel—And what a miserable, little stooge this Bert King is! He'd do absolutely anything just to curry favor with the authorities."

Again Mason started pacing the floor. "The trouble is we're one woman short in this matter. That woman couldn't have disappeared into thin air. She couldn't have disappeared from Gifford Farrell's life. He wouldn't have dared to let her.

* * *

"Tomorrow I'm going to start asking embarrassing questions. The prosecution isn't accustomed to trying cases against lawyers who know anything about forensic medicine. The average lawyer considers it out of his line, and doesn't bother to study up on it. In this the medical testimony is of the greatest importance and has some peculiar angles.

"Moreover, we're missing that woman and . . ."

Suddenly Mason stopped stock-still in his pacing, paused in the middle of a sentence.

Della Street looked up quickly. "What is it, Chief"

Mason didn't answer her question for a matter of two or three seconds, then he said slowly, "You know, Paul, in investigative work the worst thing you can do is to get a theory and then start trying to fit the facts to it. You should keep an open mind and reach your conclusion after the facts are all in."

"Well, Drake said, "what's wrong?"

"Throughout this entire case," Mason said, "I've let my thinking be influenced by Jerry Conway. He's told me that this was a frameup which was engineered by Gifford Farrell, that the line to his office had been tapped, and that he was suckered into this thing by Farrell."

"Well, it stands to reason," Drake said. "We know that someone cut in on the program Evangeline Farrell had mapped out for Conway. Mrs. Farrell was going to make certain that he wasn't followed and then she was going to have him meet her where she could give him those papers.

"She was to call him at six-fifteen, but somebody beat her to the punch by a couple of minutes and . . ."

"And we've jumped to the conclusion that it was some accomplice of Giff Farrell!" Mason said.

"Well, why not? The whole setup, the substitution of guns, the burying of the fatal weapon—all that shows a diabolical ingenuity and . . ."

Mason said, "Paul, I've got an idea. Get your friend Myrtle Lamar and have her in court tomorrow. Sit there in court and have her listen. I want to have her beside you."

"She has to work, Perry . . ."

"I'll serve a subpoena on her as a witness for the defense," Mason said, "then she'll have to be there. I'm beginning to get the nucleus of an idea, Paul.

"You say you've had trouble holding your man Inskip in line?"

* * *

"I told you we'd have trouble," Drake said. "He keeps feeling that he's withholding evidence that the police should have and it bothers him. When you finally spring your idea and he's called as a witness the police will want to know why he didn't give them the tip, and . . ."

"Let him give them the tip," Mason said.

"What do you mean?"

"Get hold of Inskip," Mason said. "Tell him to go to the police. Let him tell the police that his conscience is bothering him and he can't hold out any longer, that he knows I have an ace in the hole, that we discovered this hole in the mattress in Room 728.

"Let him give them the bullet that we took from the mattress and let Redfield check that bullet with the Smith & Wesson gun Conway turned over to the police. The bullets will check."

Drake said, "That would be awfully nice from Inskip's viewpoint but it would leave you right out in the open, Perry. They would know exactly what you were trying to do."

"That's okay," Mason said. "That suits my plans fine!"

"And then what'll happen?"

"Then tomorrow," Mason said, "the prosecution will feel they know what I'm leading up to and they'll want time to combat it. I think this Dr. Garfield is a pretty fair sort of Individual. I'll start laying the foundation and Hamilton Burger will go into a panic. He'll start stalling for time."

"But you've been the one who wanted to rush things along so you could have the case over before the stockholders' meeting. . ."

"I know, I know," Mason interrupted. "There's still time. Go ring up Inskip. Tell him to go tell the police the whole story!"

"The whole story?" Drake asked.

* * *

"Everything!" Mason said. "Then get your girl, Myrtle Lamar, and be in court tomorrow morning. I'm beginning to get the damndest idea and, I think it's predicated on sound logic."

TRIAL RESUMES

Judge DeWitt said, "The jurors are all present. The defendant is in court. At the conclusion of yesterday's testimony Dr. Reeves Garfield was on the stand. Will you please resume your place on the stand, Dr. Garfield?"

Dr. Garfield took his place in the witness chair.

* * *

"Directing your attention to this discoloration which you noticed on the left side of the body," Mason asked, "can you tell us more about the nature of that discoloration?"

* * *

"It was barely noticeable; only in certain lights could you see it. It was simply a very, very faint change in the complexion of the skin."

Heart Disease, Ulcers Linked

Arteriosclerosis Cause of Coronary, Stomach Ills, Study Indicates

CHICAGO (INS) — A Huntington, W. Va., radiologist has suggested that stomach ulcers may often be caused by the influence of certain heart diseases.

Dr. Michael M. Klein reported his findings at the 43rd annual meeting of the Radiological Society of North America in Chicago, attended by 2,500 physicians who are specialists in the use of x-rays and radio-active substances in diagnosis and treatment.

* * *

Dr. Klein admitted he was entering a "controversial medical area" by naming a possible gastric ulcer source, but that he found the secondary results of arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) "seems to be a cause of stomach ulcers."

The radiologist based his findings on studies of 1,187 cardiac patients who were admitted to a veterans hospital over a six-year period. Dr. Klein reported that of these patients, 370 had gastrointestinal symptoms and that of the 370, 115 patients had gastric ulcers.

"Since coronary heart disease is actually an arteriosclerotic disease," concluded Dr. Klein, "it is safe to say that hardening of the arteries is an important causative factor in the origin of gastric ulcers."

* * *

Dr. Klein also pointed out that most ulcers occur in people who are 50 years or older which "is the arteriosclerotic age."

* * *

Another ulcer-coronary relationship cited by Dr. Klein was that in patients with stomach ulcers on whom the operation had to be delayed because of heart trouble, "the ulcer healed together with improvement of the cardiac status."

NATO Allies Split on Issue

Tunisian Arms Shipments Draw Anger of French

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The western allied quarrel over arms shipments to Tunisia is another demonstration that the military alliance in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is not balanced by political cohesion.

To French cries of anger British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd has expressed regret. But he also was firm in saying that the British and Americans acted in the interests of the West as a whole when they sent arms to Tunisia.

RUN RISK

Lloyd's view is that if London and Washington had not acted in the face of French refusal to send arms now, they would run the risk of finding the Communists shipping arms and obtaining a "dominant" position in Tunisia.

For months the Americans and British have been urging the French to supply the arms themselves. The government under Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury fell partly because it was suspected to being likely to respond.

The new regime under Premier Felix Gaillard was suspected by Britain and America of being unlikely to agree to arms for Tunisia. So they apparently reached the conclusion — hotly denied by France — that Tunisia's patience was running out and that if no decision was taken her leaders would turn to the Soviet bloc.

DEEP IN TROUBLE

France is deep in economic troubles. She has a seemingly interminable war on her hands in Algeria, the next door neighbor of Tunisia. The French fear that arms in Tunisia will end up in Algerian nationalist hands. The Tunisians resented French terms for arms as an infringement on their sovereignty.

But despite all her troubles, France remains, for reasons of geography, strategy and sentiment, an indispensable cog in the NATO structure. If she pulled out or grew disinterested in NATO, the alliance in its present structure would be wrecked.

From the French viewpoint the Anglo-American decision was a very unfriendly act for two partners to slap against a third and a foolish curtain-raiser for next month's NATO heads of government meeting in Paris.

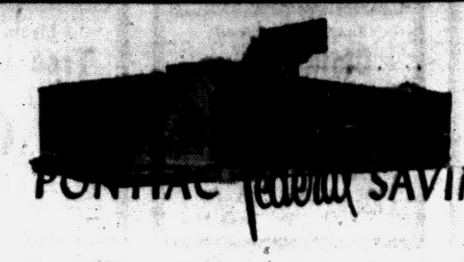

* * *

The French are particularly embittered at the British. The French long have been somewhat suspicious of close British-American talks they felt tended to exclude themselves. That feeling was removed in the teamwork of the British and French in the attack on Egypt last year, but now it has returned.

Those who defend the Anglo-American action argue that France's North African policy too long has been on dead center, gravely weakening the whole Atlantic community. They hope the Anglo-American decision on Tunisian arms may jar France into some sort of general North African settlement so that all NATO strength can be turned to defense against the East.

Asians Say Flu Is Just Hoax

Story Claims That It Was Born of Dice Game in Bangkok

By EDWARD R. KENNEDY

BANGKOK (NEA) — If you believe some people here, the Asian flu is a hoax, a promotional tagline dreamed up by an Australian pill peddler and an American advertising man to sell patent medicine.

It may very well be flu, these people say, but it's not necessarily Asian. Or at least it wasn't until it hit here earlier this year.

★ ★ ★

"Asian" flu was born during a liars' dice game in the bar of the Princess Hotel here, so goes the story told here. I pass it along for what it's worth.

The Australian salesman, the ad agency man and two American and one Thai newspapermen were gathered around a table speculating on the disposition of a check for the last round of drinks.

"How's business?" one of the newsmen asked the pill peddler.

"Great!" he replied. "The flu is coming." He was a happy man.

"We've got a big promotion coming up and we're sending in shipments by air to meet the anticipated demand," the ad man offered.

★ ★ ★

"Stone the flaming crows, mates, we're really going to clean up on this one. Tell them about the campaign, blule," the cheerful Australian suggested to the ad man.

The patent medicine man shook the dice box violently.

"There's only one thing I don't like about it—no gimmick. Flu is flu, but we should have a gimmick like that 'Virus X' a few years ago to make it really popular," he said.

"Call it Siamese flu," the Thai newsman suggested. "We could get some international prestige and publicity without Anna and the King in it."

"No good," the pill man stated. "We peddle this product all over Asia . . ."

"You've got it, you've got it right there—Asian flu. That's what it is," the huckster exclaimed in ecstasy. Right there he corrected all the proofs to propagandize "Asian flu." And that is how a new germ was born.

★ ★ ★

Soon afterwards, someone arrived in tropical Thailand from chilly Hongkong with a case of the sniffles. Newspapers checked clinics and doctors daily and reported a rising number of cases. Ads proclaimed that "Asian flu" had arrived.

Thais, who just naturally like to take shots and medicine—and a few days off from work — queued up at clinics and demanded treatment for "Asian flu." Overworked doctors patiently gave them vitamin injections and pleasant tasting pills.

As predicted, the epidemic lasted for weeks.

Now it is highly possible that the microbe hunters back home have isolated a special virus with slant eyes. But this must be pure coincidence. The "Asian flu" we know and love was born—if you go along with the local legend—in a bar in Bangkok without a single scientist present.

P.S.—NEA's medical expert, Dr. Edwin P. Jordan, says that regardless of Reporter Kennedy's plausible yarn, what is called the Asian flu is the result of invasion by an identified virus. "There is no doubt whatever," he says, "that it exists and is responsible for most of the cases of flu of recent months." The name, he says is "a convenience rather than an identification scientifically." And then Dr. Jordan adds: "It would be a shame not to publish this . . . The story is I believe a fantasy, but certainly an intriguing one."

Rep. Passman Ends Inspection Tour of 17 Countries

Solon Says GOP Foreign Aid Program Like 'Pouring Water Down a Rat Hole'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Passman (D-La) said today the country's foreign aid program needs more thinking, planning and hard work and "less golf."

"I am opposed to the theory that we can cure all ills with money," said Passman, chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee which handles the foreign aid money bills.

★ ★ ★

Noting reports that next year's budget request for foreign aid might again be in excess of four billion dollars, Passman said in an interview, "There is absolutely no justification for an increase."

The administration last year asked about $4,400,000,000 for foreign aid, but Congress voted only about 3½ billions. There have been reports that the request for next year has been fixed tentatively at $4,200,000,000.

★ ★ ★

Passman, a long-time foe of extensive foreign aid spending, contended that "appropriations are not the answer. We could confiscate all the wealth of the country for foreign aid and still not have enough to finance all the desirable projects around the world.

"We need more thinking, hard work and less golf."

★ ★ ★

"I believe that elected officials should give more attention to the duties they're elected to do and that golf and recreation should be pushed to the background until the present crisis is resolved," he said.

Passman recently returned from a trip around the world during which he inspected workings of the foreign aid program in 17 countries.

★ ★ ★

"I am more firmly convinced than ever that this is not the approach to our problem," he said. "I've seen enough to convince me that the way the program is operating is rather like pouring water down a rat hole.

"With all our spending I don't think we have made a friend. In fact, in some places they're even mad because we don't give them more."

White Woman's Home Bombed

South Carolinian Urged Moderate Approach to Racial Problems

GAFFNEY, S. C. (AP)—An explosion here last night shattered windows and cracked a wall in the home of a white woman who wrote part of a publication urging a moderate approach to racial problems.

★ ★ ★

Police found evidence indicating a dynamite time bomb caused the blast, which shook the neighborhood shortly after 9:30 p.m.

Dr. James H. Sanders, a native South Carolinian and resident of Gaffney for 31 years, said no one was injured in the explosion at his home, occupied by himself, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. McLaughlin, visitors from Louisville, Ky.

"You possibly could relate it (the blast) to the publication," Dr. Sanders said.

★ ★ ★

"Three sticks of dynamite and a fuse did not explode," Sanders said. He said the explosion tore a hole about 12 inches deep and about 18 by 18 inches square beside the chimney of the house.

The explosion also knocked out six windows the doctor said. "It cracked a wall in the living room."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sanders, a native of Charleston, S.C., contributed material to a publication entitled "South Carolinians Speak—a Moderate Approach to Race Relations." The Rev. John B. Morris of Dillon, S.C., one of the publishers, reported today that former Rep. James P. Richards (D-SC) praised the publication as a "real contribution" to freedom of expression.

★ ★ ★

"She had two or three telephone calls—no, about five—about the publication," Sanders said, "and one unsigned letter."

He termed the communications "protests, rather than threats."

Moonlight May Guide Rockets to Lunar Target

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Moonlight itself might be used to guide a lunar rocket to its target, says a scientist whose specialty is instrumentation.

Dr. Ralph Bowersox doesn't know of any such "homing device," but he says it is conceivable that one might be developed. He is instrument development chief for the jet propulsion laboratories at California Institute of Technology.

★ ★ ★

"It is reasonable that a rocket will be fired around the moon within 5 or 10 years," Bowersox said yesterday in an interview after addressing Whittier College students on space travel.

A homing device to utilize moonlight in guiding a rocket could be similar in principle to equipment which now steers warplanes and missiles to their targets, said Bowersox.

★ ★ ★

He told the students that they would see men travel safely to the moon and return, pointing out that the dog Laika aboard the Russian Sputnik II proved life can be sustained above the earth's atmosphere.

Bowersox speculated that, with present fuels, a trip to the moon would take nine days.

Williams to Confer on Municipal Affairs

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says he hopes increased state-municipal cooperation on administration problems will grow out of a conference on municipal affairs set for Dec. 18.

★ ★ ★

Williams and Michigan Municipal League staff members worked on an agenda in the executive office yesterday, with the governor urging industrial development for cities as one of three topics to be discussed.

The league staff proposed five subjects, with two to be selected. They are the urban fringe problem, finances, protection of home rule, urban transportation and county government.

★ ★ ★

The idea for the December conference originated with an appearance of the governor at the Municipal League's annual convention last September.

UF Needs More Help to Reach Final Goal

The Pontiac Area United Fund campaign needs your help. We are running slightly behind a year ago. With fewer jobs in the area we must all dig a little deeper to take up the slack.

★ ★ ★

TIME IS RUNNING OUT.

Contributions this morning totaled $463,454 or 75 per cent of the $612,- goal. This means that $148,546 is still needed before the Nov. 26 deadline.

★ ★ ★

With the drive now in the last full week the situation calls for immediate, unified effort on the part of all connected with the campaign. Time is drawing near with the victory luncheon scheduled for next Tuesday noon.

Most Michigan cities have met their United Fund quotas this year. This list includes towns like Detroit, Saginaw and Battle Creek. A few have failed to measure up.

★ ★ ★

Working together we can put Pontiac in the list that has made its goal.

Our record over the years has been good; let's keep it that way. This is a team effort to support the 55 agencies that take care of the needs of thousands of people.

★ ★ ★

Past records indicate that we as individuals are willing to share our good fortunes with the less fortunate.

It's up to YOU.

Let's put the Pontiac area drive over the top.

Moscow Inspires Plot to Oust Jordan's King

Young King HUSSEIN of Jordan backed by Kings SAUD of Saudi Arabia and FAISAL of Iraq is striking back at Egyptian press and radio barrages directed against him.

The usual vitriolic abuse from Cairo even suggests assassination of the 23 year old HUSSEIN for "dealing secretly with Israel." Moscow has joined in the Egyptian-Syran whipped up outcry with the charge that Jordan is plotting with Israel and is consorting with friends of the bitterest enemies of the Arab world—the United States, Britain and Turkey.

King HUSSEIN denounced these attacks as slander and lies, as indeed they are, and warns that the Cairo campaign would benefit only the enemies of the Arab world. He has stated that he will never give in on the Palestine issue.

★ ★ ★

Of the two million people in Jordan, one-third are embittered Palestine Arab refugees who fled there from Israel and, of course, are easily aroused. This country of Jordan, slightly larger than Maine and part of the old Ottoman Empire, is only 35 years old within its present boundaries and only 11 as an independent state. King HUSSEIN'S grandfather, its first ruler, was assassinated in 1951 because he was said to be in favor of making peace with Israel.

★ ★ ★

In 1956 under pressure from the Arab League, HUSSEIN by education and nature inclined to the West, dismissed Sir JOHN BAGOT GLUBB, the British officer who had developed the Arab Legion and who had served for 30 years as chief of staff. With his dismissal Jordan relinquished the $36 million a year British subsidy. Her Arab neighbors, Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Syria agreed to replace that subsidy. Syria was to supply one-fifth and Egypt and Saudi Arabia were to share the balance equally. Only King SAUD has met the payments.

★ ★ ★

What all this means is an attempt by Russia, using Egypt and Syria as cats' paws, to get rid of the pro-Western, strongly anti-Communist monarch. If this should happen, Russia would add another country to her Middle East allies without risking anything at all.

THAT an increasing number of people are suffering from backache is probably due to a considerable extent to the fact that in recent years chairs have been designed "modernistically" rather than for comfort.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

"Ike Sent Me"

David Lawrence Says:

New Post Gives Adlai Build-Up

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson is getting quite a build-up these days. It could mean that he will get the Democratic presidential nomination again, or perhaps he may become secretary of state if the Democrats win in 1960.

LAWRENCE

Whenever the word "bipartisanship" is mentioned in Washington, it gets lukewarm treatment by the party out of power because it could mean a diminution in the intensity of the attack the outside party can carry on against an incumbent administration.

Politicians behave the same way irrespective of party. There has been lip service by Republicans to "bipartisanship" under Democratic administrations, and there has been during the Eisenhower administration a consistent hammering away at its foreign policy by the Democrats. The usual cliche of the "outs" is that "we are not being consulted."

★ ★ ★

There is no reason, moreover, to believe "bipartisanship" will materialize now just because Adlai Stevenson is being "consulted." What is called "bipartisanship" is window dressing.

There have been "consultations" and "conferences" between members of the opposite party and the administration in the past, but, since the objective is to present a "united front" abroad, this goal is almost never achieved, as the news dispatches from day to day reveal.

No matter how many times Adlai Stevenson "consults" or issues statements saying he has been given comprehensive information about the administration's plans, this will not bind, for example, Senator Fulbright of Arkansas or Humphrey of Minnesota or Mansfield of Montana—all three of whom have in recent months been emitting criticisms of the administration in the same tone and tenor as the declarations from the Democratic National Committee's headquarters.

On the very day it was announced that there would be "bipartisan consultations" with the President and the secretary of state, there was issued a biting statement of criticism by the Democratic advisory committee which Stevenson found himself compelled to sign.

"Bipartisanship" is often extolled as a desirable policy, but in practice it runs into the usual argument that, after all, the party in power has the responsibility and cannot delegate it to others.

Reference is often made to Senator Vandenberg's cooperation with the Truman administration, especially at San Francisco when the United Nations charter was being written. Instances of this kind occur, but they do not abolish the partisanship. They merely shift the job of yammering to others in the party.

What then is the purpose of the incumbent administration in the consultations just initiated by the secretary of state with Adlai Stevenson?

The real hope is that the criticism of foreign policy will be softened and that the administration somehow will benefit—that all this is better than allowing unrestrained combat on the political front to be continued.

As for Adlai Stevenson, he personally gains an advantage by the experience. The American people will be told by the press regularly that he is "in the know," and this will help somewhat to develop the idea that he is capable of dealing with complex problems on the international side.

Already, so far as knowledge of international affairs is concerned, he stands in public esteem head and shoulders above any other man being mentioned for the Democratic presidential nomination. This, therefore, represents a big gain for the former governor of Illinois.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Treatment for Alcoholism Stresses Vitamin Intake

A frequent query in the mail: How long does it take to get the alcohol, the nicotine, the heroin or the barbiturate out of the system?

DR. BRADY

It is not significant, but probably all of the alcohol, nicotine (if any), heroin (diacetylmorphine) or barbiturate is out of the system within 24 hours after the last dose was taken.

But it may take 24 days, weeks or months to repair the damage the poison has done—if the damage is repairable.

So getting the poison out of the system is the least essential part of the treatment of poisoning by or addiction to a narcotic.

In a news magazine a month or two ago, a "science writer" described the extraordinarily successful method of treatment employed by a specialist for alcoholism.

The important part of the treatment is the administration of an optimal daily ration of vitamins and minerals—that is two or three times as much as a healthy person requires and the alcoholic generally does not in his or her narrow diet.

From the language of the "science writer," one might infer that this was a novel idea.

In a book titled Nutrition and Alcoholism, by Roger J. Williams (published by University of Oklahoma Press, Norman, 1951), the author, a distinguished biological chemist, the discoverer of one of the B vitamins (pantothenic acid) and co-discoverer of another (folic acid), reports that physicians in eight different localities in the United States have found treatment of alcoholics along this line most satisfactory.

CAN'T BACKSLIDE

The author makes another observation which reminds me of the writings of Doctor Brady: "It is obviously necessary for the person being treated to avoid deficiency continuously throughout life. It will do no good to recover temporarily from the tendency toward alcoholism and then slip back to the deficient state."

Of course alcohol in any dose is not a stimulant, but a narcotic. The victim craves it not because it will make him feel better but because for half an hour or so it will make him less conscious of how he feels, less aware of his inferiority.

A stimulant increases or improves bodily function. Alcohol depresses every function, from the first to the last. No physiologist or physician of standing will dispute this.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

During recent weeks there has been a lot of attention given to the heavens. Do they contain other worlds? Is it possible for people of this earth to visit other worlds or reach the moon?

God created worlds in the plural sense. There are other worlds but the dominion thereof is not set in the earth. Men who attempted to build the tower of Babel were defeated in their attempt to reach Heaven. Satan was cast out of Heaven because he had brought sin into it.

I believe there are other worlds, but man in his sinful state cannot enter any of the unfallen worlds of God's creation. Through science much may be accomplished, but God calls the wisdom of this world foolishness.

County Resident Volunteers Help

Why don't we put the hospital up to a vote for all of Oakland County?

When my mother was ill she had to go to Pontiac and if any other members of my family are ill, I will send them to a hospital in Pontiac. We haven't a hospital and there are many other small cities and towns that must depend on Pontiac. If it were any other kind of business, I'd say board her up.

The hospital could still be all Pontiac, but people outside Pontiac could make it out of courtesy to a city that houses our sick. A few dollars from so many shouldn't take long to raise $500,000, and it would show Pontiac we are sympathetic.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Delinquents' Homes Aren't All Bad

Terry's case is rather common. Not all juvenile delinquency stems from broken homes. Sometimes children overhear sex feuds that are deemed beyond their comprehension. Or they are awake at night when their parents think differently So send for the sex booklet below and stabilize the security of your family life.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

comes from a respectable home.

Case W-345: Terry L., aged 12,

"Dr. Crane, we are heartbroken," Terry's mother spoke tearfully.

"For Terry has just been arrested for robbery. And we find that this isn't his first offense.

"In fact, he had hidden a lot of stolen goods in our attic and we never even dreamed of such a thing.

DR. CRANE

"Terry goes to Sunday school regularly and belongs to the Boy Scouts, so what on earth could make him do such a thing?

"Surely it isn't need for money, for his daddy gives him a liberal allowance."

"LAW" & "DAD"

To a child, rules and regulations, as well as law in general, are often a synonym for Dad.

Thus, if a child carries a secret grudge against his father, he may fear to attack his dad directly.

So he then may transfer his revenge to robbery or arson or other anti-social outlets, thus indirectly hitting back at his father.

It may seem like a far-fetched diagnosis to ascribe such things to sexual factors, but we psychiatrists learn that there is often a direct connection.

For example, in overcrowded tenement areas, where father, mother and several children occupy the same room, a supposedly slumbering boy may not be asleep at all, but may be playing 'possum.

So he overhears or even sees things that juveniles are not supposed to experience.

★ ★ ★

And he may then mistake his father's dominant erotic behavior for cruelty. His sympathy usually goes to his mother, whom he may regard as brutally mistreated.

In his resulting conflict of loyalties, plus his indignation at his dad, he may strike out against law and society in general.

Blindly such a child may then become a violator of rules and social regulations as he tries to get even for what he considers a rank injustice.

He may not steal for the money itself or even to use it for buying friendships.

WHY CHILDREN GO BAD

"Bad children often have bad parents," is also a common adage.

It has many exceptions, but we usually find that delinquent boys and girls come from broken homes or have a drunken father who brutally mistreats his wife and children.

★ ★ ★

It is comparatively rare for a juvenile delinquent to come from a good home. And by "good" home, we psychologists mean not a Country Club type of domicile, where mother and father show their affection for each other and still go out on a date occasionally.

And such a "good" home is one wherein the children are not just "sent" to church or Sunday School, but are actually taken there by their parents.

For the power of example is far better than vain preaching by a lazy father who lies abed on Sunday, yet tells his kids they should go to church.

Terry, however, came from a good home, but he had overheard a sex argument in the middle of the night between his parents and had simply misconstrued it.

★ ★ ★

So he developed a grudge against his father, whom he regarded as being cruel to his mother.

A lot of parent-child misunderstandings are based on sexual ignorance or misconceptions, so get your home stabilized in this respect.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Then you parents will not be so likely to feud in the middle of the night where "little pitchers have such big ears."

Cigarette Sales Seen Going Up

Agriculture Department Expecting 15 Pct. Rise in Consumption by '65

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today it is likely that Americans will consume about 15 per cent more cigarettes in 1965 than this year.

But the use of tobacco in making cigarettes may not increase more than 5 per cent, the agency said in an outlook report.

★ ★ ★

The forecast of the 15 per cent increase in use of cigarettes was based upon the assumption that the controversial health aspect of cigarette smoking will have no prolonged adverse effects in consumption.

It also assumes that the number of male smokers will increase about 10 per cent and female smokers at least 33 per cent.

The reason the usage of tobacco is not expected to increase as much as cigarette smoking is that processors are expected to use more and more of the leaf and stem that in the past was discarded.

★ ★ ★

The report said the number of smokers of cigars and cigarillos may be up about a tenth by 1965.

Consumption of smoking tobacco in pipes and in roll-your-own cigarettes, which has been declining steadily since 1950, is expected by the department to drop another 40 per cent by 1965.

Likewise, a further reduction of 15 per cent in consumption of chewing tobacco was forecast by the future date.

THEN THE CHANCES ARE THAT YOU HAVE CERUMEN

CERUMEN is the condition brought on by excessive exudation of wax in the ear canal. (Cerumen) can make you hard-of-hearing in two ways: by clogging the canal and keeping sound from ear drums; by coating the vibration-carrying canal linings. This deep-down wax, in addition to making you hard-of-hearing, can cause buzzing, ringing, head noises.

PROVE YOU AREN'T GOING DEAF! Remove those hardened wax accumulations deep in your ear canal with WAX-OUT. # Gray Ladies Provide Comforts, Physical and Spiritual, at Hospital

A love of God and a desire to aid her fellow man has won for Mrs. Gertrude L. Fleming, of 432 Howland Ave., an outstanding reputation as a Red Cross Gray Lady.

Tirelessly at work at Pontiac General Hospital every day, and on 24-hour stand-by basis, Mrs. Fleming, a minister's wife, has been termed by Mrs. W. C. Sproull, Oakland County Gray Lady chairman as "truly the patient's friend."

With her pocket Testament always with her in case a patient seeks spiritual solace, she also ministers to their physical wants.

★ ★ ★

"I feel amply repaid when I see a patient smile," Mrs. Fleming says modestly.

It was the sight of a smiling patient who had just been visited by a Gray Lady that moved Mrs. Fleming to join the organization six years ago.

She was visiting a friend at the hospital and saw for herself the value of the extra services rendered the sick by the devoted women.

VITAL TASK DONE

Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Oakland County Red Cross Chapter director, recalls one instance of the selfless work done by Mrs. Fleming and other Gray Ladies.

★ ★ ★

A young mother was dying of cancer at the hospital. Under drugs, she slept most of the time, but when she awakened she needed to see a familiar face. Her husband and mother kept an around-the-clock vigil at her bedside until, as the days passed, they could not keep it up.

Then the Gray Ladies stepped in. Manning 24-hour shifts, they were constantly at her bedside for the moments she became conscious. The dying woman could not raise her head to see their faces, she saw only the Red Cross on their uniform pockets.

She would look up, Mrs. Bennett related, see the emblem and say each time, "I know you. You have been here a long time."

★ ★ ★

It is the vital role of the Gray Ladies that typifies so much of the Red Cross' work, Mrs. Bennett said.

Whether it's disaster relief, blood donations, first aid courses, Civil Defense emergency work or teaching water safety to youngsters, the Red Cross is constantly on the alert to ease pain, to comfort those in need and promote the safety and health of the community, she added.

"I hope all our friends who understand the role of the Red Cross will enable us to continue our work by contributing to the 1957 Pontiac Area United Fund," Mrs. Bennett stated.

★ ★ ★

"Every dime and dollar contributed, is insurance that Red Cross and a score of other local agencies can continue to play their parts in making the Pontiac area a fine place to live and work."

Firebug Sets 9 Blazes in New York Hotel

NEW YORK (AP)—A busy firebug apparently kept pace with busy firemen in a Manhattan hotel last night. As they put out one blaze, another flared in a different part of the 15-story hotel Brierfield, 215 W. 83rd St. Nine fires in all were set.

Adlai Stevenson Goes Back Into Field of Foreign Policy

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

In accepting a limited foreign policy role with the Eisenhower administration, Adlai E. Stevenson is returning to the field of government in which he most wanted to excel had he become president.

It was well known to companions in his 1952 and 1956 campaigns that he considered foreign policy the biggest challenge he would face if elected chief executive on the Democratic ticket.

★ ★ ★

Despite his attacks on the Eisenhower-Dulles program as "erratic, naive, sterile and timid," Stevenson still is able to assume his role of consultant to the GOP administration gracefully.

The 57-year-old ex-governor of Illinois has consistently been a strong supporter of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, and it is in connection with NATO that he has agreed to "review and discuss our government's proposals."

Stevenson's intense interest in foreign affairs stems back to a youth in which he made regular summer trips to Europe, attending a Swiss school for a year and sending home dispatches from Russia on a visit soon after the Soviets seized power in 1917.

★ ★ ★

As a young lawyer, he was president of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations and kept up this interest until, in 1943, he was named head of a U.S. foreign economic mission in Italy.

It was during his visit to that war-torn country that Stevenson is reputed to have decided to enter politics.

★ ★ ★

Prior to winning election as governor of Illinois in 1948, Stevenson served as an assistant to Secretaries of State Edward Stettinius and James F. Byrnes.

★ ★ ★

He was an adviser to the U.S. delegation at the United Nations founding session in 1945, senior adviser to the U.S. delegation at the General Assembly in London in 1956, and an alternate delegate to the U.N. in New York in 1946-'47.

★ ★ ★

His deep interest in foreign affairs still burning after he lost to Eisenhower in 1952, Stevenson made a six-months trip around the world. His suggestions in published articles afterward, and his proposals in the 1956 campaign, were ignored or disputed by administration leaders who, in a strong bid for bipartisanship, sought his advice in 1957.

The eloquent Democrat, in responding, declared: "In view of the gravity of our situation in the world, I have both a desire and a duty to assist our government regardless of partisanship or personal convenience."

'57 U.S. Apples Fill Large Cart

Grow in Every State; Brought From Europe by First Settlers

WASHINGTON — If the United States' apple cart were upset this year, 14 billion apples would roll out.

Apple gatherers have almost finished a harvest slightly larger than average. The Agriculture Department forecasts a total pick of 113,000,000 boxes. Each box holds from 60 to 200 apples, depending on size, with the average close to 125.

The apple can make a good claim to being the all-American fruit. It is grown in every State of the Union.

More apples—and more apple pies—are produced in the United States than in any other country. In a good year about two-thirds of a bushel is grown for every man, woman, and child.

VARIETY OF PRODUCTS

Most are eaten raw. The rest become canned apples, apple juice, apple cider, apple vinegar, or confections. Canned apple sauce is growing in popularity, and frozen apple juice concentrate is being tested.

★ ★ ★

The apple's ancestry is traced to immigrants. Plant students believe the progenitor of the modern apple appeared first in southwest Asia, between the Caspian and Black Seas.

The fruit had spread across Europe long before recorded history began. By the time of Columbus, the apple was the most important cultivated fruit in central and northern Europe, according to "The World in Your Garden," a forthcoming National Geographic Society book.

A hardy tree, the apple was able to stand extremes of temperature. The fruit kept well, an important consideration before modern methods of preservation.

CAME WITH 1ST SETTLERS

The first settlers in temperate parts of the New World brought apples with them—the English to Virginia and New England; the Dutch to New York; and the French to Canada.

★ ★ ★

The apple spread rapidly across the country—faster, in fact, than the settlers themselves. Indian tribes planted orchards. One John Chapman acquired a new name as he roamed Ohio and Indiana early in the 19th century, teaching the gospel and planting apples. He is celebrated as Johnny Appleseed. When apples were planted in 1817 at Vancouver, Washington, the fruit had spanned the continent.

Dog Catchers Nab Boy

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—City dog catchers came up with 23 dogs and a 16-year-old boy, arrested and charged with delinquency after dog warden Jeff McIntyre said the youth pointed a .22-caliber rifle at dog catchers when they tried to capture a dog. The dog got away.

Bulgarian Reds to Kill Two for Private Work

VIENNA (AP)—A Bulgarian Communist court has sentenced two former merchants to death for the private production and sale of dye materials.

The Sofia newspaper Otetschestwen Front, received here today, said Lambri and Atanas Lambrev two brothers, owned a dye firm which the Communists nationalized. However, the brothers continued with their own production and sales, the paper said.

Seventeen others, convicted of aiding the brothers in their "illegal work" and sharing the profits, were sentenced to prison terms ranging from 3 to 15 years.

LIFTS UP YOUR ENERGY—YET
HELPS HOLD DOWN YOUR WEIGHT

Clinical tests show that those calories used up in the body are non-fattening. And that when your body needs energy, the calories from sugar supply it fast—faster than any other food.

Actually, the 18 calories in a level teaspoonful of Michigan Made Pure Sugar are used up in just 7½ minutes of normal activity. That is why modern, sensible diets call for cutting down on foods without cutting out fast-acting energy-producing foods.

So there is no need to starve yourself for sweets. At your grocers, get Michigan Made brands—Pioneer and Big Chief. Each gives you only 18 calories in a level teaspoonful.

Bob Considine Reports From Moscow

Meet K. Tsiolkovsky - an Imaginative Fellow

MOSCOW (INS)—It is a little disarming, having long been sure that this country developed its missiles largely in recent years, to read about Konstantin Tsiolkovsky.

Ever hear of Konstantin Tsiolkovsky? That makes two of us. He was born in 1857 and died in 1935, which was only one year after the Russian scientists we talked to the other day said the USSR became interested in rockets.

But quotes from his writings indicated he was a blend of Jules Verne and Thomas Edison, for he seems not only to have dreamed exotically but was a practicing scientist of great stature in Russia under both czars and communism.

Many years before airplanes could fly much higher than the Empire State Building, Tsiolkovsky wrote: "The first great stride that is to be made by man is to fly out of the atmosphere and become a satellite of the earth."

JUST LIKE DA VINCI

Like Leonardo da Vinci, he dabbled with the jet engine. Of it he wrote:

"I have worked out certain aspects of rising into space in a rocket-like jet device. The possibility of ascending to the skies in a device of that kind is substantiated by mathematical deduction based on scientific, repeatedly verified fact . . .

"There was a time, and quite recently, when the idea of learning the composition of celestial bodies seemed absurd even to the most prominent scientists and thinkers. That time is past.

"A great new era will open in astronomy with jet devices—an era of a closer study of the sky . . . the era of propeller aircraft will be followed by an era of jet aircraft, or of stratospheric aircraft.

"Mankind in its pursuit of light and space will begin to penetrate the confines of the atmosphere, timidly at first, and then it will conquer all the space around the sun"—Tsiolkovsky.

WHERE IS HAIRLINE?

Not long ago in Washington our former International News Service science wizard Edwin Diamond told me that a number of our space people in the government are writing science articles and fiction sometimes under a nom de plume."

I thought of that remark and the hairline between fact and fiction when I came across this from the pen of the bearded, tiny, eyeglassed Russian:

"I do not claim to have solved the matter entirely. First—inevitably so — came thought, imagination and fiction. In their wake comes scientific calculation. And only then the idea is crowned by its execution.

"I am more aware of the abyss dividing idea from realization than most people, for in the course of my life I have had to think, calculate, and I have had to execute working with my hands. Yet there must be the idea, for execution is preceded by thought, and precise calculation by fantasy."

REVERSE TACTICS

Speakers at big public functions here use reverse tactics in the course of their salutations, by Western standards. Any of our speakers would address his first remarks to dignitaries in order of their rank and importance. On the occasion of "Artillery Day" last Sunday Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, defense minister, began his talk as follows:

"Comrades artillerymen and workers of the ordnance industry. Comrades soldiers and sailors, sergeants and petty officers. Comrades officers, generals and admirals."

As of 6 a.m., which was the last time we checked, poor Laika the dead space dog had completed about five and a quarter million miles of travel around and around the earth.

Its predecessor Sputnik I and its somewhat swifter carrier rocket had made 667 and 672 revolutions respectively.

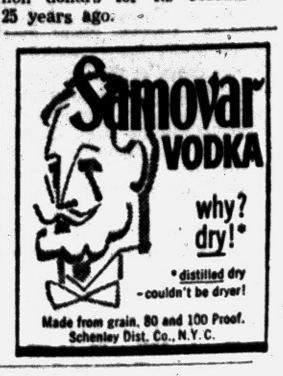

In the case of the latter, that would be 16,800,000 miles. If it had been pointed at Mars when launched Oct. 4 at 18,000 miles an hour it would now be halfway there.

Which should give you a faint idea of the colossal and stupefying distances involved in space.

Engineers are experimenting to possibly construct heat resistant auto windshields and research has led to gold-plated glass. Glass veneered with microscopically thin films of gold is being tested in attempts to construct a windshield to shield drivers from the hot, infrared wave lengths of light.

About one mile above George Washington Bridge in New York City is the Cloisters, the medieval branch of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It was given by the Rockefeller family who paid 7 million dollars for its construction 25 years ago.

Happy Thanksgiving to Everyone . . .

Horror-Joke Craze Caused by Death-Fear?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — On paper, at least, life in America suddenly has become cheap.

Death is now something to chuckle about. Sentimentality is for the birds, and so's your old grandma. Charles Addams, the macabre master of cartooning, is bigger than Chic Young.

The "sick" or "horror" joke is the hot humor of the day . . .

Children: "Mrs. Jones, can Johnny come out and play?"

Mrs. Jones: "Johnny is dead."

"Well, can we have his toys?"

DIG THAT MORBIDITY

This is a comparatively innocent version of the sick joke, mildly realistic. It compares, in morbidity, to one that goes . . .

"Daddy, is mommy gonna get well?"

"Shut up and keep digging."

A trifle less shocking, and slightly less irreverent, are the many sick jokes that trace back to long-deceased personalities of history. As in this gentle echo from the old Booth Theatre . . .

"Well outside of that, Mrs. Lincoln, how did you like the show?"

And this one . . .

Amelia Earhart's voice on the telephone: "Where is everybody?"

Nobody knows where they started, these jolts from the blue that would cause sweet little Audrey to turn over in her archives.

'SHOCK' TREATMENT?

Some psychiatrists figure maybe some of it can be laid at the restless feet of teenagers who have learned lately that their best way to attract attention is to shock the unwary populace.

★ ★ ★

Other psychologists think maybe the American people are sickened by over-sentimentality. The U.S. has ever been a nation that loved love, puppy dogs and pollyannas. The saturation point, some think, had to be reached; and cruel humor is the rising of the defiant ostrich head from the sticky sweet sand.

The opinion here is that the sick joke may rise out of an even deeper need than either of these.

In other, older, longer-suffering countries, life has long been cheap. Through centuries of wars, violence, and insecurity, they have come to that point of philosophic maturity where they take their personal mortality less seriously than Americans do.

Realistically, they realize you can't beat death — you may as well take it lightly. "What's so bad?" a Colombian once told us, "at least in the grave you've got security."

Maybe some Americans, on the current high binge of psychological insecurity, are laughing through their growing pains.

All of Michigan's iron ore and copper come from the Upper Peninsula, five of the counties producing iron ore and three, copper. The state ranks second in the nation in iron ore production with a value of $69,226,417 in 1954. Copper production amounted to $13,298,994 in 1954. The area also produces crushed limestone and dolomite, lime, sand and gravel in quantity.

Flying Texas Professor Teaches in 2 Cities

DALLAS (AP)—Prof. James Hares of Southwestern University at Georgetown, Tex., commutes by air every week to teach two courses at Southern Methodist University.

Newsmen and photographers were on hand to interview and snap pictures, but the flying professor missed his flight for the first time this semester.

His wife wanted to come here to shop and they made the trip by car.

Steere Group Selects Officers

Committee to Decide on Type of Structure Suitable for Site

When the newly appointed Waterford Township Steere Study Group met at the home of the Rev. Walter Teeuwissen last night, they agreed to work out a definite plan of procedure regarding a recent land offer made by Frank Steere.

Steere has offered to give 17 acres of scenic land on Pontiac Lake and Highland roads to the township for a library and cultural center to cost not less than $200,000.

The township board accepted the Steere offer November 12 at their regular meeting.

Rev. Teeuwissen was elected chairman of the group to be assisted by the present librarian at the Community Activities Center building. Mrs. Kenneth Valentine. Mrs. W. H. Vann was also elected secretary last night.

Just what type of structure would be most suitable for township use was the main item that was discussed by the group. They felt that after definite building plans can be ascertained, the problem of how to acquire funds for the project will be worked out.

Long range planning for additional facilities were discussed at length. The questions of how many books will be needed and what type of accommodations for various club room activities should be provided were also discussed.

At the next meeting January 7, Frank Steere will be asked to meet with the group for additional discussions on the proposal made by him earlier this year.

Physicists Visiting American Colleges

NEW YORK (AP)—Hoping to stimulate a greater interest in physics, a group of top-flight physicists plans to visit 100 American colleges and universities by next June.

Each physicist, in a program sponsored by the American Institute of Physics, will spend about three days on a campus and will visit one or more colleges.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, 60 high schools will be visited by scientists in the next several months in a parallel project.

The program has as one objective an improvement in the teaching of science on both education levels. The National Science Foundation and the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education are footing the bill.

Rustlers Create Holiday Hazard at Turkey Farm

KALAMAZOO (AP) — This is the time of year that Derby Russell has trouble with people seeking free Thanksgiving dinners.

★ ★ ★

Russell owns a 1,000-bird turkey farm near here. He estimates "turkey rustlers" cost him $500 last year.

But this fall Russell has hired a guard to patrol the highway area near his turkey trot.

"Disease and rustling are the main hazards in the turkey business," said Russell.

★ ★ ★

He recommends antibiotics for disease and buckshot for rustlers.

Resentment Mounts in Japan Over Girard

TOKYO (INS) — A growing tide of resentment swept through Japan today over the suspended three-year "hard labor" sentence given GI William Girard for killing a Japanese woman shell picker last Jan. 30.

★ ★ ★

While public furore mounted, two politically-inspired organizations demanded that the government appeal the Maebashi verdict within the 14-day limit imposed by Japanese law.

One of the organizations urging a government appeal was the National Anti-Military Base Liaison Council, headed by socialist Masaru Nomizo, whose party is politically opposed to the administration of Prime Minister Kishi.

The second organization calling for an appeal of the "light" sentence was the "Somagahara Base Incident Countermeasures Committee." It was at the Somagahara firing range that Girard fatally shot Mrs. Naka Sakai, the 46-year-old mother of six children.

★ ★ ★

The Japanese press was almost unaminous in its editorial attacks on yesterday's sentence handed down by a three-judge non-jury Maebashi District Court.

★ ★ ★

The giant national-circulation newspapers termed the suspended sentence "too light."

'Jets Are Crazy Things'

RIO DE JANEIRO (INS) — Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek, after flying faster than sound in a U. S. jet, exclaimed: "I wouldn't recommend it for anyone. It's a crazy thing. I thought I was being crushed . . . That's for youngsters under twenty."

Carl Renda Suit Opens in Detroit

Jury Picked Yesterday in $4.5 Million Case Against UAW, Police

DETROIT (AP) — Carl Renda's $4.5 million damage suit against the United Auto Workers Union, five Detroit policemen and a Michigan state trooper opened officially in Wayne County Circuit Court today.

Selection of a jury was finally completed yesterday before visiting Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane of Port Huron.

★ ★ ★

The suit is an outgrowth of the 1948 shooting of UAW President Walter Reuther.

Testimony about the relatives of Carl Renda has been barred. Renda is asking damages for malicious persecution.

Judge Kane ruled yesterday against evidence showing Renda to be the son-in-law of Santo Perrone, a Detroit bootleg-era figure.

Defense Atty. Joseph W. Louisell argued that Renda's marriage to Perrone's daughter had no part in the lawsuit.

★ ★ ★

Renda was once charged with the 1948 shotgun shooting which nearly took the life of Reuther, president of the UAW. Donald Ritchie, of Windsor, Ont., later said he had been paid $5,000 by the UAW to implicate Renda falsely.

★ ★ ★

The Reuther shooting is still unsolved. Efforts to extradite Ritchie from Canda for questioning proved unsuccessful.

. . . Coat Off My Back

ST. HELIER, Jersey, Channel Island (AP)—A man walked into the income tax office yesterday put a loaf of bread and his coat on the counter, and said, "There's the bread out of my mouth and the coat off my back." Then he walked out.

Candy Girard Weeps, Says Prayers Heard

CAMP DREW, Japan (AP)—Haru (Candy) Girard, tears brimming from her eyes, said today her prayers were answered when her soldier husband escaped a prison term for the killing of a Japanese woman scrap collector.

★ ★ ★

"In my heart I am happy that the trial is over, but at the same time I am sad for the Sakai family," the Japanese wife of Specialist 3.C. William S. Girard said.

Girard, wearing a fatigue uniform, stood beside his diminutive bride as the two talked with newsmen on the steps of the headquarters building at Camp Drew.

★ ★ ★

It was Candy's first public statement since a Japanese court yesterday gave Girard a three-year suspended prison sentence for shooting Mrs. Naka Sakai on a U. S. firing range last Jan. 30.

Candy smiled and put her hand shyly across her face when asked about family plans.

"All I can say is that I hope there is no more trouble," she replied and began weeping.

★ ★ ★

Girard kissed his wife and explained, "She's crying because she's nervous." He murmured to Candy, "Don't worry, honey."

Girard said they hadn't decided where they would live in America. Candy began crying again when newsmen asked her what she was looking forward to most in the United States.

The brief interview broke up after a newsman asked Candy what she now thinks of Kayoko Sakai, 18-year-old daughter of the dead woman who has insisted that Girard should have been sent to prison.

Candy began to weep bitterly and wailed, "All I can say is that I am very sorry."

Duke May Rock Palace With News Conference

LONDON (AP) — The Daily Herald predicted today the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, will make history by holding a news conference in Buckingham Palace in February.

"Friends of his told me that he is quite determined about it and has overridden solid palace opposition," a columnist reported, adding, "His experiences with the Canadian and American reporters on his recent tour with the Queen have influenced him."

Hatcher, Hilberry Suggest Change in College Methods

DETROIT (AP) — Two university heads in Michigan suggested yesterday a new look at educational methods in this country in view of recent Russian scientific achievements.

★ ★ ★

In a speech to a special faculty assembly, Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry of Wayne State University here, proposed a sweeping re-examination of courses, methods of teaching and selection of students.

Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of University of Michigan, told a meeting of junior college administrators in Ann Arbor that junior and senior colleges need a major overhaul.

"We must not shed too many tears," Dr. Hatcher said, "if we have to sacrifice some of our emphasis on the humanities."

The humanities are cultural courses rather than scientific.

Dr. Hilberry told his faculty, "Sputnik is new only in that it makes dramatically plain that we have been bested at our own game."

★ ★ ★

"The first thing we must give up doing is the teaching of sub-freshman work," Dr. Hilberry said. He added the high schools will have to be encouraged to do this work.

"It is clearly necessary," he said, "that anyone going on to college must be able to handle the English language, and anyone even remotely considering entering the sciences or engineering should have the foundation work in mathematics and science. Deficiencies in these areas must be made up before entering college.

Dr. Hilberry also urged a fuller and deeper understanding of the East where, he said, the history of the world of the next 50 years will be written.

★ ★ ★

"The United States," he said, "cannot afford another crop of graduates who are ignorant about the other nations on the other side of the earth. Our scientists will profit us little unless we learn our way across the earth as well as around the heavens."

Council Women in Detroit Argue Before Children

DETROIT (INS) — The two female members of Detroit's Common Council argued yesterday before 60 elementary school students observing city government operations.

★ ★ ★

Council President Mary V. Beck and Councilman Blanche Parent Wise tangled over an expense-paid trip to San Francisco.

Mrs. Wise was angry because she was left off a list of three councilmen who will attend an American Municipal Association convention in San Francisco next month.

Councilman William Rogell stalked from council chambers during the outburst with the comment:

★ ★ ★

"Let the women fight it out. I'll return when they go back to common sense."

Detroit Police Check on Fences, Hoodlums

DETROIT (INS) — Known fences and hoodlums were being checked by Detroit police today in an effort to find a clue to the theft of unset diamonds worth $500,000 wholesale.

Max Monderer, 47, a partner in the New York wholesale jewelry firm of A. Monderer and Sons, was robbed of the gems in the lobby of a downtown Detroit office building yesterday by a bandit who first temporarily blinded his victim with a shot from a tear-gas gun.

Monderer dropped a case containing the 7,200 diamonds while trying to clear his eyes of the gas. The bandit, in his shirt sleeves, scooped up the case, dashed to a car in which an accomplice was waiting and sped away.

★ ★ ★

A witness chased the fleeing car and blew his horn and yelled in a futile effort to attract the attention of two police cars he passed. He abandoned the pursuit when traffic conditions became dangerous.

Before producer Earl Carroll presented his famed "Vanities" revues on Broadway, he was a U.S. Army air pilot in World War I.

DEDICATE BROOKLANDS EDIFICE — The congregation of Gethsemane Lutheran Church at Brooklands will dedicate this new building on Sunday. The occasion will be marked with three services at which five guest pastors will be present. Dinner will be served during the day. The church, begun on Auburn road last spring, will seat 250 persons.

New Brooklands Church to Be Dedicated

Gethsemane Rite Sunday

BROOKLANDS — Members of Gethsemane Lutheran Church in Brooklands will dedicate their new church edifice Sunday with three services.

★ ★ ★

The Dedication service proper will begin at 10:30 a.m. with members and friends assembling in the Parish School. They will proceed to the church doors where the service will start. The Rev. Norman Kuck, Pastor, will preach the sermon, assisted by the Rev. Walter Gerken of St. John Church, Rochester, visitor of the Pontiac Circuit of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod. Gethsemane Choir will be directed by Ronald Yungmann.

At 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon a festival service will be led by the Rev. Walter Heyne of Berea Church, Detroit, formerly of St. Trinity Church Pontiac. The Rev. Heyne assisted in maintaining the newly formed Gehsemane Mission during the war years.

★ ★ ★

The sermon will be given by the Rev. Louis Koeher of Mt. Calvary Church, Detroit, District Vice-President. Gethsemane Choir will sing an anthem while Ethyl Kosa will offer avocal solo.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Wilton Fluegge of Trinity Church, Center Line, and pastoral adviser of the District Walther League, will preach in the Vespers beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Dedicated to children and youth of the congregation, the primary and secondary grades of the Parish school will sing, directed by their teachers, Ronald Yungmann and Adelia Boeling. The liturgical portion of the vespers will be led by the Rev. Edward Schulte of Good Shepherd Church, Detroit. Pastor Schulte is a former Gethsemane pastor.

★ ★ ★

Dinner will be served in the fellowship hall of the church by the Ladies' Guild of the church immediately after the morning service of dedication. A luncheon will be served beginning at 5 o'clock.

Built on the site of the former church on Auburn road just west of Dequindre, ground for the new church was broken last April. Designed by Victor Basso AIA of Detroit, the structure is of cinder block and face brick in contemporary design.

★ ★ ★

The church proper seats 250 exclusive of narthex overflow. The choir is located in the chancel. Two hundred can be served at tables in the Fellowship Hall. A church office is also provided.

Vincent Braun, Alvin Brower and John Leemhuis served as building committee while the financing committee is William Bishop, Roy Pauman and Walter Stull.

Arraignment Set Dec. 3

Your PTA Is Planning

Michigan Senator Lodge to Speak at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Senator Harvey Lodge will be the speaker of the evening when the Junior-Senior High School PTA holds its regular meeting in the cafeteria of the Senior High at 8 p.m. Thursday.

His topic will be "Legislation and School Problems."

Although he is serving his first term in the State Senate, he is a veteran lawmaker as he served in the House of Representatives in 1947 and 1948. He has also been assistant attorney general and the assistant prosecuting attorney for Oakland County.

Preceding the meeting, teachers and their wives or husbands will be the dinner guests of parents in their homes in observance of the fourth annual hospitality night.

South Lyon

Elementary PTA will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the elementary school. Howard Parr and Edward Bourns will be speakers, their program theme, "Elementary Curriculum."

Refreshments will be served by the fourth-grade room mothers.

Meeting Held in Youth Center

Romeo Civic Building Nearly Ready; Group OKs Operating Rules

ROMEO — Members of the Romeo Community Building Authority held their regular meeting last night for the first time in the office of the nearly completed Youth and Civic Center.

The walls in the corridor and auditorium remain to be decorated and the floors to be refinished before the center opens for limited use—possibly around Dec. 1. The kitchen will be the last room to be completed, construction superintendent Royal A. Holt said.

Recommendations governing operation of the center, drafted by the rules and policy committee, were approved. They were presented by committee chairman George E. McKeough, climaxing several months of study by his Group and the authority.

Copies of the recommendations will be mailed to the 28 Romeo area organizations which originally agreed to support the center and incorporated to form the authority. They will be asked for their written reactions and approval.

Students in government and economic classes at Romeo High School will sponsor a dance at the high school Friday evening to add funds to their current project for the center.

Lapeer Woman Admitted to Bail

Witnesses Give Details of Injuries, Treatment in Tuesday Hearing

By LILLIAN C. REDMOND
Lapeer Correspondent

LAPEER — Mrs. Juanita Tucker, 44, charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Neil Kirby, 35, her husband's brother-in-law, was bound over to Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon. She will be arraigned Dec. 3, before Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

Justice Isabel Hannah conducted the examination which lasted all day yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses who testified were Robert J. Baird and Richard Huber, funeral directors, who manned the ambulance that took Mr. Kirby to St. Joseph Hospital, Flint.

They were followed by Dr. Charles Richard Hennessey and Dr. J. D. Wheeler of Flint.

Dr. Hennessey gave a very detailed and technical account of Mr. Kirby's wounds and the treatment given.

Dr. Wheeler was the doctor who conducted the post mortem and he said, in his conclusion of facts, that Kirby died from generalized peritonitis incurred as a result of multiple gunshot wounds of both the small and large intestines.

Sheriff W. J. Porter testified as to the history of events from the time he received a call of a shooting at 202 South Elba Rd., Elba, until Mrs. Tucker was brought to Lapeer County Jail.

A statement given by Mrs. Tucker told all that happened in detail and she stated all she wanted to do was to scare Kirby and that she got the gun, a 12-gauge shotgun, intending to shoot in the ground to scare him.

★ ★ ★

The trouble was the result of an argument over Mrs. Kirby throwing water in the faces of a group who came to her door "trick or treating" Halloween night. Her brother, D. L. Tucker objected to her throwing the water.

On Saturday night when Kirby went to pay the rent the argument was resumed between Tucker and Kirby and resulted in the fatal shooting by Mrs. Tucker.

Judge Hahhan admitted Mrs. Tucker to bail set at $5,000 with two sureties and it is not known if bail was secured as yet.

Mrs. Pearl Kirby, 48, wife of the dead man, also testified, giving her account of the shooting. She said she was upstairs when the shot was fired. She added that she remained with her husband during the 24 hours he lived after the shooting. She said they had never had any trouble before and that they loved each other dearly.

She told The Press reported after she testified that "Neil Kirby had no hate in his heart toward Juanita Tucker and that he told her he knew she did not intend to shoot him."

OK Annexation of Novi Acreage to Northville

NORTHVILLE — Voters here approved the annexation of some 240 acres of Novi Township to Northville Tuesday. City Clerk Mary Alexander reported that Northville voted 145 to 30 for the proposal. Novi Township's 14 electors backed the measure, 9 to 5.

The property involved is adjacent to Northville, between Eight and Eight and One-half Mile roads, the clerk said.

Twelve people reside in the area, most of which is undeveloped.

Thieves Blamed for $18,000 Barn Blaze

UTICA — Thieves were blamed today for a fire which caused an estimated $18,000 damage on the Henderson Sod Farm on 25 Mile road in Shelby Township last night. The blaze burned a two-story wooden barn to the ground and destroyed three tractors and other farm machinery.

★ ★ ★

Vandals broke into the barn to siphon gas from tractors, the Township Fire Department reported. It is not known, however, whether the fire was intentional. The Shelby Township Fire Department extinguished the blaze in about three hours.

Rochester Lions Plan Yule Parade

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Lions Club is making plans for its annual Christmas Parade, scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 7.

Fred Maynard, general chairman has stated that entries are coming in steadily. Besides the parade, Lions members are concentrating on the annual Christmas decorating program under Chairman Cy Korompay.

★ ★ ★

The Christmas lighting program is under way and the kickoff sale of the Christmas stockings will take place Dec. 2. A house-to-house sale is planned.

There will be 10 teams working on the sale.

In Avon's 'Witness' Production

Roles Go to New Actors

ROCHESTER — Important roles in Avon Players' presentation of "Witness for the Prosecution" will be played by actors quite new to Rochester audiences.

★ ★ ★

Ruth King comes to Avon Players with a background of summer stock and television appearances in the East. Len Smith has previously performed with the Livonia Civic Theater Group. Barbara Utech and Ray Danielson have appeared in skits at Player monthly meetings with great success, but are playing their first roles for Avon in a full length drama.

Dan Gallagher was seen in the minor role of a bootblack in last season's production of "Born Yesterday" and now appears in the lead role of Sir Wilfred Robarts. Chris Boyle, another player new to Rochester, is making his theatrical debut.

Old hands who have delighted Rochester audiences in previous productions are Bob Wagner, Patricia Higgins, Bob Halbach and Dave Keena.

There will be two performances, Dec. 6 and 7. Tickets are on sale at Purdy's Drug Store, or are available through Avon members.

UNDER ARREST — Getting the full treatment from Fresno, Calif. police is Duchess, a shaggy but lovable pooch of doubtful pedigree. At the top, the dog is booked by Deputy Sheriff Lester C. Scheidt on a vagrancy charge after being picked up sniffing around a garbage can. Center, Duchess is paw-printed by Patrolman Z. B. Gross (left) and R. C. Cunningham. Below, into the jug she goes, preesnting a sorrowful picture behind bars. There's a happy ending to the story, however, as an SPCA employe fell in love with Duchess and took her home.

School Board to Hear Reports

Plans for Development of Cooley Site Among Items on Agenda

A report on the development of the new Cooley elementary school site in Waterford Township will be presented when the Board of Education meets at 7:30 Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The 10-acre site is located on Forest Ave., at the west end of Lakewood Dr., and the orientation of the building to the contour of the land will be discussed by the building committee.

Construction work on the new school should begin sometime in the early spring, and be ready for operation by next fall, according to assistant superintendent James Den Herder.

Construction of another elementary school, to be named the Laura Smith Haviland, and located on a ten-acre plat south of Cass-Elizabeth Lake road, east of Cooley Lake road, will begin in the spring, Den Herder said.

★ ★ ★

All of the new schools are part of a 3½ million dollar bond issue approved by residents in the February 1956 election and will not bring a raise in the present tax rate, according to superintendent William Shunck.

The board of education has also purchased a 30-acre plot on the east side of Hospital road, north of Elizabeth Lake road, for a future, third Junior high school.

Other business of the Board of Education will include the appointment of a recreation board member, a review of voted millage for operational purposes and recommendations by the Board of Education personnel committee.

★ ★ ★

Recommendations from Superintendent Shunck regarding a kindergarten teacher's workshop will be studied, along with recommendations for contracts for new teachers.

Lapeer Bloodmobile May Be Eliminated

METAMORA—The Lapeer County bloodmobile will be in Lapeer Monday from noon until 3 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church. Metamora's quota is 10 pints and volunteers are needed.

There is a possibility that the bloodmobile will be discontinued due to lack of donations. At present, blood for transfusions is free at the Lapeer County General Hospital, with a small charge for administering it.

If the mobile unit is discontinued, all blood used in transfusions would have to be paid for and where a number of transfusions are necessary the cost would be considerable.

An appeal is made to the young healthy people of the community to not let this happen, Mrs. Harry Whittaker will make appointments so donors will not have to wait. She also will arrange transportation for those who need it.

Most public booth phone calls as early as 1900 cost a dime.

12-Town Drain Trial Date Set

Suit Against County Tentatively Scheduled for Hearing Dec. 3

Trial of the suit holding up the Twelve-Town storm relief and sanitary drain as been tentatively scheduled for Dec. 3 before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry Jr. said he feels the county is ready for an earlier trial date, if one can be arranged.

★ ★ ★

The suit was brought a year ago by Southfield Township and Troy, two of the communities involved in the proposed $41 million project. Both communities claim their shares of the apportioned cost are too large.

★ ★ ★

There are 11 other communities in the project, designed principally to relieve annual flooding in the South Oakland County area.

One of the 11 is Madison Heights, which has threatened to pull out of the project and "go it alone" in providing relief from flooding.

Government to Start Poultry Checks in May

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has announced that it will start inspection of poultry without cost at approved plants about May 1, 1958.

Legislation passed by the last session of Congress authorized inspection of poultry moving in interstate commerce or in designated major consuming areas. The purpose of the inspection service is to assure consumers a supply of clean, disease-free chicken meat.

Inspection will be on a voluntary basis until Jan. 1, 1959. After that it will be mandatory. At present, some plants are receiving federal inspection service, but must pay for it on a fee basis.

Fire Ruins Plant of Almont Firm

IMLAY CITY—A $10,000 fire of undetermined origin burned a cement and frame 40 by 90 foot building at the Almont Manufacturing Co. Tuesday afternoon. They are manufacturers of grey iron castings.

The fire was discovered about 3:45 by workmen. Due to the great start it had and the high winds, firemen were unable to save the building. The main building, which is about 30 feet away, had to be kept constantly wet to prevent it from igniting.

The loss is covered by insurance. Some of the contents can be salvaged such as fire clay, fire brick and sand, factory spokesmen said.

Rainbow trout in New Zealand (this is a fish story, remember) sometimes weigh more than 25 pounds, too large to fit into a creel.

IF YOU SUFFER FROM ARTHRITIS
! KNOW WHAT'S BEST FOR IT!
"O-Jib-Wa Bitters helped me when everything failed," says Mrs. Hazel P. Daniels, 3910 Newberry, Wayne, Michigan.

"The first thing I think of when anyone mentions Arthritis, is O-JIB-WA BITTERS. If someone had told me about this wonderful medicine when I was first struck, it would have prevented three horrible months of suffering. It Mrs. Daniels first came on like a small stinging pain in my hip; gradually becoming worse, then going down into my leg. I work for a living, and being in this shape, it was certainly painful work. When I got up in the morning, my stomach would be upset, and I would have chills and come close to fainting from the pain. I stayed on my feet most of the day because I was afraid to sit down, for fear I wouldn't be able to stand up again. I tried liniments, heat pads, heat lamps, vitamin pills, took shots and finally ended up with a brace on my back, which made my spine hurt even worse. I didn't know what to do next, but when the x-rays taken of my back showed an arthritis condition, I went to the druggist and purchased a bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, as everything else had failed. From the ads I read about people in Michigan that O-JIB-WA helped, it sounded like it was just what I needed. The first week it didn't help, but I stuck right with it, and the second week the pains began to leave and soon I was all well again. That was two years ago, and I haven't been bothered with rheumatism or arthritis since. I give full credit to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and urge other sufferers to try O-JIB-WA at the first sign of such ailments, and I'm sure this wonderful medicine will help them too."

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIANS

QUESTION: Why did Indians paint their faces?

ANSWER: Face painting is something that some Indians still do on ceremonial occasions. And they're not the only ones. Primitive people all over the world paint their faces and their bodies, for a variety of reasons. A chief reason doubtless is that, lacking a lot of clothes, they use paint for fun, just as you like to wear a good looking suit, or fix up your hair. Another is that paint for them often has religious or other significance. A single Indian would paint his face in different ways an various occasions. Certain styles or manners of painting would be adopted by certain tribes or groups of tribes, so that paints sometimes helped with identifications. Your own remote ancestors may well have painted themselves. Remember, the ancient Britons stained their bodies when the Romans first saw them.

FOR YOU TO DO: This Indian chief, about to paint his face while using a pool as a mirror, makes a fine coloring subject. You can color not only his face but his fancy beadwork and headdress. After that paste the picture down, if you like, on cardboard, cut along the outer border, and stand it up by folding as indiciated.

(Your suggestion may be worth $10 if you mail it on a postcard to Mrs. Higgins in care of this paper. Today's idea was submitted by Sandy Lee, Orinda, Calif.)

Pravda Boasts of Red Potential

Asks Boost in Production

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda called today for large increases in basic industrial production within the next 15 years, the period in which Nikita Khrushchev claims Russia will overtake present U.S. output.

★ ★ ★

The Communist party newspaper asked for a three-fold increase in Soviet iron ore production to an output of 250 to 330 tons annually. Russian production in 1955 was about 79 million tons and U.S. production about 116 million tons.

★ ★ ★

Pravda claimed that current Soviet reserves of unmined iron ore are 35 billion tons, which it said was 40 per cent of world reserves.

'Agent's Life Is Never His Own'

Spies' French Holiday Cut Short

(This is the 10th of 12 articles in which confessed Soviet spy Jack Soble tells the innermost secrets of an espionage ring in the U.S. of which he was a leader for 15 years.)

By JACK SOBLE
(Written with Jack Lotto)

A Soviet agent is like a wooden-headed puppet.

His every move is controlled by his hidden masters. He is not permitted to think for himself. His life is never his own—and woe to him who forgets this basic Communist principle. Vacation is a dirty capitalistic word.

For momentarily forgetting these ABC's of Communist philosophy, I was brought sharply to task one day in August 1950 by my Soviet superior. My mistake was in thinking I could take some time off from the espionage duties to which I had been assigned to supervise.

PAIR WORKED HARD

Jane and George Zlatovski, two of my best agents, had been working hard, drinking hard, fraternizing with Americans in sensitive posts while siphoning off secrets.

When my wife, Myra, arrived in Paris from the United States with our son, Larry, 10, to join me, I thought it would be a good idea for all of us to relax and take a month's vacation.

Accordingly, together with the Zlatovskis, we rented a small house in a village near Deauville, France. We were there about a week when I received a telephone call from Hollywood producer Boris Morros, who at the time was my courier, and unknown to me, a counterspy for the FBI.

MORROS REAPPEARS

Morros, with whom I had left my address, told me he was vacationing in Bad Gadstein, Austria. He described it in glowing terms, said it was much cheaper and better than our resort town and persuaded us to come there.

When we arrived in Bad Gadstein, we discovered Morros had left for Vienna. Our bags were still unpacked when Morros excitedly telephoned:

"They know you are here, and you are instructed to go to Vienna at once."

Morros told me that I was to meet "a friend" in a restaurant in an amusement park.

Myra, Larry and I left the Zlatovskis in Bad Gadstein and sat at a table at the rendezvous point.

Leonid Dmitrievich Petrov, deputy chief of the foreign section of the Soviet Secret Police, came to our table and joined us. He was in an angry mood and made it plain he wanted to talk to me and Myra alone.

When I tried to get my boy to take a walk, he bridled, like all youngsters do occasionally, and made some petulant remark. Petrov was beside himself with rage. He turned on us with fire in his eyes, declaring:

"It is quite evident that your son has not received the proper youth training. In the Soviet Union we know how to train youth. Perhaps he should be given into our care so that he develops a proper attitude."

The vehemence of his attack frightened Larry so that he left us.

When we were alone, Petrov turned to the subject that brought him from Moscow.

"Who has given you permission," he demanded, "to take a vacation?"

"What right do you have to take a vacation when there is so much to do? You must work for the motherland."

He would listen to no explanation, told me that they expected to get much more information from the activities of Jane and George, and that it was "essential to take care of the Yugoslavian project without further delay."

Petrov dismissed us with a warning that any further dereliction of duty on our part would be met with severe party punishment.

I began immediately making arrangements for George to go to Yugoslavia to report on conditions there, particularly on how Americans were being received and treated in Belgrade.

We printed up some stationery using the name of a bristle manufacturer and I typed a letter introducing George as a bristle salesman.

He reported on living and economic conditions in Yugoslavia together with the attitude of the people. In substance, it added up to news the Kremlin wouldn't like—that the Yugoslav people were strongly behind Marshal Tito—who had broken with Moscow.

George also listed the names of some girls he had met in Belgrade and had lined up as possible agents.

Army Generals Charged in Wild Goose Hunt

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two U.S. Army generals have been charged with illegally hunting wild geese over a baited area of Maryland's Eastern Shore. They were among 15 persons so charged.

Those named were Maj. Gen. Rinaldo Van Brunt, 56, chief of staff of the 2nd Army at Ft. Meade, Md., and Lt. Gen. Edward T. Williams, 56, deputy commanding general, Continental Army Command, at Ft. Monroe, Va.

Alimony for Woman Suing for 14th Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Judge Elmer Doyle said he was hesitant to grant Mrs. Beverly Nina Avery temporary alimony, pending her 14th divorce. Mrs. Avery, 48, began crying.

"I'm ill. I need three operations," she said.

Judge Doyle relented and approved $25-a-week temporary alimony, which her husband Gabriel, 48, a parking lot attendant, already had agreed to pay.

Test flights from London to Sydenham Airport, Belfast, have been successful, indicating that Syndonham will replace Nutt's Corner as Northern Ireland's chief airport.

Money Climbs to $1,100 Mark in Pot-O-Gold

Each week without a winner means another $100, but it also means the chances are getting greater that a winner will come along. Get busy now before someone snatches the prize money right out from under your nose.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1 Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2 Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3 To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent post card. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 77 must bear a Tuesday, Nov. 26 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4 Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5 The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6 Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7 Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8 Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9 There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10 Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Kathryn Grant Crosby Returning to Film Work

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—In town for only a few hours, Kathryn Grant telephoned before she rejoined Bing at Palm Desert. Good to hear her so happy. She said that Bing is going to fly her to Tucson tomorrow for her Columbia picture "Gunman's Walk," see her settled, and then return to their desert home.

"I'll spend every weekend with him," said Kathy. "Fred Kohlmar has been wonderful about letting me wait to start my picture as long as possible."

She said she is learning to cook, and that Bing's mother gave her many recipes. "But so far I'm not very good," she confessed, "but I'll learn." Being a college girl and then an actress hasn't given my attractive friend, Kathy, much time to learn the culinary arts.

★ ★ ★

I met Buddy Adler and asked him about his plans for Diane Varsi, the young actress who scores so brilliantly in "Peyton Place."

He said he is casting Diane as Gary Cooper's daughter in "10 North Frederick." She is one of the most promising young actresses on the 20th lot, and Buddy said the studio had great plans for her. Although she is only 19, she has been married twice. Her first marriage was annulled and she recently separated from James Dickson, a young engineer.

★ ★ ★

Rhonda Fleming's mother, whom Rhonda says never got the grease paint out of her system, gets her first acting role in Rhonda's picture, "Bullwhipped."

Rhonda wires from Angel's Camp, California, where she is on location to say that her mother, Olivia Louis, who lives in San Mateo, came to visit her and Harmon Jones, the director, asked her mother to play the wife of a judge.

"It's a small part, but you would think mother was opening in a Broadway show," said Rhonda. "You'll recall she was a star at the Winter Garden in New York, but this is her first picture."

★ ★ ★

I was very happy to be present at the impressive marriage ceremony of Linda Schreiber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Schreiber, and William Eugene Drury at the Church of St. Paul the Apostle. Linda, whom I've known since she was a baby, was a beautiful bride in her wedding gown of white.

Her sister, pretty Susan Schreiber, in a light beige gown, was maid of honor, while Gail Kenaston, daughter of Billie Dove and Bob Kenaston, also in beige, was an attractive bridesmaid.

Ernie Kovacs and Edie Adams open at the Tropicana in Las Vegas tomorrow night and Eddie Fisher flies to see them, and also to see Dean Martin at the Sands. Dean tells me he will positively be well enough to keep his date with Jack Entratter.

Red 'Island' in Ethiopia

Hospital Wedge to Africa

ADDIS ABABA (AP) — Long before Egypt began flirting with the Red world, Moscow wanted to get a foothold on the African Continent.

An unfinished Italian hospital building in Addis Ababa provided the initial opportunity. A contract was signed with the Ethiopian government to take over the unfinished building. Unfinished construction was soon completed and a staff of Russian doctors and nurses moved in straight from Moscow.

★ ★ ★

That was 10 years ago.

The Russians agreed to supply all the hospital equipment. Doctors and nurses must all be Russian. Ethiopia, disease-ridden and sorely in need of all possible medical help, went along with this readily.

Opening the hospital in 1947, Emperor Haile Selassie named it the Dejasmatch Balcha Hospital. Balcha was a guerrilla leader killed by the Italians.

That was the last time the name has been heard. All letterheads, prescription blanks, bottle labels, etc., have ever since read "Soviet Hospital."

The Russian staff lives an isolated existence. The members are never seen out of the hospital compound except in twos and threes. No association is permitted with the foreign personnel of other hospitals.

Since the Sudan became independent, Ethiopia has lost some of its importance for Moscow. The present independent Sudan has a functioning Communist party; Ethiopia has not.

Senator Johnson Rules Out Politics in Missile Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said today the facts—and not determine the course of a senatorial inquiry into the nation's missile program.

The Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee will begin a series of hearings next week in an atmosphere charged by efforts of some Republican and Democratic leaders to fix on the opposing party the blame for lagging missile and satellite production.

Former President Truman has charged that the Eisenhower administration permitted a unified missiles program he had instituted to disintegrate. Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn has accused Democrats in Congress of voting to cut missile expenditures.

Johnson, who heads the Preparedness subcommittee, made it clear in a telephone interview from his home in Johnson City, Tex., he does not believe the committee will be swayed by the political debate touched off with the Russian Sputnik launchings.

"The committee has operated under Democratic presidents and Republican presidents and we have always called things as we saw them," Johnson said. "Sen. Bridges (R-NH) was one of the first to demand the kind of an investigation we are undertaking." Bridges is senior Republican on the subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

"We will review the whole picture of the progress made in missile development, find out the facts and tell them to the country," Johnson continued. "What course the investigation takes will depend on the facts."

★ ★ ★

In El Paso, Tex., last night, Sen. Anderson (D-NM) contended that Russia is "two full years" ahead of the United States in missiles and predicted it will be two years before this country launches an earth satellite "of any significance."

He added that this country can "put up a little satellite quickly," but that it will be 1959 before one matching the Russian Sputniks is launched.

"They had the intermediate range missile two years before we did," Anderson said. "And they have the intercontinental missile two years before we will get it."

But in Colorado Springs, Colo., Harold E. Stassen said he considers the United States "less than one year behind" Russia in outer space research and "with sound action we should be able to move ahead in this respect in the next five years." The United States was four years behind when the Korean War broke out, he said.

U.S. Tax Dollars to Go Into 'Basic Research'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
Third in Series

NEW YORK (AP)—We are being urged to spend more tax dollars on research to keep ahead of the Russians scientifically.

★ ★ ★

Especially we must do more basic research, say President Eisenhower and leading scientists. Just what is it?

Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, a Nobel Prize winner working at the Marine Biological Laboratory in Woods Hole, Mass., declares:

"Research is four things. Brains with which to think. Eyes with which to see. Machines with which to measure. And fourth, money. It is brains and eyes which are most important."

Research can be either applied or basic.

Applied means directed toward finding or developing a specific product, drug or other invention. It usually means applying existing knowledge in new ways.

★ ★ ★

Basic research is the quest for new knowledge, ideas, discovery of more secrets of nature—solely for the sake of adding to our knowledge.

Basic research feeds the well of knowledge from which great progress and inventions come. Without it, the well goes dry. Applied research then can only keep reworking old facts and ideas.

No one can predict just what fruits basic discoveries will bring, or when.

The A-bomb was created in a few years with two billion dollars and all-out effort.

★ ★ ★

This was possible only because the basic truths about the atom had been found in the preceding 30 years by scientists just curious about the structure of atoms.

Penicillin, the Salk vaccine, plastics, score upon score of our greatest achievements were possible only because of basic discoveries.

★ ★ ★

Such research is the source of radar, defense weapons, missiles, and future trips to the moon.

It paves the way to entire new industries, more jobs, more leisure time to enjoy the arts.

In basic research lie the keys to preventing heart attacks, and curing or preventing cancer and other diseases.

The Soviets have been putting greater and greater stress on basic research, and this has many scientists worried. Basic research is the road to supremacy in science.

★ ★ ★

The United States, through government and industry, spends about five billion dollars a year on research, with less than 10 per cent going for basic research, the National Science Foundation estimates.

"The greatest threat to this country — economically and militarily—is lack of fundamental research," declares Col. Benjamin Blasingame, head of the Air Force ICBM Titan project.

★ ★ ★

Top scientists predict enormous benefits from more funds for basic research in many fields.

Lack of money often hurts, making it hard to attract qualified, imaginative men and women. Another problem is to supply enough money over long enough periods to keep teams working on their projects.

★ ★ ★

Excellent men frequently leave basis research in universities because they need more income to support their families. Applied research jobs in industry have been paying far better.

As Dr. Vernon Lippard, dean of the Yale Medical School, puts it: Men who choose basic research or teaching usually need "a strong incentive, and an understanding wife, or private source of income."

The pay and support are improving, and this is an optimistic trend.

★ ★ ★

Einstein nearly starved in his early years, but kept at his basic research. The goal now is to attract and keep more scientists engaged in basic research.

Benjakin Franklin had an answer when he was asked, What good is basic research? He replied: "What good is a baby?"

AMA Opposes Bill on Medical Benefits

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Medical Assn. has announced its strong opposition to a bill in Congress to pay hospitalization and medical benefits to persons receiving Social Security benefits.

★ ★ ★

Dr. David B. Allman of Atlantic City, AMA president, said in a statement that "this proposal is clearly 'socialized medicine' for a segment of the American people."

"The enactment of this legislation," he added, "will permit the federal government to withdraw social security taxes on a compulsory basis from almost the entire working population and use those taxes to reimburse hospitals and physicians for services rendered to all persons eligible to receive old age and survivors benefits."

Twelve to 13 million people now receiving Social Security payments would receive the hospitalization and medical benefits under terms of the bill introduced by Rep. Aime Forand (D-RI).

Forand says the bill has been endorsed by the AFL-CIO.

Hunt Club Recreates Spirit of Old England

Pontiac Press Photos

Edward E. Wilson, joint MFH, sits on "Mighty Mite" and discusses plans for the day with his daughter, Carol, and trainer Bob Woodington. Bob is holding "Ballyshannon," who gave a spectacular performance in the hunt teams. Both horses are a credit to the horse kingdom in the hunt field or show ring.

Bob Sarver on "R.S.V.P.," owned by G. Fred Morris, takes one of the "natural" jumps on the course. Mr. Morris and "R.S.V.P." are regulars in the hunt field at both Metamora and Bloomfield.

Unsuspecting motorists might have thought they had been spirited off to Merry Old England as they passed the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club last Saturday. But the horses and scarlet-coated riders they saw were only taking part in the annual hunter trials.

★ ★ ★

A hunter trial, in case you were wondering, consists of various events to test the "manners" and "way of going" of the hunting horse. Not necessarily noted for their beauty or aristocratic lineage, these horses are recognized for the safe and enjoyable ride they give their riders.

YOUNG RIDERS

The morning was devoted mostly to classes for youngsters. The junior riders (and the BOH is noted for its enthusiastic juniors) were first on the program. They were followed by two classes for "green hunters" and young and less experienced horses.

★ ★ ★

In the afternoon, the more formal events were held. The Corinthian class, one of the more colorful, features riders wearing their scarlet coats. Horses are judged especially for the "brilliancy" of their rounds.

The senior member foxhunter is a new class. The 10 riders all followed the huntmaster around the course and over a fence. Horses were judged primarily on their manners in company with other horses . . . one of the most important attributes of a good hunter.

★ ★ ★

For the second consecutive year, "Bad Blaze," owned by the Jim Stirlings of Rochester, was declared show champion on the basis of ribbons won during the day's competition.

"Bad Blaze," like a few other field hunters, was once a race horse. Since the Stirlings bought him at a track, Barbara, the Stirlings' young daughter, has been in complete charge of his education.

PINNED RESERVE

Sue Foley of Birmingham, riding her good hunter "Steel Strike," was pinned reserve. Sue is a most enthusiastic junior who hunts regularly.

★ ★ ★

Bob Woodington, riding "Ballyshannon," one of the most spectacular performing horses in the show, won the professional class and a highly coveted silver pitcher.

That night, after completion of the trials, hunt club members and their guests gathered for the annual Hunt Ball in the clubhouse, which was decorated in the Old English hunt theme.

★ ★ ★

The ball, like hunting, is ruled by tradition. It is the time for speeches and toasts in praise of foxes, hounds and horses, and, of course, hunting. The men wear their scarlet dinner coats and the women, for once, must take a back seat and wear either black or white ball gowns.

INTRODUCE GUESTS

Edward E. Wilson and Harold J. Havermale, joint masters, introduced guests and speakers as well as discussing the hunt itself. Albert A. Clark, honorary secretary of the hunt and an avid foxhunter for more than 30 years, also spoke.

★ ★ ★

In recognition for their past years as masters and supporters of the hunt, Thomas E. Wilson and Carleton C. Patterson were presented with silver trophies by William O. Bridge.

The ball is also the time when announcement is made of those who have earned their hunt colors. This honor signifies that recipients have served their apprenticeship by hunting regularly and have shown sufficient interest and knowledge about hunting.

★ ★ ★

Seven juniors earned their colors. They were toasted as those who will carry on the hunting sport and tradition.

The most colorful event of the evening was the parading of the hounds in the inside ring. Arthur Kirby, long-time huntsman, and Frank Farro, whip and stable manager, riding their regular hunting horses, displayed their well-trained hounds.

Barbara Stirling and Nina Spitzley ask "Bad Blaze" what he thinks of his fellow competitors. Although Barbara let her father, Jim Stirling, show "Bad Blaze" in the day's events, she is responsible for his good rounds.

Mrs. Coppersmith Entertains Chapter

Mrs. Charles L. Coppersmith presented an address entitled "Welcoming Blossoms of Europe" Monday when members of Chapter AW, PEO, gathered at her home. The theme, written by Mrs. Henry Wheeler of Tacoma, Wash., describes a trip to Europe.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 2 at the Oakland County Infirmary. Mrs. Harry Pearce was assistant hostess.

Dear Dog-Goned:

Send the Pooches to School, Then Start Training Hubbies

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am writing this for my sister-in-law and myself as we both have the same problem. It is about two dogs. Our husbands are brothers, and so are the dogs (brothers, that is) and these dogs are like two young ponies (German Shepherds) and very hard to train.

ABBY

"Neither of us have big yards for the dogs to run in and the dogs are under our feet all day. Our husbands love the dogs, but they aren't home all day and we are the ones who have to take care of them and train them, which we know nothing about. Her house is a mess and so is mine. How can we get rid of these dogs?"

DOG-GONED

DEAR DOG-GONED: Send the brothers to Obedience School (the dogs, that is) and it wouldn't hurt to start training your husbands at home.

★ ★ ★

SHE'S FOR SAFETY

"DEAR ABBY: In your column I see where lots of delivery men get into all sorts of trouble, because the women invite them in for coffee and conversation. One poor milkman even lost his job on account of this.

"Well, I say it is no wonder milkmen and mailmen get funny ideas. There ought to be a law against some of these women who answer the door in the morning half-dressed.

"I am one woman who dresses up decent to have breakfast so if any delivery men come, they don't get no funny ideas." EMMA

DEAR EMMA: Good for you! I've always said, a woman is as safe as she wants to be. And a man, too.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a young (unmarried) dentist and from my office window I have seen a very pretty girl up in a window of the office building across the street. She must be a secretary.

"Anyway, she smiles at me and I smile at her and this has been going on for several weeks and I would like to meet her. How can I meet her without making a darn fool out of myself?"

MOLAR MECHANIC

DEAR M. M.: Make a sign. "HOW ABOUT LUNCH?" and hold it up for her to see. If she responds in the affirmative, this is something you can get your OWN teeth into.

"DEAR ABBY: I am 57 years old and have been going with a widow-woman, who is 47, for the past eight years. My nephew is being married soon and he sent me an invitation to the wedding.

"Everyone in the family knows I am going with this lady but they did not include her name on my invitation and nobody said to bring her.

"I think she is being slighted and want to know if I am wrong to refuse to go for this reason? My children say it is a wedding strictly for the 'family.' Do you think I ought to go?"

ON THE FENCE

DEAR ON THE FENCE: The wedding is "strictly for family" . . . This woman is NOT family. Go, of course.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO PEGGY: There is more to being "college bred" than four years' loaf on papa's dough. What has he done LATELY?

★ ★ ★

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Retirees Happy in Home That 'Asks' for Fixing Up

Couple Recaptures the Enthusiasm of Newlyweds in Their First House

By RUTH MILLETT

"If you ever write a column for retired couples like us," the energetic, sweet-faced woman said, "be sure to tell them that in choosing their retirement house to look for one that doesn't need to be fixed up—but asks to be."

Then to illustrate what she meant, she showed me through the house she and her husband had bought several years ago.

The house was in good condition when they bought it, so there were no major repairs staring them in the face. But there were all sorts of possibilities for making small changes that would make the house more convenient and attractive.

There was the solid door they replaced with a glass door to give the house a more open feeling.

There was the extra bedroom turned into a den, the dining room made cozier by built-in corner cupboards, the livingroom windows at each side of the fireplace that had been turned into book shelves.

These weren't just improvements. They were projects a husband and wife accomplished together, with all the enthusiasm and eagerness of a young couple fixing up their first home.

FUN AND SATISFACTION

"If we had bought a new house," said the woman, "there wouldn't have been anything left for us to do to it. We would have moved in and sat down.

★ ★ ★

"But by buying an older house that is in good condition, a retired couple can have all the fun and satisfaction of making it truly their own by all the litle changes and improvements that almost ask to be done.

"Another thing," she added as she finished taking me through her charming house, "tell the couple who are retiring not to get rid of the furniture they have lived with for years, especially the pieces that have a sentimental value.

"It is so much easier to make a strange house in a strange town feel like home if you are surrounded by the things that have always been a part of your home wherever you have lived."

Women of Moose Plan Puppet Show

Women of the Moose met Monday evening in Moose Hall. Reports were read by Mrs. Albert Alderman, Mrs. William Vandruska, Mrs. Miles Streeter and Mrs. Francis King.

Mrs. Alderman announced that a puppet show will be presented Nov. 25 at Moose Hall. She and her committee are in charge of the event.

It's Childish to Fear Youngster's Defiance

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Toward his mother, Arnold is often a defiant little boy.

★ ★ ★

One evening, when some new neighbors had dropped in, his bedtime came. To avoid a scene, his mother tried to help him put away his train and promised him a story if he hurried. But he ignored this cajolery. Yanking his caboose from her, he ran and hid behind a living room chair.

As his father bore him upstairs, screaming and kicking, the guests suddenly decided they'd better be getting along.

Alone, humiliated, Arnold's mother thought, "Oh, how I wish I knew why he defies me so."

★ ★ ★

What she really meant was, "Oh, I wish I knew why his defiance makes me so uncomfortable."

BELIEVES BOOKS

She doesn't know she meant this, of course. A constant reader of child psychology books, Arnold's mother believes what they say about the importance of "understanding" the causes of his tantrums. As they never mention the importance of her response to the tantrums, she doesn't think it important either.

So she goes on cudgeling her brains to locate a likely psychological "why?" of her own uncertain, scared reaction to them.

She's terrified of conflicts with Arnold because the adults who raised her made conflicts with them unbearably painful.

Perhaps we were reared by parents who felt they must claim perfection to control us. When we came into inevitable conflict with them, they got very angry. They made disagreements with them so painful by lonely punishments that we had to regain their goodwill at any cost.

★ ★ ★

We gave up what we felt was true about some displeasing thing we did, not because it had been proved wrong, but becase it was too uncomfortable to maintain our position.

In our overwhelming relief at our parents' restored goodwill, we came to this unconscious conclusion: "I must never risk disagreeing with a person I want to love me."

★ ★ ★

It is this childish conclusion that is now making disagreement with Arnold so uncomfortable for his mother.

It revives all her old terror of being left alone with her own point of view. To grow up, she must learn to maintain it, risking the disapproval of the little boy she wants to love her.

Parents Are Right in Objecting to Girl Visiting Boys' Flat

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our 18-year-old daughter is a freshman in college. She and two of her girl friends date boys who have an apartment in the college town.

"Occasionally they go to the boys' apartment for a snack, to watch television or to listen to some new records. She doesn't see that such conduct, although innocent, can reflect on her character. Can it be that we are wrong in objecting?"

Answer: It is a very definite opportunity for the development of imprudent behavior and I think there is no question about the wisdom of your objecting to her going.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Over a month has passed since I sent a gift with a note as an extra thank-you for my pleasant visit with friends. No acknowledgment of any kind has come. I've paid for the gift and it was not really expensive. But I'd like to know that she received it, if there is any way you can suggest to find out—tactfully, naturally."

Answer: I see no objection to your writing a note expressing your anxiety about the safe arrival of the gift.

"Dear Mrs. Post: While visiting friends recently, we were invited to many nice parties with them — parties that had been arranged because of us. What return should we make now that we're home — home being far removed from these friends?"

Answer: Friends always do whatever they can for one another's guests when the occasions arise. However, it would be considerate of your hosts as well as probably satisfying your own kind impulse to write notes thanking each one again for her hospitality.

POSTURE

by Edythe McCulloch

Let's face it . . . if you are going to slouch you are going to develop bulges!

For good posture you must balance your body . . . each part on top of the other. Divide into three blocks: head and neck, torso and upper hip, hip and leg. Now, check in a full length mirror your:

1. ear lobe to shoulder
2. shoulder to hip
3. hip to ankle

You should be able to draw an imaginary line straight from one to the next.

To make it easy for you . . . stand with your feet one foot apart, distribute weight evenly, relax your knees, pull hips under, contract stomach muscles. Now, lift your chin, square your shoulders and you are in perfect posture.

Nature Plays Pretty Mean Trick

It's True--Women Carry More Fat

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Lucky men! Dr. Stanley M. Garn, anthropologist of the Fels Research Institute, Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, reports that women carry more of their fat outside of their frames than men do. Why couldn't it be the other way around?

★ ★ ★

Studies have shown that the fat rolls are larger on women than on men even though the weight of body fat in proportion to total body weight is much the same.

It always seemed to me sort of mean of nature in not allowing us to hide a few extra pounds under our insteps or under our busts; or, if they must show, why can't we carry them on our collar bones?

But no! There they are for all to see, bunched together, like the members of a convention, on our waists and abdomens and hips. Anyway that is how it is and we might as well face up to it. Extra pounds always appear where we least want them.

★ ★ ★

This differs in women in that some are more prone to the spare tire, some to the protruding abdomen and some to the large hipline. A letter before me says, "Is there anything women can do to correct a square figure? Clothes look awful on a figure like this."

FAT PADS ON HIPS

I am sure I know what this reader means. She is speaking of the pads of fat on the hips in the back, just under the waistline. These do give a square appearance.

The following exercises will help. If this is a question of weight distribution only, you will not need to diet. If you are overweight generally, count your calories as well as exercising.

Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor, extending out from the armpits. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Keep the knees bent as you roll from side to side, touching the thighs to the floor at the end of each roll.

Your palms should face the floor. In fact, you cling to the floor with your fingertips.

If you would like to have my hip-slimming routines, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Oven Bake Pork Chops Creole Style

Mrs. Brown's Dish Calls for Vegetables and Canned Soup

By JANET ODELL

Oven dinners are tempting at this time of year. When you have a baked meat dish, add potatoes for baking and a dessert that also takes long slow cooking. Start with Mrs. James E. Brown's Creole Pork Chops.

Active in both Lincoln and Wever PTA's, Mrs. Brown is serving the interest of her two children. She is also a Camp Fire Girls worker.

CREOLE PORK CHOPS
By Mrs. James E. Brown
6 pork chops, ¾ inch thick
6 onion slices
6 green pepper rings
1 can condensed tomato soup

Brown the chops in an ovenproof pan. Place onions and green peppers on top of meat. Pour soup over meat. Cover and bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves six.

World Opens Up to Iowa Actress

When she won Otto Preminger's contest to play Saint Joan, Jean Seberg's world opened up like a kaleidoscope in beautiful colors. She flew away from Marshalltown, Iowa, to London for the filming; she moved from the help and encouragement of a high school dramatics teacher to the inspiring help of Sir John Gielgud, with whom she was playing.

Before she had finished "Saint Joan," she had been given the lead in "Bonjour Tristesse." This is a lot to happen to a girl between her seventeenth and eighteenth birthdays.

According to an article in a national magazine, Miss Seberg has great curiosity, instinctive charm, and the simplicity of someone who knows what she wants. She wants to be a good actress. She doesn't want any celebrity treatment. She wants to discover people and places on her own and learn everything she can from both.

When she started to work in London on "Saint Joan," she watched everything John Gielgud did and learned that he was a "method" actor and knew about one million things she wanted to know about acting. He helped her generously, as did Richard Widmark in his quiet way. Dynamic Otto Preminger screamed and coaxed and got things doen.

Miss Seberg has a gamin quality, but that of a well-mannered gamin. She hasn't learned temperament yet and gives herself spontaneously to whatever she is doing. She hasn't too many convictions about clothes, except that she loves all kinds of sweaters and simple clothes that don't overpower her.

★ ★ ★

If she is as good an actress as she is attractive a person, Jean Seberg is a name that will be important for a long, long time.

Use Clothespins to Entertain Kids

BOSTON (INS) — Small fry can have loads of fun on rainy afternoons with clothespins and the usual odds and ends around the house.

★ ★ ★

A pencil or colored crayon can sketch the outline of a face. Fluffed up strings of yarn can be pasted to the top for the hair. And various colored paper or strips of cloth can be made to look like a dress.

There are all sorts of ideas for mom or the youngster — of course mom has to help with the suggestions.

There's Little Red Riding Hood, a bathing beauty, a baker, bride and bridegroom, even mom and dad or big brother.

Culture Club Meets

"Guidance of Youth" was the topic of a panel discussion when Child Culture met in the Elizabeth Lake road home of Mrs. Irvin Humbaugh. Taking part in the event were Mrs. Elsie Carter, the Rev. Arvid Anderson, Bernard Heaney, Mrs. Lela Long, Byron Merritt and Stephen Hubbell.

Join Promenaders

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wallwork were received as new members of Promenaders Club when that group met Saturday evening in Hawthorne School.

Callers for the event were Fred Newmann, Bob Longe, Warren Allen and Walter Koenig.

Help Teens Move Into Adulthood

Parents Advised to Let Youngsters Share Problems

By MRS. KATHERINE B. OETTINGER

There are very real difficulties in becoming a full-fledged adult in today's world.

★ ★ ★

In this time of rapid social change, the adolescent gets exciting tastes of adult freedom before he has been given corresponding responsibilities.

MORE EXPERIENCE

In fact, today's teenager has much more experience than any preceding generation in social relations, work outside the home, traveling, responding to mass communications.

★ ★ ★

He has more money, more time of his own and less experience with consequences.

His parents well may be anxious not only about him but about themselves because their burdens (among them the financial burden) are heavier and because age and wisdom enable them to see more clearly the dangers of wrong decisions.

★ ★ ★

Each adolescent must develop his own equipment for making choices and for evaluating circumstances if he is to have experience with consequences.

JOINT RESPONSIBILITY

But he cannot develop this equipment alone. Parents and their teenagers have a joint responsibility to work out problems together.

★ ★ ★

This is one of the most rewarding, and perhaps one of the most demanding jobs which parents can take on.

I am convinced that if parent-teenager relationships are a two-way street, the adolescent is well on his way to responsible, achieving adulthood.

★ ★ ★

I am convinced that some of our trouble with delinquent children today may well lie in previous failures to recognize them as people; to make them feel like participating members of society rather than children waiting at the station until the train of maturity comes along.

EAGER TO JOIN IN

We know enough to believe that teenagers are not only willing but eager to assume responsibilities in the home, in the community, in work and in play.

★ ★ ★

They do respond to the chance to be a part—to the limit of their abilities—of that adult world in which everyone else lives and from which they sometimes feel shut out.

MR. and MRS. V. E. WILTSE

On Nov. 27 Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Wiltse will have been married 50 years. In honor of the occasion, an open house will be held at their South Parke street home on Nov. 29. The Wiltses have four sons, one daughter and 15 grandchildren. Three of their sons live in Michigan, and the fourth son and daughter live in Colorado.

Carole Wehrle, Walter Perry Exchange Vows

Carole Ann Wehrle and Walter Eugene Perry were married Nov. 8 in St. Michael Rectory.

The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly performed the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Parents of ghe bride are Mr. and Mrs. John Anthony Wehrle of Blakeslee, O., and the bridegroom is the son of the Pete A. Perrys of Crocus street.

For her wedding the bride chose a beige lace gown with brown accessories and a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Her only attendant, Isabel Dixon, wore a blue suit with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Wehrle and Mrs. Perry both chose blue dresses and wore corsages of red roses.

★ ★ ★

The couple is living in Royal Oak after returning from a trip to Niagara Falls.

Women comprise about 25 per cent of Russia's engineering manpower roll while only one per cent of the engineers in the United States are women.

Producers' Luncheons See Business Deals

NEW YORK (AP)—"A producer is to a movie what an editor is to a magazine," said Arthur Hornblow Jr., a real pro in his field. "He puts it together."

★ ★ ★

Hornblow, who is 64, balding, dark-eyed and quite vocal, has been an Army lieutenant and a lawyer. But he has also produced some 40 to 50 pictures. They range from "Ruggles of Red Gap" and "Gaslight" to "Oklahoma!" and, most recently, "Witness for the Prosecution."

He has some strong opinions about the role of producers and the present plight and future of Hollywood, which he loves and thinks has a real impact for good in the world.

"Actually, there are 142 members of the Screen Producers Guild, and they make 98 per cent of the movies made in this country.

"All races, religions and political points of view are as evenly divided among producers as in any representative segment of the American community."

Aren't producers phone-mad, luncheon-addicted, party-crazy?

"I have only two phones on my desk," replied Hornblow. "And one is private. It is for the use of my wife.

"The number of your phones isn't as important as the efficiency of your secretary.

★ ★ ★

"We do go to a lot of lunches, but we use luncheons as we use phones—to conduct business. The same is true of Hollywood parties.

"The reason for a Hollywood party is not to hold an orgy — but to do business.

"It's more like a Quaker meeting. The men and women separate immediately.

"The women talk about their children, their cooks, their plans to visit Europe. The men talk business, make contacts, settle business.

★ ★ ★

"In 15 minutes at one party, when I was preparing to make 'Gaslight,' I got Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer to play the leads. If I had had to deal through their agents, this could have taken six months."

What is wrong with the movie business today?

"If anything kills the film industry it won't be the disinterest of the public," said Hornblow. "It will be the green badge of vanity—the exorbitant money demands of talent for purposes of prestige.

★ ★ ★

Hornblow's point was that a novel that once could be bought for $30,000 now costs $300,000, a star who once would take $50,000 for a picture now wants a guarantee several times that large, and so do writers and directors. His further point was that, in most cases, as a result of tax laws, these demands had become symbols of prestige rather than actual take-home pay.

★ ★ ★

"The range of what Hollywood is prepared to pay for anything should be cut in half," he said. "Then the movie industry would be healthy. Talent must take some of the risks, too."

★ ★ ★

Right or wrong, Hornblow toots the most forthright bugle that has come this way from Hollywood in a long time.

State Liquor Sales Spurt Up Sharply

LANSING (AP) — A sharp increase in liquor sales during the first week of November was reported today by the State Liquor Control Commission.

★ ★ ★

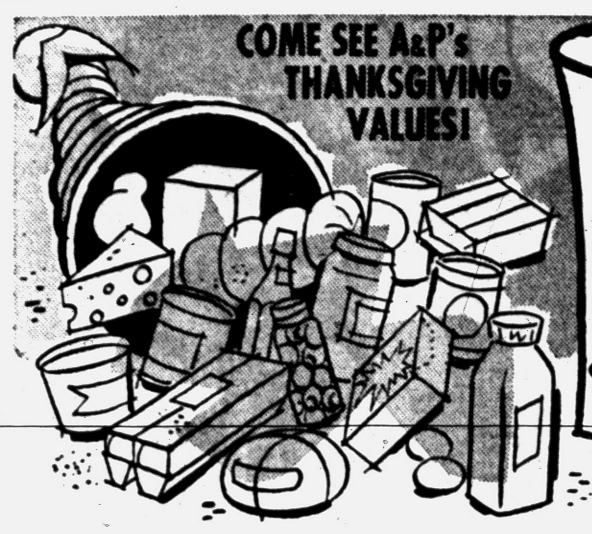

The commission reported that 86,230 cases of liquor were sold to retailers during the week ending Nov. 8 compared to 81,324 cases during the same week last year and 75,728 cases the previous week this year.

Commissioner Z. O. Ferency said the increase mostly could be attributed to dealers stocking up in anticipation of Christmas sales.

"The distilleries have been starting their national advertising campaigns earlier this year," he said, "but if sales keep on at their current rate we will still lag behind last year."

Zuni Indians Start Weird Rite Dec. 15

GALLUP, New Mexico—The Zuni Indians have set Dec. 15 for the start of their annual Shalako ceremonies, one of the rarest rituals in North America.

★ ★ ★

The giant, masked Shalakos will dance by firelight in the plaza of the historic Zuni pueblo throughout the night of Dec. 15-16, according to word received by the Gallup Chamber of Commerce.

Zuni lies 45 miles south of U. S. 66 in western New Mexico. Thirty-three miles of the road south from Gallup are paved, the remainder gravel surfaced.

The Shalako festival at Zuni celebrates the arrival of divine messengers from the gods. Indians impersonating the messengers wear ceremonial masks that make them tower nine or ten feet tall.

264 Detroit Youngsters Show Exposure to TB

DETROIT (AP) — Of 6,000 Detroit school children tested for exposure to tuberculosis, 264 showed positive reactions, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, health commissioner, reported today.

The tuberculin tests show whether a child has been exposed to TB and also the degree of exposure. A solution of killed TB germs is inserted into the skin and the degree of reddening is noted.

Returning home, Lt. Comdr. Peter Holmes described the agonies of radiation sickness to his wife. "But you don't have to die in a mess," he concluded.

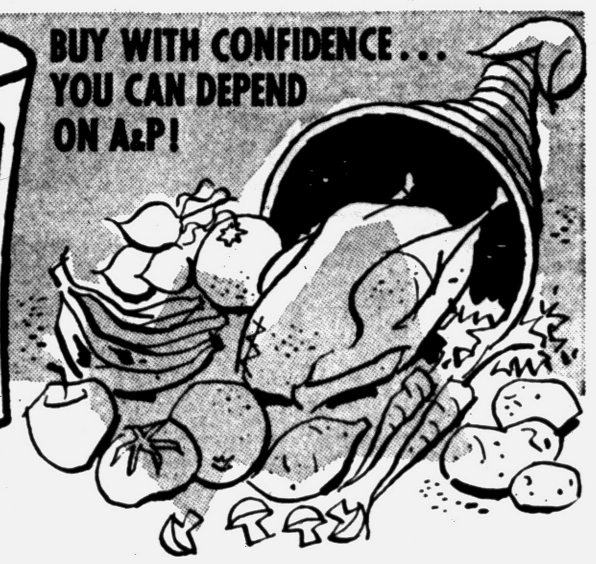

He showed her a vial of tablets. "Just take one with a drink, and that's the end." Knowing Peter might be at sea in September, when the sickness was expected, Mary protested. "But who will take care of Jennifer?" Peter pointed to the syringe.

"I've got to kill Jennifer?" asked Mary, white with rage. "She may live on for days, crying and vomiting, with you dead on the floor beside her," said Peter. "Do you want her to die like that?"

Aneurin Bevan, British political leader, said in Bristol: "I think this country has got itself into very grave difficulties, economically and militarily, by following in too docile a fashion the leadership of the United States."

Pontiac-Ferndale Finale Starts at 3:30

Day-Night Tilt for Chiefs?

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac High will try something new Friday afternoon at Wisner Stadium when the Chiefs end their 1957 football season against Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

They're going to play a day-night football game.

Confusing? It's like this.

For the first time in 13 years, Pontiac is engaging in an afternoon struggle at Wisner. The chances are good, however, that the two teams will run out of daylight before the contest is over.

A late starting time provides the day-night angle. Kickoff hour is 3:30 p.m. and the way darkness moves in these days, the lights are almost certain to be turned on before hostilities cease.

Pontiac has not played a home football game in the daytime since 1944 when the west side stands and lights were erected at Wisner.

Friday's Pontiac-Ferndale tussle will be the 4th in the current series with each team holding one win and the other meeting resulting in a tie. The overall series history stands 4-2-1 for Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs have battled through a drab season of two victories and five defeats. Ferndale's 3-4-1 record is only slightly better, but the Railsplitters have shown marked improvement in recent games while the Chiefs have gone down hill.

Ted Meister, Ferndale coach, said early in the season that his club would find itself before the campaign was finished. Pontiac will learn Friday just how well the 'Splitters have come along.

With all hopes for a winning season long since vanished, coach Jesse MacLeay is expected to send many of his sophomores and juniors into action this week as he attempts to scan the future.

★ ★ ★

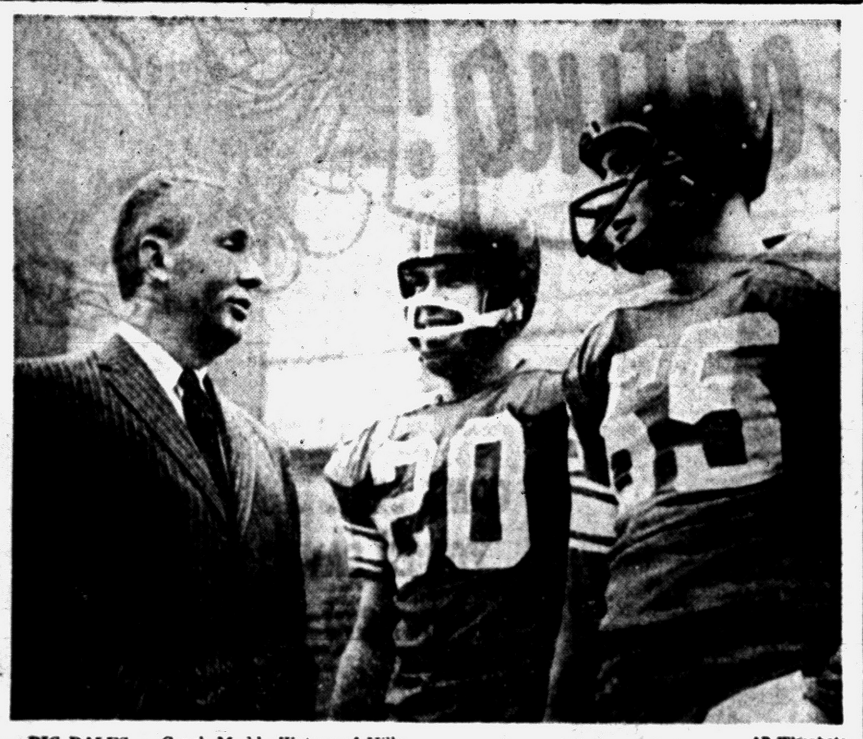

Although new Pontiac Northern will open its doors next fall, the present PHS will use the new school's football talent for its varsity squad if the Michigan High School Athletic Association approves.

The plan has already been approved by the Pontiac Board of Education.

Incomplete facilities at Northern are the stated reasons for the football consolidation next year. Gridiron facilities are scheduled to be ready by November, 1958, which will delay the sport there until 1959.

However, Northern will be able to play basketball in the school's 1st year of operation.

Tuttle-Martin Swap Figured as Key Trade

Pending Announcement of Players Involved Set for Today

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics today will announce a trade that may involve as many as 10 or 12 players, including infielder Billy Martin and catcher Tim Thompson of the A's and centerfielder Bill Tuttle and pitcher Duke Maas of the Tigers.

One high Detroit official calls it "the biggest deal in our team's history."

The Tigers' biggest previous player transaction was in 1939 when Detroit traded six players to the St. Louis Browns for Bobo Newsom and three other St. Louis players.

Both American League teams called news conferences for 11 a.m. (EST) to announce particulars of the deal, which is said to involve no cash.

It is likely the Tigers will give up Tuttle, a sharp fielding but weak hitting outfielder; Maas, a 26-year-old righthander who has been an in and outer for several seasons, and several other players. Possibilities are that utility player J. W. Porter and a catcher, either Frank House or Red Wilson, will be involved.

★ ★ ★

Martin, Thompson and veteran slugger Gus Zernial reportedly are among the players headed for Detroit. The Tigers also are known to be interested in shortstop Joe Demaestri.

★ ★ ★

Just last week following a meeting between general manager John J. McHale and manager Jack Tighe's staff the Tigers said bluntly "We are anxious to trade."

"We must trade," said McHale. "Even if some of our players improve, that still won't be enough. We have to make some moves."

The Tigers finished in fourth place last season, getting a first division berth for the first time since 1950, although they failed to win as many games as they did in 1955 when they wound up in fifth place.

Final decisions made following the noon conference today in the Detroit-Kansas City trade will be found on the front page of The Press.

Detroit has expressed a willingness to give up first baseman Ray Boone, whom the Boston Red Sox have tried to obtain several times. McHale and Frank Lane, Cleveland's new general manager, also are reported ready to discuss trades. A deal with the Indians might involve Vic Wertz, the heavy hitting first baseman the Tigers dealt off several seasons back.

Martin is the key player in the deal with Kansas City. The fiery veteran who can play three infield positions was traded to the Athletics last season after getting in the New York Yankee "doghouse" because of an early morning night club incident that involved several other Yankee players.

He hit .251 and was out part of the season with a hand injury after joining the A's who finished in seventh place.

★ ★ ★

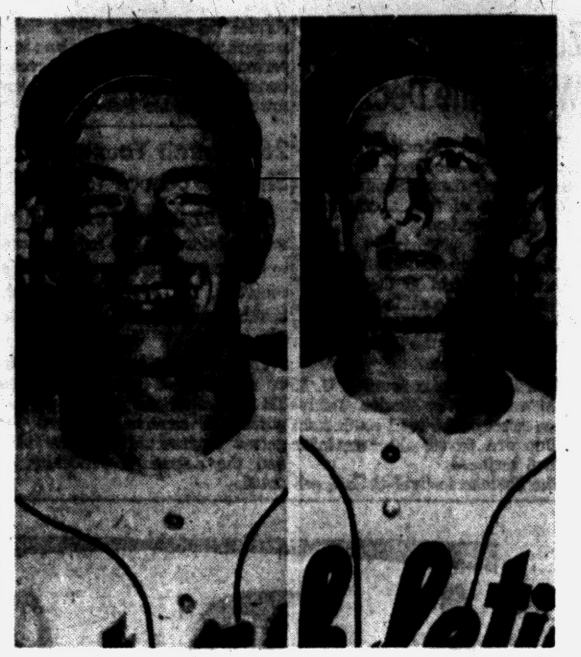

Tighe said just 10 days ago "Martin is my kind of ball player. We need a guy like him and I think he'd hit .275 for us."

Tuttle is an outstanding defensive player who has been a major disappointment at the plate. He drove in only 47 runs last season for the Tigers, who nearly traded him to the Cleveland Indians before the campaign got started.

Following last week's meeting Tighe said "our No. 1 need is a good defensive shortstop. Our No. 2 need is a solid catcher."

Though he has been the American League's all star shortstop several times, Harvey Kuenn never has given the Tigers the defensive play they need at shortstop.

Amid reports that Kuenn, too, might be dealt away in a transaction with either the Chicago White Sox or Cleveland, Tighe announced plans to switch Kuenn either to the outfield or to first base.

AP Wirephoto

MAY MOVE — Confirmation was expected today on the big player deal involving Detroit and Kansas City with Bill Tuttle (left) and Billy Martin, two of the key figures in the trade.

Irish Letdown Feared for Battle With Iowa

CHICAGO (INS) — Terry Brennan, Notre Dame's most happy football coach, wants to beat Iowa next Saturday but the Irish coach fears a letdown by his team.

"I've got to get them out of the trees for practice today," the Irish coach said laughingly when asked how he felt about beating Oklahoma, 7 to 0, last Saturday.

"I would honestly say that we could have beaten any team in the United States last week," Brennan told the Chicago Football Writers Association from South Bend, Ind., by telephone.

Brennan, however, lauded Oklahoma as one of the best teams in the country and said "the Sooners certainly are on a par with Michigan state."

★ ★ ★

Brennan added:

"We lost to Michigan State by a lopsided score but it was not one of our better games. We played an Oklahoma team that was just about as good as it was a year ago. We happened to be really ready for them and just because they lost doesn't make Michigan State better than the Sooners."

Brennan said he feared Iowa's big line which he said moves about as fast as any in the country. "They've got about the same team they had a year ago and we got beat badly in 1956," he recalled.

The Irish coach added:

"We will have to be just as great against Iowa this week as we were against Oklahoma in order to win. I am not deluding myself about that at all. Iowa has got probably one of the two best offenses in the country and they change it at a moments notice."

★ ★ ★

Asked what he attributed the success of his team to this season, he answered:

"Probably the main reason is that my quarterback Bob Williams has improved enough to get the other 10 men to work behind him. He's done a better job at selecting plays but he has got to have the confidence of is teammates before he can do an adequate job."

Harvey Offers Player Council

NHL Assn. Veep Says Idea Might Help to End Impasse

MONTREAL (AP) — A vice-president of the National Hockey League Players' Assn. said today he thought a player council might be the means of ending the impasse between the association and the league's club owners.

★ ★ ★

Doug Harvey, star defenseman for the Montreal Canadiens, said the council should be made up of one or two players representing each team and that meetings with the owners should be held at least once or twice a year.

★ ★ ★

"The main purpose of the players has been to meet with the owners to settle our demands and get all problems straightened out," said Harvey. "That was one of the reasons for the association's suit when our members were denied a meeting."

★ ★ ★

Harvey made it clear he felt that the players assn. should continue as an organization within which the players could formulate their demands. These would be presented to the owners through a player council.

Harvey's remarks came after he was told of the withdrawal by the association of charges against the league and club owners of engaging in unfair labor practices.

Gavilan Duels Byars Tonight

Ex-Welterweight King in Telecast 10-Rounder at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Gerardo Gonjalez Gavilan, better known as the Cuban Keed, the former welterweight champion, meets Walt Byars tonight in a 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Kid Gavilan, 31-years old and a veteran of 138 matches, hopes to use Byars as a stepping stone towards regaining the title he once cherished.

The Kid will be making his first Stadium appearance since dropping a decision to Bobo Olson in a middleweight title fight in 1954.

★ ★ ★

The bout tonight will be nationally televised (ABC—10 p.m. EST)

Gavilan is out to avenge what he calls a "home town decission" which he lost to Byars in Boston last December. The Kid has lost four of five bouts this year and his nine-year record is now 105-28-5.

★ ★ ★

Byars, a 25-year old left hooker, has a 16-5-1 record but has slipped of late. He defeated Sugar Hart last March but has since lost to Tony DeMarco, Virgil Akins and Isaac Logart.

Coleman Backs 2-Platoon Plan for Ivy League

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Princeton's new football coach said today that he would support any plan that called for the Ivy League to break away from other teams and play two-platoon football within the loop.

★ ★ ★

Dick Colman, 42-year-old successor to Charlie Caldwell, who died two weeks ago, said he is completely in favor of two-platoon football.

★ ★ ★

"Charlie was working on something like our playing two-platoon football among ourselves and I, for one, would support it," he said.

Caldwell was on record as being against the one-platoon game as it's now being played. Colman, who was his assistant, feels the same way.

Giants' Svoboda Leaves Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Quiet Bill Svoboda today was out of the hospital—again. The New York Giant is captain of the Giants' defensive alignment and one of the fiercest linebackers in the National Football League.

★ ★ ★

Svoboda, 6-foot, 1-inch, 218 pound citizen of Houma, La., was discharged from the hospital yesterday. He was carried off the field in a litter Sunday with a concussion as the Giants whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 13-0 in Yankee Stadium. The victory moved the defending champions within a half game of the Cleveland Browns, Eastern Conference leaders.

MacKay Looks Cinch for Davis Cup Spot

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—When Captain Bill Talbert names a four man U. S. squad next week for the Davis Cup interzone tennis matches with the Philippines, the fourth spot is almost certain to go to Barry MacKay, the towering thumper from Dayton, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Three places are conceded to the team's veterans Vic Seixas, Gardnar Mulloy and Herbie Flam for the first of two zone tests December 5, 6 and 7 at Adelaide.

Belgium, European champions, must be met at Brisbane Dec. 12-14.

Talbert said today on the eve of the opening of the South Australian Championships he would take no chances with the Philippines, and would send his strongest lineup into the fray until the match was clinched. Then he might substitute on the final day.

29 Prep Teams Still Spotless

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With only scattered action remaining on the state's high school football schedule, 29 teams have perfect records.

Only seven teams were eliminated from the undefeated untied slate last week, including Detroit Denby whose record was marred because of an eligibility ruling that cost the team several victories.

Warren and South Lake eliminated each other from the list with a 13-13 deadlock. Ann Arbor St. Thomas had blanked eight previous opponents before clashing with Detroit St. Thomas. The Detroit school not only crossed the Ann Arbor St. Thomas goal for the first time, but did it twice for a 12-6 triumph.

Flint Bentley, winner of seven straight, was bounced by Montrose 19-0 and Redford was thrashed by Detroit Southeastern in the City League title game.

Scoring Title Bound for Keating

12 State Colleges Grid Successes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two-thirds of Michigan's 18 football-playing colleges will wind up the 1957 season with .500 or better records — all because they were able to rack up an overwhelming margin over out-of-state schools.

Teams from outside Michigan borders had a rugged time of it against the Michigan schools, losing 40 times against 23 victories and three ties. Western Michigan beat Kent State Saturday and the victory over the Ohio team enabled Western to finish with a 4-4-1 record.

Home teams hold a big edge over the visitors winning 65 times against 34 defeats and 4 ties.

★ ★ ★

Unless Jim Pace of Michigan can come up with a super-human scoring effort against Rose Bowl-bound Ohio State on Saturday afternoon, scatback Kerry Keating of Eastern Michigan has the state college scoring championship all wrapped up.

Keating has scored 15 touchdowns for 90 points for the Hurons and Pace, the only player among the leaders who has another game to play, has 54. Keating scored once Saturday against St. Josephs in a losing cause and Pace got two touchdowns as Michigan defeated Indiana.

Keating previously was credited with 90 points due to a mixup in the scoring but the score later was credited to his teammate, halfback Dale Nicholas, who concluded the season with 45 points.

★ ★ ★

All the state's schools except Michigan, Michigan State and Detroit have finished their 1957 campaigns. Here's the way the scoring leaders stack up:

Area Aces Listed on MIAA Honor 11

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All-conquering Hillsdale placed four players on the 1957 All-MIAA football team announced Wednesday.

Selected by the league's seven coaches, the honor team includes end Jim Reynolds, guard Dave Trippett, quarterback Doug Maison (Imlay City) and halfback Walt Poe (Pontiac) of the Dales, who won their fourth straight MIAA championship this season.

Paired with Reynolds at end is Tom Taylor of Albion. The tackles are Larry TerMolen of Hope and George Arrick of Alma. With Trippett at guard is Mick Faber of Hope while Eric Sundeck of Alma is the first team center.

Along with Maison and Poe in the backfield are halfback Mert Vanderlind of Hope and fullback Dick Nash (Royal Oak) of Albion.

The second team: Ends Leon Harper of Adrian and Bill Klenk of Alma; tackles Phil Perry of Kalamazoo and Ed St. Clair of Hillsdale; guards Lanny Leak (Clarkston) of Albion, Duane Hall of Adrian and Luis Diaz of Olivet; center Dave Driscoll of Hillsdale; quarterbacks Dick Ayling (Pontiac) of Alma and Bob Gamble of Albion; halfbacks Bob Hill of Alma and Don Vanglider of Albion, and fullback Wayne O'Shaughnessy (West Bloomfield) of Hillsdale.

Class B Title to Marshall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Marshall's Redskins nosed out East Lansing Wednesday for the mythical state Class B high school football championship.

★ ★ ★

Winner of eight straight games, including a one-touchdown verdict over East Lansing, Marshall had a five-point margin over the Trojans in the final balloting by the Associated Press panel of sports writers.

★ ★ ★

Undefeated-untied Charlotte nailed down third place in the ninth and final weekly rankings. Manistee took fourth place and Dowagiac fifth. Both Manistee and Dowagiac have perfect 8-0-0 records.

Grand Blanc, which finished its season last Friday night with a 7-0 triumph over Davison, held down sixth place. Lake Orion, a 13-6 winner over Holly, and Fremont, a 33-0 winner over Hudsonville, shared seventh place.

Warren lost its spotless record with a 13-13 tie against South Lake but held onto ninth place while Clawson, a 30-6 winner over Madison, took the final spot in the "top 10."

★ ★ ★

Here's the way the AP panel picked the "top 10" in Class B:

1. Marshall 8-0-0
2. East Lansing 7-1-0
3. Charlotte 7-0-0
4. Manistee 8-0-0
5. Dowagiac 8-0-0
6. Grand Blanc 7-0-2
7. (tie) Lake Orion 8-0-0 and Fremont 8-0-0
9. Warren 7-0-1
10. Clawson 7-1-0

Others: Rochester, Northville, Holly, South Lake, Flushing.

Underdog Green Relishes Role in Title Battle

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Irrepressible and unbeaten Dartmouth — which has engineered last-ditch rallies to save half its games — relishes the underdog rating for the Ivy League championship football test with twice-beaten Princeton Saturday.

★ ★ ★

"I'm surprised but pleased that we are not favored," Coach Bob Blackman revealed.

"I thought we would be the pick on the strength of our record plus the fact this team has fought from behind so consistently."

Dartmouth is gunning for its first undefeated season in 20 years at Tigertown but the odds-makers have made Princeton a one touchdown choice.

Argentine Race King Considers His Retirement

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Juan Fangio said today he is "seriously considering' his retirement from active motor car racing.

★ ★ ★

Fangio, who was carried in triumph through downtown Buenos Aires, yesterday, brought to Argentina his fifth title as world champion driver.

But, he told newsmen, he wants to retire "before decays set in—and I don't know when that will happen."

★ ★ ★

He said he was "keenly interested' in participating in the Indianapolis 500 mile event, "But I would need a good car and hard training."

Lane's 1st Attempt Fails

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two trades involving the Cleveland Indians' Vic Wertz, Al Smith and Rocky Colavito for Kansas City infielders Billy Martin and Vic Power failed to come off last night, the Cleveland Plain-Dealer reported.

Frank Lane, Indians' general manager, was quoted that a Smith for Martin trade was rejected by Arnold Johnson, President of the Kansas City Athletics. Smith is a speedy outfielder who spent part of last season at third base for Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

Lane said Johnson then asked for Wertz, a first baseman who batted .282 last season, and Colavito, a strong-armed outfielder, in exchange for Martin and Vic Power. Lane said he was reluctant to part with Colavito and would make no deal involving Power. Wertz would only be traded for a hard-hitting infielder, he added.

★ ★ ★

Kansas City is dickering with several other clubs including the Detroit Tigers, Lane quoted Johnson, and Martin is the key man in trade talk.

Lane was reached in Havana, Cuba, where he is meeting with Bobby Bragan, the Indians' field manager.

Williams Takes Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Unbeaten but once-tied Williams today gained a slight lead in the race for the Lambert Cup, emblematic of the small college football championship in the East.

Lehigh, once beaten this year, trailed by the smallest of margins with 9.21 points, as Williams led with 9.29.

Lions Need No Pep Talk for Bears

Finale of '56 Stays in Mind of Detroit 11

Defending Champions of Western Conference Always Tough

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions need no special pep talk for their Sunday clash with the Chicago Bears.

Practices will go on this week just about the way they have all season long. Coach George Wilson and his staff are spending about the same amount of time going through scouting reports, films and plays as usual.

There are no special reminders around the Lions' office or around Briggs Stadium.

But because the National Football League is so rugged, and because the Lions got off to such a sputtering start, each week there comes a "must game." From this point on, a loss does not mean certain elimination. But it might. A setback certainly would make the road back to the top one of the roughest in the NFL history.

The Lions know better than to take the Bear game lightly. They walloped the Chicagoans in Detroit last year 42-10 in a contest that was just about as one-sided as any the Lions have played in recent seasons. Two weeks later in the cold, raw wind at Wrigley Field, the Bears triumphed 38-21.

★ ★ ★

That was where Bobby Layne got his lumps from Ed Meadows, the Bears' rugged defensive end. Injured early in the game when Meadows tackled him from the "blind side," Layne had to yield to veteran Harry Gilmer.

After a frank appraisal of the game, there were only a few who suggested that the Lions would have won with a healthy Layne. The Bears clearly outplayed the Detroit club in the game that decided the Western Conference championship.

But in case incentive is needed, the Layne-Meadows incident will provide it Sunday.

Wilson and his assistant coaches have insisted all along that the Bears are to be greatly feared and respected—"they're still big and they're still bad," said Wilson.

"I'm more worried about the Bears than any other team in the division," said Wilson a couple of weeks ago after the Lions had dropped two games on the West Coast. "Whether they can win the division title or not, they still have tremendous personnel. They'll decide who does win the championship."

If there is any such thing as a schedule advantage in the NFL, the Lions have it the rest of the way. After the Bear game here Sunday, which will draw another packed house, the Lions meet Green Bay in Detroit's traditional Thanksgiving day tussle.

Pistons Lose 92-75 Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The western division lead enjoyed by Detroit in the National Basketball Assn. was short lived. Today the Pistons were right back where they were three days ago, in second place behind the St. Louis Hawks.

The combination of the Hawks' 118-115 victory over New York Knickerbockers and Detroit's 92-75 setback by Cincinnati's Royals was responsible for the shift in the standings.

The Hawks, who dropped into the runnerup spot Sunday night, had to rally in the second half to overcome the Knicks in the feature of last night's doubleheader in St. Louis. The winners outscored New York 66-56 in the second half.

Bob Pettit, as usual, was the St. Louis star. He scored 38 points and had help from Win Wilfong, Jack McMahon and Ed Macauley as the Hawks snapped a 101-101 deadlock with five minutes to go and wrapped it up. Richie Guerin, playing his first game of the season, was high for the losers with 20 points. He had been out with a fractured thumb.

Detroit, which fell one game behind St. Louis, got only 17 points from their big gun, George Yardley. At that, the Pistons held Cincinnati to a 57-57 tie after three quarters.

But the Royals finished strong. Clyde Lovellette paced the winners with 25 points.

Musial at 37 Eyes 'Another Season'

ST. LOUIS (INS) —Stan (The Man) Musial—who will be 37 years old Thursday — said today he thought he could play "another season or so" and predicted a strong flag fight by the 1958 St. Louis Cardinals.

The star first baseman - outfielder of the Redbirds, commenting on the Cards' pennant chances next year, said:

"We'll do all right. We've got good sound nucleus. We don't have a 20-game winner (though) . . . and we could stand some catching help."

Musial, barely nosed out by Milwaukee's Hank Aaron in the most valuable player balloting this year, added:

"If (third baseman-centerfielder) Ken Boyer and (outfielder) Wally Moon can have big years at bat, our punch can take us a long way."

Grosscup Eyes Offense Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Lee Grosscup, Utah's passing wizard, has moved into the thick of the fight for the individual offense championship among major college football players.

State Authorizes $53,311 Timber Sale

LANSING — Sales of timber from state forests—valued at $53,311—were authorized by the Conservation Commission at its November meeting.

Loggers will bid for these timber offerings at public sales conducted by the Conservation Department in the near future.

Timber available for cutting includes 1,639,000 board feet of saw logs, 4,864 cords of pulpwood, 3,450 tons of chemical wood and 3,450 posts.

Spartans Aiming for Triple Harrier Slam

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State will try for a triple slam in cross country here Monday.

The Spartan thinclads, already winners of the Big Ten and IC4A team titles, are favored in the 19th annual NCAA cross country run. State also is defending team champion.

A strong field of 237 runners from 46 schools is expected for the four mile endurance grind over the campus course.

Toughest competition is expected to come from Notre Dame, Kansas, Texas, Houston, Iowa and Illinois.

Notre Dame won the Central Collegiates and was runnerup to State in the IC4A. Iowa and Illinois ran second and third in the Big Ten meet, Kansas is the Big Eight champ and Texas and Houston both rate as Southwest powers.

Must Validate Deer in 48-Hour Period

LANSING — Special season permit holders in Areas A-7 and A-8 are reminded that all deer other than legal bucks taken in these areas must be validated within 48 hours after being killed.

The deer must be presented by the permittee to a conservation officer in the field or at one of the Conservation Department checking stations in the area.

Grunt 'n' Groan Verdict Prompts Riot in Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—Two policemen were injured in a riot at Madison Square Garden last night after the end of a wrestling card.

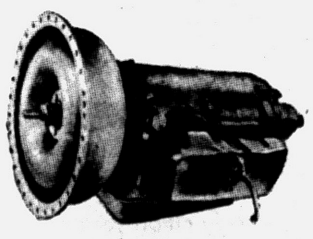

The disorder started following a tag-team match in which Antonio Rocca and Eduardo Carpentier were declared winners over Jerry Graham and Dick Affils.

Beer cans, pop bottles, chairs and seats were hurled from the balcony and various fist fights broke out. Several men were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. A 33-man police detail finally restored order.

Jockey George Hettinger works on leather for a hobby. He has his own hand-stitched saddle.

Wolverines Drill in Seclusion

Secret Practice 1st at Michigan in Many Years

No Tickets Available for Traditional Game With Ohio State

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ohio State pits the pride of its newly earned Big Ten championship against Michigan here Saturday.

Little is at stake but recognition and victory in one of the nation's most traditional games that annually sends midwest football fans into a tizzy.

Even with the conference crown and the Rose Bowl entry decided, 101,001 partisans of the competing schools will pour into huge Michigan Stadium. No tickets are available for this 54th Ohio State-Michigan classic.

The Buckeyes, beaten only by Texas Christian in a non-conference encounter, are the third ranked team in the nation. Michigan is a disappointing 19th.

"But past records mean nothing when Ohio State and Michigan meet," said Wolverine coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

He has taken his injury-ridden squad into seclusion this week. It's the first time in many years that Michigan has held secret practices. Close observers can't remember when Oosterbaan shut his drills to newsmen during his 10-year term as head coach.

"I felt it was the thing to do this week," Oosterbaan explained. "Ohio State is one of the finest representatives the Big Ten has had in the Rose Bowl. They deserve a lot of credit for their wonderful achievement."

Michigan has a habit of upsetting the conference's bowl selections. The Wolverines stunned Michigan State in 1955 and Iowa last year.

★ ★ ★

Oosterbaan believes they can repeat the feat against the Buckeyes.

"We'll play a good game," he said. "We may be beaten, but we'll be up for it."

★ ★ ★

There was the game in Ohio Stadium in 1950. It was played in a blizzard and the thermometer hovered at 10 above.

The Buckeyes were the favorites, but Michigan won 9-3 and captured its fourth straight Big Ten crown. The Wolverines' strategy was blocking punts and it paid off for a touchdown and a safety.

"We can't be at full strength," Oosterbaan said. "We started the season with what was expected to be an excellent backfield but there have been more injuries to key men than at any time since I've been head coach."

Seniors Bow Out

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

EAST LANSING (AP) — Spartan seniors bow out of collegiate competition against Kansas State here Saturday, leaving Michigan State the top team in the nation.

Several will be playing pro ball but this will be the swan song in Spartan Stadium for upper classmen on what coach Duffy Daugherty terms "the greatest team I've ever coached."

★ ★ ★

The score Saturday will help decide whether Michigan State stays on top of the national poll after vaulting in from No. 4 spot. But Daugherty says he has no plans to try and pour it on.

"We've never done that," he insisted. "We always try to play a lot of boys and sometimes it's the sophomores who run up the high scores."

Quarterback Jim Ninowski, halfback Walt Kowalczyk, fullback Don Gilbert, center Dan Currie, tackles Pat Burke and Les Rutledge and ends Dave Kaiser and Tony Kolodziej are among the 16 seniors to be introduced before the kickoff.

★ ★ ★

Daugherty had a word of praise for them all.

"We've never seen the likes of them in any one class group before," he said. "They are great veteran players who have had the drive and spirit of eager sophomores all season. They are the main reason I think this club is the greatest."

Daugherty termed Currie the best linesman since Don Coleman . . . Kowalczyk as State's finest running halfback of the modern era . . . Kaiser as a really great all-around end . . . Ninowski as good a passer as State ever had . . . and on down through the list.

A victory over Kansas State will give the Spartans an 8-1 season. High points were the 35-6 win over Michigan and the 34-6 trampling of Notre Dame.

The low was the 20-13 edging by Purdue that killed State's Rose Bowl and Big Ten title dreams.

The State squad worked outdoors in near freezing weather and snow flurries late yesterday in preparations for the finale.

Kansas State had a 3-1-5 season and was beaten 38-17 here in the final game of the 1956 season.

BACK IN ACTION — Gene Keady, Kansas State's top runner who has an 8.7 rushing average, will be back in action against Michigan State Saturday after missing two games because of a knee injury.

Oakland-B Conference Lists All-Star Teams

Oakland-B league named its all-conference teams and these were the 22 players selected at their respective positions:

ENDS — Jim Drake and Jack Schaeffer, Lake Orion; Dave Robinson and Dave McMillin of Madison.
TACKLES — Larry Lomako, Clawson; Rick Aebel, Troy; Orville Cromwell and Doug Storey, Lake Orion.
GUARDS — Leo Valko, Troy; Ken Munyan, Clawson; Walt Cudnohufski, Lake Orion and Bill Cowie, Fitzgerald.
CENTERS — Pat Haley, Clawson; Bob Bush, Fitzgerald.
BACKS — John Volk and Newt Acton, Clawson; Wayne Figley and Dave Stokes, Troy; Jim Neph, Nick Niera, Lake Orion; Bob Kline, Fitzgerald and Bob Nurek, Avondale.
OUTSTANDING PLAYER: Jim Drake, Lake Orion.

Lyon Appears Sure Bet to Win Scoring Crown

By CHUCK ABAIR

It's a safe bet that speedy St. Frederick fullback Jack Lyon will be the Oakland County scoring champion after this week's final few prep games windup the 1957 season.

After trailing Lake Orion ace Jim Drake by two and three touchdowns for the past several weeks, the 160-pound junior came up with four tallies Sunday afternoon to offset one by Drake Friday and regain the lead he had held for the 1st two weeks of the race.

Lyon has now amassed 18 TDs in seven games for 108 points and has one game to play. Drake finished play with 103.

There appear to be no others still with one contest yet to play with any chance of catching Lyon.

★ ★ ★

Only five among the top 25 still have a game left but the highest, Hazel Park's Oscar Lewis, trails by 51 with 57. One of the others is Lyon's teammate, Tom Derocher, who has 44.

Clawson senior John Volk finished his career with a four touchdown performance and appears to have 3rd place settled with 82 digits. Bill Tunnicliff of Ferndale St. James is 4th with 78 and Stu Clark of Cranbrook has 77.

Outside the county, only two of the top 15 area scorers still have a game remaining and one may miss his due to an injury.

★ ★ ★

Northville star Dick Biery can finish in 2nd place by scoring at least once in the Mustang final tonight but is figured no threat to leader Larry Gacki. Biery trails Almont's Frank Hartway by only 74-72 but Gacki scored 121.

The ailing scoring ace is defending champion Gary Ballman of East Detroit. He missed his 2nd game of the year last week after garnering 56 points in six starts.

'M' President Talks to Writers

Rose Bowl Pact Hinges on PCC

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Oklahoma has lost, but mighty little Hillsdale rolls on unbeaten and untied.

"I want to thank Notre Dame for giving us the longest winning streak," Hillsdale coach Frank (Muddy) Waters told the Michigan Football Writers here yesterday at their weekly meeting.

★ ★ ★

The Dales, who might be bowl bound, own the longest skien of victories of any college in the nation, 34 straight.

Waters said Hillsdale is a possibility for a post-season game at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The meeting also was attended by Michigan president Harlan Hatcher, who outlined some of his football theories for the scribes.

★ ★ ★

"I wish we could have more football games played in a collegiate atmosphere with the big issues out of the way," Hatcher said. He referred to last week's Oklahoma-Notre Dame battle and Ohio State's triumph over Iowa for the Big Ten title in contrast to the "unpressurized" Indiana-Michigan game.

Asked if the Big Ten would withdraw from the Rose Bowl pact if the Pacific Coast Conference disbands, Hatcher admitted he had not talked with other conference presidents and his answer was personal speculation.

"I don't think other Big Ten presidents would shed many tears if the Rose Bowl wasn't continued as part of the activity," Hatcher said.

Michigan athletic director Fritz Crisler said he believes the Big Ten will wait to see what happens to the PCC before deciding what to do about the Rose Bowl.

★ ★ ★

There have been recurring reports from the West Coast that the PCC would crumble from dissension at the end of the year.

Ohio State publicist Bill Snypp, whose team plays Michigan Saturday, said there were many people who were surprised by the Buckeyes winning the championship.

"Most of them were in Ohio," said Snypp. "After all, we lost our last two games last season and our first this year for a three-game losing streak."

Lucadam, Dubois Feted by Lakers

Quarterback John Lucadam and fullback Alvin Dubois were named honorary co-captains for the past season by the West Bloomfield football team at the annual post-season banquet last night.

Dubois received the added honor of being named the team's most valuable player for an outstanding season as a senior after being sidelined most of last year with a leg injury.

Eastern Michigan coach Fred Trosko was the guest speaker for the program.

STRIKES AND SPARES

Adjustint too soon can be dangerous.

Here's How To Change Your Game to Meet Conditions

When faced with a variety of alley conditions, you must make compensating adjustments in your bowling game. For instance, if there's a great deal of alley dressing which is cutting down your hook, you must make a change if you expect to roll the ball into the pocket. Below are three changes in the order I usually follow them:

1. I change my angle in taking my stance on the approach. This will mean I'll deliver the ball from a different angle at the foul line. If my ball is hooking too much, I move a board or two to the left. If it isn't hooking enough, I move slightly to the right.

2. Change results by changing the speed of your ball. If the ball is hooking too much, increasing its speed will cut down on the amount of hook while slowing down the ball will increase its hooking action.

3. A third way to compensate for alley conditions is to get the ball further out on the alley. This way, it won't start rolling as soon and will cut down on its hooking action. By releasing the ball closer to the foul line, as we show today, its rolling and hooking action will be increased.

Easiest of these three methods is changing the angle. Try that first.

Johnson Resigns Farmington Post

After several years as golf professional at Farmington CC, Jimmy Johnson today announced he had resigned to devote his entire time to development of his driving range, located west of Farmington.

Jimmy was the 1956 state PGA champion, and one of the best-regarded teachers of the game in the metropolitan area. He had long been a strong contender in practically all area and state tourneys of importance.

His activities at the range are notexpected to keep him out of competition when time permits.

BEAR AND BUCKS — Two Pontiac hunters made an unusually speedy, and entirely successful trip over the last weekend to the Lake of the Woods area, north of Manistee. Above are (left) Rick Thompson, Elm street, and Burton Watson, 213 State, with their bear and buck-loaded car. Thompson got a 255-pound bear, Watson a 110-pound cub. Rick shot a 165-pound, 5-point buck and Burton bagged a 115-pound spikehorn. The trip lasted less than 3 days.

Hill Climb, Handling Test Set Up for Sports Cars

First annual hill climb and handling tests under auspices of Pontiac Sports Car club have been set up for the coming weekend at Opdyke road, near Auburn. Between 50 and 75 entries are anticipated for the event starting Sunday at 11 a.m. according to Gordon Harrison.

Course for the club and handling trials is a mile or more long, and includes some very tricky hills and curves for the drivers of the speedy little cars to negotiate.

Harrison says that seat belts and crash helmets are required for all drivers.

Public is invited, and there is a nominal charge. Plenty of parking space is available for spectators.

★ ★ ★

Members of the PSCC racing team will be on hand for the event, including Harrison and T. Sullivan, with Jaguars; R. Bell and T Barth with MG's; M. Stone with a Mortar and M. J. Donner with a Ferrari and MG.

Trophies and dash plaques go to winners.

Lampreys Are Found in UP Inland Lake

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — District biologist Paul Kwaterowski says he has found three lamprey eels in Rock Lake, 10 miles north of Bruce Mines.

Lamprey have been reported for some time in the Great Lakes, where they have caused considerable damage to lake trout, but this is believed to be one of the first reports that they exist in smaller inland lakes.

WHALE OF A HALIBUT—Six-feet-2-inch Paul L. Friberg, stands beside a 275-pound halibut landed at Portland, Me. recently. The fish, twice the size of what is considered a big halibut, was taken by a dragger (the Lawson), which hails from Virginia, but is fishing the northern waters.

2 Generals Charged With Illegal Hunting

BALTIMORE (AP)—Chief of staff of the Second Army and the deputy commanding general of the Continental Army Command have been charged with illegally hunting wild geese over a baited area of Maryland's eastern shore.

The two generals were among 15 persons charged in U. S. District Court yesterday. They were alleged to have hunted in Kent County Nov. 7 in an area baited in violation of federal law.

Those named were Maj. Gen. Rinaldo Van Brunt, 56, chief of staff for the Second Army at Ft. Meade, Md., and Lt. Gen. Edward T. Williams, 56, deputy commanding general, Continental Army Command, at Ft. Monroe, Va.

Fine Hunting Trophy

Robert Beebe, 46759 Vineyard, Utica, brought back a fine trophy deer head and rack from a hunting trip to Lewiston. Rack is an unusually perfect one of 6-points. Buck weighed 165 pounds, was dropped at 100-yards with one shot. Beebe had to drag it out 2½ miles. It was his 3rd deer in 11 years.

Flying Hunter Bags His Buck; Flies It Home

For dispatch, and convenience, in making a deer-hunting trip, Pontiac's Harold Berridge, 3059 Catalpa, has a very effective method.

Berridge last weekend decided he wanted to try for a buck on Beaver Island, in Lake Michigan, off the northwestern tip of the Lower Peninsula.

So what does he do?

He revves-up his old Sky-Ranger plane, hits the blue (which was then hidden by overcast), skitters by air to the Island. Flying the 30 miles over tossing old Lake Michigan was a scary test, says Harold, "I bucked the wind all the way and wasn't sure I'd make it." He did, OK, and soon began hunting near the little airport. He downed an 8-point, 168-pounder, left the buck and went back to sleep near the plane in a sleeping bag.

Game wardens helped load the deer in the plane next morning and Berridge headed for home. Because of the extra weight of the deer Berridge had to "set down" at Harbor Springs and Saginaw for gas, as he could take on only a few gallons at a time.

"That's the real way to make a hunting trip," Berridge claims. He has been flying only two years.

Big Deer From UP

Outsize Trophies Numerous

BY JACK PATTERSON

MACKINAW CITY — The rain didn't exactly stop, Tuesday. It just turned to snow. The thermometer finally got off its 40 spot and jumped down to 30. It was a funny, very windy day and the snow behaved most inconsistently. You could find an inch or so here, and a mile away, bare ground.

PATTERSON

We picked a portion of this day to cross the Mackinac Bridge in the teeth of a howling gale from the West. It is a very pleasant bridge to cross. Because of its immense length the rise toward the center is almost imperceptible and there is none of the feeling of jumping off into space that characterizes the passage of many bridges, two that come immediately to mind being the Blue Water Bridge and the bridge across Tampa Bay.

Maybe because the Straits were kicking up a pretty good sea the water below looked very close and there was little sensation of height. The most squeamish of bridge-crossers — and we know several — wouldn't have squeamed a bit.

We did notice, coming back across, a tendency for the car to fishtail a bit in the wind. Easing up on the accelerator cured that. A finer, handsomer bridge we never did see and it looks as though its designer, Dr. Steinman, knew what he was doing all along.

★ ★ ★

There were a good many deer being returned from the U.P. and one immediately noticed a striking similarity in almost all of them. Big, and with splendidly developed racks.

★ ★ ★

U.P. deer have always been noted for size but we don't recall seeing so many out-sized ones in such a short time.

An Oakland County car ahead was freighting a sure candidate for winner in anybody's big deer contest. Unfortunately we got fouled up in the interchange at the southern terminal and missed the chance to identify the owner. As for remembering the number — well, we can't remember our own.

For some reason very few bears are coming out of the eastern Upper, usually alive with them. And an uncommon number are being taken in the Lower's Alcona County. Why this should be we do not know, not having encountered a bear of which to inquire.

★ ★ ★

Our engineering inspections and snow-slippery roads got our schedule, if the loose guide for activities we use could be called that, badly mixed up. For one thing it cost us the opportunity to check on the hunting ability of a gang over at Walt Gidding's place at Canada Creek. This group — maybe gang wasn't such a bad word at that— includes Harold Muldowney, Norm Pattison, Doc Sands, Warren Moore, Herman Otto, Art Hilligher and Danny O'Brien.

★ ★ ★

Maybe we can get around to them today. If we get anywhere today, a matter that depends upon what new surprises this never dependable Michigan weather has in store for us.

Old timers relish the idea of this week's rain and snow "quieting the woods." Well, for information, they're quiet enough right now. We were in the woods briefly Tuesday afternoon.

It was so still between gusts of wind that when an evening grosbeak close overhead let out a one-candle power squeak we just about shed our hide.

Health Comes First

Medics Say More Than Deer Are in Danger

It's better to come back "deerless," than to undermine your health or possibly not come back at all, is the advice of the Michigan Heart Association.

M. S. Chambers, M. D., Flint, president of the association which receives financial aid from the Pontiac Area United Fund, says that more than deer will be in danger during the current deer-hunting season.

Men who never exercise more than to walk from their house to their automobile or bus, should not suddenly don heavy shoes and clothes and tramp long distances through underbrush and snow.

Each year during the deer season there is a rise in the deaths from heart attacks precipitated by unaccustomed exertion. There is no way of knowing the additional number of heart attacks which occur but do not cause immediate death, according to Dr. Chambers.

★ ★ ★

"Undoubtedly some heart deaths occurring during the winter may be due to heart damage aggravated while deer hunting," he stated.

Here are six life-saving rules for hunters, prepared by the Michigan Heart Association:

1—If you have any doubts about your heart, see your family physician and have a complete physical examination before going hunting.

2—Get your proper rest before hunting—don't depend on "catnaps" in the automobile on the way.

3—Exhaustion is not a good thing for the body in general and the heart in particular—so rest often.

4—Don't use stimulants to give you strength—getting tired is nature's way of warning you to take it easy.

5—Eat and drink moderately—act your age—you'll live longer, and like it.

6—Finally, know when to give up. Getting that deer isn't worth losing your health.

For further information about heart attacks and heart disease, write to the Michigan Heart Association, Doctors' Building, 3919 John R, Detroit 1, Michigan.

Hunter Wasn't Missing, Just Delayed by Bear

DE TOUR (AP)—Jack Pender right now is "king of the hunters" on Drummond Island, at the eastern-most tip of Upper Michigan. But for a time he was listed among the "missing."

★ ★ ★

Pender failed to return to camp Sunday, but came in Monday with this explanation:

Late Sunday he shot a big buck deer, but by the time he got it dressed out it was too late to start back to camp, so he built a fire and spent the night there. On his way back to camp yesterday he happened upon a bear and shot and killed it.

★ ★ ★

The double kill, conservation officer Elton Carlson reported, makes Pender "the big boy" around Hamilton's camp.

Moose, Coyote, Wolf Rule Isle Royale

HOUGHTON (AP) — The moose, the coyote and the wolf have taken over for another winter season dominion of Isle Royale National Park.

Except for a few fishermen who expect to leave its shores within a day or two, Michigan's remote island 48 miles off the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula is once again a forest primeval, devoid of humanity.

★ ★ ★

A thin layer of ice already has begun to tinsel the island's snow-blanketed shoreline.

★ ★ ★

Roy Stamey, park ranger who returned to Houghton with the last group of island maintenance personnel said there was about an inch and a half of snow on the island when the last craft left. Only Stamey expressed faint regret at leaving the island. The maintenance workers, employes of the National Park Administration, were happy to get back to the mainland.

They'll go back again next April to ready the island for the summer tourist season.

BEATS THE MEN — Who says the women aren't top anglers? Any of the male persuasion, still skeptical, should take a look at the 152½-pound silver tarpon, taken off Islamorada, in Florida Keys, a short time ago. Mrs. Louise M. Kaufman landed the big fighter on a light bait-casting outfit and an artificial minnow. Her line was 14-pound test. She is also a fine flyrod fisherman, having taken a 26-pound tarpon on the flimsy rig.

Shot Moose in Self-Defense

Court Absolves Hunters

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Two Detroit area hunters have been cleared of possible conservation law violations in the killing of a 900-pound moose last Sunday.

Mackinac County probate judge Herbert L. Taylor ruled yesterday Robert Haman, 16, of Detroit and Fred Passkiewicz, of Livonia, acted in self defense when they shot the moose while hunting near Gilchrist.

Under Michigan law, moose are illegal game.

Testimony at the hearing showed the moose charged Haman and was less than 50 feet away when he brought it down with a bullet.

The irate animal first charged Passkiewicz. He backed off to avoid shooting.

Judge Taylor found that Haman had little alternative but to shoot when the moose turned in his direction.

Conservation Confab Scheduled for Dec. 12

Next monthly meeting of the state Conservation Commission has been scheduled for Dec. 12-13 at the Conservation Department's Lansing offices.

The informal session of the meeting will begin at 3 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 12. The group's formal session opens at 9 a.m., Friday, Dec. 13. All meetings are open to the public.

Check Sought on Deer Taken in County Area

Hunters Requested to Call Imlay Office of Conservation Dept.

Seeking comparative information on buck deer taken by hunters in the Pontiac and Oakland county area, state conservation department district office at Imlay City has asked area hunters to telephone that office. A game biologist will go to the hunter's residence, or frozen food locker to determine the age of the deer, measure its antlers, and record the weight. The conservation men say that if even only the head is intact they can still obtain the necessary information.

★ ★ ★

Calls should be made to Imlay City RAndolph 4-4485, collect.

Data from this area and other southern Michigan sections will be compared with that taken from northern areas, to measure the inroads due to deficient winter foods. Southern Michigan deer are well fed.

★ ★ ★

"We need to examine over 200 southern Michigan buck deer this fall," states Thomas Osmer, district game supervisor. "Only by examining an adequate number of well-fed deer from southern Michigan farmland deer range can we have a measure of the inroads that deficient winter food supplies have made in much of our northern Michigan herd."

★ ★ ★

"Weights and antler measurements from southern deer will be compared with the much larger volume of data obtained from northern deer at the voluntary roadside checking stations," says Osmer. "Annual inventories of this type will contribute much toward determining the improvement in the deer herd by means of special seasons such as are authorized again this fall."

★ ★ ★

Usually southern Michigan bucks are larger and develop better antlers than most northern deer of the same age. Southern yearling bucks, in their first legal season, normally develop six-point racks and dress out at 130 pounds. Most northern bucks at a year and a half are spikehorns or three or four pointers and weigh about 100 pounds.

Private Shooting May Begin in '58

LANSING — Private shooting preserves may begin operations in 1958, following approval of preserve regulations by the state Conservation Commission at its November meeting.

★ ★ ★

Rules and regulations governing licensing and operation of preserves provide for 150 - day hunting seasons for released pheasants and mallard ducks on licensed preserves. Year-round shooting will be permitted on non-native upland game birds released by preserve operators.

The non-native game birds include such species as Coturnix quail and chukkar partridge, which are not established in the wild in Michigan.

Solunar Tables

There are still many hardy anglers, who brave weather for some late fall (or early winter) sport, who might be helped in finding the best times for their excursions in this area through the attached solunar periods. Prepared by John Alden Knight, the tables also could be of help to small game hunters of the area. Major periods run for an hour to an hour and a half, minor periods somewhat less.

State Farm Game Restoration Program Readied

LANSING — Southern Michigan farmers wishing to participate next spring in the Conservation Department's farm game restoration program are urged to submit applications to the department now.

Game biologists are conducting inspections of lands belonging to interested farm operators and making farm plans which will benefit game animals and birds.

Under the farm game restoration program, landowners south of the Bay City-Muskegon line receive the services of game biologists in planning habitat improvement work, in addition to free planting stock and other materials which aid in making farms attractive to wildlife.

★ ★ ★

Shipment of fall planting stock to cooperating farmers recently was completed by the department and initial work on the spring program is under way.

Since the farm game restoration program was started by the Department's game division in 1948, more than 5,300 cooperating landowners have received free technical assistance, planting stock and other materials.

Planting stock supplied by the department includes trees and shrubs which provide food and cover for wildlife. The landowner is responsible for the actual planting.

Pontiac Area Woman Bags Her Third Deer

For the third straight year, Mrs. Paul (Betty) Green, 45140 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, has brought back a buck on her annual hunting trip.

Hunting in the vicinity of Higgins Lake, Mrs. Green, alone, came upon a fine buck, bearing a big rack of horns. Her first shot at 75 yards, struck the deer's shoulder. He turned and circled around, the huntress reported, affording a 2nd shot, which did the trick.

Buck weighed 165 pounds, and its rack had 10 points.

Two years ago, near Hale, Mrs. Green got her first deer with a slug from a .22 caliber gun.

Zach Wheat played 2,318 National League games with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Announce Formation of Car Rental Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — The Hertz Corp. and American Express Co. have announced formation of a new company to handle worldwide automobile rental services.

★ ★ ★

The new concern will be known as Hertz American Express International Ltd. and will be owned jointly by the two parent companies.

Existing Hertz car rental subsidiaries in France, Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Hawaii will be taken over immediately by the new corporation. It also will take over the 184 Hertz franchises of independent licensees in 229 foreign cities.

★ ★ ★

American Express will make available its network of 405 offices and facilities for travelers about the globe.

Grains Decline in Early Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — All board of trade futures declined in early dealings today.

Brokers representing exporters were buyers of wheat, indicating some pickup in foreign demand. Commission houses were on the selling side at the start.

★ ★ ★

Corn was down nearly a cent a bushel at the outset, reflecting forecasts for more favorable weather over the producing belt. Continued selling of surplus corn by the Commodity Credit Corporation also was a factor in the trade.

Soybeans were fractionally lower, influenced by weakness in vegetable oils. Rye futures appeared to be following the trend in wheat.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ¼ to ⅜ lower, Dec. $2.18; corn ⅜ to ¾ lower, Dec. $1.20; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, Dec. 68⅝; rye ½ to 1 lower, Dec. $1.32; soybeans ⅛ to ¼ lower, Jan. $2.33¾; and lard was unchanged to 7 cents a hundred lbs. lower, Dec. $12.15.

Company Prices of '58 Cars Up

Suggested Lists Show 3.4 Per Cent Boost Over Last Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—Factory-suggested list prices for 1958 automobiles are up roughly an average of 3.4 per cent over 1957 listings. This is about one-half the increase announced a year ago.

In dollars and cents most factory-announced increases range from $35 to as much as $225. It could be argued that some advances were smaller and some higher.

EXCLUDE U. S. EXCISE

The prices announced by the car makers are the "suggested" list prices. They are not binding on the retailers. They do not include federal excise, state and local taxes, extra-cost accessories, shipping charges, dealer preparation and dealer handling charges.

A car in the lower-price bracket could have a factory-suggested tag of $2,200 and cost the retail buyer $3,100.

★ ★ ★

The suggested list price is the wholesale cost and the retailer's markup of up to 25 per cent. The markup is said by some makers to be of a size to permit the retailer to vary the delivered cost to meet price competition.

BUYER CAN'T KNOW

All this—taxes, optional, extra-cost equipment and competitive price discounting—means the intending car buyer hardly can figure what his delivered cost will be from the factory-announced price. Financing charges are another substantial item not included in the suggested price.

★ ★ ★

Should new car sales lag with a heavy accumulation of dealer inventories it is quite probable none of the increase announced at the factory will be passed on to the buyer. But he cannot escape the taxes or financing charges.

★ ★ ★

And further to confuse the buyer trying to determine his delivered cost is the fact some factory figures include adjustments for extra equipment. Some of these extras have been made standard for 1958 against optional classification in 1957. In some instances items standard in 1957 models are optional at extra cost for 1958. And some optional items have been increased in price.

Ziem Orders Inquest Nov. 29

Coroner, Jury to Probe Fatal Shooting of Man by James Witherspoon

Pontiac's first coroner's inquest in four years will be called Nov. 29 to probe the fatal shooting Monday of Joseph Wright, 37, of 46 Lull St. in a pool room at 92½ Bagley St.

★ ★ ★

The inquest was ordered yesterday by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem to determine whether criminal charges will be made against James Witherspoon, 56, of 130 Wessen St., who has admitted the shooting but claimed it was in self-defense.

Witherspoon told police officers that he and Wright were arguing over a lost $5 when Wright grabbed a shotgun and brandished it at him. Witherspoon claims he then pulled out a .38 caliber revolver and shot in self defense.

Ziem said that in addition to Witherspoon and police officers, there are six witnesses to the shooting who may be called to testify.

★ ★ ★

The hearing will be at 9:30 a.m. in Probate Court before Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County Coroner, and a jury of six persons appointed by him.

Stocks Irregular, Rails Steady

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails steadied in an irregular stock market early today.

Key stocks fluctuated narrowly for the most part. There were a few 1 or 2 point gains.

The opening was active as an assortment of fair-sized blocks were traded. A number of leading issues was unchanged.

★ ★ ★

The statement by President Hayes of the New York Federal Reserve Bank that additional credit-loosening steps may be taken started a rallying tendency near the close yesterday and still was effective.

But there was some confusion of investment attitude due to other official statements.

★ ★ ★

Pennsylvania Railroad rose a fraction after sinking yesterday to its lowest price since 1932. Baltimore & Ohio, sold heavily yesterday, also rallied a bit. New York Central was firm.

Douglas Aircraft rose more than a point. North American Aviation and General Dynamics were a little higher and Boeing reduced an early loss.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler and U. S. Steel droppd about a point each. Smaller losses were taken by Lukens, General Motors, Goodyear and Anaconda.

Opening blocks included; General Motors off ⅜ at 35⅝ on 2,500 shares; Bethlehem unchanged at 37⅝ on 2,500; and Union Pacific up ½ at 24⅝ on 1,400.

New York Shipbuilding rose more than a point following news of a $20,900,000 contract award for building the hull of the worlds first nuclear-powered ship.

Prosecutor to Seek Manslaughter Warrant

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said he will seek a warrant for manslaughter today against Clisby Watkins, 23, of 415 Bloomfield Ave. in the slaying of Freddie R. Rhimes yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Rhimes, 28, of 312 Hughes St., died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital from a knife wound.

Watkins told the prosecutor that Rhimes came at him with an ax after an argument in the house where Watkins rooms.

Witnesses said they believed the stabbing occurred after Rhimes had put down the ax, but was after Watkins with a chair.

Cadillac to Show Automatic Convertible

Rain Sends Windows Up

DETROIT (AP) — A Cadillac convertible automobile whose top and windows rise automatically when it rains will be shown at auto shows over the country during the months ahead.

★ ★ ★

Cadillac announced completion of five of the cars in the Eldorado Biarritz series. They are designed strictly for show purposes and are not yet planned for the regular market.

When the top is down the lines of the car remain smooth and unbroken. The all-metal panel which covers the top lies flush with the rear deck. Four electric motors, controlled by a pushbutton operate the top and cover panel. One motors raises and lowers the top; one moves the side portions of the cover panel; one works the large section of the cover and the other locks and unlocks and positions the roof to the windshield.

In the absence of the car operator a sensitive area on the rear deck actuates a humidity control when it is hit by rain drops. If top and windows are down the humidity control automatically raises them.

★ ★ ★

Other features include four individual bucket seats and handbuffed leather interior. The drive shaft tunnel also is upholstered in leather.

Accuse Ex-Con of Scout Killing

Barmore Taking Stand; Maintains He's Innocent of Murder Charge

MUSKEGON (AP) — Herman Barmore was expected to testify today as defense attorneys sought to clear him of a charge of second degree murder in the slaying of 12-year-old Peter Gorham.

The 44-year-old ex-convict has pleaded innocent in the case.

★ ★ ★

Barmore is accused of fatally shooting the Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout who vanished July 5, 1955, while on a hike from nearby Camp Wabaningo.

Prosecutor Robert A. Cavanaugh contends the Gorham youth was a sex crime victim.

The prosecution rested yesterday after presenting more than 60 witnesses in 10 days of testimony before Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers.

★ ★ ★

One 17-year-old Muskegon youth testified he had engaged in acts of sodomy with Barmore, alias Charles Ficher, in August 1955. At least four police officers involved in the investigation testified that Barmore had admitted acts of sexual deviation.

In a statement to Cavanaugh last May 9, Barmore admitted the shooting but claimed it was a target practice accident.

His defense attorneys maintain he did not shoot the Gorham youth. They claim Barmore was offered aid toward a light sentence in exchange for the statement.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Arthur Davis and other police officers assigned to the case have denied the allegations in their testimony during the trial. They testified that Barmore's statement was volunteered.

The case is expected to go to the jury by Friday.

Contest to Start for Dance Club to Select Name

Beginning this week a contest will be under way by Waterford Township High School students to select a different title for the weekly teenage dance club, which has been known as recreation youth night.

★ ★ ★

Winner of the contest, will be given two free passes for the remainder of the year, for the weekly Thursday night dances held at the Community Activities center on Williams Lake road.

★ ★ ★

The contest ends Thursday, Dec. 5 and suggested names will only be accepted the evening of the dances until then.

A sock hop will be held from 7:30 to 9:15 p.m. tomorrow night. Flint Disc Jockey, Sleepy Head Johnson, is scheduled to spin records for the Waterford Township youth.

★ ★ ★

This weekly dance club is for boys and girls from grades 9 through 12 and is sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation department.

Airline Profits, Stocks Decline

CAB Cold to Fare Hike Asked to Raise Funds for Shifting to Jets

NEW YORK (AP) — The airlines says they are bucking heavy head winds today that are cutting down their profit speed. Wall Street agrees and has marked their stocks down sharply.

This comes at an embarrassing time for the carriers, who must find money for costly jet planes.

Without profits in sight you can't sell stock. It's hard to borrow.

★ ★ ★

So the airlines want to hike their fares. The staff of the Civil Aeronautics Board, on the other hand, denies that this is needed. A staff report holds the outlook much better than the lines paint it and calls their present troubles mostly temporary.

The airlines are putting their case before the board now and stressing many other things in their plea for higher fares — defense needs, general rise in costs in industry, need to improve service, growing competition.

Nehru Says India Must Forge Ahead

NEW DELHI (AP) - Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today India must forge ahead with its 15-billion-dollar, second five-year plan to get out of the "cow dung age."

★ ★ ★

Nehru said more than 75 per cent of India's power is now produced by burning cow dung. His government is planning to start more atomic research centers "so as not to be left behind in this Sputnik age," he said.

The launching of the second Soviet earth satellite "has affected our thinking on planning," Nehru said. "We have to loo kahead beyond the second plan period and think in terms of the third and fourth five-year plans yoking atomic power for peaceful purposes.'

★ ★ ★

This would mean more money, Nehru said, but that could not be helped "if India is not to lag behind in this revolutionary age."

Williams Proposes New Cabinet Post

Asks U. S. Education Aid

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams made a plea last night for support of a program of federal aid to education, with a secretary of education heading it up.

★ ★ ★

"Some people talk about federal aid to education as though it were a plot to undermine the federal government and sabotage local school boards at the same time," he told a Lansing Parent-Teacher Assn. audience. "These people overlook the long history of federal assistance to education, assistance given without damage to state and local supervision."

Education should be separated from health and welfare in the President's cabinet, he said, and come under a secretary of education.

Such distinction, William ssaid, "would give education the rank it must have in the corridors of government and in the minds of the people if we are to meet the Soviet scientific challenges."

★ ★ ★

Williams compared the proposal of federal aid to school construction rejected by the last Congress with Michigan's state aid program, saying both attempt to give every child equal educational facilities whether they live in poor or wealthy districts.

★ ★ ★

He called on parents and teachers to "demand the kind of expansion of educational facilities we now must have, "and to stand behind those you have elected to the legislative and executive branches of government, when they are fighting for expanded facilities and increased staffs against those who are more concerned with budgets than with brains."

Gunfire Kills 4th Hunter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gunfire has claimed a fourth hunter's life in Michigan's six-day-old deer season.

In adidtion, six hunters have died of heart attacks and one of a cerebral hemorrhage. At least 22 have been wounded.

Alvin H. Cadarette, 54, of Alpena, was wounded fatally Tuesday by a hunting companion when a deer ran between them near Long Lake in northeastern Alpena County.

Cadarette was shot by Theodore Wikaryasz, 42, also of Alpena, who told State Police the two had separated earlier in the day and he did not know Cadarette was nearby when he fired. Wikaryasz was not held.

★ ★ ★

Four hunters were reported wounded over the last 24 hours: Eugene O. Heilein, 25, of Richville, Edward W. Sanberg, 28, of Ishpeming, Ovila LaPalm of Escanaba, and Donald Woods of Vestaburg.

Prison Looms Over Squillante

U.S. Moves to Revoke Probation of Reported Garbage Racketeer

NEW YORK (AP) —The federal government has taken steps to put Vincent J. Squillante, self-styled godson of murdered mobster Albert Anastasia and reputed garbage racket kingpin, in prison for the first time in his career.

★ ★ ★

The 5-foot-1 silent witness at last week's Senate hearings on gangster control of the garbage carting industry here was hauled into federal court yesterday and charged with violating probation by consorting with known criminals and hoodlums. He also was accused of concealing his 1956 income from the federal probation department.

Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman set Monday for a hearing on a petition to revoke Squillante's probation. Bail was set at $10,000, which the former fruit peddler posted.

★ ★ ★

Squillante, 40, has been on probation since 1953, when he pleaded guilty to a 1950 government charge of failing to file 1948 and 1949 income tax returns. He also received a $1,000 fine and a suspended sentence.

While Squillante squirmed nervously in a chair at the counsel table—frequently whispering to his attorney Irving Bush—U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams heatedly told the court yesterday:

★ ★ ★

"This man is not a small man. He is reputedly the head of one of the biggest rackets operating in New York City, and he is being investigated by the district attorneys of Queens and New York (Manhattan) counties.

"Let us not pretend that we are dealing with a poor little man here in relation to a mere violation of probation. He is the head of two of the biggest carting associations in the city, which have been engaged in shaking down business people."

Vital to Missiles Program

U. S. Planning Expansion of Its Helium Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is planning a major expansion of its helium productive capacity to meet expanding needs in the missiles and other defense programs, it was learned today.

★ ★ ★

High-level planning also was reported under way to develop a comprehensive, long-range program aimed at future extraction of all possible helium from natural gas before it is used for fuel, with consequent waste forever of the helium content.

★ ★ ★

These developments were reported by Interior Department officials, who also said that recently printed designs of the Russian dog-carrying Sputnik showed that it contained a helium carrier. They said this may be an indication the Soviet Union is now producing helium in some quantity.

The Bureau of Mines operates this government's four helium plants at Exell and Amarillo, Tex., Shiprock, N. M., and Otis, Kan. These produce virtually all the helium available to the free world.

★ ★ ★

The missiles program is a major user of helium. The inert, nonexplosive gas is also used in atomic energy work, in titanium and zirconium production in electronics and in testing of refrigeration and air conditioning systems.

★ ★ ★

The Interior Department reportedly plans to ask Congress next year for about 14 million dollars for a new helium production plant.

This contemplates a plant which would make possible production of about 240 million more cubic feet of helium annually.

Current production is at a rate of about 365 million cubic feet a year, with plants operating at top capacity.

★ ★ ★

Demand is expected to total 345 million cubic feet in the year ending next June 30, and to increase in the following year.

The proposed new plant would be located at some point where it could extract some of the estimated three billion cubic feet of helium that is annually being wasted in gas sold from fields in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas for use as fuel.

For security purposes, the new plant would not be located in close proximity to the existing plants.

State Trooper Receives Promotion to Detective

State Trooper Robert E. Neigebauer, of the Pontiac Post, has been promoted to detective and transferred to the rackets squad, second district headquarters, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Neigebauer joined the State Police on March 4, 1948, and was assigned to the Grand Haven Post. He was transferred to Flat Rock on Jan. 5, 1951. In October, 1956, he came to the Pontiac Post. He holds one department citation for meritorious service.

Neigebauer will continue to live at 876 Spence St., with his wife, Jean, and their three children.

Reports Army Wants All-Out Missile Project

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the administration is being urged by the Army to make an all-out effort to produce an operational antimissile missile by 1961 at a three-year cost of between six and seven billion dollars.

★ ★ ★

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper called it "a dramatic proposal for a defense against the Soviet transpolar intercontinental ballistic missile."

The Times said the proposal has been made to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of Defense McElroy by the Army chief of staff, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

The story also said in part:

On the basis of experiments with components of the Army missile, Nike Zeus, Taylor is convinced that this weapon can be developed with nuclear and thermonuclear warheads to the point where it can track down and destroy the Soviet ICBM.

NATO Avoids Tunisia Debate

Leaves Arms Dispute for Big Three to Settle Among Themselves

PARIS (INS) — NATO virtually bowed out of the Tunisian arms dispute today preferring to let the U. S., Britain and France settle it among themselves.

★ ★ ★

The problem was discussed briefly at a meeting of the permanent council of the treaty organization. A spokesman told newsmen "the council has decided to renew these consultations next week in light of the discussions now taking place among the three interested governments."

The French, British and American ambassadors to NATO spoke during the morning meeting but they apparently were only marking time.

The main discussion is under way in Washington between French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

★ ★ ★

Paul-Henri Spaak was absent from the permanent council meeting while making his first official visit to Holland as secretary-general of NATO.

NOBODY WILLING

His absence and the Washington talks created a situation in which nobody present at the council meeting was willing to take the lead in getting NATO to solve the problem growing out of the shipment of arms to Tunisia by the U. S. and Britain despite French protests.

The French fear the weapons will end up in the hands of Algerian nationalists.

★ ★ ★

A member of the U. S. delegation said no delegate had received new instructions from his government so nobody said anything new.

The American added that everyone was awaiting the results of the Dulles-Pineau talks.

He said the Tunisian discussion "took up little time" at the council session which was mostly devoted to consideration of housekeeping problems for the Dec. 16 meeting of the 15 heads of NATO governments.

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONAID, possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Pontiac Passes Moving Rules

$1,000 Cash Deposit Must Be Paid Before Permit Issued

An ordinance regulating the moving and wrecking of structures in Pontiac was adopted unanimously by a 6 to 0 vote of the City Commission last night. Commisioner Floyd P. Miles was not present.

The new law will require a $1,000 cash deposit before a moving permit is issued. This will protect the city against "any delays, negligence in removing said building from its location, city expense incurred, or in cleaning up the premises and removing rubbish or debris from its former location."

★ ★ ★

The moved structure must, under the ordinance, be brought up to city building, electrical and plumbing standard within six months after moving.

If this is not done, the $1,000 will be forfeited and used to do this work.

City officials and members of the city substandard housing committee said the law will prevent persons from moving dilapidated structures from one location to another.

A permit fee of $25, in addition to the cash deposit, will be charged for all moving within the city limit. There will be a $50 charge for moving a structure from outside the city into the limits.

These charges will cover all costs which in the past had been levied under several permits, acording to Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

Before a structure can be moved owners must show proof of a total of $40,000 insurance.

★ ★ ★

Cash deposits for wrecking structures range from $25 to $500 depending on the size of the basement. There will be an additional permit fe of $3 for each 500 square feet of building to be razed.

★ ★ ★

Violation of any provision of the law will result in a $100 fine or 90 days in jail. The ordinance becomes effective Nov. 29.

6 Little Children Die in Detroit Home Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Six little children died yesterday in the smoke and flame of a fire that swept the second-story flat occupied by a family of 18.

★ ★ ★

About 15 minutes before the fire broke out, Mrs. Lucille Sanders, 33, mother of five of the children, went to a neighbor's house to use the phone. Other members of the family were away.

Returning to find her home ablaze, she screamed, "Oh my God! My babies!"

★ ★ ★

Prevented from entering the house, she collapsed and was treated for shock.

Dead on arrival at Receiving Hospital were Brenda, 6; LaDonald, 4; Calvin, 3; Algertha, 12; Carlton, 6 months; and a 6-month old grandchild, Ronald.

Firemen said an explosion of gas from a coal stove in the small parlor started the flash fire.

Board Delays Hearing on Doctor's Suspension

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees last night postponed a hearing on the suspension of Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger when he wired the board he could not be present because of illness.

Willis M. Brewer, board chairman, said the hearing probably will be conducted Dec. 2.

Dr. Sullenberger of 5621 Walling St., Waterford Township, was suspended Nov. 13 from all medical privileges at the city hospital because of an "infringement of certain rules and regulations of the medical staff by-laws."

Jet Pilots Escape Miraculously

Survive Mid-Air Collision

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Two Air Force fighter pilots escaped miraculously last night when their Sabre Jets collided on a night training mission from Scott Air Force Base at Belleville.

"I don't remember much of what happened," said Lt. William R. McDaniel, 23, of Fort Worth, Tex. "I think my plane hit another and exploded. I must have fallen from five miles up."

★ ★ ★

Lt. James H. Metz, Poplar Bluff, Mo., also managed to take to his parachute and landed in a plowed field barely hurt.

Mrs. Roland Scheutz, who lives on a farm at Mascoutah, Ill., found McDaniel lying on her back porch, bloody and nearly frozen.

"He was shivering and nervous and looked terrified," she said.

★ ★ ★

The base hospital reported McDaniel had several cuts and a possible back injury but did not seem seriously hurt.

The two fliers are members of the 85th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Scott. They collided about five minutes after taking off. Parts of their planes fell six miles from the point of impact.

Including Ocean-Going Caravan

20 Interested in Buying Straits' Ferries

LANSING (AP) — Reasonably serious inquiries from prospective buyers of the retired Mackinac Straits ferryboats now number about 20, including one from a party wanting to know if they would be seaworthy on the North Atlantic in February.

In running over the list, Sidney H. Woolner, deputy state highway commissioner, said an attorney general's opinion still is being awaited on whether a call for bids on the boats should be issued.

A legislative commission headed by Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) is making a study on possible disposition of the five craft.

The lawmakers have talked about keeping at least some of them in service on Lake Michigan, Lake Huron or in the Straits area as sightseeing vessel plying between Mackinaw City, Mackinac Island and St. Ignace.

Expense of refitting the craft for any type of service discussed has loomed as a likely stumbling block.

In general, Woolner said, the inquiries to the highway department have come from railroads possibly interested in the boats for ferry service, and from shippers, marine brokers, scrap dealers and ferry operators.

ONE FROM CALIFORNIA

The query on seaworthiness came from Wally Byam's Caravan, Bakersfield, Calif., he said.

Woolner said he didn't know what sort of an operation Byam had in mind except that he apparently was interested in safely transporting 25 cars, 25 trailers and 75 persons.

The highway official said he advised that the ferries were not designed for ocean duty and that the North Atlantic Shipping Bureau should be contacted as to what conversions would be necessary.

Assuming Atty Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh should hold the ferries may be disposed of as surplus state property, State Controller James W. Miller said a call for bids would be issued and appraisas ordered as soon as sufficient study indicated exactly how to proceed.

3 Other Children Rescued

Lansing Oil Stove Blast Kills Mother, Burns Tot

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Treva North, 27, died in a Lansing hospital last night after she and her four children were pulled by neighbors from their flaming home.

The youngest child, Phyllis, was revived by a neighbor woman breathing into her mouth. The one-year-old girl was listed in a serious condition at Edward Sparrow Hospital. She suffered first and second degree burns about the face, neck and arms.

Severe burns and smoke inhalation caused the mother's death.

The other children were rescued unhurt from the second floor. They are Eric, 9, Dae, 7, and Mark, 4.

The fire broke out at 8 p.m. in the Norths' two-story frame house in the little community of Park Lake, 10 miles northeast of here in Clinton County.

HEATER EXPLODED

Troopers William Shideler and Robert Stadt of the East Lansing State Police Post said the fire was started by the explosion of a space oil heater while Mrs. North was refueling it.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. North's husband, Richard, 29, was away from home. He is employed on construction work at the Wurtsmith Air Force Base in Oscoda.

Neighbors quickly saw the fire and summoned the Bath Township firemen who brought their equipment and an inhalator.

Harold Wood, a neighbor, used a ladder to rescue the three older children from the second floor.

The fire was confined mostly to the first floor.

Two neighbor women, Mrs. Vern Franks and Mrs. Gordon McAtter found Mrs. North, the baby daughter and a pet dog inside the front door.

The dog was dead.

★ ★ ★

They pulled the mother and child into the fresh air and started artificial respiration.

Mrs. Franks revived the little girl by breathing into her mouth.

Weather Nearly Normal in Most Parts of Nation

The nation's weather appeared back to near normal today, cold in most areas and a little wet in a few sections. Skies were partly cloudy to fair in most of the country.

This was in marked contrast to the three days of tornadoes, rain, snow and windstorms and floods in the Midwest and Southern areas.

The blustery weather since the weekend was blamed for at least 40 deaths. Damage to property and crops was extensive in Southern sections hit by tornadoes and floods. The heavy snowfall in the Midwest paralyzed highway travel, closed schools and damaged unharvested crops.

But the snow tapered off to only flurries during the night in the Great Lakes region and a light snow fell in the Dakotas and Rockies. Snowfalls measured less than an inch from western Montana into Colorado. Amounts measured more than a foot in many Midwest areas as the cleanup job got started yesterday.

Hillsdale Voters Adopt Rule by City Manager

HILLSDALE (AP) — Hillsdale's council-mayor form of government, in effect since the 1890s, was voted down yesterday in favor of the city manager type.

The home rule proposal passed 1,072-408. It also provides for formation of a municipal judgeship to replace a justice of the peace. Both changeovers take effect Jan. 28.

The proposals had been turned down in two previous special elections within the past 10 years.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON change of zoning ordinance of Village of Orchard Lake.

To the electors of the Village of Orchard Lake:

Notice is hereby given that on Monday, December 9th, 1957, at 7:30 p.m., in the Village Hall of the Village of Orchard Lake, located at the corner of Long Lake and Orchard Lake road, a public hearing will be held on a proposed amendment to Zoning Ordinance No. 92 of said Village. Following are the proposed changes:

1. From Zone 4 to Zone 5: Area bounded on the south by the north line of the West Bloomfield High School property; on the east, by the center line of Orchard Lake road; on the north, by the south line of the Berg property (known on tax roll as description X03, section 2) extended 660 feet from the center line of Orchard Lake road; and on the west, by a line parallel to Orchard Lake road 660 feet west of the center line of said Orchard Lake road.

2. From Zone 4 to Zone 3: Area known as Orchard Pointe Subdivision as described in recorded plat.

3. From Zone 3 to Zone 2: Area known as Shorecliff's Subdivision as described in recorded plat.

This notice shall be published in The Pontiac Press and served by registered mail on each public utility and railroad operating in said Village of Orchard Lake at least fifteen (15) days before the date of such public hearing.

Card of Thanks 1

I WISH TO THANK MY FRIENDS, neighbors and relatives for the floral offerings, cards of sympathy and help. Special thanks to Rev. Arvid E. Anderson for his comforting words; also, the Huntoon Funeral Home, in the recent bereavement of my beloved husband, Walter Poske. Olive Poske.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends, neighbors and relatives for their many acts of kindness during the recent bereavement of our mother, Mrs. Addie McLain. Also Rev. Auchard and the Farmer Snover Funeral Home. — The McLain Family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FRANK J. Oerkfitz, who passed away from us, Nov. 20th, 1955.
Oh, but for a touch of a banished hand.
And a sound of a voice that is still,
Sadly missed by his wife & family.

IN MEMORY OF HUSBAND, WALter Smith Tominski, who passed away 1 yr. ago. 22nd of Nov. Gone but not forgotten. From his wife Ethel Tominski.

MI 4-2735
1000 S. Woodward, Birmingham

CHEVROLET 1951 4 DR. ONCE in a while a car of this vintage comes along that is far superior to any of it's kind on the road. This little deluxe 4 dr. was owned by a little old lady. It has only 35,000 actual miles with radio, heater, powerglide, and almost new tires. No, it is not "cheap," then again quality is never "cheap." $395 will buy this car. We know you'll buy it, if you drive it. One whole year guarantee. "Silent Schutz" Desoto-Plymouth, Birmingham. Woodward at Hunt.

BEFORE YOU DEAL, SEE Eddie Steele, Keego Harbor. FE 5-9204.

To Build Atomic Merchant Ship

U.S. Plans to Launch Nuclear Commercial Vessel by '59

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will launch a nuclear-powered merchant ship in 1959.

A $20,908,744 contract for construction of the vessel was awarded yesterday to the New York Shipbuilding Corp. of Camden, N.J.

* * *

A joint announcement by the Maritime Administration and the Atomic Energy Commission said the atomic propulsion system would be supplied by Babcock & Wilcox Co. under a separate contract with AEC for another nine million dollars.

The ship, to be named the NS (for nuclear ship) Savannah, is to be 587 feet long, have a beam of 78 feet, a service speed of 20 knots and a deadweight tonnage of 10,190 tons, the announcement said.

* * *

Congress authorized construction of the vessel in July 1956 after President Eisenhower proposed the launching as a demonstration of U.S. determination to develop peaceful applications for atomic energy.

The announcement said the NS Savannah will be an ultramodern ship with facilities for visitors' tours and "will serve as a floating laboratory to study and experiment in the relationship of nuclear power to the requirements of commercial shipping."

Legislator Suggests Interest Rate Study

LANSING (AP) — A Republican legislator has suggested to Gov. Williams that he check into the interest rates paid by customers of small loan companies in Michigan.

* * *

Rep. Willard I. Bowerman Jr. (R-Lansing), who headed a legislative committee investigating the operation of the small loan companies, wrote to Williams.

Bowerman noted that Williams recently visited New York state to investigate the milk problem there and reported that Michigan farmers are receiving $1 less per 100 pounds of milk than Nek York farmers.

"Small loan interest rates in New York are 10 per cent less than those allowed in Michigan," Bowerman said. "There is no competition in the small loan industry in Michigan on a rate basis."

Bowerman said he would like to discuss the matter with the governor in detail adding:

"If New York rates were applied to Michigan, the people who patronize these companies would save upwards to six million dollars a year, which would buy a lot of milk."

CREATIVE SINGER — Polly Bergen enjoys "creating something that I try to make the very best I can." So, instead of choosing the lucrative and easy life of a television guest star, the pretty vocalist has launched her own Polly Bergen Show over NBC-TV on alternate Saturdays at 9 p. m.

To Sack or Not to Sack; That Is the Question

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Dear Noel" brought out all the chic females and I thought it was a good time to ask whether the Sack Look's caught on in Saloon and Television Society.

WILSON

Milton Berle, Gabby Hayes, Ray Bolger, Joe E. Lewis and other big TV names positively were not wearing Sack Look dresses when Buddy Hackett and Marion Marlowe opened quite thunderously.

Here, Marlene Dietrich wasn't, either.

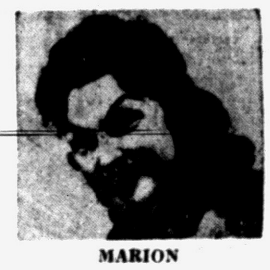

"It's ugly!" claimed Miss Dietrich stoutly. "Nothing ugly will ever catch on."

And she looked around at a gay group celebrating Noel Coward's opening in "Nude With Violin." Arlene Francis was there, Adlai Stevenson had been—and so had at least three Gabors. And there sat also the celebrated Valentina.

"If I were fat, yes, I would wear a Sack Look dress—and look like a house," Valentina said. She is, of course, thinly elegant.

I trotted dutifully back to my wife with this information. The B. W. had just urged me to come out for the Sack Look.

"But two weeks ago you wanted to blast it!" I mentioned.

MARION

"Two weeks ago, though, I didn't have a sack dress," the wife argued. "Now I've got a modified one — and it's so comfortable!"

Naturally, a little thing like that would alter a woman's opinion.

The Sack Look, I gather, is primarily for ladies with large cabooses who don't care if they look like halfbacks or even Yogi Berra in the back. But before the wife starts slugging, I'd like to say her Sack Look dress is so modified that you'd hardly know she's wearing a sack.

St. Lawrence Pilots End 2-Week Strike

MONTREAL (AP) — Fifty-two St. Lawrence River pilots have decided to end their two-week walkout and are scheduled to return to work today.

President Jean Guy Chartier of the St. Lawrence-Ottawa-Muskegon Pilots' Corp., said the decision to call off the unofficial strike was taken at a meeting yesterday.

He said representatives of the pilots and transport department will form a joint committee to study problems that led to the work stoppage Nov. 4.

About 13 foreign ships were attempting to navigate the tricky canals and channels without pilots when settlement of the dispute was announced.

Man in Hunting Outfit Robs Waitress of $45

DETROIT (INS) — A man who appeared to be a hunter went out for "bucks" in Detroit today—the kind you can spend.

Sue Baker, waitress at a Motor city restaurant, said a man dressed in a red and black checkered hunting outfit took $45 from her at the point of a rifle.

Critics Acclaim Singer's Efforts

Consider Her Musical Variety Program Very Entertaining

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Polly Bergen could make pots of money and lead a much easier life if she floated around as a guest on television programs this season.

* * *

But — to the satisfaction of a large following of fans—she has her own program on alternate Saturday evenings over NBC-TV. Why does she make the effort?

Her answer, delivered the other evening while lounging with shoes off in her Fifth avenue apartment and surrounded by husband, daughter, dog and cat:

"I like it. I enjoy creating something that I try to make the very best I can."

* * *

And, critics agree, she has created a highly entertaining variety program, thanks to her superb voice and pleasant presence.

THE BIG THREE

Miss Bergen is coming along just fine with the great triumvirate that beset every host and hostess of a variety show: Guests, audience and critics.

* * *

"There is one thing I wish critics would do," she said, "I wish they'd review the second or third show in a regular series because — for some unfathomable reason — the first show in nearly every regular program never seems to be as good as later ones."

Besides having the chance for a tempting season of being a highly paid guest on numerous TV shows, Miss Bergen has turned down a couple of flattering offers to make films in Hollywood.

"I won't work outside of New York," she said, looking around fondly at husband, daughter, apartment, dog and cat.

Apart 17 Years, Mother and Son Meet Casually

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Thomas, 58, glanced from her apartment and noticed a sailor hobble across the street on crutches.

"Hey, Vern, come here," she shouted.

The sailor swung around.

"That you, mother?"

* * *

Vern Baker, 42, a son by a previous marriage, hadn't seen his mother in 17 years but he said he would know that voice anywhere, any time.

They last saw each other in Coos Bay, Ore., where Mrs. Thomas was working as a waitress and her son was a logger.

* * *

"I left town and joined the Navy — I've been in and out ever since," Baker said. "What with the war and moving around a lot, we just never got toether."

"Neither of us are much at letters," Mrs. Thomas said. "We just lost track of each other."

* * *

Baker is a Seabee and has been recuperating at the San Diego Naval Hospital since breaking a leg three weeks ago.

* * *

He said he decided to take a bus ride and just happened to get off near his mother's apartment.

"It's sort of strange, isn't it?" he said.

Cleary College Given $63,398 From Estate

YPSILANTI (AP) — Cleary College has received a check from the estate of the late Norris L. Curtis for $63,398, the largest single contribution in its 74-year history.

* * *

Curtis, of Toledo, graduated from Cleary in 1890. The money will be used to provide financial assistance to worthy students.

The Union of South Africa is comprised of a surface area of 472,685 square miles, or 2½ times the size of Texas.

Public Relations Industry Booms

Top Executive in Field Says Twice as Many to Enter Profession

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — America's public relations industry will double in the next 10 years, a top executive in the field predicted here.

Corporations and public institutions will boost their public relations expenditures from a current 2 billion dollars yearly to 4 or 5 billion dollars by 1968, said Kalman B. Druck, vice president of Carl Byoir & Associates, New York. Persons employed by public relations will increase from 100,000 now to 200,000 by 1968, Druck told members of the Public Relations Society of America.

Public relations has a broad opportunity for "service to mankind," said the society's newly elected president, Kenneth W. Haagensen, director of public relations for Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co.

Clifton Daniel, assistant to the managing editor of the New York Times, credited to wide news coverage the record 58 million daily newspaper circulation he said the country reached this year, a gain of 6 million in 10 years.

"This is because a good newspaper provides more information than you get in any other way, more than you get, for example, in a whole day of TV viewing," Daniel said.

Taxi to Chase Seagull Is Losing Proposition

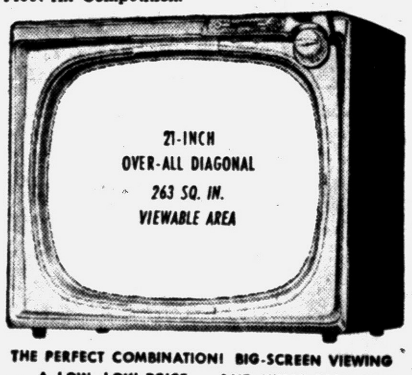

TORQUAY, England (AP)—Taking a taxi to catch a seagull, P. A. Bovey reported today, is a losing proposition.

★ ★ ★

The gull, with a fishhook stuck in its beak, has been flying around the seafront for a week. Bovey, an employe of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has been trying to catch the bird and remove the hook.

"Everytime somebody sees it they call us and I speed to the spot in a taxi," said Bovey. "We have spent 2 pounds 10 shillings ($7) in taxi fares, but each time the bird has flown."
