Troops Land at Port

Ground Units Hit Both Sides of Canal Zone

Truce Talks Severed as British and French Step Up Assault

LONDON (AP) — British and French ground units swept ashore on both sides of the northern end of the Suez Canal today as the two Western Powers defied Soviet demands that they end hostilities against Egypt.

Britain and France threw their ground forces into action in Egypt to back up their parachute troops that opened the invasion of the canal area early yesterday.

Egyptian military headquarters in Cairo said British and French troops were being landed by sea and air at Port Said and reported the population "is fighting heroically in the streets."

The statement added that the "situation is under control and morale is high."

Air raid warnings sounded again in Cairo for the seventh straight day and heavy explosions were reported east and northeast of the capital.

The car split down the middle as it crashed into the rear coach of a six-car Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee train.

The crash occurred at the height of the evening rush hour, about 5:30 p.m., at the Wilson Avenue elevated station. The North Shore electric train carried more than 300 passengers. The CTA coaches were heavily loaded.

Screams of panic rang through the CTA cars as lights failed after the impact. Passengers were thrown to the floors and piled atop each other.

Large Voter Turnout Seen as Early Trend

Heavy early morning turnouts were reported at both city and county voting precincts as voters flocked to the polls to beat an expected report of rain and the last-minute rush.

Polls opened at 7 a. m. and anybody in line at 8 p. m. will cast a ballot. Election workers reported considerable lineups at the opening hour. Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the early turnout was "one of the heaviest she has seen for the first few hours."

She had predicted 35,000 will go to the polls, while Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen estimated close to 190,000 county voters would cast their ballots in the 249 precincts.

All city banks, county and state offices, and Consumers Power Co. are closed today. City offices, the post office, and the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. office, and the Detroit Edison's Pontiac office have remained open.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts cloudy skies today with temperatures in the middle 60's with rain to follow late today.

Council Snubs Russian Bid to Have U.S. Join Fight for Egypt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced today six countries have offered troops for an international police force to watch over a cease-fire in Egypt.

The six are Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Pakistan, Norway and Sweden.

Hammarskjold reported this as the General Assembly got set for a new Russian move on the Middle East fighting following Security Council refusal to support Moscow's proposal that the United States join the Russians in aiding Egypt against Britain, France and Israel.

The United States rejected the Russian proposal as "unthinkable." Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. told the Council it "would convert Egypt into a still larger battlefield."

Hammarskjold is rounding up the prospective force under a resolution the Assembly passed Sunday in emergency special session on the crisis touched off by military operations of Israel, Britain, and France against Egypt.

H.P. Up, Body Lower, Longer; on Sale Friday

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD
Pontiac Press Editor

A longer and lower silhouette is one of the many outstanding features to be offered in the new 1957 Pontiacs which will go on display to the public Friday.

Completely redesigned with an eye catching appearance, the '57 models will be introduced in three series—the Star Chief on a 124-inch wheelbase, the Super Chief and Chieftain on 122-inch wheelbases, in 16 new body styles, according to S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

The sleek ultra modern design leaves nothing to be desired from this exciting new car, and for the first time in many years, the silver streak on the hood and rear fenders is gone.

Outstanding features of the 1957 Pontiac include:

The new and larger engine for 1957 has improved performance and greater horsepower;

Locally, the new cars will be shown at the Pontiac Retail Store, Mt. Clemens and Mill streets, beginning Friday. Display rooms will be open until 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

"The 1957 Pontiacs are the most exciting new cars we have ever offered," Knudsen said. "From the massive, streamlined fins of the rear fenders, the 1957 Pontiacs are a triumph of modern design and safety engineering. The body design is new and creates a much longer and fleeter appearance."

In the luxurious Star Chief series, Pontiac offers four custom models including the Catalina sedan, Catalina coupe, four-door sedan and Safari station wagon. Two deluxe models are also available, the convertible coupe and four-door sedan.

The Super Chief series will be in four models this year: Catalina sedan, Catalina coupe, four-door sedan, two-door sedan; two-door, six-passenger Safari; and four-door, nine-passenger Safari.

Foremost among the exterior changes is the wide, low front end which is protected by heavy wrap-around bumpers with intergrated bomb-type bumper guards. Large oval parking lights are set in the lower part of the bumpers. A semi-circular chrome grille and full width air scoop direct air flow to the car radiator.

Also prominent in the front end styling are the hooded head lights and front fender ornaments. Greater vision is one will offer horsepowers of achieved by lowering the hood 252 and 270.

1.6 inches and increasing the windshield area 75.4 square inches in the Catalinas, convertibles and custom station wagons and by 69 square inches in sedans and other station wagons.

The flair of the rear fender houses an integrated tail and backup lamp and a safety reflector. The rear projection of the oval tail light is protected by a projection in the rear bumper which also serves as an exhaust port on cars equipped with dual exhausts.

The Star Flight styling features an eight-inch spear-type molding which runs from the rear fender along the side of the car. A full range of excitingly modern colors is available on the 16 body styles.

LUXURIOUS INTERIORS

Interiors for the new '57 Pontiacs are the most luxurious and color conscious in Pontiac history.

Star Chief series are upholstered in fine hand-buffed leather in colors of silver beige, Kenya ivory, cordovan red, limefire green, seacrest green and fontaine blue. These can also be had in combination with patterned nylon fabrics.

The economy-priced Chieftain series offers a new height of luxury with interiors of "contemporary tweed" patterns of nylon-faced cloth and vinyl. In all, 66 interior-trim combinations are offered in the new 1957 line of cars.

The car-buying public will find that Pontiac engineers have developed the 1957 car to a new level of efficiency and durable performance. The Strato Streak V-8 engine, with displacement increased to 347.04 cubic inches, has higher horsepower, 10:1 compression ratio, larger manifolding, more efficient valves and newly designed carburetors. Parties Scrap for County's Vote

Both Confident of Organizations

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

State chairmen of both parties yesterday expressed confidence over winning Oakland County in today's election.

Republican John Feikens, discounting dwindling GOP margins in the county since 1950, predicted an upsurge in Republican strength.

But Democratic Chairman Neil Staebler, pointing out that the increase in registered voters since 1952 is almost twice the GOP plurality that year, said his crystal ball shows Democratic victories here.

"Oakland County will see one of the closest-fought political battles in the state," Staebler said.

MIDEAST VIEWS CLASH

The two men differed sharply — and predictably — over the effect on today's election of the Mideast crisis.

Staebler said voters remember GOP campaign oratory based on "peace and prosperity" — and now, he said, they wonder what happened to the peace and to American leadership of the "Western Alliance."

But Feikens says:

"We think the Israel crisis has helped us. This country is still at peace, and President Eisenhower has said he will keep it that way. The people know he is our best guarantee of peace, and they don't quite trust Stevenson.

NOT SURE OF COBO

In state contests, Feikens was less optimistic. Of Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, Republican candidate for governor, he said:

"That's the big one, of course, but we think we can bring Cobo in." Cobo himself is reported optimistic.

Staebler predicted Gov. Williams "will have a greater majority than ever before."

According to Staebler, "We're coming closer and closer in Oakland County to having the two parties on a basis of equality.

"And when the parties become more equal in numbers, many 'silent' Democrats will declare themselves.

"There have been many Democrats here in past years who never voted, being convinced their votes would be thrown away. Now they have heard there are more Democrats moving into the county, they will get out and vote," Staebler said.

County registration has jumped 40,000 since 1952, and Staebler says he thinks "we've somewhat outworked the Republicans in registration this year."

Feikens theorizes the Republican pluralities in Oakland County have declined since 1950 because of "the industrial workers moving into the county, and union activity here."

But he says of the registration increase, "We think the majority of those new Oakland County voters will go to the Republicans."

Feikens says Eisenhower will "carry handily, especially if there is a big vote."

'Reds Moving'

U.S. Court Ends Gilliland Case

Supreme Court Refuses Hearing in Lapeer Evictions Squabble

What finally may be the end to the Lapeer eviction cases unfolded yesterday in the Supreme Court in Washington, when the court refused a hearing to Clayton C. Gilliland, fiery leader of legally embattled Lapeer farmers.

* * *

Gilliland, currently serving a 4½ to 5 year term in Jackson Prison for conspiracy to obstruct justice, contended that the trial court erred in refusing to grant a change of venue in the face of "local prejudice created by inflammatory newspaper articles."

He also protested ruling by the trial court and method used in selecting the jury.

Gilliland and two Lapeer County farmers were arrested and tried following a June, 1952 scuffle when a group of outraged farmers roughed up Lapeer County Sheriff Clark Gregory as he sought to evict a farm widow whose farm had been sold.

Her farm, as several others in the area, had been sold by the State Insurance Commission, acting as receivers following the failure of the Lapeer Farmers Mutual Insurance Co.

2 ACQUITTED

The two farmers tried with Gilliland were acquitted.

In his appeal, Gilliland said he was convicted "Without any evidence being offered or admitted to show he conspired to obstruct the sheriff in serving the writ."

The Day in Birmingham

Accept Bids for Projects for Court, Road, Alley

BIRMINGHAM — Projects that won approval last night at city commission meeting were the remodeling of the commission and court room, for about $15,600, widening to 30 feet for Southfield road, and the Ferndale-Park Alley, at $2,800, and rubbish collection under a three-year contract.

Low bidder for the court room project was the contractor doing current remodeling in the building, Eisermann Co.

After re-doing, the room will probably have new furniture installed, at an approximate cost of $4,000, commissioners indicated.

The county will share the cost of the widening project of Southfield on a fifty-fifty basis, and will pay $15,000 to begin work, and the balance when estimated costs are completed. The city will contract for the work.

Garbage and rubbish contract on a three-year basis instead of by the year was approved in an ordinance revision, and the low bidder, Painter and Ruthenberg Trucking Co., was awarded the contract.

Traffic regulations were approved, with many streets going on restricted parking, and some having parking prohibited entirely at some points.

Go-aheads were given to an agreement for ice-skating rink maintenance, with opening to start last of this month, change in rates immediately of water and sewer installations, and scheduling hearings on two special assessment districts for Nov. 19.

* * *

Only four new homes were subject of building permits last month, Building Inspector A. F. Butt, reported to the city commission this week.

He noted that building was lagging behind last year's total by a million dollars, with $4,143,376 in building costs approved this year. Permits last month included 22 garages, one new business for $145,000, the Harry Stevens building on East Maple avenue.

Grand Trunk Talks Continue

City Awaits Answer From Rail Manager on Train Yard Issue

"Final word might be expected Thursday night so this matter might be resolved," City Manager Walter K. Willman said this morning, explaining the latest stand on the unsettled Grand Trunk industrial support yard.

Willman said the city is awaiting an answer from Frank N. Gaffney, general manager of the railroad, on why it couldn't expand its present Johnson street yard and eliminate the need for the new yard.

"We've got their technical position and now they have Blackman's, and we hope to come to a conclusion between them," Willman said.

Charles H. Blackman, railroad engineer hired by the city, told commissioners last week that he suggested expanding the Johnson street yard and the present Pontiac, Oxford and Northern tracks leading into both General Motors plants.

The railroad proposed to place its $700,000 yard in the north end to provide increased shipping facilities for Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Divisions.

Willman said the railroad is still convinced that its suggested site is the best.

Swiss Ask Talk to Avert War

Invite Big 4 and India to Top-Level Meeting, Offer to Help

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss government today invited the Big Four powers and India to hold an immediate summit conference in Switzerland to meet the danger of a third world war.

* * *

In telegrams to the government heads of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and India, the Swiss offered assistance in organizing a conference similar to the Big Four summit conference at Geneva in July, 1955.

This time India was included as representative of the Asian and African nations which met at the Bandung conference.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was also informed of the Swiss invitation.

The telegrams declared: "The danger of a third world war with all its tragic consequences is threatening humanity. World peace, however, can and must still be saved.

"For this purpose, the Swiss government directs an urgent appeal to the heads of government of the four powers who met in Geneva in July, 1955, to hold an immediate conference.

"The head of the government of India could join them as representative of the Bandung powers. The government offers its services for the organization of such a conference on Swiss territory."

The decision to launch the appeal for a Big Five conference was taken at a meeting of the seven-member federal Cabinet early today.

Aid to 'Federally Impacted Areas'

U.S. Pays State Schools Over Half Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has paid out well over half a billion dollars since 1950 to aid school districts in "federally impacted areas."

* * *

The term applies to sectors where school enrollments are swollen by federal activities, such as military installations.

Total spending at the end of the 1954-55 school year was approximately 660 million dollars, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) said in its report on federal funds for education.

Figures for the 1955-56 school year are not yet in, but are expected to be in the neighborhood of 200 million dollars.

* * *

Of the 660 million dollars paid to school districts in 1954-55, HEW said about 271 millions went for assistance in the maintenance and operation of schools, and 392 million for construction of new school facilities.

MAIN BENEFICIARY

California has been the biggest beneficiary under the school program and that state received $57,358,523 in construction funds over the five-year period—nearly double the next highest amount which went to a single state. This was Virginia, with $28,948,245.

* * *

The five-year total by states on grants for operation and maintenance of schools in federally impacted areas was not given by HEW, but for the 1953-54 school year, California received $13,135,753 as compared to Virginia's next highest allotment of $5,095,785.

HEW gave a breakdown by states of the total of construction funds disbursed to federally impacted districts from the beginning of the 1950-51 school year through the 1954-55 year. The states and territories included:

Michigan, $17,604,602.

Hungarians Fight On as Reds Start Purge

VIENNA (INS) — Hungarian patriots still battled Soviet tank troops today in the shadow of hanged comrades swinging from the girders of Budapest bridges.

Diplomatic reports reaching Budapest at noon said that the Russian slaughter of the outgunned population, sealed off from the Western World, continued in bitter house-to-house fighting.

Eyewitnesses told how the Communists were hanging the patriots, both civilians and Hungarian soldiers, on the bridges.

They told of other freedom fighters being lined up, given confessions to sign, then being shot down by firing squads or hanged.

Guilty Plea Entered by City Resident

Charged with taking indecent liberties with a five-year-old boy Oct. 12 in Pontiac, Robert Duane Hursey of 319 N. Saginaw St. pleaded guilty yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Hursey, who is free on $500 bond, will be sentenced Nov. 13.

Cancer Society Elects 8 Officials

At a meeting yesterday of the North Oakland County unit of the American Cancer Society, four new trustees were elected and officers were picked for the next year, it was announced.

Dressings were distributed to 116 patients in the area.

Officers this year will be Dr. John J. Marra, president; Milo D. McLintock, vice president; Francis Miller, treasurer; and Mrs. Milo McLintock, secretary.

Directors met Wednesday night in which members discussed program activities for next year and viewed a new animated film, "Sappy Homiens."

Oxford Man Mute on Indecency Count

UF Aids Work of Salvation Army

Many a down-and-outer can thank the Salvation Army for his successful new life.

It is the Army which traditionally has reached down into the dregs of society to lift up broken men.

* * *

Today's Army veterans are social case workers, who handle family and individual problems with modern methods.

Nevertheless, the Army sticks to its original three-pronged attack to ease misery and poverty.

These are its spiritual, character building and welfare programs. Religious faith remains the core of the Salvation Army movement after 76 years.

The Army citadel at 29 W. Lawrence St. will receive $29,219 from the UF next year, or well over three-fifths of its $45,439 budget.

With this money the Army will continue "to meet the need in time of need," as Citadel Captain Magnus A. Michalsen puts it.

* * *

Gave 2,583 families assistance in the form of groceries, transportation, housing, medicine and other services.

* * *

Found jobs for 171 unemployed, located missing persons for 10 families, and sent 29 youngsters to summer camp.

Made 57 visits of comfort to jails and local hospitals. Assisted 25 unwed mothers to plan for their children.

It maintained a retail store at 48 W. Pike St. for sale of castoff articles. These are available at low prices for families in financial straits.

Clothing, food and shelter is provided free, however, when payment is not possible.

The only requirement for Army is need, Michalsen says. The Army often is the first stop when tragedy strikes. Whatever the case, the Army provides stop-gap necessities until the proper social agency takes over.

There is also a self-supporting congregation at the Citadel. Many who have received Army aid eventually become congregation members.

The Army's rehabilitation program here will be boosted by opening of a factory and men's dormitory at 118 W. Lawrence in February.

About 75 men will find employment reconditioning castoff articles. The work will be the first step towards eventual employment at normal jobs.

This part of the Army program will be self-supporting without aid of UF dollars. It will be directed by Army headquarters out of Detroit.

THE NEW ARMY — The Salvation Army Citadel mobilizes all the techniques of the modern social worker, plus material aid and spiritual purpose in its struggle against human problems. Many of the breadlines of yesterday are being replaced by scenes such as the one above where Captain Magnus S. Michalsen, commander of the Pontiac Citadel, advises a troubled family on its problems. The social service work of the Salvation Army in Pontiac is supported by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Drop in Employment

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Tri-cities area industrial employment dropped 275 in October after climbing for two months, according to a report by the Committee for Economic Development. Employment rolls totaled 4,305 in October, 826 less than the same month in 1955.

If You Haven't Voted There's Still Time

If you are, have you voted today?

If you haven't, there's still time after you read this. The polls remain open until 8 p. m.

The reason for this eleventh hour reminder is the fact that we Americans too often neglect to exercise our precious right of franchise. By so doing we fail to discharge a solemn obligation of good citizenship.

Experience has shown that this failure is the result of a widely held belief that a single vote won't make any difference. Yet history is filled with examples of candidates being defeated by a single vote.

Back in 1840 Texas was granted statehood by one vote; Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President in 1876 by one vote cast by a sick man; In 1916 Charles Evans Hughes lost the Presidency by less than one vote for each precinct in California, the decisive state. Six years ago in our own State G. Mennen Williams was re-elected Governor by less than one vote for each precinct.

★ ★ ★

Latest reports show that 3,500,000 residents of Michigan are registered to vote. But not more than 3,000,000 are expected to do so.

Don't be one of the 500,000 stay-at-homes!

Go out now and help determine what kind of a national government we are going to have for the next four years.

Our Peak Employment

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks is authority for a statement saying that civilian employment in the United States currently is at a new all time high level.

During the week ending October 13, the statement says, employment reached 66,200,000. That is one million higher than any previous October on record.

"Civilian employment in October," says Secretary Weeks, "continued an uninterrupted succession of comparable monthly peaks established throughout the 18 month period beginning with May 1955. In October 1956 about 4,300,000 more had jobs than in October 1952."

Paralleling these developments was a corresponding decrease in unemployment which reached a low level of 1,900,000 last month. This was 200,000 under a year earlier and was one of the lowest levels since late 1953.

The October unemployment rate of 2.8 per cent was as low as in any month in the past three years and compares with a rate of 3.2 per cent in October of last year.

All this, of course, augurs well for year-end business with so many more persons employed. More families are going to have the money they need to have the kind of Christmas they want. The effects of these gains will be shown clearly in the net earnings of many businesses.

Mau Mau Terror Ends

Skies are brighter as the people of Britain's East African Kenya Colony as the result of the capture of "Field Marshal Sir" Dedan Kimathi.

The leader of the four year old native terrorist movement, sparked by a tribe known as the Mau Mau, Kimathi and his followers have spread death and destruction through the colony. Aim of the movement was to drive the white man out of Kenya.

So widespread was the Mau Mau terror that farmers had to carry weapons to protect themselves, their families and their native workers. Capture of Kimathi apparently means the collapse of his campaign of murder and rapine.

At present it is believed that some 400 Mau Maus still are hiding in the forest. They will be the object of continuing search which is expected to bring peace to the colony. The reign of terror began to wane as soon as natives realized that they were suffering from it as much as the white settlers and joined British troops in fighting the terrorists.

In recent months terrorists and Mau Mau suspects have been rehabilitated and released by the British at the rate of 2,000 a month. Now that better understanding has been established between the whites and natives, Kenya should be able to look forward to happier and more prosperous days for all.

By far the most dangerous form of flirting with danger is flirting with a woman.

The Man About Town

Votes Were Priced

Easy to Buy in Pioneer Elections; Real System

Nov. 8, 1960: When we do it all over again.

Votes were a mercantile commodity previous to the adoption of the Australian ballot system a little over a half century ago. Old Pontiac residents tell me they were bought and sold "like wheat and hogs."

The nominees of each political party were printed on separate tickets which were peddled like handbills. Little stickers with their individual names were issued by candidates, and distributed by them or their workers to voters whom they hoped would split their tickets by pasting them over the name of the regular nominee.

Although Pontiac then had less than one-tenth of its present voters, astute politicians knew there were at least 100 men whose votes were on the auction block. This segment sometimes held the balance of power in an election.

The price ranged according to the demand, the political budget and financial needs of the voters. It usually was from $5 to $25. A congenial round of the local saloons often did the trick.

The ballot would then be fixed, and the candidate or his worker would accompany the voter to the polling place and see that it was properly deposited, even if it was necessary to guide the voter's arm when he handed it over.

Following a real warm autumn, the worst snow storm of the 1914-15 winter in the Pontiac area was early in November. So don't get too enthusiastic.

Probably the oldest man in Oakland County to vote today is of Waterford, who celebrated his ninety-eighth birthday in August. He will not use an absent voter's ballot, but will go to the polls himself, and says he'll vote for Ike.

Old MAT thought he was past getting interested in such things, but the serial now running in these columns, has him anxiously awaiting the next installment.

"The Blonde Died Dancing,"

My Flint scout sends word that

British Attack on Egypt Justified

WASHINGTON—When is the use of force "glorious," and when is it "inglorious?" When is an action taken alone by the United States, as in Korea, a justified step to "repel aggression," and when is an action taken by Britain and France alone to stop a war in the Suez area which threatens their lifeline also a justified step to "repel aggression?"

* * *

These questions will be debated a long time. But within this country there is an unfortunate tendency to believe the British and French acted unjustifiably, although the record shows the United States adopted the same type of "police action" in June 1950. Here, for example, is the language of a circular issued four years ago by the American Assn. for the United Nations—an organization which seeks to rally support for the U.N.:

"The plain truth is that the United States was committed to fight in Korea, with or without the United Nations. The facts are that President Truman took the decision to throw American military weight against the aggressor in Korea hours before the Security Council met that Sunday in June a couple of years ago."

"What the council did was to give the name, protection and moral backing of the United Nations to the fight against the Communists and to call on its members to help in that fight. It transformed the Korean situation from a war involving the United States and the Communists to a war involving the United Nations and the Communists.

CHANGE OF COMPLEXION

"That decision changed what millions of Asians might have come to think of as an 'imperialist' war into a United Nations war against aggression."

The foregoing was written by A. M. Rosenthal, New York Times correspondent at the United Nations, in 1952, and has been since used in widely distributed circulars as part of an educational campaign in support of U.N. objectives.

If in the next few days there is a cease-fire in the Middle East and the United Nations takes over in an effort to hold the line and work out a plan to correct the injustices arising out of Nasser's aggression in seizing the Suez Canal, the whole thing will become a U.N. action.

The fact that fighting occurred will not be officially condoned, but the event will demonstrate once again that, unless the United Nations is prepared to organize an international military force of its own, the world will witness incidents in which some major power will have to take the initiative in repelling aggression and then turn the problem over to the United Nations to work out peacefully if it can.

When is the use of force justified? Historically, it has been justified when national interests have been at stake and negotiations have failed. The people of Hungary have won worldwide acclaim for their use of force against the Russian tyrants.

The U.N. General Assembly was impulsive in the resolutions adopted last week because it took note only of the British-French military action and did not emphasize that Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal, in violation of the treaty of 1888, was the original act of aggression which started the whole chain of events.

The United Nations had ample opportunity to stop Nasser in his tracks by sending in a force of its own to take over the canal. But since nothing was done, Britain and France were obligated to take steps on their own. The Egypt-Israel situation had grown worse because of Nasser's formation of a unified command in the Arab countries designed to wipe out the little state of Israel.

Under the circumstances, Britain and France decided to act on their own when Israel began to defend itself. President Eisenhower, while deploring what had happened, conceded the British and French had a right to proceed as they did in defense of their interests.

MUST TAKE OVER

But now the United Stations has the duty of taking over and especially of carrying through to the point of restoring the canal to some form of international control and also to assure the political independence and territorial integrity of Egypt and Israel so future wars in the Middle East will be prevented.

It is significant that both Britain and France are agreeable to a plan which permits the United Nations to maintain possession and control of the canal while arrangements are worked out for a permanent solution. This certainly shows the objective of Britain and France was not to do more than protect the canal as the treaty of 1888 obligated the signatory nations to do.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Milk, Proper Diet Help Ward Off Joint Disability

If physicians know anything about the nature and treatment of chronic joint disability, which I call rheumatiz and most victims call "arthritis," they certainly keep their knowledge secret.

I hope any reader who finds a physician who knows the cause and cure or treatment for chronic joint disability will tell me, not for my benefit but for the benefit of thousands who follow this column and maybe hundreds who try to follow the advice they find here. Please believe I'm not just flippant about it.

I believe sincerely that there is at present no more scientific or sensible view or explanation of insidious joint disability than the one I set forth in the booklet "Chronic Joint Disability" (36c) and in the pamphlet "Calicum and Rheumatiz" (free) if you inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ARTHRITIS RARE

If you ask me for advice about arthritis, the only advice I'll give you is: Consult a physician.

I do not deny that actual chronic arthritis (joint inflammation) occurs. I merely say it is a rare happening as compared with rheumatiz.

The nature of rheumatiz, I contend, is physical degeneration of joint tissues.

SUPPLEMENT DIET

I know of no particular remedy or treatment for the rheumatiz. All I can tell you is how to revise and supplement your diet so as to correct the nutritional deficiency responsible for your rheumatiz. Not for a week, a month or a season, mind you, but from now on.

Just for instance, if you reject the prospect of consuming not less than 1½ pints of milk or the equivalent in dairy products every day for the rest of your life, my advice is not for you.

It is a conviction that came from a professional lifetime of study of the question, and I present it with assurance gained from many reports of persons who have experienced extraordinary benefit from the regimen I recommend for rheumatiz.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Always Refuses Hunters; Reader Gives Explanation

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

My boys have a cat that, for five years, has been the best pet they could ask for. He jumped up on the window sill, the boys let him in, give him a drink of milk and he goes to sleep on their dresser. He wanders through the fields catching mice and chipmunks by the dozens and minds his own business.

The other day he came, limping and bleeding, across the back yard and looked at us with his heart in his eyes. We're just grateful the hunter who shot him, only wounded him instead of killing him.

This is why we say no when hunters stop and ask to hunt on our land. There is always one who deserves to be shot much more than an innocent pet.

'Como Fan' Tells of Commercials

I understand the Perry Como shows are put on in color now. I hope the color is good enough to make up for the continuous commercials. Saturday night's program in black and white was dragged down so far by the overpowering commercials it left an all around bad taste.

'Women Shouldn't Smoke on Street'

I don't mind seeing women smoke, but it riles me to see them puffing away on cigarets on the streets. It looks just plain cheap and common. If they do it in their own home, it's their own business, but when they parade about the city, it becomes disgusting. I wish the Press would start a campaign.

Hal Boyle Says:

* * *

An election day always is. For it is then the United States looks its worst to a freedom-hungry world.

VALIANT DEATH

In Hungary last week hundreds of men flung themselves barehanded against invading Soviet tanks and died valiantly in a hopeless fight for the right to set up a government of their own choice.

* * *

But in democracy's mightiest citadel today only about six of every 10 persons eligible will take the trouble to vote for the government that will rule their lives for the next four years. Some 40 to 50 million other men and women who could vote won't bother to, for one reason or another.

These are the drones of democracy, who accept their political liberty as casually as if it were merely another free sandwich at a banquet.

* * *

This apathy amazes thoughtful people in dictator-ridden lands who dream of a free vote but know that to achieve it they must first wade a river of their own blood. This apathy puzzles thoughful people here, too.

SHUN BALLOT BOX

In good times or bad times, in peace or war, millions of Americans avoid the ballot box as if it might infect them with some loathesome disease.

* * *

This seems doubly odd when it is recalled that universal suffrage did not come to the United States as a gift from Heaven, but was won after generations of struggle that cost hundreds of thousands of lives. The barriers of property, age, color and sex fell slowly.

The remark is often made, "the guy who doesn't bother to vote would be the first to fight if someone threatened to take away his right to vote."

But that is nonsense. The only men who can be counted on to defend a right are those who exercise that right. The man who has nothing to say doesn't fight for free speech.

Ignorance Can Destroy Homes

Prof. Lonzo was a very popular and talented college teacher. But he was slain because of his wife's sins of omission! If she had studied the 20 cent booklet described below, Lonzo would not have committed suicide. Wives, beware lest you destroy your happy homes by your own sexual ignorance. Sins of omission cause divorces just as fast as sins of commission!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-314: Lonzo J., aged 47, has been a very successful college professor.

"Oh, Dr. Crane, I am beside myself with grief and shame," his wife wept in my office.

* * *

"My husband committed suicide last week. He bought a revolver and locked himself in the bathroom. Then he shot himself.

"He had confessed earlier that same evening that he had been guilty of improper sex advances to a couple of young girls.

"Their parents had reported the case to the police and Lonzo knew he would be brought into court. Rather than suffer from such humiliation, he took his own life.

"But why would an intelligent and beloved teacher like my husband, ever be guilty of such sexual abnormalities?"

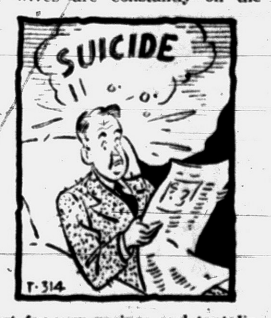

WOMEN, BEWARE

Lonzo's wife was partly responsible for this tragic death, even though she didn't dream of that fact.

It is much greater in males than in females, despite the fact that many wives still refuse to face that truth.

Oh, they readily admit that God Almighty created man to crave 3,500 gastric calories per day when they demand only 2,500.

And they even tempt their mates to exceed that 3,500 male quota, for wives are constantly on the alert for new recipes and tantalizing concoctions by which they cause their husbands to develop that typical roll of excess upholstery around their equators.

GUILTY WIVES

But many wives unwittingly drive their husbands into divorce by wifely sins of omission.

And please remember that a woman can destroy her happy home just as quickly by sins of omission as by sins of commission!

* * *

Since a husband has a far greater erotic hunger than his wife, she may someday succumb to outside temptation.

For the combination of a long unsatisfied hunger, plus an unusually appealing environment, may make even the best man stray.

If you wives want your husbands to remain faithful, then don't starve them in the erotic realm.

For such erotic rationing imposes an unfair strain upon ethics and the 10 Commandments.

God never expected a wife to deprive her mate of food at the table and then try to keep him from stealing bread by reminding him of the Biblical injunction, "Thou shalt not steal."

No, the sensible way to promote law and order is to reduce the appeal of the forbidden fruit. Feed your man at the dinner table and he will not be susceptible to restaurants!

* * *

Do the same regarding erotic calories and he will be relatively immune to the most seductive Delilah.

And just because you wives are satisfied, is no sign your mates are: After a husband passes the age of 40, you wives must increase your own aggressiveness in the boudoir.

Most divorces start in the bedroom! And they are doubly tragic after middle age.

So send for the booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It would have saved Lonzo's life if his wife had used it.

Dr. Crane will answer questions of general interest if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Reversal in Hungary Shocks Church Council

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Council of Churches says "Christians throughout the world are profoundly shocked and sorrow-stricken at the tragic reversal" of Hungary's bid for freedom.

The council said in a special message that mankind will find no rest "unless powerful nations remove the yoke" that prevents other countries from freely determining their own way of life.

Avon Citizens Organize Today

Claim Township Wells Lower Water Table of Residents

AVON TOWNSHIP — Claiming that the township is lowering the water table and rendering a number of residents waterless, a group of irate citizens here were meeting this morning to organize to fight Avon's proposed water system.

* * *

They expect to petition for an injunction and halt the township's water project until a study can be made and a compromise plan worked out.

The first of two township wells completed put out 750-gallon per minute, or "more than adequate for all foreseeable needs," officials said.

The second well, located east of the first one, on Wabash between Norton Lawn and Hickory Lawn streets, to supply water to homes south of Auburn, pumped 1,500 gallons per minute in tests last Friday.

Meanwhile, residents in Dennison Acres and Juengel Orchards said that Friday's test lowered the water table below that of their shallow well lift pumps and many were without water.

* * *

They asserted that the existing water table had dropped considerably, citing one drop from 9 to 30 feet at a residential well site in Dennison acres. This level, citizens claim, renders the shallow well and pumping equipment of residents inoperative.

Objective of the group is to set up a well water authority and form a code which is fair to all.

Since Avon Water authorities have had a request from the City of Troy to service its residents group will ask that no water disnear South boulevard with water, the group will ask that no water distribution be made outside the township.

Bazaar, Party Slated by OES at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — The Annual bazaar, card party and luncheon of the Walled Lake Chapter, 508, OES, is slated for noon next Tuesday at the Commerce Masonic Temple.

Committees are headed by Mrs. Robert Buffmeyer, with her co-chairman being Mrs. Charles Dill.

Tickets are in charge of Mrs. Millar Beauchamp, and Mrs. Jesse Byrd. Members giving items for the white elephant sale, and fancy work book are asked to have items to committees by Sunday. A bake sale is also planned.

Church Holds 'Family Night'

Milford Presbyterian Spotlights Speaker, Film and Dinner

MILFORD — In accordance with stewardship week a potluck Family Night dinner will be held at the Presbyterian Church tomorrow night at 6:30.

Main speaker of the evening will be Dr. Kenneth Neigh who will present the film "This High Calling." This picture has been acclaimed the best that the Presbyterian denomination has ever produced according to Charles Richey, pastor of the Milford Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Neigh is an executive of the Synod of Michigan and president of the Michigan Council of Churches. He formerly served as pastor of the Allen Park and Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Churches and taught at the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago.

A special program hour for children has been planned.

Ask $28,425 for South Oakland Unit

Seek to Form New Child Guidance Clinic

OAK PARK — Requests to 13 South Oakland County school districts to spend $28,325 for a child guidance clinic, to be located below the Fourteen Mile road, will be mailed this week.

An additional $4,000 will be sought from city governments and private orgaizations.

Abraham Brickner, chairman of the movement to establish a South Oakland County branch for treatment of children's emotional problems, said today the fund requests made to each school district are based on state-equalized valuations and the budget needs of operating costs.

Brickner said the need for a branch clinic is proved by figures which show that 55 per cent of the children sent to the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic in Pontiac and 60 per cent on the waiting list are from Southern Oakland County.

Miss Madeleine Half, director of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic in Pontiac, said the Pontiac Clinic will continue to serve all of South Oakland County until such a branch is established, with the exception of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Franklin which are being serviced by the Birmingham branch.

Memory of Nina Haughn Seen in Plaque, Gift

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — This township hasn't forgotten Nina Haughn, a teacher who made hundreds of friends during 22 years of service in the Commerce Elementary Schools.

Although she passed away in late July, her name will grace the school for many years to come. A plaque was presented in her honor last night, and will hang on the wall of the new Commerce School library.

Deeply touched by her death, members of the Parent-Teachers Association formed a Memorial Committee to make a useful gift to the school where Mrs. Haughn last taught.

The committee began its fund drive with $50 in its treasury, half of which was a surplus from a collection made among Walled Lake Consolidated School District teachers for funeral flowers. The Commerce PTA donated the other $25.

Although the choice of a gift depends upon the size of the fund, committee members are considering the installation of a communication system.

The committee feels that since Mrs. Haughn's school life centered on the "inside" of the school, an appropriate gift should be selected.

All of Mrs. Haughn's service in the Walled Lake district was spent in the old and new Commerce Elementary Schools. Almost all of her 22 years in Commerce was spent teaching second grade, her favorite class.

Near the end of her career Mrs. Haughn instructed the children of a few of her former pupils.

Protest Action on Dump Site

Holiday Farms Group Wins 2-Week Delay at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A two-week postponement of action establishing a township dump at 1280 Crescent Lake Rd. was granted by the Township Board when it met last night.

A delegation of some twenty residents from Holiday Farms Subdivision, which lies directly across the road from the proposed dump site, was on hand to protest the use of the swamp for such a purpose.

In answer to questions Supervisor Lloyd Anderson explained that it would take from three to five years to complete the fill; that the dump would be bulldozed and covered with six inches of dirt once a week as are all township dumps.

He said this would cost the township approximately $350 a year. Nearly all owners of swamp lands had been contacted, he pointed out, and that there is no state-owned land in the township available for dumping.

The stay of action was requested by the subdivision's attorney, Paul Meredith. The group has two weeks in which to provide alternative dumping sites. Meanwhile, Meredith recommended that his clients inspect the township's present dumps to see how they are run.

In other action, the board approved preliminary plans of a plat of 28 homes to be located on Fiddle road and to be known as "Evergreen Hills."

Also approved was the Fire Department's request to purchase a new tank and hose pre-connect for engine 111 at Station One, the cost of which will be $486.

The resignation of Donald Smith, township assessor, was accepted and final certification of the precinct workers for Tuesday's election was given.

Girl Scouts Tending Children for Voters

Mothers may bring children to the Civic Club across the street from the voting precinct here, and 14 Girl Scouts will take charge of them while parents vote.

Children will be kept busy, and Girl Scouts will be excused from school all day.

The nursery opened at 8 this morning and stays open until 3 p.m. From then until closing time, the girls will be at the Methodist Church.

One of County's Youngest

Wolverine Lake Village Population Now at 2,500

WALLED LAKE — One of Oakland County's newest incorporated villages is Wolverine Lake, lying directly north of the city of Walled Lake along South Commerce road.

This village is about one and a half miles square and contains some 700 homes, with a population today of approximately 2,500 people. The area is almost entirely residential, and looks to Walled Lake for most of its commercial services.

Village officials anticipate rapid growth for the village inasmuch as lake privileges are available for all who move there, and homes are going up at a steady rate. Only approximately one-half of the available land is occupied, so there is ample room for growth.

The village was incorporated in June of 1954. It got along with part time help until March of this year when Finlayson was employed as a full time administrator.

The village offices are housed temporarily in a building on Glengary road but construction of a village hall near the public fishing site is contemplated.

The village's first paving project is just being completed. Five streets have been blacktopped by the village and three others by subdivisions within the village. This improvement was financed by a bond issue.

The village plans to employ a full time man to work on the roads soon. It now owns a grader and snowplow.

Wolverine Lake has a three man police department. It has no fire protection of its own but pays $700 a year to Commerce Township for fire protection.

Administrator Finlayson foresees a bright future for Wolverine Lake.

"Building of the new highway next year by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority is going to mean a lot to us," he said. "This highway will pass directly through village on Glengary.

"This highway is to run from the junction of the extended Northwestern Highway with Pontiac Trail to the Authority's Proud Lake park, and thence to Grand River road. It will give us another through highway, with direct access to Detroit."

The young village has adopted 26 ordinances since its incorporation, including 30 year franchises with Consumers Power Co. for gas and with Detroit Edison for electricity. Its new zoning ordinance will be adopted Nov. 12.

It is operating with a tax rate of 13.1 mills and a budget of approximately $30,000 of which $12,000 is levied in village taxes. The valuation now stands at about one million dollars.

Building permits totaling $539,500 for the year to date show the steady growth which Wolverine Lake has enjoyed. These permits include 47 new homes, one church, and many additions, alterations and garages.

Lathrup Postpones Action on Dismissal

LATHRUP — Administrator Leonard A. Watchowski may keep his job for at least another four weeks. No action was taken at last night's council meeting in efforts by two councilmen to fire Watchowski.

Mayor John G. Campbell said this morning the four councilmen present last night agreed to postpone any action until Dec. 3, when all council members are expected to be present.

Marking Half Century

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — A shower of cards will arrive tomorrow at the William R. Crawfords' home, 2510 South Hill Road, to help the couple mark their 50th anniversary.

They were married in Dearborn [illegible] Dist Church and now a Detroit resident who still preaches.

Crawford was born on the same farm where they now live. It is one of the county's Centennial farms, that was taken from the government three years before Michigan became a state.

A son, Carlton, now manages the farm since his father retired, while another son, George lives in Milford, and a daughter, Mrs. Frank [illegible]

The Crawfords are not having an open house on account of their health, so the card shower is giving their friends a chance to greet them.

CRARY BOOK BAZAAR — Three young artists from Isaac E. Crary Junior High look at a display of book jackets which inspired them last week to produce winning posters. Carol Kaines, Betty Vernan and Jim Luttman won first, second and third prizes, respectively, in the poster contest which is advertising their school's second annual book bazaar. The event takes place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the school library, with evening hours scheduled tomorrow from 6:45 p. m. to 10 p. m. and on Thursday from 7:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. Mideast Diplomacy Fails So U.N. Plans to Get Tough

By International News Service

Major General E. L. M. Burns, a soldier who prefers combat and a diplomat who prefers candor, has tried for two years to keep the Arab-Israeli peace without using force.

Now United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has given him the job of doing it with force. He was named to head the projected international police to maintain peace in the Middle East.

His job as United Nations Palestine truce supervisor had been called the most thankless task in the world. He brought to it a certain reticence, candor, a strong temper, a gift for story telling and a sharp and encyclopedic mind of wide accomplishment.

Burns nine months ago warned that an Israeli policy of reprisal against the Arabs might touch off "full-scale hostilities." And two months ago he deplored the fact there was no way to put "teeth" into decisions of the mixed armistice commission.

As soon as the Israelis launched their attack into Egypt's Sinai desert, he called on the Tel Aviv goyernment to stop the hostilities.

In trying to keep the peace since his appointment Aug. 3, 1954, the 59-year-old Canadian has received both praise and expressions of dislike from both Arabs and Israelis. Many regard those mixed expressions as a measure of his impartiality.

He is a learned soldier. He speaks French, which he picked up in Quebec as a boy, as fluently as English and learned to speak German before World War II. His hobbies include music and gardening, and his prose and poetry were good enough to be published.

He has been a soldier for 32 years—since enlisting at 17. He won the Military Cross in World War I, was commissioned in the Corps of Engineers, instructed at the Royal Military College, took part in aerial map-making in Germany and got back into combat in World War II.

He commanded the Fifth Canadian Armored Division, then the First Canadian Corps and later become General Officer in charge of the Canadian section at 21st Army Group Headquarters.

He held important posts in Canada and was alternate delegate to the fourth session of the United Nations General Assembly. In 1954 when he was deputy minister of the Department of Veteran Affairs, the U.N. named him chief of staff of the Truce Supervisory Organization in Palestine.

MSU Will Ask for $20 Million

Need State Aid to Build Additions to Provide for Enrollment Boom

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University said Monday it will ask the Legislature for 20 million dollars to help relieve the most critical shortage of classrooms in its history.

Durwood B. Varner, MSU vice president, told a Lansing luncheon club the university has discarded the predictions on growth it made 10 years ago.

By 1960, Varner said, enrollment will reach 25,000. Present enrollment is 19,300.

Mushrooming enrollment has outstripped the university building program so far that a third of the university's classes are held in temporary buildings, Varner asserted.

The request for 20 million dollars will include funds for a start on a new mechanical engineering building, a new communications arts building, business administration, social science, and civil engineering buildings.

"The real question is not whether or not we can afford this much money for education, but whether we can afford not to have an ever-increasing supply of educated men and women in our country," Varner said.

Bob Considine Says:

Earth's Squabbles Mystify Martian Visitor

NEW YORK (INS)—A reporter from mars landed his new 1957 V7 flying saucer (featuring streamlined ashtrays) near the United Nations Building the other day and said to himself, "So it shouldn't be a total loss, running out of gas like this, I'll go in to see how these people live."

Well, before flying back to his little grass shack along the pleasant Martian canal of Lethes, near Hiddekel, he filed a story—a copy of which has fallen into my hands.

You must bear in mind that this fellow had never heard of the earth before landing here and thus had not the advantage of knowing about our history, relations among the allies, our system of mutual security pacts and the public statements of statesmen.

He came in cold and had to accept things on their face value. Here are excerpts from his story:

"Howdy, folks, or, as they say on this planet—whose name I have not yet been able to learn—'Howdy Doody.' Inscrutible, of course.

"Things are sure popping down here. Big argument going on in a building near which I landed. Apparently these people have never gotten around to choosing a language which everybody can understand. Men sat around with earphones on, listening in one language to what a speaker said in another.

"It was confusing for a moment, until I learned how to speak English, British, Irish, Scotch, Australian, French, Russian, Chinese (Nationalistic) and Arabic.

"Well, as I get it there's some trouble over a couple of places named Egypt and a country called Behind the Iron Curtain.

In the matter of Egypt, it seems that two firm allies named the United States and the Soviet Union — apparently long-time friends—stand shoulder to shoulder against what must be their traditional enemies, England, France and Israel.

"It is fine to see this wonderful feeling between the U. S. and the S. U. They must be very old friends, probably bound together by centuries of mutual interest.

SOMETHING ODD

"An odd thing came up. It seems that England and France signed a paper in 1950 promising to come to the aid of any country attacked by any other country in what is called the Middle East of this odd place.

"As for this country named behind the Iron Curtain, it seems that these brave people have been fighting hard to throw off the iron rule of the S. U. The troops of the S. U. have shot them left and right.

"But at this building where I landed the spokesman for the S.U. said, 'We do not maintain troops in these countries.' Who then, shot the brave people? Why, then, were those who shot the brave people speaking Russian?

"How, then, can 22 divisions of the S. U.'s army, called the Red army, be quartered in a place named East Germany? I confess perplexity."

LESSES SPHERES

The Martian's story wandered off into lesser spheres at this point. He was critical of a native dish which he identified as having been cut from the prime ribs of a steer, and spoke of an effort on the part of a nearby innkeeper to drug him with some strange potion said to have been distilled in scotland. This part is not too clear.

But he did state that he was returning as soon as he gassed up because he had had an unnerving experience with a strange box that showed miniature people on a glass screen. This passage read:

"I turned this knob and after a moment there appeared the figurine of a young man whose hair had grown down his cheeks in what are caller sideburns. He strummed on a stringed instrument of a type not easily identifiable.

"His eyes rolled. His jaw sagged. From the waist down he shook with a great palsy. Plain an epidemic was at hand. Heads as well as bodies were shrunk. Lunacy ruled. I am off!"

To Greet 1,000 Doctors at 10th Annual Clinic

DETROIT (INS) — The Michigan Academy of General Practice will hold its 10th annual postgraduate clinic in Detroit Wednesday and Thursday.

Dr. Francis P. Rhoades of Detroit, program chairman, said virtually every field of medicine will be covered. Symposia are scheduled to discuss such varied things as the new tranquilizing drugs, heart disease, internal medicine, obstetrics and baby and children illnesses.

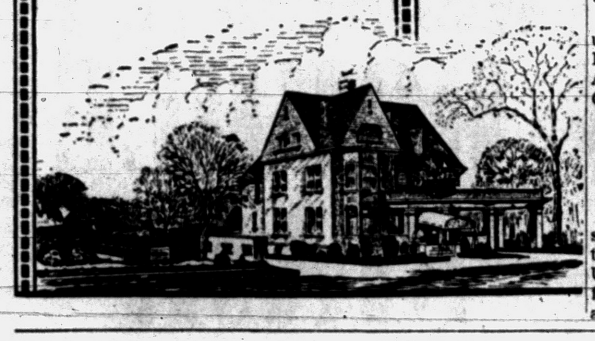

About 1,000 doctors are expected to attend the clinic.

France spent $702,000,000, or 26 budget, on military aviation in ana purchase.

Modernistic interior styling of Pontiac's luxurious custom models takes an "off the shoulder" appearance in 1957. Customers can choose between upholstery of fine hand-buffed leather or, as shown above, hand-buffed leather combined with shimmering "Encore" patterned nylon fabric. Interior color schemes are available in [illegible] blue, and ivory or two-tone green. Deep-pile carpeting, chrome-trimmed door panels and matching roof liner complete the rich custom interiors.

Thousands of garments and articles of household linen are expected to pour into the First Presbyterian Church for the 44th annual Ingathering of Needlework Guild Thursday morning.

* * *

Members will be scurrying about town today and tomorrow taking their two new garments, "one to wash" and "one to wear," to their directors. The latter will bring the garments to the church Thursday.

Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, president, and the other officers will be on hand at 9:30 to greet the section presidents, directors and members.

Coffee and British pastries will be served from 10:30 to noon by the Queen Mary Section of the guild, with Mrs. George Bickley as chairman and Mrs. Alex Joss and Mrs. Henry Milligan as her assistants.

BUSINESS SESSION

Our school and visiting nurses, our hospitals, child care centers and old age homes all look to the Needlework Guild for aid.

* * *

In sudden emergencies, when a fire wipes out a family's belongings, or a flood or tornado sweeps through nearby homes, Needlework Guild is ready with new clothing and bedding for the stricken.

OLD ORGANIZATION

A gift of two new articles of clothing or household linen will make anyone a member of one of America's oldest national welfare organizations.

* * *

A gift of one dollar or more may be turned in instead of the garments, and guild members will do the purchasing in the giver's name.

Since 1885, more than 67,000,000 garments have been collected and distributed through the 470 Needlework Guilds in 37 of our 48 states to unfortunate people, regardless of color, race or creed.

Rudeness to Subordinate Reveals True Character

By RUTH MILLETT

The owner of the beauty shop was being charming and attentive to her customers. She stopped to ask a question of this one, pay a compliment to that one and to laugh appreciatively at another's small joke.

At that moment, if you had been asked to describe her, you might have summed up her manner by saying she was graciously business-like.

Then a maid walked in. The owner of the shop whirled around and gave her a dressing down that was painful to hear.

She didn't even lower her voice. She raised it so that every harsh word she spoke was clearly heard by everyone.

* * *

After that one incident you would have described her manner as rude, overbearing and without any sympathy for the feelings of others.

HER MASK SLIPS

It isn't how a woman treats those who are important to her, whether they be customers or social acquaintances she is trying to impress. It is how she treats the people who can't hurt her that counts.

* * *

The woman who is careful only of the feelings of the people who "count" in her scheme of things never makes a good impression on others for very long.

Sooner or later she'll drop her mask of graciousness or charm and let her real lack of feeling for others show through. At that moment she spoils the picture she has tried to create.

Though some women don't seem to know it, they are often considered rude and high-handed by the people they treat with courtesy. This is simply because they don't extend the same considerate treatment to everyone.

Cream Soup Good as Meat Gravy

Brown Pork Chops Then Heat Briefly in Mushroom Sauce

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. Douglas Graham of Walled Lake has a favorite way of preparing pork chops. Served with mashed potatoes, it is a favorite with her family.

Mrs. Grham has talented fingers equally at home with decorating a house or making a garden. She carries on a part-time business from her home, belongs to the PTA and a child study group.

New Bracelet Features Charms for Teenagers

If one of your teen-age loves is a collection of fascinating charms, you've a chance to add to that collection in a way that will remind you to keep your lipstick job smooth and fresh.

It's a gold-finished bracelet, priced for the teen-age purse, with five gold-finished miniature lipsticks dangling from it as charms.

* * *

In the rush from class to class and to after-school activities, it's easy to forget that lipstick must be fresh to give you sparkle. Some teenrs tend to chew it off in class. Others eat it off at meals and don't replace it.

* * *

They're all good colors for the youthful skin of teenagers. You won't look as if you fell into a paint bucket or are trying to appear as slinky as Ava Gardner.

Modern Men Need Sympathy, Too

By ANNE HEYWOOD

At a woman's club meeting the other day, the conversation got around to the same old theme:

"It's so difficult being a woman these days, so many demands, conflicts and frustrations."

Ten years ago I would have agreed wholeheartedly that men have it good and women have it tough. But not today.

Judging by the mail I get from men, they have plenty of frustrations and dilemmas themselves. The only difference is that nobody sympathizes with them.

IN DRIVER'S SEAT

Of course, the man is still in the driver's seat in most business situations. He doesn't have to begin as a secretary and he gets paid more than his feminine colleague for the same work.

But he pays a price for this, a kind of hidden tax, and at home he frequently takes a real beating.

I know men who are knocking themselves out to support a wife and family.

They put up with all kinds of pressures and humiliations in the job; then, when they come home, they are expected to do the bulk of the housework to the accompaniment of a wife's sniffled complaints about her "uncreative" day.

* * *

Modern man has a great big dilemma. It isn't because women or men are fiends; it's just that the changing society we're living in is hard on both sexes.

But I think it's about time women face that fact and give their husbands a small share of the sympathy they get so lavishly.

A NEW BOOK

That's why it pleased me so to see a new book written, for a change, about men.

The author, John Tebbel, whom I have long known and admired, has called it, "The Magic of Balanced Living, A Man's Key to Health, Well-being and Peace of Mind."

It is man's guide, for a change! But I hope wives will read it, too, so that they'll see that it's no cinch being a man in this day and age!

"In the last analysis, my wife has a choice: She can stay home and take care of the house and family or she can get a job. I have no choice. I have to be the breadwinner.

"I don't mind, you understand; but I think a woman should pay her money, take her choice and then abide by it and stop complaining."

He's got a point there!

New Leather Textures Appear in Fall Footwear

Leather texture has become so important that there are as many different kinds of leather to choose from when buying shoes as there are types of fabric to consider in dresses and suits.

And the number keeps on growing. This season, for instance, we have suede with smooth matte finish, suede embossed in ribs, chevrons, stripes, swirls and a rippled "willow" design—and decorated with metallic and lacquered patterns. Reversed calf with its extra plushy brushed surface continues in popularity and appears in new rich colors.

Buffed surfaces appear on kid and pigskin as well as the leathers already mentioned. They complement the brushed and bulky look of fall's sportswear knits and woolens, especially the heavy, bold tweeds. Grained calf is lightly buffed in a special range of colors—rosy reds, muted blues, subtle greens, biscuit and toast tones. Cork-textured leather continues to be popular.

Calf and kid are often embossed to stimulate fur. At other times they have an all-over metallic cast of gold, silver, copper or bronze or are specked with metallic touches. A new soft, pebbly pattern appears in grained calf and kid on both glazed and dull surfaces. Corduroy-patterned calf and black-spattered calf will make their appearance.

MATTE FINISH POPULAR

Matte-finish calf and kid in one-over color appear in the most patrician shoes. One particularly elegant model has a cut-steel buckle.

A new texture with a Biblical name is "fatted calf." It is distinguished by an extra fine texture and rich glow like a polished apple.

Soft reptiles are new. Sometimes they are buffed so that they have a slightly nappy surface. At other times they may be given a matte finish. Gold flecks also appear on reptiles. Suede and reptiles will be frequently seen in combination.

* * *

Patent appears for the first time as a popular trim in fall shoes with both calf and kid in black matte, with black and shock colors in suede, or in a slim tie or strap on smooth brown calf. Red patent flats are going to college in large numbers.

Detachable Collars

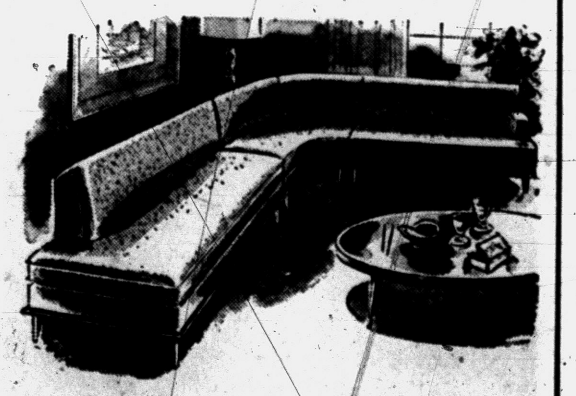

These winter coats with detachable fur collars offer real practicality. With the collar, the coat looks dressy. Without it, it's simple and ideal for regular daytime wear.

Sick Mother Susceptible to Smoke

Finds It Difficult to Breathe if Visitors Puff Cigarettes

By EMILY POST

"Will you please tell me what I can say to people who come to our house and insist upon smoking in the presence of an ill person? My mother has lung trouble and smoke makes it very hard for her to breathe.

"We do not disapprove of smoking and friends who came to the house before always smoked, but since mother has become ill smoke is very bad for her.

"Many of our friends do not know this and light cigarettes in her presence. Will you please tell me how to tactfully handle this situation without causing hurt feelings?"

Answer: As you greet guests, tell each one exactly what you have written to me.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last week my husband and I received an invitation to the wedding and reception of the daughter of friends of ours. As we had intended to be out of town at the time, I sent regrets.

"However, our plans have been changed and we will be here for the wedding after all. Would it be proper for us to go having already declined the invitation? Will you please answer soon so that I may know what to do?"

Answer: You can telephone ahead of time and say you're so glad because your plans have been changed and you'll be able to go to the daughter's wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our parents will soon celebrate their golden wedding anniversary and we, their children, are planning a reception for them at a private club.

"There are six of us. I would like to know if it would be proper for all the children to stand in the receiving line with mother and father?"

Furniture Fits Mood of Nation

Converts to Various Uses, Expands With Family

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Home ownership is at an all-time high but America is still a nation on the move, to judge by the furniture displayed for purchase this fall.

The "move" may be one of several varieties: Furniture is designed to fit the expanding needs of a family that is growing either in numbers or in height, or one that either through circumstances or choice frequently changes residences.

A traditional-style bedroom that "grows with the family" was displayed—beds that can either be "bunked" or used as twins. When "bunked," there is extra space between the "decks" to avoid bumped heads.

CONVERTIBLE CHEST

A matching chest-on-chest in hard rock maple has a middle drawer than can be removed and replaced with a desk section when the youngsters reach the study stage.

The front of the "desk-drawer" drops down to reveal desk space.

If one moves frequently, it is never certain whether the new place will have dining space. Solve it with a dining room table that cleverly converts into a living room piece; in fact, into two different styles of living room tables.

Designer Bertil Fridhagen created it in either walnut or teak and the opened round table is 55 inches in diameter.

Dogs Steal the Spotlight in Capital

Politicians Pushed Aside by Poodles on Parade

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — While Vice President Nixon's "Checkers" and Democratic vice presidential candidate Estes Kefauver's cocker "Jojo" were remaining discreetly in the background, some other very fashionable pooches stole the limelight from the politicians here.

* * *

In the grand ballroom of a Washington hotel, the Washington Poodle Club was drawing large crowds to its first annual specialty show and obedience trial.

The president of the club, Mrs. George Tyson, and her sister, hostess Perle Mesta, were out of town. But many other prominent poodle fanciers were on hand.

The entries — toys, miniatures and standards—represented some 18 states.

They were either accompanied by their devoted owners or prominent professional poodle handlers, including Anne Rogers, who handled Wilbur White Swan, winner of "best in show" at Madison Square Garden in New York.

AMONG THE ENTRIES

Mrs. Gerald Cullinan, wife of assistant postmaster general, and Mrs. Charles Bunker, wife of Admiral Bunker, also had entries.

* * *

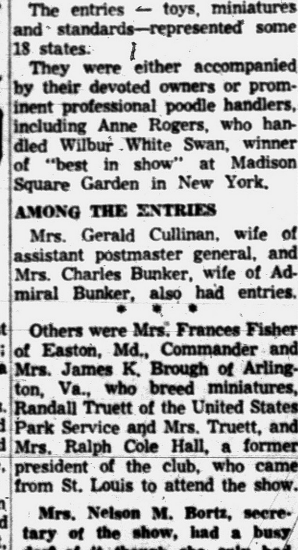

Others were Mrs. Frances Fisher of Easton, Md., Commander and Mrs. James K. Brough of Arlington, Va., who breed miniatures, Randall Truett of the United States Park Service and Mrs. Truett, and Mrs. Ralph Cole Hall, a former president of the club, who came from St. Louis to attend the show.

Mrs. Nelson M. Bortz, secretary of the show, had a busy day of it though she only had one standard, her year-old Princess Alouette de Borze, entered in the competition.

Mrs. Bortz says she raises standards and one of the 14 she owns, Vizi Koten de Borze had just had a fine litter of puppies.

Build Up Muscles by Exercising

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women write to know if there is any special diet which will reduce or build up certain parts of the body. Unfortunately the answer is "No."

If you are generally overweight you will have to count your calories but should maintain a well-balanced diet. If you have the correct number of pounds but some out-of-proportion measurements you will have to remedy that with exercise.

There are no special foods which will build up a certain area. The only way you can build bust, leg or hip contour is by developing the muscles involved.

There is great confusion in the feminine mind as to bust development. Women are told by their physicians that they cannot make the bust larger by exercising. It is true that you cannot increase the size of the bust itself, but you can increase your bust measurement and make the bust you have more prominent.

You do this by developing the chest muscles. I have explained before that this is somewhat like wearing falsies underneath the bust except that these are natural falsies.

HOLLOW ON THIGH

In thinking of figures we must not forget the hollows which often occur on the thigh line. This is quite usual for a woman from 30 on, and we often see it even in younger ones. Some fatty accumulation is involved but this is also a question of muscle slump. Try these exercises:

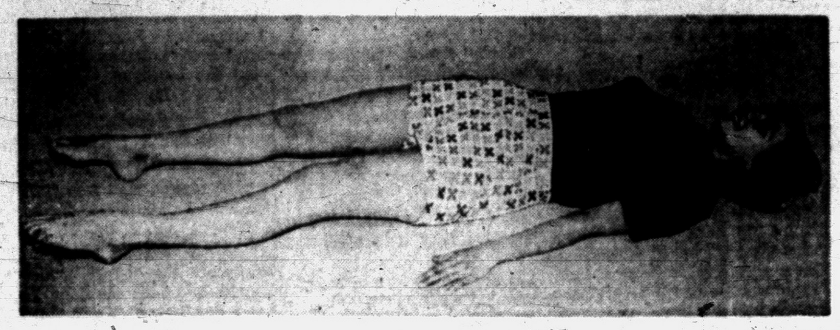

1. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor at your sides, legs straight. Swing your left leg sideways, keeping the heel close to the floor. Swing it back to place. Continue. After a while swing the right leg sideward and back.

2. Lie on your left side. Brace yourself by placing your right hand on the floor in front of you. Make large circles with your right leg. Make the circle as complete as possible. After a time turn onto your right side, place your left hand on the floor and circle with your left leg.

If you would like to have my corrective exercises for the thighs, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 4 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

Women 30 and over often will have hollows on the thighline. Swing the leg sideways, keeping the heel close to the floor. Swing it back. Continue.

Look Your Best by Colette

Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate

The stark sheath shows every bulge and the diagonal buttoning bodice minimizes bosom contours and the hip detail pares down tummy and hips. The tall and the short figures can wear this silhouette.

Let Chignon Help Vary Hair Style

Once upon a time, this was an expensive purchase but today, chignons made of the artificial fiber, dynel, are modestly priced. For most girls who want to wear them it is practical to own two: one to wash and one to wear.

Because they can darken enough to stop matching the natural hair, chignons should be kept clean by washing.

First remove any pins and brush the piece to loosen dirt and film. Fill a washbasin with warm water and lots of suds. Gently swish the hairpiece up and down through the suds.

AVOID SOAKING

Take care to avoid prolonged soaking of the base to which hair is attached. Rinse suds out gently under running lukewarm water.

Place the hairpiece on a clean bath towel to dry at room temperature. Don't dry near heat. Gently blot away excess moisture by patting the chignon with a towel.

Once the hair is dry, comb it gently with a wide-toothed comb, against a firm surface. The side of the washbasin is good for this. To set the hair, start at the stitched edge, roll it up and pin it. Once it is shaped, pin a fine hair net over it to hold it in place.

The 'Pie-Cut' Is Innovation in Half-Slips

NEW YORK (INS)—Ever bought a dress with a stylish slit or open pleat in back, only to find that it acted as a petticoat peephole?

Designer Anne Klein did, and she reacted by designing a new kind of half-slip which positively doesn't peek out from the pleat.

* * *

It's a "Pie-Cut" petticoat, and it is cut away in a pie wedge shape in the back center, so that even if it gets slightly moved to the side, nothing shows through that back slit except leg.

The "Pie-Cut," wide to the sides, goes up six inches. It can be worn to the front if your dress is slit up the front hem.

* * *

Mrs. Klein, a prize-winning designer, also engineered her new petticoat to fit under tight sheaths. Because the "Pie-Cut" give plenty of walking room, these petticoats are only 39 inches round the hem instead of the usual 54 inches.

Her half-slips can be had ruffled, appliqued or plain-ish in nylon tricot or all-lace. The colors are white, pink, blue and black.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

Synopsis

Connie Barton's suspicions were aroused by her husband's clumsy excuses for his regular Wednesday night absences. She trailed Steve to a private dance studio and then realized he was taking dance lessons as a pleasant surprise for her. Keeping herself unnoticed, Connie watched the door of the studio till Steve left, and went in for a private word with his teacher. She found the instructor, Anita Farrell, sprawled on the floor—shot dead. In the corpse's hand was a paper silhouette of herself. Confused, Connie's first thought was to cover up for Steve. She grabbed the silhouette and the appointment book at the unattended reception desk outside and went home to confront Steve. She had to believe his assertions of his innocence.

Police promptly got the names of all Miss Farrell's pupils and began checking to identify the 7 p.m. Wednesday waltzer. When Lieut. Bolling asked Steve his lesson time, Steve said 3 o'clock Saturday. From the stolen appointment book Steve took the lesson time of a Ralph Tolley, whom Bolling hasn't contacted—yet.

Using the name Hester Frost, and with a plan in mind to save Steve, Connie got Miss Farrell's teaching job. Connie noticed a ventilator in the ceiling of Studio K—the murder room—and set about exploring the possibility of the gunshot having come from there. While up on a catwalk over the false ceiling, she heard from the studio next to hers a man and a girl arguing whether he should chance going to "Rhinebeck Place." That is where the late Miss Farrell lived.

Downstairs again, Connie spots a policeman acquaintance and fearfully ducks into another studio.

Chapter 10

The studio was large, used obviously for group lessons, and at the far end of it was a young man. He seemed genuinely anxious to help me. His diffidence, the clear sparkle of his rimless eyeglasses reminded me instantly of a high school history teacher of mine. Mr. Linden's scholarly diffidence and the clear sparkle of his eyeglasses had made him my first intellectual hero.

As the young man came across the studio toward me, I wondered for what demure little chick's sake he was learning to dance. Then I realized that if he were a student, he would hardly be so solicitous of my welfare.

"Are you a teacher?" I asked.

He smiled at the surprise in my voice. "Yes, I am."

"Well, so am I! I'm just kind of going around and getting acquainted. This is my first day."

"You're Hester Frost. I've heard about you taking Anita Farrell's place. I'm Bob Spencer."

"How do you do, Bob?"

We shook hands.

"Welcome to Crescent," he said. "Thanks. Have you been working here long?"

"This is my twelfth year. I started here as soon as I got out of the service." Again he was amused at my reaction. He said, "You're surprised that a man could teach dancing that long. Well, maybe I can surprise you even more. I didn't start working here because I was an actor out of work or a hungry writer or a struggling artist. I took the job because I thought I might enjoy it . . . and I do enjoy it. Futhermore, I'm interested in the business end of this deal. There's a lot of money in dancing."

"I gather. The boss has boys at Harvard, Yale and Princeton."

"A lot of money," Bob repeated. "If Mr. Bell doesn't move me up into an executive job in the next few years, I might start my own studio. I've got a few ideas."

"Well, if you start your own place, don't forget me."

"A number of the best teachers here would consider going with me. I get along pretty well with people."

"I'm sure you do, Bob."

"People are my main interest. I've made a study of them. They fascinate me."

The gray eyes behind the professional spectacles seemed suddenly to be delving into my innermost being. I decided that I wouldn't stick around to be analyzed. Some other day, maybe. But right now I had a more urgent matter to attend to.

As I turned away from Bob Spencer the realization flicked through my mind that my new acquaintance couldn't have been less interested in the life and death of Anita Farrell. In fact, his indifference to the murder was slightly chilling.

Mr. Spencer had, however, served his purpose. The corridor was empty; I had been able to elude my friend, the policeman. I got down the hall, through the reception room and into an elevator without any further trouble. From a phone booth in the downstairs lobby, I called home. Steve was there.

"Connie, what the hell . . ."

"Darling, listen!"

I had some trouble making him listen. But by talking fast, so that he couldn't get a word in edgewise, I told him about my job and why I had taken it. The details, I said, I would fill in later. Then I told him about a man and a girl and Rhinebeck Place.

"Steve," I said, "he might be going down to Anita's apartment. She lived on Rhinebeck Place. I saw it in the paper. We've got to find out who this guy is and what he wants there."

"Maybe he's been there and gone by now."

"No, I think he's still upstairs. The lesson hour isn't quite over yet."

"All right. I'll come over to the school and we'll follow him . . ."

"Steve, we can't! I don't know him, I didn't see him. I only heard his voice."

"Can't you pick him up outside the studio he's in now?"

"No. I can't go back upstairs. Hankins . . . you know, Bolling's pal, is hanging around. And you stay away from here, Steve. Listen, the only thing we can do is go to Rhinebeck Place and watch for a guy who's interested in Anita Farrell's apartment. Rhinebeck Place is in the Village isn't it?"

"Off Christopher Street, between Greenwich and Seventh."

"I'll meet you there. Right away."

"Connie, I'll go alone . . ."

"No, Ill meet you there."

"Connie . . . "

I hung up.

It took me about five minutes to find a cab and I was on my way. Steve would probably take the Lexington Avenue Subway to Union Square, then a taxi. That would be fastest for him; he might even beat me there in spite of my eighteen block head start.

The traffic was brutal. In the garment district of the West Thirties we got tied up so badly, stopped so dead that the driver picked up a newspaper. He shook it out, spread it across the steering wheel. I leaned forward and read the headline: COPS PRESS SEARCH FOR WALTZER.

The driver said, "The sooner they get that creep, the better."

"Yes," I said.

"The streets ain't safe with him loose."

"No," I said.

"An out-and-out maniac, that Waltzer," the driver said. "He should be shot on sight like a mad dog."

"The light is green now," I said.

"If this was any place but New York City there'd be a posse out for him. He should be strung up on the first pole, hung."

"The light is green," I said again.

* * *

We got moving. Below Pennsylvania Station we broke into the clear and made some time. I got out at Christopher and Seventh, walked the half block east.

Rhineback Place was actually a short street with a dead end. On each side of it were narrow, four-story brownstone houses. The blank wall of what seemed to be a warehouse formed the dead end. It had been painted a fresh gray, some ivy was trying desperately to storm its ramparts.

Steve wasn't in sight.

Number 11 was the next to last building on the left. In its vestibule I found the name Farrell under one of the eight mailboxes. Anita's apartment was one flight up, the rear half of the parlor floor of this former one family house.

I stepped back onto the sidewalk. There was still no sign of Steve. I started toward Christopher Street to wait for him there. A young man popped around the corner. He was a young man in such a hurry and with a manner so determined I immediately wondered if his could be the voice I had heard planning a trip to Rhinebeck Place.

ALL NEW IN '57—The accent stripe on the side of this Golden Rocket "88" Holiday Sedan is the most distinctive styling change in Oldsmobile for 1957, according to division engineers. The "Span-A-Ramic" windshield has up to 18 per cent more glass area than the 1956 edition. The all-new front has a more protective "hi-lo" bumper and hooded headlamps. The new models will be shown locally Friday at Jerome Motor Sales Co., 280 S. Saginaw St.

New Front End Suspension, Heavier Frames, Too

Bodies Are Lower, Horsepower Higher in 1957 Olds

Radical changes—the most sweeping in Oldsmobile's past 20 years—will highlight the appearance of the 1957 models in showrooms Friday.

Styling improvements and mechanical innovations have been incorporated into each of 17 body styles in three series, designers boast.

Besides a completely new body, the 1957 line includes a wider and heavier chassis, "pivot-poise" front suspension, a 277-horsepower Rocket engine and 14-inch wheels.

"More new features and design changes have gone into the 1957 Oldsmobile than any of its predecessors in at least the past two decades. This has made it necessary for Oldsmobile to spend double the amount for the 1957 model change than any previous year," announced J. F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division and vice president of General Motors.

ADD 4 BODIES

Four new body styles have been added to the 1957 Oldsmobile line—three Fiesta station wagon models and an "88" convertible coupe. The division of body styles for 1957 includes seven in the Golden Rocket "88" series, six in the Super "88" series and four in the Starfire "98" series.

The 1957 Oldsmobile silhouette, more than two inches lower and nearly five inches longer than last year, has as its most noticeable styling feature a new accent stripe. The stripe is available in eight colors that contrast with body color. It originates just forward of the dip in the belt line and sweeps downwards and then through the rear fender panel to the taillight trim.

The front end styling is new, with a "hi-lo" bumper incorporating massive upper and lower bumper bars for double protection, and closely spaced horizontal louvers to direct air into the engine compartment.

The 1957 Rocket engine has been boosted from 240 to 277 horse power and the four-barrel quadrijet carburetor is standard on all series. Engine displacement has been increased from 324 to 371 cubic inches by lengthening the piston stroke and increasing the bore diameter. Compression ratio has been raised to 9.5 to 1.

Maximum torque is advanced from 340 or 350 to 400 ft.-lb. at 2,800 r.p.m. New closed skirt pistons, main bearings of aluminum and a snorkel type air cleaner are other new engine features for 1957. A new two-piece propeller shaft is used to assist lowering car height. Hydra-Matic Drive, power steering and power brakes are standard on the 1957 Starfire "98."

Outstanding among the nine types of upholstery fabrics offered for 1957 is airweave Trilok, a three-dimensional nylon fabric that provides greater riding comfort through air circulation between the passenger and the seat. This is offered on the Starfire "98" Holiday sedan, Super "88" Holiday sedan and the Super "88" Fiesta station wagon.

7 Million Sales Every Year

See Auto Boom Until '61

NEW YORK — Five booming years are just ahead for America's automobile industry Fortune magazine predicts in a copyrighted report.

The authors see an average of seven million cars a year sold between now and 1961, an 800,000-unit increase over average sales for the past four years. By 1961, the magazine predicts, Americans will be spending 7.9 per cent of their cash income, a total of $24.3 billion, in the car market.

Editors Gilbert Burck and Sanford S. Parker, who prepared the analysis, say the rapid deterioration of local public transport, which is fast leaving many towns and cities dependent on personal transportation, steadily rising incomes and more widespread use of "second" family cars will likely result in car ownership by 87 per cent of the nation's families by 1961.

The report says during the next five years an average of 4½ million cars a year will be bought to replace cars scrapped. The other 2½ million a year will be bought as first or "second" cars for the first time, and additions to the car ownership of business and government. By 1961, at the current rate, America will be driving a whopping five million cars a year into the junkyards.

BOLSTERS EGO

More than ever before, the article says, the car has become a psychological, social, aesthetic necessity, as no other man-made device ever has. It extends a man's ego, endows him with status and affords him sensual gratification.

The purchase of "second" cars should jump significantly during the next five years. One prominent industry spokesman says, "The United States is now entering an age of personal transportation, when a car for every adult above 16 will be a practicable goal." This same man says he believes the majority of households will be obliged to operate second cars by the "end of the next decade."

The auto industry, the article concludes, is not forgetting it is selling not just transportation but "a package of physical and psychological satisfactions. And its genius, for periodically arousing the passion of the American consumer for a new model "shows not the slightest sign of declining."

Radioactive Fallout Normal at Lansing

LANSING (AP)—Radioactive fallout at the State Health Department's testing station has returned to normal, the deparment announced today.

The department said results are "well within normal" limits as of Oct. 31. Its scientists recorded an increase of up to 20 times normal in the latter part of September.

Begun April 18, the fallout tests were abandoned Sept. 28 on instructions of the U.S. Public Health Service. Gov. Williams ordered the tests resumed last week.

John Soet, in charge of the research, said that fallout 20 times the normal amount was far from reaching the danger point. The amount of fallout would not be dangerous unless it reached about 4,000 times the normal amount, he added.

The department said it will release the results of the test each week.

Bagley School Youngsters Vote Just Like Grownups

Kindergartners through sixth graders at Bagley Elementary School learned the mechanics of voting yesterday plus a little of the know-how a qualified voter needs.

From the time representatives were named to the council by the student body, campaign speeches were conducted in the halls, in classrooms and outside of school to win votes for favorite candidates.

Yesterday first through sixth graders lined up officially in the school gym (Kindergarteners voted in their classrooms) to cast their votes for a president and vice president, secretary and treasurer of the council.

DEVELOP RESPONSIBILITY

Principal of the school, John F. Perdue, says the purpose of the project was to try to develop within the students the responsibility to register and vote, and to develop a pride within their own school area.

Teachers planning the project were Mrs. Irene Medders, Mrs. Vida Roach and Charles Townsel.

Townsel will be sponsor of the new council which will begin regular meetings soon.

Hollywood Headlines

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Myrna Loy has come back to town to play a congresswoman, the third example of type casting in her long and distinguished career.

* * *

When she came to films as a girl in the mid-'20s, she was typed as an Oriental. This seemed odd for a Helena, Mont., girl, but she could dance and slant her eyes. She recalls that she was always the daughter or damsel of Warner Oland, Boris Karloff and other pseudo-Chinese.

The mid-'30s saw her flowering as the "perfect wife," largely because of her success in "The Thin Man" with William Powell.

* * *

Recently she came here to play a congresswoman in a filmed TV show for GE Theater. Her latest movie was as an envoy's wife in "The Ambassador's Daughter." She seems destined to be portrayed now as a woman of public affairs.

The casting is a natural. For Myrna has emerged in recent years as one of the most public-minded of film celebrities. She distinguished herself as a delegate to UNESCO. She has been active in Democratic party work, campaigning this year for Adlai Stevenson.

She takes a real interest in the activities of her husband, Howland Sargeant, former State Department official and now head of Radio Liberation, an independent agency that broadcasts news directly into Russia.

I asked her how long she has had this interest in public affairs.

* * *

"I guess I always have," she replied. "I didn't realize it myself until I was a subject on Ralph Edwards' This Is Your Life. My mother gave them a lot of material and included was a picture of President Wilson I had had. I must have been 12 then, so apparently I started early.

"Our family was politically minded. My father ran for the Montana State Legislature when he was 21 and was defeated by a Democrat — we were Republicans then. My aunt was county treasurer."

* * *

She said she continued her political interest as a star at MGM. She deplored the fact that stars have become reluctant to take political stands in recent years.

Prof Says Citizens Vote Unintelligently

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Dr. Willard Abraham, Professor of Education at Arizona State College at Tempe, says Americans don't read, listen or understand well enough to vote intelligently.

* * *

Dr. Abraham made his comments in an interview. He is one of the figures in a furor which has been going on many months over techniques for teaching children to read. He has written "A New Look at Reading," to be published next month.

Dr. Abraham said interviews with "a cross section of colleagues and friends" showed only one in 20 knew at least two of the major ideas in the acceptance speech of either presidential candidate.

"Fewer than one in 10 know the voting records of their congressmen," Abraham said. "A high proportion of those who did not know, could not identify the names of their senator and representatives when they were listed with the names of those from other states."

New Zealand is seeking a buyer, in Wellington, for the last 16 of its wartime Mosquito planes, now outmoded. Many have been sold in America for high-level photographic work.

A few proud Michigan Staters jumped to their feet to defend the Spartan cause against the banner-waving Sooners.

The barrage of mail last week from pro-Oklahomans, who thought we were off base picking MSU ahead of OU before that disastrous trip to Illinois, has brought some comment from Spartan fans.

"When is Oklahoma going to get off the Junior College circuit?" asks a Bloomfield Hills alumnus of State. "Don't Sooner fans have a guilty conscience?" he concludes.

A lifetime Michigander from Keego Harbor makes his reply by saying, "Oklahoma might be four touchdowns better than a couple of Big Ten teams, but the Sooners would be lucky to get by successive Saturdays if they played the Big Ten schedule."

★ ★ ★

Miss Elaine G. from Pontiac says she doesn't want to enter the argument, she just wants to point out that the dictionary definition of Sooner seems to fit Oklahoma perfectly. It says, "one who makes an unfair and premature start; one who obtains the most desirable site." In this case the "most desirable schedule," she points out.

★ ★ ★

So, we now drop the case. Enough said about who's better than who. Nothing can be proven by writing, it has to be done on the football field.

Unfortunately this has been the fallacy of bowl games. Every year the argument goes on.

In the past it was always the question of which team is ONE and which team is TWO.

Bowl games would have more significance if the top ten teams were paired off against each other in the respective bowls to decide the matter every New Year's Day.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

The Lions who were last in the Western Division and the Cardinals next to the basement in the Eastern Division last season are now riding the top. Quite a jump.

★ ★ ★

Waterford and Pontiac are expected to renew their football rivalry next season. The Skippers will also have the new Royal Oak Kimball High School on the schedule.

Meanwhile Pontiac isn't having any luck trying to get Birmingham on the card.

SMART END — Brad Bomba, Indiana's 215 pound senior end is as rugged in the classroom as he is on the football field. He is a pre-med student and member of the Big Ten's all-scholastic team.

Soviet Olympic Officials in Gay Mood

MELBOURNE (AP)—A news conference with Soviet Olympic officials began in deadly dull Russian earnestness today, but ended in laughter.

* * *

Yet while the Russians and newsmen laughed, three nations—The Netherlands, Switzerland and Norway—were considering a withdrawal from the Games, which open Nov. 22, because of Soviet suppression of the freedom movement in Hungary.

* * *

The Netherlands was the first to announce a possible withdrawal. Norway's Olympic committee has delegated two members to "assess the international situation" and reach a decision on whether the nation will enter the games as planned.

* * *

In Switzerland, the Olympic committee has scheduled an emergency session tomorrow to decide whether Swiss athletes should compete against the Russians.

* * *

Konstantine Andrianov, acting Russian chief, was perfectly at ease in the press conference, which ranged from an official statement lauding Olympic arrangements to a description of Russia uniforms.

Andrianov, speaking through an interpreter, first told the 50 newsmen:

1. The Melbourne organizers had done a good job,
2. Soviet athletes were sure the Games would help strengthen the ties of friendship among athletes of all countries., and
3. Soviet athletes will be allowed to wander about Melbourne, meeting people, making notes about Australia to tell the folks back home.

* * *

The laughter began when a newsman asked the average age of the Russians and was told the youngest was 16 and generally the athletes were 22 or 23 years.

"How old is the oldest?" the reporter asked.

Andrianov and his interpreter smiled. Then Andrianov through his interpreter said: "The oldest want to conceal their age. Everybody wants to be young."

The reporers laughed and another asked: "How much is all this participation in the Games going to cost you?"

Andrianov smiled and said, "We will make the calculation when we return home."

A little later, someone asked how many gold medals the Russians thought they would win.

Andrianov replied: "We will see what we will see. The more the better."

Everybody started laughing again over exchanges about the uniforms the Russian team would wear the opening day.

* * *

Andrianov's first response was "let it be a secret until the day. Nobody will wear a uniform until then."

But then he said: "That was just a little joke — If you come to the village, I will show you all."

But more questions came and Andrianov shrugged his shoulders and said with a smile: "I will tell you all. The men will have a light colored jacket and blue trousers, the girls will wear light colored (cream) suits with brown flecks. No hats for the men or girls."

* * *

Earlier, in a formal statement, Andrianov said the Russian Olympic delegation would comprise 325 athletes, including 44 women, 47 coaches and trainers, nine physicians and 22 officials.

* * *

He said other representatives like judges, masseurs and newsmen would bring the total to a little over 500, which is the number Melbourne is expecting.

He said three or four per cent of the athletes were from the Soviet armed forces, 60 per cent were students and the rest workers and employes.

* * *

Sixty-three Russians now are installed at the Olympic village at Heidelberg. Others are coming by the Soviet ship Gruzia, due here Thursday, and by chartered American planes from Rangoon.

The next group of Russians, boxers and rowers is due in Melbourne by plane tomorrow.

Final Tilt Toughest

Chiefs Face Vikings Friday

By H. GUY MOATS

After what Flint Northern's Vikings have done to all their gridiron foes this season to become the state's No. 1 prep eleven, Pontiac's Chiefs are looking ahead to Friday's encounter with considerable misgivings. The tilt closes Chiefs' schedule for the year.

Ed Graybiel's club moves into Atwood Stadium, Flint, this weekend as a decided underdog. Andy MacDonald's unbeaten and high-scoring outfit is rated an overwhelming favorite and veteran observers give the Chiefs little chance of turning in an upset. But it could happen.

Northerners simply trampled most opponents to death. With such terrific backs as Arden Relaford, John Sharpe, and many others, and a big, alert line, good passers and receivers, Northern's play has amassed high counts in most all its games.

For instance, where Arthur Hill edged Pontiac 21-13, Vikings battered the Jacks 46-7; where Pontiac tripped Saginaw 21-7, Northern made it 40-0. Vikings edged Bay City 24-21. Wolves clawed Chiefs 32-6.

But with the cards stacked against them, Chief's may still come through with the upset of the season.

Pontiac came out of the Trojan test without too much trouble. Only injury was to end Marv Cagle, who went out in the last half with a twisted knee. He is expected to be ready for at least part time duty Friday night. Both Jimmy Shorter, safety man, and fullback Charley Spann, who were banged up a bit, said Monday they were ready to go full time.

Friday's encounter is the 25th in the long rivalry that began back in 1931, year before the present Saginaw Valley Conference got under way.

Chiefs recall last year's game in which they jumped off to a three-touchdown lead in the 1st half, held on to down the visiting Norsemen 20-19. It was Pontiac's 1st Valley victory. Friday an upset would give the Chiefs their 2nd win this season.

League's Tough Luck Team

Purdue 'Best Big 10 Loser'

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers, with a Saturday date at Michigan State, probably are the best team that ever failed to win four straight Big Ten games.

Conference opponents have scored just eight more points than Purdue, but the Boilermakers have lost two and tied two, including a 7-7 defensive battle with Illinois last Saturday.

They also tied Wisconsin 6-6, lost to Minnesota 21-14, and to Iowa 21-20. Outside the league, Purdue whipped Missouri 16-7 and Notre Dame 28-14.

In compiling this unimpressive 2-2-2 record, the Boilermakers have made 120 first downs to opponents' 83 and gained 2,064 yards from scrimmage to opponents' 1,445. But they have lost the ball 10 times on fumbles and nine times on pass interceptions. Two of the fumbles ended full-momentum drives that could have won the Iowa and Illinois games.

Bad luck kept pounding at Purdue in the Illinois game. Quarterback Len Dawson threw the 27th touchdown pass of his collegiate career, but banged up a shoulder so badly that his playing status this Saturday is questionable. End Bob Khoenle, one of the team's finer pass receivers, suffered a severe ankle injury and probably won't play.

But if Dawson can go Saturday, he has a new pass receiver. Sophomore Nick Mumley, 6-feet-6 sophomore from Wheeling, W. Va., who had never caught a pass in college play until the Illinois game. But he hauled down six in that one for 63 yards. End Lamar Lundy, another standout Purdue receiver and also a bruising tackler, is the same height.

Chuck Studley, Illinois line coach who scouted Purdue for last week's game, rated Dawson as the nation's best passer. But he also credited Purdue with better all-around ability than the Boilermaker squad that finished 4th in the Big Ten last year. Michigan State beat that Purdue team, 27-0.

PHS Next for Top 'A' Team

Flint Northern Tightens Hold on Poll

By DAVE DILES
Michigan AP Sports Editor

It'll take the season's biggest upset to dislodge the all-conquering Flint Northern Vikings from the claim to the state's high school football title. The Vikings, with seven straight triumphs in as many starts, hold a comfortable margin in the Associated Press weekly poll to determine Michigan's Class A powerhouses.

They'll meet Pontiac Friday night, then engage Flint Central in a traditional Thanksgiving Day battle to wind up the season.

The Vikings rolled up 118 points in the poll of the state sports writers and broadcasters, and the next seven teams in the rankings fell into line just as they did a week ago.

* * *

There were only a couple of changes in the makeup of the "top ten" in Class A. Battle Creek moved up from 10th to 9th place and Saginaw Arthur Hill, latest Flint Northern victim (40-7), dropped into a 10th place deadlock with Flint Central.

Midland retained its spot in the poll although dropping a hard-fought 20-13 decision to Bay City's Wolves.

Most of the other teams in the select group won handily. Arthur Hill's loss to Northern was its third—all to teams in the top ten—but the Lumberjacks managed to stay in the ratings.

Battle Creek Central, which has come on strong with three straight wins after Ann Arbor interrupted its string, is involved in one of the season's most tradition-steeped contests this Friday night. The Bearcats take on Kalamazoo, and the series between the two teams is the oldest in the state. It began back in 1893 with a scoreless tie in the snow.

There'll be no title, but plenty of glory attached to the struggle Friday night between Saginaw and Saginaw Arthur Hill. These two schools began their rivalry in 1894. The same desire will go into the Muskegon - Muskegon Heights game. They started their series in 1922.

And two of the most intense rivalries will wait until Thanksgiving day for a renewal—Flint Northern-Flint Central and Royal Oak-Birmingham.

	Points
Flint Northern (7-0)	118
Bay City Central (7-1)	105
Grand Rapids Catholic (7-1)	91
Ann Arbor (7-1)	89
Dearborn Fordson (8-0)	71
East Detroit (8-0)	65
Midland (6-2)	42
Muskegon Heights (7-1)	38
Battle Creek (7-1)	33
Flint Central (5-2)	6
Saginaw Arthur Hill (5-3)	6

Collie Tackles Runner Colly in Prep Game

Colly caught a pass from Mount St. Joseph's quarterback Tom Phoebus on the Loyola 28-yard line in the second quarter and set sail for the goal line and an apparent sure six points.

Suddenly Colly (the boy) was upended 13 yards from the goal when a collie (the dog) ran between his legs. The referee ruled the ball dead.

PCC Ends Hope for Eligibility

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Presidents of Pacific Coast Conference schools have shut off hopes of penalized sophomores and junior football players regaining lost eligibility.

In a meeting yesterday, they also opened consideration of modifying the conference round robin grid schedule, now in only its first season of operation.

Such modification would permit schools to schedule more outside teams than the three currently permitted.

Red China Withdraws

Olympics Lose One More

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China announced today it had withdrawn its team from the Olympic Games.

The decision brought to three the number of nations having pulled out of the Games, scheduled to begin in Melbourne Nov. 22. Egypt and Iraq withdrew earlier. Israel, originally intending to send a 20-member squad, announced today it would send instead a skeleton team of three.

* * *

In addition, three nations — The Netherlands, Switzerland and Norway — are contemplating withdrawal in protest of Russian action in Hungary.

Only yesterday, Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, issued a plea from his headquarters in Lausanne that the Games "must take place" whatever the world situation.

The Chinese Nationalists' team, accepted as a separate entry for competition by the IOC, has been in Melbourne for several days.

Second Flight Is Under Way

54 Olympic Athletes, Mostly Armed Forces, Head for Melbourne

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The second of seven charter flights taking American athletes to the Olympic Games was en route to Melbourne today.

* * *

Fifty-four athletes, most of them from the Armed Forces, left International Airport last night aboard a military air transport plane. There were 22 track and field stars plus the fencing and modern pentathlon squads listed on the manifest.

* * *

The departure of Olympic athletes from Los Angeles this week is not confined to the U. S. team. Team members from France, Sweden, Mexico and Brazil are scheduled to fly out during the week.

'Riders Gain Spot in Final Playoffs

WINNIPEG (AP) — Even a 19-8 loss to Winnipeg couldn't keep the Saskatchewan Roughriders out of the final playoffs in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Although beaten by the Bombers last night, the Riders wound up a 50-26 winner over their rivals in the two-game, total score semi-final series — thanks to a 42-7 rout of Winnipeg in the opener last Saturday.

The only hard enough to protect its big carry-over margin, will meet Edmonton's Eskimos in the first game of the best-of-three final at Regina next Saturday.

Press Looking for Prep 'Sportsman-of-the-Year'

Where is Oakland County's "prep-sportsman-of-the-year?" Somewhere in the county among 3,000 high school varsity athletes, there is a young student-athlete who merits this honor.

The Pontiac Press sports department is looking for him. The young man chosen will be a nominee for a $1,000 scholarship to be awarded by the Thom McAn company of New York.

As the county's "prep sportsman-of-the-year" he will receive a bronze covered plaque of his own football shoe from the McAn company.

* * *

His name will then be submitted to a nation-wide list of candidates for the scholarship. As his own contribution the athlete will submit an original essay on "Why I Want to Go to College."

Winning essay as judged by educational authorities will be

Factors to be considered in selecting a player from the county as a nominee will be character, sportsmanship, leadership, team play and academic standing.

He will be Oakland County's "prep-sportsman-of-the-year."

Olympic Peace Symbol Makes Historic Trip

Airliner Takes Torch Past Equator for 1st Time in History

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Olympic torch, symbol of peace in a smoldering world, crossed the equator today for the first time in history.

* * *

* * *

The torch, which has circulated in the Northern Hemisphere since the beginning of the ancient Greek Olympic Games in 776 B. C., will be carried into Melbourne to open the 1956 Olympics Nov. 22.

* * *

The historic torch, which is being carried in two miner's lamps, is cradled in a baby's cot. It will arrive in Darwin tonight.

* * *

A Royal Australian Air Force Canberra jet will take the torch to Cairns. Runners will carry it the remaining 2,732 miles to Melbourne.

Fisherman Rates High for Big International

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Sportsmen and sentimentalists are going to have a hard time keeping their rooting and betting off Fisherman in the International horse race next Monday.

It's going to be his last race and trainer Sy Veitch's hope that will be echoed soundly.

It will be the second time that Fisherman is being sent in as a late substitute for the United States in the global contest.

Orchard Lake Newest Victim

Only Four Perfect Record 11's Remain

Membership in an "elite" fraternity has been reduced to four.

The latest casualty was Orchard Lake St. Mary. The Eaglets, boasting a 19-game winning streak, saw their unblemished 6-0 slate come to an abrupt end Sunday at the hands of Highland Park St. Benedict, 13-0.

East Detroit, Romeo, Walled Lake and Lake Shore now comprise the illustrious group.

Lake Shore, Bi-County League champion, has finished its season with an 8-0 record. East Detroit, Romeo and Walled Lake all have one game to go.

In last week's action, Lake Shore wound up with a 37-7 victory over South Lake; East Detroit defeated Hamtramck, 26-14, and Romeo walloped a weak North Branch squad, 45-12. Walled Lake was idle.

The Vikings journey to Milford this Friday while East Detroit entertains Ferndale and Romeo plays host to Utica. East Detroit and the Bulldogs have eight wins to their credit, Walled Lake has a 7-0 mark.

Almont and New Haven ended the 1956 season with undefeated records in addition to sharing the Southern Thumb League title. The only flaw on their schedules came early in the season when the two schools battled to a 19-19 tie.

Mt. Clemens, Millington, Brown City, Capac, Fitzgerald and St. Frederick are county area schools still without a triumph. The latter four teams have each been involved in one tie game.

All hope is gone for Mt. Clemens and Millington, since they concluded their schedules last Friday. The others get one more chance.

There have been quite a few questions pertaining to the automatic pinsetters. The WIBC explains:

A standing pin which falls upon [illegible] by the pinsetter or mechanical pinsetting equipment shall not count and must be replaced on the pin spot inscribed on the pin deck where it originally stood before delivery of the ball.

There is a mistaken belief that pins knocked down by automatic pinsetting equipment are credited to the bowler. In any event, when a pin is knocked down by the setting action of the machine, the pin must be respotted.

Game Still Going Strong

College Football Is 87

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—Intercollegiate football was born here 87 years ago today and still is going strong in spite of the difference in the 1956 records of the colleges involved in the first game.

Princeton and Rutgers, whose students had been playing football informally for many years, met in the first intercollegiate game in [illegible] a Rutgers challenge to its neighboring college.

The game was played with 25 men on a side under rules something like those of soccer. The team scoring six goals first was to be the winner and Rutgers won 6-4.

College colors made their first appearance during this game when the Rutgers players tied red handkerchiefs around their heads. And Princeton supporters urged on their team with the "Tiger, sis-boom-ah" cheer they still use. After the game, the teams dined to-[illegible]

In a return game at Princeton a week later, played under slightly different Princeton rules, Princeton won 8-0. A scheduled third game was called off.

MSU Conqueror Is Feared

Illinois Now 'M's' Problem

The speaker was Michigan scout Pete Kinyon, who has seen the fleet Illini right half play three games this season. Kinyon was there getting a glimpse of Illinois as it bowed to Ohio State, tied Purdue and pulled the upset of the year against Michigan State.

He described Woodson, who leads his Illini mates into Michigan Stadium Saturday, as the most explosive package of dynamite the Wolverines have yet to encounter.

"Woodson does everything well," Kinyon pointed out. "He punts and he's great defensively. And he plays 55-minutes-plus.

"He typifies the whole Illinois team. It is a dangerous team that can explode and go all the way at any time."

* * *

This was vividly demonstrated in the Michigan State game. Illinois was trailing by two touchdowns at half-time, but roared back with three scoring bursts by Woodson to win a game that astounded the football world.

"Michigan and Illinois have met two common opponents, Michigan State and Minnesota," Kinyon said. "The Illini did a better job against both."

In addition to being the only team to beat State, Illinois forced Minnesota to kick a field goal late in the fourth quarter to pull out a 3-point victory. The following week the Gophers trounced Michigan by 13 points.

"I think Illinois is better than their 1953-54-55 teams, all of which I scouted," declared Kinyon.

The 1953 and 1955 Illini easily triumphed over Michigan.

* * *

"Smith is particularly excellent defensively," Kinyon said, "and he seems to be getting better every week."

Bold Ruler Choice for Remsen Stakes

NEW YORK (AP) — Bold Ruler, who will be Eddie Arcaro's 19th Kentucky Derby horse if all goes well, was expected to be the people's choice today in the rich Remsen Stakes at Jamaica.

A dozen 2-year-old colts contested the Election Day feature, and if all face the starter, the purse will gross $97,100 with the winner netting $65,925, a Remsen record.

Colgate Ace Earns 'Smart' Grid Rate

Spectators who saw his great performance Saturday in that dizzy 55-46 loss to Army agreed he is a smart quarterback — one who calls signals with precision and imagination — as well as a rubber-armed passer who seldom misses his mark.

They said the same thing about him at Princeton three weeks ago after Martin turned in another great performance in a losing cause.

18-Man Policy Council of 12 Allied Leagues to Gather

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The 18-man nationl collegiate athletic assn. (NCAA) will meet Nov. 12-13 in Detroit.

A two-day "conference of conferences" for about 50 college athletic officials will convene at noon Nov. 13, immediately after the council meeting.

Twelve allied conferences of the NCAA have designated representatives to attend.

The conference will review trends in college athletic policies and practices and discuss methods of implementing president Eisenhower's youth fitness program.

The council will receive a report of the NCAA committee on infractions, review interpretations of NCAA regulations, and consider proposed legislation to be submitted to the association's 51st annual convention next January in St. Louis.

The three member team will be a swimmer, Shoshana Ribner, driver Yoav Raananin, and runner David Kushnir.

All the American team members will be quartered at the plush Royal Hawaiian Hotel, where they have their own training tables — heavy on the proteins — and special bottled water which they will take on to Australia.

American Olympic 'Names' Take Stretch in Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) — Some of the glamor boys of the American Olympic team arrive today for a 36 hour leg-stretching spell. They're on the second of seven planes in the Olympic air lift.

On the same plane are 21 fencers, including 49-year-old Norman Armitage, who has been a member of every U.S. Olympic team since 1928. He won the Metropolitan New York sabre championship this year.

Other track stars are due tomorrow.

Leaving tonight are the wrestling and canoeing teams and Olympic officials.

Gillman told the Football Writers' Assn. yesterday that "rumors" of revolt were so much nonsense.

* * *

He said that public hullabaloo about the calling of plays had been the prime factor in this allowing quarterback Norm Van Brocklin to run the team against the Chicago Bears here Sunday.

* * *

"It had become such a major issue in Los Angeles that there wasn't anything more important, including the election," said Gillman. "They were even asking the man on the street and the old Rams. When an issue like that prevails you wonder how it will affect the squad. I thought it might have carried over to the team."

Gillman had been calling the signals by shuttling guards or ends.

"I don't want to commit myself on play calling," Gillman explained, "because some day I may want to take it over again."

Beliveau Is Leader in NHL Scoring Race

MONTREAL (AP)—Defending champion Jean Beliveau of the Montreal Canadiens went on a spree last week to move into the lead in the scoring race in the National Hockey League.

Beliveau, tied for third in the individual standings a week ago, scored two goals and added four assists to bring his season's total to 14 points. He has a two-point edge over veteran Ted Lindsay of Detroit Red Wings and is three up on the other half of Detroit's perennial one-two punch, Gordie Howe.

Branigan Lost to Reds

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Veteran defenseman Andy Branigan, who has participated in more games than any other active player in the American Hockey League, 756, is lost to the Providence Reds for at least seven weeks because of a leg injury.

Brodie's Feet Possible Cause of 14-13 Loss

* * *

Not much, Indian Coach Chuck Taylor told Northern California football writers yesterday. "There may be something to it," he said, "but I think the main reason was our inefficient blocking. That's why UCLA got through on its rushes."

* * *

Taylor said his team had a bad day in "almost every department" in losing 14-13 to the Bruins."

The matter of Brodie's brogans arose when writers quoted reports from Los Angeles that the position of his feet telegraphed Stanford plays.

Borstad a Flop as Prep Kicker

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—By his own admission, Minnesota's Dick Borstad was an inglorious flop as a high school kicker.

Yet three years after he gave up in exasperation following five straight extra point misses in one game as a schoolboy, the junior fullback is hitting 1.000 in one of the toughest assignments of them all — winning football games with last quarter field goals.

Borstad has done it twice, under conditions of weird coincidence that would look better in fiction than in the football record books. Two weeks ago he kicked the first field goal of his life, a 12-yarder that beat Illinois, 16-13, with two minutes and 40 seconds to go.

MHSAA Coaches Hosted

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Athletic Director H. O. Crisler of the University of Michigan said today that all members of the State High School Coaches Association will be admitted free to the Michigan-Illinois football game here Saturday.

Upper Peninsula Writers Select Star Prep Teams

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A versatile Escanaba Holy Name back and a husky Sault Ste. Marie lineman have been awarded top honors in Upper Peninsula high school football for the 1956 season.

* * *

Gary Hirn, Holy Name Halfback who does everything well, was selected by the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Assn. as the area's back-of-the-year. Similar honors for the lineman went to Soo's Paul Sabatine.

The members of the association, exclusively Associated Press newspaper members plus three weekly papers, announced their All-Upper Peninsula selections Monday.

They also named as Coach-of-the-Year Kingsford's Rae Drake, who led his club to seven straight victories and another Menominee range title after dropping the season's opener 21-14 to Marquette.

* * *

Hirn ran, passed, caught passes, kicked off, punted, kicked extra points, played linebacker on defense—and excelled in every department—for the Holy Name club that won six of seven starts for the best record in the school's history. He scored 86 points, and his 12 touchdown runs covered 488 yards for an average of 40 yards per touchdown.

He's a six-footer, and a 170-pound senior.

Sabatine packs 210 pounds on his 5-feet-11 frame. The Soo team allowed only 51 points while rolling up nine consecutive triumphs, and Sabatine's defense work was the big factor in the fine defensive showing of his club.

FIRST TEAM

		Pts.
Roger Labonte, Marquette		End
Wayne Sickler, Calumet		End
Paul Sabatine, Sault Ste. Marie		Tackle

Brian Youngs, Sault Ste. Marie		Center
Gary Hirn, Escanaba Holy Name		Back
Paul D'Arras, Kingsford		Back

John Fletcher, Sault Ste. Marie	Back
Dan Francisco, Marquette	Back

Ireland Picks Up 3rd Ribbon

Irish Army Lieutenant Makes 2 Perfect Rides for Trophy Honor

NEW YORK (INS) — Ireland picked up its third blue ribbon in the National Horse Show last night when Army Lt. Bill Ringrose won the individual championship challenge trophy with two perfect rides.

* * *

Ringrose was one of three riders to negotiate the eight-obstacle course flawlessly, necessitating a jumpoff. Riding Ballynonte, he was charged with four faults as was Chilean Capt. Leo Rojas. Roberto Knoop of Chile took 3rd place with eight faults.

In the next jumpoff, with the barriers raised to over five feet, Ringrose scored another perfect ride while Rojas was guilty of eight faults. Irish Lt. Tom Moroney took fourth place in the field of 15 jumpers from Mexico, Ireland, the U. S., Canada and Chile.

* * *

Earlier, the Mexican team threatened to withdraw from the eight-day show over the disqualification of Gen. Humberto Mariles and Sam Soberon in the International jumping for the Royal Winter Fair Trophy. The Mexicans withdrew their protests, however, by the evening competition.

Jersey Racing Plant Closes Season Today

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — Garden State Park closes down the New Jersey racing season today with the $50,000, mile and a furlong Vineland Handicap featuring the closing day activities.

Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Searching, carrying top weight of 123 pounds, including Jockey Con McCreary, heads the field and hopes to add the winners purse to similar prizes in the Maskette, Topflight, Diana and Correction stakes over the season.

Sooners Tops, MSU Listed 4th

The Associated Press

The first complete election returns of the day show Oklahoma a clear winner in the Associated Press weekly football poll with 172 districts reporting in the seventh vote of the season by sports writers and sportscasters. Although Oklahoma had a bad scare in the first half, trailing Colorado 19-6 at the time, the Sooners came back to win their 36th straight 27-19. As a result, Oklahoma lost part of its first-place support but still was rated No. 1 on 116 of 172 ballots almost four times as many as runner-up Georgia Tech.

* * *

On the basis of points, 10 for first, nine for second etc., Oklahoma had 1,554 to Georgia Tech's 1,453. Tech had 30 firsts. Tennessee with 1,252 points and 11 firsts and Michigan State with 1,102 and seven first round out the number of teams with more than 1,000 points.

Actually things ran pretty much true to form among the leaders with Iowa, Pittsburgh and Stanford dropping down and Syracuse and Michigan registering the strongest gains.

Georgia Tech, which had a rugged struggle with Duke before winning 7-0 takes on Tennessee which thumped North Carolina 20-0 in Saturday's top billing of highly ranked teams with No. 2 playing No. 3. A probable bowl bid and the Southeastern Conference crown is the likely prize for the winner.

* * *

Minnesota moved up to sixth on its 9-6 edge over Pittsburgh which fell from 11th to a tie for 20th. Despite a 6-2 victory over Northwestern, Ohio State fell a peg to seventh and Miami, Fla. edged up a notch by topping Florida State 20-7.

1.	Oklahoma (116) (6-0)	1,554
2.	Georgia Tech (30) (6-0)	1,453
3.	Tennessee (11) (6-0)	1,252
4.	Michigan State (7) (5-1)	1,102
5.	Texas A&M (1) (6-0-1)	872
6.	Minnesota (5-0-1)	680
7.	ohio State (1) (5-1)	572
8.	Miami Fla. (1) (5-0-1)	453
9.	Syracuse (1) (5-1)	225
10.	Michigan (4-2)	190

WATCHING THE FUN — Louis H. Cole and George Zimmerman of Pontiac wait in the tender for their try at "sneak shooting" for ducks on Lake St. Clair. They were watching another of the party moving in on the wary ducks. The hunt produced a number of fat ducks.

'SNEAKERS' — Dave Edstrom (left) veteran Pontiac sportsman, and the guide crouch low in the "sneak boat" as they approach a raft of ducks on Lake St. Clair. Hunter, below the boat's "wings" doesn't disturb the fowl, as they can't see him. When they rise from the water the hunter fires off a kneeling stance.

Tom McCarthy Farmed Out by Red Wings

* * *

One of the brightest prospects in the Wing training camp, McCarthy underwent an emergency appendectomy and has never been able to return to playing shape.

* * *

Wing officials felt a month in Edmonton, where he could skate regularly, would be more beneficial to McCarthy than practicing and playing only occasionally with the parent club.

* * *

Detroit will play one man short until Bill Dineen, out with torn cartilages in his knee, returns to play in about 10 days.

A new 1957 Ford traveled 50,000 miles at an average speed of better than 108 mph.... including all pit stops ... to smash 458 National and International records in a single test! Never before has any car been so severely tested ... so successfully proved!

Imagine being able to select a new car that's an exact duplicate of the car that faced up to the most exhaustive endurance test in history—and came across the finish line still fresh and eager to GO!

You don't have to imagine it! For now you can have this kind of car in the new kind of Ford for '57.

Just recently—on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah—two new '57 Fords completed such a test under supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile. They were Ford-prepared pre-production models, exact duplicates of the ones your Ford Dealer now has for sale.

These Fords completed the 50,000 mile run in less than 20 days. One averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run ... the other over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

The test shows without qualification what Ford's new Thunderbird V-8 engines* will do. But this was no mere demonstration of speed! It was a convincing demonstration of the superior quality of the whole Ford car.

It shows the superior endurance of Ford's running gear, brakes, body materials, steering—every part of the car. For without such built-in stamina, Ford could never possibly survive such torturous treatment.

Such a test can't help but make the decision easier for people who prize truly outstanding performance and durability in a new automobile ... and who want the fullest possible value from their new-car dollars.

*Available in a wide range of horsepower to meet every need. Includes a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

To Face Charge in Shooting of 4

Assault, Intent to Kill Warrant to Be Issued Against Harold Saylor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—On the basis of a doctor's examination, Prosecutor Edmond F. DeVine says Harold Saylor, 29, will be considered legally responsible and will be charged in the shotgun wounding of four persons at nearby Horseshoe Lake Sunday.

DeVine indicated the charge would be assault with intent to murder. Saylor was held without bond, meanwhile, for investigation.

Sheriff Erwin L. Klager said Saylor gunned down four persons on Horseshoe Lake streets in a wild shooting spree, but told him he remembered nothing of it.

Saylor said he played cards and drank all Saturday night and then went hunting Sunday, while continuing to drink. He was found, after the shootings, in what physicians said was a coma brought on by hysteria. He was revived at a hospital.

* * *

Driver Asks Exam in Auto Death Charge

John A. Killen, 24, of 986 Durant St., demanded examination on a charge of manslaughter, involving a fatal auto accident, at his arraignment yesterday before a Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

He was remanded to the Oakland County Jail under $2,000 bond. The examination was set for Nov. 15.

Killen was the driver of a car which police say rammed into the rear of another vehicle Saturday, forcing it off the road and into a tree near a Brandon Township intersection.

Mrs. Allie Mitchell, 72, of 5605 Groveland Rd., Ortonville, was killed in the accident. She was a passenger in the car operated by her husband, Ernest Z., 74, who is in "poor" condition at Goodrich Hospital.

80 Evacuees Crash, 7 Killed, 40 Injured

BLACKWATER, England (AP)—A chartered airliner bringing British wives and children home from the embattled Middle East fell into a woods early today and burst into flame.

Seven of the 80 persons aboard were killed. About 40 others were injured.

Many leaped to safety before fire enveloped the plane. Airfield rescue teams pulled out others. The company flying the plane for the British War Office said the fact it had seats facing the tail probably kept the death toll relatively low.

The four-engine plane, inbound from Tripoli, Libya, was approaching Blackbushe Airport near here through a light mist. A War office spokesman said it undershot the runway.

Later they will go to Republican National Committee election headquarters at the Sheraton-Park Hotel. Eisenhower plans an appearance there "when the returns warrant," as the White House put it.

Last night the President made two brief talks from the White House — one to a Boston rally over a closed television circuit. The other was at the close of a nationwide GOP TV program.

* * *

Mrs. Jean Denton, 306 Wilson east, told police the thief entered through an unlocked rear door and took a wallet containing $45.

* * *

A half hour later at 5:30 a.m., McClellan Stamper, 454 S. Edith St., reported that a burgar took $3 from his pants and $5 from his wife's purse after breaking through a rear storm door.

It was the second breakin in as many days at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Warren. County County detectives investigated a minor theft at the house located at 5769 Griggs Dr., Sunday.

The first breakin was believed to be the work of children but detectives said a truck apparently was used to haul away the loot in the second burglary.

Study Cold Atoms for Super Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has agreed to explore a revolutionary theory that a new type of super atomic energy can be released by making atoms extremely cold instead of hot.

The originator of the concept, Navy scientist Robert Leon Carroll, 40, said today he is confident his theory will prove out — and will make possible space flights literally faster than a flash of light.

* * *

He said the fuel could be some ordinary and inexpensive material, possibly even common sand.

Carroll theorizes that as an atom gets colder and colder and becomes less active, its electrons gravitate toward the nucleus and at the same time are forced by this construction to move faster and faster.

If the atom becomes cold enough, he believes, the electrons would plunge into the nucleus and disintegrate it, releasing the entire energy of the nucleus.

Stevenson Urges Stronger Bonds With West Allies

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson urged President Eisenhower today to seek a new understanding with Great Britain and France "before Communist Russia can further exploit the present breakdown of relations between the democratic powers."

He used strong language last night when he declared a Republican victory today would mean Vice President Nixon "probably would be president of this country within the next four years."

That was in Boston, in a nationwide television program winding up his speaking campaign. After flying to Chicago, he pursued the foreign policy issue almost up to the hour of voting by suggesting Eisenhower negotiate at once with Britain and France.

Egypt Appeals to U.S. to Get Fighting Stopped

State Budget Upset by Court Ruling

LANSING (AP)—Michigan faces a budget problem running into tens of millions of dollars as a result of action yesterday by the U.S. Supreme Court.

* * *

The Court's decision directly involved only $6,977, but its possible effects have the state's fiscal experts alarmed.

At worst, the Court's action could:

1. Force the state to refund up to 50 million dollars in corporation franchise and business activities taxes received in the last three years.

2. Reduce income from two tax sources by 20 million dollars a year.

3. Force the state to turn to new sources of revenue to make up the loss.

FISCAL TROUBLE

"We're already in fiscal trouble. This piled on top of it makes our situation very, very serious," said Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of the house taxation committee and considered by many the legislature's top fiscal expert.

Conlin said it is too early to assess the effect of the court's action, but that it could reduce the income from the franchise tax, the business activities tax and the intangibles tax.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner, said more will be known about the effect of the Court's decision when a separate case involving the business activities tax is settled.

* * *

Involved in the Supreme Court's action is a dispute between the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. and the state corporations and securities commission over the corporation's tax liability in 1952.

But the company said the formula was invalid, contending it owed $6,977, less.

The company's position was upheld first by the Ingham County County Circuit Court, then by the State Supreme Court.

DECLINES REVIEW

Yesterday, the U. S. Supreme Court declined to review the case as requested by the state, thus in effect upholding the lower courts.

Meanwhile, a similar case involving the business activities tax is pending before the Wayne County Circuit Court. It was filed by the Armco Steel Co.

The corporations franchise tax and the business activities tax are the most lucrative levies for general tax purposes.

Current estimates are that the corporation franchise tax will yield 49 million dollars during this fiscal year and the business receipts tax 70 million dollars.

How will the state make up the loss?

* * *

Lock mentioned these possibilities: A cut in general fund expenditures; a boost in the corporation franchise and business activities tax rates; a state income tax; higher taxes on cigarettes and beer; a corporation profits tax.

BURDEN SHIFT

The "most serious" aspect of the highc ourt's decision, Lock said, is the fact that it will shift part of the tax burden from out-of-state firms to Michigan companies.

"This means that companies located outside of Michigan can come into the state, carry on business activity through solicitation, ship orders into the state from bases outside and thus operate in a tax exempt atmosphere," Lock said.

* * *

James W. Miller, state controller, said it will probably be weeks or months before the problem can be worked out.

Employment Up in Pontiac Area

Month's Figure Shows 1,700 More Working by Mid-October

Paced by the return of 1,500 workers to auto industry plants, employment in the Pontiac area labor market took a step upward between mid-September and mid-October.

Frederick A. Hanses, acting manager of the Pontiac branch of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, reported employment picked up 1,700 during this period.

* * *

Most of the gain was attributed to model changeover's back-to-work calls, Hanses said.

Current manufacturing employment of 35,500 is 1,900 above the year's low in August, but still 7,600 less than a year ago.

Unemployment at mid-October was estimated at 5,300, a drop of 2,000 in the past month. This comprises 6.5 per cent of the total labor force compared with 8.9 per cent in September and 2.9 per cent a year ago.

* * *

Issuance by the Pontiac office of unemployment insurance checks dropped from 18,030 ($669,374) in September to 15,969 ($558,309) issued last month.

Buffer States Want Freedom

Red Solidarity in Hungary Myth

By NATHAN POLOWETZKY

LONDON (AP)—After Hungary the men in the Kremlin can never feel safe again.

* * *

Wherever they turn, they must fear the threat that millions of freedom fighters will rebel against their tyranny.

Today Hungary. Perhaps tomorrow Romania, then Czechoslovakia, then East Germany, Poland, Albania and even Bulgaria.

BUFFER STATES

It wrote an end to the notion that Russia has an elaborate system of "friendly" buffer states constructed by Stalin at the point of a bayonet to safeguard Soviet borders.

* * *

The Kremlin had poured arms, money and technicians into these countries to build up their armies. Russia officers had trained them and in many cases led them.

Communist bosses had carefully purged their armies of suspected "subversive" elements. They handed over responsibility only to picked men after long periods of Communist indoctrination.

ARMY DEFECTS

* * *

The rebellion brought home to Soviet mmlitary men one important point: Satelilites could hardly be trusted in a war.

* * *

* * *

For 10 years and more, Hungary's government - controlled schools had tried to instill in the these same students, trained and indoctrinated in communism since nation's youth the benefits of communism.

* * *

Only youths of "working class" backgrounds had been permitted to attend institutions of higher education. They had been subjected to constant lectures, Communist examinations, and careful screenings.

* * *

STUDENTS REBEL

Yet when the first flame of freedom burst in Hungary, it was youth, who played a leading role in the rebellion.

* * *

* * *

It can crush them as it has done the Hungarian uprising, or it can try to use them for its own benefit as it did—in part — in Poland, where it bowed to demands for more independence.

More bloody reprisals might result in a setback in Soviet efforts to win over the neutralist nations of the world, particularly in Asia, where strong-arm tactics will be interpreted as a return to the iron rule of Stalin.

Roz, Besides Acting, Has Business Talent

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Roz Russell made me both laugh and get misty-eyed at her hilarious hit, "Auntie Mame"—but beyond her acting, Roz is quite a business babe. She invested $37,500 in this show . . . Which, with her salary, percentage and angel's dividend, should make her the richest gal in Hollywood.

Actress Ethel Cody, who does a lot of burping on stage, actually has her burps "dubbed" for her by fellow actor Cris Alexander who burps offstage through a microphone. This is the newest stage specialty yet.

One wonderful exchange goes like this: "She's not English, she's from Pittsburgh" . . . "She sounded English." . . . "Well, when you're from Pittsburgh, you have to do something."

Princess Grace Kelly's not voting in our election (though she could). . . . Joe E. Lewis, closing at the Copa, got a standing ovation from Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Eleanor Holm, and others. "If I'd known you were gonna eulogize me, I'd have died first," said Joe., who claimed he had laryngitis from drinking out of a damp whisky glass.

Liz Scott, Scranton's gift to beauty, is likely to be Elvis Presley's next leading lady in the Hal Wallis-produced picture, "The Lonesome Cowboy." Liz is supposed to keep him from getting lonesome . . . Ernie Kovacs just made good. The heir aparent to Steve Allen on "Tonight" was sued for $5,000,000 by Elvis for spoofing him with a speeded-up film clip. NBC, which was also sued, figures Elvis wasn't damaged much — judging from the ratings he got on CBS.

The highest price offered so far for four tickets to "My Fair Lady" is $2,200.

A Texan, seeing Cleveland accountant Ernest J. Wentland displaying the four tickets in a Hotel Statler elevator, announced: "I'll give you every cent I've got in my pockets for those." And he hauled out $2,200.

Wentland had to turn it down, for he had to take three important clients to the show. And he, Wentland, had already seen the show.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Zsa Zsa Gabor's latest is a very social, married millionaire . . . Fritz Kreisler missed a banquet due to Mrs. Kreisler's illness. Gladys Swarthout and husband Frank Chapman, just arirved here from their home in Florence, Italy, are particularly worried about the international crisis, as they spend seven months a year abroad.

Jennifer Marshall

Ricardo Montalban's desperately trying to locate his brother, Carlos, who's in Egypt (making a movie) . . . Mrs. Ham Fisher and Atty. Mort Farber will soon set the date . . . Jennifer Marshall's causing lots of talk with her singing.

Rita Hayworth seems serious about writer Peter Viertel, who used to be the beau of Bettina, the model who's planning to marry Aly Khan . . . Spike Jones' band'll ride in the Macy's Thanksgiving parade along with parade marshal Roy Rogers.

EARL'S PEARLS:

TODAY'S DAFFYNITION: Hypochondriac: a person who gets sick because he isn't—Peter Donald.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Some people have a great deal of self-respect with comparatively little reason for it."

UM Man Seeks Aid for Hungary

Alex Dano Petitioning U.N. to Protect Leaders From Soviet 'Purge'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan technician who came to this country from his native Hungary, today began a one-man effort to get the United Nations to protect rebel leaders there.

Alex Dano, 38, a metallurgist at the University's Engineering Research Institute, said he will circulate a petition among prominent Ann Arbor and university business, church and civic leaders asking the U.N. to protect the leaders of the Hungarian revolt from being "liquidated by the Russians in a blood purge."

He proposes that the U.N. send in observation teams to Hungary immediately to carry out this action.

He also urged the world governing body to force withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary and allow free elections to be held under the supervision of the U.N.

Dano came to the United States in 1949 and recently became an American citizen.

Baby Food on Its Way to Riot-Torn Hungary

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —A 12½-ton shipment of canned goods donated by the Gerber Baby Food Co. was scheduled to leave Grand Rapids today by air en route to ravaged Hungary.

The baby food is scheduled for transfer at LaGuardia Airport in New York for trans-shipment to Austria, where it is slated for distribution through the International Rescue Committee, headed by Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd (Ret).

A STAMP ZOO — 2

The Bison

An inhabitant of the United States, a bison, is the second animal in our stamp zoo. The bison is the largest and best known of all American animals, and a stamp showing his picture was issued in 1923.

Once millions of bison, or buffaloes as they are often called, roamed in huge herds over the North American continent, but by 1889 hunters had reduced the number to a few hundreds. Game laws were introduced to save them from dying out altogether.

A fully grown bison stands 5½ feet high at the shoulder, is nine to 10 feet long, and weighs 1,600 to 2,000 pounds. He has a massive head, a shaggy coat of curly brown, and a mass of black hair on his head and shoulders.

Color this picture with your crayons, making the border brown. Then paste it down on thin cardboard. Cut away all the background as you did with yesterday's lion. Fold the center bottom panel forward on the dotted line, allowing the piece between the legs to lie flat. Fold the end panels under and the bison will stand up ready to join your stamp zoo.

Sees Ike Win, GOP Congress

But Poor Vote Turnout Could Put Dems In, Says Washington Publisher

DETROIT (AP) — If President Eisenhower wins re-election by a landslide today, Washington publisher Philip L. Graham says "I cannot see how there can be a Democratic Congress."

Graham, 41-year-old publisher of the Washington Post and Times Herald, also told the Detroit Economic Club yesterday that "all available polls at this late hour add up to a landslide for Ike."

Graham added, however, that as he saw it the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, had two chances to win. He explained:

"He (Stevenson) might win enough electoral votes if he swings all the Southern and all the borderline states.

"He might win if there is an exceptionally poor turnout of voters, as there was in 1948."

While Eisenhower won by 6 million votes in 1952, Graham said polls show he should win this time by 11 million.

EXPECTS GOP LANDSLIDE

While he said professional politicians look for a Democratic House and Senate, regardless of who wins the presidency, Graham said he could not go along and expected a Republican Congress if Eisenhower wins by a landslide.

* * *

Graham suggested that poll forecasts might be upset again if the voter turnout drops from the 63 million of 1952 to the 5 million of 1948, when Harry Truman dewinner in pre-election polls.

Stealing Shoes Brings Probation, Jail Time

Danny Mitchell Modreski, 41, of Clarkston, who pleaded guilty Oct. 29 to stealing five pair of shoes from a Southfield Township store Sept. 11, was sentenced yesterday to two years' probation, restitution, and payment of $100 court costs by Oakland County Judge H. Russel Holalnd.

Modreski will spend the first 30 days of his probation in Oakland County Jail, Judge Holland ruled.

Draws Probation Term for Indecency Count

Lindell Bridges, 20, of 225 Florence St., was sentenced yesterday to two years' probation and payment of $100 court costs for indecent exposure OOct. 23 before a Pontiac woman.

Bridges pleaded guilty to the charge Oct. 29 before Oakland County Ciricuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

1958 'Y' Dormitory Drive Eyed

Fund raising for the proposed $1 million YMCA dormitory may begin as soon as spring, 1953.

The YMCA dormitory committee yesterday voted to recommend that tentative date to the board of directors.

Discussion brought out, however, that the date to start public subscription of funds may be as far away as 1960, however.

The meeting, headed by John C. Cowe, chairman, voted to recommend retention of a professional fund-raising firm for the campaign.

It selected Beaver and Associates in Chicago to "sound out" the area in advance of the campaign to determine if money can successfully be raised here. The same company would be in charge of fund-soliciting, also.

The YMCA Board of Directors will pass on the committee's recommendations.

The meeting also heard YMCA General Secretary T. N. Slosson report on site progress.

The proposed building will be on two and a quarter acres next to the present YMCA community center, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

The new unit will adjoin the present building on the east. It will include facilities for all adult activities and 150 dormitory rooms.

At the same time, provision will be made for parking facilities on the property.

* * *

Final price of the building is still undetermined. YMCA officials said the tentative cost according to preliminary plans drawn up by architect Leo J. Heenan was around $850,000.

Rise in construction prices, they said, may bring that figure up to the million-dollar mark, however.

The committee has undertaken to study costs, determine the amount needed and set the campaign procedure.

* * *

In addition to Cowe, the committee includes: Walter K. Willman, Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, Glenn Griffin, Conrad N. Church, Hazen Atkins, Norman Buckner, L. H. Cole, Milo McLintock, Philip J. Monaghan, Ralph T. Norvell, Gelston Poole, Ralph Cromis, Goodloe H. Rogers, Martin J. Rummel, Fred G. Haggard, Leslie Ware, Arthur Rosenthal and E. R. Pettengill.

Refuses Review of Gas Decision

Supreme Court Denies Michigan's Appeal of Panhandle Tax Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan yesterday was denied a Supreme Court review of a decision that the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. need not pay a state corporate franchise privilege tax on gas piped into Michigan.

* * *

The decision by the Michigan Supreme Court was appealed by the state's attorney general, Thomas M. Kavanagh.

The appeal said Michigan faces a potential refund obligation estimated at 50 million dollars because of the decision, plus expected loss of current revenues estimated at 20 million dollars annually.

The estimates were based on the belief the decision would apply to other firms and was also applicable to Michigan's business activities tax.

* * *

State Revenue Department experts said the decision, if allowed to stand, would give impetus to passage of a state income tax.

The Michigan Supreme Court found a levy on Panhandle's piped-in gas would be an arbitrary and unjust burden on interstate commerce.

The decision did not apply to a small amount of gas produced in Michigan and distributed by Panhandle. The firm is a Delaware corporation and most of its gas is produced in the Texas Panhandle field.

22nd Amendment Limits Years in White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's how the 22nd amendment to the Constitution, limiting presidential terms of office, could affect the four principals in today's election:

President Eisenhower—if re-elected, he could not again be elected president.

Adlai E. Stevenson—if elected, could be re-elected for another term in 1960 or later.

If the President didn't serve at least half of his term, his vice president would finish out the term and could be elected president in his own right fot one four-year term.

If the President served more than half of his term, even one day more than half, his vice president would finish out the term and could be elected president in his own right for two full four-year terms.

In effect, the amendment says no person can serve as president for more than 10 years or be elected president more than twice.

Elizabeth Asks for Co-operation

Calls for World Solution to Middle East Crisis in Official Speech

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II called today for worldwide cooperation with Britain to help settle the danger-packed Middle East crisis.

* * *

The speech was written for her by government ministers working under Prime Minister Eden's supervision. Traditionally the monarch has no choice but to deliver the statement as written.

* * *

"My government will continue their efforts to achieve by all possible means a prompt and just settlement of the many problems arising from the grave situation in the Middle East.

* * *

"To this end they will welcome the broadest measure of co-operation with the commonwealth, with our allies in the Atlantic Alliance and in Europe, and with those international agencies of which the United Kingdom is a member."

This was the only reference to the Middle East.

* * *

They smiled and waved to the cheering crowds along the route.

Resident of Berkley Gets Term in Jackson

Lyman Holt, 27, of Berkley, was sentenced yesterday to a ferm of 3-15 years in Jackson state prison for violating the terms of his probation in passing a bad check.

Holt pleaded guilty to the check charge Sept. 12, but sentence was deferred when charges of violation of probation were brought against him. He had been sentenced to three years' probation Jan. 9 for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Attempt to Plan General Service for Oakland

In an attempt to plan a general program of service for Oakland County for the next five years, the Oakland County Extension Service met with members of their various councils at a luncheon yesterday to seek ideas.

About 30 attended the program projection meeting where extension members under the direction of Lyle Abel, county agent, explained their various duties and general program and asked where else their service was needed.

Discussion groups following the uncheon, brought out major problems the county will be faced with in the next five years.

From this meeting the members of the groups will go to their parts of the county and seek more ideas and more uses that extension work can cover, Lyle Abel, county agent said.

Problems which will concern the county, the discussion groups accounted, include such things as migration of the population, land use, land speculation, schools, water and sewage disposal, higher education, helping young homemakers, problems of the city farmer and long term planting and planning.

Abel, in explaining the meeting to the group, said that trends and change of time required that extension program needs frequent revision. He reviewed the state and county part in extension work.

State Employes Union to Seek 9 Per Cent Raises

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Employes Assn. will ask the State Civil Service Commission to approve a 9 per cent pay boost for workers in the lower third of job classifications and a 7 per cent boost for all other state employes.

The association said it will take its pleas to the commission Nov. 21. It decided on the amount of pay increases it will seek after a weekend meeting of its board of directors.

The association earlier announced it would seek an increase, but did not set the amount.

* * *

Calvin McNall, MESA president, said the increases are necessary to return our state government to a position where it can attract and retain employes needed for essential state services."

U.S. Envoy to Manila Dies of Heart Attack

* * *

The ambassador had been showing "some slight signs of an ailment" for the past month, the spokesman added, and complained of a slight pain in the chest shortly after noon today.

Nufer entered the consular service in 1950 and held posts in Germany, Latin America and Spain. He was named ambassador to El Salvador in 1947 and in 1952 was appointed ambassador to Argentina.

Indians Snub U.N.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Authoritative sources said the Indian government has taken no action yet on a request from U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to contribute to the proposed U. N. "police force" for the Middle East.

Both Grateful for 'Marriages'

Miss Hagen Is Pleased but Miss Fabray Feels a Bit Homesick

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Television's best known "grass widows"—Nanette Fabray and Jean Hagen—agreed today that life without their make - believe spouses has its drawbacks.

* * *

Both ladies admitted magnanimously that their TV "marriages"—Nanette to Sid Caesar and Jean to Danny Thomas—did them worlds of good, both personally and professionally.

Miss Fabray even went so far as to say she wishes her once-a-week assignment as Caesar's better-half could have continued a bit longer, but Miss Hagen sighed that, all in all, she's glad it's over.

"Some people say I was looking for greener pastures when I left Sid," said Nanette, who returned to TV for the first time since her "divorce" in last week's "Shower of Stars."

* * *

"That's just ridiculous. Where would anyone find greener pastures than working with Sid? We simply reached an impasse over our contract obligations.

"We just couldn't work it out for me to stay on the show. We fooled around with contracts for a year and a half and never did get anything signed."

TIRED OF ROLE

Miss Hagen's position is somewhat different. She exited from the "Make Room for Daddy" show because she got plain sick and tired of playing the same role week after week.

* * *

"Do you know, I've been married for nine years, and I have two children, but I never really realized what being a housewife meant before," she confided.

"Why, I'd never washed dishes before, and suddenly there they were. The other night I took my Homemakers Award down from the mantel and told my husband to give it to someone who deserves it. I've decided every mother should have a gold medal.

"But I must say, I'm having a ball."

NO SUCCESSOR

Miss Hagen, at least, doesn't have to sit at home and watch another actress step into her former "marriage." They put her role quietly to death on "Make Room for Daddy."

* * *

But Miss Fabray has a successor in Janet Blair. And, as is usually the case when such switches are made, there have been some soft wails of loneliness here and there for Nanette's return.

"I haven't missed watching the show since I left it," Miss Fabray confessed. "But I can't be objective about watching someone else do what I used to do.

"It's like seeing your ex-husband out with another woman. All I know is that when the audience laughs, the knot in my stomach relaxes a little."

Dies in Clothes Drier

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Michael de la Rosa, 5, died of heat stroke and multiple abrasions yesterday after he climbed into a revolving electric clothes drier.

JUST SAWING AWAY — Nanette Fabray, one of TV's best-known "grass widows," happily practices on a musical saw in preparation for a variety program. Nanette admits that she occasionally yearns to return to her role as Sid Caesar's television wife.

'So Steamed Up,' Truman 'Can't Talk'

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman says he is "so steamed up" about the present status of U.S. foreign policy "I can hardly talk — it's just simply outrageous."

Addressing more than 1,500 jammed in Memorial Hall for a Democratic rally last night, he said:

"This situation in the Middle East could have been stopped when the Russians announced they were going to ship arms to Egypt. All the President would have had to do was say, 'You can't do it.'

"It would have worked because we and our friends controlled the Mediterranean.

"Where are we now?" he asked. "We are falling out with the best two friends this country ever had — Britain and France."

Actress Claims Cruelty

Actress Brings Joy of Living to Broadway

Roz Russell Proves Talk Can Be Golden

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Rosalind Russell, whose latest Broadway play "Auntie Mame" is the greatest thing since laughing gas, is a rich little rich girl.

* * *

In case there is confusion on what that is, it's a girl who was born rich in material matters and then went out to gather in all those other forms of wealth too: Religion, humor, love, charity, intelligence and a restless, breathless love of living.

* * *

"You see before you," she told us once, "a woman who has destroyed more eardrums than any known quantity of TNT. Gab, gab, gab. Even when my mind stops for intermission, my yak goes on."

* * *

She paused suddenly, as if to test the silence. "It IS golden, isn't it? Why don't people tell me to shut up?"

* * *

It was more obvious than ever last week, when Miss Russell as "Auntie Mame" swept down the stage stairway shouting "Live, live, live!" Why no one could bear to shut up that voice that sounds like a gear shifting.

FUNNIEST WOMAN

She is the funniest woman on Broadway today — either onstage or off — and nearly every word uttered, whether written for her or concocted by her own helter-skelter imagination, is every bit as gilded as silence.

* * *

To listen to silence (as in the tomb) is deadly compared with listening to a genuine joy of life (as in Miss Russell).

* * *

The actress, now 45 and obviously in her prime, is the daughter of a famed Waterbury, Conn., trial lawyer who died when she was 19 and left a half-million dollars in his estate.

* * *

Roz might easily have become a country-club canasta player, "or whatever it was they were playing in those dear departed days," but even then she was too ebullient to concentrate upon such rigors ("mortis?") as card-playing and making chit-chat with the snob set.

* * *

She enrolled, intsead, in the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, an institution which assured her the opportunity to speak up.

* * *

Her first large role came in the movie version of Clare Boothe Luce's "The Women," and from that point on she was characterized as the brisk and brittle career girl.

JUST NEW DESKS

Then along came "Wonderful Town," three years ago, and Broadway critics advised Miss Russell that her debut on the Great White Way was just fine. She swept most of the top theater awards that year — just as she is likely to take them again in '56.

Proving how much the theatrical public has awaited the reappearance of the lanky actress who took time off from the stage for her other interests—husband Fred Brisson, 19-year-old son Lance, numerous civic and charitable duties in California, where she lives—"Auntie Mame" had the largest advance sale in years for a straight play.

More than 200 theater parties booked the Broadhurst before it opened. The box office is now selling tickets for next May. And tickets are being printed for September and October 1957.

* * *

In "Auntie Mame," Roz is onstage through 18 setting changes and 20 costume changes. She not only leaps down stairs but lunges up cliffs. She rarely stops talking and never stops moving.

* * *
