Holdup Suspect Shot in Attempt to Flee Captors

Royal Oak Man Dies of Wounds in Chest During Escape

Two Detroit policemen were absolved in the shooting yesterday afternoon of a handcuffed ex-convict who tried to escape in downtown Royal Oak.

The man was Joseph Toth, 33, who died later in William Beaumont Hospital from a bullet wound in one lung and another in the shoulder.

Statements from Lt. John Kellner and Det. Ralph Palmer were taken by Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, who termed the shooting "within the line of duty."

He said "at least two warning shots were fired and numerous commands given to halt."

Toth bolted from the detectives' car after his arrest at his Royal Oak apartment at 103 N. Center St. He was wanted as a suspect in three Detroit armed robberies, the two officers told Taylor.

He ran across Center street, jumped a fence and ran down an alley to N. Main street. He tried to board a passing car at the corner of Eleven Mile road.

Although wounded twice, Toth kept running until he collapsed south of Eleven Mile in the downtown business district. He left a trail of blood behind him as a large crowd of store employees and shoppers gathered at the sound of the shots.

A Royal Oak detective, Lt. Herman Potts, joined in the chase when he saw Toth run by. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

'Snack' Genteel, Hamburger Not, Officials Decide

Edgar Fry of Pleasant Ridge will have his restaurant, but the sign in front will read "Snack Shoppe"—not "Hamburger."

Fry wanted to put up a big, orange sign spelling out the latter legend but the City Commission of Pleasant Ridge said "hamburger" was degrading to refined suburb.

A compromise was proposed by Mayor Arthur C. Kuhn who commented: "When I was in California I saw two restaurants called snack shoppes and they were doing very well."

Fry agreed to give it a try. The commission was so pleased with his concession that it didn't even bring up the other objection it had to the sign—the orange lights.

Reds Receive Diver Apology

British Complain About Secret Note to Russia Being Made Public

LONDON (AP)—The British foreign office grumbled at Russia today for publicizing Britain's apology on the incident of the mysteriously vanished frogman.

Lionel (Buster) Crabb, retired Royal Navy skin diver, disappeared April 19 while swimming in Portsmouth harbor in the vicinity of Soviet warships which brought Soviet leaders Bulganin and Khrushchev to Britain on an official visit.

His body never has been found and there is no certainty as to what happened to him.

Last night Moscow radio announced Russia had sent a note to the British Foreign Office saying it was "attaching great significance to such an unusual fact as the carrying out of secret trials alongside Soviet warships" and asking for an explanation.

The incident has blossomed into a major political issue for the government of Prime Minister Eden. Under pressure from Laborites, the Conservative government has agreed to a two-hour debate on the incident next Monday.

Air Force Admits Navy Carriers May Help Some

But Bomber Advocates Insist Big Planes Will Bear Brunt of Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force says Navy planes may help some, but its own bombers will bear the brunt of any strategic nuclear attack deep within enemy territory.

The testimony before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee yesterday brought once again into the open the long struggle between the Air Force, which stresses the need for long-range bombers, and the Navy, which says its big carriers provide a mobile base for air attack.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Wilson recently have stressed naval power in reply to critics' contentions that the Air Force is being neglected.

Secretary of the Air Force Quarles and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, agreed in testimony that naval aviation is important, but Twining added:

"We must be realistic about such factors as the probable location of the carriers, as well as the amount of striking power they could contribute, which is small."

He was referring to use of naval airpower in any strategic offensive aimed at knocking out an enemy's vital bases and destroying foundations of his war effort.

Replying to questions, Twining said that in case of war with Russia, carrier-based planes would be helpful, especially in searching out the enemy.

Dark Storm Clouds Threaten City Late Friday

STUDY IN CONTRASTS—Threatening black clouds hang like thick smoke over the silhouette of a Waterford Township skyline during last night's tornado alert. The unusual combination of light and dark produced a similar spectacle in some of the region's lakes where eerie black waters churned against foregrounds of luminous, calm shorelines.

Storm Warning Fails to Materialize

Night Balm as Alert Ends

Pontiac and Oakland County welcomed near-perfect spring weather today, after the state's third tornado alert of the season evaporated last night without serious damage anywhere.

The alert began here yesterday afternoon and continued until about 10 p.m.

High winds and thundershowers plus strangely lit skies added to the atmosphere of the tornado threat. Wind gusts up to 45 miles an hour diminished after 9 p.m.

Winds damaged garages and trailer houses in the Kalamazoo area. A possible tornado clud was sighted north of Ann Arbor but it apparently never touched ground.

Some 500 chickens were victims when a barn was blown down north of Hastings in Barry County.

Flood threats throughout the state lessened as swollen rivers were reported receding, despite last night's severe thundershowers.

The Grand River, which had forced several Grand Rapids families to evacuate homes, was receding there and at Ionia and Lowell.

The dangers of serious floods elsewhere were past, unless new downpours develop quickly on top of already waterlogged watersheds.

Weather conditions in Pontiac today and tomorrow were expected to be repeated throughout the state.

Temperatures will hit 80 degrees today, with partial cloudiness turning into possible scattered showers and thundershowers early tonight.

A balmy spring night, with a low of 62-65 degrees, was predicted. But the rain may continue through tomorrow. Sunday will see temperatures around 80 degrees.

The lowest thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 60 degrees. The mercury rose to 80 degrees at 1 p.m.

Although no vote was taken, four board members present received the proposal coolly, indicating that the board stood to lose an excessive amount of money in the proposed sale.

Taylor, who appeared before the board seeking an option on the school property, told the Press yesterday that he did not infer that he represented the government or the Board of Education. He said: "At no time have I inferred that I was either acting for, or by authorization of, either the Post Office or the Pontiac Board of Education."

In my opening statement before the Board of Education Thursday evening I stated that I wanted it definitely understood that any ideas advanced by me to date were strictly on a private promotional basis and that I neither represented the Post Office Department or the Board of Education. This can be verified by the minutes of the meeting."

Ike Gets 'Excellent' Report on Physical
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower received an "excellent" report on his physical condition today after a two-day head-to-toe examination by doctors at Walter Reed Hospital.

"I think the results of the exam were excellent," Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, told reporters preparatory to issuing a detailed account of the physicians' findings.

As if to bear out the optimism of the report, Eisenhower planned to go to Burning Tree Country Club for a round of golf immediately after leaving the hospital late this morning.

Detroit Guilty for Beating Wife

Ex-GI to Face Sentence May 25 for Assaulting Dutch War Bride

DETROIT (AP)—Found guilty of assault and battery on the Dutch bride he took in Amsterdam two years ago, an ex-GI was in jail without bond today awaiting sentencing May 25.

He is Richard Berner, 34, accused by his blonde, blue-eyed, 22-year-old wife, Hendrina, of beating her and near-starving her and their 2-month-old daughter.

She said last Tuesday's beating, which sent her to the authorities in a strange land, was the sixth or seventh. She also testified it happened after Richard came home drunk.

Mrs. Berner said her husband had given her only $19 since last March and she and the baby, Jane Maria, had been living on parish fund aid from St. John Berchmans Church.

Church investigators testified they found only a half-can of milk and a half-empty jar of mustard in the Berner larder when they visited the home last Saturday. Hendrina said it often was thus.

Recalling they met while he was on furlough while serving overseas, Hendrina said "that was a happy time," but that the picture changed when they came to this country.

Hendrina said her husband called her a foreigner, said she did not know American ways, and threatened to have her declared an unfit mother and sent back to Holland alone if she complained to authorities.

"That isn't true," she said. "I live only for my little girl."

Circuit Judge W. McKay Skillman brushed aside Berner's plea of innocent and found him guilty. The judge ordered him jailed without bond to await sentence two weeks hence.

Session Closes Leaving Layoff Pay Plan 'Dead'

Total Appropriations Approved Reach $111 Million to Be Spent

LANSING (AP)—Michigan legislators, squabbling to the end, wound up business of their regular 1956 session shortly after 1 a.m. today by sending two vital appropriation bills to the Governor.

The last two measures approved earmarked $59,273,883 for mental health spending in the year starting July 1, and $36,020,790 for capital improvement expenditures in the same period. Both amounts were record highs.

When the lawmakers quit the chambers after midnight, a last formal act remained—a sine die adjournment at noon under a concurrent resolution adopted Friday morning.

In the extra-sessions meeting that began Thursday 34 days after the nominal final adjournment date, the Legislature cleared appropriations totaling $111 million dollars, provided flexible controls over the state deer herd and sent seven minor bills to the Governor's desk.

Three measures on the agenda went by the boards without reaching a vote. One of these proposed placing restrictions on combined payments of unemployment compensation and benefits under private supplemental unemployment pay plans.

Yesterday the No. 1 stickler was the mental health bill. After one conference committee tried in vain to compose Senate-House differences, a second was named and produced the compromise that was accepted—by the Senate at 11:45 p.m. and by the House an hour later.

PARTY LEADERS ARGUE
High Republican and Democratic party figures became involved in the pulling and hauling before the decision was reached, with Gov. William E. G. Milliken calling some of the Democratic shots and John Feikens, Republican state chairman, trying to spur Republicans to agreement.

The mental health bill, as finally accepted, called for $63,273,883 more than the Senate at first was willing to approve, and about $600,000 less than the House for a time had insisted on.

As the evening wore on, the bargaining was over a half dozen authorized positions at one institution and then as many more at another.

Youth, 17, Faces Murder Charges

Tavern Slaying Brings Action in Case Against Hazel Parker

James Thornton, 17, of Hazel Park, was bound over to the Auglaize County Grand Jury at Wapakoneta, Ohio, to face a charge of murder in the first degree.

May 21 has been set as the date for the convening of the grand jury. It will be an extension of the January term in order to permit Thornton's case to be entered.

The youth was recently returned from Wapakoneta after a 30-day observation period at Lima State Hospital. Juvenile judge Thomas A. Danaher, who bound Thornton over to the grand jury, said Lima authorities had declared him sane.

Thornton had been indicted earlier with two other Hazel Park youths for the Jan. 24 holdup slaying of Charles H. Stolzenbach at his tavern near Wapakoneta.

Also being held for the Grand Jury are Bernard Harris, 18, and Willie Thomas, 20. The pair broke out of the Auglaize County Jail March 22 but were captured the next day.

City Landmark Will Be Torn Down

Bailey School to Make Way for New Classrooms

The Cora C. Bailey School, 81 Florence Ave., will be torn down within the next week, according to Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, building coordinator for the Pontiac Board of Education.

To replace the old building, will be new experimental units . . . four individual classrooms which could be converted when no longer needed for school purposes, to homes.

These "residence type" classrooms will be ready sometime in September, Hufziger said. If the four units are as successful as they have been in other communities, more will be included in future Board of Education building plans, Hufziger pointed out.

Bailey School facilities were termed "obsolete" by the board in making the decision to tear down the structure.

Land for the old Bailey School was purchased for $100 in 1889 and the school constructed in 1890. Only two rooms were built on the 1890 edition of the school, then called the Florence Avenue School. A short time later two more rooms were added to make the present day edifice.

The school's name was changed in 1928 in honor of Cora C. Bailey, then principal, who died during her term of office.

Bailey was the first school in Pontiac to have a Mother's Club which later became affiliated with national P.T.A.

Until this week, the school housed some 113 students and three teachers. First and second graders were taken via school bus to Hawthorne School Wednesday morning, and kindergartners were moved to Wisner School for the remainder of the year.

TO BE RAZED—Teachers and students moved out of the Cora C. Bailey School this week. Pontiac Board of Education members have made plans for the 66-year-old building to be torn down within the next week. Replacing the school will be four separate classroom units which will be built on an experimental basis. The new units will be ready when school opens in September.

Dear Mother, I Love You Because You Are . . .

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—An open letter to Mrs. P. E. Boyle, a lady parent in Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Mama,
You are one of the world's hardest gals to please on Mother's Day.

The ordinary presents are no good at all. You don't want jewelry. If your children buy you flowers or candy, you say, "It's just a waste of money." They can't give you money with any sense of satisfaction because they know you won't spend it on yourself. You'll just put it away in an old sock for your grandchildren.

"Oh, don't give me anything—Mother's Day is just a bunch of nonsense," you say. Your happiest Mother's Days have been the ones on which you spent five hours turning your face cherry-red over a cookstove fixing a family feast—in the years when the whole family could be there to enjoy it.

MAYBE A PHONE CALL?

What could one who was away do to, please you except to call you long distance and tell you he missed you and wished he was home? It is hard to give anything to a woman who has spent her life giving to others.

The only thing I have to offer is the one thing you have never asked for appreciation. And so today, I'd like to send you a valentine on the day after Mother's Day, the first and probably (sons being what they are) the only love letter of my life to you.

Why do I love you? Let me count the reasons—just a few: I love you because you are my mother, not only of my body but of my spirit's hunger.

I love you because, when your five young children were tearing the house apart, you would muse aloud placidly. "Now, if I just hadn't married, and had you children, I could have got a nice quiet job as a nurse. That's what I really wanted to be." That's what you were, too.

DESERVED DISCIPLINE
I love you because when I deserved and needed a switching I got it—not later, but right then, when I knew I had done wrong, felt guilty, and recognized I should be punished.

I love you because you never let tomorrow's sun rise on yesterday's anger.

I love you because, when I had a bad case of puppy love shortly after kindergarten, you never thought it was something to joke about.

I love you because you played no favorites among your children. Your only favorite child (this is still true) was the one that most needed your understanding help at the time.

I love you because, although your whole life has been spent in the shelter of your home, you could always meet a stranger and tell in 10 minutes whether he was a phony or a good human being.

I love you because, when I had a bad case of puppy love shortly after kindergarten, you

Ladies Discuss Presidency

GRAND RAPIDS — A group of not-so-young ladies were recently discussing the presidency.

"I recall well when Mr. Lincoln died," said Mrs. Elizabeth Fox, who will be 100 years old August 19. "But I never met him personally."

"I kissed him," said Mrs. Zelina McManis Edwards, who will celebrate her 102nd birthday three days after Mrs. Fox.

"Lincoln came to the hospital at Jefferson, Ind., during the Civil War and we children all thought we had to kiss him," said Mrs. Edwards. "He was such a cheerful fellow—so jolly. Once he walked up to my girl chum and me and asked: 'Which one am I going to hug first?' Of course we both replied: 'Hug me first,' and he grabbed both at the same time."

The two women, who live at the Clark Memorial Home in Grand Rapids, will be honored tomorrow during the Mothers Day vesper service at the Downtown Kiwanis Club.

had too many kittens you couldn't bear to have them drowned. (With five kids yourself you could understand the mother cat's problem.)

I love you because, although you had only a third grade education, you never ceased reading and learning and widening the horizon of your own mind. And from your mind my mind caught fire.

I love you because you always watered and fed my adolescent dreams and, no matter how high they blazed, how silly they seemed to others, you never turned the damper down.

I love you because you have never been able to finish telling a funny story. You get so tickled you start laughing, and you laugh so hard everybody else begins to laugh—and then you forget how the story ends. But everybody's had a good time.

I love you because when quarrels arose, as they do in every large family, you never took sides, but quietly used the weight of your love in a way to bring back balance and harmony.

OVERCAME GRIEF

I love you because, when dad died nearly 19 years ago, you refused to turn into a self-pitying widow. Time has mellowed you. It cannot shrieve or defeat you.

I love you because, now that your children have grown, you refuse to try to run their lives. You merely say mildly "Learn to sit loosely in the saddle of life."

I love you because, although you and I have always felt free to talk to each other about anything, from the whims of God to the frailties of man, I feel I really know less about you than almost anyone I know at all. You have always held a mystery to me, and you always will. The more you love people, the more you realize there is a part of them you cannot ever know.

Finally, I love you because I know that when you read this you will be embarrassed and say, "Now, why did he have to do that? Can't he think of something more important to write about than that?"

Well, not today, Mom. Respectfully, your loving son, Harold.

Students to Compete in Road Competition

Some 50 entrants in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Teen-age Road-E-O are expected to return to the Tel-Huron parking lot for a contest of driving skills at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The contest was called off last week because of rain.

If it is raining at noon tomorrow, the contest again will be postponed one week, according to Clyde R. Haskill, chairman.

Three top winners in the contest will receive trophies and the champion will be eligible to compete in a state tourney.

Contestants will take a written examination before the contest starts.

Former Air Secretary Raps ICBM 'Red Tape'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Former Asst. Secretary of the Air Force Trevor Gardner says the United States is "floundering in administrative red tape" in development of the Inter-Continental Ballistic Missile.

Gardner, who resigned his post in February in protest of the nation's guided missile program, told a Harvard Law School forum last night "we cannot afford to be second" in developing the ICBM.

He said that development of the ICBM would be the "biggest weapons advance of the next five to 10 years."

However, he added, as of last February the ICBM only shared priority with eight other projects and the top missile experts were not even working on it.

Salvation Army Leader Speaks at Local Fete

Mrs. Lt. Colonel T. M. Larsen of the Salvation Army, Detroit, was special speaker at the Mother-Spaulter Banquet held recently at the Salvation Army Post here.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Captain Michelsen. Tributes were given to mothers by Gertrude Cunningham. Men of the corps marshalled by Captain Magnus Michelsen formed the "Singing Waiters' Brigade."

Freighter to Be Enlarged

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. says its freighter Cliffs Victory will be lengthened next winter to the longest vessel on the Great Lakes and third longest of any ship in U. S. registry.

The Cliffs Victory made Great Lakes history in 1961 as the first ocean-going vessel to be converted into a modern lakes iron ore carrier.

She will go into the American Ship Building Co.'s Chicago yard around Dec. 1 where she will be lengthened 9 feet to a total of 716 feet and three inches.

That will leave her 27 inches longer than the Joseph H. Thompson of the M. A. Hanna fleet, now the longest on the Lakes and also a converted ocean ship.

Total capacity of the Cliffs Victory will be increased 3,000 tons to 17,000 tons.

Hanna's 710-foot George M. Humphrey will remain the Lakes ship with the biggest capacity—20,000 tons, made possible by her 75-foot width. The beam of the Cliffs Victory is 62 feet.

Cost of the lengthening was not disclosed, but estimates run around $750,000.

City Officials Studying Million and Half Budget

BIRMINGHAM — City officials are studying a budget of $1,495,144 for the coming fiscal year. Submittal to commissioners this week, it will be adopted, possibly with alterations, later this month.

Showing only a $73,000 increase over last year's, it includes such new expenditures as a recreation director ($5,245), more traffic lights ($7,600 instead of last year's $2,000), an employee relations department ($6,014) and the new social security ($8,000).

Increases are planned by the budget for the library, $77,000.

(up 1,000), and the recreation commission, $15,750 (up $1,250). Reduction is shown in the health and welfare appropriations planned: Last year's budget was $18,536, this year, $16,046.

Tax levy for the coming fiscal year would be $1.157,50, the budget estimates. That would be an increase of $110,000.

Five-week-old Patrick Juett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Juett of 4535 Walnut Lake Rd., Birmingham, was dead on arrival at the Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak yesterday after succumbing at his home, the Bloomfield Township Police Department said today.

The boy was rushed to the hospital after all efforts to revive him with an inhalator from the Bloomfield Township Fire Department failed.

Mrs. Juett told investigators she found the boy apparently suffocating on her bed yesterday after he had been sick earlier.

Chrysler Adds Day to Shutdown Period

DETROIT (AP)—Two of the nation's auto makers continued their efforts today to reduce production to fit demand. As a result, thousands of Detroit auto workers faced an extra long weekend of idleness.

Chrysler originally had suspended operations in two Detroit area division plants. Some 6,500 workers were ordered not to report for work yesterday and Monday. Yesterday, however, the company announced the shutdown would be extended through Tuesday.

Chrysler and General Motors, members of the industry's so-called "Big Three," have ordered weekend layoffs in an effort to "balance production with current customer demand."

GM issued an order Thursday curtailing production for this weekend only.

Rhee Castigates Foes for Fomenting Riots

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee, in his first comment on last Saturday's riots outside his mansion, declared today his political opponents "should not have any idea of overthrowing the government by force."

Rhee accused his opposition of "instigating rash actions by immature young men, causing confusion and death."

One person was killed by police gunfire and a number of demonstrators and policemen were hurt in the rioting. The incident followed the death of P. H. Shinicky, political foe of Rhee and opposition presidential candidate in next Tuesday's election.

French Child Survives After Ordeal in River

GOEULZIN, France (AP)—Roger Second, a fisherman, was riding his bicycle along a canal with his daughter, Monique, 4, fastened securely to the carrier behind him. The bike went out of control and plunged into the canal. Second was thrown clear and swam to safety but Monique—still firmly attached to the bike—went to the bottom.

A bargeman using a long boat hook pulled up the bicycle with Monique still attached. Firemen revived her.

Hannah Raps Pay Uniformity

MSU President Says
Equal School Salaries
Are Unfair

ANN ARBOR (U)—John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, said today that Michigan educators should stop giving equal pay for "unequal performance."

President Hannah, speaking before the Michigan Schoolmasters Club at the University of Michigan, said uniform salary scales in local school systems should be re-examined.

"Equal pay," he said, "for unequal performance is a vicious perversion of the concept of equality. This is not equality—it is enforced regimentation at best."

"Michigan," Hannah said, "will never realize her full potential as a state... until we demonstrate as much concern for those who are mentally deficient (and) are as much distressed by the waste of intelligence as we are by the lack of it."

Educators, he said, are not doing their best when they merely open their doors to all, "and fail to encourage and inspire each individual student to do his best."

He said that less than 2 per cent of the youths qualified mentally to do doctoral work ever receive their doctoral degrees. This, he said, is "a tremendous loss of brainpower."

Delay Mushroom Hunt
GAYLORD — Because cold weather has delayed the mushroom crop, Otsego County's annual mushroom hunt has been postponed from this weekend to May 19. The hunt usually attracts thousands of people who comb woodlands for the variety of mushrooms known as morels.

Don't Let Your Car Ruin Your Vacation

ST. LOUIS (INS)—Your automobile can be the key to an enjoyable vacation. At the same time it also can spoil your vacation.

The ease of traveling and convenience of setting up your own timetable can be disrupted by an unfortunate oversight—that all-important check-up—not only on major and obvious things like the engine and tires, but on those lesser evils which can impair the fun of your trip if they go wrong. Insurance against a spoiled vacation should include—for a long trip—such items as extra tires, an extra fan belt or generator belt. Hydraulic fluid should be checked before starting the trip as should windshield wipers, tire jacks and above all, do not forget your driver's license. You should take with you such items as a first-aid kit, two flashlights and an extra set of car keys—all of which can prevent unexpected troubles.

THE CAUSES

Automobile associations and police throughout the nation point to these things which vacationing motorists often overlook, as the cause of many accidents:

1. Thoughts of the vacation and planning the fun cause motorists to forget the seriousness of driving.
2. Excessive speed in trying to reduce travel time adds to the hazards of vacation driving—and does not necessarily mean arriving any sooner.
3. Unfamiliarity with road and traffic regulations.
4. Unfamiliarity with traffic conditions.
5. Failure to allow adequate time for travel without driving long hours with no stop-over. Fatigue driving is especially dangerous.
6. Distraction from driving alertness because of crowded vehicles.
7. Sight-seeing while driving. Pull off the highway and stop to do your sight-seeing.
8. Holiday periods find more drinking drivers on the road.
9. And, check your eating places and use only recommended ones.

Girls Clubs of America Honor Herbert Hoover

NEW YORK (U)—Former President Herbert Hoover has been cited for his aid to the Girls Clubs of America in developing a national camping program.

Peggy Lovic, Newport News, Va., presented a citation to Hoover yesterday.

Chiefs to Settle AFL-CIO Dispute

Meany, Reuther Differ on Communist Views of India Government

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (U)—AFL-CIO President George Meany says his dispute with Vice President Walter Reuther over American policy toward India will be handled by top AFL-CIO officials in Washington June 5.

Some published reports have exaggerated the dispute, Meany told a news conference here yesterday after addressing the 29th convention of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Differences of the two labor leaders center around Reuther's exception to Meany's view that India should be considered a Communist-sympathizing country. Reuther said that was not the view of the AFL-CIO.

RAPS RACKETEERING

In his talk, Meany vowed a crackdown on "that small minority" in the trade union ranks "who indulge in racketeering."

The AFL-CIO will never divide again, Meany told the union delegates.

The organization will have its "internal problems," he said, but he turned his scorn on "gloom-mongers" who "spread the idea that division will occur again."

Some persons "worry about the power of this merged federation," Meany said, but American democracy cannot exist "if one segment is to profit and advance at the expense of the rest."

"That goes for big business, any political group and holds equally true for labor," he added.

Although in 1909, the average U.S. wage earner lived six years less than the population average, the life-spans of the two groups now are equal.

HONG KONG (U)—A Chinese wants to go but she promised to come home to see her mother. Then we can talk some more."

Leung met his daughter, the eldest of his seven children, in a cabin of the Dutch liner Tjuluwah which brought the young Chinese here on their way to Red China.

He said he didn't know where Piu-Kan got the money for the trip. The Communist regime encourages young overseas Chinese to break their family ties and go to Red China. Communists often have supplied tickets to willing youths, who are offered a college education and the opportunity to join in the "great revolution."

The United States has had 7,000 "I kept telling her that her place names transferred from her mother has been crying ever since land, says the National Geographic she left," Leung said. "She still Society."

MAKE OVER PAGE Rose Sues Dealer for Fraud

LOS ANGELES — Band leader Charlie Barnett's ninth wife has asked Superior Court to annul their April 25 marriage by proxy in Mexico.

Mrs. Linda Joyce Barnett, 23, stated in a petition yesterday that she and Barnett, 42 made an "arrangement of marriage" in Tijuana, but the proxy authorization was not legal because it never was notarized.

Showman Claims Art Collector Broke Pact to Sell Mansion

NEW YORK — Showman Billy Rose says he bought $58,893 worth of fancy furnishings for a plush mansion only to have its owner back out on a promise to sell him the house.

In a suit filed in State Supreme Court yesterday, Rose claimed that art dealer Pierre Gustave Bader agreed to sell a five-story Georgian mansion to him for $550,000 plus a 10 per cent profit.

Rose said he was so sure of making the purchase that he went to an auction of the mansion's furnishings and bought $58,893 worth. The suit was filed by Rose's attorney, former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. It seeks to examine Bader and the auction records to determine a basis for complaint.

Meanwhile, Bader's attorney, Charles Korn, said the motive for the suit was "pique on the part of Mr. Rose."

"He made an unsatisfactory offer for the mansion and naturally didn't get it," Korn added.

Rose further alleged in his suit that on the day of the auction Bader sold the mansion to the Czechoslovakian U.N. delegation. Bader denied this, however, and said: "Rose scared them off and the deal fell through."

A hearing on the suit was set for next Tuesday.

Robber Quits Holdup Attempt in Showdown

LOS ANGELES — It was a showdown, the way service station operator Milton Gerber tells it.

He told police he and his insurance agent, Lee Roster, 39, had drawn $7,000 from the bank and were getting into their car when a man approached them with a drawn gun.

"This is a holdup. You're covered," the man said.

Gerber pulled his own gun and told the would-be robber:

"You're covered, too."

The gunman looked at the weapon and said, "Let's call it quits."

He fled.

Mouse Chews Away Worker's Life Savings

HILO, Hawaii — Alejandro Lomapa, a sugarcane cutter from the Philippines, is convinced a mouse has eaten his life savings of $14,900, all in $20 bills.

Lomapa told police he packed the money into a space over his door. He hadn't peeked at the board since December but when he took a look yesterday, all that remained were small bits. Only three were patchable.

Former Chinese Prisoner Urges 'Freedom Crusade'

CHICAGO — The Rev. Harold W. Rigney, 56, Roman Catholic priest imprisoned four years in Red China, has called for a letter-writing campaign seeking release of 13 Americans still held by the Chinese Communists.

Father Rigney suggested yesterday that "polite and courteous" letters be written to Mao Tse-tung, Red China's leader.

He said he thought this would produce results because the Red leaders' "fear publicity" and "have great respect for the opinions of the common people of the world."

Father Rigney said that without publicity attending his imprisonment he would still be in prison on espionage charges. He said he learned from the White House that President Eisenhower received 73,000 letters asking official help to free him. He was released last September.

The priest wants Americans to write letters in the millions to Mao, Ten or 20 million letters to take notice," Father Rigney said.

MISSIONARIES

The Americans still held in Red China are businessmen and Roman Catholic and Protestant missionaries.

The priest said he has been assured by the Post Office Department that letters addressed to Mao would reach Hong Kong, where they will be turned over to border officials of Red China.

The letter-writing campaign has been dubbed the "Freedom Crusade."

The priest was arrested in Peking July 25, 1951, while serving as rector of the Catholic Fu Jen University. He now is assigned to St. Mary's Mission House at nearby Techny, Ill.

Barber's Narrow Shave

Ends With Mouth Cut

SAN FRANCISCO — You might have expected it: remarks about close shaves after an automobile entered a barber shop through its plate glass window.

The barber, Cecil De Loach, suffered a leg injury. The man in his chair, Charles A. Greaves, was cut slightly in the mouth.

Police said the driver, Gladys A. Sword, told them she was parked at the curb and when she started her car it lurched forward.

NEW YORK — Flames destroyed a costly flotilla of 60 model yachts at a Brooklyn boathouse yesterday.

The models, valued from $200 to $1,000 each, were housed in the Prospect Park Model Yacht Club. Cause of the blaze was not known.

NEW YORK — Showman Billy Rose says he bought $58,893 worth of fancy furnishings for a plush mansion only to have its owner back out on a promise to sell him the house.

In a suit filed in State Supreme Court yesterday, Rose claimed that art dealer Pierre Gustave Bader agreed to sell a five-story Georgian mansion to him for $550,000 plus a 10 per cent profit.

Rose said he was so sure of making the purchase that he went to an auction of the mansion's furnishings and bought $58,893 worth. The suit was filed by Rose's attorney, former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. It seeks to examine Bader and the auction records to determine a basis for complaint.

Meanwhile, Bader's attorney, Charles Korn, said the motive for the suit was "pique on the part of Mr. Rose."

"He made an unsatisfactory offer for the mansion and naturally didn't get it," Korn added.

Rose further alleged in his suit that on the day of the auction Bader sold the mansion to the Czechoslovakian U.N. delegation. Bader denied this, however, and said: "Rose scared them off and the deal fell through."

A hearing on the suit was set for next Tuesday.

LOS ANGELES — It was a showdown, the way service station operator Milton Gerber tells it.

He told police he and his insurance agent, Lee Roster, 39, had drawn $7,000 from the bank and were getting into their car when a man approached them with a drawn gun.

"This is a holdup. You're covered," the man said.

Gerber pulled his own gun and told the would-be robber:

"You're covered, too."

The gunman looked at the weapon and said, "Let's call it quits."

He fled.

A Chipper Harry S. Truman Heads for European Visits

NEW YORK (INS) — Harry S. Queen Elizabeth of England, lunch Truman, private citizen with a dip with former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and dine with United States yesterday for a Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden. Truman indicated that he might accept some other invitations saying, "I've got a drawer full of them."

Among those he will visit will be U. S. ambassadors in London and Paris and in other cities and "like every sightseer on a trip I hope to get to Pompeii, I'm going to be in Naples."

Chipper as ever, Truman had some kind parting words for Sen. Walter F. George, (D-Ga.), who is retiring from the Senate to accept an appointment from President Eisenhower. He will be a special envoy to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Truman said, "I'm very fond of Sen. George. His judgment on the matter is bound to be good. He was one of the most highly thought of senators when I was in the Senate."

The former President, three days older than 72, is accompanied by Mrs. Truman, Stanley Woodward, former ambassador to Canada and Mrs. Woodward.

SEASICK PILLS HANDY

He acknowledged, smiling in the promenade lounge of the liner, that he had brought his seasick pills. "I'm not a very good sailor," he said, "but they tell me this ship makes you a good sailor."

The pills? "I never take them."

The former President is making his first trip as private citizen to the continent. He went there as lieutenant and captain of artillery during World War I and to the Potsdam conference at the end of the last war.

"I never had a passport," he said. "I had to get a new one. It is a diplomatic passport." He chuckled, "certain private citizens have diplomatic passports."

The man from Independence reiterated that the actual purpose of his seven weeks trip is to pick up an Oxford University degree — "It's the third time I've been invited."

TO MEET CHURCHILL

Besides that Truman will talk with the French, Italian and German presidents and prime ministers, meet with Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, have tea with
