OU poised to launch web registration

For the first time, beginning with the Winter 2001 term, students will be able to register for classes from the university's website.

"We are very excited about this development," said Steve Shablin, Registrar. "We believe that many students will take advantage of this service. My staff has been working hard to provide good student service and this is another example of their dedication."

Web registration will begin on Monday, November 13. In addition to using the Web, students still will be able to use the touch-tone registration system.

Currently on the Web, students can view their class schedule, look at their grades from previous terms, see a summary of their financial account and view the current Winter 2001 schedule of classes.

Students will access the registration system by clicking on the SAIL icon and logging into the secured area. The student identification number and personal identification number (pin) must then be entered.

Winter 2001 classes begin Monday, January 8.
