

19th Annual
Oakland University
WOMEN'S STUDIES
FILM FESTIVAL/SEMINAR

Saturday
March 9, 2002
9:30 am – 5:00 pm

156 North Foundation Hall
Oakland University
Rochester, Michigan

This year's Women's Studies Film Festival and Seminar will focus on distinctive, and distinctively American characters: Fast Talking Dames, the intelligent, independent and very articulate women featured in American movie comedies of the thirties and forties. These women share the habit of talking, moving, and (presumably) thinking fast.

Guest Speaker – Maria Di Battista

Dr. Di Battista is a professor of English and Film Studies at Princeton University and author of the critically acclaimed book Fast Talking Dames.

Featured Film – His Girl Friday

Directed by Howard Hawks, starring Cary Grant and Rosalind Russell

GENERAL REGISTRATION $10
STUDENTS AND SENIORS $7
Registration includes light breakfast with coffee and tea, lunch, and closing reception.

For brochure,
further information,
or to register
by phone, call 248-370-2420.

REGISTRATION ACCEPTED BY MAIL
UNTIL FEBRUARY 26, 2002.

Late registration (by phone) and at-the-door registrations will be accepted. Lunch will not be available to people who register after February 26.

TO REGISTER BY MAIL:

Please include name, address, telephone, number of people attending, and if you prefer a vegetarian lunch.

Make checks payable to OAKLAND UNIVERSITY and indicate ATTN. WOMEN'S STUDIES on the check

Mail to: