Health Careers Job Fair set for Oct. 3

The job market for nursing graduates is so good, recruiters are courting juniors, too, says Bob Thomas, director of Career Services.

“Other health career majors are also marketable,” says Thomas. “Most health professional recruiters are hoping to hire our students as soon as they can.”

Recruiters from health fields will be at Oakland University’s Health Careers Jobs Fair Thursday, Oct. 3, from 11 a.m. – 3 p.m. in the Oakland Center Gold Rooms. Juniors and seniors from nursing, physical therapy, medical laboratory sciences, exercise sciences, health sciences, and other health-related programs are encouraged to attend.

More than 30 agencies and hospitals will be at the job fair, including:

- Oakland County
- Henry Ford Health System
- Port Huron Hospital
- Michigan Health Council
- Detroit Medical Center
- St. Joseph Mercy
- Beaumont Hospitals

The Health Careers Job Fair wraps up Career Prep Month, organized by OU’s Career Services. The past month has been filled with programs to help students make career decisions and prepare for their job search.

“This is the first year we had a month-long event and it’s been a great success,” Thomas said. “Students who attended the workshops and job fairs came away with valuable information and tips to help them focus on their career plans and market themselves in a tight economy.”

The professional advisers in Career Services can assist students with career and employment needs. Visit the Career Services Web site or contact their office at (248) 370-3250 or careers@oakland.edu.
