Saturday tours give future students look at OU

By Dawn Pauli, contributing writer

Prospective students can get a firsthand view of Oakland University, including its facilities and beautiful campus, during its Saturday tours.

Current OU students lead the one-hour-and-15-minute tours and provide insight and information about attending the university.

"The campus tour allows future students to explore whether or not OU is the perfect fit for them," said Michelle Southward, admissions adviser. "Our tour guides provide a historical overview and a real student outlook on the university and its many facets. Walking the campus allows the potential student to partake in a personal experience, learning more about the university than the Web site can offer."

The tour includes the Recreation Center, Kresge Library, Oakland Center, lecture halls, a small classroom, North Foundation Hall and the residence halls. If time permits, the group visits Meadow Brook Hall and two or three other major buildings.

This fall, three tour dates are planned and will meet in the rooms indicated below:

- Sept. 25, Oakland Center Gold Room C
- Oct. 9, Oakland Center Gold Room C
- Dec. 4, Oakland Center Oakland Room

Schedule Saturday tours through the online reservation system or contact the Office of Admissions at (248) 370-3360 or (800) OAK-UNIV.
