OU looks ahead to the year 2010

Oakland University is looking ahead to what it could become by the year 2010.

President Gary Russi and Provost Lou Esposito are undertaking a series of presentations to faculty and staff to gather their thoughts, suggestions and questions about a possible university profile and distinguishing characteristics.

The text of the presentation can be found by going to the About OU page of the OU website and clicking on OU 2010 Profile. Faculty and staff also are encouraged to send their questions and comments and may do so by visiting the website.
