OU to offer AP Bonus Award program

In recognition of the hard work, dedication and leadership that is helping Oakland University remain on target for becoming a university of distinction by 2010, the university is offering its AP Bonus Award program to acknowledge outstanding accomplishments during the 2003 calendar year.

The program, established in the mid-1990s, acknowledges extraordinary AP employees in support of the university's strategic goals. This year's awards are of particular significance because of the recent merger of Administrative Professionals and Independent Contract employees into a single professional employee group.

To ensure AP employees have an opportunity to be nominated for their work, supervisors may nominate an employee, an employee may nominate a peer/colleague or an employee may self-nominate. For details on the nomination process and criteria or to download a copy of the nomination form, visit the Forms Web page on the University Human Resources Web site.

Nominations must be submitted by Jan. 23 and recipients will be announced in mid-February.

For more information about the bonus award nomination process, contact University Human Resources at (248) 370-3486 or uhr@oakland.edu.
