

Wednesday, November 10, 2004

OU to host current events panel discussion

Oakland University is hosting a panel discussion on current events with topics including the recent presidential election and the Mideast after Yassar Arafat. The interactive panel discussion is Wednesday, Nov. 10, from noon to 1 p.m. in the Oakland Center Fireside Lounge.

Oakland University faculty members who will be on hand to discuss these topics include Dave Dulio and Pete Trumbore of OU's Political Science Department and Don Matthews of OU's History Department.

Questions to be discussed include:

- What can we expect from the Bush administration during the next four years?
- Who were the other winners and losers in the election?
- What do the Democrats need to do to be competitive in future years?
- What opportunity might exist for Mideast peace after Arafat?

For more information, contact the Center for Student Activities at (248) 370-2400 or csa@oakland.edu.

SUMMARY

Oakland University is hosting a panel discussion on current events with topics including the recent presidential election and the Mideast after Yassar Arafat. The interactive panel discussion is Wednesday, Nov. 10, from noon to 1 p.m. in the Oakland Center Fireside Lounge.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Wednesday, November 10, 2004
Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Wednesday, November 10, 2004
Article Start Date: Thursday, November 18, 2004