

Thursday, April 18, 2002

Barbara Mabee

In addition to her traditional teaching and service responsibilities, Barbara Mabee, professor and chair of modern languages and literatures, has made substantial contributions to three editions of "Kaleidoskop," a highly successful German language textbook.

With Distinguished Professor Emeritus Jack Moeller, Mabee is one of four authors of "Kaleidoskop," an intermediate college text published by Houghton Mifflin. Her specific contributions have been the selection of the cultural topics and literary texts used in the book. She also has written the introductions of the cultural topics. Her contributions are key to the textbook, which is well known for its wealth of varied and compelling readings. The text also addresses the difficulty of German grammar through unusually lucid explanations and thorough coverage.

SUMMARY

In addition to her traditional teaching and service responsibilities, Barbara Mabee, professor and chair of modern languages and literatures, has made substantial contributions to three editions of "Kaleidoskop," a highly successful German language textbook.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, April 18, 2002
Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, April 18, 2002
Article Start Date: Monday, November 10, 2003