Bowles: 'Extremists Threaten Policy'

Special to the Oakland Observer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 — Chester Bowles, special adviser to President Kennedy, will warn his MSUO audience next Tuesday of the "dangers which extremist groups present to our foreign policy."

In the first lecture of the "World Report" series sponsored by the MSUO Foundation Scholarship Committee, Bowles will try to resolve the "public misconception of black and white policy making".

A spokesman for Bowles told The Observer that Bowles will explain during his lecture here the reasons why some state department decisions conflict with other immediate and long range interests.

According to the spokesman, Bowles also will assert that "the statements of right and left wing extremists have an adverse effect on the international image of the United States."

Bowles will speak at 8 p.m., Tuesday, in the Oakland Center.

Before accepting his present position as adviser for Asia, Africa and Latin America,

Bowles was Undersecretary of State. From 1954 to 1960, he was congressman from Connecticut's second district, and from 1951 to 1953 he served as U.S. Ambassador to India and Nepal.

The "World Report" Series will include five other lectures to be given on alternate Monday mornings, starting Jan. 29, by authorities on current international issues.

Dr. Jose Rolz-Bennett, deputy director of the United Nations department of trusteeship, will conclude the series with a talk on "The United Nations and Latin American Problems."

Other speakers will be members of the MSUO faculty. Dr. James Haden, associate professor of philosophy, will speak Jan. 29 on "What Communism Means to Communists." On Feb. 12, Dr. Charles O. Hucker, professor of history and one of the nation's leading authorities on China will speak on "Modern China in Perspective." A lecture Feb. 26 by Dr. Sheldon Appleton, assistant professor of foreign studies, will concern "Communist Bloc Foreign Policy." Dr. Peter Amann, assistant professor of history, will speak March 12 on "Problems of European Unity."

Bowles' lecture will be preceded by a dinner at Chancellor Varner's home, a reception at the Oakland Center and a press conference.

Guests invited for the lecture include Gov. Swainson, Senators Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart, United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson.

STUDENT, FACULTY TICKETS FOR BOWLES

Students and faculty members planning to attend Chester Bowles' lecture Tuesday have been requested by the MSUO Foundation to pick up their special $1 tickets from Executive Secretary June Matthews as soon as possible. Food service will be available in the Oakland Center that evening.

157 Win Honors

The Fall term honors list of 157 students includes seven students with all A's.

For the second time in MSUO's history a student earned more than four A's. Robert L. Smith Jr. received five A's. Smith also won the Freshman Chemistry Award last spring.

WALTER COLLINS

Madrigal Study Grant to Collins

Dr. Walter S. Collins, 35, head of Michigan State University Oakland's department of music, has been named winner of a grant to do the first study of the life and music of Thomas Weelkes, (1575-1623) the greatest of the English madrigal composers.

Dr. Collins' grant was one of 35 awarded in a national competition by the American Council of Learned Societies. The ACLS is a federation of 30 national scholarly groups devoted to the advancement of all fields of learning.

Although the English choral music of the 16th century is most colorful and attractive, Dr. Collins said, it is almost unknown, simple because research and scholarship in music is so far behind that in other fields.

With the aid of a Fulbright scholarship, Dr. Collins has already done some research on Weelkes, who was as colorful as his music. He was a rake, continually in trouble, and was frequently ejected from church services or dismissed from choirs for swearing, bad conduct, or insisting on bringing a dog along.

The grant will enable Collins to go to England this summer to study and edit the manuscripts of Weelkes' compositions for publication. A London publisher has already proposed to publish the book Dr. Collins will write.

Dr. Collins, who lives at 2955 Heidelberg Dr., Rochester, is a native of West Hartford, Connecticut. He received his bachelor of arts and bachelor of music degrees from Yale and his master's degree and Ph. D. from the University of Michigan.

He came to MSUO from the University of Minnesota where he was director of the university chorus and university chamber singers.

Previously, he taught, and was acting director of the men's glee club at the University of Michigan.

At Yale, he headed both the glee club and the famed Whiffenpoofs.

New Court Appointed

Executive committee action has given MSUO its second Student Judiciary. Three of last year's justices remain on the high court, with four new appointees.

Voting was complicated, because of a tie possibility. The Constitution grants the Dean of Students a vote in judiciary matters, creating a six-vote split possibility.

Included in last spring's general election constitutional amendment section was a provision removing the Dean from the Executive Committee. This was one of the few amendments failing to gain sufficient approval.

Reappointed were Harold Berquist, Judy Noren and Barbara Osborne Willis. New appointees are Pat Welsh, Ruthann Matyunas, Tom Hickman, and Bill Kath, presidential candidate in last spring's election. Jim Drummond, Tom Kenney and Al Higgins were not reappointed.

4,865 The Winner

"It was just one of those spur of the moment guess that paid off," said Mrs. Joy Beaudry, winner of the first annual Veterans club drawing.

Mrs. Beaudry, mother of three children, guessed 4865 nails; the total number was 4868.

New Registration System Successful

Herbert Stoutenburg, director of admissions and registrar, announced a decrease of 67 students for winter semester.

Total enrollment as of last Friday was 1,002, including 513 men and 489 women. There were 1,069 students for the fall semester.

Appraising the early registration system used for the first time on an experimental basis this term, Stoutenburg said, "The new plan was viewed by this office as reasonably successful."

Chorus Plans March Contest

On March 3 the Michigan State University Oakland chorus will accompany the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra in a presentation of Brahms' "Schicksallied."

Dr. Walter Collins, head of MSUO's music department, and director of the chorus, said "For an amateur group to sing with one of the world's greatest orchestras is an unparalleled opportunity. This is certainly one of the highlights of its career."

Led by the new Polish conductor Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, the orchestra will play in Pontiac Northern High School. The program will begin at 8:15 p.m.

"Georgia Fitzgerald," alias Wes Wickham, gets measured as Fitzgerald House candidate for Winter Carnival Snow Queen. Verifying the figures are Pete Irwin, Roger Finzel, Dick Carlsen, Rollie Bristol, and Paul Turk, "Chick Checking Committee" for the men's dorm. The Winter Carnival, one of MSUO's biggest social events, will begin Friday, Feb. 2 with a student-faculty hockey game, and will conclude Saturday, Feb. 3, with the Sno-Bal Dance, at which the 1962 Snow Queen will be chosen.
