David Maines

In the past two years, David Maines, professor and chair of sociology and anthropology, has published more than 10 journal articles and book chapters, and a number of short essays. His eighth book, "The Faultline of Consciousness: A View of Interactionism in Sociology," was published in 2001 and already has been nominated for two awards.

He has contributed to a number of areas in sociology and communication studies. In 2001, the Carl Couch Center for Social and Internet Research established the David R. Maines Outstanding Narrative Research Award to recognize his work in the area of narrative and society and to honor and support the lines of scholarship Maines has pioneered. He also is the 2001 Oakland University Foundation Research Excellence Award recipient.
