

38TH ANNUAL WOMEN AND
GENDER STUDIES FILM FESTIVAL

No Box for Me: An Intersex Story

Saturday, March 19, 2022 | 1 – 3:30 p.m.

Oakland University, Human Health Building 1050

QR to come

INTERSEX IDENTITIES

No Box for Me: An Intersex Story

(2017, Devigne; French, subtitled in English) 58 min

The film will be followed by a question and answer session plus discussion of intersex activism in Michigan and beyond.

Co-sponsored by

- College of Arts and Sciences
- Communication, Journalism and Public Relations
- English
- Film Studies and Production
- Philosophy
- Sociology, Anthropology, Social Work and Criminal Justice
- Management and Marketing
- University Libraries
- WXOU Radio
- The Oakland Post

LIGHT REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED

Oakland University requires that masks are worn inside of all university building. A health screening form for guests will be available upon entrance to the event.

This beautifully crafted, poetic documentary joins brave young people as they seek to reappropriate their bodies and explore their identities. The film reveals both the limits of binary visions of sex and gender, and the irreversible physical and psychological impact of non-consensual surgeries on intersex infants.

jm24096/12.21

OAKLAND
UNIVERSITY™

2200 North Squirrel Rd.
Rochester, MI 48309-4401

WOMEN AND GENDER STUDIES PROGRAM