GEMS TO BE SHOWN

A vertebra of a mastodon with a congenital spine defect (are you ready for that?) will be on exhibit in the third annual Gem and Mineral Show in the Gold Room this weekend. Show hours are 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Sponsors of the exhibit are members of the Waterford Gem and Mineral Club.

PAIR TO HEAD PANELS

Carlo Coppola (modern languages) and Richard Tucker (history) will be chairmen of panels for the annual conference of the Association for Asian Studies in New York next March. Their respective panels will consider "Socialist Realism in 20th Century India" and "Religion and Political Radicalism in Modern India."

RECRUITERS ON CAMPUS

The following employers will be on campus this week to interview seniors: Monday--Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Thursday--Manufacturers Life Insurance Co. and the Prudential Insurance Co. Students must sign up by 12 noon on the day preceding the employer's visit.

SENATE TO MEET

An election of steering committee members is on the agenda of the first University Senate meeting of the new school year, to be held at 3 p.m. Thursday in 128-30 Oakland Center.

It's Been a Long Wait But the Budget's Near

Oakland University's 1971-72 budget is about to be finalized--nearly four months after the fiscal year began.

The Business Office is putting the finishing touches on the budget for the year, but that final total is likely to be short $279,450.

Governor Milliken recommended a 3 percent reduction in all state appropriations the day he signed Oakland's $9.3 million appropriation.

Robert Swanson, vice president for business affairs, reported the impact of the proposed cut to the governor's budget office last Friday. All other state institutions and departments were asked to file similar reports.

Based on these reports and estimates of state revenue, the state administrative board will act on the governor's suggestion to strip the 3 percent from budgets. Areas which will suffer from the cutback at Oakland are supplies and services, labor, equipment, and library book purchases.

The Board of Trustees must still approve the budget being prepared by the business office. Once board approval is given, the freezes that President O'Dowd has maintained since last fall are expected to be lifted and normal budget procedures hopefully can be followed.

Even though the budget is near completion, there are still some uncertainties in it. The agreement with the AAUP and the contracts still being negotiated with other campus unions are all subject to the dictates of the federal government's anti-inflationary program. Since details of Phase 2 of President Nixon's program are still sketchy, the impact on Oakland is not certain.

Pierson Cites Need For 'New Approaches'

Acceptance of three fundamentals is needed to bring about "justice" in compensatory education, Dean Manuel H. Pierson said recently in an address before the Midwest Regional Conference of the American Association for Higher Education.

"There must be a recognition that new teaching strategies are needed, that students must be provided a wider choice and a more effective voice in higher education, and that faculty must be provided the support necessary for developing effective teaching strategies," he said.

Pierson, dean for student services, was a participant in the Oct. 1 meeting at Michigan State University. The theme for the conference was "Justice for Freshmen."

Speaking under the title "The Eye of the Hurricane," Pierson strongly urged that "we in higher education discontinue thinking of compensatory education for students only."

"We must face the very real world that faculty needs support as well and that we are remiss in our responsibilities as an institution if instruction support is not provided," he said. "The classroom is the eye of the hurricane. Unfortunately it appears that appropriate actions have not been taken on a scale sufficient for the warning forecasts to prevent inevitable destruction which accompanies a hurricane."

"New approaches and structures for teaching and learning may save the day."

Coach John Motzer's soccer team plays two games on the campus field this weekend. Eastern Michigan will be the opponent on Friday at 3 p.m. and Jackson Community College will be here for a 2 p.m. match Saturday.

The OU team has played five games to date. It beat Kalamazoo College 2-0 and lost to Albion 2-1 and to Hope 6-0. Results of last week's action against Defiance and Saginaw Valley were not available at press time.

Half of the 24-man squad are freshmen. Senior Mike McCartan, of Dearborn Heights, has switched from cross country to soccer and is adding strength to the defense as a goalie. Miguel Zamudia of Pontiac and Paul Neeson of Ferndale are showing the strengths they displayed last year in placing the ball in scoring position.

Coach Motzer reports that Dave Dinsmore of Royal Oak and Don Tosh of Spencerport, N.Y., are improving rapidly as halfbacks, 6-3 John Clark of Wellesley, Mass., is shaping up as inside forward, and Eric Shreeman is showing considerable progress at fullback.

HARRIERS HOST TOURNAMENT

The OU cross country team will host the annual OU Invitational Cross Country Meet on the lower field at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Coach Tom Kearney reports that nine teams will compete for the championship this year. They are Aquinas (the defending champion), University of Detroit, Hillsdale, Lawrence Tech, Saginaw Valley State, Spring Arbor, Ferris State, Wayne State and Oakland.
