Golf and Learning Center tees up new Web site

By Dawn Pauli, contributing writer

OU's Golf and Learning Center recently launched a new Web site. The redesigned Web site is full of information about OU's two world-class golf courses.

Details about each course — Katke-Cousins and R&S Sharf — are available, including yardage, slope and rating information for each hole.

The site also features information about outings and special events taking place this season. OU's Golf and Learning Center will host the 2004 PGA Junior Series event June 29-July 1 and the first Ryder Cup Champions Invitational Sept. 16.

General information, including hours, rates and fees, and rules and regulations, also is available online. Larry Hamilton, head golf professional, provides tips to help golfers.

"We wanted to make the Web site more user-friendly and useful for golfers," said Bill Rogers, golf and managing director. "We've also added some links to PGA sites and the Ryder Cup."

OU's Golf and Learning Center offers a pro shop, clubhouse, clinics, individual lessons and a junior golf camp. In 2003, "Golf Digest" ranked R&S Sharf Golf Course 21st among Michigan's 855 golf courses. "The Detroit News" also has listed the Katke-Cousins course among the top 10 in the state.

The courses are available to President's Club members, OU alumni, employees, students and their families.

For more information, visit the Golf and Learning Center Web site.
