Educators Come Together for 27th Annual Reading Recovery Council of Michigan Institute

Over 300 administrators, Reading Recovery, Literacy Lessons and Literacy Support educators from across the state came together for the 27th annual Reading Recovery Council of Michigan Institute, held November 15–16, 2018 at the Somerset Inn in Troy, Michigan. The premier Institute theme was Reading Recovery® and Literacy Lessons™: Promising a Literate Future for Michigan's Young Learners.

The School of Education and Human Services' very own Dean Jon Margerum-Leys cordially welcomed the Institute participants Thursday morning. The morning included the presentation of an RRCM award to Kelley Engblom, the Language Arts/Social Studies curriculum coordinator for South Lyon Community Schools, in recognition of her commitment to Reading Recovery.

This year's Institute featured nationally renowned authors and keynote speakers: Dr. Anthony S. Muhammad, CEO of New Frontier 21 Consulting, and Dr. Billie J. Askew, professor emerita at Texas Woman's University, as well as 10 other nationally and internationally recognized featured presenters, including Dr. Mary Lose.

The presenters and the professional learning inspired the efforts of all who attended to transform the lives of our most at-risk learners with the promise of their literate futures now and in the years ahead.

Reading Recovery Council of Michigan Institute Previewed on WWJ's Education Today

On Monday, November 12, WWJ Newsradio 950AM gave the Reading Recovery Council of Michigan 2018 Institute some coverage during their "Education Today" segment with reporter Laura Bonnell. The segment included a brief interview with Mary Lose.

Celebrating Dr. Ron Cramer

During AUFD 2018, we're #celebratingCRAMER once again in recognition of Ron Cramer's 50 years of service to Oakland University in the Department of Reading and Language Arts. For those of you who did not know Dr. Cramer, he was a writer with a genuine love for language and poetry. Below is the fifth of eight "found poems" that students, staff and faculty made from each selecting a sentence strip that spoke to them. For this poem, words and phrases were taken from Dr. Cramer's essay titled The Scholarly Life.

Found Poem #5 of 8

Answer to no one
Know how to take it from ugly to good
There's more than one way, you know
It's a matter of identity, really
So laugh
for whoever wrote it continues to speak through it speak their color

with the last laugh
which always rejects the traditional way of entering the Kingdom of Glory
So become a member of Grubby, instead and create, create, create Tolerate one pest at a time
with gusto
and you'll know how to revise your life
with gusto

UPCOMING EVENTS

An Evening in the ERL: Implementing Restorative Practices in K–12 Classrooms and Schools — November 27

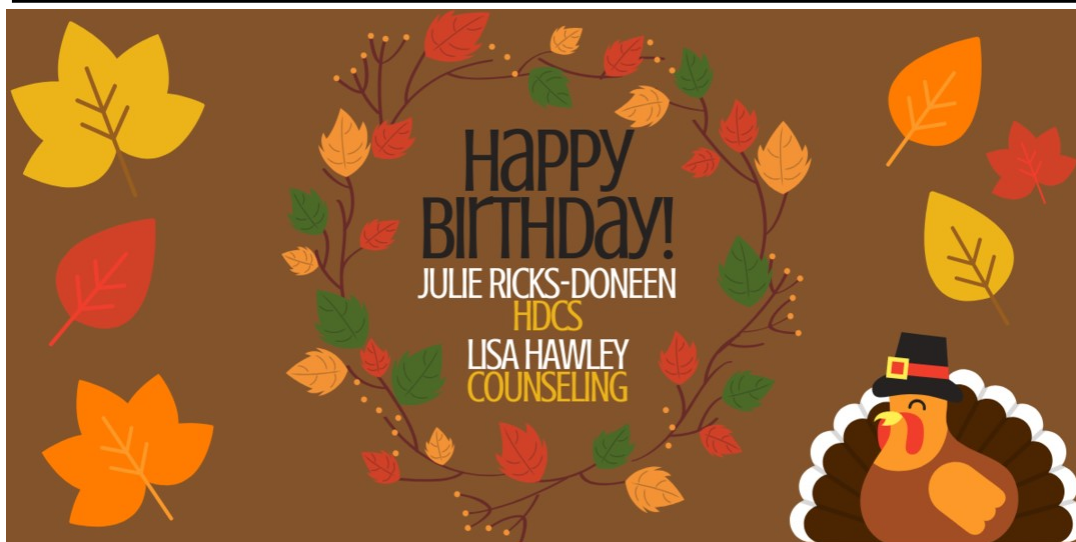

On Tuesday, November 27, from 5:30 – 7:30 p.m., the Educational Resources Lab will be hosting “An Evening in the ERL: Implementing Restorative Practices in K–12 Classrooms and Schools.”

A team of school counselors and administrators from local school districts will present information, model strategies and activities, and answer questions during a panel discussion about the practical applications and use of restorative justice and practice for educators and counselors. The ERL invites students, practicing teachers and counselors from surrounding districts, OU staff and faculty to attend, so please share widely and mark your calendar. The event will be capped at 40 people, so do not delay. Visit the Michigan Department of Education Restorative Justice web page for more information, links to resources and to view a toolkit for implementation.

To register for the event, fill out the registration form.

ABOUT THE SEHS BULLETIN

The SEHS Bulletin is a place where faculty and staff can share news and celebrate the wonderful things happening in SEHS. The bulletin is the perfect place to share information about your publications and awards, special projects and committee news, as well as announce events.

All are welcome to send items for inclusion. If you choose to do so, please ensure that your items are print ready, that you include all related links, and that you have permission to publish any photos being submitted. Please put "SEHS Bulletin" in the subject line and email your information to ttyle@oakland.edu.

If you have questions about the bulletin, email Trevor Tyle at ttyle@oakland.edu.
