

Thursday, April 15, 2004

Gerald Compton

Chemistry Department Laboratory Manager, CAS

Over the past 34 years at Oakland University, Gerald Compton has tirelessly applied his ample organizational and communication skills to generate work of unsurpassed quality.

In addition to his full-time administrative professional position, Compton has taught general chemistry and shared his love for the subject with more than 5,000 OU students. He maintains the highest standards in the classroom and spends hours of his own time developing analogies and demonstrations that convey the essence of chemistry.

Students applaud Compton for his passion for teaching matched by few others, his inspiring devotion to students, his motivation and enthusiasm in the classroom, and for the way he challenges students to take learning to a higher level.

SUMMARY

Over the past 34 years at Oakland University, Gerald Compton has tirelessly applied his ample organizational and communication skills to generate work of unsurpassed quality. In addition to his full-time administrative professional position, Compton has taught general chemistry and shared his love for the subject with more than 5,000 OU students.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, April 15, 2004

Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, April 15, 2004

Article Start Date: Friday, April 9, 2004