Medical Librarian Consultation Calendar

***ATTENTION M2 STUDENTS***

For your M2 Capstone Course you are required to meet with a librarian to discuss your Capstone project by December 7th! To streamline this process the Medical Library has developed an appointment calendar for you to sign-up for a 30-minute research consultation session.

1. Log in to your Oakland University email account
2. Go to our Research Consultation Calendar
3. Sign up for a consultation slot that is convenient for you
4. Provide details about your Capstone project topic in the description area
5. See you at your consultation!

If you have any problems using the Research Consultation Calendar, please contact the Medical Library at medref@oakland.edu or (248) 370-3776.

Welcome Evan Sprague!

The Medical Library is pleased to welcome Evan Sprague, our new Medical Library Assistant!

Evan comes to us from Kresge Library's Interlibrary Loan department and has worked in libraries for the last 10 years. He has a bachelor's degree in information technology from Oakland University and is currently pursuing a master's degree in library and information science. Evan's primary responsibilities at the OUWB Medical Library are managing the digital materials in the medical library and serving as a frontline for medical reference questions in the evenings and on Saturdays.

Student Corner

Library Lunch 'n Learns for Students continue in October!

The library is pleased to host monthly lunch workshops for M1 and M2 students expanding on the information mastery content taught in the Capstone course. These sessions are meant as open forums to ask questions and tailor your information needs for your Capstone projects and beyond!

- Monday, October 29, 2012: Keeping Up with the Literature for your Capstone Project (11:30-12:30pm, KL 100). Stephanie Swanberg will share tips and strategies for keeping abreast of the latest literature and news on your Capstone topic using RSS and email alerts. Demonstrations of Google Reader, PubMed/MyNCBI, and Web of Science will be featured.
- Monday, November 26, 2012: Databases Other Than PubMed (11:30-12:30pm, KL 100) Is your Capstone project focused on education, the social sciences, or medical technologies and devices? Not finding everything you need in PubMed? Keith Engwall will demonstrate other databases you might want to investigate to enhance your Capstone project including ERIC, PsycINFO, and IEEE Xplore.

PANERA LUNCH IS PROVIDED so please RSVP to the Medical Library at medref@oakland.edu by Tuesday, October 23 if you plan to attend Keeping up with the Literature! Seating is limited!

Library Website Updates

Text Us!

The Medical Library has added a text message service to provide you with another easy way to contact us! You can add (248) 266-0484 to your phone's contact list and use it to text us with your reference questions, appointment requests or any of your library needs (also if you call this number, it will ring the Medical Library office). We'll text you back either with a brief answer or an invitation to further the conversation through phone, email or an appointment. Please note that texts will be monitored during Medical Library office hours, so those burning late-night reference questions may not be answered until morning!

Other medical library website updates include:

- Updated Ask a Librarian page: We've further simplified the "Ask a Librarian" page to make it easier to contact us, however you prefer. Includes the new text-message number, consultation calendar instructions, and updated office hours.
- Updated Homepage: The right column now features several service-related quick links, including links to the staff directory, School of Medicine and Beaumont sites, and others. The contents of the previous eBook shelf are available on the Find Books page or within the textbook lists.

Look to this section each month for updates to the medical library web site. Please feel free to send any comments or questions to Keith Engwall at engwall@oakland.edu
