A 13-member committee has been named by Vice-President of the Academic Affairs Frederick W. Obear to find a replacement for the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences position.

The position became open when Reuben Torch left the university to become the academic vice-president at California State University at Stanislaus.

Obear announced that Paul Tombouljian, chairman of the chemistry department, will act as chairman of the newly formed committee. Four university chairman of the committee are John Barnard, history;

Carlo Coppola, Area studies; Peter Bertocci, Sociology and Anthropology; and George Feeman, Mathematical Sciences. representative for the committee. Hershey, a sophomore from Warren, is majoring in Public Administration and is a member of the Honors College. Foreign study popular

OU foreign study programs in China and Ireland each drew a sufficient number of participants and will be held this summer as planned.

Twenty-five persons will travel with S. Bernard Thomas, history, in a 22-day trip including 13 days in China with stops at Tokyo, Hong Kong, and Bangkok. The party leaves Detroit June 21 and returns on July 12. The study tour is part of an OU Chinese Studies Summer Institute. The flexible program offers undergraduate or graduate credit in area studies or history. Thomas is a professor of Chinese history and area studies.

Some 16 persons will take a four week study and travel program in Ireland under direction of Donald E. Morse, English. This program offers credit through English 200 or New Charter College 210, and it is open to auditors as well. The party will leave June 20 and return July 23. In between, participants will study Irish literature, politics, history, and art in Dublin, tour the West of Ireland, and visit ancient monuments. Participants will stay with Irish families. Morse teaches modern Irish literature, politics, and history.

Many, many thanks to all the well-wishers and contributors to the beautiful gifts presented at the retirement reception. I shall hold fond memories of the many friends and acquaintances made at Oakland over the past eleven years.
