BLOOD BANK: If the University does not have the required number of donors pledged, it will not be possible to bring the Bloodmobile to the campus. Today, Friday, May 5, is the last day Nurse Cramer can accept pledges. About 50 still are needed to put the plan in operation.

TALKS POSTPONED: Two talks here by Wernher von Braun, originally scheduled for Friday, May 5, have been postponed until June 2. Von Braun will meet first with the MSUO Science Club at 11 a.m. and give a public talk, "Why We Must Conquer Space," at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Center. All tickets for the public lecture are sold. Persons holding tickets have been advised to retain them for the June 2 speech. The scientist cancelled his talks at MSUO and three scheduled for Thursday at MSU, East Lansing, because he had to return to Cape Canaveral for the Mercury Project.
