OU TOPS UNITED FUND DRIVE GOAL

Oakland University personnel contributed more than $12,500 to the United Fund Drive exceeding the $10,663 goal set for the campus, Lowell Ruggles, campus drive coordinator said. He paid tribute to the people who contributed and to 60 campus volunteers who helped in the fund collection.

OC WILL ACCEPT MONEY FOR HAWKES FUND

The Oakland Center operations office, Room 112, is serving as the collection center for funds raised for Department of Public Safety officer Orié Hawkes and his family.

Bill Marshall, director of the OC, suggests that interested persons pass around a collection envelope in their office, on their floor or among their friends. Any money or checks collected should be turned over to Marshall or Augustine Wright in Room 112.

Hawkes' wife Jacqueline was murdered Dec. 2 in Detroit. The fund campaign is an effort to relieve some of the financial burden that is a result of this tragedy.

ELECTIONS UNDERWAY FOR TENURE COMMITTEE

Two openings on the University Tenure and Appointment Policy Committee have been filled by faculty vote and three more positions on the 18-member committee are being decided.

The terms will all expire on Dec. 31, 1976.

SENATE DEFEATS GOVERNANCE SYSTEM

University Congress, and the Assembly of the Administrative-Professional with a single recommending body. Members of the central administration would have been excluded.

In other action, the Senate voted down a grade conversion scheme proposed by the Academic Policy Committee after APC proposers of the motion recommended its defeat. The Senate was informed that student objections to an earlier conversion scheme adopted by the Senate last April had been resolved, and that the new scheme should now be defeated.

The defeated motion would have converted 3.0 to 3.4 grades to a B and 3.5 to 4.0 grades to an A. Remaining in use is the Senate's April 5, 1973 approved conversion scheme. In it, 1.0 to 1.9 converts to D; 2.0 to 2.9 converts to C; 3.0 to 3.5 converts to B; and marks of 3.6 to 4.0 are A grades.

More than 80 percent of Oakland University's regular campus students took advantage of early registration for the 1973-74 winter term, Register Lowell Ruggles reports. No attempts were made to preregister the off-campus programs and exclusively even-
